Ex.12.21 22,E.23. * Ioſ.36 Pſal.83. 3.Re.iij. o Ge.22.

¶ The right & iuſt adminiſtration of the lawes that God gaue vnto o Moſes, and vnto * Ioſua: the teſtimonye of faythfulneſſe ỹ God gaue of o Dauid: the plenteous aboundaunce of + wyſedome that God gaue vnto Salomon: the luckye and proſperous age, with the o multiplicacion of ſeede whiche God gaue vnto Abraham and Sara his wyfe, be geuen vnto you mooſt gracious Prynce.

Jo.11.e.

Caiphas beyng byſſhop of that yeare, lyke a blynde Prophet (not vnderſtanding what he ſayd) prophecied, o ỹ it was better to put Chriſt vnto death, thē that al ỹ people ſhulde peryſhe. Ye me anynge, that Chriſte was an heretike, a deceauer of the people, and deſtroyer of the law, and that it was better therfore to put Chriſte vnto death, than to ſuffer hym for to lyue, and to deceaue the people. &c. Where in verye dede Chriſte was the true Meſſias, and the onely true Sauceour of the worlde, ſente of his heauenly father to ſuffer the mooſte cruell, mooſt ſhamefull, & mooſt neceſſarye death for oure redemption: accordynge to the meanynge of the prophecie truelye vnderſtonde.

Euen after the ſame maner the blynde byſſhoppe of Rome, (that blynde Balaam I ſaye) not vnderſtandyng what he didde, gaue vnto your graces mooſt noble progenitours, this tytle: defendour of the faith, onelye becauſe they ſuffered the Byſſhoppes to burne Gods worde the roote of fayth, and to perſecute the louers and miniſters of the ſame where in verye dede the blynde byſſhoppe (thoughe he knewe not what he dyd) prophecied, that by the ryghteous adminiſtration and continuall diligence of your grace, the fayth ſhoulde ſo be defended, that Gods worde ỹ mother of Fayth with the frutes therof, ſhoulde haue his fre courſe thorow out al chriſtendome, but ſpecialye in your realme.

Yf youre hyghneſſe nowe of your princely benignitye wyll pardon me to compare theſe two byſſhoppes (I meane byſſhoppe Cayphas, and the biſſhoppe of Rome) and theyr propheties together, I doubte not but we ſhall fynde them agree like brethrē thoughe the one be a Jewe, and the other a counterfayt Chriſtian. Fyrſte, Cayphas prophecied ỹ it was better to put Chriſte vnto death, then that the people ſhoulde peryſhe: The byſſhoppe of Rome alſoo, not knowynge what he prophecied, gaue your graces mooſte noble father this tytle Defendoure of the fayth. The trueth of both theſe prophecies is of the holy gooſte (as was Baalams Prophecie) thoughe they that ſpake them, knew not what they ſayde. The trueth of Cayphas prophecie is, that it was neceſſary for mannes ſalua-cion, that Chriſte by hys death ſhoulde ouercome death, and redeme vs. And the truthe of oure Baalams prophecie is that your grace in very dede ſhoulde defend the Fayth: Yea euen the true fayth of Chriſt, no dreames, no fables, no hereſie, no papiſticall inuencions, but the vncorrupt fayth of Gods mooſt holy worde, whiche to ſet forth (prayſed be the goodneſſe of GOD, and increace your gracious purpoſe) youre hyghneſſe with youre mooſte honourable councell, applyeth all his ſtudye and endeuoure.

Theſe two blinde byſſhops now agree in the vnderſtandyng of theyr prophecies: for Cayphas taketh Chriſte for an heretyke: Oure Balaam taketh the worde of Chriſt for hereſye. Cayphas iudgeth it to be a good dede to put Chriſte vnto death, that he ſhould not deceaue the people, Our Balaam calleth defendynge of the fayeth, the ſuppreſſynge, keppynge ſecrete, and burnynge of the worde of faith: leſt ỹ lyght thereof ſhoulde vtter his darckenes, leaſte his owne Decretales and Decrees, his owne lawes and conſtitucions, hys owne ſtatutes and inuencions ſhuld come to none effecte, leaſte hys intollerable exactions actions, and vſurpations ſhould loſe theyr ſtrengthe, leſt it ſhulde be knowen what a theefe & murtherer he is in ỹ cauſe of Chriſt and howe haynous a traytour to God and man in defraudynge all Chriſten kynges & princes of theyr due obedience: leaſte we your graces ſubiectes ſhould be haue eyes in the worde of God, at ỹ laſt to eſpye oute his craftye conueyaunce and iugglynges: and leſt men ſhould ſe, howe loze he & hys falſe Apoſtles haue deceaued all Chriſtendome, ſpecially your noble realme of Englonde.

Thus your grace ſeyth howe brotherlye the Jewyſh byſſhoppe, and our Balaam agree together, not onely in myter and outewarde appearaunce: but as the one perſecuted the LORD Jeſus in his owne perſonne, ſo dooth the other perſecute hys worde, and reſiſteth his holye ordinaunce in the auctoritie of his anoynted kynges. For ſo muche nowe as the worde of God is the only truth, that dyſpeth awaye all lyes, and diſcloſeth all iugglynge and deceate, therefore is oure Balaam of Rome ſo loth ỹ the ſcripture ſhoulde be knowen in the mother tonge: leſt if kinges and princes (ſpecially aboue all other) were exerciſed therin, they ſhulde claime & chalenge agayne, theyr due authoritie, whiche he falſely hath vſurped ſo manye yeares, & ſo to tye him ſhorter: and leſt the people beyng taught by ỹ worde of God, ſhulde fall from the falſe fayned obedience of hym, and his diſguyſed Apoſtles, vnto the true obedience commaunded by Goddes owne mouth: as namely to obey theyr prynce, to obey father and mother. &c. and not to ſtep ouer fathers and mothers bellye, to enter into his paynted religions, as hys hypocrites teach. For he knoweth well ynough that yf the cleare ſonne or Goddes worde, come once to the heate of the daye, it ſhall dryue awaye all the foule myſte of his deuelyſh doctrynes. Therefore were it more to the mayntenaunce of Antichriſtes kingdome, that the worlde were ſtyll in ignorauncе & blindneſſe, and that the ſcripture ſhuld neuer come to lyght. For the Scripture (both in the olde teſtament and in the newe) declareth moſt aboundauntlye that the office, auctoritie and power geuen of God vnto kynges, is in earth aboue all other powers, let thē call thēſelues Popes Cardinalles, or whatſoeuer they wyll, the worde of God declareth them (yea and commaundeth them vnder payne of dampnacion) to o be obediente vnto the temporall ſwearde: as in the olde Teſtamente all the Rom. 13.a Prophetes, Prieſtes, & Leuites were. And in the newe teſtamente o Chriſte and his Apoſtles both were obedient them ſelues, and + taughte obedience of all men vnto theyr prynces, and temporall rulers, whiche here vnto vs in the worlde repreſente the perſon of God, & are called o Gods in the ſcripture, becauſe of the excellencye of theyr office. And thoughe there were no mo authorities but the ſame, to proue the preeminence of the temporall ſwearde: Yet by this the ſcripture declareth playnlye, ỹ as there is nothyng aboue God, ſo is there no man aboue ỹ kynge in his realme, but ỹ he only vnder God is o the chief head of all the congregation, & church of the ſame. And in token that this is true, there hath ben of all antiquitie (and is yet vnto this daye) a louynge ceremonye vſed in youre realme of Englande, that when youre graces ſubiectes reade your letters, or beginne to talke or commune of youre hyghneſſe, they moue theyr bonets for a ſygne and token of reuerence vnto youre grace, as to theyr mooſt ſoueraygne Lorde, & head, vnder God, whiche thynge no man vſeth to do to any byſſhop. Whereby (yf oure vnderſtandynge were not blynded) we myghte euydently perceaue, ỹ euē very nature teacheth vs the ſame ỹ ſcripture commaundeth vs: and that lyke as it is againſt Gods worde that a kynge ſhoulde not be the cheif heade of his people, euen ſo (I ſay) it is againſte kynde ỹ we ſhoulde knowe any other head aboue hym vnder God.

And that no prieſt nor byſſhop is exēpte (nor can be lawfullye) from the obedience of his prynce, the ſcripture is full, both of ſtrayte commaundementes, and practiſes of the holyeſt mē. o Aaron was obediente vnto Moſes, & called hym his Lorde, thoughe he was his owne brother. + Eleaſar & Phineas were vnder the obedīēce of Joſua. o Nathan the prophete fell downe to ỹ ground before king Dauid, he hadde his prince in ſuche reuerence (He made not the kynge for to kyſſe his fote, as the biſhop of Rome maketh Emperours to do) Notwithſtandynge, he ſpared not to o rebuke him, and that ryght ſharpely, whan he fell from the worde of God to adultery & manſlaughter. For he was not afrayde to reproue him of his ſynnes, no more than Helias the prophete ſtode in feare to ſaye vnto kynge Achab: o It is thou and thy fathers houſe, that trouble Iſrael, becauſe ye haue forſaken the commaundementes of the Lorde, and walke after Baal. And as John Baptyſt durſt ſay vnto kynge Herode: It is not lawfull for the to take thy brothers wyfe. But to my purpose, I passe ouer innumerable moo ensamples, both of the olde Testamente, and of the newe, for feare leaste I be to tedious vnto your grace. Summa, in all godly regimentes of olde tyme, the kynge and temporall iudge was obeyed of euery man, and was alwaye vnder God the cheife and supreme heade of the whole congregation, o and deposed euen priestes, when he sawe an vrgent cause, as Salomon dyd vnto Abiathar. Who coulde than stonde agaynst the Godly obedience of his prynce (excepte he would be at defyaunce with GOD and all his holye ordinaunces) that were well acquaynted with the holy scripture, whiche so earnestlye commendeth vnto euerye one of vs the authoritie and power geuen of God vnto kynges and temporal rulers? 3.Re.2.d

Therefore doth Moses so straytelye forbyd the Israelites to speake so muche as an euell worde agaynste the prynce of the people: muche leise than to disobeye hym, or to withstande hym. Doeth not o Ieremy the Prophete, and Baruc also, exhorte the people in Captiuitie, to praye for the prosperous welfare of the kynge of Babylon, and to obeye hym, thoughe he was an infidele? In the newe Testament whā our sauyour Christe (beynge yet free, and Lorde of all kynges and prynces) shewed his obedience, in payinge o the tribute to oure ensample, dyd he not a miracle there, in puttynge the piece of money in ỹ fysshes mouth (ỹ Peter myght paye the customer therwith:) and all to stablysshe the obedience due vnto prynces: o Dyd not Ioseph and Mary the mother of oure sauiour Christe departe from Nazareth vnto Bethleem, so farre from home, to shewe theyr obedience in payenge the taxe to the prynce? And woulde not oure Sauioure be borne in the same obedience? Doth not Paule pronounce hym to resyste God hym selfe that resysteth the auctoritie of hys prynce? And (to be shorte) the Apostle Peter o doothe not onelye stablysshe the obedience vnto Prynces and temporall rulers, but affyrmeth playnlye the kynge (and no bysshoppe) to be the chiefe heade. Innumerable places mo are there in scripture, whiche bynde vs to the obedience of oure prynce, and declare vnto vs, that no man is nor can be lawfullye excepte from the same: but that all the mynisters of gods worde are vnder the temporall swearde: and Prynces onelye to owe obedience vnto God and his worde. Exo.2.a Ier.38. Baru.2. Mat.17 Luk.2.a Ro.xiij. 1.Pet.ii.

And where as Antichrist vnto youre graces mooste noble fathers tyme dydde thruste his heade into the imperiall crowne of your hyghnesse, (as he doth yet with other noble prynces) that learned he of Sathan the author of pryde, and therein doth he both agaynst the doctryne, and also agaynste the ensample of Christe: whiche because his o kyngedome was not of this worlde, medled with no temporall matters, as it is euydente both by his wordes and practyse. Luke.xij. Math.xxvi. Johñ. vi. where he that hath eyes to se, maye see and he that hath eares to heare, maye heare, that Christes administration was nothing temporall, but playne spirituall, as he hym selfe affyrmeth and proueth in the fourth Chapter of Saynte Luke oute of the prophete Esaye: where all bysshoppes and preistes maye se, howe farre theyr bindynge and lowsynge extendeth, and where in theyr office consisteth. Joh.18.

Wherfore (mooste gracious prynce) there is no tunge I thynke, that can fullye expresse and declare ỹ vntollerable iniuries whiche haue bene done vnto GOD, to all prynces and to the communalties of all christen realmes, sence they whiche shulde be onelye the ministers of Goddes worde, became Lordes of the worlde, and thruste the true and iuste Prynces oute of theyr rowmes. Whose harte woulde not pitie it (yee euen with lamentacion) to remember but onelye the vntollerable wronge done by that Antichriste of Rome vnto youre graces mooste noble predecessoure kyng Johan? I passe ouer his pestilent pickinge of Peter pence, oute of youre realme: his stealynge awaye youre money for pardons, benefites, and bysshoprikes: his deceaupnge of youre subiectes soules wyth his deuelyshe doctrynes and sectes of his false religions: his bloudsheddynge of so manye of your graces people, for bookes of the Scripture. whose harte woulde not be greued (yee and that oute of measure) to call to remembraunce howe obstinate and disobediente, howe presumptuous and stubburne that Antichrist made the Bysshoppes of youre realme agaynste youre graces noble predecessours in tymes past, as it is manyfeste in the Chronicles? I truste verely there be no such now within youre realme: Yf there be, let them remembre these wordes of Scripture: o Presumptousnes goeth before destruction: & after a proude stomache there foloweth a fall. Pro.xvi.

What is nowe the cause of all these vntollerable and no mooze to be suffered abhominations? Truelye euen ỹ ignoraunce of

of the scripture of God. For howe hadde it eis ben possible, that suche blyndnes shulde haue come in to the worlde, hadde not the lyghte of Goddes worde bene extincte? Howe coulde men (I saye) haue bene so farre from the true seruyce of GOD and from the due obedience of theyr Prynce, hadde not the lawe of God ben cleane shut by, depressed, caste aside and putte oute of remembraunce? As it was afore the tyme of that noble kynge Josias, and as it hath bene amonge vs, vnto youre graces mooste noble fathers tyme: by whose, and by youre maiesties mooste ryghteous administration (thorowe the mercyfull goodnesse of God) it is nowe founde agayne, o as it was in the dayes of that mooste vertuous kynge Josias. And prayed be the father, the sonne, and the holye goost world without ende, whiche so excellentlye hath endewed youre Princelye harte with suche feruentnesse to hys honoure, and to the welth of youre louynge subiectes, that I maye ryghteouslye (by iuste occasions in your person) compare youre hyghnesse vnto that noble and gracious kynge, that lanterne of lyghte amonge prynces, that feruent protectour & defender of the lawes of God: whiche commaunded straytly (as your grace doth) that the lawe of GOD shulde be readde and taughte vnto all the people, sette the Priestes to theyr offyce in the worde of God, destroyed the mountaynes of ydolatrie, superstiction, and ypocrisye: put downe all cuell customes & abusions, set vp the true honoure of God, applyed all his studye and endeuoure to the ryghteouse administracyon of the mooste vncorrupte lawe of God. &c. O what felicitie was amonge the people of Jerusalem in his dayes? And what prosperous health booth of soule and bodye, foloweth the lyke mynistracion in youre hyghnesse, we begynne nowe (prayed be God) to haue experience. o For as false doctryne is the originall cause of all euyll plagues and destruction, so is the true execution of the lawe of GOD, and the preachynge of the same, the mother of all godlye prosperytie. The onely worde of God (I saye) is the cause of all felicitie, o it bryngeth all goodnesse with it, it bryngeth learnynge, it gendreth vnderstandynge, it causeth good workes, it maketh the chyldren of obedience, briefelye it teacheth all estates theyr offyce and deutye. Seynge then that the Scripture of God teacheth vs euerye thynge sufficientlye, both what we oughte to doo, and what we oughte to leaue vndone: whome we are bounde to obeye, and whom we shuld not obeye: therefore (I saye) it causeth all prosperitie, and settethe euerye thynge in frame: and where it is truelye taughte, and thankefullye receaued, it lyghteneth all darckenesses, comforteth all sorye heartes, leaueth no pooze men vnhelped, suffreth nothynge amysse vnamended, letteth no prynce be disobeyed, permytteth no heresye to be preached: but reformeth all thinges, amendeth that is amysse, and setteth euerye thynge in order. And wherefore: because it is geuen by the o inspiration of GOD, therefore is it euer bryngynge profytte and frute, by teachynge, by improuynge, by amendynge and reformynge all them that wyll receaue it, to make them perfecte and mete vnto all good workes. 4.Re.xxij Jere.44. Sap.7.b 1.Ti.3.c

Considerynge now (mooste gracyous prynce) the inestimable treasure, frute and prosperitie euerlastynge, that God geueth with hys worde, and trustynge in his infynyte goodnesse that he would bryng my simple and rude labour herein to good effecte, therfore was I boldened in GOD sixtene yeares agoo, not onelye to labourc faythfullye in the same, but also in mooste humble wyse to dedicate this my pooze translation to youre graces mooste noble father: as I do nowe submytte this and all other my pooze corrections, labours and interprises, to the gracious spyryte of trew knowelcdge, vnderstandynge, and iudgemente, whiche is in youre hyghnesse: moste humblye beseching the same, that though this volume be small, and not wholye the texte appoynted for the churches, it maye yet be exercised in al other places, so longe as it is vsed within the compasse of the feare of God, and due obedience vnto youre mooste excellent maiestye, whome the same eternall God saue and preserue euermore. Amen.

Your graces mooste humble and faythfull subiect, Myles Couerdale.

MIles Couerdale vnto the Chriſten Reader.

COnſydering howe excellent knowlege & learning an interpreter of ſcripture ought to haue in ỹ tunges & ponderynge alſo myne owne inſufficiency therin and howe weake I am to perfourme the office of a tranſlatoure, I was the more loth to medle with this worke. Notwithſtandynge whan I conſydered howe greate pitie it was that we ſhoulde wante it ſo longe, and called to my remembraunce the aduerſitie of them, whiche were not onely of rype knowledge, but woulde alſo with all theyr heartes haue perfourmed that they began, yf they hadde not hadde impedimentes: conſyderynge (I ſaye) that by reaſon of theyr aduerſitie it coulde not ſo ſoone haue bene broughte to an ende, as oure mooſte proſperous nacyon woulde fayne haue hadde it: theſe and other reaſonable cauſes conſydered, I was the more bolde to take it in hande. And to helpe me herein, I haue had ſondrye tranſlacions, not onelye in Latyn, but alſo in other languages: whome (becauſe of theyr ſyngular gyftes and ſpeciall diligence in the Bible) I haue bene glad to folowe accordynge as I was requyred. But to ſaye the truethe before GOD, it was nother my laboure nor deſyre, to haue thys worke put in my hande: neuertheleſſe it greued me that other nations ſhoulde be more pleniteouſlye prouyded for with the Scripture in theyr mother tounge, thē we in oures, therfore whan I was inſtauntly requyred, (though I coulde not do ſo well as I woulde,) I thought it yet my deutye to do my beſte, that the ſcripture myghte wholly come forth in Engliſhe.

Where as ſome men thynke nowe that manye tranſlacions make diuiſyon in the fayth and in the people of GOD that is not ſo: for it was neuer better with the congregation of God, then whan euerye churche almooſt hadde the Bible of a ſondrye tranſlacyon. Amonges the Grekes hadde not Origen a ſpeciall tranſlation? Hadde not Vulgarius one peculiar, and lykewyſe Chriſoſtome? Beſyde the ſeuentye interpreters, is there not the tranſlation of Aquila, of Theodotion, of Symachus, and of ſundrye other? Agayne among the Latyn menne, thou fyndeſte that euerye one almooſte vſed a ſpeciall and ſundrye tranſlation, for in ſo muche as euerye byſhop had the knowledge of the tunges, he gaue his diligence to haue the Bible of his owne tranſlation. The doctors, as Hireneus, Cyprianus, Tertullian, S. Jherom, S. Auguſtyne, Hylarius, and S. Ambroſe vpon diuerſe places of the ſcrypture, reade not the texte all alyke.

Therefore ought it not to be taken as euell, ỹ ſuche men as haue vnderſtondynge nowe in oure tyme, exercyſe them ſelues in the tunges, & geue theyr diligence to tranſlate oute of one language into another.

Yea, we oughte rather to geue GOD hye thankes therfore, whiche thorowe his ſpirytе ſtereth vp mens myndes to exerciſe thē ſelues therin. Woulde God it hadde neuer bene lefte of after the tyme of S. Auguſtyne, then ſhoulde we neuer haue come into ſuche blyndneſſe and ignorauunce, into ſuch errours and deluſions. For as ſoone as the Bible was caſte aſyde, and no more put in exerciſe, then beganne euerye one, of his owne heade, to wryte what ſo euer came into his brayne, and that ſemed to bee good in his owne eyes, and ſo grewe the darkeneſſe of mennes tradicions. And this ſame is the cauſe that we haue hadde ſo many wryters, whiche ſeldome made mencion of the ſcripture of the Bible, and thoughe they ſometyme alleged it, yet was it done ſo farre out of ſeaſon and ſo wyde from the purpoſe, that a man may wel perceaue how that they neuer ſaw the originall.

Seyng then that this diligente exercyſe of tranſlatynge doth ſo much good and edifyeth in other languages, whye ſhoulde it do euyll in oures? Doutles lyke as all nations in the diuerſitie of ſpeaches maye knowe one God in the vnitie of fayth, and be one in loue: euen ſo maye diuerſe tranſlations vnderſtonde one another, and that in the heade articles & ground of oure mooſte bleſſed fayth, thoughe they vſe ſondrye wordes, wherefore me thynke we haue greate occaſion to geue thankes vnto God, that he hath opened vnto his churche the gift of interpretation, and of pryntynge, and that there are nowe at this tyme ſo manye, whiche with ſuche diligence, and faythfulneſſe interprete the Scripture to the honour of God, and edifyinge of his people, where as (lyke as whan manye are ſhotynge together) euerye one doth his beſte to be nieſte the marke. And thoughe they can not all attayne thereto, yet ſhotethe one nyer then another, and hitteth it better then another, ye one can do it better then another. Who is nowe then ſo vnreaſonable, ſo diſputefull or enuyous, as to abhorre him that doth all his diligence to hytte the pryck, and to ſhote nyeſte it, thoughe he myſſe and come not nyeſte the marke? Ought not ſuche one rather to be commended, and to be helped forwarde, that he maye exercyſe hym ſelfe the more therein?

For the whiche cauſe (accordynge as I was deſyred. Anno. 1. 5. 34.) I toke the more vpon me, to ſette forth this ſpeciall tranſlation, not as a checker, not as a reprouer, or deſpiſer of other mens tranſlacions (for amonge manye as yet I haue founde none without occaſion of greate thankeſgeuynge vnto God) but lowlye and faythfullye haue I folowed myne interpreters, and that vnder correction. And thoughe I haue fayled anye where (as ther is no manne, but he miſſeth in ſome thynge) Chriſtyan loue ſhall conſtrue all to the beſte without any peruerſe iudgemente.

There is no manne lyuynge that can ſe all thynges, nether hath God geuen anye man to knowe euery thynge. One ſeyth more clearelye then another, one hath more vnderſtondynge then another, one can vtter a thynge better then another, but no manne ought to enuye or deſpyſe another. He that can do better then another, ſhoulde not ſette hym at naughte that vnderſtandeth leſſe. Ye he that hath the more vnderſtandyng, ought to remembre that the ſame gyfte is not his, but Gods, and that GOD hath geuen it to hym, to teache, and inſourme the ignoraunt. Yf thou haſte knowledge therefore to iudge where anye faute is made, I dout not but thou wylte helpe to amende it, yf loue be ioyned with thy knowledge. Howbeit, wherin ſo euer I dyd perceaue by my ſelfe, or by the informacion of other, that I haue fayled (as it is no wonder) I haue nowe by the helpe of God ouerloked it better and amended it.

Nowe wyll I exhorte thee (who ſo euer thou be that readeſte ſcripture) yf thou fynd oughte therein, that thou vnderſtondeſte not, or that appeareth to be repugnaunte, geue no temerarious nor haſtye iudgemente thereof, but aſcrybe it to thyne owne ignoraunce, not to the Scripture, thynke that thou vnderſtondeſte it not, or that it hathe ſome other meanynge, or that it is haplye ouerſene of the interpreters, or wronge prynted. Agayne it ſhall greatlye helpe the to vnderſtonde Scrypture, yf thou marke not onelye what is ſpoken or wrytten, but of whome, and vnto whome, with what wordes, at why at tyme, where, to what intent, with what circumſtaunce, conſyderynge what goeth before, and what folowеth after. For there be ſome thynges whiche are done and wrytten, to the intente that we ſhoulde do lykewyſe: as when Abraham beleueth God, is obediente vnto hys worde, and defendeth Loth hys kynſman from violente wronge. There be ſome thynges alſoo whyche are wrytten to thintente that we ſhoulde eſchewe ſuche lyke. As whan Dauyd lyeth with Vrias wyfe, and cauſeth hym to be ſlayne. Therefore (I ſaye) whan thou readeſte ſcripture, be wyſe and circumſpecte: and whan thou commeſt to ſuche ſtraunge maners of ſpeakynge, and darke ſentences, to ſuche parables and ſimilitudes, to ſuche dreames or viſions, as are hydde from thyne vnderſtondynge, commytte them vnto God, or to the gyfte of his holy ſpryte in them that are better learned then thou.

¶ As for the commendation of Goddes holy ſcripture, I woulde fayne magnifye it as it is worthye, but I am farre vnſufficiente therto, and therefore I thought it better for me to holde my tounge, then with fewe wordes to prayſe or commende it: exhortynge the (moſt deare reader) ſo to loue it, ſo to cleaue vnto it, and ſo to folowe it in thy daylye conuerſacion, that other men ſeynge thy good workes, and the fruytes of the holye gooſt in thee, maye prayſe the father of heauen, and geue hys worde a good reporte. For to lyue after the lawe of God, and to leade a vertuous conuerſation, is the greateſt prayſe that thou canſt geue vnto his doctryne.

But as touchyng the euyll report and diſprayſe that the good worde of GOD hath by the corrupte and euyll conuerſation of ſome, that daylye heare it, and profeſſe it outwardlye with theyr mouthes, I exhorte thee (moſt deare reader) lette not that offende the, nor withdrawe thy myndе from the loue of the trueth, nether moue thee to be partaker in lyke vnthankefulneſſe: but ſeynge the lyght is come into the worlde, loue no more the workes of darkeneſſe: receaue not the grace of GOD in vayne. Call to thy remembraunce howe louynge and mercyfull GOD is vnto the, howe kyndlye and fatherlye he helpeth thee in all trouble, teacheth thyne ignoraunce, healeth thee in all thy ſickneſſe, forgeueth the all thy ſynnes, feadeth thee, geueth thee drynke, helpeth the oute of priſon, nouriſheth thee in ſtraunge countreyes, carethe for thee, and ſeyth that thou want nothyng.

Call

Call this to mynde (I saye) and that earnestlye, and consydre howe thou haste receaued of God all these benefytes (ye and manye mo then thou canst desyre) how thou art bound lykewyse to shewe thy selfe vnto thy neyghboure as farre as thou canste to teache hym yf he be ignorannte, to helpe hym in all his trouble, to heale hys sycknesse, to forgeue hym his offences, and that hartelye, to fede hym, to cherysshe him, to care for hym, and to se that he wante nothynge. And on this behalfe I beseke thee (thou that hast the ryches of this worlde, and louest God with thy harte) to lyfte vp thyne eyes, and see howe greate a multitude of poore people runne thorowe euerye towne: haue pitie on thyne owne flesshe, helpe them with a good harte, and doo with thy counsell all that euer thou canneste, that this vnshamefast beggynge may be put downe, that these ydle folkes maye be sette to laboure, and that suche as are not able to gette their lyuynge, maye be prouyded for. At the leaste thou that arte of counsell with suche as are in auctorytie, geue them some occasion to cast their heades together, and to make prouysion for the poore. Putte them in remembraunce of those noble cities in other countreyes, that by the authorytye of theyr prynces, haue so rychelye and well, prouyded for theyr poore people, to the greate shame and dyshonestye of vs, yf we lykewyse reccauynge the worde of God, shewe not suche lyke frutes therof. Wouide God that those men (whose office is to mayntayne the common welth) were as diligente in this cause as they are in other. Let vs beware by tymes, for after vnthankefulnesse there folowseth euer a plage: the mercyfull hande of God be with vs, and defende vs that we be not partakers therof.

Go to nowe (moost deare reader) and sette the downe at the Lordes feete, and reade hys wordes, and (o as Moses teacheth the Jewes) take them into thyne harte, and ict thy talkinge & communicacion be of them whā thou sitteste in thyne house, or goest by the waye, whan thou lyest down and whan thou rysest vp. And aboue al thinges fashion thy lyfe, and conuersacion accordyng to the doctryne of the holy goost therin that thou mayest be partaker of the good promyses of god in the Byble, & be heyre of his blessynge in Christ. In whom if thou putte thy trust, and be an vnfayned reader or hearer of his word with thyne hart, thou shalte fynde swetenes therin, and spye wonderous thynges, to thyne vnderstandynge, to the auoydynge of all sedicious sectes, to the abhorrynge of thyne olde synfull lyfe, and to the establyshynge of thy godly conuersation

In the fyrst boke of Moses called Genesis, thou mayest learne to knowe the almyghtye power of God in creatynge all of nought, his infinite wysedome in ordering the same, his ryghteousnes in punyshynge the vngodlye, his loue and fatherlye mercye in comfortynge the ryghteous with his promysse. &c.

In the seconde booke called Exodus, we se the myghty arme of God, in delyuerynge his people from so greate bondage out of Egypte, and what prouision he maketh for them in the wyldernes, how he teacheth them with his wholesome worde, and how the Tabernacle was made and set vp.

In the thyrde booke called Leuiticus, is declared what sacrifices the priestes and Leuites vsed, and what theyr office and ministration was.

In the fourth boke called Numeri, is declared, howe the people are numbred and mustred, howe the captaynes are chosen after the tribes and kinreds, howe they went forth to the battayle, how they pytched their tentes, and howe they drake vp.

The fyfth booke called Deuteronomion sheweth howe that Moses nowe beynge olde, rehearseth the lawe of God vnto the people, putteth them in remembraunce agayne of all the wonders and benefits that God had shewed for them, and exhorteth thē earnestlye to loue the Lorde theyr God, to cleaue vnto hym, to put theyr trust in hym, and to harken vnto his voyce.

After the death of Moses, dyd Josua bryngе the people into the londe of promys where God doeth wonderous thynges for his people by Josua, whiche distributeth the londe vnto them, vnto euerye tribe theyr possession. But in theyr welth they forgat the goodnesse of God, so that ofte tymes he gaue them ouer into the hande of theyr enemyes. Neuertheiesse, whan so euer they called faythfullye vppon him, and conuerted, he delyuered theym agayne: as the booke of Judges declareth.

In the bokes of kynges, is described the regimente of good and cupll Prynces, and howe the decaye of all nacyons commeth by cupll kynges. For in Jeroboam thou seyste what mischeif, what ydolatrye, and suche like abhominacion foloweth, whā the kynge is a mayntcyner of false doctrine, and causeth the people to synne agaynste God, whiche fallynge awaye from godes worde, encreased so sore amonge them, that it it was the cause of all theyr sorowe and misery, and the very occasion, whye Israell fyste, and then Juda, were caryed away into captiuitie. Agayne in Josaphat, and Ezechias, and in Josias thou seest the nature of a vertuous kynge. He puttethe downe the houses of ydolatrye, seyth that hys priestes teache nothinge but the lawe of god, commaundeth his iorges to goo with them, and to see that they teache the people. In these kynges (I saye) thou seiste the condition of a true defender of the fayth, for he sparcth nother coste nor labour, to maintayne the lawes of God, to seke the welth, and prosperitie of his people, and to roote out the wycked. And where suche a prynce is, thou seyst agayne, howe God defendeth him and his people, thoughe he haue neuer so manye enemies.

Thus went it with them in the old tyme, and euen after the same maner goeth it nowe with vs: God be prayed therfore, & graunt vs of hys fatherlye mercye, that we be not vnthankefull, leste where he nowe geueth vs a Josaphat: an Ezechias, yee a very Josias, he sende vs a Pharao, a Jeroboam, or an Achab.

In the two fyrst bokes of Esdras, and in Hester thou seiste the deliuerannce of the people, whiche thoughe they were but fewe yet it is vnto vs all a speciall comforte, for so muche as GOD is not forgetfull of his promyse, but bryngeth them oute of Captiuitie, accordynge as he hadde tolde them before.

In the boke of Job we learne comfort and pacience, in that God not onelye punyshethe the wycked, but proueth and trieth the iuste and ryghteous (howebeit there is no man innocente in his syghte) by dyuers troubles in this lyfe, declarynge thereby that they are not his bastards, but his deare sonnes, and that he loueth them.

In the Psalmes we learne howe to resorte onelye vnto God in all oure troubles, to seke helpe at hym, to call onely vpon him, to satie oure myndes by pacience, and howe we oughte in prosperitie to be thankefull vnto hym.

The Prouerbes and the Preacher of Salomon teache vs wysedome, to knowe God, oure owne selues, and the worlde, and howe vayne all thynges are, saue onelye to cleue vnto God.

As for the doctryne of the Prophetes, what is it elles, but an earneste exhortacion to eschue synne, and turne vnto GOD: a faythfull promys of the mercye and pardon of God, vnto all them that tourne vnto hym, and a threatenynge of his wrath to the vngodlye: Saynge that here and there they prophecye also manifestlye of Christe of the expulsition of the Jewes, and callynge of the Heythen.

The newe Testamente or Gospell, is a manifeste and cleare testimonye of Christ, howe God performeth his othe and promys made in the olde Testament, howe the Newe is declared and included in the olde, and the Olde fulfylled and verified in the Newe.

Nowe where as the most famous interpreters of all geue sondrye iudgementes of the texte (so farre as it is done by the spirvte of knowledge in the holye gooste) me thynke no man shoulde be offended therent, for they referre theyr doynges in mekenes to the spyrte of trueth in the congregacion of God: and sure I am, that there commethe more knowledge and vnderstondynge of the scripture by theyr sondrye translations, then by all the gloses of our sophistical doctours. For that one interpreteth somethynge obscurelye in one place, the same translateth another (or elles he hym selfe) more manyfestlye by a more playne vocable of the same meanynge in another place. Be not thou offended therefore (good Reader) thoughe one call a Scrybe, that another calleth a lawyer: or elders, that another calleth father and mother: or repentaunce, that another calleth pennaunce or amendement. For yf thou be not deceaued by mens tradicions thou shalte fynd no more diuersitie betwene these termes then betwene foure pens and a grote. And this manner haue I vsed in my translacion, callynge it in some place pennaunce, that in another place I call repentaunce. And that not onelye because the interpreters haue done so before me, but that the aduersaries of the trueth maye see, howe that we abhorre not this worde pennaunce (as they vntruelye reporte of vs) no more then the interpreters of Latin, abhorre penitere, whan they reade resipiscere. Onelye oure hearetes desyre vnto GOD is, that his people be not blynded in theyr vnderstondynge, leaste they beleue pennaunce to be ought, saue a verye repentaunce, amendment, or conuersion vnto God, and to be an vnfayned newe creature in Christe, and to lyue accordynge to his lawe. For elles shall they fal in to the olde blasphemy of Christes blonde, and beleue, that they them selues are able to make satisfaction vnto God, for theyr owne synnes, from the which erroure god of his mercye and plenteous goodnesse preserue all his.

The Table and Kalender expressynge the order of the Psalmes and Lessons, to be sayde at the Morninge and Euenynge prayer throughout the yeare, excepte certayne propre feastes, as the Rules folowynge more playnly declare.

The Order howe the Psalter is appoynted to be reade.

THe Psalter shalbe readde throughe, once euerye Moneth. And becauselethat some Monethes be longer then some other be, it is thought good to make them euen by this meanes.

To euerye Moneth, shalbe appoynted (as concernynge this purpose) iuste. xxx. dayes.

And because January and Marche hath one daye aboue the sayde numbre, and Februarye whiche is placed betwene them bothe, hath onely .xxviij. dayes: Februarye shall borowe of eyther of the Monethes (of January and Marche) one daye. And so the Psalter which shalbe readde in Februarye, must beginne the last day of Januarye, and ende the fyrste daye of Marche.

And where as Maye, July, Auguste, October, and December, haue .xxxi. dayes a piece: it is ordered that the same Psalmes, shalbe readde the last daye of the sayde Monethes, whiche were read the daye before. So that the Psalter may begynne agayne the fyrst day of the nexte Monethes ensuynge.

Now to knowe what Psalmes shalbe read euerye daye, loke in the Kalender, the numbre that is appoynted for the Psalmes, and then fynde the same numbre in this table, and vpon that number shall you see, what Psalmes shalbe sayed at Morynynge and Euenynge prayer.

And where the .cxix. psalme is deuided into .xxij. porcions, and is ouerlonge to be read at one tyme: it is so ordered, that at one tyme shall not be reade aboue foure or fyue of the sayed porcions, as you shal perceyue to be noted in this Table folowing.

And here is also to be noted, that in this table, and in all other partes of the seruice, where any Psalmes are appoynted, the numbre is expressed after the greate Englyshe Bible, whiche from the .ix. Psalme, vnto the .cxlviij. Psalme (folowyng the diuision of the Hebrues) doth varie in numbres from the common Latyn translacion.

¶ The order howe the rest of the holy Scripture (beside the Psalter) is appointed to be readde.

THe olde Testamente is appointed for the fyrst lessons, at Morning and Euening prayer, and shall be readde thorough, euery yeare once, except certayne bokes and Chapiters, which be leaste edifying, and might best be sparced, and therefore be left vnreade.

¶ The newe Testamente is appointed for the seconde Lessons, at Morninge and Eueninge prayer, and shalbe read ouer orderly euery yeare thyse, beside the Epistles and Gospelles: except the Apocalips, out of the whiche there be onelye certayne Lessons appointed, vpon diuers proper feastes.

¶ And to knowe what Lessons shalbe reade euery daye: fynde the day of the moneth in the Kalender folowinge, and there ye shall perceiue the bokes and Chapiters that shalbe readde for the lessons, both at Morninge and Eueninge prayer.

¶ And here is to be noted, that whenso euer there be any proper Psalmes or Lessons appointed for any feaste, moueable or vnmoueable: then the Psalmes and Lessons, appointed in the Kalender, shall be omitted for that tyme.

¶ Ye must note also that the Collecte, Epistle and Gospel, appointed for the sundaye, shall serue all the weeke after, except there fall some feast that hath his proper.

¶ This is also to be noted, concernyng the Leape yeares, that the .xxv. day of Februarye, which in Leape yeare, is coumpted for two dayes, shall in those dayes, alter neither Psalme nor Lesson: but ye same Psalmes and Lessons, which be sayed the fyrst daye, shal also serue for the second day.

¶ And whereseoeuer is not expressed howe farre shalbe readde, there shall you reade to the ende of the Chapiter.

The fyrst boke of Moses called Genesis.

¶ The fyrst Chapter.

IN the beginninge God † created heaue and earth / and the earth was voyde & emptye/& darkenes was vpon the depe/& the spirete of God moued vpon the water.

And God sayde: let there be lighte/& there was lighte. And God sawe the lighte that it was good. Then God deuided the lighte frō the darkenes/& called the light Daye. And ỹ darkenes Nighte. Then of the eueninge and morninge was made the fyrst daye.

And God sayde: let there be a firmament betwene ỹ waters / and let it deuide ỹ waters asunder. Then God made the firmament / & parted ỹ waters vnder the fyrmamēt/ from ỹ waters aboue the firmament. And so it came to passe / and God called ỹ firmamēt Heaue. Then of ỹ euenyng and mornyng was made the seconde daye.

And God said/ † let the waters vnder heauen gather theym selfes vnto one place / that the drye lande maye appeare. And so it came to passe. And God called ỹ drye lande Earth: and the gatheringe togeither of waters called he/ the See: and God sawe that it was good.

B And God sayde: let the earth bringe forthe grene grasse and herbes / that beareth sede/ & frutefull trees/ that may bearc frute/ euery one after hys kynde/ hauing theyr own sede in thē selfes vpon the earth. And so it came to passe. And the earth broughte forthe grene grasse & herbes / that beareth sede euery one after hys kynde/ & trees bearynge frute / and hauynge theyr owne sede in thē selfes / euery one after hys kynde. And God sawe that it was good. Then of the euening and morning was made the thyrde daye.

And God sayd: † let there be lightes in the firmament of heauen / to deuyde the daye frō the nyght/ † that they may be vnto tokēs/ seasons/ dayes and yeares. And let then be lightes in the firmament of heauen/ to shine vpon the earth: And so it came to passe. † And God made two great lightes/ one greater light to rule the day/ and a lesse light to rule the night/ and (he made) starres also. And God set thē shyne vpon earth / and to rule the daye and nyght/and to deuyde the nyght frō darkenes.

And God sawe that it was good. Then of euening/& morning was made the fourth day.
C And God sayd:† let the waters bring forthe iij. Es.vi.e creatures that moue/& haue life/and fooles for to flye aboue the earthe/ vnder the firmament of heauen. And God created great whalles/and all maner of creatures that lyue & moue/which the waters brought forth euery one after his kynd. And al maner of fethered fooles/euery one after hys kynde. And God saw that it was good/and blessed them/sayng: Grow/and multiplye / and fyll the water of the seas/ & let the fooles multiplye vpō the earth. Then of the euenyng & morenyng was made the fifth daye.

And God sayd: let the earthe bryng forthe liuing soules/euery one after his kynde: cattel/wormes / and what as hath lyfe vpon earth/euery one after hys kynde. And so it came to passe. And God made the beastes of the earth euery one after hys kynde / & cattell after theyr kynde/& al maner of wormes of the earth/ after their kynde. And God sawe that it was good.

D And God sayde: let vs make man in oure similitude/after our lykenesse / that he maye haue rule ouer the fyshes of the see/ & ouer the fooles vnder the heauen/and ouer cattell/ & ouer all the earth/ & ouer al wormes that krepe on the earth/and to all fooles vnder the heauē/ & to euery worme that hath lyfe (vpon earthe) all maner grene herbes to eate. And so it came to passe. And God beheld all that he had made/den. xxxii.a & lo/ † they were exceading good. Then / of Ec xxxix c. euenyng & mornyng was made the sixte daye.

The. II. Chapter.

THus was heauen & earth fynished with all theyr hoste/& thus in the. vij. day God ended hys worke/which he had made/† & rested in the seuenth day frō all his workes/which he had made: And blessed the. vij. day / & sanctified it/because that in it he rested from all his workes/which God created and made.

These are the generacions of heauē & earth/
whan they were created/in the tyme whan the Lord God made heauē & earth: Before there was any twygge vpon earth /&/ or euer there grewe any grene herbe vpō the felde. For the Lord God had yet sent no rayn vpō the earth/
ney ther was there any man to tyll the earth.
But there arose a myst frō the earth/& watred
all the lāde.† And the Lord God did shape man/ cuē of the moulde of the earth/& brethed into his face/the breth of life. And so was man made a lyuyng soule.

The Lord God also plāted a gardē of pleasure in Eden/toward the East / & set mā therin/whom he had made. And the Lord God caused to spring out of the earth all maner trees/pleasaūt to loke vpon/& good to eat: & the† tree of lyfe in the middest of the garden/ & the tree of knowlege/of good & euell.

And out of Eden there wēt a ryuer to water the garden / and there deuided it self into four head waters.† The first is called Phison/
which rēneth about all the lande of Heuyla.
And there is founde golde/ (& the golde of coūtre is precious) & there is foūde Bedell.ō/
& the precious stone Onix. The second water is called Gyhon/ whiche runneth aboute the whole lande of the Morias. The. iij. water is called Hidekel/ which runneth toward the East side of the Assyrians. The. iiij. water is Euphrates.

And the Lord God toke mā/ & set hym in the pleasaūt garden of Eden/to dresse it/& to kepe
it. And the Lord God cōmaūded mā/ saying:
Thou shalt eate of all maner trees in the garden: But of the tree of knowlege/of good and euel/shalt thou not eate. For loke in what day soeuer thou eatest thereof/ thou shalt dye the deathe.

And the Lord God sayd: It is not good that man should be alone. I wil make him an helpe/ lyke to beare him cōpany. And whā God the Lord had made of the earth all maner beastes of

stes of the felde / & all maner fooles vnder the heauē/ he brought thē vnto man / to se what he wolde call thē: For as man called al maner of liuinge soules / so are theyr names. And man gaue names vnto all maner cattell / and vnto the fooles vnder the heauē/& vnto al maner beastes of the felde. But vnto man there was foūde no helper / to beare hym cōpany.

Then the Lorde God caused an hardslepe to fal vpon man/& he slept. And he toke oute one of his rybbes/ and (in steade thereof) he fylled the place vp with flesh. And † the Lord God made a woman / of the ribbe that he toke out of man/& brought her vnto hym. Then sayde man: This is once bone of my bones/ & flesh of my flesh/ she shalbe called woman/because she was take mā.† For this cause shal
a māleaue father & mother/ & cleaue vnto hys wyfe/and they two shalbe one flesh. And thei were both naked/the man & hys wyfe/& were not a shamed.

The. III. Chapter.

BVt the† serpēt was sotyller then all the beastes of the felde (whiche the Lorde God had made) & sayd vnto the womā: Yee/hath God said in dede Ye shall not eate of all maner trees in the garde? Then sayd the womā vnto the serpent: We eate of the frute of the trees in the garden: But as for the frute of the tree/that is in the middes of the garden/God hath saide: Eate not ye of it/ and touche it not/lest ye dye.

Then sayde the serpent vnto the woman:
† Tush/ye shal not dye the death. For God doth knowe/that in what daye soeuer ye eate of it / youre eyes shalbe opened/& shalbe as God/& know both good & euell. And the womā sawe that the tree was good to eate of / & lusty vnto
the eyes/& a pleasaūt tree/ & to make wise/& toke of the frute of it/ & ate/and gaue vnto her hus-bāde also therof/& he ate.† Then were the eyes of thē both opened/& they perceaued that they were naked/ & sowed fygge leaues together /
and made them apurns.

B And they herde the voyce of the Lord God/whiche walked in the garden / in the coole of the day. And Adā hyd him self with his wyfe/frō the presence of the Lord God/ amōg the trees of the garden. And the Lorde God called Adā/& sayd vnto hym: Where art thou? And he sayd: I herde the voyce in the garden/ and was afrayed/ because I am naked / & therfore
I hyde my self. And he sayd: who tolde thee/that thou art naked? Hast thou not eaten of the tree/whereof I cōmaūded the / that thou shouldest not eate?

Then sayd Adā: The woman/whiche thou C gauest me (to beare me cōpany) gaue me of the tree/& I ate. And the Lorde God sayd vnto
the woman: wherfore hast thou done thys?
The woman said:† the serpēt deceaued me so/ Apoc.xij.c.
that I ate. Then sayd the Lorde God vnto
the serpente: Because thou haste done thys/cursed be thou aboue all cattell / and aboue all beastes of the felde. Vpon thy belly shalt thou go/& earth shalt thou eate all the dayes of thy lyfe. And I wil put enemy betwene the & the woman/† and betwene thy sede and her sede/ Mat iij.a.
* Thesame shall treade doune thy heade/ and *Col.ij.b.
thou shalt treade hym on the hele.

And vnto the woman he sayde: I will en-crease thy sorow/whā thou art with chylde/ in payne shalt thou beare thy chyldren/& thy lust Some reas shal pertain vnto thy husbād/& he shal rule. de. Thou And vnto Adā he sayd: For so much as thou shalt bowe haste herkened vnto the voyce of thy wyfe/ & doune thy haste eaten of the tree/whereof I cōmaunded self before the saying: thou shalt not eate of it. Cursed be thy husbād the earth for thy sake. With sorowe shalte thou eate therof all the dayes of thy lyfe. Thornes & thistles shal it beare vnto the/& thou shalt eate
the herbes of the felde. In the sweate of thy face shalt thou eate thy bread / tyll thou be turned agayn vnto earth/whence thou art taken:† for Eccl.xl.b earth thou art/and vnto earthe shalte thou be iob xxxij.b turned agayn.

And Adam called his wyfe Heua/ because she is the mother of al liuing. And the Lord God made Adam & his wyfe garmentes of skynnes/& those he put on the. And the Lord God sayd: Adam is become as it were one of vs/& knoweth good & euell. But now/lest he stretch his hande/& take also of the tree of lyfe/& eat/& lyue for euer. Then the Lorde God put hym out of the garden of Eden / to tyll the earth/whence he was taken. And he cast Adā out. And before the garden of Eden he set Che rubes/and a naked fyry sweard/to kepe the way vnto the tree of lyfe.

The. IIII. Chapter.

A MOreouer/Adā lay with Heua his wyfe/ which conceaued/ & bare Cain/ & sayde:
Actu.xvij.c I haue optayned the † man of the Lorde.
And she proceaded forthe/ & bare his brother Abel. And Abel became a shepherde/ but Cain became an husbandman.

And it fortuned after certayn days/ ỳ Cain brought of the frute of the earth/ an offeringe vnto the Lord. And Abel brought also of ỳ firstlinges of his shepe/ & of the fat of theym.
Heb.xi.a. † And the Lord had respecte vnto Abel & to hys offering: But vnto Cain & his offring he loked not. Then was Cain exceading wrothe/ & his coũtenaũce chaũged. And the Lorde sayd vnto Cain: Why art thou angry? & why doth thy coũtenaunce chaũge? Is it not so? ỳ if ỳ do well/ thou shalt receaue it/ but/ & if thou do euell/ thy sinne lyeth open in the doore?
Some rede. Let it be subdued vnto the/ & rule thou it.
Sapi.x.a. Shal he then be subdued vnto the? & wilt thou rule him? And Cain talked with Abell his brother.

And it happened/ that whā they were in ỳ selde/ † Cain arose against Abell his brother/ & slew him. Then the Lorde sayd vnto Cain: Where is Abel thy brother? He sayd: I cā not tell. Am I my brothers keper?
B Heb.xij.d. And he sayde: What haste thou done? † The voyce of thy brothers blond cryeth vnto me/ out of the earthe. And now shalt thou be cursed vpō the earth/ which hath opened her mouth/ & receaued thy brothers blond of thyne hãde. Whan thou tillest the groũd/ she shal henseforth not geue her Pro.xviij.c power vnto the. † A vagabunde & a rēnagate shalt thou be vpō the earthe. And Cain sayde
Joh.xv.c vnto the Lorde: † my synne is greater/ then that it may be forgeuē me. Beholde/ thou castest me out this day frō out of the lãde/ & frō thy sight must I hide my self/ & must be a vagabunde & a rēnagate vpon the earth/ & thus shal it go with me: that who so fyndeth me/ shall slay me.

C Gene.iiij.d But ỳ Lord sayd thus vnto hym: † Who so slayeth Cain/ it shalbe auenged seuenfolde. And the Lord dyd put a marke vpon Cain/ that nō mā/ which foũde hym/ should kyl him. So Cain went out frō the face of the Lord/ and dwelt in the lande Nod/ vpon the East syde of Eden.

And Cain lay vb his wyfe/ which cōceaued & bare Henoch. And he buylded a cyte & called it after the name of hys sonne Henoch. And Henoch begat Irad/ Irad begat Mathuiael/ Mathuiael begat Mathusael/ Mathusael begat Lamech.

And Lamech toke him .ij. wifes: ỳ one was called Ada/ & the other Silla. And Ada bare D Jabel/ of whome came they ỳ dwelt in tētes/ & had cattel. And his brothers name was Jubal: Of hym came they ỳ occupyed harpes & pypes. And Silla she also bare Tubalcain/ a worker in all cōning poyntes of metall & yrō. And Tubalcains syster was called Naema.

And Lamech sayd vnto hys wyfes Ada & Silla: Heare my voyce (ye wyfes of Lamech) & herken vnto my wordes: for I haue slayne a man/ & wounded my selfe: & haue kylled a yong man/ & gotten my selfe strypes. Cain shalbe auenged seuen tymes: but Lamech seuen and seuenty tymes.

And Adā lay yet with his wyfe agayne/ & she bare a sonne/ & called hym Seth. For God (sayde she) hath appoynted me another sede for Abel/ whome Cain slew. And Seth begat a sonne also/ & called hym Enos. At thesame tyme begā mē to call vpō ỳ name of ỳ Lord.

Seth was an .C. and .v. yeare olde/ & begat Enos/ & lyued therafter .viij. C. & vij. yeare/ and begat sonnes & doughters. And hys whole age was nyne hundreth and twelue yeares/ & so he dyed.

Enos was .xc. yeare olde/ & begat Kenan: B & lyued therafter .viij. C. & xv. yeare/ & begatte sonnes and doughters. And hys whole age was nyne hundreth and fyue yeares/ and soo he dyed.

Kenan was seuēty yeare olde/ & begat Mahalaliel: & lyued therafter eyght hundreth and fortye yeare/ and begat sonnes & doughters.

Mathusalah was .C. & .lxxxvij. yeare olde/ & begat Lamech/ & lyued therafter seuen hundreth & two/ & .lxxx. yeare/ & begat sonnes and doughters. And hys whole age was nyene hundreth and nyne & thre score yeares/ and so he dyed.

Lamech was an hundreth & two/ and .lxxx. yeare olde/ & begat a sonne/ & called him Noe/ & sayde: This same shall conforte vs in oure workes/ & in the sorow of our hādes vpon the

Noe was fyue hundreth yeare olde/ & begat Sem/ Ham/ and Japhet.

The. VI. Chapter.

A GO whan men began to multiplye vpon the earth/ & had begotten thē sonnes and doughters/ the children of God saw ỳ doughters of men/ that they were fayre/ & toke vnto them wyfes/ such as they liked. Then sayd the Lorde: My spriete shal not alwaye striue wb
1.Pet.iij.c man/ for he is but flesh also. † I will yet geue him respite an .C. & xx. yeares. There were giauntes also in the world at that time. For whā the children of God had lyen with ỳ doughters of men/ & begotten them children/ the same (children) became mighty in the worlde/ and men of renowne.

But whā the Lord saw/ that the wickednes of man was increased vpō the earth/ and B that all the thoughte & ymaginacion of theyr herte was but onely euel cōtinually/ † it repented hym ỳ he had made man vpō the earth/ & i.Reg.xv.c
he sorowed in his hert/ & sayd: I wil destroye mankinde/ which I haue made/ frō the earth: both man/ beast/ worme/ & foole vnder the heauen: † for it repenteth me that I haue made Esa.xlij.c
them. Neuertheless/ Noe founde grace in the sight of the Lorde.

This is the generacion of Noe. † Noe was Ecc.xliij b a righteous & perfect man/ & led a godly lyfe in his time/ & begat thre sonnes: Sem/ Ham/ and Japhet. Notwithstāding/ the earth was corrupte in the sighte of God/ and full of mischief. Then loked God vpon the earth: & lo/ it was corrupt: for all flesh had corrupt his way vpon the earth.

Then sayde God vnto Noe: The ende of all C flesh is come before me/ for the earth is full of mischief before them. And lo/ I will destroye them with the earth. Make the an Arcke of Pyne tree/ & make chābers in it/ and pitche it within & without with pitche/ & make it after this fashiō: The length shalbe thre hundreth cubites/ the breth fifty cubites/ & the heyghte thirty cubites. A wyndowe shalte thou make aboue a cubite greate/ but the dore shalt thou set in the middest/ in ỳ syde of it: And ỳ Arcke shalte thou make with thre lostes/ one aboue another. For lo/ I wil bring a floude of water vpon the earth/ to destroy al flesh (wherin the breth of lyfe is) vnder the heauen: All that is vpon earth/ shal perish.

But with the wil I make a cōuēnaunt/ & D
thou shal go into the Arcke with thy sonnes/ with thy wyfe/ & with thy sonnes wifes. And of all creatures whatsoeuer fleshe it be/ thou shalt bring in to the Arcke/ euen a payre: the male & ỳ female/ that they may lyue with the: Of fooles after theyr kynde/ of beastes after theyr kynde/ & of all maner of wormes of the earth/ after theyr kynde. Of euery one of these shall there a payre go in vnto ỳ/ that they may lyue. And thou shalt take vnto the all maner of meate that may be eaten/ & shalt laye it vp in stoare by the/ that it may be meate for the & them. And Noe did according to al that God commaunded hym.

The. VII. Chapter.

A NN the Lord sayd vnto Noe: † Go into ij. Pet. ij. b the Arcke/thou & thy whole house: for the haue I sene righteous before me/at this time.
† Of all cleane beastes take vnto the seuē and Leui. xj. a. seuen/the male & his female. And of the vncleane beastes a payre/ the male & his female.
Likewise of the fooles vnder the heauen/ seuē
and seuen/the male and his female/that there may be sede left aliue vpon the whole earthe.
For yet/ after seuē dayes wil I sende rayne vpon the earth/forty dayes and forty nightes/and I wil destroye all maner of thinges that I haue made / frome of the face of the earth.
B And Noe did all that the Lord commaūded him. Six hundreth yeare olde was he/
mat. xxiiij. d whan the waterfloude came vpon the earth.
Luce. xvij. c † And he went into the Arcke with hys son-nes/his wyfe/& his sonnes wyfes/ for the waters of the floude. Of cleane beastes/ & of vncleane/of all fethered fooles/& of all that cre-peth vpon earth / wēt in vnto him to ỹ Arcke
by cooples/a male & a female/ as the Lorde cōmaūded him. And whā the seuē dayes were past/the waterfloude came vpon the earth.
In the .vi. hūdreth yeare of Noes age/vpō
the seuenth daye of the seconde moneth / the same daye were all the fountayne of ỹ greate depe broken vp /& the wyndowes of heauen were opened/& there came a rayne vpon the earth/forty dayes and forty nightes.
Vpon the selfsame daie went Noe into the C Arcke with Sem/Ham/& Japhet his sōnes/& with his wyfe/& the thre wyfes of his son-nes/ & all maner of beastes after their kynde/
all maner of cattel after their kinde/all maner of creping thinges/that crepe vpō the earth/after their kynde/& al maner of fooles/whatsoeuer couldе flye/& whatsoeuer had fethers/after their kynde. These went al vnto Noe into the Arcke by cooples/of all flesh/ in whom was the breth of life. And these were ỹ male & the female of al maner of flesh/& went in/according as God commaunded him. And the Lord shut the doze vpon hym.
D † Then came the waterfloud forty dayes
Ec. xxxix d vpon the earth/& the water increased/ & bare vp the Arcke/& lift it vp ouer the earth. Thus the water preuayled/& increased sore vpō the earth/so that the Arcke went vpon ỹ waters.
Yee/the waters preuayled & increased so sore
vpon earth/that all the hye mountaynes vnder the whole heauen were couered. Fiftene cubites hye preuayled the waters ouer ỹ moū taynes/which were couered.
Then all flesshe that crept vpon earthe perished/both fooles/cattell/ beastes/& al ỹ moued vpō earth/and all men. Whatsoeuer had the breth of lyfe vpon the drye lande/dyed.
† Thus was destroyed all that was vpon Sapi. x.
earth/both man & beast/ both wormes & fooles vnder the heauen: al these were destroyed from the earth. Saue Noe onely remayned/& they that were with him in the Arcke. And the waters preuayled vpon the earth an hun-dreth and fifty dayes.

The. VIII. Chapter.

A WHen God remembred Noe & all the Beastes/& al the cattel that were with him in the Arcke/& caused a wynde to come vpō the earth: & the waters ceassed/ & the fountaynes of the depe/& the wyndowes of heauen were stopte/& the rayne of heauen was forbidden/and the waters ranne still awaye from the earth/and decreased after an hundred & fifty dayes.
Vpon the seuenteth day of the seuēth mo-neth rested the Arcke vpō the mountaynes of Ararat. And the waters wēt away/ & decreased vntil the x. moneth: for ỹ first day of the x.
moneth: the toppes of ỹ moūtains apeared.
After .xl. dayes / Noe opened the wyndowes of the Arcke/which he had made/& sente forth a Rauē/which flew out/& ỹ came again Somervntil the waters were dryed vp vpō ỹ earthe. de: Came not agayn
B Than sent he forth a doue frō him to wete/
whether the waters were fallē vpō the earth.
But when the doue couldе fynde no resting place for her fete/ she came agayne vnto hym
into the Arcke/ for the waters were yet vpon
the face of all the earth . And he put out hys hande/and toke her to him into the Arcke.
Then abode he yet seuē dayes mo/ & sent out the doue agayne out of the Arcke: & she returned vnto him about the euētide: And behold/
she had brokē of a leafe of an olyue tree/& bare it in her nebbe. Then perceaued Noe/ ỹ the waters were abated vpō the earth. Neuerthelesse he taried yet seuen other dayes/ and sent forth
the

the doue/which came nomore to him againe.
In the .vi.c. hundreth & one yeare of Noes age/vpō the first day of the first moneth/ ỹ waters were dryed vp vpō the earth. Then Noe toke of the hatches of the Arcke/& saw that the face of the earth was drye. So vpon the seuē & twenty day/of the seconde moneth/ ỹ whole earth was drye.
C Then spake God vnto Noe & sayde: Go out of the Arcke/ thou & thy wyfe & thy sonnes /& thy sonnes wyfes with the. As for all the Beastes that are with ỹ/whatsoeuer flesh it be/both foole & cattell / and all maner of wormes that crepe vpon earth/let them go out with the /&

tiplye vpon the earth.
So Noe went out/with his sonnes & with his wife/and with his sonnes wyfes. And the beastes also & all the wormes/& the fooles/and all that crept vpon the earth/ wente out of the Arcke/euery-one vnto his lyke.
D And Noe buylded an aultare vnto ỹ Lord Leui. j. c & toke of all maner of † cleane beastes /& of all maner of cleane fooles/ & offred brēt sacrifices vpon the aultare And the Lord smelled the Deu. xxij. b. swete sauour/& sayd in his hert: I wil henceforth curse ỹ earth nomore for mans sake/† for the ymagination of mans hert is euel/ euē frō
the very youth of him . Therfore frō hēceforth wil I nomore smite all that liueth / as I haue done. Neyther shal sowing time and harueste/

The. IX. Chapter.

A AND God blessed Noe & his sonnes/ & said vnto him. Increace & multiplye/ & fill the earth: the feare also/ & drede of you be vpon all beastes of the earth: vpon all fooles vnder the heauen/& vpon all that crepeth on the earth/ &
all fishes of the see be geuen into youre hādes.
Gene. i. d † All that moueth & hath lyfe be youre meate:

† He that sheddeth mans bloud/his bloud shalbe shed by man agayne / for * God made man after his owne likenesse. As for you/be ye fruteful & increase/& be occupied vpon ỹ earth
that ye maye multiplye therin. *Gen. i. d B † Furthermore/God sayde vnto Noe / & to Esa. liij. a. his sonnes with hym. Beholde/ I make my cōuenāt with you/ & with your sede after you/& with euery liuing creature that is with you/both foole/cattell & all Beastes vpon the earthe with you/of all that is gone out of the Arcke/whatsoeuer beast of ỹ earth it be. † And thus Ecc. xliij. b make I my conuenaunt with you/ that hēceforth/all flesh shal not be destroyed with ỹ waters of any floude/& from hēceforth there shal come no floude to destroy the earth/
And God saide: This is the toke of my cōuenaunt/whiche I haue made betwene me & you / and all liuinge creatures among you for euermore. My Bowe wil I set in the cloudes/& it shalbe the token of my cōuenaūt/betwene me & the earth: so that whan I bring cloudes vpon the earth/ the Bowe shall appeare in the cloudes: & then wil I thinke vpon my conue-naunt betwene me & you/& all liuinge creatures in al maner of flesh/so that frō henceforth/ C
there shal no more come any floud of water to destroy all flesh. Therfore shal my Bowe be in the cloudes/that I may loke vpon it/& remem
bre the euerlasting conuenaūt/betwene God &
all liuing creatures/ in all flesh ỹ is vpō earth.
God sayd also vnto Noe: This is the token of the conuenaūt/which I haue made betwene me and all flesh vpon earth.
The sonnes of Noe/ which went out of the Arcke/are these/Sem/Hā/ & Japhet As for Ham/he is ỹ father of Canaā. These are Noes thre sonnes/of whom al lādes were ouerspred.
D Noe beganne to take hede vnto the tylling

Mat. xxi. a. of the wyne/& was dronken/& laye vncouered in his tente Now when Ham / the father of Canaā/saw his fathers preuities/ he tolde his two brethren without. Then toke Sem & Ja-phet a māt̄el/ and put it vpō both theyr shoulders/and went bacwarde/ and couered theyr fathers secretes/& theyr faces were turned aside/ ỹ they should not se their fathers preuities.
So whan Noe awaked from his wyne / &
perceaued what his ionger sonne had done
vnto him: he said/Cursed be Canaā/& a seruaūt of seruaūtes be he vnto his brethren. He sayde

moreouer. Prayſed be the Lord God of Sē/ & Canaan be hys ſeruaunt. God increaſe Japhet/ & let hym dwel in the tentes of Sem/ & Canaan be hys ſeruaunt.

And Noe lyued after the floude thre hundreth & fifty yeare/ ſo that hys whole age was nyne hundreth and .L. yeare/ and ſo he dyed.

The .X. Chapter.

A THis is the generacion of the chyldren of Noe: Sem/ Ham/ & Japhet/ & them begat chyldren after the floude.

† The chyldrē of Japhet are theſe: Gomer/ Magog/ Madai/ Iauan/ Tubal/ Meſech and Thyras. The chyldren of Gomer are theſe: Aſcenas/ Riphat & Togarma. The chyldrē of Iauan are theſe: Eliſa/ Tharſis/ Cithim & Sodanim/ of theſe are deuided the Iles of the Heithen in their cōutre/ euery one after his ſpeach. kynred/ and people.

B The chyldrē of Ham are theſe: Chus/ Miſraim/ Phut & Canaan. The chyldren of Chus are theſe: Seba/ Heuila/ Sabtha/ Regma and Sabtheca.

The chyldren of Regma are theſe: Sheba & Dedam. Chus alſo begat Nemrod/ which began to be mighty in the earth/ & was a mighty hunter in the ſight of the Lord. Thereof commeth the prouerbe. This is a mighty hūter before the Lord/ lyke as Nemrod. And ỹ originall of hys kyngdō was † Babel/ Erech/ Acad & Chalme/ in the lande of Synear. Out of that lande came Aſſur/ & buylded Niniue/ and the ſtretes of the cytye/ & Calah/ & Reſſen/ betwene Niniue & Calah. † This is a great cytye. Miſraim begat Ludim/ Enamim/ Leabim/ Naphthuim/ Patruſim & Caſluhim/ frō whence came the Philiſtynes & Captorim.

Canaan alſo begat Sidon hys eldeſt ſonne/ & C Heth/ Jebuſi/ Emori/ Girgoſi/ Hiui/ Arki/ Sini/ Aruadi/ Semari/ & Hamati: frō whēce the kynredes of the Cananites are diſperſed abrode. And the coaſtes of ỹ Cananites were from Sidō forth/ thorow Gerar vnto Gaſa/ till thou commeſt vnto Sodoma/ Gomorra/ Adama/ Seboim/ & vnto Laſa. Theſe are the children of Ham in their kynredes/ tōges/ landes/ & people. And Sem/ whiche is the father of all the chyldren of Eber/ & the elder brother of Japhet/ begat chyldren alſo. And theſe are his chyldren: Elam/ Aſſur/ Arphachſad/ Lud/ and Aram. The chyldren of Aram are theſe: Vz/ Hull/ Geth and Mas.

And Arphachſad begat Sala/ & Sala begat Eber. Eber begat two ſonnes: the name of the one was Peleg/ becauſe that in his time the worlde was deuided/ & his brothers name was Jaketan. And Jaketan begat Almodad Saleph/ Hazarmaphet/ Jarah/ Hadoram/ Vſal/ Dikla/ Obal/ Abimael/ Seba/ Ophir/ Heuila & Jobab: All theſe are the chyldren of Jaketan. And their dwelling was frō Meſa/ till thou come vnto Sephar/ a moūtayne of ỹ East. Theſe are the chyldrē of Sem in their generacions/ tunges/ landes and people.

This is now the generacion of the chyldrē of Noe in their kynreds and people. Of theſe were the people vpō earth ſpred abrode after the floude.

The .XI. Chapter.

And they toke brycke for ſtone/ & ſlyme for morter/ & ſayd: Come/ let vs buylde a cytye and a tower/ whoſe toppe maye reache vnto heauē/ that we maye make vs a name/ afore we be ſcatred abrode in all landes. Then came the LORDE downe to ſe the cytye & tower/ that the chyldrē of men had buylded. And the Lord ſayde: Beholde/ the people is one/ & haue one maner of language amonge thē all/ & this haue they begon to do/ & wil not leaue of frō all that they haue purpoſed to do: Come on/ let vs go downe B & confounde their tunge euen there/ that one vnderſtāde not what another ſayeth. † Thus Deu. xxx
the Lord ſcatred them frō thence in all landes/ ſo that they lefte of to buylde the cytye. Therfore is it called Babel/ becauſe the Lord confounded there the language of al ỹ world/ and from thence ſcatred them abrode into all landes.

Haran begat Lot/ but Haran dyed before Tharach his father/ in the lāde where he was borne/ at Vr in Chaldea.

Then Abram and Nahor toke them wyfes. Abrams wyfe was called † Sarai/ & Nahors Gene. xx. e

The .XII. Chapter.

A AND the Lord ſayd vnto Abram: † Get Actu. vij. a

Then went Abram out/ as the Lord cōmaunded him/ & Lot went with hym. Fyue & ſeuenty yeare olde was Abram/ whā he went out of Haran. So Abrā toke Sarai his wife/ & Lot his brothers ſonne with all their goodes/ which they had gotte/ & † ſoules/ whiche Gen. xxiij. c Afterward departed Abrā farther/ and toke his iourney Southward. But there came a derth in the lande.

Then went Abram doune into Egipte/ to C kepe him ſelf there as a ſtraūger/ for the derth was ſore in the lande. And whā he was come nye for to entre into Egipt/ he ſaid vnto Sarai his wyfe: † Behold/ I know that thou art Gen. xx. a.

And he went in vnto Agar/And she cōceaued. Now whan she saw that she had cōceaued/she despised her mastresse.

And God talked further with him/& said: Beholde/it is I/& haue my couenaunt with the/and thou shalt be father of many people. Therfore shalt thou nomore be called Abram. And Abrahā was xc. yeare olde & x. whan he cut of the foreskynne of his flesh. As for Ismael he was xiij. yeare olde/ whan the foreskynne of his flesh was circūcised. About this time (if I liue) I will come to the agayn/& Sara shal haue a sonne. Then Sara denied it/& sayd: I laughed not/ for she was afrayed. But he sayd: It is not so/ thou diddest laughe. Then stode the men vp from thēce/& turned them toward Sodome. And Abraham went with them/to bring thē on their waye.

C Then sayd the Lorde: How can I hyde frō Abrahā/ the thing that I wil do? seyng he shalbe a great & mighty people/& all the people vpon earthe shalbe blessed in hym? For I know hym/that he will cōmaunde his childrē & his housholde after him/to kepe the way of the Lorde/ & to do after right & conscience/ that ỹ Lord may bring vpon Abrahā what he hath promised him. And the Lord sayde: There is a crye at Sodome and Gomorra/ whiche is great/† and their sinnes are exceadinge greuous: therfore will I go doune and se/whether they haue done altogether/ accordinge to the crye/ whiche is come before me/ or not/ that I maye know. The. XIX. Chapter.

A T the euenyng came the twoo Aungels

And they pressed sore vppon the man Lot. C
† And whan they rāne to/ & wold haue broke ij. Pet.ij.c

And the men sayd vnto Lot: Hast thou yet here any sonne in law/ or sōnes or doughters?
Whosoeuer belongeth vnto the in the cytye/bring him out of this place: for we muste destroy this place/ because the crie of thē is great stroy thē. Then went Lot forth/ & spake to hys sonnes in law/ which should haue maried his doughters/ & sayd: O stande vp/ & get you out of this place/ for the Lord will destroye thys cytie. Neuertheless/ thei toke it but for a sport.

Now whan the morning arose/ the Aūgels D caused Lot to spede hym/ & sayd: † Stand vp/ Sapi.x.b

doughters by the hande/ because the Lorde was mercifull vnto him/ & brought hi forth/
and set him without the cytye.
And whan they had brought him out/ thei sayd: Saue thy soule/ & loke not behynd ỹ/ neither stande thou in all this coūtre: saue thy self vpon the moūtain/ that thou perish not. Then sayd Lot vnto them: Oh/ no my Lorde/ besauest my soule aliue. I can not saue my selfe here is a cytie by/ that I may flye vnto/ & it is a litle one: let me saue my self therin. Is it not a litle one/ that my soule may lyue?

E Then sayd he vnto hym: Behold/ I haue loked vpon the in this poynt also/ that I will not ouerthrow the cytie/ wherof thou hast spo ken. Haste the/ & saue thy self/ therfore I cā do nothing/ till thou be come thether. Therfore is the citie called Zoar. And the Sunne was vp

Abrahā rose vp early in the morning/ & gat

smoke from the coūtre/ as it had bene ỹ smoke F of a fornace. For whan God destroyed the cy-ties of the region/ he thought vpon Abrahā/ & conueyed Lot out of the cities/ whyle he ouer-threw/ wherin Lot dwelt.
And Lot departed out of Zoar/ & dwelte in the moūtaynes with both his doughters (for he was afrayed to tarye at Zoar) & so remay-

Then sayd the elder vnto the yonger: Our father is olde/ & there is not a man more vpō earth/ that can come in vnto vs after ỹ maner
of all the worlde: Come therfore/ let vs geue our father wyne to dunke/ & lye with him/ that we may saue sede of our father. So they gaue
G their father wyne to drynke thesame nighte.
Leui.xviij.a † And the elder doughter went in/ & lay with her father: & he perceaued it not/ neither whā
she lay doune/ nor whan she rose up.
On the morow sayd the elder vnto the yōtheyr father wyne to drinke that nighte also.

And the yōger arose likewise/ & lay with him:
& he perceaued it not/ neither whan she laye doume/ nor whan she rose vp.
Thus were both the doughters of Lot with chylde by theyr father. And the elder bare a sonne/ & called hym Moab/ of whome came the Moabites vnto this daye. And the yōger bare a sonne also/ & called hym ỹ sōne Ammi/of whome came the chyldrē of Ammon vnto thys daye.

Then Abimelech rose vp by times in ỹ mor-

Abraham sayd: I thoughte/ peraduenture

As for Abrahã/he prayed vnto God: Then God healed Abimelech/& his wyfe/and hys maydẽs/so ẏ they bare chyldrẽ. For afore had the Lorde closed al the matrices of Abimelechs house/because of Sara/Abrahãs wyfe.

Then Abrahã rose vp early in the morning & toke bread & a bottel with water/and put it vpon Agars shoulders/& gaue her the chyld/ & sant her away. Then rose Abimelech and Phichol his chiefe captayne/and departed agayne into the lande of the Philistynes. And Abraham plãted trees at Berseba/and called there vpon the name of the Lord/the euerlastynge God/and was a straũger in the lande of the Philistines a longe season.

The. XXII. Chapter.

AFter these actes God tempted Abrahã/ Iudi.viij.d

thy sonne/this onely sonne of thyne/euen Isaac whome thou louest/and go thy waye into the lande of Moria/and offre hym there for a burntofferynge/vpon a mountayne ẏ I shal shew the. Then Abraham stode vp by tymes in the mornynge/and sadled his asse/ and toke with hym two yonge men/and his sonne Isaac/& dyd clyue wood for the brentofferynge/gat hym vp/and went on vnto the place/whereof the Lord had sayd vnto him.

Vpon the thyrde day Abraham lift vp his eyes/and sawe the place a farre of/and sayd vnto his yonge men: Tary ye here with the asse: as for me & the childe/we will go yonder: † & whan we haue worshipped/we wyl Gen.xxij.d

B Then sayd Isaac vnto his father Abraham: My father. Abraham aunswered: here I ammy sonne. And he sayd: lo/here is fyre and wood/but where is te shepe for ẏ brentofferinge? Abraham aunswered: My sonne/ God shal prouyde hym a shepe for brentoffe rynge. And they went both togither.

And whan they came to the place/which God shewed him/Abraham buylded there an aultare/and layed the wood vpon it/and bande his sonne Isaac/layed hym vpon the aultare/aboue vpon the wood/and stretched out his hande/& toke the knyfe/to haue slayn his sonne.

Then the aungell of the Lorde called C

And Abraham called the place: The Lorde shall prouide. Therfore it is a commune sayinge yet this day: Vpon the mountayne shal the Lorde prouyde.

The. XXIII. Chapter.

SAra was an hundreth and seuen and A twenty yeare olde: so longe lyued she/& dyed in the heade cytie/which is called Hebron/in the lande of Canaan. Then went Abraham † to mourne/and wepe for her. Af- Actu. viij.c
terwarde he stode vp from his coarse/& talked ked with the Hethites/& sayd I am a straunger / and an indweller amonge you / geue me a possession to burye in with you/that I maye burye ℔ my coarse by me.

Some reade: my coarse that lyeth before me.

Then the Hethites aunswered Abrahã/ and sayd vnto him: O heare vs lorde / thou art a prince of God amonge vs: bury thy dead in the best of our sepulcres / there shal none of vs forbyd ỹ / that thou shouldest not burye thy dead in his sepulcre. Then Abraham stode vp/ and thanked the people of the lande: namely the Hethithes.

B And he talked with them/and sayd: If it be your wil that I bury my coarse by me/ heare me then/and speake for me to Ephron the sonne of Zoar/that he maye geue me the dubble caue / which he hath in the ende of his felde. For a reasonable money let him geue it me/ for a possession to burye in amonge you. For Ephron dwelt amonge the Hethithes.

Then aunswered Ephron the Hethite vnto Abraham that the Hethites myght heare/before all that wente out/and in at the gates of his cytye/ and sayd: No my lorde / but heare me: As for the felde/ and the caue also that is therin/ I geue it the: and in the sight of my people I geue it the / to burye thy dead in.

Then Abraham thanked the people of ỹ land/and talked with Ephron/that the people of the lande might heare/and sayde: Heare me then. † Receaue of me the money that I geue the for the felde/and so will I burye my deade there. i. Pa. xxij. d

C Ephron aunswered Abraham/and sayde vnto him: Heare me my lorde: The felde is worth foure hundreth sycles of syluer: but what is that betwixte me and the? Burye thy dead. Abraham herkened vnto Ephron & weyed him ỹ money/whiche he had sayde/ that the Hethithes might heare: namely foure hundreth syluer sycles of curraunt money/amonge marchauntes.

Thus Ephrons felde (where in the dubble caue is) which lieth ouer before Mamre/ euen the felde and the caue was made sure for Abrahams owne good / with all ỹ trees of the felde also rounde aboute / in the sight of the Hethites/and of al that go out & in at the gates of his cytie. Then Abraham buryed Sara his wyfe in ỹ dubble caue of the felde/that lyeth ouer before Mamre (that is: Hebron) in ỹ lãde of Canaan. So the felde & ỹ caue therin was made sure of ỹ Hethites vnto Abraham / for a possession to burye in.

The. XXIIII. Chapter.

ABraham was olde and well stryken in A
age/and the Lorde had blessed hym in all thinges. And he sayd vnto his eldest seruaunt of his house/which had ỹ rule of al his goodes: † Laye thyne hande vnder my thye/ that I maye make the sweare by the Lorde the God of heauen & earth / † that thou take no wyfe vnto my sonne amonge the doughters of the Cananites / (among whome I dwel) but that thou go into my countre: & † to myne owne kynred/and bringe my sonne Isaac a wyfe. Gē. xxiiij. d Gē. xxiiij. Deut. Gen. xxiiij. a

The seruaunt sayde: What/and if the woman wyl not folowe me into this countre/ shal I then cary thy sonne agayne into yonder lande/ were thou camest out of? Abrahã sayde vnto him: Beware of that / that thou bringe not my sonne thither agayne. The Lorde/ the God of heauen/ which toke me from my fathers house / & from the lande of my kynred/and that talked with me/& sware also vnto me/and sayde: † Vnto thy sede will I geue this lande: Euen he shal sende his aungel before the / that thou mayest bringe my sonne a wyfe from thẽce. But if the woman wil not folowe the/thou art discharged of this ooth: onely bringe not my sonne thither agayne. Then the seruaũt layed his hande vnder his master Abrahams thye/& sware the same vnto him. Gen. xxiiij. a

B So the seruaunt toke ten Camels of the camels of his master/and departed/and had with him of all maner of goodes of his master/and gat him vp/and departed vnto Mesopotamia/to the cytie of Nahor. Then let he the camels lye doun without before ỹ cytie/ beside a welle of water in ỹ euenynge/ about the tyme that the women vsed to go forth/ & to drawe water/And he sayde:

O Lorde thou God of my master Abraham/mete me to daye/and shewe mercy vnto my master Abraham. Lo/ I stande here beside the welle of water / and the mens doughters of this cytie will come forth to drawe water: Now if there come a damsel/ to whome I saye: bowe doune thy pitcher/ & let me drinke/ and if she saye: Drinke/& I will geue thy camels drinke also: That the same be she / whome thou hast prouided for thy seruaunt Isaac: and ỹ I maye know/by the same that thou haste shewed mercy vpon my master.

And or euer he had left of speakinge/beholde / Rebecca the doughter of Bethuel: (which was the sonne of Milca/ that was ỹ wyfe of Nahor Abrahams brother) came forth and bare a pitcher vpon her shoulder/& she was a very fayre damsel of face / and yet a virgin / and vnknowen of any man: She wente doune to the welle/ and filled her pitcher/and came vp agayne. Then ranne ỹ seruaunt to mete her/and sayde: Let me drinke a litle water out of thy pitcher. And she sayde: Drinke syr. Gen. xxiiij. d

C And hastely let she doun the pitcher in her hande/and gaue him drinke. And whan she had geuen him drinke/she sayd: I wil drawe for thy camels also / tyll they haue dronke ynough. And she made haste/ & poured out ỹ pitcher into the trough / & ranne agayne to ỹ welle to drawe/and drewe for al his camels. The man marnayled at her/ & held his tunge/til he knewe whether the Lord had prospered his yourney or not.

Now whan the camels had al dronken/ he toke a golden carynge of halfe a sycle weyght / and two bracelettes for her hande/ weyenge ten sycles of golde & sayde: Whose doughter art thou? tel me: Is there rowme for vs in thy fathers house to lodge in: She sayde vnto him: I am the doughter of Bethuel / the sonne of Milca / † whome she bare vnto Nahor. And sayde moreouer vnto him: We haue plentie of litter & prauonder/& rowme ynough to lodge in. Gen. xxiiij. d

D Then the man bowed hym selfe / and thanked the Lorde / and sayd: Praysed be the Lorde/ the God of my master Abrahã/ which hath not withdrawen his mercy and his treuth from my master / for the Lorde hath broughte me in the waye to my masters brothers house. And the damsel ranne and tolde all this in her mothers house. And Rebecca had a brother called Laban.

And Laban ranne to the man / without by the welle syde: and that came by the reason that he sawe the earynges/and the bracelettes vpon his systers handes / and herde ỹ wordes of Rebecca his sister / that she sayde: Thus spake the man vnto me.

And whan he came to the man / beholde/ he stode by the camels at the welle syde. And he sayd: Come in ℔ / thou blessed of the Lorde/wherfore standest thou without? I haue dressed the house/ and made rowme for the camels. So he brought the man into the house: and he vnbridled the camels / & gaue them litter & prauonder / and water to wash his fete / & the mens that were with him / & set meate before him. Some reade: thou beloued.

Neuertheles / he sayde: † I will not eate ℔ till I haue fyrst tolde myne erende. They aunswered: Tell on. He sayde: I am Abrahams seruaunt / and the Lorde hath prospered my master rychely / so that he is become greate: and he hath geuen him shepe and oxen/siluer and golde/seruauntes and maydens/camels and asses: Yee/& Sara my masters wyfe hath † borne my master a sonne in her olde age / vnto him hath he geuen all that he hath. j. Reg. xvj. c Gen. xxj. a

And my master hath taken an ooth of me and sayde: Thou shalt not take a wyfe for my sonne among ỹ doughters of the Cananites/in whose lande I dwel/but go thy waye to my fathers house/& to myne owne kinred: & there take a wyfe for my sonne. But I sayd vnto my master: What/ and the woman wil not folowe me? Then sayd he vnto me: The Lorde (before whome I walke) shall sende his aungel with the/& prospere thy yourney/ that thou mayest take a wyfe for my sonne of myne owne kinred/and of my fathers house. And so whan thou comest to my kinred / if they geue her not vnto the/thou shalt be discharged of myne ooth.

So I came this daye vnto the welle of F water/and sayd: O Lord thou God of my master Abraham/ if thou haste prospered my iourneye that I go: Beholde/ I stande here by ỹ welle of water: Now/if there come forth a virgin to drawe water / and I saye vnto her: geue me a lytle water to drinke out of thy pitcher / and she saye vnto me: Drinke thou/and I wyl drawe water for thy cameles also: that thesame be the woman which ỹ Lord hath prouided for my masters sonne. Now or euer I had spoken out these wordes in my herte/beholde/ Rebecca cōmeth forth with a pitcher vpon her shoulder/and goeth downe to the welle and draweth.

Then sayde I: geue me drynke. And immediatly she toke downe the pitcher from her shoulder / and sayde: Drynke/and I will geue thy camels drynke also. So I dranke/ and she gaue the camels also to drynke. And I axed her/& sayd: Whose doughter art ỹ? She aunswered: I am the doughter of Bathuel ỹ sonne of Nahor/ whome Milca bare vnto hym. Then layed I the earinge vpon her face / & the bracelettes vpon her handes/ and bowed my selfe / & thanked the Lorde/ and praysed the God of my master Abrahā/ whiche had brought me ỹ right way: to take my masters brothers doughter vnto his sonne.

If ye be they/then that shewe mercy and faythfulnesse vnto my master / tell me: If not / yet tell me / that I may turne me to the righthande or to the left.

Then aunswered Laban & Bethuel/ and sayd: This is come of the Lorde/ therfore can we saye nothing agaynst ỹ / neither euel nor good. There is Rebecca before the take her/& go thy waye that she maye be thy masters sonnes wyfe / as the Lord hath sayde. When Abrahams seruaunt herd these wordes/he bowed him selfe vnto the Lord/flat vpon the earth/& toke forth Jewels of syluer & golde / and rayment/ and gaue them vnto Rebecca. But vnto her brethren & the mother/he gaue spices. Thē dyd he eate & drinke/ and the men also that were with hym / & tarryed there all nighte.

¶ But in the mornyng he arose / & sayd: Let me departe vnto my master. Neuertheles/ her brother and her mother sayde: Let the damsel tary with vs at the least ten dayes/ and then shall she go. Then sayd he vnto them: holde me not/for the Lord hath prospered my iourney: let me go/that I may departe vnto my master. Then sayde they / let vs call the damsel/ & axe her what she sayeth therto. And they called Rebecca/& sayd vnto her: Wilt thou go with this man?

And she aunswered: yea / I will go with him. So they let Rebecca their sister go with her norse / and with Abrahams seruaunt/ & his men. And they blessed Rebecca/and sayd vnto her. Thou art our syster / growe in to many thousande thousandes/ †and thy sede Gen. xxiv.c possesse the gates of his enemyes.

So Rebecca gat her vp with her †damsels/and sat them vpon the camels/& wente their waye after the man. And the seruaunt toke Rebecca/and departed. Gē. xxv.d Par.j.b

As for Jsaac / he was cōminge from †the welle of the lyuinge & seynge / for he dwelt in the south countre / and was gone forth to his meditacions in the felde aboute the euentide. And he lyft vp his eyes / and saw that there were camels commynge And Rebecca lift vp her eyes/and saw Jsaac. Then lighted she of the camell / & sayde vnto the seruaunt: What man is this / that commeth agaynst vs in the felde? The seruaunt sayde: Thesame is my master. Gen. xxiv.

Then toke she her cloke/ and put it about her. And the seruaunt tolde Jsaac all the earande that he had done. Thē Jsaac brought her in to his mother Saras tente / and toke Rebecca/ and she became his wyfe / & he loued her. So Jsaac was comforted ouer his mother.

ABraham toke another wyfe called Ketura / which bare him † Simram and Jakſan / Medan and Midian / Jesbak and Suah/ Jakſan begat Seba & Sedan. The children of Sedan were Assurim / Latusim/ and Leumim. And Jacob dighte a meace of meate. B Then Abimelech called Isaac/ and sayd: Beholde/ she is thy wyfe/ why saydest thou then: She is my sister? Isaac answered him: I thought/ I myght peraventure have dyed because of her. Abimelech sayd: Why hast thou then done this vnto vs? It coulde lyghtely have come to passe/ that some of the people might have lyen with thy wyfe/ and so haddest thou broughte sinne vpon vs. The Abimelech commaunded all the people/ and sayd: Who so toucheth this man/ or his wyfe/ shal dye the death.

And Isaac sowed in that lande/ and founde the same yeare an hundreth bushels/ for the Lorde blessed him. And he became a great man/ wente forth and grew tyll he was exceadinge great/ so that he had muche good in shepe and great cattell/ and a greate housholde. Therfore had the Philistines envye at him/ and † stopped all the welles/ that his fathers seruauntes had dygged in the time of Abraham his father/ and fylled them with earth. In so much that Abimelech also him selfe sayde vnto him: Departe from vs/ for thou arte farre mightier then we. Gen xxvj.a

C Then departed Isaac from thence/ and pitched his tente in the valleye of Gerar/ and dwelt there. And whan he was satled/ he caused to digge vp the welles agayn that they had digged vp in his father Abrahams time/ which the Philistines had stopte after the death of Abraham/ & he called them after the same names/ that his father had named them withall.

Isaacs seruauntes also digged in the valleye/ and there they founde a welle of lyuing water. † But the heerdmen of Gerar stroue with Isaacs heerdmen/ and sayd: The water is ours. The called he the welle Esek/ because they had done him wronge. Gen xxvj.a

Then digged they another welle/ & stroue for that also: therfore called he it Sitena. So he gat him from thence/ and digged another welle/ for the which they stroue not: therfore he called it Rehoboth/ and sayde: Now hath the Lorde made vs rowme/ and letten vs growe in the lande. Afterwarde he departed thence vnto Berseba.

And the Lorde appeared vnto him the same night/ and sayd: I am the God of thy father Abraham/ feare thou not/ for I am with the/ and I will blesse the/ and multiplye thy sede for my seruaunt Abrahās sake. Then buylded he an aultare there/ and called vpon the name of the Lord/ and pitched his tente there/ and there his seruauntes digged a welle. S

† And Abimelech wente vnto him from Gerar/ and Ahusath his frend/ and Phicol his chiefe captayne. But Isaac sayde vnto them: † Wherfore come ye to me? seynge ye hate me/ and have put me awaye from you? They sayde we se with open eyes/ that the Lorde is with the/ therfore we deuised that there shoulde be an ooth betwixte vs an the/ & that we wolde make a boūde with the/ that thou do vs no harme/ lyke as we have not hurt the/ and as we have done nothing vnto the/ but al good/ & let the depart in peace. Gene.xxvj Iud.xj.a

As for the/ thou art the blessed of the Lorde. Then Isaac made them a feast/ and they dyd eate and drinke/ and on the morowe they arose/ and sware one to the other. And Isaac let them go/ and they departed from him in peace.

The same daye came Isaacs seruauntes/ & tolde him of the welle that they had digged/ and sayde vnto him: We have founde water. And he called it Saba. Therfore is the cytye called Berseba vnto this daye.

The. XXVII. Chapter.

WHan Esau was fourty yeare old/ he toke to wyfe † Judith/ the doughter of Bery the Hethite/ and Basmath the doughter of Elom ỹ Hethite: both those were disobedient vnto the spirite of Isaac and Rebecca. A Gē.xxvj

And it came to passe whē Isaac was olde/ his eyes waxed dymme of sighte/ and he called Esau his greater sonne/ & sayd vnto him: My sonne/ He aunswered him: Here am I. And he sayd: Beholde/ I am olde/ and knowe not whan I shal dye. Now therfore take thy geare/ thy quiuer and thy bowe/ and get the forth to the felde/ and take me some venyson/ & make me meate (such as I loue) and bringe it me here in/ that I maye eate/ that my soule maye blesse the before I dye.

But Rebecca herde these wordes/ ỹ Isaac sayde vnto his sonne. And Esau wente his waye into the felde/ to hunte venyson/ and to bringe it home. Then sayd Rebecca vnto Jacob her sonne: behold/ I have herde thy father talking with Esau thy brother/ & saying:

B Bringe me venyson & make me meate that I maye eate/ and blesse the before the Lorde/ yer I dye. Now therfore my sonne heare my voyce/ what I cōmaunde the: Go thy waye to the flocke/ & fetch me two good kiddes/ that I may make meate of them for thy father/ such as he loueth: this shalt thou bring in vnto thy father/ that he maye eate/ that he maye blesse the before his death.

Neuertheless/ Jacob sayde vnto Rebecca his mother: Beholde/ my brother Esau is roughe/ & I am smoothe: then myght my father peraduēture fele me/ and I shoulde seme vnto him/ as though I begyled him/ and so bringe a curse vpon me/ and not a blessinge. Then sayde his mother vnto him: That curse be vpon me my sonne/ folowe thou my voyce/ go thy waye and fetch it me. So he wente his waye/ and fetched it/ and brought it vnto his mother.

C Then his mother made meate/ accordinge as his father loued/ and toke Esaus her elder sonnes costly rayment (which she had with her in the house) and put them vppon Jacob her yonger sonne. But the kiddes skinnes put she aboute his handes/ and where he was smooth aboute the necke: and so she put the meate with bread (as she had made it) in her sonne Jacobs hande.

And he brought it vnto his father & sayd: My father. He aunswered: Here am I/ who art thou my sonne? Jacob sayd: I am Esau thy first borne sonne/ I have done as thou saydest vnto me: Aryse/ syt vp/ and eate of my venyson/ that thy soule maye blesse me. But Isaac sayde vnto his sonne: My sonne how hast thou found it so sone? He aūswered: The Lord thy God brought it to my hande.

Then sayde Isaac vnto Jacob: Come neare my sonne/ that I maye fele the/ wherher thou be my sonne Esau or not. So Jacob wente vnto Isaac his father. And whan he had felt him/ he sayde: The voyce is Jacobs voyce/ but the handes are the handes of Esau. And he knewe him not/ for his handes were rough lyke as the handes of his brother Esau/ And he blessed him.

And he sayd vnto him: arte thou my sonne Esau? He aunswered yea/ I am. The sayd he: Binge me here thē to eat of thy venyson my sonne/ & that my soule maye blesse the. Then brought he it him/ & he did eate: & he brought him wyne also/ & he dranke. And Isaac his father sayd vnto him: Come nye/ & kisse me my sonne. So he came nye/ & he kissed him. S Some reader that my harte may wyshe the good.

Then smelled he the sauoure of his clothes/ & blessed him/ and sayde: Beholde/ the smell of my sonne is as the smell of the felde/ which ỹ Lorde hath blessed. † God geue the of the dew of heaue/ and of the fatnesse of the earth/ and plenteousnesse of corne and wyne. Nacions be thy seruauntes/ & people fall doune at thy fete. Be thou lord ouer thy brethren/ & thy mothers children fall doune at thy fete. † Cursed be he/ that curseth the: and blessed be he/ that blesseth the. Heb xj.d Eccliij b Gene.xij & Now whan Isaac had made an ende of blessinge/ and Jacob was scace gone out frō his father Isaac/ his brother Esau came from his huntinge/ & made meate also/ & broughte it vnto his father/ and sayde vnto him. Aryse my father/ & eate of thy sonnes venyson/ that thy soule maye blesse me. Thē aunswered him Isaac his father: Who arte thou? He sayd: I am Esau thy firstborne sonne. Thē was Isaac exceadingly amased aboue measure/ & sayd: Who? Where is thē the hunter that brought me/ and I have eaten of all afore thou camest/ and have blessed hym? And he shalbe blessed still. E

Whan Esau herde these wordes of his father/ he cryed loude/ and was exceading sory/ and sayd vnto his father: O blesse me also my father. But he sayde: Thy brother came with sotiltye/ and hath taken thy blessynge awaye. Then sayd he: He maye wel be called Jacob/ for he hathe vndermyned me now two times. My birthright hath he awaye/ and beholde/ nowe taketh he awaye my blessinge also. And he sayd: Hast thou not kepte one blessinge for me? Isaac aunswered/ and sayd vnto him: I have made him lorde ouer the/ and all his brethren have I made his seruauntes. With corne and wyne have I prouided him. What shal I do vnto the my sonne? F

Esau sayde vnto his father: Haste thou not one blessynge more my father? O blesse me also my father.

Heb xij.c †And he lyfte vp his voyce and wepte. Then Isaac his father aunswered/ and sayde

Heb.xj.d vnto him: †Beholde/ thou shalt haue a fat dwellynge vppon earth/ and of the dew of heauen from aboue/ with the swearde shalt thou get thy liuinge/ and shalt serue thy brother. And it shal come to passe/ that thou

Then was it tolde Rebecca of these wordes of her eldest sonne/ and she sent and bad cal for Jacob her yonger sonne/ and sayde vnto him. Beholde/ thy brother Esau threateneth ÿ/ that he will slay ÿ. And Rebecca sayde vnto Isaac: I am weery of my lyfe/ because of the doughters of Heth: If Jacob take a wyfe of the dough-

The. XXVIII. Chapter.

A Some reade talked louingly with him. THen called Isaac his sonne Jacob and ✠ blessed him/ and charged him/ and sayde vnto him: Take not a wyfe of the doughters of Canaan/ but get the vp/ and go into Mesopotamia vnto the house of Bethuel thy mothers father/ and take the there a wyfe of the doughters of Laban/ thy mothers brother. And the almightye God blesse the/ and make the frutefull/ and multiplye ÿ/ (that thou mayest be a multitude of people) and geue the blessing of Abraham vnto the/ and thy sede with the/ that thou mayest possesse the lande/ wherin thou art a straunger/ †whiche God geue vnto Abraha. So Isaac let Jacob departe that he might go into Mesopotamia/ vnto Laban the sonne of Bethuel of Syria/ the brother of Rebecca/ his and Esaus mother. Gen.xxv. and xxviij.

Now/ whan Esau sawe that Isaac had B blessed Jacob/ and let him departe into Mesopotamia/ that he might take a wyfe there/ and that as he blessed him/ he charged him and sayde: Thou shalt not take a wyfe of the doughters of Canaan/ and that Jacob obeyed his father and his mother/ and was gone vnto Mesopotamia: seynge that Isaac his father loked not gladly vpon the doughters of Canaan/ he wente his waye vnto Ismael/ and besyde the wyues that he had afore/ he toke †Malath the doughter of Ismael Ge.xxvij (Abrahams sonne) the syster of Nabaioth/ to wyfe.

As for Jacob/ he departed from Bersaba/ and wente vnto Haran/ and came to a place/ where he taried all nyght: for the sunne was doune. And he toke a stone of the place/ and put it vnder his heade/ and layed him doune in the same place to slepe. And he dreamed/ and behold/ there stode vpon the earth a ladder/ whose top reached vnto the heauen. And †beholde/ the aungels of God wente vp Job j.c and doune vpon it/ and the Lorde stode vppon it/ and sayde:

†I am the Lorde God of thy father C Abraham/ and the God of Isaac: *the lande Eccl xliij that thou lyest vpon/ wil I geue vnto the & *j.pa xvj to thy sede: and thy sede shalbe as the dust of the earth. And thou shalt spreade forth toward the west/ east/ north/ & south: †& thorow the/ Gen xiij and thy sede/ shall all the kinredes vpon earth be blessed. And beholde/ I am with the/ and will kepe the whersoeuer thou goest/ and wil bringe the hether agayne into this lande: for I will not leaue the/ tyll I haue made good/ al that I haue promised the.

Now when Jacob awaked from his slepe D he sayde: Surely the Lorde is in this place/ and I knewe it not. And he was afrayed/ and sayde: How fearful is this place? here is nothinge els but an house of God/ and a gate vnto heauen. And Jacob arose early in the morninge/ & toke the stone that he had layed vnder

Ge.xxxj.b vnder his heade/ †and set it vp/ and poured oyle vpon it. And he called the place Bethel/

Ge.xxxiij.d but afore the cuye was called Luz. †And Ja-

& xxxv.a cob made a vowe/ and sayd: *If God will be

*j.Pa.xvij.b with me/ and kepe me in this iourney that I go/ & geue me bread to eate/ and clothyng to put on/ and bringe me peaceably home agayne vnto my father: Then shall the Lorde be my God/ & this stone that I haue set vp/ shalbe an house of God: and all that thou geuest me/ I wil geue ÿ the tenth therof.

The. XXIX. Chapter.

A THen Jacob gat hym vp vpon his fete/ and went in to the east countre/ and loked about hym/ and beholde/ there was a welle in the felde/ & thre flockes of shepe therby/ for the flockes dranke of the welle. And there laye a great stone at the welles mouth/ and thyther they vsed to bringe the flockes/ and to rolle the stone from the mouth of the welle/ and to geue the shepe drinke/ and so they put the stone agayne vpon the welles mouth into his place.

And Jacob sayde vnto them: Brethren/ whence be ye? They aunswered: we are of Haran. He sayd vnto them: Knowe ye Laban the sonne of Nahor? They aunswered: We

Gen. xliij.c knowe hym well. He sayd: †Is he in good health? They aunswered: he is in good health And lo/ there commeth his doughter Rachel with the shepe. He sayd: it is yet hye daye/ & is not yet time to bryng in the cattel: Geue the cattel to dryncke/ and go your way/ and sede them. They aunswered: We can not/ tyl all the flockes be brought together/ and tyl we roll the stone from the welles mouth/ and so geue the shepe drinke.

B Whyle he yet talked with the/ Rachel came with her fathers shepe/ for she kept the shepe. Whan Jacob sawe Rachel/ the doughter of Laban his mothers brother/ and the shepe of Laban his mothers brother/ he wente/ and rolled the stone from the welles mouthe/ and gaue his mothers brother shepe to drink/ and kissed Rachel/ lyfte vp his voyce/ and wept/ & tolde her/ that he was her fathers brother/ and the sonne of Rebecca. Then ranne she/ & tolde her father.

Whan Laban herde of Jacob his systers sonne/ he ranne to mete hym/ and embraced hym/ and kissed him/ and brought him into his house. And so he tolde him al this matter. Then sayd Laban vnto him: Wel/ thou art my bone and my flesh. ✠ And he abode with Some reade hym a moneth longe. But after that said he de. Abyde vnto Jacob: Because thou art my brother/ with me shalt thou therfore serue me for nought? Tell me: what shall thy wages be? Laba had two doughters/ the eldest was called Lea/ and the yongest Rachel. And Lea was tender eyed/ But Rachel was beawtyful and well fauoured of face/ and Jacob loued her wel/ & sayd: I wil serue the seuen yeares for Rachel thy yongest doughter. Laban aunswered: It is better ÿ I geue her the/ thē vnto another: tary thou with me.

So Jacob serued seuen yares for Rachel/ C and they semed vnto hym but few dayes/ he loued her so well. And Jacob sayde vnto Laban: geue me my wyfe/ for the time is come that I shoulde lye with her. Then Laban bad al the people of that place/ & made a mariage. But at euen he toke his doughter Lea/ and brought her in vnto him/ & he lay wt her. And Laba gaue Silpa his maide vnto his doughter Lea to be her mayde.

But on the morow/ beholde/ it was Lea. And he sayd vnto Laba: Why hast thou done this vnto me? Haue not I serued the for Rachel? Why hast thou then begiled me? Laban aunswered: It is not ÿ maner in our cōtre/ to mary the yongest before the eldest. Holde out this weke/ and I wyll geue the this also/ for the seruice that thou shalte do me yet seuen yeares more. Jacob dyd so/ and helde out that weke. Thē gaue he him Rachel his doughter to wyfe. And Laban gaue Bilha his mayden vnto Rachel his doughter to be her mayden. So he lay with Rachel also/ and loued Rachel more thē Lea/ and serued him yet seuen yeares more.

But when the Lorde sawe/ that Lea D was nothynge regarded/ he made her frutefull/ and Rachel barein. And Lea conceaued/ and bare a sonne/ †whom she called Ruben/ j.Par.ij.& and said: The Lorde hath loked vpon myne aduersite. Now wyl my husbande loue me. And she conceaued againe/ and bare a sonne and sayd: The Lorde hath herde that I am despysed/ and hath geuen me this also/and she called hym Simeon. She conceaued yet againe / and bare a sonne / and sayd: Now will my husbande kepe me company agayne / for I haue borne hym three sonnes: therfore called she his name Leui. She conceaued the fourth time/and bare a sonne/and sayd: Now wyll I geue thankes vnto ỹ Lorde/therfore called she him Juda/and left bearinge.

The .XXX. Chapter.

A WHan Rachel sawe that she bare no children vnto Jacob/she had enuy at her sister / and saide vnto Jacob: Geue me chyldren also/or els I am but dead. But Jacob was very wroth at Rachel / and said: Am I then in Gods steade/which kepeth ỹ frute of thy wombe from the? Neuertheles she sayd: Behold/there is Bilha my mayden/lye with her that she maye beare vpon my lappe / and Gen. xvj.a † that I may be increased by her. And so she gaue him Bilha her mayden to wyfe.

And Jacob laye with her. So Bilha conceaued/& bare Jacob a sonne. Then said Rachel: God hath geuen sentence on my side / & herde my voyce/and geuen my a sonne/therB fore called she hym Dan. Bilha Rachels maide conceaued againe / and bare another sonne vnto Jacob. Them sayd Rachel: God hath turned it with me/and my sister / and I haue gotten the vpperhande/& she called him Nephthali.

Now whan Lea sawe that she had lefte bearing/she toke Silpa her maide/ and gaue her vnto Jacob to wyfe. So Silpa Leas maide bare Jacob a sonne. Then sayd Lea: This is good lucke/ and she called hym Gad. After this/Silpa Leas maide bare Jacob another sonne. Then said Lea: Wel is me/for the doughters will call me blessed / & she called him Aser.

Ruben went out in the time of the wheat herueste/ and founde Mandragoras in ỹ feld/ and brought them home vnto his mother C Lea. Then said Rachel vnto Lea: Geue me some of thy sonnes Madragoras. She aunswered: Hast thou not ynough/that thou hast taken awaye my husbande / But wilt take awaye my sonnes Mandragoras also? Rachel said: Well/let hym lye with the this night for thy sonnes Mandragoras. Now whan Jacob came home at euen from the felde / Lea went forth to mete him/& said: Thou shalt lye with me/ for I haue bought ỹ for my sonnes Mandragoras.

And he slepte with her that nyght. And God herde Lea/and she conceaued / and bare Jacob the fifth sonne/and said: God hath rewarded me / because I gaue my mayden to my husbande / and she called him Jsachar. Lea conceaued yet againe / & bare Jacob the sixte sonne/and said: God hath endewed me with a good dowry. Now will me husbande dwel with me againe / for I haue borne hym six sonnes/and she called him Sabulon. After that she bare a doughter/whome she called †Dina. Ge xxx.

Neuertheles God thought vpon Rachel/ & herde her/& made her fruteful. Thē she conceaued/& bare a sonne/& said: God hath taken away my rebuke/& she called him † Joseph & j. Par. vj. said: God geue me yet another sonne.

Now whan Rachel had borne Joseph/ Jacob said vnto Laban: † Let me go/and de- vj. Reg. ij parte in to my place / and vnto myne owne lande: geue me my wyfes & my children/ (for the which I haue serued ỹ) that I may go: for thou knowest what seruice I haue done the. Laban sayd vnto hym: Can I not finde fauour in thy syght: † I preceaue / that God Ge. xxx. hath blessed me for thy sake. Appoint thou the rewarde/that I shall geue the. But he said vnto him: Thou knowest how I haue serued the/& what maner of cattel thou hast vnder me. Thou haddest but litle afore I came hether/But now is it growen into a multitude/ and the Lorde hath blessed the for my sake. E And now whan shall I loke for myne owne house also? He sayd / what shal I then geue the?

Jacob sayde: thou shalte geue me nothinge at all/But if thou wylt do this for me that I saye/then wyll I fede and kepe thy shepe again. I wil go thorow al thy flockes to day/ and separate thou from amonge them all the shepe that be spotted and partye coloured / & all blacke shepe amōge the lambes. Now loke what shalbe partie coloured & spotted amōg ỹ kyddes/thesame shalbe my rewarde/so shall my ryghteousnes testifye with me to daye or to morow/ whan it cōmeth vnto my rewarde Gen. xij.b

Before the/so that whatsoeuer is not spotted/ and partie coloured amonge the kiddes/and blacke amonge the lambes / let that be theft with me.

F Then said Laban: Behold/ let it be so as thou hast sayd. And thesame daye he sundred out ỹ speckled & partie coloured goates / and al ỹ spotted & partie coloured kiddes (where there was any white vpon them) and al that was blacke amōge the lambes/ and put them vnder the hande of his children / and made rowme of thre dayes iourney wyde betwixte him and Jacob. So Jacob kepte the residue of Labans flocke.

But Jacob toke staues of grene wylles hasel/and of chestnottrees/and pilled white strekes in them/ and layed the staues that he had pylled/ in the drinkynge troughes before the flocke / which came there to drincke that they shoulde conceaue/ whā they came to drynke. So the flockes conceaued ouer the staues / & brought forth speckled/spotted and partie coloured.

G Then Jacob parted the lambes / and put them to the flock vnto the spotted /and al that was blacke in Labans flocke/ that put he vnto the spotted. And he made him a flock of his owne/which he put not vnto Labans flocke. Neuertheles/in the fyrst Buckinge time of the flockes/ he layed the staues in the drinkynge troughes before the eyes of the flockes / that they shoulde conceaue ouer the staues. But in the latter Buckynge tyme/he layed them not in. So the latter were Labans / but the fyrstlynges were Jacobs. Thus the man became exceadynge ryche: so that he had many shepe / maydens / and seruauntes / camels and asses

The .XXXI. Chapter.

A HE herde also of the woordes of Labans children/that they said: Jacob hath brought al our fathers good vnto hymselfe / and of our fathers good hath he gotten these ryches. And Jacob beheld Labans countenaunce / & beholde / it was not toward him as yesterdaye and yesterdaye.

And the Lorde sayd vnto him: † Se- Gen. xij.b parte agayne to thy fathers lande/ and to thy kinrede/ I wyl be with the. Then sent Jacob/ and bad call Rachel/ and Lea in the felde to his flockes: and said vnto them: I se youre fathers countenaunce / that it is not toward me lyke as yesterdaye & yesterdaye: but the God of my father hath bene with me. And ye knew that I haue serued your father with all my power.

And he hath deceaued me/ and chaunged B my wages now ten tymes. But God hath not suffred hym/to do me harme. If he sayd: The partye coloured shall be thy rewarde/ then the whole flocke bare partye coloured. If he sayd: The speckled shalbe thy reward/ then ỹ whole flocke bare speckled. Thus hath God withdrawen your fathers goodes from him/and geuen them vnto me. For whan the buckynge time came / I lyfte vp myne eyes/ and sawe in a dreame/& beholde the rammes lept vpon the flocke/that was speckled / spotted/& partye coloured.

And the aungell of God said vnto me in a dreame: Jacob. And I aunswered: Here am I. He said: lyfte vp thyne eyes / & behold the rammes leape vpon the speckled / spotted/and partie coloured flocke: for I haue sene all that Laban doth vnto the. I am the God at Bethel/† where thou diddest anoynte the Ge. xxviij.d stone / and madest a vowe there vnto me. xxxj.b. xxxv.b Get the vp now / and departe out of this lande / and go againe into the lande of thy kynred.

Then aunswered Rachell / and Lea / and C sayd vnto hym: As for vs/we haue no porcyon / nor inheritaunce more in our fathers house/and he hath counted vs as straūgers/ for he hath solde vs/and spēt vp oure wages. Therfore hath God withdrawē oure fathers ryches from hym vnto vs/and oure children. Whatsoeuer now God hath sayd vnto the that do.

So Jacob gat vp / and set his chyldren and wyfes vpon camels/ and caryed away all his cattell/ and all his substaunce that he had gotten at Mesopotamia/that he might come vnto Jsaac his father/in the lande of Canaan. Laban was gone to † clyppe his flock/ G. xxxviij.b and Rachel stal her fathers * ydolles. Thus ij.Re. x ij.e did Jacob steale awaye the herte of Laban *G. xxxv.a the Sirian / in that he tolde hym not that he fled. So he fled/ and all that was his gat vp / and passed ouer the water / and wente straygh̄t towarde the mount Gilead.

D Vpon the thirde daye it was tolde Laban that Jacob fled. And he toke his brethren vnto hym / and folowed after hym seuen dayes iourney / and ouertoke him vpon the mount Gilead. But God came vnto Laban the Sirian a dreame by nyght/and sayd vnto him: Beware/ that thou speake not to Jacob but good. And Laban drewe nye vnto Jacob. As for Jacob / he had pitched his tent vpon the mount. And Laban with his brethren pitched his tent also vpon thesame mount Gilead.

Then sayd Laban vnto Jacob: What hast thou done / that thou hast stolen awaye my herte / and caryed awaye my doughters / as though they had ben taken awaye captyue with the swearde? Wherfore kepest thou that secret/that thou woldest flye/and hast stolen awaye fro me/and toldest my not that / I myght haue brought the on thy waye with myrth / with syngyng / with tabrettes / and harpes: and haste not suffred me to kysse my children and doughters? Thou hast done folishly / and so muche myght I haue made / ẏ I coulde haue done you euel: But your fathers God said yesterdaye vnto me: Beware/ that thou speake nothynge vnto Jacob but good. And for so much/then as thou woldest nedes depart/and longedest sore after thy fathers house / why hast thou stolen awaye my goodes?

E Jacob aunswered and sayd vnto Laban: I was afraied ẏ thou shouldest haue taken away thy doughters fro me: But loke by whō thou findest thy goodes/let thesame here dye before our brethrē. Seke that thine is by me/ and take it away. (But he knewe not / that Rachel had stolen them. Then wente Laban into Jacobs tent / and into Leas tente / and into bothe the maydens tentes / and founde nothinge: and out of Leas tente/he went into Rachels tente. Then toke Rachel the ydolles/ & layed thē vnder the camels strawe/and sat downe vpon them. But Laban searched the whole tent/& founde nothinge. Then said she vnto her father: Be not angry my lord/that I can not ryse vp vnto the: for it goeth with me after the maner of wōmen. So he sought / & founde not the ydolles.

And Jacob was wroth/& chyde with Laban/he aunswered and said vnto him: What haue I trespassed or offended / that thou art so wroth with me? Thou hast searched all my housholde stuffe: and what haste thou foūde of thy housholde stuffe? Laye it here before my brethren and thyne / that they may iudge betwene vs both. Thus haue I serued twentye yeare in thy F and sixe for thy flocke/and ten times hast thou chaunged my reward/and if ẏ God of my father / the God of Abraham / & ẏ feare of Jsaac had not ben on my syde/thou haddest letted me go awaie emptie. But God hath loked vpon mine aduersite and labour/and rebuked ẏ yesterdaye.

Laban aunswered/& sayd: The doughters are my doughters/and ẏ children are my children / & the flockes are my flockes / & all ẏ thou seist is mine: What can I do this daye vnto these my doughters/or to their childrē/whome they haue borne? Now therfore come on / let vs mak a conuenaunt (I & thou) which may be a witnesse betwene me & the. Then toke Jacob a stone / and set it vp (for a piller or marke stone) & sayd vnto his brethrē: Gather stones. And they toke the stones/& made an heape / & dyd eate vpon thesame heape. And Labā called it Jegar Sahadutha/But Jacob called it Gilead: (eyther of them after the propertie of his language.)

departed the one from the other: if thou vexe my doughters/ or take other wyfes vnto thē. There is noman with vs/but lo / God is the witnesse betwene me and the. And Laban sayd moreouer vnto Jacob: Behold / this is the heap/& this is the markstone/that I haue set vp betwixte me & the: thesame heape be wytnesse / & thesame markstone also be wytnesse/if I passe ouer vnto the/ or if thou passe ouer this heape and markstone vnto me / to do any harme. The God of Abraham / and the God of Nahor/and the God of theyr fathers/be iudge betwene vs.

And Jacob sware vnto hym by the feare of his father Jsaac. And Jacob offred an offerynge vpon the mount/ and called his brethren to eate bread. And whan they had eaten/ they taryed vpon the mount all nyght. But vpon the morow / Laban rose vp early kyssed his children and doughters/ & blessed them/and departed: and came agayne vnto his place. As for Jacob/he wēte on his iourney/and the aungels of God mete him. And whan he sawe them / he sayde: Jt is Gods hoost/ & called thesame place Mahanaim.

The. XXXII. Chapter.

A Jacob sent messaungers before hym to
Jos. xxiiii. a his brother Esau † into the lande of Seir/ of the felde of Edom / and commaunded them/and sayd: Say thus vnto my lorde Esau: Thy seruaunt Jacob sendeth the this worde: I haue ben out with Labā/ and haue ben hetherto amonge straungers/ and haue oxen/and asses/shepe/seruauntes/ and maydens/and haue sent forth to shewe it the my lorde / ẏ I might fynde fauour in thy syght.

The messaungers came agayne vnto Jacob/and sayd: We came vnto thy brother Esau/ and he commeth forth also agaynst the with foure hundreth men. Then was Jacob sore afrayed/and wyst not what waye to turne him selfe/ and deuyded the people that was with hym/and the shepe/ and the oxen/ and the camels into two droues/and sayd/ if Esau come vpon the one droue / and smyte it/the other shall escape.

B Jacob sayd moreouer: O God of my father Abrahā/God of my father Jsaac/ Lorde/thou that saydest vnto me. † Departe agayne to thyne owne lande / and to thy kinred / and I will do thy good: I am to lytle for all the mercies / & al the trueth that thou hast shewed vnto thy seruaunt (for I had no more but this staffe whan I wente ouer this Jordane / and now am I become two droues) delyuer me from the hande of my brother / from the hande of Esau/ for I am afrayed of hym/lest/he come and smyte me / ẏ mother with the children. Thou saydest I wil do the good / and wil make thy sede as the sande of the see / which can not be numbred for multitude.

And there he taryed that nyght / † & toke C

Whan my brother Esau meteth the / and axeth the: Whose seruaunt art thou? & whither goest thou? & whose are these that thou dryuest before ẏ? Thou shalt say: They be thy seruaūt Jacobs/which sendeth a present vnto his lorde Esau/ and commeth behynde vs himselfe.

Thus commaunded he the seconde also/ D and the thyrde / and all them that folowed the flockes / and sayd: Lyke as I haue tolde you/ so speake ye vnto Esau / whan ye mete hym/& say vnto hym also: Beholde / thy seruaunt Jacob is behynde vs. For he thought/ I will reconcyle hym with the present that goeth before me / afterwarde will I se him my selfe/ peraduenture he shall receaue me to grace.

Thus went the present before hym/but he taryed in the tent thesame nyght / & rose vp in the nyght/& toke his two wyfes / and the two maydens and his eleuē sonnes / & went vnto ẏ foorde of Jaboch/toke thē & caryed thē ouer the water / so that all that he had came ouer/ & taried hym selfe alone on this syde.

† Then wrestled there a man with hym/vn- Ose. xii. a

And as he came ouer from Peniel/the sunne rose vpon hym/and he halted vpon his thye. Therfore eate the children of Israel no vayne vpon the senow of the thye vnto this daye/ because the vayne vpon the senowe of Jacobs thye was touched.

The.XXXIIII.Chapter.

A JAcob lyfte vp his eyes/and sawe his brother Esau/commyng with foure hundreth men/and he deuyded his children vnto Lea/vnto Rachell/and to both the maydens/and set the maydens with theyr children before/and Lea wt her childrē after/and Rachell with Joseph hindermost. And he went before them/and bowed hymselfe to the grounde seuen tymes/tyll he came to his

He aunswered: They are the children/which God hath geuen vnto thy seruaunt. And the maydens came forth with theyr children/and dyd theyr obeysaunce vnto him.

