DEDICATED:

To all the men and women of the world who preach and teach the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ and
To the Mercy and Grace of God.

- Demonstrated to us in Christ Jesus our Lord.
"In whom we have redemption through His blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of His grace." (Eph. 1:7)
- Out of the mercy and grace of God His Word has flowed. Let every person know that God will have mercy upon him, forgiving and using him to fulfill His glorious plan of salvation.

"For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved." (Jn 3:16-17)

"For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour; who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth." (1 Tim. 2:3-4)

The Preacher's Outline and Study Bible® is written for God's people to use in their study and teaching of God's Holy Word.

OUTLINE BIBLE RESOURCES

This material, like similar works, has come from imperfect man and is thus susceptible to human error. We are nevertheless grateful to God for both calling us and empowering us through His Holy Spirit to undertake this task. Because of His goodness and grace The Preacher's Outline & Sermon Bible® - New Testament is complete in 14 volumes, and the Old Testament volumes release periodically. The Minister's Handbook is available and OUTLINE Bible materials are releasing electronically on POSB-CD and our Web site.

God has given the strength and stamina to bring us this far. Our confidence is that, as we keep our eyes on Him and grounded in the undeniable truths of the Word, we will continue working through the Old Testament volumes and the second series known as The Teacher's Outline & Study Bible. The future includes helpful Outline Bible books and Handbook materials for God's dear servants.

To everyone everywhere who preaches and teaches the Word, we offer this material firstly to Him in whose name we labor and serve, and for whose glory it has been produced.

Our daily prayer is that each volume will lead thousands, millions, yes even billions, into a better understanding of the Holy Scriptures and a fuller knowledge of Jesus Christ the incarnate Word, of whom the Scriptures so faithfully testify.

As you have purchased this volume, you will be pleased to know that a small portion of the price you have paid has gone to underwrite and provide similar volumes in other languages (Russian, Korean, Spanish and others yet to come) — To a preacher, pastor, lay leader, or Bible student somewhere around the world, who will present God's message with clarity, authority, and understanding beyond their own. Amen.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Every child of God is precious to the Lord and deeply loved. And every child as a servant of the Lord touches the lives of those who come in contact with him or his ministry. The writing ministry of the following servants have touched this work, and we are grateful that God brought their writings our way. We hereby acknowledge their ministry to us, being fully aware that there are so many others down through the years whose writings have touched our lives and who deserve mention, but the weaknesses of our minds have caused them to fade from memory. May our wonderful Lord continue to bless the ministry of these dear servants, and the ministry of us all as we diligently labor to reach the world for Christ and to meet the desperate needs of those who suffer so much.

DIVISION IV

THE TEACHINGS OF THE MESSIAH TO HIS DISCIPLES: THE GREAT SERMON ON THE MOUNT, 5:1-7:29

K. The Right Motive for Giving, 6:1-4

(6:1-4) Introduction—Motive: what a man does matters greatly to God. God expects men to be kind and to do good in the world: to help others both through personal involvement and through giving generously and sacrificially.

But there is something else that God expects, something of critical importance: God expects a man to have the right motive. Just why a man does good and shows kindness matters greatly to God. It matters so much that a person's eternal fate is determined by his motive. Because of this, Christ warns us about right and wrong motives.

1. Alms—doing good and giving (v.1).
2. The wrong motive (v.2).
3. The right motive (v.3-4).
4. The reason (v.4).

① (6:1) Alms—Service—Giving: there is the giving of alms—doing good and giving to others. The word “alms” means righteous acts; giving in order to meet the needs of the poor. To the Jew, giving alms and righteousness meant the same thing. Giving alms was the Createst thing a Jew could do; it was the first act of religion. It was considered to be the very embodiment of righteousness Cso much so that the two words began to be used synonymously. Giving alms merited and assured one of righteousness and salvation. (See note 5—Mt.5:6.) Christ warned there is great danger in giving and doing alms. Take heed and guard yourself. Do not give for recognition, or you will lose your reward.

Thought 1. There are two important lessons in this verse.

- 1) Man must guard and be alert to the deception D of giving and doing good before men. A person's heart can be deceived. The sin creeps up on man; it is insidious and subtle. It will keep a person from receiving anything from God.
- 2) A person must give alms and do good. It is a duty of the Christian. In this passage alone Christ says four times, “Do alms.”

E

“But all their works they do for to be seen of men” (Mt.23:5).
“Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in long robes, and love greetings in the markets, and the highest seats in the synagogues, and the chief rooms at feasts” (Lk.20:46).

THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES

INTRODUCTION

AUTHOR: Luke (see the Gospel of Luke, Introduction, Author).

DATE: uncertain. Around A.D. 62.

The book was definitely written before the fall of Jerusalem (A.D. 70) but after Paul's mission tours and imprisonment in Rome. This alone would place the writing during some year in the 60's. The author of Acts was an eyewitness of many of the accounts. A casual reading reveals what seems to be an up-to-the-minute account with the author remembering great detail, names, and even atmosphere. He was definitely a companion of Paul, joining him on his second mission tour (see note—Acts 16:10. Cp. Acts 20:5-21:18; 27:1-28:16.) There is also a clear view of Rome; however there is no evidence of the persecution and hostility of Domitian (81-96 A.D.) nor of the impending fall of Jerusalem (70 A.D.). These facts seem to point to Acts being written in the early 60's, perhaps in 62 A.D.

TO WHOM WRITTEN: Theophilus, a Gentile convert (Acts 1:1). The Gospel of Luke was also addressed to him personally. (See note, Theophilus—Acts 1:1.)

PURPOSE: to show how the church grew through the witness of believers “both in Jerusalem and in all Judaea and in Samaria and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

This is Luke's great aim. He shows how the church in Jerusalem was persecuted and how believers were forced to scatter throughout the whole world (Acts 8:1). He shows how the church moved out from Jerusalem, and in less than thirty-five years captured the very capital of the world, Rome itself. In brief, he shows how the expansion of Christianity took place.

SPECIAL FEATURES:

1. Acts is “The Acts of Peter and Paul” or “The Acts of Two Apostolic Men.” The present title, “The Acts of the Apostles,” is not original; it was given in the second century. It is really an inaccurate title, for only four apostles are mentioned: Peter, Paul, James and John. James is mentioned only once (Acts 12:2), and John is seen only as an unspeaking companion of Peter (Acts 3:4; 4:1, 13). In the early chapters, the book centers around Peter, the apostle to the Jews (Chapters 1-9). The later chapters center around Paul, the apostle to the Gentiles (Chapters 10-28; cp. Gal.2:7).

2. Acts is “The Acts of Jesus' Continued Ministry.” Originally the Gospel of Luke and the book of Acts were probably one volume. The words of the first verse, “All that Jesus began both to do and to teach,” show clearly that Luke considers the letter to be a mere continuation of Jesus' ministry.

3. Acts is “The Acts of Triumphant Faith.” The picture of Acts is far different from the picture of the disciples' defeat over the death of Christ. It is far different from their uncertainty and apprehension and powerlessness even after the resurrection. With the coming of the Holy Spirit, the picture is that of great boldness and power.

⇒ There is the courage to stand before crowds and fearlessly proclaim the very message for which they had previously been hunted down.

⇒ There is the unquivering boldness to face authorities and imprisonment for the cause of the faith (Acts 4:1f; 5:17f).

⇒ There is the great authority to execute spiritual justice (Acts 5:1f).

⇒ There is the triumphant spirit to suffer martyrdom with a forgiving spirit (Acts 7:54f). Every chapter, every paragraph is a triumph of faith. Paul's words provide a forceful summary: “Wherefore, Sirs, be of good cheer: for I believe God, that it shall be even as it was told me” (Acts 27:27).

4. Acts is “The Acts of the Scattered Church.” A quick glance at the outline clearly shows this. (See also Purpose.)

5. Acts is “The Acts of the Holy Spirit.” The Gospel of Luke concentrates upon the ministry of Jesus in the “days of His flesh,” and Acts continues that ministry through the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit appears more than fifty times in Acts. He is the moving force in the expansion of the church. He baptizes, infills, and leads believers in their daily lives and witness for the Lord Jesus. (Most if not all the references to the Holy Spirit in Acts are given here.)

⇒ Jesus promised the baptism of the Holy Spirit (Acts 1:5).

⇒ Jesus says that the Holy Spirit is to bring power to the believer and enable him to live and witness for Him (Acts 1:8).

⇒ The Holy Spirit prophesied Judas' betrayal and death through David (Acts 1:16).

⇒ The Holy Spirit filled the Jewish disciples at Pentecost and enabled them to speak in different tongues or languages (Acts 2:4, 6, 8-11).

⇒ The Holy Spirit's coming was the fulfillment of God's promise in Joel (Acts 2:17).

⇒ The bold and courageous witness of the Pentecostal believers was the result of the Holy Spirit being poured out upon them (Acts 2:33).

⇒ The Holy Spirit is promised to those who repent and are baptized (Acts 2:38).

⇒ Peter, filled with the Holy Spirit, defended himself before the High Priest (Acts 4:8).

⇒ Believers prayed and were filled with the Holy Spirit. They then spoke the Word of God boldly (Acts 4:31).

⇒ Ananias and Sapphira lied to the Holy Spirit and were judged (Acts 5:3).

⇒ Ananias and Sapphira tempted the Spirit of the Lord together (Acts 5:9).

⇒ The Holy Spirit Himself is a witness to the Gospel, and He is given to those who obey Him (Acts 5:32).

- ⇒ The fullness of the Holy Spirit is a qualification for ministry (Acts 6:3).
- ⇒ Stephen was a man full of the Holy Spirit (Acts 6:5).
- ⇒ Unbelievers (Stephen's persecutors) were accused by Stephen of always resisting the Holy Spirit (Acts 7:51).
- ⇒ Stephen, full of the Holy Spirit, saw heaven itself while being martyred (Acts 7:55).
- ⇒ Samaritan believers, half-Jew and half-Gentile, received the Holy Spirit through prayer and laying on of hands (Acts 8:15, 17-19).
- ⇒ Simon, a sorcerer, tried to buy the Holy Spirit and His power (Acts 8:19).
- ⇒ The Spirit instructed Philip to go and witness to an Ethiopian Eunuch (Acts 18:29).
- ⇒ The Spirit of the Lord caught Philip and took him away (Acts 8:39).
- ⇒ Paul was filled with the Holy Spirit (Acts 9:17).
- ⇒ The first century churches walked in the comfort of the Holy Spirit (Acts 9:31).
- ⇒ The testimony of Peter: God anointed Jesus with the Holy Spirit and power (Acts 10:38).
- ⇒ The Holy Spirit fell on the Gentiles (Cornelius) as Peter preached (Acts 10:44).
- ⇒ Jewish believers were amazed that the Spirit was poured out on the Gentiles (Acts 10:45).
- ⇒ Gentiles were said to have received the Spirit "just like Jewish believers" (Acts 10:47).
- ⇒ Peter, in defending his witness to Cornelius, said that the Spirit told him to go to Cornelius (Acts 11:12).
- ⇒ Peter said that while he preached to Cornelius the Holy Spirit fell on the Gentile audience (Acts 11:15).
- ⇒ Peter said that he then remembered the promise of Jesus to baptize believers with the Spirit (Acts 11:16).
- ⇒ Barnabas was a man full of the Holy Spirit (Acts 11:24).
- ⇒ The Holy Spirit separated Barnabas and Paul for missionary work (Acts 13:2).
- ⇒ The Holy Spirit sent Barnabas and Paul forth on their mission (Acts 13:4).
- ⇒ Paul, filled with the Holy Spirit, cast blindness upon a false prophet (Acts 13:9).
- ⇒ The disciples were filled with joy and the Holy Spirit (Acts 13:52).
- ⇒ Peter, before the Jerusalem Council, recounted the Gentile's receiving the Holy Spirit (Acts 15:8).
- ⇒ Church leaders said that the Holy Spirit led them in making a major decision at the great Jerusalem Council (Acts 15:28).
- ⇒ Paul was forbidden by the Holy Spirit to preach in Asia (Acts 16:6).
- ⇒ Paul was forbidden by the Holy Spirit to go to Bithynia (Acts 16:7).
- ⇒ Apollos was fervent in the Spirit (Acts 18:25).
- ⇒ The Ephesian believers received the Holy Spirit (Acts 19:2, 6).
- ⇒ Paul felt compelled by the Spirit to go to Jerusalem (Acts 20:22).
- ⇒ The Holy Spirit informed Paul that persecution awaited him in every city (Acts 20:23).
- ⇒ The Holy Spirit is said to have chosen the Ephesian elders to be overseers (Acts 20:28).
- ⇒ The Holy Spirit told Paul not to go to Jerusalem—through Agabus the prophet (Acts 21:11).
- ⇒ The Holy Spirit spoke by Isaiah the prophet (Acts 28:25).

OUTLINE OF ACTS

THE PREACHER'S OUTLINE & SERMON BIBLE™ is unique. It differs from all other Study Bibles & Sermon Resource Materials in that every Passage and Subject is outlined right beside the Scripture. When you choose any Subject below and turn to the reference, you have not only the Scripture, but you discover the Scripture and Subject already outlined for you—verse by verse.

For a quick example, choose one of the subjects below and turn over to the Scripture, and you will find this marvelous help for faster, easier, and more accurate use.

In addition, every point of the Scripture and Subject is fully developed in a Commentary with supporting Scripture at the bottom of the page. Again, this arrangement makes sermon preparation much easier and faster.

Note something else: The Subjects of Acts have titles that are both Biblical and practical. The practical titles sometimes have more appeal to people. This benefit is clearly seen for use on billboards, bulletins, church newsletters, etc.

A suggestion: For the quickest overview of Acts, first read all the major titles (I, II, III, etc.), then come back and read the subtitles.

THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES

CHAPTER 1

I. THE GREAT DAYS OF EXPECTATION, 1:1-26

A. Jesus' Ministry on Earth, 1:1-5

The former treatise have I made, O Theophilus, of all that Jesus began both to do and teach,

2 Until the day in which he was taken up, after that he through the Holy Ghost had given commandments unto the apostles whom he had chosen:

3 To whom also he showed himself alive after his passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God:

4 And, being assembled together with them, commanded them that they should not depart from Jerusalem, but wait for the promise of the Father, which, saith he, ye have heard of me.

5 For John truly baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence.

3 Jesus' death & resurrection

a. Proof 1: Showed Himself alive

b. Proof 2: Many proofs, seen for forty days<sup>DS1</sup>

4 Jesus' promise of the kingdom

5 Jesus' promise of the Spirit

a. The disciples had to "wait"

b. The disciples had to hear the promise

c. Then, the disciples were to be baptized with the Spirit

- 1 Luke wrote to Theophilus—reminded him of Jesus' ministry
- 2 Jesus' work & teaching
  - a. Until He ascended
  - b. Thru the Holy Spirit
  - c. Gave commandments to His chosen servants

DIVISION I

THE GREAT DAYS OF EXPECTATION, 1:1-26

A. Jesus' Ministry on Earth, 1:1-5

(1:1-5) Introduction: note the words "former treatise" or book. Luke was referring back to his gospel. He was now writing to the same man to whom he had written his gospel, Theophilus. He was reminding Theophilus that in his gospel he had covered the life and the ministry of Jesus Christ on earth. Note the word "began." Jesus' life and work on earth was only the beginning. Although He is in heaven, He continues to work and minister through the presence of the Spirit in the hearts and lives of believers. The book of Acts could well be called...

- the acts (works and teachings) of believers; or
- the acts (works and teachings) of Christ; or
- the acts (works and teachings) of the Holy Spirit.

Very briefly, Luke was saying that the life of Jesus Christ continues on. The book of Acts is the continuing ministry of Jesus Christ. Verses 1-5 are a summary of the ministry of Jesus Christ on earth, a summary of the ministry of Christ covered in Acts.

1. Luke wrote to Theophilus—reminded him of the gospel, that is, of Jesus' ministry (v.1).
2. Jesus' work and teaching (v.1-2).
3. Jesus' death and resurrection (v.3).
4. Jesus' promise of the kingdom (v.3).
5. Jesus' promise of the Spirit (v.4-5).

1 (1:1) Theophilus: Luke wrote to Theophilus, reminding him of the former gospel which he had written, the gospel which covered the life and ministry of Jesus.

Who is Theophilus? We are not told, but note several facts.

1. Theophilus is called "most excellent Theophilus" in the Gospel of Luke (Lk.1:3). The words, "most excellent Theophilus," are a title of rank and honor. It is the same title used of Felix and Festus, two high ranking Roman officials (Acts 23:26; 24:3; 26:27). Theophilus must have been a Roman official of high rank.

2. Theophilus was a personal friend of Luke, close enough to correspond with Luke about the Lord Jesus. He was either a man interested in knowing the truth about Christ or else a new convert who needed to be grounded in Christ. Perhaps Luke himself had led Theophilus to Christ.

Note: Luke did not address Theophilus as "most excellent" in Acts. The title is dropped. Why? There are three possibilities.

- a. Luke and Theophilus were close friends, close enough to be on a first name basis.
- b. Theophilus had either retired or been removed from office between the writing of Luke and Acts.
- c. Theophilus, having grown in Christ, had grown so loving and humble he did not want his title used among his Christian friends, not in times of personal communication and fellowship.

Thought 1: There is a great lesson in this thought, a lesson on love and humility so needed by the world and among God's people (cp. Mt.23:7-12).

3. Theophilus lived outside Palestine, somewhere away from Luke.
4. Theophilus was a man of education and culture. His title and the fact that the Gospel of Luke and Acts are addressed to him point toward his being educated and cultured.
5. The name Theophilus means "beloved by God" or "the friend of God."

Thought 1. Theophilus was a man who sought to grow and mature in the Lord. Imagine! Luke and Acts were written to him! Two of the greatest books ever written! And why? Because he had such a deep hunger to know the Lord, to learn all he could about the Lord. What a legacy and testimony—to be known as a man who so hungered to know the Lord that God had two of the greatest books ever written addressed to him! May we all develop a hunger to learn all we can about the Lord and Savior of the universe.

2 (1:1-2) Jesus Christ, Ministry: Jesus' ministry on earth began with His work and teaching. Note the subject of this first chapter, "The Great Days of Expectation." The works and teachings of Christ launched these days. Jesus Christ brought the greatest expectation to earth imaginable to man; in fact, He brought the only hope man has of surviving...

- of conquering the sin and shame of the earth: its hatred, killing, maiming, selfishness, bitterness, division.
- of conquering the death and hell of man's destiny: his dread, fear, insecurity, ignorance, and baseless hope of what lies beyond the grave.

As stated, Jesus Christ brought the only hope man has of surviving. He taught men how to live together in peace and how they should live before God. Note three significant things.

1. Christ worked and taught until He was "taken up," that is, until He ascended back into heaven. He was faithful, using all He had for God until His life upon earth was completed.

Thought 1. The believer is to use his gifts for God until he enters heaven. There is no retirement from seeking to reach a world sunk so desperately in need.

"Say not ye, there are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest" (Jn.4:35).

"I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work" (Jn.9:4).

"Moreover it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful" (1 Cor.4:2).

"For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's" (1 Cor.6:20).

"As every man hath received the gift, even so minister the same one to another, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God" (1 Pt.4:10).

"Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands" (2 Tim.1:6).

"Greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy" (2 Tim.1:4).

"Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave, whither thou goest" (Eccl.9:10).

2. Christ worked and taught "through the Holy Spirit." While He was on earth in the flesh, Christ was totally dependent upon the Holy Spirit. He had to surrender Himself and to make Himself available to the Spirit.

Thought 1. Just think! If Christ was so dependent upon the Spirit of God, how much more are we! How much more do we need to make ourselves available to Him, available for His gifts and power!

"But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth" (Acts 1:8).

"For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit" (Ro.8:5).

"For if ye live after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the Spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live" (Ro.8:13).

"Be filled with the Spirit" (Eph.5:18).

"But the anointing which ye have received of him abideth in you, and ye need not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie, and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in him" (1 Jn.2:27).

3. Christ gave and taught His commandments to those whom He had chosen, His apostles. He taught throngs of people, but He zeroed in on the apostles. His whole mission depended upon them. They were to be the first who would carry His message to the world after His departure. If they failed, his mission would fail; if they succeeded, His mission would succeed. He had to concentrate upon them; to drill His commandments into them so that they in turn could teach His commandments.

Thought 1. Note a critical fact: every believer is the chosen servant of God to carry on the mission of Christ. Every believer is to be proclaiming the glorious message of hope to a world lost and doomed to death.

"And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also" (2 Tim.2:2).

"Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world" (Mt.28:19-20).

"Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you" (Jn.20:21).

"But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth" (Acts 1:8).

3 (1:3) Jesus Christ, Resurrection: Jesus' ministry on earth was climaxed in His passion and resurrection (cp. Acts 17:3; 26:23). The word “passion” (pathein) means suffering; it refers to the sufferings or death of Christ. His death and resurrection assured the salvation of man.

⇒ By death He paid the penalty for man’s sin.

“Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness: by whose stripes ye were healed” (1 Pt.2:24).

“For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit” (1 Pt.3:18).

⇒ By arising from the dead He conquered death for man and now makes available a new life of power for the believer.

“Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life” (Ro.6:4).

“But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the firstfruits of them that slept. For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead. For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive. But every man in his own order: Christ the firstfruits; afterward they that are Christ’s at his coming” (1 Cor.15:20-23).

“Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new” (2 Cor.5:17).

“And what is the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, according to the working of his mighty power, which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and set him at his own right hand in the heavenly places” (Eph.1:19-20).

“But God, who is rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us, even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us together with Christ, (by grace ye are saved;) and hath raised us up together, and made us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus: that in the ages to come he might show the exceeding riches of his grace in his kindness toward us through Christ Jesus. For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: not of works, lest any man should boast. For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them” (Eph.2:4-10).

Note the two proofs of salvation.

1. Jesus showed (paristemi), presented Himself alive. There are ten resurrection appearances of Jesus recorded in the New Testament (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 1:3). However, there were apparently many more that are not recorded (cp. Jn.20:30-31; 21:25).

2. Jesus gave many infallible proofs of His resurrection. (See note—Acts 10:40-41 for more discussion.)

- a. The word “proofs” (tekmeriois) means positive proof; infallible proof; convincing proof; sure signs and ways.
- b. The infallible, positive proofs and appearances went on for forty days.

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(1:3) Jesus Christ, Resurrection: Jesus appeared at least ten times after His resurrection before He ascended into heaven. There were apparently many more appearances not recorded (cp. Jn.20:30-31; 21:25).

1. He appeared to Mary Magdalene (Mk.16:9-11; Jn.20:11-18).
2. He appeared to the women running to tell the disciples about the empty tomb (Mt.28:8-10).
3. He appeared to Peter, probably to assure him of his restoration (Lk.24:34; 1 Cor.15:5).
4. He appeared to the two Emmaus disciples sometime in the early evening (Mk.16:12; Lk.24:13-42).
5. He appeared to the disciples with Thomas absent (Mk.16:14; Lk.24:36-43; Jn.20:19-25).
6. One week later, He appeared to the disciples who had gone fishing (Jn.20).
7. He appeared to 500 believers (1 Cor.15:6).
8. He appeared to the apostles (Mt.28:16-20; Mk.16:15-18).
9. He appeared to James, the Lord’s half-brother (1 Cor.15:7).
10. He appeared to the believers at His ascension (Mk.16:19-20; Lk.24:44-53; Acts 1:3-12).

It should be remembered that since Jesus’ ascension He has appeared at least two other times.

1. He appeared to Stephen at his martyrdom (Acts 7:55-56).
2. He appeared to Paul on the road to Damascus (Acts 9:3f).

4 (1:3) Kingdom of God: Jesus’ ministry on earth was to proclaim the great hope of man, the promise of the Kingdom of God. (See DEEPER STUDY # 3—Mt.19:23-24 for discussion.) Note: the Kingdom of God is the focus of His message even after His resurrection. Man’s only hope for survival is the Kingdom of God.

5 (1:4-5) Holy Spirit: Jesus’ ministry on earth was to proclaim the great promise to believers, the promise of the Holy Spirit. God knew and Christ proclaimed that no man could live and witness for God, not “in the arm of the flesh.” No man or group of men were powerful enough to live for God or to convince others of the foolishness of the gospel...

- that love is more powerful than might.
- that God’s Son actually came to earth as a man.
- that God’s Son died but was raised from the dead, conquering death.
- that the cross is the way men are saved from sin, death and hell.

ACTS 1:1-5

- that man can be born again, literally born again and made into a new creature by believing in Jesus.
- that man can live forever by being born again through belief in Jesus.

Christ knew that man needed a supernatural power, the power of God Himself. He knew that the very presence of God's Spirit had to enter into the very heart of man and...

- impart the divine nature of God (2 Pt.1:4).
- recreate his being completely (2 Cor.5:17; Eph.4:23-24; Col.3:9-10).
- live within his body, giving the believer the power to control his life for God and to courageously proclaim the gospel to a world that would consider it foolishness and often react in violence.

In these two verses, Christ is sharing how the apostles (and all succeeding believers) are to receive the Holy Spirit in all His fullness and power.

1. They are to “wait for the promise of the Father,” wait in prayer for the coming of the Holy Spirit.
  - a. Note the phrase “the promise of the Father.” The idea is that the gift of the Holy Spirit is the supreme gift of God to the believer. The Holy Spirit is the very presence of God Himself, and God promises to give His Spirit to the believer.

“I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance: but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire” (Mt.3:11).

“And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever; even the Spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you” (Jn.14:16-17).

“But ye shall receive power, after the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

“Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost” (Acts 2:38).

“And, behold, I send the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city of Jerusalem, until ye be endued with power from on high” (Lk.24:49).

“Until the spirit be poured upon us from on high, and the wilderness be a fruitful field, and the fruitful field be counted for a forest” (Is.32:15).

“For I will pour water upon him that is thirsty, and floods upon the dry ground: I will pour my spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine offspring” (Is.44:3).

“And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions” (Joel 2:28).

“Sing and rejoice, O daughter of Zion: for, lo, I come, and I will dwell in the midst of thee, saith the LORD” (Zech.2:10. See Deeper Study # 1—Acts 2:1-4.)

- b. The believer must wait in prayer to receive the Holy Spirit. Waiting, centering, and focusing one's attention upon God is another way of saying believing, trusting, and focusing one's life upon God. If a person will wait upon God—if he will learn to wait more and more—he will...
  - gain more and more awareness and consciousness of the Spirit's presence and power.
  - gain more and more knowledge of the Spirit Himself, how He lives and works within the believer's heart and life.
  - learn how to surrender more and more of his life to the Spirit's control and witness.
  - experience more and more of the fruit of the Spirit (Gal.5:22-23. Note: the fruit of the Spirit is borne only as the believer is filled with the Spirit. Being filled is a command. Believers are not automatically filled. Too many believers walk around in the flesh, totally unconscious of the Spirit's presence and will.)

“If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children: how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?” (Lk.11:13).
“Be filled with the Spirit” (Eph.5:18).

2. Believers have to hear about the promise of the Spirit before they can receive Him. A believer cannot sit with a wandering or preoccupied mind and be filled with the Spirit of God; he cannot expect to be filled with the presence of God and never center his mind upon the things of God. The believer has to hear and focus his attention upon, hunger and thirst for the things of God. He has to center his life upon God's Spirit in order to receive the promise of the Spirit.

“For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit. For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace” (Ro.8:5-6).

“Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God” (1 Cor.2:12).

3. Then, believers will be baptized with the Holy Spirit. Note: this baptism is not water baptism, not the kind of water baptism John used. It is the baptism brought by Christ Himself, the immersion of the believer into the Spirit of God and of the Spirit into the believer. (Cp. Mt.3:11. See DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 2:1-4 for discussion.)

(See outline and notes—Jn.14:15-26; 16:7-15; cp. Ro.8:1-17 for the person and Work of the Holy Spirit. Christ clearly outlined both His Person and Work.)

DIVISION I

THE GREAT DAYS OF EXPECTATION, 1:1-26

B. Jesus' Last Day on Earth, 1:6-11

(1:6-11) Introduction: this was Jesus' last day on earth. What He did is a most powerful and critical message for believers.

1. The disciples came together again (v.6).
2. Scene 1: Jesus promised the kingdom (v.6-7).
3. Scene 2: Jesus assigned the believer's great task - the great commission (v.8).
4. Scene 3: Jesus ascended before the disciples' very eyes (v.9).
5. Scene 4: the prophecy of Jesus' return (v.10-11).

1 (1:6) Jesus Christ, Last Day: the disciples came together again. This is apparently a different occasion, a specific time planned by Christ when He would ascend back into heaven. He must have arranged for the apostles to gather all the disciples together (over five hundred) at one location. What He had to announce would be a momentous occasion (cp. 1 Cor.15:6).

2 (1:6-7) Believers, Duty: the first scene. Jesus promised the kingdom. Picture the scene: over five hundred disciples stood in some remote spot, probably on the top of a mountain. They surrounded Christ. One of the disciples asked Christ a revealing question: "Was He now going to restore the kingdom to Israel? Was that the reason He had called everyone together, the reason for His stressing the importance of the meeting so much?"

The revealing thing is this: the disciples were still thinking in terms of an earthly, physical Messiah, of a physical and material rule and reign for themselves and their nation, Israel. (See outline and DEEPER STUDY # 2—Mt.1:18; 18:1-2 for more discussion. Also see Index—Messiah.)

We must always remember this: Christ is going to set up His kingdom on earth. There is a future aspect to His kingdom as well as a present rule and reign in human hearts. His rule and reign will be done on earth. The Lord's prayer assures this (cp. Mt.6:10). Christ promised the apostles they would sit upon thrones judging the people of Israel. He also promised believers they would receive a hundredfold and rule over the world. (See outline and notes—Mt.19:27-30; Lk.16:10-12; Rev.14:13; 21:24-27 for more discussion.) But the concern of the believer is not to be a reward, not to be a carnal craving for...

- position and influence
- authority and power
- money and possessions
- recognition and prestige
- rule and reign
- the material and physical

The believer's concern is to be service and ministry, proclaiming the glorious salvation of Christ and meeting the cry of a world buried in desperate needs. Christ is direct, rebuking those who wish to pry into the timing of the Lord's return and the setting up of His kingdom upon earth. Christ had said that even He did not know when He was to return and set up the kingdom. He rebuked the question...

- "It is not for you to know."
- "The Father hath put [the times] in His own power."

Thought 1. Believers are not to be focusing upon prophecy and the setting of dates. They are not to be craving for release from this world and for the heavenly positions of authority. What believers are to do is to look for Jesus' return and long for heaven. But even this—even the love of Jesus' return—is not to get in the way of the believer's task, the task Christ discusses in the next point. What is the task? It is the task of witnessing. Believers are to focus upon witnessing, upon sharing the glorious gospel of salvation with the world.

“But of that day and that hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father” (Mk.13:32).

“Jesus answered and said unto him, What I do thou knowest not now; but thou shalt know hereafter” (Jn.13:7).

“I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now” (Jn.16:12).

“For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known” (1 Cor.13:12).

“And no man in heaven, nor in earth, neither under the earth, was able to open the book, neither to look thereon” (Rev.5:3).

3 (1:8) Witnessing—Great Commission—Holy Spirit—Power: the second scene. Jesus assigned the believer’s great task—the great commission. Note three significant points.

1. The believer’s equipping power was to be the Holy Spirit. The disciples had asked about the kingdom, the positions of leadership and authority Christ had promised. The point is critical and to be noted with all diligence. They were to receive power, but not the power of this earth, not the power of...

- position
- supervision
- wealth
- recognition
- fame
- politics

Their power was to be spiritual and supernatural. It was to be the very power...

- of God Himself,
- of the Supreme Being of the universe,
- of His presence,
- of His Spirit

God’s very own Spirit was to dwell within the heart and life of the believer. No greater power could ever be possessed by anyone. This is clearly seen: once the early disciples experienced the coming of God’s Spirit into their being, they never again asked about earthly power. Experiencing the presence and power of God within their lives was the summit, the supreme experience of their lives. Nothing else was ever needed. It is this for which the human heart craves, and once God’s Spirit truly dwells within a person, that person is supremely fulfilled and satisfied. Nothing else can ever satisfy—not position or authority, recognition or fame—not if the person has truly received the Spirit of God into his heart and life.

The point is this: the believer is given a task by God, a mission to carry out on earth. The believer does not have the power to carry out that task. The power of God Himself, of His Spirit, is needed. Therefore, Christ promises, “Ye shall receive power after the Holy Spirit is come upon you.” Both the Spirit of God and His power are promised. But note a critical point: the Holy Spirit comes upon believers as an equipping power. The major purpose for His coming is to equip the believer to carry out his task for God.

2. The believer’s task is the great task of witnessing for God. The disciples had asked about the coming of the kingdom, just when the kingdom would come. When would believers be gathered and cloistered together in the fellowship and worship of God, free from worldly injustices and sin? Again, Christ had promised the kingdom, a day when He would gather all believers together in perfect fellowship and service of God. He promised a day when believers would be freed from the world, from its sin and shame, death and hell. But again, note: now is not the time to be cloistered together...

- in heaven.
- in the eternal kingdom of God.
- in Christian societies.
- in the church.

Now is not the time for believers to be revelling in the love and fellowship, the enjoyment and comfort of each other. This is the point Christ is making, a critical point. It is time for...

- WITNESSING
- BEING WITNESSES TO CHRIST

Witnessing to Christ, sharing the glorious salvation in Him, is the great task of the believer. This is understandable, clearly seen, for no greater truth exists in all the universe. Man can now live forever; man can now be delivered from sin, death, and hell. Just think about it! The perfect cure for...

- sin has been secured.
- death is known.
- hell now exists.

There is no reason for the world—no reason for any person—to suffer any longer under the weight and bondage of...

- selfishness and hoarding
- inadequate supply and hunger
- bitterness and hatred
- killing and maiming
- war and power
- insecurity and low self-esteem
- emptiness and loneliness
- guilt and shame
- fear and anguish
- ignorance and the unknown

(God have mercy upon all who know the cure and keep silent! No greater indictment against a person exists.)

Now note several points.

a. The word “you”: it is the believer who is to witness. It is the believer who knows the cure, the truth of salvation.

- b. The words “unto me”: Christ is the message, not a man’s ideas, not even the idea of religion. “Christ crucified” is the believer’s testimony (1 Cor.1:23. Cp. 1 Cor.1:18, 24; Gal.6:14.)
- c. The word “witness” (Greek, martures): this is the same word as martyr. The believer is to be so committed to reaching men that he is ready to die as a martyr if need be. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 1:8 for verses on witnessing.)
- d. The word “witness”: this is not a command. Rather, it is a natural result of the Holy Spirit within a person. So is power. The Lord says very simply that a Spirit-filled person has power and becomes a witness for Him throughout the world. This is important, for it makes power and witnessing trademarks of Christian believers. A genuine believer possesses both the Spirit and power in his life and becomes by nature a witness for the Lord.

3. The believer’s method: Jesus gives the method that the believer is to follow in his witness and for the spread of the gospel.

- a. The believer is to witness where he is (Jerusalem) and move progressively outward (Judaea and Samaria) until he is having a part in reaching the uttermost part of the earth.
Every believer...
  - is to go as far as he can personally go.
  - is to give as sacrificially as he can for others to go.
  - is to use and support every means he can to reach the world.
- b. The believer is to witness where he is first, see to it that Christ is well known throughout his home and community before moving on. But once Christ is well known, the believer is to move out, ever pressing outward from where he is. His first witness is to be...
  - in Jerusalem: where he is, his home and local community. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1—Lk.9:4 for more discussion.)
  - in all Judaea: other communities and areas and cities and states. Note the words “all Judaea.”
  - in Samaria: other states and provinces where people are antagonistic. There was bitter hatred between the Jews and Samaritans. Yet Christ tells His witnesses to carry the message of salvation even to their enemies. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2, Samaritans—Lk.10:33.)
  - to the uttermost part of the earth: to the unknown countries and regions of the world.

A critical point is this: the believer is to see that each area receives the message of Christ. He is to stay there before reaching out. But once the area knows the message, the message is to be carried out into another area.

Thought 1. What a difference world evangelization would experience if each believer would simply do what Christ says.

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(1:8) Witnessing: the word “witness” in the book of Acts is forceful, revealing the duty of the believer.

“But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

“This Jesus hath God raised up, whereof we all are witnesses” (Acts 2:32).

“And with many other words did he testify [witness] and exhort, saying, Save yourselves from this untoward generation” (Acts 2:40).

“And [you] killed the Prince of life, whom God hath raised from the dead; whereof we are witnesses” (Acts 3:15).

“And with great power gave the apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and great grace was upon them all” (Acts 4:33).

“And we are his witnesses of these things; and so is also the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to them that obey him” (Acts 5:32).

“And they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and preached the gospel in many villages of the Samaritans” (Acts 8:25).

“And we are witnesses of all things which he did both in the land of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; whom they slew and hanged on a tree: Him God raised up the third day, and showed him openly; Not to all the people, but unto witnesses chosen before of God, even to us, who did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead. And he commanded us to preach unto the people, and to testify that it is he which was ordained of God to be the Judge of quick and dead. To him give all the prophets witness, that through his name whosoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins” (Acts 10:39-43).

“And he was seen many days of them which came up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are his witnesses unto the people” (Acts 13:31).

“Long time therefore abode they speaking boldly in the Lord, which gave testimony unto the word of his grace, and granted signs and wonders to be done by their hands” (Acts 14:3).

“And when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul was pressed in the spirit, and testified [witnessed] to the Jews that Jesus was Christ” (Acts 18:5).

“Testifying [witnessing] both to the Jews, and also to the Greeks, repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ. And now, behold, I go bound in the spirit unto Jerusalem, not knowing the things that shall befall me there: Save that the Holy Ghost witnesseth in every city, saying that bonds and afflictions abide me. But none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto myself, so that I might finish my course with joy, and the ministry, which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify [witness] the gospel of the grace of God” (Acts 20:21-24).

“For thou shalt be his witness unto all men of what thou hast seen and heard” (Acts 22:15).

“And saw him saying unto me, Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Jerusalem: for they will not receive thy testimony [witness] concerning me” (Acts 22:18).

“And when the blood of thy martyr [witness] Stephen was shed, I also was standing by, and consenting unto his death, and kept the raiment of them that slew him” (Acts 22:20).

“And the night following the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good cheer, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome” (Acts 23:11).

“But rise, and stand upon thy feet: for I have appeared unto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witness both of these things which thou hast seen, and of those things in the which I will appear unto thee” (Acts 26:16).

“Having therefore obtained help of God, I continue unto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying none other things than those which the prophets and Moses did say should come” (Acts 26:22).

“And when they had appointed him a day, there came many to him into his lodging; to whom he expounded and testified [witnessed] the kingdom of God, persuading them concerning Jesus, both out of the law of Moses, and out of the prophets, from morning till evening” (Acts 28:23).

4 (1:9) Jesus Christ, Ascension: the third scene. Jesus’ ascended before the disciples’ very eyes. Note Jesus’ last words on earth (Acts 1:8). His concern was reaching the world for God. Now note what happened. Immediately after speaking the words, the most dramatic event began to happen. Jesus Christ began to slowly arise from the earth, ascending ever upward toward the sky above. The disciples were shocked and spellbound, gazing at the spectacular sight. They were beholding one of the most dramatic and phenomenal events ever experienced:

⇒ the Ascension of the Lord Jesus Christ.

⇒ the return of God’s Son into heaven, into the spiritual world and dimension of being.

Note the words “beheld” (v.9, bleponton) and “while they looked stedfastly” (atenizontes esan). The Lord ascended somewhat slowly in a dramatic, spectacular fashion. Why depart in this way? For the sake of the disciples. There are several significant reasons why they needed such a dramatic departure. (See note, Jesus Christ, Exaltation—Acts 2:33-36 for more discussion.)

1. Christ needed to dramatize and enforce His final departure. Since His resurrection He had been appearing and disappearing spontaneously, at will, as though by thought or light. This departure was to be final. He would never return again, not as He had been doing. Therefore this departure needed to be different; it needed to be impressed and enforced in the minds and consciences of the disciples once and for all.

2. Christ needed to dramatize and enforce His claim upon the disciples. This was the last time He would have to confirm His claims while on earth. He wanted the disciples to have additional confirmation, a most dramatic confirmation that He was exactly whom He claimed to be. By actually ascending upward He was proclaiming seven glorious truths beyond all question.

a. He is the ascended Lord. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2—Lord—Acts 2:36.)

b. He is the ascended Mediator between God and man. (See notes—Jn.10:7-8; 12:44-46; note and DEEPER STUDY # 1,2,3—14:6; notes—14:13-14; 1 Tim.2:3-7. Cp. Heb.8:6; 9:15; 12:24.)

c. He is the ascended Advocate of man before God. (The word “advocate” [parakleton] is the very same word used for the Holy Spirit, the Comforter [parakletos]. See DEEPER STUDY # 1—Jn.14:16 for meaning. Cp. Jn.14:26; 15:26; 16:7.)

⇒ The Holy Spirit is God’s Advocate on earth with men.

⇒ Jesus Christ is man’s Advocate with God. (See note—1 Jn.2:1-2.)

d. He is the ascended Son of God, the One who came “out of” heaven to earth to save man (see notes—Jn.3:31; 3:32-34; 6:33; 7:25-31; DEEPER STUDY # 2—8:23; note—Heb.7:25.)

e. He is the ascended High Priest of God who makes reconciliation for the sins of men (Heb.2:17-18. Cp. 1 Jn.2:1-2.)

f. He is the ascended High Priest who is touched with the feelings of our infirmities and delivers and succors us through all trials (Heb.2:15-16. Cp. Ro.8:31-39; Heb.2:17-18.)

g. He is the ascended Christ (Messiah) who makes intercession for us (Ro.8:34; cp. 8:31-39.)

3. Christ needed to dramatize and enforce His return to earth, that it shall take place exactly as He said. (See note—Acts 1:10-11 for discussion.)

4. Christ needed to dramatize and enforce that the disciples were not to be standing around “gazing up into heaven.” They were to get to the business at hand. They were to return to the upper room and...

• “wait” and pray for the presence and power of the Holy Spirit.

• move out witnessing to a world lost and reeling in desperate need.

“So then, after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received up into heaven, and sat on the right hand of God” (Mk.16:19.)

“And it came to pass, while he blessed them, he was parted from them, and carried up into heaven” (Lk.24:51.)

“And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was taken up: and a cloud received him out of their sight” (Acts 1:9.)

“Seeing then that we have a great high priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession” (Heb.4:14.)

“For Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us” (Heb.9:24).

“Who is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God; angels and authorities and power being made subject unto him” (1 Pt.3:22).

5 (1:10-11) Jesus Christ, Ascension; Exaltation; Return: the fourth scene. There was the prophecy of Jesus’ return. Note that God had two men appear, standing by the disciples. They were dressed in white clothing which is the color of angels’ clothing (cp. Mt.28:3; Jn.20:12). These two messengers from God said three significant things about Jesus’ return.

1. This “same Jesus” shall return just as He left. He shall not return in some strange way, in a way that He might be unrecognized and missed. He shall return in the clouds of heaven and every eye shall “see Him” (Rev.1:7).

Note exactly what Scripture says about how Christ ascended.

⇒ Acts 1:9 says a cloud received (hupelaben) Him. The Greek word literally means took, lifted, supported Him.

⇒ Luke 24:51 says He was “carried up” (anephereto) into heaven. The Greek means borne up, taken up.

⇒ Acts 1:2; 1:11; 1 Tim.3:16 says He was “received up” (anelempthe).

The point is this: it is as though the cloud received and took (hupelaben) Him. The cloud was apparently the Shekinah glory (see note 2—Jn.1:14). Christ had said He would return to earth in the clouds of heaven (Mt.24:30; 26:64; Mk.13:26; cp. Rev.1:7). Seeing such a dramatic ascension confirmed for the disciples (and for us) that Jesus’ promise of returning to earth will take place just as He said.

2. This “same Jesus” is the One who will come back. He will not be different, either in Person or in attitude. He will be the same.

⇒ He will be the same Jesus, the same Lord and Savior, the same One who came to earth to save men.

⇒ He will be the same Jesus in attitude, still loving and caring for those who follow Him.

⇒ He will be the same Jesus who promised to return and receive believers unto Himself that they may be with Him where He is (Jn.14:2-3).

“For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels; and then he shall reward every man according to his works” (Mt.16:27).

“For as the lightning cometh out of the east, and shineth even unto the west; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be” (Mt.24:27).

“When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory: and before him shall be gathered all nations: and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats” (Mt.25:31-32).

“Jesus saith unto him, Thou hast said: nevertheless I say unto you, Hereafter shall ye see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven” (Mt.26:64).

“Be ye therefore ready also: for the Son of man cometh at an hour when ye think not” (Lk.12:40).

“And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory” (Lk.21:27).

“Which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? this same Jesus, which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven” (Acts 1:11).

“Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and then shall every man have praise of God” (1 Cor.4:5).

“For yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night” (1 Th.5:2).

“I charge thee therefore before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, who shall judge the quick and the dead at his appearing and his kingdom” (2 Tim.4:1).

“For yet a little while, and he that shall come will come, and will not tarry” (Heb.10:37).

“Be ye also patient; stablish your hearts: for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh” (Jas.5:8).

“And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousands of his saints, to execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard speeches which ungodly sinners have spoken against him” (Jude 14-15).

“Behold, I come as a thief. Blessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, lest he walk naked, and they see his shame” (Rev.16:15).

3. This same Jesus who will return is the One who ascended into heaven. The Jesus in heaven is the same Jesus the disciples knew—the One who was their Lord and Savior; the One who came to earth to be their close companion, their Advocate, their Mediator, their Representative before God. Therefore when He returns, He will be coming back to receive all believers unto Himself. He will be coming back that we may all be where He is (Jn.14:2-3).

“In my Father’s house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also” (Jn.14:2-3).

“For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first: then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord. Wherefore comfort one another with these words” (1 Th.4:16-18).

DIVISION I

THE GREAT DAYS OF EXPECTATION, 1:1-26

C. Judas' Fate and Replacement: Choosing Church Leaders, 1:12-26

(1:12-26) Introduction: this is an instructive passage on choosing church leaders.

1. The essentials to choosing church leaders (v.12-15).
2. The need for church leaders: Judas' fate and empty office (v.16-20).
3. The choosing of church leaders: the replacement for Judas (v.21-26).

1 (1:12-15) Leaders, Church: the essentials to choosing church leaders. There are six essentials seen in this passage.

1. Essential 1: to obey Jesus. The disciples had just witnessed the ascension on the mount of Olives (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, Mount of Olives—Lk.21:37). They now obeyed Christ by returning to Jerusalem. And note: their obedience took tremendous courage, for Jerusalem was the very center of opposition against Christ. They were risking their lives to obey Christ. It would have been much easier to go elsewhere and wait upon and serve God there. But Christ had made His will known and the disciples had committed their lives to obeying Him.

Thought 1. In choosing church leaders, believers have to be in the will of God; they must do the will of God. They cannot know who God's choice for a leader is unless they are obeying Him. Disobedient and carnal believers end up with disobedient and carnal leaders, that is, with leaders who are fleshy and worldly. They know little if anything about God, His will, and the true spiritual matters of the church and its mission.

2. Essential 2: to center around the appointed leaders. Note that all eleven of the apostles were present, and they were even meeting in the upper room where the apostles were staying. The building was large, for there were over 120 disciples gathering there (v. 15). (See DEEPER STUDY # 4—Mk.3:16-19 for a discussion on each of the twelve apostles for more information.)

Thought 1. Leaders appointed by Christ are to be the leaders of the church, and believers must be centered around them if they wish God's presence and blessings. Too often however, too many turn to other leaders, leaders less godly, less spiritual and less mission-, evangelistic-, and ministry-minded. The result is a dead, formal, self-centered, or worldly and socially minded church. (Note: there is a huge difference between being ministry-minded and social-minded. The difference is the same as the great gulf between the spirit and the world itself.)

- ⇒ Being ministry-minded means reaching out to help people both socially and spiritually, leading people to an evangelistic encounter, to a personal relationship with Christ as well as meeting their physical and social needs.
- ⇒ Being social-minded means reaching out to help people with little if any attention given to evangelism. A social gospel seldom stresses the need for a personal relationship with Jesus Christ.

The church must have and follow spiritual leaders, leaders chosen and appointed by God, if the church is to be a true church of the Lord Jesus Christ.

3. Essential 3: to continue in one accord (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 1:14). The disciples were in the upper room for one reason: to seek and wait upon the baptism of the Holy Spirit.

Thought 1. Believers must be of one spirit and mind, focusing their thoughts and concentrating as strongly as they can upon the same purpose. They have one purpose in mind, to seek God for the promise of His Spirit and His presence.

4. Essential 4: to pray steadfastly (proskarterountes). The word is strong. They continued, persevered, endured, persisted, stuck to praying. For what? For the baptism of the Holy Spirit. They would not cease or stop praying. God's very special presence and power, His very own Spirit and power, had been promised to them; and they were not going to stop praying until God baptized them in His Spirit and presence. (What a lesson for us!)

5. Essential 5: to have a leader who willingly leads. Peter had failed his Lord and failed Him in a terrible way, tragically denying Him. He had emotionally dropped into the dregs of despair and anguish (see note—Mt.26:69-75). He could have easily remained defeated, allowing the glances and criticisms of the believers to keep him down, never serving his Lord again. But note: he had gotten up off the ground of despair and defeatism: He was standing forth, willingly serving Christ exactly where Christ had originally appointed him to serve. Peter's sin and the public's criticism were not keeping him away from his Lord, nor from serving his Lord. He had failed and failed miserably, but the Lord in His unbelievable mercy and grace had forgiven him and lifted him up, and now the Lord was ready to use Peter as originally planned.

Thought 1. Note that Peter willingly stepped forth. He did not step forth by constraint nor out of fear. Compare what he later said to the leaders of the church.

“The elders which are among you I exhort, who am also an elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed: feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind; neither as being lords over God's heritage, but being ensamples to the flock” (1 Pt.5:1-3).

6. Essential 6: to heed what the leader says. All 120 believers listened and gave heed to Peter's leadership. No leader could lead unless the people were willing to follow. God's presence and blessings depended upon the believers following the leader God had given them.

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(1:14) One Accord (homothumadon): the same mind or spirit; oneness of mind and heart. It means to be one in spirit and purpose. Homos means same and thumos means spirit or mind. The believers, all 120 of them in the upper room, were of the same spirit, of the same mind. The idea is they were after the same thing, the baptism of the Holy Spirit. They were focusing and concentrating their thoughts and energies upon seeking God for the promise of His Spirit.

The word is used only eleven times in Scripture, ten of those times are found in Acts, one is found in Romans.