B Lea came forth also with her children/and kneled vnto hym. Afterward came Joseph & Rachel forth/& kneled vnto him lykewise. And he said: What meanest thou with al ye droue ye I met? He aunswered that I might fynde grace in the syght of my lorde. Esau sayd: I haue ynough my brother/kepe that thou hast. Jacob aunswered: Oh nay/but if I haue founde grace in thy syght/reccaue

C And he sayd: Let vs go on/and take our iourney/I will go in thy company. But he sayd vnto hym: My lorde/thou knowest that I haue tender children by me/and small and great cattell also/which are yet but yonge: if they shoulde be dryuen ouer in one daye/the whole flocke wold dye. Let my lorde go on before his seruaunt: I will dryue after fayre and softly/(therafter as the cattel and the children can go/) tyl I come to my lorde in Seir. Esau sayd: Yet will I leaue some of my people with the. He aunswered: What nede is it? Let me but onely fynde grace in the syght of my lorde.

D So Esau departed agayne thesame day toward Seir/and Jacob toke his iourney toward Suchoth/& buylded hym an house/ and made tentes for his cattell. Therfore is ye place called Suchoth.

† Afterward came Jacob peaceably vnto Gē.xxvi

The.XXXIIII.Chapter.

A DIna the doughter of Lea/which † she Gen.xxx bare vnto Jacob/wente out to beholde the doughters of the lande. Whan Sichem the sonne of Hemor the Heuite (which was lorde of the lande) saw her/he toke her/and laye with her/† & forced her/& his hert hāged ij.Re.xiij vpon her/& he loued the damsel/& talked louyngly with her/& spake to his father Hemor: Get me this mayden to wyfe.

And Jacob vnderstode/that Dina his doughter was defyled/and his sonnes were with the cattell in the felde/and Jacob helde his tunge tyl they came. Then Hemor went forth vnto Jacob to cōmen with hym. In the meane season came Jacobs sonnes from the fe'de. And whan they herde it/it greued the men/& they were very wroth/that he had wrought foly in Israel/and lyen with Jacobs doughter: for so was not the vse to do.

B Then cōmened Hemor with them/and sayd: My sonne Sichems hert longeth for your doughter. O geue her hym to wife: make fredshippe wt vs/geue vs your doughters/& take ye our doughters/and dwel wt vs/the lande shalbe open vnto you/dwel & occupye/and haue your possessions therin. And Sichem sayd vnto her father and brethren: Let me fynde grace with you: loke what ye appoint me/I wil geue it: requyre the dowrye/and gyft of me hardely/I wyll geue it according as ye wil axe/only geue me the damsell to wyfe.

Then Jacobs sonnes aunswered Sichē/ and Hemor his father (& spake deceathfully/ because theyr syster Dina was defyled) and sayd vnto them: That can we not do/to geue our syster to an vncircumcysed man/for that were a great shame vnto vs.

C Neuertheleſſe/we will consent vnto you/ if ye wyl be like vnto vs/and be circūcised as many as are males amōge you: then wil we geue you our doughters/and take your doughters vnto vs/and dwell with you/and be one people. But if ye will not herken vnto vs/to be circumcysed/then wyll we take our doughter/and go our waye.

These woordes pleased Hemor and his sonne well/and the yonge man deferred not to do thesame/for he had lust to Jacobs doughter: and he was holden in honoure aboue all in his fathers house. Then came Hemor and Sichem his sonne vnder the gate of the cytie/and cōmened with the cytesyns of the citye/and sayde: These men are peaceable with vs/& wil dwel in the lande/& occupye. Now is the lande brode of both the sydes/we wyl take theyr doughters vnto vs/and geue them oure doughters.

D But then wyll they consente vnto vs to dwell by vs/and to be one people with vs/ if we circūcyse all the men children amonge vs/lyke as they are circumcised: theyr cattel and gooddes/and all that they haue/shalbe ours/if we consent vnto them that they maie dwel with vs.

And they herkened vnto Hemor and Sichem his sonne/as many as went out and in at the gate of his cytye/and circumcysed all the males/and that wente out and in at Judit. ix. a his citye. †And vpon the thyrde daye (whan it was paynfull to them) the two sonnes of Jacob/Simeon/and Leui: Dinas brethren toke euery mā his swearde: and wente boldly into the cytye/† and slewe all the males/ Gen. xlix a and slew Hemor also/and Sichem his son with the edge of the swearde/and toke theyr syster Dina out of Sichems house/& wente their waye.

Then came Jacobs sonnes vpon the dead/ E
and spoyled the citye (because they had defyled theyr syster) and toke their shepe/oxen/asses/and what soeuer was in the citye and in the lande/and al maner of goodes: All their children and wyfes toke they captiue/and spoyled al that was in the houses.

And Jacob saide vnto Simeon/and Leui: ye haue brought it so to passe/that I stinke before the inhabiters of this lāde/the Cananites and Pheresites/and I am but a small numbre: If they gather them selfes now together agaynste me/they shall slaye me/so shall I be destroyed with my house. But they aunswered: Should they then deale with our syster as with an whore?

The.XXXV.Chapter.

AND God sayde vnto Jacob: Get the vp/ A and go vnto Bethel and dwell there/& make there an aultare vnto the God/that appeared vnto the/† whan thou fleddest frō Gē.xxviij.b

Then gaue they hym all the straunge B

And there came a feare of God vpon the cities that laye rounde aboute/so that they folowed not after the sonnes of Jacob. So came Jacob vnto Lus/of the lande of Canaan (which is called Bethell) and al the people that were with hym/and there he buylded an aultare/and † called the place Gē.xxviij.d

Gē xxviij.g Then dyed † Debora Rebeccas norse: and was buryed beneth Bethel vnder the Oke/ and it was called the Oke of lamentacyon.

And Jacob called ỹ place where God talked with him Bethel.

And Jacob had xij sonnes. The sonnes of Lea were these: Ruben Jacobs fyrst borne sonne / Simeon/Leui/Juda/Isachar an Zabulon. The sonnes of Rachel/ were Joseph & Ben Jamin. The sonnes of Bilha Rachels mayde: Dan/and Nephthaly. The sonnes of Silpa Leas mayde: Gad & Aser. These are the sonnes of Jacob / whiche were borne vnto him in Mesopotamia. And he came to his father Isaac to Mare/into the heade cytye/which is called Hebron/ wherin Abrahā and Isaac were straungers. And Isaac was an c and lxxx. yeare olde / and fell sycke / and dyed/& was gathered vnto his people / whā he was olde/and had lyued ynough: and his sonnes Esau and Jacob buryed hym.

The. XXXVII. Chapter.

JAcob dwelt in the lande/ wherein his fa- A

Joseph was seuentye yeare olde/ whan he became a keper of the cattel with his brethren/ and the lad was with the chyldren of Bilha and Silpa his fathers wyfes / and tolde thyr father of the euell reporte that was of them. Israel loued Joseph more then all his children/because he had begotten hym in his olde age / and he made hym a coote of many coloures.
Now whan his brethren sawe that his father loued hym more then al his brethrē/they had euell wyl at hym/and coulde not speake a frendly worde vnto hym † Joseph also had Gen.xlij.a

Then sayde his brethren vnto him: Shalt B

thou be our kynge/ and haue dominion ouer vs? And they hated hym yet ỹ more/ because of his dreame and his wordes. And he had yet another dreame/ whiche he tolde his brethren/ and sayd: Beholde/ I had yet another dreame: Me thought that the Sunne/ and ỹ Moone/ and xj. starres made obeysaunce to me. And when this was tolde his father and his brethren/ his father reproued hym/ and sayde vnto hym: What maner of dreame is this/ that thou hast dreamed? Then a certayne man founde hym/ wandringe out of his waye in ỹ felde/ which axed him/ & saide: Whome sekest thou? He aunswered: I seke my brethrē: tell me I praie ỹ where they kepe shepe. went doune from his brethren/ and gat hym to a man called Hyra of Odollam/ and there Juda sawe a mans doughter of Canaan called Sua/ and toke her. And whan he had lyen with her/ she conceaued/ and bare a sonne sonne/ whome she called Er.

And she conceaued agayne/ and bare a sonne/ whome she called Onan/ She proceedeth yet further/ & bare a sonne/ whome she called Sela. And whan she had borne hym/ she left of bearynge.

And Juda gaue his fyrst sonne Er a wife/ whose name was Thamar. But he was wicked before the Lorde/ therfore the Lorde slew hym. Then saide Juda vnto his sonne Onan: Go lye with thy brothers wyfe/ and

Then sayde Judas vnto Thamar his sonnes wyfe: Remayne a wydowe in thy fathers house/ tyll my sonne Sela be growen: for he thought peraduēture he myghte dye also lyke as his brethren. So Thamar wēte her waye/ and remayned in her fathers house. Now whan many dayes were past/ the doughter of Sua Judas wyfe dyed. And whan Juda had left mournyng/ he went vp vnto Thim-

Then put she of the widdowes garmentes that she had vpon her/ couered/ and dysguysed her selfe/ and sat her doune without the porte/ by the wayesyde towarde Thimnath. For she sawe that Sela was growen/ and she was not geuen vnto hym to wyfe.

Now whan Juda sawe her/ he thought it had bene an whore/ for she had couered her face: and he gat him to her in the waye/ and sayde: I praye the let me lye with the/ for he knewe not that it was his doughter in lawe. She aunswered: What wylt thou geue me/ that thou mayest lye with me? He sayde: I will sende the a kydde from the flocke: She aunswered: Geue me a pledge then tyll thou sende it me. He sayde: What pledge wilt thou that I geue the?

She aunswered: Thy signet/ and thy Bra-D

Juda sent the kydde by his shepherde of Odolla/ to fetche the pledge agayne from the woman/ and he founde her not. Then axed he the men of thesame place/ and sayd: Where is ỹ whore that sat without in ỹ waye? They aunswered: There hath no whore ben here. And he came again vnto Juda/ & sayde: I haue not founde her/ moreouer ỹ men of thesame place said: ỹ there hath no whore ben there. Juda sayde: Let her take it vnto her/ lest we happy be shamed/ for I haue sent ỹ kidde/ and thou hast not founde her.

After thre monethes it was tolde Juda: E
Thamar thy doughter in law hath played the whore: and beholde/ by whoredom is she gotten with chylde. Juda sayd: Bringe her forth/ that she maye be brent. And whan she was brought forth/ she sent vnto her father in law/ and sayde: By the man that oweth these/ am I with chyld. And she sayde: Knowest thou whose is this sygnet/ this bracelet/ and thys staffe. Juda knew them/ and sayde: She is more ryghteous then I/ for I gaue her not my sonne Sela: But he laye no more with her.

Whan ỹ tyme came that she shoulde be delyuered/ there were two twinnes founde in her wombe. And as she was now in trauaylinge/ ỹ one put out his hande. Then the midwife toke/ and bounde a read threde aboute it/ and sayde: This shall come out fyrst. But whā he pluckte in his hande agayne/ his brother came forth. And she said: Wherfore is there a rente made for thy sake? And he was called

The XXXIX. Chapter.

JOseph was broughte doune into E- A Pharaos chyefe marshall bought hym of the Jsmaelites/ that broughte hym doune. And ỹ Lord was with Joseph/ in so much that he became a lucky man/and was in hys master the Egipcians house. And his master Gen. xxxix.d sawe ỹ the Lord was with hym: for whatsoeuer he dyd/the Lord made it to prospere in his hande: so ỹ he foũde fauoure in his masters sight/and was his seruaunt. He made him ruler of his house/and put al that he had vnder his hande. And from the tyme forth that he had made hym ruler of his house/and all his goodes/the Lord blessed the Egipcians house for Josephs sake/and there was nothynge but the very blessing of the Lord/in al that he had in the house/and in the felde therfore lefte he all that he had in Josephs hande. And medled with nothinge hym selfe/saue only the breade that he dyd eate. And Jo seph was fayre of fetwye/and wel fauoured of face.

B And it fortuned after these actes/that his masters wyfe cast her eyes vpon Joseph/and sayde: Slepe with me. But he denyed/and sayde vnto her: Beholde/my master knoweth not what is in the house/& al ỹ he hath/that hath he put vnder my hand. And there is no mã so greate in ỹ house as I/and he hath kept nothing fro me/excepte the: for thou art his wyfe. How shoulde I then do so greate euel/and synne agaynst God: But she spake suche wordes vnto Joseph dayly. Neuertheless/he herkened not vnto her/to slepe by her/or to be in her company.

C It fortuned vpõ a time/that Joseph wẽte into ỹ house to do his busynesse/& there was none of the folkes of the house therby. And she caught hym by his garmẽt/& said: Slepe wt me. But he left ỹ garment in her hande/& fled/& gat hym out of the house.

Now whan she sawe that he had lefte his garment in her hande/and fled oute/she called the folkes in the house/and sayde vnto them: Lo/he hath brought vs in the Hebrue/to do vs shame/He came in here vnto me/to slepe by me: but I cryed with a loude voyce.
And whã he herd that I made a noyse and cryed/he lefte his garmẽt here by me/& fled/

D And she layed vp his garment by her/tyll
his master came home/and tolde hym euen
the same wordes/and sayde: The Hebrue ser-uaunt/whome thou broughtest here vnto vs/came in here to me/for to do me shame.
But whan I made a noyse and cryed/he lefte his garment here by me/and fled out.
Whan his master herde the wordes of his wyfe/which she tolde hym/and sayde: Thus hath the Hebrue seruaunt done vnto me/he was very wroth.

E † Then his master toke hym/and put hym

The. XL. Chapter.

A And it fortuned after this that the kyng of Egyptes chiefe Butlar/and the chief baker/offended theyr lorde the kyng of Egypt.
And Pharao was angry with them/and cau sed them to be put in pryson in ỹ chiefe marshals house/where Joseph laye prysoner. And the chiefe marshall put Joseph vnto them/that he myghte serue them. And so they were in pryson for a season.

And they dreamed/both the Butlar and ỹ
baker in one night/euery man his owne dre-ame/and euery dreame had his interpretacyõ.
Now in the morning whan Joseph came in vnto them/and sawe that they loked sadly/he axed them and sayd: Why loke ye so sadly to daye? They aunswered: We haue dreamed/and haue no man to declare it vnto vs. Joseph sayd: Interpretynge be longeth vnto
God/But tell it me yet.

B Then the chiefe Butlar tolde Joseph his dreame/and sayde vnto him: I dreamed that there was a vyne before me/which had thre braunches/& it budded/grewe/and bare blossoms/& the grapes therof were ripe. And I had Pharaos cuppe in my hande/& toke of ỹ grapes/& wronge them in to ỹ cuppe/& gaue Pharao the cuppe in his hande.

Joseph sayd: This is the interpretacion:
The thre braunches are thre dayes/and euer thre dayes shal Pharao take the/and put the
in thine office againe/that thou mayest geue him ỹ cuppe in his hande after the olde maner/whan thou wast his Butlar: But whan thou art in thy prosperite/thinke vpon me/& shewe me kyndnesse/that thou mayest certi-fie Pharao of me/that he maye bringe me out of this house/for I was preuely caried out of the lande of ỹ Hebrues/and here also haue I done nothinge/ỹ they shoulde haue put me
in this dongeon.

C Whan the chiefe baker sawe/that ỹ interpretacion was good/he saide vnto Joseph:
I dreamed/ỹ I bare thre wyker baskettes
vpon my heade/and in the vppermooste basket all maner of baken meates for Pharao/& the fooles did eate out of the basket vpon my heade.

Joseph aunswered and saide: This is the interpretacyon: The thre baskettes are thre dayes/& after thre dayes shall Pharao take ỹ/and hange the vpon the galowe/and ỹ fooles shall eate thy flesshe from of the.

And vpon the thirde daye it came to passe/
that Pharao made his † birth daye/and helde
Mat. xiiij a a feast vnto al his seruauntes/& toke the chiefe Butlar/and the chiefe baker before all his seruauntes/and restored the chiefe butlar to his butlarshippe agayne/so that he reached the cuppe in to Pharaos hande. As for the chiefe baker/he caused him be hanged like as Joseph had interpreted vnto him. Neuertheless the chiefe Butlar thought not on Joseph but forgat hym.

The. XLI. Chapter.

A And after two yeares Pharao had a dream
how that he stode by a water syde &: Behold/out of the water there came seuẽ goodly kyne/and fatflesshed/and wente fedinge in the medow. After these he saw other seuen kyne come out of the water/which were euell fauoured/and leane flesshed/and wente
by the kyne vpon the water syde: and the euell fauoured leane kine did eate vp the seuen goodly/and fat kyne: Then Pharao awaked.

And he slepte againe/and dreamed the seconde time. And he sawe that seuen eyres of corne grewe vpon one stalke/ful and good.
Afterwarde he sawe seuen thinneand blasted eyres come vp: and ỹ seuen thynne eyres de-uoured ỹ seuen greate/and full eyres. Thẽ Pharao awaked/and sawe ỹ it was a dream.
And whan it was daye/his spirite was troubled/and he sent out/and caused to call al the sothsayers in Egypte/and al the wyse men/and tolde them his dreame. But there was none/that coulde tell Pharao the interpretacyon of it.

Then spake the chiefe butlar vnto Pharao/ B & saide: This day do I remembre my faute.
Whan Pharao was angrie with his seruaũ-tes/and put me in pryson vỹ the chiefe baker/in ỹ chiefe marshals house/we dreamed both in one nyght: euery man his dreame/hauynge his owne interpretacyon. Then was there with vs a yonge man/an Hebrue/the chiefe marshals seruaunt/vnto whom we tolde it/and he declared our dreames vnto vs/vnto euery man/according to his dream.
And as he declared it vnto vs/so came it to passe. For I was restored vnto myne office/and he was hanged.

Then Pharao sent and called for Joseph/& they let him out of the dongeon. And he let himselfe be shauen/& chaũged his clothes/& came in vnto Pharao. Then saide Pharao to him: I haue dreamed a dreame/and there is noman ỹ can interprete it: But I haue herd tell of the/ỹ whan thou hearest a dream/thou declarest it. Joseph aunswered Pharao/and sayde. God shall geue Pharao a prosperous aunswer/yea/wel without me.

Pharao sayde vnto Joseph: I dreamed ỹ C
I stode by a water side/and beholde/out of ỹ water there came seuen kyne/fat flesshed and goodly/and wente fedinge in the medowe.
And after them I sawe other seuẽ kyne come out thynne/euel fauoured/& leanflesshed. So euell fauoured saw I neuer in all the lande of Egypte. And the seuen leane and euel fauoured kyne dyd eate vp ỹ seuen fyrste fatte kyne.
And whan they had eaten them vp/a man coulde not perceaue that they had eaten thẽ/& were as euel fauoured as they were afore.
Then I awaked.

And I sawe agayne in me dreame seuen
eyres of corne/growynge vpon one stalke/ful and good. Afterwarde there sprange vp seuẽ withred eyres/thinne and blasted/and the seuen thinne eyres deuoured the seuen good eyres. And I haue shewed it vnto my sothsayers/but they can tell me nothinge therof.

Joseph aunswered Pharao: Both Pharaos dreames are one: God sheweth Pharao what he wyl do. The seuen good kyne are seuen yeares/& the seuē good eyres are seuē yeares also. It is one dreame. The seuen leane/& euell fauoured kyne/that came vp after them/ are seuen yeares. And the seuen thynne and blasted eyres/ shalbe seuen yeares of derth. This is now the thynge which I told Pharao/ that God shewed Pharao what he wyll do.

Beholde/there shall come seuen yeares with great plenteousnesse in the whole lande of Egypte/& after the same/there shal come seuen yeares of derth/so that all this plenteousnesse shalbe forgotten in the lande of Egypt/ and the derth shall consume the lande/so that the plenteousnesse shall not be perceaued in the lande/ because of the derth that commeth therafter/ for it shalbe very greate. Where as Pharao dreamed the seconde time it signifyeth ỹ this thinge is surely prepared of God/ and that God wyll shortlye bringe the same to passe.

E Let Pharao now prouyde for a man of vnderstandynge and wysdome/whome he maie set ouer the lande of Egypte/ and se that he ordone officers in the lande/and take the fifth parte of the lande of Egypte in the seuen plenteous yeares/ and gather all the foode that shal come of the plenteous yeares/ that they maye laye vp corne vnder Pharaos power/ for sustenaunce in the cytes/ and kepe it that there maye be foode founde/prepared for the lande in the seuen deare yeares/ which shall come vpon the lande of Egypte/that ỹ lande be not destroyed by honger. The sayēge pleased Pharao well/and all his seruauntes. And Pharao sayde vnto his seruauntes. How might we fynde such a man/in whome is the spirite of God? And sayde vnto Joseph: For so much as God hath shewed the all this/ there is none of such vnderstandinge/ and wysdome as thou.

F † Thou shalt be ouer my house/ and accordynge vnto thy woorde shall all my people obeye: onely in the kynges seate wyll I be more then thou. And he sayde: Behold/I haue set the ouer the whole lande of Egypte. And he toke of his ringe from his hande/ and gaue it Joseph in his hande/and clothed hym with whyte sylke/& dyd hange a cheane of golde aboute his necke/ and made hym ryde vpon the seconde charret: and caused it to be proclaymed before hym/ that men should bow their knees vnto him (as to him whome Pharao had set ouer the whole lande of Egypte.

And Pharao sayde vnto Joseph: I am Pharao: without thy wyl shal noman moue his hande or his fote in all the lande of Egypte: And he called hym (& Zaphnath Paena/ and gaue hym a wyfe/ euen Asnath the doughter of Potiphar/ the prest of On. So Joseph wente out/ for to vyset ỹ lande of Egypte. (And he was thyrtie yeare olde/ whan he stode before Pharao.) And he departed from Pharao/ and wente thorow all the lande of Egypte.

Zaphnath Paena ỹ is to saye: A expoundar of secrete thynges/ a man w whome s cret thinge are opened

And the lande dyd so those seuen plenteous yeares: and they gathered al the foode of the seuen yeares that were in the lande of Egypt/and laied it in ỹ cities. Loke what foode grew in ỹ felde rounde about euery citye/they put it therin. So Joseph layed vp ỹ corne in stoar/and that much aboue measure/ as the sande of ỹ see: in so much that he lefte of numbringe of it: for it could not be numbred.

† And vnto Joseph there were borne two sonnes/ (before the derth came) whome Asnath the doughter of Potiphar/ priest of On bare vnto hym. And the fyrst called he Manasses: for God (sayde he) hath caused me to forget all my laboure/ and all my fathers house. The seconde called he Ephraim: for God (sayde he) hath caused me to growe in the lande of my trouble.

G Gen. xlvj

Now whan the seuen plenteous yeares were ended in Egypte. † Then begānne the seuen deare yeares to come/ wherof Joseph had sayde. And there was derth in all landes/ but in all the lande of Egypte there was foode. Nowe whan the lande of Egypte Beganne to suffre hunger also/ the people cryed vnto Pharao for bread. But Pharao said vnto all the Egypcians: Go vnto Joseph/what he sayeth vnto you/that do. So whan there was derth in all the lande/Joseph opened al that was by him/ and solde vnto the Egypcians. Thus the derth preuayleth in the land/ and all countrees came to Egypte to bye at Joseph: for the derth was myghtye in all landes.

The. XLII. Chapter.

A WHan Jacob sawe that there was much corne in Egypte/ he sayd vnto his sonnes: Why gape ye? Beholde/ I heare that there is much corne in Egypt/go doune/and bye vs corne/ that we maye liue/& not dye. So Josephs ten brethrē wente doune to bye corne in Egypte. As for BēJamin/Josephs brother/Jacob wolde not let him go with his brethren/ for he said: Some misfortune myght happen vnto him. So the children of Israell came to bye corne amonge other that came with them: for there was derth also in ỹ lande of Canaan. But Joseph was gouernoure in ỹ lande/& solde corne vnto all ỹ people of the land.

Now whan his brethren came to him/they fell doune to the grounde before hym vpon their faces/and he sawe them/ & knew them/ and helde hymselfe straunge towarde them/ and talked roughly with them/ & sayd vnto them: Whence come ye? They sayd: Out of ỹ land of Canaan/to bye vitayle. Neuertheles/ though he knewe thē/yet knew they not him.

G.xxxvij.a And Joseph thought vpon the dreames † ỹ he had dreamed of thē/ and saide vnto them: Ye are spyes/ and are come to se where ỹ land is open.

B They aunswered him: No my lorde/thy seruauntes are come to bye vitayle: we are al one mannes sonnes/we are vnfayned/ & thy seruauntes were neuer spyes: He sayd vnto thē: No/but ye are come to se where ỹ lande is open. They aunswered him: We thy seruauntes are twelfe brethren/the sonnes of one man in the lande of Canaan/& the yongest is with our father/as for one he is awaye.

Joseph said vnto them: This it that I said vnto you: spyes are ye: Here by will I proue you: By ỹ life of Pharao ye shall not get hēce/ excepte your yongest brother come hether. Sende awaye one of you to fetche your brother/But ye shalbe in pryson. Thus wil I trie out youre woordes/whether ye go aboute ỹ treuth or not: for els by the life of Pharao/ ye are spyes. And he put thē together in warde thre dayes longe.

C Vpon the thyrde daie he saide vnto thē: If ye wil lyue/thē do thus/ for I feare God: If ye be vnfained/ let one of youre brethren lye bounde in youre prison: but go ye your waye/ & carie home the necessarie foode/& bringe me youre yongest brother/ so will I beleue your woordes/ỹ ye shal not dye/& so they did.

And they saide one to another: This haue we deserued against our brother/ in that we sawe the anguisshe of his soule/ whan he besought vs/and we wold not heare him: therfore commeth now this trouble vpō vs. Ruben aunswered thē/ & saide: Told not I you the same whā I saide: (O synne not against) G.xxxvij.d lad/But ye wold not heare. Now is his bloud required. But they knew not that Joseph vnderstode it/ for he spake vnto them by an interpreter. And he turned him from them/ and wepte. Now whan he had turned him to them againe/ and talked with them/ he toke Simeon amonge thē/ and bounde him before theyr eyes/ and commaunded to fyll their sackes with corne/ and to put euery mās money in his sacke/ and to geue euery one his expenses by the waye. And so was it done vnto them.

And they laded their corne vpon their asses/and departed thence. But as one opened his sacke to geue his asse prouēder in ỹ inne/ he spyed his money in his sacke mouth/ and saide vnto his brethren: My money is restored my again/lo/it is in my sacke. Then their hertes fayled them/and they were afrayed amonge themselfes/ and said: Wherfore hath God done this to vs.

Now whā they came home to Jacob their father/in ỹ lande of Canaan/they tolde him al that happened vnto them/ & saide: The man that is lorde of the lande/ spake roughly vnto vs/ and toke vs for spyes of the countre. And whan we aunswered: we are vnfayned/ and were neyther spyes/ but are twelfe brethren/ the sonnes of one father: one is awaye/ and the yongest is yet this daye with our father in the lande of Canaan. He sayde: Hereby will I marke that ye are vnfained: Leaue one of your brethren with me/ and take foode necessary for youre horses/and go youre waie/ & bringe your yongest brother vnto me: so shal I knowe that ye are no spyes/ but vnfained: then shall I delyuer you youre brother also/and ye maie occupye in the lande.

E And whan they opened theyr sackes/ euery man founde his bondell of moneye in his sacke. And whan they and theyr father sawe/ that it was the bondels of theyr money/ they were afrayed.

Then saide Jacob theyr father: Ye haue robbed me of my children/ Joseph is awaye/ Simeon is awaye/and ye wyll take Ben Jamin awaye: It goeth all ouer me. Rubē aunswered his father/ and saide: If I bringe him not to the agayne/then slaye my two sonnes: deliuer him into my hande: I wil bringe hym againe vnto the: He saide: my sonne shal not go doune wᵗh you/for his brother is dead/ & he is left alone. If any misfortune should happen vnto hym by the way that ye go/ ye should bringe my gray heere with sorow doune into the graue.

The. XLIII. Chapter.

A BVt the derth appressed the lande. And whan al ẏ vitayles ẏ they had brought out of Egypte were spente/ Jacob theyr father sayde vnto them: Go agayne/and bie vs a lytle foode.

Then Juda aunswered hym/ and sayde: The man sware vnto vs/and sayd ye shal not se my face/excepte youre brother be with you. If so be now that thou wylt sende our brother with vs/we wyll go doune/ and bye the foode. But yf thou wilt not sende hym/ we wyll not go doune. For the man sayde vnto vs: Ye shal not se my face/except your brother be with you.

B Israell sayde: Wherfore haue ye done this euell vnto me: to tell the man/that ye had yet a brother? They aunswered: The man enquired so straytely of vs/and of oure kinrede/and sayde: Is your father yet a liue? Haue ye yet a brother? Then tolde we him/as he axed vs. How coulde we knowe/ that he wolde saye: Bringe your brother doune with you? Then sayd Juda vnto Israell his father': Let the lad go with me/that we may get vs vp/ and take oure yourney/and liue/and not dye/Both

Ge. xliij. c we and thou/ and our children. † I will be suertye for hym/of my handes shalt thou require him. If I bringe him not vnto the againe/ and set him before thine eyes/ I will beare the blame my life longe. For if we hād not made this tariēge/we had now ben come again twyse.

Then saide Israel their father vnto them: If it must nedes be so/ then do this: take of ẏ best frutes of the lande in youre sackes/ and bring ẏ man a present: a curtsy balme/ and hony/and spyces/and myrre/and dates/& almondes. Take other money with you also/ & the money that was brought again in your sacke mouthes/ cary it again with you/ peraduenture it was an ouersight. And take C your brother/get you vp/& go againe vnto ẏ man. The almyghtye God geue you mercy in the sighte of the man/ that he maye let you haue your other brother/ & Ben Jamin. As for me/I muste be as one/ that is robbed of his children.

So they toke the present/and other money with them/and Ben Jamin: gat them vp/ & wente into Egypte/and stode before Joseph. Then Joseph beheelde them with Be Jamin/ and sayd vnto the ruler of his house: Bringe these men/ & slaye/and make ready/ for they shal dine with me at noone. And the mā did as Joseph bad him/and brought the men into Josephs house.

Whan they were brought into Josephs house/they were afrayd/& said: We are brought hithere because of the moneye/that came againe in oure sackes at ẏ fyrst/to pike a quarell with vs/ and to laye some thynge to oure charge/ and to take vs for bande seruauntes with our asses.

Therfore came they to the man/ that was D ruler of Josephs house/& talked with hym at the dore/& sayde: Syr/ † we came doune at ẏ Gen. xlij first to bye foode/& whan we came in ẏ inne/ and opened our sackes/ beholde/euery mans money was in his sackmouth wᵗh full weight: therfore haue we brought it with vs againe/ and haue brought other money wᵗh vs also/ to bye foode: but we can not tell/ who put our money in our sackes.

He sayde be content/ feare ye not/youre God/euen ẏ God of youre fathers/ hath geuen you that treasure in youre sackes/ I had your money. And he brought forth Simeon vnto them/and led them into Josephs house/ an gaue them water to washe theyr fete/ and gaue theyr asses prouender.

E And they made ready ẏ present/ agaynst Joseph came at noone: for they herde ẏ they should dyne there. Now when Joseph went into ẏ house/ they brought him home the present that they had/ & fel doune to the grounde before him. But he welcomed thē curteously/ & sayd: is your father/ (ẏ olde man which ye tolde me of) in good health? Is he yet alyue? They aunswered: Thy seruaunt our father is in good health/ & is yet alyue. And they bowed them selfes/ and fell doune before him.

And he lyft vp his eyes/& sawe his brother Gen. xlij. b Beniamin/his mothers sonne/and sayd: † Is this your yongest brother/that ye told me of? And he sayd moreouer: God be mercyful vnto the my sonne. And Joseph made haist (†) for iij. Re. iij. d ẏ ground of his herte was kindled toward his brother) and sought how he might wepe/ & went into his chamber/and wepte there.

F And whan he had washed his face/ he wēt out and refrayned him selfe/& sayde: set bread on the table. And they brought vnto him by him selfe/ & vnto them by them selfes/ and to the Egypcians/also that dyd eate with them/ by them selfes. (For the Egypcians dare not eate bread with the Hebrues/ that is abhominacion vnto them.) And they were set ouer agaynst him/the first borne/accordinge to his first birth/& the yongest after his youth. They marueyled at it amonge them selfes/ & there were brought them sundrie meates from his table. But Ben Jamins part was fyue times more then the other. And they dronke/& were merry with him.

The. XLIIII. Chapter.

A AND Joseph cōmaunded the ruler of his house/ & sayd: Fill the mens sackes with foode/ as much as they maye carye/ and put euery mans money in his sacke mouth: & put my syluer cuppe in the sacke mouth of ẏ yongest/with the money for the vitayles. He dyd as Joseph had sayd: And on the morowe whan it was day/ they let the men go with theyr asses.

But whan they were out of the cytie/& not come farre/ Joseph sayde to the ruler of his house: Vp/and folowe after the men/& whan thou ouertakest them/ say vnto them: Wherfore haue ye rewarded euel for good? Is not that it/that my lorde drinketh out? & that he prophecieth with all? It is euell done of you/ that ye haue done.

And whan he had ouertaken them/he sayd B the same word es vnto them. They aunswered him: Wherfore sayeth my lord suche wordes? God forbid/ that thy seruauntes shoulde do any such thinge? Behold/ the money that we founde in our sackes mouths/ that brought we vnto ẏ agayne/ out of the lāde of Canaan: how should we then haue stolen eyther syluer or golde/out of thy lordes house? Loke by whom it shalbe founde amonge thy seruauntes/let him dye: yee/and we also wil be my lordes bondmen. He sayd: let it be so/as ye haue spoken. Loke by whō it shalbe founde/let him be my seruaunt/but ye shalbe harmelesse.

And they made haist/ and toke euery man doune his sacke to the grounde/& euery man opened his sacke: And he searched & beganne at the greatest vnto the yongest/ and ẏ cuppe was founde in Ben Jamins sacke. Then rent they theyr clothes/ & euery man dyd lade the burthen vpon his asse/ & wente againe vnto the cytie/ And Juda went with his brethren vnto Joseps house (for he was there yet) and they fel before him vnto the grounde. Joseph sayd vnto them: What maner of dede is this/ that ye haue done? Knewe ye not/that such a man as I am/can prophecy?

Juda sayde: What shall we say vnto my C lorde? or how shal we speake? and what excuse shal we make? God hath founde out the wickednes of thy seruauntes. Beholde/ we & he/ by whom the cuppe is founde/ are my lordes seruauntes. But he sayde: God forbid that I shoulde do so. The man by whom the cuppe is founde/ shalbe my seruaunt/ but go ye vp in peace vnto your father.

Then stepte Juda vnto him/and sayd: My lord: let thy seruaunt speake one word in thine eares my lorde/ be not displeased at thy seruaunt also/for thou art euen as Pharao. My lorde axed his seruauntes and sayde: Haue ye yet a father or brother? Then aunswered we: We haue a father/which is olde/ and a yonge lad begotten in his age/ and his brother is dead/ and he is lefte alone of his mother/ and his father loueth him.

Then saydest thou: Bringe him doune
D vnto me/and I wil se him. But we aunswered my lorde: The lad can not come from his father/if he shoulde come from him/ he were but a dead man. Then saydest thou vnto thy Gen.xliij.a seruauntes: † If your yongest brother come not hyther wt you/ ye shall se me face nomore. Then went we vp vnto thy seruaunt my father/ and told him my lordes wordes. Then sayde oure father: Go youre waye agayne/ & bye vs a litle foode. But we sayde: We can not go doune/ excepte oure yongest brother be with vs/ then will we go doune: for we darre not loke the man in the face/if our yongest brother be not with vs. Then sayd thy seruaunt/my father vnto vs: Ye knowe ỹ my wyfe bare me two sonnes/ one went out fro Gē.xxxvij.f me/& I sayde: †he is torne in peces. If ye take this fro me also/ and any misfortune happen

E If I now come home vnto my father/ & the lad be not with me (seinge his soule hangeth by the soule of this) then shal it come to passe/that if he se not the lad there/he shal die. So shal we/ thy seruauntes bringe the gray heer of thy seruaunt our father/ with sorowe
Gen.xliij.b doune to the graue. † For I thy seruaunt/became suerty for the lad vnto my father/ and sayd: if I bringe him not agayn/ I wil beare the blame al my lyfe long. Therfore let thy seruaunt bide here in stead of ỹ lad/ to be my lordes bande man/& let the lad go vp wt his brethren. For how can I go vp vnto my father/ if the lad be not with me? Then shoulde I se ỹ misery that shoulde happen vnto my father.

The.XLV.Chapter.

A Then could not Joseph refrayne himself before al them that stode aboute him: and he cōmaunded euery man to go of from him/ and there stode no man by him/ whan Joseph vttred him selfe vnto his brethrē. And he wepte loude/so that the Egypcians & Pharaos housholde herde it. And he sayd vnto his Actu.vij.b brethren: † I am Joseph/ is my father yet aliue? And his brethren coulde not aunswere him/ thei were so abashed before his face. But he sayd: Come nye vnto me. And they came nye. And he sayd: I am Joseph your brother:
Gē.xxxv † whome ye sold into Egypt. And now vexe not your selfes/ & thinke not that there is any c wrath/ because ye solde my hether/ * for God *Gen.l
sent me hether before you/ for your lyues sake. For these are now two yeares/ that the derth hath bene in the lande/ and there are yet fyue yeares behinde/ where in there shalbe no plowinge/ nor haruest.

But God sent my hether before you/ that B
he might let you remayne vpon earth/ and to saue your lyues/ by a great deliueraūce. And now it was not ye/ them that sent me hether/ but god/ which hath made me a father vnto Pharao/ and lorde ouer all his house/ and a prince in the whole lande of Egypte. Haist you therfore/and go vp vnto my father/ & say vnto him: Thy sonne Joseph sendeth ỹ this worde: God hath made me lorde in all Egypte/come doune vnto me/tarie not/thou shalt dwell in the lande of Gosen/and be with me: thou and thy children/ and thy childers children/thy smal and great cattel/ & al that thou hast. There wyl I make prouysion for the (for there are yet fyue yeares of derth) that thou pery she not with thyne house/ and all that is thyne. Beholde your eyes/ and the eyes of my brother Ben Jamin/ se that I myne owne selfe speake vnto you by mouth. Shewe my father all my worshippe in Egypte/ & al that ye haue sene: haist you/ and come doune hether with my father.

And he fell aboute his brother Ben Ja- C
mins necke/ & wepte/ and Ben Jamin wept vpon his neck also. And he kissed all his brethren/and wepte vpon them. And afterward talked his brethren with him. And this tydinges came into Pharaos house: Josephs brethren are come/which pleased Pharao well/ & all his seruauntes.

And Pharao spake vnto Joseph: Saye vnto thy brethrē: So thus/lade your beastes/ go your waye/and whan ye come into ỹ land of Canaan/ take your father & youre housholdes/ & come vnto me/ I will geue you of the goodes in the lande of Egypt/ so that ye shall eate the fatte in the lande. And he cōmaunded them. So thus/take you charrettes out of the lande of Egypte for your children & wyfes/and bringe your father/and come/and regard gard not your housholde stuffe: for the good of al the lande of Egypte shalbe yours.

D The children of Israel did so/and Joseph gaue them charrettes/ according to Pharaos cōmaundement/ & expenses by the waye/ and gaue thē al/vnto euery one a chaunge of rayment/but vnto Ben Jamin he gaue three hundreth siluer pens/ & fyue chaunge of rayment. As for his father/ he sent him ten asses laden with goodes out of Egypte/ & ten asses with corne/& bread/and vitayles for his father by ỹ waye. So he sent awaye his brethren/ & sayd vnto them: Striue not by the waye.

E Thus they departed out of Egypte/& came to the lande of Canaan/vnto Jacob theyr father/and tolde him/and sayd: Thy sonne Joseph is yet aliue/and is a lorde in all the lande of Egypte. But his hert wauered/ for he beleued them not. Then tolde they him all the wordes of Joseph/ which he had sayd vnto them. And whan he sawe the charrettes that Joseph had sent/to fetche him/his spirite reuiued/& he sayd: I haue ynough/that my sonne Joseph is yet aliue/ I wil go/ and se him before I dye.

The.XLVI.Chapter.

A Israel † toke his iourney with all that he

Then Jacob gat him vp from Berseba/& the children of Israel caried Jacob theyr father/ with theyr children & theyr wyfes/vpon the charrettes that Pharao had sente to cary him. And they toke theyr cattel/& substaunce/ which they had gotten in the land of Canaan/

of Nephtali: Jahzeel/ Guni/ Jezer/ Sillem. These are the children of Bilha/ whome Laban gaue vnto his doughter Rachel/ and she bare Jacob these seuen soules. † All the soules Deu.x.d
that came with Jacob into Egypte/ which proceaded out of his loynes (besyde the wyfes of his children) are altogether fyre & sixtie soules. And Josephs children/ which were borne vnto him in Egypt/were two soules: so that all ỹ soules of the house of Jacob/which came into Egypte/were seuentie.

And he sent Juda before him vnto Joseph/ to shewe him the waye to Gosen/& they came into the lande of Gosen. Then Joseph bended his charret fast/ and wente vp to mete Israel his father vnto Gosen. And whan he sawe him/ he fell aboute his neck/ and wepte sore vpon his necke. Then sayd Israel vnto Joseph: Now am I cōtent to die/for so much as I haue sene thy face/ỹ thou art yet aliue.

E Joseph sayd vnto his brethren/& to his fathers house: I will go vp/and tell Pharao/& saye vnto him: My brethren and my fathers house are come vnto me/ out of the lande of Canaan/ and are kepers of cattel (for they are men ỹ deale with cattel:) their small & great cattel/ and all that haue/ haue they brought with them. Now if Pharao cal you/and saye/ what is your occupacion? then ye shall saye: Thy seruauntes are men that haue dealt with cattel from oure youth vp hetherto/ both we and oure fathers/ that ye maye dwell in the lande of Gosen: for the Egypcians abhorre al kepers of cattel.

The.XLVII.Chapter.

A Then came Joseph/ and tolde Pharao & sayd: My father and my brethren/theyr smal and great cattel/ and al that they haue/ are come out of the lande of Canaan: and behold/they are in the lande of Gosen. And he toke fyue of his brethren/ and presented them vnto Pharao. Then sayd Pharao vnto his brethren: What is your occupacion? They aunswered: Thy seruauntes are kepers of cattel/we & our father also. And they sayde moreouer vnto Pharao: We are come to dwel with you in the lande/for thy seruauntes haue no pasture for their cattell/ so sore doth ỹ derthe oppresse the lande of Canaan. Now therfore let thy seruauntes dwell in the lande of Gosen.

B Pharao sayd vnto Joseph: Thy father & thy brethren are come vnto the: the lande of Egypte is open before the/ let them dwel in ỹ best place of the lāde/& se that they dwell euen in the lande of Gosen. And if thou knowest that there be men of actiuite amonge them/ make them rulers of my cattel.

Joseph broughte in Jacob his father/ and sette him before Pharao. And Jacob thanked Pharao. But Pharao axed Jacob: How olde art thou? Jacob sayde: The time of my † pilgremage is an hundreth & thirtie yeares: littel and euel is the time of my pilgremage/ & attayneth not vnto the time of my fathers in their pilgremages. And Jacob thanked Pharao/and wente out from him.

Job.xiiij.c
Ps. cxviij.c

C So Joseph prepared dwellinges for his father & his brethren/and gaue them a possession in the lande of Egypte/ euen in the best place of ỹ land/namely in the lande of Raemses/as Pharao commaunded. And he made prouision for his father and brethren/ and all his fathers house with bread/ euen as yonge children.

There was no bread in al the lande/ for ỹ derth was very sore/so that ỹ lande of Egypte/ and the lande of Canaan were famished/ by ỹ reason of ỹ derth. And Joseph brought together al the money that was founde in Egypte and Canaan/ for the corne that they bought. And he layed vp all the money in Pharaos house.

Now whan money fayled in the lande of Egypt and Canaan/all the Egypcians came vnto Joseph/ & sayde: Geue vs bread: Why suffrest thou vs to dye before the/ because we are without money. Joseph sayd: Bringe hyther your cattel/ so wil I geue you for your cattell/seyenge ye are without money. Then brought they their cattel vnto Joseph. And he gaue thē bread for their horses/shepe/oxen and asses. So he fed them with bread that yeare for al their cattel.

D Whan that yeare was ended/ they came vnto him the nexte yeare/and sayd vnto him: We will not hide it from our lorde/ that not onely the money/but all the cattel also is spent vnto our lorde/ and there is nothinge more left for oure lorde/ but onely our body & our lande: wherfore suffrest thou both vs to dye & oure lorde. Take vs and our land for bread/ that we & our land maye be bonde vnto Pharao: geue vs sede/ that we may lyue/ and not dye/ and that the lande become not a wildernesse.

E So Joseph toke in all the lande of Egypte for Pharao: for the Egypcians solde euery man his land/because the derth was so mighty vpon them/and so the lande became Pharaos/with the people that went out and in at his cytics/ from one syde of Egypte vnto the other/ excepte the priestes lande/ that toke he not in: For it was ordeyned of Pharao for the priestes/that they should eate/that which was appointed them/ which he gaue them: therfore they neded not to sell their landes.

Then

F Then sayde Joseph vnto the people: Behold/ I haue taken possession of you & youre land this day for Pharao/Behold/ there haue ye sede/ sowe the lande/ & of the corne ye shall geue the fyft parte vnto Pharao: four partes shalbe youres/ to sowe the lande four youre sustenaunce/ and for youre houses and children.

They sayde: Let vs liue/ and finde grace before the oure lorde/ we will gladly be Pharaos seruauntes. So Joseph made them a lawe vnto this daye ouer the Egypcians land/to geue Pharao the fifthe parte/ excepte the priestes lande/which was not bonde vnto Pharao.

G So Israel dwelt in Egypte/ in the lande of Gosen/and had it in possession/and grew/ & multiplyed exceadingly. And Jacob liued seuētene yeare in the lande of Egypte/ so that his whole age was an hundreth and seuen & fourtie yeares.

Now whan the time came that Israell should dye/he called Joseph his sonne/& sayd vnto him: If I haue founde grace in thy Ge.xxiiij.d sighte/† then laye thyne hāde vnder my thye/ that thou shalt shewe mercy and faythfulnesse vpon me/and not burye me in Egypte/ but I wil lye by my fathers/ and thou shalt carye me out of Egypte/ & burye me in their buriall. He said: I will do as thou hast sayde.
Gen.xxv.d But he sayd: † Then sweare vnto me. And he sware vnto him. Then Israel bowed him self toward the bedhead.

The.XLVIII.Chapter.

A After this it was tolde Joseph: Behold/ thy father is sicke: & he toke with him hys two sonnes Manasses and Ephraim. Then was it tolde Jacob: Behold/ thy sonne Joseph cōmeth vnto the. And Israel toke a courage vnto him/& sat vp vpon the bed/ & sayde vnto Joseph: The almightye God appeared Ge.xxviij.e vnto me † at Lus/in the lande of Canaan/and blessed me/and sayd vnto me: Behold/ I wil cause ỹ to grow & increace/& wil make a multitude of people of the/ and wil geue this lāde vnto thy sede after the/for an euerlasting possession. Therefore shall nowe thy two sonnes
Gene.xlj.g Manasses & Ephraim † whiche were borne vnto the in Egipt/before I came hether vnto the/ be myne/ like as Ruben/& Simeon. As for those that thou begotteste after them/ they shalbe thine owne. But these shalbe named with the names of their brethren/ in their inheritaunce.

And whan I came out of Mesopotamia/ B
† Rachel dyed by me/ in the lande of Canaan Ge.xxxv.b
by the way/ whan there was yet but a feldes bred vnto Ephrath: and I buryed her in the waye towarde Ephrath/ whiche is now called Bethleem.

And Israel loked vpon Josephs sonnes/ & sayde: What are these? Joseph aunswered: They are my sonnes/which God hath geuen me here. He sayde bringe them hyther to me/ that I maye blesse them. (For Israels eyes were heuye for age/ & he coulde not well se.) And he brought them vnto him. So he kissed them/ and enbraced them/ & sayde vnto Joseph: Beholde/I haue sene thy face/which I thought not: and lo/ God hath caused me to se thy sede also. And Joseph toke thē from his lappe/and they fell doune to the grounde vpon their face.

Then Joseph toke them both/ Ephraim in C his righte hande/ towarde Israels lefte hād/ & Manasses in his lefte hande/ towarde Israels righte hande/ and brought them vnto him. But Israel stretched out his righte hād/ and layed it vpon the heade of Ephraim the yongest/and his lefte hande vpon Manasses heade/and did so wittingly with his handes/† for Manasses was ỹ fyrst borne sonne. And Josu.xvij.c &
*he blessed Joseph/and sayde: The God be- *Heb.xj.d
fore whome my father Abraham and Isaac haue walked: the God that hath fede me my lyfe longe vnto this daye/ the aungel which hath deliuered me from all euell/ blesse these laddes/ỹ they maye be called after my name/ and after the name of my fathers Abraham and Isaac/ that they may growe and multiplye vpō earth. But whan Joseph sawe that/ D his father layed the righte hande vppon Ephraims heade/ it displeased him/and he lifte vp his fathers hande/ to remoue it from Ephraims heade/vnto the heade of Manasses/ and sayde vnto him: Not so my father/this is the first borne/ laye thy righte hand vpon his heade. Neuertheles/ his father wolde not/ & sayde: I knowe it well my sonne/ I knowe it wel/this shalbe a people also/& shalbe greate:

but

but his yonger brother shalbe greater the he/ & his sede shalbe full of people. So he blessed them the same daye & sayde: In ỹ shall Israel blesse/ so that it shalbe sayde: God set ỹ as E-Jere.xxxj.d phraim & Manasses/ †& so he sette Ephraim aboue Manasses.

And Israel sayd vnto Joseph: Beholde/ I dye/ & God shalbe wt you agayn into ỹ lande of your fathers: † I haue geuen the a pece of Joh.iiij.a land/ without thy brethren/ which I gat with my swearde and my bowe/ out of the hande of the Amorites.

The. L. Chapter.

A AND Joseph cõmaunded his seruauntes the Phisicians/ to embawme his father. And the Phisicians embawmed Jsrael/ tyll fourtie dayes were ended (for so longe endured the dayes of embawming) and the Egyptians bewayled him lxx. dayes.

Now whan the mourning dayes were ended/ Joseph spake vnto Pharaos housholde/ and sayde: Jf I haue founde fauour in youre sighte/ then speake vnto Pharao & saye: My Ge.xlvij.g father hath taken an ooth of me/ & sayde: †Beholde/ I dye/ burye me in myne owne graue/ whiche I digged for my selfe in the lande of Canaan/ therfore will I now go vp/ & burye my father/ & come agayne. Pharao sayde: Go thy waye vp/ and burie thy father/ according as thou hast swome vnto him.

B So Joseph wente vp/ to burye his father. And there wente with him all Pharaos seruauntes/ that were the elders of his courte/ & all the elders of the lande of Egypte/ & al Josephs housholde/ and his brethren: & his fathers housholde. Onely theyr children/ shepe/ and oxen lefte they in the lande of Gosen/ and toke theyr iourney vp with him/ vpõ charettes and horses/ and the company was exceadinge greate.

Now whan these came to the playne of Arad that lyeth beyonde Jordane/ they made

The seconde boke of Moses called Exodus.

The first Chapter.

A Gen.xlvj.b THese are the names of the children of Israel / † that came with Jacob into Egypte: euery one came in with his house / Ruben / Simeon / Leui / Juda / Issachar / Sabulon / Ben Jamin / Dan / Nephtali / Gad and Aser. And of all the soules that came out of the loynes of Jacob / there were seuenty.

As for Joseph he was in Egypte al ready.

Psal. cxxij. c Actu. vij. c †Now whan Joseph was dead / and all his brethren / and all they that lyued at that time / the children of Israel grewe / and increaced / & multiplyed / & became exceadinge mightie / so that the lande was full of them.

B Thē came there a new kynge ouer Egypte / which knewe nothinge of Joseph / and sayde vnto his people: Beholde / the people of the children of Israel are many and mightier thē we: Vp / let vs deale wysely with them / that there be not so many of them. For if there should rise vp any warre against vs / they might ioyne them selfes also vnto oure enemyes / and ouercome vs / and so get them out of the lande.

And he set workemasters ouer them / to kepe them vnder with burthens. (For they builded the cities of Phiton & Rameses for thy treasuries vnto Pharao. (But the more they vexed them / the more they multiplyed & grewe.

C Therfore had they indignacion at the children of Israel / & the Egypcians compelled ỹ childrē of Israel without mercy to do seruice / and made theyr lyues bitter vnto them with greuous labour / in clay & brick / and with all maner of bondage in the felde / & with all maner of labour / which they layed vpon them without mercy.

And the kynge of Egypte sayde vnto the midwyues of the Hebrueswomen / (Of the which one was called Siphra / and the other Pua: When ye helpe the woman of the Hebrues / & se vpō the stole / that it is a sonne / then slaye him: but if it be a doughter let her lyue. Neuertheless / the midwyues feared God / & did not as the kynge of Egypte cōmaunded them / but let the children lyue.

D Then the kynge of Egypte called the midwyues / and sayd vnto them: Wherfore do ye this / that ye let the children lyue? The midwyues aunswered Pharao: the women of the Hebrues are not as the women of Egypte / for they are sturdy woman: or euer ỹ midwyues come at them / they are deliuered.

Therfore God dealt well with the midwyues. And the people multiplyed / & became exceadinge mighty. And for so much as the midwyues feared God / the made them houses. Then Pharao cōmaunded al his people & sayde: All the sonnes that are borne / cast into the water / but let al the doughters lyue. Ps. cxx

The. II. Chapter.

A ANd there wēte forth a man † of the house of Leui / & toke a doughter of Leui. *And the wyfe conceaued / and bare a sonne. †And whan she sawe that it was a proper childe / she hid him thre monethes. And whan she could hyde him no lōger / she toke an Arke of redes / and dawbed it ouer with slyme and pitche / & layed the childe therin / and set it amonge the redes by the waters brinke. But his syster stode afarre of / to wete what shoulde come of him. Exo. ij. *Actu. vij. †Heb. xj.

And Pharaos doughter came doune † to washe her selfe in the water: & her maydens walked by the water syde: & whan she sawe ỹ Arke among ỹ redes / she sent one of her maydens / and caused it to be fet. And whan she opened it / she saw ỹ child: & beholde the babe wepte. Then had she pytie vpon it / and sayd: It is one of the Hebrues children. ij. Reg. Sus.

B Then sayd his syster vnto Pharaos doughter: Shal I go / and call the a nurse of the Hebrues women / to nurse the childe? Pharaos doughter sayd vnto her: Go thy waye. The mayden went / and called the childes mother. Thē sayd Pharaos doughter vnto her: Take this childe / & nurse it for me / I will geue ỹ thy reward. The womā toke ỹ childe / & nursed it.

And whan the childe was growen / she brought it vnto Pharaos doughter / and it became her sonne / & she called him Moses. For she said / I toke him out of the water.

Upon a tyme whan Moses was great / he went forth vnto his brethren / and loked vpon their burthens / and sawe / that an Egipcian smote one of his brethren the Hebrues. And he loked rounde aboute him: & whan he sawe that there was noman / he slewe the Egipcyā / and buried him in the sande.

Gen. xxv. b Mat. xxj. c Actu. vij. c The next daie he went forth also / and sawe two men of the Hebrues striuing togethe / & said to the vngodly: Wherfore smittest thou thy neighboure? But he sayde: †Who made the a ruler or iudge ouer vs? Wilt thou slay me also / as thou slewest the Egipcyan? Then was Moses afraied / & said: How is this knowen? And Pharao herde of it / and sought for Moses / to slaie him. But Moses fled from Pharao / and kept him in the lande of Madiā / and sat him doune by a welles side.

C The priest of Madiā had seuen doughters / which came to drawe water / & filled the troughes / to geue their fathers shepe to drinke. Then came the shepherdes / and droue them awaie. But Moses gat him vp / and helped thē / and gaue their shepe to drinke. And whā they came to Raguel their father / he said: How came ye so sone to daie? They said: a mā of Egipte deliuered vs from the shepherdes / & drew vnto vs / and gaue the shepe to drinke. He said vnto his doughters. Where is he? Wherfore let ye the man go / that ye called him not to eat with vs?

And Moses was content to dwell with ỹ man. †And he gaue Moses his doughter Zephora / which bare him a sonne / and he *called him Gerson / for he saide: I am become a straūger in a straunge lande. And she bare him yet a sonne / whome he called Elieser / & said: The God of my father is my helper / and hath deliuered me from Pharaos hande. Iudi. xij. a Exo xviij.

But after this in processe of time / the kinge of Egipte died. And the children of Israel syghed ouer theyr labour / and cried. And their cry ouer their labour came before God. †And God herde their complaint / and remembred his couenant † with Abrahā / Isaac / and Jacob. And God loked vppon the childrē of Israel / and God knewe it. Iud. vij. c Gene. xv. c

The. IIII. Chapter.

A MOses aunswered/and sayd: Beholde/they shal not beleue me/nor heare my voyce/but shal saye: The Lord hath not appeared vnto the. The Lord sayde vnto him: What is that/that thou hast in thine hande? He sayd a staffe. He sayd: Cast it from the vpon the grounde. And he cast it from him: then was it turned to a serpent. And Moses fled from it. But the Lorde sayd vnto him: Stretch forthe thine hande/and take it by the tayle. Then stretched he forth his hande/and toke it/and it became a staffe agayne in his hand. Therfore shal they beleue that the Lorde God of their fathers/the God of Abraham/the God of Isaac/the God of Jacob hath appeared vnto the.

And ẏ Lord sayd furthermore vnto him: B Thrust thine hande into thy bosome. And he thrust it into his bosome/and toke it out: Beholde/then was it lepcrous like snowe. And he sayd: put it into thy bosome agayne/& he put it agayne into his bosome/& toke it out: behold/thē was it turned agayn as his flesh. And the Lord said vnto Aaron: Go mete Moses in the wildernesse. And he went and mete him on the mount of God/& kissed him. And Moses tolde Aaron all the wordes of ẏ Lord which had sent him: and al the tokens that he had charged him with all. And they wente/& gathered all the elders of the childre of Israel. the ryuer / for water to drinke: for they coulde not drinke of the water out of the ryuer. And this endured seuen dayes longe / that the Lorde smote the ryuer.

The. VIII. Chapter.

A THe Lord sayde vnto Moses: Go thy waye to Pharao / and speake vnto him: Thus sayeth the Lord: † Let my people go / that they maye serue me: If thou wilt not let them go/beholde/ I will smyte al the borders of the lande with frogges / so that the ryuer shal seraule with frogges: these shal climme vp/and come into thine house/into thy chamber/where thou slepest/vpon thy bed/and into the houses of thy seruauntes/ amonge thy people/into thine ouens/and vpon thy dowe: and the frogges shall come vp vppon the/ and vppon thy people / and vppon al thy seruauntes. Exo.vij.c

B †And the Lord spake vnto Moses: Say vnto Aaron: Stretch forth thyne hande with thy staffe ouer the streames / and ryuers and pondes/and let frogges come vpon the lande of Egypte. And Aaron stretched his hande ouer the waters in Egypte / and there came vp frogges/ so that the lande of Egypte was couered. The sorcerers also did likewyse with theyr sorceries / and caused frogges to come vpon the lande of Egypte. Then called Pharao for Moses and Aaron/and sayde: †Praye the Lorde for me/ that he maye take awaye the frogges fro me/and fro my people/and I will let the people go/ that they may do sacrifice vnto the Lord. Psl.lxxviij.c and cviij.c Gen.xx.b viij.Re.xvij.b Exo.ix.f and x.c Actu.viij.c

C Moses sayd: Haue thou the houour before me / and appoint me / whan I shal praye for the/for thy seruauntes/ and for thy people: that the frogges may be driuen awaye / from the and from thy house / and remayne onely in the ryuer. He sayd: to morowe. He sayde: Euen as thou hast sayde / that thou mayest knowe/that there is none like vnto the Lord oure God: And the frogges shalbe take from the/and from thy house/from thy seruauntes/ and from thy people/ and remayne onely in ỹ ryuer.

So Moses and Aaron wente from Pharao/ and Moses cryed vnto the Lorde for ỹ appointement ouer the frogges/which he had promised vnto Pharao. And the Lorde did as Moses sayde And the frogges died in the houses/in the courtes/and vpon the felde/and they gathered them together/ here an heape/& there an heape/ and the lande stanke of them. But whan Pharao sawe that he had gotten breth/ his hert was hardened / & he herkened not vnto them/euen as the Lord had sayd.

D And the Lord spake vnto Moses: Saye vnto Aaron: Stretch out thy staffe / and smyte the dust vpon the earth/that there may be lyse in the whole land of Egypte. They did so. And Aaron stretched out his hande with his staffe / and smote the dust vpon the earth/ and there were lyse vpon men/& vpon cattel: All the dust of the lande was turned vnto lyse in all the lande of Egypte.

The sorcerers also assayed likewyse with theyr sorceries / that they might bringe forthe lyse/but they could not. And ỹ lyse were vpon men and cattel. Then sayde the sorcerers vnto Pharao: It is the finger of God. But Pharaos hert was hardened/and he herkened not vnto them †euen as the Lorde had sayd. Exo.viij.d

E And the Lord sayd vnto Moses: Get the vp to morowe by time/and stande before Pharao: beholde / he wil go vnto the water / and speake thou vnto him: Thus sayeth the Lorde: ‡let my people go / ỹ they maye serue me: if not/ Behold/ I wil cause cruel wormes (or flyes) to come vpon the / thy seruauntes/ thy people/& thy house/ so that all the Egypcians houses/& the feld & what theron is shalbe full of cruel wormes/ & the same daye will I separate the lande of † Gosen/wherin my people are / so that no cruell worm shalbe there / that thou mayest knowe that I am the Lorde in the middest of the earth. And I wil set a deliueraūce betwene my people/& thine. To morow shal this token come to passe. Gē.xviij.c

And the Lorde did so. And there came perilous cruel wormes into Pharaos house/ into his seruauntes houses / and vpon all the lande of Egypte: and the lande was marred with noysome wormes.

F Then called Pharao for Moses & Aaron/ and sayd: Go your waye/and do sacrifice vnto your God in the lande. Moses sayd It is not mete/that we shoulde so do/ for so shoulde we offer the abhominacion of the Egypcians vnto ỹ Lord our God. Behold/if we should offer the abhominacion of the Egypcians before theyr eyes/should they not stone vs? Thre dayes iourney will we go in the wildernesse/ & do sacrifice vnto the Lord our God/ † like as he hath sayd vnto vs. Exo.viij.e

Pharao

Pharao sayde: I will let you go / that ye maye do sacrifice vnto the Lord your God in the wildernesse (onely that ye go no farther) and praye for me. Moses sayd: Beholde/ whan I am come forth from the/ I wil praye vnto the Lord/ that the cruel wormes maye be take from Pharao/and from his seruauntes / and from his people / euen to morowe: onely deceaue me nomore / that thou woldest not let the people go to do sacrifice vnto the Lord.

And Moses wente out from Pharao/and prayed vnto the Lorde. And the Lord did as Moses sayd/and toke away the cruel wormes from Pharao/from his seruauntes/ and from his people / so that there remayned not one. But Pharao hardened his hert cuē then also/and let not the people go.

The.IX. Chapter.

A THe Lord sayd vnto Moses: Go into Pharao / and speake vnto him: Thus sayeth the Lord God of the Hebrues: let my people go/ that they may serue me. If thou wilt not / but hold them longer / beholde the hande of the Lord shalbe vpon thy cattell in the felde/vpon horses/vppon asses/vppon camels/ vpō oxen/vpon shepe/ with a very sore pestilence. And the Lord shall make a diuision betwene the cattell of the Israelites/ and the Egypcians / so that there shall nothinge dye of al that the children of Israel haue/ and the Lord appointed a time/& sayde: To morow shal the Lord do this vpon earth.

B And the Lord did the same on the morowe. And there died of all maner of cattel of the Egypcians: but of the cattell of the childrē of Israel there died not one. And Pharao sent thither/ and behold/there was not one of the cattell of Israel dead. But Pharaos hert was hardened/ so that he let not ỹ people go. Then sayd the Lord vnto Moses and Aaron: Take your hādes ful of ashes out of ỹ fornace/and let Moses sprenkell it towarde heauen before Pharao/that it may be dust in all ỹ lande of Egypte/and that there maye be sores and blaynes vpon men/ and vpon cattel in al the lande of Egypte.

C And they toke ashes out of the fornace/ & stode before Pharao/& Moses sprenkled it towarde heauen. Then were there sores & blaynes vpon men & vpon cattell / so that the sorcerers might not stande before Moses / by reason of the sores. For there were sores vpon the sorcerers aswel as vpon al the Egypcians. But ỹ Lord hardened Pharaos hert/so that he harkened not vnto thē/ † euen as ỹ Lord had sayd vnto Moses. Exod.iiij.b

Then sayd the Lord vnto Moses: Get the vp to morow by times / and stande before Pharao / and speake vnto him: Thus sayeth the Lorde God of the Hebrues: † Let my people go / that they may serue me/els will I at this time sende all my plagues into thine hert/ and vpon thy seruauntes/ and vpon thy people: that thou mayst knowe that there is none lyke me in all landes. For I will now stretch out my hande/ and smyte the / and thy people with pestilence / so that thou shalt be roted out from the earth. Yet haue I ‖ steared the vp for this cause / euen to shewe my power vpon the/and that my name might be declared in al landes. Exo. viij.d ‖ Some reade: I haue holden the vp.

D Thou holdest my people yet/& wilt not let them go/ beholde/ to morow about this time will I cause a mightie great hayle to rayne/ such as hath not bene in the lande of Egypte/ sence the time that it was grounded hetherto. And now sende thou / and saue thy cattell/ and all that thou hast in the felde / for all men and cattel that shalbe founde in the felde/and not brought into the houses / if the hayle fall vpon them/they shal dye. Now who so feared the worde of the Lord amonge Pharaos seruauntes/caused his seruauntes and cattell to flye into the houses: but loke whose hertes regarded not the worde of ỹ Lord/left theyr seruauntes and cattel in the felde.

E Then sayde ỹ Lord vnto Moses: Stretch out thy hande towarde heauen / that it maye hayle vpon all the lande of Egipt/vpon men/ vpon cattel / and vpon all herbes of the felde/ in the land of Egypte. † So Moses stretched out his staf towarde heauen / and the Lord caused it to thonder/and hayle/so that the fyre ranne a longe vpon the earth. Psl.lxxvij.e cviij.d

Thus the Lord hayled/and rayned vpon the lande of Egypt/ so that the hayle and fyre wente so horribly together/as neuer was in the land of Egypt/sence the time that there were people therin. And the hayle smote the F whole lande of Egypte/all that was vpon the felde/both men & cattel/and smote all the her-bes vpon the felde/ and brake all ỹ trees vpon ỹ felde/saue onely in ỹ lande of Gosen / where the chyldren of Israel were/there it hailed not.

Then sent Pharao/ and called for Moses and Exo. viij.b Aaron/ and sayde vnto them: †Now haue I and x.c synned / the Lorde is righteous / but I and my people are vngodly. Yet pray ye vnto the Lorde / that the thonder / and hayle of God maye ceasse / then wyl I let you go / ỹ ye shall tary here no longer. Moses sayde vnto him:
Whã I am come out of the citie/I will stretch out mine hande vnto the Lorde / so shall the thonder ceasse / and there shalbe nomore hayle / that thou mayst knowre / that the earth is the Lordes. But I know / that both thou and thy seruauntes feare not yet the Lorde G God. Thus the flaxe and the barly were smitten: for the barlye was shot vp / and the flaxe was bouled: but the wheat and the rye were not smytten/for they were late sowen.

So Moses wente from Pharao out of the cytye / and stretched out his handes vnto the Lorde. And the thonder and the hayle ceassed / & the rayne dropped not vpon the earth.
But whan Pharao saw / that the rayne and thonder/and hayle ceassed/he synned agayne/
and hardened his hart: he & his seruauntes.
So Pharaos hert was hardened / that he let not the chyldren of Israell go / euen as the Lorde had sayd by Moses.

The. X. Chapter.

A And the Lord sayde vnto Moses: Go in vnto Pharao / for I haue hardened his herte/and the hertes of his seruauntes/that I might do these tokẽs amonge them/ and that thou myghtest shewe it in the eares of thy chil done in Egypte: and how I haue shewed my

So Moses and Aaron wente in vnto

they were vpon earth vnto this daye. And he turned him/& went out from Pharao. Then sayd Pharaos seruauntes vnto him: How longe shal we be serued after this maner: Let the men go / that they may serue the Lorde
C theyr God. Knowest thou not yet/ ỹ Egypt is destroyed? Moses & Aaron were brought agayn vnto Pharao/ which sayde vnto them: Go your way / and serue the Lorde your sayd: We will go with yonge and olde/ with sonnes and doughters / with shepe and oxen for we haue a feast of the Lord. He sayd vnto them: Let it be so/the Lord be with you.

Shoulde I let you go / & youre children also?
loke that ye haue not some mischiefe in hand.
Not so/but go ye that are men / and serue the thrust them out from Pharao.

they came ouer the whole lande of Egypte/

The. XXVIII. Chapter.

A AND thou shalt take vnto the Aaron thy brother and his sonnes/from amonge the children of Israel/ that he may be my priest: namely Aaron/and his sonnes Nadab/ Abihu/ Eleazar/and Ithamar: & thou shalt make holy clothes for Aaron thy brother/honorable and glorious/& shalt speake vnto al them that are wyse of herte/ whome I haue filled with ẏ spirete of wisedome/that they make garmentes to Aaron for his cōsecracion/that he maye be my prieste.

These are the garmentes/ whiche they shal make: a brestlappe/ an ouerbody coote/a tunicle/ an albe/ a myter and a girdel. Thus shal they make holy garmētes for thy brother Aaron/and his sonnes/that he may be my priest. They shall take therto golde/yalow silke/scarlet/purple/and whyte silke.

B The ouerbody coote shall they make of golde/yalowe silke/scarlet/ purple/ and whyte twyned silke of brodered worke/ that it maye be fastened together vpon both the sydes/by ẏ edges therof. And his girdel vppon it shalbe of thesame workmanshippe and stuffe/ euen of gold/yalow silke/scarlet/purple/ and whyte twyned silke/ And thou shalte take two Onix stones/ and graue in them the names of the children of Israel. Sixe names vpon the one stone/ and the sixe other names vpō the other stone/ accordinge to the order of theyre age. This shalt thou do by the stonegrauers/ that graue signettes/ so that the stones/ with the names of the children of Israel be set rounde aboute with golde: and thou shalt put them vpon ẏ two shoulders of the ouerbody coote/ that they may be stones of remembraunce/for the children of Israel/ that Aaron maye beare theyr names vpon both the shoulders/ before the Lorde for remembraunce.

C Thou shalt make hokes of golde also/and two wrethen cheynes of pure gold/and shalt fasten them vnto the hokes.

The brestlappe of iudgement shalte thou make of brodered worke/ euen after the ouerbody coote: of gold/yalow silke/scarlet/purple/ and whyte twyned silke. Foure square shall it be/and dubble/ an handbredth longe/ and an handbredth brode. And thou shalt fill it with foure rowes full of stones. Let the first rowe be a Sardis/a Topas/and a Smaragde. The seconde: a Rubyne/ a Saphyre/ and a Diamande. The thirde: a Ligurious/an Achate/ and Ametiste. The fourth: a Turcas/an Onix/ and a Jaspis. In golde shal they be set in all ẏ rowes/and shal stande/ accordinge to the xij. names of the children of Israel/grauen of the stone grauers/ euery one with his name/ accordinge to the xij. trybes.

D And vpon the brestlap thou shalte make wrethē cheynes by the corners of youre gold/ and ij. gold ringes/ so that thou faste thesame ij ringes vnto ij. edges of the brestlappe/& put the ij. wrethen cheynes of golde in thesame ij. ringes/ that are in the ij. edges of the brestlappe. But the ij. endes of the ij. wrethen cheines shalt thou fasten in the ij. hokes vpon the ouerbody coote/one ouer agaynst another.

And thou shalt make ij. other ringes of golde/ and fasten them vnto/that the other ij. edges of the brestlap/ namely to the borders therof/wherwith it may hange on the inside/ vpon the ouerbody coote. And yet shalte thou make ij. ringes of golde/ and fasten them vppon the ij. edges/ beneth to the ouerbody cote/ vpon the outside/ one ouer agaynst another/ where the ouerbody coote ioyneth together. And the brestlap shalbe fastened by his E ringes/ vnto the ringes of ẏ ouerbody coote/ with a yalow lace/ that it may lye close vpon ẏ ouerbody coote/& that the brestlap be not lowsed from the ouerbody coote.

Thus shall Aaron beare the name of the children of Israel in the brestlappe of iudgement/vpon his herte/ whan he goeth into the Sanctuary/ for a remembraunce before the Lorde/alwaye. And in the brestlap of iudgement thou shalt put † light and perfectenesse/ that they maye be vpon Aarons hert/ whan he goeth in before the Lorde/ and that he may beare the iudgement of the children of Israel vpon his hert/before ẏ Lorde alway. deu. xxxiij. b

Thou shalt make ẏ tunicle also to the ouerbody coote/all of yalow silke/and aboue in the middest there shalbe an hole/and a bonde folden together rounde aboute the hole/ that it rente not. Thou shalt make a forheade plate also of pure golde / and graue therin (after the workmanshippe of the stone grauer:) the holynesse of the Lorde / and with a yalowe lace shalt thou fasten it vnto the forefront of the myter / vpon Aarons forheade / that Aaron maye so beare the signe of the holy thinges / which the children of Israel halowe in all theyr giftes and Sanctuary. And it shalbe alway vpon his forhead / that he may recōcile them before the Lorde.

G Thou shalt make an albe also of whyte silke / and a myter of whyte silke / & a girdle of nedle worke.

And for Aarons sonnes thou shalt make cootes / girdles / and bonettes / honorable and glorious / and shalt put them vppon thy brother Aaron and his sonnes / and shalt anointe them / and fill theyr handes / & consecrate thē / that they may be my priestes. † Moses turned him/and went doune from the mount/and in his hande he had the two tables of witnesse/which were written vpon both the sydes/and were Gods worke/ and the writtinge was the writtinge of God therin. Now whan Moses came agayne vnto ŷ Lorde/he sayd: Oh this people haue done a great sinne/and haue made them Goddes of gold. † Now forgeue them theyr sinne/if not/ then wype me out of thy boke/that thou hast writte. Exo. xxx. b of the congregacion/was fyue score hundreth weyght/a thousande/ seuen hundreth/ & lxxv. sicles/after ỹ sicle of the Sanctuary: so many halfe sicles/ after the sicle of the Sanctuarye/ of all that were numbred from xx. yeare olde/ and aboue/euen sixe hundreth thousande/thre thousande/fyue hundreth and fyfty men.

Of the fyue score hundreth weyght of siluer/ were cast the sokettes of the Sanctuary: & the sokettes of the vayle/ an hundreth sokettes of the fyue score hũdreth weyght/an hundreth weyght to euery soket. Of ỹ thousande/ seuen hundreth & lxxv sicles were made the knoppes of the pillers (& theyr heades ouerlayed) and theyr whopes.

As for the Waueofferinge of brasse/it was lxx. hundreth weyght/ij. thousande & iiij. hundreth sicles: Wherof were made the sokettes in the dore of the Tabernacle of witnesse/ and the brasen aultare/ and the brasen gredyron therto/ and all the vessels of the aultare/ & the sokettes of the courte rounde aboute/ and the sokettes of the courte gate/al the nayles of the courte gate/ all the nayles of the habitacion/ and all the nayles of the courte rounde aboute.

The. XXXIX. Chapter.

exo. xxviij. a Of the yalowe silke/scarlet/ & purple/ they made Aarons ministringe vestimentes/ to do seruice in the Sanctuary/as the Lord commaunded Moses.

And he made the ouerbody coote of gold/ yalow silke/scarlet/purple/and whyte twyned silke/ and bette the golde into thinne plates/ & cut it into wyers/ that it might be wrought amonge the yalow silke/ scarlet/ purple/ and whyte silke/ and made it so/ that the ouerbody coote came together by the edges/on both the sydes. And his girdel was after thesame crafte and worke: euen of golde/ yalow silke/ scarlet/purple/and whyte twyned silke/as the Lorde commaunded Moses.

And they wrought two Onix stones/ set in rounde aboute with gold/grauen by the stone grauer/with the names of the children of Israel: & fastened them vpon the shoulders of ỹ ouerbody coote/ that they might be stones of remembraunce/vnto the children of Israel/as the Lorde commaunded Moses.

And they made the brestlap after the craft B of the worke of the ouerbody coote: of golde/ yalow silke/ scarlet/ purple/ & whyte twyned silke/ so that it was foure squayre and dubble/ an handbredth longe and brode/ and filled it with iiij. rowes of stones. †The first row was exo. xxv
a Sardis/ a Topas/ a Smaragde. The seconde: a Ruby/ a Saphyre/and a Diamande. The thirde: a Ligurios/an Achate/& an Amatist. The fourth: a Turcas/an Onix/and a Jaspis: closed rounde aboute with golde in al the rowes. And the stones stode after the xij. names of the children of Israel/ grauen by the stone grauer/euery one with his name/accordinge to the xij. trybes.

And vpon the brestlappe they made wrethen cheynes of pure gold/ and ij. hokes of golde/and ij. golde ringes/and fastened the ij. ringes vpon ij. edges of the brestlap: and the ij. wrethen cheynes put they in the ij. ringes/ vpon the corners of the brestlappe. But the ij. endes of the wrethen cheynes put they to the ij. hokes/ and fastened them vpon the corners of the ouerbody coote/ one ouer against another.

And they made ij. other ringes of golde/ & C fastened them to the other ij. corners of the brestlap by the edge of it/ that it might hange vpon the outsyde of the ouerbody coote. And they made yet ij. other golde ringes/ whiche they put beneth vpon the ij. cornes of the ouerbody coote/ one ouer against another/where the ouerbody coote ioyneth together/ that the brestlap mighte be fastened by his ringes/ vnto the ringes of the ouerbody coote/ with a yalowe lace/ that it migth lye close vppon the ouerbody coote/ and not be louſed from the ouerbody coote/ as the Lord commaunded Moses.

And he made the tunicle vnto the ouerbody coote/ wrought all of yalow silke/ and the hole therof/aboue in the middest/and a bande folden together/ rounde aboute the hole/ that it should not rent. And beneth vpon the hemme of it/ they made pomgranates of yalow silke/ scarlet/ purple/ and whyte twyned silke/ & they made belles of youre gold/ which they put betwixte the pomgranates/ rounde aboute vpon the hemme of the tunicle/a belle and a pomgranate/a belle and a pomgranate rounde rounde aboute/to do seruice in/as the Lorde commaunded Moses.

And they made albes also wroughte of D white silke/for Aaron and his sonnes/and the myter of whyte silke/ and the goodly bonettes of whyte sylke/ and breches of twyned whyte lynen/ and the gyrdle of nedle worke/ euen of whyte twyned sylke/ yalowe sylke/scarlet/ and purple/as the Lord commaunded Moses.

They made the forehead plate also to the holy croune/ of pure golde/and wrote therin with grauen worke: the holynes of the Lord and festened a yalowe lace theron/to tye it vnto the myter aboue/as the Lord commaunded Moses.

Thus the whole worke of the habitacion of ỹ Tabernacle of witnesse/was finished. And the chyldren of Israel did all that the Lorde commaunded Moses/and broughte the habitacion vnto Mose: the Tabernacle/and al the apparel therof/the buttons/ bordes/ barres/ pillers/sokettes/the coueryng of read skynnes of rammes/the coueringe of doo skynnes/and the vayle/ the Arke of witnesse/ with the staues therof. The Mercyseate/the table and all E his apparel/ and the shewbreade/ the candelsticke/ with the lampes prepared/and all his apparel/ and oyle for the lightes/ the golden aultare/ the anoynting oyle an incense/ the hanginge in the Tabernacle dore/ the brasen aultar/and his brasen gredyron/ with his staues/and al his apparel/ỹ lauer with his foote/ the hanginges of the courte/ with the pyllers and sokettes therof/ the hãginge in the courtgate/with his pyllers and nayles/ and all the ordinaunce for the seruice of the habitacion of the Tabernacle of witnesse/the ministring vestimentes/of Aaron the priest/to do seruyce in the sanctuarye/and the garmentes of his sonnes that they mighte execuce the priestes office. Accordinge to all that the Lord cõmaũded Moses/ euen so dyd the chyldren of Israel in all this seruice/ and Moses sawe all ỹ worke/that they did it/euen as the Lord had commaunded/and he blessed them.

And the Lorde spake vnto Moses/ and sayde: In the fyrst day of the first moneth shalt thou set vp the habitacion of the Tabernacle of witnesse/ and shalte put the Arke of witnes therin/and hange the vayle before the Arke. And thou shalt bringe in the table/ and garnish it/ and bring in the candelsticke/ and put the lampes theron. And the golden aultare of incense/ shalte thou set before the Arke of witnesse/ and hange vp the hanginge in ỹ dore of the habitaciõ. But ỹ aultare of burntofferinges shalt thou set before the dore of the habitacion/of the Tabernacle of witnesse: and the lauer betwixte ỹ Tabernacle of witnesse/ and the aultare/and put water therin/and set the court rounde aboute/ and hange vp the hangingẽ in the courtgate.

And thou shalt take the anoynting oyle/ B and anointe the habitaciõ and al that is therin/ †and shalt consecrate it/ and all the apparell therof/ỹ it maye be holy. And thou shalt Exod. xxx. c anointe the aultare of burntofferinges/ and all his vessels/ and consecrate it/ that it maye be mooste holy. The lauer also/& his fote shalt thou anointe and consecrate.

†And thou shalt bringe Aaron and his Exo. xx. y. c
sonnes/vnto the dore of ỹ Tabernacle of witnesse/ & wash thẽ with water/ and put ỹ holy vestimentes vpon Aaron/ and anointe him/ & consecrate him/ that he may be my priest. And thou shalt bringe his sonnes also/ & put the albes vpon them/ and anointe them/ as thou hast anointed theyr father/ ỹ they maye be my priestes. And this anointing shal they haue for an euerlastinge priesthode/ amonge theyr posterities. †And Moses did all/as the Num. viij. c Lorde commaunded him.

†Thus was the Tabernacle set vp in the C
seconde yeare/ vppon the first day of the first Num. ix. c moneth. And whan Moses reared it vp/ he fastened the sokettes/and the bordes/and barres/ and set vp the pillers/ and spred out the tente ouer the habitacion/ and put the coueringe of the tent aboue an hie/ as the Lorde commaunded him. And he toke the witnesse/ and layed it in the Arke/and put the staues in the Arke/ and set the Mercyseate aboue vppon the Arke/ and brought the arke into the habitacion/ and hanged the vayle before the Arke of witnesse/as the Lord commaunded him.

And he set the table in the Tabernacle of witnesse/in the corners of the habitacion/vppon the northside/without the vayle/and prepared

Exo. xxv.a pared bread theron before the Lord/ †as the Lord commaunded him.

D And he set in ỹ candelsticke also euen ouer against the table/ in the corner of the habitacion/ vpon the southsyde/ and put the lampes theron before the Lord/ as the Lord commaunded him. And the golden aultar set he in also before the vayle/ and brent swete incēse theron/ as the Lorde commaunded him. And hanged vp the hanginge in the tabernacle dore. As for the aultare of burntofferinges/ he set it before the dore of the habitacion of the Tabernacle of witnesse/ & offered burnt offeringes/ and meatofferinges theron/ as the Lorde commaunded him.

Exo. xxx.a †And the lauer set he betwixte the Tabernacle of witnesse/ and the aultare/ and put water therin to wash withal. And Moses/ Aaron/ and his sonnes washed theyr handes & fete therin: for they ought to wash thē/ whan they go into ỹ Tabernacle of witnesse/ or whā they wente vnto the aultare/ as the Lorde commaunded him.

E And he set vp the courte rounde aboute ỹ habitacion and the aultare/ and hanged vp ỹ hanginge in the courte gate: Thus Moses finished the whole worke.

Nume.ix.a †Then a cloude couered the Tabernacle of iij.Re.viij.b witnesse/ and the glory of the Lord filled the Ezech. ix.a habitacion. And Moses coulde not go into ỹ Tabernacle of witnesse/ whyle ỹ cloude abode theron/ and the glorie of the Lord filled the habitacion.

And whan the cloude remoued from the habitaciō/ then wente the children of Israel forth/ as oft as they toke theyr iourney. But if the cloude remoued not/ then toke not they theyr iourney/ till the daye that it remoued: for in the daye time was the cloude of the Lord vpon the habitacion/ and in the night seaso was fyre therin/ in the sight of all the house of Israel/ in all theyr iourneyes.

The ende of the seconde boke of Moses/ called Exodus.

The third boke of Moses called Leuiticus.

The first Chapter.

And the Lord called Mo A ses/ †and spake vnto him Exo. xx out of the Tabernacle of witnesse/ & sayd: Speake vnto the children of Israel/ and saye vnto them: Whosoeuer amonge you wil bringe an offeringe vnto the Lorde/ let him bringe it of the cattell/ euen of the oxen/ and of the shepe.

If he wil bringe a burntofferinge of the oxen (or great cattel) then let him offer a male without blemishe/ before the dore of the Tabernacle of witnesse/ to reconcile himselfe before the Lord/ †let him laye his hande vpon Exo. xx
the heade of the burntofferinge/ then shal he Leui. ij be reconciled/ so that God shalbe mercifull vnto him.

And he shal kill the yonge oxe before the B
Lord: and the priestes/ Aarons sonnes shall bringe the blonde/ & sprinkle it rounde aboute vpon the aultare/ that is before the dore of the Tabernacle of witnesse. And the skinne shalbe slayne from the burntofferinge/ & it shalbe hewen in peces. And ỹ sonnes of Aarō the priest shal make a fyre vpon the aultare/ & laye wood aboue theron/ & the peces/ ỹ heade/ and the fat shal they laye vpon the wood/ that lyeth vppon the fyre on the aultare. But the bowels & legges shalbe washen with water/ and the priestе shal burne altogether vpon ỹ aultar for a burntsacrifice: this is an offeringe of a swete sauour vnto the Lorde.

If he wil offre a burntsacrifice of the smal C cattel/ that is/ of the lambes or goates/ then let him offre a male without a blemishe. And he shal kill it before the Lord/ euen at the corner of the aultare/ on the northsid before ỹ Lord. And (ỹ priestes) Aarons sonnes shal sprenkle his blonde rounde aboute vpon the aultare/ and

and it shalbe hewen in peces. And the priest shal laye them with the heade/ and the fat vppon the woode that lyeth vpon the fyre on the aultare. But the bowels and ỹ legges shalbe washen with water. And the priest shal offre it altogether/ and burne it vpon the aultare for a burntsacrifice. This is an offeringe of a swete sauoure vnto the Lorde.

D But if he wil offer a burntsacrifice of the fooles vnto the Lorde/ then let him offer it of the turtel doues/ or of the yonge pigeons. And the priest shal bringe it vnto the aultare/ and wringe ỹ necke of it a sunder/ that it may be burnt vpon the aultare/ and let the blonde of it runne out vpon the sydes of the aultare/ & the croppe of it with the fethers/ shalbe cast vppon the heape of asshes/ beside the aultare/ towarde the east/ and he shal deuide the winges of it/ but not breake them cleane of. And thus shal the priest burne it vpon the aultare/ euen vpon the woode that lyeth vpon ỹ fyre/ for a burntsacrifice. This is an offringe of a swete sauoure vnto the Lorde.

The.II. Chapter.

A When a soule will offer a meatofferinge Leui. vj.d vnto the Lorde/ then shal it be of fyne and ix.c floure/ and he shal poure oyle vpon it/ and put
Num. xv.a frankencense theron/ and so bringe it vnto Aarons sonnes the priestes. Then shall one of them take his handful of thesame floure and oyle/ with al the frankencense/ and burn it for a remembraunce vpō that aultare. This is an offering of a swete sauoure vnto ỹ Lorde. †As for the remnaunt of the meatofferinge/ it shalbe Aarons and his sonnes. This Leui.x.d shalbe the moost holy of the offeringe of the Lorde.

B But if he will bringe a meatofferinge/ of that which is baken in the ouen/ then let him take swete cakes of wheate/ mixte with oyle/ & vnleuended wafers/ anointed with oyle. Neuertheless/ if thy meatoffering be any thinge of that/ which is fried in the panne/ then shal it be of fyne swete floure/ mixte with oyle. And thou shalt cut it in peces/ and poure oyle theron: so is it a meatofferinge. But if thy meatofferinge be ought broyled on the gredyron/ then shalte thou make it of fyne floure with oyle. And ỹ meatofferinge ỹ thou wilt make of suche thinges for the Lorde/ shalte thou bringe vnto the priest/ which shall bringe it vnto the aultare/ and shall heaue vp thesame meatofferinge for a remembraunce/ & burne it vpon the aultare. This is an offeringe of a C swete sauoure vnto the Lord. As for ỹ remnaunt it shalbe Aarons and his sonnes This shalbe the moost holy of the offeringes of the Lorde.

All the meatofferinges that ye will offre vnto the Lord/ shal ye make without leuen. For there shal no leuen/ nor hony be burnt for an offringe vnto ỹ Lord. But for the firstelinges/ shall ye offer them vnto the Lorde. Neuertheless/ they shall come vpon no aultare for a swete sauoure.

Al thy meatofferinges shalt thou †salt. And D thy meatofferinge shall neuer be without the Matt. v. b salt of the couenaunt of thy God: for in all Mar. ix.c thy offeringes shalt thou offre salt. Col. iiij.a

But if thou wilt offer a meatofferinge/ of ỹ first frutes vnto the Lorde/ then shalt thou drye/ that which is grene by the fyre/ & beat it small/ & so offre the meatoffering of thy first frutes. And thou shalte put oyle vpon it/ and laye frankencese therō/ so is it a meatofferinge. And then shal the priest beate it/ and burne of ỹ oyle wt al ỹ frankencense for a remēbraunce. This is an offeringe vnto the Lord.

The.III. Chapter.

But if his offering be a thanke offering of A great cattel (whether it be oxe or cowe) then shal he offre such as is without blemishe before the Lord/ & shal laye his hande vpon the heade of it/ and kill it before the dore of the Tabernacle of witnesse. And the priestes/ Aarons sonnes/ shal sprenkle the blonde rounde aboute vpon the aultare/ and shal offre of the thankeoffering vnto the Lord: namely/ all ỹ fatte that is wythin/ and the two kidneys wt the fatte/ that is theron vpon the loynes/ and the nette on the leuer vppon the kidneys also. And Aarons sonnes shall burne it vpon the aultare for a burntofferinge/ euen vppon the woode that lyeth on the fyre. This is an offeringe of a swete sauoure vnto the Lord.

If his thankeofferinge be of smal cattel/ B
whether it be male or female/ it shalbe without blemishe: If it be a lambe/ then shall he bringe it before the Lorde/ and shal laye his hande vpon the heade of it/ & slaye it before the Tabernacle of witnesse. And Aarons sonnes shal sprenkle his bloud rounde aboute vpon ỹ aultare/and so offre of the thankeoffering vnto the Lord: namely/the fat of it/ all ỹ rompe with the backe/and the fatte that couereth the bowels / with all the fat that is within / & the two kidneys with the fat / that is theron vpon the loynes/ and the nette on the leuer vpon ỹ kidneys also. And the priest shall burne it vpon the aultare/for the meat of ỹ offeringe vnto the Lorde.

C But if his offeringe be a goate/and bringeth it before the Lord/he shal lay his hande vpon the heade of it / and kil it before the Tabernacle of witnesse. And Aarons sonnes shal sprenkle the bloude rounde about vppon the aultare/& shall offre therof a sacrifice vnto the Lorde: namely/ the fat that couereth the bowels/and al the fat that is wythin the two kidneys / with the fat that is theron vpon the loynes / and the nette on the leuer vppon the kidneys. And the priest shal burne it vpon the aultare / for the meat of the sacrifice to a swete sauoure.

Leui. vij. c †Al the fatte is the Lordes. Let this be a perpetual lawe amonge your posterities/ in al your dwellinges/ that ye eate no fatte/ †nor bloude.

The. IIII. Chapter.

A AND the Lorde spake vnto Moses / and sayd: Speake vnto the children of Israel/ and saye: Whan a soule sinneth thorowe ignorauncc/ in any commaundemēt of the Lorde/which he ought not to do: As namely/if a priest/ which is anointed sinne / that he make the people do amisse/he shal bringe for ỹ sinne that he hath done/a yonge bullocke / without blemishe vnto the Lorde/for a sinofferinge.

And he shal put of thesame bloude vpon the hornes of the aultare of incense / that standeth before the Lord/in the Tabernacle of witnesse: and all the bloude of the bullocke shal he ponre vpon the bottome of ỹ aultare of burntofferinges/ that standeth at the entringe in of the Tabernacle of witnesse. And all ỹ fat of sinofferinge shal he heaue vp: namely the fatte that couereth the bowels/and al the fat that is wythin the two kidneys / with the fat that is theron vpon the loynes/ and the net on the leuer vpon the kidneys also (lyke as he heaueth it frō the oxe in ỹ thankeoffering) & shal burn it vpon ỹ aultare of burntofferinges. † But the C skinne of ỹ bullocke/ & al ỹ flesh / w̄ the heade/ Exo. xx. & legges/and the bowels/and the donge/shal Nū. xix. he carie altogether out of ỹ hoost/into a cleane place/ where the asshes are poured out/& shal burne it vpon the wood with fyre.

†Whan the whole congregacion of Israel Leui. iv. sinneth thorow ignorauncc / and the dede be Num. xv. hidde from theyr eyes / so that they do ought agaynst any of the commaundements of the Lord/which they shoulde not do/ and come afterward to the knowlege of the sinne ỹ they haue done/ they shall bringe a yonge bullocke for a sinneoffering/& set him before the dore of the Tabernacle of witnesse. And the Elders of the congregacion shall laye theyr handes vpon his heade before the Lord/ and kill the bullocke before the Lord. And the priest that D is anointed/shal bring of the bullockes bloud vnto ỹ Tabernacle of witnes/ and dippe theyr in with his finger/ and sprenkle therwith seuen times before the Lorde/ euen before the vayle of the holy. And shal put of the bloude vpon the hornes of the aultare/ that standeth before the Lorde / in the Tabernacle of witnesse: and al the other bloud shal he poure vpon the bottome of the aultare of burntofferinges/that standeth before the dore of the Tabernacle of witnesse. But all his fat shall he heaue vp/and burne it vppon the aultare: and shal do with this bullocke/ as he did with the bullocke of the sinofferinge: Thus ỹ priest shall make an attonement for them / and it shalbe forgeuen thē. And that bullock shal he bringe without the hoost/and burne him/as he brent the firste bullocke. This shalbe the sinoffering of the congregacion.

Whan a prince sinneth/& doth agaynst ỹ E cōmaundement of the Lord his God/that he ought not to do/and offendeth ignorauntly/ and and commeth to the knowlege of his synne ỹ he hath done/he shal bringe for his offeringe/ an hegoate/ without blemish/& laye his hāde vpon the goates head / and slaye him in the place where the burntoffringes are slayne before the Lord. Let this be his sinofferinge. Then shal the priest take of the bloude of the sinofferinge with his fynger/ & put it vpon ỹ hornes of the aultare of burntofferynges / & poure the other bloude vpon the bottome of ỹ aultare of burntofferinges. But all the fatte of it shall he burne vpon the aultare / lyke as the fatte of the thankeofferinge. And so the priest shall make an attonement for his sinne/ and it shalbe forgeuen hym.

F Whan a soule of the cōmune people sinneth ignoraūtly/ doynge any thynge against the commaundement of the Lorde / that he ought not to do/and so offendeth/& commeth to the knowlege of the synne ỹ he hath done/ he shal bringe for his offring a shegoate/ without blemyshe for the synne that he hath done/and shal laye his hande vpon the heade of the synofferinge / & slaye it in the place of the burntofferinges. And the priestе shal take of the bloude with his fynger/and put it vpō the hornes of the aultare of burntofferinges/ & poure al the bloud vpō the bottome of the aultar. But al the fat of it shal he take awaye/ lyke as he taketh away ỹ fat of ỹ thankeofferinge/& shal burne it vpō ỹ aultare/for a swete sauoure vnto the Lord. And so shal ỹ priest make an attonement for him / & it shalbe forgeuen hym.

G But if he bringe a lambe for a synofferinge/ thē let him bringe a female without blemishe/ and laye his hande vpon the heade of the sinofferinge/& kyl it for a sinofferinge/& the place where the burntofferinges are slayne. And ỹ priestе shal take of the bloude with his finger/ and put it vpon the hornes of the aultare of burntofferinges/& poure all the bloude vpon the bottome of the aultare. But all the fatte therof shal he take from it/ like as he dyd the fat of the lambe of the thankeofferinges/and shal burne it vpō the aultare for the Lordes sacrifice. And so the priest shal make an attonement for the sinne that he hath done/and it shalbe forgeuen hym.

The. V. Chapter.

B Moses called Misael and Elzaphā/ỹ sonnes of Vsiel/Aarons vncle/& sayde vnto thē: Go to/& cary youre brethrē out of ỹ Sāctuary/without the hoost. And they wente/ & caryed them forth in theyr albes / without the hoost/as Moses sayde.

E And Moses sought for the goate of ỹ synneofferynge / and founde it burnt. And he was angry at Eleazar & Ithamar / the sonnes of Aaron/which were left alyue/and said: Wherfore haue ye not eaten the synofferinge in the holy place? for it is moost holy / & he hath geuen it you / that ye might beare the synne of the congregacion / to make agremēt for them/before the Lord. And whatsoeuer any suche dead carcase falleth vpon it/shalbe vncleane/whatsoeuer vessel of wood it be/or raiment/or skinne/or bagge. And euery vessel ỹ any thynge is occupied withal/shalbe put in the water/and is vncleane vntyl the euen/& then shal it be cleane. † All maner of earthen Leui. vj.d and xv.b vessel/that any suche carcase falleth into/it shal al be vncleane that there in is/& ye shal breake it. All meate/whiche is eaten/that any such water commeth into/is vncleane: and al maner of drynke/that is dronken/in al maner of such vessel/is vncleane. And whatsoeuer any suche carcase falleth vpon it shalbe vncleane/whether it be ouen or kettel/so shal it be broken/for it is vncleane/and shalbe vncleane vnto you. Neuertheles/the fountaynes/welles/and pōdes of water are cleane. But whosoeuer toucheth their carcases is vncleane.

E And though/the dead carcase of any such fel vpon the sede ỹ is sowē/yet is it clean: But whan there is water poured vpon the sede/& afterward any such dead carcase falleth therō/ thē shal it be vncleane vnto you.

Whan a beaste dyeth/that ye may eate/he ỹ toucheth ỹ dead carcase therof/is vncleane vntil the euen. Whoso eateth of any such carcase/shal washe his clothes/and be vncleane vntil ỹ euē. Likewise/he that beareth any such carcase/shal wash his clothes/& be vncleane vntyl the euen.

Whatsoeuer crepeth vpon earth/shalbe an abhominacion vnto you/and shal not be eatē. And whatsoeuer crepeth vpon the belly/or al that goeth vpon foure/or mo fete/amonge al that crepeth vpon earth/shal ye not eate/for it shalbe an abhominacion vnto you. Make not youre soules abhominable/and defyle you not in them/to stayne youre selfes: for I am the Leu. xix.a Lorde youre God. Therfore shal ye † sanctifye youre selfes/that ye may be holy/for I am j. And ye shal not defyle youre selfes/on any maner of crepinge beaste that crepeth vpon earth: for I am the Lord/which broughte you out of the lande of Egypte/that I might be youre God: therfore shal ye be holy/ for I am holy.

This is the lawe ouer the beastes & fooles/ and al maner of soules of crepinge beastes in the waters/and al maner of soules that crepe vpon earth: that ye maye knowe to discerne what is vncleane and cleane/and what maner of beastes are to be eaten/and which are not to be eaten.

The. XII. Chapter.

A AND the Lord talked with Moses/and sayde: Speake vnto the chyldren of Israel/and saye: Whan a woman hath cōceaued/ and beareth a man childe/she shalbe vncleane seuen dayes/so longe as she suffereth her disease/ † and in the eyght day shal the flesh of Gen. xvij his forskyne be cut away. And she shal byde at home thre and thyrty dayes in the blonde of his purifiēge: she shal touch no holy thing/ nor come in the Sanctuary/til the dayes of her purifyēge be out. But if she beare a maidchylde/then shal she be vncleane two wekes/ so longe as she suffereth her disease/and sixe and thre score dayes shal she byde at home/in the blonde of her purifyenge.

B † And whan the dayes of her purifieng are out/for the sonne or for the doughter/she Luce.ij shal bringe a lambe of one yeare olde/for a burntofferinge/and a yonge pigeon/or a turtil doue/for a synneofferynge/to the dore of the Tabernacle of witnesse/vnto the priest/ which shal offer it before the Lorde/& make an attonement for her/and so shal she be clensed from her bloudy yssue. This is the law for her ỹ beareth a man chyld/or maydechylde.

† But if she be not able to bring a shepe/thē Leuit. let her take two turtil doues/or two yōge pygeons/the one for a burnofferinge/the other for a synneofferynge/then shal the priest make an attonemēt for her/so that she shalbe cleane.

The. XIII. Chapter.

A AND the Lorde spake vnto Moses and Aaron/and saide: Whan there ryseth vp any thynge in the skynne of a mans flesh/ whether it be a scabbe/or a glisteringe whyte/ (as though there be a leprosye in the skynne of this flesh) he shalbe brought vnto Aaron the priest/or to one of his sonnes/amonge ỹ priestes. And whan the priest seyth the plague vpon the skynne of the flesh/that the heeres are turned to whyte/and it seme deper in that place then the other skynne of his flesche/ then is it surely a leprosy/therfor shall ỹ priest loke vpō hym/& iudge hym vncleane.

But whan there is any white plecke in the skynne of his flesh/& yet seme no deper then ỹ other skynne of the flesche/and the heeres be not turned to whyte/thē the priest shall shut hym vp seuē dayes/and on the seuenth daye/ loke vpon him: if the plague seme vnto hym as afore/& hath fret no deper in the skynne/ then shal the priest shute hym vp yet seuen dayes moo. And whan he loketh on hym agayne/vpō the seuēth day/& fyndeth that the plague be darkish/and hath frette no deper in the skynne/thē shal he iudge hym cleane/for it is but a skyrfe/& he shal washe his clothes/& then is he cleane.

B But whan the scabbe fretteth farther in ỹ skynne (after that he is sene of the priest/& iudged cleane) & he be now sene of ỹ priest againe whā the priest seyth thē that ỹ scabbe hath fret farther in the skynne/he shal iudge hym vncleane/for it is surely a leprosye.

Whan a plague of leprosy is vpō a mā/he shalbe brought vnto the priest. Whā he seyth & fyndeth/that there is whyte rysen vp in the skynne/& the heere turned vnto whyte/and there be raw flesh in the sore/thē is it surely an olde leprosy in the skynne of his flesh/therfore shal the priest iudge him vncleane/& not shut him vp/for he is vncleane alreadye.

But whā the leprosy breaketh out in the skynne/& coūereth the whole skinne/from the heade vnto the fote/al that the priest can se. So whan the priest loketh vpon it/& fyndeth that the leprosy hath couered all the flesh/he shall iudge hym cleane/for so much as it is turned al into whyte vpon hym/for he is cleane.

C Notwitstandinge/if there be raw flesh on hym/in the daye whā he is loked vpon/thē is he vncleane. And whā the priest seyth ỹ rawe flesh/he shal iudge hym vnclean/for he is vncleane/& it is surely a leprosie. But if the rawe flesh chaūge againe/& be turned into whyte/ then shal he come vnto the priest. And whan the priest loketh vpon hym/& fyndeth that the plague is turned to whyte/he shal iudge him cleane/for he is cleane.

Whan there is a byle in the skinne of any mans flesh/and healeth agayne/and afterward in ỹ same place there arise vp any white thyng or a glisterig white/some what reedish he shalbe sene of ỹ priest. So whā the priest seyth ỹ it appeareth to be lower thē the other skynne/and the heere turned to whyte/then shal he iudge him vncleane/for it is surely a plague of leprosye/broken out of the byle. But if the priest se/& fynde that the heeres are not whyt/& that it is no lower thē the other skinne/& is darkysh/he shall shut him vp seuen dayes. If it hath frette farther in the skynne/ D thē shal he iudge him vncleane/for it is surely a plague of leprosye. But if the glisterynge whyte abyde styll/and fret no farther/then is it but a prynte of ỹ byle/& the priest shal iudge hym cleane.

Whā the skynne of any mās flesh is hurte with fyre/and the prynte of the burninge is reedish or whyte/and the priest loketh vpon hym/and fyndeth the heere turned to whyte/ vpō the marke of the burnyng/and it appeare deper thē the other skynne/then is there surely a leprosye broke out of the prynte of the burnynge: therfore shal the priest iudge hym vncleane/for it is a plague of leprosye. But if the priest se & fynde/that the heere vpon the prynte of the burnynge/is not turned vnto whyte/and is no lower thē the other skynne/ and is darkysh also: he shall shutte hym vp seuen dayes.

And vpō the seuenth daye he shal loke vpō him: if it hath fret farther in the skynne/then shal he iudge him vnclean/for it is a leprosye. But if it stande styll vpon the marke of the burnynge/and fret no farther in the skynne/and is darkyshe/then is it a sore in the marke of the burnynge/and the priest shall iudge hym cleane/for it is but the print of the burnynge.

Whan a man or woman is skyruye vpon E the heade or beerd/& the priest seyth ỹ marke/ and fyndeth that it appeareth deper then the other skynne/and the heere be there golden and thynne/thē shall he iudge hym vncleane: for it is a skyrfe of leprosye of the heade/or of the beerde. But if the priest se that the skyrfe appeare no deper thē the skynne/and that the heeres is not of a pale coloure: he shall shut hym vp seuen dayes. And vpon the seuenth daye/whan he loketh & fyndeth/ỹ the skyrfe hath hath frette no farther/and there be no golden heere there/and that the ſkyrfe appeare no deper then the other ſkynne/then let hym be ſhauen: but ſo that he ſhaue not of the ſcabbe/ & the prieſt ſhal ſhut hym vp yet ſeuen dayes mo. And vpon the ſeuenth daye whā he loketh/and fyndeth that the ſkyrfe hath frette no farther in the ſkynne/and that it appeareth no deper then the other ſkynne/thē ſhall the prieſt iudge him clean. And he ſhal waſh his clothes/for he is cleane. But if ỹ ſcabbe frette farther in the ſkynne (after that he is iudged cleane) & the prieſte loketh/ & fyndeth/ that the ſcabbe hath frette farther in the ſkynne/ thē ſhall he ſeke nomore for golden heeres for he is vncleane. Neuertheles/ if he ſe that ỹ ſcabbe ſtandeth ſtyll/and that pale heeres are there ryſen vp/then is the ſcabbe whole/ & he is cleane/therfore ſhall the prieſte iudge hym to be cleane.

Whan there is any glyſterynge/ whyte vpon the ſkynne of the fleſh of a man or woman/ and the prieſt ſeyth there/that the glyſterynge whyte vanyſheth: then is it but a whyte ſcabbe/ryſen vp in the ſkynne/ and he is cleane.

Whan the heeres fall out of the heade of a man or womā/ſo that he is bauldc/ theſame is cleane. If they fall out of his forheade/ thē is hys forheade bauld and cleane. But if there be a white reedyſh ſore in ỹ bauld heade/ or bauldc forehead/then is there a lepr: ye ryſen vp in the bauldc heade/ or bauldc forehead: therfore ſhall the prieſt loke vpon hym. And whan he fyndeth the whyte reedyſhe ſore ryſen vp in his bauldc heade/ or bauldc forheade/ then ſhall the ſkynne of the fleſhe be as leperous/therfore is he a leperous mā/ and vncleane/ becauſe of theſame ſore vpon his heade.

G Who ſo now is leperous/his clothes ſhalbe rent/& the heade bare/ & the lyppes muffeld/ & ſhall in any wyſe be called vncleane. † And as longe as the ſore is vpon hym/ he ſhalbe vncleane/ & dwel alone/ and haue his dwellyng without the booſt.

Num. v. & 2. Reg. xv. a Whan the plague of leproſy is in a cloth: whether it be wolle or lynnen/ in ỹ warpe or wefte/whether it be lynnē or wollen/ or in a ſkynne/or in any maner thynge that is made of ſkynne. And whā the plague is pale or reedyſhe in the cloth or ſkynne/eyther in ỹ warpe or wefte/or in any maner thynge ỹ is made of ſkynne/theſame is ſurely ỹ plague of leproſy/therfore ſhal the prieſt loke vpon it. And whā he ſeyth the plague/he ſhall ſhut it vp ſeuen dayes. And vpō the ſeuenth daye/ whan he ſeyth that he plague/ hath fret farther in ỹ cloth/in the warpe or weft/in a ſkynne/ or in any maner thynge/ that is made of ſkynne/ then is it a frettynge plague of leproſye/ and is vncleane: And the cloth ſhall be burnt/ eyther warpe or wefte/ whether it be wollen or lynnē/or any thynge made of ſkynne/wherin is any ſuche plague. For it is a plague of leproſye/& ſhalbe burnt wyth fyre.

B But if the prieſt ſe that ỹ plague hath fret no farther in the cloth/eyther in the warpe or wefte/or any thynge made of ſkynne/thē ſhal he commaunde to waſhe the thinge/ there ỹ plague is in/& ſhal ſhut vp other ſeuē dayes. And whan the prieſt ſeyth (after ỹ the plague is waſhen) that the plague is not chaunged before his eyes/ and hath fret no farthet alſo/ yet is it vncleane/and ſhal be burnt with fyre: for it is depe fretten inward/ and hath made ſkyrfes. Neuertheleſſe/whan the prieſt ſeyth/ that the prynt is vanyſhed/after the waſhing of it: than ſhal he rent it out of the cloth/ and of the ſkynne/ out of the warpe/or wefte. But if it appeare any more in the cloth (eyther in ỹ warpe/ or in the weft) or any maner thyng made of ſkynne/then is it a waxynge plague: & with fyre ſhall it be burnt/there as any ſuch plague is in. As for the cloth eyther warpe or weft/ or any maner thynge/made of ſkynne/ that is waſſhen/and ỹ plague be departed frō it/it ſhalbe waſſhen once agayne/and then is it cleane.

This is the law ouer the plague of leproſye in clothes/whether they be wollen or lynnen/(eyther in the warpe or in the weft) and in any maner of thynge/ made of ſkynne/ to iudge them cleane or vncleane.

The. XIIII. Chapter.

AND the Lorde ſpake vnto Moſes/ and ſayd: This is the lawe ouer the leper/whā he ſhalbe clenſed. † He ſhall come vnto the prieſt/and the prieſt ſhal go out of the booſt/ and loke how the plague of leproſye is healed

Mat. viii. Marc. i. Luce v. vpon and vpon the leper. And he ſhal commaunde him that is to be clenſed to take two lyuynge byrdes/whiche are cleane/and Ceder woode/and purple woll/and yſope: and ſhal commaunde ỹ one byrd to be kylled in an earthen veſſell/ ouer ſpryngynge water. And he ſhal take the lyuynge byrde with ỹ Ceder wood/the purple wol and yſope/and dyppe them in the blonde of the ſlayne byrde/ vpon ỹ ſpryngynge water/ and ſprenkle it ſeuen tymes vpon hym/ ỹ muſt be clenſed from ỹ leproſye. And ſo clenſe hym/and let the lyuynge byrd flye at libertye into the felde.

B But he that is clenſed/ſhal waſh his clothes/and ſhaue of all his heere/and bath hym ſelfe with water/ſo is he cleane. Afterward/let hym go into the booſt/yet ſhal he tarye without his tent ſeuen dayes. And vpon ỹ ſeuenth daye ſhall he ſhaue of all the heere vpon his heade/vpon his beerde/vpon his browes/ ſo that all ỹ heere be ſhauen of/and he ſhal waſh his clothes/and bath his fleſh in water/ then is he cleane.

And vpon the eyght daye/ſhall he take two lambes/without blemyſhe/ and a ſhepe of a yeare olde/without blemiſhe/ and thre tenth deales of fyne floure/for meatoffrynge/ myngled with oyle/and a logge of oyle. Thē ſhall the prieſt preſent him that is clēſed/ and theſe thynges before the Lorde/before ỹ dore of ỹ Tabernacle of wytneſſe/and ſhal take the one lambe/and offre it for a treſpaſſe offerynge/ & ỹ logge of oyle/and ſhal waue them before the Lorde/& afterwarde ſlaye ỹ lambe/where the ſynofferyng and burntoffering are ſlaine/namely/in ỹ holy place. For as the ſynofferynge/ ſo is the treſpaſſeofferinge the prieſtes alſo/for it is mooſt holy.

C And the prieſt ſhall take of the blonde of ỹ treſpaſſeofferinge/and put it vpon the tippe of the ryght eare of hym/that is clenſed/ and vpon ỹ thombe of his righthand/ and vpon the great toe of his ryght foote. Afterward ſhall he take of the oyle/out of the logge/ and poure it into his owne lefte hande/and dippe his right fynger in the oyle/that is in his lefte hande/and ſprenkle the oyle with his fynger ſeuen tymes before the Lorde. As for the remnaūt of the oyle in his hande/ he ſhal put it vpon the typpe of the ryght eare/ of hym ỹ is clenſed/and vpon the thombe of his right hande/ and vpon the great toe of his ryght foote/euen aboue vpon ỹ blond of ỹ treſpaſſe offerynge. But the remnaunt of ỹ oyle in his hande/ ſhall he poure vpon the heade of hym ỹ is clenſed/and make an attonement for him before the Lorde. And he ſhall make the ſinofferynge/and reconcyle hym that is clenſed/ Becauſe of his vncleanneſſe. And afeerwarde ſhall he ſlaye the burntofferynge/ and ſhall offre it vpon the aultare with the meatofferynge/and make an attonement for him/and then is he cleane.

D † But if he be poore/ & getteth not ſo much wt his hande/thē let hym take one lambe for a treſpaſſeofferynge to waue it/ to make an attonemēt for hym/& a tēth deale of fyne floure mingled with oyle for a meatofferinge/ and a logge of oyle/ and two turtel doues/ or two yonge pygeons/whiche he is able to gette wt his hande/ let the one be a ſynofferynge/ the other a burntofferinge: and let hym bringe them vpon the eyght daye of his clenſynge/ vnto the prieſt before the dore of the Tabernacle of wytneſſe/before the Lorde. Leui. v. b and xij. d

Then ſhal the prieſt take the lambe for ỹ ſinofferynge/ and the logge of oyle/ & ſhal waue them all before the Lorde/and ſlaye ỹ lambe of the treſpaſſeofferynge: and take of ỹ blonde of theſame treſpaſſeofferyng/ and put it vpon the typpe of the ryght eare/ of hym that is clenſed/ and vpon the thombe of his right hande/ and vpon the great toe of hys ryght foote/and poure of ỹ oyle into hys owne lefte hande/ and with his right fynger ſprenkle ỹ oyle/that is in his lefte hand/ſeuen tymes before the Lorde.

E As for the remnaunt of the oyle in his hande/he ſhall put it vpō the typpe of ỹ right eare/ of him that is clenſed/ and vpon the thombe of his right hande/and vpon ỹ great toe of his ryght foote/ euen aboue vpon the blonde of ỹ treſpaſſeoffering. The other oyle in his hande ſhal he poure vpon the head/of hym that is clenſed/ to make an attonement for hym before the Lorde. And afterwarde of the one of the turtel doues/ or yonge pygeons (accordynge as his handes are able to get) he ſhall make a ſynoffring/ of the other a burntofferinge/ with ỹ meatofferynge: and ſo shall the priest make an attonemēt for hym ỹ is clensed before the Lorde.

Let this be the lawe for the leper / which is not able with his hāde to get that/that belongeth vnto his clensynge.

F And the Lorde spake vnto Moses & Aaron/and sayd: Whan ye are come into ỹ lande of Canaan/which I geue you to possesse/ and if ther happē a plague of leprosy/in any house of your possession/then shal he / that oweth ỹ house/come and tell the priest and saye: Me thynke there is as it were a plague of leprosy in my house. Thē shal the priest commaūde to rydde al thīge out of the house/ or euer ỹ priest go into se the plague/lest/all that is in ỹ house be made vncleane. Afterwarde shall the priest go in to se the plague.

Now whan he loketh/ and fyndeth/ that there be holowe strakes / yalowe or redysh in the walles of the house / and they seme to be lower then the walle besyde/then shall he go out at the dore of the house/and shutte vp the house for seuen dayes. And vpon the seuenth daye whan he commeth / and seyth that the plague hath fretē farther in the walles of the house/then shall he commaunde to breake out the stones wherin the plague is / and to cast them in a foule place/ without the cytye / and the house to be scraped within roūde aboute/ and the dust that is scraped of / to be poured without the cytye / in an vncleane place / and to take other stones/and put them in the place of the other / and to take other playster / and playster the house.

G Whan the plague than cōmeth agayne / & breaketh forth in the house/ after ỹ the stones are broken out / the playster scraped of / and the house playstred of the new/ then shall the priest go in: and whā he seyth that the plague hath fretten farther in the house/then is there surely a fretynge leprosye in the house / and it is vncleane: therfore shall the house be broken doune/ both the stones/& the tymber/ & all the dust of the house/ & shalbe caryed out of the cytye / into an vncleane place. And who so goeth into the house / whyle it is shut vp / is vncleane vntyl the euen. And he that lyeth therin/ or eateth therin / shal wash his clothes.

But if the priest se (whā he goeth in) that this plague hath fret no farther in the house/ after that the house is new plastred/then shal he iudge it to be cleane/ for the plague is healed. And to a synoffrynge for the house / he shal take two byrdes/ ceder wood / & purple woll/and ysope/and slaye the one byrde in an earthen vessel/ vpon springinge water / and shall take the ceder wood/the purple woll/the ysope/and the lyuynge birde/and dippe them in the bloude of the slayne byrde / vpon the springyng water/& sprenkle the house withal seuen tymes: and so shall he purysie the house with the bloude of the byrde / with the springynge water / wyth the lyuynge byrde with the ceder woode/with the ysope/ & with the purple wolle. And thē lyuynge byrde shal he let flye at liberty out of the toune into the felde/and make an attonement for the house/ and then is it cleane.

This is the lawe ouer al maner plague of leprosy/and skyrfe/ouer the leprosy of clothes/ & of houses/ouer sores/scabbes/ & glysteringe whyte / that it maye be knowen / whan any thynge is vncleane or cleane. This is the lawe of leprosye.

The. XV. Chapter.

AND the Lorde talked with Moses and Aaron/ and sayde: Speake to the chyldren of Israel/and saye vnto them: Whan a man hath a runninge yssue/ from out of his flesh/thesame is vncleane: But then is he vncleane/by the reason of this yssue / whan his fleshe is fretten of the issue/ or woūde. Euery bedde / wheron he lyeth / and whatsoeuer he sitteth vpon/shalbe vncleane.

And he that toucheth his bed / shal wash his clothes/and bath himselfe with water / & be vncleane vntyl the euen.

And he ỹ sitteth where he satte/ shal wash his clothes/and bath hym selfe with water/ and be vncleane vntyll the euen. Who so toucheth his flesh/ shal wash his clothes / & bath hymselfe with water/and be vncleane vntyll the euen. Whan he spytteth vpon hym that is cleane/thesame shal wash his clothes / and bath hym selfe with water/& be vncleane vntyl the euen.

And the saddell/and whatsoeuer he rydeth B vpon / shalbe vncleane. And whosoeuer toucheth any thynge that hath bē vnder him/ shalbe vncleane vntyl the euen. And who so beareth any suche/shal washe his clothes/and bath hymselfe with water/& be vncleane vntyl the euē. And whome soeuer he toucheth/& washeth not his handes first / thesame shall wash his clothes/& bath him self with water/
Leuit. vj. d and be vncleane vntyl ỹ euen. † Whā he toucheth an earthē vessel/it shalbe broken: but the treen vessel shalbe rensed with water. And whan he is cleane of his yssue/he shal numbre seuen dayes/after ỹ he is made clean/& wash his clothes/and bath him selfe with springig water/then is he cleane. And vpon the eyght daye shall he take two turtell doues/or two yonge pigyons/and bringe them before the Lorde/ before the dore of the Tabernacle of wytnesse/and geue them vnto the priest. And the priest shall make of the one a synofferinge/ of the other a burntofferynge / and make an attonement for hym before ỹ Lorde/ as cōcernynge his issue.

C Whan a mans sede departeth from him in slepe/ thesame shall bathe all his flesshe with water/and be vncleane vntyl ỹ euen. And all clothes/and euery skynne that is stayned wt suche sede/shall be wash with water / and be vncleane vntyl the euē. A womā/ by whome such one lyeth/shal bath her selfe with water/ and be vncleane vntyl the euen.

Whan a woman hath the bloudy yssue of her flesh/she shal be put aparte. vij. dayes into sundry place. Whosoeuer toucheth her/shalbe vncleane vntyl the euen. And al that she lyeth vpon (as longe as she is put a part) shalbe vncleane. And that she sytteth vpon/shalbe vncleane. And whosoeuer toucheth her bed/ shall wash his clothes / and bath hymselfe with water/and be vncleane vntyl euen. And whosoeuer toucheth any maner thinge that she hath sytten vpon/shal wash his clothes/& bath hymselfe with water / and be vncleane vntyll the euen.

D † And if a man lie wt her (whyle she is put Leui. xviij. c aparte) shalbe vncleane seuen dayes/ and the bed that he laye vpon/shalbe vncleane.

Matt. ix. c † But whan a womā hath her bloudy yssue a longe season / not onely at ỹ tyme of her natural course/But also out of the tyme of her naturall course/ then shal she be vncleane so longe as she hath the issue: euen as at ỹ tyme whan she is put aparte / so shal she be vncleane here also. Whatsoeuer she lyeth vpon/ al the tyme of her issue/shalbe as her bed whā she is put aparte. And al that she sytteth vpō/ shalbe vncleane/as is her vnclennesse / whan she is put aparte. Whosoeuer toucheth any of them/shalbe vncleane/and shal wash his clothes/and bath hymselfe with water / and be vncleane vntyll the euen.

But if she be cleane of her issue / then shall E she numbre seuen dayes / afterward shall she be cleane: and vpō the eyght daye shal she take two turteldoues/ or two yonge pigeons/ & bringe them vnto the priest/ before ỹ dore of the Tabernacle of witnesse. And the priest shal make of the one a synofferinge/of the other a burntofferynge/and make an attonement for her before the Lorde / as concernynge the yssue of her vnclennesse.

Thus shal ye se that the chyldren of Israel kepe them selfes from theyr vnclennesse/ that they dye not in their vnclēnesse/whā they defyle my habitacion/which is amōge you.

This is the lawe ouer him that hath a runninge sore/and him/whose sede departeth frō him in slepe/so that he is vnclean therof And ouer her/ỹ hath her bloudy yssue/and whosoeuer hath a runninge sore/whether it be man or woman/and whan a man lyeth with her ỹ is vncleane.

The. XVI. Chapter.

AND the Lorde spake vnto Moses (after A that Aarons two sonnes were dead/ † whan they offred before the Lorde) and Leuit. x. a sayde: Speake vnto Aaron thy brother / that he go not at al tymes into the innermer Sanctuary/wythin the vayle before ỹ mercyseate/ which is vpon the Arke/that he dye not: † for Exod. xl. c & I wyll appeare in a cloude vpon the mercy- iij. B A straunger shall not eate of the holy thinges/nor an housholde gest of the priestes/ nor an hyred seruaunt. But if the priest bye a soule for hys money / thesame maye eate therof. An oxe or shepe/that hath misshapen membres/or no rompe mayst thou offre of a free wil: but to a vowe it maye not be accepted. Moreouer ye shal offre no bread vnto youre God of a straungers hāde: for it is marred of him/ and he hath deformite / therfore shal it not be accepted vnto you.

And the Lorde spake vnto Moses/& sayd: D

And they shall make attonement for theyr misdedes / because they despised my lawes/ and theyr soules refused my statutes. The .XXVII. Chapter.

AND the Lorde talked with Moses / and sayd: Speake to the chyldren of Israel/ & say vnto them: If any man make a specyal vowe vnto the Lorde/ so that he pryse a soule/then shall this be the valuacion: A man of .xx. yeare olde/vnto the .lx. yeare / shalt thou set at fyfty syluer Sycles/after the sycle of the Sanctuary: But a woman a thyrty Sycles. If it be .v. yeare olde vnto .xx. yeare/thou shalt set it at twentye Sycles / whan it is a man chylde: but a woman/at ten sycles. †If it be a moneth olde vnto fyue yeare/ thou shalte set it at fyue sycles of syluer/ whan it is a man chylde: but a woman at three syluer sycles. If he be .lx. yeare olde / & aboue them shalte thou set hym at .xv. sycles/whā it is a man/a womā at ten sycles. If he be to poore so to be set/then let hym present hym selfe to the priest/ and the priest shall value him. Neuertheles/he shall value him/accordyng as ỹ hande of hym that vowed/is able to get. But if it be a beast/ that maye be offred vnto the Lorde / all that is offered vnto ỹ Lorde of such/ is holy: it shall not be altered/nor chaūged/a good for a bad/ or bad for a good. If any man chaungeth it/ one beast for another: then shall they both be holy vnto the Lorde. But if the beast be vncleane/which may not be offred vnto ỹ Lorde/then shall it be set before the priest/and the priest shall value it/whether it be good or bad/ and it shall stande at the priestes valuynge. But if any man will bye it out/he shall geue ỹ fyfth parte more/to that it was set at.

Whan any man sanctifyeth his house vnto the Lorde/for the sanctuary / the priest shall value it/whether it be good or bad. And as the priest valueth it/so shall it stande. But if he ỹ sanctified it/will redeme it/ he shall geue the fyfth parte of syluer therto/ aboue that it was set at: So shall it be his.

If any man halowe a pece of lande of his heritage/vnto the Lorde/it shalbe set/accordynge to ỹ it beareth. If it beare an Homer/ of barley/it shalbe valued at fyftye sycles of syluer. But if he halow his lande/immediatly from the yeare of Jubilye forth / then shall it be set/accordynge to the value therof. If he haue halowed it after the yeare of Jubilye/ then shall the priest reken it/ accordyng to the yeares/that remayne vnto ỹ yeare of Jubilye/ and therafter shall he set it the lower.

But/if he that sanctified the lande/will redeme it agayne/then shall he geue the fyfth parte of syluer therto/aboue that it was set at: so shall it be his. If he will not lowse it out/ but selleth it vnto another/then shall he redeme it no more: but thesame lāde/whā it goeth out fre in ỹ yeare of Jubilye/shalbe holy vnto the Lorde/as a dedicated felde/and shalbe ỹ priestes inheritaunce.

If any man halowe vnto ỹ Lorde a feld/ which he hath bought/ and is not his inheritaunce/then shall the priest reken it/what it is worth vnto the yeare of Jubilye/and thesame daye shall he geue the pryce that it is sette at/ vnto the Lorde/ for the Sanctuarye. But in the yeare of Jubilye / it shall returne vnto hym that bought it/that it maye be his inheritaunce in the lande. All maner of prysinge shalbe made/accordynge to the Sycle of the Sanctuary. †One Sycle maketh .xx. Geras.

*The fyrstborne amonge the catell (which belongeth vnto the Lorde) shall no man sanctifye vnto the Lorde/whether it be oxe/ or shepe/for it is the Lordes already. But if there be any vncleane thynge vpon the beast/ then shall it be lowsed out/ therafter as it is worth/and the fyfth parte shalbe geuen more therto. If he will not redeme it/ then let it be sold as it is worth.

There shall no damned thynge be solde/nor bought out/that any man damneth for the Lorde/of all that is his good/ whether it be men/catell/or lāde. For euery damned thynge/ is moost holy vnto the Lorde. There shall no damned thynge of man be bought out/ but shall dye the death. All the tythes in the lande/both of the sede of the lande/and of the frutes of the trees/are the Lordes/ & shalbe holy vnto the Lorde. But if any man will redeme his tythes/he shall geue the fyfte parte more therto. And all the tythes of oxen & the shepe/and that goeth vnder ỹ rodde/ thesame is an holy tyth vnto the Lorde. It shall not be cyed/whether it be good or bad / neyther shall it be chaunged. But if any man chaunge it/then both it/and ỹ it was chaunged withal/ shalbe holy/and not redemed. These are the commaundementes/which the Lorde gaue Moses in charge vnto ỹ chyldren of Israel/vpon mount Sinai.

And ye shall se/that they wayte vpon al theyr charge. This shalbe the office of the kynred of the chyldren of the Gersonites / in the Tabernacle of witnesse. And theyr waytynge shalbe vnder the hande of Ithamar/ỹ sonne of Aaron the priest.

E The chyldren of Merari/after theyr kynred and fathers house / shalt thou appoynte also/from xxx. yeare and aboue/ vnto l. yeare/ all that are mete for the warre/ that they maye haue an office in the Tabernacle of witnesse. But vpon this charge shal they wayte/ accordinge to all their office/ in the Tabernacle of witnesse/ that they beare the bordes of ỹ habitacion/and the barres/ and pyllers / and sokettes: the pyllers of the court also / rounde aboute/and the sokettes/and nayles and coardes/with all theyr apparel / accordinge to all theyr seruice. And vnto euery one shall ye appoynte his porcion of charge / to wayte vpon the apparell. Let this be the office of the kynred / of the chyldren of Merari / al that they shall do in the Tabernacle of witnesse/ vnder the hande of Ithamar / the sonne of Aaron the priest.

F And Moses and Aaron/with the captaynes of the congregacion/numbred the chyldre of ỹ Kahathites / according to theyr kynreds/ and houses of theyr fathers/from xxx. yeare & aboue/ vntill l. all ỹ were mete for the warre/ to haue an office in ỹ Tabernacle of witnesse. And the summe was ij. thousande/ vij. hundreth/and l. This is the summe of the kynred of the Kahathites/(whiche all had seruice in ỹ Tabernacle of witnesse) whome Moses and Aaron numbred / accordinge to the word of the Lorde by Moses.

The chyldren of Gerson were numbred also in theyr kynredes / and fathers houses/ from xxx. yeare and aboue / vntill l. all ỹ were mete for the warre / to haue an office in the Tabernacle of witnesse/and the summe was ij. thousande/vj. hundreth/ and xxx. This is the summe of the kynred of the chyldren of Gerson / which all had to do in the Tabernacle of witnesse/ whome Moses and Aaron numbred/accordinge to the worde of the Lorde.

The. V. Chapter.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses / and sayde: Commaunde the chyldren of Israel ỹ they put out of the hoost †al the lepers/ and all that haue yssues / an that are defyled vpon the dead/ bothe men and women shall they put out of the hoost/that they defyle not theyr tentes/wherin I dwell amonge them. And the chyldren of Israell did so / and put them out of ỹ hooste/as the Lorde had sayde vnto Moses. Leui. xiij.

And the Lord talked with Moses/and sayde: Speake vnto the chyldren of Israel/ and saye vnto them: Whan a man or woman doth a synne to any body / & offendeth therewith with agaynst the Lord/then hath that soule a trespasse vpon it. †And they shal knowlege theyr synne/that they haue done/ & shal make amendes for theyr trespasse/euē with ỹ whole summe/and put the fyfth parte more therto/ and geue it vnto hym/ agaynst whome they haue trespassed. But if there be noman to make the amendes vnto/for ỹ offence that he hath trespassed against hym/then shal the reconcilinge be made vnto the Lorde / for the priest/besyde the ramme of the attonement/ wherwith he shalbe reconcyled. Leuit. v. c

B Likewyse/all the heaueofferinges of al that the chyldrē of Israel halowe vnto the Lord/ and offre vnto ỹ priest/shalbe his. And who so haloweth any thynge/it shalbe his. And who so geueth the priest any thynge/it shalbe his also.

And the Lord talked with Moses / and sayde: Speake to the chyldren of Israell / and saye vnto them: Whan any mans wife goeth aside/and trespasseth agaynst hym / and any man lye with her fleshlye/and the thynge be yet hyd from his eyes / and is not come to light/that she is defyled / and he can bringe no witnesse against her/(for she was not taken therin) and the spirete of gelousy kindleth him/so that he is gelous ouer his wyfe: whether she be vncleane/or not vncleane/ thē shal he bring her vnto the priest/& bringe an offeringe for her/euē/the tenth parte of an Epha/ of barly meele/& shal poure no oyle therō/ nor put frankencense vpon it: for it is an offering of gelousye/and an offeringe of remembraūce that remembreth synne.

C Then shall the priest bringe her/and set her before the Lorde/ and take of the †holy water in an earthen vessell/and put of the dust ỹ is on the floore of the habitacion/into the water. And he shal set the wyfe before the Lord/ and vncouer her head / and the offerynge of remembraunce/whiche is an offerynge of gelousye/shal he laye vpon her handes. And the priest shal haue in his hande bitter cursynge water/and shal coniure ỹ wyfe/and saye vnto her: If noman haue lyen with the / and thou haste not gone aside from thy husbande / to defyle thy selfe/then shal not these bytter cursinge waters hurte the. But if thou hast gone aside from thy husbande / so that thou arte defyled/and some other man hath lyen with the besyde thy husbande/ then shal the priest coniure the wyfe with this curse/and shal saie vnto her: The Lord set the to a curse / and coniuracion amonge thy people / so that the Lord make thy thye rotte / and thy wombe to berst. So go this cursed water into thy body / that thy wombe berste / and thy thye rotte. And ỹ wyfe shal saye: Amen Amen. Num. xxv. b c

So the prieste shal wryte this curse in a byll / and washe it out with the water / and shal geue the wyfe of the bitter cursynge waters to drinke. And whan the cursynge water is gone in her / so that it is bytter vnto her/then shal the priest take the gelousye offeringe out of the wyfes hande / and waue it for a meatofferynge before the Lorde / and offre it vpon the aultare: namely/ he shal take an handefull of the meatofferinge for her remembraunce/and burne it vpon the aultare/ and then geue the wyfe the water to drynke. And whan she hath dronken the water/if she be defyled/and haue trespassed agaynst her husbande/then shall the cursinge water go into her / and be so bytter / that her wombe shall berste / and her thye shall rotte / and the wyfe shalbe a curse amonge her people. But if thesame wyfe be not defyled/but is cleane: then shall it do her no harme/so that she maye be with chylde.

This is the law of gelousy / whā a wyfe goeth aside from her husbande/and is defyled: Or whan the spirete of gelousye kyndleth a man/so ỹ he is gelous ouer his wife/that he bringe her before the Lorde/& that the priest do al with her/accordinge vnto his law. And the man shalbe gyltlesse of the synne / but the wyfe shal beare her myssedede.

The. VI. Chapter.

AND the Lord talked with Moses / and sayde: Speake vnto ỹ chyldren of Israel/ and saye vnto them: Whā a man or woman separate them selfes/to vowe a vowe of abstinence vnto ỹ Lord/he shal absteyn frō wyne & stronge drinke. †Vineger of wyne/& stronge drinke shal he not drinke / nor ỹ is pressed out of grapes/he shal neyther eate fresh / nor drye grapes/so longe as his abstinēce endureth. Moreouer he shal eate nothing ỹ is made of ỹ vine tree/frō ỹ wyne corneles vnto the hull. Iudi. xiij. a Amos. ij. c

As longe as the vowe of his abstinence endureth/there shall no rasure come vpon his heade/till the time be out/which he abstayneth vnto the Lord/for he his holy. And he shal let the heere of his heade grow/and stande bare openly. All the time ouer that he abstayneth vnto the Lord/shall he go to no dead. Neyther shal he defyle hym selfe at the death of his father/of his mother/of his brother/or of his syster. For the abstinence of his God is vpon his heade/and the whole time of his abstinēce shall he be holy vnto the Lord.

B And if it chaunce any man to dye sodenly before him/then shall the heade of his abstiAct. xxiij.b nence be defyled. Therfore shall he †shaue his heade in the daye of his clensynge/that is vpō the seuenth day: and vpon the eight daye shal he bringe two turtill doues/or two yonge pigeons vnto the priest/before the dore of the Tabernacle of witnesse. And the priest shall make the one a synofferyng/and the other a burntofferinge/and make an attonement for hym/because he defyled him selfe vpon the deade/and so shall he halowe his heade ỹ same daye/that he maye holde out the time of his abstinence vnto the Lorde/and he shall bringe a lambe of a yeare olde/for a trespasseofferyng. But the dayes afore shall be but lost/because his abstinence was defiled.

C This is the law of the absteyner. Whan the time of his abstinēce is out/he shalbe brought before the dore of the Tabernacle of witnesse. And he shall bringe his offerynge vnto the Lord/euē an helābe of a yeare olde/without blemyshe/for a burntoffering/and a shelambe of a yeare olde/without blemish/for a synneofferinge/and a ramme without blemyshe for a thankeofferinge/and a maunde with vnleuended cakes of fyne floure/myngled with oyle/and swete wafers/anoynted with oyle/and theyr meatofferynges and drynkeofferynges.

And the prieste shall bringe it before the Lorde/and shall make his synneofferinge/and his burntofferynge/and the ramme shall he make a thankeofferynge vnto the Lorde/with the maunde of the vnleuended breade. His meatofferinge and drinkeofferinge shall he make also. And he shall shaue the heade of the absteiners abstinence/before the dore of ỹ Tabernacle of witnesse/and shal take the head heere of his abstinence/and caste it vpon the fyre/that is vnder the thankeofferinge.

And the soddē shoulder of the ramme shal D he take/and an vnleuended cake out of the maunde/and a swete wafer/& laye them vpon the hādes of the absteyner: (after that he hath shauen of his abstinence.) And he shall waue them before the Lorde. This is holy for the priest with the Wauebreste/and heaue shoulder. After that maye the absteyner drinke wyne. This is the lawe of the absteyner/which voweth his offeringe vnto the Lord for his abstinence/besydes that/which his hande can get. As he hath vowed/so shall he do/accordinge to the lawe of his abstinence.

And the Lord talked with Moses/and sayde: Speake vnto Aaron and his sonnes & saye: Thus shall ye saye vnto the chyldren of Israel/whan ye blesse them.

And Moses went out/and tolde ỹ people the worde of the Lord/ and gathered the seuentye men amonge the eldest of the people/ and set them rounde about the Tabernacle. Then came the Lord doune in a cloude/and spake vnto him/and toke of ỹ sprete that was vpon him/and put it vpō the seuenty Elders. And whan the sprete rested vpon them/they prophecied/and ceassed not.

F But in the hoost there remayned yet two men/of whome the one was called Eldad / ỹ other Madad/and the sprete rested vpon thē. For they were written vp also / and yet were they not gone out vnto the Tabernacle / and they prophecied in the hoost. Thē ranne there a lad/and tolde Moses/and sayde: Eldad and Medad prophecye in the hoost. Then answered Josua the sonne of Nun/Moses seruaunt (whome he had chosen) and said: †My Lord Moses forbidde them. But Moses sayd vnto him: Art ỹ gelous for my sake? † wold God/that al the people of the Lord coulde prophecye/and that the Lord wolde geue them his sprete. A And MirJam and Aaron spake agaynst Moses/because of his wyfe the Morian †which he had taken / because he had taken a Moriā to wyfe/& they sayd: Soth the Lord speake onely thorow Moses: Speaketh he not also by vs? And the Lorde herde it. †But Moses was a very meke man / aboue al men vpon earth. And haistely spake the Lorde vnto Moses / and to Aarō/and to MirJam: Go out ye thre vnto ỹ Tabernacle of witnesse. And they wente out all thre.

† Then came the Lorde doune in the cloudy piller / *and stode in the dore of the Tabernacle / and called Aaron and MirJam/ and they both wēte out. And he sayde. But not so wt my seruaunt Moses / †which is faithful in all my house. *Mouth to mouth speake I vnto hym/ and he seyth the Lorde in his fashion / not thorow darke wordes or likenesses: Wherfore were ye not afrayed/then to speake agaynste my seruaunt Moses? And Aaron turned hym vnto MirJam / and saw that she was leperous / and sayde vnto Moses: Oh my Lorde / put not the synne vpon vs / which we haue folyshly committed and synned/ that she be not as one that commeth deade out of his mothers wombe: It hath eaten vp halfe her fleshe already.

But Moses cryed vnto the Lorde/ and sayde: Oh God heale her. The Lorde sayd vnto Moses: If her father had spitte in her face / should she not be ashamed seuen dayes? †Let her be shut out of the hoost seuen dayes/ after that/ let her be receaued agayne. So MirJam was shutte out of the hoost seuen dayes/& the people wente no farther till MirJam was receaued agayne. †Afterward departed the people from Hazeroth/and pitched in the wilderneesse of Pharan.

A And the Lorde spake vnto Moses / and sayde: †Sende forth men to spye out the lande of Canaan/(which I wil geue vnto the chyldren of Israel) of euery trybe of their fathers a man / and let them all be such as are captaynes among them. Moses sent thē out of the wilderneesse out of Pharan / accordinge to the word of the Lorde / such as were all heades among the chyldrē of Israel/ and these are theyr names.

Samma the sonne of Zachur/ of the trybe of Ruben. Saphat the sonne of Hori/of the trybe of Symeon. Caleb the sonne of Jephune/of ỹ tribe of Juda. Jgeal the sonne of Joseph of the trybe of Jsaschar. Hosea the sonne of Nun / of the trybe of Ephraim. Palty the sonne of Raphu / of the trybe of Ben Jamin. Gadiell the sonne of Sodi/ of the trybe of Zabulon. Gaddi the sonne of Susi/of the trybe of Joseph of Manasse. Ammuel the sonne of Gemalli/of the trybe of Dan. Sethur the sonne of Michael / of the trybe of Asser. Nahebi the sonne of Vapsy / of the trybe of Nephtali. Guell the sonne of Machi / of the trybe of Gad. These are the names of the men/ whom Moses sent forth to spye out the lande. As for Hosea the sonne of Nun. Moses called hym Josua.

B Now whan Moses sente them forth to spye out the lande of Canaan / he sayd vnto them: Go vp southward/and get you vp to ỹ mountaynes/and loke vpō the lāde how it is: & the people ỹ dwell therin / whether they be strōge or weake/fewe or many/and what maner of lande it is that they dwel in / whether it be good or bad: and what maner of cyties they be that they dwell in / whether they be fenced with walles/ or not: and what maner of lande it is / whether it be fat or lean / and whether there be trees therin / or not. Be of a good courage / & bringe of the frutes of the lande. It was euen aboute the tyme that grapes are fyrst rype.

They wente vp/and spyed the lande/from the wildernes of Zin/vntill Rehob/as mē go vnto Hemath. They wente also vp toward the south/and came vnto Hebron/where Ahiman was/and Sesai/an Thalmai/the chyldren of Enacke (Hebron was buylded seuen yeare before Zoan in Egipte).

C And they came vnto the ryuer of Escoll/ Deut.j.d and there they cut downe a clouster of grapes/and caused two to beare it vpon a staffe/ pomgranates also/and fygges. The place is called the ryuer of Escoll/because of the clouster of grapes/which the chyldren of Israell cut downe there.

And whan they had spyed out the lande/ they turned backe agayne after xl. dayes/ & wente/and came to Moses & Aaron/& to ỹ whole congregacō of the chyldren of Israel/ in to the wildernesse of Pharan/euē vnto Cades/and broughte them worde agayne/and to the whole congregacion/how it stode/and let them se the frute of the lande/& tolde them/ and sayd: We came into the lande/wheter ye sente vs/where it floweth with milke and hony/and this is the frute therof: sauynge that stronge people dwel therin/and the cityes are exceadinge stronge and greate. And we saw the chyldrē of Enacke there also. The Amalechites dwell in the south countre/the Hethites/ & Iebusites/and Ammonites dwell vpon the mountaynes: but ỹ Cananites dwell by the see/and aboure Iordane.

D Howbeit/Caleb stilled the people that was agaynst Moses/and sayde vnto them. Let vs go vp/and conquere the lande/for we are able to ouercome it. But the men that Nu.xiij.f wente vp wt hym/sayde: †We are not able to go vp agaynste ỹ people/for they are to strong for vs. And of the lande that they had searched/they broughte vp an euel reporte amonge the chyldren of Israell/and sayde: The lande that we haue gone thorow to spye out/eateth vp the indwellers therof: and all the people ỹ we sawe therin/are men of greate stature. We sawe giauntes there also/yee/giauntes as the chyldren of Enacke: and we semed in our sight as the greshoppers/and so dyd we in ỹ theyr sight.

The. XIIII. Chapter.

THen the whole congregacion toke on/ and cryed/& the people wepte that night. Deut. And all the chyldren of Israell murmured a- Psal. agaynst Moses and Aaron/and the whole congregacion sayde vnto them: O ỹ we had dyed in the lāde of Egipte/or that we mighte dye yet in this wildernesse. Wherfore bryngeth the Lord vs into this lande/that oure wyues shoulde fall thorow the swearde/and oure chyldrē be a praye? Is it not better/ỹ we go agayn into Egipte? And they sayd one to another: Let vs make a captayne/and go into Egipte agayne.

But Moses and Aaron fell vpon theyr faces before the whole congregacion of the multitude/of the chyldren of Israell. †And Io- Eccl. sua the sonne of Nun/and Caleb the sonne of i.Mac. Iephunne/(whiche also had spyed out the lande) rente theyr clothes/and spake to the whole congregacion of the chyldren of Israell: The lande that we haue walked thorowe to spye it out/is a very good lande. If the Lord haue luste vnto vs/he shall bryngе vs into thesame lande/and geue it vs/whiche is a lande that floweth with mylke and hony. But in any wyse/rebell not ye agaynst the Lord/and †feare not the people of this lande/for we will Deut. eate them vp as bread. Theyr defence is departed from them/† but ỹ Lord is with vs/ Rom. be not ye afrayed of them.

And all the people bad stone them with B stones. Then appeared the glory of the Lorde in the Tabernacle of witnesse/vnto all the chyldren of Israell/and the Lorde sayd vnto Moses: How longe shall this people blaspheme me? And how longe will it be/ or they beleue me/for all ỹ tokens that I haue shewed amonge them? † I will smyte them Exo. with pestilence/and destroye them/and wil make of the greater and mightier people then this is.

†But Moses sayde vnto the Lorde: Deut. Then shall the Egipcians heare it (for with thy power haste thou broughte this people from amonge them) so shal it be tolde to the inhabiters of this lande also/which haue herde ỹ thou/O Lord art amonge this people/that thou art sene face to face/and that †thy cloude standeth ouer them/& that thou Exod. goest goest before them in the cloudy pyller/on the daye tyme/and in the firye pyller on the night season. If thou shouldest now slaye this people as one man/then the Heythen that haue xxij.c herde so good reporte of ỹ/shoulde saye: †The Lorde was not able to bryngе the people into the lande/that he sware vnto them/therfore hath he slayne them in the wildernesse.

C So let the power of the Lorde now be greate/accordinge as thou hast spoken/and sayde: The Lorde is of longe sufferaunce/ and of great mercy/and forgeueth synne and trespasse/and leaueth noman innocent/and visiteth the misdede of the fathers vpon the chyldren/into the thyrde and fourth generacion. O be gracious now vnto the synne of this people/accordinge to thy great mercy/ lyke as thou haste forborne this people also/euē from Egipte vnto this place. And the Lord sayde: I haue forgeuen it as thou haste sayde. But as trewly as I lyue/all ỹ worlde shalbe xvj.g full of my glorye. †For of all ỹ men that haue xj.c sene my glorye and my tokens/whiche I did c in Egipte/and in ỹ wildernesse/and *tempxlix.b ted me now ten tymes/and haue not herkened vnto my voyce/there shall not one se the lande that I sware vnto theyr fathers: neyther shall any of them that haue blaspheme xiij.b me/se it. †But my seruaunt Caleb/because there is another maner spirete with him/& because he hath folowed me/hym will I bryngе into the lande/which he hath gone thorow/ and his sede shall conquere it/and the Amalechites also/and the Cananites/that dwell in the lowe countrees. To morow turne you/& ger you in the wildernesse/in ỹ waye towarde the read see.

D And the Lord spake vnto Moses and Aaron/and sayd: How longe shall this euell multitude murmure agaynste me? For I haue herde the murmuringe of the chyldren of Israel/that they haue murmured agaynst xxij.b me. Tel them therfore: †as truly as I lyue (sayeth the Lord) I wil do vnto you/euen as ye haue spoken in myne eares/your carcases shall lye in the wildernesse. And all ye that j.a were †numbred from twentye yeare & aboue/ which haue murmured agaynstme/shall not come into the lande (concernynge ỹ which I lifte vp my hande/that I wolde let you dwell therin) saue Caleb the sonne of Iephunne/and Iosua the sonne of Nun.

†Your chyldren/of whome ye sayd: They Deut.j.f shalbe a spoyle/them will I bryngе in/so that they shall knowe the lande/whiche ye haue refused. But ye/with youre carcases shall lye in this wildernesse/and your chyldrē shall wander in this wildernesse fourty yeares/& beare your whordom/till your carcases be wasted in the wylderneſse/accordinge to the numbre of the fourtye dayes/wherein ye spyed out the lande. †A daye for a yeare/so ỹ fourtye yeares E ye shall beare youre misdede/that ye maye Ezech.iiij.b knowe what it is/whan I withdrawe my hande/euē I ỹ Lord haue sayde it/and will do it in dede/vnto all this euell congregaciō/ that haue lift vp themselfes agaynst me: In this wildernesse shall they be consumed/and there shall they dye.

†So there dyed/and were plagued before i.Corin.x. & the Lord all the men/whome Moses sent to spye out the lande/and came agayne/and made the whole congregacion to murmur agaynst it/because they brought vp a misreporte of the lande/ỹ it was euell. But Iosua the sonne of Nun/and Caleb the sonne of Iephune were left alyue/of the men that wente to spye out the lande. An Moses spake these wordes vnto all the chyldren of Israell. Then toke the people great sorowe.

And they arose early in the mornynge/and F wente vp to the toppe of the mountayne/and sayde: †Lo/here are we/and will go vp to the Deut.j.c place/wherof ỹ Lord hath sayde: for we haue synned. But Moses sayde: Wherfore go ye on this maner beyonde ỹ word of the Lord: It shal not prospere with you/go not vp (for the Lord is not among you) that ye be not slayne before your enemyes. For the Amalechites and Cananites are there before you/& ye shal fal thorow the swearde/because ye haue turned youre selfs from the Lord/and the Lord shal not be with you.

But they were blynded to go vp to the toppe of the mountayne: Neuertheless/the Arcke of the Lordes conuenaunt/& Moses came not out of the hoost. Then came doune ỹ Amalechites and Cananites/whiche dwelt vpon that mountayn/and smote them/& hewed them/euen vnto Horma.

The.XV.Chapter.

A ANd the Lord talked with Moses / and sayde: Speake to the chyldren of Israell/ and say vnto them: Whan ye come into the lande of youre dwellinge/ which I shall geue you / and will do sacrifice vnto the Lorde/ whether it be a burntofferynge / or an offeryng for a special vow/or a fre will offerynge/ or your feastofferynges / that ye maye make a swete sauoure vnto the Lorde/ of oxen or of shepe.

Leuit.ij.a and vj.b †He that will offre now his gifte vnto the Lorde / shall bringe for the meatofferynge/a tenth deale of fyne floure / myngled with oyle/of the fourth part of an Hyn / and wyne for the drinkofferynge/ the fourth part of an Hin also: to the burntofferynge / or any other offeryng/whan a lambe is offred. But whan there is a ramme offered / thou shalte make the meatofferynge two tenth deales of fyne floure / myngled with oyle/of the third parte of an Hin/& the thirde parte of an Hin of wyne also / for a drynkofferyng: this shalt thou offre for a swete sauour vnto ỹ Lorde.

B But if thou wilt offre an oxe for a burntofferynge/or for a speciall vowe offerynge / or for a thankofferynge vnto the Lorde / thou shalte bringe to the oxe/ỹ meatofferynge/euen thre tēth deales of fyne floure / myngled with halfe an Hin of oyle/& halfe an Hin of wyne/ for a drinkofferynge. This is an offeringe of a swete sauour vnto the Lorde. Thus shalt thou do with an oxe/with a ramme / with a lambe/and with a goate. Accordynge as the numbre of the offerynges is / therafter shall the numbre of the meatofferynges and drinkofferynges be also.

He that is one of youre selfes / shall do this/that he may offre a sacrifice of a swete sauoure vnto the Lorde. And if there dwell a straunger with you / or is amonge youre kynsfolkes/and will do an offerynge vnto the Lord for a swete sauour/the same shall do as ye do. Let there be one statute for the whole congregacion/both vnto you and to ỹ straungers. A perpetuall statute shall it be vnto youre posterities/that ỹ straunger be euen as ye before the Lord. One law/ and one ordinaunce shalbe vnto you/and to the straunger that dwelleth with you.

And the Lorde talked with Moses/ and sayde: Speake to the chyldren of Israel / and saye vnto them: †Whan ye come into the Exo.p

the Lorde hath commaunded you by Moses/and all that the Lorde hath commaunded you by Moses/ (from the daye that the Lorde began to commaunde for your posterities) and the congregacion do ought ignorauntly: then shall the whole congregacion offere a yonge bullocke / from amonge the greate cattell to a burntofferynge/for a swete sauoure vnto the Lord / with his meatofferynge and drinkeofferynge as the maner is and an hegoate for a synneofferynge. And so shall the priest make an attonement for the whole congregacion of the chyldren of Israell/ and it shalbe forgeuen them: for it is an ignoraūce. And they shal bringe their gifte for an offeringe vnto the Lord/& their synneofferinge before ỹ Lord/ for theyr ignoraunce/and it shalbe forgeuen the whole congregacion of the chyldren of Israell/and the straunger that dwelleth amonge you/for so much as all the people is in such ignoraunce.

†If one soule synne thorow ignoraūce/the- Leuit same shall bringe a shegoate of a yeare olde/ for a synofferynge. And the priest shall make an attonement for such an ignorant soule ỹ the sinneofferinge/for the ignoraunce before ỹ Lord/that he may reconcyle hym/& it shalbe one lawe/(that ye shall do for the ignoraunce) both vnto hym that is borne amōge the chyldren of Israell/and to the straunger ỹ dwelleth amonge you.

†But if a soule do ought presumpteously/ Leuit
whether he be one of youre selfes/or a straunger/he hath despysed the Lorde / the same shalbe roted out from amonge his people: because he hath despyced the worde of the Lorde

Lorde / and hath left his commaundement vndone: that soule shall vtterly perish/his synne shalbe vpon hym.

D Now whyle the chyldren of Israel were in the wilderneſſe / they founde a man gatheringe styckes vpon the Sabboth day. And they that founde hym gatherynge stickes/ brought hym vnto Moses and Aaron / and xxiiij.c before the whole congregacion. †And they put hym in pryson / for it was not declared what shoulde be done vnto hym. The Lord sayde vnto Moses: The man shall dye the death / the whole congregacion shall stone hym without the hooste. Then the whole congregacion brought hym out of the hooste/ and stoned hym that he dyed/as the Lorde commaunded Moses.

xxij.b †And the Lorde sayde vnto Moses/ Speake to the chyldren of Israel / and saye vnto them/that they make them gardes vpon the quarters of their garmentes / amonge all youre posterities / and put yalowe rybandes vpon the gardes in the quaters. And the gardes shall serue you / that ye maye loke vpon them/ and remembre all the commaūdementes of the Lorde/and do them / that ye order not your selfes after the meaninge of youre owne herte / nor go a whorynge after youre owne eyes. Therfore shall ye remembre / and do all my commaundementes / and be holy vnto youre God / I am the Lorde youre God/which brought you out of the lande of Egypte/to be youre God: Euen I the Lord youre God.

The.XVI. Chapter.

A ANd † Corah the sonne of Iezehar/the son xxl.xlv.d ne of Kahath / the sonne of Leui / with Dathan and Abiram / the sonnes of Eliab/ and On the sonne of Peleth/the sonne of Ruben/stode vp agaynst Moses: with certayne men amonge the chyldren of Israel/two hundreth and fyftye captaynes of the congregacion/counsaillers/and famous men. And they gathered them selfes against Moses and Aaron / and sayde vnto them: Ye make to much xxvi.xix.a a do / †for all the congregacion is holy euery one/and the Lorde is amonge them: Why lift ye your selfes vp then / aboue the congregacion of the Lorde?

Whan Moses herde that/he fell vpon his face/and sayde vnto Corah / & to all his company: To morowe shall the Lord shew who is his / and who is holy to come vnto hym. Whomesoeuer he choseth/the same shall come vnto him. This do: Take the censers/thou Corah and all thy company / and do fyre therin/ and put incense theron / to morow before the Lorde: then whomesoeuer the Lord choseth/the same shalbe holy. Ye make to much a do/ye chyldren of Leui.

B And Moses sayde vnto Corah: Heare ye chyldren of Leui/is it not ynough vnto you/ †that the God of Israel hath separated you/ Nume.iij.a from the multitude of Israel/that ye shoulde come nye hym / to do the seruice of the dwellinge place of the Lorde / and stande before the people to minister vnto them? He hath caused the and thy brethrē/the chyldren of Leui with the/to come nye vnto hym: and now ye seke the priesthode also. Thou & all thy company conspyre agaynst the Lorde. What is Aaron that ye shoulde murmure agaynst hym?

And Moses sent to call Dathan and Abiram / the sonnes of Eliab. But they sayde: We will not come vp. Is it to litle that thou hast brought vs out of the lande of Egipte/ (that floweth with mylke & hony) to kyl vs in the wilderneſſe/but thou must raygne ouer vs also? How goodly / and well hast thou brought vs into a lāde/ỹ floweth with mylke and hony / & geuen vs feldes and vineyardes in possession? Wilt thou put out †these mens Nu.xiij.d eyes? We wil not come vp.

C Then was Moses very wroth/and sayde vnto the Lorde: Turne the not vnto their meatofferinges. I haue not taken so much as an asse from them/neyther haue I hurte any of them. And Moses sayde vnto Corah: To morow be thou / and all thy company before the Lorde/thou/and they/and Aaron. And take euery one his censer/and put incēse therin / and come before the Lorde euery one with his censer (that is two hundreth and fyftye censers) and both thou and Aarō/ take eyther his censer.

And euery one toke his censer / and put fyre therin/and layed incēse theron/and came before the dore of the Tabernacle of witnesse/ and Moses and Aaron also. And Corah gathered the whole congregacion agaynste them / before the dore of the Tabernacle of witnesse.

But the glorye of the Lorde appeared before the whole congregacion. And the Lorde spake vnto Moses and Aarō/and sayde: Seperate your selfes from this congregacion/ that I may shortly consume them. And they fell vpon their faces/and sayde: O God/thou God of the spretes of all flesshe/ if one man haue synned / wilt thou therfore be wroth ouer the whole congregacion. And the Lorde spake vnto Moses/ and sayde: Come vp from the dwellynge of Corah / and Dathan/ and Abiram.

And Moses stode vp/and wente vnto Dathan and Abiram / and the elders of Israell folowedhym / and he spake to the congregacion/and sayde: Departe from the tentes of these vngodly men/and touche nothinge that is theyrs/that ye perishe not in any of theyr synnes. And they gat them vp from ỹ dwellynge of Corah/Dathan/ and Abiram. But Dathan and Abiram came out/ and stode in the dore of their tentes/with their wyfes/and sonnes/and chyldren.

And Moses sayd: Here by shall ye know that the Lorde hath sent me/ to do all these workes/and that I haue not done them of myne owne herte. If these men dye the commune death of all men: or be visited as all men are visited/then hath not the Lorde sent me. But if the Lorde make a new thyng/and the earth open her mouth/& swalow them vp al ỹ they haue / so that they go doune quicke into hell/then shall ye know ỹ these men haue blasphemed the Lorde.

E † And whan he had spoken out all these wordes/ỹ groūde cloue asunder vnder them/ & the earth opened her mouth/and swalowed them with their houses/ and all the men that were with Corah/an al theyr substaunce/ and they wente doune quicke into the hell / with al that they had.

Out of x. Num. xxvj. b Psal. cv. b Eccl. xlv. c

And the earth closed vpon them / and so they perished/from amonge the congregacion. And al Israel that were aboute them/ fled at the crye of them/for they sayde: That the earth swalowe not vs also. Moreuer the fyre came out from the Lorde / and consumed the two hundreth and fyftye men / that offered the incense.

And the Lorde spake vnto Moses/and sayde: Speake to Eleasar the sonne of Aarō/ the priest/that he take vp the censers out of the burnynge/and scatter the fyre here and there. (For the censers of these synners are halowed thorow theyr soules) that they maye be beatē into thynne plates/and fastened vpō the aultare. For they are offered before the Lorde / & halowed: and they shalbe a token vnto ỹ chyldren of Israel.

And Eleasar the priest toke the brasen censers/which they that were burnt had offered/ F and beate them to plates/to fasten them vpon the aultare for a remembraūce/ vnto the chyldren of Israel/that no straunger (and he that is not of the sede of Aaron) come nye to offre incense before the Lorde / that it happen not vnto hym as vnto Corah and his companye/ accordynge as the Lorde sayde vnto hym by Moses.

On the nexte morow murmured the whole congregaciō of the chyldren of Israel agaynst Moses and Aaron/and sayde: Ye haue slayne the people of the Lorde. And whan the congregacion was gathered agaynst Moses and Aaron / they turned them towarde the Tabernacle of witnesse. And beholde/then the cloude couered the Tabernacle/ and the glory of the Lorde appeared. And Moses & Aaron wente in before ỹ Tabernacle of witnesse. And the Lorde spake vnto Moses & sayde: Get you of this congregacion/ I will shortly G consume them. An they fell vpon their faces. And Moses sayde vnto Aaron: Take the censer and put fyre therin/from of the aultare/and laye incense theron/and go soone to the congregacion/ and make an attonement for them. For the wrath is gone out from the Lorde/and the plague is begonne amonge the people.

And Aaron dyd as Moses sayde/ & ranne in the middest amonge the congregacion. And beholde/the plague was begonne. And he burnt incense / & made an attonement for the people/ † and stode betwene the dead & the liuing/and the plague ceassed. But there were xiiij. thousande/and vij. hundreth dead in the plague / besides them that dyed aboute the

The. XVII. Chapter.

A AND the Lorde spake vnto Moses / and sayde: Speake vnto the chyldren of Israel/ and take of them twelfe staues / of euery captayne/of his fathers house one/ & wryte euery mās name vpon his staffe. But Aarōs name shalt thou write vpon the staffe of Leui. For euery heade of theyr fathers house shall haue a staffe. And laye them in the Tabernacle of witnesse/before the witnesse/ where I testifye vnto you. And loke whome I shall chose / his staffe shall florysh / that I maye still the grudginges of the chyldren of Israel / which they grudge agaynst you.

And Moses spake vnto the chyldren of Israell / and all theyr captaynes gaue hym twelfe staues/ euery captayne a staffe/after the house of theyr fathers. And Aarons staffe was amonge theyr staues also. And Moses layed the staues before the Lorde/ in the Tabernacle of witnesse.

B On the morowe whan Moses wente in to the Tabernacle of witnesse / he founde the †Aarons rodde/of the house of Leui florished/ and brought forth blossoms/and bare almondes. And Moses broughte forth all the staues from the Lorde / before all the chyldren of Israell/that they myghte se it. And they toke euery man his staffe.

num. xvij. a

The Lorde sayde vnto Moses: Bryng Aarons staffe agayne before the witnesse/that it maye be kepte for a token to the chyldren of rebellion/ that theyr murmuring maye ceasse fro me/lest they dye.

Moses dyd as the Lorde commaunded hym. And the chyldren of Israel sayde vnto Moses: Beholde/we consume awaye/we are destroyed/and perysh. Who so commeth nye the dwellynge place of the Lorde/ he dyeth. Shall we then vtterly consume away?

The. XVIII. Chapter.

A AND the Lorde sayd vnto Aaron: Thou and thy sonnes/ & thy fathers house with the/shal beare the misdede of the Sanctuary: and thou and thy sonnes with the/shall beare the misdede of your priesthode. † But thy brethren / of the tribe of Leui thy father/ shal come nye the / and be ioyned vnto the/ that they may minister vnto the. † But thou and thy sonnes with the/ shall minister before the Tabernacle of witnesse. Therefore wayte now vpon the seruice of the Sanctuary / and vpon the seruice of the aultare / that there come no more wrath vpon the chyldren of Israel. † And the Lorde sayd vnto Aaron: beholde / I haue geuen the my heaueofferynges: And all that the chyldren of Israel halowe/haue I geuen vnto the / and to thy sonnes/for a perpetuall dewty. This shalt thou haue of the moost holy thynges/that they offer. All dampned thynges in Israel shal be thyne. † Al that breaketh the matrix among all flesh/which they bryng vnto the Lorde/ whether it be mā or beaste/shalbe thyne. But so that thou cause the fyrst borne of man/to be redemed/and that thou cause the fyrst borne of vncleane beastes/to be redemed also. (They shal redeme it whan it is a moneth olde / and shal geue it louse for money/ Eue̅ for fyue sycles/after the sycle of the Sanctuary/ † which sycle is worth twenty Geras.)

But the fyrste frutes of an oxe/or lambe/ or goate shalt thou not cause to be redemed/for they are holy. Theyr blonde shalt thou sprekle vpon the aultare / and theyr fat shalte thou burne for an offrynge of swete sauour/ vnto ỹ Lorde. Theyr flesh shalbe thyne/lyke as the wauebrest/and the right shoulder is thyne also. All the heaueofferinges that the chyldren of Israel halowe vnto the Lord/haue I geuen vnto the/& to thy sonnes/& to thy doughters with the for a perpetuall dewty. This shalbe a salted conuenaunt for euer/before the Lorde vnto it/he and thy sede with the.

And the Lorde sayd vnto Aaron. † Thou shalte inheret nothynge in theyr lande/nor haue any porcion amonge them: for I am thy porcion/& thyne inheritaunce amonge ỹ chyldren of Israel. Vnto ỹ chyldren of Leui haue I geuen all ỹ tythes in Israel to inheritaunce for the seruice/ whiche they do vnto me in the Tabernacle of witnesse/ỹ from henceforth/the chyldren of Israel come not nye the Tabernacle of witnesse/ to lade them selfes wt̄ synne/ and to dye: But the Leuites shal do the seruice in the Tabernacle of witnesse/ and shall beare theyr synne for a perpetual lawe amōge your posteritics. † And they shall inherite none inheritaunce amonge ỹ chyldren of Israel. For the tithes of the chyldren of Israel/ which they heaue vnto the Lord/haue I geuen vnto the Leuites for an herytage. Therfore haue I said vnto them / ỹ they shal inherit no inheritaunce amōg ỹ chyldrē of Israel.

And the Lorde talked with Moses / and sayd: Speake to ỹ Leuites/ & saye vnto them: Whan ye take of the chyldren of Israel the tythes/that I haue geuen you of them for your inheritaunce/ye shal take an heaue offeryng of thesame vnto the Lord/euen the tenth of ỹ tythe. And thesame/your heaueofferyng shall ye reken / as though ye gaue come out of the barne/and fulnesse out of the wynepresse.

Thus shal ye geue an heaueofferinge vnto the Lord of al your tythes / which ye take of the chyldren of Israel/ that ye maye geue thesame heaueofferinge of the Lord / vnto Aaron the priest. And al that ye geue of the tythes/and halowe vnto the Lord for a gifte/ thesame shalbe his of the best. And saye thou vnto them: Whan ye thus heaue vp the fat thereof/ it shalbe reken̄ed vnto the Leuites / as the increace of the barne / as the increace of the wynepresse. And ye maye eate it in al places / ye and youre chyldren: for it is your rewarde for your seruice/ in the Tabernacle of wytnesse: & ye shall not lade synne vpon you in thesame/ whan ye heaue the fat therof/and vnhalowe not the halowed thynges of the chyldren of Israel/and ye shall not dye.

The. XIX. Chapter.

And the Lord spake vnto Moses and Aaron/and sayd: This costume shalbe a lawe/whiche the Lord hath commaunded/ and sayd: Speake vnto the chyldren of Israel/ that they bryng vnto the a read kowe without spot/wherin is no blemishe / and vpon whome/ there came neuer yock: and ye shall geue her vnto Eleasar the priest/ † which shal brynge her without the hooste/and cause her to be slayn there before hym.

And Eleasar the priest shal take of her blonde with his synger/and sprenkle it seuen tymes/straygght towarde the dore of the Tabernacle of witnesse/ † and cause the kow to be burnt before him/both her skynne & her flesh/ and her blonde also with her donge. And the priest shal take Ceder wood/and Ysope/& purple woll/and cast it vpon the kow as she burneth/and he shal washe his clothes/ and bath his body with water / & then go into ỹ hooste/ and be vncleane vntyll the euen.

And he ỹ burnt her/shal wash his clothes also with water/and bath his body in water/ and be vncleane vntill the euen. And one that is cleane/shal gather vp ỹ † asshes of the kow/ and poure them without the hooste in a clean place/place/that they may be kept there for sprenklinge water/to the congregacion of the chyldren of Israel. For it is a synofferynge. And he that gathered vp the asshes of the kowe/ shal washe his clothes / be vncleane vntil the euen. This shalbe a perpetuall lawe vnto the chyldren of Israel/and to the straungers that dwell amonge you.

† Who so now touched a dead man/ shalbe vncleane seuen dayes: thesame shall puryfye him selfe here with/on the thyrd day and on ỹ seuenth day: and then shal he be cleane. And if he purifie not hym self on the thyrde daye/ and on the seuenth daye/ then shall he not be cleane. But whan any man toucheth a dead persone/and wyl not purifye hym selfe: he defyleth ỹ dwellynge of the Lorde / and thesame soule shalbe roted out of Israel/ because ỹ sprenklyng water is not sprenkled vpō him/ & he is vncleane / as longe as he letteth not him self be pourged therof.

This is ỹ lawe. Whā a man dyeth in ỹ tēte/ whosoeuer goeth into ỹ tent/& al ỹ is in ỹ tēt shalbe vncleane seuen dayes: And euery open vessel that hath no lyd nor coueringe / is vncleane. And whosoeuer toucheth one that is slayne wt̄ the sweard vpon the felde/or any other dead/or a dead mās bone/ or a graue/the same is vncleane seuen dayes.

So now for the vncleane persone/they shal take of the asshes of this burnt synoffering / & put springyng water theron into a vessel/and a cleane man shal take † ysope/& dippe it in the water/and sprenkle it vpon the tente/& vpon al the vessels/and al the soules that are therin. Likewise also vpon him/ that hath touched a dead mās bone/or a slayne persone/or a dead body/or a graue.

And he that is cleane/shal sprenkle vpō the vncleane/the third daye/and ỹ seuenth daye/ and purifie hym on the seuenth daye. And he shal washe his clothes/& bath hym selfe with water/& so at euen he shalbe cleane.

But he that is vncleane/ and wil not purifie hym selfe/thesame soule shalbe roted out of the congregacion. For he hath defyled the Sanctuary of the Lorde/and is not sprenkled with sprenklynge water/therfore is he vncleane. And this shalbe a perpetual law vnto them. And he that sprenkleth wt̄ ỹ sprenklynge water/shal washe his clothes also. And whosoeuer toucheth ỹ sprenkling water/shalbe vncleane vntil the euen. † And whatsoeuer he toucheth/shalbe vncleane: & loke what soule he toucheth/ shalbe vncleane vntil the euen.

The. XX. Chapter.

And the children of Israel came with the whole congregacion into the wildernesse of Sin/† in the first moneth: * and the people abode at Cades. And there dyed Miriam / & was buryed there. And from thence they came to the welle. This is the well/wherof the Lorde spake vnto Moses: Gather the people together/I wil geue thẽ water. Then sange Israel this song/ & they sange one after another ouer the welle: This is the welle/that the princes digged: the nobles amonge the people haue dygged it thorow the teacher and theyr staues.

And from this wilderneſſe they went vnto Mathana/and from Mathana vnto Nahaliel/and from Nahaliel to Bamoth/& from Bamoth vnto the valley that lyeth in ỹ felde of Moab/at the toppe of Pisga/ and turneth towarde the wilderneſſe.

And Israel sent messaungers vnto Sihõ/

S †Howbeit / Sihon wolde not geue the j.a Israel smote hym with the edge of the swe-

e †For the borders of the chyldren of Ammon were stronge. So Israel toke these cyties/ and dwelt in all the cyties of the Ammonites/ namely at Hesbon/ and in the tounes belongyng therto. For Hesbon/the citie was Sihons the kinge of the Ammonites/and he had foughten before with the kynge of the Moabites/and conquered all his lande from him/ vntyl Arnon.

Wherfore it is sayd in the prouerbe: Come vnto Hesbon/let vs buylde/and prepare the cytie of Sihon. For there is a fyre gone out of Hesbon/and a flamme from the cytie of Sihon/which hath consumed Ar of the Moabites/and the cyteſyns of ỹ toppe of Arnũ. Wo vnto the Moab: thou people of Camos art vndone. His sonnes are put to flyght/& his E doughters brought captyue vnto Sihon/the kynge of the Ammonites. Their glory is come to nought from Hesbon vnto Sibon: wayſted are they vnto Nopha / whiche reacheth vnto Medeba. Thus dwelt Israel in the lãde of the Ammonites.

And Moses sent out spyes vnto Jahesar/ and they toke the townes / belongynge therto / and conquered the Ammonites that were therin. † And they turned / and wente Deut.iij.&
vp the waye toward Basan. Then Og the and xxix.b

And ỹ Lorde sayd vnto Moses: Feare hym not/for I haue geuen him with his lande / and people into thy hande / and thou shalt do with hym as thou dyddest with Sihon/the kyng of ỹ Ammonites/which dwelt in Hesbon. And they smote him/and his sonnes/ an all his people (so that there remayned none) and conquered the lande. Afterward went the chyldren of Israel/& pitched in ỹ felde of Moab/beyonde Jordane by Jericho.

The.XXII. Chapter.

N And † whan Balac the sonne of Ziphor/ A
Jos.xxiiij.b saw all that Israell had done vnto the Ammonites / and that the Moabites were sore afraied of the people (that was so great/) and that the Moabites stode in feare of the chyldren of Israel/he sayd vnto the elders of the Madianites: Now shall this people lycke vp all that is about vs/euen as an oxe lycketh vp the grasse in the felde. (And Balac the sonne of Ziphor/was kyng of the Moabites at that tyme.)

†And he sent out messaungers vnto *Ba- Nũ.xxiij.&
laam/the sonne of Beor/which was an inter- Deu.xxiij.a preter / (the same dwelte by the water of the *j.Pet.ij.c lande of the chyldren of his people) that they shoulde cal hym/and he caused to saye vnto hym: Beholde/there is come out of Egypte a people/which coureth the face of the earth/

and

and lyeth ouer agaynst me. Come now therfore/& curse me this people/for they are to mighty for me/if peraduenture I might be able to smite them/& to dryue them out of the lãde. For I wote/ẏ whome thou blessest/he is blessed:& whome thou curssest/he is cursed.

B And the elders of the Moabites wente out with ẏ elders of ẏ Madianites/& had the reward of the soythsayeng in theyr handes/& they came vnto Balaam/and tolde hym the wordes of Balac. And he sayd vnto thẽ: Tarye here al night/& I will bringe you worde agayne/euen as the Lorde shall saye vnto me. So ẏ princes of the Moabites abode wt Balaam.

And God came vnto Balaam/and sayd: What men are these/which are with the? Balaam sayd vnto God: Balac the sonne of Zipho:/the kynge of ẏ Moabites hath sent vnto me: Behold/there is a people come out of Egipt/and coureth the face of ẏ earth: Come now therfore/and curse me them/if peraduẽture I may be able to fight with them/and to dryue them out. But God sayd vnto Balaã: Go not with thẽ/and curse not that people/for they are blessed.

C Then rose Balaam vp in the mornyng/& sayd vnto the princes of Balac: Get you vnto your lande/for the Lorde wyl not suffre me to go with you.

And ẏ princes of the Moabites gat them vp/came to Balac/and said: Balaam refuseth to come with vs. Then sent Balac yet a greater cõpany of princes/and more honorable thẽ they. Whã they came to Balaam/they tolde hym: Balac the sõne of Zipho:/sendeth ẏ this worde: Oh/refuse not to come vnto me/for I wil promote ẏ vnto hye honoure/and wyl do whatsoeuer ẏ sayest vnto me. Come I praye the/curse me this people.

Balaam aunswered/and sayd vnto ẏ seruauntes of Balac: †If Balac wolde geue me Nũ. xxiiij.c his house ful of syluer and golde/yet coulde I not go beyonde the worde of the Lorde my God/to do litle or great. Neuertheless/tarye here this night/that I may wete/what the Lord wyll saye more vnto me. Then came God to Balaam by night/& sayd vnto hym: If ẏ mẽ are come to cal ẏ/get ẏ vp thẽ/& go wt thẽ: But what I shal say vnto ẏ/ẏ shalt ẏ do.

Then rose Balaã vp in the mornynge/and D sadled his asse/& wente with ẏ princes of the Moabites. But the wrath of God waxed whote/because he wente. And ẏ aungel of the Lorde stode in the waye/to withstande him. But he rode vpon his asse/& two seruauntes wt him. And the asse saw ẏ aungel of ẏ Lorde standinge in ẏ waye/& his swcard drawen in his hande. And ẏ asse turned asyde out of the waye/& went into the felde. But Balaã smote her/that she shoulde go in the waye.

Then stode the aungel of the Lorde in the path by ẏ vyneyardes/where there were walles on both ẏ sydes. And whã the asse sawe ẏ aungel of ẏ Lorde/she wrecched vnto ẏ walle/& thrust Balaãs foote vnto the walle. And he smote her agayne. Then wente ẏ aungell of ẏ Lorde farther/and stode in a narrowe place/where there was no waye to turne/neyther to the right hande/nor to ẏ lefte. And whan the asse saw the aungel of ẏ Lorde/she fel doune vnder Balaam. Then was Balaams wrath furious/& smote the asse with a staffe.

Then opened the Lorde the mouth of the E asse/and she sayd vnto Balaam: What haue I done vnto the/ẏ thou hast smitten me now thre tymes? Balaam sayd vnto the asse: Because thou hast mocked me/Oh/that I had a swcarde now in my hande/I wold kyl the. The asse said vnto Balaam: Am I not thyne asse/which thou hast rydden vpon in thy time vnto this daye? Was I euer wonte to do so vnto the? He sayd: No.

Then opened the Lorde the eyes of Balaam/that he sawe the aungel of ẏ Lorde standinge in the waye/and a drawen sweard in his hande. And he enclined him selfe/and bowed doune with his face. And ẏ aungel of ẏ Lorde said vnto hym: Wherfore hast thou smittẽ thyne asse now thre times? Beholde/I am come out to resiste the/for thy waie is froward/& contrary vnto me. And ẏ asse sawe me/& auoyded fro me thre tymes: or els/if she had not turned asyde fro me/I had slayne ẏ/& saued the asse alyue.

Then sayde Balaam vnto the aungel of ẏ F Lorde: I haue synned/for I wyste not that thou stodest in the waye agaynste me. And now/if it displease the/I wyl turne agayne. The aungel of the Lorde sayd vnto him: Go with with the men: But thou shalt speake nothinge els/then that I shal saye vnto the. So Balaam wente forth with the princes of Balac. Whan Balac herde that Balaam came/he went out to mete hym (in the cytye of the Moabites/that lyeth in the coast of Arnon/which is on the vttermost border) and sayd vnto him: Syd not I sende for the to cal the? Wherfore camest not thou then vnto me? Thynkest thou that I am not able to promote the vnto honoure? Balaam aunswered him: Lo/I am come vnto the. †But how can I Nũ. xxiij.c say any thynge els/then that God putteth in my mouth/that I must speake?

So Balaam went with Balac/and they came vnto a cytie on the vttermoste border of his lande. And Balac slewe oxen/and shepe/and sent for Balaam/and for the princes that were with hym.

The. XXIII. Chapter.

A And in the mornynge/Balac toke Balaã/and they wente vp to the hye place of Baal/that from thence/he myght se vnto the vttermost parte of the people. And Balaam sayd vnto Balac: Buylde me here seuen aultares/and prouyde me here seuen bullockes/& seuen rammes. Balac dyd as Balaam sayd. And both Balac and Balaam offred/on euery aultare a bullock and a ramme. And Balaam sayd vnto Balac: Stande thou by thy burntofferynge/I wyl go/if haply ẏ Lorde wyl mete me/and cal me/that I may tell the/whatsoeuer he sheweth me. And he went his waye as he sayd.

And the Lorde mete Balaam. And Balaam sayd vnto hym: Seuen aultares haue I prepared/and offered on euery aultare a bullocke/and a ramme. The Lorde put ẏ worde in Balaams mouth/and sayd: Go agayne vnto Balac/and saye on thys wyse. And whã he came agayne vnto him/behold/he stode by his burntofferyng/with all the princes of the Moabites.

B Then toke he vp his parable/and sayd: †Ba Num. xxiij.a lac the kynge of the Moabites/hath caused to fet me out of Siria/from the mountaynes towarde the east/(and sayd): Come/curse me Jacob/Come/defye my Israel. How shall I curse hym/whome God curseth not? How shal I defye hym/whom the Lorde defyeth not? For from the toppe of the stony rockes I se hym/and from the hylles/I beholde hym. Beholde/the people shal dwel by them selfes/and shal not be rekened amonge the Heythẽ. Who can tell the dust of Jacob/& the numbre of the fourth parte of Israel? My soule dye the death of the ryghteous/and my ende be as the ende of these.

Then sayd Balac vnto Balaam: What C doest thou vnto me? I caused to fet the for to curse myne enemyes/& beholde/thou blessest them. He aunswered and sayd: †Must I not Num. xxiij.f kepe and speake/that which the Lorde putteth in to my mouth? Balac sayd vnto hym: Come with me yet vnto another place: from whence thou mayest se the vttermost parte of them/and not se them al/and curse me them there.

And he toke hym vp to a fre place/euen vnto the toppe of Pisga/and builded seuen aultares/and offered on euery aultare a bullocke and a ramme. And he sayde vnto Balac: Stande so by the burntoffering/whyle I go yonder. And the Lorde mete Balaam/and put the worde in his mouth/and sayde: Go agayne vnto Balac/& saye on this wyse. And whan he came to hym agayne/beholde/he stode by his burntofferinge with the princes of the Moabites. And Balac sayd vnto him: What hath the Lorde sayd?

And he toke vp his parable/and sayde: Ryse vp Balac and heare/marke my testimony with thyne eares/thou sõne of Zipho:. †God is not a man that he shoulde lye/nor a ẏ Cor. j.c mans chylde that any thynge shoulde repẽte and f. b hym. Shoulde he saye/and not do? Shoulde he speake/and not make it good? Beholde/I am brought hither to blesse/I blesse/and can not go backe therfro. There is no weeryneſſe sene in Jacob/neyther any labour in Israel. The Lorde his God is with him/and the kynges trompet is amõge them. †God hath D brought them out of Egypte/his strenght Nũ. xxiiij.b is as an vnicorne. For there is no sorcerye in Jacob/and no soythsayer in Israel. Whan ẏ tyme commeth/it shalbe saide vnto Jacob/& to Israel/what God doth. Beholde/the people shall ryse vp as a lyonesse/and heaue vp hym selfe as a lyon. He shal not lye doune/tyl he eate of the praye/and drynke the bloude of her

the slayne.

Then sayde Balac vnto Balaam: Thou shalt neyther curse hym nor blesse hym. Balaã aunswered / and sayde vnto Balac: Haue I not tolde the: All that the Lorde speaketh that must I do? Balac sayde vnto him: Oh come/I wyl bringe the to another place/ if it maye happly please God / that thou mayest curse them there. And he brought him vp to the toppe of moũt Peor:/that boweth toward the wylderneſſe.

And Balaam sayde vnto Balac. Buyld me here seuen aultares/ and prouyde me seuẽ bullockes/and seuen rammes. Balac dyd as Balaam sayde/and offred on enery aultare a bullocke/and a ramme.

The.XXIIII.Chapter.

A NOw whan Balaam sawe that it pleased the Lorde / that he shoulde blesse Israel/he wente not (as he dyd before) to seke witches/but set his face straight towarde the wylderneſſe/lyfte vp his eyes/ & sawe Israel/ Nu.xxiij.e †how they laye/accordinge to theyr trybes/ & *Nu.xxiij.c the spirete of God came vpon him / * and he toke vp his parable/& sayde: Thus sayeth Balaam/the sonne of Beor: Thus sayeth the mã/ whose eyes are opened: Thus saieth he/which heareth the wordes of God / which sawe the visyon of ỹ almightye: which fel doune / & his eyes were opened.

How goodly are thy †tentes/O Jacob / & Jere.xxx.c thy habitacions/O Israel: Euen as ỹ frode valeyes/as the gardens by the water side / as the tentes/ which the Lorde hath planted/& as the Cedertrees vpon the water. Then was Balac furious in wrath against Balaam/and smote his hãdes together / and sayde vnto hym: I haue called the / that thou shouldest curse myne enemies/& behold/thou haste blessed thẽ now thre tymes: & now get ỹ hence to thy place: I thought that I wolde promote ỹ vnto honoure/but the Lord hath kepte the backe from that worshippe.

Balaam aunswered hym: Tolde not I the C messaungers (whome thou sendest vnto me) & sayd: † If Balac wolde geue me his house Num.xxij full of syluer and golde / yet coulde I not go beyonde the worde of the Lorde/ to do eyther euel or good/after mine owne herte: But what the Lorde speaketh/that must I speake also/ And now behold/for so much as I go to my people/come therfore/I wyll shewe the/what this people shall do vnto thy people after this tyme.

† And he toke vp his parable / and sayd: Nũ.xxiij Thus sayeth Balaã the sonne of Beor: Thus sayeth the man/whose eyes are opened: Thus sayeth he/which heareth the wordes of God/ and that hath the knowlege of the hyest/ euen he that sawe the visyon of the almyghtye/and fell doune/and his eyes were opened: I shall se hym / But not now: I shall beholde hym/ But not nye at hand. The.XXX.Chapter.

AND Moses spake vnto the rulers of the A trybe of the chyldren of Israell & say: This is it that the Lorde hath commaunded. † If Deu.xxiij any man make a vowe vnto the Lorde / or sweare an ooth/so that he bynde his soule/ he shall not breake his worde/but he shall do all that is proceded out of his mouth.

If a damsel make a vowe vnto the Lord/and bynd her selfe/whyle she is in her fathers house/and vnmaried/and her vowe or bonde that she maketh ouer her soule / commeth to her fathers eares/& he holde his peace therto:
then al her vowes and boundes that she hath bounde her selfe withall ouer her soule / shall stande in effect. But if her father forbid her thesame daye that he heareth it / then shall no vowe nor bonde / that she hath bounde her selfe wital ouer her soule/be of value. And the Lord shalbe merciful vnto her / for so much as her father forbad her.

If she haue an husbande/and hath a vowe B
vpon her/or if she haue lettē go out of her lyppes a bonde ouer her soule / and her husbāde heare it/an holdeth his peace therat / thesame daye that he heareth it:then her vowe and bonde / wherwith she had bounde her selfe ouer her soule/shal stande in effect. But if her husband forbid her thesame day/ that he heareth it:then is ỹ vowe louse ỹ she hath vpon her/and the bonde also / that she hath lettē go out of her lippes/ouer her soule/& the Lorde shalbe gracious vnto her.

The vowe of a wydowe/ and of her that is deuorced/all that she byndeth her selfe withall ouer her soule/shal stande in effecte vpon her.

If she vowe in her husbandes house/or C
bynde her selfe with an ooth ouer her soule/&
her husbande hear it/& holde his peace therto
and forbiddeth it not: then shal all thesame vowe / and all that she hath bounde her selfe withall ouer her soule/stande in effect. But if her husbande will disanul it / thesame daye ỹ
he heareth it:then is it of no value/that is proceaded out of her lippes/which she hath vowed or boūde ouer her soule:for her husbande hath made it louse/and the Lorde shalbe gracious vnto her. And all vowes & oothes that bynd to humble the soule/maye her husbande stablishe or breake. Thus/if he holde his peace therto from one daye to another / then stablisheth stablisheth he al her vowes/& bōdes ỹ she hath vpon her/because he helde his peace / thesame daye that he herde them. But if he disanulle them/after that he hath herde them/then shall

he take awaye her misdede.

These are the statutes that ỹ Lorde commaūded Moses / betwene a man & his wyfe/& betwene the father & his doughter / whyle
she is yet a damsell in her fathers house.

The.XXXI.Chapter.

AND the Lorde spake vnto Moses / and

And they fought against the Madianites/

and theyr chyldren: all theyr cattell / all theyr

and all theyr cyties of theyr dwellinges / and the spoyles/and all that they coulde catch/men and cattel / and brought them vnto Moses good that was spoyled) into that hooste/ in the felde of ỹ Moabites/which lyeth besyde Jordane/ouer agaynst Jericho.

And Moses and Eleasar the priest / and v.iiij.c all the captaynes of the congregacion/ † went out of the hooste to mete them. And Moses was angrye at the officers of the hooste/ which were captaynes ouer thousandes and hūdredes/that came from the battayll / and sayde and those / whome ye haue taken prysoners.

And all the clothes/and all stuffe that is made of skynnes/and all maner furres/ & all vessels
of wood shall ye purifie.

And Eleasar the priest sayd vnto ỹ captay- D
nes of the hooste/that went out to the battayll:
This is the statute of the law/which ỹ Lorde
commaunded Moses: golde / syluer / brasse/yron/tynne/and leed/and al ỹ suffreth the fyre/shall ye cause to go thorowe the fire/and clense
it/that it maye be purified with ỹ sprynklinge water. As for all such as suffreth not the fyre/ye shall cause it to go thorowe the water / and shall washe your clothes vpō the seuenth daye/and then shall ye be cleane. After that shall ye come into the hooste.

And the Lorde spake vnto Moses/and sayd: † Take the summe of the spoyle of those Deut.xx.b
that are taken/both of the women and of cat- and. xxij.b
tell/thou and Eleasar the priest/and the chiefe Jos.viij.f
fathers of the congregaciō/and geue the halfe ij.Ma.viij.
vnto those that toke the warre vpon them/and c went out to the battayll/and the other halfe to the congregacion. And of the men of warre E that wente out to the battayl/thou shallt heue vnto the Lorde one soule of fyue hundreth/both of the women/oxen asses/and shepe. Of theyr halfe parte shalt thou take it/and geue it vnto Eleasar the priest for an heaueofferinge/vnto tht Lord. But of the chyldrē of Israels halfe part / thou shalt take one head of fyfty/both of the women/oxen/asses/and shepe/and of all the cattell/and shalt geue them vnto the Leuites / that wayte vpon the habitacion of the Lorde.

And Moses and Eleasar the priest did as the Lord cõmaunded Moses. And ỹ spoyle & praye/which the men of warre had spoyled/ was vj. hũdreth thousande/ & lxxv. thousande shepe / lxxij. thousande oxen / and lxj. thousande asses: and the women that had knowen no men/nor lyen with them/ were xxxij. thousande soules.

F And the halfe parte / which belonged vnto them/that went to the warre/was in numbre thre hundreth thousande / and xxxvij. thousande/and v. hundreth shepe: of the which the Lorde had vj. hundreth / and lxxv. shepe.
Item xxxvj. thousande oxen: wherof the Lorde had lxxij. Item xxx. thousande/and v. hundreth asses: wherof the Lorde had lxj. Item xvj. thousand soules of women: wherof the Lorde had xxxij. And Moses gaue this heaueofferinge of the Lorde vnto Eleasar the priest / as the Lord commaunded hym.

G As for the other halfe/ which Moses deuyded vnto the chyldren of Israel frõ the men of warre (namely the halfe that fell to the cõgregacion) it was also iij hundreth thousand and xxxvij. thousande/and v. hundreth shepe/ xxxvj. thousande oxen / xxx. thousande and v. hundreth asses / and xvj. thousande women soules. And of this halfe of the chyldren of Israel/ toke Moses one of euery fyftye / both of the cattell and of the women / and gaue them vnto the Leuites/that wayted vpon the habitacion of the Lorde/as the Lord commaunded Moses.

H And the captaynes/ouer the thousandes of the hoost / namely they that were ouer thousandes and ouer hundredes / came forth vnto Moses/and sayd vnto hym: Thy seruauntes haue taken ỹ summe of the men of warre/that were vnder oure hande/and there lacked not one: therfore bringe we a present vnto the Lorde/what euery one hath foũde of iewels/ of golde/cheynes/brachelettes/rynges/earynges / and taches/that our soules maye be reconcyled before the Lorde.

And Moses and Eleasar the priest toke of them the golde of al maner ornamentes. And all the golde of the heaueofferinge / that they heaued vnto the Lorde/was xvj. thousande/ and vij. hundreth/and l. sycles / of the captaynes ouer thousandes and hundredes. For loke what euery one had spoyled/ỹ was his owne. And Moses with Eleasar the priest / toke the golde of the captaynes ouer thousandes and hundredes/and brought it into the Tabernacles of witnesse / for a remembraunce of the chyldren of Israel/before the Lorde.

The. XXXII. Chapter.

THe chyldren of Ruben and the chyldren of Gad had an exceadinge great multitude of cattell / and sawe the lande of Jaeser and Gilead/that it was a mete place for cattell/and came and spake vnto Moses and to to Eleasar the priest/and to the captaynes of the congregacion: The lande of Atroth/Sibon/Jaesar/Nimra/Hesbon/Eleale/Seban/ Nebo/and Beon/which the Lorde smote before the congregacion of Israel/is a mete lãde for cattell/and thy seruauntes haue many cattell. And they sayd moreouer: If we haue founde fauour before the/ then geue thy seruauntes this lande in possession/and we will not go ouer Jordane.

Moses sayd vnto them: your brethren shall go to the warre/and will ye tary here? Wherfore turne ye the hertes of the chyldren of Israel/ that they shoulde not go ouer into the lande that the Lord shall geue them: †Thus did your fathers also / whan I sent them out from Cades Berneа/to spye out the land. And whan they were come vp to ỹ ryuer of Escol/ and sawe the lande/they turned the hertes of the chyldren of Israell/ so that they wold not go into the lande/ which the Lorde wolde haue geuen them.

And the Lorde was wroth at the same tyme/and sware/and sayd: †These men that are come out of Egipte / from twentye yeare olde and aboue/shall not se the lande/which I sware vnto Abraham/Isaac/and Jacob / because they haue not wholy folowed me: saue Caleb the sonne of Jephune / the Kenisite/ and Josua the sonne of Nun: for they haue wholy folowed the Lorde. So the Lorde was wroth with Israell / and let them wander in the wildernesse fourtye yeares/till all the generacion that had done euell before the Lorde

Lorde was consumed.

C And beholde/ye are rysen vp in your fathers steade/to increase the numbre of synfull men/and to augmẽt yet the wrath and indignacion of the Lorde against Israel. For if ye turne you backe from folowinge hym/he shal yet leaue them more in the wilderneſſe/and so shall ye destroye all this people.

Then stepte they to hym/and sayd: we will but buylde shepefoldes here for oure shepe & cattell/and cyties for our chyldren. As for our selfes/we will go ready armed before the chyldrẽ of Israel/ till we haue brought them vnto they: place: Our chyldren shall remayne in the fenced cyties/because of the indwellers of the lande. We will not turne home agayne/till the chyldren of Israell haue taken euery one his enheritaunce in possession: for we will not enheret with them beyonde Jordane/for oure inheritaunce shall fall vnto vs vpon this syde Jordane/Eastwarde.

D Moses sayd vnto them: †If ye wil do this that ye wil harnasse your selfes to the warre/ before the Lorde/then go ouer the Jordane before the Lord/whosoeuer is harnassed amonge you/tyll he haue dryuen out his enemyes before his face/& vntill the lande be subdued before the Lord/then shal ye returne/ & be vngiltye before the Lord/ & before Israel/ & so shal ye haue this lande in possession before the Lorde. But if ye will not do so/ beholde/ ye shal offend agaynst the Lorde/ & be sure/ that youre synne shall synde you out. Buylde cyties now therfore for you chyldrẽ/& shepefoldes/& stalles for your shepe & cattel/& do as ye haue spoken.

E The chyldren of Gad/& the chyldren of Ruben sayd vnto Moses: Thy seruauntes shall do as my Lord hath commaunded. Our chyldren/wyfes/substaunce / & all our cattell/ shalbe in the cyties of Gilead. But we/thy seruauntes will go all harnassed for the warre/ vnto battayll before the Lorde / as my lorde hath sayd.

Then Moses cõmaunded Eleasar ỹ priest/ & Josua the sonne of Nun/& the chiefe fathers of the trybes of ỹ chyldrẽ of Israel/& sayd vnto them: †If the chyldren of Gad/& the chyldren of Ruben/go ouer Jordane with you/all prepared to fight before the Lorde/ & whan the lande is subdued vnto you/ then geue them the lande of Gilead in possession. But if they go not ouer wt you in harnasse/ then shal they inherit with you in the lande of Canaan.

The chyldren of Gad/ and the chyldren of Ruben aunswered and sayd: As the Lorde hath spoken vnto thy seruauntes / so will we do: we will go harnassed before the Lorde/ into the lande of Canaan/and possesse our enheritaunce on this syde Jordane.

† So Moses gaue vnto the chyldren of Gad/and to the chyldren of Ruben / & to the halfe trybe of Manasse/the sonne of Joseph: the kyngdome of Sihon / kynge of the Ammorites/and the kyngdome of Og/ the kynge of Basan / the lande with the cyties therof/ in all the coastes of the countre round about. Then the chyldren of Gad buylded Sibon/ Ataroth/Aroer/Atroth/Sophan/Jaeser/and Jegabeha/Betnimra/ and Betharan/ stroge fenced cyties/and shepefoldes. The chyldren of Ruben buylded Hesbon/Eleale/Kiriathaim/Nebo Baal/Meon/ & turned the names/ and Sibamas/and gaue names vnto the cyties/which they buylded. And the chyldren of †Machir / the sonne of Manasse went vnto Gilead/and conquered it/and droue out the Ammorites that were therin. Then Moses gaue Gilead vnto Machir/the sonne of Manasse/and he dwelt therin. Jair the sonne of Manasse/ went and conquered the villages therof/ & called them Hauoth Jair. Nobath went/ and conquered Kenath/with the townes belongyng therto/& called it Nobath after his owne name.

The XXXVI. Chapter.

A Num.xxvij.d And the chiefe fathers of the kynred/of the chyldren of Gilead/the sonne of Machir (which was the sonne of Manasse/of the kynred of the children of Ioseph) came forth/and spake before Moses/and before the captaines amonge the chiefe fathers of the children of Israel/

Num.xxvj.f Israel/& sayde: Syr/the Lorde hath †commaunded/that ye shoulde geue ỹ land by lotte vnto the children of Israel to enherct. † And

Num.xxvij.a Iosu.xvij.a thou my lorde/haste cōmaunded thorowe the Lord/that the enheritaunce of oure brother Zelaphead shoulde be geuē vnto his doughters. Now/if any men/out of the tribes of Israel take them to wifes/then shal oure fathers enheritaunce be lesse: & as much as they haue/ shal come to the enheritaunce of ỹ tribe/that they come vnto. Thus shal the lotte of our enheritaunce be minisshed. So whan the yeare of Iubilie commeth vnto the children of Israel/ then shal their enheritaunce come to the enheritaūce of the tribe/where they are. Thus shal oure fathers enheritaunce be minisshed/ as much as they haue.

C Moses charged the childerē of Israel (accordinge to the commaundement of the Lord) and saide: The tribe of the children of Ioseph hath said righte. This is it ỹ the Lord commaunderh the doughters of Zelaphead/and sayeth: †Let them marie as they lyke best/onely that they marie in ỹ kinred of the trybe of their father/that the enheritaunce of ỹ childre of Israel sal not frō one tribe to another. For euery one/amonge the children of Israel shal cleue to the enheritaunce of the tribe of his father/and euery doughter that possesseth any enheritaunce amonge the tribes of Israel/ shalbe maried vnto one of the kinred of ỹ tribe

Leui.xxv.d Ier.xxxij.b Ruth.iiij.b of her father: †that euery one amonge the children of Israel maye enioye his fathers enheritaunce/and that ỹ enheritaūce fal not from one trybe to another/But that euery one maie cleue to his owne enheritaunce/amonge the trybes of the children of Israell.

D As the Lorde cōmaunded Moses/euē so dyd the doughters of Zelaphea/Mahela/ Thirza/Hagla/Milca & Noa. And were maryed vnto theyr fathers brothers sonnes/of ỹ kynred of the children of Manasse/the sonne of Ioseph. So their enheritaunce remayned in the trybe of the kynred of their father.

These are the commaundementes and lawes/which the Lorde commaūded by Moses/vnto the children of Israel/in the felde of ỹ Moabites by Iordā/ouer against Ieri cho.

¶ The ende of the fourth boke of Moses/called Numerus.

The fyfth boke of Moses called Deuteronomium.

The first Chapter.

A Moses reciteth the law. THese are the wordes that Moses spake vnto all Israell/on the other syde Iordan in the wildernes/ in the plaine felde toward the read see/betwene Paran/Tophel/Laban/Hazeroth/and Disahab/eleuen daies iourney frō Horeb/by the waye of mount Seir/vnto Cades Bernea. And it fortuned the fyrst daye of the eleuenth monethin the fourtyeth yeare/ ỹ Moses spake vnto ỹ childre of Israell/accordinge vnto al as the Lorde cōmaunded him/ †after he had smyttē Sihon/the kynge of the Num.xxi.d Ammorites/ỹ dwelt at Hesbō: & Og/ỹ kyng of Basan that dwelt at Astaroth & at Edrei.

On the other syde Iordane/in the lande of the Moabitas begāne Moses to declare this law/and saide: The Lorde our God spake vnto vs vpon mount Horeb/and sayd: † Ye Num.x.b haue bene longe ynough vpon this mountaine/turne you/and departe hence/that ye may come to the mountaines of the Ammorites/& to all theyr neighbours/in the feldes vpon mountaynes/and in the valleyes towarde the South/and towarde the see syde/ of the lande of Canaan: and to mount Libanus/euen vnto the greate water Euphrates. Then saide I vnto you at ỹ same tyme: *I *Ex.xviij.c am not able to beare you my selfe alone for the Lord: youre God hath increased you/so that this daye ye are as the starres of heauen in multitude (the Lorde God of youre fathers make you yet many thousande tymes mo/and blesse you/as he hath promised you) you? How can I alone beare such combraūce/ and charge/& stryfe amōge you? Prouide here men of wisedome/ and vnderstanding/ such as are know among your trybes/ them wyll set to be heades vnto you.

Then aunswered ye me: and sayde: It is a good thynge that thou sayest/ thou wylt do. Then toke I the heades of your trybes/ wyse and famous men/ and sette them ouer you to be heades ouer thousandes/ ouer hundreds/ ouer fyfty/ and ouer ten: and officers amonge youre trybes.

Joh. vij. b And I charged youre iudges at the same tyme/ and sayde: Heare your brethren/ † and iudge righteously betwene euery man and Then departed we from Horeb/ an walked thorow the whole wylderneſſe/ (whiche is greate & terrible as ye haue sene) by the waye to the mountaynes of the Ammonites/ as the Lorde oure God commaunded vs/ & came vnto Cades Bernea. B Now whan we were departed from oure brethren/ the chyldrē of Esau/ that dwelte vpō mount Seir/ by the waye of the felde frō Elath and Ezeon Gaber we turned vs/ and wente by the waye of the wilderneſſe of the Moabites. Then sayde the Lorde vnto me:

d † Thou shalt not vexe the Moabites/ nor prouoke them vnto battayll/ for I will not geue the of theyr lande to possesse. For Ar haue I geuen vnto the chyldren of Lot in possession. Gen. xix. a † The Emims dwelt there before time/ which were a greate stronge people/ and hye of stature/ as the Enakims: and were taken for giauntes/ lyke as the Enakims. And the Moabites called them Emims. † The Horites also Ge. xxxvj. d dwelt in Seir afore tyme/ and the chyldren of Esau droue thē out/ and destroyed them before them/ and dwelt in theyr steade: lyke as Israel dyd in the lande of his possession/ that the Lorde gaue them.

Get you vp now/ and go ouer the ryuer C
Sared/ and we went ouer. The tyme that we were goynge frō Cades Bernea/ tyl we came ouer the ryuer Sared/ was eyght and thyrty yeares: tyl al the men of warre were wayſted out of the hoost/ † as the Lorde sware vnto Nū. xiiij. e them. The hande of ỳ Lord also was against & xxvj. g them/ to destroy them out of the hoost/ til they were consumed.

And whan all the men of warre were consumed/ so that they were dead amonge the people/ the Lorde spake vnto me/ and said: This daye shalt thou go thorow the coast of the Moabites by Ar/ and shalt come nye vnto the chyldren of Ammō/ † whome thou shalt Judi. xj. f not vexe nor prouoke. For I wil not geue the of the lande of the chyldren of Ammon to possesse/ for I haue geuen it vnto the chyldren of Lot in possession. It was taken for a lande of giauntes also/ and giauntes dwelt therin afore tyme. And the Ammonites called them Samsumims/ which was a people that was great/ many/ and of hye stature/ as the Enakims.

And these/ the Lorde destroyed before thē/ D and let them possesse thesame/ so that they dwelt in theyr steade. † Lyke as he dyd with Ge. xxxvj. d
the chyldren of Esau/ which dwel vpon moūt Seir/ whan he destroyed the Horites before them: and let them possesse thesame/ so that they haue dwelt in their steade vnto this day. And the Caphthorims came out of Caphtor/ and destroyed the Auims (that dwelt at Hazarim euen vnto Gaza) and there dwelt they in theyr steade.

Get you vp now/ and departe/ and go ouer the ryuer Arnon. Behold/ I haue geuen Sihon the kyng of the Ammonites at Hesbō into into thy hande: go to and conquere/and provoke hym vnto battayl. This daye wyl I beginne/so ỹ al naeyons vnder al the heauē/shal feare and drede therin so much that whā they heare of the/ they shal tremble & quake for thy commynge.

E †Then sent I messaungers from the wyl-
Nū. xxj.c derneſſe of the East vnto Sihon/ the kynge Deut. xx.c at Hesbon/†with peaceable wordes/ & caused to saye vnto him: I wyl go but thorow thy lande/I wil go alonge by the hye way/I wil neyther turne to the right hande nor to the lefte. Thou shalt sell me meate for money/that I may eate: and water shalt thou sell me Nū. xx.c for money/that I maye drincke. Onely let me go thorow by fote/†as the chyldren of Esau (which dwelt at Seir) dyd vnto me/and the Moabites that dwelt at Ar: vntyll I be come ouer Iordane into the lāde/which the Lord
youre God shal geue vnto vs.

But Sihon/the kynge at Hesbon wold not let vs go by hym: for the Lord thy God hardened his minde/& made his herte tough/that he myght delyuer him into thy handes/
as it is come to passe this daye.

F And the Lorde sayd vnto me: Behold/
I haue begōne to delyuer Sihon with his lande before the: go to and conquere/and pos-
Num. xxj.d sesse his lande. † And Sihon came out with
Deu. xxix.b all his people to fighte against vs at Jahza.
But the Lord oure God delyuered him into our handes/so that we smote him with his chyldren and all his people.

Thē toke we all his cities at thesame tyme/and destroyed vtterly all ỹ cyties/men/womā and children/and let none remayne: saue the cattell/which we caught to oure selfes/ and ỹ spoyle of the cities that we wanne from Aro-er/which lyeth vpon the ryuer syde of Arnon/
and from the cytie on the ryuer vnto Gilead.
There was no citie that could defende it selfe
Num. xxj.c from vs: The Lord our God delyuered vs them all before vs. †But vnto the lāde of the children of Ammon thou camest not/nor to al that was on the ryuer Jabok/nor to the cities
vpon the mountaynes/nor vnto whatsoeuer
the Lord our God forbad vs.

The. III. Chapter.

A AND we turned vs/and went vp the way
Num. xxj.e vnto Basan. †And Og/the kynge of Ba-Deu. xxix.b san came out with all his people to fight against vs at Edrei. But the Lord sayde vnto me: Be not afrayed of hym/for I haue delyuered hym/and all his people with his lāde into thy hande/and thou shalt do with hym/
†as thou dyddest with Sihon/ kynge of the Deut.
Ammonites/which dwelt at Hesbon. Thus the Lord our God delyuered Og/the kyng of Basan into our handes also with all his people: so that we smote hym/ til there was nothynge lefte ouer vnto hym.

Then wanne we at thesame tyme al his cities/and there was not one cytie/that we toke not from hym/euē thre score cyties/the whole region of Argob/in the kyngdom of Og/ at Basan. All these cities were stronge with hie walles/gates/and barres/besyde many other vnwalled townes.

And we vtterly destroied them/as we did B
with Sihon the kynge at Hesbon. †All the Deu.
cities destroyed we vtterly/and the men/women/and children. But al the cattel and spoile of the cyties caught we for our selfes.

Thus toke we at thesame tyme the lande/out of the hande of the two kynges of ỹ Am-monites beyonde Iordane/from the ryuer of Arnon/vnto mount Hermon (which the Si-dons call Sirion/but the Ammonites call it Senir) all the cities vpon the playne/ and all Gilead/& al Basan vnto Salcha/and Edrei/
the cyties of the kyngdome of Og at Basan.
For onely Og/the kynge of Basan remayned ouer of the gyauntes. Beholde/his yron bed is here at Rabath/among the chyldrē of Ammon/nyne cubites longe/ and foure cubites broade/ after the cubite of a man.

This lande conquered we at thesame time
from Aroer/that lyeth on the ryuer of Arnō. Nū.
†And vnto the Rubenites and Gaddites/I Deu.
gaue halfe moūt Gilead with the cities ther- Jos.
of: But the remnaunt of Gilead/and al Basan
the kynge of Og/gaue I vnto the halfe trybe of Menasse. The whole regyon of Argob/with all Basan was called the gyauntes
lande.

Jair the sonne of Manasse toke all the re- C
gion of Argob/ vnto the coastes of Gessuri and Maachati/and Basan called he Hauoth Jair/ after his owne name/ vnto this daye:
But vnto Machir I gaue Gilead. And vnto
the

the Rubenites and Gaddites I gaue one parte of Gilead vnto the riuer of Arnon (at ỹ middes of the riuer is the border) and vnto
the ryuer Jabok/which is the border of the children of Ammon: the felde also/ & Jordane (which is the coast) from Cinereth vnto the see/in the felde/ namely the salt see/ vnder xxij.d mounte Pisga/Eastwarde.

†And I commaunded you at thesame tyme/and sayde: The Lorde your God hath geuen you this lande to take possession of it.
Go youre waye forth therfore/ harnassed before your brethren the chyldren of Israel/all ye that be mete for the warre. As for youre wy-ues/and chyldren/and cattel/(for I know that ye haue much cattel) let them remaine in your D cities/which I haue geuen you/vntyl ỹ Lorde youre God haue broughte youre brethren to reste also/as well as you/ that they also maye take possessyon of the lande/ which the Lorde youre God shall geue them beyonde Iordane: and then shal ye turne a-gayne to youre owne possessyon/ which I haue geuen you.

xxvij.d †And I warned Josua at thesame tyme/and sayde: Thyne eyes haue sene all that the Lorde youre God hath done vnto these two kynges: euen so shal the Lorde do also vnto all the kyngdomes/ whether thou goest/Feare them not/for the Lorde your God shal fight with you.

E And I besought the Lorde at thesame tyme/and sayde: O Lord Lorde/thou hast begonne to shewe thy seruaunt thy greatnes and thy myghtye hande. For where is there a God in heauen and earth/that can do after thy workes/& after thy power? O let me go/& se that good lande beyonde Iordane/ that goodly hye countre/& Libanus.

j.f †But the Lorde was angrye with me for
.c youre sakes/& wolde not heare me/ but sayde vnto me: Be content/ speake nomore to me of xxvij.c this matter. † Get the vp to the toppe of mount Pisga/ and lyfte vp thyne eyes to-warde the West/and toward the North/and towarde the South/and toward the East: & beholde it with thyne eyes/for thou shalt not go ouer this Iordane. And geue Josua his charge/and courage hym/& bolden hym/ for he shal go ouer Iordane before the people/ & †shal deuide vnto them the lande/ that thou Nū. xxxiij.c shalt se. *And so we abode in the valleye/ouer Josu. xiij.a agaynst the house of Peor. *Nū. xxv.a

And ye came nye/ and stode vnder the Blessed shalt thou be in the towne / & blessed

the one waye/and flye before the seuē wayes.

The Lord shall commaunde the blessyng thou takest in hande/and shal blesse the in the

of the Lord thy God: so that al nacions vpon earth shal se that thou art called after the name of the Lord / and they shalbe afrayed of you. And the Lord shall make the plenteous in goodes in the frute of thy wombe/ in the frute of thy cattell/ and in the frute of thy grounde/ in the lande that the Lorde sware vnto thy fathers to geue the.

Cursed shalbe the frute of thy body/ the frute of thy lande/ the frute of thyne oxē/ & the frute of thy shepe. Cursed shalt thou be whā thou goest in/ & cursed whā thou goest out. The Lord shal sende into the cōsumyng and complaynynge/ and cursynge in all that thou takest in hande to do / till he haue destroyed the / & shortly brought the to naught/ because of thy wicked inuencios/ in that thou hast forsaken me.

C The Lorde shall make the pestilence to byde longe with the / tyll he haue consumed the out of the lande/ into the which thou commest to possesse it. The Lord shall smyte the with swellynge/ scuers/ heate/ burnynge/ venyme/ drought and palenesse/ and shall persecute the/ tyll he haue destroyed the. †The heauen

The Lord shal cause the to be smytten before thyne enemyes. Thou shalt come out one waye agaynst them / and seuen wayes shalt thou flye before them: & shalt be scattered amonge all the kyngdomes vpon earth. Thy carcase shalbe meate vnto all maner fooles of the ayre / and to all the beastes vpon earth/ and there shalbe noman to fraye them awaye.

†The Lorde shal smyte the with the botches of Egipt/ with ỹ emorodes/ with scalle/ and maungynesse / that thou shalt not be healed therof. †The Lorde shall smyte the with madnesse/ and blindnes/ and dasyng of hert. Thy shepe shalbe geuen vnto thyne enemyes/ and noman shall helpe the. Thou shalt haue olyue trees in all thy coastes/ but shalt not be anoynted with the oyle: for thyne olyue trees shalbe roted out. Thou shalt get sonnes and doughters/ and yet not haue them: for they shalbe caried away captyue. All thy trees and frute of thy lande shalbe marred with blastynge.

The straūger that is with the/ shal clymme vp ouer the/ and be alway aboue the: but thou shalt come doune low/ & lye euer beneth. He shal lēde vnto ỹ/ but thou shalt not lende him. He shalbe before / but thou shalt be behynde.

E And all these curses shall come vpon the/ and folowe the/ and ouertake the/ till thou be destroyed / because thou harkenest not vnto the voyce of the Lorde thy God/ to kepe his commaundementes and ordinaunces/ which he hath commaunded the. Therfore shal there be tokens and wonders vpon the / and vpon thy sede for euer/ because thou hast not serued the Lord thy God/ with a ioyfull & a good herte whan thou haddest abundaunce of all thynges. And therfore shalt thou serue thyne enemye/ whiche the Lorde shall sende vpon the/ in hunger/ and thyrst / in nakednesse/ and nede of all thynge: and he shall put a yocke of yron vpon thy necke/ vntill he haue brought the to naught.

For I make not this couenaunt and this ooth with you only / but both with you that are here this daye/ and stande with vs before the Lorde oure God / & also with them that are not here with vs this daye. For ye knowe howe we haue dwelt in the lande of C Egypte/and how we came thorow the middes of the Heythen/whome ye passed by/and saw their abhominacions / and their Idols wood and stone/syluer and gold/whiche were with them. D So the posteritees of youre children/which shal rise vp after you/and the straungers that come out of farre contries / shall saye (when they se the plagues of this lande / and the diseases wherwith the Lorde hath smitten it) ỹ he hath brent vp al their lande with brimstone and salt/so that it can not be sowen/ nor is fruteful/neither groweth any grasse therin.

Therfore the wrath of the Lorde waxed whote ouer this lande / to bringe vpon it all the curses that are written in this boke. The XXXIII. Chapter.

A † This is the blessinge/wherwith Moses the man of God blessed the children of Israel before his death/and said: † The Lorde came from Sinai/* and rose vp vnto thē from Scir. At his right hande is there a lawe of fyre for thē: O how loued he ỹ people. † All his sayntes are in his hande: * they shall set them selues doune at thy fete/and receaue of thy wordes. Moses commaunded vs the lawe/which is the enheritaunce of the congregacion of Jacob. And he was in the fulnesse of the kinge/ and helde the rulers of the people together/ with the trybes of Israel.

Let Ruben lyue/and not dye/and his people be fewe in numbre.

This is the blessynge of Juda. And he sayde: Lorde heare the voyce of Juda/and bringe hym vnto his people: Let his handes multiplye/and let him be helped from his enemyes.

And vnto Leui he said: † Thy perfectnesse B and thy lyghte be accordinge vnto the man Mala. iij.b of thy mercy/*whome thou hast tempted at *Nū. xx.a Massa/whan ye stroue by the water of stryfe. † He that sayeth vnto his father/and to his Mat. xix.d mother: I se him not/and to his brother/I Luce. xiij.d knowe him not: and to his sonne/I wote not of him: those haue obserued thy wordes/and kepe thy conuenaunt: they shall teache Jacob thy iudgementes/and Israel thy lawe: they shall laye incense before thy nose/and burntofferinges vpon thine aultare. Lorde/blesse thou his power/and accept the workes of his handes: smite the loynes of them that ryse vp against him/and of them that hate him/that they lifte not vp them selues.

And to Ben Jamin he saide: The beloued of the Lorde shal dwel in hope on him: All ỹ daye longe shal he wayte vpon him/and shall dwel betwene his shoulders.

And to Joseph he saide: † His lande lyeth C in the blessinge of the Lorde/there are noble Josue xvj. frutes of heauen/of the dew/and of the depe and xvij. that lyeth beneth: There are noble frutes of ỹ increace of the Sunne/and noble rype frutes of the monethes: And of the toppes of the mountaines of olde/and of the hylles alwaie/ and of the noble frutes of the earth/and of the fulnesse therof. And vnto Zabulon he saide: Reioyce Za- D bulon of thy outgoynge: Reioyce thou Issachar of thy tentes. They shal cal the people vnto the hil/and there shal they offre the offeringes of rightcousnes. For they shal sucke the abunabundaunce of the see/and the treasures hyd in the sande.

And to Gad he saide: Blessinge haue Gad/ which maketh rowme. He dwelleth as a Lyō/ and spoyleth ỹ arme and the toppe of ỹ heade. And he sawe his beginning/that the heape of the teachers laye hydde there/and came with the rulers of the people/ & executed the ryghtousnesse of the Lorde/and his iudgement on Israell.

And to Dan he sayd: Dan a yonge Lyon he shal flewe from Basan.

And to Nephthaly he sayd: Nephtaly shal haue abundaunce of pleasure/and shalbe full of the blessynge of the Lorde: his possession shalbe towarde the West and South.

E And to Asser he sayd: Asser be blessed with sonnes/accepted be he vnto his brethren/ and dippe his fote in oyle. Yron an brasse be on his shues. Thyne age be as his youth.

There is no God as the God of the iust. He that sitteth vpō heauen/be thy helpe. And his glorye is in the cloudes/that is the dwellinge of God from the beginninge/and vnder ỹ armes of the worlde. And he shal driue out thine enemye before the/ and say: Be destroyed. †And Israel shal dwel safe alone. The.XXXIIII.Chapter.

A AND †Moses wente from the felde of the Num.xxvij.c Moabites/vp vnto mounte Nebo/ vpon ỹ Mac.ij.a the toppe of mount Pisga/ouer against Jericho. And the Lorde sayd vnto hym: This is ỹ lande that I sware vnto Abraham/ Isaac and Jacob/and sayd: I wil geue it vnto thy sede. Thou hast sene it with thine eyes/ Num.xx.b †but thou shalt not go ouer thither.

B So Moses the seruaūt of the Lord dyed there in the lande of the Moabites/according vnto the worde of the Lord. And he buried him in a valley/in the lande of the Moabites/ ouer against the house of Peor. And no man knewe of his graue vnto this daie. And Josua the sonne of Nun/ was fylled C with the spirete of wisedome/ for Moses Nu.xxvij had layed his hande vpon him/and the chyldren of Israel herckened vnto hym/ and dyd as the Lord commaunded Moses. And there arose no Prophete more in Israell lyke vnto Moses/whome the Lord knewe face to face in al tokēs & wōders (whiche ỹ Lord sent hym to do in the lande of Egypte/ vnto Pharao/& to all his seruauntes/ & his lande) & in al this myghtye hande/ & great visions/ whiche Moses dyd in the syght of al Israell.

The fyrst Chapter.

After the death of Moses/ A the seruaunte of ỹ Lord/ spake the Lord vnto Josua the sōne of Nun Moses † minister: My ser- Ex.xxxiij uaunt Moses is dead/vp now/& go ouer this Jordane/thou and all this people into the lande that I haue geuen the children of Israel. † All Deut.xj the places that ỹ soles of your fete shal treade vpon/haue I geuen vnto you. As I sayde vnto Moses: From the wildernesse and this Libanus/vnto the great water Euphrates: All the

There shal no man be able to ỹ stande ỹ al thy lyfe Josue.iij.d longe. †And lyke as I was ỹ Moses/ so wil De.xxxj.b I be with ỹ also. *I wil not faile the/ neyther Hebr.xiij.a forsake ỹ. Be stōge & bolde: for vnto this people shalt thou deuide the lāde/which I sware vnto they: fathers to geue it them.

B †Be stronge therfore and very bolde/ that Deu.xxxj.b thou mayest kepe and do euery thynge/accordinge to the lawe/ that Moses my seruaunt commaunded the. †Turne not aside from it/ Deut.v.d neyther to the right hande nor to the left/that Deu.xvij.d thou mayest deale wisely/whether soeuer thou goest. †And let not the boke of this lawe departe out of thy mouth/ but exercise thy selfe therin daie and night/th at thou mayest kepe/ and do euery thynge/ accordinge to it that is wrytten therin: Then shalt thou prospere in thy wayes and deale wisely. Lo/I haue cōmaunded the to be stronge and bolde. Feare not/ and be not afrayed: for the Lorde thy God is with the/ whersoeuer thou goest.

Then commannded Josua the officers of the people/and sayde: Go thorow the hoest/ and charge the people/and saye: Prepare you vitalles/ for ouer thre dayes shal ye go ouer this Jordane/that ye maye come in and take possession of the land/which the Lord youre God shal geue you.

C And to the Rubenites/ Gaddites/and to ỹ halfe trybe of Manasse/saide Josua: Thinke Deu.xxvij.d vpon the worde/†that Moses the seruaunt of the Lorde spake vnto you/ and saide: The Lorde your God hath brought you to rest/ and geuen you this lande. Let youre wyues/ & children/ and cattel remayne in the lande/that Moses gaue you on this syde Jordane: But ye youre selues (as many as be fyghtinge mē) shal go forth before youre brethrē in harnasse/ and helpe them/til the Lorde haue brought youre brethren to reste also as well as you: that they also maye take possessyon of the lande/ whiche the Lorde youre God shall geue them: Then shal ye turne agayne in to the lande of your possessyō that ye may enioye it/whiche Moses the seruaunt of the Lord hath geuen you on this syde Jordane/toward the East. And they aunswered Josua and sayde. †All that thou hast commaunded vs/ Sen.v.d wyll we do: and whethersoeuer thou sendest j.Mac.ij.d vs/we wil go thither. Like as we haue obeied Jere.xlij.a Moses/so wyl we be obedient also vnto the: Onely that the Lorde thy God be with the/ lyke as he was with Moses. Whosoeuer disobeyeth thy mouth/and herkeneth not vnto thy wordes in all that thou hast commaunded vs/ shall dye: Onely be thou stōge and bolde.

The.II.Chapter.

JOsua the sonne of Nun/ sente out two A spyes preuely from Setim/ and sayde vnto them: Go youre waye/ loke vpon the lande and Jericho. They went forth/ † and Hebr.xj.c came into the house of an harlot/ called Ra- Jaco.ij.c hab/and lay there. Then was it tolde ỹ kinge of Jericho: Lo/ther are mē come in this night from the children of Israel to spye the lande. Then sent the kynge of Jericho vnto Rahab/ sayenge: Deliuer the men forth that are come vnto the in to thy house/ for they are come to spye out ỹ whole lande. Now as for the two men/ the woman had hyd them/and sayde: There came men in vnto me in dede/ but I knewe not whence they were. And at ỹ shuttynge in of the gate whan it was darke/ they wente out/so that I can not tell whether they be gone: folowe sone after them/ for ye shall ouertake them. But she had caused them to clymme vp vnto the house toppe/ and hydde them vnder the stalkes of flaxe/ that she had prepared her vpon the toppe of the house. Howebeit/the men folowed after them in the waye towarde Jordane/euen vnto the fery: & whan they that folowed vpon thē were gone forth/the gate was shut.

And or euer the men layed them doune to B slepe/she wente vp to thē vnto ỹ house toppe/ and sayde vnto them: I knowe that ỹ Lord shal delyuer you the lande/ †for the feare of De.xxviij.c you is fallen vpon vs/and all the inhabiters Josue.v.c of the lāde are discouraged at youre cōminge. †For we haue herde how the Lorde dryed Exo.xiiij.c vp the water in the reade see before you/ whā Josue.ix.b ye departed out of Egypte: †and what ye *Nu.xxi.d dyd vnto the two kynges of the Ammonites/ Sihon and Og beyonde Jordan/how ye roted them out/and destroyed them. And sence we herde therof/oure hertes hath fayled vs/ neyther neyther is there a good stomacke more in any man/by the reason of youre cõmynge. For the Lord your God is both the God aboue in heauen/and beneth vpon earth.

C Sweare now then vnto me † euen by the Josue.vj.d death. The men sayd vnto her: † If we shewe not mercy and faythfulnesse vpon the/ whan the Lord geueth vs the lande: then let oure soules dye for you/so farre as thou betrayest

j.Reg.xix.c not oure deuice. † Then let she them doune
Actu.ix.d thorow ỹ windowe by a coarde: for her house was in the walle of the cytie/and in the walle was her dwellinge. And she sayd vnto them: Go your waye vp to the mõtaynes/lest/they mete you that folow vpõ you: and hyde your selfes there thre dayes/til they be come againe that folow after you: and then get you your way.

D But the men saide vnto her: As for this ooth that thou hast take of vs/we wyl be discharged of it whan we come in the lande/excepte thou knittest in the wyndowe the lyne of this rose coloured read rope (that thou hast letten vs doune withall) and gatherest vnto the into thy house/thy father/thy mother/ thy brethren/and al thy fathers house. And loke whosoeuer goeth out at the dore of thy house/ his bloude be vpon his owne heade/ & we be gyltlesse. But of all those that are in thy house/ if a hande be layed vpon them/ their bloude shalbe vpon oure owne heade. And if thou bewrayst any of this deuice of ours/ then will we be discharged of the ooth that thou hast taken of vs. She saide: Let it be so as ye saie/and she let them go. And they wente their waye. And she knitte the rosecoloured lyne in the windowe.

They wente on they: waye/and came to the mountaines/and remayned there thre dayes: tyl they that folowed vpon them were come agayne: for they sought them thorow euery strete/and yet they founde them not. So the two men turned againe/ and departed from the mountaines/ and passed ouer (Jordane) and came to Josua the sonne of Nun/ and tolde hym euery thynge/ as they had founde it/and they said vnto Josua: The Lord hath geuen vs all the lande into oure handes/ and al they that dwell in the lande/are sore afraied of vs.

The.III.Chapter.

A Nd Josua rose vp early/and they departed frõ Setim/ and came vnto Jordane/ he and all the children of Israel/ and remayned there al night afore they wente ouer. But after thre dayes wente the officers thorowe the hoost/and commaunded the people/ and sayde: Whan ye se the Arke of the conuenaunt of the Lord youre God/ and the priestes frõ amonge the Leuites bearinge it/ departe ye then out of youre place/and folow after/ (But so/that there be rowme betwene you and it/ By two thousand cubites/ and that ye come not nye it) that ye may know what way ye shoulde go: for ye neuer wente that waye afore.

B And Josua said vnto the people: † Halowe
Leui.xx.a youre selfes/ for to morowe shall the Lorde
Num.xi bringe wonderous thinges to passe amonge
j.Re.xxi you. And vnto the priestes he sayde: Beare ye the Arke of the conuenaunt/and go before the Num.x people. Then † bare they the Arke/ and wente before the people. And the Lorde saide vnto Josu.xxi Josua: † This daie wil I beginne to make thy greate in the syght of all Israel/ ỹ they maye knowe/howe that lyke as I was with Moses/so am I with ỹ also. And commaunde thou the priestes that beare the Arke/and say: Whan ye come before the water of Jordane/ stande styll.

C And Josua saide vnto the children of Israel: Come hither/and heare the worde of the Lorde youre God. He saide moreouer: By this shal ye perceaue/that the lyuinge God is amonge you/ and that he shall dryue out before you the Cananites/Hethites/ Heuithes/ Pherezites/Gergosites/Ammorites/and Jebusites. Beholde/the Arke of the conuenaunt of him that hath dominion ouer all landes/ shal go before you in Jordan. Take now therfore twelfe men out of the tribes of Israel/out of euery tribe one. And whan the soles of the fete of the priestes that beare the Arke of the Lorde/the gouernoure of all landes/ are set in in the water of Jordane/ then shall the water of Jordane withdrawe it selfe/from the water that floweth from aboue/ that it may stande on an heape.

D Now whan all the people departed out of iij.iiij.c they: tẽtes/to go ouer Jordan/ and the † priestes bare the Arke of conuenaunt before the people/ and came in Jordane/and dipte they: fete before in the water (as for Jordane on all his banckes it was full of all maner waters me rea of the est. cxiij.a & of the lande) † then the water that came doune from aboue/stode streight vp vpon one heape/very farre from the cytye of Adom/that lyeth on the syde of Zarthan: But the water that ranne doune to the see (euen to ỹ salt see) fell away/and vereaced.

l.xv.a † So the people wente thorowe ouer a-gaynst Jericho. And the priestes that bare the Arke of the Lordes conuenaunt/ stode drye in the myddes of Jordane/ ready prepared: and all Israel wente thorowe drye shode/ vntyll the whole people were all come ouer Jordane.

The.IIII.Chapter.

A Nd the Lorde sayde vnto Josua: Take xxvij.a ye twelfe men/out of euery trybe one/ and commaunde them/and say: † Take vp twelfe stones out of Jordane/ from the place where the fete of the priestes stode in they: araye: and carye them with you/that ye maye leaue them in the lodgynge/ where ye shal lodge this nyght. Then Josua called twelfe men/ which were prepared of the children of Israel/out of euery trybe one/ & sayde vnto them: Go youre waye ouer before the Arke of the Lord your God/in the myddes of Jordane/ & take euery man a stone vpon his shoulder/ after the numbre of the trybes of the children of Israel/ that they maye be a token amonge you. And whan youre children axe they: fathers hereafter and say: What do these stones there? That ye maye then saye vnto them/ how that the water of Jordane cloue in sunder before the Arke of the Lordes conuenaunt/ whan it wente thorow Jordane/and that these stones are set for a perpetual remembraunce vnto the children of Israell.

B Then dyd the children of Israel as Josua commaunded them/ and bare twelfe stones out of the myddes of Jordane (as the Lord hath sayde vnto Josua) † accordyng to the numbre of the trybes of the children of Israel/ and brought the same with thẽ in to the lodgyng/and left them there. And Josua sette vp twelfe stones in ỹ myddes of Jordane/ where the fete of the priestes stode that bare the Arke of the conuenaunt: and there they be yet vnto this daye. As for the priestes that bare ỹ Arke/ they stode in the myddes of Jordane/ vntyll all was perfourmed that the Lord charged Josua to say vnto the people/ † accordynge as Moses gaue Josua in cõmaundement. The people also made hayst/and wente ouer. Now whan all the people was gone ouer/the Arke of the Lorde wẽte ouer also/and the priestes wente before the people. iij.Re.xviij.d Deu.xxvij.a

NOw for Jericho it was shut/ and kepte/be- A cause of the chyldren of Israel/ so that no man myght go out nor in. But the Lorde sayd vnto Josua: Beholde/I haue geuen Jericho with the kynge and men of warre therof in to thy hande. Let al the man of warre go once rounde aboute the citie/and do so sixe dayes. But vpon the seuēth daye/let the priestes take the seuen trompettes of the yeare of Jubilye before the Arcke/and go the same seuenth daye/seuen tymes aboute the cytie/ & let the priestes blowe the trompettes. Then Josua/the sonne of Nun called the B priestes/and sayd vnto them: Beare ye ỹ Arcke of the conuenaūt/and let seuen priestes take the seuen trompettes of the yeare of Jubilye before the Arcke of the Lorde. But vnto the people he sayde: Get you hence/ and go roūde aboute the citie: and let him that is harnessed/ go before the Arcke of the Lord. Whan Josua

And al was full of the noyse of the trompettes. But Josua commaunded the people/ & sayd: Ye shall make no shoute/nor let youre voyce be herde/ neyther shall ye geue any worde out of youre mouth: vntyll the day that I saye vnto you: Make a shoute/then make a shoute.

C So the Arcke of the Lorde wente once rounde aboute the cytie/ and came agayn in to the hoost/and remayned therin: for Josua vsed to ryse vp early in the mornynge. And the priestes bare the Arcke of the Lord: so did the seuen priestes beare the seuen trompettes of the yeare of Jubilye/before the Arcke of the Lorde/and wente & blewe the trompettes: & who so was harnessed/went before thē/but the multitude folowed the Arcke of ỹ Lord. Deut.xx.c

So Josua sent them awaye / and they wente vnto the place of the preuye watche/ and laye betwixte Bethell and Hai / on the Weste side of Hai. But Josua abode that night amonge the people. And in the mornynge he arose early / and set the people in order / and wente vp with the Elders of Israel before the people towarde Hai: and all ỹ men of warre that were with hym wente vp/ and gat them forth / and came ouer agaynst the cytye / and pytched theyr tentes on the North side of Hai/ so that there was but a valley betwene hym and Hai.

C He had taken aboute a fyue thousande men/ & set them in the hinder watch betwene Bethell and Hai/ on the Weste syde of the cytie/ and they ordred the people of the whole hooste that was on the Northsyde of the cytie/ so that the vttermoste of the people reached vnto the West ende of the cytye. So Josua wente the same nyght in to the myddes of the valley.

But whan the kynge of Hai sawe that / he made haist/ and gat hym vp early / and ỹ men of the citie to mete Israel to the battaile/ with al his people/ euen ryght before the feld: for he wist not that there was a preuy watch behind hym/ on the backe syde of the cytie. But Josua and all Israel were feble before them/ and fled by the way to the wildernesse. Then cryed D al the people in the cytye/ that they shoulde folowe vpon them/ and they folowed after Josua / and rushed out of the cytye/ so that there remayned not one man in Hai and Beth.l/ which wente not out to folowe vpon Israel/ and they lefte the cytie standynge open/ that they myght persecute Israel.

Then sayd the Lorde vnto Josua: Reach out the speare that thou hast in thine hande towarde Hai: for I wyll delyuer it in to thy hande. And whā Josua reached out the speare that was in his hande towarde the cytie/ the hynder watch brake vp out of theyr place/ and ranne (whan he had stretched out his hande) and came in to the cytie and wanne it/ and made haist/ & set fyre vpon it. And the men of Hai turned them / and loked behynde them/ and the smoke of the cytie wente vp toward heauen/ & they had no place to flie vnto/ neyther hither nor thither: and the people that fled towarde the wildernesse/ turned about to folowe vpon them.

And whan Josua and al Israel sawe/ that E the hynder watch had wonne the cytie (for the smoke of the cytie ascended) they turned agayne / and smote the men of Hay. And they in the cytie came forth also agaynst them / so that they came in the myddes amonge Israel on both the sydes/ and they slewe them/ so that there was not one man of them lefte ouer or escaped: and they toke the kynge of Hai alyue/ & brought hym vnto Josua. And whan Israel had slayne all the inhabiters of Hai/ which had folowed vpon thē in the feld / and in the wylderneste: and whan they were all fallen thorowe the edge of the swearde/ til they were destroied/ thē turned al Israel vnto Hai/

& smote it with the edge of the swearde. And of all them which fel that day frō man vnto womā/there were xij. thousand/al mē of Hai.

F But Josua withdrew not his hāde (wherwith he reached out the speare) tyll al the inhabiters of Hai were vtterly destroyed/ † sauynge the cattell and the spoyle of the cytie/ dyd Israel parte amonge them selfes/ accordynge vnto the worde of the Lord/ whiche he commaunded Josua. And Josua burned vp Hai/ and made an heape therof for euer/ which is there yet vnto this daye. And the kyng of Hai caused he to be hanged on a tree vntyll the euen.

† But whan the Sunne was gone doune/ he cōmaunded to take his body from the tree/ & to cast it vnder the gate of the cytie/ & made vpon hym a great heape of stones/ whiche is there yet vnto this daye.

Then buylded Josua an aultare vnto the Lorde God of Israell vpon mount Eball/ † accordynge as Moses the seruaunt of the Lord commaunded the chyldren of Israell/ as it is wrytte in the boke of the lawe of Moses/ euen an aultare of whole stone/ wherupō there was no yron lyfted: & he offered burntofferynges/ and thankofferynges/ and there vpon the stone he wrote the seconde lawe of Moses/ whiche he wrote before the chyldrē of Israel.

And all Israell with theyr Elders and officers and iudges/ stode on both the sydes of the Arcke/ ryght ouer agaynst the priestes that bare the Arcke of the conuenaunt of the Lorde/ the straunger as well as one of them selfes/ yͤ one halfe besyde moūt Gisim/ and the other halfe besyde mount Eball/ † as Moses the seruaunt of the Lord commaunded afore/ to blesse the people of Israell. Afterwarde caused he to proclayme all the wordes of the lawe/ of the blessynge and cursynge/ as it is wrytten in the boke of the lawe. There was not one worde that Moses commaunded/ but Josua caused it to be proclaymed before all the congregacion of Israel/ and before the women/ and chyldren/ and straungers/ which walked amonge them.

The. IX. Chapter.

A NOw whan all the kynges that were beyonde Jordane vpō the mountaynes/ & in the contreies/ and in all the hauens of the great see/ and besyde mount Lybanus/ herde this (namely the Hethites/ and Ammonites/ Cananites/ Pheresites/ Heuites and Jebusites/) they gathered them selfes together with one accorde/ to fyght agaynst Josua/ and agaynst Israel.

† But whan the inhabiters of Gibeon herde/ what Josua had done with Jericho and Hai/ they dealth craftely/ wente on theyr waye/ and made a message/ and toke olde sackes vpon theyr asses/ and olde rente wyne bottels/ and olde mended shues vpon theyr fete/ and put on olde and pieced garmentes/ and al yͤ bread of theyr vittayles was hard & mould/ and they wente vnto Josua into the hoost at Gilgal/ and sayde vnto hym/ and to euery man in Israel: We are come out of a farre contre/ and therfore make now a conuenaunt with vs. Then sayd euery man in Israel vnto the Heuites: Paraduenture thou dwellest amonge vs/ how can I then make a conuenaunt with the.

They sayd vnto Josua: We are thy seruauntes. Josua sayd vnto them: What are ye/ and whence come ye? They sayd: Thy seruaūtes are come out of a farre contre/ because of yͤ name of the Lorde thy God/ † for we haue herde the report of hym/ and al that he dyd in Egipte/ and all that he did vnto the two kynges of the Ammonites beyonde Jordane/ Sihon the kynge of Hesbon/ and Og the kynge of Basan/ which dwelt at Astaroth. Therfore sayd our elders and inhabiters of oure cōtrie: Take with you for your iourney/ and go mete them/ saye vnto them: † We are your seruaūtes/ therfore make now a bonde with vs: This our bread that we toke out of oure houses for our foode/ was newe whan we toke our iourney to warde you: but now/ lo/ it is hard and moulded. And these bottels fylled we newe/ & lo/ they are rente. And these our clothes and shues are waxed old/ by the reason of the sore longe iourney.