- ⇒ One accord in prayer (Acts 1:14; 4:24).
- ⇒ One accord in one place (Acts 2:1).
- ⇒ One accord in daily worship and the Lord's supper (Acts 2:46; 5:12).
- ⇒ One accord in obedience (Acts 8:6).
- ⇒ One accord in a business meeting (Acts 15:25).
- ⇒ One accord is needed to glorify God (Ro.15:6).

The phrase “one accord” is also used to refer to the unity of unbelievers and enemies of the gospel (Acts 7:57; 12:20; 18:12; 19:29).

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(1:14) Jesus Christ, Family: note who was present in the upper room.

1. The eleven apostles.
2. The women, probably including the wives of the apostles and the other women who followed Jesus Christ (Lk.8:2-3; Mt.27:55; 27:61; 28:9f; Mk.15:40, 47; 16:1; Lk.23:49, 55; 24:1).
3. Mary, the mother of Jesus.
4. The brothers of Jesus: James, Joseph (Joses), Simon, and Judas (Mt.13:55; Mk.6:3). Before the resurrection they rejected Jesus' claims, but after His resurrection they became believers. James was given a personal appearance and revelation by the risen Lord (1 Cor.15:7). He became the pastor of the great church in Jerusalem.

2 (1:16-20) Leaders, Church: the need for church leaders—Judas' fate and empty office. The church had an empty office because one of its leaders had died a tragic death. And note, Judas had been a leader; he had held one of the highest positions, that of being treasurer for the Lord Himself. (See note—Jn.12:4-8.)

Peter briefly covered why the office in the church was to be filled.

1. Judas had betrayed Christ, had actually become the guide for Jesus' enemies (cp. Mt.26:47f; Lk.22:47; Jn.18:2f). He should have guided people to receive Christ; instead, he had guided them to reject and deny Him and to remove Christ from the scene.

2. Judas had been called by Christ to serve in the ministry. He had been given a part in the ministry. He had been numbered and counted by all as being an apostle and a leader among God's people. Yet, he had somehow refused God's grace—the grace that truly saved and sanctified, that caused a person to diligently believe and seek God, to truly follow and live for Him.

Thought 1. Unless a person is truly saved and sanctified, he is not acceptable to God. It is not enough...

- to claim and profess God.
- to hold an official office in the church, even the highest of offices.
- to be a minister or leader.
- to be an associate with other believers.
- to be a faithful church member.
- to be active in ministering.

3. Judas had given his heart over to greed, selling Christ for thirty pieces of silver. (See notes—Mt.26:15.)

4. Judas had died a terrible death: he had hanged himself in despair. (The rope had broken and he had fallen head first. His body had just burst open. The picture is given in descriptive terms to match the terrible deed of betraying Christ.)

5. Judas' legacy is tragic. Everyone, even the reader, knows the terrible legacy of Judas' life, the legacy of betrayal. Betraying Christ is the most terrible legacy a man can ever have. (This stands as a warning that must be heeded by all.)

6. Judas' terrible fate was an eternal loss. This verse is a quote from Ps.69:25; 109:8 (cp. Ps.41:9; Zech.11:12).

Note two things:

- a. The phrase "his habitation" (he epaulis autou) is descriptive. It means a farm house or a place for sheep such as a pasture or sheep-yard. The idea is that Judas would never again be allowed to be the farmer (husbandman) or shepherd for God.
- b. The word "bishopric" (episkopen) means overseership. It is the word from which the office of bishop is taken. The idea is that Judas' office of overseeing the flock of God was to be filled by another person. Judas had lost his ministry completely.

Thought 1. What happened to Judas serves as a warning to every Christian leader. Judas had every opportunity imaginable, even that of brushing shoulders with the Lord Jesus day by day, yet he deserted Christ.

"Holding faith, and a good conscience; which some having put away concerning faith have made shipwreck" (1 Tim.1:19).

"Now the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils" (1 Tim.4:1).

"Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God" (Heb.3:12).

"Ye therefore, beloved, seeing ye know these things before, beware lest ye also, being led away with the error of the wicked, fall from your own steadfastness" (2 Pt.3:17).

3 (1:21-26) Leaders: the choosing of church leaders—the replacement for Judas.

1. Leaders must be associates; they must be in fellowship with other believers over a long period of time. Peter definitely said they must not be novices; they must not be new believers not yet grounded in the faith. People must not be chosen to be leaders until they are mature in the Lord and have proven to be genuine.

"Not a novice, lest being lifted up with pride he fall into the condemnation of the devil" (1 Tim.3:6).

2. Leaders must know the Lord Jesus personally. They must have personal knowledge of Jesus Christ—be a witness of His resurrection power. A leader...

- must not only know about Jesus, but know Jesus.

- must not only profess Jesus, but possess Jesus.
- must not only believe Jesus lived, but know Jesus lives.
- must not only read the story of Jesus, but live the life of Jesus.
- must not only walk after a religion of Jesus, but follow Jesus, the risen Lord Himself.
- must not only be willing to lead others, but be leading others already (no matter how few).
- must not only talk about witnessing, but witness.
- must not only want the resurrected power of God, but already know the power of God.

Note the two names put forth and nominated. They were men highly esteemed by the earliest believers. Nothing else is known about them.

“Ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me” (Is.43:10).

“And he ordained twelve, that they should be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach” (Mk.3:14).

3. Leaders must be appointed through prayer. God must be sought for two very clear, but often neglected reasons.
  - a. God alone knows the human heart. A person’s heart cannot be truly known by others. Only God can see within. Men can be fooled; and that fact was perfectly clear, for Judas had deceived the early believers, drastically so. It was perfectly clear they could choose a counterfeit, a carnal believer. They had to seek God, for He alone knew what was in the heart of man (Jn.2:24-25).
  - b. God alone had the right to choose. The church, the office, the mission was His. God alone knew whom He wanted to fill the office. They had to ask in order to find out God’s will.

“Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain: that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you” (Jn.15:16).

“But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel” (Acts 9:15).

“As they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them. And when they had fasted and prayed, and laid their hands on them, they sent them away” (Acts 13:2-3).

Thought 1. Note the strong lesson on prayer in this fact. God’s will cannot be known apart from seeking to know His will.

“Therefore I say unto you, What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them” (Mk.11:24).

“And whatsoever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, and do those things that are pleasing in his sight” (1 Jn.3:22).

“And ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart” (Jer.29:13).

4. Leaders are to be appointed by the congregation, not by the leaders themselves. It was not just the eleven apostles who chose the twelfth apostle. What Peter and the 120 disciples did is clear. Peter called for nominations (v.21), the whole group cast their lots and voted for whom they thought God wanted. It was a congregational or democratic process.

DEEPER STUDY # 3

(1:26) Lots: just what was involved in “casting lots” is not really known. It was a method allowed in the Old Testament for making decisions under God’s guidance (Lev.16:8; Num.26:55; Pr.16:33). It seems that everyone either wrote his choice down, or else the choices were written just once and placed in a vase, shaken up (much like dice), and then one was picked out. Despite the chance involved, this must be remembered: every name placed in the vase was qualified in the eyes of the church. Therefore, any one of the nominations was capable of serving as a leader. However, by casting lots, there was great trust that God would overrule the lots, seeing that His choice was picked.

DIVISION II

THE BIRTH AND GROWTH OF THE CHURCH, 2:1-7:60

A. The Day of Pentecost and The Coming of the Holy Spirit: The Church is Born, 2:1-13

(2:1-13) Introduction: the Day of Pentecost was one of the most phenomenal and important events in all of history. There are several reasons why the event was so important.

- ⇒ It was “the coming of the Holy Spirit.”
  - ⇒ It was the birth of the church.
  - ⇒ It was the corporate filling of the Holy Spirit, of the body of believers with the promised presence of Christ (Jn.14:16-18).
  - ⇒ It was the personal filling of the individual believer by the Holy Spirit.
  - ⇒ It was the Presence and Power of God coming upon believers, gifting and equipping them to proclaim the glorious message of salvation to men.
1. There was God's providence (v.1).
  2. There was man obeying (v.1).
  3. There was the spirit of being in one accord (v.1).
  4. There was the Spirit's infilling (v.2-4).
  5. There was witnessing—devout men heard the Word (v.5-11).
  6. There were different reactions (v.12-13).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(2:1-4) Holy Spirit—Pentecost: the disciples had been deliberately prepared for the coming of the Holy Spirit. Throughout the Bible the revelation of the Spirit had been step by step, that is, progressive.

Prophecy shows this clearly.

1. Joel prophesied, “It shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my Spirit upon all flesh...” (Joel 2:28-29).
2. John the Baptist said, “I baptize with water, but He shall baptize with [en, in] the Holy Spirit” (Mt.3:11; Lk.3:16).
3. In the early part of Jesus' ministry, He had said that believers were to be “born again...by the Spirit” (Jn.3:3-4; cp. 1 Jn.5:1).
4. During His ministry, Jesus taught that men were to receive the Holy Spirit by prayer (Lk.11:13).
5. In the Upper Room, Jesus identified the Holy Spirit as a Person (Jn.14:15-26), and He outlined the work of the Spirit with both unbelievers and believers (Jn.16:7-15). Significantly, He revealed that He was praying to the Father for the Comforter to come and abide with the disciples (Jn.14:16-17).

6. After His resurrection from the dead, Jesus appeared to His disciples in the Upper Room. There He symbolically breathed on them, saying, "Receive ye the Holy Spirit" (Jn.20:22). But He insisted they not begin their ministry until they experienced the Spirit actually coming upon them with power (Lk.24:49; Acts 1:8).

7. Right before Jesus was to ascend into heaven, He said, "John truly baptized with water, but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Spirit" (Acts 1:5).

8. Then, ten days after Jesus' ascension and after much prayer, the Holy Spirit came upon and filled the whole body of believers at Pentecost (Acts 2:1-4).

There are two events of the Holy Spirit's coming that seem to hold historical significance. These two particular events are very, very special to the church, for both Jewish and Gentile believers were clearly seen to be in God's historical plan. Both Jew and Gentile were baptized by the Holy Spirit, that is, placed into the body of Christ, His Church.

1. At Pentecost: the disciples were "filled with the Holy Spirit" (Acts 2:4).
  - a. This was in fulfillment of the prophecy by Joel. The Spirit was poured out upon the believers (Acts 2:16).
  - b. This was in fulfillment of the prophesies by Jesus and John. The Spirit baptized, that is, immersed the believers with His own presence (Acts 1:5; 10:44-48; cp. 11:15-16, esp. 16).
2. At Cornelius' house: the Holy Spirit "fell," was "poured out," and was "received" by the Gentile believers (Acts 10:44-47).
  - a. Peter said to the Jews who came with him, "These received the Holy Spirit as well as we" (Acts 10:47).
  - b. Peter reported the event to the Jerusalem Church: "The Holy Spirit fell on them, as on us at the beginning. Then remembered I the word of the Lord, how that He said, John indeed baptized with water: but 'ye shall be baptized with the Holy Spirit'" (Acts 11:15-16).
  - c. Peter used the experience to support Paul before the great Jerusalem Council:

"God...[gave] them the Holy Spirit even as He did unto us" (Acts 15:8).

In all three instances the idea conveyed is that of an event just like their own experience. It is as though Peter pointed to a Gentile Pentecost or at least an extension of Pentecost in Acts 2 to include the Gentiles.

Note two other facts:

1. At Pentecost, the account uses the word filled, not baptized.
2. At Cornelius' house, the account says the Holy Spirit fell, was poured out, and received. But in reporting the experience to the Jerusalem Church, Peter used the word baptized. He said the Gentile believers were "baptized with the Holy Spirit" (Acts 11:16) "as on us at the beginning" (Acts 11:15). This clearly says that although the word baptized is not used in the Pentecost experience, the disciples were baptized or immersed with the Spirit's presence at Pentecost. The words filled, received, poured, baptized, and fell upon are all used interchangeably to describe the Spirit's presence coming into a believer's life. (If believers would heed this, it would eliminate many of the arguments that arise over terminology.)

Other than these two events Acts records only four other times that the Holy Spirit came upon believers.

1. A little prayer band in Jerusalem was "filled" with the Holy Spirit (cp. Acts 4:8).
2. The Samaritans (half-Jews, half-Gentiles) "received the Holy Spirit" (Acts 8:15-17).
3. Paul was "filled with the Holy Spirit" (Acts 9:17).
4. The disciples of John experienced "the Spirit coming on them" (Acts 19:6).

One other fact is important. Other than Pentecost and Cornelius' house, the word baptize is used in connection with the Holy Spirit only once in the rest of the New Testament. That one reference is 1 Cor.12:13: "For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body." That is, the Holy Spirit takes all believers and baptizes or immerses, places, and positions them into the body of Christ—into the church, the universal church.

In conclusion, what does all this mean?

1. When a man grasps the gospel and believes, really believes, the Holy Spirit enters his life. He comes upon, falls upon, pours, fills, baptizes (immerses) Himself into the life of the believer. This is a personal experience. This act of the Spirit takes place in the life of the believer. The believer experiences the Spirit coming into his life. The believer receives the Spirit experientially.
2. When a man grasps the gospel and believes, really believes, the Holy Spirit takes him and baptizes or immerses, and places him into the body of Christ, which is God's Church. The believer does not feel or experience this act. It is an act of God that takes place in heaven. The believer is counted as a child of God. He is counted as a member of the body, of the church. This is a position, not an experience, which the believer feels. It happens once-for-all. The believer is adopted as a child of God—irrevocably. It is an eternal position, an eternal sonship (see DEEPER STUDY # 2—Gal.4:5-6). The believer becomes a member of God's Church—positionally (1 Cor.12:13).
3. After a man is saved, he is to "keep on being filled with the Spirit"—day by day (Eph.5:18; cp. Jn.14:21, the word "manifest"). The early believers were continually filled (Acts 4:8, 31).

1 (2:1) Feast of Pentecost—God, Providence of: there was God's providence. The Feast of Pentecost needs to be understood in order to see God's providence at work. Pentecost was celebrated fifty days after the Passover. It was also known as the "Day of the First Fruits" (Num.28:26), or the "Feast of Weeks" (Ex.34:22), or the "Feast of Harvest."

Pentecost was a glorious day of celebration, a day when the people were to heap praise and thanksgiving upon God. There were three particular reasons for which they were to thank God.

1. The harvest of the fields. Note the very name of the Feast says that it is a celebration of the "First Fruits." It was celebrated when the first fruits of the harvest began to come in, which was around the first of June. It actually opened the harvest season.

2. The Exodus, the deliverance of the nation Israel from Egyptian bondage (Dt.16:12). The people were to thank God for the day he delivered them out of slavery.

3. The giving of the law upon Mt. Sinai (Ex.19-20). This was the day the people were constituted as a nation, as the great nation of Israel. They were to live as God's very own people upon earth. They were to thank God for Himself and for His law, the rules and principles He had given to govern their lives and nation. It is important to note that the Jews figured the law had been given to Moses fifty days after the Exodus.

Now note the providence of God, how all three events were fulfilled in the coming of the Holy Spirit.

1. When "Pentecost was fully come" the first fruits were born—the church itself and the first harvest of souls. The new beginning, that is, the filling of the Holy Spirit, began fifty days after Jesus' death and resurrection (Acts 2:4).

2. The coming of the Holy Spirit had a very specific purpose. The Holy Spirit was to live and work within the heart of man, to deliver and free him from the enslavements of this world—from sin, death, and hell. The Holy Spirit came to set man at liberty even as God had delivered the Jews out of Egyptian slavery (2 Cor.3:17; cp. Jn.16:8-11).

3. The coming of the Holy Spirit was two things.

a. It was the birth of the church, the new people of God. People who truly came to God were now to be sealed and known by the presence of the Holy Spirit, by His very presence within their hearts and lives.

"Now he which stablisheth us with you in Christ, and hath anointed us, is God; who hath also sealed us, and given the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts" (2 Cor.1:21-22).

"In whom ye also trusted, after that ye heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation: in whom also after that ye believed, ye were sealed with that holy Spirit of promise, which is the earnest of our inheritance until the redemption of the purchased possession, unto the praise of his glory" (Eph.1:13-14).

"And grieve not the holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption" (Eph.4:30).

b. It was the institution of the new law, the new rule and principle of God. Man is now to be guided by the Spirit who empowers him to live right and to serve Christ.

"But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you" (Jn.14:26).

"Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will show you things to come" (Jn.16:13).

"For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God" (Ro.8:14).

"But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned" (1 Cor.2:14).

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(2:1) Feasts, Jewish: there were three major Feasts celebrated by the Jews. Each had been instituted by God to celebrate significant events in both the daily life and history of the people and their nation. But God also had something else in mind as well, the coming of His Son and the birth of His followers. Therefore each of the Feasts find their fulfillment in Christ and His Church.

1. There was the "Feast of the Passover." It was a week of giving thanks...

- for God's deliverance out of bondage and slavery, looking back to their forefathers' slavery under Egypt.

The Passover Feast was fulfilled in the crucifixion of Christ. Christ was the "Lamb of God" who was to die for the sins of the world. He and His death had been symbolized in the sacrifice of the Passover Lamb. (See notes—Mt.26:17-30; Lk.22:7-23 for more discussion.)

2. There was the "Feast of the First Fruits." It was a day of giving thanks...

- for the birth and growth of the new crops, the reaping of the first fruits of the earth.
- for the birth of their nation at Mt. Sinai.

This Feast was fulfilled in the coming of the Holy Spirit on the day of Pentecost, the day when the church was born and the first of God's new people were reaped. (See note—Acts 2:1 for more discussion.)

3. There was the "Feast of Tabernacles." It was a week of giving thanks...

- for the end and completion of the harvest season, the journey of toil and struggle experienced in gathering the harvest.
- for the end of their nation's wilderness wanderings under Moses.

The "Feast of Tabernacles" is yet to be fulfilled. It will be fulfilled when our Lord returns. The Feast will symbolize our joy, liberty, and victory through the wilderness wanderings of life and the glorious provision of God, that of living and serving eternally in His wonderful presence (Zech.14:16). (See Outline note 1—Jn.7:37 for more discussion.)

DEEPER STUDY # 3

(2:1) Power: Jesus had instructed the disciples to "tarry" in Jerusalem until they were endued with power (Lk.24:49).

2 (2:1) Obedience: there was man obeying. Note: the believers were in "one place," in the city of Jerusalem precisely where Christ told them to go and wait upon the coming of the Holy Spirit. They were obedient—obedient despite the great danger the Jerusalem authorities posed to them. (See note—Acts 1:12-15 for discussion.)

Thought 1. One thing is absolutely essential if a believer wants to receive the fulness of God's Spirit: obedience. The believer must obey Christ and follow His instructions.

“If ye love me, keep my commandments. And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever; even the Spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you” (Jn.14:15-17).

“Jesus answered and said unto him, If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him” (Jn.14:23).

3 (2:1) Unity: there was the spirit of being in one accord. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, One Accord—Acts 1:14 for discussion.)

4 (2:2-4) Holy Spirit—Pentecost: there was the Spirit's infilling. Note the word “suddenly.” The Holy Spirit came suddenly, abruptly, unexpectedly, the kind of abrupt happening that jolts and startles a person. God was dramatizing the supernatural and precious significance of the event.

1. There was a mighty sound that filled the room.

- a. The sound was from heaven, that is, from God. It came from God's activity, not from the activity of natural causes upon earth. It was supernatural. God created sound for this very special occasion.
- b. The sound was like the rushing of a mighty wind. It was not wind, but a sound like the deafening roar or blast of a strong wind (cp. a hurricane, tornado, or gale).
- c. The sound filled all the house, that is, it was localized upon the house where they were sitting. Why? There are at least three reasons.
  - ⇒ First, people needed to be startled and alarmed, attracted to gather from all over Jerusalem, seeking to know what had happened. An audience needed to be gathered for the first preaching of the gospel.
  - ⇒ Second, the mighty power of the Spirit needed to be symbolized and dramatized for the disciples. They needed strong confidence instilled within them in order to stand and preach the gospel before the very persons who had crucified the Lord and who had hunted them down as accomplices.
  - ⇒ Third, the disciples would learn how Christ wanted them to preach the gospel. The presence of the Holy Spirit upon them would either bring people flocking from all over, asking what had happened or lead them to the people whom they were to reach.

2. There was the appearance of cloven tongues (diamerizomenai). The Greek means a tongue that was cloven, that is, parting asunder. The idea is that a single tongue appeared and then began to split and divide itself, resting upon each of the disciples.

- a. The tongues were not fire, but like fire; that is, they only looked like fire. They were a brilliant, luminous, fire-like substance created by God to dramatize the moment of the Holy Spirit coming upon the disciples.
- b. The tongue of fire that first appeared symbolized the presence of the Holy Spirit which was to dwell in the midst of God's people as a whole. When He began to divide into many tongues of fire and to rest upon each believer, He was symbolizing that He was to dwell within each believer as well as within the whole body of believers. (See notes—1 Cor.3:16-17; 1 Cor.6:19-20.)

Note the words, “It [He] sat” (ekathisen). The word is singular, not plural. Scripture does not say “they sat,” but He, the Holy Spirit Himself, was descending and resting upon each of the disciples. They were not receiving “tongues of fire” but the Spirit of God.

Note also that the Spirit appeared in the form of a tongue of fire. The tongue symbolizes the instrument of speaking and preaching and sharing the gospel. The Holy Spirit was to be the burning power of the tongue, of the convicting message to be proclaimed.

3. There were the results which were twofold.

a. The disciples were filled with the Holy Spirit. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 2:1-4 for more discussion.)

First, both the body (church) and each individual believer were filled. They were “all filled” with the presence and power of the Spirit—all of them corporately and each of them individually. It was both a corporate and a personal, individual infilling. Each believer had been commanded to wait for the baptism of the Spirit, and each one was to be so filled with His presence and power. It was a command to the individual believer as well as to the corporate body. Each one was to experience and know His grace and power and fruit (Gal.5:22-23).

Thought 1. A critical point is often ignored and neglected. The command to be filled with the Spirit is still God's command to every believer, both individually and corporately (the church).

“Be filled with the Spirit” (Eph.5:18).

“But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance: against such there is no law” (Gal.5:22-23).

Thought 2. How neglectful the church is! Ignoring and neglecting the command “[to seek to] be filled with the Spirit.” How many churches actually meet together to pray and wait for the filling of God's Spirit?

“If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children: how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?” (Lk.11:13).

Second, the disciples were given the gifts of the Spirit to carry on the work of the ministry upon earth. This fact is not mentioned here, although it is certainly to be demonstrated in the preaching and witnessing about to take place. The giving of the Spirit's gifts is covered in Ephesians.

“Wherefore he saith, When he ascended up on high, he led captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men....And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers; For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ” (Eph.4:8, 11-12).

“But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

“And what is the exceeding greatness of his power to usward who believe, according to the working of his might power [Holy Spirit], Which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and set him at his own right hand in the heavenly places” (Eph.1:19-20).

- b. The disciples began to speak with other tongues (see DEEPER STUDY # 4, Tongues—Acts 2:4).

DEEPER STUDY # 4

(2:4) Tongues—Holy Spirit: what is meant by “other tongues” here? Note two things.

1. “Other tongues” definitely means foreign languages (cp. verse 6-13). The disciples were supernaturally witnessing and preaching in the languages of the different nationalities gathering together. Scripture is so clear about this that there can be no reasonable doubt without really twisting the Word of God.

2. “Other tongues” could also mean the tongues or ecstatic utterance covered in 1 Corinthians; that is, it could have been what is commonly called the heavenly or prayer language (1 Cor.14:2, 14. See outlines and notes—1 Cor.14:1-40 for discussion on Tongues.) An ecstatic worship could be taking place while the disciples were experiencing the infilling of the Holy Spirit. There seems to be some time between the moments of infilling and the crowds arriving to see what caused the explosive sound or noise (v.2). And there can be no doubt that the disciples were flooded with joy, an ecstatic worshipful joy. They now knew the most wonderful things...

- Christ was in them, His Spirit had actually entered into their hearts and lives. Their wonderful Lord had returned to them just as He had said He would.
- They were filled with a deep sense of His presence and power, His concern and love for the world, His courage and drive to share the great news of the glorious gospel.

One thing needs to be noted, however: the words “as the Spirit gave them utterance.” They spoke in tongues “as the Spirit gave them utterance.” This may indicate a clear difference from the gift of tongues in 1 Cor.14, a clear difference in this sense:

- ⇒ All gifts once bestowed by the Spirit are thereafter exercised by the believer as the believer wills to use them. In fact, in order to be faithful, the believer has to use his gifts as need or as opportunity arises. This is clear from 1 Cor.14:28-33.
- ⇒ The gift of tongues here in Acts 2 says that the gift was supernaturally exercised by the Spirit, not by the individual believer.

5 (2:5-11) Witnessing: there was witnessing—devout men heard the Word. Witnessing is also a result of being filled with the Spirit. Note several things.

1. Devout men, Jewish pilgrims who had come from all over the world, had returned to Jerusalem to celebrate the “Feast of the First Fruits.” The word “devout” (eulabeis) means reverent, worshipful, careful. It means persons who handle spiritual matters carefully.

2. The words “when this was noised abroad” seems to be saying it was the news of the disciples’ behavior that brought the crowd together. But the Greek says, “When this sound was heard” (genomenes tes phones tantes). It was apparently the sound of the thunderous blast caused by God that brought the people rushing to the scene.

3. The crowd heard an amazing thing—the disciples supernaturally speaking in their own tongue (dialect, language) (cp. v.6, 8, 11).

4. The number of dialects and languages spoken included most of those from the known areas of the world at that time. Luke’s purpose in giving the list seems to stress that people from all over the world were present for Christ to save and to send back to their native lands as servants of His, servants to proclaim the message of the glorious gospel.

5. What the crowd heard in their native languages was “the wonderful works of God,” the personal witness of the gospel, the very things Peter was about to preach to the whole crowd (v.14-40).

Thought 1. Note how the groundwork for preaching is first laid by personal witnessing. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Witnessing—Acts 1:8 for Scripture.)

6 (2:12-13) Gospel, Reaction to: there were different reactions. All were amazed (existanto) and astonished, marvelling at what was happening. There was a twofold reaction.

1. Some were attracted (dieporounto), perplexed and wondering, at a loss as to what was happening. But they were attracted to seek meaning in it all.

2. Others simply mocked, accusing the disciples of being drunk. (Just imagine the ecstatic joy flooding their hearts for them to behave in a way to cause such a charge! Where is the infilling of such joy today?)

“For he saith, I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of salvation have I succoured thee: behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation” (2 Cor.6:2).

DIVISION II

THE BIRTH AND GROWTH OF THE CHURCH, 2:1-7:60

B. The First Sermon (Part I): The Gospel Message, 2:14-24

(2:14-24) Introduction: this is the first sermon ever preached in the new church age, after Jesus' ascension and Pentecost, that is, after the coming of the Holy Spirit. If men would preach what is preached here, what a difference would exist in men's lives, in the church, and in world history. (Because of its length and the time limit placed on preachers in the churches of so many industrialized societies, the message preached by Peter is split into three studies.)

1. Infilled believers (v.14-16).
2. These are the last days, the days of God's last work on earth (v.17-21).
3. This is the day of God's Savior: Jesus of Nazareth (v.22-24).

1 (2:14-16) Holy Spirit, Infilling: the believers were infilled. The disciples were so full of the Holy Spirit, so full of God's presence and joy, they could only...

- act excited.
- speak about the wonderful works of God (cp. Acts 2:11).
- express joy and rejoicing in what God had done.
- demonstrate absolute confidence, assurance, and conviction of God's presence and eternal salvation.
- bear testimony to all who would listen.

1. Such behavior required an explanation. It was not common behavior, not among a people who lived in a world of trial and uncertainty, struggle and survival, pain and hurt, suffering and death; a people who knew their world was such, but who evaded the fact and did all they could to escape the reality of it.

⇒ A person who demonstrated absolute confidence, assurance, and conviction of God's presence and of eternal salvation had to explain himself.

- a. Some in the world were amazed at such behavior and wished to know what it meant. An answer was required (cp. Acts 2:12).
- b. Others mocked, jokingly suggesting that such behavior was crazy and foolish, just like the behavior of a drunken man; and they, too, were due an answer (cp. Acts 2:13).

2. A spirit-filled person is not under the influence of a man-made, induced excitement. Peter stood to his feet with the eleven other apostles: they all stood before the thousands who had gathered (v.41). Peter spoke at the top of his voice. Note the authority and forcefulness of Peter! What a difference the Spirit had made in this man—the man who had been so up and down in following Jesus:

- ⇒ "Be this known."
- ⇒ "Hearken to my words."
- ⇒ "It is but the third hour [9 a.m.] of the day."

Peter declared that they were not deluded; they were not acting and speaking foolish things like a drunken man. What was happening was just what Scripture predicted. It was the work of God, just what God had promised to man. It was the glorious gospel (good news) promised by God.

2 (2:17-21) Last Days—God, Work of: these are the last days, the days of God’s last work on earth. Standing there before the throng of thousands, Peter declared:

- ⇒ Today, this day, the great prophecy of Joel begins to be fulfilled (Joel 2:28-32).
- ⇒ Today, this day, begins the last days of earth’s history.
- ⇒ Today, this day, begins the last days of God’s work on earth.
- ⇒ Today, this day, begins the last days, the final age of God’s plan for human history.
- ⇒ Today, this day, begins the last days, the dispensation of God’s grace (the church), the age of the gospel.

Thought 1. In the Scripture, the “last days” mean all the above. The last days began when Christ came to earth and they will end when Christ returns to earth. Note: we are already 2000 years into the last days.

1. The last days include the great outpouring of God’s Spirit.

a. The word “pour” (ekcheo) means to pour out, to pour forth, to shed forth. It means that God gives His Spirit...

- to  dwell in the believer (Jn.14:17; 1 Cor.6:19-20).
- to  abide with the believer forever (Jn.14:16).
- to abundantly fill, to overflow the believer (Eph.5:18).
- to give very special  manifestations of Christ to the believer (Jn.14:21).

b. God pours out His Spirit upon  all flesh...

- upon sons and daughters.
- upon young men and old men.
- upon His slaves, servants, and handmaidens.

The point is this: God’s Spirit shows no discrimination. The Spirit of God is available to all: male and female, young and old, slave and free, rich and poor.

c. God pours out His Spirit with very special gifts...

- the gift of prophecy: proclaiming and predicting the truth (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—1 Cor.14:3). Note this gift is given to both men and women. This was part of the Scriptural promise.
- the gift of seeing visions, especially among young men. The Greek word “visions” (horaseis) means appearance (Rev.4:3) or an ecstatic revelation (Rev.9:17). In Scripture the Greek word is used for both what a man can envision (see, imagine, think, cause to appear) within his own mind and what is given him by God through a special revelation (Rev.9:17).
- the gift of dreaming dreams, especially among older men. The idea is that a dream is given by God.

Thought 1. Note a crucial fact: history has shown and Scripture warns that spiritual gifts are often misused and abused, tragically and destructively so. (See outline and notes—1 Cor.12-14.)

1) We must guard against accepting every dream and vision as being of God. God’s Word is the revelation of God. What God wants to reveal to us is therein. We must stand upon God’s Word and measure every vision and dream by God’s Word.

2) A study of the visions and dreams in the Book of Acts shows that everyone of them had to do with witnessing, with reaching people for Christ. Not a single dream or vision had to do with  personal edification or with  boasting self to be spiritually superior.

d. God pours out His Spirit only upon His servants and upon His handmaidens. This is the emphasis of this verse, the reason for repeating what has just been said. Note that the verse is a summary statement: no one receives God’s Spirit, no one, not until they become His servant or His handmaiden.

e. God gifts His servants and His handmaidens with one very special gift—the gift of prophecy. Again, the point is primary, to stress what is so important. The gift of prophecy, of proclaiming that God’s very own Son has come into the world to save sinners, is the primary gift of God’s Spirit. Every one of God’s servants and handmaidens are gifted to prophesy.

Thought 1. Note the devastating blow to the ego of  professionalism and to the practice of so many of us.

1) So many of us leave proclamation, that is, witnessing, up to others, using the flimsy excuse that we are not capable nor gifted to witness.

2) Too many enjoy the prestige of a  professional gift and a  professional ministry, minimizing the lay ministry and the layman’s gift to proclaim Christ. And although there are  measures or degrees of gifts, the great need of the hour is for every believer to proclaim the living Lord.

2. The last days include the days of terrible judgment at the end—the Day of the Lord (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 2:19-20).

3. The last days include the days of great salvation. Throughout the last days, during the whole period, man can be saved by doing two simple things:

⇒ He has to  call: to sense the  need to be saved.

⇒ He has to call upon “the name of the Lord”: to know and believe that Jesus is the Lord and to be ready to submit to His Lordship, to serve Him as Lord.

“For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved” (Ro.10:13).

“That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation” (Ro.10:9-10).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(2:19-20) Day of the Lord (Jehovah): in the simplest of terms, the Day of the Lord is the Day when Christ returns to execute judgment upon the earth. It is a definite Day that is coming upon earth, and note: it is coming at the end of the last days, at the end of the present age. (See outlines and notes—Mt.24:1-25:46 for more discussion.) Note two points.

1. The Day of the Lord is to be characterized by several things.
  - a. Wonders (terata): marvels, signs, happenings, portents in heaven above, that is, in outer space; happenings and marvels that point to something unusual about to happen.
  - b. Signs (semeia): events and happenings on earth given by God to warn that the end is at hand.
  - c. Blood and fire and vapor of smoke: terrible bloodshed and explosive fire that causes...
    - mushrooming vapors of smoke
    - the sun to be turned into darkness and blotted out
    - the moon to be turned into a blood red

Thought 1. It is thought-provoking when we consider how closely the language resembles atomic warfare.

2. The events to happen in the Day of the Lord (as revealed by the whole of Scripture) seem to be fourfold. Note: no attempt whatsoever is made to put these events in any specific order. There are two reasons for this.

- ⇒ There are so many divergent opinions.
- ⇒ More importantly, Scripture does not give a complete list of last events.

Throughout Scripture, four events are discussed as happening in the Day of the Lord: the return of Christ, terrible tribulation, judgment, and the remaking of earth.

- a. A terrible period of tribulation (7 years). This includes the last half of the period known as the great tribulation (3 1/2 years). This is the fulfillment of Daniel’s “seventieth week” (Dan.9:27). (See outline and notes—Mt.24:15-28.)
- b. The return of Christ as sovereign Lord. He shall rule and reign in glory upon earth (the Millennial reign of God’s Son, Rev.20:4-6).
- c. The resurrection and final judgment of all. This includes...
  - ⇒ men who are described as sheep and goats (Mt.25:31-46; Rev.20:11-15).
  - ⇒ the Beast or the antichrist, the false prophet, and their followers (Rev.19:11-21).
  - ⇒ Satan and his angels (Rev.20:10).
- d. The destruction and remaking of the earth and heavens (2 Pt.3:3-15; Rev.21:1; cp. Is.65:17; 66:22).

3 (2:22-24) Jesus Christ, Death; Resurrection: this is the day of God’s Savior, Jesus of Nazareth. Peter drove the thrust of his message home. He shouted out: “Hear these words”...

- the “last days” have been launched by Jesus of Nazareth.

1. “Jesus of Nazareth...approved of God.” The word “approved” (apodengmenon) means to point out, display, show, attest, accredit, sanction, certify, endorse. God put His stamp of approval upon Jesus, demonstrating and showing to all men that Jesus is perfectly acceptable to Him. Jesus of Nazareth had God’s approval, His perfect acceptance.

There is proof of this, the proof of His miracles and wonders and signs.

- a. They were the works of God, the kind of works that only God could do. God Himself was working through Jesus of Nazareth.
- b. The works were done (through Christ) “in the midst of you,” in the very presence of people. They were not done in secret. God attested and demonstrated to the world that He was working through Christ. The miracles, wonders, and signs were done both for the sake of the world and before the world.
- c. “You yourselves also know” this. Man knows, for God has clearly shown that Jesus is approved by Him. The evidence abounds in the lives of those who have truly followed Christ down through the centuries, in the presence of the living Lord who has dwelt within their very being.

2. The death of Jesus of Nazareth was planned by God due to man’s wickedness (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Jesus Christ, Death—Acts 2:23 for discussion).

3. The resurrection of Jesus of Nazareth ended the agony of death (see DEEPER STUDY # 4—Acts 2:24 for discussion).

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(2:23) Jesus Christ, Death: this verse is saying a most significant thing. Jesus’ death was planned by God due to man’s wickedness. God planned Jesus’ death, planned for Him to die upon the cross, but He planned it because of man’s wickedness. Note two points.

1. Jesus was crucified and slain by wicked hands. Men are sinful, wicked, depraved, and selfish.
  - ⇒ They want to go their own way.
  - ⇒ They want to do their own thing.
  - ⇒ They want to control their own lives.

Therefore, they rebel and fight against God, against surrendering to God, against...

- following God's way.
- doing God's thing.
- allowing God to control their lives.

It was this corruptible nature of man that rebelled against God's Son and crucified Him.

2. The "foreknowledge and determinate counsel of God" saved man. God knew man, what was in man (cp. Jn.2:23-24). He knew exactly what men would do to His Son. He knew they would kill His Son. But in the counsel and advice of His knowledge—in consideration of all the possibilities—God knew something else as well: the way of death, the way of the cross was the best way to save men. And being God, He was bound to choose the best way. So God determined to use the best way possible, the death of His Son to save the world. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2,3—Acts 2:23; notes—Mt.17:22; 17:23; note and DEEPER STUDY # 1—20:18 for more discussion.)

"And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up: that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life" (Jn.3:14-16).

"For when we were yet without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly" (Ro.5:6).

"But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us" (Ro.5:8).

"Who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father" (Gal.1:4).

"So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation" (Heb.9:28).

"Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness: by whose stripes ye were healed" (1 Pt.2:24).

"For Christ also hath once suffered for our sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit" (1 Pt.3:18).

Another way to say the same thing is that God foresaw sin even before the creation of man; so He, in love, planned beforehand that Christ should die for sinners.

"Father, I will that they also, whom thou hast given me, be with me where I am; that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world" (Jn.17:24).

"According as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love" (Eph.1:4).

"Who verily was foreordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifest in these last times for you" (1 Pt.1:20).

"And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world" (Rev.13:8).

DEEPER STUDY # 3

(2:23) Foreknowledge—Predestination—Determinate Counsel—Jesus Christ, Death: the word "foreknowledge" (prognosis) means to see before; to know beforehand; to see and know the future; to foreordain.

God is God; therefore He sees the future. No matter how far a person looks into the future, God sees it. God knows...

- exactly what will happen, every single event and its consequences.
- exactly what could happen (but will not), every single possibility and its consequences.

Therefore God knows...

- exactly what man will do, every single act and its consequences.
- exactly what man could do (but will not), every single possibility and its consequences.

God is God. He is eternal and omniscient (knowing all). He knows the past, the present and the future. And note: He knows it all eternally, forever. God knew...

- every event of world history before the foundation of the world.
- every event of a person's life before the foundation of the world (cp. Eph.1:4).

Now in light of this, a question arises that is extremely important. If God knew all the terrible consequences of evil and death that would enter and overtake the world, if He knew the world would even kill His Son, why did He go ahead and create the world? Why did He not choose another way to do things? In the simplest terms possible, there are at least two reasons.

1. God wanted a creature, a being with free will. God created man because God willed to have the presence of a being who could freely choose...

- to love and worship Him.
- to obey and fellowship with Him.
- to serve and reign with Him.

In His foreknowledge, God knew that some would choose Him and some would reject Him. But He was willing to face...

- the pain and hurt to His heart,
- the abuse and shame to His person,
- the rejection and rebellion against His will.

God was willing to face all this in order that some might know His glorious mercy and grace and experience all the glory of Himself and heaven. (See outline and note—Ro.9:22-24; Eph.1:5-6; 2:7 for more discussion.)

2. God did not choose another way to create and deal with man...

- because the way God created man was the best way: perfect, in a perfect environment, with free choice and will, and in perfect fellowship with God (cp. Gen.2:16-17).
- because the way God deals with man is the best way: in love, in the mercy and grace of His Son. Love is the greatest force on earth. It is the very nature of God Himself (1 Jn.4:8). Love will change and transform, help and give, win and conquer when nothing else will. Love will cause a person to reach out and help another and even cause a person to sacrifice his life quicker than any other force on earth (Jn.3:16; 15:13; Ro.5:8).

Note one other point that is critical, a point that stresses the glorious love and care of God: it is the determinate counsel of God (cp. Acts 2:23).

The word “determinate” (horismenei) means predetermined, appointed, decreed, ordained, planned, purposed. It is a plan set within bounds, within a certain boundary. It is a purpose that is set, marked out, determined, decreed to happen.

The word “counsel” (boulei) means to advise, counsel, design, will; to give a piece of advice. It carries the force of being willed and determined. Since God knows exactly what would happen in every situation, He plans for the best thing to happen. God takes counsel, puts all things under advisement and chooses the best way.

We may not understand some things that happen nor why they happen the way they do. We may think something else or some other way would have been better. But we must remember two things.

1. We cannot see into the future. No man can. We cannot know what would have happened if another way had been chosen. We cannot know what would have happened...

- to us.
- to others.
- to the world.

In every situation or event there are many other things that could have taken place. This is true of every situation, whether we call it good or bad. Think for a moment.

- ⇒ What would have taken place if the situation had been replaced by some other happening?
- ⇒ What would have taken place if another way had been chosen?
- ⇒ What and how much would be changed for the worse eventually, if not now?

We cannot know. But we can know this: God knows, for He deals with the future as well as the present. God deals with eternity, with the whole view. Therefore, another situation, another way could have changed things for the worse. Simply stated...

- God knows the future, everything that could happen as well as what is best and should happen.
- God takes counsel, purposes, determines, plans and chooses the best thing to happen.

2. We who love God and are called according to His purpose know that all things work together for good. How do we know? Because we do love God and are called according to His purpose.

God knew that we would say “Yes” to Jesus, that we would love and follow Him. Therefore, God called us.

“For whom he did foreknow, he also did predestinate to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be the firstborn among many brethren” (Ro.8:29).

Note why we are predestinated. This is the key: “that he [God’s Son] might be the firstborn among many brethren.” God has determined that Jesus will have many brothers, many who will live and fellowship with Him as the first Person, the preeminent Person throughout the universe.

This is the reason God chooses the very best events and the very best way for us. It is the reason He works all things out for good for believers. God knows all the possibilities; therefore, He is able to take counsel and determine, to plan the very best for us. Believe and trust the glorious truth.

“Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him” (1 Cor.2:9).

“O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor? Or who hath first given to him, and it shall be recompensed unto him again? For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen” (Ro.11:33-36).

“Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us” (Eph.3:20).

“Being confident of this very thing, that he which hath begun a good work in you will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ” (Ph.1:6).

“Oh how great is thy goodness, which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee; which thou hast wrought for them that trust in thee before the sons of men!” (Ps.31:19).

A STUDY OF SOME SCRIPTURES DEALING WITH GOD'S FOREKNOWLEDGE AND DETERMINATE COUNSEL

(A study giving comfort and security—God is in control.)

1. The Scripture dealing with God's foreknowledge.

a. God's foreknowledge concerns Christ.

"Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain" (Acts 2:23).

"Who verily was foreordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifest in these last times for you" (1 Pt.1:20).

b. God's foreknowledge concerns believers.

"Elect according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, through sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: Grace unto you, and peace, be multiplied" (1 Pt.1:2).

"And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose. For whom he did foreknow, he also did predestinate to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be the firstborn [preeminent Person] among many brethren" (Ro.8:28-29).

(Note: These two verses actually show that God acts or predestines on the basis of His foreknowledge, of His counsel.)

c. God's foreknowledge concerns Israel.

"God hath not cast away his people which he foreknew. Wot [know] ye not what the scripture saith of Elias? how he maketh intercession to God against Israel" (Ro.11:2).

2. The Scripture dealing with God's determination. (See Master Subject Index Predestination for more discussion.)

a. God's determination concerns Christ.

"And truly the Son of man goeth, as it was determined: but woe unto that man by whom he is betrayed!" (Lk.22:22).

"Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain" (Acts 2:23).

"And declared [determined, marked, planned] to be the Son of God with power, according to the spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead" (Ro.1:4).

"And he commanded us to preach unto the people, and to testify that it is he which was ordained [determined, appointed] of God to be the Judge of quick and dead" (Acts 10:42).

"Because he hath appointed [determined, appointed] a day, in the which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead" (Acts 17:31).

b. God's determination concerns salvation and security for believers.

"Again, he limiteth [determines, sets, appoints, plans] a certain day, saying in David, To day, after so long a time; as it is said, To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts" (Heb.4:7; cp. 2 Tim.1:9; Heb.13:8).

3. The Scripture dealing with God's counsel.

a. God's counsel concerns Christ.

"Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain" (Acts 2:23).

"For to do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsel determined before to be done" (Acts 4:28).

b. God's counsel concerns believers and salvation.

"For David, after he had served his own generation by the will [counsel] of God, fell on sleep, and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption" (Acts 13:36).

"In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, being predestinated according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will" (Eph.1:11).

"Wherein God, willing more abundantly to show unto the heirs of promise the immutability of his counsel, confirmed it by an oath" (Heb.6:17).

- c. God's counsel concerns God's plan for the world.

"For I have not shunned to declare unto you all the counsel of God" (Acts 20:27).

- d. God's counsel concerns those who reject Him.

"But the Pharisees and lawyers rejected the counsel of God against themselves, being not baptized of him" (Lk.7:30).

DEEPER STUDY # 4

(2:24) Jesus Christ, Resurrection: this is a great verse dealing with the resurrection of Christ. Note three points.

1. God raised up Christ. God knew that the very best way to save man from death was through the resurrection of His own Son from the dead (see DEEPER STUDY # 3, Foreknowledge—Acts 2:23 for discussion).

2. The resurrection of Christ "loosed the pains of death." The word "pains" (odinas) means birth pangs. For the unbeliever, there is great pain in death, pain such as that experienced by a woman in giving birth. But man no longer has to suffer the pain of death nor fear suffering through it. Christ has conquered and abolished death, made it completely harmless. Death is actually the most glorious and joyful experience for the believer, an experience that simply explodes human imagination. (Cp. Jn.5:24; Heb.2:14-15.)

3. It was impossible for death to hold Christ. Why? There are several significant reasons.

- a. There was God's foreknowledge and determinate counsel. God knew that the way of the cross and resurrection was the very best way to save the world. Therefore, nothing could stop God from following through with the death and resurrection of His Son. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2,3—Acts 2:23 for more discussion. Cp. Acts 2:25-28.)
- b. Jesus was approved by God. He had God's approval, sanction, accreditation, endorsement. Jesus Christ was perfectly acceptable to God (see note—Acts 2:22-24 for discussion).
- c. Jesus' resurrection was foretold by Scripture, and Scripture must be fulfilled (see note—Mt.17:23 for all the verses in the New Testament).
- d. Jesus was Life itself. He possesses the very being, essence, quality, substance, and energy of life. He is The Life, Life itself; therefore, He is the source of all life. All life finds its source in the energy and being of Christ Himself. Therefore, being Life, death could not engulf Him any more than darkness can engulf light. (See notes—Jn.1:4-5; DEEPER STUDY # 2—1:4; note and DEEPER STUDY # 1—10:10; DEEPER STUDY # 1—17:2-3. Cp. Jn.14:6.)
- e. Jesus was sinless. Death exists or happens because everything is short of perfection—short of what it should be—short of God's glory. This is true of man. Man dies because he has "sinned and come short of God's glory" (Ro.3:23). Sin is...
  - being short.
  - missing the mark.
  - transgressing God's glory.

And it is sin that causes death. Therefore Jesus Christ, being sinless, did not have to die. He died because He willed to die for man.

The point is this: Jesus was sinless and perfect and righteous (Jn.8:46; 2 Cor.5:21; Heb.4:15; 7:26; 1 Pt.1:9; 2:22). He was the Ideal Man, the Sinless Man, the Perfect Man—the Ideal Pattern for all other men. Therefore, when He died for men, He died as the Ideal Man or the Ideal Pattern. And death cannot hold the Ideal Man, for the Ideal Man came short in nothing. He was not short in life; therefore, He was destined to live forever. He was Perfect Life and Perfect Man. As the Scripture says, "It was not possible that He should be held by it [death]." (Cp. Ro.1:4.)

DIVISION II

THE BIRTH AND GROWTH OF THE CHURCH, 2:1-7:60

C. The First Sermon (Part II): Proofs of the Resurrection, 2:25-36

(2:25-36) Introduction: the first sermon ever preached after Pentecost was preached by Peter. He focused on the proofs of the resurrection.

1. Proof 1: the prophecy of David—the prophecy concerned Jesus (v.25-28).
2. Proof 2: Peter's testimony (v.29-31).
3. Proof 3: the eye-witnesses—the disciples (v.32).
4. Proof 4: the exaltation and the ascension of Jesus into heaven (v.33-36).

1 (2:25-28) Jesus Christ, Work: proof 1—the prophecy of David concerned Jesus. Peter said that “David [spoke] concerning Christ” (Ps.16:8-11). What David said was a prophecy of the Lord's experience upon earth (v.25-28).

1. David's prophecy concerned Jesus' daily experience or life.
  - a. Jesus experienced God's constant presence and power.
    - ⇒ Jesus always saw God before His face. Jesus looked and kept His gaze upon God. He thought upon God, focused His mind and attention upon God. He concentrated and stayed His mind upon Him. The idea is that Jesus always practiced and was always conscious of God's presence—“captivating every thought” (cp. 2 Cor.10:5).
    - ⇒ Jesus always had God on His right hand, that He should not be moved. God was right there as an advocate and as a protector and defender. God was a provider looking after Christ, strengthening, guiding, upholding, seeing that He was not moved nor shaken. The picture is that of a defender in court or of a soldier on the battlefield standing at a person's right hand, protecting, looking after, and providing for his welfare. (Cp. Ps. 109:31 for this picture.)

“The LORD is thy keeper: the LORD is thy shade upon thy right hand” (Ps.121:5; cp. Ps.121:1-8).

“For I the LORD thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not: I will help thee” (Is.41:13).

- b. Jesus' heart rejoiced and His tongue praised God. Such a consciousness of God's presence was bound to cause...
  - the heart to rejoice (euphranthe): to be joyful and full of euphoria, full of God's presence and glory.
  - the tongue to be glad (egalliasato): to leap for joy and break forth with praise and song.
- c. Jesus' flesh rested in hope. The phrase “shall rest” (kataskenosei) means shall tabernacle or pitch a tent. Jesus' flesh rested, tabernacled, pitched its tent, encamped and made its abode upon hope—the hope of conquering death, of being resurrected. Hope of living forever was the basis and foundation of Jesus' life, that for which He lived. He focused His whole life and being upon the hope of the glorious resurrection (cp. Paul's testimony—Ph.3:7-16, esp. v.11).