Then the captaynes toke theyr vittayls/ and axed not the mouth of the Lorde.

† And Josua made peace with them/ and set vp a conuenaunt with them/ that they should be saued alyue/ and the rulers of the congregacion sware vnto them. But thre dayes after

ter that they had made & conuenaunt with them/ they herd that they were theyr neyghboures/ and dwelt amonge them: For as the chyldren of Israel wente forth on theyr iourney/ they came on yͤ thyrde day vnto theyr cyties/ which are called Gibeon/ Caphira/ Beeroth/ & Kirath/ Jearim/ and smote them not/ because that the rulers of the congregacion had sworne vnto thē by the name of yͤ Lord the God of Israel.

But whan al the congregacion murmured against the rulers/ al the rulers sayd vnto the whole congregacion: We haue sworne vnto them by the Lord the God of Israell/ therfore may we not touch them. But this wyll we do vnto them: Let them lyue/ yͤ there come no wrath vpon vs/ because of the oothe that we haue made vnto them.

G And the rulers sayde vnto them: Let them lyne/ that they maye be † hewers of wood/ and bearers of water for the whole congregacon/ as the rulers haue sayd vnto them. Then Josua called them/ and communed with them/ and sayd: Wherfore haue ye deceaued vs/ and sayd/ that ye were farre from vs/ where as ye dwell amonge vs? Therfore shal ye be cursed/ so that of you there shall not ceasse seruauntes to hew wood/ and to beare water for the house of my God.

They aunswered Josua and sayde: It was tolde thy seruauntes/ that the Lord thy God commaunded Moses his seruaunt/ that he shoulde geue you the whole lande/ and that he wolde destroye all the inhabiters of the lande before you: therefore were we sore afrayed of oure lyues before you: & thus haue we done. But now/ lo/ we are in thy handes: loke what thou thynkest good and ryght to do vnto vs/ that do.

And he dyd euen so vnto them/ and delyuered them frō the chyldren of Israels hande/ that they should not slaye them. So vpon the same daye/ Josua made thē hewers of wood/ and water bearers for the congregacion/ and for the aultare of the Lorde vnto this daye/ in the place that he shal chose.

Eccl. xlvj. a

Then the Sunne helde styl/and the Moone stode/vntyll the people had auenged them selfes on theyr enemyes. Is not this wrytten in the boke of the righteous? Thus the Sunne stode styll in the myddes of heauen/ and deferred to go doune for the space of a whole day after. And there was no day lyke vnto this/(neyther before nor after)whan the Lord herkened vnto the voyce of one man/ for the Lorde fought for Israel. And Josua wente agayne to Gilgal in to the tentes/ and al Israel with hym. As for the fyue kynges they wer fled/ and had hyd them selfes in the caue at Makeda.

D Then was it tolde Josua: We haue found the fyue kynges hydde in the caue at Makeda. Josua sayd: Rolle great stones thē before the hole of the caue/ and set men there to kepe them.

As for you/stande ye not styll/but folow after youre enemyes/& smyte them behynde/ and let them not come in theyr cyties/for the Lorde youre God hath delyuered them in to your hande. And whā Josua and the chyldren of Israel had ended ỹ sore greate slaughter vpon them/ so that they were brought to nought/the remnaunt of them came into the stronge cyties.

So al the people came agayne to the hoost vnto Josua to Makeda in peace/and no man durst moue his tunge agaynst the chyldren of Israell. Josua sayde: Open the mouth of the caue/and bringe the fyue kynges forth vnto me. They dyd so/and brought the kynges vnto hym out of the caue/the kynge of Jerusalem/the kynge of Hebrō/the kynge of Jarmuth/the kynge of Lachis/the kynge of Eglon.

Whā these fyue kynges were brought forth vnto hym/Josua called euery man of Israel/ and sayd vnto the rulers of the men of warre that went with hym: Come forth/and tread vpon the neckes of these kynges with youre fete. And they came forth/& trode vpon theyr neckes with theyr fete/ and Josua sayd vnto
E them: Be not afrayed/ & feare not: be stronge & bolde/for thus shall the Lorde do vnto all your enemyes/agaynst whom ye fyght.

And Josua smote them afterwarde/and Josu. x. c put them to death/ †and hanged them vpon fyue trees. And they hanged styl vpon ỹ trees vntill the euenynge. †But whan the Sunne Deut. xxi was gone doune/he cōmaunded to take them of frō the trees: & they caste them in the caue/ wherin they had hyd them selfes/& before the hole of the caue they layed great stones/which are there yet vnto this daye. The same daye wāne Josua Makeda also/and smote it with the edge of the sweard/and the kynge therof/ and † damned it/ and all the soules that were Deut. xx therin/and let none remayne escaped: and did u xx. c vnto the kynge of Makeda † as he dyd vnto Josu. vi
the kyng of Jericho.

Thē Josua and al Israel with him departed frō Makeda vnto Libna/and fought agaynst it. (And the Lord gaue it with the kyng therof in to the hande of Israel)& smote it/& al the soules that were therin with ỹ edge of the sweard/and let not one remayne in it/ & dyd vnto the kynge therof as he had done vnto the kynge of Jericho.

Afterwarde wente Josua and al Israel wt F hym from Libna vnto Lachis/and layed sege vnto it/and fought agaynst it. And the Lord delyuered Lachys also in to the hande of Israel/ so that they wanne it vpon the seconde daye/and smote it with ỹ edge of the sweard/ and al the soules that were therin/accordyng to al as he had done vnto Libna. At the same tyme Horam/ the kyng of Gozer went vp to helpe Lachis. But Josua smote hym with his people/tyll there remayned not one.

And Josua wente with all Israell from Lachis vnto Eglon/ and layed sege vnto it/ and fought agaynst it/and wanne it the same daye/& smote it with the edge of the sweard/ & damned al the soules that were therin the same daye/according vnto all as he had done vnto Lachis.

After that went Josua with al Israel from Eglon vnto Hebron/ and fought agaynst it/ & wanne it/and smote it with the edge of the swearde/and the kynge of it/and al the cyties therof/and al the soules that were therin/ and let not one remayne/according vnto al as he had done vnto Eglon/and damned it/and al the soules that were therin.

Then turned Josua agayne with all Is- G
racll towarde Debir/ and fought agaynst it/ and wanne it with the kynge of it/and al the cyties cyties therof/and smote them with the edge of the sweard/and damned all the soules that were therin/ and let not one remayn ouer. Euen as he had done vnto Hebron & Lybna & theyr kynges/so dyd he also vnto Debir/and the kynge therof.

Thus Josua smote all the lande vpon the mountaynes/and towarde the South/and in the lowe contries/and by the ryuers with al their kinges/and let not one remaine ouer/& damned al that had breth/ † as ỹ Lord God of Israel had cōmaunded. And Josua smote them from Cades Bernea vnto Gaza/ and al the lande of Gosen vnto Gibeon/and toke all these kynges with theyr lande at one time: for the Lorde God of Israel fought for Israel. And Josua wente agayne with al Israell to the tentes vnto Gilgal.

The. XI. Chapter.

A WHan Jabin ỹ kynge of Asor herde this/ he sent vnto Jabob the kynge of Madon/and to the kynge of Samron/and to the kynge of Achsaph/& to the kinges that dwelt towarde the North vpon the mountaynes/& in the playne on the South syde of Cineroth/ and in the lowe contries/and in the lordshippes of Dor by the see syde/and to the Cananites towarde the East and West/to the Ammorites/Herthites/Pheresites/ and Jebusites/vpon the mountaynes/and to the Heuites/vnder mounte Hermon/in the lande of Mispa These wente out wt all theyr armyes/ a great people/as many as the sand of the see/ and exceadinge many horses and charrettes. Al these kynges gathered them selfes & came/ and pitched together by the water of Merō/ to fyght with Israel.

B And the Lorde sayde vnto Josua: Feare them not/for to morowe aboute this tyme wyl I delyuer them all slayne/before the chyldren of Israell: thou shalt lame their horses/
u. x. b and burne theyr charrettes with fyre. † And Josua came sodenly vpon them/and all the men of warre with hym by the water of Merom/and fell vpon them. And ỹ Lorde delyuered them into the handes of Israel/& they smote them/and chaced them vnto great Sidon/and to the warme water/and to ỹ plaine of Mispa towarde the East: & smote thē/ vntil there remayned not one.

Then dealt Josua with them as the Lord had sayd vnto him/and lamed theyr horses/& brent theyr charrettes. And he turned backe at thesame tyme/and wanne Hasor/& smote the kynge of it wt the sweard/(for Hasor was afore tyme the heade cytye of al these kyngdomes)and smote al the soules that were therin with the edge of the sweard/and damned it/and let nothynge remayne that had breth/ & damned Hasor with fyre. Al the cities of these kyngdomes wanne Josua also/& smote them with ỹ edge of the sweard/and damned them/ † according as Moses the seruaunt of Deut. xx. c the Lorde commaunded.

Howbeit/the cities that stode vpon the hil- C les/did not the children of Israel burne with fyre: but Hasor only did Josua burne. † And Nu. xxxj. d al the spoyles of these cities/and the cattel dyd the children of Israel deale among them/but smote all the men with ỹ edge of the swearde/ tyll they had destroyed them/and let nothing remayne that had breth. As the Lord commaunded his seruaunt Moses/and as Moses commaunded Josua/euen so dyd Josua/ so that there was nothinge vndone of al that the Lord commaunded Moses.

So Josua toke all this lande vpon the mountaynes/and all that lyeth toward the South/and al the lande of Gosen/& the lowe contrie/and the playne felde/and the mountayne of Israell with the velley therof/from the mountayne that parteth the lande vp toward Seir vnto Baalgad/in the plaine of mount Libanus/beneth mount Hermon. All theyr kynges toke he/and smote them/& put them to death. † Howbeit/he warred a Ex. xxviij. d longe season with these kynges.

Yet was there not one cytie/that yelded it S selfe peaceably vnto the chyldren of Israell †(excepte the Heuithes/which dwelt at Gi- Jos. ix. & beon) But they wanne them all with battayl. x.
And this was done so of the Lord that their herte was so hardened/to come against the chyldren of Israel with battail/ ỹ they mighte be damned/and no fauoure to be shewed vnto them/but to be destroyed/ † as the Lorde Deut. xx. c commaunded Moses.

At thesame tyme came Josua/and roted out the Enakims from the mountayne/from Hebron/from Debir/from Anab/frō euery mountaine of Juda/& frō euery mountain of Israel/& dāned them wᵗ theyr cities/& let none of the Enakims remaine in the lande of the j.R.xvij.a children of Israel/saue at Gasa/†at Gath/at Asdod/there remayned of them.

Thus Josua conquered al the lande/accordinge vnto al as the Lorde said vnto Moses/and gaue it vnto Israel to enheritaunce/
Nu.xxvj.f †vnto euery trybe his porcion/& the lande rested from warre.

The.XVII.Chapter.

A ¶And the lot fell vpon the trybe of Manasse(for he is Josephs fyrst sonne) and Ge.xlviij.c it fell vpon Machir the fyrst sonne of Manasse the father of Gilead: for he was a man of armes/therfore had he Gilead and Basan.
Iit fell also vnto the other chyldren of Abieser/ the chyldren of Helek/the chyldren of Asriel/ ỹ chyldren of Sechem/ỹ childrē of Hepher/ and the chyldren of Semida. These are the chyldren of Manasse the sonne of Joseph/ males amonge theyr kynreddes.

Nu.xxvij.a †But Zelaphead the sonne of Hepher/the and xxxvj.a sonne of Gilead / the sonne of Machir / the sonne of Manasse had no sonnes / but doughters: and theyr names are these: Mahala/ Noa/Hagla/Milca/Tirza/and they came before Eleasar the priest / and before Josua the sonne of Nun/and before ỹ rulers/and sayde: The Lord commaunded Moses/to geue vs an enheritaunce amonge oure brethren. And so they had enheritaunce geuen them among their fathers brethren/accordinge to the commaundement of the Lorde.

B There fell vp on Manasse ten meetlynesse/ without the lande of Gilead & Basan/ which lyeth beyonde Jordane. For the doughters of Manasse receaued enheritaunce amonge his sonnes: but the other childrē of Manasse had the lande of Gilead. And the border of Manasse was from Asser forth vnto Michmethat/that lyeth before Sichem / and reacheth vnto ỹ right syde of them of EnTapuah: for the lande of Tapuah fel vnto the tribe of Manasse: and the border of Manasse is vnto the chyldren of Ephraim. Thē commeth it doune to Nahelcana towarde the South syde of the ryuer cities/whiche are Ephraims amonge the cyties of Manasse. But from the North is the border of Manasse by the ryuer/ and goeth forth by the see syde/ Southwarde vnto Ephraim/an to Manasse Northwarde/ and the see is his coaste. And it shal border on Asser from the North / and on Jsachar from the Easte.

†So (amonge Jsachar and Asser) Ma- C
nasse had BethSean and the tounes there- Judi.j.g
of/and Jeblaam and the tounes thereof/ and them of Dor and theyr tounes / and them of EnDor and theyr tounes / and them of Thanach and theyr tounes / and them of Mageddo & theyr tounes /and the thirde parte of (the cytye) Nophet. And the chyldren of Manasse coulde not dryue away the inhabiters of these cytyes/but the Cananites beganne to dwell in thesame lande. Howbeit/whan the chyldren of Jsraell were able/ they made the Cananites tributaries / and droue them not out.

Then spake the chyldren of Joseph vnto Josua/and sayd: Wherfore hast thou geuen me but one porcion/and one meetlyne of enheritaunce/& I am yet a great people/as ỹ Lord hath blessed me so largely? Then sayd Josua vnto them: For so muche as thou arte a greate people/go vp therfore into the wood/ & make thy selfe rowme there in the lande of the Pheresites and Raphaim/seinge mounte Ephraim is to narow for the.

Then sayd the chyldren of Joseph: We shal D not be able to attayne vnto thy mountaynes/ for there are yron charrettes among al the Cananites/that dwel in the lande of Emek / by whom lyeth BethSean/and ỹ villages therof/and Jsrael in Emek. Josua sayd vnto the house of Joseph/euen to Ephraim and Manasses: Thou art a great people/& for so much as thou art so great/thou must not haue one lot/But ỹ mountayne where ỹ wood is/shalbe thin: rote that out for the/so shal it be the outgoynge of thy porcion/whan thou driuest out the Cananites/which haue yron charrettes/ & are myghtye.

The.XVIII.Chapter.

¶And all the multitude of the chyldren of Jsrael gathered them sefes together vnto Silo/and they set vp the Tabernacle of witnesse/and the lande was subdued vnto them. But there were yet seuen trybes of the chyldren of Jsrael/vnto whom they had not deuided theyr enheritaunce. And Josua sayde vnto the chyldren of Jsrael: How longe are ye so slowe to go and conquere the lande/which the Lorde God of youre fathers hath geuē you:

you? Chose you thre men out of euery trybe / ỹ I may sende them/and that they may get thē vp/and go thorowe the lande/& it describe accordinge to the enheritaunces therof / & come vnto me.

Deuyde the lande in seuen partes. Judas shall remayne vpon his borders of the Southsyde: and the house of Joseph shall remayne vpon his borders of the North parte: but describe ye the lande in seuen partes/ and bringe them vnto me/then shal I cast the lot Josu.xiij.d for you before the Lorde our God/ †For the d xiiij.a Leuites haue no porcion amonge you/but the priesthode of the Lord is theyr enheritaūce. †As for Gad and Ruben/and the half trybe
f xij.b of Manasse / they haue receaued theyr enheritaunce beyonde Jordane Eastwarde / which Moses the seruaunt of the Lorde gaue them.

B Then the men gat vp to go theyr way: And whan they were aboute to go for to describe the lande/ Josua commaunded them/ and saide: Go youre waye/and walke thorow the lande/ and describe it / and come agayne vnto me/that I maye cast the lot for you before the Lord at Silo. So the mē departed/ and wente thorow the lande/and described it in seuen partes vpon a letter / accordynge to the cyties/and came to Josua into the hoost at Silo. Then Josua cast ỹ lot ouer them at Silo before the Lord/and there distributed the lande amonge the chyldren of Jsrael / vnto euery one his parte.

And the lot of the trybe of the chyldren of BenJamin fel/ accordinge to theyr kynreds/ and the border of their lot wente out betwene the chyldren of Juda/and the chyldren of Joseph. And their border was on ỹ Northquarter of Jordane/and goeth vp from ỹ Northsyde of Jericho/& cōmeth vp to ỹ mountayne Westwarde/and goeth out by ỹ wildernesse of Bethauen/and goeth from thence toward Lus/euen by the South syde of Lus (that is Bethel) and commeth doune vnto Ataroth-Adar by ỹ mountayne / whiche lyeth on the Southsyde of the lower Bethoron. Then boweth it doune/and fetched a compasse into ỹ Southwest quarter/from the mouṫ that lieth ouer againste Bethoron towarde the South/ and goeth out vnto KiriathBaal/that is Kiriath Jearim/a citye of the chyldren of Juda. This is the Westborder.

But the South Border is from Kiriath- C
Jearim forth/and goeth out toward ỹ West/ and commeth forth vnto the water welle of Nephthoah: and goeth doune by ỹ edge of the mount/that lyeth before the valleye of ỹ sonne of Hinnam: and goeth doune thorow ỹ valley of Hinnam/on the Southsyde of the Jebusites/& cōmeth doun to the welle of Rogel/ & stretcheth from ỹ Northward / & commeth out vnto EnSemes/and commeth forth to ỹ heapes that lye vp towarde Adumim/& cōmeth doune vnto the stone of Bohem ỹ sonne of Ruben/and goeth a longe besyde the plain felde/whiche lyeth Northwarde/and cōmeth doune vnto the playn felde/and goeth besyde BethHagla/that lyeth towarde the North/ & his ende is at the North border of the salt see/ vnto the edge of JordaneSouthwarde. This is the South border.

But Jordane shalbe the ende of the East- D quarter. This is the enheritaunce of ỹ childrē of BenJamin in theyr borders/ round about amonge theyr kynreds.

The cities of the trybe of ỹ childrē of Bē-Jamin/amonge their kynreds are these Jericho/ BethHagla / EmekKezit / BethAraba/ Zemaraim/Bethell/Auim/Kaphar/Aphra/ CapharAmonai / Aphni / Gaba: these are twelfe cities and their villages.

Gibeon/Rama/Beeroth/ Mispa / Caphira/Moza/Rekem/Jeerpeel / Thareala/Sela/ Eleph/and the Jebusites/that is Jerusalem/ Gibeath/Kiriath: These are fourtene cyties and theyr villages. This is the enheritaunce of the chyldren of BenJamin in their kynredes.

The.XIX.Chapter.

THen fel the seconde lot of the trybe of the A villages. And all the villages that lye aboute the cities vnto Balath/Beer Ramath toward the South. This is the enheritaunce of the tribe of the chyldren of Simeon/in their kynreds: for the enheritaunce of the children of Simeon/is vnder the porcion of the children of Juda. For so muche as the enheritaunce of the children of Juda was to great for them/ therfore inherited the children of Simeon amonge their enheritaunce.

The thirde lot fell vpon the children of Zabulon after theyr kynreds. And the border of they: enheritaunce was vnto Sarid/& goeth vp Westwarde to Mareala/ and bordereth vpon Sabaseth/and reacheth vnto the ryuer that floweth ouer against Jakneam: and turneth from Sarid Eastwarde vnto the border of Cisloth Thabor/and commeth out vnto Sabrath/and reacheth vp to Japia/and from thence goeth it Westwarde thorowe Githa Hepher/and Itha Kazim/and commeth out towarde Rimon/Hamahoar Hanea/& fetcheth a compasse aboute from ỹ North vnto
B Nathon/and the goynge out of it is in the valley Jephtah/El Katath/Nahalal/Simrō/ Jedeala/and Bethlehem: These are twelue cityes and theyr villages. This is the enheritaunce of the children of Zabulon in theyr kinreds/these are the cytics and villages.

The fourth lot fell vpon the chyldren of Issachar after their kynredes/and theyr border was Jesrael/Chessulloth/Sunen: Hapharaim/Sion/Anaharath/Raobith/Kision/Abez/Remeth/En Ganim/Enhada/Beth Pazez/and bordereth vpon Thabor/Sahazima/ Beth Semes/and the outgoynge of it was at Jordane. These are sixtene cities and theyr villages. This is the enheritaunce of the tribe of the children of Issachar in theyr kynreds/cityes and villages.

The fyfte lot fell vpon the trybe of the chyldren of Asser/after theyr kynreds. And theyr border was Helkath/Hali/Beten/Achsaph/ Alamelech/Amead/Miseall/and bordereth on Carmell vnto the see/and on Sihor/& Libnath/& turneth towarde the East vnto Beth Dagon/and bordereth on Zabulon/and on the valleye of Jephtael/and towarde ỹ North syde of Beth Emek and Negiel/and commeth out vnto Cabul/on the left syde of Ebron/Rehob/Hamon & Cana/vnto great Sidō. And C turneth towarde Rama/vnto the stronge cities of Tor/and turneth towarde Hossa/ and goeth out vnto ỹ see/after ỹ meetline towarde Achsib/Uma/Aphek/Rehob.

These are two and twentie cytics and their villages. This is the enheritaunce of the tribe of the children of Asser in theyr kynreds/ cyties and villages.

The sixt lot fell vpon the children of Nephtali in theyr kynredes. And theyr border was from Heleph Elon thorow Zaanaim/Adai Neked/Jabne El vnto Lakum/and goeth out vnto Jordane/and turneth Westwarde to Asnoth Thabor/and commeth out frō thence vnto Hukok/and bordereth on Zabulon towarde the South/and on Asser towarde the West: and on Juda by Jordane towarde the East: and hath stronge cyties/Zidimzer/Hammath Rakath/Chinnareth/Adama/Rama/ Hazor/Kedes/Edrei/En Hazor/Jereon/ Migdal/Elharen/Beth Anath/Beth Sames. These are the nyentene cities and theyr villages. This is the enheritaunce of the tribe of the children of Nephtali in theyr kynredes/ cities and villages.

The seuenth lot fell vpon the trybe of ỹ chil- D
dren of Dan after theyr kynreds/& the border of theyr enheritaunce was Zarca/Esthaol/Irsames/Saalabin/Aialon/Jethla/Elon/Thinata/Ekron Elthcke/Gibethon/Baalath/Jehud/Buerbarak/Gat Rimon/Me Jarkon/ Rakon with the border by Japho/and on the same goeth the border of the chyldren of Dan out. And the children of Dan wente vp/ and fought against Lesem/and wanne it/& smote it with the edge of the sweard/ and toke it in possession/and dwelt therin/ and called it †Dan/after the name of theyr father. This is Jud.xviij.
the enheritaunce of the trybe of the chyldren of Dan in theyr kynredes/ cyties and villages.

And whan the lande was all parted out vn the borders therof/the children of Israel gaue Josua the sonne of Nun/an enheritaunce amonge them/ and (accordinge to the commaundement of the Lorde) they gaue hym the cytie that he required/ namely Timnath/ †Serah/vpō mount Ephraim/there builded Jos.xix.

The. XX. Chapter.

A AND the Lorde spake vnto Josua/ and
d.xxj.b sayde: Speake to the chyldren of Israel:
e.xxj.c Geue amōg you fre cyties/ † wherof I spake vnto you by Moses/that the dead slaier which slayeth a soule vnwares and vnwyttyngly/ may flye thither/that they may be fre amonge you from the auenger of bloud. And he that flyeth to one of those cityes shall stāde without before ỹ porte of the cytie/and shewe his cause before the Elders of the cytie/ then shall they take him to them in to the cytie/and geue hym place to dwell with them.

B And yf the auenger of bloude folow vpon hym/ they shall not delyuer the dead slayer in to his handes/ for so much as he hath slayne his neyghboure vnwares/ and was not his enemye afore: but he shall dwell in the cytie/ tyll he stande before the congregacion in iudgement/ vntyll the hye priestе dye/ whiche shalbe at that tyme. Then shall the dead slayer returne/and go vnto his owne cytie/ and vnto his house to the cytie/from wence he was fled.

C Then appointed they Kedes in Galile vpō mount Nephtali: and Sechem vpon mount Ephraim: And Kiriatharba/that is Hebron vpon mounte Juda: And beyonde Jordane on ỹ Eastsyde of Jericho/they gaue Beser in the wilderneſſe vpon the playne out of ỹ trybe of Ruben: And Ramoth in Gilead out of the trybe of Gad: And Golan in Basan out of the trybe of Manasse.

These were the cityes appoynted for all the chyldren of Israell/ and for the straungers which dwelt amonge them/ that whosoeuer had slayne a soule vnwares/ mighte flye thether/ ỹ he shoulde not be put to death by the auenger of bloude/tyl he had stande before the congregacyon.

The. XXI. Chapter.

THen the chiefe fathers amonge the Leui A tes came forth vnto Eleasar the priest/& to Josua the sonne of Nun/ and to the auncyent fathers amonge the trybes of the chyldren of Israel/and spake vnto them at Silo/ in the lande of Canaan and sayd: †The Lord Nu.xxxv.a commaunded by Moses/ that we shoulde haue cyties geuen vs to dwell in/and the suburbes of the same for our cattell. Then the chyldren of Israel gaue of their enheritaunce these cities/and the suburbes therof vnto the Leuites/ accordynge to the commaundement of the Lorde.

And the lot fell vpon the kynred of †the Ka Nu.xxij.iiij.
hathithes/and the children of Aaron the priest amōge the Leuites/had by the lot thirtene cyties of the trybe of Juda/ of the trybe of Simeon/and of the trybe of Ben Jamin. The other chyldren of Kahath of the same kynred had by the lot tē cities/of ỹ trybe of Ephraim/ of the halfe trybe of Dan/and of the halfe trybe of Manasse.

But the chyldren of Gerson/of the same B kynred had by the lot thirtene cyties/ of the trybe of Issachar/ of the trybe of Asser/of the trybe of Nephtali/ and of the trybe of Manasse at Basan.

The children of Merari of theyr kinred had twelf cyties/of the trybe of Rubē/of the trybe of Gad/and of the trybe of Zabulon. So the chyldren of Israel gaue these cyties and theyr suburbes vnto the Leuites by lot/as ỹ Lord commaunded by Moses.

Of the trybe of the chyldren of Juda/and of trybe of the chyldren of Simeon/they gaue these cities (which they named by name) vnto the chyldren of Aaron of the kynrede of the Kahathites/amonge the chyldren of Leui: for the fyrst lot was theyrs.

So they gaue them Kiriatharba/ which was the fathers of Enak/that is Hebron vpon the mount Juda/and the suburbes therof rounde aboute. †But the felde of the cytie Jos.xiiij.d
and the villages therof/gaue they vnto Caleb j.Par.vij.d
the sonne of Iephune for his possession.

Thus gaue they vnto the chyldren of Aa- C
ron the priest/ the fre cytie of the dead slayers/ Hebron and the suburbes therof/ Libna and the suburbes therof/ Jathir and the suburbes therof/ Esthuma/ and the suburbes therof/

Holon and the suburbes therof / Debir and ỹ suburbes therof / Ain & the suburbes therof Juta and the suburbes therof / BethSemes and the suburbes therof / euen nyne cyties
of these two trybes.

But of the trybe of Ben Jamin they gaue
foure cyties/Gibeon and the suburbes ther-of/Gaba and the suburbes therof / Anathot
and the suburbes therof/Almon and the suburbes therof: so that all the cyties of the chyldren of Aaron the priest were thyrtene with theyr suburbes.

The kynredes of the other chyldren of Kahath the Leuites had by theyr lot foure cyties/of the trybe of Ephraim and they gaue them the fre cytie of the deadslayers/Sechem
and the suburbes therof vpon mou̅t Ephraim/Gaser and the suburbes therof/ Kibzaim and the suburbes therof/Bethoron & the suburbes therof.

D Of the trybe of Dan four cyties/Eltheke &
the suburbes therof/Gibthon and the subur-
bes therof/ Aialon and the suburbes therof/GathRimon and the suburbes therof. Of the halfe trybe of Manasse two cyties/ Thae-nach and the suburbes therof/ GathRimon
and the suburbes therof: so that all the cyties
of the other chyldren of the kynred of Kahath/
were ten with theyr suburbes.

But vnto the chyldren of Gerson amonge
the kynredes of the Leuites were geuen.
Of the halfe trybe of Manasse two cyties/
the fre cytie of the deadslayer/ Gola in Basan and the suburbes therof / Beasthra and the suburbes therof. Of the trybe of Jsachar foure cyties/Kision and the suburbes therof/Dabrach and the suburbes therof / Jarmuth and the suburbes therof/Engannim and the suburbes therof. Of the trybe of Asser foure cyties/Miseal/Abdon/ Helkath/ and Rehob with the suburbes therof. Of the trybe of Nephtali thre cyties/the fre cyte Kedes for the deadslayer in Galile/Hamoth/ Dor/ & Karthan with the suburbes therof: so that all cy-ties of the kynred of ỹ Gersonites were thyrtene with theyr suburbes.

E Vnto the kynredes of Merari the other Leuites were geuen/ Of the trybe of Zabulon foure cyties/ Jakneā/Bartham/Simna/and Nahalal with the suburbes therof. Of the trybe of Ruben foure cyties. Bezer/Jahza/Kedemoth and Nephaat with theyr suburbes. Of the trybe of Gad foure cyties/the fre cytie for the deadslayer / Ramoth in Gilead/Mahanaim/Hesbon/and Jaeser with theyr suburbes: so that al the cyties of the chyl dren of Merari amonge theyr kynreds of the other Leuites/were twelfe. Thus al the cyties of the Leuites amonge the possession of the chyldrē of Jsrael/were eyght and fourty with theyr suburbes. And these cyties were so dealt out/that euery one had theyr suburbes roūde aboute/the one as the other.

Thus the Lorde gaue the chyldren of Israel all the lande/whiche he had swome vnto theyr fathers to geue: & they toke possession of it/& dwelt therin. And the Lord gaue them rest before al those ỹ were aboute them/ lyke as he sware vnto theyr fathers / and none of theyr enemyes stode agaynst thē/but all theyr enemyes delyuered he in to theyr hande. And they myssed nothynge of al the good that the Lord had promysed vnto the house of Israel/it came euery whyt.

The. XXII. Chapter.

THen Josua called the Rubenites and A Gaddites/ and the halfe trybe of Manasbrought youre brethren to rest/ as he promy-sed them/turne you now/and go youre waye to your tentes in to the lande of youre possesgaue you beyonde Jordane.

But take diligent hede now/that ye do ac-which Moses the seruaūt of the Lord hath commaunded: † That ye loue the Lord your Deut.

God/& walke in al his wayes/& kepe his com B
maundementes/and cleue vnto hym/& serue
hym with al your hert/ & with al youre soule.
So Josua blessed them/& let them go. And they wente vnto theyr tentes.

Vnto the halfe trybe of Manasse had Mohalfe gaue Josua amonge theyr brethren on this syde Jordane Westwarde. And whan

he let them to go theyr tentes & blessed them/he sayde vnto them. Ye come agayne with great good vnto your tentes/with exceading much cattell/syluer/gold brasse/yron/and ray-ment/ † distribute therfore the spoyle of youre enemyes amonge your brethren.

So the Rubenites/Gaddites / & the halfe trybe of Manasse returned/and went frō the chyldren of Jsrael out of Silo (which lyeth in the lande of Canaan) to go in to the contrie of Gilead to ỹ lande of theyr possession/that they myght possesse it/accordynge to the cōmaun-

by Jordane on this syde ỹ chyldren of Jsrael/they gathered them selfes together with the whole cōgregacion at Silo/to go vp agaynst them with an armye. And (in the meane season) they sent to them in to the lande of Gilead/Phineas the sonne of Eleazar the priest/& with hym ten chiefe princes among ỹ houses of their fathers/out of euery tribe in Jsrael
one. And they came to the chyldren of Rubē/to the chyldren of Gad/& to the halfe trybe of Manasse in the lande of Gilead/and sayd:

D Thus sayth the whole congregacion of the Lorde vnto you: † What trespasse is this/that ye haue trespassed agaynst ỹ God of Is-

† Haue we not ynough of the wyckednesse are ye fallen awaye from the Lorde/ that he maye be wroth to daye or to morowe / at the whole congregacion of the Lorde.

If the lande of youre possessiō be vncleane/
then come ouer in to the lande that the Lord

Then aunswered the chyldren of Ruben/& E
the chyldren of Gad/& the halfe trybe of Ma-

of Jsrael: The myghtye God the Lord knotransgressynge of trespassynge agaynst the

we haue buylded ỹ aultare/because we wolde

let the Lord requyre it: And if we haue not done it rather for very feare of this thynge/ &
sayde: To daye or to morow myght youre chyl-

What haue ye to do with the Lorde the God of Jsrael? The Lord hath set Jordane for a border betwene vs and you/ ye chyldren of Ruben and Gad/ye haue no porcion in the Lord: By this shoulde youre chyldren make

And we sayd: But if they should speake so

God forbyd/that we shoulde fall awaye
from the Lorde/ to turne backe from hym

this daye/and to buylde an aultare for sacrifice for burntofferynge/ and for any present/ without the aultare of the Lorde oure God/ that standeth before this habitacion.

G But whan Phineas the preest/& the chiefe of the congregacion/the princes of Israell whiche were with him/ herde these wordes that the chyldren of Ruben/ Gad and Manasse had spoken/they pleased them well. And Phineas the sonne of Eleasar the preeste sayd vnto the chyldren of Ruben/ Gad and Manasse: This daye we knowe that the Lorde is among vs/in that ye haue not trespassed agaynst the Lord in this dede. Now haue ye delyuered the chyldren of Israell out of the hande of the Lord.

Then Phineas the sonne of Eleasar the priest/and the rulers returned out of the lāde of Gilead/from the chyldren of Ruben/ and Gad/vnto the lande of Canaan/to the chyldrē of Israel/and brought them worde agayn of the matter.

Then were the chyldren of Israell well content with the thynge. And they praysed the God of Israel/and sayd nomore that they wolde go vp against them with an armye/ to destroye the lande that the chyldren of Ruben and Gad dwelt in. And the chyldren of Ruben and Gad called the name of the aultare: This aultare be wytnesse betwene vs/that the Lord is God.

The. XXIII. Chapter.

A AND after a longe season/whan the Lord had brought Israell to rest from all theyr enemyes roūde aboute: and Josua was now olde/and well stycken in age/ he called al Israel and theyr Elders/ heades/ iudges/ and officers/and sayd vnto them: I am olde and well aged/and ye haue sene al that the Lord youre God hath done vnto al these nacyons in your syght. For the Lord youre God him selfe hath foughte for you. †Beholde/I haue parted amonge you the remnaunt of the nacyons by lot/vnto euery tribe his enheritaūce from Iordane forth/& al the nacyons whom I haue roted out vnto the great see Westwarde. B And the Lorde youre God shall thrust them out before you/ and dryue them awaye from you/that ye maye haue theyr lande in possession/ as the Lorde youre God hath promysed you. Be stronge now therfore ye maye obserue/and do al that is written in the boke of the lawe of Moses: †so that ye turne not a syde from it/ neyther to the right hande nor to the lefte: that ye come not amonge the remnaunt of these nacyons/ whiche are with you: And se ye make no menciō/ nor †sweare by the names of theyr goddes/ neyther serue them/ nor bowe your selfes vnto them: But cleue vnto the Lorde your God/as ye haue done vnto this daye: then shall ye Lord dryue awaye great and myghtye nacions before you/ like as there hath no man bene able to stande before you vnto this daye. †One of you shall chace a thousande: for ye Lord your God fyghteth for you/accordynge as he promysed you. Take diligent hede therfore vnto your soules/that ye loue ye Lord your God. Deut.xi. and vj.d Deut.x C Leui.xx Esa.xxx

†But if ye turne backe/ and cleue vnto these other nacions/& make marryages with them/so that ye come amonge them/and they amonge you/be ye sure then that the Lorde youre God shall nomore dryue out all these nacyons before you/ † but they shalbe vnto you a snare and net/ and pyckes in youre sydes/and thornes in your eyes/ vntyll he haue destroyed you from the good lande/which the Lord your God hath geuen you. Deut.vij. and xj.d Nū.xxxiij

Beholde/†this daye do I go the waye of al the worlde/and ye shal knowe euen from al your herte/and from all youre soule/that there hath not fayled one woorde of all the good ye the Lord your God promysed you. And the Lorde thrust out before vs all the people of the Ammonites that dwelt in the lande. Therfore wyll we also serue the Lorde/for he is our God.

Josua sayd vnto the people: Ye can not E serue ye Lord: for he is an holy God/myghtye and gelous/which spareth not your transgressions and synnes. But if ye forsake the Lord/and serue a straunge God/†then shal the Lord turne hym/ and do you euell/ and consume you/ after ye he hath done you good. Then put awaye frō you (sayd he) the straunge goddes that are amonge you/ and enclyne your hert vnto the Lorde the God of Israel. The.II.Chapter.

BVt there came a messaunger of ỹ Lord A from Gilgall vnto Bochim / and sayde: I haue caried you vp hether out of Egypte/ and brought you in to the lande that I sware vnto youre fathers/and sayde†: I wyll neuer Deut.vij.a

Then sayd I moreouer: I wyll not dryue them out before you / that they maye be a fall vnto you/ and they⁹ goddes a snare. And whan the messaunger of the Lorde had spoken these wordes vnto al the children of Israel/the people lyfte of they⁹ voyce/ and wept / and called the name of place Bochim / and offred there vnto the Lorde.

For whan Josua had sent away the people/and the chyldren of Israell were gone / e-uery one to his enheritaūce/ for to take possession of the lande/† the people serued the Lor- Jos.xxiiij.f
de as longe as Josua lyued and the Elders/ whiche lyued longe after Josua/and that saw al the greate workes of the Lorde/which he dyd for Israel.

†Nowe whan Josua the sonne of Nun/ B
the seruaunt of the Lord was dead (whan Jos.xxiiij.f he was an hundreth and ten yeare olde) they buryed hym in the border of his enheritaunce at Timnath Heres/vpon mont Ephraim/ on the Northsyde of mount Gaas. And whan all the same generacyon was gathered vnto they⁹ fathers / there came vp after them another generacyon/which knew not the Lord / nor the workes that he had done for Israell.

†Then wrought the chyldren of Israell Judic.iij.a euell before the Lorde/ and serued Baalim/ iiij.a.vj.a

and forsoke the Lorde the God of theyr fathers (which brought them out of the lāde of Egypte) & folowed other goddes/ & the goddes of the nacyons that dwelt rounde aboute them/ & worshypped them/ and displeased the Lorde: for they forsoke the Lorde euer more & more/ & serued Baal and Astaroth.

C Then the wrath of the Lorde waxed whote vpon Israel/ and he delyuered them in to the handes of those that spoyled them / that they myght spoyle them/ & solde them in to the hādes of theyr enemyes rounde aboute / & they were not able to withstande theyr enemyes any more/ but what waye soeuer they wolde out/ the hāde of the Lorde was against them to theyr hurte (euen as the Lorde sayde/ and sware vnto them) & they were sore oppressed.

Now whan ỹ Lorde rayse them vp iudges/ whiche helped them out of the hande of such as spoyled them/ they folewed not ỹ iudges nother/ but went a whorynge after other goddes/ & worshipped them / and were sone gone out of the waye that theyr fathers walked in/ to heare the commaundementes of the Lorde/ and did not as they did.

But whan the Lorde rayse vp iudges vnto them/ the Lorde was with the iudge/ and helped them out of the hande of theyr enemyes/ as longe as the iudge lyued. † For Exod. ij. d the Lorde had pitye of theyr complaynte/ which they made ouer those that subdued the/ and oppressed them.

D † Neuertheles̄e/ whan the iudge dyed/ they Judi. iij. b turned backe/ and marred al more then theyr fathers/ so that they folowed other goddes to serue them/ & to bowe themselfes vnto them: they wolde not fall from theyr purposes / nor from theyr obstinate waye.

Therefore waxed the wrath of the Lorde alway so whote ouer Israel/ that he sayde: For so much as the people haue transgressed my conuenaunt/ which I commaunded theyr fathers/ & folowe not my voyce/ I will frō henceforth dryue out none of the Heythē/ whom
Deu. viij. a Josua left behynde hym whan he dyed/ † that and xiij. a by them he maye proue Israell/ whether they will kepe ỹ waye of the Lorde/ to walke therin as theyr fathers dyd / or not. Thus the Lorde suffered al these nacions/ so that in a shorte tyme he droue them not out/ whome he had not genen ouer into Josuas hande.

The. III. Chapter.

THese are the nacyōs/ whome the Lord A suffered to remayne / that by them he myght proue Israel/ whiche had no vnderstandinge in the warres of Canaan/ onely because that the trybes of the chyldren of Israel myght know and learne to warre/ whiche afore had no knowleg therof/ namely: The fyue lordes of the Philistynes/ and all the Cananites/ and Sidonians/ and the Hethites that dwelt vpon mount Libanus/ fro moūt Baal-Hermon/ vntyll a man commeth vnto Hemarth. The same remayned that Israel myght be proued by them/ that it myght be knowen whether they wolde herken to the commaundementes of the Lorde/ whiche he cōmaunded theyr fathers by Moses.

Now whan the chyldren of Israell dwelt thus amonge the Cananites/ Hethites/ Ammonites/ Pheresites/ Heuites and Jebusytes/Deut. viij. † they toke theyr doughters to wyues / and and xiij. a gaue theyr doughters vnto theyr sonnes/ and

Then the wrath of the Lorde waxed whote ouer Israel/ and he solde them vnder the hāde of Cusan Risathaim / kynge of Mesopotamia/ & so the chyldren of Israel serued Cusan-Risathaim eight yeares.

Then cryed the chyldren of Israel vnto the B Lorde/ and the Lord rayse them vp a saueoure/ which delyuered them/ namely † Athniell the sonne of Kenas/ Calebs yongest brother/ and the spirite of the Lorde came vpon hym/ and he was iudge in Israel/ & wente out a warrefare. C And whan he had delyuered the present/ he let the people go that had caried the present/ & he hymselfe turned backe from the Idols at Gilgal / and caused to saye thus (vnto the kynge: I haue a secrete thinge to tell the O kynge. But Ehud put forth his left hande/ and toke the dagger from his ryghte thye/ & thrust it into his belly / so that the hefte went in also after the blade / and the fat closed the hefte: for he drue not the dagger out of his belly/ and the fylthynes departed from hym. But Ehud gat hym out at the backe dore / & put to the dore after him/ and locked it.

Now whan he was gone / his seruauntes came in/ and sawe that the dore of the somer parler was locked/ and they saide: peraduenture he is gone to the preuye in the syled somer parler.

D But whan they had wayted so longe tyll they were ashamed (for no man opened the parler dore) they toke the keye/ and opened it. Beholde/ then laye theyr lorde dead vpon the earth. Thus were the Moabites brought vnder the hande of the chyldren of Israel at that tyme/ and the lande was in reste foure score yeares.

roseth of the Heythen / and al Sisseras hoost fell thorowe the edge of the swearde / so that not one escaped. As for Sissera / he fled on fote vnto the tente of Jael / the wyfe of Heber
the Kenite. For there was peace betwene king Jabin at Hazor / and the house of Heber the Kenite.

Jsraell wente forth to mete Sissera / and sayde vnto him: Turne in my Lorde / turne into me / and be not afrayed. And he turned in vnto her into the tēte / and she couered him with a garment. He sayde vnto her: I praye the geue me a lytle water to drynke / for I am a thyrst.

Judi.v.d † Then opened she a mylkepot / and gaue hym to drinke / and couered hym. And he said vnto her: Stande in the tent dore / and if one come and axe / is there any man here? saye Noman.

Thē Jael the wife of Heber toke a nayle of the tente / and an hammer in her hande / and wente in preuely vnto him / and smote ỹ nayle in thorow the tēples of his heade / so that he sanke to the earth. As for him / he was fallen on a slomber / & weery / and so he dyed.

But whan Barak folowed after Sissera /
Jael wente for to mete hym / and sayde vnto
hym: Come hyther / I wyll shewe the ỹ man whome thou sekest. And whā he came in vnto her / he sawe Sissera dead / and the nayle stycking in his temples. Thus God brought doune Jabin the kynge of the Cananites / before the children of Jsrael at that tyme / and the hande of the chyldren of Jsrael wente / & subdued Jabin the kynge of the Cananites / tyll they had roted him out. Then Debbora & Barak the sonne of Abinoam / sange at thesame tyme and sayde.

The. VI Chapter.

ANd whan † the children of Jsrael dyd e- A uel in the sight of ỹ Lord / the Lord de- Jud.ij.d
lyuered them vnder the hande of the Madia- and iij.b
nites vij. yeares. And whan the hande of the j.Reg.xij.b Madianites was to mightye ouer the childrē of Jsrael / the children of Jsraell made them
clyffes in the mountaynes / caues and holdes /
to defende them selfes from the Madianites.
And whan Jsrael sowed any thinge / the Ma-dianites and Amalechites / and the childrē toward the East came vp vpon them / and pitched theyr tentes agaynst them / and destroyed
the encreace of the lande doune vnto Ga-sa / and let nothinge remayne ouer of the beastes in Jsrael / neyther shepe / nor oxen / nor assses. For they came vp with theyr cattell and tentes / as it had bene a greate multytude of gresshoppers (so ỹ neyther they / nor theyr camels myght be numbred) and fell into the lande that they myght destroye it. Thus was Jsrael exceadinge small before the Madianites.
Then cried the children of Jsrael vnto the Lorde.

But whan they cryed vnto the Lorde / B because of the Madianites / the Lorde sent them a prophete / why che sayde vnto them.
Thus sayeth the Lorde the God of Jsraell:
I caryed you out of Egypte / and broughte
you out of the house of bondage / and delyuered

uered you from the hande of the Egyptians/ and from the hande of al them that oppressed you/and I haue thrust them out before you/ and geuen you they: lande/ and sayde vnto iiij.R.xvij.g Jere.r.a you: I am the Lord youre God. † Feare not ye ỹ goddes of ỹ Ammonites/ in whose lande ye dwell: neuertheles/ye haue not herkened vnto my voyce.

And there came an aungel of the Lord/ & sat him doune vnder an Oke at Aphra/which belongeth vnto Joas/the father of the Esrites/and his sonne Gedeon was threshynge wheate in the barne/that he myght flye away before the Madianites.

C Then appeared vnto hym the aungell of ỹ Lorde/ and sayde vnto hym: The Lorde with the thou myghtye gyaunt. But Gedeon sayde vnto hym: Syr/if the Lord be with vs/wherfore is all this then happened vnto vs? And where are all the wonders which our fathers tolde vs/ and sayd: The Lorde brought vs out of Egypte? But now hath ỹ Lorde forsaken vs/and delyuered vs into ỹ hande of the Madianites.

The Lorde turned hym vnto him/& said: Go thy way in this thy strength/ thou shalt delyuer Israel out of the hande of the Madia-
j.Reg.xij.b nites: † I haue sent ỹ. But he said: My Lord where withall shall I delyuer Israel? Beholde/my kinrede is the smallest in Manasse/ and I am ỹ leest in my fathers house? The Lord sayde vnto him: I wil be with the/ so that thou shalt smite the Madianites/euen as though they were but one man.

D He sayde vnto hym: If I haue founde grace in thy syghte/then make me a token that it is thou/which speakest with me: go not awaye/tyll I come to the/and bringe a meat-offerynge to set before the. He sayde: I wyll tary tyll thou commest agayne.

And Gedeon wente/ and made ready a kydde/and an Epha of vnleuended floure/ & layed the flesshe in a maunde/and put ỹ broth in a pot/and broughte it forth vnto hym vnder the Oke/and came nye. But the aungel of Judi.xiij.d God sayde vnto hym: † Take the flesshe and the vnleueded bread/and set it vpō the stonye rocke that is here/ & poure the broth theron. And he dyd so. Then the aungel of ỹ Lorde stretched out the staffe that he had in his hād/ and with ỹ ende of it he touched the flesh and the vnleuended floure: † & the fyre came out of the rocke/and consumed the flesshe and the vn leuended floure. And the aūgel of the Lord vanisshed out of his sight. Gen.xv. j.Re.xviij

Now/whan Gedeon saw that it was an E aungel of the Lorde/he sayde: O Lorde Lord/† haue I thus sene an aungell of the Ex.xxxiij. Judi.xiij. Lorde face to face? The Lorde sayde vnto hym: Peace be with the/ feare not/ thou shalt not dye. Then Gedeon buylded an aultare there vnto the Lord/and called it: The Lorde of peace. Thesame standeth yet vnto this daye at Aphra/ that belōgeth vnto the father of the Esrites.

And in thesame nyght sayde the Lorde vnto hym: Take a fed bullocke from amonge thy fathers ore/ and another bullocke of seuē yeare olde/& breake doune ỹ aultare of Baall/ which is thy fathers/& cut doune the groue ỹ standeth by it/and buyld thou an aultare vnto the Lord thy God/aboue vpon the toppe of this rocke/and make it ready/ and take the other bullock/and offer a burntoffering with the wood of the groue that thou hast hewen doune. Then toke Gedeon ten men of his seruauntes/& did as the Lord sayde vnto him: but he was afrayed to do this by ỹ daye time for: his fathers house/and the people in ỹ citie/ and so he did it by night.

Now whan the people in the citie rose vp F early in the morninge. Beholde/Baals aultar was broken/ & the groue hewen doune by it/ and the other bullocke a burntofferinge vpon the aultare that was buylded/& one sayde vnto another: Who hath done this? And whan they sought and made searche/ it was sayde: Gedeon the sonne of Joas hath done it. The sayde the people of the citie vnto Joas: Bring forth thy sonne/ he must dye/ because he hath broken Baals aultare/and hewen doune the groue therby. But Joas sayde vnto all them that stode by him: Will ye stryue for Baal? Wil ye deliuer him? He that striueth for him/ shall dye this mornynge. If he be God/ let him auenge hym selfe/because his aultare is broken doune. From that daye forth was he called Jerubaall/ because it was sayde: Let Baal auenge him selfe/that his aultar is broken doune.

Whan

G Whan the Madianites now and the Amalechites/and the children toward ỹ South had gathered them selfes together/ and were passed thorowe/ (Jordane) and had pitched their tentes in the valley of Jesrael: that spirite of the Lorde endued Gedeon/and caused ỹ
Num.x.a † trompet to be blowen/and called (the house Jud.vj.d of) *Abieser that they shoulde folowe hym: &
Jud.viij.a he sent messaungers vnto al Manasse/& called them/that they should folow him also: and he sent messaungers lykewyse vnto Asser/ & Zabulon/ and Nephtali/ whiche came vp to mete him.

And Gedeon sayde vnto God: If thou wylt deliuer Israell thorow my hande/ as thou hast sayde/then wil I laye a flese of wolle in the courte: if the dew be onely vpon ỹ flese/ and drye vpon al the grounde/ then wyll I perceaue/that thou shalt delyuer Israel thorow my hāde/as thou hast sayd. And it came so to passe. And whan he rose vp early on the morow/he wrange the dew out of ỹ flese/and fylled a dysshe full of water. And Gedeon said
Ge.xviij.d vnto God: † Be not wroth at me/ ỹ I speake yet this one tyme. I wyll proue yet but once with the flese/ let it be drye onely vpon the flese/and dewe vpon all the grounde. And God dyd so thesame nyght: so that it was drye onely vpō the flese/and dew vpon all the grounde.

The.VII.Chapter.

A THen † Jerubaal (that is Gedeō) gat him
Judi.vj.f vp early/and al the people that was with him/and pitched they: tentes besyde the welle of Harod: so that he had the hooste of the Madianites on the Northsyde/behynde the hyl of More in the valley. But the Lord sayde vnto Gedeon: The people that are with the/ are to many for me to deliuer Madian into their hande/lest/ Israell boast them selfes agaynst me/and saye: My hande hath delyuered me. Cause a proclamacion now to be made in the Deut.xx.b eares of the people/and say: † He that feareth
Jmac.iij.g and is afrayed/ let hym turne back/ and get hym sone frō mount Gilead. Then returned there of the people aboute two and twenty thousande/ so that there was lefte but ten thousande.

B And the Lorde sayde vnto Gedeon. The people are yet to many: bringe them doune to the water/there wyl I proue them for the: and of whome I saye that he shal go with ỹ/ thesame shal go with the: But of whome I say that he shal not go with the/thesame shal not go And he brought the people vnto the water. And the Lord said vnto Gedeon: Whosoeuer lycketh of the water with his tunge/as a dog lycketh/make hym stande aside: and likewyse whosoeuer falleth doune vpon his knees to drynke. Then was the numbre of the that had licked out of the hande to the mouth/ thre hundreth men. And the Lord saide vnto Gedeon: Thorow the thre hundreth/which haue licked: wil I delyuer you/and geue ouer the Madianites into thy hande: As for the other people/let them go home euery one vnto his place.

And they toke vittayles with them for the C people/and they: trompettes: But the other Israelites let he go/euery one vnto his tente. And he strengthened hym selfe with the thre hundreth men: and the Madianites hooste laye before hym beneth in the valleye. And ỹ same nyght sayde the Lord vnto him: Vp/& go doune into the hooste/for I haue geuen thē ouer into thy hande. But if thou be afrayed to go doune/then let thy seruaūt Pura go doune to the vnto ỹ hooste/ ỹ thou mayest heare what they say: after that shalt thou be bold/and thy hande stronge/ that thou mayest go doune into the hooste.

Than wente Gedeon doune with his seruaunt/vnto the vttermoste parte of ỹ watchmen of armes that were in the hooste. And the Madianites and Amalechites/ and all the D childrē of the East/had layed them selfes beneth in the valley/as a multitude of greshoppers/and they: camels were not to be numbred for multitude/euen as the sand of the see shore. Now whan Gedeon came/behold/ one tolde another his dreame/and sayd: Behold/ I haue dreamed a dream: Me thought a beken barlye lofe came rollynge doune to the hooste of the Madianites: and whan it came to the tente/it smote it/and ouerthrewe it/ and turned it vpsyde doune/so that the tente fell. Then aunswered the other: That is nothynge els then the swearde of Gedeon/the sonne of Joas the Israelite: God hath geuen ouer ỹ Madianites & al ỹ hooste into his hād.

Whan

E Whan Gedeon herde this dreame told / & the interpretacion of it/ he worshipped / and came agayne into the hoost of Israel/ & sayde: Vp/ for the Lord hath delyuered the hoost of the Madianites into your hande. And he deuided the thre hundreth mē into thre partes/ and gaue euery one a trompet in his hande/ and emptye pitchers and lampes therin/ and Judic.vij.g sayde vnto them. †Loke vnto me / and do ye euen so/ and beholde/ whan I come to the vttermoost parte of ỹ hoost/ euen as I do / so do ye also. Whan I blowe the trompet / and all that are with me/ then shal ye blow the trompettes also rounde aboute all the hoost / and saye: Here the Lorde and Gedeon. Thus came Gedeon and the thre hundreth men wt hym vnto the vttermoost parte of the hoost (about the tyme whan the mydwatche begynneth) and waked vp the watchmen / & blewe with the trompettes/ and smote asunder the pitchers in theyr handes.

F So al the thre companies blewe with the trompettes/ and brake the pitchers. But the lampes helde they in theyr leste hande/ and ỹ trompettes in theyr right hande/ so that they blewe and cried: Here the sweard of ỹ Lord and Gedeō. And euery one stode in his place aboute ỹ hoost. Then ranne al the hooste/ and cryed and fled. And whyle the thre hundreth men blewe the trōpettes/ the Lord brought j.Reg.xiiij.c it so to passe/ that †euery mans sweard in al ỹ ij.Par.xx d hoost was against another/ & the hoost fledde vnto Bethsitha Zereratha/ and vnto the bor-G der of the playne of Mehohab beside Tabath. And the men of Israel of Nephtali/ of Asser/ and of Manasse cried/ and followed vpon the Madianites.

And Gedeon sent messaungers vp vnto all mount Ephraim/ sayinge: Come doune agaynst the Madianites/ and stoppe the water from them vnto Beth Bara and Jordan. And then cryed all they that were of Ephraim/ and stopped the water from them vnto Beth Bara and Jordane/ and toke two princes of the Madianites / Oreb and Zeb / and slewe Oreb vpon the rocke of Oreb/ and Zeb in the wynepresse of Zeb/ and followed vpon the Madianites/ and brought the heades of Oreb and Zeb/ and vnto Gedeon ouer Jordane.

The. VIII. Chapter.

AND the men of Ephraim saide vnto him: A Wherfore hast thou done this vnto vs/ Judi.xij.
that thou hast not called vs/ whan thou wentest forth to fyght agaynst the Madianites? and they chode sore with hym. But he sayde vnto them: What haue I done now that is lyke your acte? Is not the †aftergatheringe of Judi.viij.
Ephraim better then the whole harueste of Abi Ezer? God hath delyuered the princes of the Madianites Oreb and Zeb into youre hande/ how coulde I do that ye haue done? Whan he had sayd this/ theyr blast was swaged from him.

Now whan Gedeō came vnto Jordan/ he went ouer with the thre hundreth men ỹ were wt him / and they were weery/ & folowed vpon theyr chace. And he said vnto the men of B Suchoth: †I praye you geue ỹ people ỹ are j.Reg.xij.
with me/ some loaues of bread / (for they are and xxv.b
weery) that I may folowe vpō Zebea & Salmana/ the kynges of the Madianites.

But the rulers of Suchoth sayd: are the handes of Zebea and Salmana in thy hādes already/ ỹ we must geue bread vnto thy men of warre? Gedeon sayd: Wel/ When ỹ Lord delyuereth Zebea and Salmana into my hande/ I wil threshe your flesh with thornes of the wildernesse and with breares. And frō thence he went vp vnto Penuel/ and spake euen so vnto them. And the men of Penuel gaue him like aunswere as they of Suchoth. And he sayd also vnto the men of Penuel: If I come peaceably agayne/ I wil breake doune this tower.

As for Zebea and Salmana/ they were at C
Karkar/ and they: hoost wt thē vpon a fyftene thousande/ which were al that were left of the whole hoost of the chyldrē of the East: for there were fallen an hundreth and twenty thousande that coulde drawe the sweard.

And Gedeon went vp by the way / where they dwell in the tentes on ỹ Eastside of Nobah and Jakbeha/ and smote thē hoost/ for the hoost was carelesse/ and mystrusted nothing. And Zebea and Salmana fled / but he followed after them/ and toke the two kynges of the Madianites Zebea and Salmana / and put all the hoost in feare.

Now whan Gedeon the sonne of Joas came came agayne from the battayl/ out of ỹ East/ he toke a lad from the men of Suchoth / and examined hym/ which wrote him vp the names of the rulers of Sucoth/ & theyr elders/ euen thre score and seuentene men.

And he came to the men of Sucoth/ and D said: Beholde/ here is Zebea and Salmana/ concerning whom ye laughed me to scorne/ and said: Are the handes of Zebea and Salmana in thy handes already / that we must geue bread vnto thy men which are weery? And he toke the elders of the cytie / and thornes out of the wylderneſſe/ and breares / and caused the men of Sucoth to be torne therj.Re.xij.d with. †And the tower Penuel brake he doun/ and slewe the men of the cytye.

And he sayd vnto Zebea and Salmana: What maner of men were they/ whome ye slewe at Thabor? They sayd: They were euen lyke the/ and goodly men/ as if they had ben a kynges children. He sayd: They were my brethren/ euen my mothers sonnes: As truly as the Lorde lyueth/ if ye had letten them lyue/ I wolde not slaye you.

E And he said vnto his fyrstborne sonne Jether: Stande vp and slaye them. Howbeit/ the lad drue not out his sweard / for he was afrayed/ for so much as he was yet but a lad. Zebea and Salmana sayd: Stande thou vp/ and slaye vs/ for suche as the man is/ suche is also his strength. So Gedeō arose/ and slewe Zebea/ and Salmana/ and toke the ornamentes that were aboute theyr camels neckes.

Then said certayne in Israell vnto Gedeon: Be thou lord ouer vs/ thou and thy sonne/ and thy sonnes sonne / for so muche as thou hast delyuered vs from the hande of ỹ Madianites. Neuertheleſſe / Gedeon sayde vnto them: I wyll not be lorde ouer you / neyther shall my sonne be lorde ouer you/ but ỹ Lorde shalbe lorde ouer you.

F Gedeon sayd vnto them: One thynge I desyre of you. Euery man geue me ỹ earinge that he hath spoyled. (For in so much as the men were Ismaelites / they had earynges.) They sayde: Them wyll we geue the. And they spred out a cloth/ and euery man cast the earynge theron that he had spoyled. And the golden earynges which he required / had in weyght / a thousande and seuen hundreth sycles of golde / besyde the spanges / and cheynes/ scarlet rayment: which the kynges of the Madianites dyd weare/ and besyde the necbandes of theyr camels. And Gedeon made an Ephod therof/ and set it in his cytye at Aphra. And al Israel went there† a whoryng Gen.xxvj.b after it / & it turned to an occasyon of fallinge and xx.d vnto Gedeon and his house.

Thus were ỹ Madianites broughte doune G
before the children of Israel/ and lyfte vp theyr heade no more: & the lande was in rest fourtie yeares/ as longe as Gedeon lyued.

And Jerubaal the sonne of Joas wente & dwelte in his house. And Gedeon †had thre iiij.Re.x.a score and ten sonnes/ which were come out of his thye: for he had many wyfes. And his cōcubine which he had at Sichem / bare him a sonne also/ whome he called Abimelech. And Gedeon ỹ sonne of Joas dyed in a good age/ and was buried at Aphra / in the sepulcre of his father Joas/ the father of the Esrites.

But whan Gedeō was dead/ †the children Nu.xxv.a of Israel turned back/ & went a whoring after Baalim/ & made a conuenaūt wt Baal Berith/ that he shoulde be theyr God. And the childrē of Israel thought not on ỹ Lord their God/ which had deliuered them from the hande of theyr enemyes rounde aboute: and they shewed not mercy vnto ỹ house of Jerubaal Gedeon / accordinge to all the good that he had done vnto Israel.

The. IX. Chapter.

ABimelech the sonne of Jerubaal / wente A vnto Sichem to his mothers brethren/ and spake vnto them/ and to all the kynred of his mothers fathers house/ and sayd: I praye you speake in the eares of all ỹ mē at Sichem: What is better for you: that thre score and ten men / all chyldren of Jerubaal should be lordes ouer you/ or ỹ one man should be lorde ouer you. Remēbre also that I am your bone and your flesshe.

Then spake his mothers brethren all these wordes for hym / in the eares of all the men at Sichem. And theyr hert enclyned to Abimelech/ for they thought: He is oure brother: and gaue him thre score and ten syluerlinges out of the house of Baal Berith. And with them/ Abimelech hyred men that were vagabounde/ and of lyght condicions/ which folowed hym: And he came to his fathers childrē of Jerubaal/euen thre score men and ten vpon one stone. But Jotham the yongest sonne of Jerubaal remained ouer/for he was hyde. And all the men of Sichem/and all the house of Millo gathered them selfs together/and wente & made Abimelech kynge/by the Oke that standeth at Sichem.

B Whan this was tolde Jotham/he went and stode vpon the toppe of mount Grisim/
and lyft vp his voyce/cryed and sayd: Heare me ye men of Sichem/that God maye heare ij.Pa.xxv.c you also. †The trees wente to anoynte a king iiij.esd.iiijd ouer them/& sayd vnto ỹ Olyue tree: Be thou

Shal I go & leaue my fatnesse (which both God & men cōmende in me) & go to be puft

But the fygge tree sayd vnto them: Shall I leaue my sweteneſſe and my good frute/and go to be puft vp aboue the trees? Then sayd ỹ trees vnto the vyne: Come thou and be our kynge. But the vyne saide vnto them: Shall I leaue my swete wine/which reioyceth God and men/and go to be puft vp aboue ỹ trees?
Then sayd all the trees vnto the thorne Bush:
Come thou and be kynge ouer vs. And the thorne Bush said vnto the trees: If it be true/that ye anoynte me to be kynge ouer you/then come and put your trust vnder my shadowe.
If no/then go fyre out of the thorne Bushe/& consume the Ceder trees of Libanus.

C If ye haue done right now and iustly/ỹ ye haue made Abimelech to be kynge: and if ye haue done wel vnto Jerubaal & to his house/and haue done vnto him as he deserued vnto you: Whiche (euen my father) fought for your sakes/and ieoparded his lyfe/to delyuer you out of the Madianites hande/cuē you/which are rysen vp this daye against my fathers house/and haue slayne his children/thre score persones and ten vpon one stone/and haue made you a kynge (euen Abimelech the sonne of his handmayden) ouer the men of Sichē/
for so much as he is your brother.

If ye haue done right now and iustly to Jerubaal & his house this daye/then reioyce
ouer Abimelech/and let him reioyce ouer you.
If no/then go fyre from Abimelech/and consume the men of Sichem/and the house of Millo: And fyre go out also from the men of Sichem/& from the house of Millo/& cōsume Abimelech. And Jotham (whan he had spoken out this) fledde/& gat him out of ỹ waye/& wente vnto Ber/& dwelt there/because of his brother Abimelech.

D Now whan Abimelech had raygned thre yeare ouer Jsrael/†God sent an euel mynde Esa.xlv.a betwene Abimelech and the men of Sichem/for the men of Sichem despised Abimelech/& rehersed the wronge done to the sonnes of Je rubaal/and theyr bloude/and layed it vpon Abimelech theyr brother whiche slewe them/and vpon the men of Sichem that strēgthed his hande therto/that he myght slaye his brethren.

And the men of Sichē set an hinder watch
vpon the toppes of the mountaynes/& spoy-led al them that walked nye them by ỹ waye/and it was tolde Abimelech. But there came Gaal the sonne of Ebed and his brethren/& entred into Sichem/and the men of Sichem put theyr trust in him/and went out into the felde/and gathered theyr vyneyardes/and pressed them/and made a daunse/and wente
into theyr gods house/and dyd eat & drynke/
and cursed Abimelech.

E And Gaal the sonne of Ebed sayd: Who is Abimelech? and what is Sichem that we should serue hym? Is he not the sonne of Jerubaal/and hath set Sebul his seruaunt ouer
the men of †Hemor the father of Sichem?
ge.xxxiij.c Wherfore should we serue him? Wold God
the people were vnder my hande/ỹ I might put doune Abimelech.

And it was tolde Abimelech: increace thine hooste/and departe. For Sebul the chiefe ruler of the cytie/whan he herde ỹ wordes of Gaal
the sonne of Ebed/he was wrothfully displea sed/& sent message secretly to Abimelech/and caused to saye vnto him: Behold/Gaal ỹ sōne of Ebed and his brethren are come to Sichē/
and make the cytie to be against the.

Aryse therfore by nyght/thou and thy people ỹ is with the/and laye wayte for them in the felde: and to morowe whan the Sunne aryseth/get the vp sone/and fal vpon the citie:
and if he and the people/that is with him/come come out vnto the them deale with hym/as thyne hande fyndeth.

F Abimelech stode vp by nyght/and all the people that was with hym/and layed wayete for Sichem with foure companies of men of warre. And Gaal the sonne of Ebed wente out/and stode at the dore of the gate of ỹ citie.
But Abimelech gat hym vp out of the hynder
watch/and the people that was with hym.
Now whan Gaal sawe the people/he sayde
vnto Sebull: Beholde/there commeth a people doune from the toppe of the mount. Se-bull sayd vnto hym: Thou seist the shadowe of the mountaynes/as though they were men.
Gaal spake yet more and sayd: Behold/there commeth a people doune from the myddes
of the lande/and one bonde of men commeth
by the waye to the whyte Oke. Then sayd Se bul: Where is now thy mouth that sayde:
Who is Abimelech/ỹ we shoulde serue hym?
Is not this the people whom thou hast refused? Go forth now/and fyght with hym.

Gaall went forth before the cytiesyns of Sichem/and fought with Abimelech. But Abimelech chaced hym so ỹ he fled/and there fell many slayne/euen vnto the gate of the cytye. And Abimelech abode at Aruma. But Sebull droue awaye Gaal and his brethren/
so that they must not remayne at Sichem.
Vpon the morowe went the people forth in to the felde. Whan this was tolde Abime-lech/he toke the people/and parted them in to thre bondes of men/and wayted for them in the felde. Nowe whan he sawe that ỹ people went out of the citie/he rose agaynst them/and smote them.

G Abimelech and the company of men that was with hym/fell vpon them/and stepte vnto the dore of the porte: but the other two com pānyes fell vpon all them that were in ỹ felde/and slewe them. Then fought Abimelech a-gaynst the cytie all the same daye/and wanne
it/and slewe the people that was therin/and Re.xij.d †brake doune the cytie/and sowed salt theron.

Whan all the men of the tower of Si-chem herde this/they wente in to a stronge hold of the house of theyr God Berith. But whan Abimelech herde that all the men of the tower of Sichem had gathered them selfes together/he went vp vnto mount Zelmon/
and all the people that was with hym/& toke
an axe in his hande/& hewed doune a braūche of a tree/and toke it vp/and layed it vppon his shoulder/and sayd vnto all the people that was with him: †As ye haue sene me do/make Jud.vij.c
haist and do euen so as I. Then all the people hewed doune euery one a braūche/and folo-wed Abimelech: and they layed them to the holde/and set fyre vpon them/agaynste them and the holde: and all the men of the tower of Sichem dyed thorowe the smoke of fyre/vpon
a thousande men and women.

H As for Abimelech/he wente vnto Thebetz/and layed sege vnto it/and wanne it. But in the myddes of the cytie/there was a stronge tower/vnto the which all the men and womē/and all the cytiesyns of the cytie fled/and shut it after them/and clymmed vp to the toppe of the tower. Then came Abimelech vnto the tower/an fought agaynst it/and came nye vnto
the dore of the tower/that he myght burne it ij.Re.xj.c with fire. †But a woman cast a pere of a mylstone vpon Abimeleches heade/and brake his braine panne. Then Abimelech in al haist/called the seruaunt that bare his weapen/and sayd vnto hym: †Drawe out thy swearde and j.Re.xxxj.a kyll me/that it be not sayd of me: A woman
j.Par.xj.a hath slayne hym. Then his seruaunt thrust hym thorow/and he dyed. Whan the Jsrae-lites/which were with hym/saw that Abime-lech was dead/they gat them awaie euery one vnto his owne place.

Thus God recompenced Abimelech that euell that he had done vnto his father/whan
he slewe his thre score and ten brethren: lykewyse all the euel of the men of Sichem/dyd God reward them vpon theyr heade: and so the †curse of Jotham the sonne of Jerubaall Jdu.ix.c came vpon them.

The.X. Chapter.

AFter Abimelech there rose another saueour
in Jsrael/Thola a man of Jssachar/and ỹ the sonne of Pua/the sonne of Sodo. And he dwelt at Samir vpon the mount Ephraim/and iudged Jsrael thre and twenty yeare/and dyed/and was buried at Samir.

After hym stod vp one Jair a Gileadite/and iudged Jsrael two and twentye yeare/
and had thirty sonnes/†rydynge vpon thir- Jud.xij.c tye asses foales: and had thirty cyties/whose names are Hauoth Jair (that is the cytes of Jair) vnto this daye/and lye in Gilead. And Jair dyed/and was buried at Camon.

B But the chyldren of Jſrael wrought wyckednesse in the ſyght of the Lorde/& ſerued Baalim and Aſtaroth/& the goddes of Siria/ & the goddes of Sydon/ and the goddes of Moab/& the goddes of the chyldren of Ammon/and the goddes of the Philiſtines/ and forſoke the Lord/and serued hym not. Then was the wrath of the Lord fearce vpon Jſrael/ and he gaue them ouer vnder the hande of the Philiſtines/and of the chyldren of Ammon. And they vexed and oppreſſed the chyldren of Jſraell eyghtene yeares longe/all the chyldren of Jſrael that were beyõde Jordane in the lande of the Moabites/ which lyeth in Gilead. The chyldren of Ammon alſo wente ouer Jordane/& fought agaynſte Juda/Ben-Jamin/and againſt the house of Ephraim/ſo that Jſrael was verye ſore troubled.

C Then cryed the chyldren of Jſrael vnto the Lorde/and sayd: We haue ſynned agaynſte the/for we haue forſaken our God/and serued Baalim. But the Lorde ſayd vnto the chyldren of Jſrael: Syd not the Egypcyans/ the Ammonites/the chyldrē of Ammon/the Philiſtines/the Sidonians/the Amalechites/and Maonites oppreſſe you/ and I helped you out of they⁊ hande/ whan ye cryed vnto me⁊ Yet haue ye forſakē me/ and serued other goddes: Therfore will I helpe you nomore. †Go youre waye/& crye vpon the goddes whome ye haue chosen/let them helpe you in the tyme of youre trouble.

D But the chyldren of Jſraell ſayde vnto the Lord: We haue ſynned/ do thou vnto vs what pleaſeth ỹ/only deliuer vs at this tyme. And they put the ſtraunge goddes frō them/ and serued the Lord. And his ſoule had pyte on the myſery of Jſrael.

†And the chyldren of Ammon called them ſelfes together/and pitched in Gilead: But ỹ chyldren of Jſrael gathered them ſelfes together alſo/and pitched at Miſpa. And the people of the chiefeſt of Gilead ſayd among them ſelfes: Whoſoeuer begynneth to fyght agaynſt the chyldren of Ammon/ ſhalbe heade ouer all them that dwell in Gilead.

The. XI. Chapter.

JEphthah a Giliadite was a valeaunt man of armes/but an harlottes chylde. Gilead begat Jephthah. But whan the wyfe had borne chyldren vnto Gilead/ and the ſame wyfes chyldren were waxen great/ they thruſt out Jephthah/ and ſayde vnto hym: †Thou ſhalt not be heyre in our fathers house for thou art another womans ſonne. Then fled he from his brethren/ and dwelt in the lande of Tob. †And there reſorted vnto hym vacabounded/and went out with hym. And after a certayne tyme fought the chyldren of Ammon with Jſrael.

Now whā the chyldren of Ammon fought thus with Jſrael/the Elders went from Gilead to fetch Jephthah out of the lāde of Tob/ and ſaid vnto hym: Come/& be our captayne/ and fyght agaynſt the chyldren of Ammon. But Jephthah ſayd vnto the Elders of Gilead: Are not ye they that hate me/and haue thruſt me out of my fathers houſe/ and now come ye to me whan ye are in trouble?

B The Elders of Gilead ſayde: Therefore come we now agayne vnto the/ỹ thou mayſt go with vs/and fyght againſt the chyldren of Ammon/ and be our captayne ouer all that dwell in Gilead. Jephthah ſayd vnto the Elders of Gilead: Jf ye fetche me agayn to fight agaynſt the chyldren of Ammon/ & the Lorde delyuer them before me/ ſhall I then be youre heade? The Elders of Gilead ſayd vnto Jephthah. The Lorde be hearer betwene vs/if we do not as thou haſt ſayd. So Jephthah wente with the elders of Gilead. And the people made hym heade/ and duke ouer them. And Japhthah ſpake al this before the Lorde at Miſpa.

Then ſent Jephthah meſſaungers to the kynge of the chyldren of Ammon/and cauſed to saye vnto hym: What haſt thou to do with me/that thou commeſt vnto me to fyght agaynſte my lande? The kynge of the chyldren of Ammon aunſwered Jephthahs meſſaungers: Becauſe ỹ Jſrael toke awaye my lande/ (whan they departed out of Egipt) from Arnon vnto Jabok/and vnto Jordane: Geue it me agayn now therfore peaceably.

C But Jephthah ſent yet mo meſſaungers to the kynge of the chyldren of Ammon/whiche ſayd vnto hym: Thus ſayth Jephthah: †Jſrael

rael hath take no lande/neyther frō the Moabites/nor frō the chyldren of Ammon: for whā they departed out of Egipte/ Jſraell walked thorow the wylderneſſe vnto the read ſee/and came to Cades/and †ſent meſſaungers to the kynge of the Edomites/and ſayde: Let me go thorow thy lande. But the kynge of the Edomites wold not heare thē. They ſent lykewyſe vnto ỹ kynge of the Moabites/ which wolde not alſo. Thus Jſrael abode in Cades/& compaſſed the lande of the Edomites & Moabites/& came on the Eaſtſyde of the lande of the Moabites/& pitched beyonde Arnon/& came not within the coaſt of the Moabites. †For Arnon is the border of the Moabites.

D †And Jſrael ſent meſſaungers vnto Sihon/the kynge of the Ammonites at Heſbon/ & cauſed to saye vnto hym: Let me go thorow thy lāde vnto my place. Neuertheleſſe/ Sihō wold not truſt Jſrael to go thorow the border of his lande/but gathered all his people/ and pitched at Jahza/and foughte with Jſrael. Howebeit/the Lorde God of Jſraell gaue Sihon with all his people into Jſraels hāde/ ſo that they ſlewe them. Thus Jſrael conquered all the lande of the Ammonites that dwelt in the ſame contrie. And they toke poſſeſſion of all the borders of the Ammonites/from Arnon vnto Jabok/ and from the wylderneſſe vnto Jordane. So the Lord God of Jſrael droue awaye the Ammonites before his people of Jſrael/and wilt thou conquere them? Js it not ſo/if thy God Camos gaue ỹ ought to poſſeſſe/woldeſt thou not poſſeſſe it? Whatſoeuer the Lord our God hath geuen vs before vs to poſſeſſe/that ſhall we conquere and take in poſſeſſion.

E Haſt thou better right (thynkeſt thou) thou †Balac the ſonne of Ziphor/the kynge of the Moabites? Dyd he euer go to lawe/ or fight agaynſt Jſrael? Though Jſraell haue dwelt now vpon a thre hundreth yeares in Heſbō/ and in the villages therof/in Aroer and in the villages therof/and in al the cytes that lye by Arnon. Why dyd not ye reſcue it at the ſame tyme? Jhaue not offended the/ & thou doeſt me euel to fyght againſt me. The Lord geue ſentence this daye betwene Jſrael & the chyldren of Ammon.

Neuertheles/the kynge of the chyldren of Ammon wolde not heare ỹ wordes of Jephthah/which he ſent vnto hym. Then came the ſpirite of the Lorde vpon Jephthah/ and he went thorow Gilead and Manaſſe/and thorow Miſpa/ whiche lyeth in Gilead/& from Miſpa that lyeth in Gilead/vnto the chyldren of Ammon.

And Jephthah vowed a vowe vnto the F Lord/and ſayde: †Jf thou wylt delyuer the chyldren of Ammon in to my hande/whatſoeuer cōmeth (fyrſt) out at ỹ dore of my houſe in my waye/ whan Jreturne agayne peaceably from the chyldren of Ammon/ the ſame ſhalbe the Lordes/ and Jwyll offer it for a burntofferynge.

So Jephthah went vpon the chyldren of Ammon to fyght againſt them. And ỹ Lorde gaue them in to his hande/ and he ſmote them frō Aroer/tyll thou cōmeſt vnto Minnith/euen twenty cytes/and vnto the playne of the vyneyardes a very great ſlaughter/and thus were the chyldren of Ammon ſubdued before the chyldren of Jſrael.

Now whan Jephthah came to Miſpa vnto his houſe/behold/ †his doughter went out to mete hym with tabrettes and daunces: and ſhe was his onely chylde/and he had els neyther ſonne nor doughter. And whan he ſawe her/he rente his clothes/and ſayde: Alas my doughter/thou makeſt my hert ſorowfull/ & diſcōforteſt me: For Jhaue opened my mouth vnto the Lord/and cannot call it agayne.

She ſayd: My father/if thou haſt opened G thy mouth vnto the Lord/ then do vnto me as it is proceded out of thy mouth/accordyng as the Lord hath auenged the of thyne enemyes/the chyldren of Ammon. And ſhe ſayde vnto her father: So this for me/ geue me leue to go doune vpon the mountaynes two monethes/that Jmaye bewepe my virginite wt my playe felowes. He ſayde: Go thy waye. And he let her go two monethes. Then went ſhe with her playefelowes/ and bewayled her maydenheade vpon the mountaynes. And after two monethes ſhe came againe vnto her father. And he dyd vnto her accordinge as he had vowed. And ſhe had neuer bene in daūger of any man. And it was a coſtume in Jſrael/that the doughters of Jſrael ſhoulde go euery yeare/and mourne for the doughter of Jephthah the Giliadite / foure dayes in the yeare.

The. XII. Chapter.

A AND they of Ephraim made insurrection/ and wente Northwarde / and sayd vnto Judi. viij. a Jephthah: †Wherfore wētest thou to the battayll agaynst the chyldren of Ammon / & hast not called vs/that we myght go wt the. We wyl burne thy house and the with fyre. Jephthah sayd vnto them: I and my people had a great matter wt the chyldren of Ammon/ & I cryed vpon you/but ye helped me not out of

B And Jephthah gathered all the men in Gilead / and fought agaynst Ephraim/ and the men in Gilead smote Ephraim/ because they sayde: Ye Giliadites are as they that flē away before Ephraim/ (and dwell) amonge Ephraim & Manasse: And the Giliadites toke the ferie of Jordane from Ephraim. Now whan one of the fugitiue Ephraites did saye: Let me go ouer/the men of Gilead sayd: Arte thou an Ephraite/if he aunswerd: No / they bad hym say: Schiboleth/and he sayd: Siboleth/and coulde not speake it ryght: then they toke hym/and slewe hym at the ferye of Jordane/so ỹ the same tyme there fel of Ephraim xlij. M. Jephthah iudged Israel sixe yeares. And Jephthah the Giliadite dyed/& was buryed in one of the cyties of Gilead.

C After hym iudged Israel one Ebzen of Bethlecm/whiche had thyrtye sonnes and as many doughters: and his thyrtye doughters gaue he forth by marriage/ and thyrty doughters toke he from without for his sonnes/and iudged Israel seuen yeares/and dyed/ & was buryed at Bethlecm.

After hym iudged Israel one Elō a Zabulonite/and he iudged Israel ten yeares/& was buryed at Aialon in the lande of Zabulon.

After hym iudged Israel one Abdon a sonne of Hillel / a Pirgathonite/ whiche had fourtye sonnes/ and thyrtye nenies (†whiche

The. XIII. Chapter.

AND the chyldren of Israel wrought more A gaue them ouer in to the handes of the Philistines fourtye yeares. But there was a man at Zarga/one of the kynreds of the Danites/ named Manoah/& his wyfe was vnfrutful/ and bare hym no chyldren. And the aungell of the Lord appeared vnto the woman/ and sayd vnto her: Beholde/ thou art baren and bearest not: but thou shalt conceaue/and beare a sonne. † Take hede therfore / that thou Nume. vj. c

Then came the woman and tolde her hus- B

Then Manoah prayed the Lorde/& sayd: Oh Lord/let the man of God whome thou hast sente/come to vs agayne / that he maye enfourme vs what we shal do vnto the chylde whiche shalbe borne. And God herde the voyce of Manoah / and the aungell of God came to his wyfe agayne. But she sat in the felde/and her husbande. Manoah was not with her. Then ranne she in all the hayst and tolde her husbande/and sayd vnto hym: Beholde/the man hath appeared vnto me / that came to me to daye.

Manoah gat hym vp/and wente after his C wyfe/and came to the man and sayd vnto hym: Art thou the man that spake to the woman? He sayde: Yee. And Manoah sayde whā it commeth to passe that thou hast sayd/ what what shalbe ỹ maner and worke of the chyld? The aungell of ỹ Lord sayd vnto Manoah: He shall kepe hym from all that I tolde the woman: he shall not eate that which commeth of the vyne / and shall dryncke no wyne nor stronge dryncke/& eate no vncleane thynge: & all that I haue cōtaunded her / shall he kepe.

Manoah sayde vnto the aungell of the Lord: let vs holde the here/ (I praye the) we wyll prepare a kydde for the. Nevertheless/the aungel of the Lorde aunswered Manoah: †Though thou kepest me here/yet wyll I not

And Manoah sayd vnto the aungell of the Lorde. What is thy name / that we may prayse the/ whan it commeth now to passe / that thou hast sayde? But the aūgell of the Lord sayde vnto hym:

Whan Manoah and his wife sawe that/they fell doune to the earth vpon theyr faces. And the aungell of the Lorde appeared nomore vnto Manoah & his wyfe. Then knewe Manoah that it was an aungell of the Lorde/&

And the woman brought forth a sonne/ and called his name Samson. And the chyld grewe/and the Lorde blessed him. And the sprete of ỹ Lord beganne to be with hym in ỹ tentes of Dan/betwene Sarga & Esthaoll.

The. XIIII. Chapter.

A SAmson wēte doune vnto Timnath/ and there he sawe a woman amōg ỹ doughters of the Philistines. And whan he came vp / he tolde his father and his mother and sayde: I haue sene a woman amonge the doughters of the Philystynes / I praye you geue me the same to wyfe. His father and his Samson sayde vnto his father: Geue me this woman/for she pleaseth mine eyes. But his father and his mother knew not ỹ it came of the Lorde/and that he sought an occasion agaynst the Philistynes. For the Philistynes raygned ouer Israell at the same tyme. So Samson wente doune with his father and with his mother vnto Thimnath.

And whan they came to the vyneyardes of B Timnath/behold/there came a yōge roaring lyon agaynst hym. And the sprete of the Lorde came vpon hym/and † he rente hym j. Re. xvij. e in peces / euen as a kydde is parted asunder/ and yet had he nothynge at all in his hande/ and he tolde it not vnto his father and his mother.

Now whan he came doune / he spake with the woman / and she pleased Samsons eyes. And after certayne dayes he came agayne (vnto Thymnath) to receaue her/and wente out of ỹ waye / that he myght se the dead carcas of the Lyon/and beholde/in the Lyons carcas there was a swarme of byes / & hony: and he toke of it in his hande/ and dyd eate therof by the waye: and wente vnto his father and to his mother/and gaue them to eate also. But he tolde them not that he had taken the hony out of the Lyons carcas. C

And whan his father came doune to the woman / Samson made a feast there/as the yonge men vsed to do. And whan they saw hym / they gaue hym thyrtye companions to be with hym. Samson sayde vnto them / I wyll expresse a darke sentence vnto you / if ye expoūde me the same within these seuē dayes of the feast/ I wyll geue you thyrtye shertes/ and thyrtye chaunge of rayment. But if ye can not expounde it/thē shall ye geue me thyrtye shertes / and thyrty chaunge of rayment. And they sayd vnto him: Shew forth thy ryddle / let vs heare it. He sayd vnto them:

Meate went out from the deuourer/& swetenesse from the myghtye. And in thre dayes they coulde not expounde the rydle.

Vpon the seuenth daye they sayde vnto Sāsons wyfe: Perswade thy housbande/ that he tell vs what the rydle meaneth/or els we shal burne the and thy fathers house with fyre. Haue ye called vs hither/to bringe vs to pouerte? Then wepte Sāsons wyfe before hym and sayde: Thou art displeased at me/ and louest me not: thou hast expounded a darke sentence vnto the chyldren of my people/and hast not tolde it me.

D But he sayde vnto her: †Beholde/ I haue
Iud. xiij. b not tolde it vnto my father and mother / and shoulde I tell it the? And she wepte before hym those seuen dayes/whyle they had ỹ feast. But on the seuenth daye he tolde it her/for she was so importune vpon hym. And she expoūded the darke sentēce vnto the chyldren of her people. Then sayde the men of the cytie vnto hym vpon the seuēth day/or euer the Sunne wente doune: What is sweter then hony? What is stronger then the Lyon? But he sayd vnto them: If ye had not plowed with my calfe/ye should not haue foūde out my rydle. And the spriete of the Lord came vpon hym/ and he wente doune vnto Ascalon/and slewe thyrtie men of them/ and toke they: spoyle/ & gaue chaunge of rayment vnto them/that had expounded the rydle. And he was wrothfully displeased/& went vp vnto his fathers house.

& Re. xiij. e †As for Samsons wyfe/ she was geuen vnto one of his companyons/ whiche belonged vnto hym.

The. XV. Chapter.

A IT fortuned after certayne dayes aboute the wheate haruest tyme/ that Samson vysyted his wyfe with a kydde. And whan he thoughte: I will go to my wyfe in to the chaumbre/her father wolde not let hym in/ & sayd: I thought thou wast displeased at her/ and I gaue her to thy frende. But she hath a yonger syster whiche is more bewtyfull then she/let the same be thyne for her. Then sayde Samson vnto them/ I haue once gotten a right occasyon agaynst the Philistines/ I will do you displeasure.

And Samson wente and catched thre hundreth foxes/and toke fyre brandes/ and fastened one tayle to another/ and put euer a fyre brande betwene two tayles/& kynled the same with fyre/and let them go amonge the Philistines corne/and thus he brent the stoukes/ & the standinge corne/and the vyneyardes/and the olyue trees.

Then sayde the Phylistynes: Who hath B done this? And they sayd Samson/ the housbande of the Thimnites doughter/because he toke awaye his wyfe from hym/ and gaue her vnto his frende. Then wente the Phylistynes vp/ and brent her and her father also with fyre.

But Samson sayde vnto them: I can suffre you to do this/neuerthelesse/ I wil be auēged vpon you my selfe/and then wyll I leaue of. And he smote them sore both vpon the shoulders and loynes/ and wente doune/and dwelt in the stone clyffe at Etam. Then went the Philistynes vp/ and layed sege vnto Juda/and pitched at Lechi. But they of Juda sayde: Wherfore are ye come vp agaynst vs? They aunswered: we are come to bynde Sāson/ that we maye do vnto hym as he hath done vnto vs.

Then wente there thre M. men of Juda C doune to the stone clyffe of Etam/ and sayde vnto Sāson: Knowest thou not that the Philistines raygne ouer vs? Wherfore haste thou done this then vnto vs? He sayd: As they did vnto me/so haue I done vnto them agayne. They sayd vnto hym: We are come doune to bynde the/and to delyuer the into the hande of the Philistines. Samson sayde vnto them: Then sweare and promise me/that ye will not slaye me They aunswered hym: We wyll not kyll the/we wyl but bynde the/ and delyuer ỹ in they: hande/& wyl not slaye the. And they bounde hym with two new coardes/ and caryed hym from the stone. And whan he came vnto Lechi/the Philistynes shouted/and rāne vnto hym. But the spriete of Lord came vpō hym: and the coardes aboute his armes were lyke thredes burnt in to the fyre/so that the bōdes were lowsed from his handes.

D And he founde the chekebone of a dead asse: then put he forth his hande and toke it/and slew a thousande men therwith. And Samson sayde: With an olde asses chekebone/yee/ euen with the chekebone of an asse haue haue I slayne a thousande men. And whan he had sayd that/ he cast the chekebone out of his hāde/and called the place Ramath Lechi. But whan he was sore a thyrst/he called vpon the Lorde and sayd: Such great health hast thou geuen by the hande of thy seruaunt/but now must I dye a thyrst/ and fall in to ỹ hāde of the vncircumcysed. Then God opened a gomet othe in the chekebone/ so ỹ water went out: & whan he dranke/his spriete came again/ and he was refreshed. Therfore vnto his daye it is yet called the welle of the chekebone/ of hym that made intercessyon. And he iudged Israell in the tyme of the Philistines twentye yeare.

The. XVI. Chapter.

A SAmson wente vnto Gasa/ and there he sawe an harlot/and laye with her. Then was it sayde vnto the Gasites: Samson is come hither. And they compassed hym about/ and caused to laye wayte for hym prevely/ & watched all the night in the gate of the cytie/ and all that night they helde them styl/& sayd: Abyde/ to morow whan it is light/ we wyll slaye hym. But Samson lay vnto mydnyght/ then rose he at mydnight/ and toke holde on both the Sydeportes of the gate of the cytye/ with both the postes/and lyfte them out with the barres/ and layed them vpon his shoulders/and bare thē vp to the toppe of the moūt ouer agaynst Hebron.

B After this he fell in to the loue of a woman/ by the broke of Sorek/whose name was Salila/vnto whom the prynces of the Phylystynes came vp/& sayd vnto her: Perswade hym and loke wherin he hath such great strenght/ and how we may ouercome hym/ that we myght bynde hym and subdue hym/ so wyll we geue the euery man a M. and an C. syluerlynges. And Salila sayde vnto Samson: I praye the tell me/wherin thy great strenght is/and how thou myghtest be bounde to be subdued. Samson sayde vnto her: If I were bounde with seuen roapes of fresh senowes/ which are not yet dryed vp/I should be weake/and as another man. Then the prynces of the Philistines brought vp vnto her seuen new roapes/whiche were not yet dryed vp. And she bounde hym therwith. (But there was wayte layed for hym besyde her in the chaumber.) And she sayd vnto hym: The Philistines vpon the Samson. Neuerthelesse/he brake the roapes in sunder/euen as a twyned threde breaketh/ whā it hath catched the heate of the fyre. And it was not knowen wherin his strenght was.

Then sayde Salila vnto Samson: be- C holde/thou hast begyled me/ and dissembled with me: tell me yet/wherwithall mayst thou be bounde? He aunswered her. If they boūde me with new coardes/ wherwith no laboure hath bene done. I should be feble/and as an other man. Then toke Salila new coardes and bounde hym withall/ and sayde: The Phylistines vpō the Samson. (but there was wayte layed for hym in the chaumber.) And he brake them from his armes/ euen as it had ben a threde.

Salila sayde vnto hym: Yet hast thou begyled me/and dissembled with me: O tell me yet/ wherwithall myghtest thou be bounde? He aunswered her: If thou playtest seuē heerye lockes of my heade together in a fyllet/ & fastenest thē in w a naile/ I should be weake. And she sayd vnto hym: The Philistines vpō the Samson. But he awaked out of his slepe/ and drue out the playted heerye lockes with the nayle of the fyllet.

Then sayd she vnto hym: How canst thou D saye that thou louest me/where as thyne hert is not yet with me. Thre tymes hast thou deceaued me/& not tolde me wherin thy greate strenght is. So whan she was euery day importune vpon hym with her wordes/& wolde not let hym haue reste/ his soule was faynte euen vnto the death/ and he shewed her his whole herte/and sayd vnto her: †There came Num. vj. a neuer rasoure vpon my heade/for I am a Na- Judi. xiij. a zare of God from my mothers wombe. If I were shaue/ my strengthe shoulde departe fro me/so that I shoulde be weake/ and as all other men. Now whan Salila saw that he had opened al his herte vnto her/ she sent and called for the prynces of the Phylistynes/ and sayde: Come yet once vp/for he hath opened his whole hert vnto me.

Then came the prynces of the Philistynes E vp vnto her/& brought the money with them in they: handes. And she made hym to slepe vpon her lappe/& called one which shoue of ỹ seuen heery lockes of his heade. And she beganne to vexe hym. Then was his strenght departed from hym. And she sayd vnto hym: The Philistines vpon the Samson. Now whan he awoke out of his slepe/ he thought I wyll go forth as I haue done afore tyme/ & ease my selfe/ & knew not that the Lord was departed from hym. But the Philistines toke hym/ and put out his eyes/ and braught hym doune to Gasa/ and bounde him with fetters and made hym to grynde in the pryson. But the heer of his heade begāne to growe againe where it was shauen of.

F Whan the prynces of the Philistines were gathered together/ to make a greate sacrifyce vnto Sagō their God/ and to be ioyful/ they sayde: Our God hath delyuered Samson our enemye in to oure hande. Lykewyse whan the people saw hym/ they prayseḋ their God/ and sayd: Oure God hath delyuered in to our hādes oure enemye/ that destroyed oure lande/ & slew many of vs. Nowe whā their herte was ioyfull/ they sayde: Let vs fetch Samson/ that he maye make some pastyme before vs. Then fetched they Samson out of the pryson/ and he made pastyme before them. And they set hym betwene two pyllers. But Samson sayd vnto the lad that led hym by the hande: Let me touche the pyllers where vpon the house standeth/ that I maye leane there vnto. As for the house it was full of men and women. All the prynces of the Philistines were there also/ and vpō the rofe were about a thre thousande men and women/ whiche beheldē what pastyme Samson made.

G But Samson called vpon the Lorde/ and sayde: O Lorde Lorde/ thynke vpon me/ and strenght me but this once O God/ I beseche the/ that for both myne eyes I maye auenge me on the Philistines. And he toke holde of the two mydpyllers/ that the house stode vpon/ and was holden by/ the one in his righte hande/ and the other in his lefte/ & sayd: My soule dye with the Philistines/ & he bowed hymselfe myghtely. Then fel the house vpon the prynces/ and vpon al the people that were therin/ so that there were mo of ỹ slayn/ which dyed in his death/ thē he slew while he lyued. Then came his brethren doune and all his fathers house and toke hym/ and caryed hym vp/ and buryed hym in the graue of his father Manoah/ betwene Zarga and Esthaoll. He iudged Israel twentye yeare.

The. XVII. Chapter.

THere was a man vpon moūt Ephraim/ named Micha/ whiche sayde to his mother: The thousande and hundreth syluerlynges whiche thou hast taken vnto the/ & swoone and spoken of before myne eares: beholde/ the same money is by me/ I haue taken it vnto me. Then sayde his mother: The blessynge of the Lord haue thou my sonne. So he gaue his mother the thousande and hundreth syluerlynges agayne. And his mother sayde: That money haue I sanctifyed vnto ỹ Lord with my hande for my sonne/ to make a molten Image: therfore I geue it the agayn: Neuertheless/ he delyuered the money agayne vnto his mother.

Then toke his mother two hūdreth syluer- B
lynges/ and put them forth to the goldsmyth/ which made a moltē Image that was afterward in Michas house. An thus the mā Micha had a godshouse/ & made an ouerbody cote & Idols/ & fylled the handes of one of his sonnes/ that he myghte be his priest. † At that tyme was there no kyng in Israel/ and euery man dyd the thynge that was ryghte in his owne eyes. There was a yonge man of Bethleem Juda/ among the kynreds of Juda: and he was a Leuite/ and was a straunger there. The same went out of the cytie of Bethleem Juda/ to walke whether he coulde.

† Jud. xix. and xx. i. Reg. viii.

And whan he came vp to the mounte E- C phraim vnto the house of Micha/ to go on his iourney. Micha axed hym: whence commest thou? He aunswered hym: I am a Leuite of Bethleē Juda/ & am walkynge where I can. Micha sayde vnto hym: Tary with me/ thou shalt be my father and my priest/ I wyll geue the euery yeare ten siluerlinges/ & thy appoynted rayment/ & meat & drynke: and the Leuite wente on. And the Leuite agreed to abyde wt the man/ & he helde the yonge man/ as one of his owne sonnes. And Micha fylled the Leuites hande that he might be his priest/ and so he was in Michas house. And Micha sayde: I am sure the Lorde wyll do me good/ now that I haue a Leuite to my priest.

The. XVIII. Chapter.

A d. xviij. b Re. viij. a Jos. xix. d

AT that time was there no kyng in Israel. And the trybe of the Danites sought thē an enheritaunce to dwell in/* for vnto that daye there was no enheritaunce fallen vnto them amonge the trybe of Israell. And the children of Dan sent out of their kynreds fiue captaynes (whiche were men of armes) from Zarga and Esthaol/ to spye and searche out ỹ lande. And they sayde vnto them: Go youre waye/ and search out the land. And they came vp to mount Ephraim into the house of Micha/ and taried there al night. And while they were there ỹ Michas household/ they knewe the voyce of the yong man the Leuite/ & sayde vnto him. Who brought the hither? What makest thou here? & why woldest thou come hither.

B He aunswered them: Thus and thus hath Micha done vnto me/ and hyred me to be his priest. They saide vnto him: O axe at God/ that we maie perceaue whether oure iourney which we go/ shal prosper wel or not. The priest aunswered them: Go youre waye in peace/ youre iourney that ye go is before ỹ Lord. Then the fyue men wente their way/ and came vnto Lais/ and saw that the people which was therin/ dwelt sure/ euen as the Sidonians at rest/ and careles/ and that there was no lord in the lande to vexe them/ & were farre from the Sidonians/ and had nothyng to do with any man.

C And they came to their brethren to Zarga and Esthaoll/ and their brethren sayde vnto them: How is it with you? They saide: Aryse/ let vs go vp vnto them/ for we haue sene the lande/ that it is a very good lande: make hayst therfore/ and be not slack to go/ that ye maye come to take possession of the lande. Whan ye come/ ye shall come to a careles people/ and ỹ lande is wyde: for God hath delyuered this place in youre hande/ where nothing wāteth of all that is vpon earth.

Then wente there thence out of the kyn- D
reds of Dan from Zarga and Esthaol/ sixe hundreth men ready wapened to the battayl/ and wente vp/ and pitched at Kiriath Jearim in Juda: therfore called they the same place ỹ booste of Dan/ vnto this daye/ which is behynde Kiriath Jearim.

D And from thence they went vp vnto moūt Ephraim/ and came to the house of Micha. Then aunswered the fyue men that went out to spye the lande of Lais/ and sayd vnto their brethren: Knowe ye not that in these houses there is an ouerbody cote/ Idols/ and molten ymages? Nowe maye ye loke what ye haue to do. They departed thence/ and came to the house of the yonge man the Leuite in Michas house/ and saluted him frendly. But the sixe hundreth men which were of the children of Dan/ stode ready harnessed before the gate. And the fyue men that were gone out to spye the lande went vp and came thither/ and toke the ymage/ the ouerbody cote/ and the molten Idols. In the meane whyle stode the priest at the gate with the sixe hundreth readye harnessed.

Now whan these were come into Michas E house/ and toke the ymage/ the ouerbody cote/ and the molten Idols/ the priest sayde vnto them: What do ye? They aunswered hym: Holde thy peace/ and laye thyne hande vpon thy mouth/ and go with vs/ that thou maiest be oure father and priest: Is it better for the to be priest in one mans house/ then amonge a whole trybe and kynred in Israell? This pleased the priest well/ and he toke both the ouerbody cote/ and the Idols/ and ỹ ymage/ and came in amonge the people. And whan they turned them and wente thence/ they sente their children/ and cattell/ and such precious thynges as they had before them.

Whan they were now come farre from the F house of Micha/ the men that were in Michas houses/ gathered them together by Michas house/ and folowed the children of Dan: and cryed vpon the children of Dan. They turned their faces aboute/ & sayde vnto Micha: What ayleth the/ that thou makest such a cryeng? He aunswered: Ye haue take away my goddes/ and the priest/ and are goyenge iour waye/ and what haue I behynde? What is here? And yet ye saie vnto me: What ayleth the? But the children of Dan sayd vnto him: Let not thy voyce be herde amonge vs/ that some wrothfull men thruste not at the/ and so thy soule/ and the soule of thy house be destroyed. So the children of Dan wente on their waye. And Micha/ whan he sawe that they were to stronge for hym/ turned bacand came agayne to his house.

G But they toke that Micha had made / and the priest whome he had/and came vnto Lais: to a quyete careleſſe people / and slewe thē with the edge of the sweard/and burnt the citie with fyre/and there was noman to deliuer them/for they laye farre from Sidon/and had to do with noman/and they laye in the valley which is beſyde Beth Rehob. Then buylded they ỹ cytie/and dwelt therin/ † and called it Josu. xix.d San / after the name of theyr father San/ whome Israel begat. And the cytie was called Lais afore time.

And the children of San sette vp the ymage for them: and Jonathan the sonne of Gerson the sonne of Manasse / and his sonnes were priestes amonge the trybe of ỹ Daiij.R.xxja nites/ † vnto the time that they were led away captiue out of the lande. And thus they set amonge thē the Image of Micha / which he had made as longe as the house of God was at Silo.

The.XIX.Chapter.

A AT thesame tyme was there no kynge in Israell / and there was a man of Leui/ whiche was a straunger beſyde mount Ephraim / and had taken hym a concubine of Bethleem Juda to wyfe. And whan she had played the harlot beſyde him/ she ranne from him to her fathers house vnto Bethleem Juda/and was there foure monethes longe.
And her housbande gat him vp / and wente after her / to speake frendly with her / and to fetche her againe / and had a seruaunt / and a couple of asses with him. And she led hym in her fathers house. But whan the damsels father saw him/ he was glad / & receaued him: and his father in lawe / the damsels father kepte hym/ so that he taryed thre dayes with hym: thus they did eat and drinke / & remayned there al night.

B But on the fourthe daye he gat hym vp early/and wolde go his waye Then saide the Ge xviij. a damsels father vnto his sonne in lawe: † Re-
Psal. ciij. b fresshe thine hert fyrst with a morsel of bread/ and then shall ye go. And they sat thē downe/ and dyd eat and drynke both together: Then sayde the damsels father vnto the man: Oh tarrye all nyght/ that we maye refreshe thyne herte. But the man arose / and wolde nedes go. And his father in lawe constrayned hym to tarye all nyghte. On the fyft daye in the mornynge he gat hym vp / and wolde be gone. Then sayde the damsels father: I pray the comforte thyne herte / and let vs tary tyll the daye be farther past: and so they dyd eate both together.

And the man gat hym vp / and wolde go C with his concubyne and with his seruaunt. But his father in lawe the damsels father/ sayde vnto him agayne: Lo/the day is spent/ and it begynneth to be euen / tary all nyght/ Beholde/ there is lodginge yet this daye: abyde here this night / it shall refreshe thyne herte: to morow by tymes get you vp/and go youre waye vnto thy tente. Neuertheleſſe/ the man wold not tary/but gat him vp/ & wente his way/and came ouer against Jebus (that is Jerusalem) and his couple of asses laden/ and his concubine with him.

Now whan they were come nye vnto Jebus/the daye fell fast awaye. And the seruaũt sayde vnto his master: I praie you go on/and let vs turne in to this cytie of the Jebusytes/ and tarye therin all nyght. Notwithstonding/his master sayde vnto hym: I wil not turne into the citye of the aleauntes / that are not of the children of Israell/ but I wyl go ouer vnto Gibea. And he sayde vnto his seruaunt: Go thou before/that we maie come to some place / and tarye at Gibea or at Ramah all nyght. And they wente on and walked/ and the Sunne wente downe vpon them harde by Gibea/which lyeth in the tribe of Ben Jamin: and they turned in there/that they myght come in/ and tarye at Gibea all nyght. But whan he came in / he sat hym downe in the strete of the citye: for there was no man that wolde lodge them in his house that night.

And beholde/thē came there an olde man E from his worke / out of the felde in the euening: and he was also of mounte Ephraim/ and a straunger at Gibea/But the men of that place were the children of Jemini. And whan he lyfte vp his eyes/& sawe the straunger in the strete/ he sayde vnto him: Whether wylt thou go? and whence commest thou? He aunswered him: We are goyeng in our iourney from Bethleem Juda/vntyl we come beſyde side mount Ephraim/whēce I am / & wente vnto Bethleem Juda/& now I go vnto the house of the Lord/and noman wil harborow me. We haue straw & prouender for our asses/ & bread & wyne for me and thy handmaiden/ and for the yonge man which is with thy seruaunt/so that we wante nothinge.

F The olde man sayde: Peace be with the: whatsoeuer thou wantest/thou findest it with me/onely tary not in the strete al nyght. And he brought hym into his house / and gaue the asses prouender / and they washed theyr fete/and dyd eate and drynke. And whan theyr herte was now ioyfull/ the men of the cytie/the children of Belial came/and compaſsed the house rounde aboute / and rushed at the dore/and sayde vnto the olde man / which was the good man of the house: Bringe out the man which is come into thy house / that we may knowe him.

Gen. xix.b † But the good man of the house wente forth to them/ and sayde vnto them: Oh no my brethren / do not so wyckedly / consyderinge this mā is come into my house: Oh do not suche foly. Beholde / I haue a doughter yet a virgin/and this man hath a concubine/ those wil I bringe forth vnto you/that ye may humble them/and do with thē as ye like: but do not suche folye vnto this man. Neuertheleſſe / the men wolde not herken vnto him. Then toke the man his concubine/& brought her forth vnto them: and they knewe her/and dealt shamefully with her all ỹ night vntyll the morninge. And whan ỹ morninge brake on/they let her go.

G Then came the woman early in the mornynge/and fell downe at the dore of the mans house/that her lorde was in / and laye there till it was light. Now whan her lorde rose vp in the mornynge/and opened the dore of the house/ and went forth to go on his iourney/ beholde/his concubine laye at the dore of the house/and her handes vpon the threſsholde. He sayde vnto her: stande vp/let vs go. Neuertheleſſe/she gaue hym no aunswer. Then toke he her vp vpon his asse/gat him vp/ and wente vnto his place.

Now whā he came home/he toke a sweard/

Now/ as concerninge this/ take your aduiſement/and geue your cōsail/ and shewe it forth.

The.XX.Chapter.

THen wente the children of Israel out / & A gathered a congregacion together as one man/from Dan vntyl Berſaba / and frō the lande of Gilead vnto the Lord to Mispa: and there came together of al the quarters of the people/& of al the tribes of Israel / into the congregacion of the people of God/foure hundreth thousande fotemen that drue out ỹ sweard. But the childrē of Ben Jamin herde/ how that the children of Israel were gone vp vnto Mispa. And the children of Israel saide: Tell ye/how happened this euel?

Then aunswered the Leuite/the housband of the woman that was slayne/and saide: I came to Gibea in Ben Jamin with my concubine/ to tary there all nyght/then the cytieſyns of Gibea gat them vp against me / and compaſsed me aboute in the house by nyght/ and thought to slaye me/and defyled my concubine/so that she dyed: then toke I my concubine/and cut her in peces/and sent the peces into euery contrie of the inheritaunce of Israel: for they haue done an abhominacion and foly in Israel. Beholde/ here are ye dyldren of Israel: aduiſe you well/ and take this matter in hande.

So all the people gat thē vp as one mā/ B and sayde: no man shall go into his tente / nor departe to his house / but this wyll we do now against Gibea/ Let vs caſt lot/ and take ten men of an hundreth/and a hundreth of a thousande/and a thousande of ten thousande/ out of al ỹ tribes of Israel/that they may take fode for the people/to come and do with Gibea Ben Jamin / accordinge to theyr folye/ which they haue done in Israell. Thus al the men of Israell/ beinge confederate/ gathered them ſelfes together as one man vnto the cytie: and the trybe of Israell sent men vnto all the kinredes of Ben Jamin / and caused to saye vnto them: † What maner of wyc- Jos. xxij.d kedneſſe is this/ that is done amonge you?

Delyuer here therfore the men/the children of Belial at Gibea/that we maye put them to death/and do awaye the euell out of Israell. Neuertheless / the children of Ben Jamin wolde not folowe the voice of their brethren/ the children of Israel/but gathered thē selfes out of the cities vnto Gibea/to go forth in battail against the children of Israel.

And the same day were there numbred of the children of Ben Jamin/out of the cyties sixe and twentie thousand men/that drue the swearde / beside the cityesins of Gibea / of whome there were tolde seuen hundreth chosen men. And amonge al this people there were chosen out seuen hundreth men/which vsed not the right hande but the left / and yet with the slinge could they touch an heer/and not misse. But the men of Israell/beside thē of Bē Jamin/were numbred foure hundreth thousande/whiche drue the swearde / & were all men of armes. And the chyldren of Israel arose/and wente vp to the house of God (in Silo) and axed at God/and sayde: Who shal go vp for vs to begynne the battail with the children of Ben Jamin? The Lorde sayde: Juda shal begynnne.

So the children of Israel gat thē vp in the mornynge/and pitched ouer against Gibea/ and euery man of Israell wente out to fyght with Ben Jamin/and set them selfes in araye to fyght against Gibea. Then fel the children of Ben Jamin out of Gibea / and slewe the same daye amonge Israel two and twenty thousande to the grounde.

D But the people of the men of Israel conforted them selfes / and made them redy to fyght yet more in the same place / after they had prepared them selfes the daye afore.

And the children of Israell wente vp / and wepte before the Lorde vntyll the euenyng/ and axed at the Lorde/and sayde: Shall we go any more to fyght with our brethren the children of Ben Jamin? The Lorde sayde: Go vp vnto them. And whan the children of Israel gat them vp to the children of Ben Jamin on the nexte daye/ the Ben Jamites fell out of Gibea agaynst thē the same daye/ and slewe yet eyghtene thousande of the children of Israel to the grounde/which all drue the swearde.

Then wente all the children of Israel vp/ and all the people / and came to the house of God/and wepte/and taryed there before the Lorde/ and fasted that daye vntyl the euen/ and offred burntofferinges and thankeofferinges before the Lorde. And the children of Israel axed at the Lorde (the Arcke of the conuenaunt of God was there at that tyme/ and Phineas the sonne of Eleasar/the sonne of Aaron stode before hym at the same tyme) and they sayde: Shall we go forth any more to fyght agaynst our brethren the children of Ben Jamin/or shall we leaue of? The Lord sayde: Go vp/to morow wil I deliuer thē vnto youre handes.

†And the children of Israell set a preuy watch against Gibea rounde aboute / and so the children of Israell wente vp to the chyldren of Ben Jamin on the thirde daye / and set them selfes in araye against Gibea/lyke as the other two tymes afore. Then came the children of Ben Jamin out against the people/ and brake out of ỹ citie/and beganne to slaye certayne wounded of the people (lyke as the other two tymes afore) in the felde vpon two stretes: whereof one goeth toward Bethel/ the other vnto Gilead vpon a thirtie men in Israel. Then thought the childrē of Ben Jamin: They are smitten before vs lyke as afore. But the chyldren of Israel sayde: Let vs flye / ỹ we maye prouoke them out of the citie into the hye stretes.

Then all the men of Israel gat thē vp frō theyr place/and prepared thē selfes vnto Baal Thamar. And the hinder watch of Israell brake out of theyr place/frō the caue of Gaba/ and came vnto Gibea / twentye thousande chosen men out of all Israell/so that it was a sore battayl: but they knew not that the euell shoulde happen vnto thē. Thus the Lorde smote Ben Jamin before the children of Israel/so that the same daye the chyldren of Israel destroyed fyue and twentye thousande & an hūdreth men in Ben Jamin/which al drue the swearde.

F For whan the children of Ben Jamin sawe that they were smittē/the men of Israel gaue thē rowme (to flye.) For they trusted to the watch/which they had set by Gibea. And the watch made hayst also / and brake forth vnto Gibea

Gibea/and wente vpon it/and smote all the cytie with the edge of the swearde. They were appoynted betwene them selfes / the men of Israel and the hinder watch/to fall vpon thē with the swearde whan the smoke of the cytie arose. Now whan the men of Israel turned them in the battayl/ and Ben Jamin began to smyte/they wounded in Israell vpon a thyrtye men and thought / they are smytten before vs/lyke as in the battail afore/ then beganne there a piller of smoke to aryse vp from the cytie. And Ben Jamin loked behynde thē: and beholde/the flamme of the citie wente vp vnto heauen. And the men of Israell turned them/and were fearce vpon the men of Ben Jamin: for they sawe that the euel wolde happen vnto them.

G And they turned them before the men of Israel/in the waye to the wilderneſſe/but the battayl folowed vpon them. And them of the cytie destroyed they amonge them. And they compaſſed Ben Jamin rounde aboute / & followed vpon them vnto Menuah/ and trode them doune tyl afore Gibea Eastward. And there fell of Ben Jamin eyghtene thousande men/which were all men of armes.

Whan the remnaunt of Ben Jamin sawe that/they turned them / and fled toward the wilderneſſe vnto the stony rocke of Rimon. But in the same strete they slewe fyue thousande men/and folowed vpon thē vnto Gideon/and slewe two thousande of them: and so there fell the same day of Ben Jamin fyue and twenty thousande men/ whiche drue the swearde/and were al men of armes. Onely sixe hundreth men turned backe/ and fled towarde ỹ wildernes vnto the stony rocke of Rimon/and abode in the rocke of Rimon foure monethes. And ỹ men of Israel came againe to the childrē of Ben Jamin/ and smote them that were in the cytye with the edge of the swearde/both men and cattell / and all that was founde: and whatsoeuer was founde in the citie / they cast it into the fyre.

The. XXI. Chapter.

A THe men of Israel had sworne at Mispa and sayde: Noman shall geue his doughter to the Ben Jamites to wyfe. And the people came to the house of God (in Silo) & abode there before God vntyl the euening/ & lyft vp theyr voyce/and wepte sore/and sayde: O Lorde God of Israel / wherfore is this come to passe in Israel this daye: But on the morowe the people gat them vp early/& builded there an aultare/and offred burntofferinges and thankeofferinges.

And the children of Israel sayd: Where is there any man of the tribes of Israel/ that is not come vp with the congregacion vnto the Lord? For there was a great oothe made/ that who so came not to Mispa vnto the Lord/ shoulde dye the death. And the chyldren of Israel were sory for Ben Jamin their brother/and said: This daye is there one tribe lesse in Israel. How wil we do that the remnaunt may haue wifes? For we haue sworne B by the Lord/that we wil not geue them wifes of oure doughters. And they said: Where is there any man of the tribes of Israel / that is not come vp to the Lorde vnto Mispa? And beholde/there was not one man of the cytiesyns of Jabes in Gilead.

Then sent the congregacion twelfe thousande men of armes thyther/and commaunded them/an sayd: Go your waye and smyte ỹ citiesins of Jabes in Gilead with ỹ swearde/ the woman also and the children/ but so that ye do after this maner. † Se that ye damme Nu. xxxj.c al them that are males/and all the woman ỹ haue lyen with men. And amonge ỹ cytiesyns of Jabes in Gilead they founde foure hundreth damsels/which were virgins / and had lyen with noman: those they brought in to the hoost vnto Silo / whiche lyeth in the lande of Canaan.

Then sent the whole congregacion/and cau C sed to talke with the children of Ben Jamin/ †which were in that stonye rocke of Rimon/ Jud. xx.g and called vnto them frendly. So the children of Ben Jamin came againe at the same tyme/ and they gaue them women which they had of the women of Jabes in Gilead/and found no mo after that maner. Then were the people sory for Ben Jamin/that the Lorde had made a gappe in the trybes of Israel. And ỹ Elders of the congregacion sayd: What will we do/ that the remnaunt maye haue wifes also? for the women in Ben Jamin are destroyed/ and they sayd: The enheritaunce of them them of Ben Jamin that are escaped / must nedes remayne/that there be not a trybe destroyed out of Israell: and we can not geue them our doughters to wyfes: For the chyldren of Israell haue sworne and sayde: cursed be he that geueth a wyfe to the Ben Jamites.

And they sayde: Beholde/ there is a yearly feast of the Lord at Silo/which lyeth on the Northsyde of the Gods house/& on the Eastsyde of the strete / as a man goeth from Bethel vnto Sichem/ and lyeth on the Southsyde of Libona. And they commaunded the chyldren of Ben Jamin / and sayde: Go your waye / and wayte in the vyneyardes. And whan ye se that the doughters of Silo go forth by companyes to daunce/get you out of the vyneyardes / and euery man take hym a wyfe of the doughters of Silo/ and go youre waye into the lande of Ben Jamin. As for theyr fathers and brethren / whan they come to lawe with vs/we wyl saye vnto them: Be fauourable to them / for they haue not taken them in battayll: but ye gaue them not vnto them by tyme/and it is your faute.

The chyldren of Ben Jamin dyd so/ and accordynge to theyr numbre toke them wyfes from the daunce / whome they caught by violence / and wente theyr waye/ and dwelt in theyr owne inheritaunce / and buylded cytyes/and dwelte therin. The chyldren of Israell also gat them vp from thence at the same tyme/euery one to his trybe / and to his kynred / and departed thence euery man to his owne inheritaunce. † At that tyme was there no kynge in Israel/ and euery man dyd the thynge that was ryght in his owne eyes.

¶ The ende of the boke of the Judges/called Judicum.

The boke of Ruth.

The fyrst Chapter.

In the tyme whā ỹ Judges ruled / there was a derth in the lande. And there went a man from Bethleem Juda / to take his iourney into ỹ lande of the Moabites / with his wife and two sōnes/ which man was called Elimelech / and his wyfe Naemi/& his two sonnes/the one Mahelon/and the other Chilion: these were Ephraites of Bethleem Juda. And whan they came into the lande of the Moabites / they dwelt there. And Elimelech Naemis husbād dyed/and she was left behynde with her two sonnes / whiche toke Moabitish wyfes: the one was called Arpa/the other Ruth. And whan they had dwelte there ten yeares / they dyed/both Mahelon and Chilion/so that the woman remayned desolate of both her sonnes/and her husbande.