2. David's prophecy concerned Jesus' conviction that He could be delivered from death. Note several points.
  - a. The word "leave" (egkateleipo). A soul can be utterly forsaken and abandoned, doomed permanently in hell. But Christ was absolutely sure that His soul would not be left and abandoned in hell.
  - b. The word "hell" (hades). (See DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 2:27 for discussion.) Christ said emphatically that His soul would not be left in hades, that is, in the realm of the dead. He would arise and live forever.
  - c. The word "corruption" (diaphtheiro). (See DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 2:27 for discussion.)
  - d. The title Jesus used of Himself, "[God's] Holy One." Jesus was holy, righteous, and pure. He was without sin and totally devoted to God. He was perfectly acceptable to God. Therefore God was bound to raise Him, to keep His flesh from being destroyed and lying in corruption.

"For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him" (2 Cor.5:21).

"For we have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin" (Heb.4:15).

"For such an high priest became us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than the heavens" (Heb.7:26).

"But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot" (1 Pt.1:19).

"Who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth" (1 Pt.2:22).

3. David's prophecy concerned Jesus' revelation, His revealing the way of life and God's presence. The Hebrew original reads "the path of life." This is a marvelous declaration, a declaration that reveals the most glorious truth. God revealed the path of life to Christ, and Christ reveals it to us. The path of life, the way to escape death is to live in the countenance and presence of God. God will never abandon a man, never allow a man to see corruption if that man lives and walks in His presence.

Jesus knew the path: it was God's presence. Note: He was full of the joy of God's presence. (So should we be.)

"Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me" (Jn.14:6).

"Thou wilt show me the path of life: in thy presence is fulness of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore" (Ps.16:11).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(2:27) Hell (Greek, Hades; Hebrew, Sheol): the Greek word used here is Hades. Jesus revealed that Hades is the other world, that is, the unseen world, the spiritual dimension of being (see DEEPER STUDY # 3—Lk.16:23). Jesus said that Hades (the other world) was divided into two huge areas or sections. The two areas are separated by a great gulf that is impassable (Lk.16:26). One area is the place of sorrow (Lk.16:23-24, 28), and the other area is the place of paradise where believers go. To say that one is dead is to say that one is in hades or in the other world.

Note a critical fact: the other world or the spiritual dimension of being does exist. Denying hell does not change the fact that hades exists. There are two areas or places in the other world: paradise and hell—the place of glory and the place of torment. And Christ says both actually exist. (Cp. Lk.16:22-23, see outline and notes—Lk.16:19-31; see DEEPER STUDY # 3—Lk.16:23; DEEPER STUDY # 4—16:24; notes—23:40-43; Eph.4:8-10; DEEPER STUDY # 4—Lk.16:24; DEEPER STUDY # 1—1 Pt.3:19-20.)

The context of what Jesus said in David's prophecy needs to be noted.

1. The word "leave" (egkateleipo) means to leave behind, to utterly forsake and abandon. It is a strong word indicating a permanent state. A soul can be utterly forsaken and abandoned and doomed permanently in hell.

2. The word "corruption" (diaphtheiro) means to decay, deteriorate, putrify, destroy, perish. In no place does Christ promise a new body to the unbeliever, to the unsaved and lost. A person's body and flesh can be destroyed forever. (This is a fact seldom pointed out.)

"For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting" (Gal.6:8).

"In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread, till thou return unto the ground; for out of it wast thou taken: for dust thou art, and unto dust shalt thou return" (Gen.3:19).

"I have said to corruption, Thou art my father: to the worm, Thou art my mother, and my sister" (Job 17:14).

"They shall lie down alike in the dust, and the worms shall cover them" (Job 21:26).

"Thou hidest thy face, they are troubled: thou takest away their breath, they die, and return to their dust" (Ps.104:29; cp. Eccl.3:20; 12:7).

2 (2:29-31) Jesus Christ, Resurrection: proof 2—Peter's testimony. Peter was forceful: the words of David could not refer to himself. David was dead and buried. It was even known where his grave was, on Mt. Zion where most of Israel's kings were buried.

But there is something significant about David. He was a prophet of God, and God had revealed to him that the Messiah would come through his line. The Messiah would be one of his descendants and sit upon his throne (Ps.132:11; cp. Ps.89:3-4, 35-37; 2 Sam.7:16). Therefore, what David was doing was predicting the resurrection of Christ. The prophecy referred to Jesus and His resurrection.

Note: Peter's declaration of the prophecy. He gave the three reasons why God raised up Christ. These are the same reasons He will resurrect believers.

1. Christ was raised to reign with God.
2. Christ was raised to deliver His soul from hell (cp. v.27).
3. Christ was raised to deliver His flesh from corruption (cp. v.27). (The believer's body is to be raised from the grave and made into a new body. See note—Mt.22:31-32; DEEPER STUDY # 1—Jn.21:1; notes—1 Cor.15:35-49; 15:50-58 for discussion. Also see Resurrection—Subject Index for more discussion.)

3 (2:32) Jesus Christ, Resurrection: proof 3—the eye-witnesses to the resurrection were the disciples. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Jesus Christ, Resurrection—Acts 1:3 for discussion.)

4 (2:33-36) Jesus Christ, Exaltation: proof 4—the exaltation and the ascension of Jesus into heaven. Note three points. (See note, Jesus Christ, Ascension—Acts 1:9 for more discussion.)

1. Jesus was raised to be exalted. His resurrection involved the exaltation.
  - ⇒ To be raised is for the purpose of exaltation.
  - ⇒ To be raised is being exalted to the very presence of God.
  - ⇒ To be raised and given eternal life is a state of exaltation.
  - ⇒ To be raised means to be exalted.

Note the words “the right hand of God.” This is a position by the side of God, a place of honor, glory, authority, dominion, and rulership (cp. Acts 5:31). Christ has been raised to sit by the right hand of God in such a position.

And note: Christ, who is the obedient Son of God and the exalted Lord, has received what God had promised Him, the Holy Spirit. The exalted Christ has the presence of God, the Holy Spirit, to shed forth (excheen, pour forth) upon us all. This is what “you now see and hear,” the glorious presence and energy of the Holy Spirit, of the very Spirit and presence of God Himself. (Cp. Jn.15:26; 16:7.)

Thought 1. The believer's heart should shout “hallelujah, praise ye the Lord.” Christ has sent the great promise and gift of the Spirit!

2. David prophesied the Lord's exaltation (cp. Ps.110:1). David could not have been speaking of himself, for he never arose from the dead, nor has he ever been exalted. David was prophesying that God (Jehovah) had spoken to David's Lord (Messiah), promising that the Lord would sit on God's right hand. And the Lord would reign until God subjected all the Lord's foes. The picture of the footstool is that of complete triumph and victory over all the enemies of Christ, both human and spiritual.

3. Peter declared emphatically: Jesus is both Lord and Messiah. “Let all...know assuredly” (asphalos). The word is emphatic. It means without any doubt whatsoever, with perfect assurance and certainty. Know that...

- Jesus is Lord (v.33).
- Jesus is Messiah (see DEEPER STUDY # 2—Mt.1:18).
- Jesus whom ye crucified (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Jesus Christ, Death—Acts 2:23 for discussion).

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(2:36) Lord (Greek, Kurion; Hebrew Adonai): the Greek word for Lord is used to refer to men such as rulers and to the Lord Jesus Christ. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1—Ph.2:11 for more discussion.) In reference to the resurrected and exalted Christ, it means:

- ⇒ “Jesus our Lord” (2 Pt.1:2).
- ⇒ “My Lord and my God” (Jn.20:28).
- ⇒ “Both Lord and Christ” (Acts 2:36).
- ⇒ “The Lord of all” (Acts 10:36).
- ⇒ “The Lord of glory” (1 Cor.2:8; Jas.2:1).
- ⇒ “The Lord of lords” (Rev.17:14).
- ⇒ “The Lord our God” (Rev.19:1).
- ⇒ “The Lord God [Theos, Jehovah]” (1 Pt.3:15; cp. Is.8:13).
- ⇒ “The Lord thy God” (Mt.4:7; Lk.4:12).
- ⇒ “The Lord [Jehovah]” (1 Pt.2:3; cp. Ps.34:8; Mk.1:2-3; cp.Is.40:3; Mal.3:1).
- ⇒ “Lord Jesus” (Acts 7:59; 8:16; 9:29; 2 Cor.1:14; 2 Th.1:7; Heb.13:20; Rev.22:20).
- ⇒ “Christ the Lord” (Lk.2:11).
- ⇒ “The Son of Man is Lord” (Mk.2:28).
- ⇒ “The Lord of David” (Mk.12:35-37).
- ⇒ “The [Lord] master of the house” (Mk.13:35).

“Jesus Christ is Lord”—“Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name: that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth; and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father” (Ph.2:9-11).

1. The Lord Jesus Christ is seen as the resurrected and exalted Son who sits at the right hand of the Father (Jehovah). He sits in the exalted position of glory and majesty, dominion and power, praise and honor. He rules over all.

2. The Lord Jesus Christ is also seen as the sovereign Majesty of the Universe, the Supreme Being who possesses the very nature of God (Jehovah, YHWH Himself). As the Son of God He is just like God in Being, nature, essence, and character—perfect God in every respect. Therefore, He can be addressed as the Lord God, Jehovah or YHWH because He is God (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Jn.1:1-5; notes— Ph.2:6; 2:7; DEEPER STUDY # 1—2:11 for more discussion).

DIVISION II

THE BIRTH AND GROWTH OF THE CHURCH, 2:1-7:60

D. The First Sermon (Part III): Imperatives of Salvation, 2:37-40

(2:37-40) Introduction: this passage makes it crystal clear what a person must do to be saved. It gives us "The Imperatives of Salvation."

1. The people were convicted and cried out, "What shall we do?" (v.37).
2. The imperatives: repent and be baptized (v.38).
3. The results: forgiveness and receiving of the Holy Spirit (v.38).
4. The assurance to all: God's promise and God's personal call (v.39).
5. The great cry of Peter: save yourselves (v.40).

1 (2:37) Conviction: the people were convicted and they cried out, "What shall we do?" Peter's sermon, the proclaimed Word, was driven home to the hearts of the people.

The word "pricked" (katenugesan) means to convict, sting, sense pain and hurt.

Conviction is an emotional movement of the heart. A person senses sorrow over disappointing God. The person's heart is touched and moved to some degree of brokenness. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Godly Sorrow—2 Cor.7:10 for more discussion.) Conviction is being pricked with a tug, a pull, a knowledge, an awareness.

- ⇒ It is a sense of sin, of doing wrong, of breaking God's law, of being disobedient.
- ⇒ It is a sense of failure, of coming short, of not measuring up, of disappointing God.
- ⇒ It is a sense of needing more and more of the Lord and His righteousness.

Conviction causes people to seek answers, to ask, "What shall we do?"

2 (2:38) Salvation: the imperatives are twofold. A person must repent and be baptized. (See also DEEPER STUDY # 1, Repent—Acts 17:29-30; DEEPER STUDY # 1, Baptism—Acts 2:38; Lk.3:21; Jn.1:24-26 for discussion.)

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(2:38) Baptism: is the outward sign, the immediate sign of repentance. It is the physical sign that a person is identifying with Christ. It is the immediate sign that a person is to show before the world that he is really repenting and is now going to obey and live for God. Baptism and repentance are both...

- outward signs.
- signs that have to do with behavior.
- signs that show the world that a person is turning his life over to God.

Repentance is a command to change one's life. Baptism is a command, the very first command to follow Christ. Baptism is the first command given to those who are repenting. The person who is really repenting must be baptized. He must give testimony to the world and confess to the world that he is repenting by being baptized in the name of Jesus Christ (cp. Mt.28:19-20). Baptism is not an option. It is as much a command as repentance.

"Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost" (Mt.28:19).

"He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned" (Mk.16:16).

"Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost" (Acts 2:38).

"And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of the Lord. Then prayed they him to tarry certain days" (Acts 10:48).

"And now why tarriest thou? arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord" (Acts 22:16).

Now, note a critical point that is often overlooked and neglected. Just because a person changes his life (repents) and is baptized does not mean he is saved. A person can change his life by the power of his own will, by discipline and self-control, by his own effort and works. And he can very simply request to be baptized. Many people have and will continue to do this. Many live what society calls a good, upright, and moral life and they have been baptized. But there is more to being saved than merely changing one's life and being baptized. What is it? It is the very basis, the very essential to true salvation, to being truly forgiven and receiving the Holy Spirit:

A person who truly believes and really trusts Jesus does repent and is baptized. But just because a person lives a disciplined and controlled life (repents) and has been baptized does not mean he is truthfully trusting Jesus as his Savior. True faith—the inward work within the heart, the inward work of really believing in the name of the Lord Jesus—is the one absolute essential for being saved.

Now note another critical point that is also overlooked and neglected.

⇒ Just because a person says he believes in Jesus does not mean he is saved. A person can say and claim anything, and that person can be baptized. But profession and baptism do not save a person anymore than a changed life and baptism save a person.

There is more to being saved than professing faith and being baptized. What is it? Again, it is the very basis, the very essential to true salvation, to being truly forgiven and receiving the Holy Spirit.

⇒ It is the basis, the essential of repenting and of doing the very first act of repentance, being baptized.

There is no faith without true repentance and there is no forgiveness by God without trusting or committing one's life to God's dear Son, the Lord Jesus Christ. And the very first act of following Jesus is that of repenting and being baptized. A person who honestly believes in Jesus Christ will do what He said, repent and be baptized. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2—Jn.2:24.)

This is what Peter was saying in this passage. He did not mention faith, but he was not omitting faith nor eliminating belief in the Lord Jesus as essential to salvation. The rest of Scripture cannot be ignored in looking at this verse just as this verse and others like it cannot be ignored by the passages that stress faith alone. Common sense tells us that a person who truly believes something acts upon that thing. Behavior follows true belief. But similarly, common sense tells us that behavior can be changed by raw effort and discipline. A person can change because he thinks he should change and not because someone else demands change.

Paul stressed the same point in that classic passage of his (Ro.6:3-4), and the point is very significant. A believer (true believer) is said to be "baptized [immersed] into the death of Christ."

"Know ye not, that so many of us as were baptized [immersed] into the death of Christ were baptized into his death? Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life" (Ro.6:3-4).

Now note what Paul has just said: when a person is baptized, he is "baptized into His [Jesus'] death" in the same way he is immersed (identified) into the resurrection of Christ. Baptism is an act by which one identifies with Christ. He counts himself as having died in Christ's death and as having risen in Christ's resurrection; as living and moving and having his being in Christ even as Christ lived and moved and had His being in God. Christ's death and resurrection and life becomes the believer's death and resurrection and life. The believer treats and judges himself as having been "crucified with Christ, nevertheless living; yet not himself, but Christ living in him" (Gal.2:20). (See note—Acts 19:2.)

In conclusion, history has shown that this point needs to be stressed and restressed.

⇒ A person can repent, change his own life and be baptized (by his own effort and works) without ever trusting Christ, without really believing in Christ.

⇒ But a person cannot trust, cannot really believe in Christ without repenting and following Christ in the very first act of repentance, that of being baptized. True faith and honest belief always mean that a person repents and is baptized. To believe is to follow (obey) Christ and to be baptized.

"And being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him" (Heb.5:9. See DEEPER STUDY # 2—Jn.2:24.)

"He that believeth not [ho apeithon, obeys not] shall not see life" (Jn.3:36).

3 (2:38) Salvation: the results are twofold, being forgiven of sins and receiving the Holy Spirit.

1. Forgiveness of sins (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Forgiveness—Acts 2:38 for discussion).
2. Receiving the gift of the Holy Spirit (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, Holy Spirit, concluding points—Acts 2:1-4 for discussion).

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(2:38) Remission—Forgiveness (aphesin): to send off, to send away. The wrong is cut out, sent off, sent away from the wrongdoer. The sin is separated from the sinner.

There are four main ideas in the Biblical concept of forgiveness.

1. There is the idea of why forgiveness is needed. Forgiveness is needed because of wrong doing and guilt and the penalty arising from both.

“For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God” (Ro.3:23).

“For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord” (Ro.6:23).

“There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit” (Ro.8:1).

2. There is the idea of a once-for-all forgiveness, a total forgiveness. A man is forgiven once-for-all when he receives Jesus Christ as his Savior. Belief in Jesus Christ, true repentance, is the only condition for being forgiven once-for-all.

“For this is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins” (Mt.26:28).

“In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace” (Eph.1:7).

“But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness. Even as David also describeth the blessedness of the man, unto whom God imputeth righteousness without works, saying, Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered. Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not impute sin” (Ro.4:5-8).

“I have blotted out, as a thick cloud, thy transgressions, and, as a cloud, thy sins: return unto me; for I have redeemed thee” (Is.44:22).

3. There is the idea of forgiveness that maintains fellowship. Fellowship exists between God as Father and the believer as His child. When the child does wrong, the fellowship is disturbed and broken. The condition for restoring the fellowship is confessing and forsaking the sin (Ps.66:18; Prov.28:13; 1 Jn.1:7).

“Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost” (Acts 2:38).

“And he came into all the country about Jordan, preaching the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins” (Lk.3:3).

“And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem” (Lk.24:47).

4. There is the idea of a releasing from guilt. This is one of the differences between a man forgiving another man and God forgiving a man. A man may forgive a person for wronging him, but he can never remove the guilt that his friend feels. And often he cannot remove the resentment he himself feels within his own heart. Only God can remove the guilt and assure the removal of resentment. God does both. God forgives and erases the guilt and resentment (Ps.51:2, 7-12; 103:12; 1 Jn.1:9).

“I, even I, am he that blotteth out thy transgressions for mine own sake, and will not remember thy sins” (Is.43:25).

“Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the LORD, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon” (Is.55:7).

“Who is a God like unto thee, that pardoneth iniquity, and passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage? he retaineth not his anger for ever, because he delighteth in mercy” (Mic.7:18).

“And they shall teach no more every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, Know the LORD: for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the LORD: for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more” (Jer.31:34).

“And I will cleanse them from all their iniquity, whereby they have sinned against me; and I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they have sinned, and whereby they have transgressed against me” (Jer.33:8).

4 (2:39) Salvation—Assurance of: the assurance to all is God’s promise. Note the promise is...

- “to you”: the Jews.
- “to all that are afar off”: the Gentiles; any who are away in distant lands; any who are spiritually away from God, no matter how far away.

But note the condition, the one essential. The promise is assured to those whom “the Lord our God shall call.” (See DEEPER STUDY # 3, Call—Acts 2:39.)

DEEPER STUDY # 3

(2:39) Shall Call (an proskalesetai): God has to call because man is dead to God and resists the gospel. Man’s deadness and resistance are seen in the very word call. The word call has both the idea of initiative and deadness and of constraint and resistance. For example, the calling of a person to simply come involves both actions...

- of pulling him to come.
- of being dead (unaware and not knowing or resisting the fact that one was to come).

Man, self-centered and rebellious toward God, likes to feel independent. Consequently, man is dead to God and resistant to the pulling call and quickening power of God.

The person who comes to Christ is a person who has been called by God, a person who has experienced the divine initiative. A man...

- does not act alone and come to Christ.
- does not come by his own effort and energy.
- does not come by his own works.
- does not come by his own mind, thoughts, and will.
- does not come by his own labor and good deeds.

A man, a dead spirit, can do nothing spiritually just as a dead body can do nothing physically. If a man with a dead spirit is to come to Christ, he has to be acted upon and drawn by God. Both God and man have a part in salvation.

⇒ God calls and He attracts, draws, pulls, and tugs at the heart of man to come.

Now note: when a man senses the call and pull of God, he must act then and there. He must believe and make the decision to follow Christ, even if he is all alone in the depths of a jungle someplace. Why? Because God's Spirit does not always strive or tug at us. We all know this. We have all felt the call of God before—the tug and movement of His Spirit within our hearts. But we quenched the tug and movement. We rejected the call, and the Spirit of God left us. And the more we reject the tug and call, the less often it comes.

⇒ We quench the Spirit.

“Quench not the Spirit” (1 Th.5:19).

⇒ The Spirit does not always strive with us.

“And the LORD said, My spirit shall not always strive with man” (Gen.6:3).

Therefore, when the call of the Lord our God comes, we must believe and “repent and be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ” (v.38). (See notes—Jn.6:44-46; 6:65 for more discussion.)

“Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest” (Mt.11:28).

“Go ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage” (Mt.22:9).

“In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink” (Jn.7:37).

“For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him” (Ro.10:12).

“Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth” (1 Tim.2:4).

“And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely” (Rev.22:17).

“Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool” (Is.1:18).

“Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price” (Is.55:1).

5 (2:40) Salvation—Separation: the great cry of Peter, “Save yourselves from this untoward [corrupt] generation.”

1. The words “save yourselves” (sothete) mean that a person is to act and do exactly what Peter preached: “Repent and be baptized.”

2. “Untoward” (skolias) means crooked or bent out of shape. Men are far from being straight and in the shape intended by God. They are crooked and bent, unrighteous and ungodly, sinful and corrupt.

“And with many other words did he testify and exhort, saying, Save yourselves from this untoward generation” (Acts 2:40).

“Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you, and will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty” (2 Cor.6:17-18).

“And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them” (Eph.5:11).

“Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, touch no unclean thing; go ye out of the midst of her; be ye clean, that bear the vessels of the LORD” (Is.52:11).

DIVISION II

E. The First Church: Worthy Traits, 2:41-47

(2:41-47) Introduction: this is the first look at the early church. It shows us the traits that characterized the daily lives of believers. It should prick the conscience of the modern-day church.

1. A people who received the Word—gladly (v.41).
2. A people who continued—steadfastly (v.42).
3. A people who stirred souls with a godly fear (v.43).
4. A people who were together—sharing in ministry (v.44-45).
5. A people who were unified (v.46).
6. A people who worshipped and praised God—daily (v.46-47).

1 (2:41) Word of God: the early believers were a people who received the Word gladly.

1. This is the basic trait, the very first trait of a true church. It actually defines a church. A church is a people, a body of people who have received the Word of God. They were not receiving...

- a set of ideas
- a man's thoughts
- a set of rules and principles
- a human philosophy
- a position
- a religion

They were receiving the Word of God, the very revelation of God Himself. God had revealed Himself in Jesus Christ to His disciples. And Peter, the spokesman for the disciples, was proclaiming the Word about Jesus Christ. God had spoken to the world through His Son Jesus Christ, and the early believers had received His Word. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, The Word—Jn.1:1-5.)

2. Note the word "received." A true church, a true body of believers, does not just hear and listen to the Word. They are not just present to join the crowd and see what is going on. They do not sit with wandering minds and closed hearts. A true church receives the Word of God; they...

- welcome it
- believe it
- take it in
- practice it
- experience it
- hold on to it
- hunger for it
- joy and rejoice in it
- share it

3. Note the statement: "They that gladly received his word." Not everyone present received it. Some were there for the wrong reasons and others were closed-minded and disinterested. Still others simply refused to believe and rejected the Word. But they who received God's Word became the very first body of believers, the first church.

4. Note that they were baptized: the idea is immediate baptism (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, Baptism—Acts 2:38 for discussion). Note also the large number: three thousand "were added" to the 120 disciples.

"Howbeit many of them which heard the word believed; and the number of the men was about five thousand" (Acts 4:4).

"And the word of God increased; and the number of the disciples multiplied in Jerusalem greatly; and a great company of the priests were obedient to the faith" (Acts 6:7).

"These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so" (Acts 17:11).

"But I say, Have they not heard? Yes verily, their sound went into all the earth, and their words unto the ends of the world" (Ro.10:18).

"For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe" (1 Th.2:13).

- 2 (2:42) Steadfastness: the early believers were a people who continued steadfastly in four things. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1-5—Acts 2:42 for a discussion of these points.)

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(2:42) Continued steadfastly (proskarterountes): to continue, persevere, endure, stick, persist. A person does not quit, back off, fade away, or slip back. He continues on steadfastly.

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(2:42) In doctrine (didache): the teaching, the instruction of the apostles. The teaching would include both what Christ taught and His actual death, resurrection, and ascension (or exaltation). It would be the same teaching and instructions...

- that are shared in the New Testament.
- that the disciples wrote to various churches and bodies of believers.

The teaching would be no different. There is only one message, only one Word, that saves, roots, and grounds people in the Lord—the Word of God Himself, the message of the New Testament. On the day of Pentecost, the persons who were saved needed to be grounded in the faith. The only message that could ground them was the message found in the New Testament. It was that message, that doctrine they were taught.

“Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world. Amen” (Mt.28:19-20).

“Then opened he their understanding, that they might understand the scriptures, and said unto them, Thus it is written, and thus it behooved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day: and that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem. And ye are witnesses of these things” (Lk.24:45-48).

Thought 1. Note a striking fact: we can be saved, rooted, and grounded in the very same message. God has given us the very same doctrines and instructions to root and ground us. We can have a true, dynamic apostolic experience and maturity in the Lord. We can grow and know the Lord as intimately as the early believers knew the Lord. In fact, we come short if we do not, for we have the very same doctrine, teachings, and instructions that they had.

(2:42) Fellowship: the fellowship wrought by the Spirit of God means more than the association existing in secular groups such as civic clubs and community bodies. There is a vast difference between community participation and spiritual participation. Community participation is based upon neighborly association. Spiritual participation is based upon a spiritual union wrought by the Spirit of God.

The distinctiveness is this: the Holy Spirit is within the Christian believer. The Holy Spirit creates a spiritual union by melting and molding the heart of the Christian believer to the hearts of other believers. He attaches the life of one believer to the lives of other believers. Through the Spirit of God, believers become one in life and purpose. They have a joint life sharing their blessings and needs and gifts together. Note several things about fellowship that are taught by this passage.

1. Fellowship is being experienced by the new believers because they join other Christians in learning the Scriptures (apostles' teachings) and in worship (prayers and celebrating the Lord's Supper, Acts 2:41-42).
2. Fellowship forbids an unattached Christian life. Their fellowship is maintained because they "continue stedfastly" in the Scriptures and in worship. An unattached Christian life is just impossible.
  - a. Christianity is first an individual matter, but then it becomes a social matter. The Christian is attached to Christ individually, but he is also attached to other believers. He walks with other believers in the Scriptures and in worship.
  - b. Christianity is first a spiritual organism, but then it becomes a spiritual organization. The Christian has an inward life, but he also takes on an outward form of life. He becomes a living organization with other Christian believers. He sits at the feet of the apostles' teaching and joins right in with other Christians as they worship together.
  - c. Christianity makes the true believer a saint (one who is set apart unto God), but Christianity is made up of saints—plural. Christianity is not just one person; Christianity is many persons—saints. The word is often used in the New Testament, but it is never used in the singular. Christianity is Christianity because the saints study the Scriptures together and worship together.
  - d. Christianity demands that a believer personally live out such virtues as kindness, longsuffering, and love; but the believer can do this only in association with others.
  - e. Christianity means that the Spirit of God has entered the believer's life, but it also means that the Spirit of God has placed the believer into a corporate body (the church), into Christian society itself. The Spirit of God indwells the corporate body of believers as well as the individual (see note—1 Cor.3:16).
3. Spiritual fellowship faces two dangers.
  - a. Fellowship and society can be over-emphasized—to the point that individual salvation is missed. An individual must "receive His word" (Acts 2:41).
  - b. Individual salvation and individual worship, whether through nature or by any other means, can be overly stressed—to the point that Christian fellowship and society can be missed (Acts 2:42; see note—Heb.10:25).

“And they continued stedfastly in the apostles’ doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers” (Acts 2:42).

“So we, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another” (Ro.12:5).

“For we being many are one bread, and one body: for we are all partakers of that one bread” (1 Cor.10:17).

“There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus” (Gal.3:28).

“Till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ” (Eph.4:13).

“Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching” (Heb.10:25).

“But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin” (1 Jn.1:7).

“I am a companion of all them that fear thee, and of them that keep thy precepts” (Ps.119:63).

“Then they that feared the LORD spake often one to another: and the LORD hearkened, and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the LORD, and that thought upon his name” (Mal.3:16).

DEEPER STUDY # 4

(2:42) Lord’s Supper: the phrase “breaking of bread” means the early believers observed and remembered the Lord’s death. They set aside some time to observe what churches call communion, or the Lord’s Supper, or the Eucharist. Note they observed the Lord’s Supper daily (v.46). Why did they observe it so often?

1. The Lord’s Supper was the one ordinance Christ had given to symbolize His death. And it was His death that had saved them. Because of His death, they were now...

- reconciled to God
- in fellowship with God
- made new creatures in God
- infilled with the Spirit of God
- bearing all the fruit of God (Gal.5:22-23)

All they now were and had was due to the death of Christ. They wanted to remember and thank God for His great love demonstrated in the death of His Son, and to do it often.

2. The Lord had commanded His followers to observe the Lord’s Supper often.

Thought 1. What an indictment against so many of us who observe the Lord’s Supper so little! We can, of course, remember and concentrate upon the death of Christ without the symbol of the Supper. But Christ gave us the ordinance and commanded that we use it as the primary symbol to show His death until He comes (1 Cor.11:26).

“For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord’s death till he comes” (1 Cor.11:26).

“And as they did eat, Jesus took bread, and blessed, and brake it, and gave to them, and said, Take, eat: this is my body. And he took the cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them: and they all drank of it. And he said unto them, This is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many” (Mk.14:22-24).

DEEPER STUDY # 5

(2:42) Prayer: the early believers were a people who persevered in prayer—the idea is church prayer, united prayer with the whole body of believers.

1. Through prayer they were brought into the most intimate fellowship and presence of God. They could get no closer to God than when they were drawing nigh to God through prayer.

“The LORD is nigh unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth” (Ps.145:18).

“But it is good for me to draw near to God: I have put my trust in the Lord GOD, that I may declare all thy works” (Ps.73:28).

“For the law made nothing perfect, but the bringing in of a better hope did; by the which we draw nigh unto God” (Heb.7:19).

“For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them” (Mt.18:20).

2. Through prayer they received things from God. They received His provision for both their souls and lives.

“And all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive” (Mt.21:22).

“Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full” (Jn.16:24).

- 3 (2:43) Fear, Godly—Church: the early believers were a people who stirred souls with a godly fear. Fear (phobias) does not mean terror or fright. It means...
- a godly fear, a fear of God, of His displeasure and judgment
  - a holy sense of God's presence
  - a consciousness that God is working
  - a reverence for God and for what is happening
  - a sense of awe and wonder

Note what it is that stirs the public to be so aware of God: the signs and wonders being done by the apostles. And note: there were many.

“His mercy is on them that fear him from generation to generation” (Lk.1:50).
 “But in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him” (Acts 10:35).
 “What man is he that feareth the LORD? him shall he teach in the way that he shall choose” (Ps.25:12).
 “Oh how great is thy goodness, which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee; which thou hast wrought for them that trust in thee before the sons of men!” (Ps.31:19).
 “Who is among you that feareth the LORD, that obeyeth the voice of his servant, that walketh in darkness, and hath no light? let him trust in the name of the LORD, and stay upon his God” (Is.50:10).

- 4 (2:44-45) Church—Unity—Ministry: the early believers were a people who were together and who shared in ministry. It is critical for the church to pay close attention and heed what is being said in this point.
1. The professing believers were true believers. They were those “that [truly] believe” (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Believe—Jn.2:24 for discussion that shows true belief is the commitment of all one is and has).
  2. The believers were “together” (esan epito auto). This means they were together in the same place because they were of the same call, mind, and purpose. It does not mean just being in the same location and place. They would not have been together unless they had been of the same spirit and purpose. This is critical to God's call.
  3. The believers sold their possessions and goods and used the money to minister to the poor and needy. Now note:
 ⇒ Why would they go to such a drastic extreme to minister? There is one critical reason: Christ commanded it. The church too often denies and ignores it, but denial of the truth does not do away with the truth. (See DEEPER STUDY # 6—Acts 2:44-45 for discussion. Also see outlines and notes—Mt.19:16-22; 19:23-26; 19:27-30 for more discussion.)

Now note: Who are the rich and who are the poor?

⇒ A rich person is anyone who has more than what others have, more than what the vast majority of the world has.

⇒ A rich person is anyone who has anything to put back beyond meeting the true needs of his own family.

This is exactly what Christ and the Bible say time and again (cp. also Mk.12:41-44; Lk.21:1-4; Acts 4:34-35; etc.).

In a summary statement, who is rich? A rich person is anyone who has anything beyond what he needs. What Christ demands is that we give all that we are and have to meet the needs of those in such desperate need. We are to hold back nothing. This is often the great complaint against Christians, that we just do not believe, not really. The evidence of our unbelief is seen in the insistence of Christ, the demand that we give all we have to feed the starving and meet the desperate needs of the poor and lost of the world. But we don't. Gandhi, the great leader of India's independence, is said to have never embraced Christianity for this very reason. How many others have rejected Christ because of our hypocrisy?

“Go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come and follow me” (Mt.19:21).

“And every one that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive an hundredfold, and shall inherit everlasting life” (Mt.19:29).

“For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also” (Mt.6:21).

“And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself” (Mt.22:39).

“But rather seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you, Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom. Sell that ye have, and give alms; provide yourselves bags which wax not old, a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief approacheth, neither moth corrupteth. For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also” (Lk.12:31-34).

“And Zacchaeus stood, and said unto the Lord; Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold” (Lk.19:8).

“By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another” (Jn.13:35).

“If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and abide in his love” (Jn.15:10).

“Let love be without dissimulation. Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good” (Ro.12:9).

“Even as I please all men in all things, not seeking mine own profit, but the profit of many, that they may be saved” (1 Cor.10:33).

“For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich” (2 Cor.8:9).

“Let him that stole steal no more: but rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth” (Eph.4:28).

“And the Lord make you to increase and abound in love one toward another, and toward all men, even as we do toward you” (1 Th.3:12).

“Let your conversation [life, behavior] be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee” (Heb.13:5).

A final matter is this: Christ demands that we give all we are and have if we are to follow Him (see note and DEEPER STUDY # 1—Lk.9:23). Any attempt to water down what He often said fails miserably before an honest heart reading His Word (see Master Subject Index, Stewardship; Rewards).

Thought 1. Just imagine how long ago the world would have been reached with the gospel if professing believers had been honestly committing their total lives to Christ, giving all they were and had to His cause of world evangelization!

DEEPER STUDY # 6

(2:44-45) Stewardship—Commitment—Self-denial—Possessions: Christ demands that we give Him all we are and have to enter heaven. This is the reason the early believers gave what they had to meet the needs of the world. Christ had demanded it of the rich young ruler and of His disciples (see outline and notes—Mt.19:23-26; 19:27-30).

In our struggle to protect the glorious truth that man is saved by grace and grace alone, we often forget and neglect another great truth: to follow Christ is to serve and minister to our neighbor. To follow Christ is to deny self completely, all that we are as well as all that we have (see note and DEEPER STUDY # 1—Lk.9:23). When we love our neighbor as ourselves, then we show that we truly love God. If we do not love and minister to our neighbor (above self), then we do not love God.

When we deny self by giving all we are and have (1 Jn.4:20), then and only then do we receive heaven and the treasure of heaven. To deny self, to give all we are and have is a hard saying, but Christ demands it. Our attempts to soften it do not annul His demand (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Ro.3:3).

It is love of the world that makes us unwilling to give up the possessions we have obtained (comfort, esteem, recognition, power, position). By refusing to take and give what we have, we make the fatal mistake of showing (demonstrating)...

- that we love the things of the world more than we love people; that we prefer hoarding and extravagance, living sumptuously and comfortably to helping those who are so needful, so desperately needful. (See note—Lk.16:19-21 for a discussion of what happened to the rich man who lived sumptuously.)
- that we love the world more than we love the hope of eternal life.
- that we love the position, recognition, esteem, and power of the world’s possessions more than we love Christ.

Now note a critical fact that we must heed: this subject is often made a matter of controversy. Men use every explanation possible to ease their consciences and to keep from having to give everything. There is a reason for this, and it is this that is so critical. Possessions pull a person away from God. It is difficult for a person who has possessions to enter into the Kingdom of Heaven. Why? There is a lure, an attraction, a force, a power, a pull that reaches out and draws any of us who look at or possess wealth. There are pulls so forceful that they will enslave and doom any man who banks and hoards and fails to turn and embrace God.

1. Possessions create the big “I” (cp. Mt.19:16, 20). The man who has possessions is usually looked up to, esteemed, honored, and envied. Possessions bring position, power, recognition. They boost ego, and make a person self-sufficient and independent in this world. As a result there is a tendency for the rich person to feel independent and self-sufficient, that he needs nothing. And in such an atmosphere and world of thought, God is forgotten. It is forgotten that there are things that money cannot buy and events from which money cannot save. Peace, love, joy—all that really matters within the spirit of man—can never be bought. Neither can money save a person from disaster, disease, accident, or death—the trials that are sure to come upon all.

2. Possessions tend to make one hoard (cp. Mt.19:21). The Bible lays down the principle of handling money for all men, even for the poor:

“Let him labor...that he may have to give to him that needeth” (Eph.4:28).

“Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself “ (Mt.19:19; 22:39).

The world reels in desperate need. People are starving, sick, unhoused, and unclothed by the millions. Teeming millions are spiritually lost and without God in this world, and they are doomed to die without ever knowing Him. When any of us sit still and objectively look at the world in its desperate plight, we ask: “How in this world can any man hoard and not help—even to the last available penny? Why would any man keep more than what he needs for himself and his family?”

As God looks at any man who banks and hoards, He is bound to ask the same question. In fact, His questions are bound to be more pointed and forceful. This is exactly what Christ said to the rich young ruler:

“Go and sell [all] that thou hast; and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come and follow me” (Mt.19:21).

Riches tend to make a man selfish. For some unexplainable reason, the more we get, the more we want. When we taste the things of this world and become comfortable, we tend to fear losing our possessions. We struggle to keep what we have and to get more. True, many are willing to make contributions, but only a certain amount, an amount that will not lower their overall estate or standing or level of comfort and possessions. There are few who give all to Christ, all they are and all they have to meet the needs of the world.

As Christ said, it is very difficult for the rich (meaning those who have anything in comparison with most of the world) to enter heaven. If we do not have compassion and take care of our brothers (fellow man) when they are in desperate need, how can we expect God to have compassion and take care of us when we face the desperate need for heaven? It is foolish to think that a loving and just God will meet our need for eternal life when we would not meet the need of our fellow man for physical life. The rich (all of us who have anything in comparison with the rest of the world) have the means to help and to save human life, if we only would.

3. Possessions attach a person to the world (cp. Mt.19:22). Possessions enable a person to buy things that...
- make him comfortable
  - please his taste
  - stir his ego
  - expand his experience
  - challenge his mental pursuit
  - stimulate his flesh
  - stretch his self-image

If a man centers his life upon the things of the world, his attention is on the world and not on God. He tends to become wrapped up in securing more and in protecting what he has. Too often, he gives little if any time and thought to heavenly matters. Wealth and the things it can provide within this world can and usually do consume the rich.

“Sell that ye have, and give alms; provide yourselves bags which wax not old, a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief approacheth, neither moth corrupteth” (Lk.12:33).

“I have showed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, It is more blessed to give than to receive” (Acts 20:35).

“Distributing to the necessity of saints; given to hospitality” (Ro.12:13).

“As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith” (Gal.6:10).

“That they do good, that they be rich in good works, ready to distribute, willing to communicate” (1 Tim.6:18).

“But to do good and to communicate [give] forget not: for with such sacrifices God is well pleased” (Heb.13:16).

5 (2:46) Unity: a people who continued with one accord. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, One Accord—Acts 1:14.)

6 (2:46-47) Church—Worship: a people who worshipped and praised God every day. Note five things.

1. The believers were worshipping in the temple, praying and attending the regular hours of worship and prayers (cp. Acts 3:1).

2. The believers were worshipping in their homes, moving from home to home. They were sharing together in fellowship meals and in observing the Lord’s Supper, remembering their Lord’s death. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1—Lk.9:4 for discussion stressing that the home was to be the center of ministry.)

3. The believers were worshipping with gladness and singleness of heart. The word “singleness” (apheloteti) means sincere, without hardness. Their hearts were soft and tender, easily touched and giving. There was no selfishness or withholding on their part. Where there was need, they gave.

Note their attitude was gladness, joy, and rejoicing. They were more than glad to worship and minister as the Lord had instructed.

Thought 1. Just imagine the radical, transformed behavior of these early believers. What could have caused such radical behavior? The proclamation of the pure, unadulterated Word of Christ. The giving of all we are and have is absolutely demanded.

“And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me” (Lk.9:23).

“Who, when he came, and had seen the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they would cleave unto the Lord” (Acts 11:23).

4. The believers were praising God.

“Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven” (Mt.5:16).

“That ye may with one mind and one mouth glorify God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ” (Ro.15:6).

“For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God’s” (1 Cor.6:20).

5. The results were twofold: they gained favor with the people, and the Lord added souls to the church. Note the word “saved” (soteria). It is in the present tense, “such as were being saved.” Salvation is a present experience of the believer as well as past and future (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—1 Cor.1:18 for discussion). The idea is that those who were being saved were being added to the church day by day.

“Howbeit many of them which heard the word believed; and the number of the men was about five thousand” (Acts 4:4).

“And believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women” (Acts 5:14).

“And the word of God increased; and the number of the disciples multiplied in Jerusalem greatly; and a great company of the priests were obedient to the faith” (Acts 6:7).

“And the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number believed, and turned unto the Lord” (Acts 11:21).

DIVISION II

F. The First Recorded Miracle: Lessons for Witnessing, 3:1-11

(3:1-11) Introduction: this is the church's first recorded miracle. God was now ready to reach another great harvest of souls. It was now time to attract the attention of the people, so He reached down and healed a single man, a man whom everyone knew, and filled the man so full of the Holy Spirit that he just went wild with excitement and joy. Such a miracle and behavior naturally attracted the attention of the public.

Note: the miracle was more than just a miracle. It was a sign, a demonstration of two things.

⇒ Jesus is alive. His power is just as active upon earth today as it was when He walked upon earth.

⇒ Jesus is now working through His followers. Through them, He is reaching out to save and heal the world. His followers are now His instruments, His emissaries, His ambassadors, His representatives, His messengers, His witnesses to a world lost in suffering and death, sin and shame.

In this first recorded miracle of the church, God is demonstrating His power, and bearing witness through His followers. In so doing, He has given us some of the greatest lessons on witnessing to be found anywhere.

1. Jesus is now working through His disciples (v.1-5).

2. Jesus is alive: His presence and power are still active upon earth (v.6-8).

3. The results (v.9-11).

1 (3:1-5) Ministry—Sympathy: Jesus is now working through His disciples. This is one thing Jesus wants people to know. His presence and His power are still at work, still available to men. His great love and concern for the world is still being manifested through the lives of His disciples. In fact, Jesus has...

- no feet but our feet.
- no hands but our hands.
- no voice but our voice.

If we do not go and do and speak the work of God, His work does not get done. Note four significant lessons.

1. Jesus works through those who are faithful in prayer (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 3:1 for discussion).

2. Jesus works through those who look and see the desperate need of the suffering, both those who suffer in spirit and body. How many years had this man been sitting there begging? He had been a cripple for over forty years. Imagine! Forty years or more, a cripple from birth, never having walked a single step. Had he been carried and placed at the temple's entrance to beg...

- for ten years?
- for twenty years?
- for thirty years?

We are not told, but no doubt he had been a beggar for years upon years. Everyone knew him (v.10). Picture the man...

- a helpless cripple
- unable to work
- being ignored
- with no one to take him in and help
- without family
- poor
- having to fend for himself
- never fitting in, never being accepted

Note: he was not even looking up at Peter and John when he asked for alms (v.4). Years of having people look the other way had taught him he was different and did not fit in. From the first, even as a small child, he had probably grown into a shy, withdrawn, embarrassed person, a person unable to look people in the eye.

The point is this: the man was hurting within as well as without. He was a living picture of so many in the world...

- persons who are wounded and suffering so much (both within and without) from the neglect of men—from an unconcerned and selfish and hoarding world—from a world that will not let go and share what it has with those who do not have.

But even more critical...

- persons who are suffering so much from the neglect of God's people, the very people who profess to know the love and care of God for all, and yet who act just as unconcerned and selfish and hoard just as much as the world.

The needs exist and abound. They are all around us. Jesus can work only through the people who see the desperate needs of hurting men.

3. Jesus works through those who fasten their eyes upon the need. It is not enough just to see the desperate needs of the world—just to see a person hurting and suffering. A person must stop and fasten his eyes upon the need. The word for “fastening his eyes” (atenisas) means fixed attention; an earnest, intense gaze, continuous, steadfast attention. It is seeing the need and focusing upon it. It is continuing to focus one's...

- sight,
- concern,
- attention,

...upon meeting the need until it is met.

Peter looked and saw the man in need and would not look away. He could have looked away and just passed by the man. Most people did, but not Peter. He was now indwelt by the Spirit of God, and he was on earth to meet the needs of the world for the Lord. Therefore, he fastened his attention upon the man, being full of concern and compassion.

Thought 1. The great need of the hour is to see the needs of the world and to fix our attention upon them.

4. Jesus works through those who reach out to meet the need.

⇒ It is not enough to see the needs of the world.

⇒ It is not enough to fasten one's attention upon the needs of the world.

Just seeing and being concerned over the needs of the world does not meet the needs. Peter acted; in fact, he did something dramatic. The need existed; it was there. He knew the Lord cared, and he was the representative of the Lord. It was up to him to show the Lord's care.

Note the words: “Look on us.” The words were authoritative and arresting. They stirred an expectancy within the man to receive something.

The words of Peter demonstrated that...

- he had a sure confidence that he himself belonged to God; he was God's representative.
- he had a plan to help the man.
- he had an expectancy, a genuine faith that God would help him to meet the need.
- he had a willingness to act, to reach out by faith and meet the need.

Thought 1. All this is essential if we are to reach out in the power of God to meet the needs of the world. In fact, the needs of the world will be met...

- only as we are confident that we ourselves belong to God, that we are His representatives upon earth.
- only as we think and plan how to meet the need.
- only as we are expectant, believing God will meet the need through us.
- only as we are willing to act, step out by faith to meet the need.

“Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest” (Jn.4:35).

“I have showed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, It is more blessed to give than to receive” (Acts 20:35).

“We then that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves” (Ro.15:1).

“Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ” (Gal.6:2).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(3:1) Prayer: Peter and John were faithful prayer warriors. Note the phrase “the ninth hour,” which was around three o'clock in the afternoon. The Jews observed three stated times for prayer...

- the third hour (9 a.m.).
- the sixth hour (12 noon).
- the ninth hour (3 p.m.).

The very fact that Peter and John were going into the temple to pray indicates they were men of prayer. Imagine having three specific times for prayer every day! Not just praying while on the run, not just praying always while we go about our daily affairs, which is what we so often claim and use to salve our consciences. But imagine! Actually having...

- three set periods,
- three concentrated times,
- three prayer sessions,

...when we can shut the world out and focus solely upon God.

Such was the prayer life of Peter and John, and such was the reason Jesus was able to work through them in meeting the desperate needs of suffering men.

“Now Peter and John went up together into the temple at the hour of prayer, being the ninth hour” (Acts 3:1).

“On the morrow, as they went on their journey, and drew nigh unto the city, Peter went up upon the housetop to pray about the sixth hour” (Acts 10:9).

“Evening, and morning, and at noon, will I pray, and cry aloud: and he shall hear my voice” (Ps.55:17).

“Now when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house; and his windows being open in his chamber toward Jerusalem, he kneeled upon knees three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime” (Dan.6:10).

2 (3:6-8) Jesus Christ, Power: Jesus is alive; His presence and power are still active upon the earth. This is the most important thing God wants people to know. His Son, Jesus Christ, is alive. He is not dead, having passed from the scene of world history. He is alive and exalted to the right hand of the Father forever. His presence and power are still active upon the earth and will continue to be active in the lives of His true followers until He returns. His power is still available to men. He still loves and is still greatly concerned for the world and for every person in the world. But note three significant facts that must be understood.

1. Jesus’ presence and power are not found in silver and gold. Peter had...
  - no silver or gold.
  - no money or material goods.
  - no food or clothing.
  - no housing or shelter.
  - no social or community services.

Therefore, Peter could not give those things to the man. But note: it was such things that the man wanted and expected, and it was what the man seemed to need in the eyes of the world.

“Man looketh on the outward appearance, but the LORD looketh on the heart” (1 Sam.16:7).

However it was not what the man needed. It was not the basic need of the man. The man needed to be changed both within and without. If he was changed physically and spiritually, he would be able to walk and be motivated to work.

When God looked at the man, He saw the man’s spiritual need and his physical need. Therefore, God’s concern was to cure and change the man completely. God was out to take care of the whole man, and the answer to changing the whole man was not found in silver and gold.

Thought 1. The necessities of life are just that, things that are necessary to life. But having the necessities of life are not the basic need of man. Man’s spiritual welfare is his basic need. If his spirit is right, he is right with God and man. If his spirit is wrong, he is at odds with God and man. If his motivation is strong, he is strong. If his motivation is weak, he is weak. What God is after is to change man by making him completely whole, so that man can be productive: fulfill his purpose in the world and make the contribution he is supposed to make. God is concerned with whatever it is (spiritual or physical) that keeps a man from knowing Him personally and from fulfilling his purpose on earth.

2. Jesus’ presence and power are found in Jesus’ name. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2—Acts 3:6 for discussion.)
3. Jesus’ presence and power are still at work, working miracles and meeting the needs of people. Note this:
  - ⇒ Peter reached down to take the man by the right hand and lift him up. (What faith!)
  - ⇒ The man let him. (What trust!)
  - ⇒ Jesus healed him. (What power!)

Thought 1. How much we need to trust Jesus—His presence and power! How much we need to quit questioning and arguing over whether or not we still have the right to call upon Jesus’ name, over whether or not we can still trust His presence and power! It is time to trust Jesus, to believe Him, His love and care for the suffering and lost souls of the world. It is time to go forth in the full presence and power of the Lord who is alive, whose presence and power are still available for the earth!

“Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you” (Mt.17:20).

“And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son” (Jn.14:13).

“Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full” (Jn.16:24).

“And what is the exceeding greatness of his power to usward who believe, according to the working of his mighty power” (Eph.1:19).

“Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us” (Eph.3:20).

Note: the man was completely changed, his whole being, attitude, and life. He was no longer shy and reserved, embarrassed and ashamed about not fitting in and being accepted. He was saved and healed, inside and out; his whole personality was changed, and he wanted all to know it. He was...

- standing
- walking
- leaping
- praising God

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(3:6) Name—Jesus Christ, Name: to call upon the name of someone means to call upon the authority, power, office, nature, and character of the person. The person's name stands for all that the person is.

- ⇒ A king may send a decree throughout his kingdom. The decree goes out under his name, under his authority.
- ⇒ A government or business official may send a memo throughout his department. The memo goes out under his name, under his authority.