Then gat she her vp with both her sonnes wyfes/and wente agayne out of the land of the Moabites (for she had herde in the lande of the Moabites/that the Lorde had visyted his people/and geuen them bread) and so she departed from the place where she was/ and both her sonnes wyfes with her. And as they wente by the way to come agayne into ỹ land of Juda/she sayd vnto her sonnes wyfes: Go youre waye: and turne backe eyther of you to her mothers house: ỹ Lorde shewe mercy vpon you / as ye haue done on them that are dead/and on me. The Lorde graūte you/that ye may fynd rest eyther of you in her husbandes house/(whome ye shall get) and she kyssed them.

Then lyft they vp theyr voyce/ and wepte/ and sayde vnto her: We wyll go with the vnto thy people. But Naemi sayd: Turn againe my doughters / why wolde ye go with me? † How can I haue chyldren any more in my Deu. xxv. body/body/to be your husbandes? Turn again my doughters/& go youre waye/ for I am now to olde to take an husbande.

And though I should saye/I hope this night to take an husband/ & to bringe forth chyldren/yet coulde not ye tary/ tyll they were growen vp: for ye shoulde be to olde/so that ye coulde haue no husbandes No my doughters/therfore am I sory for you/for the hande of the Lorde is gone forth ouer me.

Then lyfte they vp theyr voyce/& wept yet more/and Arpa kyssed her mother in lawe / & turned backe againe/but Ruth abode still by her. Neuerthelesse/she said: Behold/thy syster in lawe is turned back vnto her people / & to her God/turn thou again also after thy syster in lawe. Ruth aunswered: Speake not to me thereof/ỹ I shoulde forsake the/ & turne backe from the: † whither soeuer thou goest/ thither will I go also: and loke where thou abydest/ there wil I abide also: Thy people is my people / and thy God is my God. Loke where thou dyest/there wil I dye/and eue there wyl I also be buried. The Lorde do this & that vnto me/death only shal depart vs.

Now whan she sawe that she was stedfastly mynded to go with her/ she spake no more to her therof. So they wente on both together/tyll they came vnto Bethleem. And whā they were come into Bethleem/the whole cyte was moued ouer them/and sayde: Is not this Naemi? Neuerthelesse / she sayde vnto them: call me not Naemi/ but Mara: for the almightie hath made me very sory. I departed full / but the Lorde hath broughte me home agayne emptye. Why call ye me then Naemi? whan the Lorde hath broughte me lowe/ and the Almyghtye hath made me sory?

It was aboute the tyme of the begynnynge of the barlye haruest/whā Naemi and her sonnes wyfe Ruth the Moabitisse / came agayne from the lande of the Moabites vnto Bethleem. There was a kynsman also of the kynred of Elimelech/Naemis husbād/ whose name was Boos/whiche was an honest man.

The II. Chapter.

And Ruth the Moabitysse saide vnto Naemi: Let me go into the felde/and gather eyres of corne after him/in whose sight I shall fynde fauoure: She sayde vnto her: Go thy way my doughter. She went on/& came and gathered after the reapers in the felde. And it fortuned that thesame felde was the enheritaunce of Boos/& was of the kinred of Elimelech/& behold/Boos came frō Bethleē/ and sayde vnto the reapers: The Lorde be with you. They aunswered: The Lord blesse the. And Boos sayde vnto his yonge man/ which had the ouersight of ỹ reapers. Whose damsell is this? The yonge man that was set ouer the reapers/aunswered and sayde: It is the damsel of the Moabitisse/whiche came agayne with Naemi from the lande of the Moabites. And she sayde: Let me plucke vp and gather (I pray the) betwene the sheeues after the reapers: and thus is she come / and hath stande here euer sence the morynge/ & within a litle while she wold haue ben gone home agayne.

Then said Boos vnto Ruth: Hearest thou my doughter? Thou shalt not go vpon an other mans lande to gather/and go not away from hence/but tary with my damsels / and loke where they reape in the felde/go thou after them: for I haue commaunded my seruauntes that no man touche the. And if thou be a thyrst/ go thy waye to the vessell & drinke/ where my seruauntes draw. Then fel she vpō her face / and bowed her selfe doune too the earth/and said vnto him: How haue I foūde this fauoure in thy sight / that thou woldest know me/which am yet a straunger?

Boos aunswered and sayde vnto her: It is tolde me altogether / what thou hast done vnto thy mother in lawe after thy husbandes death / how that thou hast left thy father and thy mother/& thy natiue cōtrie / and art come to a people/whome thou hast not knowen afore. The Lorde recompence the thy doinge/& thy reward be perfecte of ỹ Lord God of Israel/vnto whome thou art come to put thy trust vnder his winges. She sayde: let me finde fauoure (syr) before thine eyes/ for thou hast conforted me / & spoken frendly vnto thy handmaidē/where as I am not yet lyke one of thy handmaidens.

Boos sayde vnto her: When it is eatynge time/come hither/and eate of the bread/ and and dyppe thy morsell in the vyneger. And she sat her doune besyde the reapers. And he set parched corne before her/and she dyd eate/D and was satisfyed/and lefte ouer. And whan she rose to gather/ Boos cōmaunded his seruauntes and said: Let her gather betwene the sheeues also/and do her no dishonesty: & cast of the sheeues vnto her/ and let it lye that she maye gather it vp/and se that no man reproue her for it.

So she gathered in the felde vntil euen/ &
she dyd shake out what she had gathered/and it was almoost an Epha of barlye: & she toke
it vp/and came into the citie/and shewed her mother in law what she had gathered. She toke forth also/ and gaue her of that whiche was left/wherof she was satisfyed. Then said her mother in lawe vnto her. Blessinge haue the man that hath knowen the/ where thou hast gathered and laboured this daie.

E She tolde her mother in lawe by whome
she had laboured/and saide: The mans name
by whome I haue wrought to daie/is Boos.
Naemi sayd vnto her doughter in lawe: The blessyng of the Lord haue he/for he hath not left of to be mercyful vnto the lyuinge† and to Tobi.ij.a ȳ dead. And Naemi sayde vnto her: The same man belongeth vnto vs/and is our nye kyns-man. Ruth the Moabitisse said: He said mo-reouer vnto me. Thou shalt resorte vnto my seruauntes/tyll they haue made an ende of all my harueste. Naemi said vnto Ruth her doughter in law: It is better my doughter that thou go forth with his damsels/lest any man withstande ȳ in another felde. Thus she kepte her selfe with Boos damsels/ so that she gathered vntyl the barly harueste: and the wheat harueste was out/and came againe to her mother in lawe.

The. III. Chapter.

A AND Naemi her mother in lawe saide vnto her: My doughter/I wil prouide reste for the/that thou mayest prospere. Boos our kynsman/by whose damsels thou hast bene/casteth vp barlye nowe this nyght in his barne. Bath thy selfe therefore/ and & moffel
Some rea- de/ anointe the/and put on thy clothes/and go doune vn-
the. to the barne/so that no mā knowe the/ til they haue al eaten and dronken.

Whan he layeth him doune to slepe/ then marke the place where he lyeth doune/& come thou/and take vp the coueringe at his fete/ &
laye the doune/so shall he tell the/ what thou shalt do. She said vnto her: whatsoeuer thou sayeste vnto me/I wil do it.

She went doune to the barne/ and dyd al B
as her mother in law had commaunded her.
And whan Boos had eaten and dronke/ his hert was mery/ and he came and layed hym doune behynde a heape of sheeues. And she came secretely/ and toke vp the coueringe at his fete/& layed her doune. Now whā it was mydnight/ȳ man was afrayed/ and groped aboute him/and beholde/ a womā laye at his fete. And he said: Who arte thou? She aun-swered: I am Ruth thy handmayden/ spreade thy wynges ouer thy handmaiden: for thou art the next kynsman.

He saide: The Lordes blessynge haue C thou my doughter. Thou hast done a better mercy hereafter then before/ that thou art not gone after yonge mē/neyther rych nor poore.
Feare not now my doughter: All that thou hast sayde/wil I do for the: for all the cytie of my people knoweth that thou art a vertcous woman. Trueth it is nowe/ that I am a nye kynsman/But there is one nyer then I. Tarye thou al night. To morowe if he take the/well:
if he lyke not to take the/ then wyll I take the my selfe/as truelye as the Lord lyueth. Slepe thou tyll the morninge. And she slepte at his fete vntyll the morowe. And she rose vp or e- D uer one coulde knowe another. And he thoughte thus: ȳ no man know now ȳ there hath come a woman into the barne/and he sayde:
Reache me the cloke that thou hast on the/and holde it forth/and she helde it forth. And he dyd meete her sixe measures of barlye/& layd it vpon her/and she went in to the citye/and came to her mother in law/which said: How is it with the my doughter? And she tolde her all that the man had done vnto her/& sayde:
These sixe measures of barlye gaue he me/ for he saide: Thou shalt not come empty to thy mother in lawe. She sayde: Abyde my doughter/tyl thou se what the matter wyl growe to: for the man wil not ceasse/tyll he bringe it to an ende this daye.

The. IIII. Chapter.

A BOos wente vp to the gate/ and set hym
doune there: and beholde/whan the nye kinsman wente by. Boos spake vnto him and sayde: Come and sette the doune here (and cal led hym by his name.) And he came and sat hym doune/and he toke ten mē of the Elders of the cytye/and sayd: Syt you doune here.
And they satte them doune. Then sayde he to the nye kynsman: Naemy/which is come a-Leui.xxv.d gayne from the lande of the Moabites/†offe-Deu.xxij.b reth to sell ȳ pece of lande/that was oure brothers Eli Melech/ therfore thoughte I to shewe it before thyne eares/and to tell the: If thou wylt redeme it/ then bye it before the cytiesyns/ and before the Elders of my people:
but if thou wylt not redeme it/then tell me ȳ
I may knowe: for there is no nye kynsman excepte thou/and I nexte after the.

B He sayde: I wyll redeme it. Boos sayde:
In the daye that thou byeste the lande out of Deut.xv.a the hande of Naemi/thou † muste take Ruth also the Moabitisse the wyse of the dead/ that thou mayst rayse vp a name to the dead in his enheritaunce. Then sayde he: I can not redeme it/lest/I happlye destroye myne owne en-heritaunce. Redeme thou that I shoulde redeme/ for I can not redeme it. But this was an olde costume in Israell/ concernynge
the redemynge and chaungynge/that al matters myght be stable/ the one put of his shue/
and gaue it vnto the other: that was the testymony in Israell.

And the nye kynsman sayd vnto Boos:
Bye thou it/and he put of his shue. And Boos sayd vnto the Elders/and to all the people:
Ye are wytnesses this daye/ ȳ I haue bought out of the hāde of Naemi/ all that belonged to Eli Melech/and all that was Chiliōs: & Mahelons. And Ruth the Moabitisse Mahelōs Leui.xxv.a wyse/take I to wyse/ †that I maye rayse vp a C name vnto the dead in his enheritaunce/ and that his name be not roted out from amonge
his brethren/ and out of the gate of his place:
Of this are ye wytnesses. And all the people that was in the gate with the Elders/ sayd:
We are wytnesses. The Lord make the woman that commeth in to thy house/ as Rachel Genes.xxx and Lea/(†whiche both haue buylded vp the house of Israel) that she may be an ensample of vertue in Ephrata/and haue an honorable name in Bethleem. And thy house be as the house of Phares/ (†whome Thamar bare Ge.xxxviij.c vnto Juda) thorow the sede/that the Lorde shall geue the of this damsell.

So Boos toke Ruth/ and she became his wyse. And whan he laye with her/the Lord graunted her that she conceaued/ and bare a sonne. Then sayde the woman vnto Naemi: D Praysed be the Lorde/which hath not suffered a kynsman to ceasse from the at this time/that his name maye cōtinue in Israel: he shall restore thy lyfe agayne/and prouide for thyne age. For youre sonnes wyse/which hath loued ȳ/ hath borne him that is better vnto the/then seuen sonnes.

And Naemi toke the childe/and layed it vpō her lappe/and became the norse of it/ and her neyghbours gaue hym a name and sayde:
There is a childe borne vnto Naemi/and they called his name Obed. The same is the father of Jsai/whiche is the father of Dauid. This is the generacion of Phares/ †Phares begat j.Par.ij.a

Lorde Ophni and Phineas/the two sonnes of Eli. Now whan it came vpon a daye that Elcana offred/ he gaue partes vnto his wyfe

Gene. xix. d and xxv. a But vnto Hanna he gaue one deale heauely/for he loued Hanna. Neuertheles/†ỹ Lorde had closed her wombe/and her aduersary cast her in the teeth with her vnfrutfulnesse / because the Lord had closed her wombe: thus did she euery yeare/whan they went vp to the house of the Lorde/& thus she prouoked her.
So she wept and dyd eat nothynge. But Elcana her housbãde sayde vnto her: Wherfore wepest thou? And why eatest thou not? And wherfore is thyne hert so greued? Am not I better vnto the then ten sonnes?

B Then stode Hanna vp/ whan she had eaten & dronken at Silo. But Eli the priest sat vpon a stole by the poste of the temple of the Lord. And she was ful heuynes in her hert/and prayed vnto the Lord/& wepte/& vowed a vowe/and sayd: O Lorde Zabaoth/if thou

And whan she had prayed longe before the her voyce was not herde. Then thought Eli she had ben dronken/and said vnto her: How longe wylt thou be dronken? Let come from red out my herte before the Lord. Count not thy handmayden a doughter of Beliall: for out of my heauye thought and sorowe haue I spoken hetherto.

C Eli aunswered her/and sayd: Go thy waye in peace/the God of Israell shall graunt the thy peticyon that thou hast desyred of hym.
She sayde: Let thy handmayden fynde fa-uoure in thy syght. So the woman wente her waye and dyd eate/and loked nomore so sorowfully/and on the morowe they gat them vp by tymes: And whan they had worshipped before the Lorde/they returned / & came home vnto Ramatha.

And Elcana laye with Hanna his wyfe: & Gene. xxj.
the Lord remẽbred her. †And after certaine dayes she conceaued and bare a sonne / & called his name Samuell / for I haue desyred hym (sayd she) of the Lord. And whan the at such tyme as the costume was. Hanna wẽt not vp/but sayd vnto her housbande: I wyll not go vp tyll the chylde be weened: then wyll

I bringe hym/that he maye appeare before ỹ

S Elcana her housband sayd vnto her: Then do as thou thynkest best / tary tyl thou haue weened hym: but the Lord perfourme that he hath spoken. So the woman abode/& gaue

she had weened hym/she †brought hym vp Luce. ij. d

hym in to the house of the Lord at Silo.

Neuertheles/the chylde was yet but yonge.
And they slew a bullocke/& brought the chyld vnto Eli. And she sayd: O my lorde/ as truly as thy soule lyueth my lorde/I am the womã

vnto ỹ Lord / whã I prayed for this chylde.
Now hath the Lorde graunted me my peti-

the Lorde there.

let them inheret the seat of honoure/ for the foundacion and corners of the worlde are the Lordes/and he hath set the compasse of the earth theron.

He shal preserue the fete of his saynctes/
but the vngodly shalbe put to silence in dar-Deu. viij. d keneſſe. †For there is no mã that can doought of his owne power.

The Lordes enemyes shalbe put in feare/before hym/he shall thonder vpon them

The Lorde shall iudge the endes of the worlde/and shal geue strẽght vnto his kynge/& shal exalte the horne of his anoynted.

C Elcana wente his waye to Ramath vnto his house. And the chyld became the Lor-des minister before Eli the priste. But Elies sonnes were the chyldren of Beliall/and knewe not the Lorde/ nor the deutye
of the priestes vnto the people: but whan
any man wolde offer ought/the priestes boye came/whyle the flesh was seethyng / and had a thre forked fleshoke in his handc / and thrust it in to the cauldron/or kettel/ or panne / or pot: and loke what he drue forth with the fleshoke/that toke the priest therof. Thus dyd they vnto all Israell/ whiche came then/
there vnto Silo.

Lykewyse/or euer they burned the fatte/
the priestes lad came/and sayd vnto hym that brought the offrynge: Geue me the flesshe/that I maye roste it for the priest/for he wyl receaue no sotten flesshe of the / but rawe.

D If any man sayd then vnto hym: Let the fat burne as it ought to do this daye/and afterwarde take what thyne herte desyreth/then sayde he vnto hym: Thou shalt geue it me euen now: if no/I wyll take it from thy by violence. Therefore was the synne of the chyldren very great before the Lorde/ for the people
spake euel of the meatofferynge of the Lord.
But Samuel was a minister before ỹ Lorde/and the chylde was gyrded with an ouerbody of lynnen. His mother also made hym
a lytle cote of sylke / and brought it vp vnto hym at conuenient tymes whan she † wente Deu. xvj. a vp with her housbande to offer the offeryn-ge in due season.

And Eli blessed Elcana and his wyfe/and sayde: The Lord geue the sede of this woman/for this good that thou haste lent vnto
the Lorde. And they went vnto theyr place.
And the Lord vysyted Hanna / so that she cõceaued and bare thre sonnes & two doughters: but the chyld Samuel grew vp with the Lorde.

As for Eli/he was very olde / and herde of E
all that his sonnes dyd vnto all Israel/& how they laye with the women that serued God
before the dore of the tabernacle of witnesse/& he sayde vnto them/wherfore do ye this? For I heare of your euell conuersacyon of all this people. Not so my chyldren/ this is no good reporte that I heare/ye cause the people of the Lord to offende. †If any man sinne against Mat. xij. c a man/the iudge can redresse it. But if any man synne agaynst the Lorde / who can redresse it? Neuertheless/they herkened not vnto the voyce of theyr father / for the Lordes wyll was to slaye them. †But the chylde Sa- Luce. ij. g muel wente and grewe vp/and was accepted
of the Lord and of men.

There came a man of God to Eli/and said
vnto hym: Thus sayeth the Lord: I shewed my selfe vnto thy fathers house / whan they were yet in Egypte vnder the house of Pharao/ and chose hym there vnto my selfe before all the trybes of Israell / for the priesthode/that he shoulde offer vpon my aultare/ and burne incense / and weare the ouerbody cote before me / † and vnto thy fathers house Leuit. x. d
I gaue all the offerynges of the chyldren Deut. xij. b of Israell. Why layest thou thy selfe then a-gaynst my sacrifices & meatofferinges/which I commaunded to offer in the habitacyon:

and thou honoureſt thy ſonnes more the me/ that ye myghte fede your ſelfes with the fyrſt lynges of all the meatofferynges of my people of Iſrael?

Therefore ſayeth the Lorde God of Iſraell: I haue ſpoken/ that thy houſe and thy fathers houſe ſhould walk before me for euer. G But now ſayth the Lord: That be farre fro me. But whoſoeuer honoureth me/ hym wyll I honoure alſo: as for thoſe that deſpyſe me/ iij. Reg. ij. d they ſhal not be regarded. Beholde/ † the tyme ſhal come/ that I wyll breake thyne arme in two/ and the arme of thy fathers houſe/ ſo that there ſhal no olde man be in thy houſe. And thou ſhalt ſe thyne aduerſaries in the habitacyon/ in all the good of Iſrael/ and there ſhall neuer be olde man in thy fathers houſe. Yet wyll I not rote out euery mā of the fro myne aultare/ but that thyne eyes may be cōſumed/ i. And whoſoeuer remayneth of thy houſe/ ſhall come and worſhippe hym for a ſyluer peny/ and for a pece of bread/ & ſhal ſaye: I praye the leaue me to one prieſtes part/ that I maye eate a morſell of bread.

The. III. Chapter.

A AND whan the chylde Samuell miniſtred vnto the Lorde vnder Ely/ the word of the Lorde was deare at the ſame tyme/ neyther was there any ſure and manyfeſt viſion. And it fortuned at the ſame tyme that Ely i. Reg. iiij. c laye in his place/ † and his eyes beganne to be dymme/ ſo that he coulde not ſe. And Samuel had layed hym doune in the temple of the Lorde/ (where the Arcke of God was) before the lampe of God was put out. And ỹ Lord called Samuell. He aunſwered: Beholde/ here am I. And he rāne vnto Ely/ and ſayd: Beholde/ here am I/ thou haſt called me. But he ſayd: I haue not called ỹ/ go thy waye agayne/ & lay the doune to ſlepe. And he went his waye/ and layed hym doune to ſlepe.

The Lorde called agayne: Samuell. And B Samuel aroſe/ and wēte vnto Ely/ and ſayd: Beholde/ here am I/ thou haſt called me. Neuertheleſſe. He ſayd: My ſonne/ I haue not called the. Go thy waye agayne/ and laye the doun to ſlepe. As for Samuel/ he knewe not the Lorde as yet/ & the worde of the Lorde was not yet ſhewed vnto hym. And ỹ Lord called Samuel the thyrd tyme. And he aroſe and wente vnto Eli/ and ſayd: Beholde/ here am I/ thou haſt called me. Then perceaued Eli that the Lorde called the chylde/ and he ſayd vnto hym: Go thy waye agayn/ and laye the doune to ſlepe: and if the Lorde call any more/ then ſaye: Speake Lorde/ for thy ſeruaunt heareth. Samuel wente his waye/ and layed hym doune in his place. Then came the C Lord and ſtode/ and called lyke as afore: Samuel/ Samuel. And Samuel ſayde: Speake Lord/ for thy ſeruaunt heareth. And the Lord ſayd vnto Samuel: Beholde/ I do a thynge in Iſraell/ that whoſoeuer ſhall heare it/ both his eares ſhall glowe. In that daye wyll I rayſe vp vpon Eli † all that I haue i Reg. iij. g ſpoken/ concernynge his houſe. I wyll take it in hande/ and perfourme it: for I haue tolde hym/ that I wyll be iudge ouer his houſe for euer/ becauſe of the wyckednes/ that he knewe how ſhamefully his chyldren behaued them ſelfes/ and hath not once loked ſowerly therto: Therfore haue I ſworne vnto ỹ houſe of Eli/ that this wyckednes of the houſe of Eli ſhal not be reconcyled/ neyther with ſacrifice/ nor with meatofferynge for euer. And Samuel lay vnto the morowe/ and opened the dores of the houſe of the Lord.

But Samuel was afrayed to tell the viſiō D vnto Eli. Then Eli called hym/ & ſayde: Samuel my ſonne. He aūſwered: Behold/ Here am I. He ſayde: What is the worde that the Lord hath ſpoken vnto the? hyde it not fro me: God do this & that vnto the/ if thou hyde ought fro me/ of al that he hath talked with ỹ. Then Samuel tolde hym altogether/ and hyd nothynge from him. He ſayd: It is ỹ Lord/ let hym do what pleaſeth hym.

Samuel grewe vp/ and the Lord was with hym/ and there fell none of all his wordes vpon the earth. And all Iſraell from Dan vnto Berſaba/ knewe ỹ Samuel was faythfull to be a prophete of the Lorde. And the Lorde appeared agayne at Silo: for the Lord ſhewed him ſelfe vnto Samuel at Silo/ thorow the worde of the Lorde.

The. IIII. Chapter.

A AND all Iſrael ſpake of Samuel. And Iſrael wente forth to the battayll agaynſt the Philiſtines/ and pitched beſyde the † Helpſtone: As for the Philiſtines/ they pitched at Reg. viij. c Aphek/ and prepared them ſelfes agaynſt Iſrael. And whan the battail beganne/ the hooſt was deuyded/ ſo that Iſrael was ſmytten before the enemyes/ and in the edge in the felde they ſlewe aboute a foure thouſande mē. And whan the people came in to the hooſt/ the Elders of Iſraell ſayd: Wherfore hath the Lorde cauſed vs to be ſmytten this daye before the Philiſtines? Let vs take vnto vs the Arke of the Lordes conuenaunt from Silo/ and let it come amonge vs/ that it may helpe vs from the hande of our enemyes. And the people ſent vnto Silo/ and cauſed to fetch thence the Arke of the conuenaunt of the Lorde Zabaoth/ that ſytteth vpon the Cherubins. And with the Arke of the cōuenaunt of God there were the two ſonnes of Eli/ Ophni and Phineas.

B And whan the Arke of the conuenaunt of the Lorde came in to the hooſt/ all Iſraell ſhouted with a great ſhoute/ ſo that the earth ſounded withall. But whan the Philiſtynes herde the noyſe of the ſhoute they ſayd: What noyſe is this of ſuch great ſhoutyng in the tentes of the Hebrues? And whan they perceaued that the Arke of the Lorde was come in to the hooſt/ they were afrayed and ſayd: God is come in to the hooſt. And they ſayd moreouer: Wo vnto vs/ for it hath not bene thus afore tyme. Wo vnto vs. Who wyll delyuer vs from the hande of theſe hye goddes? Theſe are the goddes that ſmote Egipt with all maner of plagues in the wylderneſſe. Be ſtronge now an manly ye Philiſtynes/ that ye ſerue di. xiij. a not the Hebrues/ † as they haue ſerued you. Be manly and fyght.

C Then fought the Phyliſtines/ and Iſraell was ſmitten/ and euery one fled vnto his tente/ and there was a very great ſlaughter/ ſo that there fell of Iſraell thirtye thouſande foote men. And the Arke of God was taken/ † and the two ſonnes of Eli/ Ophni and Phi- j. Reg. iij. g neas dyed.

Then ranne there one of ỹ Ben Jamin out of the fore front of the bartayl/ and came vnto Silo the ſame daye/ and had his clothes rent/ and had earth vpon his heade/ And whan he came in/ Heli ſat vpon the ſeate/ that he might loke towarde the waye: for his herte was fearfull aboute the Arke of God. And whan the man came in to the cytye/ he tolde it forth/ and all the cytye cryed. And whan Eli herd the noyſe of the cryenge/ he axed: What noyſe of buſineſſe is this? The man came haiſtly/ and tolde Eli. (As for Eli he was foure ſcore and eyghtene yeare olde/ † & his eyes were dym- j. Reg. iij. c me/ ſo that he coulde not ſe.) The man ſayde vnto Eli: I come/ and am fled this day out of the hooſt. He ſayde: How is it my ſonne?

Then aunſwered the tydynge brynger and D ſayde: Iſrael is fled before the Philiſtynes/ and a great ſlaughter hath there ben amonge the people/ and thy two ſonnes Ophni and Phineas are dead/ yee/ and the Arke of God is taken awaye. Whan he had made mencion of the Arke of God/ he fel doune backwarde from the ſeate by the gate/ and brake his necke and dyed: for he was olde/ and an heauy man. He iudged Iſrael fourtye yeares. The wife of his ſonne Phineas was with chylde/ and ſhoulde ſhortly haue ben delyuered: whan she herde the tydynges that ỹ Arke of God was taken/ and that her brother in lawe/ and her houſbande were dead/ ſhe bowed her ſelfe & trauayled: for her payne came vpon her. And whan ſhe was now at the poynte of death/ the women that ſtode by her/ ſayd: † Feare not/ Ge. xxxv. d thou haſt a yonge ſonne. But ſhe gaue no aunſwere/ neyther regarded it/ and ſhe called the chylde Icabod/ and ſayd: The glorye is gone from Iſrael/ becauſe the Arke of God was taken awaye/ and her brother in lawe and her houſbande. And ſhe ſayd moreouer: The glorye is gone from Iſrael/ for the Arke of God is taken awaye.

The. V. Chapter.

AS for the Arke of God/ the Philiſtynes A troke it/ and brought it from † the ſtone of j. Reg. vij. c Helpe vnto Aſdod/ into the houſe of Dagon/and set it beſyde Dagon. And whan they of Aſdood roſe vp early on the morow/they foūde Dagon leyng on his face vpon the earth/before the Arcke of the Lorde. But they toke vp Dagon/ and set hym agayne in his place. Neuertheles/ whan they roſe vp early on the nexte morowe/they found Dagon lyenge on his face vpon the earth before the Arke of the Lord: but his heade & both his handes hewen of vpon the treſholde / ſo that the blocke laye there onely. Therfore the prieſtes of Dagon/and al they that go in to his houſe/treade not vpon the treſholde of Dagon at Aſdod: vnto this daye.

B But the hāde of the Lord was heauy vpon them of Aſdod/and deſtroyed them/and ſmote Aſdod/and al the borders therof in ſecrete places. Whan the men of Aſdod ſaw ỹ they were ſo plagued/they ſayde: †Let not the Arcke of the God of Iſrael tary with vs / for his hande is to hard vpon vs/ and vpon oure God Dagon. And they ſent forth/and gathered all the princes of the Philiſtynes vnto them/and ſayde: What ſhall we do with the Arke of the God of Iſrael: Then aunſwered they of Geth: Let the Arke of the God of Iſrael be borē aboute. And they caried the Arke of the God of Iſrael rounde aboute. Deu. xxxij. d

C But when they bare it aboute/there was a very greate rumor in the cytie thorow ỹ hāde of the Lord/and ſmote the people of the cytie/from the ſmaleſt vnto the greateſt/and deſtroyed them in the ſecrete places. Then ſent they the Arcke of the Lorde vnto Ekron. But whan the Arcke of the Lord came vnto Ekron/they of Ekron cryed: They haue caried the Arke of God aboute vnto me/to ſlaye me and my people.

D Then ſente they forth / and gathered all the princes of the Philiſtynes together / and ſayd: Sende awaye the Arcke of the God of Iſraell agayne vnto her place/that it ſlaye not me & my people: for there is a very greate rumoure with the dead in all the cytie/ and the hande of God is there. And the people that dyed not/were ſmitten in ſecrete places/ ſo that the noyſe of the cytie wente vp vnto heauen.

The. VI. Chapter.

THus was the Arcke of the Lord in the Alande of the Philiſtynes ſeuē monethes. And the Philiſtynes called they: prieſtes and ſoythſayers/and ſayd: What ſhal we do with the Arcke of the Lorde? Shewe vs/wherwith ſhall we ſende it vnto her place? They ſayde: If ye wil ſende awaye the Arcke of the God of Iſrael/ſende it not awaye empty/ but geue a treſpaſſe offerynge: ſo ſhall ye be made whole/and ye ſhall know why his hande departeth not from you.

They ſayde: What is the treſpaſſeofferynge that we ſhall geue hym? They aunſwered: fyue mans hynder partes of golde / and fyue golden myce/ accordynge to the numbre of the fyue princes of the Philiſtynes. For there hath bene one maner of plague vpō you all/ and vpon youre princes. Therefore muſt ye make youre hynder partes of one faſhion and youre myce/whiche haue deſtroyed youre lande: that ye maye geue the God of Iſrael the honoure: peraduenture his hande ſhalbe the lyghter vpon you/ and vpon youre God/and vpon youre lande. Why harden ye youre hertes as the Egipcians and Pharao hardened they: hert? Whan he ſhewed hym ſelfe vpon them: †dyd not they let them departe to go they: waye? B Exod. ix

Go to now therfore/& make a † newe cart/ and take two mylke kyne/vpō the which there neuer came yocke/& yocke them to the carte/& let they: calfe tary behynde thē at home: & take ye the Arcke of the Lorde / and laye it vpon the carte: and the iewels of golde that ye geue hym for a treſpaſſeoffering/put in a coffer beſyde it/and ſent it awaye/and let it go. And loke well if it go the waye of her owne coaſt Bethſemes / then hath he done vs all this great euell: If no/then ſhal ye knowe that his hande hath not touched vs/but that is happened vnto vs by chaunce. C 1. Reg. vi

The men dyd ſo/and toke two yonge mylkekyne / and yocked them to carte / and helde they: calfes at home / and layed the Arcke of the Lorde vpon the cart/and the coffer with the golden myce / and with the Images of they: diſeaſe. And the kyne went ſtrayght waye vnto Bethſemes vpon one hye ſtrete/ and wente on blearynge/and turned neyther to the ryght hande nor to the lefte. And the princes princes of the Philiſtynes wente after them vnto the coaſt of Bethſemes.

The Bethſemites were euen reapynge doune they: wheat harueſt in the valley / and lyfte vp they: eyes/& ſawe the Arcke/ & reioyced to ſe it. The carte came in to the feld of Joſua the Bethſemite/& there it ſtode ſtill. And there was a great ſtone/& they claue the tymber of the carte/and offred the kyne vnto the Lord for a burntofferynge.

But the Leuites toke doune the Arcke of the Lorde/and the coffer that was by it/ wherin the Jewels of golde were/and ſette them vpon the great ſtone. The men of Bethſemes offered burntoſſerynges/ & other ofſerynges alſo vnto the Lord theſame daye. And whan the fyue princes of the Philiſtynes had ſene it/they departed agayn the ſame daye towarde Ekron.

D These are the golden diſeaſes/that the Philiſtynes offred for a treſpaſſeofferynge vnto the Lorde: Aſdod one: Gaſa one: Aſcalon one: Gath one: and Ekron one/and golden myce/accordynge to the numbre of al the cyties of the Philiſtynes amōg the fyue princes/from the walled cytie vnto the village / & vnto the greate playne felde / where vpon they ſet the Arcke of the Lord/ which was vnto this daye vpon the felde of Joſua the Bethſemite.

And certayne of Bethſemes were ſlayne/ becauſe they had ſene the Arcke of the Lorde/and he ſlewe fyftye thouſande and ſeuentye men of the people. Then mourned the people/because the Lorde had done ſo great a ſlaughter in the people. And the men at Bethſemes ſayde: Who may ſtande before the Lorde ſo holy a God? And to whome ſhal he go from vs? And they ſent meſſaungers to the inhabiters of Kyriath Jearim/ ſayenge: The Philyſtines haue brought the Arcke of God agayne/come doune and fetch it vp vnto you.

The. VII. Chapter.

A SO ỹ mē of Kyriath Jearim came doune/ and fetched the Arcke of the Lord/and broughte it in to the houſe of †Aminadab at Gibea/and they cōſecrated Eleaſar his ſonne that he myghte kepe the Arcke. †And frō that daye that the Arcke of the Lord abode at Kiriath Jearim/ the tyme extended forth ſo lōge tyll it came to twentye yeares: & all the houſe of Iſrael wept after the Lord. 1. Reg. vi. a Pa. xiij. a

But Samuel ſayd vnto al the houſe of Iſraell: †If ye turne withall youre hert vnto the Lord/then put away from you ỹ ſtraūge goddes and Aſtaroth/ and directe youre hert vnto the Lord/and †ſerue hym onely/ſo ſhal he delyuer you out of the hande of the Philiſtynes. Then the chyldren of Iſrael put away Baalim and Aſtaroth from them/and ſerued the Lorde onely. Ioſ. xxiiij. c Tob. xiij. c Deu. vj. c Mat. iiij. b

Samuel ſayde: Gather all Iſrael together vnto Miſpa/ that I maye praye for you vnto the Lorde. And they came together vnto Miſpa/and drue water / and powred it out before the Lorde / and faſted theſame daye/ and there they ſayde: We haue ſynned vnto the Lorde. So Samuel iudged the chyldren of Iſrael at Miſpa. B

But whan the Philiſtynes herde that the chyldren of Iſrael were come together vnto Miſpa/the princes of the Philiſtynes wente vp agaynſt Iſrael. Whan the chyldren of Iſrael herde that/they were afrayed of the Philiſtynes/and ſayde vnto Samuel: Ceaſſe not to crye vnto the Lorde our God for vs/that he maye helpe vs out of the hande of the Philiſtines. †Samuel toke a fat lambe/and offred an whole burntofferynge vnto the Lord/ & crye vnto the Lord for Iſrael/and the Lorde herde hym. And whyle Samuel was offerynge the burntſacriſyce / the Philiſtynes came to fyght agaynſt Iſrael. But the Lord thondred a thonder vpon the Philiſtynes the ſame daye/and diſcomfited them/ſo that they were ſmytten before Iſrael. Then wente the men of Iſraell forth: and chaced the Philiſtines/and ſmote them tyll vnder Bethcar. Eccl. xlvj. f C

Thē toke Samuel a ſtone/ and ſet it betwene Miſpa and Sen/and called it the † Helpeſtone/and ſayde: Hetherto hath the Lorde helped vs. Thus were ỹ Philiſtynes brought doune / and came nomore within the border of Iſrael. And the hande of the Lord was agaynſt the Philiſtines as longe as Samuel lyued. i. Reg. iiij. a and v. a

†So Iſraell gat the cytes agayne/that the Philiſtynes had conquered from Ekron vnto Gath / with the borders therof / thoſe i. Reg. iiij. a D

dyd Israel rescue out of the hande of the Philistines: & Israell had peace with the Ammorites. Samuel iudged Israell as longe as he lyued/and went aboute euery yeare vnto Bethel/and Gilgal/and Maspa: & whan he had iudged Israel in al the places/he came agayn vnto Ramath: for there was his house/& there he iudged Israel / & buylded an aultare there vnto the Lorde.

The. VIII. Chapter.

A BVt whan Samuel waxed olde / he sette his sonnes to be iudges ouer Israell. His firstborne sonne was called Joell/and the seconde Abia / and they were iudges at Bersaba. Whan ye shall crye then at the same tyme D ouer youre kynge/whome ye haue chosen you/ the Lorde shal not heare you at ỹ same tyme. Neuertheles/ the people refused to heare the voyce of Samuel/and sayd: Not so/but there shalbe a kynge ouer vs/that we maye be as al other Heythen / that oure kynge maye iudge vs/and go forth before vs / and gouerne our warres. Then herkened Samuel vnto al that the people sayde / and tolde it before the eares of the Lorde. The Lorde sayde vnto hym: Herken thou vnto theyr voyce / and make them a kynge. And Samuel sayde vnto the men of Israel: Go youre waye euery one vnto his cytie.

The. IX. Chapter.

THere was a man of Ben Jamin named A † Cis ỹ sonne of Abiel/the sonne of Zeor/ ij. Par. xi. the sonne of Bethorah/the sonne of Aphiah/ i. But whan they came in to the lāde of Zuph/ Saul sayde vnto the chylde that was with hym: Come let vs go home agayn/lest/my father let go the asses/and take care for vs. He sayde: Beholde/here is an honorable man of God in this cytie/ al that he sayth commeth to passe: Let vs go thither nowe/peraduēture he maye shew vs our waye which we go. (Aforetime in Israel/whan a man wente B to aske counsayll at the Lorde/he sayd: Come/ let vs go to the Scir: for they that now are called prophetes/were called Sciers afore time.) Saul sayde vnto his childe: Thou hast well spoken/come let vs go. And whan they went vnto the cytie where the man of God was/& came vp vnto the cytie/they founde damsels/ whiche were gone forth to drawe water/vnto them they sayde: Is the Seyer here? They aunswered thē and said: Yee: Beholde / he is there/make haist: for he came into ỹ cytie this day/Because the people haue a sacrifice to do to daye in the hye place. Now whan Samuell behelde Saull/ the Lorde aunswered hym: lo / that is the man of whome I tolde the that he should raygne ouer my people.

Then came Saull vnto Samuell vnder the gate/and sayde: tell me (I praye the) where is the Seyers house? Samuell aunswered Saul / and sayde: I am the Seyer. And to whome shall belonge all that is pleasaunt in Israel? Shall it not belonge vnto the/and to all thy fathers house? And Samuel said vnto the coke: geue me the porcion that I gaue the / & bad the kepe it by the. Then the coke toke vp a shoulder / and bare it forth / and set it before Saul. And (Samuel) sayde: Beholde/this is left/laye it before the/and eate: for it was kepte for the againste this tyme / whan I called the people. Thus dyd Saul eate with Samuel thesame daye.

And whan they were gone downe from the hye place vnto the cytye / he talked with Saull in the chaumber. And they rose vp early on the morow. And whan the morning sprynge arose / Samuel called Saul in the chaumber/and sayde: Vp/ that I maye sende ỹ thy waye. And Saul gat hym vp: and they both wente forth together/he and Samuell. And whan they came downe to the ende of ỹ cytie/Samuel sayd vnto Saul: Speake vnto the childe/that he go on forth before vs/But stande thou styll now/that I maye shewe the what God hath sayde.

The.XIII.Chapter.

SAul had ben kynge one yeare/and whā A he had raygned ouer Israel two yeares/
he chose him thre thousand men out of Israel: two thousande were with Saul at Michmas/vpon the mount of Bethel/& one thousande with Jonathas at Gibea of Ben Jamin. As the other people/he let thē go euery one vnto his tente. But Jonathas smote the Philistines in theyr owne †watch/which was j.Reg.ph

Then the Philistines gathered them selfes B together to fight with Israel/thyrtye thousande charrettes/sixe thousande horsmen/and other people besyde in numbre as the sande by the see shore/and wente vp/and pitched at Michmas on the Eastsyde of Bethauen.
When the men of Israel saw that misfortune laye vpon the neckes of them/(for the people was come therto) they crepe into caues and dennes/into rockes/and holes/and welles.
But the Hebrues wente ouer Jordane into the lande of Gad and Gilead. As for Saull he was yet at Gilgal/and al the people were fayne herted after him. †Then taried he seuē j.Reg.x.b

Then saide Saul: Bringe me hither a burntofferyng/and thankeofferinges: and he offered a burntofferinge. But whan he had made an ende of the burntofferinge/behold/Samuel came. Then wente Saul forth to mete hym/ỹ he myghte salute him.

But Samuel said: What haste thou done? C
Saul aunswered: I saw that the people was scattred abroade fro me/and thou camest not in due season: and the Philistines were gathered together at Michmas. Then said I: Now shal the Philistines come downe to me vnto Gilgal/and I haue not besought the face of the Lord: and so I boldened my selfe and offered a burntofferinge.

Samuel sayde vnto Saull: Thou hast done done folysshly/and not kepte the commaundement of the Lorde thy God/which he commaunded the. For if thou haddest not done this/he had prospered thy kyngdome vpon Israel for euer: but now shall not thy kyngdome continue. †The Lorde hath sought him out a man after his owne hert/him hath the Lorde cōmaunded to be prynce ouer his people/for thou hast not kepte that the Lord cōmaunded the. But there was not a smith founde in al the lande of Israel: for the Philistines thought: The Hebrues might happlie make swerdes and speares. And all Israel were fayne to go downe to the Philistines/whan any man had a plowshare/a mattocke/an axe/or a sithe to sharpe: and the edges of the plowshares/and mattockes/and forkes/and axes were laboured/and ỹ pointes blont. Now whan the daie of the battail came/there was neyther sweard nor speare founde in the hande of all the people/that was with Saul and Jonathas: but for Saul and Jonathas his sonne/there was somwhat founde. And the Philistines watch went ouer by Michmas.

The.XIIII.Chapter.

A IT fortuned at thesame tyme that Jona-

Betwene the passages/where Jonathas soughte to go ouer vnto ỹ Philistines watch/there were two hye rockes/the one on the one side/the other on the other: the one was called Bozez/the other Senne. And the one laye on the Northe syde towarde Michmas/and the other on the Southsyde towarde Gaba. And Jonathas sayde vnto his weapen bearer: Come/let vs go ouer to the watch of these vncircuncysed: peraduenture the Lorde shall worke with vs. †For it is no harde matter for ijPa.xiiij.c

Then sayd Saul vnto Ahia: Bring hether the Arck of God (for at ỹ tyme was the Arcke of God with the childrẽ of Jsrael/) and while Saul was yet speakinge to the priest/the multitude in the Philistines hoost gat vp/ranne/ & was great. The Hebrues also that were with ỹ Philistynes afore/and had gone vp with them in the hoste on euery syde/ioyned them selfes vnto Jsrael/which were with Saul and Jona-

And whan the men of Jsrael came forth/ Saul charged al the people the same daie and sayd: Cursed be euery man/which eateth bread vntil euen/that I maye auenge me on myne enemies. Then all the people taisted no bread. And al ỹ people of ỹ lande came into ỹ wood. But there laye hony vpon the felde/and whã ỹ people came into the wood/beholde/ ỹ hony flowed/but no man put of it to his mouth ỹ his hand: for the people were afrayed/because of ỹ oothe. As for Jonathas he had not herd/ that his father had charged the people/and he put forth his staffe ỹ he had in his hande/and dypped the ende of it in the hony combe/and turned his hande to his mouth/ and his eyes were lighted.

Then aunswered one of the people/ & sayd: Thy father hath charged the people/ and said: Cursed be euery man that eateth ought this daye. Neuertheless/the people were faynte. Then sayd Jonathas: My father hath troubled the lande: Se how lyght myne eyes are become/because I haue taysted a lytle of this hony. If the people this daie had eaten of the spoiles of theyr enemies that they found/ the slaughter should haue bene greater against ỹ Philistines. Yet smote they the Philistines ỹ same daye fro Michmas vnto Aalon/ and ỹ people were very weery.

And the people turned to ỹ spoyles/ & toke & shepe and oxen/ and calfes/ and slewe them vpon the earth/ and dyd eate them with the Leu. vij. c

Then brought al the people euery one his oxe with his hande the same nyght/ and slewe them there. And Saull buylded an aultare vnto the Lorde. And Saul said: Let vs go doune after the Philistines by night/ & spoyle them tyll it be cleare morning/that we let none escape. They aunswered: Do whatsoeuer pleaseth ỹ. But ỹ priest sayde: Let vs go nye here vnto God. † And Saul axed at God: Shal I go doune j. Re. xxviij

Then said Saul: Let al ỹ armeyes of ỹ peo- f

And noman aunswered him of al the people. And he said vnto al Jsrael: Be ye on the one syde/ I and my sonne Jonathas will be on this syde. The people saide vnto Saul: Do as it pleaseth the. And Saul saide vnto the Lord the God of Jsrael: Do thou that right is. Thẽ was Jonathas & Saull takẽ: but the people wente forth fre. Saul saide: Cast the lot ouer my and my sonne Jonathas. So Jonathas was taken. And Saul sayd vnto Jonathas:

But ỹ people said vnto Saul: Shoulde

But whan Saul had conquered the kingdom ouer Jsrael/he fought against al his enemyes rounde aboute: agaynst the Moabites/against the childrẽ of Ammon/against the Edomites/against the kynge of Zoba/ against the Philistines: and whethersoeuer he

Then came the worde of the Lorde vnto €

B Now whā they came in/ he beheelde Eliab/ & thought/ whether he shoulde be his anoynted before the Lord. But the Lorde sayde vnto Samuel: Loke not vpō his contenaūce/ nor vpon the talenesse of his personne. For I iudge not after the sight of man. A man hath respecte vnto ỹ thynge that is before his eyes/ But the Lord loketh vpon the herte. Then Isai called Abinadab/ and brought hym before Samuel. And he saide: This hath not the Lorde chosen. Then Isai brought Samma. But he saide: This also hath not the Lorde chosen. Then brought Isai his seuen sonnes before Samuel. Neuertheless/ Samuel saide vnto

Then Saul sent messaungers vnto Isai/ sayinge: Sende me Sauid thy sonne/ which is with the shepe. Thē toke Isai an asse with breade/ and a bottel with wyne/ & a kyd/ and sent it vnto Saull by Sauid his sonne. So Sauid came to Saull/ and stode before hym/ and he loued hym wel/ and he became his weapenbearer. And Saul sent vnto Isai/ saying: Let Sauid remayne before me/ for he hath founde fauoure in my sight. The XVII. Chapter.

A The Philistynes gathered their hooste to the battayll/ and came together to Socho in Juda/ and pitched theyr tentes betwene Socho and Aseka/ at the ende of Samin. But Saull and the men of Israell came together/ and pytched in the Oke valley/ and prepared themselfes to the battayll agaynst the Phylistines. And the Philistynes stode vpon a hyll on the one syde/ and the Israelites vpon a hill on the other syde/ so that there was a valley betwene them.

Then stept there forth from amonge the Phylistines a stoute bolde man/ named Golyath of † Gath/ syxe cubites & an hande brieth
Jud. xj. d hye/ and had an helmet of stele on his heade/ and a fast habergion vpon him/ and ỹ weight of his habergion was fyue thousande sycles of stele/ and harnesse of stele had he vpon hys legges/ & a shild of stele vpon his shoulders/ and the shaft of his spear was lyke a weuers loume/ and the yron of his speare had sixe hundreth sycles of yron/ and his weapenbearer wente before hym.

B And he stode and called vnto the hooste of Israell/ and sayde vnto them: Wherfore are ye come forth/ to prepare your selfes to ỹ battaill? Am not I a Philistyne/ and ye the seruauntes of Saull? Chose one amonge you to come doune vnto me: if he can fyght agaynst me and slay me/ then wyll we be youre seruauntes: but if I can ouercome hym/ and slay him/ then shall ye be our seruauntes/ to do vs seruice. And the Philistyne sayd: I haue spoken disdanously vnto he hooste of Israel this day/ Gene me one/ and let vs fight together. Whā Saul and all Israel herde these wordes of the Philistine/ they were astonied & sore afrayed.

†But Sauid was the sonne of a man of
j. Re. xvj. c Ephrata of Bethleem Juda/ whose name was Isai/ whiche had eyght sonnes/ and was an olde man in Sauls tyme/ and was well strycken in age amonge men. And the thre eldest sonnes of Isai were gone with Saul to ỹ battayll. And theyr names where these/ Eliab the firstborne. Abinadab the second/ & Samma the thirde. But Sauid was the yongest of all. So when the thre eldeste were gone with Saull to the battayl: Sauid wente agayne from Saull/ to kepe his fathers shepe at Bethleem. But the Philystine stept forth early in the mornynge and at euen/ and stode there fourtye dayes.

C Jsai sayde vnto Dauid his sonne: Take this Epha of fermentye for thy brethren/ and these ten loaues of breade/ (and runne to the hoost vnto thy brethren) and these ten new cheses/and bryng them to the captayne/ and loke how thy brethren do: whether it go well with them or no/and take what they byd the. But Saul and they/and al the men of Jsrael were in the Oke valleye/and foughte agaynst the Philistynes.

Then Dauid gat hym vp early in the mornynge/ and committed the shepe to the keper/ and toke his burthen/wente his waye/ as Jsai commaunded hym / and came to the tent. And the hoost was gone forth / and had prepared them selfes / and cryed in the battayl: For Jsrael had set themselfes in array/and the Philistines were agaynst theyr hoost in theyr arraye also.

Then left Dauid the vessel that he bare vnder the keper of the stuffe/and ranne to the hoost/ and wente in/and saluted his brethren. And whyle he was yet talkynge with thē/beholde/ then came vp the stoute holde man / whose name was Goliath/the Philistines of Gath/ out of the Philistines hooste/and spake like as afore/and Dauid herde it. But euery man in Jsrael whan he sawe the man/fled from him/ and was sore afrayed of hym.

And euery man in Jsrael sayde: Haue ye sene the man commynge vp hether? For he come vp hether to speake disdaynously vnto Jsrael. †And whosoeuer smyteth hym/hym wyll the kynge make rych / and gene hym his doughter/ and make his fathers house fre in Jsrael.

D Then sayd Dauid vnto the men that stode by hym: What shalbe done to the man that smyteth this Philistyne/ & turned this shame awaye from Jsrael? For what is he this Philistyne/this vncircumcysed: that defyeth the hoost of the lyuynge God? Then the people tolde hym as afore: Thus shal it be done vnto the man that smyteth hym. And Eliab his greater brother herde him talke with the me/ and was very wroth agaynst Dauid/ & sayd: Wherefore arte thou come downe? and why hast thou lefte a fewe shepe in ỹ wylderneſſe?

I know thy presumptuousnesse wel ynough/ and the wickednesse of thine hert: for thou art come downe to se the battail. Dauid aunswered: What haue I done nowe? Is there not an occasion? And he turned hym selfe from hym vnto another/ and spake accordynge as he had sayde before. Then the people aunswered hym lyke as afore.

And whan the herde the wordes whiche Dauid said/they tolde them in the presence of Saul/ & he caused hym be fetched. And Dauid sayde vnto Saul: Let no mans hert be discouraged/because of hym. Thy seruaunt shall go/and fight with the Philistine. Neuertheless/ Saul sayde vnto Dauid: Thou art not able to go agaynst this Philistine to fight with hym/for thou art but a chyld: but this is a mā of warre from his youth vp.

E Dauid sayd vnto Saul: Thy seruaunt kept his fathers shepe/and there came a Lyon and a Beere / and caryed awaye a shepe from the flocke/then wente I forth after hym / & smote hym/& delyuered it out of his mouth. †And whan he wolde haue bene vpon me / I toke hym by his beerde/and smote hym/ and slew hym. So thy seruaunt smote both the Lyon & the Beere. Therfore shal this Philistine/this vncircūcysed be euen as one of thē: for he hath defyed the hoost of the lyuynge God. And Dauid sayde: The Lorde hath deliuered me from the Lyon and the Beer/shal delyuer me also from this Philistine.

Jud. xiiij. Rabe. ij

And Saul sayde vnto Dauid: Go thy waye/the Lord be with the. And Saul clothed Dauid with his clothes / and set an helmet of stele vpon his head/and put an habergion vpon hym. And Dauid gyrded his swearde aboue his clothes/and begāne to go: for he had neuer ben vsed to it afore. Then sayde Dauid vnto Saul: I can not go thus/ for I haue not ben vsed to it / and so he layed it from hym/and toke his staffe in his hande: and chose fyue slyghte stones out of the ryuer/ and put them in the shepeherdes bagge/ which he had by hym/and toke a slyng in his hande/and gat hym to the Philistyne. And the Philistine wente forth/ & gat hym to Dauid/and his weapenbearer before him.

F Now whan the Philistine loked/ and sawe Dauid/he thoughte scorne of him/for he was but a chylde/well coloured / and bewtyfull to loke vpon. And the Philystine sayd vnto Dauid: Am I a dogge then / that thou commest vnto me with a staffe? And he cursed Dauid by his God/and sayd vnto Dauid: Come hyther to me/I wyll geue the flesshe to the fooles vnder the heauen/and to the beastes in the felde. Neuertheless/ Dauid sayd vnto the Philistyne: Thou commest vnto me with swearde/ speare/and shylde. But I came vnto the in the name of the Lorde Zabaoth/the God of the hoost of Jsrael / whome thou hast despysed. This daye shal the Lorde delyuer the into my hande/that I may smyte the/ and take thy heade from the/ and geue the bodyes of ỹ hoost of ỹ Philystynes this day vnto the fooles vnder the heauen / and to the wylde beastes vpō the earth/that al the lande may know that Jsrael hath a God. And al this congregacion shall knowe / that the Lorde saueth neyther thorowe swearde / nor speare: for the battayl is the Lordes/ & he shal delyuer you into our handes.

Now whan the Philistine gat hym vp/ and went forth / and drue nye vnto Dauid/ Dauid made haust/ and ranne from the hoost vnto the Philistine. And Dauid put his hāde in his bagge/and toke out a stone/and threw it with the slynge/ †and hyt the Philystine euen in the foreheade/so that the stone stacke in his foreheade / and he fell downe to the grounde vpon his face.

And the Philistynes fel doun slayne vnto Gath and to Ekrō. And the chyldren of Jsraell turned agayn frō chacynge of the Philistines/and spoyled theyr tentes. But Dauid toke the heade of the Philistyne/and brought it vnto Jerusalem. As for his armoure/he layed it in his tente.

Whan Saul sawe Dauid go forth agaynst the Philistine/he sayd vnto †Abner his chefe captayne: Abner/whose sonne is this chylde? Abner sayde: As truly as thy soule lyueth O kynge/I wote not. The kynge sayd: Aske them whose sonne the yong man is. Now whan Dauid came agayne from the slaughter of ỹ Philistyne. Abner toke him/and brought him before Saul/and he had the Philistines heade in his hande. And Saul sayd vnto hym: Whose sonne art thou/thou yonge man? Dauid sayde: I am a sonne of thy seruaunt Jsai the Bethleemite.

SAuid fled from Naioth in Ramath/and A came and ſpake before Jonathas: What haue I done? What treſpaſſe haue I made? What haue I ſinned in ẏ ſight of thy father/ that he ſeketh to kyll me? He ſayd to him: God forbyd/thou ſhalt not dye. Beholde/ my father doth nothynge/neyther great nor ſmal/but he ſheweth it before myne eares. Wherfore ſhould my father then hyde this from me? It ſhall not be ſo. Then ſware Sauid agayne/and ſayd: Thy father knoweth well that I haue founde fauoure in thy ſyghte/therfore he thinketh: Jonathas ſhal not knowe of this/leſt it greue hym. Verely/as truely as the Lorde lyueth/ and as truely as thy ſoule lyueth/ there is but one ſteppe betwene me and death. Jonathas ſayd vnto Sauid: I will do whatſoeuer thy herte deſyreth. Sauid ſaid vnto hym: Behold/ to morow is the new Moone/ that I ſhould ſyt at the table with the kyng. Let me hyde my ſelfe therfore in the felde/vnto the thyrde daye B

Jonathas ſayd: That be farre from the/that I ſhould perceaue my father to intende any euel agaynſt the/and ſhould not tell the. Sauid ſayd: Who ſhall brynge me worde/if thy father geue the an herde aūſwere? Jonathas ſayd vnto Sauid: Come/let vs go forth in to the felde. And they wente out both in to the felde. And Jonathas sayd vnto Dauid.

Lorde God of Israel/If I perceaue by my father to morow/or on the thyrd day/ that it goeth wel with Dauid/and sende not vnto the/& shew the before thyne eares/ then let the C Lorde do this/& that vnto Jonathas. But if my father delyte in euel against ỹ. I wyl shew it be fore thyne eares also/ and let the go/ that thou mayest depart in peace.

And the Lorde be with the/as he hath bene with my father. If I do it not/ then do thou no mercy of the Lorde on me/while I lyue/no/not whan I dye/ & plucke thy mercy from my house for euer. And whā the Lord roteth out the enemyes of Dauid/ euery one of the lāde/then let Dauid rote out Jonathas also with his house/ & he Lord requyre it of the hande of Dauids enemyes.

And Jonathas proceaded further/& sware vnto Dauid/(he loued hym so wel: for he loued hym as his owne soule) and Jonathas sayd vnto hym: To morow is ỹ new Moone/ and thou shalt be aked after: for thou shalt be wanted where thou wast wonte to syt. But on the thyrde daye come doune sone / and go in to the place where thou hydest the on the worckday/& set the doune by the stone of Asel:

If I saye now vnto the lad: Lo/ the arrowes lye hyther ward behynd the/ fetch them/then come thou/ for it is peace/ and there is no parell/as truly the Lorde lyueth. Dauid hyd hymselfe in the felde. And whā the newe Moone came/ the kynge sat hym doune at the table to eate. Whan the kyng had set hym doune in his place as he was wonte/ by the wall/ Jonathas stode vp / but Abner sat him doune beside Saul. And Dauid was myssed in his place. And Saul spake nothing that daye/ for he thought: There is somwhat happened vnto hym/that he is not cleane. On the seconde daye of the newe Moone/ whan Dauid was myssed in his place. Saul sayde vnto Jonathas his sonne: Wherefore is not the sonne of Jsai come to the table/ neyther yesterday nor to day?

Jonathas aunswered Saul: He prayed E me that he myght go vnto Bethleem/& said: Let me go/ for our kynred hath a sacrifice to do in the cytie/ and my brother hath sente for me hym selfe: If I haue founde fauoure in thy syghte/I wil go/and se my brethren: therfore is he not come to the kynges table. Then was the kynge wroth at Jonathas/and sayde vnto hym: Thou wycked & vnthryfte. I know how that thou hast chosen the sonne of Jsai/ to the shame of thy selfe/ and of thy shamefull mother. For as longe as the sonne of Jsai lyueth vpon earth / neyther thou nor thy kyngdome shal prospere. Sende now therfore/and cause hym to be fetched vnto me / †for he is a i.Re.xxj Jonathas aunswered his father Saul and sayde vnto hym: Wherfore shal he dye: What hath he done? Thē shote Saul the iauelynge at hym/that he might smyte hym. Then perceaued Jonathas that his father was vtterly determined to kyll Dauid / and he rose vp from the table in a wrothfull displeasure/ and dyd eate no bread the same seconde daye of the newe Moone: for he was vexed because of Dauid / that his father had done hym such dishonoure.

On the morowe wente Jonathas forth in F
to the felde/ at the tyme appoynted of Dauid/ a lytle boye with hym/and said vnto the boye: Runne & seke me the arrowes which I shote. Whan the boye ranne/he shote an arowe ouer hym. And whan the boye came to the place/ whyther Jonathas had shote the arrow/Jonathas cryed after hym/an sayd: The arrowe lyeth ionderward before the. And he cryed after hym agayne: haust the/and stande not styll. Then the boye gathered vp Jonathas arrowes/and brought them to his Lorde. And the boye knewe nothinge/only Jonathas & Dauid knewe of the matter.

Then Jonathas gaue his boye his weapens/and sayde vnto hym: Go thy waye/and cary them in to the cytie. And whan the boye was gone/ Dauid arose from the place towarde

And he lefte them before the kynge of the Moabites/ so that they remayned by hym/as lōge as Dauid was in the castell. Neuertheless/ the Prophet Gad sayde vnto Dauid: Abyde not in the castell/but go thy way/and come into the lande of Juda. Then departed Dauid/and came into the woode of Hareth. Ahimelech aunswered the kyng and sayd: And who is emonge al thy seruauntes lyke Dauid/whiche is faythfull/ and had married the kynges doughter/and goeth in thyne obedience/& is honourable taken in thyne house: Haue I begonne then fyrst this daye to axe counsayll at God for hym? Neuertheless/there escaped a sonne of Ahimelech ỹ sonne of Achitob whose name was Abiathar/and fled after Dauid/ & tolde hym that Saul had slayne the priestes of the Lorde. Dauid sayd vnto Abiathar: I knewe wel ỹ same day that Doeg the Edomit was there that he wold tel Saul. I am gylty of the soules of thy fathers house. Abide thou with me/ and feare not. The.XXIII. Chapter.

AND it was tolde Dauid: Beholde/ the Philistines fyght against Cegyla/& spoyle the barnes. Then Dauid †axed at the Lorde/ i.Regh.x and sayde: Shal I go and smyte these Philistynes. But the men that were with Dauid/sayde vnto hym: Beholde/ we are here infeare in Jewry/and shall we go to Cegyla/vnto the hoost of the Philistines? Then Dauid axed at the Lorde agayne. And the Lorde aunswered hym and sayd: Vp/get the doune to Cegyla / for I wyll delyuer the Philistines in to thy hande.

And Saul caused to call al the people doune vnto the battayl vnto Cegyla/that they myght besege Dauid and his men. If he be in the lande/ I wyl enquere after hym amonge all the thousandes in Juda.

Then gat they them vp / and went their E way vnto Siph before Saul. But Dauid & his men were in the wilderneſſe of Maon/ euen in the felde of the ryghte hande of the wilderneſſe. Now whan Saul wente thyther with his men to seke hym / it was tolde Dauid/ and he gat hym doune to the rocke/ and abode in the wilderneſſe of Mahon. Whan Saul herde that / he folowed after Dauid in the wylderneſſe of Mahon. And Saul with his men wente on the one syde of the hyl: Dauid with his men on the otherſyde of the hyll. THey of Siph came to Saul vnto Gibeath / and sayde: †Is not Dauid hyd vpon the hyll of Achyla/ which lyeth ouer against the wylderneſſe? Then Saul gat him vp/and wente doune to the wylderneſſe of Siph/and thre thousand men of Jsrael with him/to seke Dauid in the wyldernes of Siph/ and pitched vpon ý hyl of Achila/which lyeth by the waye before the wyderneſſe: But Dauid remayned in the wilderneſſe / and when he sawe ý Saul came after hym into the wilderneſſe/he sent out spies/and knew of a suerty that he was come in dede.

Then aunswered Dauid/and sayde vnto Ahimelech the Hethite/and to Abisai the sonne of Jeru Ja/the brother of Joab: Who wyl go doune with me to Saul into the hooſt? Abisai saide: I wyl go doune with the.

So Dauid and Abisai came to ý people in the nyght season: and beholde/Saul laye and slepte in the tent/and his speare stacke in the ground at his heade. But Abner and ý people laye rounde aboute hym. Then saide Abisai vnto Dauid: God hath closeth thyne enemye in thine hand this daye. Therfore wyl I now thruſt him thorow once with the speare/ euen into the ground/ý he shal haue ynough of it. Neuertheleſſe/Dauid sayde vnto Abisai: Destroye him not / for who wyl laye hande vpon the anoynted of the Lord/and remain vngilty. Dauid saide moreouer: As truely as the Lorde lyueth / if the Lorde hym selfe smyte him not/ or ý excepte his tyme come that he dye/or that he go into the battayll and perysh/the Lorde let it be farre from me / that I should laye my handes on the Lordes anoynted. So Dauid toke the speare/and the cup of water at Sauls heade/and they went their way. And there was noman that sawe it/ and perceaued it/neyther awaked/ but they slepte euery one/for there was a depe slepe fallen vpon them from the Lorde.

And Abner aunswered and said. Who art thou that criest so/and diseaseſt the kynge? And Dauid saide vnto Abner: Art thou not a mā? And where is there suche one as thou in Jsrael? Why hast thou not then kepte thy Lord the kynge? for there is one of the people come into destroye thy Lord the kynge. It is not wel that thou hast done. As truely as the Lorde lyueth/ †ye are the children of death/ Because ye haue not kepte youre lorde the Lordes anoynted. Then knewe Saul the voyce of Dauid / & Re. xxiiij saide: †Is not that thy voyce my sonne Dauid? Dauid saide: It is my voyce my lord the kynge. And he sayd moreouer: Why doth my lorde so persecute his seruaunt? What haue I done? and what euel is there in my hande? Yet let my lorde the kynge heare but the wordes of his seruaunt: If the Lord prouoke the against me / let there be smelled a meatofferinge: But if the children of men do it / cursed be they before the Lorde / Because they haue thruſt me out this daye/that I shoulde not dwel in the Lordes enheritaunce/and saie: Go thy waye/and serue other goddes. So fall not now my bloude vpon the earth from the face of the Lord. For the kynge of Jsrael is gone forth to seke a flee/as a partriche is followed on vpon the mountaines.

And Saul sayde: I haue synned. Come againe Dauid my sonne/I wil do the nomore hurt/because my soul hath ben deare in thy sight this day. Behold/I haue done folyshly and very vnwyſely. Dauid aunswered and saide: Beholde/here is the kynges speare / let one of the yonge men come ouer here / & fetch it. But the Lorde shal rewarde euery one/ accordinge to his righteouſneſſe and fayth/ for the Lorde delyuered the this daye into my hande: neuertheleſſe/I wolde not laye my hande vpon the Lordes anointed. Dauid saide: Towarde the South part of Juda: towarde the South part of the Jerahmielites / and toward the South parte of the Kenites. But Dauid let neyther man nor woman come lyuinge vnto Gath/and thought: They might peraduenture speake and reporte against vs: Thus did Dauid/and this was his maner as longe as he dwelt in the land of the Philistines. Therfore Achis gaue credence vnto Dauid / and thought: he hath made himselfe stinke before his people of Jsrael/therfore shal he be my seruaunt for euer.

And Sauid brought vp the men that were with hym also/euery one with his housholde/& they dwelt in the cyties of Hebron. And the men of Juda came/ and there they anoynted Sauid kynge ouer the house of Juda.

i.Re.xxxj.c And whan it was tolde Sauid/† that they of Jabes in Gilead had buryed Saul/he sent messaungers vnto them sayinge: Blessed be ye of the Lorde/that ye haue done such mercy vpon youre Lord Saul/and haue buryed hym. The Lord therfore shewe mercy now/ and faythfulnesse vpon you. And because ye haue done this/I also wyl do you good. Let youre hande now therfore be conforted/& be ye stronge: for though Saul youre lorde be dead/yet hath the house of Juda anointed me to be kynge ouer them.

B But Abner the sonne of Ner/ whiche was Sauls chiefe captayne/toke Isboseth ỹ sonne of Saul/and brought him thorowe the hoost/ and made hym kynge ouer Gilead/ Assuri/ Jesraell/Ephraim/Ben Jamin/& ouer al Israel. And Isboseth the sonne of Saul was fourtye yeare olde/whan he was made kynge of Jesrael/and he raygned two yeares. But
b Reg.v.a the house of Juda helde with Sauid: †The tyme that Sauid was kynge at Hebron ouer the house of Juda/ was seuen yeare and sixe monethes longe.

And Abner the sonne of Ner wente forth with the seruauntes of Isboseth/the sonne of Saul/out of the hoost vnto Gibeō. And Joab the sonne of Zeruia wente forth with Sauids seruauntes/ and they met together by ỹ pole at Gibeon/& these laye on the one syde of the pole: the other on the other syde. And Abner sayde vnto Joab: Let the yonge men get them vp/& playe before vs. Joab sayde: Let them aryse. Then gat they them vp/and went in numbre twelfe of Ben Jamin/on Isboseth Sauls sonnes syde/and twelf of Sauids seruauntes. And euery one gat another by the heade/& thrust his swearde in his syde/and fel together: therfore is the place called Helkath Hazurim/(that is/the felde of the Worthies) whiche is at Gibeon.

C And there arose a sore harde battayl the same daye. But Abner and the men of Israel were put to flyghte of Sauids seruauntes. Thre sonnes of Zeruia were there/Joab/Abisai/& Asahel. As for Asahel he was lyght of fete as a Roo in the felde/& folowed after Abner/and turned not asyde/neither to the ryght hande nor to the lefte from Abner. Then Abner turned hym aboute/ and sayde: Art thou Asahel? He sayde: Yee. Abner sayd vnto hym: Go thy waye/eyther to thy ryght hande or to the lefte/and get the one of the yonge men/& take his harnasse from hym. Neuertheles/ Asahel wolde not leaue of from hym. Then sayde Abner agayne to Asahel: Get the away fro me/why wylt thou that I smyte the to the grounde? and how dare I lyfte vp my face agaynst thy brother Joab? Howbeit/he wolde not go his waye.

Then Abner thrust hym in with a speare into his belly/so that his speare went out behynde hym. And there he fel/and dyed before hym: & who so came to the place where Asahel laye dead/stode styll there. But Joab & Abisai folowed vpon Abner/ tyl the Sunne wente doune. And whā they came to the hyl of Amma/which lyeth before Giah/ by the waye to the wylderneſſe of Gibeon/the chyldren of Ben Jamin gathered thē selfes together behynde Abner/and grewe to a multitude/ and stode vpon the toppe of an hyll.

D And Abner called vnto Joab/& sayd: Shal the sweard thē deuoure without ende? Knowest thou not/that it wyl be bytter at the last? How longe wyll it be or thou say vnto ỹ people

ple ỹ they leaue of frō their brethrē. Jonathas sayd: As truly as God lyueth/ if thou haddest sayd thus to day in ỹ mornynge/ỹ people had ceassed euery one from his brother. And Joab
Reg.xx.d †blewe the trompet/& al the people stode styll/ & folowed nomore vpō Israel/neyther fought they any more.

Abner and his men wente all the same nyght ouer the playne felde/ and passed ouer Jordane/and walked thorowe all Bithron/ & came to the tentes. Joab turned hym from Abner/and gathered all the people together. And of Sauids seruaūtes there myssed nyntene men/& Asahel. But Sauids seruauntes had smytten so amonge Ben Jamin/ and the men of Abner/ that thre hundreth & thre score men were dead. And they toke vp Asahel/ and buryed hym in his fathers graue at Bethleem. And Joab with his men wente al that nyght: and at the breake of the daye they came vnto Hebron.

The. III. Chapter.

A AND there was a greate battayll betwene the house of Saul and the house of Sauid. But Sauid wente and increaced/and the house of Saul wente and mynished. And vnto Sauid were chyldren borne at Hebron.
Reg.v.c †His fyrstborne sonne Ammon of Ahinoam
Dar.iij.a the Jesraelitisse: the seconde Chileab of Abigail/the wyfe of Nabal of Carmel: the thyrde
Re.xxviij.b Absalon the sonne of Maacha/ † the doughter of Thalmai kynge of Gessur: the fourth Adonia the sonne of Hagith: the fyfth Saphatia the sonne of Abitall: the sixte Jethream of Egla Sauids wyfe. These were borne vnto Sauid at Hebron.

Now whan it was warre betwene the house of Saul and the house of Sauid. Abner strengthed Sauls house. And Saul had had a concubyne/whose name was Rispa the doughter of Aia. And Isboseth sayde vnto Abner: Wherfore lyest thou with my fathers concubyne?

B Then was Abner very wroth at these wordes of Isboseth/and sayde: Am I a dogges heade then/ that I agaynst Juda do mercy vnto the house of Saul thy father/& vnto his brethren and kynsfolkes/& haue not deliuered the into the hande of Sauid/ & thou layest a trespasse to my charge this daye for a womās sake? God do Abner this & that/ if I do not
† as the Lord hath sworne vnto Sauid/that i.Reg.xv.f
the kyngdome may be taken from the house and xvj.c
of Saul/ & the seat of Sauid set vp ouer Israel and Juda/from Dan vnto Berseba. Thē coulde he not aūswere him one worde agayn/ he feared hym so.

And Abner sent messaungers vnto Sauid/saying: Whose is the lande? And sayde: Make thy conuenaunt with me. Beholde/ my hande shalbe with the/to turne all Israell vnto the.

C He sayde: Well/I wyll make a conuenaunt with the/but one thynge I desyre of the/ that thou se not my face/excepte thou fyrst bringe my Michol Sauls doughter/ whan thou commest to se my face. Sauid sent messaūgers also vnto Isboseth the sonne of Saul/sayinge: † Geue me my wyfe Mi- i.Re.xviij.g
chol/whom I married with an hūdreth foreskynnes of the Philistynes/Isboseth sent/ & caused for to take her from the man † Palthiel i.Re.xxv.g
the sonne of Lais. And her housdande went with her/ and wepte behynde her vnto Bahurym. Then sayde Abner vnto hym: Turne backe agayne/and go thy waye. And he turned backe agayne.

And Abner talked with the Elders in Israell/ and sayde: Youre myndes haue bene set afore tyme and longe ago vpon Sauid/ that he might be kynge ouer you/do it now therefore/ for the Lorde hath sayde of Sauid: I wyl delyuer my people of Israel by the hande of Sauid my seruaunt/ from the hāde of the Philistines/and frō the hande of theyr enemyes.

D Abner spake also before the eares of Ben Jamin/ and wente to speake before the eares of Sauid at Hebrō/that al Israel & the whole house of Ben Jamin was contente withall. Now whan Abner came to Hebrō vnto Sauid/& twenty men with hym/ Sauid made them a feast. And Abner sayde vnto Sauid: I wyll get me vp/and go gather al Israel together to my lorde the kynge/& that they may make a conuenaūt with the/ that thou mayest be kynge at thy soules desyre.

So Sauid let Abner go from hym in peace. And beholde: Sauid seruauntes and Joab came from the mē of warre/ & brought a greate spoyle with them. And Abner was not now with Dauid at Hebron: for he had sent hym from hym / so that he was gone his waye in peace.

E But whan Joab & all the hoost with hym was come/it was tolde hym that Abner the sonne of Ner came to the kyng/ & how he had sent hym from hym / so that he was gone his waye in peace. Then wente Joab in to the kynge/and sayde: What hast thou done? Beholde/ Abner came to the/why hast thou sent hym from the/that he is gone his way? Knowest thou not Abner the sonne of Ner? For he came to the to deceaue the/ & he myght knowe thy outgoynge and ingoynge/and to spye out al that thou doest: And whan Joab went out from Dauid / he sent messaungers after Abner/to fetch him agayne from Boharsira/and Dauid knew not therof. Now whan Abner came agayne vnto Hebron / Joab brought hym in to the myddes vnder the gate/to talke Judic.iij. c with hym secretly/ and †thrust hym there in to & belly that he dyed/ because of his brother ij.Reg.ij.c †Asahels blonde.

F Whan Dauid knew of it therafter/he said: I am vngylty/ and so is my kyngdom for euer before the Lord/concernynge the blonde of Abner the sonne of Ner: but vpō the heade of Joab fall it/and vpon al his fathers house. In the house of Joab there ceasse not one to haue a rēnynge yssue/and a leprosy/and to go vpon a staffe/and fall thorow the swearde/ & to haue scarcenesse of bread. Thus Joab and his brother Abisay slew Abner / because he had slaine they: brother Asahel in the battayll at Gibeon.

Dauid sayd vnto Joab/and to all the people that was with hym: Rent your clothes/ & gyrde sackcloth aboute you/and make lamentacyon for Abner. And the kynge wente after the beare. And whan they buryed Abner at Hebron/the kynge lyfte vp his voyce/ & wept besyde Abners grane/and al the people wept also.

G And the kynge mourned for Abner/& said: Abner is not dead as a foule dyeth. Thy handes were not bound / thy fete were not vexed with fetters/thou art fallen as a man falleth before wycked vnthryftes. Then al the people bewayled hym yet more.

Now whā al the people came in to eat with Dauid/whyle it was yet hye daye / Dauid sware/and sayd: God do this and that vnto me/If I taist eyther bread/or ought els afore the Sūne go doune. And all the people knew it/and it pleased them well all that the kynge did in the syght of all the people. And al the people and al Israel perceaued the same daye/ that it came not of the kynge/ that Abner the sonne of Ner was slayne. And the kynge said vnto his seruauntes: Knowe ye not that this daye a prynce/a great man is fallen in Israel: As for me / I am yet but tender and anoynted kynge. But the men/the chyldren of Ze ruia are to harde for me. The Lord recompence hym that doth euell/accordynge to his wyckednesse.

The. IIII. Chapter.

WHan Sauls sonne herde & Abner was dead at Hebron/ his handes were feble/ and all Israell was sory. But there were two men captaynes ouer the souldyers vnder the sonne of Saul/the one was called Baena/the other Rehob/sonnes of Rimō the Berothite/ of the chyldrē of Ben Jamin: for Beroth was counted also in Ben Jamin. And the Berothites were fled vnto Gethaim / and were straungers there vnto this daye. †Jonathas ij.Reg.iij also the sonne of Saull / had a sonne which was lame on his fete / and was fyue yeare olde/ whan the rumoure of Saul and Jonathas came from Israell. And his norse toke hym/and fled. And whyle se made hayst and fled/he fel and was lame: And his name was Mephiboseth.

B Then wente the sonnes of Rimon the Berothite/Rehob and Bahena / and came to the house of Isboseth/in the heat of the daye/and he laye vpon his bed at the noone day. And they came in to the house to fetch wheate/ and thrust hym in to the belly/ & gat them awaye. For whan they came in to the house / he laye vpō his bed in his chaumber/ and they stickte hym to death/and smote of his heade/& toke his heade / and departed by the waye of the playne felde all that nyght / and brought the heade of Isboseth to Dauid vnto Hebron/ and sayde vnto the kynge: Beholde/there is the heade of Isboseth the sonne of Saul thyne enemye/which laied waite for thy soule.

This

This daye hath the Lorde auenged my lord the kynge of Saul and his sede.

C Then aunswered Dauid vnto Rehob and Baena his brother/the sonnes of Rimon that Berothite/and sayd: As truly as the Lord lyueth which hath deliuered my soule out of al

And Dauid came vnto Baall Prazim/ D
and smote them there/and sayde: The Lorde hath deuyded myne enemyes / euen as the waters parte asunder: therfore is & same place called Baal Prazim. And they lefte they: ymages there/but Dauid and his men caryed them awaye.

†Neuertheless / the Phylistynes wente j.Par.xv.c

in to the house of Obed Edom the Gathite.
And whan the Arcke of the Lord had con-

of the Lord Zabaoth/and dealte out vnto al

But the Sirians came from Damascon to helpe Hadad Eser kynge of Soba. And Dauid smote two and twentye thousande men of the Sirians/and layed people vnto Damascus in Siria.

Thus was Siria subdued vnto Dauid/so that they brought hym gyftes: for the Lord helped Dauid whithersoeuer he wente. And Dauid toke the shildes of gold/which Hadad Esers seruauntes had/& brought thē to Jerusalē. But frō Bethath & Berothai the cities of Hadad Eser toke Dauid very much brasse.

B †Whan Thoi the kynge of Hemath herde i.Par.xix b that Dauid had smytten all the power of Hadad Eser/he sent his sonne Joram vnto Dauid to salute hym frendly/& to blesse hym/because he had foughten with Hadad Eser and smytten hym (for Thoi had warre wt Hadad Eser) and had iewels with hym of syluer/of golde/and of brasse: which kyng Dauid halowed also vnto the Lorde/with the syluer & golde whiche he sanctifyed vnto the Lorde frō al the Heythē/whō he subdued/frō Siria/frō Moab/frō the chyldre of Ammō/from the Philistines/from Amalek/from the spoyle of Hadad Eser ẏ sonne of Rehob kyng of Soba.

The. IX. Chapter.

AND Dauid sayd: Remaineth there yet any A man of Sauls house/that I may do mercy vpon hym for Jonathas sake? There was a seruaunt of Sauls house/named † Siba/ i.Para.ix whome they called vnto Dauid/& the kynge sayde vnto hym: Art thou Siba? He sayde: Yee thy seruaunt. The kyng sayd: Is there yet any man of Sauls house/that I maye do the mercy of God vpon hym? Siba sayde vnto the kynge: † There is yet a sonne of Jonathas ij Reg.iiij lame on his fete. The kynge sayde vnto hym: Where is he? Siba saide vnto the kynge: Beholde/he is at Ladober in the house of † Ma- ij.Re.xvij chir the sonne of Ammiel. Then sente kynge Dauid thither/and caused for to fetch hym from Ladober/out of the house of Machir the sonne of Ammiell.

Now whan Mephiboseth the sonne of B Jonathas/the sonne of Saul came vnto Dauid/he fell vpon his face/& worshypped hym. Dauid sayde: Mephiboseth. He sayde: Here Am I thy seruaunt. Dauid sayde vnto hym: feare not/for I wyll do mercy vpon the for thy father Jonathas sake/and wyll † restore ij.Re.xix vnto the all the lande of thy father Saul: But thou shalt eate breade dayly at my table. He worshipped and said: Who am I thy seruaunt/that thou turnest the to a deade dogge as I am?

Then the kynge called Siba the seruaunt of Saul/and sayde vnto hym: All that hath belonged vnto Saul and to all his house/ C haue I geuen to thy lordes sonne. Tyll his lande for hym therefore/thou and thy chyldren and seruauntes/and bringe it in/that it maye be breade for thy lordes sonne/and that he maye enioye it: But Mephiboseth thy lordes sonne shall eate breade dayly at my table. Siba had fyftene sonnes and twentye seruauntes. And Siba sayde vnto the kynge: Accordynge vnto all as my lorde the kyng hath commaunded his seruaunt/so shal his seruaunt do. And let Mephiboseth (sayd Dauid) eate at my table/as one of the kynges owne chyldren. And Mephiboseth had a yōge sonne/whose name was Micha. But all ẏ dwelt in the house of Siba/serued Mephiboseth. A AND † it fortuned after this that the kynge i.Par.xx. a of the children of Ammon dyed/and his sonne Hanun was kynge in his steade. Then sayde Dauid: I wyll do mercy vpon Hanun ij.Re.xxij. a the sonne of Nahas/† as his father dyd mercy vpon me. And so he sent/and conforted hym by his seruauntes vpon his fathers death. Now whan Dauids seruauntes came into the lande of the children of Ammon/the myghtie men of the children of Ammon sayd vnto Hanun their lorde: Thinkest thou it is for the honour of thy father in thy syght/that Dauid hath sent conforters vnto the? Hath he not sent his seruauntes vnto the (thynkest thou) to spye and search out the cytie and to ouerthrowe it?

B Then toke Hanun the seruauntes of Dauid/and dyd shaue of the one halfe of their beerdes/and cut of the halfe of their garmentes/euen by the gyrdel/and so let them go. Whan this was tolde Dauid/he sente to met thē: for the mē were put to great shame. And the kynge caused to saye vnto thē: Abyde at Jericho tyl your beerdes be growen/and thē come againe.

Whan the children of Ammon sawe ẏ they stynked in the syght of Dauid/they sent and hyred the Sirians of ẏ house of Rehob/and the Sirians of Soba/euen twentye thousande fote men/and frō the kynge of Maecha a thousande men/and frō Jstob twelfe thousande men. Whan Dauid herde that/he sent Joab with all the hoost of the men of warre. And the children of Ammon wente forth/and prepared thē selfes to the battail before the intraunce of the gate. But the Siriās of Soba/of Rehob/of Jstob and of Maecha were alone in the felde.

C Now whan Joab sawe that the battail was set vpon him before and behinde/he chose of al the best yonge men in Jsrael/and prepared thē selfe against the Sirians. And the residue of the people put he vnder the hande of his brother Abisai/that he might prepare hym against the children of Ammon. And saide: If the Sirians be to mightye for me/helpe thou me: But if the children of Ammon be to mightye for the/I shal helpe the. Take a good courage vnto the/and let vs be stronge for our people/& for the citye of oure God: neuertheles/the Lord do what pleaseth him.

And Joab gat him forth with the people that was with him/to fyght against ẏ Sirians: & they fled before him. And whā ẏ children of Ammon saw ẏ the Sirians fled/they fled also before Abisai/and wente into the cytie. So Joab turned againe frō the childrē of Ammon/& came to Jerusalē. And whan the Sirians sawe that they were smitten before Jsrael/they came together.

And Hadad Eser sente/and brought out D the Sirians beyonde the water/and cōueyed their power in/and Sobath the chiefe captayne of Hadad Eser wente before thē. Whā this was tolde Dauid/he gathered al Jsraell together/and wente ouer Jordane/and came to Helā/and the Sirians prepared thē selfes agaynste Dauid to fyghte with hym: howbeit/the Sirians fled before Jsraell. And Dauid slew of the Sirians seuen hundreth charettes/and fourtye thousande horsmen/and Sobath the chiefe captayne smote he also/so that he dyed there. Whan the kynges which were vnder Hadad Eser sawe/that they were smitten before Jsrael/they made peace with Jsrael/and were subdued vnto thē. And the Sirians were afrayed to helpe the children of Ammon any more.

AND whan the yeare came aboute what A tyme as ẏ kynges vse to go forth † Da- j.Par.xxj.a uid sente Joab and his seruauntes with him/and al Jsraell/to destroye the children of Ammon/and to laie sege vnto Rabba: but Dauid abode at Jerusalem.

And aboute the euentyde it fortuned that Dauid arose frō his restynge place/and went vp to the toppe of the kynges palayce/and frō the toppe he sawe a woman † wasshinge her Exod.ij.a selfe/and ẏ womā was of a very fayre bewty. turned againe vnto her house. And the woman was with childe/and sent/and caused to tell Dauid and say: I am with childe. Dauid sent vnto Joab (sayinge:) Sende me Urias the Hethite. And Joab sente Urias vnto Dauid. And whan Urias came to him. Dauid axed him if it stode well with Joab/and with the people/and with the battail.

B And Dauid said vnto Urias: Go doune into thy house/and wash thy fete. And whan Urias wente out of the kynges palayce/ẏ kinges gifte followed him. And Urias layed him doune to slep before the kynges palayce gate/ where all his lordes seruauntes lay/ & wente not doune into his house. Whan worde came to Dauid: Urias is not gone doune to his house. Dauid sayde vnto hym: Camest thou not ouer ẏ feld? Why wentest thou not doune into thy house? Urias saide vnto Dauid: The Arke and Israel/and Juda abyde in the tentes: And Joab my lorde/and my lordes seruauntes lye in the felde/and shall I go to my house to eate and drinke/and to lye with my wyfe? As truely as thou liuest/and as truely as thy soule lyueth/I wyl not do this thyng. Dauid sayde to Urias: Abyde here then to daye/to morow wyl I let the go. So Urias abode at Jerusalē thesame daye/and ẏ nexte also. And Dauid called him to eat and drinke before hym/and made him dronken. And at euen he wente to laye hym doune for to slepe vpon his couche with his lordes seruauntes/ and wente not doune into his house.

C On the morow wrote Dauid a letter vnto Joab/& sent it by Urias. After this maner wrote he in the letter: Set Urias in the forest parte of the battail/& turne you behinde him/ ẏ he maye be slaine. Nowe whan Joab layed sege to the citie/he set Urias in ẏ place/ where he knew ẏ the myghtiest men of armes were: And whan the men of the citie fell out/and fought: against Joab/there fel certayn of the people of Dauids seruauntes. And Urias the Hethite dyed also.

Then sent Joab/and caused to tel the king all the matter/concerninge the battail/and cōmaunded the messaunger/and saide: Whan thou hast tolde the kynge al the matter/concerninge the battayl/& seist that he is wroth/ and yf the kyng saie vnto the: Wherfor came ye so nye the cytie with the battayl? Knowe ye not how they vse to shute from the walle? †Who smote Abimelech the sonne of Jerubaal? Dyd not a woman cast a pece of a mylstone vpon him frō the wall/so that he dyed at Thebez? Why came ye so nye the wall? Thē shalt thou say: Thy seruaunt Urias the Hethite is dead also. Judi.ix

The messaunger wente his waye/ & came 9 and tolde Dauid altogether/wherfore Joab had sent hym. And the messaunger saide vnto Dauid: The men preuayled against vs/ and fell out vnto vs into the felde: and we were vpon thē harde at the dore of the porte. And the archers shot from the wall vpon thy seruauntes/and slewe certaine of the kynges seruauntes: and thy seruaunt Urias the Hethite is dead also.

Dauid sayde vnto the messaunger: Thus shalt thou saye vnto Joab: Let not that vexe the for the sweard/consumeth now one/now another. Go forth with the battayll agaynste the cytie/that thou mayest destroye it/and cōforte the men. And whan Urias wyfe herde that Urias was dead/she mourned for her housbande. But whan she had made an ende of mourninge. Dauid sent/& caused her to be fetched vnto his palayce/and she became his wyfe/& bare hym a sonne. Neuertheles/this dede ẏ Dauid dyd/displeased the Lord.

The. XII. Chapter.

AND the Lorde sente Nathan vnto Dauid. Whan he came to him/he tolde him: A
There were two men in one cytie/ẏ one rych/ the othe poore. The rych man had very many shepe and oxen: but the poore man had nothing saue one lytle shepe/which he had boughte/and norysshed it/so that it grew vp with him and his children together. It dyd eate of his breade/and dranke of his cuppe/and slept in his lappe/and he kepte it as his doughter. But whan there came a straunger vnto the ryche mā/he spared to take of his owne shepe and oxen/(to prepare ought for the straunger that was come vnto him) and toke the poore mans shepe/and prepared it for the man that was come vnto him.

Then was Dauid wroth with greate dis- B pleasure against that man/and sayde vnto Nathan: As truly as the Lorde lyueth/the man that hath done this/is ẏ childe of death. †The shepe also shal he make good foure fold/ Because he hath done suche a thinge/and not spared it. d. Exod. a

Then sayd Nathan vnto Dauid: Thou art euen the man. Thus sayth the Lorde the God of Israel: † I haue anoynted the to be kynge ouer Israel/and delyuered the out of the hande of Saull/and haue geuen the thy lordes house/and his wyfes into thy lappe/ and the house of Israel and Juda haue I geuen the: and yf that be to lytle/I wyl yet do this and that for the also. Wherfore hast thou then despysed the worde of the Lorde/to do suche euell in his syght? Urias the Hethite hast thou slayne wt the sweard: His wyfe hast thou taken to be thy wyfe/but hym haste thou slayne with the sweard of the chyldren of Ammon. a. Exod. c

C Now therfore shall not the sweard departe from thy house for euer/because thou hast despysed me/and taken the wyfe of Urias the Hethite/to be thy wyfe. Thus sayeth ẏ Lorde: Beholde/† I wyll rayse vp euell of thyne owne house/and wyll take thy wyfes before thine eyes/and wil geue them vnto thy neyghboure/so that he shal lye with thy wyfes by Sunne light. For thou haste done it secretely/but I wyll do this in the sight of all Israel/and by Sunne lyght. xxviij. c. xxxij. d

Then saide Dauid vnto Nathan: † I haue synned vnto the Lord. Nathā said vnto Dauid: So hath the Lord also taken away thy synne/thou shalt not dye. But for so much as thou thorow this dede/haste caused the enemyes of the Lorde to blaspheme/the sonne that is borne vnto the shal dye the death. And Nathan went home. As for the childe which Urias wyfe bare vnto Dauid) the Lorde smote it/so that it was dead sycke. xij. prophe. d. Leui. a D And Dauid besought God for the chyld and fasted/and wente in/and laye all nyghte vpon the earth. Then rose the Elders of his house/and wolde haue taken him vp frō the grounde: neuertheles he wolde not/neyther did he eate with them. Vpon the seuēth daye the child dyed. And Dauids seruaūtes durste not tel him that the childe was dead/For they thought: Behold/whan the childe was yet a lyue/we spake vnto him/& he herkened not to oure voyce/How much more shal it greue him/if we saye: the child is dead? And Dauid sawe that his seruauntes made a whispering together/and perceaued that the childe was dead/& said vnto his seruauntes: Is the child dead? They sayde: Yee. Then rose Dauid vp from the earthe/and washed hym selfe/and anoynted hym/and put on other garmentes/ and wente in to the house of the Lorde/and worshipped.

And whan he came agayn/he com maun- E
ded to set Breade before hym/and dyd eate. Then sayde his seruauntes vnto hym: What maner of thyng is this that thou doest? Whā the chylde was alyue thou fastedest and weptest: But now that it is dead/thou standest vp and eatest? He sayde: I fasted and wepte for the child whā it was yet alyue/for I thought: Who knoweth/peraduenture the Lorde may be gracyous vnto me/that the child maie lyue? † But now that it is dead/wherfore shoulde I fast? Can I fetche it agayne? I shal go vnto it/but it shall not come agayne vnto me. And whan Dauid had conforted Bethsabe his wife/he went in vnto her/& lay with her. † And she bare a sonne/whome he called Salomon. And the Lorde loued him. And he put hym vnder the hande of Nathan the prophete/which called hym Jedidia Because of the Lord. Ec. xxxviij. j. Par. iij. a. Matth. j. a

So Joab fought agaynste Rabba of the F
chyldren of Ammon/and wanne the kynges cytye/and sente messaungers vnto Dauid/ and caused to say vnto him: † I haue fought agaynst Rabba/and haue wonne the watercytye also/Gather thou therfore the residue of the people together/and laye sege to the cytie and wynne it/that I wynne it not/& haue the name therof. So Dauid gathered al the people together and wente/& fought against Rabba/and wanne it/and toke theyr kynges croune from his head/(which in weyght had a talente of golde/and precious stones) and was set vpon Dauids heade/and very mucke spoyle caryed he out of the cytie. As for the people that was therin/he broughte them forth/and layed them vnder yron sawes/and hokes/and wedges of yron/and burned them in tyle ouens. Thus dyd he vnto all the cytyes of the chyldren of Ammon- j. Par. xx. c

Then returned Sauid and al the people vnto Ierusalem againe.

The. XIII. Chapter.

A AND it fortuned after this / that Absalom ỹ sonne of Sauid had a faire sister/whose name was Thamar / & Ammon the sonne of Sauid loued her. And Ammō was in great combraunce/in so much that he was euē sicke because of Thamar his syster. For she was a virgin/& Ammon thought it should be hard for hym to do any thinge vnto her. But Ammon had a frende / whose name was Jonadab/ỹ sonne of Simea Sauids brother. And thesame Jonadab was a very wise mā/which said vnto him: Why arte thou so leane (thou kynges sonne) from daye to daye? Mayest thou not tel me? Then said Ammō vnto him: I loue Thamar my brother Absaloms syster exceadyngly.

B Jonadab said vnto him: laye ỹ doune vpō thy bedde/and make the sycke. And whā thy father cōmeth to loke how thou doest / saye vnto him: Oh let my syster Thamar come/ỹ she maye fede me/and make a meace of meate before me/that I may se it/& eat it of her hāde. So Ammon layed him doune / & made hym sycke. Now whan ỹ kinge came into loke how he dyd. Ammon saide vnto the kynge: Oh let my syster Thamar come/and make me a syppinge or two / and that I maye eate it of her hād. Thē set Sauid for Thamar into ỹ house/ and sayde vnto her: Go thy waye to thy brother Ammōs house/ and make him a meace of meate. Thamar wente vnto her brother Ammons house/ but he laye in his bed. And she toke floure/and mixte it / and dight it before his eyes/& made him a sypping. And she toke the meace of meat/ and poured it out before him: but he wolde not eat.

And Ammō said: Put forth euery man fro C me. And euery man wente forth frō him. Thē said Ammon vnto Thamar: Bringe me that meace of meat into ỹ chaūber/ỹ I may eate it of thy hande. Thē toke Thamar the syppinge that she had made/& brought it vnto Ammon her brother into the chaumber.

And whan she brought it vnto him that he might eate/he toke holde of her/and sayde vnto her: Come my sister lye with me. Neuertheles/she saide: Oh no my brother / force me not: for so do they not in Israel / do not thou such foly. Whether shal I go with my shame? and thou shalt be as one of the vnwyse in Israel. But speake vnto the kynge / he shall not witholde me from the.

Howbeit/he wolde not herken vnto her/ D and ouercame her/† and forced her / and laye ge. rpuit with her. And Ammon hated her exceadingly/so that the hatred was greater thē the loue was before. And Ammon said vnto her: Vp/ and get the hence.

She saide vnto him: This euel that thou thrustest me out/ is greater thē the other that thou hast done vnto me. Neuertheles/he herkened not vnto her / but called his boye that serued him/and saide: Put awaye this womā frō me/and locke the doze after her. And she had a party garment on: for such garmentes ware the kynges doughters whyle they were virgyns.

And whan his seruaūt had put her forth/ & lockte the doze after her / Thamar strowed asshes vpon her heade / and rente the partye garment which she had vpon her / and layed her hande vpon her heade/and wente on and cryed. And her brother Absalom saide vnto her: Hath thy brother Ammon ben with the? Now holde thy peace my syster/it is thy brother/ and take not the matter so to hert.

So Thamar remained a widowe in her E brother Absalōs house. And whan kinge Sauid herde of al this/he was very sorye. As for Absalom / he spake neyther euel nor good to Ammon/ but Absalom hated Ammon / because he had forced his syster Thamar.

After two yeares had Absalom shepeclyppers at Baal Hazor/which lieth by Ephraim. And Absalom called al the kynges children/ and came to the kynge / and sayde: Beholde/ thy seruaunt hath shepeclyppers / let it please the kynge with his seruauntes to go with his seruaunte. But the kynge sayd vnto Absalō: No my sonne/let vs not all go / lest / we be to chargeable vnto the.

And he wolde nedes haue had hym to go/ howbeit/he wolde not/But blessed him. Absalom said: Shal my brother Ammon go with vs then? The king said vnto him: Wherfore shal he go with the? Then was Absalom so importune vpon him / that he let Ammon & all all the kynges chyldren go with hym.

But Absalom commaunded his yonge men/and sayde: Take hede whan Ammon is mery with wyne (& I saye vnto you: Smyte Ammon/& slaye hym) that ye be not afraicd: for I haue commaunded you be stronge/and plague the men. So Absaloms yonge men dyd vnto Ammon as Absolom had commaunded them. Then stode all the kinges chil dren vp/and euery one gat him vp vpon his mule/and fled. And whyle they were yet on theyr waye/the rumoure came to kynge Sauid that Absalom had slayne all the kynges chyldren/so that not one of them was leste.

Reg. iij. f Then stode the kynge vp / and † rente his clothes/and layed hym doune vpō the earth/ and al his seruauntes that stode aboute hym/ rente theyr clothes. Then aunswered Jonadab the sonne of Simea Sauids brother/& sayde: Let not my lorde thynke that al ỹ yonge men the kynges children are dead / but that Ammon is dead only: for Absalom hath kept it in hymselfe / sence ỹ daye that he forced his syster Thamar. Therfore let not my lorde the kynge take it so to hert/that al the kynges children shoulde be dead / but that Ammon is dead onely.

G As for Absalom he fled. As the yonge mā that kept the watch/lifte vp his eye/and loked: and beholde/a great people came in the waye one after another by the hyl syde. Then sayde Jonadab vnto the kynge: Beholde / the kynges children come. Euen as thy seruaūt sayd: so is it happened. And whan he had ended his talkynge/the kynges children came/and lift vp theyr voyce and wepte.

The kynge and all his seruauntes wepte also very sore. But Absalom fled / and wente vnto Thalmai the sonne of Ammihud kynge of Gesur. As for Sauid/he mourned for his sonne euery daye. Whan Absalom was fled and gon vnto Gesur/he was there thre yeare. And kyng Sauid ceassed from goynge out agaynst Absalom/ for he had comforted hym selfe ouer Ammon that he was dead.

The. XIIII Chapter.

A JOab the sone of Zeruja/ perceaued that the kynges hert was against Absalom/ & sent vnto Thekoa/and caused to fetche from thence a prudent woman/and saide vnto her. Make lamentacion/ and weare mournynge garmentes / and anoynt the not with oyle: but fayne thy selfe as a woman/which mourned longe ouer a dead/and thou shalt go into the kynge and speake so / and so vnto hym. And Joab tolde her what she shoulde saye.

And whan the woman of Thekoa wolde speake with the kynge / she fell vpon her face to the grounde and worshipped / and sayde: Helpe me O kinge. The kynge said vnto her: What ayleth the? She sayde I am a wedow/ a woman that mourneth/and my housband is dead. And thy handmayden had two sonnes/which strouc together in the felde / and whyle there was noman to parte them asunder/the one smote the other/and slewe hym.

And beholde/al the whole kinred ryseth vp against thy handmayden/and say: †Delyuer Deut. xix. c him which hath smiten his brother / that we maye kil him/for ỹ soule of his brother/whom he hath slayne/and that we maye destroy the heyre also. And thus are they minded to put out my sparke / which yet is leste / that there shoulde no name/nor any thinge els remaine ouer vnto my housbande vpon earth.

The kynge said vnto the woman/ go thy B waye home/ I wil geue a commaundement for the. And the woman of Thekoa saide vnto the kinge: The trespasse be vpon me/(my lord the kinge) and vpon my fathers house: but the kynge and his seat be vngilty. The kynge saide: He that speaketh against the / bringe him vnto me/so shal he touche the nomore. She saide: Let the kynge thinke vpon the Lord his God/that there be not to many auengers of bloude to destroye / and that they bringe not my sonne to nought. He saide: †As truly as the Lord lyueth/there shal not j. Re. xiij. g one heer of thy sonne fal vpon the earth. And the woman said: Let thy handmaiden speake somwhat to my lord the king: He said: speake on. The woman saide: Wherfore hast thou deuised such a thing against the people of God? And how happeneth it that the kynge speaketh such/to make hymselfe giltie/and causeth not his outlawe to be brought again? For we all dye the death/and as the water that synketh into ỹ earth/which is not take vp. †And Exe. xviij. b God wyll not take away the life/but bethinke himselfe/that euen the verye outlawe be not cleane-deane thrust out from him.

C Thus am I come also to speake this to my lorde the kinge/in the presence of the people. For thy handmaidē thought: I will speake to the kynge: peraduenture he shall do that his handmaydē sayeth/for he shal heare his hādmaiden/to deliuer me from the hande of all them that wolde destroye me with my sonne from the inheritaunce of God. And thy hādmaiden thought/the word of my lord ỹ kinge ij.Re. xix. c shalbe as a meatoffring/† for my lorde ỹ king is as an aungel of God/so that he can heare good and euel/ therfore shall the Lorde thy God be with the.

The kynge aunswered and saide vnto the woman: Kepe nothing fro me that I axe the. The woman sayde: Let my lorde the kynge speake on. The kinge sayde: Is not the hande of Joab with the in all this? The woman aūswered & saide: As truly as thy soule lyueth/ (my lord O kynge/) there is els noman/neyther at the righte hande nor at the lefte/but euen as my lord the kyng hath said: for thy seruaunt Joab hath commaunded me/ and he himselfe hath taught thy handmaiden al these wordes/ỹ I shoulde turne this matter of this fashion/this hath Joab thy seruaunt done. But my lorde is wyse/as the wisedome of an aungel of God/so that he knoweth all thynges vpon earth.

D Then said the king vnto Joab: Beholde/I haue done this: go thy way therfore/ & bringe the childe Absalom againe.

Then fell Joab vpon his face vnto the grounde/and worshipped/& thanked ỹ kinge/ and saide: This daye doth thy seruaunt perceaue/that I haue founde grace in thy syght my lorde the kynge/in that the kinge doth as his seruaunt hath said. So Joab gat him vp/ and went vnto Gesur/& brought Absalom to Jerusalem. But the kinge said: Let him go againe into his house/& not se my face. Thus Absalom came againe to his house/and sawe not the kinges face.

But in all Israell there was not so fayre/ and so maruaylous goodly a man as Absalom. From the sole of his fote vnto the toppe of his heade/there was not one blemyshe in him. And whā his head wes rounded/ (that was commonly euery yeare/ for it was to heauy for hym/so that it must nedes haue ben rounded) the heere of his heade weyed two hundreth Sicles after the kynges weyght. And vnto Absalom there were borne thre sōnes & one doughter/ whose name was Thamar/ and she was a woman of faire bewtye. So Absalom abode two yeare at Jerusalem/ and saw not the kinges face.

And Absalom sent for Joab/that he might E
send him to the kyng. And he wold not come to him. But he sent ỹ seconde tyme/yet wolde he not come. Then saide he vnto his seruauntes: Ye knowe Joabs pece of lande that lyeth by myne/and he hath barly theron: go youre waye therfore and set fyre vpon it. So Absaloms seruauntes set fyre vpon Joabs pece of lande.

Then Joab gat hym vp/and came to Absalom into the house/ and saide vnto hym: Wherfore haue thy seruauntes set fyre vpon my pece of lande? Absalom saide vnto Joab: Behold/I sent for the/and caused to saye vnto the: Come hyther/that I maye sende the to the kynge/and to saye: Wherfore came I frō Gesur? It were better for me that I were there yet. Let me therfore se the kynges face. But if there be any trespasse in me/ then put me to death. And Joab went into the kinge/ and tolde him. And he called Absalō to come into the kinge/and he worshipped vpon his face to the grounde before the kinge. And the kynge kyssed Absalom.

And Absalom gat him vp alwaie early in the morninge/and stode in the waye by the porte/and whā any man had a matter/ which should come to the kynge for iudgement. Absalom called hym vnto him & said: Of what citie art thou? If he said then: Thy seruaunt is of one of the trybes of Israel/then said Absalom vnto him: Beholde/thy matter is right and plain: but there is no man appointed the of the kynge to heare the.

And Absalom saide: O who setteth me to be iudge in the lande/that euery man which hath a plee or matter to do in the lawe/might come to me/that I myght helpe him to right.

After fourty yeares said Absalom vnto the kinge: I wil go/and perfourme my vowe at Hebron/which I made vnto ỹ Lorde. For

But Absalom had sent out spyes in al the trybes of Israel/sayinge: Whan ye heare the noyse of the trompe/saye: Absalom is made kynge at Hebron. There went with Absalō two hundreth men called from Jerusalem/ but they went on symply/and knewe not of the matter. Absalom sent also for Achitophel (the Gelonite) Dauids coūsayler/ out of his

Then came one which tolde Dauid/ and sayd: The hert of euery mā in Israel foloweth Absalō. Dauid saide vnto all his seruauntes that were with him at Jerusalem: Vp/ let vs flye/for here shalbe no escaping for vs before Absalom.

Make haist that we may be goynge/lest/he ouertake vs/and catche vs/& diuye some misfortune vpon vs/and smite the citie wt ỹ edge of the sweard. Then said the kinges seruauntes vnto hym: Loke what my lorde the kinge choseth/behold/here are thy seruauntes. And

E.xvij.a And the kinge saide vnto † Ithai the Gethite: Why goest thou also with vs? Turne backe/and byde with the kynge/ for thou art a straunger: get the hence agayne vnto thy place. Dauid said vnto Ithai: Then come/ and E

And behold/Sadoc was there also/ and al the Leuites that were wt them/& they bare the Arcke of the cōuenaunt of God/& set it there. And Abiathar wēt vp/til al ỹ people cam out of ỹ citie. But ỹ king said vnto Sadoc: Bring the Arcke of God into the citye againe. If I shal fynde grace before the Lorde/ he shall fetch me againe/and shal let me se it/ and the house of it. But Dauid wente vp to mounte Olyuete and wepte/and his head was couered. And al the people that was with him/had euery man his head couered/and wente on & wept. Siba saide: The asses shalbe for the kinges houshold to ryde vpon/and the loaues and fygges for the yonge men to eate/ and the wyne shalbe for them to drinke whan they are weery in the wilderneſſe. The king said: Where is thy lordes sonne? Siba saide vnto the kinge: Behold/he abideth at Jerusalem/for he said: To daye shal the house of Israel restore my fathers kingdom vnto me. So whan euery man is brought vnto the as thou desyreſt/ then shall all the people be in peace. Absalom thought that good/and so did all the Elders in Israel. But Absalom sayd: I praye you cal Chusai the Arachite also/ and let vs heare what he sayeth therto. And whan Chusai came in to Absalom/ Absalom sayde vnto him: Thus hath Achitophel spoke: Say thou now/shall we do it or not.

Then sayd Chusai vnto Absalom: It is no good counsayl that Achitophel hath geuen at this tyme. And Chusai sayde moreouer: Thou knoweſt thy father well & his men/ that they are stronge/ and of a wrothful stomack/ euen † as a Beer that is robbed of her yongeones in the felde. If it came to passe then that it chaunced euell at the fyrſte/ and there shoulde come a rumoure and saye: There is a slaughter done in the people that folowed Absalom: then should euery man be discouraged/which els is valeaunt/ and hath a herte lyke a Lyon: for al Israel knoweth that thy father is strong/ and that all they whiche be with him/are myghtye men.

But this is my counsayll/that thou gather togethere all Israel from Dan vnto Berseba/ in numbre as the sande of the see/and go thou thyne owne persone among them: then will we fall vpon him in what place we fynde him/ and wil ouerwhelme him euen as the dew falleth vpon the earth/ so that we shall not leaue one of him/and of all his men. But yf he resorte in to a cytie/ then shal all Israel cast roapes about the same cytie/ and drawe it in to the ryuer/ so that there shall not one stone of it be founde.

Then sayd Absalom and euery man in Israel. The counsayl of Chusai the Archite is better then Achitophels counsayll.

Sende now therfore in al the haist/ and tell Dauid/ and saye: Abyde not all nyght in the playne felde of the wilderneſſe/but get the ouer/ that the kinge be not swalowed vp/and all the people that is with hym. As for Jonathas and Ahimaaz/ they stode by the welle of Rogell/ and a damsell wente thyther and tolde them. They wente on their waye/ and tolde kynge Dauid/ for they durst not be sene to come into the cytie.

Now whan Absaloms seruauntes came to the woman in to house/ they said: Where is Ahimaaz and Jonathas? The woman said vnto them: They are gone ouer the lytle water.

D And whan they sought and founde them not/ they went agayne to Jerusalem. And whan they were gone/ they clymmed vp out of the welle and wente their waye/ and tolde Dauid the kinge/ and sayd vnto Dauid: Get you vp/ and go sone ouer the water/ for thus and thus hath Achitophell geuen counsayl agaynst you.

Then Dauid gat him vp/ and all the people that was with him/ and passed ouer Jordane tyll it was cleare morninge. And there was not one/but he wente ouer Jordane.

And whan the people were come forth in to the felde against Israel/the battayl beganne in the wood of Ephraim. And the people of Israell were smytten there before Sauids seruauntes/so that there was a greate slaughter the same daye of twentye thousande men. And the battayl was scatered abroade there in al the lāde. And the wood cōsumed much more people the same daye/ then the swearde consumed.

Absalom had set hym vp a pyller/whyle he was yet alyue / whiche stode in the kynges valleye / for he sayde: I haue no sonne/therefore shal this be a remembraunce of my name. And he called the pyller after his owne name. And vnto this daye is it yet called Absaloms place.

and was fayne to flye out of the lande for Absalom. So Absalom whome we haue anoynted ouer vs / is dead in the battayl. Why are ye so styl now / that ye fetch not ỹ kyng agayn.

not made clean his fete / nor cõbde his beerde / neyther had he washed his clothes from the daye that the kynge was gone awaye / vntyll the daye that he came agayne in peace. Now whan he came to Jerusalẽ for to mete ỹ kyng / the kyng said vnto him: Mephiboseth / wherfore wentest thou not with me? And he sayde: My lorde O kynge / my seruaunt hath dealt vnrighteously wt me: for thy seruaũt thought: I wyll saddel an asse and ride theron / and go vnto thy kynge: for thy seruaunt is lame / and he hath accused thy seruaunt before my lorde thy kynge. † But my lorde the kynge is an Ge xxxi

I haue sayde: Thou and Siba parte the lande betwene you. Mephiboseth sayde vnto the kynge: Let hym take it all / in as muche as my lorde the kynge is come home in peace.

And Barsillay the Gileadite came doune F from Roglim / and broughte the kynge ouer Jordane / that he might conueye hym in Jordane. And Barsyllay was very olde / so good as foure score yeare olde / † the same had pro- ij. Re. xix

But Barsillay sayde vnto the kynge: What haue I yet to lyue / that I shoulde go vp to Jerusalem with the kynge? This daye am I foure score yeare olde. How shoulde I knowe what Beholde / there is thy seruaunt Chimeam / let him go ouer with my lorde the kynge / and do vnto him what pleaseth the.

G The kynge sayde: Chimeam shall go ouer with me / and I wyll do for hym what lyketh the: and whatsoeuer thou desiresst of me / that wyll I do for the also. And whan all the people was gone ouer Jordane / and the kynge lykewyse / the kynge kyssed Barsillay and blessed hym / and he turned vnto his place. And the kynge passed ouer vnto Gilgall / and Chimeam wente with hym. And all the people of Juda broughte the kynge ouer: howbeit / there was but halfe of the people of Israell there.

And behold / then came all the men of Israel vnto the kynge / and sayd vnto hym: Why haue our brethren the men of Juda stolen the away / and haue conueyed the kyng and his housholde ouer Jordane / and al Dauids men with hym? Thẽ aunswered they of Juda vnto them of Israel: The kinge is of our nye kinred / why are ye angrye therfore? Thynke ye ỹ we haue receaued any foode or gyftes of the kynge? Then aunswered they of Israell vnto them of Juda / and sayde: We haue ten tymes more with the kynge and with Dauid then thou / why hast thou regarded me thẽ so lightly / that oures were not the fyrst to fetch oure kynge agayne? But they of Juda spake harder then they of Israel.

The. XX. Chapter.

A THere was a famous mã of Belial there / whose name was Seba the sonne of Bichri / a man of Jemini / which blew the trõpe / and sayde: † We haue no porcyon in Dauid / nor enheritaunce in the sonne of Jsai: let
ij. Reg. xx. c euery one get hym to his tente O Israel. Then fell euery man in Israel from Dauid / and folowed Seba the sonne of Bichri. But the men of Juda cleued vnto theyr kynge from Jordane vnto Jerusalem. Whan Dauid came home to Jerusalem / he toke the ten concubynes / († whome he had lefte to kepe ij. Re. xv. c the house) and put them in a holde to be kept / and made prouisyon for them: but he laye not with them / and so were they shut vp vnto theyr death / and lyued wedowes.

And the kynge sayde vnto Amasa: Call me al the men of Juda together agaynste the thyrde daye / and be thou here present also. And Amasa wẽte to cal Juda together. And he was slacke to come at the tyme which he had appointed hym. And Dauid sayd vnto Abisai: Now shall Seba the sonne of Bichri B do vs more harme them Absalom: Take thou thy lordes seruauntes / and folow vpon hym / that he fynde not some stronge cyties for him / and so escape out of oure syght. Then wente Joabs men forth after hym / & the Chrethians and Plethians / and all the myghtie men: and they wente out of Jerusalem to folowe vpon Seba the sonne of Bichri.

But whan they were by the great stone at Gibea / Amasa came before them. As for Joab / he was gyrded aboue his garmente which he had on / and vpon it he had a sweard gyrded / whiche hanged by his thye in the sheeth / and wente easely out an in / and fell from him. And Joab saide vnto Amasa: Peace be with the my brother. And Joab toke Amasa by the beerde with his ryghte hande to kisse hym. Joab and his brother Abisai folowed vpon Seba the sonne of Bichri. And one of Joabs seruauntes stode by hym / and sayd: What is he this that wold be agaynst Joab to please Dauid / and to be with Dauid in Joabs steade? As for Amasa / he laye rolled in the bloud in the myddes of the strete. But whan C one sawe that all the people stode there styll / he remoued Amasa from the strete to ỹ felde / and cast a cloth vpon hym: for so muche as he sawe / that whosoeuer came by hym / stode styll. Now whan he was put out of the waie / euery man wente after Joab / to folowe vpon Seba the sonne of Bechri.

And wente thorow all the trybes of Israel vnto Abel Beth Maacha/and all the best chosen men gathered themselfes together / and folowed after hym / and came and beseged hym at Abell Beth Maacha / and made a banke aboute the cytie harde vnto the wall. And all the people that was with Joab/layed to theyr ordinaūce/and wold haue cast doune the wall.

Then cryed there a wyse woman out of the cytie: Heare / heare / saye vnto Joab that he come hether/I wyl speake with hym. And whan he came to her/ the woman sayde: Art thou Joab? He sayde: Yee. She sayde vnto hym: Heare the wordes of thy handmayden. He sayde: I heare. She sayde: The common saying was somtyme: Whoso wyl axe/let him

Joab aunswered and sayde: That be farre/ þ be farre fro me/þ I shoulde swalowe vp and destroye. The matter is not so/but a certayne man of moūt Ephraim/named Seba þ sonne of Bichri/hath lyfte vp hym selfe against kyng Dauid/delyuer hym onely/and I wil departe from the cytie. The woman sayde vnto Joab: Beholde / his heade shalbe cast vnto the ouer the wall. And the woman came in to al þ people with her wysdome. The. XXI. Chapter.

A THere was a derthe also in Dauids tyme thre yeares together. And Dauid sought the face of the Lorde. And the Lord sayde: Because of Saul/and because of that bloudy

Then the kynge caused for to call the Gibeonites/and spake vnto them. (As for the Gibeonites / they were not of the chyldren of Israel/but a remaūt of the Ammonites: howbeit/†the chyldren of Israel had sworne vnto Josu.ix

Then sayde Saul to the Gibeonites: What shal I do vnto you/ & wherewith shall I make the attonement/that ye maye blesse þ enheritaunce of the Lorde? The Gibeonites sayde vnto hym: It is not for golde and syluer that we haue to do with Saul and his house/ neyther haue we ought to do for to slaye any man in Israell.

B He sayde: What saye ye then/that I shall do vnto you? They sayde vnto the kynge: The mā that hath destroied vs/and brought vs to naughte/shoulde we destroye/ that nothynge be lefte hym in all the coastes of Israel. Let there be geuen vs seuen men of his sonnes/ that we maye hange them vp vnto the Lord at Gibea of Saul the chosen of the Lorde. The kynge sayd: I wyl geue them. Howbeit/ the kynge spared Mephiboseth the sonne of Jonathas the sonne of Saul / because of the ooth of the Lorde that was betwene them: †namely betwene Dauid and Jonathas the 1.Re.xx

So these seuen fell at one tyme / and dyed C in the tyme of the fyrst haruest whan the barly haruest begynneth. Then toke Rispa the doughter of Aia a sackcloth/and spred it vpon the rocke in the begynninge of the haruest/tyl the water from the heauen dropped vpon thē/ and suffered not the fooles of the heauē to rest on them in the daye tyme/ neyther the wylde beastes of the felde on the night season. And it was tolde Dauid what Rispa the doughter of Aia Sauls concubine had done.

And Dauid wente and toke the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathas his sonne from

And the bones of Saul and his sonne Jonathas buried they in the lande of Ben Jamin / besyde the graue of his father Cis. And they dyd all that the kynge had commaunded: So after this was God at one with the lande.

But there arose warre agayne of the Philystynes agaynste Israel. And Dauid wente doune and his seruaūtes with hym/ & fought agaynste the Philistynes. And Dauid was weery / and Jesby of Nob/(whiche was one of the chyldren of Rapha/ and the weyght of his speare was thre C. weight of brasse/ & had a new harnasse vpon hym) thought to smyte Dauid. Neuertheless/ Abisai the sonne of Zeruia helped hym / and smote the Philistyne to death. Then sware Dauids men vnto him/

And there arose yet warre at Gob with the Philistynes. Then Elhanan the sonne of Jaere Orgim a Bethleemite smote Goliath the Gethite/which had a speare/ whose shaft was lyke a weauers lome.