When Peter said, "In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, rise up and walk," he was proclaiming: "It is the name, the power, the authority, the Person of Jesus Christ who will heal you." Jesus Christ is alive—His power, His authority, His name, His Person is still active upon earth.

Now note three critical facts about calling upon "the name of Jesus Christ."

1. It is the name or the power of Jesus that meets the need. It is not Peter, nor is it silver and gold. Silver and gold can never bring health, not permanently. Ill health or disease or accident eventually catches us all; and when it does, no amount of money is of any help. It is Christ alone—His presence and power—that can meet our need.

2. Peter knew that the power of Jesus Christ dwelt within Christ Himself and only in Christ. But he also knew that he possessed the presence and power of Christ within his body, and that he was a called representative of Christ upon earth.

Note what Peter said: "Such as I have give I thee." He had the presence and power of Christ. It was that which he could give. In fact, that was his very purpose for being on earth, to represent Christ. He was to share Christ's power with those who were sick and hurting throughout the world.

3. Peter acted first, not the man. Peter was the Lord's representative (ambassador). Jesus had no way to reach the man; He had already ascended into heaven. Jesus had no body, no hands, no feet, no voice upon earth except those of the men and women whom He had left behind. Note two critical things.

- ⇒ If any act or work was to be done for God, they had to do it.
- ⇒ Only what they did would get done.

Thought 1. The same is true of us. Just think of the awesome truth: we are the ones who must act and take the first step.

- ⇒ Only what we do will get done.
- ⇒ If any act or work is to be done for God, we have to do it. There is no one else.

"Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many" (Mt.20:28).

"Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain: that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you" (Jn.15:16).

"Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you" (Jn.20:21).

"But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth" (Acts 1:8).

"Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us: we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God" (2 Cor.5:20).

3 (3:9-11) Conclusion: the results were twofold. The people knew the man had been truly healed. They had seen the man for years sitting as a cripple and begging for help. There could be no question about the miracle. They were filled with wonder and amazement at the change, "at that which had happened unto him." And they were attracted, wondering and wanting to see what had caused such a miracle.

Thought 1. A changed person, a person who is truly changed by Christ, will cause people to stand in amazement and to wonder. A changed person will stir people to desire the same miracle in their own lives or in the lives of some loved one.

"Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven" (Mt.5:16).

"For from you sounded out the word of the Lord not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but also in every place your faith to God-ward is spread abroad; so that we need not to speak any thing" (1 Th.1:8).

"But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear" (1 Pt.3:15).

"Come and hear, all ye that fear God, and I will declare what he hath done for my soul" (Ps.66:16).

"I will mention the lovingkindnesses of the LORD, and the praises of the LORD, according to all that the LORD hath bestowed on us, and the great goodness toward the house of Israel, which he hath bestowed on them according to his mercies, and according to the multitude of his lovingkindnesses" (Is.63:7).

DIVISION II

THE BIRTH AND GROWTH OF THE CHURCH, 2:1-7:60

G. The Second Sermon: Points for Preaching, 3:12-26

(3:12-26) Introduction: the points that should be preached and taught throughout the world are clearly seen in this passage.

1. A crowd gathered—Peter grasped the opportunity (v.12).
2. Point 1: the source of power and holiness (v.12-13).
3. Point 2: the death of Jesus (v.13-15).
4. Point 3: the resurrection of Jesus (v.15).
5. Point 4: Jesus' name made a man perfectly sound (v.16).
6. Point 5: there is no excuse—God foretold the Messiah's death (v.17-18).
7. Point 6: repentance and conversion (v.19).
8. Point 7: Jesus' return and the restoration of all things (v.20-21).
9. Point 8: judgment (v.22-24).
10. Point 9: a warning—you are especially privileged and blessed (v.25-26).

1 (3:12) Opportunity—Witnessing: a crowd gathered and Peter grasped the opportunity. The people were amazed at the healed cripple. As word of his amazing healing spread throughout the temple, the people began to run and gather around him in Solomon's porch. (See note, Mk.11:27—for a discussion of the temple arcades.)

1. The people knew beyond question that the crippled beggar had been healed. They had known him to be a cripple for over forty years; he had never walked (Acts 4:22).

2. The people were eager for an explanation. The audience was ready-made for the gospel, so Peter grasped the opportunity and began preaching.

2 (3:12-13) Power—Holiness: point one is the source of power and holiness. Note three things.

1. The people marvelled. They marvelled not only at the miracle, but at the power and holiness of Peter and John. They recognized that power and holiness were essential to perform such a miracle. They wondered...

- who Peter and John were, for men just did not have such power.
- what kind of holiness caused God to give them so much power.

2. Peter made the fact clear, very clear. Power and holiness are not of men. God does not work miracles for men to be glorified. Note exactly what Peter said.

a. “Why marvel ye at this?” Miracles should not surprise or puzzle men, for God is God. He is all powerful, able to work miracles, and He loves and cares for man’s welfare. Therefore, miracles should be expected. They should be the common experience of men who walk under the loving and watchful eye of God, a God who loves and cares so much that He just reaches out to look after those persons who trust Him.

b. “Why look ye so earnestly on us?” Peter declared forcibly: we are not the source of this miracle. It is not our power and holiness that has wrought the miracle. Man has no merit, no virtue, no morality, no strength, no authority, no power to work such a miracle. There was nothing about them that deserved such power, no holiness whatsoever. God had worked the miracle and God alone.

c. The power and holiness is of God’s Son. In working miracles, God is glorifying His Son, His Servant Jesus. Note how carefully Peter declared this.

⇒ God has sent His Son, that is, His Servant (ton paida). The Greek word is Servant. It is a name or title for the Messiah (Is.42:1-4; 52:13). The Messiah was to be the “Servant of the Lord” (cp. Isaiah chapters 50-53). Peter was declaring that “the God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our Fathers” has done this miracle. He has glorified His Son, that is, His Servant the Messiah.

⇒ God’s Son, His Servant, is Jesus. Jesus is the Messiah. God worked the miracle to glorify His Servant; therefore, it is Jesus’ power, holiness, Person, and worth that are to be glorified.

“But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (then saith he to the sick of the palsy,) Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thine house” (Mt.9:6).

“And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth” (Mt.28:18).

“And he said unto them, Where is your faith? And they being afraid wondered, saying one to another, What manner of man is this! for he commandeth even the winds and water, and they obey him” (Lk.8:25).

“As thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he should give eternal life to as many as thou hast given him” (Jn.17:2).

“How God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; for God was with him” (Acts 10:38).

“And declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead” (Ro.1:4).

Thought 1. All three points are powerful lessons for us, lessons that would radically change our lives if we heeded them. Just think! If we trusted and honored God’s Son more than we do, how much more would we...

- experience God’s care and love in looking after us?
- walk humbly before men, denying self and the attention of people?
- be focusing attention upon Jesus and His honor and glory?

3 (3:13-15) Jesus Christ, Death: point two is the death of Jesus. Note the charges against men, men who killed God’s Son. (Cp. Acts 2:23, 36; 5:30.)

1. Men “delivered up” God’s Son. It was not only the men of Jesus’ day who put Jesus on the cross. It is every man who has ever lived. No man would have done differently. We all would have crucified Him. This is the very point of His death.

⇒ Jesus died for every man’s sin.

⇒ It was every man’s sin that necessitated His death.

No man is exempt from God’s love; no man is exempt from the death of Jesus. Every man’s sins are covered by God’s love and Jesus’ death. Therefore, every man—in all the arrogance and rebellion and denial of his sins—delivered Jesus up to the cross and killed Him. It was for my sins He died. It was my sins that put Him on the cross.

“For the love of Christ constraineth us; because we thus judge, that if one died for all, then were all dead: And that he died for all, that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them, and rose again” (2 Cor.5:14-15).

2. Men denied Jesus, even when He was innocent. Jesus was innocent of the crimes with which He was charged. Even the Roman governor, Pilate, recognized this (cp. Lk.23:2-4, 13-16). There was no charge against Him that was justified. He was being rejected and condemned because men did not like His claims.

⇒ He claimed to be the Son of God.

⇒ He claimed that men had to deny self completely, to give God everything, all they were and had. If they wished to follow God and live eternally, they had to surrender and give all.

Thought 1. Very few men are going to give everything to God. Therefore, men reject, accuse, and condemn His claims as false, desiring to get rid of Him as quickly as possible. Guilt and innocence have little, if anything, to do with the matter. Men have to get rid of Jesus or else surrender to His claims. And most are not going to give up themselves and their possessions, not by any stretch of the imagination. (See notes and DEEPER STUDY # 6—Acts 2:44-45; note and DEEPER STUDY #1—Lk.9:23.) Thus they deny and seek to get rid of Him, even when He is innocent.

3. Men deny Jesus, the Holy One and the Just (Righteous One).
  - a. God had declared that His Son—His Servant, the Messiah—would be perfectly righteous.

“By his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many; for he shall bear their iniquities” (Is.53:11).

- b. Scripture declares time and again that God’s Son—His Servant, the Messiah—is perfectly righteous, without any sin whatsoever. (Also see DEEPER STUDY # 3, Son of Man—Mt.8:20.)

“Which of you convinceth me of sin? And if I say the truth, why do ye not believe me?” (Jn.8:46).

“For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him” (2 Cor.5:21).

“For we have not a high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin” (Heb.4:15).

“For such a high priest became us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than the heavens” (Heb.7:26).

“But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot” (1 Pt.1:19).

“And ye know that he was manifested to take away our sins; and in him is no sin” (1 Jn.3:5).

4. Men desired a sinner, a murderer, even before God’s Servant. There is a marked contrast between...
  - “Ye denied the Holy One and the Just.”
  - “Ye...desired a murderer.”

This is a striking truth: every man who rejects Jesus is choosing sinful men and their ways over the sinless Son of God and His ways. The unbeliever chooses...

- sin over holiness.
- unrighteousness over righteousness.
- sinful and murdering man over the Holy and loving Lord.
- corruption over incorruption.
- death over life.

Note: men desire murdering (sinful) mankind and his ways over the Son of God and His ways. Why? Because murdering, sinful man allows men to walk and live as they wish (immorally and unjustly).

5. Men killed the Prince of Life. The word Prince (archegon) means both Prince and Author. Peter is calling Jesus the Prince and Author of life, the very Source of all Life. Jesus Christ is both the Giver and the Savior of life. (See notes—Jn.1:4; 1:4-5; 10:10; 17:2-3 for discussion. Cp. Col.1:16; Heb.1:2-3.)

“For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord” (Lk.2:11).

“For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost” (Lk.19:10).

“And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up: that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life. For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved” (Jn.3:14-17).

“The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom ye slew and hanged on a tree. Him hath God exalted with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, for to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sins” (Acts 5:30-31).

“Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness: by whose stripes ye were healed” (1 Pt.2:24).

“For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit” (1 Pt.3:18).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(3:13) Jesus Christ, Death: Jesus went to the cross because of man’s sin—every man’s sin. No man is exempt from God’s love. It was for every man that Jesus died. Therefore, every man, in all the arrogance and rebellion and denial of his sins, delivered Jesus up to the cross and killed Him.

- 4 (3:15) Jesus Christ, Resurrection: point three is the resurrection of Jesus. (See outline and DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 1:3; DEEPER STUDY # 4—2:24; notes 2:25-36 for discussion.)

5 (3:16) Jesus Christ, Name—Believe: point four is Jesus' name. His name made a man perfectly sound.

1. It is the name of Jesus alone that makes a man sound. Jesus alone has the power and holiness, merit and virtue to make a man sound.

“And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son” (Jn.14:13).

“Whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you” (Jn.15:16).

“And in that day ye shall ask me nothing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give it you” (Jn.16:23).

“Giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ” (Eph.5:20).

2. It is faith in Jesus' name that makes a man sound. Both the messenger of God and the person who needs help must believe in the power of Jesus to make a person sound.

⇒ God is not going to work through a messenger who does not believe “in the name of Jesus.”

⇒ God is not going to work in a person who needs help if that person does not believe in the name of Jesus.

God is not pleased with anyone who does not believe, and cannot help anyone who will not trust Him to help.

“But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him” (Heb.11:6).

Something else: God cannot indulge unbelief; He cannot be divided against Himself. It is only foolishness—foolish talk, foolish discussion, and foolish commentary—to say God indulges unbelief, that He is divided against Himself. Faith is always necessary in both the servant and the person needing God's help.

“And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. And his servant was healed in the selfsame hour” (Mt.8:13).

“Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it unto you” (Mt.9:29).

“Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove: and nothing shall be impossible unto you” (Mt.17:20).

“And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand. And if a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand” (Mk.3:24-25).

“Jesus said unto him, If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth” (Mk.9:23).

3. It is “the faith which is by Him [Jesus]” that makes a man sound. A man must believe “in the name of Jesus,” but belief is a gift of Christ. Faith is not an emotion or a thought or a commitment that a man tries and tries to stir up within himself. It is not of himself.

“For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: Not of works, lest any man should boast” (Eph.2:8-9; cp. Heb.12:2).

The thought, the impulse, the movement, the tug, the pull to believe is initiated by God's Spirit. A man's spirit is dead. It cannot in and of itself move toward a living relationship with God. A dead spirit cannot make any movement whatsoever, for it is dead. When a man experiences and senses the pull to believe, he needs to stop resisting and believe. He needs to let go and trust Christ. When God initiates belief and moves upon a man's heart with the gift of belief, the man needs to exercise his will in accepting Jesus; he needs to give all he is and has to follow Jesus as Lord and Savior. It is by such belief and commitment that a man is made perfectly sound. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2, Believe—Jn.2:24.) (See note, Draw—Jn.6:44-46 for more discussion.)

“No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day” (Jn.6:44).

“And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me” (Jn.12:32).

“Draw me, we will run after thee” (Song of Sol.1:4).

“The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore with lovingkindness have I drawn thee” (Jer.31:3).

“I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love: and I was to them as they that take off the yoke on their jaws, and I laid meat unto them” (Hos.11:4).

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(3:16) Perfect Soundness (holoklerian): to be whole: to be perfectly sound in all of one's parts; to be perfectly complete and entire. It means the man was perfectly sound in both body and soul.

6 (3:17-18) Jesus Christ, Death: point five is that there is no excuse. God had foretold Messiah's death. Note two facts.

1. The people who rejected and killed Christ did so in ignorance. They did not know what they were doing, but they should have known. They had the prophets who proclaimed the coming and the death of God's Son. God had foretold all that a man needed to know to accept His Son. Their ignorance is not condoned. They are without excuse. They killed Christ in the sin and shame of rebellion against God, refusing to study and listen to the Scriptures, not accepting them for what they said.

"Search the scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me" (Jn.5:39).

2. God fulfilled the prophetic Scriptures in the suffering of Jesus (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Jesus Christ, Death—Acts 2:23 for discussion and verses).

7 (3:19) Repentance: point six is repentance and conversion. The word "conversion" (epistrepsate) means to turn again. Men must repent and turn again to God. (See note and DEEPER STUDY # 1, Repentance—Acts 17:29-30.) If a man turns his life over to God and changes his behavior, two things happen.

1. His sins are "blotted out" (exaliphthenai): erased, smeared out, rubbed off, wiped out, obliterated—just like handwriting is erased and wiped off a wall.

"Hide thy face from my sins, and blot out all mine iniquities" (Ps.51:9).

"I, even I, am he that blotteth out thy transgressions for mine own sake, and will not remember thy sins" (Is.43:25).

"I have blotted out, as a thick cloud, thy transgressions, and, as a cloud, thy sins: return unto me; for I have redeemed thee" (Is.44:22).

2. The Lord will send "seasons of refreshing" from His presence. When a person comes to know Christ personally, he experiences seasons...

- of refreshment and renewal
- of grace and blessings
- of rest and comfort
- of release and deliverance
- of joy and rejoicing
- of revival and stirrings
- of strength and commitment

Thought 1. Repentance is an absolute essential for forgiveness. A person just cannot continue and continue doing the same old things and expect forgiveness. He must repent, turn away from his sin to Christ. If a person is sincere, he will repent.

"Repent ye: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand" (Mt.3:2).

"Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost" (Acts 2:38).

"Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord" (Acts 3:19).

"Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee" (Acts 8:22).

"And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men every where to repent" (Acts 17:30).

"Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon" (Is.55:7).

"Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed; and make you a new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Israel?" (Ezk.18:31).

8 (3:20-21) Jesus Christ, Return: point seven is Jesus' return and the restoration of all things. Note several clear facts.

1. God "shall send Jesus Christ," the Messiah, back to earth again, the same Jesus Christ that has been "preached unto you" (see note—Acts 1:10-11 for discussion).

2. Jesus Christ is presently in heaven and will be there until He returns. Heaven "must receive" Him until He returns. It is from there that He carries on His present ministry (see note, Ascension—Acts 1:9 for discussion).

3. There is to be a "restoration of all things" (see DEEPER STUDY # 3—Acts 3:21 for discussion).

(3:21) Restoration (apokatastaseos): to set in order again; to bring back to a former condition or state of being; to restore; to recreate or remake or renew all over again. (See note, Regeneration—Mt.19:28 for more discussion.)

Peter clearly says what he means, identifying the time to which he refers. There is to be a time when "the restoration of all things" shall take place, a time when all things shall be made new or remade into their perfect state. There shall be a new order of things under the personal rule and reign of Christ. (See outline and note, Regeneration—Mt.19:28. Cp. Ro.8:19-23; Is.11:6-9.) Note two things.

1. The words "times [plural] of restoration" point toward a period of time, perhaps several, over which the restoration will take place. The restoration will include several events, several periods of time. It will not be everything ending all at once; all the events involved in the restoration will not take place at the same time.

2. Scripture teaches several major events of the restoration that will happen at different times.
- a. There will be the return of the Lord Himself to catch up and resurrect the believer (see outline and notes—1 Th.4:13-5:3).

"For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first" (1 Th.4:16-18).

"In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also" (Jn.14:2-3).

- b. There will be the salvation of Israel (see outline and notes—Ro.11:25-36).

"For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mystery, lest ye should be wise in your own conceits; that blindness in part is happened to Israel, until the fulness of the Gentiles be come in. And so all Israel shall be saved: as it is written, There shall come out of Sion the Deliverer, and shall turn away ungodliness from Jacob" (Ro.11:25-26).

- c. There will be the millennial reign of Christ upon earth (see outline, note, and DEEPER STUDY # 1,2—Rev.20:4-6).

"And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them, and judgment was given unto them: and I saw the souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus, and for the word of God, and which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands; and they lived and reigned with Christ a thousand years. But the rest of the dead lived not again until the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection. Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: on such the second death hath no power, but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years" (Rev.20:4-6).

- d. There will be the deliverance of the whole creation from suffering and corruption, including both nature itself and those among mankind who believe (see outline and notes—Ro.8:18-27).

"Because the creature itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God. For we know that the whole creation groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now. And not only they, but ourselves also, which have the firstfruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our body" (Ro.8:21-23).

- e. There will be the explosive destruction and melting of heaven and earth by fire as well as the making of the new heavens and earth by God.

"But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up. Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness, looking for and hasting unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat? Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness" (2 Pt.3:10-13).

"And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea. And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be with him, and he will be their God. And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away. And he that sat upon the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write: for these words are true and faithful" (Rev.21:1-5).

- f. There will be the glorious moment when Christ will "deliver up the kingdom [His mediatorial ministry] to God the Father...that God may be all in all" (see outline and notes—1 Cor.15:24-28).

"Then cometh the end, when he shall have delivered up the kingdom to God, even the Father; when he shall have put down all rule and all authority and power" (1 Cor.15:24).

9 (3:22-24) Judgment: point eight is judgment. God predicted the coming judgment through the prophets.

1. Moses predicted that God would send His Prophet (the Messiah) to earth (Dt.18:14-19). People must hear God's Prophet or be destroyed (see DEEPER STUDY # 4—Acts 3:23).
2. All the prophets from Samuel also predicted the coming and judgment of God's Prophet (see notes—Lk.3:24-31; 3:32-38; 3:38; DEEPER STUDY # 3—Jn.1:45).

DEEPER STUDY # 4

(3:23) Destroyed (exolothreutesetai): to be utterly destroyed or slain; to lose one's well-being; to be wasted and ruined and given a worthless existence. It does not mean that a person will cease to exist. It means a person will be destroyed and devastated and condemned to a worthless existence. He will suffer waste and loss and ruin forever and ever.

“And these shall go away into everlasting punishment: but the righteous into life eternal” (Mt.25:46; cp. v.25-45).

“But he that shall blaspheme against the Holy Ghost hath never forgiveness, but is in danger of eternal damnation” (Mk.3:29).

“...he [Christ] will thoroughly purge his floor, and will gather the wheat into his garner; but the chaff he will burn with fire unquenchable” (Lk.3:17).

“But unto them that are contentious, and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, indignation and wrath, tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil, of the Jew first, and also of the Gentile” (Ro.2:8-9).

“And to you who are troubled rest with us, when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with his mighty angels, in flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ: who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power” (2 Th.1:7-9).

“Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace? For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, The Lord shall judge his people” (Heb.10:29-30).

“The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished” (2 Pt.2:9).

“And whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire” (Rev.20:15).

“But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death” (Rev.21:8).

10 (3:25-26) Jews, Privileges of: point nine is a warning to Israel. However, the warning is really to all men, for the Son of God Himself has been to earth and blessed all men with the glorious message of salvation. The Jews were especially privileged in four things. (See outline and notes, Israel—Ro.9:3-5.)

1. They were the children of the prophets. They had the glorious heritage and message of God's very special servants.
2. They were the people with whom God made a very special covenant, a very special promise. He chose them to be the people and the race through whom He would send “the Seed,” that is, His Son, into the world.
3. They were the people to whom God sent His Son, Jesus Christ.
4. They were the first people who were blessed by God, blessed with the glorious message of repentance and forgiveness.

“I say the truth in Christ, I lie not, my conscience also bearing me witness in the Holy Ghost, that I have great heaviness and continual sorrow in my heart. For I could wish that myself were accursed from Christ for my brethren, my kinsmen according to the flesh: who are Israelites; to whom pertaineth the adoption, and the glory, and the covenants, and the giving of the law, and the service of God, and the promises; whose are the fathers, and of whom as concerning the flesh Christ came, who is over all, God blessed for ever” (Ro.9:1-5).

“Brethren, my heart's desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saved. For I bear them record that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge. For they being ignorant of God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God” (Ro.10:1-3).

THE BIRTH AND GROWTH OF THE CHURCH, 2:1-7:60

H. The First Persecution of the Church: Lessons for Christian Service, 4:1-22

(4:1-22) Introduction: this is the first persecution of the church. There are several challenging lessons for Christian service clearly seen in the experience.

1. Peter and John arrested and tried (v.1).
2. They suffered abuse because they preached the resurrection (v.2-4).
3. They credited Christ with the power to heal and to change lives (v.5-10).

ACTS 4:1-22

4. They proclaimed salvation in Christ alone (v.11-12).
5. They gave evidence that they had been with Jesus (v.13-14).
6. They suffered threats (v.15-18).
7. They refused to compromise their message (v.19-20).
8. The result: all men glorified God (v.21-22).

1 (4:1) Persecution: Peter and John were arrested and tried. They were arrested “as they spoke,” that is, while they were preaching. Remember that the cripple had walked through the temple leaping and praising God (Acts 3:8-11). A huge throng of thousands had rushed to see the cripple who had been healed and to hear the message being proclaimed by the two men who had such power. The temple was a massive building which could hold thousands (v.5). (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Temple—Mt.21:12-16.) The excitement and noise were bound to attract attention and bring the temple authorities to the scene. What they saw and heard disturbed them to no end. They thought they had eliminated the “Jesus movement” eight weeks earlier when they had crucified Jesus. They had heard about the preaching incident several days earlier and how excited the people had become (Acts 2:5f). Now these two men (Peter and John) were publicly preaching the rumor that God had raised Jesus from the dead. And they were preaching, of all places, in the temple precincts.

It was time to investigate the matter, to nip the movement in the bud before it could spread. Note those who came to arrest them. As mentioned above, they stopped Peter right in the middle of his message.

1. The priests were probably those who were officiating in the temple at that particular time.
2. The captain of the temple. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2, Temple Captain—Acts 4:1 for discussion.)
3. The Sadducees. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2—Acts 23:8 for discussion.)

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(4:1) Priests: all the male descendants of Aaron were priests. In the time of Christ there were over twenty thousand priests. Since there was only one temple (located in Jerusalem), the priests were divided into groups. There were twenty-four groups, and each group served in the temple for one week twice a year (1 Chron.24:1-6; 2 Chron.22:8).

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(4:1) Temple Captain: this was the right-hand man, the chief executive officer or chief of staff to the High Priest. He was probably what Scripture calls the chief officer or “the ruler of the house of God” (Jer.20:1; 1 Chron.9:11; 2 Chron.31:13; Neh.11:11). He was responsible for the administration of the temple, which meant he was held accountable for the order and any disorder that took place within the temple precincts. His presence in arresting Peter and John is clearly understandable in light of the situation.

2 (4:2-4) Religionists—Persecution—Worldliness: Peter and John suffered abuse because they preached the resurrection. The officials were threatened by the preaching of Jesus being raised from the dead. They knew that it was the nature of people to respond to hope, especially to great hope. They also knew that great excitement existed within the people’s heart for the coming of the Messiah and that it would take only a small spark of hope to set the excitement aflame (see DEEPER STUDY # 2—Mt.1:18). They just could not allow Jesus to be preached, not the hope of His resurrection, for the resurrection meant that all men who followed Him would arise. People ached and were ripe for such a message. Therefore, the authorities, knowing the nature of man and the situation, were threatened. If the people turned to the new movement, the authorities...

- feared the loss of the people—their loyalty, recognition, and esteem.
- feared the loss of position, authority, and livelihood. If they lost the loyalty of the people or allowed a disturbance, the Romans would replace them with other officials. The Romans were usually tolerant, but they were quick to stamp out disorder and disloyalty.
- feared the people might begin to think that their doctrine was wrong. If they allowed the preaching of the resurrection to continue, they would be admitting that God had bypassed them and revealed the truth to others. Their own spiritual condition and beliefs and teachings would be suspect. They were the secure religionists and the official religious leaders. Therefore, they would be jeopardizing their own religion and leadership among the people. They would be undermining their own sense of security and their sense of being acceptable to God.
- feared acknowledging they were wrong in crucifying Jesus. If He were truly the risen Son of God, then they were sinners, chief sinners, guilty of denying and rejecting God’s Son. (See note and DEEPER STUDY # 1—Mt.12:10 for more discussion as to why the religionists feared and opposed Christ and Christianity so much.)

“He also that received seed among the thorns is he that heareth the word; and the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, choke the word, and he becometh unfruitful” (Mt.13:22).

“For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?” (Mt.16:26).

“And take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you unawares” (Lk.21:34).

“Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God” (Jas.4:4).

“I have written unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I have written unto you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked one. Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him” (1 Jn.2:14-15).

Thought 1. Note how the same fears strike so many today, causing them...

- not to support true men and movements of God.
- not to rock the boat.
- not to do what is right.

Thought 2. Too many seek after the things of the world and of religion instead of really serving God. They seek after...

- |               |             |                     |
|---------------|-------------|---------------------|
| • acceptance  | • position  | • possessions       |
| • esteem      | • authority | • wealth            |
| • recognition | • power     | • bigger and better |

The authorities arrested Peter and John. It was late afternoon, too late for a trial, so they jailed them for the night. But note a significant fact: before Peter was arrested, he had shared enough of the gospel for the crowd to respond. Five thousand men (not counting women and children) made decisions for Christ.

Persecution did not stop the Word and the Spirit of God from working. Souls (fruit) were saved despite the abuse and opposition. What a lesson for believers to keep on in their preaching and witnessing no matter the opposition.

“My Word shall not return to me void” (Is.55:11).

“The Word of God is not bound” (2 Tim.2:9).

3 (4:5-10) Jesus Christ, Power: Peter and John credited Christ with the power to heal and to change lives. Note three points.

1. The Sanhedrin court convened the next morning to put Peter and John on trial. The term “rulers, elders, and scribes” means the Sanhedrin. It was the ruling body, both the governing council and supreme court of the Jews. (See DEEPER STUDY # 3, Sanhedrin—Acts 4:5-6.)

a. The term “rulers, and elders, and scribes” is apparently just a term of synonyms, a term used by the people when referring to the Sanhedrin.

- ⇒ Rulers would refer to the whole body.
- ⇒ Elders would refer to the most esteemed of the nation. The whole Sanhedrin was sometimes simply referred to as the Elders.
- ⇒ Scribes was a definite profession of men, the experts, the doctors of Jewish law and tradition.

Annas was apparently recognized as the High Priest by most Jews. He had actually been removed from power by the Romans, but he had been so influential among his peers that he was still recognized as the power behind the throne. (See note, pt. 6—Lk.3:1; Jn.18:12-14.)

- ⇒ Caiaphas was serving as High Priest in the eyes of the Romans (see note—Mt.26:3-5; DEEPER STUDY # 2—26:3).
- ⇒ John is unknown. All we know is what is mentioned here, that he belonged to the high priestly family.
- ⇒ Alexander is also unknown, except that he too belonged to the high priestly family.

b. The question the court asked was straight to the point. “By what power, or by what name have you done this [healed the man]?” The court was doing exactly what God had said to do. God had instructed Israel to try every man who claimed to be a prophet and worked signs and wonders among the people (Dt.13:1-5). If the man was not a true prophet, he was to be executed.

But there is more to their questioning than this. They knew Peter was preaching the resurrection through Jesus Christ. They had to stop it or risk losing the loyalty of the people and their position and livelihood, so they were seeking opportunity to accuse and stop Peter and John. (See note—Acts 4:2-4.)

Their questioning may also involve something else. They were the religious leaders; therefore, they thought the power could not be of God. If God should choose to do some marvelous work, especially in the temple, they thought He would choose to reveal such to them, the traditional religious leaders. Therefore they felt the name and the power that healed the crippled must be diabolical (Lk.11:15).

Thought 1. Men in leadership, leaders in both state and religion, face some common sins, the seeking of...

- |               |                   |
|---------------|-------------------|
| • position    | • influence       |
| • recognition | • authority       |
| • riches      | • being exclusive |

The flesh, sinful human nature is the culprit. But bureaucratic, institutional, established positions lend themselves to the sins.

Thought 2. Every believer, minister, and group must guard against thinking that God can work only through them. God is always bringing new faces and groups into the picture to do His work. He must, for the mission is so enormous and there is still so much to do—so many who have not yet heard and been helped.

2. God equipped Peter and John with the Holy Spirit. Note how quickly God came to the rescue: “Then Peter, filled with the Holy Spirit.” Peter had not even had time to speak, and God was present, filling Peter with the Holy Spirit. God’s Spirit was ready to take over and give Peter the words to say.

Thought 1. The believer who is ready to proclaim Christ will never be left alone. The Holy Spirit will be present to speak through him.

“And ye shall be brought before governors and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them and the Gentiles. But when they deliver you up, take no thought how or what ye shall speak: for it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak. For it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father which speaketh in you” (Mt.10:18-20).

“But when they shall lead you, and deliver you up, take no thought beforehand what ye shall speak, neither do ye premeditate: but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye: for it is not ye that speak, but the Holy Ghost” (Mk.13:11).

“But before all these, they shall lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues, and into prisons, being brought before kings and rulers for my name’s sake. And it shall turn to you for a testimony. Settle it therefore in your hearts, not to meditate before what ye shall answer: for I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to gainsay nor resist” (Lk.21:12-15).

3. Peter and John credited Christ with the power to make men whole. Peter declared three critical points.
  - a. It was “the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth” that made the man whole. Note that Jesus is called the “Christ” (Messiah). Peter was declaring that men must know that Jesus is the true Messiah, and there must be no doubt which Jesus: it was the Jesus of Nazareth. He is the Messiah, the Savior whom God promised to send to the world.

Note the word “whole” (see DEEPER STUDY # 4—Acts 4:9-10). The man was made whole in both body and soul. Who did it? Who could heal the man in both body and soul? Peter declared unequivocally:

    - ⇒ not himself, not John, nor any other man.
    - ⇒ Jesus Christ, the Messiah, the Jesus from Nazareth; He alone had made this man whole.
  - b. It was Jesus Christ (Messiah) whom ye crucified. Remember Peter was speaking to the top leaders of the nation. He charged them with killing not only a man, but the Messiah. What an indictment! To be charged with killing the Son of God Himself!

Thought 1. The indictment is charged against all men. All men are guilty of the death of Jesus Christ. (See notes—Acts 3:13-15; DEEPER STUDY # 2,3—2:23 for discussion and verses.)

- c. It was Jesus whom God raised from the dead that made the man whole. Peter was declaring that it was the power of the resurrected and ascended Messiah, the Lord of heaven and earth who had such power. (See outlines and DEEPER STUDY # 4—Acts 2:24; notes 2:25-36 for discussion and verses. Cp. Acts 1:22; 3:15.)

DEEPER STUDY # 3

(4:5-6) Sanhedrin: the ruling body, both the governing council and supreme court of the Jews. It had seventy-one members and was presided over by the High Priest. Its membership was made up of Pharisees, Sadducees, Scribes or lawyers, and elders who were leaders from among the people. A quorum was twenty-three people. The legal power of the Sanhedrin to pass the death sentence was restricted about twenty some years before the trial of Jesus. However, they did retain the right of excommunication (cp. Jn.9:22). The court met in the great “Hall of Hewn Stone.” Its members sat in a semi-circle with the High Priest (or president) sitting at the head.

DEEPER STUDY # 4

(4:9-10) Salvation: the word “whole” (sesotai) means to be saved; to be made whole; to be safe and sound; to be healed. It means that a person is made whole and continues to be whole. It means that the man was made whole in both body and soul.

4 (4:11-12) Jesus Christ, The Stone—Salvation: Peter and John proclaimed salvation. Peter had just shared the source of his power, the name of Jesus Christ. He now proclaimed the salvation that is in Jesus. And to strike the point home, he used the declaration of prophetic Scripture.

1. Jesus Christ is the Head, that is, the Chief Cornerstone of God’s building (cp. Ps.118:22).
  - a. God gave man the Head Cornerstone for His building, the life He wanted man to build. But men set the stone “at nought,” counted it as no good, unacceptable, of no account, of no worth. Men rejected God’s Head Stone and went about finding their own chief stone and building their lives as they wished.
  - b. But God took His Stone, despite man’s rejection, and still made Him the Head of the corner. God has exalted Jesus Christ and made Him the Head of life. (See DEEPER STUDY # 7—Mt.21:42; DEEPER STUDY # 9,10—21:44.)

“This is the stone which was set at nought of you builders, which is become the head of the corner” (Acts 4:11).

“Jesus saith unto them, Did ye never read in the scriptures, The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner: this is the Lord’s doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes?” (Mt.21:42).

“And are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone” (Eph.2:20).

“Wherefore also it is contained in the scripture, Behold, I lay in Sion a chief corner stone, elect, precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded” (1 Pt.2:6).

2. Jesus Christ alone saves. There is no other Head, no other exalted Lord; therefore, no man can be saved...
  - by any other head or lord.
  - by any other name under heaven.

No teacher is capable enough, no prophet is noble enough, no minister is good enough to save himself, much less any one else. Therefore, no matter the claim—no matter the indulgence and strength of the name—the man comes far, far short of being God’s chosen Head. No man has the name by which God saves men. All men are mortal. No man can make another man immortal. Therefore God’s Head, the name which God uses to save men, must be eternal. Only One Man is eternal: Jesus Christ the Son of Man Himself.

“For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life” (Jn.3:16).

“Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of eternal life” (Jn.6:68).

“I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins” (Jn.8:24).

“Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved” (Acts 4:12).

“For I determined not to know any thing among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified” (1 Cor.2:2).

“For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ” (1 Cor.3:11).

5 (4:13-14) Jesus Christ, Fellowship With—Meditation: Peter and John gave evidence that they had been with Jesus. Note a striking fact: it was the boldness and power of Peter and John that caused the rulers to recognize them. The rulers had witnessed the same boldness and power in Jesus. And now it was boldness and power that identified these two men as having been with Jesus.

Note another fact: the boldness and power were not due to education and learning. It was due to their having “been with Jesus.” The clear evidence that a person has been with Jesus is boldness and power. The man made whole stood before the Court of the World. Therefore, the world was silenced. The enemies of Christ could not refute the claim, for the claim was not profession only. The claim was backed up by the evidence of a miracle, of a changed life: a man was made whole.

Thought 1. What a challenge to believers! We must be with Jesus; we must spend time, much time with Him. He is the source of boldness and power.

Thought 2. There is only one evidence that we belong to Jesus. Do we live in His boldness and power? If we have been with Jesus, then His boldness and power are present within us. We are living and witnessing in boldness and power.

Thought 3. What a change the world would know if believers spent enough time with Jesus to receive His boldness and power.

“For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them” (Mt.18:20).

“For with God nothing shall be impossible” (Lk.1:37).

“Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus” (Acts 4:13).

“God is faithful, by whom ye were called unto the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord” (1 Cor.1:9).

“Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need” (Heb.4:16).

“That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ” (1 Jn.1:3).

“Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me” (Rev.3:20).

“My voice shalt thou hear in the morning, O LORD; in the morning will I direct my prayer unto thee, and will look up” (Ps.5:3).

“Evening, and morning, and at noon, will I pray, and cry aloud: and he shall hear my voice” (Ps.55:17).

“I will meditate also of all thy work, and talk of thy doings” (Ps.77:12).

6 (4:15-18) Persecution: Peter and John suffered threats. The court had Peter and John escorted from the council chambers so they could discuss the matter and reach a verdict.

⇒ They acknowledged that a “notable” (clear, unmistakable) miracle had been done. The man was made whole.

⇒ All the people knew the man had been transformed.

⇒ They could not deny the miracle. They would have; but the evidence (the power of Christ), the man made whole, stood before them. (Cp. Mt.28:11-15.)

Thought 1. The great need of the hour is for lame men to be made whole, transformed by the power of Christ. When a man is truly transformed, the world cannot deny it. The power of Christ stands within them as evidence that He is the risen and exalted Lord.

The rulers knew they must stop the new movement, suppress it from spreading any further among the people (v.17). At this point, they did not dare take drastic steps lest the people cause a disturbance that would bring the Romans down upon them (cp. v.21). Their decision was to threaten Peter and John, forbidding them to speak or teach in the name of Jesus.

Note this: the orders and decisions of the court were binding except in the death penalty (which had to be referred to the Romans). The court's orders had to be obeyed or else Peter and John would face severe consequences.

“Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake” (Mt.5:11).

“And ye shall be hated of all men for my name’s sake: but he that endureth to the end shall be saved” (Mt.10:22).

“And in nothing terrified by your adversaries: which is to them an evident token of perdition, but to you of salvation, and that of God” (Ph.1:28).

“Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution” (2 Tim.3:12).

7 (4:19-20) Witnessing: Peter and John refused to compromise their message. There are two all-important reasons.

1. God is to be obeyed before men. The highest authority must always be obeyed. This is the very basis of men and their laws. It is the word of the highest authority that men must carry out. Peter and John challenged the world: “Ye judge” (v.19). “[If it is] right in the sight of God to hearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye” (v.19).

Christ had commanded them to preach time and again (Mt.28:19-20; Mk.16:15; Jn.20:21). They had to obey Him. They could do no other, for the highest possible authority had spoken. They were commissioned by God to speak and teach the resurrection, even in the face of opposition and persecution.

Thought 1. How can believers keep silent about Christ and His glorious salvation? He has commanded us to speak and teach, to bear witness and testimony to the living Lord.

2. A man must testify to what he has seen and heard. Note that the two disciples were claiming to have seen and heard Jesus after His resurrection as well as during His ministry.

“We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak” (2 Cor.4:13).

“Knowing therefore the terror of the Lord, we persuade men; but we are made manifest unto God; and I trust also are made manifest in your consciences....For the love of Christ constraineth us; because we thus judge, that if one died for all, then were all dead” (2 Cor.5:11, 14).

“But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear” (1 Pt.3:15).

“That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ” (1 Jn.1:3).

“Come and hear, all ye that fear God, and I will declare what he hath done for my soul” (Ps.66:16).

“I will mention the lovingkindnesses of the Lord, and the praises of the Lord, according to all that the Lord hath bestowed on us, and the great goodness toward the house of Israel, which he hath bestowed on them according to his mercies, and according to the multitude of his lovingkindnesses” (Is.63:7).

“Then I said, I will not make mention of him, nor speak any more in his name. But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and I could not stay” (Jer.20:9).

8 (4:21-22) Conclusion: the result of such a dynamic witness was that men glorified God (edoxazon ton theon); that is, they kept on gloryifying Him. Why? Because the power of Christ had taken a man who had been helpless for forty years and made him whole, completely whole.

“Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven” (Mt.5:16).

“Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples” (Jn.15:8).

“For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God’s” (1 Cor.6:20).

“Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light” (Col.1:12).

“By him [Christ] therefore let us offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of our lips giving thanks to his name” (Heb.13:15).

“But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should show forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light” (1 Pt.2:9).

“Sing praises to the LORD, which dwelleth in Zion: declare among the people his doings” (Ps.9:11).

“And my tongue shall speak of thy righteousness and of thy praise all the day long” (Ps.35:28).

“Let them give glory unto the LORD, and declare his praise in the islands” (Is.42:12).

DIVISION II

THE BIRTH AND GROWTH OF THE CHURCH, 2:1-7:60

I. The Church Triumphant in Persecution: Victory Over Abuse, 4:23-31

(4:23-31) Introduction: the true believer shall suffer persecution. Christ said so (cp. Jn.15:20). Christ suffered persecution; the early church suffered persecution; believers today shall suffer persecution. It is inevitable.

⇒ It may take the form of abuse, anger, slander, gossip, mockery, cursing, isolation, or violence.

⇒ It may take place in the market place, church, home, community, or school.

What believers need is not deliverance from persecution, but victory and triumph over it. Believers need a conviction of mission, a conviction so strong that they become immovable.

1. Peter and John were released (v.23-24).
2. A conviction of God’s power (v.24).
3. A conviction of man’s futility and God’s plan or providence (v.25-28).
4. A conviction of mission and of God’s concern (v.29-30).
5. The results (v.31).

1 (4:23-24) Ministers—Humility: Peter and John were released. As soon as they were released, they sought out their fellow believers, the church. Most likely the church was already meeting together, praying for Peter and John.

1. They reported and shared their experience with the church. Note several striking facts.
  - a. Peter and John were not depressed, discouraged, or downcast. Neither were they stricken with fear and trembling. They were not suggesting the church withdraw into a hole and keep its message to itself. They had been imprisoned and tried by the Supreme Court itself, threatened and warned, but they were not defeated and silenced.
  - b. Peter and John were not puffed up. They had suffered undue strain and pressure in serving Christ, and God had marvelously used them as witnesses to the highest rulers of the land. Yet there is no mention, no suggestion, not even a tinge...
    - of boasting
    - of being God’s special servants
    - of being more used by God
    - of self-glorying
    - of conceit
    - of being exalted above fellow believers
  - c. The concern of Peter and John was to encourage and edify (build up) the church and to warn them of the coming persecution that lay over the horizon. Note the words “reported all.” They shared all that the court had said: their questioning, their threats, their warnings. They shared how persecution would come if they continued to preach Jesus, and they shared how God had so wonderfully defended them.

Note a striking fact: whether or not to continue preaching was not even considered. The decision to carry the gospel to the whole world was made by Christ. It is not up for debate. Believers are commanded to “go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mk.16:15).

2. The church could do but one thing: it triumphantly lifted its voice to God in prayer. But note: the prayer was triumphant and united “with one accord.” The triumph of the church is seen in the points of its convictions throughout the prayer. The “one accord” means they prayed with one mind and one spirit. They focused and concentrated upon what was being prayed. Their minds were not wandering about. They were not half-heartedly praying, some praying and others thinking about their own affairs. They were “all of one accord,” zeroing in on God and His wonderful care and provision. It is such group prayers that God hears and answers.

“Again I say unto you, That if two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven” (Mt.18:19).

“Therefore I say unto you, What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them” (Mk.11:24).

“Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much” (Jas.5:16).

“And ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart” (Jer.29:13).

2 (4:24) God, Power; Creator: there was a conviction of God’s power. God is the One who created the universe in all its massiveness. God alone is the One who has such omnipotent power to create. Therefore, there is no one—no person, no being, no ruling body, no nation—not even a world that can stand and stop His will and power. This was the church’s great conviction of God’s power.

1. Note the word “Lord” (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 2:36).
2. Note the phrase “heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is.” This encompasses...
  - all the earth and all upon earth (sea or land).
  - all in the lower heavens (atmosphere).
  - all in the middle heavens (outer space).
  - all in the ultimate heavens (beyond space and time, where Christ is).

All things, whether visible or invisible, have been created by the Sovereign Lord of the universe. He and He alone is God; He is the One who possesses all power, the One whose will and purpose will be victorious. And more immediate, more at hand, He is the One who cares for and loves and oversees those who serve Him. He is the One who stands against the evil of lost and mean men, men who abuse and persecute other human beings.

“All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made” (Jn.1:3).

“But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him” (1 Cor.8:6).

“For by him were all things created, that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be thrones, or dominions, or principalities, or powers: all things were created by him, and for him” (Col.1:16).

“[God] hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son, whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds; who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high” (Heb.1:2-3).

“And ye are complete in him, which is the head of all principality and power” (Col.2:10).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(4:24) Lord (Despota): means sovereign Master, sovereign Lord, sovereign Ruler. It is the word used by slaves in referring to their Master, slaves who are totally subjected to the Lord and Master of their domain. God is being addressed as “Lord, thou art God,” the Sovereign Majesty, the Creator, Ruler, and Lord of the whole universe and of all life. He alone is God and Sovereign Lord. No one else is—no person, no being, no ruling power, visible or invisible, physical or spiritual (cp. Ro.8:38-39; Col.1:16).

3 (4:25-28) God, Will of—Predestination—Determinate Counsel: there was a conviction of man’s futility and God’s plan or providence. The thought is that man will do evil. Man will persecute believers and attempt to stamp out the gospel and the church. But they will fail, for God has a plan and He will overrule and carry out His plan.

Now note a critical fact: God’s plan—His providence and His working all things out for good—had already been proven. David’s prophecy and the death of Christ had proven it.

1. Man will oppose God. God through David foretold their opposition in Scripture (cp. Ps.2:1-2).
  - a. The heathen, that is, the lost of the world, “rage” (ephruxan): to neigh, stomp the ground like a fierce horse; to act untamed, haughty, unruly.
  - b. The people, that is, the worldly, “imagine vain things”: to be anxious over empty things; to focus one’s life, time and energy upon meaningless possessions and material things, the empty, unsatisfying things of the world.
  - c. The kings and rulers stand up and gather together against God and His Christ, the Messiah. They stand against; stand in an opposite direction; stand in opposition and hostility to God and Christ.
2. God planned and overruled man’s opposition. God’s counsel determined what was to be done.
  - a. The prophecy was primarily fulfilled in the death of Christ. Man stood against God’s “holy child Jesus”; they gathered together against Him and killed Him. But God overruled and raised Him from the dead. God took the events—all the evil of man—and worked it all out for good. His will to save the world is still marching on. God’s counsel—His deliberation, His knowing all things and His possessing all power—worked everything out for good. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2,3—Acts 2:23; note—3:13-15 for more discussion and verses.)

“Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain” (Acts 2:23).

- b. The prophecy is still being fulfilled in the lives of believers and the church. The world...
- still rages,
  - still imagines empty things,
  - still stands and gathers together against God, His Messiah and His church,
- ...but to no avail. God’s will and purpose still marches on. He overrules all the meanness and persecution of evil men. He sees to it that the glorious message of salvation is not stopped, the Word of God is not bound. He causes it to be spread and to save all who hear and will believe.

“But we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery [the gospel], even the hidden wisdom, which God ordained before the world unto our glory” (1 Cor.2:7).

“Who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began” (2 Tim.1:9).

“Remember that Jesus Christ of the seed of David was raised from the dead according to my gospel: wherein I suffer trouble, as an evil doer, even unto bonds; but the word of God is not bound” (2 Tim.2:8-9).

“In hope of eternal life, which God, that cannot lie, promised before the world began; but hath in due times manifested his word through preaching, which is committed unto me according to the commandment of God our Saviour” (Tit.1:2-3).

4 (4:29-30) Witnessing: there was a conviction of God’s mission and of God’s concern.

1. Their mission was to “speak God’s Word.” Note what they needed and what they prayed. They did not pray, did not need...

- for evil men to be destroyed.
- for the persecution to stop.
- for God to allow them to stop witnessing until things quieted down.

They prayed for boldness, for more courage to bear testimony, no matter the abuse and opposition. They asked to be fearless, for God to remove their fear. Note they asked for “all boldness.”

- a. The word “now” (nun) is stressed; there is heavy emphasis upon it. The church desperately needed its fear removed, and it wanted a strong courage to get about its business of witnessing.
- b. The word “behold” (epide epi) means to look upon. The church was asking God to concentrate and focus upon the persecution; to deal with it and to overrule the enemy; to give whatever was necessary to endure through it all.
- ⇒ To consider the persecution and remove what He would of it; to remove whatever fury was not to be used for His glory.
- ⇒ To consider the persecution and to give the faith and endurance to bear testimony through it; to use the persecution to praise His name.

“Surely the wrath of man shall praise thee: the remainder of wrath shalt thou restrain” (Ps.76:10).

“Wherefore doth the wicked contemn [spurn] God? he hath said in his heart, Thou wilt not require it. Thou hast seen it; for thou beholdest mischief and spite, to requite [require] it with thy hand” (Ps.10:13-14).

- c. The word “servants” (doulois) is the word for bond-slaves. The church was saying that they were the slaves of the Lord, to do His will, to share and speak God’s Word despite persecution.

“Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world” (Mt.28:19-20).

“And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mk.16:15).

“But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

“For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard” (Acts 4:20).

“Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God” (2 Tim.1:8).

2. Their need was also for power to heal and for signs and wonders, for a demonstration of God’s power to prove their claim, the claim that...

- God’s Son did come to earth.

- God's Son did die.
- God's Son did arise.
- God's Son was exalted to the right hand of God.
- God's Son was still active and working in men's lives today.

Only one thing could prove such a message: the power of the living Lord proving itself in signs and wonders. Note two significant points.

- a. The power lies "in the name" of Jesus (see DEEPER STUDY # 2—Acts 3:6. Cp. Acts 4:7, 10, 12, 17, 18.)
- b. The power is for the glory of Jesus alone.

"And when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease" (Mt.10:1).

"And he ordained twelve, that they should be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach, and to have power to heal sicknesses, and to cast out devils" (Mk.3:14-15).

"And these signs shall follow them that believe; In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; they shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover" (Mk.16:17-18).

"To another faith by the same Spirit; to another the gifts of healing by the same Spirit" (1 Cor.12:9).

"And what is the exceeding greatness of his power to usward who believe, according to the working of his mighty power" (Eph.1:19).

"Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us" (Eph.3:20).

5 (4:31) Boldness—Witnessing: the results of the church's prayer were threefold.

1. The place was shaken. The shaking was a miracle, a sign showing that God controlled the physical universe, just as they had prayed (v.24).
2. They were filled with the Holy Spirit (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 2:1-4). They needed a very special manifestation, a fresh experience with the Spirit.
3. They received the boldness for which they had asked. They bore strong testimony, speaking the Word of God with boldness and courage.

"But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth" (Acts 1:8).

"Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus" (Acts 4:13).

"And he spake boldly in the name of the Lord Jesus, and disputed against the Grecians: but they went about to slay him" (Acts 9:29).

"Long time therefore abode they speaking boldly in the Lord, which gave testimony unto the word of his grace, and granted signs and wonders to be done by their hands" (Acts 14:3).

"And he went into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, disputing and persuading the things concerning the kingdom of God" (Acts 19:8).

"These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee" (Tit.2:15).

"But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear" (1 Pt.3:15).

DIVISION II

THE BIRTH AND GROWTH OF THE CHURCH, 2:1-7:60

J. The Believers of the First Church: Essentials for Life Together, 4:32-37

(4:32-37) Introduction: the life of the early believers and church was most unusual—a far cry from the way the church and its believers live today. Yet a study of their lives gives us a clear picture of the essentials for living together and for fulfilling the mission of the Lord.

1. They were of one heart and soul (v.32).
2. They gave a great witness to the resurrection (v.33).
3. They took care of all who had need (v.34-37).

1 (4:32) Brotherhood—Unity: the early church was of one heart and of one soul. The order of the Greek sentence says, "the heart and the soul [were] one." The person's whole being was one with all other believers. There was complete and total...

- oneness
- unity
- accord
- harmony
- love

And remember, there were multitudes, thousands of believers at this time (cp. Acts 2:41; 3:4). How in the world can a body of people achieve one heart and one soul, become so unified? This verse reveals how.

1. The early believers gave their heart and soul to Jesus' Lordship and mission. They believed, truly believed, that the Lord Jesus...

- had died for their sins.
- had risen from the dead.
- had been exalted to the right hand of God.
- had commissioned them to go forth, reaching and helping people.
- was to return and reward believers for being faithful to the great mission of saving and ministering to people.

They were thoroughly convinced of the mission of Christ, of the great commission (Acts 1:8; Mt.28:19-20); therefore, they gave all they were to speak the Word of God (v.29, 31). Nothing, not even threats and persecution could keep them from proclaiming the Word and carrying out the mission of Christ.

The point is this: they knew Jesus to be the Lord; therefore, they gave their lives to be His servants (doulos, slaves). They surrendered themselves totally to the Lordship of Christ...

- to His life and will.
- to His purpose and mission.

Christ became their life and will, purpose and mission—their all in all. They lived and existed to do what He said; they did it so that men might be saved from sin, death, and hell and receive eternal life. As just said, nothing, not even threats and persecution, could keep them from proclaiming and carrying out the mission of Christ. In fact, opposition only spurred them on with more boldness and energy in their witness (see outline and notes—Acts 4:23-31).

Another way to say the same thing is this: the early believers knew what the Lordship of Christ really meant. It meant the surrender of all one is and has so that the whole world may know that no man need ever die. A man can live eternally, truly live forever, beginning right now. The early believers just could not keep such a glorious message to themselves, no matter what it cost them personally or financially.

2. The early church gave their heart and soul to the Lord's demand, the demand to love and to share all things with the needy. (See outline, notes, and DEEPER STUDY # 6—Acts 2:44-45 for more discussion.)

The early believer did not...

- insist on owning property
- count his possessions as his own
- trust in riches
- take from others
- glory in possessions (things)
- lay and store up wealth

The early believer truly believed...

- in the Lordship of Christ
- in the inheritance of eternal life (heaven)
- in being rewarded for faithfulness to Christ
- in denying self (all one is and has) to be saved
- in forsaking all for Christ
- in loving others sacrificially
- in God's ownership of all

The early church believed they were on earth to serve Christ and were being blessed with material possessions to help others. Therefore, they met the necessities of their own families, then they gave what they had left to meet the needs of a lost, desperate, impoverished world.

Scripture drives the point home: the early church believed...

- that the true believer was to "labor, working with his hands...that he may have to give to him that needeth" (Eph.4:28).
- "That...your abundance may be a supply for their want" (2 Cor.8:14).
- "That their abundance [whether things or labor] also may be a supply for your want" (2 Cor.8:14).
- that "he that had gathered much had nothing left over" (2 Cor.8:15).
- that "he that had gathered little had no lack" (2 Cor.8:15).
- that "God [will] put the same earnest care into the heart of [believers] for you" (2 Cor.8:16).

Note a very practical point, easily seen. Unless the rich use their money to the point of sacrificing, millions will continue to die from senseless causes, causes that could be eliminated by a concentrated effort of the wealthy.

- ⇒ The hungry will continue to starve.
- ⇒ The cold will continue to freeze.
- ⇒ The unclothed will continue to be embarrassed, be misfits.
- ⇒ The unsheltered will continue to suffer exposure.
- ⇒ The uneducated will continue to be ignorant.
- ⇒ The diseased will continue to be eaten away.
- ⇒ The abnormal will continue to suffer and be useless.
- ⇒ The lost will continue to die without Christ.

There are businessmen and leaders with the ability and know-how (under God) to meet the desperate needs of the world. Sorrow, suffering, pain and death could be eliminated by just some of the world's leaders if they would just surrender their lives to Christ—all they are and have—and get to it.

A man should never forget this: Jesus said that the rich man lost his soul and went to hell because of indulgence, extravagance, storing, hoarding, and neglecting the needs of those in the world who were in such desperate straits. (See notes—Lk.12:15-19; note and DEEPER STUDY # 1—Lk.16:19-21.) There is no hope for the man, no matter what the institutional church and its leaders say—no hope for the man who holds back more than what he and his dear family need. The reason is simple: the starving child is God's dear child. Let no man think God will excuse him for the death of His dear child who starved to death when the man had the money to help. Imagine the scene. A starving child leans against the outside wall of a building. Inside is a man with food or money to help the child. Yet the man refuses to help; he holds back, stores up, banks, invests his money to get more and more. All the while, God's dear child starves and starves and dies starving. What is it that confuses the mind of man so much? What is it that blinds man, that causes him to think that he will be acceptable to God and allowed to live in heaven forever? What causes him to think that his sin will be overlooked? God's dear starving child died because of the man's holding back. Christ teaches that there is no way God will excuse the man. The man will be held accountable and judged severely.

Think about this for a moment: If God cares so much about man's human suffering, how much more does He care about man's spiritual and eternal suffering? He cared enough to sacrifice His Son for man's spiritual rebirth. If any man keeps back anything when it could be spreading the gospel of eternal life around the world, how much more punishment does he deserve? Christ teaches that every soul is lost and doomed that does not accept Him. The responsibility to send the gospel around the world lies in the hands of men. God is not going to send any other being to earth to do the job. It is up to men. Men must work to earn a livelihood, but they must also work so they will have enough to meet the needs of the world. In addition, some must be willing to go and become personally involved. This is the only way the needs of the world will ever be met.

Now, for the question asked at the beginning of this point. How in the world can a body of people achieve one heart and one soul, become as unified as the early church did?

- ⇒ By giving their souls and hearts, their whole beings to Jesus' Lordship and mission. When men and women surrender to the Lordship of Christ, they become one in following and doing His will. His life and mission become their life and mission. They live the same kind of life, the same style of life, and they work diligently to achieve the same mission. They become one in life and mission which is to say they become one in everything. There is something else as well, really the most significant factor: when people surrender to the Lordship of Christ, the Spirit of God gives them a supernatural love and a spiritual bond with other believers (cp. Ro.5:5; Gal.5:22-23; Jn.13:34-35. See DEEPER STUDY # 3—Acts 2:42.) It is this that creates one heart and one soul in the church.

"A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another" (Jn.13:34-35).

"And they continued stedfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers" (Acts 2:42).

“And hope maketh not ashamed; because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us” (Ro.5:5).

“For as we have many members in one body, and all members have not the same office [gifts]: so we, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members of one another” (Ro.12:4-5).

“For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ: till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ” (Eph.4:12-13).

“Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment” (1 Cor.1:10).

2 (4:33) Church—Witnessing: the early church gave a great witness to the resurrection. (See outline and DEEPER STUDY # 4—Acts 2:24; 2:25-36 for discussion and verses.) They witnessed with great power and great grace was upon them all (see note and DEEPER STUDY # 1, Witnessing—Acts 1:8; cp. Acts 4:31; see DEEPER STUDY # 1, Grace—Tit.2:11-15 for discussion).

3 (4:34-37) Stewardship—Ministering: the early church took care of all those who had need. Note four revealing facts that are extremely instructive and challenging. These facts show how obedient the early believers were and just how obedient God expects all believers to be. (As these facts are studied, imagine how different the church would be if believers today reached out like the early believers. What a change would be wrought in the heart of the world!)

1. Fact 1: no one lacked. There was not “any among them that lacked” (endees), that was left in need or in want, that went without. The idea is that no family, no man, no woman, no child was neglected. No one was left without the necessities of life; no one had to face a day without the food, clothing, or shelter that he needed to take care of himself or of his dear family. All of God’s dear children were taken care of. Remember a critical question: what was it that caused the believers to take care of the needy? It was love—the duty laid upon them by Christ. Christ had told them to love and share with all those who lacked the necessities of life. There was a true brotherhood, a genuine love and caring for each other.

2. Fact 2: all repented of their hoarding, and they gave everything beyond their own necessities.
- ⇒ Some possessed lands (estates, plural) they did not need. They sold them and gave the monies to meet the needs of others.
  - ⇒ Some possessed houses (plural) that were not essential to their necessities. They too sold them and gave the monies to meet the needs of others.

Some picture this as saying that people sold the homes in which they lived, as though they moved into the streets or under the stars, exposing their families to all kinds of elements and dangers. This is most unlikely. Where would such a multitude of families (over 8,000 at this time) move, live, and survive? Shelter or housing is a necessity. Christ said so (Mt.6:25-34). What the believers were doing is just what Christ demanded:

“If thou wilt be perfect [complete], go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come and follow me” ( Mt.19:21).

“And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself [give all one is and has], and take up his cross daily, and follow me” (Lk.9:23).

“Sell that ye have, and give alms; provide yourselves bags which wax not old, a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief approacheth, neither moth corrupteth” (Lk.12:33).

“So likewise, whosoever he be of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple” (Lk.14:33).

“Laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold on eternal life” (1 Tim.6:19).

“The earth is the LORD’s, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein” (Ps.24:1).

They truly loved Christ, so they were repenting of their hoarding, covetousness, and extravagant living. They were focusing upon a world that was full of desperate needs and death.

They truly loved others, so they were giving all they had beyond their own necessities to help meet the world’s desperate needs.

3. Fact 3: the needy received only what they needed, only what their necessities were. There are always those among us and around the world who need help, who are not able to take care of themselves. The reasons are innumerable. They are...

- too old
- too young
- diseased
- injured
- unemployed
- orphaned
- widowed
- divorced
- oppressed
- broken-hearted
- unskilled
- uneducated

What the early church did was very simple.

- ⇒ They looked at all those around them and pin-pointed the needs.
- ⇒ They repented of their hoarding and gave to those who had need.
- ⇒ They gave only what the necessities were.

ACTS 4:32-37

“But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you” (Mt.6:33).

“When they were filled, he said unto his disciples, Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost” (Jn.6:12).

4. Fact 4: one man in particular set a godly example—Barnabas. (See note—Acts 4:36-37 for discussion.)

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(4:36-37) Barnabas: this is the first mention of Barnabas, the Levite, who was from the Island of Cyprus. His name means “Son of exhortation” or “Son of consolation.” Barnabas was an extremely important person in the life of the early church. His life is a dynamic example to all.

- ⇒ He was gifted by the Spirit of God with the gift of an apostle (Acts 14:14; cp. Eph.4:11).
- ⇒ He was totally committed to Christ and to helping others, even to the point of selling land to help (Acts 4:36-37).
- ⇒ He stood up and defended Paul before the early believers who feared Paul because Paul had been a spy and had persecuted the church (Acts 9:26-27).
- ⇒ He was sent forth by the church to exhort believers in the first known Gentile church, Antioch (Acts 11:22f).
- ⇒ He sought after Paul, wanting Paul to serve as his associate, and he disciplined Paul in Antioch (Acts 11:25-26).
- ⇒ He served with Paul (Acts 11:30; 12:25; 13:2-15:40).
- ⇒ He was one of the first two missionaries, Paul being the other (Acts 13:2-3).
- ⇒ He disciplined John Mark (Acts 12:25; 15:37-40).
- ⇒ He was called upon to defend Gentile salvation before the Jerusalem Council (Acts 15:2, 12).
- ⇒ He differed and split with Paul (Acts 15:36-40).
- ⇒ He backslid, drifted away for a brief period (Gal.2:11-13).
- ⇒ He is mentioned as an example by Paul to the Corinthians (1 Cor.9:6).
- ⇒ He was a cousin to John Mark (Col.4:10).

DIVISION II

THE BIRTH AND GROWTH OF THE CHURCH, 2:1-7:60

K. The First Sin and Trouble in the Church: Keeping Back, 5:1-11

(5:1-11) Introduction: the first sin ever to appear in the church was serious, very serious. It was the sin of keeping back. The sin and the judgment upon it serve as a warning to every believer.

1. Keeping back is sin (v.1).
2. Keeping back is severely judged (v.2-6).
3. Keeping back influences others to sin (v.7-10).
4. Keeping back—its judgment causes great fear (v.11).

I (5:1-4) Stewardship—Sin—Hypocrisy—Deception: keeping back is sin. Ananias and his wife, Sapphira, were professing believers, members of the early church. They professed Christ, professed...

- to deny self, all they were and had.
- to take up the cross daily.
- to follow Christ.

They had some property which they did not personally need for their own necessities. They were professing to follow Christ, to take Him at His Word. Therefore, they sold their property in order to help those who were desperately needing food, shelter, clothing, and the gospel. But their profession was just that, profession only, a false profession. It was hypocritical, deceptive, a lie. They tried to fake their commitment. They tried to deceive the church. Their sin, holding back, was fivefold.

1. Keeping back is partial commitment. Ananias and Sapphira refused to give everything beyond their own necessities. They kept back part of the money that so many desperately needed, kept back that which was the difference between life and death for so many. They hoarded, chose to hang on to part of the world.

“And he said unto them, Take heed, and beware of covetousness: for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth” (Lk.12:15).

“Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth; fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry” (Col.3:5).

“For the love of money is the root of all evil: which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows” (1 Tim.6:10).

“There is that scattereth, and yet increaseth; and there is that withholdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth to poverty” (Pr.11:24).

“Whoso stoppeth his ears at the cry of the poor, he also shall cry himself, but shall not be heard” (Pr.21:13).

“He that giveth unto the poor shall not lack: but he that hideth his eyes shall have many a curse” (Pr.28:27).

“There is a sore evil which I have seen under the sun, namely, riches kept for the owners thereof to their hurt” (Eccl.5:13).

“For from the least of them even unto the greatest of them every one is given to covetousness; and from the prophet even unto the priest every one dealeth falsely” (Jer.6:13).

“And they come unto thee as the people cometh, and they sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but they will not do them: for with their mouth they show much love, but their heart goeth after their covetousness” (Ezk.33:31).

“And they covet fields, and take them by violence; and houses, and take them away: so they oppress a man and his house, even a man and his heritage” (Mic.2:2).

2. Keeping back is deception: it is deceiving the church. Ananias and Sapphira wanted the church to think they were fellow believers. They wanted the privilege and the honor, the acceptance and the fellowship of believers without paying the price of commitment and loyalty to Christ and His church. They did not want to be left out. They wanted to be included and to become part of the church fellowship. But they did not want it enough to totally commit themselves to Christ and His mission. So they tried to deceive the church. They became pretenders (hypocrites, liars).

“For they that are such serve not our Lord Jesus Christ, but their own belly; and by good words and fair speeches deceive the hearts of the simple” (Ro.16:18).

“For many walk, of whom I have told you often, and now tell you even weeping, that they are the enemies of the cross of Christ: whose end is destruction, whose God is their belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who mind earthly things” (Ph.3:18-19).

“But evil men and seducers shall wax worse and worse, deceiving, and being deceived” (2 Tim.3:13).

“The getting of treasures by a lying tongue is a vanity tossed to and fro of them that seek death” (Pr.21:6).

“And they will deceive every one his neighbour, and will not speak the truth: they have taught their tongue to speak lies, and weary themselves to commit iniquity” (Jer.9:5).

“The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked: who can know it?” (Jer.17:9).

“For the rich men thereof are full of violence, and the inhabitants thereof have spoken lies, and their tongue is deceitful in their mouth” (Mic.6:12).

3. Keeping back is allowing Satan to fill the heart instead of the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit is not the Person who stirs sin; He is not the Person who arouses a person to hoard and keep back. The Holy Spirit stirs love—love that cares and ministers (Ro.5:5; Gal.5:22-23). The Holy Spirit is not a murderer, not the one who tempts men to keep back that which would keep others alive (whether food or safety from freezing weather, or whether life in Christ). Keeping back is of Satan; it is allowing one’s heart to be filled with Satan’s lies...

- the lies that the challenge to give all one is and has is too much to ask (Lk.9:23).
- the lies that to lose oneself completely in the cause of Christ, to give up the world, is too unreasonable.
- the lies that what is important is to secure more and more in order to be acceptable, to have position and promotion, esteem and the comforts of the world.
- the lies that one is justified in keeping back some because no one knows the future and, after all, everyone else does it.
- the lies that one can give some and keep back some and still be acceptable to God.

The thing to remember is that Satan is the “father of lies and murder” (Jn.8:44). His strategy is to get us to believe his lie that we can keep back and hoard. His purpose is to keep the desperate needs of the world from being met so that many persons will die prematurely, die without ever experiencing life, real life. Christ counters the lies of the devil with words spoken as simply as language can express, counters with all clarity and without equivocation or apology:

“No man cometh unto the Father, but by me” (Jn.14:6).

“If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me” (Lk.9:23).

“Yet lackest thou one thing: sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me” (Lk.18:22).

“Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels: For I was an hungered, and ye gave me no meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me no drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me not in: naked, and ye clothed me not: sick, and in prison, and ye visited me not. Then shall they also answer him, saying Lord, when saw we thee an hungered, or athirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister unto thee: Then shall he answer them, saying, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me. And these shall go away into everlasting punishment: but the righteous into life eternal” (Mt.25:41-46).

“There was a certain rich man, which was clothed in purple and fine linen, and fared sumptuously every day....and it came to pass that...the rich man also died, and was buried; and in hell he lift up his eyes, being in torments....Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things: but now...thou art tormented” (Lk.16:19, 22-23, 25).

4. Keeping back is lying to the Holy Spirit. There are several ways this is true.
- ⇒ A person says that he is surrendering his life or goods to Christ, but he does not give all.
  - ⇒ A person says that he wants the Spirit's presence and power when he is really unwilling to surrender all.
  - ⇒ A person says that he is committed to walk as a brother with other believers (who are indwelt by the Spirit) when he is not willing to pay the full price of discipleship.
  - ⇒ A person says that he wants the fulness of God's Spirit when the acceptance and approval of men is more important.

"But Peter said, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thine heart to lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land?" (Acts 5:3).

"Ye stiffnecked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye" (Acts 7:51).

"And grieve not the holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption" (Eph.4:30).

"Quench not the Spirit" (1 Th.5:19).

"Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace?" (Heb.10:29).

5. Keeping back is acting against and lying to God Himself. This, of course, is very serious.
- a. Keeping back mocks God. A person mocks God's Word when he says that he is giving his life to God (which means all he is and has), but he does not do it. The person who keeps back is saying that he does not have to be honest with God, that he can lie to God. Pretending always mocks God and His Word. Pretending damages the name of God and causes the world to mock and scoff God, to deny Him and His power. The pretender actually does more harm and damage to the name of Christ than the greatest sinner. How? A pretender shows and proclaims something—his life cries out to the world: "The power of God's Son is...
- not attractive enough to draw me."
  - not challenging enough to captivate me."
  - not important enough for me to give up everything."
  - not powerful enough to change me."
  - not loving enough to demand my loyalty."
  - not beneficial enough to pull me out of the world."
- b. Keeping back cuts the heart of God. God loves the pretender (hypocrite, deceiver, liar). As long as the pretender's heart has enough softness to respond to the gospel, God reaches out to him. He wants the pretender, the man who keeps back, to be saved. As long as he is lost, God's heart aches, longs, hurts for the man to come home.
- God's heart is also cut to the core by the suffering and death of so many who could be helped by that which the man keeps back. God feels the infirmities and weaknesses of the whole human race (Heb.2:17-18; 4:15-16). God feels so much that He gave His only Son to make a way for the suffering of man to be handled and erased. The very reason so many are still suffering and are so desperate in the world is that so many of us are still keeping back instead of giving all we are and have to the mission of Christ.
- c. Keeping back is distrusting God.
- ⇒ Keeping back is not letting go of what one has beyond his necessities.
  - ⇒ Keeping back is feeling that one has to keep back just in case.
  - ⇒ Keeping back is being apprehensive that what one has might not be enough when it is needed.
  - ⇒ Keeping back is believing that securing mammon (comfort, ease, pleasure, plenty, money, houses, lands, investments) is what life is all about.
  - ⇒ Keeping back is trusting in mammon and the world for one's security.
  - ⇒ Keeping back is thinking one can serve God (give some to Him) and mammon (keep and hoard some).

God is simply not trusted, not completely and wholly, not in the sense that He craves. His Word is not believed or taken at face value. The person who keeps back rejects the clear teaching of God's Word...

⇒ that a man must deny himself completely.

"And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me" (Lk.9:23).

⇒ that God will give all "these things"—all the necessities of life—to the man who seeks Him first.

"But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you" (Mt.6:33).

"Then Peter began to say unto him, Lo, we have left all, and have followed thee" (Mk.10:28).

"And after these things he went forth, and saw a publican, named Levi, sitting at the receipt of custom: and he said unto him, Follow me" (Lk.5:27).

"Sell that ye have, and give alms; provide yourselves bags which wax not old, a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief approacheth, neither moth corrupteth" (Lk.12:33).

“So likewise, whosoever he be of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple” (Lk.14:33).

“And take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you un-awares” (Lk.21:34).

“And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdom of God’s sake. Who shall not receive manifold more in this present time, and in the world to come life everlasting” (Lk.18:29-30).

“We then that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves” (Ro.15:1).

2 (5:5-6) Judgment—Sin, Results: keeping back is severely judged. Note exactly what happened to Ananias. Peter said nothing, absolutely nothing about death. He did not even say anything about judgment. He merely pointed out the sin of Ananias. The judgment is of God and God alone. But look ahead to Sapphira (v.9). Peter did declare judgment to her. He and the whole church now knew the seriousness of the sin of holding back. The judgment of Ananias and Sapphira teaches us several crucial lessons.

1. The sin of holding back is serious, very serious to God. When a person comes to Jesus Christ, God expects the person to be sincere and genuine through and through. He expects the person to deny himself—to give all he is and has to meet the desperate needs of dying people. This is the only reason Jesus Christ came to earth. There is no acceptance of anyone who does any less—only judgment.

2. The sin of keeping back involves many other sins, terrible sins. At the very least it involves the five sins described in this passage (see outline and note—Acts 5:1-4).

3. The heart of a person is not truly known except by God. When some read this passage, they wonder why Ananias was not given a chance to repent. They think the judgment was perhaps harsh. They have difficulty thinking of God as someone who judges people to death. But note exactly what is said:

- ⇒ “Satan filled thine heart.”
- ⇒ “[A] lie to the Holy Spirit.”
- ⇒ “Thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God.”

No one could know these sins had filled Ananias’ heart, not by what he did, not without God. God revealed to Peter that the sins had filled and completely possessed Ananias. It appeared that Ananias was lying “unto men,” simply trying to deceive the church. But it is said that his heart was filled, completely occupied and possessed, by Satan. No one could have looked at the sins of Ananias and known their depth—that all three sins were so deeply rooted—not apart from God revealing the fact.

The point is this: only God knows the heart of a person, what is in the depth of a person’s heart and what fills a person’s heart. Only God knows when a heart is fully possessed by evil. This is the reason God alone can judge, the reason judgment has to be left up to God.

“Many that are first shall be last; and the last shall be first” (Mt.19:30).

4. The sin of Ananias seems to have been close to blasphemy against the Holy Spirit (that is, saying the work of the Holy Spirit is of the devil. See note—Mt.12:31-32). The sin of Ananias, of keeping back was saying...

- the work of the Holy Spirit allows sin.
- the work of the Holy Spirit in a life still allows a person to keep back something for himself.
- the movement of the Holy Spirit in a life still allows the devil to fill a heart with some sin.
- a person can be both righteous and worldly, living for God and for mammon.
- the Holy Spirit is not more important in a life than the devil and mammon.

5. If Ananias and Sapphira were genuine believers, if they had really trusted the Lord as their Savior, then their sin may be the “sin unto death” taught by Scripture (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—1 Jn.5:16 for discussion).

Now note a most serious fact, a fact so serious it determines one’s eternal destiny.

- ⇒ Judgment upon sin does not always come as soon or as quickly as it did upon Ananias and Sapphira.
- ⇒ But all sin will be judged. There is no escape from the penalty of sin, not if a person continues in sin.

“The wages of sin is death” (Ro.6:23).

“But she that liveth in pleasure is dead while she liveth” (1 Tim.5:6).

“But they that will be rich fall into temptation and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts, which drown men in destruction and perdition” (1 Tim.6:9).

“The soul that sinneth, it shall die” (Ezk.18:4, 20).

“He that pursueth evil pursueth it to his own death” (Pr.11:19).

“Evil shall slay the wicked” (Ps.34:21).

“But he that sinneth against me wrongeth his own soul: all they that hate me love death” (Pr.8:36).

“The perverseness of transgressors shall destroy them” (Pr.11:3).

“Them that walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness...shall utterly perish in their own corruption” (2 Pt.2:10, 12).

The point is simply this: keeping back is condemned by God, and it is to be judged. Sooner or later it is to be severely judged. The only answer to sin is confession and repentance. The sin and judgment of Ananias and Sapphira shows this. God hates sin. Men must repent of sin. There is no other way to be acceptable to God.

“Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost” (Acts 2:38).

“Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord” (Acts 3:19).

“Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee” (Acts 8:22).

“And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men every where to repent” (Acts 17:30).

“If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land” (2 Chron.7:14).

“Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon” (Is.55:7).

“But if the wicked will turn from all his sins that he hath committed, and keep all my statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, he shall not die” (Ezk.18:21).

- 3 (5:7-10) Stumbling Block—Sin, Misleading Others: keeping back influences others to sin. Note the three subpoints in the outline. Ananias, as head of the household, was responsible for his wife. He led his wife to follow right along with him; he caused her to lie. He had the opportunity to lead his wife in righteousness, that is, in helping to meet the needs of so many who were so desperately in need. He had the opportunity to lead his wife to a complete and fulfilled life in Christ, a life perfectly assured of eternity. Instead he led her to sin and death. Scripture is strong in what it has to say about being a stumbling block and leading others into sin and death. (See notes—Mt.18:6; 18:7-9 for more discussion.)

“But whoso shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea” (Mt.18:6).

“But woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men: for ye neither go in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering to go in” (Mt.23:13).

“Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge this rather, that no man put a stumblingblock or an occasion to fall in his brother’s way” (Ro.14:13).

“Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump?” (1 Cor.5:6).

“But when ye sin so against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ. Wherefore, if meat make my brother to offend, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend” (1 Cor.8:12-13).

- 4 (5:11) Fear, Godly—Self-denial: keeping back—its judgment caused great fear both in the church and in the world among those who heard about it. Everyone recognized the great cost and seriousness of following Christ. Following the Lord meant...

- denying self completely, surrendering to Christ all one is and has.

“And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me” (Lk.9:23).

“Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man” (Eccl.12:13).

“Sanctify the LORD of hosts himself; and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread” (Is.8:13).

- walking the straight and narrow path, living righteously and godly in this present world and looking for the glorious return of the great God and Savior Jesus Christ.

“And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell” (Mt.10:28).

“For if ye live after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the Spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live” (Ro.8:13).

“And they that are Christ’s have crucified the flesh with the affections and lusts” (Gal.5:24).

“Teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world; looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ” (Tit.2:12-13).

“And if ye call on the Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to every man’s work, pass the time of your sojourning here in fear” (1 Pt.1:17).

DIVISION II

THE BIRTH AND GROWTH OF THE CHURCH, 2:1-7:60

L. The Second Persecution of the Church (Part I): A Picture of Abuse, 5:12-25

(5:12-25) Introduction: this experience of Peter and John gives a clear picture of persecution.

1. The reasons for persecution (v.12-16).
2. The persecution (v.17-18).
3. The miraculous deliverance through and from persecution (v.19-21).
4. The failure of persecution: utter perplexity and frustration (v.21-25).

1 (5:12-16) Persecution: the reasons for persecution are pictured in these verses. Wherever and whenever these things take place among believers, there will be persecution of one sort or another.

1. Signs and wonders and miracles cause persecution. Note: there were many signs and wonders, not just a few. God works signs and wonders among His people to demonstrate clearly and without question...

- "that He is, and that He is a rewarder of them that diligently seek Him" (Heb.11:6).
- that His Son, Jesus Christ, is alive and still actively at work upon the earth, saving and meeting the needs of men.
- that it is the people who trust God that God looks after and that possess His authority and power upon earth.

The world does not experience nor understand signs and wonders. The world does not understand how a life can be totally changed by the saving grace of Christ or how a miraculous healing of the body can take place. And what the world does not experience and understand, it often rejects, mocks, abuses, and persecutes. Why?

- ⇒ Because miracles show the ignorance and inability of man.
- ⇒ Because miracles show that there is a Being higher than man—a God to whom man must surrender and obey.
- ⇒ Because it disturbs men and reminds them of their great need.

2. The great unity among believers causes persecution. The world fears the unity and binding force, that is, the “one accord” of believers. They fear the force, the strength...
- of their doctrine, worship, and discipline.
  - of their purpose and mission.
  - of what so great a body bound together can do.

“That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me” (Jn.17:21).

“Only let your conversation be as it becometh the gospel of Christ: that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may hear of your affairs, that ye stand fast in one spirit, with one mind striving together for the faith of the gospel” (Ph.1:27).

“For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us” (Eph.2:14).

3. The holding of public worship by true believers causes persecution. The worship and praise of God is the foundational belief of believers. The world often fears...

- the attraction and pull of sincere and committed worship.
- the loyalty and commitment of sincere worship.

4. Separation from the world and being different causes persecution. The believers of the early church were different: their lifestyle, their commitment to God, their giving all they were and had above their necessities, their fear of God. Their commitment caused them to walk completely separate from the world and from the enjoyable pleasures it offered. The believers were radically different.

“No man dare join himself to them [the church]” (v.13).

“Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you, and will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty” (2 Cor.6:17-18).

“And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them” (Eph.5:11).

“Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world” (1 Jn.2:15-16).

“I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God” (Ro.12:1-2).

5. The commitment to reach out and evangelize the world causes persecution. The world believes there are many ways to reach God. So long as the world’s religions allow men to live as they wish and still give them a sense of security, they are acceptable and considered to be of value. Therefore, the commitment and mission of true believers, that there is only one way to God, is considered narrow by the world. The world mocks and opposes the idea that Christ is the only Savior of the world. The world rejects and does its best to erase the message of Christ from off the earth.

“For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life” (Jn.3:16).

“Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of eternal life” (Jn.6:68).

“I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins” (Jn.8:24).

“Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved” (Acts 4:12).

“For I determined not to know any thing among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified” (1 Cor.2:2).

“For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ” (1 Cor.3:11).

6. The reaching out and mobilizing of multitudes causes persecution. The world fears large crowds who are different and separated from it. Even if the crowds mean no harm, even if the crowd is out to help the world, the world fears it. Believers are different in a way the world does not want, that is, different in morality and righteousness, giving and sacrificing—sacrificing even to the point of giving all one is and has.

“Howbeit many of them which heard the word believed; and the number of the men was about five thousand” (Acts 4:4).

“And the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number believed, and turned unto the Lord” (Acts 11:21).

“It is like a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown in the earth, is less than all the seeds that be in the earth: but when it is sown, it groweth up, and becometh greater than all herbs, and shooteth out great branches; so that the fowls of the air may lodge under the shadow of it” (Mk.4:31-32).

“Of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even for ever. The zeal of the LORD of hosts will perform this” (Is.9:7).

7. The meeting of man’s needs causes persecution. True believers see the world as being in desperate need, both physically and spiritually. Therefore, they give all they are and have above their own necessities to meet those needs. The world...

- mocks and ridicules a commitment that demands all a person has, feeling that giving some is enough, even if millions of people are still left suffering.
- fears the example of a commitment so deeply made, lest their own consciences (salved by giving some) be convicted.
- dislikes being reminded and told they are sinful in their storing up and hoarding.

Therefore, the world approves of some needs being met by some commitment and some giving. But they reject the demand of Christ, the demand that insists upon total commitment and sacrifice.

“If any man will come after me, let him deny himself [all he is and has] and take up his cross daily and follow me” (Lk.9:23).

“Then Peter began to say unto him, Lo, we have left all, and have followed thee” (Mk.10:28).

“So likewise, whosoever he be of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple” (Lk.14:33).

Note that the people were clamoring to get to Peter, believing if they could just fall under his shadow they would be healed. Note: there is no mention that anyone was actually healed this way. However, the implication is that some people were. If so, the same two ingredients that bring about healing miracles were at work: the Lord’s power and the faith of the sick. We must always remember that God cares and loves so much that He always honors a person’s faith. If a person had a faith so great that he really believed that Peter’s shadow carried the virtue and power of God, God would most likely heal the person. How wonderful the love and care of God!

“Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you” (Mt.17:20).

“Again I say unto you, That if two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven” (Mt.18:19).

“Jesus said unto him, If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth” (Mk.9:23).

“And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you” (Lk.11:9).

2 (5:17-18) Persecution: the persecution itself. Note two points.

1. The persecutors were the religionists and secular leaders of the world (see notes and DEEPER STUDY # 1,2—Acts 4:1; DEEPER STUDY # 2,3—23:8). They were jealous (zelou), which means a boiling zeal and envy. They were consumed with a boiling anger and jealousy or envy over the preaching of Jesus. (See note—Acts 4:2-4 for discussion. See note and DEEPER STUDY # 1—Mt.12:10 for more discussion as to why the religionists feared and opposed Jesus so much.)

2. There was the persecution itself. They were arrested and jailed. This was an attempt to silence them through...

- restraint
- fright
- shame

Being opposed, actually arrested and jailed by the authorities, would be enough to restrain, frighten, and shame many preachers and believers.

Thought 1. The believer knows and has been forewarned that he will suffer persecution.

“Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you; if they have kept my saying, they will keep yours also” (Jn.15:20).

“These things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be offended. They shall put you out of the synagogues; yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service. And these things will they do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor me. But these things have I told you, that when the time shall come, ye may remember that I told you of them. And these things I said not unto you at the beginning, because I was with you” (Jn.16:1-4).

“For unto you it is given in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake” (Ph.1:29).

“Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution” (2 Tim.3:12).

“Marvel not, my brethren, if the world hate you” (1 Jn.3:13).

“Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you: but rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ’s sufferings; that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy” (1 Pt.4:12-13).

3 (5:19-21) Deliverance: the miraculous deliverance through and from persecution. Peter and John's situation was serious.

- ⇒ It was night.
- ⇒ They were behind prison doors.
- ⇒ They were doubly imprisoned: guards were also stationed outside the prison doors (v.23).
- ⇒ They were to stand trial the next morning, a trial that could threaten their lives (v.33).

Note three points.

1. God's deliverance in this situation was through the miraculous working of an angel. Scripture definitely says angels are "ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation" (Heb.1:14. See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Angels—Heb.1:4-14 for more discussion.) The point is this: God cares. He always cares about the troubling situations of His dear children. Therefore, He will do whatever is necessary to deliver His child through trouble (Ro.8:28).

a. God sometimes delivers by giving His presence of love, joy, peace, and security so the believer can endure and minister while in the trial. Paul is a dynamic example. He spent years in prison, but while there he was always witnessing and ministering (see note—Ph.1:12-14).

"There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it" (1 Cor.10:13).

"Fear thou not; For I am with thee; be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness" (Is.41:10).

"Wherefore in all things it behooved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people. For in that he himself hath suffered being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted" (Heb.2:17-18).

"For we have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin. Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need" (Heb.4:15-16).

"So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me" (Heb.13:6).

b. God sometimes delivers believers unto Himself, taking them on home to heaven when their ministry on earth is done. Sometimes the believer is to remain in the trial and die as a martyr or as a sufferer in the name of the Lord Jesus. Sometimes there is a need to reach some observer standing there witnessing the trial of the believer. The believer's hope and faithfulness to the end is used by God to preach volumes to the observers. Through suffering, God proves His glorious love and power for His dear servant.

"And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever" (2 Tim.4:18).

"Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil; and deliver them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage" (Heb.2:14-15).

c. God sometimes delivers believers out and away from trouble. They can best serve the Lord by being free of the trial.

"Who delivered us from so great a death, and doth deliver: in whom we trust that he will yet deliver us" (2 Cor.1:10).

"The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations [trials, trouble]" (2 Pt.2:9).

"Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence" (Ps.91:3).

"Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the LORD" (Jer.1:8).

2. God's purpose for Peter and John was for them to "go, stand and speak" to the people again. The Greek is strong, demanding boldness and courage.

- ⇒ "Go": go now, immediately.
- ⇒ "Stand": take your stand; stand forth without reservation or hesitation.
- ⇒ "Speak": proclaim, preach, teach—courageously, boldly, without fear.
- ⇒ "All the words of this life": the whole gospel of salvation; the glorious message of the death and resurrection of Christ; not watering down or changing anything; not holding back; not trying to soften the message to make it more acceptable.

Note a significant fact: difficult assignments usually follow miracles. A heavy responsibility falls upon the man for whom God works a miracle. God frees His servant in order to perform a great work. Miracles perplex the world. God sees to it because He wants them to lead to the conviction and conversion of men.

“But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

“For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard” (Acts 4:20).

“Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God” (2 Tim.1:8).

“These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee” (Tit.2:15).

“But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear” (1 Pt.3:15).

3. The disciples obeyed, and they obeyed fully and completely, without hesitation. They obeyed as soon as they could. They arose “early in the morning” and entered the temple and taught.

“If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father’s commandments, and abide in his love” (Jn.15:10).

“For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind. Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God” (2 Tim.1:7-8).

4 (5:21-25) Persecution: the failure of persecution resulted in utter perplexity and frustration. The story of what happened next is an excellent picture of persecution whenever it is launched against Christ and His followers.

1. The persecutors (worldly court) convened to try the disciples.

2. The guards found them missing: they had been delivered out of the persecution. (As pointed out in the previous point, God always delivers His dear child out of the suffering of persecution, either through or away from it.)

3. The persecutors doubted (dieporoun): were perplexed; completely baffled; wondering; questioning; at a loss; thoroughly puzzled. They could not understand how the disciples could be delivered “out of their hand.” They were apprehensive about the growth of the new movement.

In the present situation, the authorities probably thought some of the guards had either willfully released the prisoners or else been careless while on duty.

4. The persecutors made an unbelievable discovery. The disciples had not fled for their lives like other escaped convicts would. They were “standing in the temple, and teaching the people.” They were demonstrating unbelievable behavior, not acting like other men. They were like a blazing fire on a rampage through a forest, unstoppable. The persecutors had never seen a conviction and hope like the disciples’, a conviction and hope totally different from that of any other man, a conviction and hope...

- that the resurrection of Jesus Christ had actually happened.
- that men must believe the resurrection of Jesus Christ and repent to know God and to be saved.
- that they must proclaim the gospel no matter the persecution.

Thought 1. The behavior of true believers in persecution will always perplex and dumbfound the persecutors. The true believer’s trust and message of the living Lord cannot be stamped out. The believer has to proclaim and live for his Lord even in the face of persecution.

“Yet if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God on this behalf. For the time is come that judgment must begin at the house of God: and if it first begin at us, what shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God? And if the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear? Wherefore let them that suffer according to the will of God commit the keeping of their souls to him in well doing, as unto a faithful Creator” (1 Pt.4:16-19).

“Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you: but rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ’s sufferings; that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy” (1 Pt.4:12-13).

“But the God of all grace, who hath called us unto his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye have suffered a while, make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you” (1 Pt.5:10).

DIVISION II

THE BIRTH AND GROWTH OF THE CHURCH, 2:1-7:60

M. The Second Persecution of the Church (Part II): Reasons for Remaining Loyal, 5:26-42

(5:26-42) Introduction: believers must be loyal; they must obey God. The present passage is forceful in driving the point home to the human heart.

1. The disciples were re-arrested (v.26-29).
2. Reason 1: God has raised up and exalted Christ (v.30-31).
3. Reason 2: God has made us witnesses (v.32).
4. Reason 3: God has a will that must be done (v.32-40).
5. Reason 4: God is able to deliver through hardship (v.41-42).

1 (5:26-29) Persecution: the disciples were re-arrested. They were arrested without violence because the officers feared the reaction of the people. Apparently the officers had roughed up the disciples before, taking them by force (v.18). The disciples were taken before the Sanhedrin Court, the ruling body of the government. (See DEEPER STUDY # 3, Sanhedrin—Acts 4:5-6.) Three charges were brought against the disciples.

1. They had broken the specific law that the name and resurrection of Jesus Christ was not to be preached (cp. Acts 4:18).

Thought 1. Believers are sometimes forbidden to speak for their Lord by governments, businesses, fellow workers, schools, institutions, and neighbors. But note: this is in direct conflict with the Lord's command (Acts 1:4, 8).

2. They were thought to have taught a false doctrine, a doctrine that misled and stirred up people.

3. They were thought to have threatened insurrection, to have falsely accused the government of injustice and murder (Acts 4:10-12; cp. Acts 2:23, 36; 3:15). The leaders feared they would lose control of the people, their support and loyalty. They knew full well their position and livelihood were at stake.

Thought 1. Note how the truth mattered little if any to the leaders. They had killed Jesus, fully accepting the responsibility for His death before Pilate (Mt.27:25). What they needed was to confess their guilt and repent of their sins just as the people were doing.

Now note the striking response of the disciples: they must be loyal to God; they must obey God and not man. (See outline and note—Acts 4:19-20 for more discussion.)

2 (5:30-31) Jesus Christ, Work of: the disciple must be loyal; he must obey God, because God has raised up and exalted Christ. (See outlines, notes and DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 1:3; note—1:10-11; DEEPER STUDY # 4—2:24; note—2:25-36 for discussion.) God had three purposes for raising Christ.

1. To make Him a Prince and a Savior (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, 2—Acts 5:31 for discussion).
2. To give repentance (see also DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 17:29-30 for discussion).
3. To give forgiveness of sins (see note and DEEPER STUDY # 1, 2—Acts 2:38 for discussion).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(5:31) Prince (archegon): Author, Originator, Source, Leader, Pioneer, the Beginner and Finisher (Heb.12:2). Jesus Christ is the Prince of life (Acts 3:5) and of salvation (Acts 5:31; Heb.2:10 where archegon is translated captain or leader). Note the force of the point: Jesus is both the Giver and Savior of life. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2, Life—Jn.1:4; note—1:4-5; DEEPER STUDY # 1—10:10; DEEPER STUDY # 1—17:2-3.)

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(5:31) Savior (sotera): means a Deliverer, a Preserver. It has the idea of a Deliverer or a Savior who snatches a person from some terrible disaster that is going to end in their perishing (cp. Jn.3:16). (See DEEPER STUDY # 6, Salvation—Mt.1:21 for more discussion.)

1. Jesus Christ is said to be the Savior.

“For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord” (Lk.2:11).

“And [the people] said unto the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy saying: for we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, the Saviour of the world” (Jn.4:42).

“Him hath God exalted with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, for to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sins” (Acts 5:31).

“Of this man's seed hath God according to his promise raised unto Israel a Saviour, Jesus” (Acts 13:23).

“For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church: and he is the saviour of the body” (Eph.5:23).

“For our conversation [citizenship] is in heaven; from whence also we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ” (Ph.3:20).

“But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel” (2 Tim.1:10).

“To Titus, mine own son after the common faith: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ our Saviour” (Tit.1:4).

“Looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ” (Tit.2:13).

“Which he shed on us abundantly through Jesus Christ our Saviour” (Tit.3:6).

“Simon Peter, a servant and an apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have obtained like precious faith with us through the righteousness of God and our Saviour Jesus Christ” (2 Pt.1:1).

“For so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ” (2 Pt.1:11).

“For if after they have escaped the pollutions of the world through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein, and overcome, the latter end is worse with them than the beginning” (2 Pt.2:20).

“That ye may be mindful of the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets, and of the commandment of us the apostles of the Lord and Saviour” (2 Pt.3:2).

“But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be glory both now and for ever” (2 Pt.3:18).

“And we have seen and do testify that the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world” (1 Jn.4:14).

2. God is said to be the Savior.

“And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour” (Lk.1:47).

“Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the commandment of God our Saviour, and Lord Jesus Christ, which is our hope” (1 Tim.1:1).

“For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour” (1 Tim.2:3).

“For therefore we both labour and suffer reproach, because we trust in the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, specially of those that believe” (1 Tim.4:10).

“But hath in due times manifested his word through preaching, which is committed unto me according to the commandment of God our Saviour” (Tit.1:3).

“Not purloining, but showing all good fidelity; that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things” (Tit.2:10).

“But after that the kindness and love of God our Saviour toward man appeared” (Tit.3:4).

“To the only wise God our Saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and ever” (Jude 25).

3 (5:32) Witnessing: the disciple must be loyal, must obey God because God has made him a witness of “these things” (rhematōn) or sayings. What things, what sayings? The things just stated. The believer is a witness that Jesus Christ is the Prince and Savior, the only Person who accepts repentance and can forgive sins. (See note and DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 1:8 for more discussion and verses.)

Note the Holy Spirit is also said to be a witness to these things.

⇒ The Holy Spirit witnesses to Christ by giving supernatural power to the disciples to live righteously and to proclaim Christ.

“But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me: and ye also shall bear witness, because ye have been with me from the beginning” (Jn.15:26-27).

⇒ The Holy Spirit witnesses to Christ by convicting of sin and righteousness and judgment.

“Nevertheless I tell you the truth; It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send him unto you. And when he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment: of sin, because they believe not on me; of righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more; of judgment, because the prince of this world is judged” (Jn.16:7-11).

⇒ The Holy Spirit witnesses to Christ by working signs, wonders, and miracles through the believer.

“But this is that which was spoken by the prophet Joel; and it shall come to pass in the last days, saith God, I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams: and on my servants and on my handmaidens I will pour out in those days of my Spirit; and they shall prophesy: and I will show wonders in heaven above, and signs in the earth beneath; blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke: the sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lord come: and it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved” (Acts 2:16-21).

“By stretching forth thine hand to heal; and that signs and wonders may be done by the name of thy holy child Jesus” (Acts 4:30).

“How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation; which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him; God also bearing them witness, both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, and gifts of the Holy Ghost, according to his own will?” (Heb.2:3-4).

Note something else of importance: the Holy Spirit is given “to them that obey Him.” His wonderful presence and power, guidance and care, purpose and mission can become anyone’s—anyone who will obey Him. (See DEEPER STUDY # 3—Acts 5:32.)

DEEPER STUDY # 3

(5:32) Obedience—Belief: the Holy Spirit is given to “them that obey Him.” Note how the word obedience is used instead of believe. To believe is to obey. They are one and the same. If a person believes, he obeys. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2—Jn.2:24 for more discussion.)

“If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children: how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?” (Lk.11:13).

“Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way; thy son liveth. And the man believed the word that Jesus had spoken unto him, and he went his way” (Jn.4:50).

“And being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him” (Heb.5:9).

4 (5:32-40) Obedience: the disciple must be loyal; he must obey God because God has a will that must be done. God has a plan and a will to be done upon earth, and His providence and power work it out to see that it is done. This is the point of the story of these verses. The disciples had just been witnessing to the will of God for the world (v.30-31).

1. God's will was rejected and opposed by the unthinking men of the world. Note that both evil and religious leaders were guilty of not thinking, of acting upon emotion and prejudice instead of reason. Apparently most of the civil and religious leaders were...

- "cut to the heart" (die pronto); that is, their hearts were sawn in two, into two parts, through and through. The idea is they were cut to the heart—not with conviction but with anger, wrath, rage, and reaction against the apostles.
- "took counsel" (eboulonto); that is, they were minded, were intending; were set on killing the disciples.

2. God's will is recognized by thinking men of the world. Not all men in the world act upon emotion and personal desires. Some are rational, controlled, and governed by higher purposes than self-interest. Gamaliel was such a man. He was one of the most famous Jewish teachers of all time, and he saw something the unthinking men of the world were missing.

- a. God's will and plan can be seen in world events and revolution. Gamaliel gave two examples (see DEEPER STUDY # 5—Acts 5:36-37).
- b. What is not of God will come to nothing. If the message and work of Jesus' movement are the idea...
  - of deceivers,
  - of revolutionaries,
  - of self-seeking men,
  - of insane men.
  - of foolish thinking men,
  - of power hungry men,
  - of politically motivated men,

...they will be frustrated and exposed by God Himself. God will not let any idea or work or movement stand forever that is not of Him.

Note: Gamaliel's philosophy was correct. Everything that is not of God is doomed. But Gamaliel's philosophy had one flaw. Evil ideas and works, deceivers and self-seekers are not necessarily destroyed in the short run—eventually, yes, but not necessarily quickly. Evil is sometimes allowed to reign in order to awaken men to their need for God and His deliverance.

- c. What is of God cannot be overthrown. This is an eternal maxim or rule. God's will and work cannot be overthrown, not totally or finally. The world may try; it may achieve what appears to be temporary success. But God causes the spark and life of His Word to catch fire in the heart of someone else. His Word and life, the glorious message of His Son whom He has "exalted to be a Prince and a Savior," cannot be extinguished. The gates of hell cannot prevail against the Lord's church no matter how great a force of evil is launched by the world against it.

"And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it" (Mt.16:18).

This was the advice of Gamaliel, the thinking man of the world, to the others on the counsel. Leave those who believe in Jesus alone. Let them go about doing the good they are doing. Reap the benefits of their ministry.