And there arose yet warre at Gath where there was a contencious man/which had sixe fyngers on his handes / and sixe toes on his fete/that is foure and twentye in the numbre: and he was borne also of Rapha. And whan he spake despytefully vnto Israell/ Jonathas the sonne of Simea Dauids brother smote hym: These foure were borne vnto Rapha at Gath/and fell thorow the hande of Dauid & of his seruauntes.

The XXII. Chapter.

A NAnd Dauid spake the wordes of this songe Psal.xviij.a before the Lord/what tyme as the Lorde had delyuered hym from the hande of all his enemyes/and from the hande of Saul/and he sayde.

The Lord is my stony rocke/& my castell/& my delyuerer.

God is my strength/in hym wil I put my trust/my shylde/and the horne of my saluaciō/ my defence/& my refuge/my Sauegoure/thou shalte helpe me from violent wronge.

†I wyl call vpon the Lorde with prayse/ Psal.xviij.a so shal I be deliuered fro myne enemyes.

For the sorowes of death compassed me / & the brookes of Belial made me afrayed.

The paynes of hell came about me/and the snares of death had ouertaken me.

Whan I was in trouble/I called vpon the B
Lord/yee/euen my God called I vpon: & so he herde my voyce from his holy temple/ and my complaynte (came) in to his eares.

The earth trembled and quaked/the foundacyon of the heauen shoke & moued/ because he was wroth.

Smoke wēte vp from his nose/and consumyng fyre out of his mouth/coles were kindled therof.

He bowed the heauens and came doune/& it was darke vnder his fete.

He sat vpon a Cherub and dyd flye/ & appeared vpon the fethers of the wynde.

He made darkenesse his pauylyon rounde aboute hym / thicke water in the cloudes of the ayre.

At the bryghtnesse of hym were the fyre coles kyndled.

The Lord thondered from heauen / & the hyest put forth his voyce.

He shot his arrowes/and scatered them: he lightened and disconfited them.

The pouringes out of the see were sene/and C the foundacyōs of the earth were discouered at the chydynge of the Lorde / & at the breth of the spirete of his wrath.

He sente doune from aboue/ and receaued me/and drue me out of many waters.

He delyuered me fro my stronge enemye/ from them þ hated me/for they were to myghtye for me.

They ouertoke me in the tyme of my trouble/but the Lorde was my succoure.

He brought me forth in to lybertye / he deliuered me/because he had a fauoure vnto me.

†The Lord shall rewarde me after my Roma.ij.a

rightcousnesse/and accordynge to the clēnesse of my handes shal he recompence me.

For I haue kepte the waye of the Lord/& haue not ben vngodly agaynst my God.

D For I haue an eye vnto al his lawes/& haue not put his ordinaunces fro me.

Therfore wyl I be perfecte vnto hym / and wyl eschewe myne owne wyckednesse.

So shal the Lorde rewarde me after my rightcousnesse/according to the clēnesse of my handes in his eye syght.

With the holy shalt thou be holy/and with the perfecte shalt thou be perfecte.

With the cleane thou shalte be cleane / and with the frowarde/thou shalt be frowarde.

For thou shalt saue the poore oppressed people/and shalt set thyne eyes against the proude to bryngе them doune.

Psa. xviij. b and cxviij c †For thou O Lorde art my lanterne. The Lorde shal lyghte my darknesse.

For in the I shall discomfite an hoost of men / and in my God shall I leape ouer the wall.

E The waye of God is perfecte: the wordes of the Lord are tryed in the fyre: he is a shilde for al them that putte theyr truste in hym.

For where is there a God/excepte the Lorde: Or who hath any strength without oure God?

God hath strengthed me with power/and made playne a perfecte waye for me.

He hath made my fete lyke hertes fete/and hath set me vpon hye.

Psa. cxliij. a †He teacheth my handes to fyght / & byndeth the stele bowe with myne armes.

And thou hast geuen me the shylde of thy health/and with thy louynge correccion shalt thou multiplye me.

Thou hast enlarged my goynge vnder me/ and myne ankles haue not slyded.

I wyl solow vpō myne enemyes & destroye them/& wil not turne backe agayn/tyl I haue brought them to naught.

F I wyl consume them / & thrust them thorow/that they come not vp: they shall fall vnder my fete.

Thou hast gyrded my with strength to the battayll / & hast subdued them vnder me that rose vp against me.

Thou hast made myne enemyes to turne their backes vpon me/that I myght destroye them that hate me.

They shall crye / but there shalbe no Sauer: eyce/ euen vnto the Lorde/ but he answereth them not.

I wyl beate them as smal as the dust vpon the earth: euen as the claye of the stretes wyl I make them thynne / & spreade them out abroade.

But me shalt thou delyuer from the stryuynges of the people/and shalt kepe me to be the heade of the Heythen: A people whome I haue not knowen/shal serue me.

The straunge chyldren haue denyed me/ at the hearynge of the eare shall they herken vnto me.

The straunge chyldren are waxen olde/and G are shut vp in they: prysons.

The Lord lyueth/and blessed be my God/ & magnifyed be the strength of my health.

God seyth that I be auēged/and subdueth the people vnto me.

He bryngeth me out fro myne enemyes: & from them that ryse vp agaynst me/shalt thou exalte me/and from the cruell man shalt thou delyuer me.

†For this cause wyll I geue thankes vnto Rom. p the amonge the Heythen / and synge prayses vnto thy name.

Which doth great health for his kyng/and sheweth mercy vnto Dauid his anoynted / & to his sede for euermore.

The. XXIIII. Chapter.

A AND †the Lorde was wrothfully displeased of a new against Jsrael / and moued i. Par. xxij. & Dauid amonge them/ that he dyd saye: Go numbre Jsrael and Juda. And the kynge saide vnto Joab the chiefe ceptayne of his hoost: Go about in all the trybes of Jsrael/frō Dan vnto Berseba/and numbre the people/ that I maye knowe how many they be. Joab saide vnto the kynge: The Lorde thy God adde vnto this people an hundreth times as much as it is now / ꝑ my lorde ꝑ kinge may se his eies lust theron. But why hath my lorde ꝑ kyng a desyre to this thynge? Neuertheless / the kynges worde preuayled agaynst Joab / and the captaynes of the hoost.

So Joab and the captaynes of the hoost wente forth from the kynge / to numbre the people of Israel / and passed ouer Jordane / & pitched at Aroer / at the ryght hande of the cyte / which lyeth in the ryuer of Gad / and at

And Joab delyuered vnto the kynge the summe of the people that was numbred. And in Israel there were eyght hundreth thousand stronge men / that drewe out the swearde: & in Juda fyue hundreth thousande men. And after that ꝑ people was numbred / Dauids herte smote hym selfe. And Dauid sayde vnto the Lorde: I haue synned sore / that I haue done this. And now Lorde take awaye the trespasse of thy seruaunt. For I haue done very vnwysely.

C And whan Dauid rose vp in ꝑ morninge / the worde of the Lorde came vnto the prophet Gad / Dauids Seir / and sayde: Go and speake vnto Dauid. Thus sayeth the Lorde: I bringe the thre thynges / chose the one of them / that I maye do it vnto the. Gad came vnto Dauid / and told him / and sayde vnto hym: Wylt thou that seuen yeare derth shall come into thy lande? Or that thou be fayne to flye for thyne aduersaries thre monethes / and they to persecute the? Or that there be pestilence thre dayes in the land? Take aduisement therfore / & se what aunswere I shall bringe agayne vnto hym that sent me.

Dauid sayde vnto Gad: I am in extreme trouble. †Neuertheless / (yf it maye be) let me rather fall into ꝑ handes of the Lorde (for his mercy is great) / I wil not fal into the handes of men.

Eccle. ꝑ. e

D So the Lorde sent pestilence into Israel from the morow vnto the tyme appointed / so that there died of the people from Dan vnto Berseba / thre score and ten thousande men. And whan ꝑ aungel stretched his hand ouer Jerusalem to destroye it / the Lord repented ouer the euell / and said vnto the aungel: It is ynough / holde now thy hande. The aungel of the Lord was besyde the barne of Arafna the Jebusyte. But whan Dauid sawe the aungel that smote the people / he said vnto the Lord: Beholde / It is I that haue synned / I haue done ꝑ trespasse: As for these shepe / what haue they done? Oh let thy hade be against me / and against my fathers house.

And Gad came to Dauid at thesame time and said vnto him: Go vp and set vp an aultare vnto the Lord in the barne of Arafna the Jebusite. So Dauid wente vp as Gad E sayde / and as the Lorde had commaunded. And whā Arafna loked aboute him / he sawe the kynge with his seruauntes goynge vnto him / and he worshipped vpon his face to the grounde / and sayde: Wherfore commeth my lorde ꝑ kinge vnto his seruaunt? Dauid said: To bye the barne of the / and to buylde an aultare vnto ꝑ Lorde / that the plague maye ceasse from the people.

But Arafna sayde vnto Dauid: Let my lorde the kynge take it / and offre what pleaseth hym. Behold / there is an oxe for a burntofferynge / and sleddes / and harnesse of oxen to the wood. Al this gaue Arafna vnto the kynge. And Arafna sayde vnto the kynge: The Lorde thy God make ꝑ accepted vnto hym. Neuertheless / ꝑ kynge said vnto Arafna: Not so / but I wyl bye it of ꝑ for as muche as it is worth. For I wyl not offre burntofferynges vnto the Lorde / of that which I haue for nought. So Dauid bought ꝑ barne and the oxe for fyftye sycles of syluer / & buylded an aultare there vnto the Lorde / and offred burntofferynges and thankeofferynges. And the Lorde was mercyful vnto ꝑ lande / and the plague ceassed from the people of Israel.

The kynge aunswered and saide: Cal Bethsabe vnto me. of Jsrael out of the lande of Egypte/in the Actu. vij. f fourth yeare of the raygne of Salomon ouer Jsrael/in the moneth Syf/(that is the seconde moneth) was the house buylded vnto the Lorde. This house that kynge Salomon buylded vnto the Lord/was thre score cubytes longe/ twentye cubites broade/ and thyrtyne cubites hye. And he builded a †Porche before the temple of twentye cubites lōge Joan. x. c after the bredth of the house/ and ten cubites Actu. iij. b broade before the house/ and in the house he and. v. d made wyndowes/whiche myght be opened and shutte with lyddes.

And rounde aboute by the wall of the house he buylded a compasse/ so that it went both aboute the temple and the quere/ and made his outwarde wall rounde aboute. The nethermoost station was fyue cubites wyde/ and the myddest sixe cubites wyde/ and the thyrde seuen cubites wyde. For he laied balkes rounde aboute the house/ that they touched not the wall of the house.

And whan the house was buylded/it was B
buylded of whole and outbroken stones/ so that there was herde neyther hamer/nor axe/ nor any other instrument of yron/whan the house was a buyldynge.

But on the ryght syde of the myddes of the house there was a dore/so that they might go vp to the myddes stacyon by a turne grese/ and from the middest station vnto the third. Thus buylded he the house/ and fynished it/ and syled the house both aboue and by the walles with Ceder wood. He buylded a galery also aboue vpon the whole house fyue cubites hye/ and couered the house with Ceder tymber.

And the worde of the Lorde came vnto Salomon/ and sayde: Let this be the house that thou buyldeste. If thou shalt walke in mine ordynaunces: and do accordynge to my lawes/and kepe all my commaundementes/ to walke therin/ then wyll I stably she my thy father) and wyl dwell amonge the chyldren of Israel/ and wyl not forsake my people of Israell.

C Thus Salomon buylded the house/and fynyshed it/& buylded the walles on the insyde with Ceder tymber from the grounde of the house vnto the rose/ and syled it with tymbre on the insyde / and ouerlayed the flore of the house with bordes of Pyne tree.

And behynde in the house he buylded a wall of Ceder tymber twenty cubites longe/ from the flore to the rose. An theron buylded he the quere for the mooste holy / but the house of the temple before the quere was fourty cubites lõge: on the insyde was the whole house of Ceder with wrythen knoppes and floures/ so that there was no stone seene. As for the quere/ he prepared it on the insyde of the house that the Arke of the conuenaunt of the Lorde myght be set therin. And before the quere/ (which was twentye cubites longe/ twentye cubites broade/and twentye cubites hye/and ouerlayed with pure golde) he syled the aultare with Ceder.

D And Salomon ouerlayed the house on ỹ insyde with pure golde/& shot barres of golde before the quere/which he had ouerlayed with golde/so that the whole house was layed ouer with golde. And all the aultare also before the quere ouerlayed he with golde.

Exo.xxv.b † He made also in the quere two Cherubins tẽ cubites hye/of Olyue tree: One wynge of eyther of the Cherubyns had fyue cubites/ so that from the edge of his one wynge to the edge of his other wynge there were ten cubites. Euen so hath the other Cherub ten cubites also/ and both the Cherubins were of one measure and of one quantitye / so that eyther Cherub was ten cubites hye. And he putte the Cherubins within the house. And the Cherubyns spred forth theyr wynges / so that the wynge of the one touched the one walle & the other Cherubyns wynge touched the other wall. But in the myddes of the house the one wynge touched another. And he ouerlayed the Cherubyns with golde.

E And on all the walles of the house rounde about/ he caused to make carued worke with carued Cherubyns/palmetrees / and fleurees. And the pauement of the house ouerlayed he also with golden plates. And at the entraūce of the quere/he made two dores of olyue tree/ with fyue squared postes / and caused carued worke to be made therof with Cherubyns/ palme trees/ and floures/ and ouerlaied them with plates of golde. So made he also at the intraunce of the temple / foure squared postes of Olyue tree/and two dores of Pyne tree/ (so that eyther dore had two syde dores one hangynge to another) and made carued worke therof/palme trees & floures/ ryght as it was appoynted.

And he buylded a courte also within with thre rowes of fre stone/ and with one rowe of playne Ceder tymber.

In the fourth yeare in the Moneth Sif/ was the foundacion of the Lordes house layed/and in the Eleuēth yeare in the moneth Bul/ (that is the eyghte moneth) was ỹ house fynyshed as it shoulde be/so that they were seuen yeare a buyldynge of it. Apryll. Octobr.

The. VII. Chapter.

BVt Salomon was a buyldynge his owne house thirtene yeare/and fynished it/namely/he buylded an house of the wood of Lybanus/an hũdreth cubites longe/fyftye cubites wyde/& thyrtie cubites hye/ soure squared with rowes of pyllers / and with carued Ceders. And the rose aboue syled he also with Ceder wood vpõ the fyue and fourtye pyllers/ for one row had fyftene pyllers: so that there stode euer thre pyllers/one ryght ouer against another: so that euery space betwixte the pyllers was one ouer agaynst another/foursquared with the pyllers.

And he made a porche with pyllers/ which was fyftye cubites longe/ and thyrtye cubites broade/and yet a porche before it with pyllers & with a greate poste. He made a põche also vnto the kynges seate/ (wherin the iudgment was kept) and made it to be the porche of iudgement/& syled it with Ceder from the pauement vnto the pauement agayne/& his owne house wherin he dwelt/in ỹ backe court made betwene the house & the porche lyke the other. And lyke vnto the porche made he a house for Pharaos doughter/ † whome Salomon had taken to wyfe. B iij. Reg

And these were costly stones hewen after the measure/cut with sawes on euery syde/frõ the grounde vnto the rose. As for the foundacions/they were costly and greate stones / ten and eight cubites greate/and costly fre stones theron accordynge to the measure / and Ceders. But the greate court rounde aboute had thre rowes of fre stone/and one rowe of playne Ceders: Euen so also the courte by the house of the Lord within / and the porche by the house.

And kynge Salomon sent to fetch one/ Para.ij.c † Hyram of Tyre a wedowes sonne of the trybe of Nephtali / and his father had bene a iij.Reg.vij.a man of Tyre/ (which was a cunninge man in metall/ful of wysedome/ vnderstandynge and knowledge to worke al maner of metal worke. Whan he came to king Salomon/he made al Para.iij.c his worke/ & made two brasen pyllers/eyther Dar.xix.b of them eyghtene cubites hye: & a threde of iij.Reg.vij.b cubites was the measure aboute both the pyllers: & he made two knoppes of brasse molten/ to set aboute vpon the pyllers: & euery knoppe C was fyue cubites hye: and on euery knoppe aboue vpon the pyllers seuen wrythen roapes lyke cheynes. And vpõ euery knoppe he made two rowes of Pomgranates/rounde aboute on the roape / wherwith the knoppe was couered. And the knoppes were lyke Roses before the porche foure cubites greate. And the Pomgranates in the rowes rounde aboute were two hundreth aboue and beneth vpon the rope/which went rounde aboute the thyckenes of the knoppe / on euery knoppe vpon both the pyllers.

And he set vp the pyllers before the porche of the temple. And that whiche he set on the ryghte hande/called he Jachin: and that which he set on the lefte hande/called he Boos. And so stode it aboue vpon the pyllers euen lyke Roses. Thus was the worke of the pyllers fynyshed.

D † And he made a molten lauer/ten cubites wyde from the one syde to ỹ other rounde Dar.iiij.a aboute / and fyue cubites hye / and a threde iij.Reg.vij.c of thyrtye cubytes longe was the measure rounde about: and about the same lauer that was ten cubytes wyde / there wente knoppes on the edge therof rounde aboute the lauer. Two rowes were there of the knoppes molten with the lauer.

And it stode vpon twelfe bullockes/wherof thre were turned towarde the North / thre towarde the West/thre towarde the South/and thre towarde the East/& the lauer aboue therõ/ so that al theyr hinder partes were within vnder the lauer: wherof the thyckenesse was an handbreth: & the edge of it was lyke the edge of a cuppe/and as a floured rose/and it contained two thousande (℔) Battes. A Bat/ was a certayne measure of liquore. E

And he made ten brasen seates/euery one foure cubytes longe and broade/and thre cubytes hye. The seate was made so/that it had sydes betwene the ledges. And on the sydes betwene the ledges there were Lyõs/Bullockes/& Cherubyns. And on the ledges whiche were aboue and beneth the Lyons and Bullockes were the sydes made/that they were set Dounewardes. And euery stole had foure brasen wheles with brasen axeltrees. And vpon the foure corners there were proppes molten/ euery one ouer agaynst another/vnderset vnto the kettell.

And the soket vpon the stole was a cubite hye and rounde/a cubyte and a halfe wyde: & on the soket there were knoppes in foldes / ỹ were foursquared and not rounde. The foure wheles stode beneth by the sides/and the axeltrees of the wheles were harde on the seate. Euery whele was a cubyte and a halfe hye/ & they where wheles lyke karte wheles. And theyr axeltrees/ spokes/nayles/and the nauelstockes were all molten. And the foure proppes vpon the foure corners of euery seate were hard on the seate.

And on the soket aboue vpon the seate/& cubyte and a halfe rounde aboute / there were ledges and sydes harde on the seate. And on the place of the same sydes and ledges / he caused to carue Cherubyns/Lyõs/ and palme trees/one by another rounde about theron. After this maner made he ten molten seates/ one maner of measure/ and wydenesse was in all.

† And he made ten copper kettels/so that F one kettell conteyned fourtye Battes / & was ỹ Para.iiij.a foure cubytes greate/ & vpon euery seate was a kettell. And fyue seates set he on the ryght syde of the house / and the other fyue on ỹ lefte syde. But the lauer set he before on the ryghte hande towarde the South.

And Hiram made pottes also and shoucls & basens/and so fynished he all the worke that kynge Salomon caused to be made in the house of the Lorde: namely the two pyllers/and rounde knoppes aboue vpon the two pyllers/and the two wrythen ropes to couer ỹ two rounde knoppes vpon the pyllers. And the four hundreth Pomgranates on the two wrythen ropes/euer two rowes of Pomgranates vnto euery rope/to couer the two rounde knoppes vpon the pyllers. And the ten seates/ and ten kettels theron/and the lauer/ & twelfe Bullockes vnder the lauer. And the pottes/ shoucls/and basens. And all the ornamentes which Hiram made vnto kynge Salomon

G for the house of the Lord were of pure metal. In the contrie by Iordane/ caused the kynge them to be molten in thycke earth betwene Sucoth and Zarthan. And Salomon let all the apparel be vnweyed/because ỹ metal was so much.

Exo. xxv. c †Moreouer/ Salomon made al the apparel that belonged vnto the house of the Lord: namely a golden aultare / a golden table that the shewbread laye on/fyue candelstyckes on ỹ righthande/and fyue candelstycke on the lefte (before the quere) of pure golde/with floures/ lampes/and snoffers of gold therto/flat pecces chargers/basens/spones/and censours of pure golde. And the hokes of the dores on the inssyde of the house in the moost holy/ and in the dores of the house of the temple of the Lorde were of gold.

Thus all the worke that kynge Salomon made in the house of the Lorde / was fyny-

The. VIII. Chapter.

A Then †gathered kynge Salomon all the September. moneth Ethanim/that is the seuẽth moneth. And whan all the Elders of Israel came / the priestes toke the Arke of the Lord/ & brought it vp/and the Tabernacle of wytnesse/ and all the ornamentes of the Sanctuarye that were in the Tabernacle. This dyd the priestes and the Leuites. And kynge Salomon and all the congregacion of Israel that were gathered vnto hym / wente with hym before the Arcke / and offered shepe and bullockes / so many that they could not be numbred nor told:

So the priestes brought the Arcke of the Lordes couenaunt vnto his place: euen in to the quere of the house in the moost holy/ vnder the wynges of the Cherubyns: for the Cherubyns spred out theyr wynges in ỹ place where the Arcke stode / and coucred the Arke and the staues therof from aboue. And the staues were so long that the knoppes of them were sene frõ the Sanctuary before the quere/ but on the outsyde were they not sene / & they were there vnto this daye.

And in the Arcke there was nothynge but B
only the two tables of stone/ † which Moses Deut. x.
had layed therin at Horeb/whan the Lorde made a couenaunt with the chyldren of Israel/what tyme as they were departed out of the lande of Egypte.

But whan the priestes wente out of the Sanctuarye/ † a cloude fylled the house of the Exod. xl.

And the Lorde hath perfourmed his worde that he spake: For I am come vp in my father Sauids steade/and syt vpon the seat of Israell / as the Lorde sayde / and haue buylded an house vnto the name of the Lorde God of Israell: and there haue I ordeyned a place for the Arke / wherin is the Lordes couenaunt / which he made with oure fathers / whan he brought them out of the lande of Egypte.

And the kynge withall Israel his people offred sacrifice before the Lorde. But whā the Quene of ryche Arabia sawe all the wysdome of Salomon/and the house that he had buylded/and the meates of his table / and the dwellynges of his seruauntes/and the offices of his ministers / and their garmentes / and his butlers/and the burntofferynges whiche he offred in the house of the Lord / she wondred exceadyngly / and coulde no longer refrayne / but sayde vnto the kynge: It is true/ that I haue herde in my lande of thy behaueour/and of thy wysedome. And I wolde not beleue it / tyll I came and sawe it with myne eyes: and behold/the halfe hath not ben tolde me.

And she gaue the kyng sixe score hundreth weyght of Golde/and very muche spice / and precious stones. There came neuer so muche spyce thyther/as the Quene of ryche Arabia gaue vnto kynge Salomon. And Hirams shippes/ † whiche caryed golde out of Ophir/ iij. Re.ix.

And of the costlye tymber the kynge caused to make pyllers in the house of the Lord/and in the kynges house/and harpes/ and Psalteries for the C musicians. And whan he was now olde/ his wifes bowed his herte after straung goddes/so that his herte was not whole with the Lorde his God/as was the herte of Dauid his father.

So Salomon walked after Astaroth the god of the Sidonians/& after Malcom the abhomynacion of the Ammonites. And Salomon did that whiche displeased the Lord/ and folowed not the Lord to the vttermoost as did his father Dauid. Then builded Salomon an hye place vnto Chamos/the abhominacion of the Moabites/ vpon the mount ỹ lyeth before Jerusalem / and vnto Moloch ỹ abhominacion of the Ammonites. B

Thus did Salomon for all his outlandisshe wises/which brent incense / and offred vnto their goddes. But the Lord was wroth at Salomon/because his herte was turned aside from the Lorde God of Jsrael/ † which iij.Re.iij.a

And the Lorde raysed vp an aduersary C vnto Salomon / euen Hadad the Edomite of the kynges sede/which was in Edom. For whan Dauid was in Edō/& Joab the chiefe captayne wente vp to bury ỹ slayne/he smote all the males in Edom. For Joab remained there sixe monethes and al Jsrael/ tyll he had roted out al the males that were in Edom. Then fled Hadad & certain men of the Edomites with him / of his fathers seruauntes. As for Hadad/he was a yonge man.

And they gat them vp frō Madian / and came vnto Paran / and toke men with them out of Paran / and came into Egypte / vnto Pharao the kynge of Egipt: which gaue him an house and certaine vitaylles appointed / & gaue hym a centrie. And Hadad founde great fauoure in the syght of Pharao / so that he gaue hym to wyfe cuē ỹ systter of his owne wyfe Thaphenes ỹ Quene. And Thaphenes syster bare hym Genubath his sonne/& Thaphenes norysshed hym vp in Pharaos house/ in so much that Genubath was in Pharaos house among Pharaos children.

D Now whan Hadad herde in Egipt ỹ Dauid was fallē on slepe wᵗh his fathers/and that Joab the chefe captaine was dead/ he sayde vnto Pharao: Let me go into my cōtrie. Pharao saide vnto him: What lackest thou wᵗh me/ that thou wylte go into thy contrie? He said: Nothynge/But yet let me go.

God raysed him vp another aduersary also/one Reson the sōne of Eliada/which fled from his lorde Hadad Eser the kynge of Zeba/and gathered men agaynst hym/& was a captayne of the men of warre whan Dauid slewe them/and they wente vnto Damascus and dwelt there/and raygned at Damascus/ and he was Israels aduersary as long as Salomon lyued. This is the harme that Hadad suffred: therfore had he euel wil at Israel/and was kynge ouer Siria.

E Moreouer/Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat an Ephraite of Sareda Salomons seruaūt/ (and his mothers name was Zeruga/a wedowe/lyft vp his hande also against the king. And he departed another waye / and returned not agayne the way that he came to Bethel. But at Bethel there dwelt an olde prophete / vnto whome his sonnes came / & tolde him al the wordes that the man of God had done that day at Bethel / & the wordes that he had spoken vnto the kynge. And their father sayde vnto them: Which waye is he gone? And his sonnes shewed him the waye that ỹ man of God was gone: which came from Juda. He saide vnto his sonnes: Sadle me the asse. And whan they had sadled him the asse / he rode theron / and wente after the man of God / and founde him sittinge vnder an Oke tree / & said vnto him: Art thou ỹ man of God that came from Juda? He saide: Yee.

He sayde vnto hym: Come home with me / and eate bread. He saide: I maye not turne backe with the / and come with the / neyther wyl I eate bread / nor drinke water with the in this place: for it is spoken vnto me by the worde of the Lord: Thou shalt neyther eate breade there / nor yet drinke water / neyther shalt thou go agayne by the way which thou wentest. He sayde vnto him: I my selfe am a prophete as well as thou / and an aungel hath spoken with me by the worde of the Lorde / and sayde: Bringe hym agayn with the / that he maye eate breade / and drinke water. But he lyed vnto him / and brought hym againe / so that he did eate bread / and dranke water in his house.

And whan they sat at the table / the worde of the Lorde came to the prophet that had brought him againe / and cryed vnto ỹ man which was come from Juda / and said: Thus sayeth the Lorde: Because thou hast bene disobedient vnto the mouth of the Lorde / and

The Lyon had eaten nothinge of the body / neither had he torne the Asse. Then toke the prophete the dead coarse of the man of God / and layed it vpon the Asse / and brought it againe in to the cytie of ỹ olde prophet / to mourne / and to burye hym.

G And he layd the coarse in his owne graue / & they mourned for hym: Alas my brother. And whan they had buried hym / he sayd vnto his sonnes: Whan I dye / burye me in the graue where the man of God is buryed / and lay my body besyde his bones. † For it shall come to passe / that he cryed (thorow ỹ worde of the Lord) against the aulter at Bethel / & agaynst all the houses of the hye places / which are in the cytyes of Samaria. 3. And Achab called Abdia his chiefe officer. As for Abdia he feared the Lorde greatly: for whan Jeſabel roted out the prophetes of the Lord / Abdia toke an C. prophetes / and hid them in caues/here fyftie/ and there fyftye / and prouided for them with breade and water. Achab now ſaide vnto Abdia: Go thorow the lande/ vnto all the welles of water and riuers/ if happly we maye finde hay / to ſaue the horſes and mules / that al the cattel periſhe not. And they parted them ſelfes in to the lande/ to go thorow it. Achab departed the one waye alone / and Abdia the other waye alone.

Now whan Abdia was on the waye/ Eliah mete him. And whan he knewe him/ he fell doune vpon his face / and ſaide: Art not thou my lorde Eliah? He ſaide: yee / go thy waye/ & tell thy lorde: beholde / Eliah is nere: But he ſaide: What haue I offended/ ỹ thou wilt deliuer thy ſeruaunt in to the handes of Achab / that he may ſlaye me? As truly as the B Lorde thy God liueth / there is no people nor kyngdom. But my lord hath ſent thether to ſeke the. And thou ſayeſt now: Go thy waye: tel thy lorde/ Eliah is here: that he maye ſlaye me. Eliah ſayd: As truly as the Lorde Zabaoth liueth / before whome I ſtande / I wyl ſhewe my ſelfe vnto him this daye. Then wente Abdia to mete Achab / and tolde him. Achab wente for to mete Eliah.

And whan Achab ſawe Eliah / Achab ſaid vnto him: Art thou he that troubleſt Iſrael? Then ſtepte Eliah vnto all the people and C ſayde: How longe halte ye on both the ſydes? If the Lorde be God/ then walke after him: but if Baal be he/ then folowe him. Then ſaid Eliah vnto the people: I onely am lefte a prophet of the Lorde: but Baals prophetes are foure hundreth and fyftye men. And all the people aunſwered and ſayde: That is ryght. And Eliah ſayd vnto Baals prophetes: Chooſe ye one bullocke / and do ye it firſt (for ye are many) and eal ye vpon the name of your god / and laye no fyre theron.

And they toke the bullocke which he gaue D them / and prepared it / and called vpon the name of Baal from the mornyng vnto the noone day / & ſaid: O Baal hear vs. But there was neyther voyce nor aunſwere. And they hopped about the aultare/ as they vſe was to do. And he ranne againe from hym / and toke a yocke of oxen / and offred it / & sode the fleshe with the woode of the oxen plowes / and gaue it vnto the people to eate / and gat hym vp / & folowed Eliah / and ministred vnto hym.

The. XX. Chapter.

And † Benadad the kynge of Siria gathered al his power / and there were two and iij. Re. xx. thyrtye kynges with hym / and horses and charrettes / and he went vp / and layed sege vnto Samaria / and fought agaynst it. And he sent messaungers vnto Achab the kynge of Israel in to the cytie / and caused to saye vnto hym: Thus sayeth Benadad: Thy syluer and thy golde is mine / and thy wyfes and thy best chyldren are myne also. The kynge of Israel aūswered / and sayd: My lorde O kynge euen as thou hast sayd / I am thyne / and all that I haue.

And the messaungers came agayne / and sayd: Thus sayeth Benadad: For so muche as I haue sent vnto the / sayinge: Thy syluer and thy golde / thy wyfes and thy chyldren shalt thou geue me / to morowe aboute this tyme wyll I sende my seruauntes vnto the / that they maye searche thyne house / and the house of thy subiectes: & loke what pleasaunt thynge thou hast / that shall they take in theyr handes / & carye it awaye. So the kynge of Israel cal- B led al the Elders of the lāde / and sayd: Marke well and se what myschiefe this man seketh: He sent vnto me for my wyfes and chyldren / for syluer and golde / and I haue not sayd him naye. Then sayd all the Elders / and all the people vnto him: Thou shalte not consente no: agree vnto hym. And he spake vnto Benadads messaungers. Say vnto my lorde the kynge: Al the thynges wherfore thou dyddest sende vnto me thy seruaunt at the fyrst / wolde I haue done: but this can I not do. And the messaungers wente / and told this agayne. Then sent Benadad vnto hym sayinge: The goddes do this and that vnto me / yf the dust of Samaria shalbe ynough / for euery one of my people to bringe me an handfull therof. But the kynge of Israel aunswered / and said: Tell him: Let not him that putteth on the harneſſe make his boast / lyke him that hath put it of. Whan Benadad herde that C euen as he was drynkynge with the kynges in the pauylion / he said vnto his seruauntes: Set your selfes in araye. And they set thē selfes in araye agaynst the cytie.

And beholde / there came a prophete vnto
Achab

Achab the kyng of Israel / & sayd: Thus sayeth the Lord: Hast thou sene all this great multitude: Beholde / this daye wyll I delyuer thē in to thy hande / so that thou shalt knowe / how that I am ỹ Lord. Achab sayd: By whome: C He sayd: Thus sayeth the Lorde: Euen by the yonge men of the rulers of the lande. He sayd: Who shall order the battayll: He sayd: Thou. Then mustered he the yonge men of the rulers of the lande / and there were two hundreth and two and thyrty of thē / and after them mustered he of the whole people of al the children of Israel / seuen thousande men / & they were out in the noone daye. As for Benadad / he dranke and was dronken in the pauilion with the two and thyrty kynges / which were come to helpe him. And the yonge men of the rulers of the lande wente forth fyrst.

Benadad sent forth / and they brought him worde and sayde: There come men out of Samaria. He sayd: Take them alyue / whether they be come forth for peace or for warre. But whan the lande rulers yonge men were gone forth / and the hoost behynd them / euery one smote him that came in his waye. And the Syrians fled / and Israel folowed after them. And Benadad ỹ kyng of Siria escaped with horses and horsemen. And the kyng of Israel went forth / and smote horses and charrettes / and dyd a great slaughter on the Sirians.

D Then cam: there a prophete vnto the kyng of Israel / and sayd vnto him: Go thy waye / and strengthe the / and take hede / and loke well what thou doest: for whan the yeare is about / the kynge of Siria shall come vp agaynst the. For the kynge of the Sirians seruauntes sayd vnto him: Theyr goddes are goddes of the mountaynes / therfore haue they gotten the victorye.

But let vs fyght with them on the playne / and thou shalt se that we shall ouercome thē. So thus / put awaye the kynges euery one from his place / and set dukes in theyr steades / and appoynt the an hoost as was that / which thou hast lost / and horses and charrettes as the other were / and let vs fyght agaynst them in the playne / and thou shalte se that we shall haue the victory. He consented vnto theyr voyce / and dyd so.

Now whan the yeare was gone aboute / Benadad appoynted the Sirians / and wente vp towarde Aphek / to fyght agaynst Israel / and the chyldren of Israel mustered / and prouided them selfes with vytailes / and went to mete them / and pitched theyr tentes ouer agaynst them / lyke two lytle flockes of goates / but the lande was ful of the Sirians.

And there came a man of God / and sayde E vnto the kyng of Israel: Thus sayeth ỹ Lorde: because the Sirians haue said / that the Lord is a God of the mountaynes / and not a God of the valleys / therfore haue I geuen all this great heape in to thy handes / that ye may knowe how that I am the Lorde. And they pitched theyr tentes ryght ouer agaynst them seuen dayes. But vpon the seuenth daye they were together in the battayl / and the chyldren of Israel smote of the Sirians an hundreth thousande foote men in one daye / and the remnaunt fled to Aphek in to the cytie / & the wall fell vpon the other seuen and twenty thousande men. And Benadad fled also vnto the cytie in to a lytle chaumber.

Then sayd his seruauntes vnto him: Beholde / we haue herde that the kynges of the house of Israel are mercyfull kynges. Let vs therfore put sackecloth about our loynes / and halters about our neckes / and go forth to the kynge of Israel / peraduenture he shall let thy soule lyue.

And they put sackecloth about theyr loynes / F and halters aboute theyr neckes / and came to the kynge of Israel / and sayd: Benadad thy seruaunt sayeth vnto the: O let my soule lyue. He sayde: If he be yet aliue / he is my brother. And the men toke him shortly at his worde / & expounded it for them selfes & said: Yee Benadad is thy brother. He sayd: Come and bring hym. Then went Benadad forth vnto hym / & he caused hym to sit vpon the charret / & sayde vnto hym: The cityes that my father toke frō thy father will I geue the agayne. And make thou stretes for thy selfe at Samascon / as my father did at Samaria / so will I let the go vp a bonde of peace. And he made a conuenaunt with hym / and let him go.

Then spake there a man amonge the chyldren of the Prophetes vnto hys neyghboure / by the worde of the Lord: I praye the smyte me. But he refused to smyte hym. Then sayde

he vnto him/because thou hast not herkened vnto the voyce of the Lorde/beholde/therfore shal there a Lyon smyte the/whan thou iij.re.xxi.a goest fro me. †And whan he wēte from him/ a Lyon founde him/and slewe him.

G And he founde another man/ and sayde: I praye the smyte me. And the man smote him/ and wounded him. Then wente the prophete/and stepte vnto the kynge by the wayeside/ and altered his face with asshes. And whan the kynge wente by/he cryed vpon the kynge/ and sayde: Thy seruaunt wente forth in to the battayll/and beholde/there went one aside/ and brought a man vnto me/and sayd: Kepe this man: if he be myssed/thy soule shalbe in steade of his soule/ or els thou shalte weye doune an hundreth weyght of syluer. And whyle thy seruaunt had here and there to do/ he was awaye. The kynge of Israel sayde vnto him: It is thine owne iudgemet/thou hast geuen it thy selfe.

Then put he the asshes from his face in all the haist. And the kynge of Israel knewe him/that he was one of the prophetes. And he sayde vnto hym: Thus sayeth the Lorde: Because thou hast let the damned man go/ therfore shall thy soule be for his soule/and thy people for his people. And ỹ kynge of Israel departed vnto his house/ beynge troubled in his mynde/and full of indignacion/ & came to Samaria.

The. XXI. Chapter.

A Nfter these actes it fortuned that Naboth the Jesraelite had a vyneyarde at Jesrael/ beside the palayce of Achab kynge of Samaria. And Achab spake vnto Naboth/and saide: Geue me thy vyneyarde/I wyll make me an yerbgarden therof/because it is so nye myne house: I wyll geue the a better vyneyarde for it: or if it please the/I wyll geue the syluer for it/as muche as it is worth. But Naboth saide

Then came Achab home/ beynge moued and full of indignacyon/because of the worde that Naboth the Jesraelite had spoken vnto hym/ and sayde: I wyl not geue the my fathers enheritaunce. And he layed him vpon his bed/and turned his face aside/and dyd eate no bread. Then Jesabel his wyfe came in to him/and sayde vnto hym: What is the matter/that thy spirite is so combred/& that thou eatest no bread? He sayde vnto her: I haue spoken vnto Naboth the Jesraelite/ and sayde: Geue me thy vyneyarde for money: or if it please the/I wyll geue the another for it. But he sayde: I wyll not geue the my vyneyarde.

Then sayde Jesabel his wyfe vnto him: B What were the kyngdom in Israel/if thou dyddestit: Stande vp/and eate bread/I wyll get the the vyneyarde of Naboth the Jesraelite. And she wrote a letter vnder Achabs name/ and sealed it with his signet/and sent it vnto the Elders & rulers in his cytie/which dwelte about Naboth/and wrote thus in the letter: Proclayme a feast/and set Naboth aboue in the people/and set two men of Belial before him/ to testifie & saye: Thou hast blaspheмed God and the kynge. And bring him forth/& stone him to death.

And the Elders and rulers of his cytie/ which dwelte in his cytie/dyd as Jesabel had commaunded them/accordynge as she had writte in the letter that she sent vnto thē: and they proclaymed a feast/and caused Naboth to syt aboue amonge the people. Then came the two men of Belial/and stode before him/and testified agaynst Naboth in the presence of the people/and sayde: Naboth hath blaspheмed God and the kynge.

† Then brought they him out of the cytie/ Leu.xxiiij and stoned him to death. And they sent Jesa- Actu.vij bel worde/sayinge: Naboth is stoned and put to death. Whan Jesabel herd that Naboth was stoned and dead/she sayde vnto Achab: Vp/and take possession of the vyneyarde of C Naboth the Jesraelite/which he denyed to geue the for money: for Naboth lyueth no more/but is dead. And whan Achab herde that Naboth was dead/he rose to go doune vnto the vyneyard of Naboth the Jesraelite/ and to take possession of it.

But the worde of the Lorde came to Eliah the Thesbite/and sayde: Get the vp/and go doune to mete Achab the kynge of Israel/ which is at Samaria: beholde/he is in Naboths vyneyarde/in to the which he is gone doune doune to take possession of it/ and talke thou with him/and saye: Thus sayeth the Lorde: Thou hast slayne/and taken in possession. And thou shalt talke moreouer vnto him/ and saye:

But whan Achab herde these wordes/he rent his clothes/ and put a sackcloth on his body/and fasted/and slepte in sackcloth/ and wente aboute hangynge doune his heade. And the worde of the Lorde came to Eliah the Thesbite/and sayde: Hast thou not sene how Achab humbled hym selfe before me? For so muche now as he humbled hym selfe in my syght/I wyl not bryng that plague whyle he lyueth: but by his sonnes lyfe wyl I brynge myssfortune vpon his house.

The. XXII. Chapter.

A Nd there passed ouer thre yeares/ that Da.xviij. there was no warre betwene the Siriās and Israel. † But in the thyrde yeare wēt Josaphat the kynge of Juda doune to the kynge of Israel. And the kynge of Israel sayde vnto his seruauntes: Knowe ye not that Ramoth in Gilead is ours? and we syt styll/ and take it not out of the hande of the kynge of Siria. And he sayde vnto Josaphat: Wylt thou go with me to the battayll vnto Ramoth in Gilead? Josaphat sayde vnto the kynge of Israel: † I wyll be as thou/my people as thy peo- iiij.Re.iij.a ple/and my horses as thy horses. And Josaiij.re.xxij.a phat sayd vnto the kynge of Israel: † Axe this ij.Reg.ij.c daye at the worde of the Lorde. Then the and xxj.a kynge of Israel gathered together the prophe*iij.Reg. xviij.c tes/aboute a * foure hundreth men/ and sayd vnto them: Shal I go vnto Ramoth in Gilead to fyght/or shal I let it alone? They saide: Go vp. The Lorde shall delyuer it in to the kynges hande. But Josaphat sayde: Is there not one prophet here more of the Lorde/that we may axe at hym.

The kynge of Israel sayde vnto Josa- B phat: Here is yet a man/ one Micheas the sonne of Jemla/at whome we maye axe of the Lorde: but I hate him/for he prophecieth me no good/but euel. Josaphat sayde: Let not the kynge saye so. Then called the kynge of Israel a chaumberlayne/and sayde: Brynge hether soone Micheas the sonne of Jemla. † As ij.pa.xviij.b for the kynge of Israel/ & Josaphat the kinge of Juda they sat eyther of them vpon his seat/ arayed in theyr garmentes/in the place at the dore of the porte of Samaria/and all the prophetes prophecied before them. And Sedechias the sonne of Enaena had made hym hornes of yron/ and sayde: Thus sayeth the Lorde: With these shalte thou pushe at the Sirians/tyll thou brynge them to nought. And all the prophetes prophecyed lykewyse/ and sayde: Go vp vnto Ramoth in Gilead/ thou shalt prosper ryght well/and the Lord shal delyuer it into the kynges hande. And the messaunger that wente to call Micheas sayde vnto hym: Beholde/ The wordes of the prophetes are with one accorde good before ỹ kynge/let thy worde therfore be as theyr worde/and speake thou good also.

Micheas sayde: As truly as the Lorde C lyueth/loke what the Lorde sayeth vnto me/ that wyll I speake.

And whan he came to the kynge/the kinge

sayde vnto hym: Micheas shall we go vnto Ramoth in Gilead to fyght/or shall we let it alone? He said vnto him: Yee/go vp/thou shalte prospere ryght well/the Lorde shall geue it in to the kynges hande. But the kynge sayd vnto him agayne: I charge the that thou saye none other thynge vnto me but ye trueth/in the name of the Lorde. He sayd: I sawe all Israel scatered abroade vpon the mountaynes/as the shepe that haue no shepeherde: And the Lorde sayde. Haue these no lorde? Let euery one turne home agayne in peace. Then sayd the kinge of Israel vnto Josaphat: Tolde not I the that he wolde prophecye me no good/but euell?

D He sayde: Heare now therfore the worde of the Lorde: † I sawe the Lorde syt vpon his seate/and all the hoost of heauen/stadynge by hym at his ryght hande and at his lefte. And the Lorde sayde: Who wyll deceaue Achab to go vp/and fall at Ramoth in Gilead. And one sayde this/another that. Then went there forth a spriete/and stode before the Lorde/and sayde: I wyll deceaue him. The Lorde sayde vnto hym: Wherwith? He sayd vnto hym: I wyl go forth/and be a false spriete in the mouthe of all his prophetes. He sayde: Thou shalte deceaue hym/and shalte be able: go forth and do so. Beholde now/† the Lord hath geuen a false spriete in the mouthe of all these thy prophetes/and the Lord hath spoken euell ouer the. Then stepte forth Sedechias the sonne of Cnaena/and smote Micheas vpon the cheke/and sayde: What? is the spriete of the Lorde departed fro me/to speake with the? Micheas said: Beholde/thou shalt se it in that daye/whan thou shalt go from one chaumber to another to hyde the.

E The kynge of Israel sayde: Take Micheas/and let hym remayne with Amon the ruler of the cytie/and with Joas the kynges sonne/and saye: Thus sayeth the kynge: Put this man in pryson/and fede hym with breade and water of trouble/tyll I come againe in peace. Micheas sayde: If thou commest agayn in peace/then hath not the Lord spoken thorow me. And he sayde: Herke to all ye people.

So the kynge of Israel and Josaphat the kynge of Juda went vp vnto Ramoth in Gilead. And the kynge of Israel sayde vnto Josaphat: Chaunge thy clothes/and come in to the battayl in thyne araye. The kynge of Israel chaunged his clothes also/and wente in to the battayll. But the kynge of Siria commaunded the rulers of his charrettes (of whom there were two and thyrty) and sayde: Ye shall fyghte neyther agaynste small nor great/but onely agaynst the kynge of Israel. And whan the rulers of the charrettes saw Josaphat/they thought it had ben the kynge of Israel/and fell vpon hym with fyghtynge. But Josaphat cryed. So whan the rulers of the charrettes saw that it was not the kinge of Israel/they turned backe from hym.

A certayne man bended his bowe hard/ F and shot the kynge of Israel betwene the mawe and the longes. And he sayde vnto his charretman: † Turne thy hande/and cary me out of the hoost/for I am wounded. And the battayll was sore the same daye. And the kynge stode vpon the charret agaynst the Sirians/and dyed in the euenynge/and the blonde ranne from the wounde in to the mydes of the charrette. And whan the Sunne went doune/there was a proclamacion made in the hoost/and sayde: Euery one get hym in to his cytie/and to his contrie. Thus the kynge dyed/and was brought vnto Samaria: and they buryed hym in Samaria. And whan they wassbed the charret in the pole of Samaria/† the dogges lycked his bloude (but the harlotres wasshed hym) accordynge to the worde of the Lorde which he spake.

What more there is to saye of Achab/and all that he dyd/and of the Yuery house which he buylded/beholde/it is wrytten in the Cronicles of ye kynges of Israel. So Achab slepte with his fathers/and his sonne Ahasia was kynge in his steade.

† And Josaphat ye sonne of Asa was kynge G ouer Juda in the fourth yeare of Achab kinge of Israel: and was fyue and thyrty yeare olde whan he was made kynge/and raygned fyue and twenty yeare at Jerusalem. His mothers name was Asuba the doughter of Silhi/and he walked in al the waye of his father Asa/and departed not therfrom. And he dyd that which was ryghte in the sight of the Lorde/yet put he not awaye the hye places and

and the people offered and brent incence yet vpon the hye places/and he had peace with the kinge of Israel.

What more there is to saye of Josaphat & the mighte that he exercised/and howe he fought/behold/it is wrytten in the Cronicles 3.R. xxv.b of the kinges of Juda. † He put out of the lande also the whoremongers that yet were lefte/which remayned ouer in the tyme of his father Asa/† and at ye time there were no kynges in Edom. And Josaphat had caused to 3.Re.viij.c make shippes vpon the see/which shoulde go to fetche golde in Ophir/but they wente not/ for they were broken at Gezeon Gaber. At Josias. that tyme sayde † Ahasia the sonne of Achab vnto Josaphat: Let my seruauntes passe with thy seruauntes in the shippes. But Josaphat wolde not. And Josaphat slept with his fathers/and was buried with his fathers in the cyte of Dauid. And Joram his sonne was kinge in his steade.

The fyrst Chapter.

A Hasia the sonne of Achab was kynge ouer Israel at Samaria/in the seuenth yeare of Josaphat kynge of Juda/and raygned ouer Israel two yeares/& dyd that which was euel in the syght of the Lorde/and walked in the waie of his father/& of his mother/and in the way of Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat/which made Israel for to synne. And serued Baal/& worshipped him/and displeased the Lorde God of Israel/euen as his father did. The 4.Re. viij.a † Moabites also fel awaye from Israel/what 2.Re. iij.a Achab was dead.

And Ahasia fell thorow the grate in his chaumber at Samaria/and was dead sycke/ and sent messaungers/and saide vnto them: Go youre waye and axe counsayll at Beelzebub the god of Ekron/whether I shall recouer from this syckenesse. But the aungel of the Lord said vnto Eliah the Thesbite: Vp/ B & go mete the messaungers of the king of Samaria/and saye vnto the: Is there no God in Israel/that ye go to axe counsail at the god of Ekron? Therfore thus sayeth the Lord: Thou shalt not come from the bed wheron thou lyest/but shalt dye the death.

And Eliah wente his waye. And whan ye messaungers came to † Ohosias again/he said Ahasia. vnto them: Why come ye againe? They saide vnto him. There came vp a man in our way/ and saide vnto vs: Go again vnto the kynge that hath sent you/and saye vnto him: Thus sayeth the Lord: Is there no God in Israel/ that thou sendest to axe counsaill at Beelzebub the god of Ekron? Therfore shalt thou not come from the bed wheron thou lyest/but shalt dye the death. He saide vnto the: What maner of man was it that mete you/& sayde this vnto you? They saide vnto him: He had a † rough fynne vpon hym/and a letheren Matt. iij.a gyrdel aboute his loynes. He saide: It is Eliah the Thesbite.

† He sent vnto hym a captayne ouer fyfty/with the same fyftye. And whan he came C vnto hym/beholde/he sat aboue vpon the mount. He sayde vnto hym: Thou man of God/ye kyng sayeth: Thou shalt come doune. Eliah aunswered the captayne ouer fyftye/ and sayde vnto him: If I be a man of God/ the fyre fall doune then from heauen/and consume the and thy fyftye. † Then fell there fyre Luc. ix. f from heauen/and consumed hym and his fyftye. And agayne he sent another captayne ouer fyftye vnto hym/with his fyftye/which aunswered/and sayde vnto him: Thou man of God/thus sayeth the kynge: Come doune in all the hayst. Eliah aunswered and sayde: If I be a man of God/the fyre fall doune from heauen/and consume the and thy fyftie. Then fell the fyre of God from heauen/and consumed hym/and his fyftye. Agayn he sent vnto him the thyrde captaine ouer fyftye with his fyftye.

D Now whan he came to hym / he kneled to Eliah/and besought him/and said vnto him: Thou man of God/ let my soule / & the soules of thy seruauntes these fiftye / be somewhat worth in thy sighte. Behold/the fyre fel doune from heauen/ and hath cōsumed the first two captaynes ouer fiftye with their fiftyes: But now let my soule be somwhat worth in thy sight. Then saide the aungel of the Lord vnto Eliah: Go doune with him/ and feare him not. And he gat him vp/and wente doune wt him vnto the kynge.

And he sayde vnto hym: Thus sayeth the Lorde: Because thou hast sente forth messaungers/and caused to axe counsail at Beelzebub the god of Ekrō/as though there were no God in Israel to axe counsail at his word/ therfore shalt thou not come frō the bed whereō thou hast layed the/but shalt dye ỹ death. So he dyed according to ỹ word of ỹ Lord/ which Eliah saide. And Joram (his brother) was kinge in his steade/in the seconde yeare of Joram the sonne of Josaphat kinge of Juda: for he had no sonne.

The. II. Chapter.

A WHan the Lord was minded to take vp Eliah in the tempest/ Eliah and Eliseus went frō Gilgal. And Eliah said to Eliseus: Tary thou here (I pray ỹ) for ỹ Lorde hath sent me vnto Bethel. But Eliseus saide: As truly as ỹ Lorde liueth/and as truly as thy soule lyueth/I wil not forsake the. And whan they came doune vnto Bethel / the prophetes children that were at Bethel/ wente forth to Eliseus/and saide vnto him: Knowest thou not/that the Lord wil take thy lorde awaye from thy heade this daye? He sayde: I know it wel/holde ye youre peace.

And Eliah saide vnto him: Eliseus tarye thou here (I praye the) for ỹ Lord hath sent me vnto Jericho. Neuertheless / he saide: as truly as the Lord liueth/and as truly as thy soule liueth/I wyl not forsake the.

B And whan they came vnto Jericho / the prophetes childrē which were at Jericho/stept forth to Eliseus and sayd vnto him. Knowest thou not that the Lorde will take thy lorde awaye from thy head this daye? He sayde/I know it well/holde ye your peace. And Eliah saide vnto hym: I praye the tarye here/for the Lord hath sent me vnto the Jordane. But he sayde: As truly as the Lorde lyueth/and as truly as thy soule lyueth/I wyl not forsake the. And they wente both together. But fiftye men of the prophetes children went forth/ and stode ouer againste them afarre of: but they both stode vpon Jordane. Then toke Eliah his cloke/and wapped it together / and smote ỹ water/which deuided it selfe on both the sydes/so that they wente drye thorow it. And whan they were come ouer/ Eliah saide vnto Eliseus: Axe what I shal do for the/ afore I be taken awaye from the. Eliseus saide: That thy spirite maye be vpon me to speake twyse as much.

C He said: thou hast desired an hard thing/ neuertheless/if thou shalt se me whan I am taken awaye frō the/ it shalbe so: If no / then shall it not be. And as they were goyinge together/ and talked/ there came a fyrye charret with horses of fyre / & parted thē both asunder. † And so wente Eliah vp to heauen in ỹ storme. Ec. xlviij. But Eliseus sawe it/ & cryed: My father/my father/ ỹ charret man of Israel & his horsmen. And he saw him nomore.

And he toke holde of his clothes / and rente thē in two peces / & toke vp Eliah cloke that was fallen frō him/ & turned backe/ & stode by the shore of Jordan/and toke the same cloke of Eliah which was fallen from him/ & smote it in the water/ & sayde: Where is now ỹ Lord God of Eliah? And he smote it in to the water/and then parted it asunder on both ỹ sydes/and Eliseus went thorowe.

D And whan the prophetes children / which were at Jericho ouer against him/sawe him/ they saide: The spirete of Eliah resteth vpon Eliseus/and so they went forth to mete hym/ and worshypped him to the grounde/ & sayde vnto him: Beholde/there are fyftye valeaunt men amonge thy seruaūtes / let them go and seke thy lorde/peraduenture the spirete of the Lorde hath taken hym/and cast hym vpon some mountayne or in some valleye. But he saide: Sende them not. Neuertheles/they cōstrayned him/til he was ashamed/ and sayde: Let them go. And they sent fyftie men/which sought sought him thre dayes: But they founde him not/ & came again vnto him. And he abode at Jericho/ & said vnto them: Tolde not I you ỹ ye should not go? And the mē of the citie said vnto Eliseus: Beholde/there is good dwelling in this citie/as my lorde seith/but the water is euel/and the lande vnfrutefull.

E He sayde: Bringe me hither a new vessel/ and put salt in it. And they broughte it hym. Then wente he forth vnto the welle of water/ and cast ỹ salt therin/ & sayde: Thus sayeth the the Lord: I haue healed this water: from henceforth shall there no death nor vnfrutefulnesse come of it. So the water was healed vnto this daye/according to the worde of Eliseus which he spake.

And he wente vp towarde Bethell. And as he was goyinge vp by ỹ waye/there came lytle boyes out of the citye/ & mocked him/and saide: Come vp here thou balde heade. Come vp here thou balde head. And he turned him aboute. And whan he sawe them / he cursed them in the name of the Lorde. Then came there two Beerrs out of the wood/and rente two and fourtye of the children. From thence wente he vp vnto mounte Carmel/ & from it turned he backe from Samaria.

The. III. Chapter.

A JOram the sonne of Achab was kynge ouer Israel at Samaria/in the eyghtenth yeare of Josaphat kynge of Juda/ and raygned twelfe yeares / and dyd that which was euel in the syght of the Lorde/but not as his father & mother: for he putte awaye ỹ pillers of Baal/which his father caused to make. Neuertheless/he cleued vnto the synnes of Jeroboā the sonne of Nebat/which made Israel to sinne/ & departed not therefrom.

Mesa the kynge of the Moabites had many shepe/ and payed trybute vnto the kynge of Israel with the woll of an hundreth thousande lambes/and of an hundreth thousande
4. Reg. j. a rammes. † But whan Achab was deade/ the kynge of the Moabites fell awaye from the kynge of Israel. At the same tyme wente kynge Joram from Samaria / and musterd all Israell/and sent vnto Josaphat kynge of Juda/sayinge: The kynge of the Moabites is fallen awaye fro me/ come thou with me to fyghte against the Moabites. He

B sayde: I wyll come vp/ † I am euen as thou/ and my people as thy people / and my horses as thy horses. And sayde moreouer: Which way shal we go vp? He sayde: By the waye in the wylderneesse of Edom. iij. Re. xxij. a

So the kynge of Israel/the kynge of Juda/and the kynge of Edom wente forth. And whan they had gone seuen dayes iourney aboute/ the hoost and the cattell that were amonge them had no water. Then sayde the kynge of Israell: Alas / the Lorde hath called these thre kynges / to delyuer thē into the handes of the Moabites. But Josaphat said: † Is here no prophete of the Lorde/that we iij. R. xxij. a maye axe counsaill at the Lord by him? Thē aunswered one of ỹ kyng of Israels seruauntes / and sayde: Here is Eliseus the sonne of Saphat / which poured water vpon Eliah handes. Josaphat sayde: The worde of the Lorde is with hym. So the kynge of Israel and Josaphat/and the kynge of Edō went doune vnto him.

C But Eliseus sayde vnto the kynge of Israel: What hast thou to do with me? go to the prophetes of thy father / and to thy mothers prophetes. The kynge of Israell sayde vnto hym: No / for the Lorde hath called these thre kynges / to delyuer thē into the handes of the Moabites. Eliseus sayde: As truly as the Lorde Zabaoth lyueth / before whome I stande/if I regarded not Josaphat ỹ kinge of Juda / I wolde not regarde the/ nor sette ought by the. So bringe me now a minstrel. And whā the minstrel played vpō the instrumēt/ ỹ hāde of the Lord came vpō him. And he saide: Thus sayeth ỹ Lord: make pyttes by this broke / for thus saieth ỹ Lord: Ye shal se neyther wynde nor rayne/yet shal the broke be full of water/that ye & your housholdes / & your cattel may drynke. Yee/ and that is but a small thinge in the syght of the Lorde. And D the Moabites shal he delyuer into your handes/so that ye shal smyte all the stronge cities/ and al the chosen cyties/ † and shall fell doune Deu. xxx. all the good trees/and stoppe al the welles of water / and all the good feldes shall ye make waiste with stones.

On the morow/ whan the meato fferynge is offred/ beholde/there came water the waye from Edom / and fylled the lande with water. But whan the Moabites herde / that the kynges came to fight against them / they called all the harnessed men / and their rulers / and stode on the border. And whan they rose early in the morninge / and the Sunne wente vp vpon the water / the Moabites thoughte the water ouer against them to be euen as read as blonde / and they saide: It is blonde / the kynges haue destroyed them selfes with the swearde / and one hath smitten another. Now Moab get the vp to the spoyles. But whan they came to the tentes of Israel / the Israelites gat vp and smote the Moabites / and they fled before them.

And Neuertheless / they came in / and smote Moab / and brake downe the cities / and euery one cast his stone vpō all good feldes / & made them full / and stopped al the welles of water / and felled downe al the good trees / tyll there remayned but the stones of the bryckwal / and they cōpassed them aboute with slynges / and smote them.

But whan the kyng of the Moabites saw þ the battail was to stronge for him / he toke to him seuen hundreth men / which drewe the swearde / to fal vpon the kinge of Edō: neuertheless / they were not able. Then toke he his first sonne / which should haue ben king in his stead / and offred him for a burntoffering vpō the wall. Then came there a great wrath ouer Israel / that they departed from him / & turned againe into their lande.

The. IIII. Chapter.

A And there cryed a woman among the wiues of the prophetes children vnto Eliseus / and sayde: Thy seruaunt my housbande is dead / and thou knowest that thy seruaunt feared the Lorde. Now commeth the man that he was detter vnto / and wyll take awaye both my children to be bonde seruauntes. Eliseus sayde vnto her: What shall I do for the? Tell me / what hast thou in the house? She sayde: Thy handmayden hath nothing in the house but a pitcher with oyle. He sayde: Go thy waye / Borow without of all thy neyghbours empty vessels / and that not a fewe / and go in and shut the dore behynde the with thy sonnes / and poure of it into all the vessels: and whan thou hast fylled them / delyuer them forth.

She wente / and shut the dore vnto her with her sonnes / which brought her the vessels / and so she poured in. And whan the vessels were ful / she sayde vnto her sonne: Bring me yet one vessell. He sayde vnto her: There is not one vessel more here. Thē stode the oyle styl. And she sent / and tolde the man of God. He sayde: Go thy waye / sell the oyle / & paye the creditour: But lyue thou and thy sonnes of the residue.

B And it fortuned at thesame time / that Eliseus wente vnto Sunem / and there was a ryche woman / which helde him to eate with her: and as he passed oft thorow that way / he wēt in vnto her: & did eate with her. And she said to her housbād: Behold / I perceaue that this is an holy mā of God / which goeth euer thorow this way / let vs make him a litel chaūber of bordes / and set a bed / a table / a stoole & a candelstycke therin / that whā he cōmeth vnto vs / he maie resorte thither.

And it fortuned vpon a tyme that he came in / and layed hym downe in the chaumber / & slepte therin. And he sayde vnto Gehasi his childe: Call this woman of Sunem. And whan he had called her / she stode before him. He sayde vnto him: Speake thou vnto her / Beholde / thou hast ministred vnto vs in all these thynges / what shall I do for the? Hast thou any matter to be spoken for vnto the kyng / or for the chiefe captayne of the hoost? She sayde: I dwell amonge my people. He saide: What hast thou then to do? Gehasi sayde: Alas / she hath no sonne / and her housbande is olde. He saide: Call her. And whan he called her / she stode at the dore. And he sayde: † Aboute this tyme / if the frute can lyue / thou shalt enbrace a sonne / She saide: Alas / no my lord / thou man of God / lye not vnto thy handmayden. And the woman cōceaued / and bare a sonne about thesame time / whan the frute coulde liue / accordinge as Eliseus had saide vnto her. Ge. xviij.

C But whan the chylde was growen / it forturned that he went forth to his father vnto þ reapers / and said vnto his father: Oh my heade / my heade. He sayde vnto his seruaūt. Bringe him vnto his mother. And he toke him / and brought him to his mother: and she set him vpon her lappe vntyll the noone day / and

and then he dyed. And she went vp / and layed hym vpō the bed of the man of God / and shut the dore / and wente forth / and called her housbande / and sayd vnto hym: Sende me one of the seruauntes / and an asse / I wyl go quyckly vnto the man of God / and come agayne. He sayde: Why wylt thou go vnto hym? To daye is it neyther new moone / nor Sabbath. She sayde: Well. And she sadled the asse / and sayde to the yonge man / Driue forth / and kepe me not backe with ryding / and do as I byd the.

So she went / and came to the man of God vnto moūt Carmell. Whan the man of God sawe her ouer agaynste hym / he sayde vnto his childe Gehasi: Beholde / the Sunamitisse is there / runne now and mete her / and axe her if it go well with her / and her housbande and her sonne. She sayde: Well. But whan she came to the man of God vpon the mount / she helde hym by his fete. And Gehasi stepte to her to put her away. But ỹ man of God said: Let her alone / for her soule is in heauines / and the Lord hath hid it fro me / and not shewed it me. She sayde: Whan I desyred a sonne of my lorde? Sayde I not that thou shouldest not mocke me.

D He sayde vnto Gehasi: Girde vp thy loynes / and take my staffe in thy handc / & go thy waye. † If any man mete the / salute hym not: & if any man salute the / thanke hym not: and laye thou my staffe vpō the childes face. But the childes mother sayd: As truly as ỹ Lord lyueth / and as truly as thy soule lyueth / I wil not leaue the. Thē gat he vp / & went after her. As for Gehasi / he went before them / and laied the staffe vpon the childes face / but there was neyther voyce nor felynge. And he wēt agayn to mete him / and shewed hym / and sayde: The childe is not rysen vp.

And whan Eliseus came in to the house / beholde / the childe laye dead vpon his bed. And he wente in / & shut the dore on thē both / and made his prayer vnto the Lord / & went vp / and † layed hym selfe vpon the childe / and layed his mouth vpon the childes mouth / & his eyes vpon his eyes / and his handes vpon his handes / & so stretched hym selfe forth vpon hym / so that the childes body was warme. And he rose vp / and went in to the house once hether and thither / and wente vp / and layed hym selfe a long vpon hym. Then nysed the childe seuen tymes / and afterward the childe opened his eyes. And he cryed vpon Gehasi and sayd: Call the Sunamitisse. And whan he had called her / she came in vnto hym. He sayd: Take there thy sonne. Then came she / & fell at his fete / & worshypped vnto the groūde and toke her sonne / and wente forth.

E But whan Eliseus came agayn vnto Gilgal / there was a derth in the lande. And the Prophetes children dwelt before hym / and he sayde vnto his seruaunt: Set on a greate pot / and make pottage for the children of the Prophetes. Then wente there one in to the felde to gather herbes / & found a cucumbers stalke and gathered wild cucumbers therof his cotefull. And whan he came / he chapped it smal for pottage to the potte / for they knewe it not. And they poured it forth for the men to eate / & whan they dyd eate of the pottage / they cryed and said: O thou man of God / death is in the pot: for they might not eate it. Neuertheless / he sayde: Bringe meel hither / and he put it in the pot / and sayde: Poure it out for the people / that they maye eate / And then was not it bitter in the pot.

There came a man from Baal Salisa / and brought the man of God breade of the fyrst frutes / namely twentye barly loaues / and new corne in his garment. But he sayde: Geue it vnto the people / that they maye eate. His minister sayde: † How shal I geue an hundreth men of this? He sayd: Geue it vnto the people / that they maye eate. For thus sayeth the Lord: They shal eate / & there shalbe left ouer. And he set it before thē / so that they dyd eate / and they left ouer / accordynge to the worde of the Lorde. Joh. vj. &

The. V. Chapter.

Naaman the chiefe captayn of the kyng of Siria / was an excellente man in ỹ sight of his lorde / and muche sette by / (for thorow hym the Lord gaue health vnto Siria) and he was a mighte man / but a leper. And there had men of warre fallen out of Siria / & caried away a litle damsel out of the lande of Israel: the same was in seruice with Naamans wyfe / & sayde vnto her mastresse: O that my master were with the prophete of Samaria / he wold heale hym of the leprosye.

Then

Then wente he into his lorde/& tolde him/ & said: Thus and thus hath the damsel of the lande of Israel spoke. The kyng of Siria said: Go thy way then/& I wil wryte a letter vnto the kynge of Israel.

B And he went/and toke with him ten hundreth weyght of syluer/and sixe thousand guldēs/ and ten chaunge of raimēt/and brought the letter vnto the kynge of Israel with these wordes.

Whan this letter cōmeth vnto the/behold/ thou shalt vnderstande that I haue sent my seruaunt Naaman vnto the/that thou mayest heale him of his leprosye.

And whan the kynge of Israel red the letter/he rente his clothes/and saide: am I God then/that I can kyl and quycken againe/that he sendeth vnto me/to heale the mā from his leprosy? Consydre and se/how he seketh an occasyon vnto me.

Whan Eliseus the man of God herde/ that the kynge of Israell had rente his clothes/he sente vnto him/saynge: Why hast thou rente thy clothes? Let him come to me/ that he maye knowe that there is a prophete in Israel.

C So Naaman came with horses and charrettes/and stode stylll at the dore of Eliseus house. Then sent Eliseus a messaunger vnto hym/saynge: Go thy waye/and washe the seuen tymes in Jordane/so shall thy flesh be restored to the again/& be clensed. Thē was Naaman wroth/& went hys waye/& sayde: I thought he should haue come forth vnto me/ and to haue stande here/& to haue called vpon the name of the Lord hys God/and to haue touched the place with his hande/and so too haue put awaye the leprosye. Are not the waters of Amana & Pharphar at Damascō better then all ỹ waters in Israell/that I might washe me therin/and be clensed? And he turned him/and wente his waye in displeasure. Then his seruauntes gat them to hym/and sayde: Father/if the prophet had commaunded the any greate thinge/shouldest thou not haue done it? much more then if he say vnto the: Washe the/and thou shalt be cleane. Then wente he doune/and washed hymselfe in the Jordane seuen tymes (as the man of God sayd) and his flesshe was restored hym agayn/euen as the flesshe of a yonge childe/† & he was clensed. † Luc. iiij.

D And he turned againe to the man of God wt al his armie. And whā he came in/he stode before hym/and sayde: Behold/I knowe that in all landes there is no God/but in Israel. Take now therfore this blessinge I praye the of thy seruaunt. Neuertheless/he sayde: † As truly as the Lord lyueth/before whome I stande/I wyll not take it. And he wolde nedes haue him to take it/but he wolde not: Thē sayde Naaman: Mighte there not a burthen of this earth be geuen vnto thy seruaunt/as muche as two mules may beare? For thy seruaunt wil do nomore sacrifice/and offre burntofferinges vnto other goddes/ but vnto ỹ Lord: That the Lord maye be gracious vnto thy seruaunt/if I worshippe in the house of Rimmon/whā my lord goeth there into the house of Rimmō to worshippe/ and leaneth vpon my hande: He saide vnto him: Go thy waye in peace. † iij. Re. xij. † Dan. vj.

And as he was gone from hym a felde bredth in the lande/Gehasi the seruaunt of Eliseus the mā of God thought: Behold/my lord hath spared Naamā ỹ Sirian/so that he hath not take from him ỹ which he brought: As truly as the Lorde lyueth/I wil runne after him/& take somthinge of him.

So Gehasi folowed Naaman. And whan E Naaman sawe that he ranne after him/he lyght doune from the charrete to mete hym/ and sayde: Are all thinges wel? He said: Yee: But my lorde hath sent me/and caused to say vnto the: Behold/there are now come to me frō mount Ephraim two yonge men of the prophetes children/geue them a talent of syluer/(I praye the) and two chaunge of rayment. Naaman saide: Go to/take two talentes. And he compelled him/and bande two talentes in two bagges/and two chaunges of rayment/and delyuered it vnto two of his seruauntes/whiche bare it before him. And whan he came in the darcke/he toke it from theyr handes/and layed it asyde in the house/ and let the men go.

And whan they were gone theyr waye/he stode before his lorde. And Eliseus sayd vnto hym: Whence commest thou Gehasi? He sayde: Thy seruaunt wente neyther hyther no not thyther. But he saide vnto him: Wente not my herte with the/whan the man turned backe from his charrette to mete the? Now thou hast taken the syluer and the rayment/ olyue trees/vyneyardes/shepe/oxen/seruauntes and maydens. But the leprosy of Naaman shall cleue vnto the/and to thy sede for euer. † Then wēte he forth from him leperous as snowe. Pa. xxxvij

The VI. Chapter.

A THe chyldren of the prophetes saide vnto Eliseus: Beholde/the place where we dwell before the/is to narow for vs/let vs go vnto Jordane/and euery one fetche tymber there/that we may there buyld vs a place to dwell in. He said: Go youre waye. And one saide: Go to then/and come with thy seruauntes. He saide: I wil go with you. And he wente with them. And whan they came to Jordane/they hewed doune tymber. And as one was fellynge doune a tree/the yron fel into the water/and he cryed and saide: Alas my lorde/and it is borowed. But the man of God saide: Where fell it in? And whan he shewed hym the place/he cut doune a sticke/ and thrust it in there. Then swāme the yron. And he sayde: Take it vp. So he put forth his hande/and toke it.

B And the kyng of Siria warred against Israel/and toke counsail at his seruauntes/and said: There and there wil we lye. But ỹ man of God sent to the kynge of Israel/sayinge: Beware that thou go not vnto ỹ place/for the Sirians rest there. So the kinge of Israell sent vnto the place wherof the man of God tolde him/and kepte it/& helde watch there: & did that not once or twise onely.

Then was the kynge of Sirians herte C vered therfore/and called his seruauntes/and sayde vnto them: Wyll ye not tell me/which of our men is fled vnto the kynge of Israell? Then sayde one of his seruauntes: Not so my lorde O kynge/but Eliseus the prophete in Israel telleth the kynge of Israel all that thou speakest in thy chaumber where thou lyest. He sayde: Go youre waye then/and loke where he is/that I maye sende/and cause him to be fetched. And they shewed him and sayde: Beholde/he is at Dothan. Then sent he thyther horses and charrettes/and a great power. And whan they came thyther by night/they compassed the cytie aboute. And the minister of the man of God arose early to get hym vp. And as he wente forth/beholde/ there lay an hooste of men about the citie with horses and charrettes.

Then sayde his chylde vnto hym: Alas D syr/how wyll we now do? He saide: † Feare not/for there are mo of thē that are with vs/ then of those that are with them. And Eliseus prayed/and sayde: Lorde open his eyes/ that he maye se. Then the Lorde opened the chyldes eyes that he sawe/and beholde/the mount was full of fyrie horses and charrettes rounde about Eliseus. And whan they came doune vnto him/Eliseus made his prayer/ and sayde: Lorde smyte this people with blyndnesse. † And he smote them with blyndnesse/accordinge to the worde of Eliseus. † Pa. xxxiij. b. Gen. xix. c

And Eliseus saide vnto them: This is not ỹ waye nor the cytie/folowe me/I wyl bringe you to the man whome ye seke. And he broughte them vnto Samaria.

And whan they came to Samaria. Elise- E us sayd Lorde opē these mens eyes/that they maye se. And the Lorde opened theyr eyes/ that they sawe/and beholde/they were in the myddes of Samaria. And whan the kynge of Israel sawe them/he sayde vnto Eliseus: My father shal I smite them? He said: Thou shalt not smyte them. Loke whome thou takest with thy sweard & bowe/smite those. Set bread and water before them/ỹ they may eate and drinke/and let them departe vnto theyr lorde. Thē was there a great dyner prepared. And whan they had eatē & dronken/he let thē go to departe vnto theyr lord. From that time forth came the men of warre of the Sirians nomore in to the lande of Israel.

After this it fortuned/that Benadad the F kinge of Siria gathered al his hooste/and wēt vp and layed sege vnto Samaria: and there was a greate derth at Samaria. But they layed sege to the cytie so longe/tyll an asses heade was worth foure score syluer pens/and the fourth parte of a Cab of doues donge worth fyue syluer pens. And whan the kyng of Israell wente vnto the wall/a woman cryed vnto him/and saide: Helpe me my lord O kinge. He said: If the Lorde helpe ỹ not/ A Cab is a certayne measure.

wherwith shal I helpe the: with the Barne or with the wynepresse: And the kyng said vnto her: What ayleth the: She sayd: This woman sayd vnto me: Geue vs thy sonne / that we maye eate him / to morow shal we eate my sonne. So we sod my sonne / and haue eaten him / and I saide vnto her on the nexte daye: Geue vs thy sonne / and let vs eate him / but she hath hyd him awaye.

G Whan the kynge herde the womans wordes / he rēte his clothes / whyle he was goying to the wall. Then sawe al ỹ people that he had a sackcloth vnder vpō his body. And he said:

And he sent a man before him / but or euer the messaunger came to him / he said vnto the Elders: Haue ye not sene how this childe of murthur hath sent hyther to take away my heade? Take hede / whan the messaunger cōmeth / that ye shut ỹ dore / and hold him at the dore. Beholde / the noyse of his lordes fete foloweth him. Whyle he was thus talkinge with thē / Beholde / the messaunger came to him / and sayd: Beholde / this euell commeth of the Lorde / and what more shal I loke for of the Lorde?

The. VII. Chapter.

A Eliseus saide: Heare the word of ỹ Lord. Thus sayeth the Lorde: †To morowe aboute this tyme shal a Busshel of fyne meele be solde for one sicle / and two Busshels of Barlye for one sycle / vnder the porte of Samaria.

iiij. R. vij. d. Then a knyght (vpon whose hande the kinge leaned) aunswered the mā of God / and saide: And though the Lorde made wyndowes in heauen / how could such a thynge come to passe? He sayde: Beholde / thou shalte se it wt thine eyes / and shalt not eate therof.

And there were foure leperous men at the dore before the port / and one saide vnto another: Why tarye we here whyle we dye? Though we thought to come into the cytye / yet is there derth in the cytie / and there should we be fayne to dye. And yf we tary here we must dye also. Let vs go now / & flye vnto the hooste of the Sirians. If they let vs lyue / we shal lyue: if they slaye vs / then are we dead. And so they gat them vp early / to come vnto ỹ hooste of the Sirians. And whan they came to the vttermost ende of the tentes / Beholde / there was no body.

† For the Lord had made the Sirians to B heare a noyse of horses / charrettes / and of a myghtye great hooste / so that they said one to another amonge them selfes: Beholde / the kynge of Israel hath hyred the kinges of the Hethithes / and the kinge of the Egipcyans against vs / to come vpon vs. And they gat them vp / and fled early in the twylight / and left theyr houthes / and horses / and asses in the tentes as they stode / & fled euery mā where he myght saue his life.

Now whan the lepers came to the place of the tentes / they went into the tētes / & did eate and drinke / and toke siluer / golde / and raimēt / and wente and hyd it: and came againe / and entred into another tente / and toke therout / & wente and hid it. But one of thē said vnto another: Let vs not do thus / this day is a day of good tidīges. If we kepe this secret / & abide til ỹ lyght morning / our trespasse wil be foūd out. Let vs go now therfore / ỹ we may come and tell it vnto the kynges house.

And whan they came / they cryed at the C porte of the citie / and tolde them / and saide: We came to the tentes of the Sirians / and Behold / there is noman there / neyther yet any mans voyce / But horses & asses bounde / & the houthes as they stande. Then cryed ỹ porters & tolde it within in the kinges house. And ỹ kinge arose in the nyght / and saide vnto his seruauntes: I wil tell you how the Sirians deale with vs: they know that we suffer hunger / & are gone out of the tentes to hide them selfes in ỹ feld / & thinke thus: whan they go out of the citie / we wil take them alyue / and come into the citie. Then aunswered one of his seruauntes / and saide: Let vs take the fyue horses that remaine / which yet are lefte in the citie / (Beholde / these are lefte therin of al the multitude in Israel / which is destroyed) let vs send these and se. Then toke they two charrettes with the horses. And the kinge sent them vnto the tentes of the Sirians / and saide: Go your waye and se.

And whan they wente after them vnto D Iordane / beholde) the waye laye full of garmentes and vessels / which the Sirians had cast cast from them / while they made haist. And whan the messaungers came agayne / & told the kynge / the people wente forth and spoyled the tentes of the Sirians. And a busshel of fyne meel was solde for a sycle / and two busshels of barlye for a sycle also / † accordyng to

But the kynge appoynted the knyght (vpō whose hande he leaned) to be at the gate / and the people trode vpon him / so that he dyed / euen as the man of God sayd / whan the kynge came doune vnto him. And it came to passe euen as the man of God tolde the kynge / whan he sayd: To morowe aboute this tyme shal two busshels of barlye be sold for one sycle / and a busshel of fyne meel for one sycle vnder the gate at Samaria. And the knyght aunswered the man of God / & sayde: Behold / though the Lorde made wyndowes in heauen / how coulde such a thynge come to passe? Neuertheles / he said: Beholde / with thyne eyes shalt thou se it / and shalt not eat therof. And euen so fortuned it vnto him / for the people trode vpō him in the gate / that he dyed.

The. VIII. Chapter.

A Eliseus spake vnto the womā / † whose sonne he had restored vnto lyfe agayne / and

iij. d. sayd: Get the vp / & go with thyne housholde / and be a straunger where thou canst: for the Lorde shall call for a derth / which shall come in to the lande seuen yeare longe. The woman gat her vp / and dyd as the man of God sayd / and wēt with her housholde / & was a straunger in the lande of the Philistines seuen yeare. But whan the seuen yeares were ended / the woman came agayne out of the Philistines lande / and went forth to crye vpon the kynge for her house and lande. The kynge spake vnto Gehasi the seruaunt of the man of God / and sayd: Tell me all the great actes that Eliseus hath done. And whyle he was tellynge the kynge how that he had made one that was dead / to lyue / beholde / the womā / whose sonne he had caused to reuyue / came euen in the meane season / and cryed vnto the kynge for her house / and lande. Thē sayde Gehasi: My lorde O kinge this same is the woman / and this is her sonne / whom Eliseus restored vnto lyfe agayne. And the kynge axed the woman / and she told him. Then the kynge delyuered her a chamberlayne / and sayde: Restore her agayne all that is hers / and al the increace of the lande / sence the tyme that she lefte the lande vntyl now.

† And Eliseus came to Damascon / and B Benadad the kynge af Siria laye sycke. And it was tolde him / and sayde: The man of God is come hyther. Then sayde the kynge vnto Hasael: Take giftes with the / and go mete the man of God / and axe counsayll at the Lorde by hym / and saye: Maye I recouer from this sycknesse? Hasael wente for to mete hym / and toke rewardes with hym / and of al the goodes at Damascon / as much as fourtye Camels myght beare. And whan he came / he stode before him / and sayd: Thy sonne Benadad kinge of Siria hath sent me vnto the sayinge: May I recouer from this sycknesse?

iij. Re. xix. c Eliseus sayd vnto hym: Go thy waye and tell hym: Thou shalt recouer. But the Lorde hath shewed me that he shal dye the death. And the man of God loked earnestly / and made a troublous countenaunce / and wepte. Then sayde Hasael: Wherfore weepeth my lorde? He sayde: I know what euel thou shalt do vnto the children of Israel. Thou shalt burne theyr stronge cyties with fyre / and slaye theyr yonge men with the sweard / and kyll theyr yonge children / and ryppe vp theyr women with childe.

Hasael sayde: How so / is thy seruaunt a C dogge / that he should do such a great thing? Eliseus sayde: †The Lorde hath shewed me / iij. Re. xix. c that thou shalt be kynge of Siria. And he wente his waye from Eliseus / and came to his lorde / which sayde vnto hym: What sayde Eliseus vnto the? He sayd: He tolde me: Thou shalt recouer. But on the nexte daye he toke the bed couerynge / and dypte it in water / & spred it ouer him / and he died / & Hasael was kinge in his steade.

rulers ouer the charrettes/so that the people

The. IX. Chapter.

A iiij.re.iiij.b ELiseus the prophete called one of the pro-
phetes chyldrē/& sayde vnto hym: †Girde

the/and go vnto Ramoth in Gilead: and whan thou cōmest thither/thou shalt se there one Jehu/the sonne of Josaphat the sonne of Nimsi/and go in/and byd hym stande vp a-

the inmost chaumber/and take thou the cruse
of oyle/and poure it vpon his heade/and saye:
Thus sayeth the Lorde: I haue anoynted
the to be kinge ouer Israel: and thou shalt open the dore/and flye/and not tary. And the prophetes yonge man/the chylde wente his waye vnto Ramoth in Gilead. And whan he came in/beholde/the captaynes of the hoost sat there/and he sayde/I haue somwhat to

Then stode he vp and wente in. So he pou- B him: Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Israel:

I haue anoynted ỹ to be kinge ouer the Lorhouse of Baasa the sonne of Ahia/† and the iij.re.xvi dogges shall eate vp Jesabel vpon the felde at Jesrael/and noman shall bury her. And he opened the dore and fled.

And whan Jehu came forth to his lordes C seruauntes/they said vnto him: Are al thinges well? Wherfore came this madde felowe vnto the? He sayde vnto them: Ye knowe the mā well/and what he hath spoken. They sayde:
That is not true/but tel thou vs. He sayde:
Thus and thus hath he spoken vnto me/and sayde: Thus sayeth ỹ Lorde: I haue anoyn-

they haist/and euery one toke his garment/and layed it vnder him/& in maner of a iud- Some ges seate/and blewe the trompet/and sayde: reade: B Jehu is made kinge. So Jehu the sonne of the dyal Josaphat the sonne of Nimsi/made a confe- the sonn deracion against Joram. As for Jorā he laye before Ramoth in Gilead with all Israel/a-with Hasael the kynge of the Sirians.

D And Jehu sayde: If it be youre mynde/
there shall noman escape out of the cytie/to go and tell it at Jesrael. And he rode/and departed vnto Jesrael: for Jorā laye there/and O-hosias the kinge of Juda was come downe to vysite Joram. But the watchman that stode vpon the tower at Jesrael/sawe the company of Jehu commyng/and sayde: I se a company. Thē sayde Jorā: Take a charret/and sende to mete thē/and say: Is it peace? And ỹ charretmā rode to mete thē/and sayd: Thus sayeth
the kinge: Is it peace? Jehu sayde: What hast thou to do with peace? turne the behinde me.
The watchman tolde it/& said: The messaun-ger is come vnto thē/and cōmeth not againe.
Then sent he an other charretman/which whā
he came to them/saide: Thus sayeth the kinge:
Is it peace? Jehu sayde: What hast thou to do with peace? Turne the behinde me.

E And the watchman tolde it/and sayde: He is come to them/and cōmeth not againe/and the goynge is as it were the goynge of Jehu the sonne of Nimsi: for he dryueth on as he were madde. Then saide Joram: Binde the charret fast. And they bounde the charret/and so they wente forth/Joram the kinge of Israel/and Ohosias the kinge of Juda/euery one vpon his charret/to mete Jehu. And they founde him vpon the feld of Naboth the Jes-raelite. And whā Joram sawe Jehu/he said:
Jehu/is it peace? But he said: What peace?
The whordome and witchcrafte of thy mother Jesabel is not yet come to an ende.

Then turned Joram his hande and fled/and saide vnto Ohosias: There is treason O-hosias. But Jehu toke his bowe/& shot Jo-ram betwene the armes/that the arowe wēte thorow his herte/and he fel downe in his charret. And Jehu sayde vnto Bidekar the knyght. Take and cast hym in the pece of lande of Naboth the Jesraelite: for I remembre sence thou rodest with me in a charret after Achab his father/that the Lorde wolde laye this heauy burthen vpon him. I holde/(sayd F the Lord) I will recompence the the bloude of Naboth & of his children/euen in this pece of lande. Take hym nowe/and caste hym in to of the Lorde.

† Whan Ohosias the kynge of Juda sawe ij.Pa.xxij.e
this/he fled by the way vnto the gardē house.
But Jehu folowed after hym/and commaūded to smyte hym also vpon hys charret in the goynge vp towarde Gur/whiche lyeth by Jeblaam: and he fled vnto Megiddo/& dyed there. And his seruauntes caused hym to be caried to Jerusalē/and there they buried him in his owne graue with his fathers/in ỹ cytie of Dauid. Ohosias raigned ouer Juda in the eleuenth yeare of Joram the sonne of Achab.
And whan Jehu came to Jesraell/and Jesabel herd therof/she coloured her face/and decked her head/and loked out at the wyndowe.
And whan Jehu came vnder the gate/she sayde: † Prospered Symri well that slewe his iij.re.xvj.b
lorde.

And he lyfte vp his face to the wyndowe/ G
and sayd: Who is with me? Then turned thē two or three chamberlaines vnto him. He sayd:
Caste her doune headlinges: And they cast her doune headlinges/so that the wall & the horses were sprenkled with her bloude/and she was troden vnder fete. And whan he came in/and had eaten & dronken/he said: Loke vppon yonder cursed womā/and bury her/† for iij.re.xvj.c
she is a kinges doughter. Neuertheless/whā they wēte in to bury her/they founde nothing of her/but the skul/and the fete/and the pal-mes of her handes. And they came again and brought him worde. He saide: This is euen it that the Lorde spake by his seruaunt Eliah
the Thesbite/and saide: † In the felde of Jes- iij.re.xxj.b rael shall the dogges eate Jesabels flesshe. So the dead carcase of Jesabel became euen as donge in the felde of Jesrael/so that a man coulde not saye: This is Jesabel.

The. X. Chapter.

A Chab † had thre score and ten sonnes at A Samaria. And Jehu wrote a letter/and Jud.viij.b sent it to Samaria/vnto the rulers of the cytie
of Jesrael/euen vnto the Elders/& to Achabs

lordes sonnes/charrettes/horses/stroge cytes/and ordinaūce/loke which is the best & moost
ryghteous amōge your lordes sonnes/set him

Neuertheleſſe/ they were ſore afrayed / and ſayde: Beholde/ two kynges were not able to ſtande before hym/how wyll we then endure?
And they that were ouer the houſe and ouer
the cytie/ and the Elders and tutors ſent vnto Jehu/ſaying: We are thy ſeruauntes/we wyll do al that thou ſayeſt vnto vs: We wyll make no man kynge / do thou what pleaſeth the.
Then wrote he the ſeconde letter vnto them with theſe wordes: If ye be myne/and herken vnto my voyce/ then take the heades of the me your lordes ſonnes / and bringe my them to morow by this tyme vnto Jeſrael.

B The kynges ſonnes were thre ſcore men &
ten/& the chiefe men of the cytie brought them
vp. Now whan this letter came/ they toke the kynges ſonnes/and ſlewe them euen thre ſcore men and ten / & layed theyr heades in baſkettes/and ſent them to hym vnto Jeſrael. And whan the meſſaunger came / and tolde hym/and ſayd: They haue brought the heades of the kynges chyldren/he ſayd: Laye them vpon
two heapes at ỹ dore of ỹ porte tyll to morow.

And on the morow whan he went forth/
he ſtode/and ſayde vnto all the people: Are ye ryghteous? Behold/I haue made an appoyntement againſt my lorde/and ſlayne him/who hath ſlayne all theſe then? Underſtãde ye now therfore/ that there is not fallen vpõ the earth
one worde of the Lorde / which he ſpake agaynſt the houſe of Achab: and the Lorde iij Re.xxj.c hath done / euen † as he ſayd by his ſeruaunt

houſe of Achab at Jeſrael / al his great men/his kynſfolkes / and his prieſtes/tyl there was not one lefte ouer / and he gat him vp / wente
his waye/and came to Samaria.

C By ỹ waye there was a ſhepeherdes houſe/
where Jehu founde the brethren of Ohoſias kynge of Juda / and ſayde: Whence are ye?
They ſayde: We are Ohoſias brethren/and are goynge doune to ſalute the kynges chyldren/and the quenes chyldren. He ſaide: Take them alyue. And they toke them alyue / and ſlewe them by the welles ſyde at the ſhepeherdes houſe/euen two and fourtye men / and let not one of them remayne.

And whan he went from thence/he founde
Jer.xxxv.a Jonadab the ſonne of † Rechab/ which mete him / and ſaluted him. And he ſayde vnto hym: Is thyne hert ryght / as myne hert is with thyne hert? Jonadab ſaide: Yee. If it be ſo (ſaide he) then geue me thy hande. And he gaue hym his hande. And ſo he cauſed him to ſyt beſyde him in the charret/and ſaide: Come with me/ and ſe my zele for the Lorde. And they caryed him with him vpon his charret.
And whan he came to Samaria/ he ſmote all that remayned of Achab at Samaria / tyl he had deſtroyed him / according to the word of the Lorde/ † which he ſpake vnto Eliah. iiij.Re.xxj

And Jehu gathered all the people together/ D and ſaide vnto thẽ: † Achab dyd Baal but lytle iij.re.xvj do vnto Baal. Whoſoeuer is miſſed/ſhal not deſtroye al the mynyſtrrs of Baal. And Jehu ſayde: Sanctifie the feaſt vnto Baal/ and proclayme it. And Jehu ſent in to all Jſrael / and cauſed al Baals mynyſters to come / ſo ỹ there was no mã left behynd/which came not. And they came in to Baals houſe: ſo that the houſe

of Baal was full from one corner to another.

Then ſaide he vnto him that had the rule of ỹ veſturye. Bringe forth rayment for al Baals miniſters. And he brought forth the rayment.
And Jehu went in to Baals houſe with Jonadab the ſonne of Rechab/& ſaide vnto Baals miniſters: Search / & ſe that there be not here among you any miniſters of the Lorde/ but onely Baals miniſters.

And whan they came in to offre ſacrifices E
and burntofferynges / Jehu appoynted him foure ſcore men without/ and ſaide: If any of theſe mẽ eſcape/whome I delyuer vnder your handes / thẽ ſhall the ſame mans ſoule be for

of the burntofferynge. Jehu ſayd vnto ỹ foote with the edge of the ſwearde. And the footemen and knyghtes threwe them awaye / and wente vnto the cytie of Baals houſe / and brought forth the pyller in the houſe of Baal/

and brent it / and brake doune Baals pyller
with the houſe of Baal/& made a preuy houſe therof vnto this daye. Thus Jehu deſtroyed Baal

Baal out of Jſrael. But Jehu lefte not of frõ
the ſynnes of Jeroboam the ſonne of Nabath (which cauſed Jſrael to ſinne) namely / from the golden calfes at Bethel and at Dan. And the Lorde ſayde vnto Jehu: Becauſe thou

in my ſyght / & haſt done vnto Achabs houſe

fourth generacion.

F Neuertheleſſe / Jehu was not diligent to walke in the lawe of the Lorde God of Jſrael with all his herte: for he left not of from the ſynnes of Jeroboam/ which made Jſrael to ſynne. At the ſame tyme beganne te Lord in all the borders of Jſrael frõ Jordane Eaſtwarde / and all the lande Gilead of the Gaddites/Rubenites/ and Manaſſites / from Aroer that lyeth on the ryuer by Arnõ/ and Gilead/ and Baſan.

What more there is to ſaye of Jehu/and all that he dyd / and all his power / beholde/it is wrytten in the Cronicles of the kynges of Jſrael. And Jehu fell on ſlepe with his fathers/and they buryed him in Samaria. And Joahas his ſonne was kynge in his ſteade. The tyme that Jehu raygned ouer Jſrael/xx eyght

And Mathan the prieste of Baal slewe they before the aultare: And the priest appoynted the officers in the house of the Lorde / and toke the rulers ouer hundreds / and the captaynes / and the foote men / and all the people of the lande / & broughte the kynge doune from the house of the Lorde / and came the waye from the porte of foote mē vnto the kynges house / and he sat vpon the kynges seate. The. XIII. Chapter.

A IN the thre and twentyeth yeare of Joas the sōne of Ohosias kynge of Juda / was Joahas the sonne of Jehu kynge ouer Israel at Samaria / seuentene yeare: and dyd that which was euell in the sight of the Lorde / and walked after the synnes of Jeroboam the sōne of Nebat / (which caused Israel to synne) and left not of from them. And the wrath of the Lorde waxed whote vpon Israel / and he delyuered them ouer vnder the hande of Hasael kynge of Syria / and vnder the hande of Benadad the sonne of Hasael / as longe as they lyued.

And Joahas besoughte the face of the Lorde. And the Lorde herde hym / for he consydered the mysery of Israel / how ỹ kyng of Siria oppressed them. And the Lord gaue Israel a saueour / whiche broughte them out of the power of the Sirians / so that the chyldren of Israel dwelt in theyr tentes / lyke as afore tyme.

B Yet left they not of from the synnes of the house of Jeroboam / which caused Israel to synne / but walked in them. The groue at Samaria stode styll also. For of the people of Joahas there were no mo left but fyftye horsmen / ten charrettes / and ten thousande fotemen: Re. viij. † For the kynge of Siria had destroyed them / and made them as the dust in the barne.

What more there is to saye of Joahas / and all that he dyd / and his power / behold / it is wrytten in the Cronicles of the kynges of Israel. And Joahas fell on slepe with his fathers / and was buryed in Samaria / and Joas his sonne was kynge in his steade.

C In the seuen and thrytyeth yeare of Joas kynge of Juda / was Joas the sonne of Joahas / kynge ouer Israel at Samaria sixtene yeare. And he dyd that whiche was euel in the syghte of the Lorde / and departed not from all the synnes of Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat / whiche made Israel for to synne / but walked in them. What more there is to saye of Joas / and what he dyd / and his power / how he fought with Amasias kinge of Juda / beholde it is wrytten in the Cronicles of the kinges of Israel. And Joas fel on slepe with his fathers / and Jeroboā sat vpon his seate. And Joas was buryed at Samaria with the kynges of Israel.

As for Eliseus / he fel in to a syckenesse whereof he dyed. And Joas ỹ king of Israel came doune vnto him / and wepte for him / and said: † My father / my father / the charret mā of Is- iiij. Reg. ij. c rael / and his horsmen. Eliseus sayd vnto him: Take the bowe and ỹ arowes. And whan he had taken ỹ bowe and the arowes / he said vnto the kinge of Israel: Bende the bowe with thine hande. And he bent it with his hande. D And Eliseus layed his hande vpō the kinges hande / and said: Open the wyndowe towarde the East. And he opened it. And Eliseus said: Shute. And he shot. He sayde: One arowe of ỹ saluacion of the Lorde / one arowe of saluacion against the Sirians: & thou shalt smyte the Sirians at Aphek / tyll they be brought to nought.

And he saide: Take ỹ arowes. And whan he had taken thē / he said vnto the kinge of Israel: Smyte the earth. And he smote thre tymes & stode styll. Then was ỹ man of God wroth at him / & sayde: If thou haddest smitten fyue or sixe tymes / thou shouldest haue smyttē the Sirians / tyl thou haddest brought thē vtterly to naught. But now shalt thou smite them thre tymes.

Whā Eliseus was dead & buryed / the men E of warre of the Moabites fel in to the lande ỹ same yeare. And it fortuned that they buryed a certayne man. But whā they sawe the men of warre / they cast the mā in to Eliseus graue. † And whā he was therin / & touched Eliseus Ecci. xxviij bones / he reuyued / and stode vpon his fete. c

So Hasael the kinge of Siria opressed Israel / as lōge as Joahas lyued. But the Lord was gracious vnto them / and had mercy vpon them / and turned hym to them for his cōuenauntes sake with Abraham / Isaac / and Jacob / and wolde not destroye them / † neyther dyd he cast them out from his presence iiij. re. xiij. c vnto this houre.

And Hasael the kyng of Siria dyed / and Benadad his sonne was kynge in his steade. But Joas turned backe / and toke out of the 11 The kynge of Aſſiria commaunded and ſayde: Bringe hether one of the prieſtes that were caryed awaye from thence/ and let him go thyther and dwell there / and teach them the ordynaunce of the God of the lande. Thẽ came one of the prieſtes / which were caryed awaye from Samaria / and dwelte at Bethel/ and taught them how they ſhould feare the Lorde. But euery people made them goddes/and put them in the houſes vpon the hye places / which the Samaritanes had made/euery people in their cities wherin they dwelt. They of Babylon made Sochoth Benoth. They of Chut made Nergel. They of Hemath made Aſima. They of Aua made Nibehas and Tharthak. They of Sepharuaim burnt their ſonnes vnto Adramelech and Anamelech the goddes of them of Sepharuaim.

12 And whyle they feared the Lord/ they made prieſtes in the hye places of the loweſt amonge them/and put them in the houſes of the hye places: Thus they feared ỹ Lord / & ſerued the goddes alſo/ accordinge to the coſtume of euery nacĩõ/from whence they were brought. And vnto this daye do they after the olde faſhion/ſo that they neyther feare the Lorde / nor yet kepe their owne ordinaunces and lawes/after the law and commaundement that the Lorde commaunded ỹ children of Jacob/† vnto whome he gaue ỹ name Ge. xxxij of Iſrael/and made a couenaunt with thẽ/ and commaunded thẽ/and ſaid: † Feare none Jud. vj.
other goddes/& worſhippe them not / & ſerue Jere. xxv.
them not / and offer not vnto them: But the Lorde which brought you out of the lande of Egypte / with great power and outſtretched arme/Hym feare/him worſhippe/ & vnto him do ſacrifice: and the ſtatutes/ordinaũces / lawe and commaundement / which he hath cauſed to be wrytten vnto you/ thoſe ſe that ye kepe/that ye alwaye do therafter / and feare none other goddes. And forget not the couenaunt which he hath made with you/ leſt/ye feare other goddes. But feare ỹ Lord your God / he ſhal deliuer you from all your enemyes. Neuertheleſſe/they wolde not herken/But did after their olde coſtume.

13 Thus theſe Heythen feared the Lorde/ and ſerued their Idols alſo/and ſo did their chyldren and chylders chyldren lykewyſe.

Euen

Euen as their fathers haue done before thẽ/ ſo do they vnto this daye.

The. XVIII. Chapter.

A 1 IN the thyrde yeare of † Oſeas the ſonne xvij.a of Ela kynge of Iſrael/raygned Ezechias the ſonne of Achas kynge of Juda. And he was fyue and twenty yeare olde whan he was made kynge/& raigned nyne and twentye yeare at Jeruſalem. His mothers name was Abi ỹ doughter of Zachary. And he did that which was right in the ſyght of ỹ Lord accordinge vnto al as did Dauid his father.
xvij.a † He put awaye the hye places/& brake doun
R xviij.a the pyllers/and roted out the groues/& brake xxij.a the braſen ſerpent/* which Moſes had made. For vnto that tyme had the children of Iſrael burnt incence vnto it. And it was called Nehuſthan. He put his truſt in the Lord God of Iſrael/ſo that after him there was not his lyke amonge all the kynges of Juda / neyther had ben before him. He cleued vnto the Lorde/departed not backe from him / and kepte his cõmaundementes/which the Lord had cõmaunded Moſes. And the Lorde was with him. And whether ſoeuer he went forth/B he behaued himſelfe wiſely. He reſyſted the kynge of Aſſyria/and was not ſubdued vnto xviij.c hym. † He ſmote ỹ Philiſtines alſo vnto Gaſa/and their borders from the caſtels vnto the ſtronge cytes.

R xviij.a † In the fourth yeare of Ezechias kinge of Juda (that was the ſeuenth yeare of Oſeas ỹ ſonne of Ela kynge of Iſrael) came Salmanaſar the kinge of Aſſyria vp againſt Samaria/and layed ſege vnto it/and wanne it after
C thre yeares in the ſixte yeare of Ezechias/that is in the nyenth yeare of Oſeas kinge of Iſrael/then was Samaria wonne/ and ỹ kinge of Aſſyria caryed Iſrael awaye vnto Aſſyria/ and ſent them at Halah and Habor by ỹ water Goſan/and in the cities of the Medes.
And all / becauſe they herkened not vnto the voyce of the Lord their God/and had trãſgreſſed his couenaunt. And as for al ỹ Moſes the ſeruaunt of the Lorde had cõmaunded thẽ/they had neyther herkened vnto any of thoſe/nor done them.

C † In the fourteth yeare of kynge Ezechias/xxxij.a dyd Sennacherib the kynge of Aſſyria come xlviij.c vp againſt all the ſtronge cities of Juda/and xxxvj.a conquered them. Then ſente Ezechias the kynge of Juda to the kynge of Aſſyria vnto Lachis/ſayinge: I haue offended/turne backe fro me: loke what thou layeſt vnto me/I wyll beare it. Then the kynge of Aſſyria layed vnto Ezechias the kynge of Juda/thre hundreth talentes of ſyluer/and thyrtye talẽtes of golde.
iiij.Re. xij.d † So Ezechias gaue all the ſyluer that was founde in the houſe of the Lord/ and in the treaſures of the kynges houſe. At ỹ ſame time iij.Re. viij. brake Ezechias the kynge of Juda † the dores of the temple of the Lord/and the plates of golde/which he hymſelfe had cauſed to laye ouer them/ and gaue them vnto the kynge of Aſſyria.

D † And the kynge of Aſſyria ſent Thartan/
ij.P. xxxij.a and the chiefe chaumberlain/& the chiefe Butler frõ Lachis to kinge Ezechias with a great power vnto Jeruſalem. And they wente vp: and whan they came there/they ſtode ſtyll at the conduyte by the ouerpole/ which lyeth in the waye vpon the fullers lande / and called vnto the kynge. Then came there forth vnto them Eliachim the ſonne of Helchias the ſteward/and Sobna ỹ ſcribe/& Joah the ſonne of Aſſaph the ſecretarie.

E And the chiefe Butler ſaid vnto them: Tell kynge Ezechias: Thus ſayeth the great kyng/ euen the kynge of Aſſyria: What preſumptyõ is this that thou truſteſt vnto? Thynkeſt thou/that thou haſte yet counſail and power to fyght: Whervnto truſteſt thou then / that thou art fallen of fro me? Beholde / putteſt thou thy truſt in this † broken ſtaffe of rede/in Eſa. xxxvj.& Eze. xxix.a Egypte: which who ſo leaneth vpon/it ſhall go into his hande/and pearce it thorow. Euẽ ſo is Pharao the kynge of Egypte vnto al thẽ that put their truſt in him. But yf ye wolde ſaide vnto me: We put our truſt in the Lord our God. Is not that he/ whoſe hye places & aultares Ezechias hath takẽ doune / & ſayde vnto Juda and Jeruſalem: Before this aultare which is at Jeruſalem/ſhal ye worſhippe?

F Make a multitude therfore vnto my lorde the kynge of Aſſyria/and I wyl geue the two thouſande horſes/let ſe/if thou be able to man them: how wylt thou then endure before the ſmalleſt prince of my lordes ſubiectes? And truſteſt thou vnto Egypt/because of the charettes and horſemen? But thynkeſt thou that

I came

I came vp hyther without the Lorde to destroy these cyties? The Lorde hath commaunded me: Go vp into that lande and de-stroye it.

E Then saide Eliachim the sonne of Helchia/
and Sobna/and Joah vnto the chiefe Butler: Speake to thy seruauntes in the Syrians language/for we vnderstande it/ and speake not vnto vs in the Jewes speche before the eares of the people that are vpon the wall.
Neuerthelesse/the chiefe Butler sayd vnto the:
Hath my lorde then sent me vnto thy lorde/or to the/to speake these wordes? Yee/euen vnto the men/which syt vpon the wall that they may eate their owne donge/and drynke their owne stale with you. So the chiefe Butler stode and cried with loude voyce in the Je-wes laguage/and said: Heare the word of the great kynge/the kinge of Assyria: Thus saieth the kyng: Let not Ezechias deceaue you/ for he is not able to deliuer you fro my hande/and let not Ezechias make you to trust in the Lorde/sayinge: The Lorde shal delyuer vs/ and this cytye shal not be geuen in to the handes of the kynge of Assyria. Folowe not ye Ezechias/ for thus sayeth the kynge of Assyria.

F So me this blessynge/and come forth vnte me/so shall euery man eate of his vyne/and of his fygge tree/and drinke of his welle/ tyll
I come my selfe and fetch you into a lande/which is lyke your owne lande/ wherin is corne/wyne/breade/ vyneyardes/ oyle trees/
oyle/and hony/so shal ye lyue/ and not dye.
Folowe not ye Ezechias/ for he deceaueth you whan he sayeth: The Lorde shall delyuer vs.
Esa.x.b † Haue the goddes of the Heythen deliuered euery one his lande from the hande of the kynge of Assyria? Where are the goddes of Hemath and Arphad? Where are the god-des of Sepharuaim Hena and Iua? Haue they deliuered Samaria from my hande?
Where is there one god among the goddes
of al landes/ which hath delyuered his lande
fro my hande: that the Lorde shoulde deliuer
Jerusalem fro my hande.

As for the people they held their peace/&
gaue hym no aunswere: for the kynge had cō-maunded and sayd: Aunswere him nothing.
Then came Eliachim the sonne of Helchia the stewarde/and Sobna the scribe/and Joah
the sonne of Assaph the secretary vnto Ezechias with rente clothes/and tolde hym the wordes of the Butler.

The. XIX. Chapter.

WHan Ezechias the kynge herde this/he A rente his clothes/& put on a sackcloth/& Es.xxx wente into the house of the Lorde/and sent Eliachim the steward. And Sobna the scribe with the eldest priestes/clothed in sackcloth/vnto the prophete Esay the sonne of Amos/and they sayde vnto hym: Thus sayeth Ezechias: This is a dayc of trouble/and of defyaunce and blasphemy. The children are come to the byrth/and there is no strength to be delyuered of them. If haply the Lorde thy God wyll heare the wordes of the chiefe Butler/whome his lorde the kynge of Assyria hath sent/to blaspheme the lyuynge God/and to defye hym with suche wordes as the Lorde thy God hath herde/therfore lyfte thou vp thy prayer for the remnaunt/ which are yet left behinde.

And whan kynge Ezechias seruauntes came to Esay/Esay said vnto them: Speake
thus vnto your lord: Thus sayeth the Lord:
Feare not thou the wordes that thou haste B
herde/ wherwith the kynge of Assirias seruauntes haue blaspheined me. Behold/I wil put him in another mynde/so that he shall heare tidinges/and go againe into his owne countrie/† and in his owne lande wil I cause Es.xxx
him to fal thorow the sweard. ij.pa.xx

And whan ỳ chiefe Butler came againe/ he founde the kynge of Assiria fyghting against Lybna: for he had herde that he was departed from Lachis. And he herde of Tharacha the kinge of the Morians: Behold/ he is gone forth to fyght with the. Thē turned he backe/and sent messaungers to Ezechias/ and caused to saie vnto him: Saie thus vnto Ezechi-as the kynge of Juda: Let not thy God de-ceaue the/on whome thou trustest and sayest:
Jerusalem shal not be geuen into the hande of the kynge of Assyria. Beholde/ thou hast herde what the kynges of Assyria haue done vnto al landes/& how they damned them/& shalt thou be deliuered? Haue the goddes of the Heythen delyuered them/ whom my fathers destroyed/ as Gosan/Haran/Reseph/
and

and the children of Eden/which were at Tha lassar? Where is the kynge of Hemath/ the kynge of Arphad/and the kinge of the cyte Sepharuaim/Hena/and Iua?

C And whan Ezechias had receaued the letters of the messaungers/and had red thē/he wente vp to the house of the Lord/ and layed them abroade before the Lorde/ and made his prayer before the Lord/ and sayd:
O Lorde God of Israel/ thou that syttest vpon the Cherubyns/thou onely arte God amonge all the kyngdomes of the earth/ thou hast made heauen and earth. Enclyne thyne eare O Lorde/ and heare: open thine eyes/and beholde/ and heare the wordes of Sennacherib/ whiche hath sent hyther to blasphame the lyuinge God. It is true (O Lord) that the kynges of Assyria haue destroyed the Heithen and their lande with the sweard/and haue cast their goddes in the fyre: for they were not goddes/but the worke of mens han des/woode and stone/therfore haue they destroyed thē. But now O Lorde helpe thou vs out of his hande/ that all the kyngdomes
vpon earth maye knowe that thou Lord art
God alone.

D Then sent Esay the sonne of Amos vnto
Ezechias/sayinge: Thus sayeth the Lorde
God of Israell: Where as thou haste made thy prayer vnto me/concerninge Sennacherib the kynge of Assyria/I haue herd it. This is it that the Lord hath spoken against him.
He hath despysed the/and mocked the O vir-gyn thou doughter Sion: he hath shaken his ij.b heade at the O doughter Jerusalē. † Whome xxxvij hast thou despised and blasphemed? Ouer
.pa.a whome hast thou lyft vp thy voyce? Euen against the holy one in Israel hast thou lyfte vp thine eyes: thou haste blasphemed ỳ Lorde by thy messaungers and sayde: Thorowe
the multitude of my charrettes haue I gone vp to the toppes of the mountaynes/vpon
the sydes of Lybanus. I haue hewen doune his hye Ceders/ and his chosen Pynetrees/and am come to the vttermost habitacion of the woode of Carmel that belongeth vnto it.
I haue digged and dronke vp the straunge waters/ and with the soles of my fete haue I dryed vp the see.

E But haste thou not herde how that I
haue done this longe ago/ and haue prepared it frō the beginninge? Now haue I caused it for to come/ that contencyous stronge cyties myghte fall into a wayste heape of stones/and they that dwell therin/ shalbe faynt and fearefull/ and ashamed/† and shalbe as Ps.xxxvij.a the grasse vpon the felde/ and as the grene herbe/and haye vpon the housetoppes/ that wythereth afore it be growen vp. I knowe thy habitacion/thy out and ingoyinge/ and that thou rageste against me. For so muche thē as thou rageste against me/and seyng thy presumption is come vp to myne eares/ therfore wil I put a ringe in thy nose/and a bridle bit in thy lyppes/and wil bringe the again/ euen
the same waye thou camest.

And let this be a token vnto the O Eze- F
chias. In this yeare eate that which is fallen.
In the seconde yeare suche as groweth of it selfe: In the thyrde yeare sowe & reape/ and plante vyneyardes/and eate the frute thereof.
And the doughter Juda which is escaped and remaineth/ shall from hēceforth take rote beneth/and beare frute aboue. For the remnaunt shal go forth from Jerusalem/& they that are escaped/shal go out from mount Sion. The gelousy of the Lord Zabaoth shall bringe this to passe.

Therfore thus sayeth the Lord/concer-ninge the kynge of the Assyrians: He shal not come into this cytye/and shal shoute no arow therin/neyther shal there come any shylde before it/neyther shall he dygge any banke a-boute it/But shal go agayne the waye that he came/and shal not come into this cytie/saieth
the Lord: and I wyl defende this cytie/ to helpe it for myne owne sake/ and for my ser-uaunt Dauids sake.

And in the same night went the aungel of G
the Lord/and smote in ỳ hoost of the Assirians/and hūdreth and fiue & foure score thousand men. And whan they gat them vp in ỳ morning/behold/al laye full of dead coarses.
† So Sennacherib ỳ king of Assiria brake vp/ Tob.j.b and departed/& returned/and abode at Niniue. And as he worshipped in ỳ house of Nes-rach his god/ his owne sonnes Adramalech and Sarazer smote him with the sweard/ & fled into the land of Ararat. And Asarhadon his sonne was kynge in his steade.

The

The. XX. Chapter.

IN that tyme was Ezechias dead sycke. And the prophet Esai ỹ sonne of Amos ij.p.xxxvij.c came to him/and said vnto him: Thus sayeth Es.xxxviij.a the Lord: Set thyne house in ordre/for thou shalt dye and not lyue. And he turned his face to the wall/and prayed vnto the Lord/ and sayde: Remembre (O Lorde) that I haue walked faythfully before the/and with a perfecte herte/and haue done that which is good in thy syght. And Ezechias wepte sore. But whan Esay was not gone out of halfe the cytie/the worde of the Lord came to him and saide: Turne backe/and tell Ezechias the prince of my people: Thus sayeth the Lorde God of thy father Dauid: I haue herde thy prayer/& considered thy teares. Beholde/I will heale the. On the thyrde daie shalt thou go vp into the house of the Lord/and fyftene yeares wyll I adde vnto thy lyfe/and wil delyuer the and this cytie from the kinge of Assyria/and this citie will I defende for myne owne sake/and for my seruaunt Dauids sake. And Esay saide/Bringe hether a quantite of fygges. And whan they brought them/they layed them vpon the sore/and it was healed.

B †Ezechias saide vnto Esay: Which is the Es.xxxviij.b token/that the Lord wil heale me/and that I shal go vp into the house of the Lorde on the thyrde daie? Esay said: This token shalte thou haue of the Lord/that the Lord shal do according as he hath saide: Shal the shadow go ten degrees forward/or shal it turne ten degrees backwarde? Ezechias said: It is an easy thinge for the shadowe to go ten degrees downewarde/that is not my mynde: But that it go ten degrees backwarde. Then Ec.xlviij.c cryed the prophete Esay vnto the Lorde/& the shadowe wēt backe ten degrees in Achas dyal/which he was descended afore.

†At thesame time Merodach Baladā the Es.xxxix.a sonne of Baladan kynge of Babylon/sent letters and presentes vnto Ezechias/for he had herde that Ezechias had ben sycke. And Ezechias reioyced with them/and shewed them al the house of routes/the syluer/gold/spyces/ and the best oyle/and the house of ordinaūce/ and all that was founde in his treasures. There was nothinge in his house and in all his dominion/but Ezechias shewed it them.

Then came Esay the prophet vnto kynge C Ezechias/& saide vnto him: What haue these men saide? and whence came they vnto the? Ezechias said: They came to me out of a farre contrie/euen from Babylon. He saide: What haue they sene in thy house? Ezechias sayde: They haue sene al that is in my house/& there is nothinge in my treasures/but I haue shewed it them. Then saide Esai vnto Ezechias: Heare the worde of the Lorde: † Beholde/ iiij.r.xx the time commeth/that it shalbe caryed away and xx vnto Babilon/and whatsoeuer thy fathers Jere.x haue layed vp vnto this daie: and there shall nothinge be left/sayeth the Lord. †Yee/and Dan. the children which come of the/whome thou shalt beget/shalbe taken away/to be chamberlaines in the kynge of Babilons palaice. Ezechias saide vnto Esay: It is good that ỹ Lorde hath spoken. And he saide moreouer: Let there be peace yet/and faythfulnesse in my tyme.

What more there is to saye of Ezechias/& all his power/and what he dyd/and of the poole and water conduite/wherby he cōueied water into the cytie/beholde/it is written in the Cronicles of the kynges of Juda. † And ij.pa.x Ezechias fell on slepe with his fathers/and Manasses his sonne was king in his steade.

The. XXI. Chapter.

MAnasses † was twelfe yeare olde whan A he was made kinge/and raygned fyue ij.pa.x and fyfty yeare at Jerusalem. His mothers name was Hephziba. And he did that which was euel in the sygh of the Lord/euen after the abhominacions of ỹ Heithen/whome the Lord expelled before the children of Israel. And waxed frowarde/and buylded vp the hye places/† which his father Ezechias had iiij.r.x destroyed/and set vp Baals aultares/& made groues (as Achab the kynge of Israel dyd) and worshipped all the hoost of heauen/and serued them. And buylded † aultares in the iiij.R. Lordes house/wherof the Lord saide: I wyll set my name at Jerusalem. And in both the courtes of the house of the Lord buylded he aultares vnto all the hoost of heauen. And † caused his sonne to go thorow the fyre/and Leui. regarded Dedes cryinge/and tokens/and De. maynteyned soythsayers/and expounders of iiij.R. tokens/& so much dyd he of this/which was euel euel in the sygt of the Lorde that he prouoked hym vnto wrath.

B A groue Idol also which he had made/set he in the house/wherof the Lorde said vnto Dauid and to Salomon his sonne: In this Re.ix.a house/and at Jerusalem († which I haue chosen out of all ỹ trybes of Israel) wyl I set my name for euer/and wyll not cause the fote of Israel to be remoued any more from the lāde which I gaue vnto theyr fathers/yee/so that they obserue/and do accordynge vnto all that I haue charged them/and after all the lawe that my seruaunt Moses commaunded thē. Neuertheles̄e/they wolde not herkē/but Manasses deceaued them/so that they dyd worse then the Heythen/whome the Lorde expelled before the chyldren of Israel.

Then spake the Lorde by his seruauntes the prophetes/& sayde: Because that Manasses the kynge of Juda hath done these abhominacions/which are worse then all the abhominacyons that the Amorites haue done/ C which were before thē/and hath caused Juda also to sinne agaynst theyr God: therfore/thus xxi.a sayeth the Lorde God of Israel: † Beholde. I wyl bringe such a plague vpon Jerusalem and Juda/that whosoeuer heareth it/both his eares shall glowe/and ouer Jerusalem wyl I stretch forth the lyne of Samaria/and the weyght of the house of Achab/and wyll wype out Jerusalem/euen as one wypeth a platter/ and I wyll ouerthrowe it. And the rēnaunt of myne enheritaunce wyll I cast out/& scatter thē abroade/and wyll delyuer them in to the handes of theyr enemyes/to be spoyled & rente of all theyr enemyes: because they haue done that which is euell in my syght/& haue D prouoked me vnto wrath/sence ỹ daye that I brought theyr fathers out of Egipte/vnto this day. Manasses also shed exceading much innocent bloude/so longe tyll Jerusalem was full on euery syde/besyd the synnes wherwith he caused Juda for to synne/so that they dyd that which was euel in the sygh of ỹ Lorde.