- ⇒ If they are not of God, they will soon disappear from the scene.
- ⇒ If they are of God, all the forces of the world cannot overthrow them. You will be found fighting against God Himself.

The counsel agreed and had the apostles beaten or scourged for preaching the name of Jesus (see note—Lk.18:32-33). They then issued the law once again. The name of Jesus Christ was not to be preached.

Thought 1. Note this about the will of God: a man who opposes Jesus and His servant is fighting against God Himself.

"He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad" (Mt.12:30).

"And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?" (Acts 9:4).

"But after thy hardness and impenitent heart treasurest up unto thyself wrath against the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgment of God" (Ro.2:5).

"Be ye not as the horse, or as the mule, which have no understanding: whose mouth must be held in with bit and bridle, lest they come near unto thee. Many sorrows shall be to the wicked: but he that trusteth in the LORD, mercy shall compass him about" (Ps.32:9-10).

"He, that being often reproveth hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy" (Pr.29:1).

"If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the LORD of hosts, I will even send a curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings: yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart" (Mal.2:2).

DEEPER STUDY # 4

(5:34) Gamaliel: Gamaliel was one of the most outstanding teachers in Jewish history. His name means the reward of God.

1. He was a Pharisee (see DEEPER STUDY # 3, Pharisees—Acts 23:8).
2. He was the grandson of Hillel, who was the famed founder of the liberal school of Jewish law (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Mt.19:1-12).
3. He was a doctor of law, having secured as much formal training in the law as possible.
4. He was so respected and loved he was given the title “Rabban” (Master). It is said he was the first of only seven men ever given the title.
5. He was a thinking man, an extremely wise man, a man with a firm belief in God and His providence. The present passage indicates this.
6. He was the famed teacher of Saul of Tarsus, later to become Paul the apostle (Acts 22:3). There is a chance that Paul was present at this particular discussion. He was probably a member of the Sanhedrin.

DEEPER STUDY # 5

(5:36-37) Theudas and Judas: little is really known about these two revolutionaries. The point of their being mentioned is that both led an uprising against the Romans and came to a futile end. It was not in God’s plan for them to succeed, so their efforts came to nothing.

5 (5:41-42) Obedience: the disciple must be loyal; he must obey God because God is able to deliver the obedient through hardship. God delivered the disciples. They had been terribly beaten, but note God’s marvelous deliverance.

1. God stirred within the persecuted heart a sense of privilege. They counted themselves privileged to suffer shame for Christ.
2. God stirred within the persecuted heart a sense of joy and rejoicing.
3. God stirred within the persecuted heart a sense of courage and mission. They continued daily in the temple, teaching and preaching. Despite the opposition, they were compelled to share the glorious news of the gospel: God had sent His Son into the world to save men (cp. v.30-31).

“And ye shall be hated of all men for my name’s sake: but he that endureth to the end shall be saved” (Mt.10:22; cp. Mt.5:11; Heb.11:25).

“And if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together” (Ro.8:17).

“And in nothing terrified by your adversaries: which is to them an evident token of perdition, but to you of salvation, and that of God” (Ph.1:28; cp. Jas.5:10; 1 Pt.2:20).

“My brethren, count it all joy when ye fall into divers temptations; Knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience. But let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing” (Jas.1:2-4).

“Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you: But rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ’s sufferings; that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy” (1 Pt.4:12-13; cp. Acts 16:23).

“But the God of all grace, who hath called us unto his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye have suffered a while, make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you” (1 Pt.5:10).

DIVISION II

THE BIRTH AND GROWTH OF THE CHURCH, 2:1-7:60

N. The First Administrative Problem: The First Deacons, 6:1-7

(6:1-7) Introduction: this passage is about the birth of the deacons, a whole new level of ministry in the church. Note the office of the deacons was set up to meet a need in the church for day to day ministry. The head ministers had to have help in order to fulfill their preaching mission.

1. A problem arose—some widows were being neglected (v.1).
2. The democratic recommendation (v.2).
3. The required qualifications (v.3).
4. The basic purpose: to relieve ministers (v.4).
5. The chosen deacons (v.5).
6. The official ordination (v.6).
7. The glorious results (v.7).

1 (6:1) Division—Grumbling—Criticism: a problem arose in the church. Some widows were being neglected. Two groups or cliques were seen in the church, and one was complaining and grumbling about the actions of the other. One group felt its needs were not being met; it was not getting a due share of the attention and care it deserved. There were five reasons for the division.

1. The church had grown rapidly. When any organization grows rapidly, all kinds of problems arise, and most of the problems center around how to handle the growth. The church needed to minister to the new members, but it was having difficulty handling and reaching out to everyone. The head ministers, that is, the apostles, could not get to everyone.
2. There were different groups or cliques coming into the church.
  - ⇒ There were the Hebrews, the Jews who were born and reared in Palestine. They spoke Aramaic, the language that had come down from their ancient Hebrew language. They rejected all Gentile and Greek culture completely, and used only the Hebrew Bible in its original Hebrew language. The significant point to note is this: the Hebrew or Palestinian Jews were so inclusive and closely-knit, they despised all Gentiles and Gentile culture. They actually despised and cursed the Gentiles, believing that the Gentiles were cursed eternally by God. This hatred even included the Grecian Jews who had been relocated to other lands by the Romans.
  - ⇒ There were the Grecian Jews who were known as the Hellenists. These were Jews who had been scattered, deported, and dispersed all over the world by the Romans. Many of them would return for the great Feasts of Pentecost and the Passover. Apparently some had been converted on the day of Pentecost or thereafter, and had either delayed their return home or decided to move back to Jerusalem.

The Grecian or Hellenist Jews had adopted Greek culture, spoke the Greek language, and used and read the Greek Bible (the Septuagint). It is probably this that lay at the root of the problem mentioned here. The Hebrew Jews, having always been taught to reject and despise anything Grecian, were probably having difficulty getting rid of all their prejudice. No doubt, God had worked in their hearts to cleanse them of prejudice, but they apparently were still hanging on to some feelings against the Hellenists. Perhaps they felt that the Hellenists or Grecian Jews were not due as much attention or as many rights as they were.

ACTS 6:1-7

Thought 1. People do and will form groups and cliques. But we must always be open and accepting, outgoing and friendly, giving and helping, humble and undeserving before each other, ministering and receiving ministry from all.

Thought 2. Cliques and groups are dangerous. There are sins common to cliques that must be guarded against, the sins of...

- being exclusive and shutting others out.
- feeling superior and above others.
- believing one has more rights than others.
- thinking one is due more attention than others.

3. The leaders of the church did not have enough help to look after every member. Note two things that are essential when this problem arises.

- a. The church must secure more help. It must seek out people who sense the hand of God upon them, calling them to minister and care for others.
- b. The members must be willing to quit demanding so much of the head minister, to accept the ministry of other men who are called to minister to the flock of God.

Now note a critical point: there was division in the church—grumbling and complaining and griping. Why? The lack of enough leaders to meet all the needs. The lack of enough leadership, of enough workers will always cause division. Some will always feel they are neglected.

4. The church was not adequately organized to minister to all. The leadership centered only upon the apostles. There was the need for another whole level of ministers, ministers who could reach out to every single member.

5. There was apparently some favoritism being shown. Most if not all of the food being distributed to the needy was being handled by the Hebrew Jews. The Grecian Jews felt that their needy were being neglected and that favoritism was being shown to those who had need among the Hebrew or Palestinian Jews.

2 (6:2) Church—Leaders: the democratic recommendation.

1. The leaders (apostles) called the whole church together. Note: they did not deny the problem, but they graciously acknowledged that the problem might (or did) exist. The leaders knew how easily people, in particular cliques when they feel neglected, can become suspicious and cause even more problems within the church. The point to see is that the whole church was involved in the decision. The leaders wisely sought everyone's...

- thoughts
- advice
- counsel
- understanding
- cooperation
- involvement
- love

2. The leaders declared their primary call and mission. They had to concentrate on the Word of God, its study and proclamation. Note:

- ⇒ their unmistakable sense of call and mission.
- ⇒ their unwillingness to be distracted from their primary mission.
- ⇒ the church's understanding and acceptance of their mission. (How desperately this understanding and acceptance is needed by churches today!)

The apostles could have been easily sidetracked, caught up in day to day ministry—the ministry of sitting and listening, serving and meeting the needs of the needy. Such needs must be met; it is the church's duty to minister and meet them. If the church had been smaller, the apostles could have met the needs themselves. But when the church became large, there were just too many people.

Thought 1. There is a breaking point at which ministers must put up a guard and protect their primary call to proclaim the Word of God. They must above all else have time to prepare and preach and teach the Word.

“What I tell you in darkness, that speak ye in light: and what ye hear in the ear, that preach ye upon the housetops” (Mt.10:27).

“Whereof I was made a minister, according to the gift of the grace of God given unto me by the effectual working of his power. Unto me, who am less than the least of all saints, is this grace given, that I should preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ” (Eph.3:7-8).

“Whereunto I am appointed a preacher, and an apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles. For the which cause I also suffer these things: nevertheless I am not ashamed: for I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day” (2 Tim.1:11-12).

“Preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all longsuffering and doctrine” (2 Tim.4:2).

3. The leaders suggested others be appointed to minister to the needy. Note: this was a suggestion for a whole new level of ministers. Up to this point, the leaders of the church were the apostles. Now a new office was being created to help in the work of the ministry.

“Then saith he unto his disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous, but the laborers are few; pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth laborers into his harvest” (Mt.9:37-38).

“Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest. And he that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal: that both he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together” (Jn.4:35-36).

“Now he that planteth and he that watereth are one: and every man shall receive his own reward according to his own labour. For we are labourers together with God: ye are God’s husbandry, ye are God’s building” (1 Cor.3:8-9).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(6:2) Deacons: note the words “serve tables” (diakonein trapezais). The word “serve” (diakonein) means to minister, to serve, to wait upon. The men were being chosen to minister, to look after the needy (widows) of the church. They, of course, would not be running to those in need and spending just a few minutes and then turning right around and running out. They would be visiting and taking time to share and minister to those who had need.

The word diakonein is used of ministers throughout the New Testament, both preachers of the Word and deacons who serve as ministers in meeting the day to day needs of the flock (cp. Acts 6:4; 12:25; 21:19; Ro.11:13). The deacons were being chosen to minister as much as the apostles, but in a different area of concentration.

This does not mean the apostles never met day-to-day needs of the flock, nor that the deacons never shared the Word. Both apostles and deacons served in both areas, however each concentrated upon their primary call and mission. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Deacon—1 Tim.3:8-13 for more discussion.)

3 (6:3) Deacons, Qualifications: the required qualifications. (See outline, notes and DEEPER STUDY # 1—1 Tim.3:8-13 for more discussion.) Note: the apostles had a recommendation. Very wisely, they had met and discussed the division and complaint among themselves. The committee work among the leaders of the church had taken place. Now the recommendation was ready for the whole congregation to consider. Seven men needed to be appointed to handle this ministry. (As mentioned, a whole new level of ministry was being created in the church.)

The qualifications are listed. Note: they all center upon spiritual qualities, upon the spiritual maturity of the men.

1. An honest report (martuoumenous): well attested; well reported of; bearing a good witness; having a good reputation. The deacon’s character was to be proven and beyond reproach. They were to be men of integrity, faithful and trustworthy; moral and upright, men trusted by all.

“And we have sent with him the brother, whose praise [testimony, reputation] is in the gospel throughout all the churches” (2 Cor.8:18).

“Likewise must the deacons be grave, not doubletongued, not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre; holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience” (1 Tim.3:8-9).

“A good name is better than precious ointment” (Eccl.7:1).

2. Full of the Holy Spirit. The deacon was to be conscious of Christ dwelling within him, aware of being filled with the fruit of the Spirit.

“But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance: against such there is no law” (Gal.5:22-23).

“Be filled with all the fulness of God” (Eph.3:19).

“And be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess; but be filled with the Spirit; speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord” (Eph.5:18-19).

3. Full of wisdom: able to discern, see through, make judgments. This was especially needed now in handling the division that had arisen in the church. Improper handling by unwise men could only add fuel to the fire, causing further friction and tension.

“Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God. Which things also we speak, not in the words which man’s wisdom teacheth, but which the Holy Ghost teacheth; comparing spiritual things with spiritual” (1 Cor.2:12-13).

“For this cause we also, since the day we heard it, do not cease to pray for you, and to desire that ye might be filled with the knowledge of his will in all wisdom and spiritual understanding” (Col.1:9).

“But the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be intreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality, and without hypocrisy” (Jas.3:17).

“But ye have an unction from the Holy One, and ye know all things” (1 Jn.2:20).

4 (6:4) Ministers—Prayer—Word of God: the basic purpose of the deacon is to relieve the head minister(s) for prayer and the ministry of the Word. Note two significant points.

1. The great ministries of the church are twofold: prayer and the ministry of the Word. All else, as needful as some of them may be, must be secondary to these two great ministries. Therefore, the head minister must give his life to these two ministries and not be distracted or diverted from them.

⇒ It is in prayer that the believer reaches up and talks to God. Above all others the leader must live on his face before God, sharing with God and pleading with Him on behalf of the dear flock of God.

“What, could ye not watch with me one hour? Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the Spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak” (Mt.26:40-41. See Deeper Studies # 1-10—Mt.6:9-13; Eph.3:14-21 for what and how to pray.)

“Men ought always to pray, and not to faint” (Lk.18:1).

“Pray without ceasing” (1 Th.5:17).

“Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints” (Eph.6:18).

“For this cause we also...do not cease to pray for you” (Col.1:9. Cp. v.9-11.)

“Wherefore also we pray always for you” (2 Th.1:11. Cp. v.11-12.)

⇒ It is in the Word that God speaks to the minister, to the flock, and to the world. The minister must spend hours and days seeking God, finding out what God wants to say to him, the church and the world.

“And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified” (Acts 20:32).

“Let a man so account of us, as of the ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries [gospel, Word] of God. Moreover it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful” (1 Cor.4:1-2).

“Therefore seeing we have this ministry, as we have received mercy, we faint not; but have renounced the hidden things of dishonesty, not walking in craftiness, nor handling the word of God deceitfully; but by manifestation of the truth commending ourselves to every man’s conscience in the sight of God” (2 Cor.4:1-2).

“Meditate upon these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy profiting may appear to all. Take heed unto thyself, and unto the doctrine; continue in them: for in doing this thou shalt both save thyself, and them that hear thee” (1 Tim.4:15-16).

“Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth” (2 Tim.2:15).

“All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness” (2 Tim.3:16).

Thought 1. Imagine what a difference there would be if ministers so lived in prayer and in the Word of God! May the lay believers of the world allow and insist that the ministers of God get on their faces before God in prayer and in His Word.

“And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who hath enabled me, for that he counted me faithful, putting me into the ministry” (1 Tim.1:12).

2. Note the word “continually” (proskarteresomen). It means to continue steadfastly; to persevere; to continue on and on, sticking to it. The minister is to pray and pray and study and study and share and share, preaching and teaching the Word—without letting up. He is to be steadfast, persevering, continuing on and on in both prayer and in the Word.

“Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord” (1 Cor.15:58).

“[Christ] whom we preach, warning every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom; that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus” (Col.1:28).

“Preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all longsuffering and doctrine” (2 Tim.4:2).

“Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us” (Heb.12:1).

“Behold, we count them happy which endure. Ye have heard of the patience of Job, and have seen the end of the Lord; that the Lord is very pitiful, and of tender mercy” (Jas.5:11).

“Wherefore gird up the loins of your mind, be sober, and hope to the end for the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ” (1 Pt.1:13).

“Ye therefore, beloved, seeing ye know these things before, beware lest ye also, being led away with the error of the wicked, fall from your own steadfastness” (2 Pt.3:17).

“Behold, I come quickly; hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crown” (Rev.3:11).

“But cleave unto the LORD your God, as ye have done unto this day” (Josh.23:8).

5 (6:5) Unity—Love—Humility: the chosen deacons. Note four significant points.

1. The church acted in love and humility. Neither the apostles nor anyone else had ruffled feelings. The apostles and Hebrew believers (thousands of them) responded in love and humility. Everyone of the seven men chosen were Grecian Jews. Their names were Greek, not Jewish. The largest segment of the church had humbled itself to the minority. What an example!

2. “The whole multitude” of believers was pleased. The body had been reunited as one in spirit and purpose, worship and ministry.

3. The fact that they were all Grecian believers points toward God moving the church out into the whole world. Christ had commissioned the first disciples to go into the whole world (Mt.28:19-20; Acts 1:8). Now, He was providentially preparing the church for the day that was soon to come, the day of persecution that would scatter the believers all over the world (Acts 8:1-4). These seven men, being Grecian ministers, could touch the Gentile world wherever they went—by language, by training, and by culture. God was preparing the church without their knowing it for the day when they were to be scattered all over the world.

Thought 1. Believers must be rooted in love and humility so that God may use them in His eternal plan to reach the world for His dear Son.

“So we, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another” (Ro.12:5).

“There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus” (Gal.3:28).

“Finally, brethren, farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you” (2 Cor.13:11).

“I therefore, the prisoner of the Lord beseech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called, with all lowliness and meekness, with longsuffering, forbearing one another in love; endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace” (Eph.4:1-3).

“Fulfil ye my joy, that ye be likeminded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind. Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves. Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others” (Ph.2:2-4).

4. The men chosen were unknown except for Stephen and Philip (see notes—Acts 6:8-15; 8:5-25). The point to note is that they were men who had the qualities given in verse three.

Note the name Nicolas, a Jewish proselyte. He was a Gentile who had been converted to Judaism and then to Christ. Some try to connect him with the Nicolaitians who went off on a doctrinal error and created a sect. There is no basis for this. In fact, the likelihood is that he was instrumental in starting the church at Antioch, one of the greatest churches of all time (cp. Acts 11:19-30).

6 (6:6) Ordination: the official ordination. This was a definite service, a specific moment when the newly elected men were set apart for their ministry. Before this moment they were not serving in the capacity with which they were now being charged. Hereafter, after the ordaining service, they were to minister to the flock of God and meet the flock’s day to day needs. Note three steps in the service.

1. The church “set” the men apart, set them before the apostles.

2. The church went to prayer; the ministers (apostles) led all in prayer.

3. The ministers (apostles) laid their hands upon the newly appointed deacons. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2—Acts 6:6 for discussion.)

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(6:6) Laying On Of Hands: this was a significant symbol for blessing (Mt.19:13-15); for healing (Mk.5:23; 6:5); for imparting the Holy Spirit (Acts 8:17-19; 9:6, 17); and for ordaining and commissioning men to the ministry.

“Whom they set before the apostles: and when they had prayed, they laid their hands on them” (Acts 6:6).

“As they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them. And when they had fasted and prayed, and laid their hands on them, they sent them away” (Acts 13:2-3).

“Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery” (1 Tim.4:14).

“Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands” (2 Tim.1:6).

7 (6:7) Ministers—Church: the glorious results were threefold.

1. The Word of God increased as never before. The apostles were freed to concentrate on prayer and the Word. There was a new power in their witnessing and teaching.

2. The church grew. Many more people were reached with the glorious gospel.

3. Some priests, a great number, were being reached for Christ. Note the words, they “were obedient to the faith.” They were obedient in both receiving Christ and in following Christ. They embraced the gospel and lived the gospel.

“By whom [Christ] we have received grace and apostleship, for obedience to the faith among all nations, for his name” (Ro.1:5).

“As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him” (Col.2:6).

“He that saith he abideth in him ought himself also so to walk, even as he walked” (1 Jn.2:6).

“I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me” (Gal.2:20).

DIVISION II

THE BIRTH AND GROWTH OF THE CHURCH, 2:1-7:60

O. The First Martyr, Stephen (Scene I): A Model Man, 6:8-15

(6:8-15) Introduction—Stephen the Deacon, the First Martyr: Stephen was a layman, an extraordinary layman, a great servant of God. His name means a *crow*n. Note these facts about him. He was...

- full of faith (Acts 6:8).
- full of the Holy Spirit (Acts 6:3, 5, 10).
- full of grace (Acts 6:8).
- full of power (Acts 6:8).
- full of wisdom (Acts 6:3, 10).
- a man of great reputation or testimony (Acts 6:3).
- a man of great works (Acts 6:8).
- a great defender of the faith (Acts 6:10).
- the first deacon of the church (Acts 6:5).
- the first martyr of the church (Acts 7:59-60; 22:20).

1. A man full of faith and power, doing great works for God (v.8).
2. A man who defended the faith (v.9-10).
3. A man fiercely resisted, falsely so (v.11-14).
4. A man of great communion—surrounded by the Lord’s presence (v.15).

1 (6:8) Stephen: Stephen was a man full of faith (grace) and power, doing great works for God. The word “faith” is grace in the best Greek manuscripts, and is probably accurate since Stephen’s great faith has already been mentioned (v.5).

1. He was full of grace (charitos) (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, Grace—Tit.2:11-15). By grace is meant...
  - God’s love, favor, gifts, and blessings.
  - a godly, gracious character and behavior.

“I thank my God always on our behalf, for the grace of God which is given you by Jesus Christ; that in every thing ye are enriched by him, in all utterance, and in all knowledge” (1 Cor.1:4-5).

“For our rejoicing is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity and godly sincerity, not with fleshly wisdom, but by the grace of God, we have had our conversation [behavior] in the world, and more abundantly to you-ward” (2 Cor.1:12).

“Whereof I was made a minister, according to the gift of the grace of God given unto me by the effectual working of his power” (Eph.3:7).

“And the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant with faith and love which is in Christ Jesus” (1 Tim.1:14).

“For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men, teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world; looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ” (Tit.2:11-13).

“But he giveth more grace. Wherefore he saith, God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble” (Jas.4:6).

“As every man hath received the gift, even so minister the same one to another, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God” (1 Pt.4:10).

“Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder. Yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility: for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble” (1 Pt.5:5).

2. He was full of power. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Power—Acts 6:8).

3. He did great wonders and miracles. God’s grace and power were upon him. Both grace and power (the Holy Spirit) are necessary before a person can serve God effectively. Note that Stephen was a deacon and a layman: a dynamic example that should challenge all!

“And when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease” (Mt.10:1).

“And he ordained twelve, that they should be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach, and to have power to heal sicknesses, and to cast out devils” (Mk.3:14-15).

“And these signs shall follow them that believe; in my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; they shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover” (Mk.16:17-18).

“How God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; for God was with him” (Acts 10:38).

“To another faith by the same Spirit; to another the gifts of healing by the same Spirit” (1 Cor.12:9).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(6:8) Power (dunameos): the believer’s power is the presence and power of the Holy Spirit within him. The believer has no spiritual power of himself. The power is of the Holy Spirit alone.

The Holy Spirit is the Divine ...

...the work of God both within and through the believer. It is not man, but the Holy Spirit alone who has the power to save and mature and work miracles among men.

“But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

“And with great power gave the apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and great grace was upon them all” (Acts 4:33).

“And what is the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, according to the working of his mighty power” (Eph.1:19).

“That he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in the inner man” (Eph.3:16).

“Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us” (Eph.3:20).

“Strengthened with all might, according to his glorious power, unto all patience and longsuffering with joyfulness” (Col.1:11).

“For our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and in the Holy Ghost, and in much assurance; as ye know what manner of men we were among you for your sake” (1 Th.1:5).

“For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind” (2 Tim.1:7).

“But truly I am full of power by the Spirit of the Lord, and of judgment, and of might, to declare unto Jacob his transgression, and to Israel his sin” (Mic.3:8).

“Then he answered and spake unto me, saying, This is the word of the Lord unto Zerubbabel, saying, Not by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith the Lord of hosts” (Zech.4:6).

2 (6:9-10) Faith, Defending: Stephen was a man who defended the faith. Note three points.

1. Stephen preached in several of the synagogues throughout Jerusalem (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Synagogue—Mt.4:23). All of the synagogues listed are Grecian names. Sometime around A.D. 19 the Roman emperor, Tiberius, had expelled all Jews from Rome. Many of them had returned to their homeland, some settling in Jerusalem. When they returned, because of their common language and culture, they clung together, starting their worship centers or synagogues.

The point to see is that this dynamic layman grasped every opportunity he could to preach. At every opportunity Stephen was travelling all over the city, preaching Christ to the Grecian Jews.

2. Note the word “arose” (anestesan, v.9), which means stood up. Five synagogues in particular stood up against Stephen. They opposed what he was preaching. There was a strong reason for the opposition of the Grecian Jews. They and their forefathers had been forcibly deported out of their homeland and scattered across the world by the Romans. While living in the foreign lands of the world, they had remained faithful to their Jewish religion. The message of Jesus Christ was a threat to them and their religion. For example, Stephen was preaching that...

- Jesus Christ is the Lamb of God, sacrificed for the sins of the world. Animal sacrifices, therefore, were no longer needed.
- Jesus Christ is the Mediator between God and man; man was now to worship God in spirit and truth through Christ and Him alone. Earthly priests, therefore, were no longer mediators who stood between God and man. They were the ministers and servants of God to the flock of God, but not mediators.

The Grecian Jews saw that the preaching of Jesus as the supreme sacrifice and mediator went against everything they had been taught and stood for. They did not see Jesus as the fulfillment of the law nor as the Liberator of man, but they saw Him as the destroyer of the law and of everything they held precious. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1—Mt.12:10 for discussion of why the Jews opposed Jesus so greatly.) Therefore, they stood up and argued against Stephen. Note the picture: they stood up right in the middle of Stephen’s preaching and began to dispute him. The picture is that they did this several times (v.10).

3. Stephen was filled with wisdom and with the Spirit of God in defending the faith. Note the exact words of the Scripture.

- ⇒ “They disputed with Stephen”: they were able to resist and argue with him.
- ⇒ “They were not able to resist the wisdom and the Spirit by which he spoke.”

They could stand against Stephen, but they could not stand against the Holy Spirit who was in him and speaking through him. The Holy Spirit was supplying the answers, the thoughts and the words to say.

“For I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to gainsay [refute, answer] nor resist” (Lk.21:15).

“If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him” (Jas.1:5).

4. Saul of Tarsus, who was to become the great apostle Paul, was probably a member of the Libertine or Cilician synagogue. Saul was from Tarsus of Cilicia and was now in Jerusalem. He was certainly attending some synagogue, so he was probably attending the one of his own countrymen. However, he had also been born of a freed man, so he could have been a member of the Libertine (Latin word meaning a freed man or the son of a freed man). Most likely he was one of those who suffered defeat in arguing with Stephen and became so hostile against him. Paul was certainly aware of the message Stephen preached. He was the one who took charge of Stephen’s murder (Acts 7:58; 8:1).

Thought 1. Men often do stand against believers, but the man who opposes and argues against the believer’s witness is resisting the Holy Spirit, not the believer.

“Ye stiffnecked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye” (Acts 7:51).

“Be ye not as the horse, or as the mule, which have no understanding: whose mouth must be held in with bit and bridle, lest they come near unto thee. Many sorrows shall be to the wicked: but he that trusteth in the LORD, mercy shall compass him about” (Ps.32:9-10).

“Hearken unto me, ye stouthearted, that are far from righteousness: I bring near my righteousness; it shall not be far off, and my salvation shall not tarry” (Is.46:12-13).

“And they have turned unto me the back, and not the face: though I taught them, rising up early and teaching them, yet they have not hearkened to receive instruction” (Jer.32:33).

“If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the LORD of hosts, I will even send a curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings: yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart” (Mal.2:2).

Thought 2. The Holy Spirit gives the genuine believer the thoughts and words to say in bearing witness to the world. But note: not every witness is of the Spirit. A person must be under the control of the Spirit just as Stephen was. (See note, Stephen—Acts 6:8-15.)

“But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you” (Jn.14:26).

“But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me” (Jn.15:26).

“Nevertheless I tell you the truth; It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send him unto you. And when he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment: of sin, because they believe not on me; of righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more; of judgment because the prince of this world is judged” (Jn.16:7-11).

“Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will show you things to come” (Jn.16:13).

3 (6:11-14) Persecution: Stephen was a man fiercely resisted, falsely so. The synagogues were so angered at Stephen they bribed men to lie against him, stirring up the people and the leaders against him. They arrested and dragged him to court before the Sanhedrin, putting him on trial for his life. Note these points.

1. The word “stirred up” (sunekinesan) means to shake as a volcano; to move and rock together as with a violent shaking. This was the first time the people themselves were aroused against the disciples.

2. The words “came upon him” (epistantes) mean they rushed at him in fury, anger, and violence.

3. The word “caught” (sunerpasan) means to seize with much violence. The picture is that they seized and literally dragged him to court (cp. Lk.8:29; Acts 19:29; 27:15).

4. The charges against Stephen were threefold.

a. Blasphemy against the temple. The Jews had always taught that God dwelt in the temple. The temple was the very center of His presence. Stephen was preaching that God now dwelt in the hearts and lives of people, and not just in the temple. The hearts of God’s people were now the very special place where God’s presence dwelt. God does fill the temple; in fact, He fills the whole earth with His presence. But now, Jesus Christ has made it possible for God to fill the hearts of men with the presence of His Spirit, and His presence is permanent. The believer’s body can now become the temple of the Holy Spirit. (See outline and notes—Jn.14:15-26; DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 2:1-4. Cp. 1 Cor.6:19-20.)

“What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own? For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God’s” (1 Cor.6:19-20).

Note this: Stephen was not saying that God no longer dwells in the temple. God does dwell in His church, the place sanctified, set apart for Him (see note—1 Cor.3:16-17 for discussion).

“Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are” (1 Cor.3:16-17).

“And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people” (2 Cor.6:16).

“In whom all the building fitly framed together groweth unto an holy temple in the Lord: in whom ye also are builded together for a habitation of God through the Spirit” (Eph.2:21-22).

b. Blasphemy against the law. By law the Jews meant the Scribal Law, all the commentaries and interpretations of the Scripture. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Scribes—Lk.6:2; DEEPER STUDY # 4—6:7 for discussion.) Stephen was preaching that Christ fulfills the law. God’s law is not destroyed; contrariwise, it is fulfilled in Christ. Christ is now the Ideal, the Pattern, the Standard which we are to follow. The law is not erased, not annulled. The law is now found embraced in the life of Christ. Man’s standard is the law and much more; it is the Living Lord Himself. He fulfills and embraces the law and much more. Man’s standard is no longer just prohibitions and commandments, no longer just writing and words. Man’s standard is now the Life of God Himself, the embodiment of love and liberty as well as of law and demands.

“But now the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, being witnessed by the law and the prophets; even the righteousness of God which is by faith of Jesus Christ unto all and upon all them that believe: for there is no difference” (Ro.3:21-22).

c. Preaching the destruction of the temple and of Jewish customs. This is a repeat of the above. The emphasis is that it was Jesus of Nazareth who was to destroy the temple and customs of the people. The point to note is that the charges were false. Stephen was preaching that Christ fulfills man’s need for God and for salvation.

⇒ Man’s need for God’s presence is now abundantly fulfilled in Christ. Through Christ, God now lives in the very hearts and lives of believers.

⇒ Man’s need to know how to live is now abundantly fulfilled in Christ. He embraces all the law and much more, and by such He is now the standard of God for all men. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2—Mt.5:17; note—Ro.5:1.)

“Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil” (Mt.5:17).

“For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh” (Ro.8:3).

4 (6:15) Stephen: Stephen was a man of great communion; he was surrounded by God's presence. Note: all the council members saw God's presence upon Stephen's face. The words "face of an angel" refers to some splendor, glow, shining radiance—some glory that was present. Apparently, God gave Stephen some special glory (presence) of Himself that had been experienced...

- by Moses

"And when Aaron and all the children of Israel saw Moses, behold, the skin of his face shone; and they were afraid to come nigh him" (Ex.34:30).

"But if the ministration of death, written and engraven in stones, was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not stedfastly behold the face of Moses for the glory of his countenance; which glory was to be done away" (2 Cor.3:7).

- by Christ

"And was transfigured before them: and his face did shine as the sun, and his raiment was white as the light" (Mt.17:2).

"And as he prayed, the fashion of his countenance was altered, and his raiment was white and glistering" (Lk.9:29).

"But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord" (2 Cor.3:18).

"That ye may be blameless and harmless, the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world" (Ph.2:15).

"If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye; for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you" (1 Pt.4:14).

"And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever" (Dan.12:3).

CHAPTER 7

P. The First Martyr (Stephen) (Scene II): The Tragic
History of Israel, 7:1-53

Then said the high priest, Are these things so?

2 And he said, Men, brethren, and fathers, hearken; The God of glory appeared unto our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran,

3 And said unto him, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall shew thee.

4 Then came he out of the land of the Chaldaeans, and dwelt in Charran: and from thence, when his father was dead, he removed him into this land, wherein ye now dwell.

5 And he gave him none inheritance in it, no, not so much as to set his foot on: yet he promised that he would give it to him for a possession, and to his seed after him, when as yet he had no child.

6 And God spake on this wise, That his seed should sojourn in a strange land; and that they should bring them into bondage, and entreat them evil four hundred years.

7 And the nation to whom they shall be in bondage will I judge, said God: and after that shall they come forth, and serve me in this place.

8 And he gave him the covenant of circumcision: and so Abraham begat Isaac, and circumcised him the eighth day; and Isaac begat Jacob; and Jacob begat the twelve patriarchs.

9 And the patriarchs, moved with envy, sold Joseph into Egypt: but God was with him,

10 And delivered him out of all his afflictions, and gave him favour and wisdom in the sight of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and he made him governor over Egypt and all his house.

11 Now there came a dearth over all the land of Egypt and Chanaan, and great affliction: and our father found no sustenance.

12 But when Jacob heard that there was corn in Egypt, he sent out our fathers first.

13 And at the second time Joseph was made known to his brethren; and Joseph's kindred was made known unto Pharaoh.

14 Then sent Joseph, and called his father Jacob to him, and all his kindred, threescore and fifteen souls.

15 So Jacob went down into Egypt, and died, he, and our fathers,

16 And were carried over into Sychem, and laid in the sepulchre that Abraham bought for a sum of money of the sons of Emmor the father of Sychem.

17 But when the time of the promise drew nigh, which God had sworn to Abraham, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt,

18 Till another king arose, which knew not Joseph.

19 The same dealt subtly with our kindred, and evil entreated our fathers, so that they cast out their young children, to the end they might not live.

20 In which time Moses was born, and was exceeding fair, and nourished up in his father's house three months:

21 And when he was cast out, Pharaoh's daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son.

22 And Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was mighty in words and in deeds.

23 And when he was full forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren the children of Israel.

24 And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, and smote the Egyptian:

25 For he supposed his bret-

b. God delivered Joseph

c. God saved the forefathers, that is, the patriarchs

d. The forefathers desired to be buried in the promised land

4 The second rejection & deliverance: The people rejected God's second chosen servant, Moses

a. God prepared to save the people to fulfill His promise
1) Used evil Pharaoh
2) Used an evil event

b. God protected and prepared the chosen child, Moses

c. God's servant acted in Israel's behalf<sup>ps3</sup>

d. God's servant was

2 The birth of Israel: The promise to Abraham—an inheritance & a possession

a. The God of glory called Abraham<sup>ps1</sup>

b. God promised a land for an eternal inheritance—if Abraham would give up his old life for the “promised land”

c. God promised the land, but as a future inheritance not a present possession

1) God never gave Abraham any land
2) God did not give Ab. a son until he was 100 years old

d. God told Abraham “his seed” would be “sojourners” upon earth

1) Held in bondage
2) Treated with evil for 400 years

e. Abraham's faith would be rewarded: God would deliver “his seed” and bring them to the promised land to serve God

f. God assured Abraham with a covenant, with the covenant of circumcision

3 The first rejection & deliverance: The forefathers rejected God's chosen servant<sup>ps2</sup>

a. The forefathers of Israel rejected God's plan & schemed against God's chosen servant, Joseph

DIVISION II

THE BIRTH AND GROWTH OF THE CHURCH, 2:1-7:60

P. The First Martyr, Stephen (Scene II): The Tragic History of Israel, 7:1-53

(7:1-53) Introduction: Stephen defended himself, but not by offering a legal defense. He defended himself by proclaiming the glorious mercy and grace of God throughout Israel’s history. He showed how Israel rejected God time and time again; nevertheless, God reached out to deliver the nation after each rejection.

1. Stephen on trial—defended himself (v.1).
2. The birth of Israel: the promise to Abraham—an inheritance and a possession (v.2-8).
3. The first rejection and deliverance: the forefathers rejected God’s chosen servant (v.9-16).
4. The second rejection and deliverance: the people rejected God’s chosen servant, Moses (v.17-29).
5. The third rejection and deliverance: the great deliverance planned by God through Moses (v.30-41).
6. The charges against the people (Israel) (v.42-53).

1 (7:1) Stephen: Stephen was on trial for his life. The charges had been made: he was accused of insurrection, of preaching that the sacred institutions of the nation were to be destroyed, that is, the land, the temple, the law, and the customs (v.11-15).

Stephen defended himself by reviewing Israel’s history and making the following points. (Note that Stephen’s defense was a sermon; he preached the gospel to the court.)

1. The nation and its sacred institutions (the land, the law, and the temple) were being destroyed, but not by Christ. They were being destroyed by the people themselves. From the beginning they had always misunderstood and rejected God’s plan. (See outline points 2-4.)
2. God loved Israel—He loved Israel so much that in every instance of misunderstanding and rejection, He had worked out a deliverance. (See outline points 2-4.)
3. God’s final plan of deliverance was Jesus Christ, His own Son. But as in the past, the present generation had misunderstood and rejected Him. (See v.52.)

2 (7:2-8) Abraham—Israel—Promised Land: the birth of Israel, the call and promise to Abraham—an inheritance and a possession. Stephen began his defense (his sermon) from the very beginning of the nation’s history. Note the emphasis upon God. God gave birth to Israel—of this there can be no doubt.

1. God appeared to Abraham and called Abraham (v.2). (See DEEPER STUDY # 1—Jn.4:22; DEEPER STUDY # 1—Ro.4:1-25 for more discussion. Cp. Gen.12:1-5; 13:14-17; 15:1-7; 17:1-8, 15-19; 22:16-18; 26:2-5, 24; 28:13-15; 31:13; 35:9-12; Neh.9:7-8. Cp. Ex.6:8; Lev.20:24; Num.14:8; Dt.6:10; 31:20; Josh.5:6; Judges 2:1.)
  - a. It was the God of glory (ho theos tes doxes) who called Abraham. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 7:2 for discussion.)
  - b. It was “our father Abraham” who was called by God. He was the father of Israel: the first Jew called, the man chosen by God to be the great founder of the nation Israel.

Thought 1. Abraham is the great example of faith in the Bible. Men must hear the call of the God of glory even as Abraham did. And men must heed that call.

“In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink” (Jn.7:37).

“For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him” (Ro.10:12).

“And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come, and let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely” (Rev.22:17).

“Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else” (Is.45:22).

“Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price” (Is.55:1).

2. God promised a land, a land for an eternal inheritance—if Abraham would “get out” of his present country and leave all—his past life—for the promised land (v.3-4). Note four facts.
- a. The promised land (Palestine) was promised to Abraham by God. The land was...
    - of God’s own choosing.
    - “the land which I shall show thee” (v.3).
    - an “inheritance” (v.5).
    - “promised” (v.5).
    - to be a “possession” (v.5).
  - b. The land was promised “to his seed after him.” All believers are the seed of Abraham by faith. Abraham is the father of all who walk in the steps of faith even as he did. This is made abundantly clear by Scripture (Ro.4:11-13, 16; Gal.3:6-9, 13-14; 6:14-16).
  - c. The land promised to Abraham was Palestine. But the promised land is a type of heaven, of the eternal land promised by God, of the new heavens and earth, of the new Jerusalem. When dealing with the promised land this fact must be always remembered (Ro.4:13; Heb.11:8-16; 12:22; 13:14; 2 Pt.3:3-4, 8-13; Rev.21:1-7, 10-27; 22:1-5, 19).
  - d. The gift of the promised land was conditional. Abraham had to “get out” of his present surroundings and leave all for the promised land. He had to make a choice, a choice between...
    - staying in the world of plenty and comfort (the material world as he knew it), and
    - giving up all for God and His promise of an eternal inheritance.

Abraham made the right choice: “Then came he out of the land of the Chaldeans.” God “removed him into this land; wherein ye now dwell.” (Note: Palestine is identified as the land of promise, the type of the promised land of heaven.)

Thought 1. Man must do two things.

⇒ Man must “get out” of his present surroundings and leave the world and its material comforts and corruptions.

“And with many other words did he testify and exhort, saying, Save yourselves from this untoward generation” (Acts 2:40).

“Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you, and will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty” (2 Cor.6:17-18).

“And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them” (Eph.5:11).

“Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which he received of us” (2 Th.3:6).

“Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world” (1 Jn.2:15-16).

⇒ Man must believe in the promise of God, that is, in the “promised land” of heaven.

“For he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God” (Heb.11:10).

“These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth. For they that say such things declare plainly that they seek a country. And truly, if they had been mindful of that country from whence they came out, they might have had opportunity to have returned. But now they desire a better country, that is, an heavenly: wherefore God is not ashamed to be called their God: for he hath prepared for them a city” (Heb.11:13-16).

“But ye are come unto mount Sion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to an innumerable company of angels” (Heb.12:22).

“For here have we no continuing city, but we seek one to come” (Heb.13:14).

“But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up. Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness, looking for and hasting unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat? Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness” (2 Pt.3:10-13).

“And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away” (Rev.21:1).

3. God promised the land to Abraham and his seed, but it was to be a future inheritance, not a present possession (v.5).
  - a. God never gave Abraham any land, not during his lifetime on earth. Abraham never possessed the land. He never secured his possession, his settlement, his resting place, his home—not while he was on earth.
  - b. God never gave Abraham a son until he was incapable of bearing seed, well past years—not until he was 100 years old.

Thought 1. Note three significant points.

- 1) Abraham had to trust God both for the promised land and for seed. He could secure neither, not in his own strength.
- 2) Abraham had to believe God all his life, even up to the last moment. He had to believe God even as he was slipping out of this world into the next, for he had never possessed a single inch of the promised land. (What a picture of the believer and the promised land of heaven, of the absolute necessity for faith and for believing the glorious promise of God.)
- 3) The gift of the promised land and of the seed was just that, a gift of God's grace. In no way did Abraham ever earn or deserve it. Abraham merely believed and obeyed God.

“For what saith the scripture? Abraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness” (Ro.4:3).

“For the promise, that he should be the heir of the world [of the new heavens and earth], was not to Abraham, or to his seed, through the law, but through the righteousness of faith” (Ro.4:13).

“He staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief; but was strong in faith, giving glory to God; and being fully persuaded that, what he had promised, he was able also to perform” (Ro.4:20-21).

4. God told Abraham “his seed” would be sojourners upon earth (v.6. Cp. Gen.15:13-14). His seed would not possess the land, not for a long time, not for some hundreds of years. They were to be enslaved.

Thought 1. Note the picture painted of the believer: the believer is as a sojourner upon the earth. While a sojourner on earth the believer is subject to the bondages (sin and death) and evil treatment of the world.

“These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth” (Heb.11:13).

“And if ye call on the Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to every man's work, pass the time of your sojourning here in fear” (1 Pt.1:17).

“Dearly beloved, I beseech you as strangers and pilgrims, abstain from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul; having your conversation honest among the Gentiles: that, whereas they speak against you as evildoers, they may by your good works, which they shall behold, glorify God in the day of visitation” (1 Pt.2:11-12).

5. God told Abraham his faith would be rewarded: God would deliver “his seed” and bring them to the promised land to serve God (v.7).

Thought 1. Faith will be rewarded, abundantly so. Abraham's seed, the believer, will be brought to the promised land of heaven. Note why: to serve God.

“His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord” (Mt.25:23).

“And the Lord said, Who then is that faithful and wise steward, whom his lord shall make ruler over his household, to give them their portion of meat in due season? Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing. Of a truth I say unto you, that he will make him ruler over all that he hath” (Lk.12:42-44).

“Ye are they which have continued with me in my temptations. And I appoint unto you a kingdom, as my Father hath appointed unto me” (Lk.22:28-29).

“Do ye not know that the saints shall judge the world? and if the world shall be judged by you, are ye unworthy to judge the smallest matters? Know ye not that we shall judge angels? how much more things that pertain to this life?” (1 Cor.6:2-3).

“For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand. I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith: henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing” (2 Tim.4:6-8).

“Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be moved, let us have grace, whereby we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear” (Heb.12:28).

“Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness. Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blameless” (2 Pt.3:13-14).

6. God assured Abraham with a covenant, the covenant of circumcision (v 8). Circumcision was the seal of Abraham's faith, just as baptism is the seal of the believer's faith. Circumcision was the sign that Abraham was truly trusting God and His promise (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, Circumcision—Ph.3:3).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(7:2) God of Glory (ho theos tes doxes): God who possesses and manifests glory; God of the manifested glory, of the outward and visible glory; God who reveals glory. It is the Shekinah glory, the visible splendor, radiance, and brilliance of God's Person which bursts forth from His Supreme Being. The idea is that God appeared and revealed His glory to Abraham. (See note, Shekinah Glory—Mt.17:5-8. Note: this throws some light on how God went about calling Abraham. It must have been a visible appearance of God's glory just as Moses and Isaiah and others received.)

3 (7:9-16) Rejection—Deliverance: the first rejection and deliverance. The forefathers rejected God's choice servant, Joseph. Joseph had been chosen by God to save His people, Israel. What happened was this: God had given Abraham a son, Isaac; and Abraham had circumcised him, sealing the fact that Isaac was the child of promise, that is, the promised seed through whom God's people were to be born. From Isaac came the other patriarchs, the first forefathers of the Jewish nation. Eventually Joseph was born, and as stated, Joseph was to be God's choice servant to save His people, Israel. Note four facts. (Cp. Genesis, chapters 37-50.)

1. The forefathers rejected God's plan and schemed against God's choice servant, Joseph. The point is this: from the very first the fathers showed...

- that they blinded themselves to God's purpose and plans.
- that they were sinful men, sometimes willing to stand against God's will. Stephen was saying that the present generation was just as guilty as the fathers had been. The same spirit of envy was in their hearts against God's plan, His Messiah and servants (the church).

2. God delivered His choice servant, Joseph (v.10). Joseph had a hard road to travel, being enslaved and imprisoned for years. But "God was with him," strengthening him to go through all the trials. And God delivered him, even to exalting him as governor over Egypt. God overcame the evil of the fathers.

Stephen was saying that God delivered Christ from the evil rejection of the present generation just as He had delivered Joseph.

3. God saved the fathers, that is, the patriarchs (v.11-14). God always works His plan out no matter how much men try to stop it. In the history of the fathers God had used His choice servant, Joseph, to save them, despite the fact that they had rejected him. He had used an affliction—hunger and famine—to force the fathers down to Egypt. In Egypt God had reunited Joseph and his brothers. All the fathers were brought together again and God's plan was back in line.

Thought 1. Joseph, the choice son, is a picture or a type of Christ—the choice Son...

- in his being rejected by men (cp. v.52).
- in his forgiving all those who did evil to him.

"In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace" (Eph.1:7).

"Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice: and be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you" (Eph.4:31-32).

Thought 2. The evil spirit of envy is characteristic of man. It was present throughout the history of Israel, and it lives on today (Ro.1:29; Gal.5:21).

"Charity suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up" (1 Cor.13:4).

"Let us not be desirous of vain glory, provoking one another, envying one another" (Gal.5:26).

Stephen was saying that God's will and plan could not be stopped, no matter what the present generation did against Christ and His followers.

4. The forefathers had desired to be buried in the promised land (v.15-16. Cp. Josh.24:32; cp. Gen.50:13). They had trusted God's promise and had died believing. Therefore, they wanted to be buried in the land, to rest eternally in the great promise of God. (Cp. Heb.11:13-16. See note, pt.2—Acts 7:2-8.)

Stephen was saying that the forefathers had their eye on the promised land, on resting there eternally. They could not have been looking only for a physical land. The promise was to them, not only to their seed. The promised land was the heavenly land, the eternal land to which Jesus leads.

"In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also" (Jn.14:2-3).

"For our conversation [citizenship] is in heaven; from whence also we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ: who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able even to subdue all things unto himself" (Ph.3:20-21).

"Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead" (1 Pt.1:3-4).

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(7:9) Envy (zelosantes): jealousy; to burn and boil; to flame up with envy and jealousy. (See DEEPER STUDY # 6—Ro.1:29.)

4 (7:17-29) Rejection—Deliverance: the second rejection and deliverance. The people misunderstood and rejected God's chosen servant, Moses. (Cp. Exodus, Chapters 1-2.) Note a significant fact: Israel had been in Egypt about four-hundred years. The people had not returned to the promised land, and they had lost sight of God's call and promise. They had no plan or intention whatsoever of returning to the promised land. Why? Under Joseph's influence, Pharaoh had given Israel a large, fertile land (Goshen, cp. Gen.47:1, 11-12). And the people had grown enormously, both in numbers and prosperity. Simply put, they had become worldly and perfectly satisfied with what the world had to offer. God and His glorious call to the promised land had been set aside and ignored. The people had become comfortable, complacent, lethargic, worldly, carnal.

Now note what Stephen declared.

1. God prepared to save the people and to fulfill His glorious promise to Abraham: "the time of the promise drew nigh" (v.17). The people needed to refocus and to recommit their lives to God and the promised land. But they were not going to do it, not of themselves, not by their own works. They were happy where they were. If they were to be saved, God would have to do it. He would have to act in their behalf; He would have to do it by grace simply because He loved them. They had rejected Him and still were rejecting Him. Therefore, their salvation depended entirely upon God and His marvelous grace. God loves and is gracious, and God wants to save man. Therefore, God moved world events to save His people. He used an evil Pharaoh and an evil event to make Israel willing to leave Egypt.

The new ruler "knew not Joseph"; that is, he cared nothing about some historical event of the past when a few had helped his nation. He was responsible for Egypt, and the Jews were growing into such a large nation, they were becoming a threat. He feared Israel might join forces with some attacking force against Egypt. So he...

- enslaved Israel, taking away all their rights.
- plotted to stop the growth of the nation by killing all the newborn children.

These two events were the events God used to restir Israel's heart. Israel would soon cry out for God and for the promised land.

2. God protected and prepared the chosen child, Moses. (See Exodus, Chapter 2 for the story.) Note: as the child of Pharaoh's daughter, Moses was well educated. The "wisdom of the Egyptian" was well known (1 Ki.4:30). It included science, math, astronomy, and medicine.

3. God's servant acted in Israel's behalf.

- a. Moses was forty years old (see DEEPER STUDY # 3—Acts 7:23).
- b. Note: the words "came into his heart" (v.23). Apparently Moses had not associated with the Jews during the forty years; he had lived solely among the Egyptians. But all of a sudden, from the deepest part of his being, the thought of his people and their need for his help rose up in his heart. He was compelled (by divine impulse) to go and visit them.
- c. Moses saw an Egyptian slave mistreating a Jewish slave. He delivered the Jewish slave and killed the Egyptian.

4. God's servant was misunderstood and rejected. Moses thought the Jews would understand and know that God was going to use him to deliver them (v.25). But they did not understand, and they rejected him. This was made abundantly clear on the very next day when he tried to reconcile two Jews who were fighting among themselves. They rejected his leadership, rejected him...

- as their ruler.
- as their judge.

They even threatened to use the fact that he had killed the Egyptian against him if he did not leave them alone and quit meddling in their affairs. This, of course, forced Moses to flee for his life lest Pharaoh imprison him.

Now note Stephen's point. He was...

- saying that as Moses was raised up to be the ruler and judge, so was Christ.
- saying that as Moses was misunderstood and rejected, so are Christ and His followers.

"Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you; if they have kept my saying, they will keep yours also" (Jn.15:20).

"For unto you it is given in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake" (Ph.1:29).

"Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution" (2 Tim.3:12).

DEEPER STUDY # 3

(7:23) Moses: note that Moses had been in the palace of Pharaoh for forty years, cut off from his own people. Moses' life is usually divided into three periods of forty years each.

- ⇒ Forty years in Pharaoh's palace.
- ⇒ Forty years in Midian as a shepherd.
- ⇒ Forty years as the leader of Israel. (He died when he was 120 years old, Dt.34:7.)

5 (7:30-41) Rejection—Deliverance: the third rejection and deliverance—the great deliverance planned by God through His servant. Stephen stressed four points.

1. God prepared to save His people again. Once again, He called His servant Moses (v.30-33).
  - a. God's call was an act of grace alone. The emphasis is upon God and His call of grace, not upon Moses.
    - ⇒ Moses was in "the wilderness," far removed.
    - ⇒ It was God who "appeared" and sought after Moses, not Moses after God.
  - b. It was God who called Moses. The emphasis is again upon God and not Moses. The God who called Moses was the God of the promised land...
    - the God of Abraham.
    - the God of Isaac.
    - the God of Jacob.
  - c. It was holy ground where God met Moses. The emphasis is again upon God not Moses. It was the presence of God that made the ground holy. (Note: wherever God is, the ground is holy.)

Stephen's emphasis could not be missed by the Jewish people...

- they were exalting Moses (the law) above God Himself.
- the promise of God was given long before the law.
- the reason God was calling Moses was to save the people for the promised land, not for the law.
- Moses (the law) was only a part of God's plan. Moses and the law were not the end, not the thing God was after. The promise was the end.
- the temple was not the only holy ground. God's presence was what made ground holy. Therefore, where God is, there is holy ground.

2. God commissioned His servant to save the people (v.34). Again it was God who acted, not the people.
  - It was God who said, "I have seen, I have seen the affliction of my people," not the people who said, "I have seen, I have seen the promised land of God."
  - It was God who heard their groaning, not the people who heard the groaning of God's heart for His people.
  - It was God who came down to deliver the people, not the people who came to God for deliverance.
  - It was God who sent His servant into Egypt, not the people who raised up a servant to save them.

Stephen's point was well taken. The people failed God at every step. Deliverance and salvation were in the hands of God alone.

3. God sent His servant on a special mission—a mission of extreme importance, a mission that must be understood by the present generation (v.35-38).

- a. God's servant was to be a ruler and a deliverer. This servant was the same who had been rejected. He was God's choice, despite the people's rejection. He came with signs and wonders delivering the people. (Note how Moses is a strong type of Jesus Christ.)
- b. God's servant was to predict a unique Deliverer and Prophet who was to be heard (cp. Dt.18:15). This was Moses' great prophecy of the coming Savior.
- c. God's servant was to bring the living oracles of God to the church of God (Israel) in the wilderness (see note—Acts 7:38).

4. God and Moses were disobeyed and rejected (v.39-41). The people would not obey the "living oracles [Word]" of God. The words "not obey" mean they did not want to obey; their disobedience was deliberate. They rejected both God and His servant. They turned their hearts away from God and back to Egypt (cp. Ex.16:3f; Num.11:4f). The idea of worshipping a calf had come from Egypt. The Egyptians had worshipped two sacred bulls, Apis and Mnevis. (Cp. Ex.32:1f for the story.)

Stephen's point could not be missed. Moses was only a forerunner of Jesus.

- ⇒ Just as Moses had come with signs and wonders to deliver the people, so had Christ.
- ⇒ In fact, Moses had actually predicted the coming of Jesus, the greater Prophet and Savior.
- ⇒ Just as Moses had given the living oracles, the Word of God, to the church in the wilderness, so Jesus had brought the living Word of God to people.

"For I have not spoken of myself; but the Father which sent me, he gave me a commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak. And I know that his commandment is life everlasting: whatsoever I speak therefore, even as the Father said unto me, so I speak" (Jn.12:49-50).

"Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I speak unto you I speak not of myself: but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works....He that loveth me not keepeth not my sayings: and the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's which sent me" (Jn.14:10, 24).

"Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you" (Jn.15:15).

"For I have given unto them the words which thou gavest me; and they have received them, and have known surely that I came out from thee, and they have believed that thou didst send me....And I have declared unto them thy name, and will declare it: that the love wherewith thou hast loved me may be in them, and I in them" (Jn.17:8, 26).

- ⇒ Just as Moses had been rejected, so Jesus was being rejected.

"He came unto his own, and his own received him not" (Jn.1:11).

"I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not: if another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive. How can ye believe, which receive honour one of another, and seek not the honour that cometh from God only?" (Jn.5:43-44).

“He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him: the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day” (Jn.12:48).

“To whom he said, This is the rest wherewith ye may cause the weary to rest; and this is the refreshing: yet they would not hear” (Is.28:12).

“For thus saith the Lord GOD, the Holy One of Israel; in returning and rest shall ye be saved; in quietness and in confidence shall be your strength: and ye would not” (Is.30:15).

DEEPER STUDY # 4

(7:38) Israel—Church: note the word “church” (ekklesia). Israel was God’s church, God’s assembly, God’s congregation in the wilderness. Israel was a type of the church in the world.

6 (7:42-53) Israel, Charges Against—Blessings: the charges against Israel or against the people. The charges are a real eye-opener as to how God saw Israel in the Old Testament.

1. Charge 1: the people (Israel) did not worship God, but worshipped false gods (v.42). They worshipped the “hosts of heaven,” that is, the sun, moon, and stars (for example, the Zodiac, astrology, cosmic forces. Cp. Dt.17:3; 2 Ki.17:16; 21:3; 2 Chron.33:3; Job 31:26-28; Jer.8:2; 19:13). Again this was a carryover of Egyptian idolatry. Note: the charge was dramatic. When Israel was making offerings and sacrifices to God, they were really worshipping false gods. That is, their hearts and thoughts were upon the world (Egypt) and its idols.

God’s response was the same as the people’s act. What they had sown, they were to reap.

⇒ Just as they had turned away from God, He had turned away from them.

⇒ Just as they had given themselves up to worship false gods, God had given them up to do as they pleased. God had given them up to their own lusts.

“Because that, when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful; but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened. Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools” (Ro.1:21-22).

“Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness through the lusts of their own hearts, to dishonour their own bodies between themselves” (Ro.1:24).

“For this cause God gave them up unto vile affections: for even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature: and likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another; men with men working that which is unseemly, and receiving in themselves that recompence of their error which was meet. And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not convenient” (Ro.1:26-28.)

2. Charge 2: the people (Israel) did not carry the tabernacle of God, but of false gods (v.43). Publicly and outwardly they were carrying the tabernacle of God wherever they went, but again, their hearts and thoughts were upon false gods. (See DEEPER STUDY # 5,6—Acts 7:43.)

God’s response was to give them up to their lusts. Just as they had carried the tabernacle with their hearts focused upon false gods, so God had carried them and given them up to the captivity of a heathen nation who worshipped false gods (cp. 2 Ki.17:6).

3. Charge 3: the people were inexcusable. Why? Because they were greatly blessed (v.44-47). God had blessed them with three particular things.

a. God had blessed the people with the tabernacle of His presence and testimony. Note that God had shown Moses a “fashion” (tupon), that is, a figure, a pattern, a picture of the tabernacle; and Moses had constructed it after the picture God had shown him.

b. God had blessed the people with His presence and favor in leaders. Joshua, David, and Solomon are mentioned. All three had the favor and blessings of God upon their lives. Therefore, the people were greatly blessed through these leaders.

“Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof” (Mt.21:43).

c. God had blessed the people with the temple. David had desired to build the temple, but it was Solomon whom God appointed to construct it. (Cp. 1 Kings, chapters 6-8.) When the Jews returned from captivity to Jerusalem, Zerubbabel rebuilt the temple (516 B.C.). Herod the Great rebuilt the temple and made it one of the wonders of the world around 20 B.C. It was this temple in which the Jews gloried.

The point is this: by being so blessed, the people (Israel) were inexcusable in their rejection of God. They had every opportunity available, yet they still chose the world instead of God.

4. Charge 4: the people did not understand the temple. God is not limited to only one particular place (v. 48-50. Cp. Is.66:1-2). Now note a significant point: Solomon, the builder of the great temple, had proclaimed this truth.

“But will God indeed dwell on the earth? behold, the heaven and heaven of heavens cannot contain thee; how much less this house that I have builded” (1 Ki.8:27; cp. 2 Chron.6:18).

What Solomon said was true: God never intended for men to think that His presence was limited to the temple. Stephen’s point struck home, for Jesus had taught that men must worship God in Spirit and in truth (Jn.4:24). Note also that Jesus had spoken these words to a Samaritan. Anyone of any race or land could worship God just so they approached Him in Spirit and truth. A particular land or temple was not necessary.

“God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth” (Jn.4:24).

5. Charge 5: the people of the present generation were resisting the Holy Spirit (v.51). Stephen turned to the present generation and charged them with the very same resistance and rejection as their forefathers. Note the words, “Ye do al-ways resist.” He was identifying them with their fathers. He called them...

- stiffnecked (sklerotracheloi): hard necked, obstinate, stubborn.
- uncircumcised in heart” (aperitmetoi kardiais): heathens, pagans, lost, aliens, idolaters, false worshippers, ungodly.
- resisters: persons who resist God; who deliberately oppose or rush against God; who actively struggle and fight against God.

“Ye stiffnecked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye” (Acts 7:51).

“Be ye not as the horse, or as the mule, which have no understanding: whose mouth must be held in with bit and bridle, lest they come near unto thee. Many sorrows shall be to the wicked: but he that trusteth in the LORD, mercy shall compass him about” (Ps.32:9-10).

“Hearken unto me, ye stouthearted, that are far from righteousness: I bring near my righteousness; it shall not be far off, and my salvation shall not tarry” (Is.46:12-13).

“And they have turned unto me the back, and not the face: though I taught them, rising up early and teaching them, yet they have not hearkened to receive instruction” (Jer.32:33).

“If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the LORD of hosts, I will even send a curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings: yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart” (Mal.2:2).

6. Charge 6: the people persecuted all the prophets—the very servants who predicted the coming (offered the hope) of the Righteous One (the Messiah) (v.52. Cp. Acts 3:14; 22:14; Is.11:4-5; 53:11.) Jesus Christ was the One to whom all the prophets looked, the One who was to secure perfect righteousness for man. He was the One who was to bring righteousness to man. Yet the people rejected, persecuted, and killed the prophets who proclaimed the glorious message of His coming (cp. the charge of Jesus against the people).

“Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye build the tombs of the prophets, and garnish the sepulchres of the righteous, and say, if we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets” (Mt.23:29-31).

“Woe unto you! for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and your fathers killed them. Truly ye bear witness that ye allow the deeds of your fathers: for they indeed killed them, and ye build their sepulchres. Therefore also said the wisdom of God, I will send them prophets and apostles, and some of them they shall slay and persecute: that the blood of all the prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation” (Lk.11:47).

7. Charge 7: the people, the present generation, fulfilled the prophecies. The present generation betrayed and killed the Righteous One (v.52. Cp. v.38). (See outline and note—Acts 3:13-15 for discussion and verses.)

“He that despised Moses’ law died without mercy under two or three witnesses: of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace? For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, The Lord shall judge his people” (Heb.10:28-31).

8. Charge 8: the people, the present generation, have not kept the law (v.53). The law had been given to them by the hands of angels. Yet, they had not kept it. They gloried in the law, but violated it just as much as their forefathers (cp. v.38-43, 52; Ro.2:23).

“And he said unto them, Full well ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition” (Mk.7:9).

“Let no man deceive you with vain words: for because of these things cometh the wrath of God upon the children of disobedience” (Eph.5:6).

“But if ye will not obey the voice of the LORD, but rebel against the commandment of the LORD, then shall the hand of the LORD be against you, as it was against your fathers” (1 Sam.12:15).

“For if the word spoken by angels was stedfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompence of reward; how shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation; which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him” (Heb.2:2-3).

DEEPER STUDY # 5

(7:43) Molech: this was the sun god to whom children were often sacrificed. The idol had the head of an ox and arms that stretched out. There was a hollow place underneath the arms where a fire was built. The fire consumed the sacrifices lying in the outstretched arms above. Molech was the god of the Amorites. (Cp. Lev.18:21; 20:2; 1 Ki.11:7; 2 Ki.23:10; Jer.32:35.)

DEEPER STUDY # 6

(7:43) Remphan: this was a god of the Egyptians, Arabs, and Phoenicians. It is thought to have been the worship of the planet Saturn.

DIVISION II

THE BIRTH AND GROWTH OF THE CHURCH, 2:1-7:60

Q. The First Martyr, Stephen (Scene III): A Study of Martyrdom, 7:54-60

(7:54-60) Introduction: this is a vivid study of martyrdom, a study that should encourage believers to stand fast in persecution, no matter the cost.

1. The cause of martyrdom: reaction against God (v.54).
2. The Lord's provision (v.55-56).
3. The insanity of murdering the believer (v.57-58).
4. The believer's supreme confidence (v.59).
5. The believer's forgiving spirit (v.60).
6. The believer's peaceful departure (v.60).

1 (7:54) Martyrdom, Cause: there is the cause of martyrdom—reaction against God. Remember: Stephen was on trial for his life. He had been called upon to defend himself (Acts 7:1). But instead of actually defending himself, Stephen had preached about the tragic failure of the people to follow and obey God. He had...

- shown how God called and founded the nation of Israel to seek and inhabit the "promised land."
- shown how Israel had rejected God's call and the hope of the promised land, rejected it time and again all through their history.
- shown how God delivered the nation time and again, trying to stir within the people an obedience to Him.
- made eight severe charges against the nation including the murder of the righteous One, God's very own Son.

His message had been effective and convicting. It had done its job. Both the leaders and the people were convicted. The response was up to them. Conviction can go either way. It can either cause a person to turn to God, confessing his sin, or cause a person to react against God. Note three facts about the Jewish court and the people present.

1. "When they heard these things." This is present tense. It was while they were hearing Stephen preach that conviction was taking place. He was preaching and the Spirit of God was convicting, trying to get through to the hearts of the people. God was giving the people another chance.

2. "Cut to the heart" (dieprionto tais kardiais). The word "dieprionto" means to saw asunder; to cut through. It is used to show violent reaction. The response of their hearts was anger, not godly sorrow (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, Godly Sorrow—2 Cor.7:10). They had no intention of confessing that they had been wrong.

3. "Gnashed" (ebruchon). The word means to bite, to grind, to gnash the teeth just like a pack of snarling dogs. The people were in a rage, filled with anger and malice, ready to do violence, ready to unleash the fury of their emotions.

Thought 1. When the human heart rebels against God, it becomes disturbed and tormented. Rebellion against God causes the human heart to be...

- uncertain & insecure
- disturbed & troubled
- indignant & reactionary
- passive & inactive
- withdrawn & lonely
- purposeless & meaningless

"And the LORD said unto Moses, I have seen this people, and, behold, it is a stiffnecked people" (Ex.32:9).

"Yet he sent prophets to them, to bring them again unto the LORD; and they testified against them: but they would not give ear" (2 Chron.24:19).

"To whom he said, This is the rest wherewith ye may cause the weary to rest; and this is the refreshing: yet they would not hear" (Is.28:12).

"Hearken unto me, ye stouthearted, that are far from righteousness" (Is.46:12).

"Ye stiffnecked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye" (Acts 7:51).

“Harden not your heart, as in the provocation, and as in the day of temptation in the wilderness” (Ps.95:8).

“Happy is the man that feareth always: but he that hardeneth his heart shall fall into mischief” (Pr.28:14).

“He, that being often reprovèd hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy” (Pr.29:1).

Thought 2. Note the faithfulness of Stephen in bearing witness to the truth. His purpose was not to escape condemnation, not at any price. He, of course, was not wishing to die. But he was not willing to deny the truth in order to live. His desire was to proclaim the truth, hoping the leaders and people of his beloved nation would heed the call of God and be saved. What a dynamic challenge for bearing testimony in difficult situations!

“For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard” (Acts 4:20).

“Then spake the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace: for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee: for I have much people in this city” (Acts 18:9-10).

“For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind. Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God” (2 Tim.1:7-8).

“These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee” (Tit.2:15).

“But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear” (1 Pt.3:15).

“Then I said, I will not make mention of him, nor speak any more in his name. But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and I could not stay” (Jer.20:9).

2 (7:55-56) Deliverance: there was the Lord’s provision. God is always present when one of His dear children is facing a crisis, especially martyrdom. But note this: the person must be a true child of God, faithful and obedient to the Lord of glory. Stephen was. He was doing exactly what Jesus had said to do, bearing testimony to the world. Therefore, Stephen had the promise of the Lord, “Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world” (Mt.28:20). Jesus was there with Stephen, there in the most wonderful way. Note the marvelous provision of God to those who face martyrdom.

1. God filled Stephen with the Holy Spirit. Stephen was a man who was always filled with the Spirit (Acts 5:3, 5), but the idea here would be a very special infilling of the Spirit. He received a very special...

- presence and manifestation of the Spirit: a special consciousness; an awareness; a sense surrounding, engulfing, and embracing him; a presence carrying him through the great trial.
- power and grace to bear and go through whatever lay ahead.

2. God gave Stephen a vision into heaven: enabling him to see into the other world, the spiritual world, or spiritual dimension of being.

- a. Stephen saw the glory of God. He saw God in the brilliant light of His person, full of splendor and radiance (cp. 1 Tim.1:16; Rev.21:11, 23. See note, Glory—Mt.17:5-8.)
- b. Stephen saw Jesus standing at the right hand of God. Jesus is usually said to be sitting at the right hand of God, symbolizing His authority as man’s Lord and Intercessor (cp. Mt.26:64; Mk.16:19; Lk.20:42-43; Acts 2:34; Eph.1:20; Col.3:1; Heb.1:3; 10:12-13). But here He is seen standing. This symbolizes His overlooking the scene, His care for His dear follower, and the joyful reception of His faithful servant.

Thought 1. Imagine the glorious sight! There will be no difference between the vision of Stephen and the actual experience of God’s glory for any believer. We shall all behold every sight in Stephen’s vision and much more. In a moment’s time, in the twinkling of an eye, the genuine believer will pass from this life into the next world immediately, never tasting or experiencing death.

“Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life” (Jn.5:24).

“Verily, verily, I say unto you, If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death” (Jn.8:51).

“And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this?” (Jn.11:26).

“We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord” (2 Cor.5:8).

“And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever” (2 Tim.4:18).

“But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honour; that he by the grace of God should taste death for every man. For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the captain of their salvation perfect through sufferings” (Heb.2:9-10).

3. God gave Stephen a glorious testimony. Seeing such a scene, Stephen just burst forth proclaiming the glorious vision he was experiencing. It was most likely a natural outburst of joy and ecstasy, a testimony of the truth of the other world to those standing around. Note this part of the truth: the Son of Man, Jesus, is there. (See DEEPER STUDY # 3, Son of Man—Mt.8:20.) He is at the right hand of God. Stephen was proclaiming...

- that Jesus is the Son of God.

- that our faith in Jesus is not in vain.
- that Jesus is exactly whom He claimed to be. (See Jesus Christ, Claims of—Master Subject Index.)
  - “So then, after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received up into heaven, and sat on the right hand of God” (Mk.16:19).
  - “Hereafter shall the Son of man sit on the right hand of the power of God” (Lk.22:69).
  - “Which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and sat him at his own right hand in the heavenly places” (Eph.1:20).
  - “Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name” (Ph.2:9).
  - “Saying with a loud voice, Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive power, and riches, and wisdom and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing” (Rev.5:12).

3 (7:57-58) Stephen—Persecution: there was the insanity of murdering the believer. This is seen in two things.

1. The insane rejection. The persecutors were actually opposing a person who only wanted...

- to help and minister to people
- to offer the hope of living forever

The sole purpose of the believer is to minister to and meet the desperate conditions of man:

- |                     |              |                |
|---------------------|--------------|----------------|
| ⇒ being lost        | ⇒ loneliness | ⇒ disease      |
| ⇒ lack of education | ⇒ poverty    | ⇒ depression   |
| ⇒ alienation        | ⇒ hunger     | ⇒ lifelessness |

Whatever the predicament, the believer is called to minister. He is not out to destroy, but to build. It is utter insanity to oppose and kill such a person. For men to oppose a genuine believer, their behavior has to reach a peak of insanity. Note what is involved...

- loud voices: to drown out the truth
- stopped ears: to keep from hearing the truth
- ran upon: to attack and take vengeance
- cast out and stoned: to get rid of the convicting message, allowing them to live as they desire instead of living for God

2. The insane leadership. A person who takes the lead in persecution is in rebellion against God. Those who follow such a leader are following a person who is actually reacting against the Lord, not against a believer (cp. Acts 9:4-5). The man who took the lead in Stephen’s murder was Saul of Tarsus. He was kicking against the pricks, the conviction of conscience (cp. Acts 9:5).

It is dangerous to follow man in rebellion against God. The path of rebellion leads to destruction. The man in rebellion shall perish. There is no exception.

“Ye serpents, ye generation of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation of hell?” (Mt.23:33).

“Maliciousness...murder...malignity...haters of God...proud...covenant breakers...implacable, unmerciful...they which commit such things are worthy of death” (Ro.1:29-32).

“But after thy hardness and impenitent heart treasurest up unto thyself wrath against the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgment of God” (Ro.2:5).

“Hatred...wrath...strife...seditions...heresies...murders...and such like...they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God” (Gal.5:20-21).

“The fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers...shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death” (Rev.21:8).

“Now be ye not stiffnecked, as your fathers were, but yield yourselves unto the LORD, and enter into his sanctuary, which he hath sanctified for ever: and serve the LORD your God, that the fierceness of his wrath may turn away from you” (2 Chron.30:8).

“He, that being often reproved hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy” (Pr.29:1).

“If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the LORD of hosts, I will even send a curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings: yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart” (Mal.2:2).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(7:58) Saul—Paul: this is the first time Saul of Tarsus is mentioned in Scripture. Note: he is said to be young. How old was Saul at this time? Scripture never says.

4 (7:59) Hope—Heaven: there was the believer’s supreme confidence. Note four points.

1. Stephen experienced the pain and suffering of the trial. This is seen in that he called for the Lord’s help. Believers are not removed or relieved from the sufferings of trials, but they are given the grace and strength to endure the trials, even martyrdom.

2. Stephen called upon the Lord Himself. It was the Lord Jesus who was standing, ready to receive Him. Jesus wishes all believers to be with Him where He is (Jn.14:2-3; 17:24). This is the very reason for which Jesus...

- humiliated Himself in coming to earth,
- sacrificed His life in death,
- prays and longs for believers to join Him in heaven.

3. Stephen called for Jesus to receive his spirit. Stephen was still trusting the grace of God, the righteousness of Jesus, for his salvation. He was not trusting his own works and goodness. He was still depending upon Jesus and the wonderful love of God. But note the key words: still trusting, still depending. Stephen had trusted and lived for Christ during life, so he could expect to trust and live for Christ in eternity.

4. Stephen was going to be where Jesus was. He called for Jesus to receive his spirit, to accept him where He was. And remember where Jesus is (v.55):

⇒ in heaven

⇒ at the right hand of God

Stephen and all other believers are to be with Jesus right where He is, in heaven itself.

“And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, To day shalt thou be with me in paradise” (Lk.23:43).

“In my Father’s house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also” (Jn.14:2-3).

“Father, I will that they also, whom thou hast given me, be with me where I am; that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world” (Jn.17:24).

“We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord” (2 Cor.5:8).

“For I am in a strait betwixt two, having a desire to depart, and to be with Christ; which is far better” (Ph.1:23).

“Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord” (1 Th.4:17).

5 (7:60) Forgiveness: there was the believer’s loving and forgiving spirit. Note that Stephen’s last act was to kneel in prayer and to plead for his persecutors and murderers. He possessed the very spirit of Christ Himself, who had prayed the same prayer (Lk.23:34). “Lay not this sin to their charge” says three things.

⇒ Stephen was filled with compassion for his persecutors. He wanted them to be saved.

⇒ Men will be charged with sin.

⇒ Men must have the charge of sin removed from them to be acceptable before God.

Thought 1. Remember: Stephen and other believers would never pay the price demanded if sinful men were going to be accepted by God anyway. Something else: if God was going to accept men as they are in their sinful state, He would have never allowed His Son to die at the hands of men.

6 (7:60) Death: there was the believer’s peaceful departure. Scripture simply says, “He fell asleep.” There is no death for the believer. Stephen simply passed from this life into the next world, an experience that amounts to nothing more than falling asleep. Sleep is often used to describe death for the believer (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Jn.11:13).

“Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live” (Jn.5:24).

“Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this?” (Jn.11:25-26).

“And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and was carried by the angels into Abraham’s bosom [heaven]: the rich man also died, and was buried” (Lk.16:22).

“For he that in these things serveth Christ is acceptable to God, and approved of men” (Ro.14:18).

“For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain” (Ph.1:21).

“For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality. So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory. O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory? The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law” (1 Cor.15:53-56).

“For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens” (2 Cor.5:1).

Thought 1. Believers are to forgive men no matter what the offense may be.

“Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy” (Mt.5:7).

“But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you” (Mt.5:44).

“Recompense to no man evil for evil. Provide things honest in the sight of all men” (Ro.12:17).

“Not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing: but contrariwise blessing; knowing that ye are thereunto called, that ye should inherit a blessing” (1 Pt.3:9).

“He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the LORD require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?” (Mic.6:8).

DIVISION III

THE CHURCH SCATTERED: MISSIONARY BEGINNINGS IN JUDEA AND SAMARIA, 8:1-9:31

A. The Church's Lay Leaders Scattered: How God Uses Persecution, 8:1-4

(8:1-4) Introduction: Stephen's message was God's final invitation to Israel. If Israel rejected the message, God would turn elsewhere to root and ground His church. The terrible tragedy is that Israel did reject the message; in fact Israel killed Stephen and launched a savage persecution against the church, attempting to utterly destroy and stamp it out.

However, God overruled and used the persecution as a means to scatter the church all across the world. Just as Jesus had instructed, Judea, Samaria, and the uttermost part of the earth were now to hear the glorious message of the gospel (cp. Acts 1:8).

The point to note is this: Stephen (his message and martyrdom) is the flame that God used to launch the great evangelistic thrust of the gospel around the world. The believers were scattered all over the world by great persecution.

1. The flaming fury of the persecution (v.1).
2. The devout cared for the murdered (v.2).
3. The church was severely persecuted: both men and women were persecuted by Saul (v.3).
4. The lay believers were scattered abroad: they went everywhere preaching Christ (v.4).

1 (8:1) Paul, Persecutor of the Church: the flaming fury of the persecution. Note four significant facts. (See note—Acts 8:3 for more discussion.)

1. The persecution was launched by an inflamed man, Saul of Tarsus. The word "consenting" or "approving" (suneudokon) means to give full consent of the will; to willingly approve; to approve with pleasure; to delight in; to applaud what is being done. Saul was well-pleased with Stephen's death. An inflamed fury had been building up in him against the church, for he felt that the preaching of Christ threatened his religion, Judaism. In fact, Saul was the leader in persecuting the church, the one who boiled more than anyone else against the church. He was apparently a leader among the religionists.

"For ye have heard of my conversation in time past in the Jews' religion, how that beyond measure I persecuted the church of God, and wasted it: And profited in the Jews' religion above many my equals in mine own nation, being more exceedingly zealous of the traditions of my fathers" (Gal.1:13-14).

"If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, I more...an Hebrew of the Hebrews...concerning zeal, persecuting the church, touching the righteousness which is in the law" (Ph.3:4-6).

(See notes—Acts 4:2-4; note and DEEPER STUDY # 1—Mt.12:10 for more discussion. This latter note in particular explains why the religionists and the Pharisees opposed Jesus so violently. Saul was a Pharisee.)

2. The persecution was launched quickly, on the very day of Stephen's death. The words "at that time" (en ekeinei tei hemerai) mean on that very same day. Saul wished to act and to act quickly in wiping out the church. The believers were frightened and on the run. He had to strike immediately to catch them before they could escape.

3. The persecution was launched in fury and in violence. Note the phrase "a great persecution" (diogmos megas). The idea is that Saul hotly pursued, chased, and hunted down the believers. He was bent on violence, utterly determined to stamp out the church.

4. The church "[was] all scattered abroad throughout Judea and Samaria" (see note—Acts 8:4 for discussion). Note the apostles remained behind.

- ⇒ They had been given some freedom by the authorities on the advice of Gamaliel (Acts 5:34-40).
- ⇒ They were highly esteemed by the public at large. On other occasions the authorities feared to have them arrested, lest their arrest cause an uprising among the people (cp. Acts 4:21).
- ⇒ The apostles were courageous men, and they had learned to wait upon the Lord for instructions. Perhaps they were braving the storm until the Lord told them otherwise.

This much can be safely known. If the apostles had fled Jerusalem, there would have been no stabilizing person at the church, no leader holding the church together. Remember: the only organized church in existence was the church in Jerusalem. The believers, although imprisoned and scattered, still needed a church to look toward. If the apostles had fled, the church in Jerusalem would have been completely destroyed. There would be no church to picture, no place from which to look for help and direction. The apostles were the hub, the focus, the leaders to which the earliest believers looked for guidance. In the eyes of the earliest believers, the apostles were needed, desperately needed. The Jerusalem church was the only church the believers knew. Therefore it was important for the apostles to remain there, important for their loyalty and availability to the church to be known. By staying in Jerusalem, they held the church together. The believers, no matter where they had scattered, knew that the church was still existing through its courageous leaders.

“And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it” (Mt.16:18).

“For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ” (1 Cor.3:11).

“Nevertheless the foundation of God standeth sure, having this seal, The Lord knoweth them that are his. And, Let every one that nameth the name of Christ depart from iniquity” (2 Tim.2:19).

2 (8:2) Believer: the devout cared for the murdered. The devout must have been some of Stephen’s friends and fellow synagogue worshippers who had not embraced the faith of Christ, but cared for him. They were deeply disturbed over his death, making “great lamentation” over him. Note how God used Stephen’s burial to continue the witness:

⇒ His witness was publicly honored.

⇒ He died what might be called a hero’s death.

3 (8:3) Paul—Church; Persecution of: the church was severely persecuted—both men and women were persecuted by Saul. (See note—Acts 8:1 for more discussion.) Saul made “havoc” (elumaineto) of the church; that is, he tried to devastate it, destroy it, ruin it, wipe it out.

⇒ It is the picture of a wild beast ravaging and tearing to bits some carcass.

⇒ The verb is continued action. He began and kept on ravaging and destroying. He was, as he later confessed, “exceedingly mad against them [believers]” (Acts 26:11).

1. He stormed the homes of believers, breaking open the doors, fiercely seeking every believer in “every house” (Acts 8:3).

2. He arrested all he could find, “hailing” them (suron): constraining and dragging them, using whatever force was necessary to arrest and subdue them. The picture is that of forcibly dragging them from their homes through the city streets (Acts 8:3).

3. He arrested women as well as men. Women were considered unimportant and insignificant in Saul’s day. Yet the fierceness and savagery of Paul was so set on destroying the church that he went after the women as well. His crime against women was to be an offense Paul could never forget (cp. Acts 9:2; 22:4).

4. He imprisoned as many as he could find, and he found many...

- committing them to prison (Acts 8:3).

- “binding and delivering into prisons both men and women” (Acts 22:4).

- “many of the saints did I shut up in prison” (Acts 26:10).

5. He stormed “every synagogue” and punished the believers who were present. He tried to force them to blaspheme the name of Christ (Acts 26:11).

6. He hunted them down, hotly pursuing them even into foreign cities, persecuting all he could track down (Acts 22:5; 26:11).

7. He brought many to their death and gave his voice to the death penalty of many others (Acts 22:4; 26:10).

“As for Saul, he made havoc of the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women committed them to prison” (Acts 8:3).

“And Saul, yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest, and desired of him letters to Damascus to the synagogues, that if he found any of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Jerusalem” (Acts 9:1-2).

“And I persecuted this way unto the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women. As also the high priest doth bear me witness, and all the estate of the elders: from whom also I received letters unto the brethren, and went to Damascus, to bring them which were there bound unto Jerusalem, for to be punished” (Acts 22:4-5).

“I verily thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Nazareth. Which thing I also did in Jerusalem: and many of the saints did I shut up in prison, having received authority from the chief priests; and when they were put to death, I gave my voice against them. And I punished them oft in every synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme; and being exceedingly mad against them, I persecuted them even unto strange cities” (Acts 26:9-11).

“Concerning zeal, persecuting the church” (Ph.3:6, cp. Gal.1:13).

Note: the mercy and grace of God are fully demonstrated in the life of Paul. God’s mercy is available to all of us, no matter how terribly we have sinned. There is hope, forgiveness, and a glorious ministry for any of us, no matter who we are or what we have done—if we will repent and surrender ourselves to the Lord Jesus, to follow and obey Him.

“For I am the least of the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God. But by the grace of God I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not in vain; but I laboured more abundantly than they all: yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me” (1 Cor.15:9-10).

“And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who hath enabled me, for that he counted me faithful, putting me into the ministry; Who was before a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and injurious: but I obtained mercy, because I did it ignorantly in unbelief. And the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant with faith and love which is in Christ Jesus. This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief. Howbeit for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me first Jesus Christ might show forth all longsuffering, for a pattern to them which should hereafter believe on him to live everlasting” (1 Tim.1:12-16).

4 (8:4) Witnessing—Preaching: the lay believers who were scattered abroad went everywhere preaching Christ. Note two significant facts.

1. The believers were “scattered abroad” (diasparentes): dispersed, scattered about just as seed is sown or scattered throughout a field. God was using the evil of the world to spread His followers and message all over the world.
2. Note that the scattered believers did not hide in secrecy and fearful silence. They preached the Word wherever they went. “Preaching the word” (euaggelizomenoi ton logon) means to evangelize, to declare, to proclaim, to preach the Word of God, the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2, Preaching—Acts 11:19-30 for more discussion.)

Thought 1. Note two challenging facts.

- 1) The believers who were preaching and scattering the Word were lay believers.
- 2) The pattern was set for all time. Most preaching and witnessing was to be done by the lay believers. All lay believers are to scatter the seed wherever they are, wherever duty or circumstances place them.

“Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world” (Mt.28:19-20).

“And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mk.16:15).

“For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard” (Acts 4:20).

“Go, stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life” (Acts 5:20).

“Then Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them....Then Philip opened his mouth, and began at the same scripture, and preached unto him Jesus” (Acts 8:5, 35).

“Now they which were scattered abroad upon the persecution that arose about Stephen travelled as far as Phenice, and Cyprus, and Antioch, preaching the word to none but unto the Jews only. And some of them were men of Cyprus and Cyrene, which, when they were come to Antioch, spake unto the Grecians, preaching the Lord Jesus” (Acts 11:19-20).

“We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak” (2 Cor.4:13).

“And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also” (2 Tim.2:2).

“These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee” (Tit.2:15).

Thought 2. The great purpose and/or result of persecution is the spread of the gospel. God uses persecution...

- the staunch faith and endurance of believers,
- the dispersion of believers (when necessary),

...to demonstrate the reality of salvation, of His presence in the hearts and lives of people. Through persecution and the believer’s endurance, God shows clearly that He is. He demonstrates that He really exists and saves men, infusing them with both the hope and power to live forever.

“Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake. Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you” (Mt.5:11-12).

“And ye shall be hated of all men for my name’s sake: but he that endureth to the end shall be saved” (Mt.10:22).

“And every one that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my name’s sake, shall receive an hundredfold, and shall inherit everlasting life” (Mt.19:29).

“And he said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me. Therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ’s sake: for when I am weak, then am I strong” (2 Cor.12:9-10).

“And in nothing terrified by your adversaries: which is to them an evident token of perdition, but to you of salvation, and that of God. For unto you it is given in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake” (Ph.1:28-29).

“If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye; for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you: on their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified” (1 Pt.4:14; cp. v.12-19).

Thought 3. The persecution may range from simple abuse to violence. It may take place at work, at home, at school, at play, at church. But no matter what form or where it occurs, God will use it to bear witness to Himself—if we will be faithful and endure.

DIVISION III

THE CHURCH SCATTERED: MISSIONARY BEGINNINGS IN JUDEA AND SAMARIA, 8:5-25

B. The Great Revival in Samaria: A Study on Revival, 8:5-25

(8:5-25) Introduction: the need of the hour is revival, a true movement of God in the hearts and lives of people, both within and without the church. This is an excellent study on revival.

1. The preacher: Philip (v.5).
2. The essentials for revival (v.6).
3. The evidence of revival (v.7-25).

DEEPER STUDY # 1
(8:5-25) Samaria: see DEEPER STUDY # 2—Lk.10:33 for discussion.

1 (8:5) Philip: the preacher was Philip, a layman, one of the first deacons (Acts 6:5). This is important to note:

- ⇒ the first great evangelistic thrust outside Jerusalem was carried out by a layman.
- ⇒ the first time the term evangelist is used, it is used with a layman (Acts 21:8).

Philip preached (eukerussen) and proclaimed Christ. Later on he is said to preach (euaggelizomeno), to announce the glad tidings, “the things concerning the kingdom of God” (v.12). These two great words are used in the New Testament for proclaiming the gospel. Philip, the layman, was a true servant of the Lord, a lay believer who preached Christ. He was a layman who dedicated his time and energy to proclaiming the things concerning the kingdom of God.

Thought 1. Great revival necessitates great laymen sold out to Christ, laymen willing to preach Christ. Note that the following Scriptures are given to believers, not to the clergy.

“And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand” (Mt.10:7).

“What I tell you in darkness, that speak ye in light: and what ye hear in the ear, that preach ye upon the housetops” (Mt.10:27).

“Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world” (Mt.28:19-20).

“And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mk.16:15).

“For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard” (Acts 4:20).

“Go, stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life” (Acts 5:20).

“Then Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them....Then Philip opened his mouth, and began at the same scripture, and preached unto him Jesus” (Acts 8:5, 35).

“Now they which were scattered abroad upon the persecution that arose about Stephen travelled as far as Phenice, and Cyprus, and Antioch, preaching the word to none but unto the Jews only. And some of them were men of Cyprus and Cyrene, which, when they were come to Antioch, spake unto the Grecians, preaching the Lord Jesus” (Acts 11:19-20).

“We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak” (2 Cor.4:13).

“And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also” (2 Tim.2:2).

“These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee” (Tit.2:15).

“But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear” (1 Pt.3:15).

2 (8:6) Revival: the essentials for revival are twofold.

1. The people must be of “one accord”: of one mind, spirit and purpose; in full cooperation; willing to hear the message and see the miracles. If people oppose and shut their ears and close their eyes to the messenger, they cannot have revival. There has to be an openness, a willingness and oneness of spirit with the preacher and his message.
2. The people must give “heed” (proseichon), keep their minds and hearts upon the message.

“But blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your ears, for they hear” (Mt.13:16).

“But he that received seed among the thorns is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it; which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some an hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty” (Mt.13:23).

“Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shall be filled. Blessed are ye that weep now: for ye shall laugh” (Lk.6:21).

“But that on the good ground are they, which in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, keep it, and bring forth fruit with patience” (Lk.8:15).

“These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so” (Acts 17:11).

“For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God, which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe” (1 Th.2:13).

“And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart” (Dt.6:6).

3 (8:7-25) Revival: the evidences of revival are eightfold.

1. Evidence one: lives are changed—miraculously. People who cannot help themselves are healed. Note that people possessed with evil spirits were changed: the evil spirits were cast out (cp. Mk.3:11; Lk.4:41). People with diseased and crippled bodies were healed. The power of God was clearly witnessed.

“Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new” (2 Cor.5:17).

“Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever” (1 Pt.1:23).

“Whosoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ is born of God: and every one that loveth him that begat loveth him also that is begotten of him” (1 Jn.5:1).

2. Evidence two: great joy is experienced. A man who truly came to know Christ was filled with joy, the joy...
- of sins forgiven
  - of deliverance
  - of power to live
  - of hope for eternity
  - of knowing God’s presence
  - of security and assurance and confidence

“Notwithstanding in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rather rejoice, because your names are written in heaven” (Lk.10:20).

“These things [the gospel] have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full” (Jn.15:11).

“Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full” (Jn.16:24).

“And now come I to thee; and these things I speak in the world, that they might have my joy fulfilled in themselves” (Jn.17:13).

“As sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, and yet possessing all things” (2 Cor.6:10).

“Whom having not seen, ye love; in whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory” (1 Pt.1:8).

3. Evidence three: deliverance from great depths of sin, from false prophets and religion and sorcery. The depth of sin can reach no deeper than these people found themselves. They were gripped and enslaved by error, false teaching, and false hope.

- a. The people had been enslaved by a false prophet, a religious imposter, Simon.
 ⇒ He used sorcery: magical arts, witchcraft, spirit mediums, astrology, charms, spells, divination or fortune-telling.
 ⇒ He bewitched people: amazed, astonished, and secured their following.
 ⇒ He claimed that he was “some great one.”
- b. The people had been enslaved by a false religion: “all” gave heed; all followed his leadership and teaching; all “from the least to the greatest” confessed, “this man is the great power of God.”

Thought 1. Think how gullible people are in following false prophets and their teaching.

- c. The people had been enslaved for a long time. They had been held in bondage to the false prophet and false religion for a long time. But now, they had been freed by the power of Christ.

Thought 1. False prophets and false religions differ in their teachings and methods of enslaving people. But they are all false, and their followers can be delivered only by the power of Christ.

“Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep’s clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves” (Mt.7:15).

“And many false prophets shall rise, and shall deceive many” (Mt.24:11).

“For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall show great signs and wonders; insomuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect” (Mt.24:24; cp. Mk.13:22).

“Also of your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them” (Acts 20:30).

“For they that are such serve not our Lord Jesus Christ, but their own belly; and by good words and fair speeches deceive the hearts of the simple” (Ro.16:18).

“Now the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils; speaking lies in hypocrisy; having their conscience seared with a hot iron” (1 Tim.4:1-2).

“But evil men and seducers shall wax worse and worse, deceiving, and being deceived” (2 Tim.3:13).

“But there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction” (2 Pt.2:1).

“Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? He is antichrist, that denieth the Father and the Son” (1 Jn.2:22).

“For many deceivers are entered into the world, who confess not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is a deceiver and an antichrist” (2 Jn.7).

4. Evidence four: believing the things concerning the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, and being baptized.

a. Philip preached two major subjects.

⇒ He preached the kingdom of God (see DEEPER STUDY # 3—Mt. 19:23-24).

“And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand” (Mt.10:7).

“Now after that John was put in prison, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God, and saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe the gospel” (Mk.1:14-15).

“And he said unto them, I must preach the kingdom of God to other cities also: for therefore am I sent” (Lk.4:43).

“And he sent them to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick” (Lk.9:2).

“But when they believed Philip preaching the things concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women” (Acts 8:12).

“And now, behold, I know that ye all, among whom I have gone preaching the kingdom of God, shall see my face no more” (Acts 20:25).

“And when they had appointed him a day, there came many to him into his lodging; to whom he expounded and testified the kingdom of God, persuading them concerning Jesus, both out of the law of Moses, and out of the prophets, from morning till evening” (Acts 28:23).

⇒ He preached the name of Jesus Christ (see DEEPER STUDY # 2—Acts 3:6).

b. When the people heard the message...

⇒ they believed (see DEEPER STUDY # 2—Jn.2:24).

“For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life” (Jn.3:16).

“Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life” (Jn.5:24).

“And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst” (Jn.6:35).

“That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation” (Ro.10:9-10).

⇒ they were baptized (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 2:38).

5. Evidence five: false professions. It is doubtful that Simon was making a genuine confession of Christ (cp. v.18-24). When people experience true revival there will always be counterfeits. The existence of counterfeits and hypocritical professions dramatize and cause the genuine confessions to stand out even more.

“Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven” (Mt.7:21).

“Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you” (Mt.7:6).

“They profess that they know God; but in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate” (Tit.1:16).

6. Evidence 6: the reception and manifestation of the Holy Spirit (v.14-17). The apostles were the leaders, the supervisors of the church. Therefore, when they heard of the revival at Samaria, they sent Peter and John to investigate. Why was an investigation necessary? Because of the bitter enmity and racial prejudice between the Samaritans and Jews (see DEEPER STUDY # 2—Lk.10:33 for discussion).

When Peter and John arrived, they discovered that the Samaritans had believed and been baptized, but the Holy Spirit had not “fallen upon” any of them. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2—Acts 8:14-17 for discussion.)

7. Evidence 7: the rebuke of hypocrisy. The point is clearly seen in the incident with Simon (see Scripture and outline above, pt.5, v.18-24 for discussion).

Note Simon’s request for the apostles to pray for him. It seems that he did not pray himself nor confess and repent to the Lord Jesus. This was the same approach Pharaoh took with Moses, begging for prayer, but never repenting (Ex.8:8; 10:17).

8. Evidence 8: the opening of hearts for evangelism. Note...

- how open the Samaritans were to the Jewish preachers of the gospel.
- how the apostles went into the villages of the Samaritans to preach.

Thought 1. The fruit of revival is more revival, the opening of hearts for both the preaching and receiving of the gospel.

“For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard” (Acts 4:20).

“We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak” (2 Cor.4:13).

“Come and hear, all ye that fear God, and I will declare what he hath done for my soul” (Ps.66:16).

“I will mention the lovingkindnesses of the LORD, and the praises of the LORD, according to all that the LORD hath bestowed on us, and the great goodness toward the house of Israel, which he hath bestowed on them according to his mercies, and according to the multitude of his lovingkindnesses” (Is.63:7).

“Then I said, I will not make mention of him, nor speak any more in his name. But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and I could not stay” (Jer.20:9).

“Then they that feared the LORD spake often one to another: and the LORD hearkened, and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the LORD, and that thought upon his name” (Mal.3:16).

DEEPER STUDY #2

(8:14-17) Holy Spirit: this is a puzzling passage to some because the Samaritans are said to have already believed and been baptized, yet the Holy Spirit had not fallen upon them. They had not yet received Him. Note four points.

1. There is no legitimate question about the Samaritans being truly saved. Philip knew the Lord and was filled with the Spirit himself (Acts 6:3, 5). He possessed the power of the Spirit (Acts 8:6-7) and preached the gospel in clear terms. He knew how people were saved and what was involved in salvation. Therefore, two things seem unthinkable and impossible...

- that Philip actually did not proclaim the full gospel (this position would be contrary to what the Scripture says).
- that Philip could be deceived by all the people (this position would be contrary to the Spirit's leadership in Philip's life).

2. Scripture declares, “Now if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of His” (Ro.8:9). If a person is truly saved, the Holy Spirit has entered his heart and life. Scripture is abundantly clear on this point.

3. In light of the above two facts, the Samaritans apparently had two experiences with the Holy Spirit.

- a. The Holy Spirit actually entered their hearts and lives when they believed and were baptized (v.12, 16). When they believed, they were actually born again, becoming new creatures in Christ (Jn.3:5-8; 2 Cor.5:17).
- b. The Holy Spirit fell upon, poured Himself out, infilled, and manifested His presence and power on the very special occasion when Peter and John visited the new believers. Christ taught there would be special manifestations and infillings of the Holy Spirit. (See DEEPER STUDY # 3—Jn.14:21; note—14:21-22.) The experience of the apostles and of the church throughout the Book of Acts demonstrates clearly there is more than just one significant experience with the Holy Spirit. The early believers experienced periodic manifestations or special infillings. They had need for such experiences, and down through history as the need has arisen, God has given special manifestations or infillings of His Spirit to all obedient believers.

4. There was a very special need existing between the Samaritans and Jewish believers. The Jews and Samaritans were bitter enemies. They despised each other (see DEEPER STUDY # 2—Lk.10:33. Cp. Mt.15:26-27; Jn.4:9, 27.) The Holy Spirit needed to fall upon the Samaritans as much for the sake of the Jews as for the Samaritans. The Jews, especially the Jewish leaders, needed to see and experience the Holy Spirit falling upon the Samaritans. By witnessing the sight, they would know and testify to God's reception of the Samaritans. A wedge would be driven into the barrier that had separated the two nations for so long. And the Jerusalem Church would have to accept the Samaritans because of the evidence of God's acceptance (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 2:1-4; note—10:44-48).

There is also perhaps some significance in the fact that God sent the Holy Spirit upon the Jews first (Acts 2). Then, to progressively break the entrenched barrier of racial prejudice between the Jews and Gentiles, He sent the Spirit upon the half-Jews and half-Gentiles (Acts 8). Finally, He was able to send the Spirit upon the full-blooded Gentiles (Acts 10). In other words, there is some truth to the fact that there was...

- a Jewish Pentecost (Acts 2).
- a Samaritan Pentecost—a half-Jew and half-Gentile Pentecost (Acts 8).
- a Gentile Pentecost (Acts 10).

DIVISION III

THE CHURCH SCATTERED: MISSIONARY BEGINNINGS IN JUDEA AND SAMARIA, 8:1-9:31

C. The Great Mission to An Individual: A Study of Witnessing, 8:26-40

(8:26-40) Introduction: this passage stresses the importance of an individual to God. A miraculous act was needed. God is seen leading Philip to a single person who needed to know Christ, and in the interview between the two we have a strong study on witnessing. We see just what is involved in witnessing to an individual.

1. Philip was led by an angel of the Lord (v.26).
2. What Philip found (v.27-28).
3. What Philip sensed (v.29).
4. What Philip did (v.30-34).
5. What Philip said and proclaimed: he preached Jesus (v.35).
6. What Philip saw happen (v.36-38).
7. What Philip experienced: continued leadership of the Holy Spirit (v.39-40).