What more there is to say of Manasses/ and all that he dyd/and his synnes whiche he commytted/beholde/it is written in the Cronicles of the kynges of Juda. And Manasses fell one slepe with his fathers/and was buryed in the garden besyde his house/namely/ in the garden of Vsa: and Amon his sonne was kynge in his steade.

† Two and twenty yeare olde was Amon ij pa.xx.ij.b whan he was made kynge/& he raygned two yeare at Jerusalem. His mothers name was Mesumelech/the doughter of Harus of Jatba/& he dyd euel in the syghte of the Lorde/ E as Manasses his father had done/and walked in all the way which his father walked/& serued the Idols which his father had serued/ and worshipped them/and forsoke the Lord the God of his father/and walked not in the waye of the Lorde.

And his seruauntes conspyred agaynst Amon/and slewe the kynge in his house. But the people of the lande slewe all them that had conspyred agaynst kynge Amō. And the people of the lande made Josias his sonne kynge in his steade. As for other thinges that Amon dyd/beholde/they are wrytten in the Cronicles of the kynges of Juda. And he was buryed in his graue in Vsas garden. And Josias his sonne was kynge in his steade.

The. XXII. Chapter.

JOsias † was eyght yeare olde whan he A was made kynge/and raygned one and ij.pa.xxxiiij thyrty yeare at Jerusalē. His mothers name a was Jedida the doughter of Adaia of Bascath/and dyd that whiche was ryght in the syght of the Lord/and walked in al the way of Dauid his father/& turned not asyde/neyther to the ryghte hande/nor to the lefte.

† And in the eyghtenth yeare of kynge Jo- ij.pa.xxxiiij sias/the kynge sent Saphan the sonne of Asa- b lia the sonne of Mesulam the scrybe/in to the house of the Lord/and sayd: † Go vp to Hel- iiij.re.xij.b chias ỹ hye priest/that the money ỹ is brought vnto the house of the Lord (which the tresholde kepers haue gathered of the people) maye be delyuered vnto them/that they maye geue it to the workemen whiche are appoynted in the house of the Lorde/and to geue it vnto the labourers in the house (ỹ they maye repayre the decaye in the house) namely/vnto the carpenters/and buylders/and masons/& to thē that bye tymber and free stone for the repayrynge of the house: but so that there be no accomptes taken of thē/concernynge the money that is vnder theyr hāde/but that they deale withall vpon credence.

B And Helchias the hye priest sayd vnto Saphan the Scrybe: † I haue founde the boke ꝯ pa. xxxiiij. of ꝯ lawe in the house of ꝯ Lorde. And Helchias gaue the boke vnto Saphan / that he
c mighte reade it. And Saphan the scrybe bare it vnto the kynge / and brought hym worde agayne / and saide: Thy seruauntes haue gathered together the money that was founde in the house / & haue delyuered it vnto the workemen / which are appoynted in the house of the Lorde. And Saphan the scrybe tolde the kynge and sayde: Helchias the hie priest hath delyuered me a boke / and Saphan red it before the kynge.

But whan the kynge herde the wordes of the boke of the law / he rente his clothes. And the kinge cōmaunded Helchias the priest / and Ahicam the sonne of Saphā / and Achbor the sonne of Michaia / and Saphan the scrybe / &
3. re. xxij. a Asia the kynges seruaunt / & sayde: † Go youre waye and axe counsayllat the Lorde for me / for the people / and for all Juda / concernynge
C the wordes of this boke thas is founde: for greate is the wrath of the Lord that is kyndled ouer vs / because oure fathers haue not herkened vnto the wordes of this boke / to do all that is wrytten vnto vs therin.

Then wente Helchias the hye priest / & Ahicam / Achbor / Saphan / and Asaia / vnto Hulda the prophetysse / the wyfe of Sellū / ꝯ sonne of Thecua / the sonne of Harram the keper of the clothes / and she dwelt at Jerusalem in the second porte / & they spake vnto her. And she sayd vnto them: Thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel: Tell the man that sent you vnto me. Thus sayeth ꝯ Lord: Beholde / I wyl bringe euell vpon this place / and the inhabiters therof / euen all the wordes of the lawe which the kynge hath caused to be red / because they haue forsaken me / and brent incēce vnto other goddes / to prouoke me vnto wrath with all the workes of theyr hādes. Therfore is my wrath kyndled agaynst the cytye / and shall not be quenched.

There came of the chyldren of Ben Jamin also/ and of Juda vnto the castell of Dauid. But Dauid went forth vnto them/ and aunswered and said vnto thē: If ye come in peace/and to helpe me/ my herte shalbe with you. But yf ye come vpon deceate/ and to be myne aduersaryes/ (where as there is yet no vnryght in me) the God of oure fathers loke vpon it/ and rebuke it. Neuertheleſſe/ the spriete endued Amasai the captayne amonge ỹ thyrtye/ and he sayde: We are thyne O Dauid/ and holde with the thou sonne of Jsai. Peace/ peace be with the/ peace be with thy helpers/ for thy God helpeth the. Then Dauid receaued them/ and made them captaynes ouer the men of warre.

And of Manasses there fell certayne vnto Dauid/ whan he came to the battayl with the Philistynes agaynst Saul/ and helped them not/ for the prynces of the Phylistynes counsayled to let hym go frō thē/ and sayde: Jf he fell vnto his lorde Saul/ it myght cost vs our neckes. Now whan he departed vnto Sielag/ there fell vnto hym of Manasses/ Adna/ Josabad/ Jediael/ Michael/ Jasabad/ Elihu/ Zilthai/ heades ouer thousandes in Manasses. And they helped Dauid agaynst the men of warre: for they were all valeaūt Worthies/ and were the captaynes ouer the hoost. And euery daye came there some to Dauid to helpe hym/ tyl there was a great hoost as an hoost of God.

And this is the numbre of the heades harnessed vnto the warre/ which came to Dauid vnto Hebron/ for to turne the kyngdom of Saul vnto hym/ accordynge to the worde of the Lorde.

The chyldren of Juda/ whiche hādled speares and swerdes/ were sixe thousand/ and eyght hūdreth ready harnessed vnto ỹ warre. All these men of warre/ ready harnessed in the battayl/ came with a whole hert vnto Hebron/ to make Dauid kynge ouer all Jsrael. And all Jsrael besyde were of one hert/ that Dauid should be made kyng. And there were they with Dauid thre dayes/ eatynge & drynkynge: for their brethren had prepared for thē. And such neyghbours as were aboute them vnto Jsachar/ Zabulō and Nephtali/ brought bread vpon asses/ camels/ mules and oxen to eate: meell/ fygges/ rasens/ wyne/ oyle/ oxen/ shepe very many: for there was ioye in Jsrael.

The. XIIII. Chapter.

And Dauid helde a coūsayl with the captaynes ouer thousandes/ and ouer hundreds/ and with all the princes and saide vnto all the congregacion of Jsrael: Jf it lyke you/ and yf it be of the Lorde our God/ let vs sende forth on euery syde to oure other brethrē in all the contries of Jsrael/ and to the priestes & Leuites in the cytyes where they haue suburbes/ that they maye be gathered together vnto vs/ & let vs set ỹ Arke of our God againe vnto vs: for by Sauls tyme we axed after it. Thē saide ỹ whole cōgregacion/ that the same should be done/ for it pleased all ỹ people well.

So Dauid gathered al Jsrael together frō Sihor of Egypte/ tyll a man come vnto Hemath/ to fetch the Arke of God from Kiriath Jearim. And Dauid went vp with all Jsrael to Kiriath Jearim/ which lyeth in Juda to bringe frō thence the Arke of God/ the Lord that sytteth vpon the Cherubyns/ where the name is named: and they caused the Arke of God to be caryed vpon a new carte from the house of Abinadab.

Vsa and his brethren droue the cart. As for Dauid and all Jsrael/ they played with all their strength before God with songes/ with harpes/ with psalteries/ with tabrettes/ with Cymbales and trompes.

But whan they came to the barne floore of Chidon/ Vsa stretched out his hande to holde the Arke: for the oxen went out a syde. Then waxed the wrath of the Lord fearce ouer Vsa/ and smote hym/ because he stretched out his hande to the Arke/ so that he dyed there before God. Then was Dauid sory/ because ỹ Lord had made suche a rente vpon Vsa/ and called the place Perez Vsa/ vnto this daie. And Dauid stode in feare of God the same day and sayde: How shall Jbringe the Arke of God vnto me? Therfore wolde he not let the Arke of God be brought vnto hym in to the cytye of Dauid/ but caried it in to the house of Obed Edom the Gathite. So the Arke of God abode with Obed Edō in his house thre monethes. And the Lorde blessed Obed Edōs house and all that he had.

The. XV. Chapter.

And Hiram the kynge of Tyre sent messaungers vnto Dauid and Cedre tymber/ and masons and carpēters/ to buylde hym an house. And Dauid perceaued that the Lord had confirmed him kynge ouer Jsrael: for his kyngdom encreaced for his people of Jsraels sake. And Dauid toke yet mo wyues at Jerusalem/ and begat yet mo sonnes and doughters. And the names of thē that were borne vnto him at Jerusalem are these: Sammua/ Sobab/ Nathan/ Salomon/ Jebehar/ Elisua/ Elipalet/ Noga/ Nepheg/ Japhia/ Elisamma/ Baal/ Jada/ Eliphalet.

And whan the Phylistines herde that Dauid was anoynted kynge ouer all Jsrael/ they wēte vp all to seke Dauid. Whā Dauid herde that/ he wente forth agaynste them. And the Phylistines came/ and scatered themselfes beneth in the valleye of Rephaim. And Dauid axed counsayl at God/ and sayde: Shall J go vp agaynst the Philystynes? and wylt thou delyuer thē in to my hande? The Lorde saide vnto hym/ Go vp/ J wyl delyuer thē in to thy hande. And whā they were gone vp to Baal Prasym/ Dauid smote thē there. And Dauid sayde: God hath deuydeth myne enemyes thorow my hande/ euen as the water parteth asunder: therfore called they ỹ place Baal Prasym. And there left they their goddes. Then commaūded Dauid to burne thē with fyre.

But the Philistines gat them thither agayne/ and scatered them selfes beneth in the valley. And Dauid axed counsayll at God agayne. And God sayde vnto hym: Thou shalt not go vp behinde them/ but turne ỹ from thē/ that thou mayest come vpon thē/ ouer against the Perirees. So whan thou hearest aboue vpon the Perirees the noyse of the goyinge/ go thou forthe then too the battayl: for God is gone forth then before the to smyte the hoost of the Philystynes. And Dauid dyd as God cōmaunded hym. And they smote the hooste of the Philystines from Gibeon forth vnto Gaser. And Dauids name was noysed out in all landes. And the Lorde caused the feare of him to come vpon all the Heythen.

The. XVI. Chapter.

And he buylded hym houses in the cytye of Dauid/ and made ready a place for the Arke of God/ and pitched a Tabernacle for it. At that tyme sayde Dauid: The Arke of God is not to be boren/ but onely of the Leuites: for thē hath the Lorde chosen to beare the Arke of the Lorde/ and to minister vnto him for euer. Therfore gathered Dauid all Jsrael together vnto Jerusalem/ to bringe vp the Arke of the Lorde vnto the place/ which he had prepared for it.

And Dauid brought the chyldren of Aarō and the Leuites together. Of the chyldren of Kahath: Uriel the chiefe with his brethrē/ an C. and twentye. Of the chyldren of Merari: Asaia the chiefe with his brethrē two hūdreth and twentye. Of the chyldren of Gerson: Joel the chiefe with his brethren an. C. and thyrtye. Of the chyldren of Elizaphan: Semaia the chiefe with his brethren/ two hundreth.

Of the chyldren of Hebron: Eliel the chiefe/ with his brethren/foure score. Of the chyldren of Vsiel: Aminadab the chiefe/ with his brethren/an hundreth and twelfe.

B And Sauid called Sadoc and Abiathar ỹ priestes and the Leuites/namely Vriel/Asaia/ Joel/Semaia/Eliel/Aminadab/and sayde vnto thē: Ye are the heades of the fathers amōge the Leuites: sanctifye youre selfes therfore and youre brethren/ that ye may bringe vp the Arke of the Lorde God of Israel/to 1.par.xiij.b the place that I haue prepared for it. † For afore whan ye were not there/the Lorde our God made a rent amonge vs/becausse we sought hym not/as we shoulde haue doune. So the priestes & the Leuites halowed themselfes/ that they myght bringe vp the Arke of the Lorde God of Israel. And the chyldren of Leui bare the Arke of God the Lord vp-

And Sauid spake vnto ỹ rulers of the Leuites/that they shoulde ordeyne some of their brethren to be syngers with psalteries/harpes and loude instrumentes/and Cymbales/to synge loude with ioye.

C Then the Leuites appoynted Heman the sonne of Joel: and of his brethren/Assaph the sonne of Barachias: & of the chyldren of Merari their brethren/Etham the sonne of Cusaia: and with them their brethren of the seconde course/namely Zacharias/Jaesiel/Semiramoth/Jehiel/Vnni/Eliab/Benaia/ Maeseia/Mathithia/Elipheleia/Miknea/Obed Edom/Jeiel/the dorekepers: For Hemā/ Assaph/and Etham were syngers with brasen belles makynge a loude noyse: but Zacharias/Jaesiel/Semiramoth/Jehiel/Vnni/Eliab/Maeseia and Benaia with psalteries to Alamoth: Mathithia/Elipelia/Miknea/Obed Edom/Jeiel and Asasia/with harpes to synge aboue thē on hye. Chenania the ruler of ỹ Leuites was the master of musyke to teache them for to synge/for he was a man of vnderstandynge.

And Barachias and Elcana were the dorekepers of the Arke. But Zachania/Josaphat/ Nathanael/Amasai/Zacharias/Benaia/Eliesser the priestes/blewe the trōpettes before the Arke of God. And Obed Edom and Jehaia were dorekepers of the Arke.

So Sauid and the Elders of Israel & the D captaynes ouer thousandes/wente vp to fetch the Arke of the conuenaunt of the Lord out of the house of Obed Edom with ioye. And whan God had helped the Leuites that bare ỹ Arke of ỹ Lordes conuenaunt/there were offred seuē bullockes and seuen rammes. And Sauid had a lynen garment vpon hym/and so had all the Leuites that bare the Arke/and the singers/and Chenania the master of Musicke with the syngers. Sauid had an ouerbody cote of lynen vpon hym also.

Thus all Israel brought vp the Arke of the conuenaunt of the Lorde with myrth/ with trōpettes/tabrettes/& loude Cymbales/ with psalteries and harpes. † Now whan the ij.Re.vi Arke of the conuenaunt of the Lord came in to the cytie of Sauid/Micholl the doughter of Saul loked out at a wyndowe: and whan she sawe kynge Sauid daunsynge and playinge/she despised him in her hert.

The. XVII. Chapter.

AND † whan they brought in the Arke of ij.Reg.vi God/they set it in ỹ Tabernacle/that Sauid had pitched for it/& offred burntofferynges and thankeofferynges before God. And he appoynted before the Arke of the Lorde certaine Leuites to minister/that they shoulde geue prayse/thankes and louynges vnto the Lorde God of Israel: namely Assaph the fyrst/Zacharias the seconde/Jeiel/ Semiramoth/Jehiel/Mathithia/Eliab/Benaia/Obed Edom/and Jehiel/with psalteries and harpes. Declare his holynes amonge the Heythen/and his wonderous workes amōge the people.

For the Lorde is great/and can not worthely be praysed/and is more to be had in awe then al goddes.

j.a As for al the goddes of the Heythen they are but Idols: † but it is the Lord that made the heauens.

D Thankesgeuinge and worshippe are before hym/strength and ioye is in his place.

Ascrybe vnto the Lorde ye kynredes of nacyons: ascrybe vnto the Lorde worshippe and strength.

Ascrybe vnto the Lord the honoure of his name: brynge presentes and come before him/ and worshippe the Lorde in the bewtye of his holynesse.

Let the whole earth stande in awe of him/he hath made the compasse of the worlde so fast/ that it can not be moued.

Let the heauens reioyce/and let the earth be glad: and let it be tolde amonge the Heythen/ that the Lorde raygneth.

Let the see make a noyse/and the fulnesse therof: let the felde be ioyfull/and all that therein is.

Let al trees in the wood leape for ioye before the Lorde/for he commeth to iudge the earth.

O geue thankes vnto the Lorde/for he is gracious: and his mercy endureth for euer.

And saye: Helpe vs O God our Sauecour/ and gather vs together/and delyuer vs from the Heythen/that we maye geue thankes vnto thy holy name/and synge prayses vnto the in thy Psalmes.

Praysed be the Lord God of Israel from euerlastynge to euerlastynge: and let all the people say: Amen. And prayse be vnto the Lorde.

So he left Assaph and his brethren there E before the Arke of the cōuenaunt of the Lorde/to minister alway before the Arke/euery day his dayes worke. But Obed Edom and their brethren/eyght and thre score/and Obed Edom the sonne of Jedithun/and Hossa to be dorekepers/And Sadoc the priest/and his brethren the priestes/left he before the habitacion of the Lorde vpon the hye place at Gibeon/to offre burntsacrifices dayly vnto the Lord/vpon the aultare of burntofferinges in the mornynge and in the euenynge/as it is wrytte in the † lawe of the Lord/which Ex.xxix.g he cōmaunded vnto Israel. And with them nu.xxviij.a Heman and Jedithun/and the other chosen/ which were named by name to geue thankes vnto the Lorde/because his mercy endureth for euer. And with them Heman and Jedithun to stryke vpon the tabrettes and Cymbales/and the musycall instrumentes of God. As for the chyldren of Jedithun/he made the dorekepers. So all the people departed/euery one to his house. And Sauid returned also to blesse his house.

The. XVIII. Chapter.

A ij. Re. vij. a IT † fortuned that whan Dauid dwelt in his house / He sayde vnto ỹ prophet Nathan. Behold / I dwell in a house of Ceder / & the Arke of the conuenaunt of the Lorde is amonge the curtaynes.

Nathan sayd vnto Dauid: Whatsoeuer is in thyne herte / that do: for God is with the. But the same nyght came the worde of God vnto Nathan / and sayde: Go & speake to Dauid my seruaunt: Thus sayeth the Lorde: Thou shalt not buyld me an house to be an habitacion. For I haue dwelt in no house sence the daye that I haue brought forth the children of Israel / vnto this day: But where the Tabernacle and habitacion hath ben / there haue I ben / where soeuer I haue walked in all Israel. Spake I euer to any of the iudges in Israel (whome I commaunded to kepe my people) and sayde: Wherfore do ye not buylde me an house of Ceder tymber?

B So shalt thou speake now vnto my seruaũt Dauid: Thus sayeth the Lorde Zabaoth: I toke the frõ the pasture behind the shepe / that thou shouldest be the prynce ouer my people: and haue ben with the / whether soeuer thou wentest / and haue roted out all thyne enemies before ỹ / & haue made the a name / according to the name of the great men that are vpon earth. And as for my people of Israel / I wyll appoynte them a place / and wyll plante them / that they may dwell there / and nomore to be remoued. And the children of wyckednesse shall oppresse thẽ nomore / lyke as aforetyme / whan I cõmaunded the iudges ouer my people of Israel. And I will subdue all thyne enemyes / and do declare vnto the that ỹ Lorde wyll buylde the an house.

ij. Re. vij. c † But whã thy dayes are fulfylled that thou Psal. xxj. b departest hence with thy fathers / I wyll after the rayse vp thy sede / which shall be euen one of thy sonnes: his kyngdome wyll I stablishe /
i. Par. xxij. b † he shall buylde me an house / & I wyll make his seate sure for euer. I wyll be his father / and he shalbe my sõne. And I wyll not withdraw my mercy frõ hym / † as I haue withdrawen it from hym that was before the: But
i. Re. xv. c I wyll set hym in my house / and in my kyngdome for euer / so that his seate shalbe sure for euermore.

C And whan Nathan had spoken vnto Dauid / according vnto all these wordes and all this vision / kinge Dauid came and sat him doune before the Lorde / and said: O Lorde God who am I: & what is my house / ỹ thou hast brought me thus farre? And this (O God) hast thou thought yet to lytle / but hast spoken of thy seruaũtes house yet longe for to come. And thou Lord God hast loked doune vpon me from aboue / euen as one man loketh vpon another. What more shall Dauid saye vnto the / that thou bringest thy seruaũt vnto suche honoure? Thou knowest thy seruaũt O Lord / for thy seruaũtes sake / and according to thy herte hast thou done al these great thynges / that thou myghtest shewe all great thynges vnto thy seruaũt. Lorde / † there is none Deu. iij lyke ỹ / & there is no God but thou / of whome we haue herde with our eares. And † where Dauid is there a people vpon earth as thy people of Israel / where God wẽt to delyuer hym a people / & to make himselfe a name thorow great and terrible thynges / to cast out the Heythen before thy people / whome thou hast deliuered out of Egypte? And the people of Israel hast thou made thy people for euer / and thou Lorde art become their God.

D Now Lorde / let the worde be verified for euer / that thou hast spoken ouer thy seruaunt and ouer his house / and do as thou hast spoken: and let thy name endure and be magnified for euer / that it maye be sayd. The Lord Zabaoth / the God of Israel is the God in Israel / and that the house of thy sernaunt Dauid may be stablished before ỹ: for thou Lord hast opened the eare of thy seruaunt / that thou wilt buylde him an house. Therfore hath thy seruaũt founde (cõfydence) to make his prayer before the. Now Lord / thou art God / & haste promysed suche good vnto thy seruaunt. Begyn now to blesse the house of thy seruaunt / that it may be euermore before the: for loke what thou blessest (O Lorde) that same is blessed for euer.

The. XIX. Chapter.

AFter this † smote Dauid the Philistines / A ij. Re. and subdued thẽ / and toke Gath and the villages therof out of the hande of the Philistynes. He smote the Moabites lykewyse / so that the Moabites were subdued vnto Dauid / and gaue him trybute. He smote Hadad-
Eser

Eser also the kynge of Zoba in Hemath / whã he wẽte to set vp his power by the water Euphrates.

And Dauid toke frõ hym a thousand charrettes / seuen thousande horsemen / and twenty thousande footemen. And Dauid lamed all the charrettes / and kepte an hundreth charrettes ouer. And the Syriãs came from Damascon / to helpe Hadad Eser the kynge of Zoba. Howbeit / Dauid smote two & twenty thousande of the same Sirians / and layed men of warre at Damascõ in Syria: so that the Syrians were subdued vnto Dauid / & brought hym trybute. For the Lorde helped Dauid / whether soeuer he went.

B And Dauid tok the shyldes of gold ỹ Hadad Esers seruauntes had / & brought them to Ierusalem. And out of Tibehath & Chun the cyties of Hadad Eser / toke Dauid very much ij. Re. viij. b brasse / † wherof Salomon made the brasen lauer / and pillers / and brasen vessels.

ij. Re. viij. b † And whan Thogu the kynge of Hemath herde / that Dauid had smytten all the power of Hadad Eser / he sent his sonne Hadoram vnto kynge Dauid to salute hym / and blesse hym / because he had foughten with Hadad-Eser / and smitten hym (for Thogu had warre with Hadad Eser.) And al the same vessels of golde / syluer / and of brasse / dyd kynge Dauid consecrate vnto the Lorde / with the syluer and golde that he had taken from the Heithẽ / namely from the Edomites / Moabites / Ammonites / Philistines and Amalechites.

C † And Abisai the sonne of Zeruia smote
ij. Re. viij. a eyghtene thousande of the Edomites in the salt valleye / & layed men of warre in Edomea / so that all the Edomites were subdued vnto Dauid: for the Lorde helped Dauid / whether soeuer he wente.

Thus Dauid raygned ouer all Israel / and executed iudgement and ryghteousnes vnto all his people. Joab the sonne of Zeruia was captayne ouer the hooste. Josaphat the sonne of Ahilud was chaunceler. Sadoc the sonne of Achitob / and Ahimelech the sonne of Abiathar / were priestes. Sauesa was scrybe. Benaia the sonne of Joiada was ouer the Crethians and Plethians. † And Dauids sonnes ij. Re. viij. c were chiefe at the kynges hande.

The. XX. Chapter.

AND † after this dyed Nahas the kynge A of the chyldren of Ammõ / and his sonne ij. Reg. x was kynge in his steade. Then sayde Dauid: I will do mercy vppon Hanun the sonne of Nahas / for his father did mercy vpõ me: and he sent messaungers to conforte him ouer his father. And whan Dauids seruauntes came into the lande of the children of Ammon vnto Hanun to conforte hym / the prynces of ỹ children of Ammon sayd vnto Hanun: Thinkest thou that Dauid honoureth thy father in thy sight / that he hath sent cõforters vnto ỹ? Yee / his seruauntes are come vnto the / to searche & ouerthrowe / and to spye out the lande. Then toke Hanun the seruaũtes of Dauid / & shoue them / and cut the halfe of their garmentes of / euen by the loynes / & so let them go. And they went their waye: and sent men to tell Dauid. Neuertheless / he sent to mete them (for ỹ men were put to great shame) and the kyng sayd: Abyde at Jericho / till your beerdes be growẽ / and then come agayne.

Whan the children of Ammon sawe that B
they stynked in the sight of Dauid / both Hanun and the children of Ammon sent a thousande talentes of syluer / to hyre charrettes and horsemen out of Mesopotamia / and out of Maecha / and out of Zoba: and hyred two and thyrtye thousande charrettes / and the kynge of Maecha with his people / which came & pitched their tentes before Medba. And the children of Ammon gathered thẽ selfes together out of their cyties / and came to the battayll. Whã Dauid herde that / he sent Joab thether with al the hooste of the men of armes. And the children of Ammon were gone forth / and prepared them selfes to the battayll before the gate of the cytie. But the kynges that were come / kepte them asyde in the felde.

Now whan Joab sawe that the battayll C was against him / both before and behynd / he chose of al the best yonge men in Israel / and prepared him selfe agaynst the Syrians. As for the residue of the people / he put them vnder the hande of Abisai his brother / that they shoulde prepare thẽ selfes against the children of Ammon / and he sayd: If the Syrians be to mightye for me / helpe thou me: but yf the children of Ammõ be to strong for ỹ / I shall helpe the: take a good courage vnto the / and let vs quyte our selses manly / for our people and for the cyties of our God: neuertheless/the Lorde do what pleaseth hym. And Joab made him forth with ỹ people that was with him/ to fyght agaynst the Syrians: and they fled before hym. And whan the chyldren of Ammon sawe that the Syrians fled / they fled also before Abisai his brother / and wente in to the cytie. And Joab came to Jerusalem.

D But whan the Syrias sawe that they were smytten before Israel/they sent messaungers/ and brought forth the Syrians/which were beyonde the water. And Sophach the chiefe captayne of Hadad Eser went before them. Whan this was tolde David/ he gathered all Israel together/and wẽte ouer Jordane. And whan he came at them/he set the battayll in araye agaynst thẽ. And David prepared him selfe to the battaill against the Syrians/& they fought with him/but the Syrians fled before Israel. And David slewe of the Syrians seuen thousande charrettes / and fourtye thousand foote mẽ. And Sophach the chiefe captayne slewe he also. And whan Hadad Esers seruauntes sawe that they were smytten before Israel/they made peace with David and his seruauntes. And the Syrians wold helpe the chyldren of Ammon nomore.

The. XXI. Chapter.

A NIid † whan the yeare came about/what tyme as the kynges vse to go forth / Joab brought the power of the host/ and destroied ỹ lande of the chyldren of Ammon / and came & layed sege vnto Rabba. But David abode at Jerusalem. † And Joab smote Rabba / and brake it doune. And David toke theyr kynges crounc from his heade/ and foũde the weyght of a talent of golde theron / and precyous stones. And it was set vpon Dauids heade. And very much spoyle caried he out of the cytie. As for the people that were therin/he brought thẽ forth/and parted them in sunder with sawes/ and hokes/and beytels of yrõ. Thus dyd David vnto al the cyties of the chyldren of Ammon. And David departed agayne/ with the people vnto Jerusalem.

B † After warde arose there warre at Gasar with the Philystines Then Sibechai the Husathite smote Sibai/whiche was one of ỹ chyldren of Rephaim/and he subdued hym. And there arose warre agayne with the Philystines. Then Elhanah the sonne of Jahir smote Lahemi the brother of Goliath the Gathite/ whose spcares staffe was like a weauers lome. Afterward was there a battayll at Gath/ where there was a man of a great stature/that had sixe syngers & sixe toes: which make foure and twety. And he was borne also of Rapha/ and spake dispytefully vnto Israel. But Jonathas the sonne of Simea Dauids brother smote him. These were the childrẽ of Rapha at Gath / and fell thorow the hande of David/ and of his seruauntes.

The. XXII. Chapter.

A NIid sathan stode agaynst Israel/and † enticed David to numbre Israel. And David said vnto Joab and the rulers of the people: Go your waye/and numbre Israel from Berseba vnto Dan/and bryngc me the numbre of them/that I may knowe it. Joab sayd: The Lorde make his people an hundreth tymes mo thẽ they are now. But my lorde O kynge/ are they not all my lordes seruauntes? Why doth my lorde thẽ axe therafter? Wherfore shal there a trespasse come vpon Israel?

Neuertheless/the kynges worde preuayled agaynst Joab. And Joab wente forth / and walked thorow all Israel / & came to Jerusalem / and delyuered vnto David the numbre of the people that was tolde. And of all Israel there were a thousand times a thousande/ and an hundreth thousande men / that drewe out the sweard: & of Juda foure hundreth thousande and seuenty thousande mẽ/ whiche drue out the sweard. As for Leui and Ben Jamin/ he numbred thẽ not amonge these: for the kinges worde was abhominable vnto Joab. B

But this displeased God ryght sore: for he smote Israel. And David sayde vnto God: I haue sinned greuously/that I haue done this: But now take away the trespasse of thy seruaunt: for I haue done very vnwysely. And the Lorde spake vnto Gad Dauids Seer/ and sayd: Go speake to David/& saye: Thus sayeth the Lorde: Thre' thynges laye I before the/chose the one of them/ that I maye do it vnto the. And whan Gad came to David/ he spake vnto hym: Thus sayeth the Lorde: Chose the eyther thre yeare derth: or thre monethes to flye before thyne aduersaryes / and before the sweарde of thyne enemyes / that it maye ouertake the: or thre dayes the sweard of the Lord/and pestilence in the lande/that the aungel of the Lord maye destroye in all the coastes of Israel. Loke now what aunswere I shall geue vnto hym that sente me.

David sayde vnto Gad: † I am in greate trouble: yet wyll I rather fall into the hande of the Lorde / for his mercy is exceadynge greate/ and I wyll not fall in to the handes of men.

C Then dyd the Lorde cause pestilence to come into Israel / so that there fell of Israell thre score and ten thousande men. And God sent the aungel to Jerusalem for to destroye it. And euen in the destruccyon the Lorde consydered/and he repented of the euell / and sayde vnto the aungel the destroyer: It is ynough/holde now thy hande.

The aungel of the Lorde stode beside the barne of Arnan the Jebusite. And David lyfte vp his eyes/ and sawe the aungel of the Lorde standynge betwene heauen & earth/ and a naked sweарde in his hande / stretched out ouer Jerusalem. Then David and the elders beyng clothed with sackecloth/fell vpon theyr faces. And David sayd vnto God: Am not I he that caused ỹ people to be numbred? I am he that hath synned and done euel: as for these shepe/what haue they done? Lorde my God/let thyne hande be against me/ and against my fathers house and not against thy people to plague them.

D And the aungel sayde vnto Gad / that he shoulde speake vnto David/ỹ David shoulde go vp/& set vp an aultare in the barne of Arnan the Jebusite. So David went vp accordynge to the worde of Gad / which he spake in the name of the Lord. But whan Arnan turned him/and sawe the aungel (& his foure sonnes with hym) they hyd them selfes: for Arnan thrashed wheate.

Now whan David came to Arnan/Arnã loked and was aware of David/& went forth out of the barne / and worshipped David with his face to the grounde. And David said vnto Arnan: Geue me roume in the barne / to buylde an aultare vnto the Lord therin: for ỹ ful money shalt thou geue it me/ that ỹ plague maye ceasse from the people.

But Arnan sayde vnto David: Take it vnto the/and let my lorde the kynge do as it pleaseth hym. Beholde/ that oxe geue I for a burntoffering/ax ỹ thressing sleades for wood/ and wheat for the meatofferynge / I geue it all. Neuertheless/ the kynge sayde vnto Arnan: Not so/ but for the full money wyll I bye it: for that which is thyne wyl not I take for the Lord/and offer a burntofferynge for nought.

So David gaue Arnan for the roume & syxe hundreth sycles of golde in weyghte. And there buylded David an aultare vnto the Lorde/and offred burntofferynges and thankeofferynges. And whan he called vpon the Lorde / he herde hym thorowe the fyre from heauen vpon the aultare of the burntofferynge. And the Lorde sayde vnto the aungel that he shoulde put his sweарde into his sheeth.

At thesame tyme whan David sawe that the Lord had herde hym vpon ỹ corne floore of Arnan the Jebusite/he dyd sacrifyce there. For the habitacyon of the Lorde / † whiche Moses had made in the wyldernesse/and the aultare of burntofferynges/was at that time in the hye place at Gibeon. But David could not go thether to seke God before it / for he feared the sweard of ỹ Lordes aungel. And David sayde: † Here shalbe the house of God the Lord/and this the aultare of burntofferynges for Israel.

ij. Para. j. a

The. XXIII. Chapter.

A NIid David cõmaũded to gather together the straungers that were in the lande of Israel/and appoynted masons to hew stone for the buildyng of the house of God. And David prepared much yron for nayles in the dores of the portes/& for such things as were to be nayled together/& so much brasse/that it was not to be weyed: & Cedre trees innumerable: for they of Zydon and Tyre broughte David much Cedre timbre. For David thoughte Salomon my sonne is but a chylde and tender: But the house that shalbe builded vnto the Lord/shalbe great/that his name and prayse may be exalted in al landes/therfore wil I prouyde for him. So David made greate prouision before his death.

B And he called Salomon his sonne/ & commaunded hym to builde the house of ỹ Lord God of Israel/ and sayde vnto hym: My ij.Re.vij.a sonne/ †I was mynded to buylde an house vnto the name of the Lord my God/ but the worde of the Lord came vnto me/ and sayd:
iij.Reg.v.a †Thou hast shed muche bloude/ and stryken many battayls/ therfore shalt thou not buylde an house vnto my name/ for as much as thou haste shed so much bloude vpon the earth before me. Beholde/ the sonne which shalbe borne vnto the/ shalbe a quyete man: and I wyl cause hym to be in rest from all his enemyes on euery syde/ for his name shalbe Salomon: for I wyl geue peace and rest vpon Israel as longe as he lyueth. He shal buylde an house vnto my name. He shalbe my sonne/ and I wyll be his father. And I wyll stablyshe the seate of his kyngdome vpon Israel for euer.

C Now my sonne/ the Lorde shalbe with the/ and thou shalt prospere/ that thou mayest buylde an house vnto the Lorde thy God/iij.Re.iij.b accordinge as he hath spoken of the. †The Lord also shal geue the wysedome and vnderstandynge/ and shal commytte Israel vnto the/ that thou mayest kepe the lawe of the Lord thy God. But then shalte thou prospere/ if thou take hede to do after the ordinaunces and lawes which the Lord commauniij.Reg.ij.a ded Moses vnto Israel. †Be stronge/ & take good courage vnto the/ feare not/ and be not faynthertd. Beholde/ I haue in my pouerte prouided for the house of the Lord/ an hundreth thousand talentes of gold. And a thousande tymes a thousande talentes of syluer/ & brasse and yron withoute numbre: for there is so much of it.

And tymber and stone haue I prepared/ thou mayest get more therof. Thou hast many workemen also/ masons & carpenters in stone and tymber/ and all maner of men that haue vnderstandinge/ in all worke of golde/ siluer/ brasse/ and yron without number. Yet get the vp and be doynge/ and the Lorde shalbe with the.

And Dauid commaunded al the rulers of D Israel/ to helpe Salomon his sonne/ & sayde: Is not the Lorde your God with you/ and hath geuen you rest on euery syde? For he hath delyuered the inhabiters of the lande into your handes/ and the lande is subdued before the Lord and before his people. Geue ouer youre herte now therfore and your soule/ to seke the Lorde youre God/ and get you vp/ and buylde a sanctuary vnto the Lorde God/ that the Arke of the conuenaunt of the Lord/ and the holy vessels of golde/ may be brought into the house/ which shal be builded vnto the name of the Lorde. So Dauid made Salomon his sonne kynge ouer Israel/ whan he hym selfe was olde/ and had lyued ynough.

The. XXIIII. Chapter.

AND Dauid gathered all the rulers in Israel together/ and the priestes and Leuites/ to numbre the Leuites from thirty yeare old & aboue. And the numbre of them (which were stronge men) from heade to head/ was eyght and thyrtye thousande: of whome there were foure and twenty thousand/ which ỹd theyr diligence in the worke ouer the house of the Lord/ and sixe thousand officers & Iudges/ and foure thousande porters/ and foure thousand ỹ songe prayses vnto ỹ Lord with instrumentes/ which he had made to synge prayse withall.

And Dauid made the ordinaunce among the chyldren of Leui/ namely amonge Gerson/ Kahath and Merari. The Gersonites were: Laedan and Simei. The chyldren of Laedan: the fyrst/ Iehiel/ Sethan/ and Joel/ these thre.

The children of Simei were: Salomith/ Hasiel and Haran/ these thre. These were the chiefe amonge the fathers of Laedan. These also were the children of Simei: Jahath/ Sina/ Jeus and Bria/ these foure were Simeis children also. Jahath was the fyrst/ Sina the seconde. As for Jeus and Bria/ they had not many childrē/ therfore were they counted but for one fathers house.

B †The chyldren of Kahath were: Amram/ Jezehar/ Hebron and Vsiell/ these foure. The chyldren of Amram were: Aarō and Moses. †As for Aaron/ he was separated to be sanctifyed for the mooste holy/ he and his sonnes for euer/ to burne incence before the Lord/ & to mynister & blesse in the name of the Lord for euermore. And the children of Moses the man man of God were named amonge the trybd.ij.d bes of the Leuites. †The children of Moses were Gerson/ and Elleser.

The chyldren of Gerson/ the fyrste was Sebuel. The children of Elieser/ the fyrste was Rehabia: and Elieser had none other chyldren. But the children of Rehabia were many there ouer. The chyldren of Jezehar were: Salomith the fyrst. The chyldren of Hebrō were: Jeria the fyrst/ Amaria the seconde/ Jahasiel the thirde/ and Jackneam the fourth. The children of Vsiel were: Micha the fyrste/ and Jesia the seconde.

C The chyldren of Merari were: Maheli and Musi. The children of Maheli were: Eleasar and Cis. And Eleasar dyed/ and had no sonnes but doughters. And the children of Cis
m.iiij.a they: brethren toke them. The children of Musi were: Maheli/ Eder and Jeremoth/ these thre. These are the children of Leui amonge theyr fathers houses/ and the chiefest of the fathers/ which were counted after the numbre of the names heade by heade: whiche executed the worke of the offices in the house of the Lord/ †from thyrtye yeare olde and aboue. For Dauid sayde: The Lord God of Israell hath geuen his people rest/ and shall dwell at Jerusalem for euer.

D Amonge the Leuites also were the children of Leui numbred from thirtye yeare olde and nnv.a aboue †that they neded not to beare the habitacion with all the vessels of theyr office/ but accordinge to the last wordes of Dauid/ that they should stande vnder the hande of the children of Aaron/ to minister in the house of the Lorde in the courte/ and to the chestes/ and for purifyenge/ and to all maner of sanctifyenge/ and to euery worke of the office in the house of God. And for the shewbread/ for the fyne floure/ for the meatofferynge/ for the vnleuended wafers/ for the pānes/ for ỹ fryenge/ and for all maner of weyghte and measure. And in the mornynge to stande for to geue thankes and to prayse the Lord/ and in the euenyng lykewise. And vpon all Sabbathes/ Newmones and feastes to offre all the burntofferynges vnto the Lorde/ accordynge to the numbre and ordre/ alwaye before the Lorde: to wayte vpon the Tabernacle of witnesse and of the Sanctuarye/ and vpon they: brethren the children of Aaron/ to minister in the house of the Lord.

The. XXV. Chapter.

THis was the ordinaunce of the children A of Aaron. † The children of Aaron were/ Leuit. x.a Nadab/ Abihu/ Eleasar and Ithamar. But Num.iij.a Nadab and Abihu dyed before theyr fathers/ and had no children. And Eleasar and Ithamar were priestes. And Dauid ordred them after this maner: Sadoc out of the children of Eleasar/ and Ahimelech out of the children of Ithamar/ accordyng to their numbre and office. And there were mo chiefe stronge men founde amonge the children of Eleasar/ then the chyldren of Ithamar. And he ordeyned them after this maner: namely/ sixtene out of the children of Eleasar to be rulers thorowout their fathers house/ & eyght of the children of Ithamar thorowout their fathers house. Neuertheles/ he ordeyned them by lot/ because that both the principall of the children of Eleasar and Ithamar were in the Sanctuarie/ and chiefe before God. And ỹ scribe Semeia the sonne of Nethaneel one of the Leuites/ wrote thē vp before the kinge/ & before the rulers/ and before Sadoc the priest/ & before Ahimelech the sone of Abiathar/ and before the chiefe of the fathers amonge the priestes and Leuites: namely one fathers house for Eleasar/ and the other for Ithamar.

The. XXX. Chapter.

A And kynge Dauid saide vnto all the congregacion: God hath chosen Salomon one of his sonnes / which is yet yonge & tender. But the worke is greate: for it is not a mãs palayce/but the Lord Gods. Yet haue I after all myne habylite prepared vnto the house of God/golde for the vessels of golde/ syluer for them of syluer / brasse for them of brasse/yron for them of yron / wood for them of wood/Onix stones/set Rubies/& stones of diuerse coloures/ and al precious stones /and Marblestones in multitude. Besydes this/ for the good wyll that I haue to the house of God/I haue of myne owne proper good thre M. talentes of golde of Ophir/& seuen M. talentes of pure syluer / whiche I geue vnto the holy house of God/besyde al that I haue prepared/to ouerlaye the walles of the house/ that thesame which ought to be of golde/may be of golde: & that it which ought to be of syluer/maye be of syluer: & for al maner of worke by the hande of the craftesmen. And who is now fre wyllinge/to fyll his hande this daye vnto the Lorde?

B Then were the princes of the fathers/ the princes of the tribes of Israel / the captaynes ouer thousandes and ouer hundreds / the rulers ouer the kynges busynes fre wyllinge / & gaue to the ministracion in the house of God fyue thousande talentes of golde/& ten thousande guldens / & ten thousande talentes of syluer/eyghtene thousande talentes of brasse/ & an hundred thousand talentes of yron. And by whomesoeuer were founde stones / they gaue them to the treasure of the house of the Lorde/vnder the hande of Jehiell the Gersonite.

And the people were glad that they were fre wyllinge: for they gaue it with a good will (euen with all their herte) vnto the Lorde. And Dauid also the kyng reioyced greatly/ & praysed God/and saide before the whole congregacion: Praysed be thou O Lorde God of Israel our father/vnto the belongeth worshippe and power / glory/victory & thankes: for all that is in heauen and earth / is thine: thyne is the kyngdome / & thou art exalted aboue al princes. Thine are ryches and honour before the/thou raygnest ouer al/in thy hande consisteth power & might/in thy hãde is it to make euery man greate and stronge.

Now thanke we the oure God/ & prayse ỹ C name of thy glory: For who am I? What is my people: that we shoulde be able with a fre wyl to offre/as this is done? For of the commeth al/& of thy hande haue we genen it the: † For we are but pilgrems & straungers before the/as were al oure fathers. * Oure lyfe vpon earth is as a shadowe/& here is no abydinge. O Lorde oure God/all this aboundaunce that we haue prepared to buylde the an house vnto thy name/came of thy hande/ & is thine altogether. I knowe my God/ that thou tryest the herte/ and that vnfaynednesse is acceptable vnto the: therfore haue I geuen all this with an vnfayned herte/ euen with a good wyll/and now haue I had ioy to se thy people (which here are presente) offer with a fre wyll vnto the. O Lord God of oure fathers Abraham/Isaac/and Israel/kepe thou euermore such purposes & thoughtes in the hertes of thy people/& prepare thou their hertes vnto the. And graunt my sonne Salomõ D a perfecte herte/ that he maye kepe thy commaundementes/thy testimonies/& thy statutes/that he maye do all/& buylde this place/ which

And Dauid sayde vnto the whole congregacion: O prayse the Lorde your God. And all the congregacion praysed the Lord God of their fathers/and bowed thẽ selfes / & worshipped the Lorde / and thẽ the kynge / and offred sacrifices vnto the Lorde. And on the nexte morowe offred they burntofferynges / a M. bullockes/ a M. rammes / a M. lambes with their drinkofferynges/ and plenteously offred they amonge all Israel. And they dyd eate and drynke the same daye before ỹ Lord with greate ioye/ & made Salomon the sonne of Dauid kynge the second tyme/and anoyn-xxij. a † and gaue him such a glorious kyngdome/as none had before hym ouer Israel.

So had Dauid the sõne of Isai/nowe bene kynge ouer all Israel. And the tyme that he was kynge ouer Israel / is fourty yeares: At Hebron raygned he seuen yeares / and at Jerusalem thre and thirty yeares / and dyed in a good age/ful of dayes / ryches and honoure. And Salomon his sonne was kyng in his steade.

And † Salomon the sonne A of Dauid was stablyshed in his kingdome / and the Lorde his God was with him/and made him exceadyng great. And Salomon spake vnto al Israel/ to the captaynes ouer thousandes and ouer hundreds/to the Iudges/ and to all the prynces in Israel / & to the chiefest fathers / so that they wente (Salomon and the whole cõgregacion with hym) vnto the hye place which was at Gibea: † for there was the Tabernacle j. Bezaleel the sõne of Uri the sonne of Hur had xxxviij. a made/it was there before the habitacion of the Lorde: and Salomon and the congregacio sought God. And Salomon offred a thousande burntofferynges vpon the brasen aultares before the Lorde/that stode before the Tabernacle of wytnesse.

In the same nyght appeared God vnto B Salomon / and sayde vnto hym: Aske / what shall I geue the? And Salomon sayde vnto God: Thou hast done great mercy vnto my father Dauid / and hast made me kyng in his steade. Now Lorde God / let the worde that thou hast promysed vnto my father Dauid/be verified/ † for thou hast made me kynge ouer a Sap. ix. a people / which is as many in numbre as the dust vpon the earth. Graunte me wysedome therfore and knowlege / that I maye go out & in before this people: for who is able to iudge this great people of thyne?

iij Re. iij b † Then sayde God vnto Salomon: For so

C †So came Salomon from the hye place (which was at Gibeon) vnto Ierusalē from the Tabernacle of witnesse / and raigned ouer

and foure hundreth charrettes/& twelfe thousande horsemen: and those appoynted he to be in the charret cities/and with the kynge at Jerusalem. And the kinge brought it so to passe/that there was as muche syluer and gold at Ierusalem as stones: and as many Ceders/as the Molberye trees / that are in the valleys.
And there were horses brought vnto Salomon out of Egypte / & the kinges marchaun-tes fetched thē frō Kewa for money. And they came vp/and brought out of Egypte a char-rette for sixe hūdreth syluer pens / and an horse for an hundreth and fyfty. Thus brought they also vnto all the kynges of the Hethites / and to the kinges of the Syrians.

The. II. Chapter.

A AND Salomon thought to builde an house
vnto the name of the Lorde / & an house for his kyngdome: & tolde out three score and ten thousande men to beare burthens/& foure score thousande that hewed tymber vpon the mount/and three thousande and sixe hundreth

vnto Hiram the kynge of Tyre / sayinge: As iij Reg. v. c † thou dyddest with my father / and sendest hym Ceder trees / to buylde an house for to dwell in (euen so do thou with me also.) Be-holde/ I wyll buylde an house vnto the name of the Lorde my God / to sanctifie it/ for to burne good incence before hym / and alwaye to prepare the shewbread / and burntofferynges in the mornynge and in the euenynge/on the Sabbathes and new Moones / and solempne feastes of the Lord our God euermore for Israel.

And the house that I wyll buylde / shall be B great: for our God is greater thē al goddes.
But who is able to buylde hym an house? For heauen and the heauens of all heauens may not comprehende hym. Who am I then/ that I should buylde him an house? But onely for this intent to burne incence before hym?

Sende me now therfore a wyse man to worke with golde/syluer/brasse/yron/scarlet/purple / yalow sylke/ & suche one as can graue carued worke / with the wyse men that are with me in Iewry and Jerusalē / whome my father Dauid ordyned. And sende me tymber of Ceder/ pyne tree and costly wood from Li-banus: for I knowe that thy seruauntes can hew tymber vpon Libanus. And beholde/my seruauntes shalbe with thy seruauntes/to prepare me much tymber: for the house that I wyll buylde / shalbe great and maruaylous goodly.

And beholde/I wyll geue vnto the carpen- C
ters thy seruauntes / which hewe the tymber/twenty thousande quarters of beaten wheat/and twenty thousande quarters of barlye / & twenty thousande battes of wyne / and twēty
thousande battes of oyle.

Then sayde Hiram the kynge of Tyre by writynge / and sente it vnto Salomon: Because the Lorde loueth his people / therfore hath he made ỹ to be kinge ouer thē. And Hiram sayd moreouer: Praysed be the Lorde God of Israel/ which made heauē and earth/that he hath geuen kynge Dauid a wyse and prudent sōne/and such one as hath vnderstan-dynge to buylde an house vnto the Lorde / & an house for his realme. Therfore sende I now a wyse man that hath vnderstandynge/iij. Reg. vij. † euen Hiram Abi (which is the sonne of a D womā of the doughters of Dan / & hys father was of Tire) which can worke in golde/siluer/brasse/yron/stone/tymber/scarlet/ yalowe silke/lynen/purple/ and to carue all maner of thyn-ges/ & to make what cunnyng thynge so euer is geuen hym/with thy wyse men / and with the wyse men of my lorde kynge Dauid thy father. And now let my lorde sende the wheat/barly/oyle and wyne vnto his seruauntes/ accordynge as he hath sayde/& so wyll we hewe
the tymber vpon Libanus / as much as thou nedest

nedest / and wyll brynge it by flotes in the see vnto Japho/from whence thou maiest bringe
it vp to Jerusalem.

And Salomon numbred all the straūgers
in the lande of Israel/accordynge to the num-bre whan Dauid his father numbred them/and there were founde an hundreth and fyftie thousande/three thousande and sixe hundreth.
And of ỹ same he made three score & ten thousande bearers of burthens / and foure score thousande hewers vpon the mounte/and three thousande and sixe hūdreth ouerseyers/ which helde the people at theyr worke.

The. III. Chapter.

A AND † Salomō beganne to buyld ỹ house
ij. Re. vj. a of the Lord at Jerusalem vpon ỹ mount and xxij. d Moria/ *that was shewed vnto Dauid his father / whiche Dauid had prepared for the rowme vpon the corne floore of Arnan the Jebusite. In the seconde daye the seconde mo-neth / in the fourth yeare of his raygne be-ganne he to buylde. And so layed Salomon the foundacyon to buylde the house of God:
Fyrst the length three score cubytes: the bredth
twenty cubytes: and the porche before ỹ wyd-nesse of the house was twentye cubites longe/
but the heyght was an hundreth and twētye/
and he ouerlayed it on the insyde with pure golde.

But the great house syled he with Pyne-tree/and ouerlayed it with the best golde / and made palmes trees / and throwneworke ther- B on/and ouerlayed the house with precious stones to bewtifye it. As for ỹ golde/it was golde of Peruaim. And the balkes & postes aboue/and the walles and the dores of it ouerlayed
he with golde/& caused Cherubins to be carued on the walles.

He made also the house of the moost holy/whose length was twēty cubites / accordinge
to the wydnesse of the house: & the bredth of it was twentye cubites likewyse/ & he ouerlayed
it with the best golde by sixe hundreth talentes. And fornayles he gaue fyftye sycles of golde in weyght / and ouerlayed the chaum-bers with golde. He made also in the house of ỹ moost holy/two Cherubins of carued worke/and ouerlayed them with golde: & the length on the wyngēs of the Cherubins was twenty cubites/so that one wynge had fyue cubites.
and touched the wall of the house: and the other wynge had fyue cubites also / and touched the wynge of the other Cherub.

Euen so had one wynge of the other Che- C rub fyue cubites likewyse/& touched the walle of the house: and his other wynge had fyue cubites also/ and touched the wynge of the other Cherub: so that these wynges of the Che-rubins were spred out twenty cubites wyde.
And they stode vpon theyr fete/ and theyr face
was turned towarde the house.

He made a vayle also of yalowe sylke / scarlet/purple and lynenworke/and made Cheru-bins theron. †And before the house he made iij. Re. iij b two pyllers fyue and thyrtye cubites longe/
and the knoppes aboue theron/ fyue cubytes.
And he made throwne worke for the quere/and put it aboue vpon the pyllers: and made an hundreth Pomgranates/ and put them on the wrythen worke. And he set vp the pillers before the temple/the one on the right hande/
and the other on the left: and that on the right hande called he Jachin/and it on the left hāde called he Boas.

The. IIII. Chapter.

HE made a brasen aultare also/ twenty cu- A bytes long/and twenty cubytes broade/& ten cubytes hye. † And he made a moltē lauer iij. Re. vij. c ten cubites wyde/from the one syde to ỹ other rounde aboute/ and fyue cubytes hye. And a meetlyne of thyrtie cubytes might comprehēd it about. And ymages of bullockes were vnder it. And about the lauer (which was tē cubytes wyde) there were two rowes of knop-pes/that were molten withall.

It stode so vpon the bullockes / ỹ three were turned towarde the Northe/ three towarde the West/ three towarde the South / and three to-warde ỹ East / and the lauer aboue vpon thē/& all theyr hynder partes were on the insyde.
The thyckenesse of it was an hande bredth/and the edge of it was lyke the edge of a cuppe / &
as a floured rose. And it conteyned three thousande battes.

† And he made ten kettels / wherof he set iij. Re. vij. c fyue on the ryghte hande/and fyue on the left/to washe in them suche thynges as belōged to the burntofferinge / that they myghte thrust them therin: but the lauer (made he) for the priestes to washe in.

Ten golden candelstickes made he also as they ought to be / and set them in the temple: fyue on the right hande/and fyue on the lefte. And made ten tables / and set thē in the temple: fyue on the ryghte hande/ and fyue on the lefte. And made an hundreth basens of golde. He made a courte lykewyse for the priestes / & a great court / and dores in the court / & ouerlayed the dores with brasse. And the lauer set he on the ryghte syde towarde the Southeast. And Hiram made cauldrons / shouels and basens.

So Hiram fynished the worke which he made for kynge Salomō in the house of God: namely the two pyllers with the roūdels and knoppes aboue vpon both the pyllers / & both the wrythen ropes to couer both the roundels of the knoppes aboue vpon the pyllers / and ỹ foure hundreth Pomgranates on both the wrythen ropes / two rowes of Pomgranates on euery rope / to couer the roūdels of ỹ knoppes that were aboue vpon the pyllers.

He made the stoles also and the kettels vpon the stoles / and a lauer / & twelf bullockes there vnder. And pottes / shoucls / fleshokes / & all their vessels made Hirā Abif of pure metall for kynge Salomon vnto the house of the Lord. In the coast of Iordane / dyd the king cause them to be moltē in thicke earth bewene Suchoth and Zaredatha.

And Salomō made all these vessels / which were so many / that the weyght of the metall was not to be sought out. And Salomon made all the ornaments for the house of God: namely the golden aultar / the tables / and the shewbreads thereon / the candelstickes with their lampes of pure golde / to burne before ỹ quere accordynge to the maner: and the floures / and the lampes / and the snoffers were of golde / and all these were of pure golde.

And the knyues / basens / spones and pottes / were of pure golde. And the intraunce & his dores within vnto the Moost holy / and the dores of the house of the temple were of golde. Thus was all the worke fynyshed which Salomon made in the house of the Lord.

The. V. Chapter.

AND † Salomō brought in all that his father Dauid had sanctified / namely / syluer and golde / and all maner of ornamentes / and layed thē in the treasures of the house of God. iij. Re. vij. a † Then gathered Salomon all the Elders in Israel togither / all the heades of the trybes / princes of the fathers amonge the chyldren of Israel vnto Ierusalem / to bringe vp the Arke of the couenaunt of the Lord out of the cytie of Dauid / that is Sion. And there resorted vnto the kynge all the men in Israel at the feaste / that is in the seuenth moneth / and al the Elders in Israel came.

And the Leuites toke the Arke / & brought it vp with the tabernacle of witnesse / and all the holy vessels that were in the tabernacle: and the priestes and Leuites brought them vp. As for kynge Salomon / and all the congregacyon of Israel that was gathered vnto him before the Arke / they offred shepe and oxen / so many / that noman coulde numbre nor reken them.

Thus the priestes brought the Arke of the B couenaunt of the Lord vnto her place in the quere of the house / euen in to the Moost holy vnder the wynges of the Cherubins / so that the Cherubins spred out their wynges ouer the place of the Arke: and the Cherubins couered the Arke and the staues therof from aboue. And the staues were so longe that the knoppes of them were sene from the Arke before the quere / but on the outsyde were they not sene. And it was there vnto this daye.

† And there was nothynge in the Arke / saue the two tables / whiche Moses put therin at Horeb / whan the Lord made a couenaunt with the chyldren of Israel / what time as they were departed out of Egypte. iij. re.

And whan the priestes wente out of the Sanctuary (for al ỹ priestes that were found / sanctified thē selfes / because the courses were not kepte) the Leuites with all those that were C vnder Asaph / Heman / Iedithun / and their chyldren and brethren / beyng clothed in lynnen / songe with Cymbales / psalteries & harpes / and stode towarde the Eastparte of the aultare / and an hundreth and twentye priestes with them / which blewe with trōpettes. And it was / as if one dyd trōpet and singe / as though a voyce had bene herde of prayesinge and geuynge thankes vnto the Lorde.

And whan the voyce arose from the trompettes / cymbales and other instrumentes of musick musick / and from prayesinge the Lorde / (because he is gracyous / and because his mercy endureth for euer) the house of the Lorde was fylled on the insyde with a cloude / so that the priestes coulde not stande to minister for the cloude: for the glorie of the Lorde fylled the house of God.

The. VI. Chapter.

THen sayde † Salomon: The Lorde sayde / that he wolde dwell in a darck cloud: I haue buylded an house to be an habitacyon vnto the: and a seate / that thou mayest dwell there for euer. And the kyng turned his face / and blessed all the congregacion of Israel: for the whole congregacion of Israel stode / and he sayde: Prayesed be the Lorde God of Israel / which promised by his mouth vnto my father Dauid / and with his hande hath vij. b fulfylled it / whan he sayde: † Sence the tyme viij. c that I brought my people out of the lande of Egypte / I haue chosen no cytie in all the trybes of Israel / to buyld an house for my name to be there / neyther haue I chosen any man to be prince ouer my people of Israel. † But Ierusalē haue I chosen for my name to be there: and Dauid haue I electe / to be prince ouer my people of Israel. vij. c

And whan my father Dauid was minded B to buylde an house vnto the name of ỹ Lorde God of Israel / the Lord sayde vnto Dauid my father: Where as thou wast mynded to buylde an house vnto my name / thou haste done well: howbeit / thou shalte not builde the house / but thy sonne whiche shall come out of thy loynes / shall buylde the house vnto my name.

Thus hath the Lorde now perfourmed his worde / that he spake: for I am come vp in my fathers Dauids steade / & syt vpon the seat of Israel / euen as the Lorde sayde / and haue buylded an house vnto the name of the Lord God of Israel / and in it haue I put the Arke / wherin is the couenaūt of the Lord / which he made with the chyldren of Israel.

And he stode before the aultare of ỹ Lorde / C in the presence of the whole congregacion of Israel / and spred out his handes: for Salomō had made a brasen pulpit / & set it in the mydes of the court / fyue cubytes longe / & fyue cubites broade / and three cubytes hye: vpon the same stode he / and fell doune vpon his knees / in the presence of the whole congregacion of Israel / and helde out his hādes towarde heauen and sayde:

†O Lord God of Israel / there is no God iij. re. viij. c lyke the / neyther in heauen nor vpō earth / thou that kepest couenaunt and mercy for thy seruauntes / that walke before the with all their herte. Thou hast kept promes with my father Dauid thy seruaunt: With thy mouth thou saydest it / & with thy hande hast thou fulfylled it / as it is come to passe this daye. Now Lorde God of Israel / make good vnto my father Dauid thy seruaūt / that which thou hast promysed him and sayd: Thou shalt not wante a man before me / to syt vpon the seate of Israel: if thy chyldren kepe their waye / so that they walke in my lawe / lyke as thou haste walked before me: Now Lord God of Israel / let thy worde be verified / which thou hast promysed vnto Dauid thy seruaunt.

For thynkest thou that God in very dede D dwelleth amōge men vpon earth? † Beholde / Esa. lxvj. & the heauen & the heauens of all heauens maye Ier. xxiij. d not conteyne the: how shoulde thē this house Act. vij. c do it / which I haue buylded? Heare now therfore the intercession of thy seruaunt / & of thy people of Israel: whatsoeuer thei shal desyre in this place / heare thou it from the place of thy habitacion / euen from heauen: and whan thou hearest it / be mercyfull.

The. VII. Chapter.

And whan Salomō had ended his prayer / A there fell a fyre frō heauen / and consumed the burntofferynge and the other offerynges. And the glory of the Lorde fylled the house / so that the priestes coulde not go in to ỹ house of the Lorde / whyle the glorye of the Lorde fylled the Lordes house. And all the chyldre of Israel sawe the fyre fall doune / and the glorye of the Lorde ouer the house: and they fell on they: knees with they: faces to the grounde vpon the pauement / and worshipped / & gaue thankes thankes vnto the Lorde / because he is gracyous / & because his mercy endureth for euer. As for the kinge and all the people / they offred before the Lorde.

For kinge Salomon offred two and twenty thousande bullockes / and an hūdreth thousande and twenty thousand shepe / and so both the kynge / & all the people dedicated the house of God.

B But the priestes stode in they: watches / and the Leuites with the musical instrumentes of the Lorde / which kinge Dauid had caused to make for to geue thankes vnto the Lorde / (because his mercy endureth for euer) with psalmes of Dauid thorow they: hande. And the priestes blewe trompettes ouer agaynst them / and all Israel stode.

And Salomon halowed the middelmost court / which was before the house of the Lorde / for there prepared he the burntofferinges / and the fat of the thākeofferinges. For the brasen aultare that Salomon made / myght not conteyne all the burntofferinges / and the fat.

iij. re. viij. g † And at the same tyme helde Salomon a feast seuen dayes longe / and all Israel with hym a very great congregacion / from Hemeth vnto the ryuer of Egypte / and on the eyght daye helde he a conuocacion. For the dedicacion of the aultare helde they seuen dayes / and the feast seuen dayes also.

But on the thre and twentyeth daye of the seuēth moneth / he let the people go vnto they: tentes ioyfull and with mery hertes / because of all the good that the Lorde had done vnto Dauid / vnto Salomon / and to his people of Israel.

E † Thus fynished Salomon the house of re. ix. a the Lorde / and the kinges house / and al that came in his herte to make in the house of the Lorde / & in his owne house / prospereously. And the Lorde appeared vnto Salomon in the nyght season / and sayd vnto hym: I haue
ar. vj. a herde thy prayer / † and chosen this place vnto my selfe for an house of sacryfice. Beholde / whā I shut the heauen so that it rayne not / or cōmaunde the gresshopper to consume ỹ lāde / or cause a pestilence to come amonge my people / to humble my people / which is named after my name: and if they praye / and seke my face / and turne from they: euel wayes / thē wil I heare them from heauen / and wyll forgeue they: synne / and heale they: lande. So shall myne eyes now be open / & mine eares shalbe attente vnto prayer in this place. Thus haue I now chosen this house / & sanctified it / that myne name maye be there for euer: and myne eyes and my herte shall allwaye be there.

And if thou walke before me / as thy father D Dauid walked / so that thou do all that I cōmaunde the / and kepe myne ordinaunces and lawes / thē wyll I stably the ỹ seat of thy kingdome / accordynge as I promysed thy father Dauid / and sayd. † Thou shalt not wante a iij. Re. vij. c man to be lorde ouer Israel. But if ye turne backe / and forsake myne ordinaunces & commaundementes / whiche I haue layed before you / and so go youre waye / & serue other goddes / and worshipe them / then wil I rote ✠ you Some out of my land that I haue geuen you: & thys reade: house which I haue sanctified vnto my name them. wil I caste awaye out of my presence / and geue it ouer to be a byworde & fabell among all nacions. And euery one that goeth by / shalbe astonied at this hye house / and shall hysse at it / and saye: † Wherfore hath the Lorde dealte deut. xxix. d thus with this lande & with this house: Then Iere. xxij. b shal it be sayd: Euen because they haue forsake the Lord God of they: fathers (ỹ broughte them out of the lande of Egipt) and haue cleued vnto other goddes / and worshipped thē / and serued them: therfore hath he brought all this euel vpon them.

The. VIII. Chapter.

And † after twenty yeares (wherin Salo A iij. Re. ix. c mon buylded the house of the Lorde & his owne house) he buylded the cytyes also which Hiram gaue vnto Salomon / and caused the chyldren of Israel to dwel therin. And Salomon went vnto Hemath Zoba / & made it stronge / and buylded Thadmor in the wyldernesse / and al the corne cytyes which he builded in Hemath. He buylded the vpper and lower Bethoron lykewyse / so that they were stronge cities with walles / portes and barres / and Balath. And all the corne cytyes which Salomon had / and all the cyties of the charrettes and of the horsemen / and all that Salomon had lust to builde / both at Ierusalem and vpon Libanus / and in all the lande of his dominion.

B All the remnaũt of the people of the Hethites/Amorites/Pheresites/Heuites & Iebusites/which were not of the chyldren of Israel/ & theyr chyldren which they had lefte behinde them in the lande/(whome the children of Israel had not vtterly destroied) those dyd Salomõ make tributaries vnto this daye. As for the chyldrẽ of Israel/Salomõ made no bondmen of them vnto his worke/but they were men of warre/and chefe captaynes/and ouer his charrettes and horsemen. And the chiefe of kinge Salomons officers were two hũdreth and fyfty/which ruled the people.

And Salomon caused Pharaos doughter to be fetched vp out of the cytie of Sauid/ in to the house that he had builded for her. For he sayd: My wyfe shal not dwel in the house of Sauid ỹ kinge of Israel/for it is sanctified/ in as much as the Arke of the Lorde is come into it.

C Then offred Salomon burntofferinges vnto the Lorde vpon the Lordes aultare/ which he had buylded before the porche/euery
Nu. xxviij. one vpon his daye to offer after † the cõmaundement of Moses/on the Sabbathes/new Moones/and at the appoynted seasons of the
Exo. xxiij.b yeare/euen † thre tymes/namely in the feast of vnleuended bread/in the feast of wekes/and in the feast of Tabernacles.

And he set ỹ prestes in ordre to theyr ministracio/ † accordynge as Sauid hys father had
j. Par. xxiij.d appoynted/and the Leuites in theyr offices/to geue thankes/and to minister in the presence of the priestes/euery one vpon his daye. And the dorekepers in theyr courses/euery one at his dore/for so had Sauid the man of God commaunded.

D And they departed not from the kinges cõmaundement ouer the priestes and Leuites in euery matter/and in the treasures. Thus was all Salomons busynesse made ready/frõ the daye that the foundacio of the Lordes house was layed/tyll it was fynished/so that the house of the Lord was all prepared.

iij Re. ix.e † Then went Salomõ vnto Ezeon Geber/ and vnto Eloth by the seesyde in the lande of Edomea. And Hirã sent him shippes by his seruauntes/which had knowlege of the see/ and they wente with Salomons seruauntes vnto Ophir/and fetched from thence foure hundreth and fyfty talentes of golde/and brought it vnto kynge Salomon.

The. IX. Chapter.

A Nd † whã ỹ Quene of ryche Arabia herde ỹ fame of Salomon/she came with a very iij. Reg great treyne to Ierusalẽ/(with camels ỹ bare Nam. spyces and golde/& precyous stones) to proue Salomon with darke sentences. And whan she came vnto Salomon/she spake vnto him all that she had deuysed in her mynde. And ỹ kyng told her all her matters/and Salomon had nothynge in secrete/but he tolde it her.

And whan the Quene of ryche Arabia sawe the wysedome of Salomõ/and the house that he had buylded/the meates of his table/the dwellinges of his seruauntes/the offices of his ministers/and theyr garmentes/and his butlers/and theyr apparel/& his parler where he wente vp in to the house of the Lorde/she could no longer refrayne. And she sayde vnto the kynge: It is true that I haue herde in my land of thy behaueour/and of thy wysedome: howbeit/I wold not beleue theyr wordes/tyll
B I came my selfe/and sawe it with myne eyes: and beholde/the halfe of thy great wysedome hath not bene tolde me: there is more in the/ then the fame that I haue herde. Happy are thy men/and happy are these thy seruauntes/ that alwaye stande before the/and heare thy wysedome. Praysed be the Lorde thy God/ whiche had suche pleasure vnto the/that he hath set the vpon his seate to be kynge vnto the Lorde thy God. Because thy God loueth Israel/to set them vp for euer/therfore hath he ordeyned the to be kynge ouer them/ that thou shouldest mantayne iustice and equite.

And she gaue the kinge an hundreth and twenty talentes of golde/and very much spycery and precious stones. There were no mo such spices as these/that the Quene of rych Arabia gaue vnto kinge Salomon. And Hirams seruauntes/and the seruaũtes of Salomõ/which brought golde frõ Ophir/brought costly tymber also and precyous stones:

C And of the same costly tymber dyd Salomon cause to make stayers in the house of the Lorde/and in the kynges house/and harpes and psalteries for the musicians. There was no suche timber sene before in ỹ lãde of Iuda.

But

But kyng Salomõ gaue the Quene of riche Arabia all that she desyred & axed/and muche more then she had brought vnto the kinge. And she returned/& departed into her lande with her seruauntes.

The golde that was brought vnto Salomon in one yeare/was sixe hundreth and sixe & thre score talentes/besydes that the chapmẽ and marchaũtes brought. And all the kinges of the Arabians/and the lordes in the lande brought golde & siluer vnto Salomon. Of the which kinge Salomon made two hundreth speares of beaten golde/so that sixe hundreth peces of beaten golde came vpon one speare: & thre hundreth shildes of beaten gold/ so that thre hundreth peces of beaten golde came to one shylde: and the kinge put them in the house of the wood of Libanus.

D And the king made a great seate of Yuery/ and ouerlayed it with pure golde: & the seate had sixe steppes/and a fotestole of golde fastened vnto the seate/and it had two leaninge postes vpon both the sydes of the seate/& two Lyons stode besyde the leanynge postes/and there stode twelfe Lyons vpon the sixe steppes on both the sides. In al realmes hath not such one bene made.

And all kynge Salomons drinkinge vessels were of golde/and all the vessels of the house of the wood of Libanus/were of pure gold: for syluer was rekened nothing in Salomons time. For the kinges shippes wente vpon the see with the seruauntes of Hiram/ and came once in thre yeare/& brought gold/ syluer/Yuery/Apes and Pecokes.

Thus was kinge Salomon greater then al the kinges vpon earth/in ryches & wysedome. And all the kinges of the earth desyred (to se) Salomons face/& to heare his wysedom/which God had geuen him in his hert. And they brought him yearly euery man his present: Jewels of syluer and gold/raiment/ harnasse/spices/horses and mules.

E † And Salomon had foure thousand charRe. iiij.c rethorses/and twelfe thousande horsemen/& put them in the charretcities/and with the kynge at Ierusalem. And he was lorde ouer all the kynges from the water vnto the lande of the Philistines/and to the coast of Egypte. And the king brought it so to passe/that there was as muche syluer at Ierusalem as stones/ & as many Cedres/as there were Molbery trees in the valleis. And there were horses brought vnto hym out of Egypte/and out of all contries.

What more there is to saye of Salomon/ both of his fyrst and of his last/beholde/it is wrytten in the Cronicles of the prophete Nathan/and in the prophecyes of Ahia of Silo/ and in the actes of Iedde the Seyer agaynst Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat. And Salomon raygned at Ierusalem ouer all Israell fourtye yeares. And Salomon fell on slepe with his fathers/and was buryed in the cytie of Sauid his father. And Roboam his sonne was kynge in his steade.

And Ieroboã came with all Israel/& spake to Roboam/and sayd: Thy father made our yock greuous/make thou lighter now the hard bondage of thy father/& the heauy yocke ỹ he layed vpon vs/& we wil submitte our selfes vnto the. He saide vnto them: Come to me againe ouer thre dayes. And the people went theyr waye.

And Roboam the kynge axed counsaill at B the Elders/which had stande before Salomõ his father whyle he lyued/& he saide: What is your counsail/that I maye geue this people an aunswere? They spake vnto hym/& sayde: If thou be louynge vnto this people/& deale gently with them/& geue them good wordes/ then shal they alwaye be obedient vnto the. Neuertheless/he forsoke the counsayl of the Elders ỹ they had geuen him/& toke counsail at the yonge men/which were growen vp vnto him/& stode before him. And he said vnto them: What is your counsayl/that we maye aunswere this people/which haue spokẽ vnto me/ & said: Make our yock lyghter/that thy father layed vpon vs? The yongemẽ that were growen vp with him/spake vnto hym/& sayde: Thus shalte thou saye vnto the people/that haue talked with the and spoken: Thy father

Now whan Jeroboam and al the people came to Roboam on the thyrde daye (according as the kynge saide: Come to me againe on the thirde daye/) the kynge gaue them an harde aunswere. And Roboam the kinge forsoke the counsayl of the elders/ and spake vnto them after the yong mens counsail/ and said: If my father haue made your yock to heauy/ I wyl make it yet heauyer. My father chastened you with scourges/ but I wyl beate you with scorpions. Thus the kynge folowed not the peoples mynde: for so was it determined of God/ that the Lorde myght stablish his iij. Jeroboā the sonne of Nebat. But whan al Israel sawe that the kynge wolde not consente vnto them/ the people aunswered the kynge & said: What porcyon haue we then in Dauid/ or inheritaunce in the sonne of Jsai? Let euery man of Jsrael get him to his tente. Loke thou now to thy house Dauid. And al Jsrael wēt vnto their tentes/ so that Roboā raigned but ouer the children of Jsrael that dwelt in ỹ cities of Juda. And Roboā the kinge sent forth Adoram the rentgatherer/ but the children of Jsrael stoned him to death. And king Roboā strengthed himselfe vpon his charrette/ to flie vnto Jerusalem. Thus fell Jsrael away from the house of Dauid vnto this daye.

The. XI. Chapter.

And † whan Roboam came to Jerusalem/ iij. Re. xij. c he gathered together the house of Juda and Ben Jamin/ (euen an hundreth and foure score thousande chosen men of armes) to fyght against Jsrael/ that they might bring the kyngdome agayne vnto Roboam. But the worde of the Lord came to Semaia the man of God/ & said: Speake to Roboam the sonne of Salomon kynge of Juda/ & to al Jsrael that are in Juda & Ben Jamin/ and saye: Thus sayeth the Lorde: Ye shall not go vp/ nor fyghte agaynste your brethren: let euery man go home againe/ for this is my dede.

They herkened vnto ỹ wordes of the Lord/ & wente not forth against Jeroboam. As for Roboam/ he dwelt at Jerusalem/ and builded vp the stronge cities in Juda/ namely Bethleem: Etan/ Tekoa/ Bethzur/ Socho/ Adullā/ Gath/ Maresa/ Siph/ Adoraim/ Laches/ Aseka/ Zarega/ Aialon/ and Hebron/ (which were the fenced cities in Juda and Ben Jamin) & he made them stronge/ and set princes therin/ and prouided them of vitayles/ oyle & wyne/ and in al cities prepared he shildes and speares/ and made them very stronge. And Juda and Ben Jamin were vnder him.

The priestes and Leuites also came vnto B him out of al Jsrael/ and from all the borders therof. And lefte their suburbes & possession/ and came to Juda vnto Jerusalem: † for Jeij. And so strengthed they the kyngdome of Juda/ & mantained Roboam the sonne of Salomon thre yeare longe: for they walked in the waye of Dauid and Salomon thre yeares.

And Roboam toke Mahelath the doughC ter of Jeremoth the sonne of Dauid to wyfe/ & Abihail ỹ doughter of Eliab the sonne of Jsai/ which bare him these sonnes: Jeus/ Semaria and Saham. † After her toke he Maiij. But Roboam loued Maecha the doughter of Absalom better then all his wifes & concubines: for he had eyghtene wyfes & thre score concubines/ and begat eight and twenty sonnes/ and thre score doughters. And Roboam set Abia the sonne of Maecha to be heade and prince amonge his brethren: for he thought to make him kinge: for he was wyse/ and more mighty then al his sonnes in al the contries of Juda and Ben Jamin/ and in al the stronge cyties. And he gaue them plenteousnes of foode/ and desyred many wyfes.

Then came Semaia the prophet vnto Roboam/ & to the rulers of Juda (whiche were gathered together at Jerusalem for Sisack) & sayd vnto them: Thus sayeth the Lorde: Ye haue lefte me/ therfore haue I lefte you also in Sisacks hande. Then the rulers in Jsrael with the kynge submitted them selfes and said: The Lord is ryghteous.

B But whan the Lorde sawe that they humbled them selfes/ the worde of the Lord came to Semaia/ and sayde: They haue humbled them selfes/ therfore wyll I not destroye them/ but I wyll geue them a lytle delyueraunce/ that my indignacion fal not vpon Jerusalem by Sisack: for they shalbe subdued vnto hym/ that they maye knowe what it is to serue me/ & to serue the kyngdomes of the worlde.

Thus wente Sisack the kynge of Egipte vp to Jerusalem/ and toke the treasures in the house of the Lord/ and the treasures in the kynges house/ and caryed all awaye/ and

And for so muche as he submytted hymselfe/ the wrath of the Lord turned from hym/ so that all was not destroyed: for there was yet some good in Juda.

These actes of Roboam/ both fyrst and last/ are written in the actes of Semaia the prophet/ and of Iddo the Seyer/ and are noted/ and so are the warres that Roboā & Jeroboā had together as longe as they lyued. And Roboam fell on slepe with his fathers/ and was buryed in the cytie of Dauid/ & Abia his sōne was kynge in his steade.

And Abia prepared himselfe to the battayl with foure hundreth thousande stronge chosen men of warre. But Jeroboam made himselfe ready to fyght against him with eyghte hundreth thousande chosen men of strength.

And Abia gat hym vp vpon the hyll Zemaraim/ which lyeth vpon mount Ephraim/ and sayde: Herken vnto me thou Jeroboam and all Jsraell: Knowe ye not that the Lord God of Jsrael hath geuen Dauid the kyngdome of Jsrael for euer/ vnto hym and hys sonnes with a Salt conuenaunt? And the chyldren of Israel fled before Juda/& God gaue them into theyr handes/so that Abia and his people dyd a greate slaughter vpon them/& there fell wounded of Israel fyue hundreth thousande chosen men.

D Thus were the children of Israel subdued at the tyme/but the children of Juda were cõforted/for they put theyr trust in the Lorde God of theyr fathers. And Abia folowed vpon Jeroboam/& wanne cyties from hym/ Bethel with the villages therof/Jesana with her villages/and Ephron with the villages thereof/so that Jeroboam came nomore to strenght as longe as Abia lyued. And all Juda were glad ouer ỹ ooth: for they had sworne with al theyr herte/and they soughte hym with a whole wyl: & he was found of them/and the Lord gaue them rest on euery syde.

And Asa the kynge put doune his mother D Maecha from the mynistracyon/that she had founded in the groue vnto Miplezeth/and Asa roted out her Miplezeth/and dyd beate it in sunder/and burnte it by the broke Cedron. And he put men of warre in all the stronge cyties of Juda / and set officers in the lande of Juda/and in the cytics of Ephraim/which Asa his father had wonne. And he counsayled him to go vp vnto Ramoth in Gilead. And Achab the kynge of Israell sayde vnto Josaphat the kynge of Juda: Go with me vnto Ramoth in Gilead. He saide vnto hym: I am as thou/and my people as thy people / we wyll go with the vnto the battayll.

But Josaphat sayd vnto the kynge of Israell: Axe counsayll (I praye the) this daye at the worde of the Lorde. And the kynge of Israel gathered the propheres together/ euen foure hundreth men / and sayde vnto them: Shall we go to the battayl vnto Ramoth in Gilead/or shal I let it alone. They saide: Go vp/God shal delyuer it into ỹ kynges hande. But Josaphat sayd: Is there not yet one prophete of the Lord here/that we maye axe at him? The king of Israel said vnto Josaphat: There is yet one man/at whome we maye axe at the Lord: But I hate hym/for he prophecyeth me no good/but alwaye euell/ namely Micheas the sonne of Iemla. Josaphat sayde: Let not the kynge saye so. And the king of Israel called one of his chamberlaynes/ and sayde: Bringe hither sone Micheas the sonne of Iemla.

B And the kynge of Israel/and Josaphat the kynge of Juda/ sat eyther of them vpon his seate / arayed in theyr garmentes. Euen in the place at the doze of the porte of Samaria sat they/and all the prophetes prophecyed before them. And Sedechias the sonne of Cnaena had made hym hornes of yron/and sayde: Thus sayeth the Lorde: With these shalte thou push at the Sirions: tyll thou bringe them to naughte. And all the prophetes prophecyed lykewyse / and sayde: Go vp vnto Ramoth in Gilead/and thou shalte prospere/ and the Lorde shal delyuer it into the kynges hande.

And the messaunger that wente to call Micheas/ spake vnto hym / and sayde: Beholde/the wordes of the prophetes are with one accorde good before the kynge: let thy worde (I praye the) be as one of theyrs/and speake thou good also. But Micheas said: As truly as the Lord lyued/loke what my God sayeth vnto me/that wyll I speake. And whā he came to the kynge / the kynge sayde vnto hym: Micheas/shoulde we go vnto Ramoth in Gilead to the battaill/or should we let it alone? He sayde: Go vp and ye shall prospere. It shalbe geuen you in your handes. But the kynge saide vnto him: I charge the yet agayn that thou tell me nothinge but the trueth in ỹ name of the Lord.

Then sayde he: I sawe all Israell scattered C abroade vpon the mountaynes / as the shepe that haue no shepeherde. And the Lorde sayd: Haue these no lord? Let euery one turne home agayne in peace. Then sayde the kynge of Israell vnto Josaphat: Syd not I tel the/ that he wolde prophecye me no good / but euell.

And he sayde: Therfore heare ye the worde of the Lorde: † I sawe the Lord syt vpon his seate/ and all the hooste of heauen standynge at his ryghte hande and at his lefte. And the Lord sayde: Who wyll deceaue Achab the kynge of Israell / that he maye go vp and fall at Ramoth in Gilead? And whā one sayde thus / another so/there came forth a spirete / and stode before the Lorde / and sayde: I wyll deceaue hym. The Lorde sayde vnto hym: Wherewith? He sayde: I wyl go forth/& be a false spirete in the mouth of all his prophetes. And he sayde: Thou shalt deceaue hym / and shalt be able: go thy waye/ and do so. Beholde now/ † the Lorde hath geuen a false spirete in the mouth of all these thy prophetes/and the Lord hath spoken euel against the.

Eze. xiij.b

Then stepte forth Sedechias the sonne of D Cnaena/and smote Micheas vpon the cheke/ & saide: Which waye is the spirete of the Lorde departed fro me / to speake thorowe the? Micheas sayde: Beholde/thou shalt se it/whā thou commest into the ynmost chaumber to hide the. But the kynge of Israel sayde: Take Micheas/and let hym remaine with Amon the ruler of the citie/and with Joas the sonne of Melech/and saye: Thus sayeth the kynge: Put this man in pryson / and sede him with bread and water of trouble/tyl I come again in peace. Micheas sayde: If thou commest agayne in peace / then hath not the Lorde spoken spoken thorow me. And he saide: Herken to al ye people.

So the kynge of Israel/and Josaphat the kynge of Juda went vp vnto Ramoth in Gilead. And the kynge of Israel saide vnto Josaphat: Chaunge thy clothes/and come to the battail in thine araye. And the kynge of Israel chaunged his rayment/ and come into the battayll. But the kynge of Syria had commaunded the rulers of his charrettes. Ye shal fight neyther against small nor greate/But onely against the kynge of Israel.

Now whā the rulers of the charrettes saw Josaphat/they thought: It is the kyng of Israel/and they wente aboute to fighte against hym. But Josaphat cryed/ and the Lorde helped him. And God turned them frō him: for whā the rulers of the charrettes sawe that it was not the kynge of Israel/ they turned backe from hym. But a certaine man bended his bowe harde/and shot the kynge of Israel betwene the mawe and the longes. Thē sayd he vnto his charretman: Turne thyne hande/ and carie me out of the hooste/for I am wounded. And the battail was sore thesame daye. And the kynge of Israel stode vpon his charret against the Sirians vntyl the euenynge/& dyed whan the Sunne wente doune.

The. XIX. Chapter.

BVt Josaphat the kynge of Juda came home againe in peace vnto Jerusalem. And Jehu the sonne of Hanani the Seyer wente forth to mete hym/and saide vnto king Josaphat: Shouldest thou so helpe the vngodlye/and loue them that hate the Lorde? And for this cause is the wrath vpō the from the Lorde: neuertheles/ there is some good founde in the/that thou haste put the groues out of the lande/and hast prepared thyne hert to seke God. So Josaphat abode at Jerusalem.

B †And he wente again amonge the people/ ij. Pa. xvij b from Berseba vnto mount Ephraim/& brought hē againe vnto the Lorde God of their fathers. And he set Judges thorowout the lande/in al the stronge cities of Juda/and & certayne in euery cytie. And sayde vnto the iudges: Take hede what ye do: for ye execute not the iudgment of man/ but of the Lorde/ and he is with you in iudgment: therfore let the feare of the Lorde be with you/& beware/ and do it: for with the Lorde oure God there is no vnryghteousnes/nor respecte of persones/nor acceptinge of gyftes.

C And at Jerusalem dyd Josaphat ordeyne certayn of the Leuites and priestes/and of the auncient fathers of Israel for the iudgment of the Lorde/and ouer the matter of the law/ and caused them to dwell at Jerusalem/ and commaunded them/ and sayde: Se that ye do thus in the feare of the Lorde/ in fayth-fulnesse and in a perfecte herte. In all causes that come vnto you from youre brethren/ (which dwel in their cyties) betwene blonde and blonde/betwene lawe and commaundement/betwene statutes and ordinaunces/ ye shall enfourme them/ that they synne not against the Lorde/ and so the wrath to come vpon you and youre brethren. So thus/and ye shal not offende.

Beholde/Amaria the prieste is chiefe ouer you in all causes of the Lorde: so is Sebadia the sonne of Jsmael/prynce in ỹ house of Juda in al the kynges matters: Ye haue officers lykewise the Leuites before you. Take a good courage vnto you/ and be doynge/ and the Lorde shalbe with the good.

The. XX. Chapter.

AFter this came the children of Moab/ A the children of Ammon/and certaine of Amanim with them/to fyght against Josaphat. And they came and tolde Josaphat/and saide: There commeth a greate multitude against the from beyonde the see of Siria: and beholde/they are at Hazezon Thamar/ that is Engaddi.

And Josaphat was afrayed/and set his face to seke the Lorde/ and caused a fast to be proclaymed in all Juda. And Juda came together to seke the Lorde. And out of al the cytyes of Juda came they to seke the Lorde.

ij. Par. †And Josaphat stode amonge the congregacion of Juda and Jerusalem/in the house of ỹ Lorde/before the new courte and sayde.

O Lorde God of our fathers/art not thou God in heauen/and hast dominion in all the kyngdomes of ỹ heythen? And in thy hand is strenght and power/ and there is no man that can withstande the. Hast not thou oure God expelled the inhabiters of this lande before thy people of Israel? and hast geuē it vnto the sede of Abrahā thy louer for euer? so that they haue dwelt in it/ and haue buylded the a vpon whome † thou woldest not suffre the

O our God/ wilt thou not iudge them? For in vs is no strength to withstande this greate multitude that cōmeth agaynst vs. We know not what we shoulde do/ but oure eyes loke vnto the. And all Juda stode before the Lorde/ with their children/wyfes and sonnes.

C But vpon Jehasiel the sonne of Zacharias/ the sonne of Benaia/ the sonne of Jehiel/ the sonne of Mathania the Leuite of the children of Assaph/ came the spirite of the Lorde in the myddes of the congregacion/and sayd: Geue hede all thou Juda/ and ye inhabiters of Jerusalem/& thou kinge Josaphat: Thus sayeth the Lorde vnto you: Be not ye afrayed/ nor feare ye this greate multitude: for it is not ye that fyght/but God. To morō shal ye go doun vnto thē/at the read see by the broke: And beholde/they go vp by Cis/and ye shal fynde thē before the wilderneste of Jeruel: for ye shal not fyghte in this cause. So ye but steppe forth/ & stande/& se the health of ỹ Lorde that is with you. Feare not O Juda and Jerusalem/ and be not afrayed/ to morow go ye forth agaynst them/and the Lorde shall be with you.

Then Josaphat bowed hymselfe with his face to the earth/and all Juda/and the inhabiters of Jerusalē fell before ỹ Lorde/ and worshipped the Lorde. And the Leuites of the children of the Kahathites/and of the chyldren of the Corahites/arose to prayse ỹ Lorde God of Israel with loude voyce on hye. And they gat them vp earlye in the mornynge/ and wente forth by the wylderneste of Thekoa.

And whan they were goynge out/ Josaphat stode/and sayd: Herken vnto me O Juda/ and ye indwellers of Jerusalē: Put youre trust in the Lorde your God/ & ye shalbe safe: and geue credence vnto his prophetes/and ye shall prospere. And he gaue counsayl vnto the people/ and appoynted the syngers vnto the Lorde/and them that gaue prayse in the bewtye of the holynes/ to go before the harnessed men/ and to saye: O geue thankes vnto the Lorde/for hys mercye endureth for euer. And whan they began to geue thankes and praise/children of Ammō/ Moab/ and thē of mount Seir/and they smote thē. Then stode the children of Ammon and Moab agaynst them of mount Seir to damne them/ and to destroye them. And whan they had destroyed them of mount Seir/ one helped another to destroye them selfes also. And whan Juda came to Mispa vnto the wylderneste/ they turned thē towarde the multitude/and beholde/ the dead bodies laye vpon the earth/ so that none was escaped.

D And Josaphat came with his people to deuyde the spoyles of them. And they founde amonge them so much goodes and rayment & precious Jewels/ (which they toke frō them) that they coulde not beare thē. And three dayes were they deuydinge the spoyle/ for it was so much. On the fourth daye came they together in to ỹ valley of blessynge: for there blessed they the Lorde. Therfore is the place called the valleye of blessynge vnto this daye.

So euery man of Juda and Jerusalē turned backe agayne/and Josaphat before them/ to go to Jerusalem with ioye: for the Lorde had geuen them gladnesse on their enemyes. And they entred in to Jerusalem with psalteries/harpes and trompettes/vnto the house of the Lorde. And there came a feare of God ouer all the kingdomes in the landes/ whan they herde that the Lorde had fought against the enemyes of Israel. Thus was the kingdome of Josaphat in quyetnes/ & God gaue hym rest on euery syde.

F †And Josaphat raygned ouer Juda/ and

And he walked in the waye of his father Asa / and departed not asyde frō doynge / that whiche was right in the sight of the Lorde: sauyng that the hye places were not put doune / for the people had not yet prepared theyr herte to the God of theyr fathers. What more there is to say of Josaphat / both the fyrst and the last / beholde / it is wrytten in the actes of Jehu the sonne of Hanani / which he noted vp in the boke of the kynges of Israel.

iij.re.xxij.g † Afterwarde dyd Josaphat the kinge of Juda agre with Ahasia the kynge of Israel / which was vngodly in his doynges. And he agreed with hym to make shyppes / for to go vpon the see. And they made the shippes at Ezeon Gaber. But Elieser the sonne of Dodana of Maresa prophecyed agaynst Josaphat / & sayde: Because thou hast agreed with Ahasia / therfore hath the Lorde broken thy workes. And so the shyppes were broken / and might not go vpon the see.

The. XXI. Chapter.

A iij.re.xxij.g NAnd † Josaphat fell on slepe with his fathers / and was buryed with his fathers in the cytie of Dauid / and Joram his sonne was kyng in his steade. And he had brethren the sonnes of Josaphat Asaria / Jehiel / Zacharias / Asaria / Michael and Sephatia. All these were the chyldren of Josaphat kyng of Juda. And their father gaue thē many gyftes of syluer / and golde and Jewels / with stronge cyties in Juda. But the kyngdom gaue he vnto Joram: for he was the fyrst borne.

At the same tyme fell Libna awaye from hym also: because he forsoke the Lorde God of his fathers. He made hye places also on ỹ mountaynes in Juda / and caused them of Jerusalē to go a whorynge / and decaued Juda.

But there came a wrytynge vnto hym from C
the prophete Elias / sayinge: Thus sayeth the Lorde God of thy father Dauid: Because thou haste not walked in the wayes of thy father Josaphat / neyther in the wayes of Asa the kynge of Juda / but walkest in the waye of the kynges of Israel / and makest Juda and them of Jerusalem to go a whorynge after the whordome of the house of Achab / and hast slayne thy brethren also of thy fathers house / which were better thē thou. Beholde / ỹ Lord shall smite the wt a greate plague on thy people / on thy chyldren / and thy wyfes / and on all thy substaunce. But thou thy selfe shalt haue much syckneſſe in thy bowels / tyll thy bowels go forth from daye to daye for very payne.

So the Lorde rayſed vp agaynst Joram D
the spirite of the Philistines / and Arabians / which lye beſyde the Morians / and they went vp in to Juda / and wayſted it / and caryed awaye all the substaunce that was founde in the kynges house / and his sonnes / and his wyfes / so that there was not one sonne left hym / saue Joahas his yongeſt sonne. And after all this dyd the Lorde smyte him in his bowels / with such a syckneſſe as coulde not be healed. And whyle that endured from day to daye / whan the tyme of two yeares was expyred / his bowels wente from hym with his syckneſſe / and he dyed in euell diſeases.

And they made not a burnyng ouer hym as they dyd vnto his fathers. Two and thyrtye yeare olde was he whan he was made kynge / and raygned eyght yeare at Jerusalem / and walked not well. And they buried hym in the cytie of Dauid / but not amonge the

A re. viij d Paral. The. XXIIII. Chapter.

JOas † was seuen yeare olde whā he was made kinge/and raigned fourtye yeare at iiij. reg. Jerusalem. His mothers name was Zibea of Berseba. And Joas dyd that which was ryght in the syghte of the Lorde/as longe as Joiada the priest liued. And Joiada gaue him two wyfes / & he begat sonnes & doughters. Afterward deuised Joas to renew ꝑ house of the Lord/ & gathered together ꝑ priestes and Leuites/ & sayd vnto thē: Go forth vnto al the cyties of Juda / & gather the money of all Israel/to repayre the house of your God yearly/ and do it right sone: but the Leuites made no haist.

Then the kinge called Joiada the principal/ and said vnto him: Why lokest thou not vnto the Leuites / that they bringe in from Juda & Jerusalem/ † the collection which Moses the Exod. seruaunt of the Lorde appoynted /to be gathered amonge Israel for the tabernacle of wytnes? E And whan the yeare was gone about / the power of the Syrians wente vp/ and came to Juda and Jerusalē / and destroyed the rulers of the people/and sent al the spoyles of thē vnto the kinge at Damascon. For the power of the Syriās came but with a few mē/ yet gaue ꝑ Lorde a very great power in to theyr hāde/ because they had forsakē the Lorde God of theyr fathers. But there came a man of God vnto him/ B and sayde: O kynge/ Let not the hoost of Israel come with the: for ꝑ Lord is not with Israel/neyther with al the children of Ephraim. For if thou commest to shewe thy boldnes in the battayl / God shal make the to fall before thyne enemyes. For God hath power to helpe/ & to cause for to fal. Amasias sayd vnto the mā of God: What shalbe done then with the hundreth talentes that I haue geuen the souldyers of Israel: The man of God sayde: The Lord hath yet more thē this to geue ỹ. So Amasias separated out the men of warre/ which were come to hym out of Ephraim/ that they shoulde departe vnto theyr place. Thē waxed theyr wrath very whote agaynst Juda/ & they wēte againe vnto theyr place in wrothfull displeasur. And Amasias strēgthed himselfe/ and caryed out his people/ & wente forth into the salt valley/ and smote ten thousande of the chyldren of Seir.

And the chyldren of Juda toke ten thousande of thē alyue/ whome they brought vp to the toppe of a mountayne/ and cast thē doune headlynges from the toppe of the mount/ so that they all to barst in sunder. But the chyldren of the men of warre/ whome Amasias had sent awaye agayne/ (that they shoulde not go to the battayl with his people) fell in to the cytes of Juda/ from Samaria vnto Beth-Horon/ and smote thre thousande men/ and toke much spoyle.

C And whan Amasias came againe from the slaughter of the Edomites/ he broughte the goddes of ỹ chyldren of Seir/ & made them his goddes/ & worshipped before them/ and brent incence vnto them. Thē was the Lord very wroth at Amasias/ and sent vnto him a prophete/ which saide vnto hym: Why sekest thou the goddes of the people/ which could not delyuer theyr folke frō thy hande? And whan he talked with him/ ỹ kinge said vnto him: Haue they made the of the kinges counsayll? Ceasse/ why wilt thou be smittē? Then ỹ prophet ceassed & sayde: I perceaue that ỹ Lorde is minded to destroye the/ because thou hast done this/ and herkenest not vnto my counsayll.

iiij.re.xiiij b †And Amasias ỹ king of Juda toke cōsaill/ & sent vnto Joas ỹ sonne of Joahas ỹ sōne of Jehu kinge of Israel/ saying: Come/ let vs se one another. But Joas ỹ kinge of Israel sent vnto Amasias the kinge of Juda/ sayinge: †The hawthorne in Libanus sent vnto ỹ Cedre tree in Libanus/ saying: Geue thy doughter vnto my sonne to wyfe. But a wylde beast in Libanus rānc ouer the hawthorne/ & trode it doune. Thou thynkest: Beholde/ I haue smytten the Edomites/ therfore is thyne herte proude to boast. Now byde at home: why stryuest thou after myssfortune/ that thou mayest fall and Juda with the?

Judi.ix. a iiij. Esd. iiij b

Neuertheless/ Amasias cōsented not: for so was it brought to passe of God/ ỹ they myght be geuen in to the handes of the enemyes/ because they sought ỹ goddes of the Edomites. Then went Joas the kinge of Israel vp/ and they sawe one another/ he & Amasias the king of Juda/ At Beth Semes which lyeth in Juda. But Juda was smytten before Israel/ and they fled euery one vnto his tent.

And Joas the kynge of Israel toke Amasias the kynge of Juda/ the sonne of Joas the sonne of Joahas/ at Beth Semes/ & broughte him to Jerusalem/ and brake doune the wall of Jerusalem/ from the porte of Ephraim vnto the corner porte/ euen foure hundreth cubites longe: and toke with him al the golde/ and syluer/ and al the ornamentes that were foūde in the house of God with Obed Edom/ and in the treasures in the kynges house/ and the chyldren to pledge vnto Samaria. And Amasias the sonne of Joas kynge of Juda/ lyued after the death of Joas the sonne of Joahas kynge of Israel fyftene yeare.

What more there is to saye of Amasias/ (both the fyrst and last) behold/ it is written in the boke of the kynges of Juda and Israel. iiij.re.p † And from the tyme forth that Amasias departed from the Lord/ they cōspyred against him at Jerusalem. But he fled vnto Lachis. Then sent they after him vnto Lachis/ and slewe hym there. And they brought him vpon horses/ and buried him beside his fathers in the cytie of Juda.

The. XXVI. Chapter.

THen † all the people of Juda toke Osias/ whiche was sixtene yeare olde/ and made him kinge in stead of his father Amasias. A iiij.re.p He buylded Eloth/ & broughte it againe vnto Juda/ after that the kynge was fallē on slepe with his fathers. † Sixtene yeare olde was Osias whan he was made king/ & raigned two and fyfty yeare at Jerusalē. His mothers name was Jechalia of Jerusalem. And he dyd rycht in the syght of the Lord/ as his father Amasias had done/ † and sought God as longe as Zacharias lyued/ which taught in the visions of God: and as longe as he sought the Lorde/ God made him to prospere. iiij.re.xv. A iiij.Reg.

For he went forth/ and fought against the Philistines/

Philistines/ & brake doune ỹ walles of Gath/ and the walles of Jabne/ & the walles of Asdod/ and buylded cyties about Asdod/ and amonge the Philistines. For God helped hym against the Philistines/ agaynst the Arabiās/ agaynst them of Gur Baal/ and agaynst the Meunites. And the Amonites gaue Osias presentes/ and his name came into Egypte: for he was exceadynge stronge. And Osias buylded towres at Jerusalem vpon the cornerporte/ and on the valley gate/ and on other corners/ & made them strōge. He buylded castels also in the wylderneſſe/ & dygged many welles: for he had many cattel/ both in the medewes and in the plaines: housbandmen also and wynegardeners on the mountaines and on Carmel: for he delyted in housbandrye.

B And Osias had an hoost of men of warre goyinge forth to the battail/ which were numbred vnder the hande of Jeiel the scrybe and of Maesa the officer/ vnder the hande of Hanania of the kinges rulers. And the numbre of the chefe fathers amonge the stronge men of warre/ was two thousande & sixe hundreth. And vnder the hāde of the hoost thre hūdreth thousande/ and seuen thousand and fyue hundreth mete for the battayll/ in the strength of an armye to helpe the kynge agaynst the enemyes. And Osias prepared for al the hoost/ shildes/ speares/ helmettes/ brestplates/ bowes/ and slyngstones. And at Jerusalem he made ordinaunce connyngly/ to be vpon the towres and in the pynnacles/ to shute arowes and great stones. And the fame of hym came farre abroade/ because he was specyally helped/ tyll he became myghtye.

C And whan his power was great/ his hert arose to his owne destruccion: for he trespassed against the Lord his God/ and wente in to the tēple of the Lord/ to burne incence vpon the aultare of incence. But † Asarias ỹ priest wēt after him/ & foure score priestes of ỹ Lord with hym/ valeaunt mē/ & withstode king Osias/ & sayd vnto him: † It belōgeth not vnto thine office (Osias) to burne incence vnto the Lorde/ but vnto the priestes belōgeth it/ euē vnto the chyldren of Aaron/ whiche are halowed to burne incence. Go forth out of ỹ Sācteuary: for thou offendest/ and it shalbe no worshippe vnto the before God the Lorde. ar.viij. a .paralip. a

And Osias was wrothe/ and had a censure in his hāde. † And whyle he murmured with the priestes/ the leprosy sprong out of his forehead in the presence of the priestes/ in ỹ house of the Lord before the aultare of incēce. And Asarias the chefe priest turned his heade towarde hym/ & so did all the priestes/ & behold/ he was leper in his forehead. And they putte him out from thence. Yee/ he made haist hymselfe to go forth/ for his plague came from the Lorde. Thus became Osias the king a leper vnto his death/ and dwelt full of leprosy in a fre house: for he was put out of the house of ỹ Lorde. But Joram his sonne had the oversyght of the kynges house/ & iudged the people in the lande. S Num.xij. B

What more there is to say of Osias/ (both fyrst and last) Esay the sonne of Amos hath written it. And Osias fell on slepe with his fathers/ & they buryed him with his fathers in the pece of groūde besyde the kinges sepulchres: for they sayd: He is leperous. And Jotham his sonne was kinge in his steade.

The. XXVII. Chapter.

JOtham † was fyue & twenty yeare olde whan he was made kynge/ and raygned sixtene yeare at Jerusalē. His mothers name was Jerusa the doughter of Sadoc: and he dyd rycht in the syght of the Lorde/ as dyd Osias his father: sauyng that he went not in to the temple of the Lord/ and the people yet marred them selfes. He buylded the hye porte of the house of the Lorde/ and on the wall of Ophell buylded he much/ & buylded the cytes vpon the mountaines of Juda/ & in the woodes buylded he castels and towres. A iiij.re.xv. g

And he fought with the kinge of the childrē of Ammon/ and ouercame them/ so that the chyldren of Ammon gaue hym the same yeare an hundreth talentes of syluer/ ten thousande quarters of wheate/ and ten thousande of barlye. So much dyd the chyldren of Ammō geue hym also in the seconde & thyrde yeare. Thus became Jotham myghty/ for he gyded his waies before the Lorde his God. B

What more there is to saye of Jothā/ & all his warres/ and his wayes/ behold/ it is wrytte in the boke of the kinges of Israel & Juda. Fyue & twentye yeare olde was he whan he was made kynge/ and raygned sixtene yeare at Jerusalem. And Jotham fell on slepe with his fathers / and they buryed him in the cytie of Dauid / and Achas his sonne was kinge in hys steade.

The. XXVIII. Chapter.

A iij.re.xvj.a
ACHas † was twenty yeare olde whan he was made kynge / & raygned sixtene yeare at Jerusalem / and dyd not that which was ryght in the syght of the Lorde / as dyd Dauid his father / but walked in the wayes of the kynges of Israel / and made molten ymages vnto Baalim / and burnt incence in the valley d.u.xviij.b of the chyldren of Hennō / † & burnt his owne ii.j.re.xxj.a sonnes in the fyre after the abhominacions of the Heythen / whome the Lorde expelled before the chyldren of Israel. And he dyd sacrifice / and burnt incence vpon the hye places / & vpon the hilles / and amonge all grene trees.

E.a.vij.b † Therfore dyd the Lorde his God delyuer hym in to the hāde of the kinge of Syria / so that they smote hym / and caryed awaye a great multitude of his men prysoners / and brought them to Damascon. He was geuen also vnder the hande of the kinge of Israel / so that he dyd great slaughter vpon hym. For Pecah the sonne of Romelia smote in Juda an hundreth & twenty thousande in one daye / (which all were valeaunt men) euen because they had forsakē the Lorde God of theyr fathers. And Sichri a myghtye mā of Ephraim slewe Mesaia the kinges sonne / and Asrikam the prince of the house / and Elkana the next vnto the kynge. And the chyldrē of Israel caryed of theyr brethren prysoners two hūdreth thousande women / sonnes and doughters / & toke a great spoile from them / and brought the spoyle vnto Samaria.

B But euen there was there a prophete of the Lorde / whose name was Obed / which wēt out to mete the hoost that came to Samaria / & said vnto them: Beholde / because the Lorde God of your fathers is wroth at Juda / therfore hath he geuen them ouer in to your handes: but ye haue slayne them so abhominably / that it is come vnto heauen. Now thynke ye to subdue the chyldren of Juda and Jerusalē / to be bondmen and bond maydens vnto you. Is not this a trespasse then with you against the Lorde your Gode? Herken now vnto me / and sende the prysoners hence againe / whom ye haue caryed away from your brethren: for the wrath of the Lorde is fearce ouer you.

Then gat vp certaine of the chiefe of ỹ chyldren of Ephraim / Asarias the sonne of Johanan / Barachias ỹ sonne of Mesillemoth / Ezechias ỹ sonne of Sallū / and Amasa the sonne of Hadlai / against thē that came from ỹ battayl / and said vnto them: Ye shall not bringe the prysoners in hyther / for youre myndes is but to make vs to trespasse before the Lorde / to make our synnes and offences greater: for the trespasse is to much alreadi / and the wrath is fearce ouer Israel. So the hooste lefte ỹ prysoners and the spoyle before ỹ rulers and before the whole congregacion.

C Then stode vp ỹ men / (which now were rehearsed by name) and toke the prysoners / and as many as were naked amōge them / clothed they vꝫ the spoyles / & decke them / & put shues vpon theyr fete / and gaue thē to eate & drinke / and anoynted thē / and caryed thē vpon asses / (as many as were feble) and brought them to Jericho to the Palme cytie vnto theyr brethren / & came again to Samaria. † At ỹ same iiij.re.xvj.a tyme sent kyng Achas vnto the kynge of Assur / that they shoulde helpe hym. And the Edomites came againe / and smote Juda / and caryed some awaye captiue. The Philistines also fel in to the cities in the playne / and toward the South parte of Juda / and wanne Beth Semes / Aialon / Gederoth / and Socho with the villages therof / Timna with ỹ villages therof / Gimso with ỹ villages therof / & dwelt therin. For the Lorde subdued Juda for Achas sake the kinge of Juda / because he made Juda naked / and rebelled against the Lorde. And Teglathphalasser the kinge of Assur came against him / and besieged him / & he was not myghtye ynough for him.

D For Achas spoyled the house of Lord / and the kynges house / and of the rulers / to geue vnto the kinge of Assur / but it helped him not. Moreouer kinge Achas trespassed yet more agaynst the Lord / euen in his trouble / & dyd sacrifice vnto the goddes of them of Damascon / which had smitten hym / & said: The goddes of the kinges of Syria helpe thē / therfore wyll I offre vnto them / that they may helpe me also / where as the same yet were a fall vnto hym / and to all Israel.

And

And Achas gathered the vessels of ỹ house of God together / and brake the vessels in the house of God / & Da.xxix.a † shut the dores of ỹ house of the Lorde / and made him aultares in all corners at Jerusalem / and euery where in the cities of Juda made he hye places to burn incence vnto other goddes / & prouoked ỹ Lord God of his fathers vnto wrath.

What more there is to say of him and of al his wayes / (both fyrst and last) Beholde / it is wrytten in the boke of the kynges of Juda & Israel. And Achas fell on slepe with his fathers / and they buryed him in the cytie of Jerusalem: for they brought him not amonge the sepulchres of ỹ kinges of Israel. And Ezechias his sonne was king in his steade.

The. XXIX. Chapter.

A iij.r.xviij.a
EZechias † was fyue and twenty yeare old whan he was made kynge / and raygned nyne and twenty yeares at Jerusalem. His mothers name was Abia the doughter of Zacharie. And he did ỹ which was right in ỹ syght of the Lord / as dyd his father Dauid. Da.xxxviij. † He opened the dores of ỹ house of ỹ Lord in the fyrst moneth of the fyrst yeare of his raygne / & made thē stronge / and brought in ỹ priestes & Leuites / and gathered them together vnto the East strete / and said vnto them: Herken vnto me ye Leuites / sanctifye youre selfes now ỹ ye maye halowe the house of the Lord God of your fathers / and put fylthynes out of ỹ Sanctuary: for our fathers haue trespassed / and done that which was euel in ỹ sygt of the Lord our God / & haue forsaken him. For they turned theyr faces from the habitacion of ỹ Lord our God / & turned theyr backes on it / & shut the dores of the porch / and put out the lampes / & burnt no incence / and offred no burntsacrifices in the Sanctuary vnto the God of Israel.

B Therfore is the wrath of the Lord come ouer Juda and Jerusalem / and he hath geuē them ouer to be scatered abroade / desolate / & to be hyssed at / as ye se with youre eyes. For beholde / euen for thesame cause fel our fathers thorowe the swearde / our sonnes / doughters and wyfes were caried awaye captyue. Now am I mynded to make a conuenaunt with the Lord God of Israel / that he maye turne awaye from vs his wrath and indignacion. Now my sonnes / be not ye negligente: † for ỹ Nu.xviij.a Lorde hath chosen you to stande before him / and to be his ministers / and do burne incence vnto him.

Then rose the Leuites: Mahath the sonne of Amasai / and Joel the sonne of Asaria of the chyldren of the Kahathites. Of the chyldren of Merari: Cis the sonne of Abdi / and Asaria the sonne of Jehalelel. Of the chyldren of the Gersonites: Joah the sonne of Simma / and Eden the sonne of Joah. And of ỹ childrē of Elizaphan: Simri and Jeiel. And of the chyldren of Assaph: Zachary and Mathania. And of the chyldren of Heman: Jehiel and Simei. And of the children of Jedithum: Semaia and Vsiel.

C And they gathered theyr brethren together / and were sanctifyed / and wente in accordinge to the kynges commaundement at the worde of the Lord / to clense the house of the Lord. And the priestes entred within the house of the Lord to purifye / and put out all the vnclennes that was founde in the temple of the Lord / in the court of the Lordes house: and the Leuites toke it vp / and caryed it out into the broke Cedron. The fyrste daye of the fyrste moneth beganne they to sanctifie them selfes / and on the eyght daye of the moneth wente they into the porch of the Lorde / and halowed the house of the Lord eyghte dayes / and fynished it on the sixtenth daye of the fyrst moneth.

D And they went in to the kyng Ezechias & said: We haue clensed al the house of the Lorde / the aultare of Burntofferinges / and all his vessels / the table of the shewbread / & al the apparel therof: and al the ornamentes that king Achas cast awaye whan he was kinge / what tyme as he transgressed / those haue we prepared and halowed. Beholde / they are before the aultare of the Lorde.

Then the kynge Ezechias gat him vp early / and gathered together the Elders of the cytie / & went vp vnto the house of the Lord / and they brought seuen bullockes / seuen rammes / seuen lambes / and seuen hegoates / to be the synneofferynge / for the Sanctuary / & for Juda. And he spake vnto the priestes the children of Aaron / that they shoulde offre vpon ỹ aultare of the Lorde.

So they slewe the bullockes / and the priestes toke the bloude/and sprenkled it vpon
the aultare:and slewe the rammes/ and spren keled the bloude vpon the aultare: and slewe
the lambes / and sprenkeled the bloude vpon
the aultar. And the goates to the synoffering/brought they before the kynge and the con gregacion/and layed theyr handes vpon the/
and the priestes slewe them/and sprenkeled theyr bloude vpon the aultare to make attō ment for all Israel: for the kynge commaun
ded to offer burntsacrifices & synofferinges for all Israel.

E And he set the Leuites in the house of the Lord with cimbales/psalteries and harpes/
i.Pa.xxvj.a †as Dauid had commaunded/ and Gad the kynge Seyer/and the prophet Nathan: for it was ỹ commaundement of the Lord by his prophetes. And the Leuites stode with the musical instrumentes of Dauid/and the prie stes with the trompettes. And Ezechias com maunded them to offre burntsacrifices vp on the aultare. And aboute the tyme that the burntsacrifyce beganne to be offred/ the song of the Lorde beganne also / and the trom
pettes/ and dyuerse instrumentes of Dauid
the kynge of Israell / and all the congrega cyon gaue prayse and thankes. And the song of the Musicians / and the blowynge of the trompetters / endured all tyll the burntoffe rynge was fynished.

Now whan the burntofferynge was per fourmed/the kynge and all they that were wh hym/bowed them selfes/and gaue prayse and thankes. And Ezechias the kynge with the rulers commaunded the Leuites to prayse the Lorde with the songes of Dauid and As saph the Seyr. And they gaue prayse tyll they were ioyfull/and they bowed themselfes/and worshypped.

F And Ezechias aunswered and sayd: Now
haue ye fylled youre handes vnto the Lord/steppe forth/ and bringe hither the sacrifyces and thankeofferinges/ vnto the house of the Lord. And the congregacion brought sa crifices and thankefferynges/ and euery mā of a fre wyllinge hert brought burntofferin
ges. And the numbre of the burntofferyn ges that the congregacion brought/was thre score bullockes and ten/an hundreth rammes and two hundreth lambes/and al these for the burntofferynge vnto the Lorde / and they sanctified sixe hundreth bullockes / and thre thousande shepe.

But the priestes were to few / and coulde
not plucke of the skynnes of all the burntof ferynges/ therfore toke they theyr brethren the Leuites/tyll the worke was fynished/ & tyl the priestes were halowed / (for the Leuites are easier to be halowed thē the priestes) & many of the burntofferinges were with the fat of ỹ thankeofferinges and drinkeofferinges to the burntsacrifices. Thus was the ministracyon of the house of the Lorde prepared. And Ez echias reioyced with al the people / that they were prepared with God: for it was done ryghte haistely.

The. XXX. Chapter.

AND Ezechias sent into all Israel and Iu da/and wrote letters vnto Ephraim and Manasses / that they shoulde come to the house of the Lord at Jerusalem/to kepe Ea ster vnto the Lord God of Israell. And the kynge helde a counsayll with his rulers / and all the congregacyon at Jerusalem / † to kepe Nam.ix.
Passeouer in the seconde moneth: for at that tyme they coulde not kepe it/because the prie
stes were not sanctifyed ynough/ and the peo

And it pleased the kynge wel/and all the con gregacyon. And they appoynted it to be pro claymed thoroweout all Israell from Berse
ba vnto Dan/that they shoulde come to kepe Passeouer vnto the Lorde God of Israell:
for they were not many that kepte it as it is wrytten.

And the postes wente with the letters frō
the hande of the king and his rulers/thorow out all Israell and Juda/at the kinges com maundement/and sayde: Ye children of Isra- B ell/tourne you vnto the Lord God of Abra ham/Isaac and Jacob/and he shal tourne to the escaped/which are lefte ouer amonge you from the hande of the kynge of Assur: and be not ye as youre fathers and brethren / which rebelled against the Lorde God of theyr fa thers/and he gaue them ouer into desolacion
as ye se youre selfes. Be not ye hardnecked now as were youre fathers / but offre youre hande vnto the Lord/and come to his San ctuarie/

ctuarye/ whiche he hath sanctifyed for euer / & serue the Lorde youre God / and so shal the indignacion of his wrath turne awaye from you. For if ye turne vnto the Lord/thē shall your brethren and children haue mercy in the sight of them/which holde them in captyuite/
that they may come agayne into this lande:
Ex.xxxiij.a for the †Lord youre God is gracious and mercyful/ and shal not turne awaye his face from you/if ye conuerte vnto him.

C And the postes wente from one cytye to a nother / in the lande of Ephraim and Ma nasses/and vnto Zabulon. But they mocked them and laughed them to scorne. Yet were there some of Asser and Manasses/and of Za bulon/that submitted themselfes / and came to Jerusalem. And the hande of God came into Juda/ so that he gaue them one herte to do after the commaundement of the kynge
and the rulers/at the worde of the Lorde.
And there came together vnto Jerusalem a greate people/to kepe the feast of vnleuended bread/ in the seconde moneth / a very greate congregacion.

And they gat them vp/and put doune the D.xxviij.d †aultares that were at Jerusalem/and all the incence put they away/and cast it in to ỹ broke Cedrō/and slewe ỹ Passeouer on the fourtēth daye of the seconde moneth. And the priestes and the Leuites were ashamed/ and halowed them selfes/and broughte the burntofferyn ges to the house of the Lorde / and stode in theyr ordinaunce/as it was accordynge / after the law of Moses the man of God. And the priestes sprenkled the bloude from the hande
of the Leuites: for there were many in the con
gregacyon whiche were not sanctifyed/ there fore dyd the Leuites kyll Passeouer for them which were not clensed/that they myghte be sanctifyed vnto the Lord.

D There were many people also of Ephra im/Manasses/Isachar and Zabulon / which were not cleane/But dyd eate the Easter lābe/not as it is wrytten / for Ezechias prayed for them/and sayde: The Lorde / which is gra cious/shalbe mercyful vnto all them that pre pare their hertes vnto God/ to seke the Lor de God of theyr fathers/ though they be not clensed after the holye purificacyon. And the Lord herde Ezechias / and healed the peo ple. Thus the children of Israel that were founde at Jerusalem/helde the feast of vnleu ended bread seuen dayes with greate ioye.
And the Leuites and priestes praysed the Lord euery daye with the loude instrumen tes of the Lord. And Ezechias spake her tely vnto al the Leuites/ which had good vn derstandynge in the Lorde / and they dyd eate the feast seuen dayes/ and offred thanke offerynges/and gaue thankes vnto ỹ Lord
God of theyr fathers.

And all the congregacion deuysed to kepe E
the feast yet other seuen dayes / and so they helde it those seuen dayes also with ioye: † for ij.p.xxxvj.a Ezechias the kyng of Juda gaue an heaucof

But the rulers gaue an heaucofferinge for the congregacion/euē a thousand bullockes/ and ten thousand shepe. And many of the priestes sanctifyed them selfes.

And the whole congregacion of Juda re
ioyced/the priestes and Leuites/and al the con
gregacion came out of Israel: and the strā
gers that were come out of the lande of Isra el/and they that dwelt in Juda / and greate ioye was there at Jerusalem: for sence ỹ tyme of Salomon the sonne of Dauid the kynge
of Israel/was there no such ioye at Jerusa lem. And the priestes and Leuites stode vp & blessed the people/and theyr voice was herde/and theyr prayer came into his holy habitacy on in heauen.

The. XXXI. Chapter.

AND whan al this was fynished/al the Is- A raelites that were founde in the cytyes of Juda/ wente out and † brake the pyllers/ and ij.Pa.xiiij.c hewed doune the groues / and brake doune & xxxiij.c
the hye places and aultares out of all Juda/Ben Jamin/Ephraim and Manasses til they had destroyed them. And all the chyldren of Israel wente agayne euery one to his posses sion vnto theyr cytyes.

But Ezechias set the priestes and Leuites in theyr ordinaunces/ euery one after his of fice / both the priestes and Leuites / for the burntsacrifices and thankeofferynges/to mi nister/to geue thankes and prayse in the ga tes of the hoost of the Lorde. And the kyng gaue his porcyon of his substaunce for the burnt-

burntofferinges in the mornynge and euenynng/and for the burntofferinges of the Sabbath/and of the new Mone/and of the feastes/†as it is wrytten in the law of ỹ Lorde.

Ru. xxviij. b

B And he spake vnto the people whiche dwelte at Jerusalem/that they shoulde geue porcyons vnto the priestes and Leuites/that they myghte the more stedfastly endure in the lawe of the Lorde. And whan the worde came forth/the children of Israell gaue many fyrste frutes of corne/wyne/oyle/hony/and all maner increace of the felde/and broughte in muche of all maner tythes. And the chyldren of Israell and Juda/which dwelt in the cytyes of Juda/broughte the tythes also of oxen and shepe/and tythes of such thynges as were sanctifyed/whiche they had halowed vnto the Lorde their God/and made here an heape/and there an heape. In the thyrde moneth begannne they to laye vpon heapes/and in the seuenth moneth dyd they fynyshe it.

C And whan Ezechias with the rulers went in/and sawe the heapes/they prayised the Lorde/and his people of Israel. And Ezechias axed the priestes and Leuites/concernynge the heapes. And Asaria the prieste the chiefe in the house of Sadoc/sayde vnto him: Sence the tyme that they begannne to brynge the heaueofferinges into the house of ỹ Lorde/we haue eaten/and are satisfyed/and yet is there left ouer: for the Lorde hath blessed his people/therfore is this heap lefte ouer. Thē commaunded the king/that they should prepare chestes in the house of the Lorde. And they prepared them/and put in the heaueofferynges/& tythes/and that which was halowed faythfully.

And the oversight of thesame had Chanania the Leuite/and Simei his brother the seconde/and Jehiell/Asasia/Naglath/Asahel/Jerimoth/Josabad/Eliel/Jesmachia/Mahath and Benaia/ordeyned of the hande of Chanania & Simei his brother/accordinge to the commaundement of kynge Ezechias. But Asaria was prynce in the house of God. And Core the sonne of Jemna the Leuite/the porter of the Eastgate was ouer the frewillynge gyftes of God/(which was geuen for heaueofferynges vnto the Lorde) and ouer the mooste holy. And vnder his hande were/Eden/Miniamin/Jesua/Semaia/Amaria and Sachania in the cytyes of the priestes vpon credence/that they shoulde geue vnto their brethren/according to their courses/to the leest as to the greatest.

And vnto them that were counted for. mē D
chyldren from thre yeare olde and aboue/among all them that wente into the house of the Lorde/euery one vpon his daye to their office in their attendaūces after their courses. And they that were rekened for priestes in the house of their fathers/and the Leuites from twentye yeare and aboue/in their attendaunces after their courses. And they that were rekened amonge their chyldren/wyfes/sonnes/and doughters among the whole congregacyon: for that whiche was halowed/sanctifyed they vpon credence. There were men also named by name amonge Arons children the priestes/vpon the feldes of the suburbes in all the cyties/that they shoulde geue porcyons vnto all the men chyldren among the priestes/and to all them that were numbred amonge the Leuites.

Thus dyd Ezechias in all Juda/and dyd that which was good/ryghte and true in the syghte of the Lord his God. And in all the busines that he toke in hande/concerning the seruyce of the house of God/accordynge to the lawe and commaundement/to seke his God/that did he with all his herte/and therfore prospered he well.

The. XXXII. Chapter.

A Fter these actes and faythfulnesse came A †Sennacherib the kynge of Assur/and iiij. R. xviij.
wente into Juda/& pitched before the stronge cytyes/and tought to plucke them vnto him. And whan Ezechias sawe that Sennacherib came/and that his face stode to fyghte against Jerusalem/he deuysed with his rulers and myghtye men/to couer the water of the welles that were without the cytye/& they helped him: and there gathered together a greate people/and couered all the welles and water brokes in the myddes of the lande/and sayd: Lest/the kinges of Assur fynd much water whan they come. And he toke a courage vnto hym/and builded all the welles where they were in decaye/and made towres theron/and builded yet another wal without/& strengthed Millo in ỹ cytie of Dauid. And made much ordinaunce and shyldes/and set captaines of warre ouer the people.

B And gathered them vnto him vpon the broade strete/by the gate of the cytie/& spake hertely vnto them/and sayde: Be stronge and bolde/feare not/and be not afrayed for the kynge of Assur/nor all the multitude that is with hym: for there is one greater with vs then with hym. With him is a †fleshly arme/ xx. xvij. d but with vs is the Lord oure God to helpe vs/and to fighte for vs. And the people trusted vnto the wordes of Ezechias kynge of Juda.

†After warde sent Sennacherib the kynge xx. xvij. c
of Assur his seruauntes vnto Jerusalem (for he laye before Lachis/and all his hooste with hym) to Ezechias the kynge of Juda/and to al Juda that was at Jerusalem/saying: Thus sayeth Sennacherib the kyng Assur: Wherin put ye your trust/ye that dwel in the beseged Jerusalem: Ezechias deceaueth you/that he maye delyuer you vnto death/hunger and thyrst/and sayeth: The Lord oure God shal delyuer vs from the hande of the kynge of Assur. Is it not Ezechias/that hath put awaye his hye places and aultares/and sayde vnto Juda and Jerusalem: Before one aultare shal ye worshyppe/and burne incence theron?

C Knowe ye not what I and my fathers haue done to al the people in the landes? Haue the goddes of the Heythen in the landes bene able to delyuer theyr contries fro my hande? What is he amonge all the goddes of these Heythen/(whome my father damned) that was able to deliuer his people fro my hande? that your God should be able to delyuer you fro my hande. Therfore let not Ezechias now deceaue you/and let him not perswade you any suche thynge/and beleue hym not. For if no god of all the Heythen and kyngdomes myght delyuer his people fro my hande/and from the hande of my progenitours/thē shall not youre goddes be able to delyuer you fro my hande.

His seruauntes also spake yet more against the Lorde God/and againste his seruaunt Ezechias. And he wrote a letter to blaspheme the Lord God of Israel/and spake of hym/ and sayde: Lyke as the goddes of the Heythe in their landes haue not bene able to delyuer theyr people fro my hande/euen so shall not the God of Ezechias delyuer his people fro my hande.

And they cryed with loude voyce in the D
Jewysh language vnto the people of Jerusalem that were vpon the wall/to make them fearefull/& to be faynthertted/that they myght wynne the cyte. And they spake againste the God of Jerusalem/euen as agaynst the goddes of the nacions vpon earth/which were but the workes of mens handes.

But contrary wyse/the kynge Ezechias & the prophete Isaye the sonne of Amos praied and cryed vnto heauen. And the Lord sent an aungel/whiche destroyed all the myghtye men of the hooste/and the prynces and rulers in the tentes of the kynge of Assur/so that he departed agayne with shame into his owne land. †And whan he wente into his goddes iiij. house/they that came of his owne bodye/slew him there with the sweard: Thus the Lorde helped Ezechias/and them at Jerusalem/out of the hande of Sennacherib the kynge of Assur/and of al other/and mayntayned thē from all on euery syde: so that many broughte presentes vnto the Lord to Jerusalem/and Jewels vnto Ezechias the kynge of Juda. And afterwarde was he exalted in the sight of al Heythen.

†At thesame tyme was Ezechias dead sick/ E him promes/and gaue him a wonder token. But Ezechias recompenced not/accordinge as was geuen vnto hym/for his hert was lifted vp: therfore came the wrath vpon hym/and vpon Juda and Jerusalem. Neuerthelesse/Ezechias humbled hymselfe/because his hert had bene exalted with them at Jerusalē/therfore came not the wrath of the Lord vpon them/whyle Ezechias lyued.

And Ezechias had very greate ryches and worshippe/and made him treasures of syluer/golde/precious stones/spyces/shyldes/and al maner costly vessel/and corne houses for the increace of corne/wyne & oyle/and stalles for all maner cattel/and foldes for the shepe/and builded him cityes/and had many cattell of shepe & oxē: for God gaue hē very much good.

Je

F It is thesame Ezechias that couered the hye water conduyte in Gihon/and conueyed it vnder on the Westsyde of the cytye of Dauid: for Ezechias prospered in all his workes. But whā the interpreters the the chiefe of Babilon were sent vnto him / to axe question at hym/(concernynge the wōdertoken that had
Deu. viij.a happened in the lande) God lefte hym† to be tempted/that it myghte be knowen whatsoeuer was in his herte.

What more there is to saye of Ezechias / & of his mercyfulnes/Beholde/ it is wrytten in the vysyon of the prophete Esay the sonne of Amos/and in the boke of the kinges of Juda and Israel. And Ezechias fell on slepe with his fathers/and they buryed him ouer the sepulchres of the children of Dauid/and al Juda/and they of Jerusalem did him worshippe in his death: and Manasses his sonne was kynge in his steade.

The. XXXIII. Chapter.

A iiij.R. xxj.a MAnasses was twelfe yeare olde whan he was made kynge/and raygned fyue and fyftye yeare at Jerusalem / and dyd that whiche was euel in the syghte of the Lorde/ (euen after the abhominacions of the Heythen/whome the Lorde expelled before the children of Israel) and turned backe/and buil

And in the valley of the sonne of Hēnon caused he his owne sonnes to go thorow the fyre/and chose dayes/and regarded birdes cryenge/and witches / & founded soothsayers and expounders of tokens / and dyd much that was euel in the syghte of the Lorde / to prouoke him vnto wrath.

B Carued ymages also and Idols (which he caused to make) set he vp in Gods house/ wherof the Lorde saide vnto Dauid and to Salomon his sonne: In this house at Jerusalem which I haue chosen out of all the trybes of Israell/ wyl I set my name for euer/ and wyll nomore let the fote of Israell remoue from the lande that I appoynted for theyr fathers/so farre as they obserue to do all that I haue commaunded them/in all the lawe/ statutes and ordinaunces by Moses. But Manasses deceaued Juda and them of Jerusalem / so that they dyd worse then the Heythen/whome the Lorde destroyed before the children of Israel. And the Lorde spake vnto Manasses and his people / & they regarded it not.

Therfore dyd the Lord cause the rulers of C the hoost of the kyng of Assur to come vpon them / which toke Manasses prysoner with bondes/and bounde him with chaynes / and broughte hym vnto Babylon. †And whan Deu. iij
he was in trouble / he made intercession before the Lorde his God/and humbled himselfe greatly before the God of his fathers / & prayed/and besought him. Then herde he his prayer / & brought him agayne to Jerusalem to his kyngdome. And Manasses knew that the Lord is God.

made it very hye. And layed captaynes in the stronge cityes of Juda / and put awaye the straunge goddes and Idols out of the house of the Lord / and al the aultares / whiche he had builded vpon the mount of the house of the Lord/and in Jerusalem/and caste them out of the cytie/and buylded the aultare of the Lorde / and offred slayne offerynges and thankeofferynges theron/ and commaunded Juda/that they shoulde serue the Lord God of Israell. Neuertheless / though the people offred vnto the Lorde theyr God/ yet offred they vpon the hye places.

What more there is to saye of Manasses/ D and of his prayer to his God/and the wordes of the Seyers that spake vnto hym in ỹ name of the Lord God of Israel/Behold/ they are among the actes of the kinges of Israel. And his prayer and intercession / & all his synne & offence/& the rowmes wherin he buylded the hye places and groues/& fouded ydols / afore he humbled him selfe/Beholde/they are wrytten among the actes of the Seiers. And Manasses nasses fell on slepe with his fathers/and they buryed him in his house. And Amō his sonne was kynge in his steade.

Two and twentye yeares olde was Amon whan he was made kynge/and raigned two yeare at Jerusalem/and dyd euel in the sight of the Lord / as Manasses his father had done. Amon offred vnto all the Idols that his father Manasses had made / and serued them. Yet dyd not he humble himselfe before the Lord/as Manasse his father had submytted himselfe: but Amon trespassed euer more and more. And his seruauntes conspyred againste hym/& slewe him in his house. Then smote the people in the lande all them that had conspyred against kynge Amon. And the people in the lande made Josias his sonne kyng in his steade.

The. XXXIIII. Chapter.

A iiij.R. xxij.a JOsias† was eyght yeare olde whan he was made kynge/and raygned one and thyrtye yeare at Jerusalē/and dyd that which was righte in the syghte of the Lorde / and walked in the waies of Dauid his father/and turned not asyde/neyther to the ryght hande nor to left. For in the eyght year of his raygne whan he was yet but a childe/ he beganne to seke the God of his father Dauid: and in the twelfeth yeare beganne he to clense Juda & Jerusalem from the hye places/ and groues/ and carued Idols/and molten ymages: and caused the aultares of Baalim to be broken doune before him/and the ymages that were theron hewed he doune. And the groues/ and carued Idols/and molten ymages brake he in peces/and made them to dust/and scattered it vpon the graues of them that had offred vnto them. And the bones of the prestes brent he vpon the aultares/ and so clensed he Juda and Jerusalem / and in the cytics of Manasses / Ephraim / Simeon / and vnto Nephtali in theyr wilderneses on euery syde. And whan he had broken doune the aultares and groues / and smytten the Idols in peces/ and hewed doune all the ymages in all the lande of Israell / he came agayne to Jerusalem.

B †In the eyghtenth yeare of his raygne/ A iiij.R. xxij.a whan he had clensed the lande and the house/ he sent Saphan the sonne of Asalia & Maeseia the Shreue of the cytie / & Joath the sōne of Joahas the chaunceler/to repaire the house of the Lord his God. And they came to Helchias the hye priest / & there was delyuered vnto them the moneye that was brought vnto the house of God/which the Leuites (that kepte the thresholdes) had gathered of Manasses/Ephraim/and of al ỹ residue in Israel/ and of al Juda & Ben Jamin/and of thē that dwelt at Jerusalem/and they deliuered it vnto the handes of the workemen in the house of the Lorde / and gaue it vnto those that wroughte in the house of the Lord/where it was in decaye that they shoulde repayre it. And thesame gaue it forth vnto the carpenters and builders/ to bye frestone and hewen tymber for the balkes in the houses/which the kynges had destroied. And the men laboured faythfully in the worke.

And ouer them were ordeyned / Jahath C and Obadia the Leuites of the chyldren of Merari / Zachary and Messullam of the children of the Kahathites/ to further the worke/ and they were al Leuites that could play vpon instrumentes. But ouer them that bare burthens/and furthered all maner of worke in all the offices/there were scrybes / officers and dorekepers of the Leuites. And whā they toke out the money that was broughte vnto the house of the Lorde / Helchias the priest founde the boke of the lawe of the Lord geuen by Moses. And Helchias aunswered/ and sayde vnto Saphan the scribe: †I haue iiij. R. xxij b founde the boke of the lawe in the house of the Lorde. And Helchias delyuered the boke vnto Saphan. And Saphan bare it vnto the kynge / and broughte the kynge worde agayne/and sayde: All that was geuen vnder the handes of thy seruauntes/that make theyr and the money that was founde in the house of the Lorde/ haue they gathered together/ and delyuered it vnto the officers/ and to the workemen. And Saphan the scrybe tolde the kynge / and sayd: Helchias the priest hath delyuered me a boke.

And Saphan red therein before the kyng/ D And whan the kyng herde the wordes of the lawe/he rente his clothes. And the kynge cōmaunded Helchias and Ahicam the sonne of Saphan / and Abdon the sonne of Micha/ and and Saphan the scribe/and Asaia the kinges seruaunt/and sayde: Go youre waye/axe coũsail at the Lord for me and for the remnaunt in Israel/and for Juda/concerninge these wordes of the boke that is founde. For greate is the indignacion of the Lord that is gone forth ouer vs/because oure fathers haue not kepte the worde of the Lorde/ to do accordinge as it is wrytten in this boke. Then wẽt Helchias (with the other that were sent from the kynge) vnto the propheterisse Hulda/ the wyfe of Sallum the sonne of Thecoath the sõne of Basra/the keper of the clothes/ which dwelte at Jerusalem on the other syde/ & they spake this vnto her.

And she sayde vnto them: Thus sayeth the E Lord God of Israel: Tel the man ỹ sent you vnto me/Thus sayeth the Lord: Beholde/I wyll bringe plagues vpon this place/and the inhabiters therof/ euen all the curses whiche are wrytten in the boke/ that was red before the kynge of Juda: Because they haue forsaken me/and brent incence vnto other goddes/ to prouoke me with all the workes of theyr handes. And myne indignaciõ shal go forth vpon this citie/ & shal not be quenched.

And after this maner shall ye saye vnto the kynge of Juda/that sent you to axe counsayll at the Lord: Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Israel/concerninge the wordes that thou hast herde: Because thine hert is moued/ and because thou hast humbled thyselfe in ỹ sight of God/ whan thou herdest his wordes against this place/ and the inhabiters therof/ and hast submitted thyselfe before me/and rẽt thy clothes/ and wepte before me/ therfore haue I herd the/sayeth the Lord. Beholde/ I wyll gather the vnto thy fathers/and thou shalt be layed in thy graue with peace/ so that thine eyes shal not se all the euel that I will bringe ouer this place and the indwellers therof. And they brought the kynge worde agayne.

F †Then sent the kynge/ and caused all the iiij. r. xxiij. a Elders in Juda and Jerusalem to come together. And the kynge wente vp into ỹ house of the Lord/and all the mẽ of Juda & the inhabiters of Jerusalem/the priestes/ the Leuites/and all the people/both small and great: and all the wordes in the boke of the couenaunt that was founde in the house of the Lord/were red in theyr eares. And the king stode in his place/ and made a couenaunt before the Lord/that they should walke after the Lord/ to kepe his commaundementes/ his testimonies/and his statutes with al their herte/and with al theyr soule/ to do according vnto all the wordes of the couenaunt that are written in this boke.

And there stode all they that were founde at Jerusalẽ and in Ben Jamin. And the inhabiters of Jerusalem dyd according to the cõuenaunt of God/the God of theyr fathers. And Josias put away all the abhominaciõs out of all the landes that were the chyldrens of Israell/and caused all them that were foũd in Israel/ to serue the Lorde theyr God. †As longe as Josias lyued/ departed they Jos. xxiii not from the Lorde the God of theyr fathers.

The. XXXV. Chapter.

A †And Josias kepte Passeouer vnto the iiij. R. xxiij Lord at Jerusalem/and slewe the Passeouer on the fourtenth daie of the fyrst moneth/and set the priestes in their offices/ and
ỹ. Esd. j strenghted them to their ministracion in the house of the Lord/and sayde vnto the Leuites that taught in all Israel/and were sanctifyed vnto the Lord: Put the holy Arke in the house that Salomon ỹ sonne of Dauid king of Israel dyd build. †Ye shal beare it nomore j Pa. xxiii vpon youre shoulders. Se that ye serue now the Lorde youre God/and his people of Israel/and prepare the house of youre fathers in your courses/ as it was appoynted by Dauid the kynge of Israel/and by Salomon his sonne: and stande in the Sanctuarye after the course of the fathers houses/ amonge youre brethren the children of the people. And after the course of the fathers houses amonge the Leuites/and kyll Passeouer/sanctifie and prepare youre brethren/that they maye do accordinge to the worde of the Lord by Moses.

B And Josias gaue lambes and yonge kydes/which were males/to the heaueofferinge for the cõmuncty/ (all to the Passeouer for euery one that was founde) in the numbre thirtye thousande/ and thre thousande oxen/ all of ỹ kinges good. And his princes of theyr owne good wyl gaue to the heaueofferynge for for the people/and for the priestes and Leuites (namely Helchias/ Zacharie and Jehiel/ the princes in the house of God amonge the priestes) for the Passeouer/two thousande and sixe hundreth: and thre hundreth oxen. But Chanania/ Semaia/ Nathaneel and his brethren/ Gasabia/ Jeiel and Josabad the chiefe of the Leuites/ gaue the Leuites to the heaueoffering for the Passeouer/ fyue thousande shepe/ and fyue hundreth oxen.

Thus was the Gods seruice prepared/and the priestes stode in theyr place/ and the Leuites in theyr courses/ accordinge to the kynges commaundement. And they kylled the Passeouer/and the priestes toke it of theyr handes/ & sprenkled it: and the Leuites toke the skynnes of them/ & remoued the burntofferinge therefrom/ to geue it amonge the porcyons of the fathers houses/in the multitudes of theyr congregaciõ to offre vnto ỹ Lord/ †as it is wrytten in the boke of Moses/ Euen so dyd they with the oxen also. And they dressed the Passeouer at the fyre/ †accordynge to the lawe. d. xij. b
And that whiche was halowed/ dressed they in pottes/kettels/and pannes/ and made haist for the commune people. Afterwarde prepared they for them selfes also/ and for the priestes: For the priestes the chyldren of Aarõ were occupyed in the burntofferinges/ and sat vntyll the nyght. Therfore must the Leuites prepare for them selfes/and for the priestes ỹ children of Aaron.

C And the syngers the childrẽ of Asaph stode
r. xxvj in theyr place/ (accordyng to † Dauids commaundement) and Asaph and Heman/ and Jedithun the kynges Seyer/ and the porters at all the gates. And they departed not from theyr office: For the Leuites theyr brethren prepared for them. Thus was all the Gods seruice prepared the same daye/ that the Passeouer myght be kept/and the burntsacrifices offred vpon the aultare of the Lord/according to the commaundement of kynge Josias.

So the chyldrẽ of Israel that were at hãde/ helde Passeouer at that tyme/ and the feast of vnleuended bread/seuen dayes. Sence ỹ time of Samuel the prophet/ was no Passeouer kept in Israel lyke this: and no kynge in Israel had holden suche a Passeouer as Josias dyd/ and the priestes/ Leuites/ all Juda/ and such as were founde of Israel/ and the inhabiters of Jerusalem. In the eyghteth yeare of ỹ raygne of Josias was this Passeouer kepte.

After this/ whan Josias had prepared the D house/Necho the kynge of Egypte went vp to fyght agaynst Carcamis besyde Euphrates. And Josias wente forth agaynst hym. But he sent messãgers vnto hym/sayinge: What haue I to do with the O kyng of Juda: I am not come now agaynst the/ but I fyghte agaynst another house: and God hath sayde that I shall make haist. Ceasse frõ God which is with me/that he destroye the not. Neuertheless/Josias turned not his face from him/ but prepared hymselfe to fyght with him/and herkened not vnto the wordes of Necho/ out of the mouth of God/ and came to fyght with him vpon the playne besyde Mageddo. But the archers shot at kinge Josias. And ỹ kinge sayd vnto his seruauntes: Cary me awaye/ for I am sore wounded. And his seruauntes toke hym from the charret/ and caryed hym vpon his second charret/and brought hym to Jerusalem. And he dyed/and was buryed amonge the sepulcres of his fathers.

And all Juda and Jerusalem mourned for Josias/and Jeremy bewayled Josias/ and all the syngynge men and women/spake theyr lamentacyons ouer Josias vnto this daye/ and made a costume therof vnto this daye. Beholde/it is written also amonge the lamentacions. What more there is to saye of Josias/ and his mercy/ accordyng to the scripture in the lawe of the Lord/and of his actes/ (both fyrst and last) behold/ it is wrytten in the boke of the kynges of Israel and Juda.

The. XXXVI. Chapter.

A †And the people of the lande toke Joahas

twenty yeare olde was Joahas whan he was made kynge/ and raygned thre monethes at Jerusalem. For the kinge of Egypte deposed hym at Jerusalem/ and condemned the lande in an hundreth talentes of syluer/ and one talent of golde. And the kynge of Egypte made Eliachim his brother kinge ouer Juda and Jerusalem/ and turned his name Joachim. But Necho toke his brother Joahas/ and caryed hym into Egypte.

fyue and twentye yeare olde was Joachim whan he was made kynge/ and raigned eleuen yeare at Jerusalē/ and dyd that which was euell in the syght of the Lorde his God.

4.reg.xxiiij.a † And Nabuchodonosor the kinge of Babylon went vp agaynst him/ and bounde hym with chaynes/ to carye hym vnto Babylon. And Nabuchodonosor broughte certayne vessels of the house of the Lorde vnto Babylon/ and put them in his temple at Babilō. What more there is to sai of Joachim/ & of his abhominacions which he did/ & that were found in hym/ beholde/ they are written in the boke of ỹ kynges of Jsrael & Juda. And Joachim hys sonne was kynge in his steade.

B Eyghte yeare olde was Joachim whan he was made kyng/ and raygned thre monethes and ten dayes at Jerusalem/ & did that which was euell in the sight of the Lorde. But whā the yeare came about/ Nabuchodonosor sente thither/ and caused him be fetched vnto Babilon with the costly vessels and Jewels/ of the house of the Lorde/ & made Zedechias hys brother kyng ouer Juda & Jerusalem.

Jere.lij.a 4.reg.xxiiij.b † One and twentye yeare olde was Zedechias whan he was made kyng/ and raygned eleuen yeare at Jerusalem/ and did ỹ whiche was euel in the sight of the Lorde his God/ and submitted not himselfe before the face of ỹ prophet Jeremy/ which spake out of ỹ mouth of the Lorde. He fell awaye also from Nabuchodonosor the kynge of Babilon/ (whiche had taken an ooth of hym by God) and was stifnecked/ and hardened hys hert ỹ he should not conuerte vnto the Lord God of Jsrael. And all the chief amonge the priestes/ and the people multiplied theyr synnes/ accordinge to all the abhominacions of the Heythen/ & defyled the house of the Lorde/ which he had sanctified at Jerusalem.

C † And the Lorde God of theyr fathers Jere.xxv.a sent vnto them early by his messaungers/ (for he spared his people and his habitacyon) but they laughed ỹ messāgers of God to scorne/ and despysed his wordes/ and had his prophetes in derision/ so longe tyll the indignacion of the Lorde increaced ouer his people/ & there 4.reg.xxv.a was no remedye of healinge. † For he brought the kynge of the Caldees vpon them/ and caused for to slaye all theyr yonge men with the sweard in the house of theyr Sanctuary/ and spared neyther yong man nor virgin/ neyther aged nor graundfather/ but gaue them all in to his hande. And all the vessels in the house of God/ greate and small/ the treasures in the house of the Lorde/ and the treasures of the kynge and of his princes/ all this caused he to be caried vnto Babilon. And they burnte the house of God/ and brake doune the walle off Jerusalem/ and all the palaces thereof burnt they with fyre/ so that all the costly ornamētes of it were destroyed.

And loke who escaped the sweard/ him caryed he away vnto Babilon/ and they became his seruauntes/ and the seruauntes of his sonnes/ till the Persians had the Empyre: † that Jere.xxv.a the worde of the Lorde by the mouth of Jeremy might be perfourmed/ euen vntill the lāde had ynough of her Sabbathes: for all ỹ tyme of the desolacion was it Sabbath/ vntill the seuenty yeares were fulfilled.

† But in the first yeare of Cirus the kynge 1.Esd.i of Persia/ (that the worde of the Lorde/ spokē iij.Esd.i by the mouth of Jeremy might be fulfilled) ỹ Lorde raysed vp the spirete of Cyrus the king of Persia/ he caused it to be proclaymed thorowout all his Empyre/ yee/ and by writinge also/ sayinge: Thus sayeth Cyrus the kynge of Persia: The Lorde God of heauen hath geuen me all the kyngdomes in the lande/ and hath commaūded me to buylde hym an house at Jerusalē in Juda. Whosoeuer now amōge you is of his people/ the Lorde hys God be with him/ and let hym go vp.

The fyrst Chapter.

A 1.Esd.i.a IN † the fyrste yeare of Cyrus kynge of Persia/ (that the worde of the Lorde/ spoken* by the mouthe of Jeremy myght be fulfylled) the Lorde stered vp the spirete of Cyrus kynge of Persia/ ỹ he caused it to be proclaymed thorowout all his Empyre/ yee/ and by writynge also/ sayinge: Thus sayeth Cyrus the kynge of Persia: The Lorde God of heauen hath geuen me all the kyngdomes in the lande/ † and hath commaunded me to buyld hym an house at Jerusalem in Juda. Whosoeuer now amonge you is of his people/ the Lorde his God be with hym/ and let him go vp to Jerusalem in Juda/ and buylde the house of the Lorde God of Jsrael. He is the God that is at Jerusalem. And whosoeuer remayneth yet in any maner of place (where he is a straunger) let the men of his place helpe hym with syluer and golde/ with good and cattell of a good frewyl/ for the house of God at Jerusalem.

B Then gat vp the principal fathers of Juda and Ben Jamin/ and the priestes & Lemites/ and all they whose spirete God had raysed to go vp/ and to buylde the house of the Lorde at Jerusalē. And all they that were aboute thē/ strengthed theyr hande with vessels of syluer and golde/ with good and cattel/ and Jewels/ besydes that which they gaue of theyr owne 1.Esd.i.a frewyl. And kyng Cyrus brought forth the vessels of the Lordes house/ † which Nabuchodonosor had taken out of Jerusalē/ and put in his gods house. But Cyrus ỹ kyng of Persia brought thē forth by Mithredath the treasurer/ and numbred them vnto Sespazar the prince of Juda. And this is the numbre of them: thyrtye basens of golde/ and a thousand basens of syluer/ and nyne and twentye knyues/ thyrtye cuppes of golde/ and of other syluer cuppes foure hundreth and ten/ and of other vessels a thousand. So that all the vessels both of gold and syluer/ were fyue thousande and foure hundreth. Sesbazar brought them all vp/ with them that came vp out of the captiuitie of Babylon vnto Jerusalem.

And

A And † whan the seuenth moneth came / & his brethren / and buylded the aultare of the God of Jsrael / to offer burntofferinges thereon / as it is wrytte in the lawe of Moses the man of God / and the aultare set they vpō his sokettes (for there was a fearfulnes amonge them / because of the nacions & landes) and of-ward the dayly burntofferynges also / & of the new Moones and of all the feast dayes of the Lorde that were halowed / and all maner of frewyllyng offerynges / which they dyd of theyr owne fre wyll vnto the Lorde.

B † Vpon the fyrst daye of the seuēth moneth Esd. v. c beganne they to offer burntsacrifices vnto the Lorde. But the foundacion of the temple of the Lord was not yet layed. Neuertheless / they gaue money vnto the masons and carpenters / and meate and drynke and oyle vnto them of Zidon and of Tire / to bunge thē Cedre tymbre from Libanus by see vnto Ioppa / accordynge to the cōmaundemēt of Cyrus the kynge of Persia.

In the seconde yeare of theyr cōming vnto the house of God at Jerusalem in the second moneth / beganne Zorobabel the sonne of Sa-lathiel / and Jesua the sonne of Josedec / and the remnaūt of theyr brethren the priestes and Leuites / and all they that were come out of the captiuite vnto Jerusalem / and appoynted the Leuites from twentye yeare olde and aboue / to se that the worke of the house of the Lorde wēt forwarde. And Jesua stode with his son-nes and brethren / and Cadmiel with his son-nes / and the chyldren of Juda / to further the workemen of the house of God / namely the chyldren of Henadad with theyr chyldren and theyr brethren the Leuites.

C And whan the buylders layed the foundaple shouted loude in prayssynge the Lord / because the foūdacyon of the house of the Lord was layed. Neuertheless / many of the olde priestes and Leuites and auncyent fathers / which had sene the house afore in his foundacion / and this was now before theyr eyes / wepte loude. But many shouted with ioye / so that the noyse gaue a great sound / in so muche that the people could not knowe the ioyful sounde for the noyse of the wepynge in the people: for the people shouted loude / so that the noyse was herde farre of.

The. IIII. Chapter.

BVt † whan the aduersaries of Juda and A Ben Jamin herde / that the chyldren of iij. Esd. v. g the captiuite builded the tēple vnto the Lord God of Jsrael / they came to Zorobabel and to the principal fathers / and said vnto them: We wyl buylde with you: for we seke the Lorde your God lyke as you do. And we haue done sacrifice vnto him / † sence the tyme that Assar- iiij. re. xvij. c Hadon the kinge of Assur brought vs vp hy-ther. But Zorobabel and Jesua and the other auncient fathers of Jsrael aunswered them: It is not mete for vs and you to builde the house of our God / but we wil build alone vnto the Lord God of Jsrael / † as Cyrus the j. Esd. j. a kinge of Persia hath commaunded vs.

Thē the folke of the lande hindered the people of Juda / and made thē afrayed to buylde / and hyred counsaylers against them / and hindered theyr deuyse as lōge as Cyrus the king of Persia lyued / vntyll the raygne of Darius kinge of Persia. But whan Ahasuerus was kinge / in the begynnynge of his raygne wrote they vnto hym a complaynte agaynst thē of Juda and Jerusalem.

And in the tyme of Artaxerses / wrote Bi- B sellam / Mithridath / Tabeel and the other of theyr counsayl vnto Artaxerses the kynge of Persia. But the scripture of the letter was wrytten in the Syrians speche / and was interpretated in the language of the Syrians. Rehum the chaunceler / and Simsai ẏ scrybe / wrote this letter agaynst Jerusalem to Artaxerses the kinge.

We Rehum the chaunceler / and Simsai the scrybe/and other of the counsayl of Sina/ of Aphatsath/ of Tarplat/ of Persia/ of Arach/ of Babylō/ of Susan / of Scha / & of Elā/ and xiij. rc. xvij c other of the people / †whom the great & noble Asnaphar brought ouer / & set in the cyties of Samaria/ & other on this syde the water/ and in Canaan. And this is the summe of the letter that they sent vnto kinge Artaxerses.

C Thy seruauntes the men on this syde the water and in Canaan. Be it knowen vnto the kynge/that the Jewes which are come vp frō the to vs vnto Jerusalem in to that sedicious and wicked citie/buyld the same/and make vp the walles of it/ and bringe it out of the foundacion. Be it knowen now therfore vnto the kynge / that if this cytie be builded/ & the walles made vp agayne / thē shal not they geue tribute/tol/ and yearly costume / and their reuise shall do the kinge harme. But now that we all are therby/which destroyed the temple/ we wold no longer se the kinges dishonour. Therfore sent we out / and caused the kinge to be certified therof: That it maye be sought in the Cronicles of thy progenitours / & so shalte thou finde in ỹ same Cronicles/ and perceaue/ that this cytie is sedicious and noysome vnto kynges and landes / and that they cause other also to rebell of olde / and for the same cause was this cytie destroyed. Therfore do we certifie the kynge/that if this cytie be builded/ and the walles therof made vp / thou shalte kepe nothynge on this syde the water / by reason of it.

D Then sent the kinge an aunswere vnto Rehum the chaunceler / and Simsai the scrybe/ and to the other of their counsayl that dwelt in Samaria / and vnto the other beyonde the water. Peace and salutacion. The letter which ye sent vnto vs / hath ben openly red before me/ and I commaunded to make search: and it is founde/ that this cytie of olde hath made insurreccion agaynst kynges/ and how that vprour and rebellion hath bene committed therin. There haue bene myghtye kinges also at Jerusalem/which haue raigned ouer all that is beyonde the water / and toll / trybute and yearly costume was geuen vnto them. So ye now after this commaundement / forbyd the same men/ that the cytie be not buylded/ tyll I haue geuen cōmaundement. Take hede now that ye be not negligent herein /lesse/ the kyng haue harme there thorow.

Now whan kinge Artaxerses letter was red before Rehum the chaunceler / and Simsai the scrybe and their counsayl/ they went vp in all the haist to Jerusalem vnto the Jewes/ and forbad them with the arme & auctorite. Thē ceassed the worke of the house of God at Jerusalem/and continued so vnto the seconde yeare of Darius kinge of Persia.

The. V. Chapter.

THe † prophetes / Aggeus and Zachary A

Jewes that were in Juda and Jerusalem / in the name of the God of Israel. †Then gat vp Agg. i. c Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel / and Jesua the sonne of Josedec / and beganne to buylde the house of God at Jerusalem/ and with thē the prophetes of God which strēgthed them. At the same tyme came to them Thathnai the debite on this syde the water / and Sethar of Bosen/and their counsaylers/ and sayde thus vnto them: Who commaunded you to builde this house/ and to make vp the walles therof? Then tolde we them the names of the men that made this buildinge. But the eye of their God came vpon the Elders of the Jewes/ that they were not inhibite / tyll the matter was brought before Darius/ & tyll there came a writtinge therof agayne.

This is the summe of the letter that Thathnai the debite on this syde ỹ water / & Sethar of Bosen/and their counsailers of Apharsath/ (which were on this syde the water) sent vnto kynge Darius. And these are the wordes that they sent vnto hym: Vnto Darius the B kynge/all peace. Be it knowen vnto the king/ that we came in to Jewry to the house of the greate God/which is buylded with all maner of stone / and balckes are layed in the walles/ and the worke goeth fast forth/ and prospereth in their hādes. Neuertheless/ we axed the Elders and sayde vnto them: Who hath commaunded you to buyld this house / & to make vp ỹ walles therof? We axed their names also/ ỹ we myght certifye the / and haue writtē the names of the men that were their rulers.

But

But they answered vs with these wordes/ and sayde: We are the seruauntes of the God of heauen and earth / and buylde the house
iij. reg. vj. a that was buylded many yeares ago / † which a greate kynge of Israel buylded and set vp. Howbeit / whan our fathers prouoked the

C †Neuertheless / in the fyrst yeare of Cyrus
Esd. j. a the kynge of Babylon / the same kinge Cyrus commaunded to buylde this house of God: for the vessels of golde and the syluer in the house of God / which Nabuchodonosor toke out of the temple at Jerusalem / and brought them in to the temple at Babylon / those dyd Cyrus the kynge take out of the temple at Ba-
Esd. j. b bylon/ †and delyuered them vnto Seszbazar by name/whome he made Debite / and sayde vnto hym: Take these vessels / go thy way and bringe them vnto the temple at Jerusalem/ and let the house of God be buylded in his place. Then came the same Seszbazar/ & layed the foundacion of the house of God at Jerusalē. Sence that time hath it ben in building/ and yet is it not fynyshed. If it please the king now / let there be searche made in the kynges treasure house/which is at Babylon / whether it haue ben kynge Cyrus commaundement/ that the house of God at Jerusalem shoulde be buylded: and sende vs the kinges mynde/ concernynge the same.

The. VI. Chapter.

A THen † commaunded kinge Darius/ that
Es. vj. d search shoulde be made in the library of the kynges treasure house/ whiche laye at Babylō. So at Egbathanis in a castell that lyeth in the lande of the Meedes/there was founde a boke/and in it was there an acte written after this maner: In the fyrst yeare of kinge Cyrus/cōmaūded the same king Cyrus to builde the house of God at Jerusalem / in the place where the sacrifice is made / and to laye the foundacion to beare three score cubites height/ and three score cubites bredth/ and three walles of all maner of stones/ & one walle of tymber/ & the expēces shalbe geuen of the kinges house. And the golden & syluer vessel of the house of God (which Nabuchodonosor toke out of the temple at Jerusalem / and brought vnto Babylon) shallbe restored agayne/that they maye be brought vnto the temple at Jerusalem to their place/in to the house of God.

Get you farre frō thē therfore/ thou Thathnai Debyte beyonde the water / & Sethar of Bosen/& your counsaylers which are beyonde the water. Let thē worke in the house of God/ that the Debyte of the Jewes & their elders B
maye buylde the house of God in his place. I haue cōmaūded also / what shalbe done to the Elders of Juda/for the buildinge of the house of God/that there shall dylygently be taken of the kynges goodes/euen of the rētes beyonde the water/and geuen vnto the men / and that they be not hindered.

And if they haue nede of calfes/ lambes/ or goates for the burntofferinge vnto the God of heauen / wheate/ salt/ wyne & oyle / after the costume of the priestes at Jerusalem / there shalbe geuen them daylye as is accordynge and se that this be not done neglygently / that they may offre swete sauoures vnto the God of heauen / and praye for the kinges lyfe / and for his chyldren. This commaundement haue I geuen. And what man soeuer he be that altereth these wordes/there shall a balke be taken from his house/and set vp/and he shalbe hanged theron / and hys house shalbe prysed for the dede doynge.

But the God that dwelleth in heauen / de- C stroye all kynges and people / that put to their hande to altere and to breake doune the house of God at Jerusalem. I Darius haue commaunded that this be diligently done.

Then Thathnai the Debyte beyonde the water/and Sethar of Bosen with their counsaylers/ (to whome kinge Darius had sente) dyd their diligence. And the Elders of the Jewes buylded / and they prospered thorow the prophecyenge of Aggeus the prophet/and Zacharie the sonne of Iddo: and they buylded / and set vp the worke / accordyng to the commaundement of the God of Israel / and after the commaundement of Cyrus/ Darius & Artaxerses kinges of Persia. And they performed the house vnto the thyrde daye of the moneth Adar/that was the sixte yeare of the raygne of kynge Darius.

4 par. vij. a † And the chyldren of Israel / the priestes / the Leuites / and the other chyldren of the captiuite helde the dedicacion of the house of God with ioye / and offered at the dedicacion of the D house of God / an hundreth calfes / two hundreth lambes / foure hundreth goates: and for the synofferynge for all Israel / twelfe hegoates / accordynge to the numbre of the trybes of Israel / and set the priestes in theyr courses / & the Leuites in theyr offices / to minister vnto God whiche is at Jerusalem / as it is wrytten in the boke of Moses.

And the chyldren of the captiuite held Passeouer vpō the fourtenth daye of the fyrst moneth: for the priestes and Leuites had purifyed themselfes / so that they were all cleane as one man / and kylled Passeouer for all the chyldren of the captiuite / and for theyr brethren the priestes / and for themselfes. And the chyldren of Israel which were come agayne out of captiuite / & all such as had seperated themselfes / vnto them frō the fylthynesse of the Heythen in the lande to seke the Lorde God of Israel: dyd eate and helde the feast of vnleuendend bread seuen dayes with ioye: for the Lord had made them glad / and turned the herte of the kynge of Assur vnto thē / so that theyr handes were strengthed in the worke of the house of God / which is the God of Israel.

And loke what it lyketh the and thy brethren to do with the remnaunt of the money / that do after the wyl of your God. And the vessels that are geuen the for the ministracion in the house of thy God / those delyuer thou before God at Jerusalem.

And whatsoeuer thynge more shalbe nedefull for the house of thy God / which is necessary for the to spende / let the same be geuen out of the kynges chaumber. I kynge Artaxerses haue commaunded all the treasurers beyonde the water / that loke whatsoeuer Esdras the priest and scrybe in the law of the God of heauen / requireth of you / that ye fulfyl the same diligētly / vntyll an hūdreth talentes of syluer / of syluer / and tyll an hundreth quarters of wheate / and til an hundreth fattes of wine / & al an hundreth fattes of oyle / & salt without measure. Whatsoeuer belongeth to the lawe of the God of heauen / let thesame be done with diligence for the house of the God of heauen / that there come no wrathe vppon the kinges realme and his children.

D And knowen be it vnto you / that ye shall haue no auctorite to require taxynge and costume / and yearly rentes vpō any of the priestes / Leuites / syngers / porters / Nethinims & ministers in the house of this God. But thou Esdras / (after the wysedom of thy God that is in thy hande) set thou iudges and arbiters / to iudge all the people that is beyonde Jordane / euen al such as knowe the lawe of thy God: and them that knowe it not / those se that ye teach. And whosoeuer wyll not diligently fulfyll the lawe of thy God / and the kynges lawe / shal haue his iudgement for the dede / whether it be vnto death / or be banished / or to be condemned in good / or to be put in pryson.

Praysed be the Lorde God of oure fathers / whiche so hath inspyred the kynges herte to garnishe the house of God at Jerusalem: and hath enclyned his mercy vnto me in the presence of the kyng / and his counsayelers / and before all the kynges hye estates. And I was conforted / (accordynge to the hande of the Lord my God ouer me) and so gathered I the heades of Israel together / that they myghte go vp with me.

The. VIII. Chapter.

A Esd. viij THese are † the heades of their fathers that were named / whiche wente vp with me from Babylon / what tyme as kynge Artaxerses raygned. Of the children of Phineas / Gerson: of the children of Ithamar / Saniel: of the children of Dauid / Hattus: of the children of Pareos / Zachary / and the men chyldrē numbred with hym / and hundreth and fyftye: Of the chyldren of Pahath Moab / Eleoenai the sōne of Serahia / and with him two hundreth men children.

Of the chyldren of Sechania / the sonne of Jehasiell / and with hym thre hundreth men chyldren. Of the chyldren of Adin Ebed / the sonne of Jonathan / and with hym fyfty men chyldren. Of the chyldren of Elam / Jesaia the sonne of Athalia / and with hym seuentye men chyldren. Of the chyldren of Sephacia / Sebadia the sonne of Michael / & with hym foure score men children.

Of the children of Joab / Obadia the sonne of Jehiell / and with hym two hundreth and eyghtene men chyldren. Of the chyldren of Selomith / the sonne of Josiphia / and with him an hundreth and thre score men children.

Of the children of Bebai / Zachary the sōne B of Bebai / and with him eyght and twentye men chyldren. Of the chyldren of Asgad / Johanan the yongest sonne / and with him an hundreth and ten men childrē. Of the last children of Adonicam / and these were theyr names: Eliphelet / Jeiell & Semaia / and with them thre score men children. Of the children of Bigenai / Vthai and Sabud / and with thē seuen men childrē. And I gathered them together by the water that runneth toward Ahcua / and there abode we thre dayes.

And whan I loked among the people & the priestes / I founde no Leuites there. Then sente I Elieser / Ariel / Semaia / Elnathan / Jarib / Elnathan / Matha / Zacharye & Mesullam the rulers / and Joiarib and Elnathā the teachers: and those sente I vnto Iddo the chiefeste at Casiphia / that they shoulde fetche vs mynisters for the house of oure God / & I tolde them what they shoulde saye vnto Iddo and to his brethren the Nethinims at Casiphia.

And (accordynge to the good hande of C oure God vpon vs) they bronghte vs a wyse man from among the chyldren of Maheli the sonne of Leui / the sonne of Israel / euen Serebia with his sonnes and brethren / eyghtene. And Hasabia / and with hym Jesaia of the children of Merari / with his brethren and theyr sonnes / twenty. And of the Nethinims / whome Dauid and the prynces gaue to mynistre vnto the Leuites / two hundreth and twentye / al named by name.

† And euen there at the water beside Ahe- iij Esd. viij
ua / caused I a fastynge to be proclaymed / that d.
we myghte humble oure selfes before oure God / to seke of him a ryghte waye for vs / and oure children an all oure substaunce. For I was ashamed to requyre of the kynge / soul-

dyers and horsemen/to helpe vs againste the enemye in the waye. For we had sayde vnto the kynge: The hande of oure God is for the best vpon all them that seke hym/and his violence and wrath vpon all them that forsake hym. So we fasted/and soughte this at oure God/and he herde vs.

And I toke out twelfe of the chiefe priestes/ Serebia and Hasabia/and ten of their brethren with the/and weyed them there the syluer & golde and vessels for the heaueofferyng vnto the house of our God/which the kynge/ and the lordes of his counsail and princes/ & al Israel that were at hande/had geuen to the heaueofferyng: and there weyed I them vnder their hande sixe hundreth and fyftye talentes of syluer/and in syluer vessel an hundreth talentes/and in golde an hundreth talentes/ twenty cuppes of golde of a thousande guldens/and two costly ornamentes of good Brasse/as cleare as golde/and sayde vnto the: Ye are holy vnto the Lorde/therfore are the vessels holy also/& so is the syluer and golde that is geuen of a good wyl vnto the Lorde God of oure fathers: Watche ye therfore and kepe it/tyl ye weye it downe Before ỹ chiefe priestes and Leuites/and auncient fathers of Israel at Jerusalem in the chestes of the house of the Lord. Then toke the priestes and Leuites the weyed syluer and golde and vessell/ to bringe it to Jerusalem vnto the house of oure God.

So we brake vp/from the water of Ahena on the twelfeth daye on the fyrst moneth/ to go vnto Jerusalem: and the hande of oure God was vpon vs/and delyuered vs from the hande of the enemyes and preuye waytinges by the waye. And we came to Jerusalem/and abode there thre dayes. But on the fourth daye was the syluer and golde/and vessel weyed in the house of oure God vnder the hande of Meremoth the sonne of Urias the priest/and wiht hym Eleasar the sonne of Phineas/and with them Josabad the sonne of Jesua/and Noad the sonne of Benui the Leuites/accordinge to the numbre & weighte of euery one. And the weyghte was all writen vp at thesame tyme.

And the chyldren of the captiuyte/whiche were come out of pryson/offered Burntofferynges vnto the God of Israel: twelfe Bullockes for al Israel/sixe and nyentie rammes/ seuen and seuentie lambes/and twelfe goates for a synofferinge/all to the burntofferinge of the Lord. And they deliuered the kinges cõmission vnto the kynges officers/and to the Debytes on this syde ỹ water. And they promoted the people and the house of God.

The IX. Chapter.

WHan all this was perfourmed/the rulers came to me/and saide: The people of Israel/and ỹ priestes/and Leuites are not separated from the nacyons in the landes/as touchynge their abhominacyons/namely of the Cananites/Hethites/Pheresytes Jebusytes/Ammonites/Moabites/Egypcyans/ and Amorites. † For they haue taken the doughters of thesame/and their sonnes/and haue myxte the holy sede with the nacions in the landes/and the hande of the rulers and lordes of counsail hath bene pryncipal in this trespasse.

Whan I herde this/I rente my clothes & my rayment/and plucte out the heer of my heade/and of my beerd/and sat mournynge. And there resorted vnto me al suche as feared ỹ Lord God of Israel/because of the greate transgression. And I sat mourning vntyl the eueninge sacrifice. And aboute the eueninge sacrifyce I rose vp fro my heauynes/and rent my clothes and my rayment/and fell vpõ my knees/and spred out my handes vnto the Lord my God/and sayde:

My God/I am ashamed/and darre not lyfte vp myne eyes vnto the my God: for oure wyckednesses are growen ouer oure heade/ and oure trespasses are waxen great vnto the heauen. Sence the tyme of our fathers haue we bene in greate trespasse vnto this daye/ † and because our wyckednesses haue we and our kynges and priestes bene delyuered into the hande of the kynges of the nacyons/into the swearde/into captyuitie/into spoyle/and into confusion of face/as it is come to passe this daye.

But now is there a lytle and sodane graciousnesse come from the Lorde oure God/ so that some of vs are escaped/that he maye geue vs a nayle in his holy place/that oure God maye lighte oure eyes/and geue vs a lytle

lytle lyfe in our bondage. For we are bondemen/and oure God hath not forsaken vs/ thoughe we be bondmen/and hath enclyned mercy vnto vs in the syght of the kynges of Persia/that they shoulde geue vs lyfe/& promote the house of oure God/and to set vp the desolacion therof/and to geue vs an hedge in Juda and Jerusalem.

O oure God what shal we saye now after this: that we haue forsaken thy commaundementes/which thou hast commaũded by thy seruauntes the prophetes/and sayd: The lãde wherin ye shal come to possesse it/is an vncleane lande thorowe the fylthynesse of the people of the landes/in their abhominaciõs/ wherwith they haue made it full of vnclennesse on euery side. † Therfore shal ye not geue youre doughters vnto their sõnes/and their doughters shall ye not take vnto youre sonnes/and seke not their peace and welth for euer/that ye maye be stronge/and enioye the good in the lande/and that ye and youre children maye haue the enheritaunce of it for euermore.

And after all this that is come vpon vs/ (because of oure euel dedes and greate trespasse) thou oure God hast spared oure wickednesses/and hast geuen vs a delyueraunce as it is come to passe.

As for vs/we haue turned backe/and haue let go thy commaundementes/to make contracte with the people of the abhominacions. Wilt thou then be wroth at vs/tyll we be vtterly consumed/so that nothynge remayne/and tyll there be no delyueraunce? O Lord God of Israell/thou art ryghteous/ for we remayne yet escaped/as it is this day. Beholde/in thy presence are we in oure trespasse/for because of it is there no standinge before the.

The .X. Chapter.

AYnd whan Esdras prayed after this maner and knowleged/wept/and lay before ỹ house of God/there resorted vnto hym oute of Israel a very greate cõgregacion of men & women/and chyldren: for the people wepte very sore. And Sachania the sonne of Jehiel one of the chyldren of Elam/aunswered and sayde vnto Esdras: We haue trespassed against the Lord oure God/in that we haue taken straunge wyfes of all the people of the lande. Now there is no hope yet in Israel cõcerninge this/therfore let vs make a conuenaunt now with oure God/that we shal put awaye al the wyfes/and such as are borne of them/accordynge to the counsayl of ỹ Lord/ and of them that feare ỹ commaundement of oure God/that we maye do accordinge to the lawe. Get the vp therfore/for the mater belõgeth vnto ỹ. We wyl be with the/be of good comforte/and do it.

Then rose Esdras/and toke an ooth of the rulers/priestes/and Leuites/and of all Israell/that they shoulde do accordynge to this worde: and they swore. And Esdras stode vp before the house of God/and wente in to the chaumber of Johanan the sonne of Eliasab. And whan he came thether/he dyd eate no breade/and dranke no water: for he mourned because of the transgressyon of them that had bene in captyuitie.

And they caused a proclamacion be made thorowout Juda and Jerusalem/vnto all the children which had ben in captiuite/that they shoulde gather them selfes together vnto Jerusalem: And that whosoeuer came not within thre dayes/accordinge to the deuyce of the rulers and Elders/all his substaunce shoulde be forfeted/and he put out from the congregacion of the captiue.

Then all the men of Juda and Ben Jamin gathered them selfes together vnto Jerusalem in thre dayes/that is on the twentieth daie of the nyenth moneth: and all the people sat in the strete before the house of God/and trembled because of the matter/and for the rayne. And Esdras the priest stode vp/and saide vnto them: † Ye haue transgressed/that ye haue taken straunge wyfes/to make the trespasse of Israel yet more: cõfesse now therfore vnto the Lorde God of youre fathers/ and do his pleasure/and separate youre selfes from the people of the lande/and from the straunge wyfes. Then aunswered al the congregacion/and sayde with loude voyce: Let it be done as thou hast sayde. But the people are many/and it is a rayny wether/and they can not stande here without/neyther is this a worke of one daye or two/for we are many ỹ haue offended in this transgressyon.

Let

Let vs appointe our rulers therfore in all the congregacion/that all they which haue taken straunge wyfes in oure cities / maie come at the tyme appoynted/and the Elders of euery citye and their iudges with thē/tyl the wrath of our God/because of this matter be turned awaye from vs.

Then were appoynted Jonathan the sone of Asahel/ and Jehasia the sonne of Thecua ouer this matter. And Mesullam and Sabthai the Leuites helped them. And the children of the captiuitie dyd euen so. And Esdras the priest/and the auncyent fathers thorowe the house of theyr fathers / and all that were nowe rehearced by name/ separated themselfes / and sat them doune on the fyrst daye of the tenth moneth / to examen this matter. And on the fyrste daye of the fyrste moneth brought they the matter to a conclusyon/concerninge all the men that had taken straunge wyfes.

And amonge the children of the priestes/ there were men founde that had taken straūge wyfes/namely amonge the children of Jesua the sonne of Josedec and of his brethrē/ Maeseia/ Elieser/ Jarib and Godolia. And they gaue theyr handes there vpon / that they wolde put awaye theyr wyfes: and for theyr trespasse offerynge to geue a ramme for theyr trespasse. Amonge the children of Immer/ Hanani and Sabadia. Amonge the children of Harim: Maeseia/ Elia/ Semaia / Jehiell/ and Vsia. Amonge the chyldren of Pashur: Elionai/ Maeseia/ Jsmael/ Nethaneel / Josabad/ and Eleasa. The ende of the fyrst boke of Esdras.

The secōde boke of Esdras / otherwyse called the boke of Nehemias.

The fyrst Chapter.

THese are the actes of Nehemias the sonne of Hachalia. It fortuned in the moneth † Chisleu in the twentyeth yeare / that I was in the castell at Susan: & Hanani one of my brethren came with certayne men of Juda: and I axed them howe the Jewes dyd that were deliuered and escaped from the captyuite/and how it wente at Jerusalem. And they sayde vnto me: The remnaunt of the captyuite are there in ỹ lāde in great misfortune and rebuke. † The walles of Jerusalem are broken doune / and the portes therof are brent with fyre.

Whan I herde these wordes / I sat me doune and wept/and mourned two dayes/ & fasted and prayed before the God of heauen/ & sayde: O Lorde God of heauen thou greate and terrible God / † thou that kepest conuenaunt and mercy for them that loue the / and obserue thy commaundementes: let thine eares marke/ & let thyne eyes be open / that thou mayest heare the prayer of thy seruaunt/ which I praye now before the daye and night/ for ỹ children of Jsrael thy seruauntes/ & knowlege the synnes of the children of Jsrael/ which we haue committed against the.

And I and my fathers house haue synned also. We haue bene corrupte vnto the/ in that we haue not kepte the commaundementes/ statutes and lawes / whiche thou commaundest thy seruaunt Moses. Yet call to remembraunce the worde that thou commaundest thy seruaunt Moses/ & saydest: † If ye transgresse/ then wil I scater you abroade amonge the nacyons. But if ye turne vnto me/ & kepe my commaūdementes and do them: though ye were cast out vnto the vttermost part of heauen/ yet wil I gather you from thence / & bringe you from thence/ euen vnto the place/ that I haue chosen for my name to dwel there. They are thy seruauntes/ & thy people/ whome thou hast delyuered thorow thy greate power and myghtie hande. O Lorde/ let thyne cares marke the prayer of thy seruaunt / and the prayer of thy seruauntes / whose desyre is to feare thy name / and let thy seruaunt prospere this daye/ and graunt hym mercy in the sight of this man: for I was the kynges butlar.

The. II. Chapter.

IN the moneth † Nisan of the twentyeth yeare of kynge Artaxerses/ whā the wyne stode before hym/ I toke vp the wyne/ & gaue it vnto the kynge/ & I was heauy in his presence. Then sayde the kynge vnto me: Why lokest thou so sadly? Thou arte not sicke/ that is not the matter / But thou arte heauy herted. Neuertheles / I was sore afraied and sayde vnto the kyng: God sauc the kynges lyfe for euer/ shoulde I not loke sadly? the cytie of my fathers burial lyeth waist/ and the porters therof are consumed with fyre. Then sayde the kynge vnto me: What is then thy request? Thē made I my prayer vnto ỹ God of heauen/ and said vnto the kynge: if it please the kynge/ and if thy seruaunt be fauoured in thy syght/ I beseche the sende me into Juda vnto ỹ cytie of my fathers burial/ that I may buylde it.

And the kynge sayd vnto me / and so dyd the quene that sat by hym: How longe shall thy iourney continue/ & whā wylt thou come agayne? And it pleased the kyng to sende me: & I set hym a time/ and saide vnto the kynge: If it please the kynge/ let him geue me letters to the debites beyonde the water / that they maye conueye me ouer/ tyl I come into Juda: and letters vnto Assaph the lorde of the kynges wood / that he maye geue me wood for beames to the gates of the palayce/ which are harde on the house/ and harde on the walles of the cytie/ and for the house that I shall entre into. And the kynge gaue me accordinge to the good hande of God vpō me. And whā I came to the debites beyonde the water / I gaue them the kynges letters. And the kyng sent captaines and horsemen with me.

But whan Saneballath the Horonite/ & Tobias the seruaunt of the Ammonites herde that/ it greued them sore/ that there was come a man which sought the wealth of the children of Jsrael. And whan I came to Jerusalem/ & had bene there thre dayes/ I gat me vp in ỹ nyght season/ & a fewe men with me: For I tolde no man what my God had geuen me in my herte to do at Jerusalem: & there was not one beast with me/ saue it that I rode vpon. And I rode by nyght vnto the valley porte before the Dragō welle/ & to the doungporte/ and consydered the walles of Jerusalē that were broken doune / & the portes therof consumed with the fyre. And I wente ouer vnto the wellporte/ & to the kynges conduyte/ and there was no roume for my beast / that it coulde go vnder me. Then wente I on in the nyghte nyght by the broke syde/& considered ỹ wal/ and turned backe/and came home againe to the valley port.

D And the rulers knew not whether I went/ or what I dyd: for hitherto had I not tolde the Jewes & the priestes/the counsayllers and the rulers/and the other that laboured in the worke/& I said vnto them: Ye se the miserye that we are in/how Jerusalem lyeth wayst/ & how the gates therof are burnt wt fyre: come/ let vs builde vp the walles of Jerusalem/that we be nomore a rebuke. And I tolde them of the good hande of my God which was vpon me: And the kynges wordes that he had spoken vnto me. And they sayde: Then let vs get vp. And we buylded /and theyr handes were strengthed to good.

But whan Saneballat the Honorite/ and Tobias the seruaunt of the Ammonites/ and Gosem the Arabiā herde it / they laughed vs to scorne/& despised vs/& sayd: What is this ỹ ye do? Wil ye fall awaye agayn frō the kyng? Then aunswered I them/& said: The God of heauen shall cause vs to prospere: for we hys seruauntes are gotten vp/ and are buyldinge. As for iou/ye haue no porciō nor right/nor remembraunce in Jerusalem.

The. IIII. Chapter.

A But whan Saneballat herde that we builded the walle/he was wroth / & toke greate indignacion/ and mocked the Jewes/ and saide before his brethren/and mighty mē of Samaria: What do the impotent Jewes? shal they be thus suffred? shal they offre? shal they perfourme it in one daye? shal they make the stones whole agayne that are broken to dust/and burnt? And Tobias the Ammonite besyde him saide: Let them build on / if a foxe go vp/he shal breake doune theyr stony walle. Heare O thou oure God/how we are despysed/turne theyr shame vpō theyr owne heade/ that thou maiest geue them ouer vnto despysynge in the lāde of their captiuite. Couer not their wickednes/and put not out their synne from thy presence: for they haue prouoked the builders. Yet builded we the walle / & ioyned it whole together vnto the halfe heyght. And the people were wel minded to laboure.

But whan Saneballat/ and Tobias / and B the Arabians/and Ammonites/and Asdodites herde/that the walles of Jerusalem were made vp/and that they had begōne to stoppe vp the gappes/they were very wroth/and cōspyred altogether/to come and fight againste Jerusalem/and to make an hinderaunce therein. Neuertheles/we made oure prayer vnto our God/and set watchmen vpon the walle daye and nyght ouer against them. And Juda said: The strenght of the bearers is to feble and there is to much dust / we are not able to builde on the walle. And oure aduersaries thought: They shal not knowe neither se / tyll we come in the myddes amonge them / and slaye them/and hinder the worke. But whan the Jewes that dwelt besyde them/came out of al the places where they dwelt about vs / & tolde vs as good as ten tymes/then set I the people after their kinredes with theyr swearedes/speares and bowes beneth in the lowe places behinde the walle / and loked / and gat me vp/ and said vnto the chiefe men & rulers/ and to the other people: Be not ye afraied of them / thinke vpon the great Lorde whiche ought to be feared/& fyghte for your brethren/ sonnes/doughters/wyfes/ and houses. Neuertheles/whan oure enemyes herde that we had gotten worde of it/ God broughte theyr counsail to naught/& we turned al againe to the walle/euery one vnto his labour. And frō that time forth it came to passe that the halfe parte of the yonge men dyd the labour/& the other halfe parte helde the speares / shyldes/ bowes/& brestplates/and the rulers stode behinde all the house of Juda/which builded on the walle/& bare burthens/from those that laded them. With one hand did they the worke/ and with the other held they the weapē. And euery one that builded/had his swearde girded by his side/& so builded they. And the trōpettes stode besyde me.

And I sayd vnto the principal men / and rulers/and to the other people: The worke is great great and large/and we are separated vpon ỹ walle one farre from another. Loke in what place now ye heare the noyse of the trompe/

Exo. xiiij.c resorte ye thyther vnto vs. †Our God shall fyght for vs/and we wyl be labouringe in the worke. And the halfe parte of them helde the speares from the mornynge springe/tyl the starres came forth. And at thesame tyme said I vnto the people: Euery one abyde with his seruaunt at Jerusalem/that in the nyghte season we may geue attendaunce to the watche/ & to labour on the daye tyme. As for me and my brethren/and my seruauntes/and the mē of the watch behinde me/we put neuer of our clothes/so much as to washe our selfes.

The. V. Chapter.

A AND there arose a greatcomplaint of the people/and of theyr wyfes againste theyr breth: ē the Jewes. And there were some that said: our sonnes and doughters are to many/ let vs take corne for them/and eate/that we maye lyue. Some said: Let vs set our landes/ vyneyardes and houses to pledge/and take vp corne in the derth. But some saide: Let vs borowe moncy of the kynge vpon vsury for our landes and vineyardes. Now are our brethrens bodies as our owne bodies/and theyr chyldren as our chyldren: els shoulde we subdue our sonnes and doughters vnto bondage/& some of oure doughters are subdued already/and no strenght is there in our handes/and other men shall haue oure landes & vineyardes.

But whan I herde theyr complainte and such wordes/it displeased me sore/& I aduised so in my mynde/that I rebuked the counsayllers/and the rulers/and sayde vnto them:
Deu. xxiij.c †Wyl ye require vsury one of another? And I brought a great congregacion against thē/ and sayde vnto them: We (after oure abilite) haue bought our brethren the Jewes/which were solde vnto the Heythen. And wyl ye sell youre brethren/whome we haue bought vnto vs? Then helde they their peace/and coulde fynde nothinge to aunswere.

B And I sayde: It is not good that ye do. Ought ye not to walke in the feare of God/ because of the rebuke of the Heythen oure enemyes? I and my brethren/and my seruaūtes haue lent them money & corne: but as for vsury/let vs leaue it. Therfore thesame daye se that ye restore them theyr landes agayne/ theyr vineyardes/oylegardens/and houses/ and the hundreth parte of the money of the corne/wyne/& oyle ỹ ye haue wōne of them. Then sayde they: We wyl restore them again/ & wil require nothinge of them/& will do as thou hast spoken. And I called the priestes/& toke an ooth of them/that they shoulde do so. And I shoke my lappe/& saide: God shake out euery man after thesame maner from his house and laboure that mayntayneth not this worde: euen thus be he shaken out/and voide. And all the congregacion sayde/Amen: and praysed the Lorde. And the people dyd so.

Yee/and theyr seruauntes had oppressed the people. But so dyd not I/and that because of the feare of God. I laboured also in the worke vpon the walle/and bought no lande. And al my seruaūtes came thether together vnto the worke. Moreouer there were at my table an hundreth and fifte of the Jewes and rulers/which came vnto me from amonge the Heithen that are about vs. And there was prepared me daily an oxe/ and sixe chosen shepe/and byrdes/and euer once in ten dayes a greate summe of wyne. The. VI. Chapter.

A AND whan Saneballat/Tobias and Go- A sem the Arabian/and the other of oure enemyes herd/that I had builded the walle/ and that there were no mo gappes therin/ (howbeit/at thesame tyme had I not hanged the dores vpon the gates) Saneballat & Gosem sent vnto me/sayinge: Come and let vs mete together in the villages vpon the plaine

The worke shoulde stande styll/if I were negligent/& came doune to you. Howbeit/they sent vnto me as good as four times after thesame maner. And I gaue the same aunswere.

B Then sent Saneballat his seruaunt vnto me the fyfth tyme/with an open letter in his hande/wherin was written: It is tolde the Heythen/and Gosem hath sayde it/that thou and the Jewes thynke to rebell: for the which cause thou buildest the walle/and wilt be their kynge in these matters/and hast ordeyned the prophetes to preache of the at Jerusalem/and to saye: Be is kynge of Juda.

Now shall this come to the kynges eares: come now therfore/and let vs take our counsayl together. Neuertheless/I sent vnto hym/ saying: There is no such thynge done as thou sayest: thou hast fayned it out of thyne owne hert. For they were all mynded to make vs afrayed/and thought: They shall withdrawe theyr handes from the worke/that they shall not laboure. Howbeit/I strenghted my hāde the more.

C And I came vnto the house of Semaia ỹ sonne of Selaia the sonne of Mechetabeell/& he had shut hym selfe within/and sayde: Let vs come together into the house of God/euen vnto the myddes of the temple/and sparre the dores of the temple: for they wyll come to slaye the/yee/euen in the nyght wyl they come to put the to death. But I sayd: Shoulde such a mā flye? Shoulde such a mā as I am go in to the temple/to saue his lyfe? I wyl not go in.

For I perceaued/that God had not sent hym: Yet spake he propheeye vpon me/neuertheless/Tobias and Saneballath had hired hym for money. Therfore toke he the money/ that I shoulde be afrayed/and so to do and synne/that they myght haue an euel report of me/to blaspheme me. My God thynke thou vpon Tobias and Saneballat/according vnto these theyr workes/and of the prophet Noadia/& of the other prophetes/that wolde haue put me in feare.

D And the walle was synished on the fyue

And whan all our enemyes herde therof/all the Heithen that were about vs/were afrayed/and theyr courage failed thē: for they perceaued ỹ this worke came of God. And at ỹ same tyme were there many of the chiefe of Juda/whose letters went vnto Tobias/and from Tobias vnto them (for there were many in Juda that were sworne vnto hym: for he was the sonne in lawe of Sachania the sonne of Arah/and his sonne Johanā had the doughter of Mesullam the sonne of Barachia/and they spake good of hym before me/and told him my wordes.) And Tobias sent letters to put me in feare.

The. VIII. Chapter.

A NOw whan the seuenth moneth drue nye/ and the chyldren of Jsrael were in theyr cyties/ all the people gathered themselfes together as one man vpon the strete before the watergate/ and sayde vnto Esdras the scrybe/ that he should fetch the boke of ỹ lawe of Moses/ which the Lorde commaunded Jsrael. †And Esdras the priest brought the lawe before the congregacion both of men and women/ and of all that coulde vnderstande it/ vpon the fyrst daye of the seuenth moneth/ & red therein in the strete that is before the watergate/ frō the lyght mornynge vntyll ỹ noone daye/ before men and women/ and suche as coulde vnderstande it: and the eares of all the people were inclyned vnto the boke of ỹ lawe. And Esdras the scrybe stode vpon an hye pulpit of wood/ which they had made for ỹ preachynge/ and beside him stode Mathithia/ Sema/ Anania/ Uria/ Helchias/ and Maeseia on his ryght hande. And on his lefte hande stode Pedaia/ Misael/ Malchia/ Hasum/ Hasbadana/ Zachary and Mesullam.

B And Esdras opened the boke before all the people/ for he stode aboue all the people. And whā he opened it/ all the people stode vp. And Esdras praysed ỹ Lorde the great God. And all the people aunswered Amen/ Amen/ with theyr handes vp/ and bowed thē selfes/ & worshipped the Lorde with theyr faces to the groūde. And Jesua/ Bani/ Screbia/ Jamim/ Acub/ Sabthai/ Hodaia/ Maeseia/ Celita/ Asaria/ Josabad/ Hanā/ Plaia and the Leuites/ caused ỹ people to geue hede vnto the lawe/ & the people stode in theyr place. And thei red in the boke of the law of God distinctly & playnly/ so that men vnderstode the thing that was red. And Nehemias (which is Hathirsatha) & Esdras the priest and scribe/ and the Leuites ỹ caused the people to take hede/ sayde vnto all ỹ people: This day is holy vnto the Lord your God/ Be not ye sory therefore/ and wepe not. For all the people wepte/ whan they herde the wordes of the lawe.

Therfore sayd he vnto thē: † Go your way/ C and eat the fat/ and drinke the swete/ and send iij. And the Leuites stylled all ỹ people/ and sayd: Holde your peace/ for the dai is holy/ vexe not ye your selfs. And all the people went theyr waye to eat and drinke/ and too sende parte vnto other/ & to make great mirth/ for they had vnderstande the woordes ỹ were declared vnto them.

And on the nexte day were gathered together the chiefe fathers amonge all the people/ and the priestes and Leuites/ vnto Esdras the scrybe/ that he shoulde teache them the wordes of the lawe. And they founde written in the lawe/ † how that the Lord had commaūded Leu. xxiij. f by Moses/ that the chyldren of Jsrael shoulde dwell in bothes in the feast of the seuenth moneth. And so they caused it to be declared and S proclaymed in all theyr cyties/ and at Jerusalem/ saying: Go vp to the moūt & fetch Olyue braunches/ Pynebraunches/ Myrtbraunches/ Palmebraunches/ & braunches of thicketrees/ to make bothes as it is wrytten.

And the people wente vp/ and fetched them/ and made them bothes/ euery one vpon the rose of his house/ and in theyr courtes/ and in the courtes of the house of God/ and in the strete by the Watergate/ and in the strete by the Ephraims porte. And all the congregaciō of them that were come againe out of the captiuite/ made bothes/ & dwelt therin: for sence ỹ time of Josua the sonne of Nun/ vnto this daye/ had not the children of Jsrael done so/ & there was very great gladnesse. And euery daye from the fyrst daye vnto the last/ red he in the boke of the lawe of God. And seuen dayes helde they the feast / and on the eyght daye the gatherynge together / accordynge vnto the maner.

The. XII. Chapter.

T Heſe are the prieſtes and Leuites that A twente vp with Zorobabel the ſonne of Saalthiel/and with Jeſua: Seraia/ Jeremy/ Eſdras/Amaria/ Malluch / Hattus/ Sechania/Rehũ/Meremoth/Iddo/Ginthoi/ Abia/ Meamin/Maadia/Bilga/Semaia/ Joiarib/ Jedaia/ Sallu/ Amok/ Helchias and Jedaia. Theſe were the heades amonge the prieſtes & theyr brethren in the tyme of Jeſua. The Leuites were theſe: Jeſua/Bẽnui/Cadmiel/ Serebia/ Juda and Mathania/ ouer the office of the thankeſgeuynge / they and theyr brethren: Bacbuchia and Vnni/and theyr brethrẽ/were aboute them in the watches.

Jeſua begat Joachim. Joachim begat Eliaſib. Eliaſib begat Joiada. Joiada begat Jonathan. Jonathan begat Jaddua. And in the tyme of Joachim were theſe the chiefe fathers amonge the prieſtes: namely of Seraia was Meraia/ of Jeremy was Hanania/ of Eſdras was Meſullam/of Amaria was Johanan/of Malluch was Jonathan/of Sebania was Joſeph/of Harĩ was Adna/ of Meraioth was Helcai/ of Iddo was Zachary/ of B Ginthon was Meſullam/ of Abia was Sichri/of Miniamin/Moadia was Piltai / of Bilga was Sammua/of Semaia was Jonathan/ of Joiarib was Mathnai / of Jedaia was Vſi/of Sallai was Callai/ of Amok was Eber/of Helchias was Haſabia/ of Gedaia/ was Nethaneel.

And in the tyme of Eliaſib. Joiada/Johanan and nan and Jaddua / were the chiefe fathers amonge the Leuites / and the priestes wrytten vnder the raygne of Darius the Persian. The chyldren of Leui the principal fathers were wrytten in the Cronicles / vntyl the tyme of Johanan the sone of Eliasib. And these were the chiefe amonge the Leuites / Hasabia / Serebia / and Jesua the sonne of Cadmiel / and theyr brethren ouer agaynst the / to geue prayse and thankes / accordynge as Dauid the man of God had ordeyned it / one watch ouer against another / Mathania / Bacbuchia / Obadia / Mesullam / Talmon and Acub were porters in the watch at the tresholdes of the gates. These were in the tyme of Joiachim the sonne of Jesua the sonne of Josedec / and in the tyme of Nehemias the Sebyte / and of the priest Esdras the scrybe.

C And in the dedicacion of the walle at Jerusalem / were the Leuites sought out of all theyr places / that they might be brought to Jerusalem / to kepe the dedicacion in gladnesse / with thankesgeuynges / with synging / with Cymbales / Psalteries & harpes. And the children of the syngers gathered themselfes together from the plaine contrie aboute Jerusalē / and from the villages of Nethophati / and frō the house of Gilgal / and out of the felde of Gibea and Asmaueth: for the syngers had buylded them villages aboute Jerusalē. And the priestes and Leuites purified thē selfes / and clensed the people / the gates and the walle.

And I caused the princes to go vp vpō the walle / and appoynted two great queres of thākesgeuynge / which wēte on the right hāde of the walle towarde the Soungate / and after them wēte Hosaia / and halfe of the princes of Juda / and Asaria / Esdras / Mesullam / Juda / Ben Jamin / Semaia / & Jeremy: and certaine of the priestes childrē with trompettes / namely Zachary the sonne of Jonathan / the sonne of Semaia / the sonne of Mathania / the sonne of Michaia / the sonne of Sachur / the sonne of Assaph and his brethren / Semaia / Asareel / Mulalai / Gilalai / Maai / Nathaneel / and Juda / and Hanani / with the musycal instrumentes of Dauid the man of God.

D And Esdras the scrybe before thē towarde the Wellgate / & they wente vp ouer againste them vpon the steppes of the cytie of Dauid at the goyinge vp of the walle to the house of Dauid / vnto the Watergate Eastwarde.

The other quere of thankesgeuinge wente ouer agaynst them / and I after them / and the halfe parte of the people vpon the walle / towarde the Fornacegate vpwarde / vntyll the broade walle / & to the porte of Ephraim / and to the Oldgate / and to the Fyshgate / & to the tower of Hananeel / & to the tower of Meah / vntyl the Shepegate. And in the prysongate stode they styll: and so stode the two queres of thankesgeuyng of the house of God / and I and the halfe of the rulers with me / and the priestes / namely Eliachim / Maesaia / Miniamin / Michaia / Elioenai / Zachary / Banania / with trompettes / and Maeseia / Semaia / Eleasar Vsi / Johanan / Malchia / Elam / and Aser. And the syngers songe loude / & Jesrahia was the ouerseyer.

And the same daye were there greate sacrifices offred / and they reioyced: for God had geuē thē great gladnesse / so that both the wyfes and chylderen were ioyfull / and the myrth of Jerusalem was herde farre of. E

At the same time were there mē appointed ouer the treasure chestes / (wherin were ỹ heaueofferinges / the fyrstlinges / & the tythes) that they shoulde gather thē out of ỹ feldes aboute the cyties / to distribute them vnto the priestes and Leuites / accordynge to the lawe: for Juda was glad of the priestes and Leuites / that they stode and wayted vpon the office of theyr God / and the office of the purificacion. And the syngers and porters stode after the commaundement of Dauid and of Salomon his sonne: †for in the tyme of Dauid and Assaph / were the chiefe syngers founded / and the songes of prayse and thankesgeuynge vnto God. j. par. [illegible] and [illegible]

In the time of Zorobabel and Nehemias / dyd all Israel geue porcyons vnto the singers and porters / euery daye his porcyon / & they gaue thynges halowed vnto the Leuites: and the Leuites gaue thynges that were sanctified / vnto the chyldren of Aaron.

The. XIII. Chapter.

AND what time as the boke of Moses was A red in the eares of the people / there was founde wrytten therin / †that the Ammonites Deut. [illegible] and Moabites should neuer come in to the congregacion of God / because they mete not the

the children of Israel with breade and water / Exo. xxiij. a †and hyred Balaam against them / that he shoulde curse them: Neuertheless / oure God turned the curse into a blessing. Now whan they herde the law / they separated from Israel euery one that had mixte him selfe therin.

And before this had the priest Eliasib delyuered the chest of the house of our God vnto his kynsman Tobia: for he had made him a great chest / and there had they afore tyme layed the meatofferinges / frankencence / vessel / and the tythes of corne / wyne / and oyle / (accordinge to the commaundement / geuen to the Leuites / syngers and porters) and the heaueofferinges of the priestes.

B But in all this was not I at Jerusalem / for in the two and thyrtyeth yeare of Artaxerses kinge of Babylon / came I vnto the king / and after certayne dayes optayned I licence of the kinge to come to Jerusalem. And I gat knowlege of the euel that Eliasib dyd vnto Tobia / in that he had made him a chest in the courte of the house of God / and it greued me sore / and I cast forth all the vessels of Tobias house out of the chest / and commaunded thē to clense the chest. And thither broughte I again the vessels of the house of God / ỹ meatofferinge and the incence.

And I perceaued / that the porcions of the Leuites were not geuen them / for the which cause the Leuites and singers were fled / euery one to his lande for to worke. Then reproued I the rulers / and saide: Why forsake we the house of God? But I gathered thē together / and set them in their place. Then broughte all Juda the tythes of corne / wyne and oyle vnto the treasure. And I made treasures ouer the treasure / euen Selemia the priest / and Sadoc the scribe: and of the Leuites Pedaia / and vnder their hande Hanan the sonne of Sachur the sonne of Mathania: for they were counted faithful / and their office was to distribute C
vnto their brethren. †Thinke vpon me O my Ed. v. c
God here in / and wype not out my mercy that I haue shewed on the house of my God / and on the offices therof.

At the same tyme sawe I some treadynge wynepresses on the Sabbath / and bringing in clusters / and asses laden with wyne / grapes / sygges / and bryngynge all maner of burthens vnto Jerusalem / vpō the Sabbath daye. And I rebuked them earnestly the same daye that they solde the vittailes. There dwelt men of Tyre also therin / which brought fyshe and all maner of ware / and solde on the Sabbath vnto the children of Juda and Jerusalem. Then reproued I the rulers in Juda / and sayde vnto them: What euell thynge is this that ye do / and breake the Sabbath daye? Dyd not oure fathers euen thus / and oure God broughte all this plague vpon vs and vpon this cytie? And ye make the wrath more yet vpon Israell / in that ye breake the Sabbath.

And whan the portes of Jerusalem were drawen vp before the Sabbath / I commaūded to shut the gates / and charged that they should not be opened tyl after the Sabbath: & some of my seruauntes set I at the gates / that there shoulde no burthen be brought in on the Sabbath daye. Then remayned the chapmē and marchauntes once or twice ouer nighte without Jerusalem with al maner of wares. Then reproued I thē sore / and said vnto thē: Why tarie ye al night about the walle? If ye do it once again / I wyl laie handes vpon you. From that time forth came they no more on the Sabbath. And I saide vnto the Leuites / which were cleane / that they shoulde come and kepe the gates / to halowe the Sabbath daye. Thinke vpon me (O my God) cōcerninge this also / and spare me accordynge to thy greate mercy. E

And at the same tyme sawe I Jewes / that marryed wifes of Asdod / Amon and of Moab / and their children spake halfe in the speache of Asdod / and coulde not speake in the Jewysh language / but by the tunge might a mā perceaue euery people. And I reproued them / and cursed them / and smote certaine men of them / and pluckte them vp / and toke an ooth of thē by God: †Ye shal not geue youre doughters vnto their sonnes / neyther shal ye take theyr doughters vnto your sonne / or for your selfes. †Dyd not Salomon the kynge of Israell synne therin / and yet amonge many Heythen was there no kynge lyke him: and he was deare vnto his God / and God made hym kynge ouer all Israell / and yet dyd the outlandisshe women cause hym for to synne. The ende of the seconde boke of Esdras/ otherwyse called the boke of Nehemias.

The fyrst parte of the boke of Esther.

The fyrst Chapter.

A N the tyme of Ahasuerus which raigned from India vnto Ethiopia/ ouer an hundreth and seuen and twenty landes/ what tyme as he sat on his seate royall/in the castel of Susan in ỹ thirde yeare of his raygne / he made a feast vnto all his prynces and seruauntes / namely vnto the mightie men of Persia and Media / to the debites and rulers of his contries/ that he myght shewe the noble riches of his kyngdome/& the glorious worshippe of his greatnesse/many dayes longe/ euen an hundreth & foure score dayes.

And whan these dayes were expyred / the kyng made a feast vnto all the people ỹ were in the castell of Susan/both vnto greate and small seuen dayes long/ in the court of ỹ garden by the kinges palayce: where there hāged whyte/read/and yalow clothes/fastened with coardes of lynne/and scarlet in syluer ringes/ vpon pyllers of marble stone.

The benches were of golde and syluer/ made vpon a pauement of grene/ whyte / yalowe and blacke marble. And the dryncke was caryed in vessels of golde/and there was euer chaunge of vessel. And the kinges wyne was muche accordinge to the power of the kynge. And noman was appoynted what he shoulde drynke: for the kinge had commaunded at the officers of his house/that euery one shoulde do as it lyked hym. And the quene Vasthi made a feast also for the women in the palayce of Ahasuerus. And on the seuenth daye whan the kynge was mery of the wine/ he commaunded Mehumam/Bistha/ Harbona/Bigtha/ Abagtha/Sethar & Charcas/ the seuen chaumberlaynes/ (that dyd seruice in the presence of kynge Ahasuerus) to fetche the quene Vasthi with the croune regall/that he myghte shewe the people and prynces her fayrenesse: for she was bewtyfull. But the quene Vasthi wolde not come at the kynges worde by his chaumberlaynes. Then was the kynge very wroth/and his indignacion kindled in him.

And the kynge spake to the wyse men that had vnderstandinge in the ordinaunces of the lande (for ỹ kinges matters must be handled before all suche as haue knowlege of the lawe and iudgement: And the nexte vnto him were Charsena/Sethar/Admatha/Tharsis/Meres/Marsena and Memuchā/the seuen princes of the Persians / and Meedes/ which sawe the kynges face/and sat aboue in the kingdome/) what lawe shoulde be execute vpon the quene Vasthi / because she dyd not accordinge to the worde of the kynge by his chaumberlaynes. Then saide Memuchan before the kynge and the princes: The quene Vasthi hath not onely done euel agaynst the kynge/but also against al the prynces/ and all the people in all the landes of kynge Ahasuerus: for this dede of the quene shall come abroade vnto all women/ so that they shal despyse their housbandes before their eyes/ and shal saye: The kynge Ahasuerus commaunded Vasthi the quene to come before hym/ but she wolde not. And so shal the princesses in in Persia and Media saye lykewyse vnto all the kynges prynces/ whan they heare of this dede of the quene / thus shall there aryse despytefulnesse / and wrath ynough. If it please the kynge / let there go forth a kynglye commaundement from hym / and let it be wrytten accordynge to the lawe of the Persians and Medians/ (and not to be transgressed) that Vasthi come nomore before kynge Ahasuerus / and let the kynge geue the kyngdome vnto another that is better then she.

And that this wryttinge of the kynge which shalbe made/ be publyshed thorowout all his Empyre/ (which is great) that all wyues maye holde theyr housbandes in honour/ both amonge great and small.

This pleased the kynge and the prynces: and the kynge dyd accordynge to the worde of Memuchan. Then were there letters sente forth into all the kynges landes / into euery lande accordynge to the wryttynge therof / and to euery people after theyr language/that euery man shoulde be lord in his owne house. And this caused he to be spoken after the language of his people.

The. II. Chapter.

A After these actes/whan the displeasure of kynge Ahasuerus was layed/ he thought vpon Vasthi/ what she had done / and what was concluded/concernynge her. Then saide the kynges seruauntes: Let there be fayre yonge virgins soughte for the kynge / and let the kynge appoynt ouerseiers in all the landes of his Empyre/ that they maye bring together all fayre yonge virgins vnto the castel of Susan to the womens buyldynge/vnder the hande of Hegai the kynges chaumberlayne/ that kepeth the women/and let him geue them theyr apparel. And loke which damsell pleaseth th kynge/let her be quene in Vasthis steade. This pleased the kynge / and he dyd so.

In the castel of Susan there was a Jewe/ whose name was Mardocheus /(the sonne of Jair/the sonne of Simei/the sonne of Cis/the sonne of Jemini: whiche was caryed awaye from Jerusalem/ whan Jechonias the king of Juda was ledde awaye / (whome Nabuchodonosor ỹ kyng of Babilon caryed away) and he noryshed Hadassa (that is Esther) his vncles doughter: for she had neyther father nor mother/and she was a fayre and bewtyful damsel. And whan her father and mother died/Mardocheus receaued her as his owne doughter.

Now whan the kynges commaundement and commission was publyshed / and many damsels were brought together vnto the castel of Susan/vnder the hande of Hegai/ Esther was taken also vnto the kynges house/ vnder the hande of Hegai the keper of the women/and the damsel pleased hym/ and she founde grace in his syghte. And he put her with her maidens in the best place of the womens buyldinge. And Esther shewed it not vnto her people & her kinred: for Mardocheus had charged her/that she shoulde not tel it. And Mardocheus walked euery daye before the courte of the womens buyldinge / that he myghte knowe howe Esther dyd/ and what shoulde become of her.

And whan the appoynted time of euery damsel came that she should come to the king Ahasuerus/after that she had bene twelf monethes in the deckinge of the wome (for their deckyng must haue so much time/namely sixe monethes with Balme and Myrre/ and sixe monethes with good spyces/so were the women bewtified) then wente there one damsel vnto the kynge/and whatsoeuer she required that must be geuen her to go with her out of the womens buildinge vnto the kynges palayce. And whan one came in the euenynge/ the same wente from hym on the morowe into the seconde house of women / vnder the hande of Saasgas the kinges chaumberlain/ which kepte the concubynes. And she must come vnto the kynge nomore/ excepte it pleased the kynge / and that he caused her to be called by name.

Now whan the time came of Esther the doughter of Abihaill Mardocheus vncle/ (whome he had receaued as his owne doughter) ỹ she should come to the king/ she desyred nothynge / but what Hegai the kinges chaumberlaine the keper of the women saide.

And Esther founde fauoure in the syghte of all them that loked vpon her. And Esther was taken vnto kynge Ahasuerus into the

the house royall / in the tenth moneth whiche is called Tebeth / in the seuenth yeare of his raygne.

D And the kynge loued Esther aboue all the women / and she founde grace and mercy in his syghte before al the virgins: and he set the quenes croune vpon her heade/and made her quene in stead of Vasthi. And the kyng made a great feast vnto al his princes and seruaũtes/(whiche feast was because of Esther) and let the landes be in quyetnesse/and gaue royal gyftes.

And whan the virgins were gathered together the seconde tyme/ Mardocheus sat in the kynges gate. And as yet had not Esther shewed her kynred and her people/accordinge as Mardocheus had bydden her: for Esther dyd after the word of Mardocheus / lyke as whan he was her tutoure. At the same tyme whyle Mardocheus sat in the kynges gate/ two of the kynges chaumberlaynes/Bigthan and Theres which kepte the dore/were wroth and sought to laye theyr handes on the kynge Ahasuerus: Wherof Mardocheus gat knowlege/& tolde it vnto quene Esther/and Esther certified the kynge therof in Mardocheus name. And whan inquisicyon was made/it was founde so. And they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the Cronicles before the kynge.

The. III. Chapter.

A After these actes dyd the kyng promote Aman the sonne of Amadathai the Agagite/and set hym hye/and set his seat aboue al the princes that were with hym. And all the kynges seruauntes ỹ were in the gate/ bowed theyr knees / & dyd reuerence vnto Aman: for the kyng had so commaunded. But Mardocheus bowed not the knee/& worshipped hym not. Then the kynges seruauntes which were in the kynges gate/sayde vnto Mardocheus: Why transgressest thou the kynges cõmaundement? And whã they spake this daylye vnto hym/& he folowed thẽ not/they tolde Amã/ ỹ they might se whether Mardocheus matters wold endure: for he had told them that he was a Jewe. And whan Aman sawe ỹ Mardocheus bowed nót ỹ knee vnto him /nor worshipped him/he was ful of indignacion/& despited ỹ he should lay hãdes onely on Mardocheus (for they had shewed hym the people of Mardocheus) But he sought to destroy ỹ people of Mardocheus/& al the Jewes ỹ were in the whole Empyre of Ahasuerus.

In the fyrst moneth/ỹ is the moneth† Nisan in the twelfeth yeare of the kynge Ahasuerus/was there occasyon & oportunite sought By Aman/from one daye to another/& from ỹ same moneth vnto the twelfeth moneth / that is the moneth† Adar. And Aman sayde vnto kynge Ahasuerus: There is a people scattered abroade/and dispersed amonge al people in al the landes of thyne Empyre / and theyr lawe is contrarye vnto al ỹ people/and they do not after the kynges lawes/neyther is it ỹ kynges profyte to suffer them after this maner. If it please the kynge/let hym wryte that they may be destroyed/ & so wyl I weye doune tẽ thousande talentes of siluer/vnder the handes of ỹ workemẽ/to be brought in to ỹ kinges chaumber. Then toke the kynge his rynge from his handc / and gaue it vnto Aman the sonne of Amadathai the Agagite the Jewes enemye/ And the kynge sayde vnto Aman: Let the siluer be geuen the / and that people also / to do withall what pleaseth the. B March. February

C Then were the kynges scrybes called on the thirtenth daye of the fyrst moneth /& there was wrytten (accordynge as Aman cõmaunded) vnto the kynges princes/ and to the debites euery where in the lãdes/ and to the captaynes of euery people in the contries on euery syde/accordyng to the wrytyngr of euery nacyon/and after theyr language in the name of kynge Ahasuerus/& sealed with the kinges rynge. And the wrytynges were sent by postes in to al the kynges landes/ to rote out / to kyll/and to destroye all Jewes both yonge & olde/chyldren and women in one daye / (namely vpon the thirtenth daye of the twelfeth moneth/whiche is the moneth Adar) and to spoyle theyr goodes.

This was the summe of the wrytyng/ that there should be a cõmaundement geuen in al landes/to be publyshed vnto all people/ỹ they shoulde be ready agaynst the same daye. And ỹ postes went in al the haist/accordinge to the kynges commaundement. And in the castell of Susan was the commaũdement geuyed. And the kynge & Aman sat and dranke. But the

the cytie of Susan was disquieted.

The. IIII. Chapter.

A When Mardocheus perceaued all that was done/he rente his clothes/ and put on a sackcloth/and asshes/and wente out into the myddes of the cytie / and cried loude and lamentably/and came before the kinges gate: for there myght no man entre within the kinges gate/that had a sackcloth on. And in all landes and places / as farre as the kynges worde and commaundement extended/ there was great lamentacyon amonge the Jewes/ and many fasted/wepte/mourned/and laie in sackclothes and in asshes/So Esthers damsels/ and her chaumberlaynes came and tolde it her. Then was the quene exceadyngly astõyed. And she sent rayment/ that Mardocheus should put them on/and laye the sackcloth from hym.

But Mardocheus wolde not take them. Then called Esther Hathach one of the kynges chaumberlaynes / (whiche stode before her) and gaue hym a commaundement vnto Mardocheus/that he myght knowe what it were/and wherfore he dyd so. So Hathach went forth to Mardocheus vnto the strete of the cytie / whiche was before the kynges gate.

B And Mardocheus tolde hym of al that had happened vnto hym/and of the summe of siluer that Aman had promysed to weye doune in the kinges chaumber/because of the Jewes for to destroye them/and he gaue him the copye of the commaundement/that was deuysed at Susan to destroye them/that he might shewe it vnto Esther/ & to speake to her / and charge her/that she shoulde go into the kyng/ and make her prayer and supplicacyon vnto him for her people.

And whan Hathach came in/ and tolde Esther the wordes of Mardocheus / Esther spake vnto Hathach/and commaunded hym to saye vnto Mardocheus: All the kynges seruauntes/and the people in the landes of the kyng knowe/that whosoeuer commeth within the courte vnto the kinge/whether it be mã or woman/ which is not called/the commaũdement is that thesame shall dye immediatly/excepte the kynge holde out the golden cepter vnto him / that he maye lyue. As for me/I haue not bene called to come in to the kynge now this thyrtie dayes.

And whan Mardocheus was certifyed of Esthers wordes/Mardocheus bad saye agayne vnto Esther: Thynke not to saue thyne owne lyfe/whyle thou arte in ỹ kynges house before al Jewes: for if thou holdest thy peace at this tyme/then shall the Jewes haue helpe and delyueraunce out of another place / and thou and thy fathers house shalbe destroyed. And who knoweth whether thou arte come to the kyngedome for this tymes sake? Esther bad geue Mardocheus this aunswere: Go thou thy waye then / and gather together all the Jewes that are founde at Susan/ and fast ye for me / that ye eate not and drinke not in thre dayes/ neyther daye nor nighte. I and my damsels wyll faste lykewise / and so wyll I go into the kynge / contrarye to the commaundement: if I perishe/I perysh. So Mardocheus wente his waye / and dyd all that Esther had commaunded him. C

The. V. Chapter.

A And on the thirde daye put Esther on her royal apparel / and stode in the courte of the kinges palayce/within ouer against the kinges house. And ỹ kinge sat vpon his royal seate in the kynges palayce ouer against the dore of the house. And whan the kinge sawe Esther the quene standynge in the courte/she founde grace in his syghte. And the kynge helde out the golden cepter in his hande towarde Esther. So Esther stepte forth/ and touched the toppe of the cepter. Then saide the kynge vnto her: What wylt thou quene Esther? and what requirest thou? axe euen the halfe of the Empyre/and it shalbe geuen the. Esther saide: If it please the kynge/let ỹ kinge & Aman come this daye vnto the banket that I haue prepared. The kynge saide: Cause Aman to make haist/that he maye do as Esther hath saide.

B Now whan the kynge and Aman came to the banket that Esther had prepared/the king said vnto Esther whan he had dronken wine: Esther/what is thy peticyon? it shalbe geuen the. And what requirest thou? euen the halfe of the Empyre/it shalbe done.

Then aunswered Esther and said: My peticion and desyre is/ if I haue founde grace

in

in the syght of the kynge / and if it please the kynge to geue me my peticyon / and to fulfyll my request / then let ỹ kynge and Aman come to the bancket that I shal prepare for them / and so wyll I do to morowe as the kynge hath sayde.

Then wente Aman forth thesame daye ioyfull and mery in his mynde. And whan he sawe Mardocheus in the kynges gate / that he stode not vp & kneled before him / he was ful of indignacion agaynst Mardocheus. Ne- C uertheles / he refrained himselfe: and whan he came home / he sent & called for his frendes / & Seres his wyfe / & tolde them of the glorye of his ryches / & the multitude of his children altogether / how the kinge had promoted him so greatly / & how that he was taken aboue the princes and seruauntes of the kynge. Aman saide moreouer: Yee / & Esther the quene let no man come with ỹ kinge vnto the bancket that she hath prepared / excepte me / and to morowe I am bydden vnto her also with the kynge. But in all this am I not satisfyed as longe as I se Mardocheus the Jewe sittinge in the kynges gate. Then sayde Seres his wyfe / & all his frendes vnto hym: Let them make a galowe of fyftie cubites hye / and to morowe speake thou vnto the kinge / that Mardocheus maie be hanged theron / yf thou commest merely with the kynge vnto the banket. Aman was wel content withal / and caused a galowe to be prepared.

The. VI. Chapter.

A T Thesame nyghte coulde not the kynge slepe / and he commaunded to bringe the Cronicles and storyes: which whan they were red before the kynge / they happened on the j. Esth. ij. d place where it was written / † how Mardo- y. Esth. ij. a cheus had tolde / that ỹ kinges two chaumberlaines (which kept ỹ tresholdes) sought to laie handes on king Ahasuerus. And ỹ king said: What worshippe and good haue we done to Mardocheus therfore? Then sayde the kynges seruauntes that ministred vnto hym. There is nothynge done for hym. And the kynge sayde: Who is in the courte? (For Amā was gone into the courte without / before the kynges house / that he mighte speake vnto the kinge to hange Mardocheus on the tree / that he had prepared for him. And the kinges seruauntes sayde vnto hym: Behold / Aman standeth in the courte. The kynge saide: Let him come in. And whan Aman came in / the kyng B sayde vnto hym: What shal be done vnto the man whome the kynge is disposed to bringe vnto worshyppe? But Aman thoughte in his herte: Whome shoulde the kynge els be glad to bringe vnto worshippe / but me? And Aman sayde vnto the kynge: Let the man / vnto whome the kynge is disposed to do worshyppe / be broughte hether / that he maye be arayed with the royall garmentes / whiche the kyng useth to weare: and the horse that the kyng rideth vpon / and that the croun royall maye be set vpon his heade. And let this rayment and horse be delyuered vnder the hande of one of the kynges princes / that he maye araye the man withall / (whome the kynge is disposed to honoure) & carye hym vpon the horse thorow the strete of the cyte / & cause it to be proclaymed before him: Thus shal it be done to euery man / whome the king is disposed to honoure.

The kynge saide: Make hayste / & take (as C thou hast sayde) the rayment & the horse / and do euen so with Mardocheus the Jewe that sytteth before the kinges gate / and let nothing fayle of al that thou hast spoken. Then toke Amā the rayment and ỹ horse / and arayed him / & broughte him on horsbacke thorow ỹ strete of the cytie / and proclaymed before him: Euen thus shall it be done vnto euery man whome the kinge is disposed to honour. And Mardocheus came again to the kinges gate / But Aman gat hym home in all the hayste / murninge with barehcade / & told Seres his wyfe / & all his frendes / euery thynge that had happened hym. Then sayde his wyse men & Seres his wyfe vnto hym: If it be Mardocheus of the sede of the Jewes / before whome thou hast begonne to fall / thou canst do nothyng vnto hym / but shalt fall before hym.

Whyle they were yet talkyng with him / came the kynges chaumberlaynes / & caused Aman to make hayste to come vnto the bancket that Esther had prepared.

The. VII. Chapter.

AND whan the kynge and Aman came to A the bancket that quene Esther had prepared / the kynge sayde vnto Esther on the secōde daye whan he had dronken wyne: What is thy peticion quene Esther / ỹ it maye be geuē ther? And what requirest thou? Yee / axe euen halfe of the Empyre / & it shal be done. Esther the quene aunswered & said: If I haue found grace in thy syght / (O kynge) and if it please the kynge / then graunte me my lyfe at my desyre / and my people for my peticions sake: for we are solde to be destroyed / to be slaine / and to perysshe. And wolde God we were solde to be bonde men and bondewomen / then wolde I holde my tunge / so shoulde not the enemye be so hye to the kynges harme. The kyng Ahasuerus spake and saide vnto quene Esther: What is he that? Or where is he that darre presume in his mynde to do suche a thynge after that maner? Esther sayde: The enemye & aduersary is this wycked Aman.

B As for Aman / he was exceadyngly afrayed before the kynge and the quene. And the kynge arose from the bancket and from the wyne in his displeasure / and wente into the palayce garden. And Aman stode vp / and besought quene Esther for his lyfe: for he sawe that there was a mischaūce prepared for him of the kynge already.

And whan the the kynge came agayne out of the palayce garden into ỹ parler / where they had eaten / Aman had laied him vpon the bed that Esther sat vpon. Then sayde the kynge: wyll he force the quene also besyde me in the house? As soone as the worde wente out of the kynges mouth / they couered Amans face. And Harbona one of the chaumberlaynes that stode before the kynge / sayde: Behold / there standeth a galowe in Amans house fyftye cubytes hye / which he had made for Mardocheus / that spake good for the king. The kinge sayde: Hange hym therō. So they hanged Aman on the galowe that he had made for Mardocheus. Then was the kinges wrath stylled.

The. VIII. Chapter.

A T Thesame daye dyd king Ahasuerus geue the house of Aman the Jewes enemye / vnto quene Esther. And Mardocheus came before the kynge: for Esther tolde how that he belonged vnto her. And the kinge put of his syngerrynge / whiche he had taken from Aman / and gaue it vnto Mardocheus. And Esther set Mardocheus ouer the house of Aman. And Esther spake yet more before the kinge / and fel doune at his fete / and besought him / that he wolde put awaye the wyckednes of Aman the Agagite / and his deuyce that he had ymagined against the Jewes. And the kinge helde out the golden cepter vnto Esther. Then rose Esther / and stode before the kinge / and saide: If it please the kinge / and if I haue founde grace in his syght / and if it be conuenient for the kynge / and if I be accepted in his syght / then let it be wrytte / that the letters of the deuyce of Aman the sonne of A- B madathai the Agagite / maye be called again: which letters he wrote / to destroye the Jewes in all the kynges landes. For howe can I se the euell that shall happen vnto my people? and howe can I loke vpon the destruccyon of my kinred.

Then said the king Ahasuerus vnto quene Esther / and to Mardocheus the Jewe: Beholde / I haue geuen Esther the house of Aman / and him haue they hanged vpon a tree because he layed hande vpō the Jewes. Write ye now therfore for ỹ Jewes / as it lyketh you in the kinges name / and seale it with the kynges ringe (for the wrytinges that were written in the kinges name / & sealed with the kinges ringe / durst no mā disanulle.) Then were the kynges scribes called at the same tyme in the thirde moneth / that is the moneth † Si- Maye. uan / on the thre and twentyeth daye.

And it was written (as Mardocheus co- C maunded vnto the Jewes and to the princes / to the Sebites and captaynes in the landes from India vntyll Ethiopia / namely / an hundreth and seuen and twentye landes / vnto euery one accordyng to the wrytynge therof / vnto euery people after they: speche and to the Jewes / accordynge to they: wrytynge & language.

And it was wrytten in the kynge Ahasuerus name / and sealed with the kynges ringe. And by postes that rode vpon swyft yonge Mules / sent he the wrytynges / wherin the kynge graunted the Jewes (in what cytes soeuer they were) to gather themselfes togeather / and to stande for they: lyfe / and for to rote out / to slaye / and to destroye all the power of the people and lāde / that wolde trouble them / with

with children and women/and to spoyle their good vpon one daye in all the landes of kyng Ahasuerus/ namely vpon the thirtenth daye of the twelfeth moneth/which is the moneth Adar.

D The summe of the wryttinge was/how there was a commaundement geuen in all landes/to be publyshed vnto all the people that the Jewes shoulde be ready against that day/ to auenge themselfes on theyr enemyes. And the postes that rode vpon the mules/made hayst with all spede/accordynge to the kinges worde: and the commaundement was deuysed in the castel of Susan.

As for Mardocheus/he wente out from the kynge in royall apparel of yalowe and whyte/and with a greate croune of golde/ & beynge arayeth with a garment of lynnen & purple/and the cytye of Susan reioyced and was glad: but vnto the Jewes there was come lyghte & gladnesse/and ioye and worshyppe. And in all landes & cyties/into what places soeuer the kinges worde & cōmaundemēt reached/there was ioye/myrth/prosperite & good dayes among the Jewes: in so muche that many people in the lande became of the Jewes belefe/for the feare of the Jewes came vpon them.

The. IX. Chapter.

A IN the twelfeth moneth/that is the moneth Adar/vpō the thyrtenth day/which the kynges worde and commaundement had appoynted/that it shoulde be done/euen vpon the same daye that the enemyes shoulde haue destroyed the Jewes to haue oppressed them/ it turned contrarywise: euen that the Jewes shoulde subdue theyr enemyes. Then gathered the Jewes together in theyr cities within all the landes of kynge Ahasuerus/to laye hande on such as wolde do them euell/& no man coulde withstande them: for the feare of them was come ouer al people. And al the rulers in the landes/and princes and debities/& officers of the kynge promoted the Jewes: for the feare of Mardocheus came vpon them. For Mardocheus was greate in the kynges house/and the reporte of him was noysed in all landes/how he increaced and grewe.

Thus the Jewes smote all their enemyes with a sore slaughter/and slewe & destroyed/ and dyd after their wyll vnto suche as were their aduersaries. And at the castell of Susan slewe the Jewes/and destroyed fyue hūdreth men: and slewe Parsandatha/Salphon/Aspatha/Poratha/Adalia/Aridatha/Parmastha/Arissai/Aridai/Vaicsatha/the ten sonnes B of Aman/the sonne of Amadathai the enemye of the Jewes: but on his goodes they layed no handes. At thesame tyme was the kynge certifyed of the numbre/of those that were slayne at the castel of Susan. And the kynge saide vnto quene Esther: The Jewes haue slaine and destroyed fyue hundreth men at the castel of Susan/and the ten sonnes of Aman: What shal they do in the other landes of the kynge: What is thy peticion/ý it maye be geuen the: and what requirest thou more to be done: Esther saide: If it please the king/ let hym suffre the Jewes to morowe also to do/accordinge vnto this dayes commaundement/that they maye hange Amans ten sonnes vpon the tree. And ý kynge charged to do so/and the commaundement was deuysed at Susan/and Amans ten sonnes were hāged. And the Jewes gathered them selfes together at Susan/vpon the fourtenth daye of the moneth Adar/and slewe thre hundreth men at Susan/but on theyr goodes they layed no handes.

As for the other Jewes in the kynges landes they came together/and stode for theyr lyfes/and gat rest from theyr enemyes: & slewe C of their enemies fyue & seuenty thousande/ howbeit/they layed no handes on their goodes. This was done on the thirtenth daye of the moneth Adar/and on the fourtenth daye of thesame moneth rested they/which (daye) they ordeyned to be a daye of feastynge and gladnesse. But the Jewes at Susan were come together both on the thirtenth daye/& on the fourtenth/and on the fyftenth daye they rested/and thesame daye ordeyned they to be a daye of feastynge and gladnesse. Therfore the Jewes that dwelte in the vyllages/ and vnwalled rounces/ordeyned the fourthtenth daye of the moneth Adar/to be a daye of feastynge and gladnesse/and one sente gyftes vnto another.

And Mardocheus wrote these actes/and sente the wryttynges vnto al the Jewes that were

were in all the lande of kyng Ahasuerus/both nye and farre/that they shoulde yearly receaue and holde the fourtenth and fyftenth day of D ý moneth Adar/as the dayes wherin the Jewes came to rest from theyr enemyes/and as a moneth wherin theyr payne was turned to ioye/& theyr sorowe in to prosperite: that they shoulde obserue the same as dayes of wealthe and gladnesse/and one to sende giftes vnto another/and to distribute vnto the poore.

And the Jewes receaued it that they had begonne to do/and that Mardocheus wrote vnto them: how that Aman the sonne of Amadathai the Agagite all the Jewes enemie/ had deuysed to destroye all the Jewes/and caused the lot to be cast for to put thē in feare/& to brynge thē to naughte: & how Esther went and spake to the kynge/that thorow letters his wycked deuyce (whiche he ymagined agaynst the Jewes) might be turned vpon his owne heade/and how he and his sonnes were hanged on the tree. For the which cause they called this day Purim after the name of the lot/accordyng to all the wordes of this writtyng/& what they thēselfes had sene/and what had happened vnto thē.

E And the Jewes set it vp/and toke it vpon them and their sede/and vpon all suche as ioyned themselfes vnto thē/that they wolde not mysse to obserue these two dayes yearly/accordynge as they were wrytten and appoynted how that these dayes are not to be forgotten/ but to be kepte of chylders chyldren amonge all kynreds in all landes and cyties. They are the dayes of Purim/which are not to be ouerslypt amonge the Jewes/and the memorial of them ought not to perysshe from theyr sede.

And quene Esther ý doughter of Abihail/& Mardocheus the Jewe/wrote with all auctorite/to confirme this seconde writtinge of Purim/and sente the letters vnto all the Jewes in the hundreth and seuen and twētye landes of the Empyre of Ahasuerus/with frendly & faythfull wordes/to confirme these dayes of Purim/in theyr tyme appoynted/accordynge as Mardocheus the Jewe/& Esther ý quene had ordeyned/cōcerninge thē: lyke as they vpon theyr soule/and vpon theyr sede had con- ſt.iij.c firmed the actes of ý † fastynges & of her cōplaynt. And Esther cōmaunded to stably she these actes of this Purim/and to wryte them in a boke.

The. X. Chapter.

AND the king Ahasuerus layed tribute vpon the lande/and vpō the Iles of the see. As for all the worke of his power and auctorite/& the greate worshyppe of Mardocheus/ whiche the kyng gaue him/beholde/it is written in the Cronicles of the kynges of Media and Persia. For Mardocheus the Jewe was the seconde nexte vnto kynge Ahasuerus/and greate amonge the Jewes/and accepted amonge the multitude of his brethren/as one that seketh the wealth of his people/& speaketh the beste for all his sede.

Then sayd the Lorde vnto Sathan: hast thou not consydered my seruaunt Job/how that he is an innocent and verteous man: such one as feareth God/& eschueth euell/and that there is none like hym in the lande. Sathan aunswered and sayd vnto the Lorde: Doeth Job feare God for naught: hast thou not preserued hym/his house/and all hys substaunce on euery syde: hast thou not blessed the workes of his handes: Is not his possession encreaced in the lande: But laye thine hande vpon hym a lytle/touche once all that he hath/and (I holde) he shall curse ỹ to thy face. And the Lorde sayde vnto Sathan: lo/all that he hath/he in thy power: onely vpon himself/se that thou lay not thyne hande. Then wente Sathan forth from the Lordes presence.

He carieth away the wyse men/as it were C a spoyle/and bringeth the iudges oute of their wyttes. He louseth the gyrdle of kynges/and gyrdeth theyr loynes with a bonde: he leadeth away the priestes in to captiuitie/ and turneth the myghtie vpsyde doun. † He taketh the ij pa. xviij veritie from out of the mouth / and disapoynteth the aged of theyr wysdome. He poureth out confusion vpon princes / and comforteth them that haue ben oppressed. † Loke what Luc. xij. a lyeth hyd in darknesse/ he declareth it openly: and the very shadow of death bringeth he to light. He both increaseth the people / and destroyeth them / he maketh them to multiplie/ and driueth them awaye. He chaungeth the herte of the princes / and kinges of the earth/ and disapoynteth them: so that they go wandringe out of the waye/and grope in the darke without lyght/stackering to and fro like dronken men.

The. xiij. Chapter.

LO/ all this haue I sene wyth myne eye/ A herde with mine care/and vnderstande it. Loke what ye knowe/the same do I knowe also/neyther am I inferior vnto you. Neuertheless/I am purposed to talke with ỹ Almightie/and my desyre is to commune with God. As for you/ye are workemasters of lyes: and vnprofytable Phisicians altogether. Wolde God ye kepte youre tunge/ † that ye might be taken for wyse men. Therfore heare my wordes/and pondre the sentence of my lyppes. Will ye make aunswere for God with lyes/ and maintaine him with deceate? Wil ye accepte the persone of God / and intreate for him? Shall that helpe you / whan he calleth you to rekeninge? Thinke ye to begyle hym/ as a man is begiled? Punishe you shall he/ and reproue you/if ye do secretly accepte any persone. Shal he not make you afraied/whan he sheweth himselfe? Shall not his terrible feare fall vpon you? youre remembraunce shalbe lyke the duste / and youre pride shalbe turned to claye.

Job. xvij. d

B Holde your tūges now/and let me speake/ for there is some thinge come into my minde. Wherfore do I beare my flesh in my teeth/ † and my soule in myne handes? Lo / there is neither comforte nor hope for me / if he will slaie me. *But if he shewe and reproue myne owne waies in his sighte/he is euen the same that maketh me whole. And why? there maie no Ypocrite come before him. Heare my wordes/and pondre my sayinges with youre eares. Behold/though sentence were geuen vpon me/I am sure to be knowen for vngilty. What is he/that wil go to lawe with me? For if I holde my tung/I shal die. Neuertheless/ graunt me two thinges/and then will I not hide my selfe from the.

C Withdrawe thine hande fro me/and let not the fearful drede of the make me afraied. And then sende for me to the lawe/that I maie aūswere for my selfe: or els let me speake/ and geue thou the aunswere. How greate are my misdedes and sinnes? Let me knowe my trāsgressions and offences. Wherfore hidest thou thy face / and holdest me for thine enemie? Wilt thou be so cruell and extreme vnto a flienge leafe / and folowe vpon drie stubble? that thou laiest so sharply to my charge / and wilt vtterly vndo me / † for the sinnes of my yougth: *Thou hast put my fote in the stockes/thou lokest narrowly vnto al my pathes/ and markest the steppes of my fete: where as I (not withstandinge) must consume as a foule carien / and as a clothe that is moth eaten.

The. XIIII. Chapter.

MAn that is borne of a woman/hath but A a shorte time to liue / and is full of diuerse miseries. He commeth vp/and falleth awaie like a floure. He flieth as it were a shadowe/and neuer continueth in one estate. Thinkest thou it nowe well done to open thine eyes vpon suche one / and to bringe me before the in iudgement? Who can make it clean/that commeth of an vnclean thinge? No body. The daies of man are shorte / the numbre of his monethes are knowen onely vnto the. Thou hast appointed him his bondes / he canne not go beyonde them. Go from him/that he maye reste a litle: vntill his daie come / which he loketh for/like as an hyrelinge doeth.

If a tree be cut doune/ there is some hope B yet that it wil sproute/& shute forth the braunches againe: For though a rote be waxen olde and dead in the grounde/yet whan the stocke getteth the sente of water / it will budde / and bringe forth boughes / like as whan it was first planted. But as for a man/ whan he is dead / perished / and consumed awaie / what becōmeth of him? † The flouddes whan they Eccl. j. a be dried vp/and the riuers when they be emptye / are fylled againe thorowe the flowinge waters of the see: but whan man slepeth / he ryseth not againe/ † vntill the heauen perishe: Esa. lj. b he shall not wake vp/nor ryse out of his slepe. ij. Pet. iij. b O that thou woldest kepe me / and hyde me in the hell/ vntyll thy wrath were stylled: and to appoynte me a time / wherin thou mightest remembre me. Maye a dead man lyue agayne? † All the dayes of this my pylgrymage am I lokynge / when my chaunginge Ge. xlvij. b Psa. cxviij c shall come. If thou woldest but call me / I should obey the: † onely despyse not the worke Ps. cxxxvj b of thine owne handes.

For thou hast numbred all my goyinges/ C yet be not thou to extreme vpon my synnes. Thou hast sealed vp mine offences/as it were in a bagge: but be mercifull vnto my wickednesse. The mountaines fall awaye at the last/the rockes are remoued out of their place/ the waters pearce thorowe the very stones. by lytle and lytle / the floudes do washe awaye the grauell and earth: Euen so destroyest thou the hope of man in lyke maner.

Thou preuayleſt againſte him/ ſo that he paſſeth awaie: thou chaungeſt his eſtate/ and put-

The. XV. Chapter.

A THen aunſwered Elyphas the Themanite/ and ſayde: Shoulde a wyſe man geue ſuche an aunſwere/ (as it were: one that ſpake in the wynde) and fill his ſtomacke with anger? Thou reprouest with woordes that are nothynge wroth: and ſpeakeſte the thinge/ which can do no good. As for ſhame/ thou haſte ſet it aſide/ els woldeſte ye not make ſo many woordes before God: but thy wyc-kedneſſe teacheth thy mouth/ and ſo thou haſt choſen the a crafty tunge. Thine owne mouth condemneth the/ and not I: yee/ thine owne lippes ſhape ye an aūſwere. Art thou the fyrſt man/ that euer was borne? Or waſt thou made before the hylles: haſt thou herde the ſecrete counſayl of God/ that all wyſdome is to lytle for the? What knoweſt thou/ that we knowe not? What vnderſtandeſt thou/ but we can the ſame? With vs are olde & aged men/ yee/ ſuche as haue lyued longer then thy forefathers.

B Doeſt thou nomore regarde the comforte of God? But thy wicked woordes will not ſuffre the. Why doeth thine herte make the ſo proude? Why ſtādeſt thou ſo greatly in thine owne conceate? Where vnto loke thine eyes/ that thy minde is ſo puft vp againſt God/ & letteſt ſuche wordes go out of thy mouth? What is a man/ that he ſhoulde be cleane? What hath he/ (which is borne of a woman) wherby he might be knowē to be righteous?

† Beholde/ he hath founde vnfaithfulneſſe a-