1 (8:26) Guidance: Philip was led by an angel of the Lord. Angels are “ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation” (Heb.1:14. See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Angels—Heb.1:4-14 for more discussion.) There was a particular individual that God wished to reach with the gospel and save, so God sent an angel to instruct Philip where to go. The point is this: Philip had no way of knowing God's will in this particular case, not apart from a personal confrontation from God. So God confronted and instructed Philip in such a way that Philip knew exactly what God's will was.

The angel instructed Philip...

- to arise
- to go—to go south to a certain road that runs from Jerusalem to Gaza. The road was a desert road.

Now note: God did not tell Philip why he was to travel the main road to the South, only to arise and go. Just as Abraham of old, Philip had to walk by faith. And this he did. He arose and went, not knowing why, but trusting God to show him.

Thought 1. God does whatever is necessary to instruct and guide believers. He is not limited to our theories and beliefs. He has at His disposal all the power and all of creation to use as He wills. And He will use whatever is needed to reach anyone who is truly hungry to know the way of salvation. No one will ever be lost, not if they honestly believe God and diligently seek Him (Heb.11:6). God will see to it, no matter what has to be done.

“But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things [provisions] shall be added unto you” (Mt.6:33).

“And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened” (Lk.11:9-10; cp. v.5-8).

“And [God] hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation; that they should seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, though he be not far from every one of us” (Acts 17:26-27).

“But if from thence [idolatry] thou shalt seek the LORD thy God, thou shalt find him, if thou seek him with all thy heart and with all thy soul” (Dt.4:29).

“But where shall wisdom be found? And where is the place of understanding?...And unto man he said, Behold, the fear of the LORD, that is wisdom; and to depart from evil is understanding” (Job 28:12, 28; cp. v.13-27).

“Seek the LORD, and his strength: seek his face evermore” (Ps.105:4).

“Yea, if thou criest after knowledge, and liftest up thy voice for understanding; if thou seekest her as silver, and searchest for her as for hid treasures; then shalt thou understand the fear of the LORD, and find the knowledge of God” (Pr.2:3-5).

“Seek ye the LORD while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near” (Is.55:6).

“For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the LORD, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you an expected end. Then shall ye call upon me, and ye shall go and pray unto me, and I will hearken unto you. And ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart” (Jer.29:11-13).

“For thus saith the LORD unto the house of Israel, Seek ye me, and ye shall live” (Amos 5:4).

Thought 2. The cry of the hour is for believers...

- to arise.
- to go out into the roads of the world.
- to trust God to lead to those who are seeking Him.

“And he saith unto them, Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men” (Mt.4:19).

“Go ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage. So those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was furnished with guests” (Mt.22:9-10).

“For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him” (Ro.10:12).

2 (8:27-28) Witnessing: what Philip found. He saw a man riding in a chariot returning from Jerusalem.

1. Philip found a foreigner, a man from Ethiopia. Ethiopia was hundreds of miles from Jerusalem. The eunuch had been to Jerusalem to attend a religious feast.

Thought 1. Too often believers shy away from foreigners, shy away from anyone who differs from them. God wants us to reach everyone, no matter what nationality they are. Just think: everyone is a foreigner to some people of the world. Everyone differs from someone else. We cannot let differences keep us from witnessing and sharing Christ.

“In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink” (Jn.7:37).

“For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him” (Ro.10:12).

“Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth. For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus; who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time” (1 Tim.2:4-6).

“Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else” (Is.45:22).

“Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price” (Is.55:1).

2. Philip found a high ranking government official who served under the Queen of Ethiopia. Candace is not the name of a particular queen, but the title of a dynasty of queens (such as the title of the Pharaohs and of the Ptolemys of Egypt).

Thought 1. The upper levels of society and government must be reached for Christ as well as other citizens.

“Also I say unto you, Whosoever shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of man also confess before the angels of God” (Lk.12:8).

“But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life” (Jn.4:14).

“To him give all the prophets witness, that through his name whosoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins” (Acts 10:43).

“I exhort therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men; for kings, and for all that are in authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty” (1 Tim.2:1-2).

“Whosoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ is born of God: and every one that loveth him that begat loveth him also that is begotten of him” (1 Jn.5:1).

“And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely” (Rev.22:17).

3. Philip found a eunuch. Being a eunuch shows that he was a man of extreme commitment and dedication, a man who was probably seeking after truth. It was the policy of queens to choose outstanding eunuchs to fill official positions in their governments.

Thought 1. It takes a person of commitment and dedication to be saved. The lazy, complacent, unproductive, and comfortable do not have enough interest and concern for life to be genuinely saved.

“Give not sleep to thine eyes, nor slumber to thine eyelids” (Pr.6:4).

“Go to the ant, thou sluggard; consider her ways, and be wise: which having no guide, overseer, or ruler, provideth her meat in the summer, and gathereth her food in the harvest. How long wilt thou sleep, O sluggard? When wilt thou arise out of thy sleep? Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleep: so shall thy poverty come as one that travelleth, and thy want as an armed man” (Pr.6:6-11).

“He that gathereth in summer is a wise son: but he that sleepeth in harvest is a son that causeth shame” (Pr.10:5).

“The soul of the sluggard desireth, and hath nothing: but the soul of the diligent shall be made fat” (Pr.13:4).

“Slothfulness casteth into a deep sleep; and an idle soul shall suffer hunger” (Pr.19:15).

“A slothful man hideth his hand in his bosom, and will not so much as bring it to his mouth again” (Pr.19:24).

“The sluggard will not plow by reason of the cold; therefore shall he beg in harvest, and have nothing” (Pr.20:4).

“Love not sleep, lest thou come to poverty: Open thine eyes, and thou shalt be satisfied with bread” (Pr.20:13).

“The desire of the slothful killeth him; for his hands refuse to labor. He coveteth greedily all the day long: but the righteous giveth and spareth not” (Pr.21:25-26).

“I went by the field of the slothful, and by the vineyard of the man void of understanding; and, lo, it was all grown over with thorns, and nettles had covered the face thereof, and the stone wall thereof was broke down. Then I saw, and considered it well: I looked upon it, and received instruction. Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleep: so shall thy poverty come as one that travelleth; and thy want as an armed man” (Pr.24:30-34).

“By much slothfulness the building decayeth; and through idleness of the hands the house droppeth through” (Eccl.10:18).

4. Philip found a worshipper. This definitely shows he was seeking after the truth and after God. Note: he was a convert to Judaism and had travelled hundreds of miles to Jerusalem to worship in the temple.

Thought 1. A person must be a worshipper of God Himself. But note: just being a worshipper is not enough. A person must be seeking after the only living and true God to be saved.

“But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him” (Heb.11:6).

“Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me” (Jn.14:6).

“Give unto the LORD the glory due unto his name: bring an offering, and come before him: worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness” (1 Chron.16:29).

“One thing have I desired of the LORD, that will I seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the LORD all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the LORD, and to enquire in his temple” (Ps.27:4).

“My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the LORD: my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God” (Ps.84:2).

5. Philip found a reader of Scripture. Picture the scene. The Ethiopian official is riding along in his chariot, not observing the scenery, not taking care of some official paperwork, but reading the Bible. The man was experiencing a deep hunger and thirst for God.

Thought 1. A person must hunger and thirst after righteousness, true righteousness, to be saved. One must not only believe, but diligently seek God. True belief is diligently seeking God. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2—Jn.2:24.)

“Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled” (Mt.5:6).

“Search the scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me” (Jn.5:39).

“For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort the scriptures might have hope” (Ro.15:4).

“With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee early: for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness” (Is.26:9).

Thought 2. When witnessing, believers need to be alert to the attitude, interest, commitment, and seeking levels of the lost. If the levels are low, the witness needs to quickly sow the seed and move on. There are others whose commitment and seeking levels are high, and who are ready to give their lives to Christ.

“Lord, all my desire is before thee; and my groaning is not hid from thee” (Ps.38:9).

“My soul thirsteth for God, for the living God: when shall I come and appear before God?” (Ps.42:2).

“O God, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and thirsty land, where no water is” (Ps.63:1).

“Whom have I in heaven but thee? and there is none upon earth that I desire besides thee” (Ps.73:25).

“I stretch forth my hands unto thee: my soul thirsteth after thee, as a thirsty land” (Ps.143:6).

3 (8:29) Holy Spirit, Guidance: what Philip sensed. He sensed the impulse, the tug, the movement, the direction of the Holy Spirit to approach this particular man. And he sensed the man needed Christ.

Thought 1. There is great need to be led by the Spirit in our witnessing. But this necessitates being surrendered and controlled by the Spirit. The great need of the hour is for believers to be controlled by the Spirit of God. Then and only then can we expect to be led by the Spirit. Note the clear statement of Scripture.

Thought 2. To whom should we witness? To what particular person or persons?

- 1) The Spirit of God will guide and direct us.
- 2) The problem is not the Spirit’s willingness to guide and direct us. The problem is our not being surrendered and controlled enough by the Spirit to sense and know His direction.
- 3) The Spirit of God has been trying to gain control of people’s lives ever since Christ walked upon the earth. He has needed lives to reach the world, but so few have been willing to put their lives under His control, so few have been willing to “arise and go.”

“For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God” (Ro.8:14).

“Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will show you things to come” (Jn.16:13).

“While Peter thought on the vision, the Spirit said unto him, Behold, three men seek thee. Arise therefore, and get thee down, and go with them, doubting nothing: for I have sent them” (Acts 10:19-20).

“As they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them” (Acts 13:2).

“Now when they had gone throughout Phrygia and the region of Galatia, and were forbidden of the Holy Ghost to preach the word in Asia” (Acts 16:6).

4 (8:30-34) Seeking God: what Philip did. Philip did four significant things.

1. Philip obeyed the Spirit of God. He ran up to the man. When he did what the Spirit instructed, Philip found out that the man had been prepared to receive the witness of the Lord. He heard the man reading the Scripture out loud.
2. Philip initiated a conversation with the man. Note Philip did not wait for the man to notice and question him as to why he was running alongside the chariot. Philip took the lead; he spoke first.
3. Philip joined the man. The man invited Philip and welcomed him. The man was one to whom the believer was to go, one who welcomed the witness. Believers are not to go to those who do not welcome the message. (See notes—Mt.10:12-15; Lk.10:5-6.)
4. Philip noted where the man was in his seeking of God. The man was extremely faithful...
  - in worshipping God. He had travelled hundreds of miles to worship in the temple at Jerusalem.
  - in reading the Scripture.

But the man had a problem. He did not understand the most basic truth—the truth that Christ had died for him. He did not know that God’s Messiah had already come and died for man.

Note that the man was reading Isaiah 53:7-8, which is a prediction of the coming Messiah...

- of His death: His being led as a sheep to the slaughter.
- of His willingness to die: His not opening His mouth in opposition.
- of His humiliation in death: His judgment—the justice due Him was taken away and denied Him.
- of His generation, His seed or followers: His generation of followers are innumerable. Who can number them since Jesus’ life was taken from the earth (since He died)? (Cp. Ps.22:30.)

The man just did not understand the Scripture. He did not understand that Jesus of Nazareth had fulfilled the prophecy, that the Savior had already come and died for the sins of men.

Thought 1. Many do not know Christ today. Why? For the same reason the eunuch did not know: they have never heard. No believer has gone to tell them.

“I was a stranger, and ye took me not in: naked, and ye clothed me not: sick, and in prison, and ye visited me not” (Mt.25:43).

“And that servant, which knew his lord’s will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes” (Lk.12:47).

“Therefore to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin” (Jas.4:17).

“Whoso stoppeth his ears at the cry of the poor, he also shall cry himself, but shall not be heard” (Pr.21:13).

“When I say unto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt surely die; if thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way, that wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thine hand. Nevertheless, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it; if he do not turn from his way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou hast delivered thy soul” (Ezk.33:8-9).

“The diseased have ye not strengthened, neither have ye healed that which was sick, neither have ye bound up that which was broken, neither have ye brought again that which was driven away, neither have ye sought that which was lost; but with force and with cruelty have ye ruled them” (Ezk.34:4).

5 (8:35) Witness: what Philip said and proclaimed. Philip preached Jesus. He took the prophecy in Isaiah and answered the very question of the man. Philip showed how Jesus fulfilled the prophecy. He preached the death, resurrection, and exaltation of Jesus (see notes and DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 1:3; note—2:22-24; DEEPER STUDY # 4—2:24; notes—2:25-36; 3:13-15 for discussion and verses).

6 (8:36-38) Decision: what Philip saw happen. He saw three significant steps taken by the man.

1. The man desired baptism. Note the immediate request: “Here is water, what doth hinder me to be baptized?”
2. The man believed that Jesus Christ was the Son of God (see note—Acts 8:35).

“For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life” (Jn.3:16).

Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life” (Jn.5:24).

“And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst” (Jn.6:35).

“That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation” (Ro.10:9-10).

3. The man believed and immediately followed through with baptism. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Baptism—Acts 2:38.)

7 (8:39-40) Holy Spirit, Guidance: what Philip experienced—the continued leadership of the Holy Spirit.

1. Philip was no longer needed. His task was done. It was time for him to move on, so the Spirit of God took him away. The word for “caught away” (herpasen) is strong. It means to be snatched away quickly, immediately, miraculously. It is the same word used for the rapture of the church (1 Th.4:17; cp. 2 Cor.12:2).

2. The Holy Spirit led Philip back to Samaria. Note that he travelled throughout “all the cities” preaching Christ. Eventually he came to the city of Caesarea where he bought a house and set up his evangelistic headquarters (Acts 21:8).

“Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will show you things to come” (Jn.16:13).

“For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God” (Ro.8:14).

“Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world” (Mt.28:19-20).

“And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mk.16:15).

“But ye shall receive power, after the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

DIVISION III

THE CHURCH SCATTERED: MISSIONARY BEGINNINGS IN JUDEA AND SAMARIA, 8:1-9:31

D. The Confrontation Between Saul and the Lord: A Life-changing Conversion, 9:1-9

(9:1-9) Introduction: Saul of Tarsus, the arch-persecutor of the Lord and His followers, was soon to become Paul, the great apostle to the world (Gentiles). From this point on in the Book of Acts, and in fact in all the New Testament, Paul becomes the dominant servant of the Lord. From all indications, only the Lord Himself superseded the dedication of this man, a man who had been forgiven so much, even the slaughter of great numbers of God's people (cp. Acts 9:1; 22:4; 26:10). His life and ministry hold so many lessons for the believer, it is impossible to cover even a smattering in one footnote. For this reason, it is not even being attempted. Instead, the major features of his life are being covered in the passages where they are mentioned. The Master Subject Index does, of course, combine his life and ministry in one overall view. Whatever subject the reader wishes to study can be found there. The present passage covers Saul's confrontation with the Lord. It is an excellent study on conversion. Paul recounts his testimony twice. (Cp. Acts 22:6-16; 26:12-18.)

1. There was his former life: a flaming fury against Christ and His disciples (v.1-2).
2. There was the light from heaven (v.3).
3. There was the confrontation with the Lord (v.4-5).
4. There was the surrender (v.6).
5. There were the witnesses to the event (v.7).
6. There was obedience (v.8-9).

1 (9:1-2) Paul—Persecution: there was Saul's former life; he was the arch-persecutor of the church. He burned with a flaming fury against Christ and His disciples. Two facts show this. (See notes—Acts 8:1-4 for more discussion.)

1. Saul was consumed with a fierce anger and wrath against Christ and His disciples. He "breathed out threatenings and slaughter." The words "breathing out" in the Greek are really breathing in (inhaling). The picture is that of Saul breathing in, taking into his heart the evil of destroying Christ and His disciples. Of course, what is in the heart is what comes out. Saul actually hunted down and slaughtered believers—many of them (see note, pt.7—Acts 8:3 for more discussion).

2. Saul was given over to a fierce objective, that of destroying all the followers of "the Way" of the Lord.
- a. He volunteered—actually went to the High Priest and the Sanhedrin requesting authority to storm after the fleeing believers—to arrest and bring the believers back to Jerusalem for trial (cp. Acts 22:5; 26:10).
  - b. He included women as well as men (see note, pt.3—Acts 8:3).

(See note, Church, Persecution of—Acts 8:3 for more discussion and verses.)

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(9:2) "The Way"—Christianity—Jesus Christ, Teachings: the believers of the early church were known as followers of "the Way" (cp. Acts 19:9, 23; 22:4; 24:14, 22). Note the teachings of the Lord were not pictured as a religion or a set of principles, or as rules and regulations, but as...

- a way of life
- a course of life
- a means of life
- a condition of life
- a kind of life
- an experience of life

Note also the following titles or names given to Christ and His teachings.

- ⇒ The Way of Salvation (Acts 16:17).
- ⇒ The Way of the Lord (Acts 18:25).
- ⇒ The Way of Peace (Lk.1:79; Ro.3:17).
- ⇒ The Way of Truth (2 Pt.2:2).
- ⇒ The Way of Righteousness (2 Pt.2:21).

2 (9:3) Light: there was the light from heaven. Note: it was while Saul was set on his slaughter of believers that he was stricken down by the light from the Lord. It was in the midst of his ferocious evil that he was saved. (There is hope for all, for anyone of us.) (See outline—Acts 26:12-18 for more facts.)

1. The light appeared suddenly, out of nowhere, unexpectedly.
2. The light was from heaven. It was supernatural and miraculous, from God Himself. God is the source and giver of the light.
3. The light was great, that is, brighter than the noonday sun (Acts 22:6; 26:13. Imagine a light so bright it actually outshines the sun!) When it burst forth, Saul saw the Lord standing in the midst of it (1 Cor.9:1; 15:8). The light radiated from the Lord Himself.
  - ⇒ “[Jesus’] face did shine as the sun and His raiment was as white as the light” (Mt.17:2; see note—Mt.17:2).
  - ⇒ “God is light” (1 Jn.1:5).
  - ⇒ “[God]...dwelling in the light which no man can approach” (1 Tim.6:16).
  - ⇒ “[God] who coverest thyself with light as with a garment” (Ps.104:2).
4. The light and sight of the heavenly figure struck Paul to the ground. (Cp. Acts 26:14 where Paul says that all the others with him fell to the earth as well.)

Thought 1. Now note what Scripture proclaims to all hearts. Light, the very presence of God Himself, is the first thing experienced in salvation.

“God...hath shined in our hearts....” (2 Cor.4:6).

God has to shine in a man’s heart for a man to be saved; he has to give the knowledge of the glory of God in Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ is the Lord of heaven, the Son of God Himself. God’s very own glory dwells in Jesus Christ. Therefore, for a man to know God’s glory, he must know the face of Jesus Christ. He must receive light, the knowledge, the understanding, the awareness, the consciousness, the quickening that Jesus is the Savior, the Son of God Himself.

“In him was life; and the life was the light of men” (Jn.1:4).

“Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life” (Jn.8:12).

“For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ” (2 Cor.4:6).

“Wherefore he saith, Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light” (Eph.5:14).

“The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined” (Is.9:2).

3 (9:4-5) Paul, Conversion: there was the confrontation with the Lord. He heard a voice speak to him. Note: he alone heard the voice. The others heard a sound, but could not distinguish the words (v.7). The message was a personal message to Paul alone.

1. There was the charge of terrible sin, of opposing and persecuting the Lord Jesus Christ Himself. Jesus called Saul by his name, “Saul, Saul.” Calling the name twice shows two things.
  - a. It shows tenderness, love, and concern, an appeal to listen and heed.
  - b. It shows rebuke and warning. Saul was treading on dangerous ground. He was close to the brink, about to fall over the edge of no recovery. Opposing Christ is serious, so serious it dooms a person to hell unless there is repentance.

Thought 1. Note how Christ identifies with the believer. The person who opposes the believer is opposing Christ Himself (Mt.25:40, 45).

2. There was the request to know the Lord. Saul knew that the light and the person seen in the midst of the light and the voice had all come from heaven. He knew that he was being confronted by a heavenly being. But who was the heavenly being? Saul—stricken down, humbled, convicted, frightened—cried out in desperation, “Who art thou, Lord?” He knew...

- it was the Lord, the heavenly being.
- it was the Lord he was supposed to know.

This he confessed. But he did not know Him. He cried out, “Who art thou, Lord? Tell me. Identify yourself. Let me know you.”

Thought 1. A man often knows and confesses that it is the Lord who is dealing with him; yet he does not know the Lord, not really, not personally. He has to cry out, “Who art thou, Lord? Tell me, show me who You are!”

3. The shattering truth is a real eye-opener to every person who opposes Jesus (or God).
- a. Jesus is the Lord, the One whom the sinner is opposing. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2, Lord—Acts 2:36.) This truth shattered Saul, broke him in utter submission. Why? Because it meant...
- that every stone cast at Stephen was a stone cast against God Himself (Acts 7:59-60).
  - that every home he had stormed into was a home that truly worshipped God (Acts 8:3).
  - that every person he had forcibly dragged through the streets to jail was a true follower of God (Acts 8:3).
  - that every woman he had abused was a child of God (Acts 8:3; 9:2; 22:4).
  - that everyone he had chained and imprisoned was a true servant of God (Acts 8:3; 22:4; 26:10).
  - that every synagogue he had stormed was the true house of God (Acts 26:11).
  - that every believer he had tracked down and persecuted was a true believer (Acts 22:5; 26:11).
  - that every person whom he had killed (slaughtered, v.1), was a charge of murder against him (Acts 26:10; 22:4).
  - that he was lost, truly lost, separated from God and doomed to hell.
  - that his life was a total wreck, being totally deceived and misdirected, bent on utter destruction.
  - that he stood no chance of escaping the guilt of his sin and the doom of hell apart from the greatest act of mercy ever shown by God. (Cp. 1 Tim.1:16.)
- (See notes—Acts 4:2-4; note and DEEPER STUDY # 1—Mt.12:10 for the reason Saul opposed Jesus so fiercely.)

Thought 1. When a person really sees that he has been rebelling against God Himself, the Savior of the universe, he is shattered, utterly shattered. He realizes just what Paul did...

- that he has been opposing God Himself.
- that his sin has been against God Himself.
- that he is lost, truly lost, separated from God and doomed to hell.
- that his life is a total wreck, being totally deceived and misdirected, bent on utter destruction.
- that he stands no chance of escaping the guilt of his sin and the doom of hell apart from the greatest act of mercy ever shown by God.

“Ye serpents, ye generation of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation of hell?” (Mt.23:33).

“And thinkest thou this, O man, that judgest them which do such things, and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the judgment of God?” (Ro.2:3).

“How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation; which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him” (Heb.2:3).

“See that ye refuse not him that speaketh. For if they escaped not who refused him that spake on earth, much more shall not we escape, if we turn away from him that speaketh from heaven” (Heb.12:25).

“Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will bring evil upon them, which they shall not be able to escape; and though they shall cry unto me, I will not hearken unto them” (Jer.11:11).

“Though they dig into hell, thence shall mine hand take them; though they climb up to heaven, thence will I bring them down” (Amos 9:2).

- b. It is hard to kick against conscience. The phrase “to kick against the pricks” is the picture of an ox being goaded or pricked with a long stick to make him respond to the driver’s will. Saul was questioning, fighting, struggling within himself over the truth. He was deliberately shutting his ears and closing his mind...
- to the truth of the gospel which he was hearing from the disciples of the Lord.
  - to the truth of his own mistaken way and the awful shame of his sin.

He had chosen and was choosing a hard way of life. Every man who rebels against God has chosen a hard way, a difficult life, a life that is doomed to uncertainty and always wondering about the future...

- never possessing the assurance and confidence of being acceptable to God.
- never being sure if he is really right.
- never having the permanent peace and security of God.

“Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and to the rest of the apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we do?” (Acts 2:37).

“And as he reasoned of righteousness, temperance, and judgment to come, Felix trembled, and answered, Go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee” (Acts 24:25).

“For if our heart condemn us, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things” (1 Jn.3:20).

“And said, O my God, I am ashamed and blush to lift up my face to thee, my God: for our iniquities are increased over our head, and our trespass is grown up unto the heavens” (Ezra 9:6).

“If I justify myself, mine own mouth shall condemn me: if I say, I am perfect, it shall also prove me perverse” (Job 9:20).

“For mine iniquities are gone over mine head: as an heavy burden they are too heavy for me” (Ps.38:4).

“For I acknowledge my transgressions: and my sin is ever before me” (Ps.51:3).

4 (9:6) Paul, Conversion: there was the surrender. Note: Paul was trembling and in utter shock (astonished). He was devastated, hardly able to bear up under the weight of the sin for which he was now being charged. He knew beyond question he was the most terrible sinner. His only hope was to turn and obey the Lord Jesus. And, praise God, this he did. He did what every man must do to be forgiven his terrible sins.

1. He called upon and acknowledged the Lord Jesus. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2, Lord—Acts 2:36. Cp. Ro.10:13.)
2. He surrendered to obey the Lord Jesus. He asked the key question: “Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?”
3. The Lord commanded him: “Arise and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do.” Note that God did not answer Saul, not right then.
  - ⇒ Saul could not bear it. He was a shattered man. He needed time for prayer and meditation, for straightening out his mind and for assurance from the Spirit of God now dwelling within him.
  - ⇒ Saul needed the maturing witness and contact and companionship of another believer. It was going to take the testimony of a mature believer that Saul had been converted and undergone a radical change for the Christian community to accept him.

“Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven” (Mt.10:32).

“Also I say unto you, Whosoever shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of man also confess before the angels of God” (Lk.12:8).

“That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation” (Ro.10:9-10).

“Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: [but] he that acknowledgeth the Son hath the Father also” (1 Jn.2:23).

“Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God” (1 Jn.4:15).

5 (9:7) Dullness, Spiritual: there were the witnesses to the event. But note they were not privileged to know what was really happening. They were a type of the worldly who saw the miracle of conversion, of God’s marvelous grace, yet they never opened their own minds and hearts...

- to see the light of the Lord.
- to hear the voice of God.
- to confront the Lord.
- to call upon the Lord, surrendering to obey Him.

“Ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky and of the earth; but how is it that ye do not discern this time?” (Lk.12:56).

“Why do ye not understand my speech? even because ye cannot hear my word” (Jn.8:43).

“For the heart of this people is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed; lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them” (Acts 28:27).

“There is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God” (Ro.3:11).

“But their minds were blinded: for until this day remaineth the same vail untaken away in the reading of the old testament; which vail is done away in Christ” (2 Cor.3:14).

“In whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them” (2 Cor.4:4).

“Having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart” (Eph.4:18).

“Of whom we have many things to say, and hard to be uttered, seeing ye are dull of hearing” (Heb.5:11).

6 (9:8-9) Obedience: there was obedience. Saul did just what the Lord told him: he arose and went into the city. But note several facts.

1. His eyes had been closed during the whole traumatic experience.
2. His eyes were now blinded for three days. He was helpless and had to be completely led about by others.

3. His mind would now be shut up in the world of thought alone. He would be left alone...
- to continue praying over his terrible shame.
  - to learn and know beyond question that the Lord had confronted him. Remember: he had three days for the experience to sink in.
  - to think through the confrontation with the Lord.
  - to wonder what changes there would be in his life now.
  - to switch his mind and his thought patterns, his purpose in life from the past life of religion to the present life with Christ.
  - to wonder why Jesus was choosing him, the one who had so fiercely opposed the Lord.
  - to wonder what Jesus wanted with him and what Jesus was going to tell him to do.

Note that Paul was unable to eat or drink for three days. The trauma drained all his strength, completely exhausted him.

“Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of the Father which is in heaven” (Mt.7:21).

“If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself” (Jn.7:17).

“Jesus answered and said unto him, If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him” (Jn.14:23).

“For day and night thy hand was heavy upon me: my moisture is turned into the drought of summer” (Ps.32:4).

“Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted in me? hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him for the help of his countenance. O my God, my soul is cast down within me” (Ps.42:5-6).

“My soul melteth for heaviness: strengthen thou me according unto thy word” (Ps.119:28).

DIVISION III

THE CHURCH SCATTERED: MISSIONARY BEGINNINGS IN JUDEA AND SAMARIA, 8:1-9:31

E. The Preparation of Saul: The Needs of a New Convert, 9:10-18

(9:10-18) Introduction: the person who has just come to know Christ has many needs. As a new convert, he is helpless and usually doomed to falling and returning to the world unless his needs are met. This is the challenge of the church, of mature believers. The needs of new converts must be met.

1. Need 1: help from a very special believer (disciple) (v.10-15).
2. Need 2: to know that he is a chosen vessel of God (v.15-16).
3. Need 3: to experience the help and ministry of God's disciple (v.17-18).

1 (9:10-15) Discipleship: the new convert needed help from a very special believer. Apparently the believer was not one of the apostles or deacons nor an ordained minister. The believer was a simple unknown disciple named Ananias. But the traits Ananias possessed were exactly what was needed by the new convert, Saul. (Cp. Acts 22:12 for two other traits of Ananias mentioned by Paul: a strong testimony, and being devout or godly.)

1. Ananias was sensitive to God's call. When God spoke to Ananias, he listened. He was alert and sensitive, aware of and familiar with the voice of God. He was a man of much prayer. Therefore, when God called him, he knew the voice of God and he answered.

Thought 1. The new convert needs the ministry of a disciple who knows the voice of God. He needs to learn how to be sensitive to the call and direction of God.

"Go ye therefore, and teach [make disciples] all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world" (Mt.28:19-20).

"And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also" (2 Tim.2:2).

"Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder. Yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility: for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble. Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time" (1 Pt.5:5-6).

2. Ananias was willing to face difficult assignments. Reaching out and helping a new convert is always difficult, a heavy responsibility. And the more depraved the convert has been, the more difficult the task becomes. This was true with Saul; this is true with all new converts.

In dealing with the new convert, there is always some apprehension, for he is somewhat unknown and to some degree a stranger and a novice in the faith. There is the difficulty...

- of learning where he is in spiritual and Biblical understanding.
  - of learning where he is in emotional maturity.
  - of knowing what to teach, where to begin, and the pace at which to teach.
  - of determining how much time is necessary to disciple him.
  - of being on guard against becoming a stumbling block, because he is always observing and watching one's life.
  - of rooting and grounding him in the faith by life and example, instruction and personal attachment.
  - of leading him to love and not to be critical and judgmental, opposing and attacking other believers.
  - of protecting him from falling and from returning to the world, from returning to his former life of sin.
3. Ananias was willing to be the answer to prayer. Note how God assured the believer, Ananias.
- a. God told Ananias that Paul was praying: he was truly a new convert, seeking God's face. He was broken and trembling, stricken and apprehensive...
    - over the shattering appearance of the Lord Jesus.
    - over the warning from the Lord that he was on the brink of disaster and doom.
    - over having rebelled and opposed the Lord and His people.
    - over his terrible sin.
    - over his obstinate unbelief and over deception, having fought and struggled against God and having kicked against the pricks of conscience when he knew better.
    - over having to wait for the Lord's Word instructing him what to do.
    - over his having been stricken blind and being in total darkness.
  - b. God told Ananias that Paul had been given a vision—clear assurance—that a believer (named Ananias) would come and help him.

The point is this: the new convert who is genuine prays for help. He prays for God to send mature believers into his life who will help him to grow and to know the Lord's will for his life. It is the mature believer himself who becomes the answer to the new convert's prayer.

Thought 1. How desperately the Lord needs believers who will reach out to help those who are new in the faith, believers who will stand in the gap and become the answer themselves to the prayer of new converts.

Thought 2. All converts who are genuine desire to grow in the knowledge of the Lord. They long for believers to befriend and help them. It is up to us to become the person, the believer, the very answer to the new convert's prayer. There is no one else except us.

“Go ye therefore, and teach [make disciples] all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world” (Mt.28:19-20).

“I have showed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, It is more blessed to give than to receive” (Acts 20:35).

“We then that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves” (Ro.15:1).

“Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ” (Gal.6:2).

“And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also” (2 Tim.2:2).

4. Ananias sensed inadequacy and apprehension. He knew about the former life of Saul, the terrible sin and shame, the threat that he was to believers. He shrank from helping him, sensing both an inadequacy and apprehension. But note: this is exactly how the believer should feel about the call of God, no matter what the call is. Feeling inadequate and being apprehensive makes the believer cast himself upon God. It teaches him to trust God, His grace, His suffering, His strength more and more.

Thought 1. The very thing Saul (and all other converts) needed was the help of a disciple who knew what it was to feel inadequate and apprehensive. All new converts (just as Saul) have to face difficult tasks all through life, tasks that demand God's special grace if they are to be worked out for the most good. A believer who senses inadequacy can teach the new convert to trust and depend upon God rather quickly.

“John answered and said, A man can receive nothing, except it be given him from heaven” (Jn.3:27).

“I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing” (Jn.15:5).

“Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think any thing as of ourselves; but our sufficiency is of God” (2 Cor.3:5).

“The LORD preserveth the simple: I was brought low, and he helped me” (Ps.116:6).

5. Ananias was willing to obey when God said go. The new convert needs an obedient believer helping him. He would be helpless and most likely ruined if the believer was not obedient. Obedience, learning to obey, is the supreme trait and evidence of the true believer.

a. To obey is to believe and to believe is to obey.

“He became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him” (Heb.5:9. See DEEPER STUDY # 2, Believe—Jn.2:24.)

“The Holy Spirit, whom God hath given to them that obey him” (Acts 5:32).

“His servants ye are to whom ye obey” (Ro.6:16).

“Obey my voice” (Jer.7:23; 11:4).

b. To obey is to love and to love is to obey.

“He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him” (Jn.14:21).

“But whoso keepeth his word, in him verily is the love of God perfected: hereby know we that we are in him” (1 Jn.2:5).

c. “To obey is better than sacrifice” (1 Sam.15:22).

2 (9:15-16) Minister, Call: the new convert needed to know that he was a chosen vessel, a chosen instrument of God. Saul needed to know this glorious truth; so does every new convert. The Lord says this clearly:

“Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain” (Jn.15:16).

The new convert is a priceless vessel, a vessel that must not be knocked over and broken, cast away, or neglected and ignored. The new convert needs to know God has chosen to use him in His work and service, giving him the greatest possible purpose on earth. There are two things in particular he needs to know.

1. God has chosen the believer to bear the Lord’s name.

a. He needs to know that he is to bear the Lord’s name in his heart and in his behavior and actions. Christ is in his heart and the Spirit of God Himself indwells his life. His body has become the temple of the Holy Spirit (1 Cor.6:19-20). He is now precious to the Lord and counted as a dear child of God. He is a member of the family of God and an heir of heaven and of eternity. The new convert must be taught; he must learn and come to know...

- that he is to deny self, and take up his cross daily

“And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me” (Lk.9:23).

- that he is to deny ungodliness and worldly lusts; to live soberly, righteously, and godly in the present world

“Teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world” (Tit.2:12).

- that he is to present his body a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God

“I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service” (Ro.12:1).

- that he is not to forsake the assembling of himself with other believers, but to seek their fellowship

“Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching” (Heb.10:25).

The presence of Christ within the believer’s heart is said to be a “treasure in earthen vessels” (2 Cor.4:7). It is a treasure that brings fellowship and communion with the Lord Himself, the perfect assurance and confidence that all things are well both now and eternally. The Lord’s presence assures the believer that the Lord cares and is looking after and will carry him through the trials of life victoriously, even through death. Therefore, the convert must be helped to diligently seek God, to conform his life to Christ, and to guard and watch where he goes and what he does and says.

b. He needs to know that he is to bear the Lord’s name in verbal witnessing. He is to witness before all men, high and low, as he can make opportunity. The new convert needs to know that his primary purpose for being on earth is to share the glorious salvation that is in Christ Jesus. He is to reach out and help all whom he can, ministering and meeting their needs in the love of Christ. Wherever he is, he is to witness and help others: at work, at home, at play, at school. The world needs Christ even as he does.

“Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many” (Mt.20:28).

“For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost” (Lk.19:10).

“But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

“For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard” (Acts 4:20).

“Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you” (Jn.20:21).

“We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak” (2 Cor.4:13).

“These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee” (Tit.2:15).

“But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear” (1 Pt.3:15).

2. God has chosen the believer to suffer for the sake of the Lord’s name. Every true believer is abused and suffers at the hands of the world. Christ has forewarned believers: they shall suffer persecution. The new convert needs to know this. (See note—Mt.5:10-12 for more discussion.)

“For unto you it is given in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake” (Ph.1:29).

“Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution” (2 Tim.3:12).

“Marvel not, my brethren, if the world hate you” (1 Jn.3:13).

“Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you” (1 Pt.4:12).

3 (9:17-18) Ministering: the new convert needed to experience the help and ministry of God’s disciple. Just imagine the brokenness and trembling, the stricken and apprehensive heart of Saul (see note—Acts 9:15-16). He desperately needed four things (as do all new converts).

1. He needed the touch of a disciple’s hand and faithfulness. He needed the presence of some disciple who was faithful enough to come and touch his life. He needed to see faithfulness in action—love, care, concern, interest, help—all ministered to him in the name of Christ. Nothing could help the new convert more than seeing the faithfulness of a disciple reaching out to help him in his need.

2. The recognition of being a brother in the Lord. Note: Ananias called Saul brother. This one word probably caused Paul to break out in tears. He was being reached out to by a dear believer of the Lord, accepted, and welcomed into his heart despite the terrible wrong he had done to the believers. He now had confirmation; he had been truly forgiven and received by the Lord. He had been truly accepted by God and he was beloved in the name of Jesus, the name he had abused and hurt so much in the past. How he needed to hear a dear child of God say “brother!” And now he had heard it. Only eternity and a conversation with Paul will reveal the impact this one act had upon Paul.

3. The power of his healing ministry. Saul was afflicted. He needed Ananias to help him in his affliction. He needed his eyes healed, his sight restored, and God used his dear disciple to heal Saul. The scales of darkness fell from his eyes, symbolizing how the scales of spiritual darkness and sin and shame had been removed from his heart.

4. The sharing of the Holy Spirit’s infilling; the power of the Spirit. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 9:17-18.)

“But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance: against such there is no law” (Gal.5:22-23).

“Be filled with the Spirit” (Eph.5:18).

“Bear ye one another’s burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ” (Gal.6:2).

“That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; that ye, being rooted and grounded in love, may be able to comprehend with all saints what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height; and to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fulness of God” (Eph.3:17-19).

“Now he that ministereth seed to the sower both minister bread for your food, and multiply your seed sown, and increase the fruits of your righteousness” (2 Cor.9:10).

“But speaking the truth in love, may grow up into him in all things, which is the head, even Christ” (Eph.4:15).

“As newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby” (1 Pt.2:2).

“I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly” (Jn.10:10).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(9:17-18) Paul, Conversion—Holy Spirit, Infilling: Was Paul saved on the Damascus road, or when he was infilled with the Holy Spirit? The question is debated by various scholars. Note exactly what Scripture says.

1. Saul called Jesus "Lord": "Who art thou Lord?" (v.5). However, Saul did not know who was speaking to him out of the light (v.3-5). He was asking. But note this.

⇒ The "light [was] from heaven" (v.3)

Saul knew something: whoever was speaking was of heaven; He was a heavenly being. He knew it was bound to be just who He said, "The Lord." He knew it was the Lord in the same sense that Cornelius did (Acts 10:4), not knowing God personally, but knowing that it was the Lord God of heaven.

2. Saul called Jesus "Lord" again and in a far greater sense: "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?" There can be little question Saul was surrendering to the Lord here. Note this: he was "trembling and astonished" (in utter shock). He was devastated, hardly able to survive the weight of sin for which he was now being charged. Beyond any question he sensed that he was the most terrible sinner. His only hope was to turn and obey the Lord Jesus. And note: he did exactly what every man must do to be forgiven his sins.

⇒ He called upon and acknowledged the Lord Jesus. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2, Lord—Acts 2:36. Cp. Ro.10:13.)

⇒ He surrendered to obey the Lord Jesus. He asked the key question: "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?"

3. Saul prayed (v.11). He spent three whole days in prayer. Keeping in mind how shattered he was, a person has to really stretch the imagination to hold that he was not saved. Note it was the Lord Himself who said, "He prayeth." So his praying must have been acceptable to God.

4. The Lord gave Saul a true vision which, when the details of it are studied, is phenomenal. Again, the imagination has to be really stretched to hold that he was not saved.

The evidence is strong: Saul surrendered to the Lord on the Damascus road. It was there that the Lord (the Holy Spirit) entered his heart and life. And, as he was to experience the need for many infillings of the Spirit in the future, the need existed when Ananias visited him. So God infilled him then, the first of many enduements of power that were to come upon him. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Holy Spirit— Acts 2:1-4; DEEPER STUDY # 2—8:14-17. Cp. Eph.5:18.)

DIVISION III

THE CHURCH SCATTERED: MISSIONARY BEGINNINGS IN JUDEA AND SAMARIA, 8:1-9:31

F. The Beginning of Paul's Witness: A Believer's Life and Testimony, 9:19-22

(9:19-22) Introduction: the life of Saul, the new convert, is a dynamic example for all. It paints a picture of just what the believer's life and testimony should be.

1. He cared for himself physically (v.19).
2. He joined and became associated and identified with other disciples (v.19).
3. He preached immediately (v.20).
4. He stood as a testimony to the community (v.21).
5. He was faithful and steadfast, continuing on with Christ (v.22).

1 (9:19) Body: Saul cared for himself physically; he looked after his body. He had spent three days before the Lord, confined to the Lord's presence. He had been...

- shattered spiritually.
- drained and exhausted physically.
- isolated socially.
- made weak physically.

He had not eaten, not even had anything to drink (v.9). He was drained and wrung out. Now note what happened: he received food. It seems to read as though he was so weak he had to be fed. Whatever the situation, he was strengthened both by the food and by the Lord. The Lord as well as the food were actively strengthening him.

The point is that both Saul and God were taking care of his body, strengthening him so he could do what God wanted him to do. God had a task, a special work for him to do. His body had to be strengthened and made fit for the task.

"I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service" (Ro.12:1).

"My earnest expectation and my hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed, but that with all boldness, as always, so now also Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life, or by death" (Ph.1:20).

"Bodily exercise profiteth [a] little: but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come" (1 Tim.4:8).

Thought 1. Note the strong lessons on eating right, exercising, and getting adequate sleep.

2 (9:19) Church: Paul joined and became associated and identified with other believers. What happened to Paul is critical to note, for it holds a much needed lesson for every generation of men. Paul joined the other believers at Damascus because he was a true believer. His old nature, the old man, had truly died; and he now had the new nature of believers. He was bound to join those with the same nature as him. It was their presence he desired. He wanted to share in...

- their companionship and fellowship (see DEEPER STUDY # 3—Acts 2:42 for more discussion).
- their love, concern, and care.
- their beliefs and principles.
- their study of the Word.
- their growth in Christ.
- their edifying and building up of each other.
- their witness and service.

Saul associated and became identified with the church so that the world might know that he was a believer. He wanted to openly and publicly declare that he was now...

- a new creature in Christ Jesus.
- a follower of "the Way" which he had opposed and persecuted.
- a true disciple of the Lord Jesus.

“And they continued stedfastly in the apostles’ doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers” (Acts 2:42).

“Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching” (Heb.10:25).

“I am a companion of all them that fear thee, and of them that keep thy precepts” (Ps.119:63).

“Then they that feared the LORD spake often one to another: and the LORD hearkened, and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the LORD, and that thought upon his name” (Mal.3:16).

3 (9:20) Preaching: Paul immediately preached, not hesitating at all. Note two points.

1. He preached Christ. He was no longer preaching religion, tradition, ceremony, or ritual. Neither was he preaching himself or his spiritual experiences, that is, his visions of the Lord, his discipline, his fasting and praying. He preached Christ and Him alone.

“For we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus the Lord; and ourselves your servants for Jesus’ sake” (2 Cor.4:5).

“But...we preach Christ crucified” (1 Cor.1:23).

“[Christ]...the hope of glory: whom we preach, warning every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom; that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus” (Col.1:27-28).

2. He preached that Christ (Messiah) is the Son of God (see note, Preaching—Acts 11:19-30 for discussion).

“For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life” (Jn.3:16).

“Jesus heard that they had cast him out; and when he had found him, he said unto him, Dost thou believe on the Son of God? He answered and said, Who is he, Lord, that I might believe on him? And Jesus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and it is he that talketh with thee” (Jn.9:35-37).

“I and my Father are one” (Jn.10:30).

“Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this? She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, which should come into the world” (Jn.11:25-27).

“For in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily” (Col.2:9).

4 (9:21) Preaching—Zeal: Paul stood as a testimony to the community. The public as well as the leaders of the synagogue were amazed (existanto), astonished, astounded, shocked at what they were seeing.

1. They were expecting an inflamed antagonist storming the homes and meeting places of those who “called on the name of Jesus.” They knew he had been sent to arrest and chain not only the men, but the women followers of Jesus, and to drag them back to Jerusalem for treason and death.

2. Instead, they were witnessing a man radically changed, a man...

- associating and identifying himself with those whom he had come to destroy.
- preaching like a flaming evangel, proclaiming Jesus to be the Messiah and the Son of God.

“But I have a baptism to be baptized with; and how am I straitened till it be accomplished!” (Lk.12:50).

“I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work” (Jn.9:4).

“For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard” (Acts 4:20).

“For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek” (Ro.1:16).

“For I determined not to know any thing among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified” (1 Cor.2:2).

“For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of: for necessity is laid upon me; yea, woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel!” (1 Cor.9:16).

“Then I said, I will not make mention of him, nor speak any more in his name. But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and I could not stay” (Jer.20:9).

5 (9:22) Steadfastness: Paul was faithful and steadfast, continuing on with Christ. Note two significant facts.

1. He continued to grow spiritually, increasing more and more in spiritual strength. The words “increased the more” (mallon enedunamouto) mean to become strong within, to gain inner strength, to increase spiritually.

“Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect” (Mt.5:48).

“Now he that ministereth seed to the sower both minister bread for your food, and multiply your seed sown, and increase the fruits of your righteousness” (2 Cor.9:10).

“But speaking the truth in love, may grow up into him in all things, which is the head, even Christ” (Eph.4:15).

“Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might” (Eph.6:10).

“I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me” (Ph.4:13).

“And the Lord make you to increase and abound in love one toward another, and toward all men, even as we do toward you” (1 Th.3:12).

“And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who hath enabled me, for that he counted me faithful, putting me into the ministry” (1 Tim.1:12).

“Thou therefore, my son, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus” (2 Tim.2:1).

“Therefore leaving the principles of the doctrine of Christ, let us go on unto perfection; not laying again the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith toward God” (Heb.6:1).

“But let patience [stedfastness] have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing” (Jas.1:4).

Note: the more he grew in the Lord, the more he was able to “confound” (confuse) those who opposed and rebelled against the gospel. He was able to “prove” (affirm and confirm) it with more and more power as he grew and grew.

2. He continued to preach that Jesus is the Messiah.

“And they continued stedfastly in the apostles’ doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers” (Acts 2:42).

“We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak” (2 Cor.4:13).

“Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord” (1 Cor.15:58).

“That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation” (Ro.10:9-10).

“Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: [but] he that acknowledgeth the Son hath the Father also” (1 Jn.2:23).

“Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God” (1 Jn.4:15).

DIVISION III

THE CHURCH SCATTERED: MISSIONARY BEGINNINGS IN JUDEA AND SAMARIA, 8:1-9:31

G. The Foretaste of Paul's Great Suffering: Faithful Despite Terrible Trial, 9:23-30

(9:23-30) Introduction: the one thing God wants is faithfulness. Believers are to be faithful no matter the trouble or trial. The one man who blazed across the pages of history who stands head and shoulders above all others in faithfulness is Paul.

1. Faithful in witnessing, but faced a life-threatening plot (v.23-25).
2. Faithful in seeking fellowship with believers, but rejected (v.26-28).
3. Faithful in preaching boldly, but faced opposition and assassination (v.29-30).

1 (9:23-25) Witnessing—Paul, Persecution: Paul was faithful in witnessing, faithful despite a life-threatening plot against him.

1. Paul had apparently been witnessing in Damascus for some time, preaching Christ and proving that Jesus was the Messiah, the Savior promised by God (v.20, 22). He was strong in the Lord. His spiritual strength was evident and his proclamation confounded those who rebelled against the Lord and His gospel (v.22).

The gospel is effective; it always is.

“For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart” (Heb.4:12).

“So shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it” (Is.55:11).

“Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest. And he that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal: that both he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together” (Jn.4:35-36).

“And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not” (Gal.6:9).

“They that sow in tears shall reap in joy. He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him” (Ps.126:5-6).

2. The Jews plotted to kill Paul. They became disturbed—full of anger, bitterness, and enmity. Why? Why did they hate Paul with such vengeance?

- a. They considered him a traitor to their religion and nation and cause (cp. Acts 9:1-2, 20-21. See notes—Acts 4:2-4; note and DEEPER STUDY # 1—Mt. 12:10 for more discussion.)
- b. Paul was sharper than they were in debate. He out-argued them and they felt ashamed and embarrassed. They were unable to get the best of him mentally and spiritually, so they set out to retaliate physically.
- c. The message of the gospel convicted and threatened them. The gospel demanded self-denial, the sacrifice of all they were and had to the Lord Jesus. (See note and DEEPER STUDY # 1—Lk.9:23.)

What the Jews did was convince the civil authorities, the governor of Damascus, that Paul was a fanatic, a rabble-rouser, a threat to the peace of the city. The Jews were so convincing, the governor sent patrols out on a manhunt for Paul and posted guards all around the city to prevent his escape (v.23-25; cp. 2 Cor.11:33).

3. Paul escaped. The plot to kill him was discovered. Patrols and guards were everywhere. The way of escape was interesting. The city was surrounded by a wall; the disciples put him in a basket and lowered him down by the wall.

Thought 1. Paul's faithfulness and his bold witnessing are a dynamic example for all. No matter the opposition, we must be faithful in bearing testimony for Christ. People must hear the gospel, the glorious news that the Savior has come to give life and to give it abundantly (Jn.10:10).

"I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly" (Jn.10:10).

"Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world" (Mt.28:19-20).

"And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature" (Mk.16:15).

"But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth" (Acts 1:8).

"Go, stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life" (Acts 5:20).

Thought 2. Being a fanatic is often the charge made against the believer and his witnessing for Christ. Note Paul's faithfulness and loyalty to Christ despite all.

"And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake; but he that endureth to the end shall be saved" (Mt.10:22).

"Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God" (2 Tim.1:8).

"Thou therefore endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ. No man that warreth entangleth himself with the affairs of this life; that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a soldier" (2 Tim.2:3-4).

"Blessed is the man that endureth temptation [trial]: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him" (Jas.1:12).

"For this is thankworthy, if a man for conscience toward God endure grief, suffering wrongfully" (1 Pt.2:19).

Thought 3. God will always make a way to escape if we are faithful in our witness. He will either deliver us from the difficulty or carry us through the difficulty. He will even carry us through death into His wonderful presence.

"There hath no temptation [trial] taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it" (1 Cor.10:13).

"And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever" (2 Tim.4:18).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(9:23) Paul, Preparation—Journeys: note the words, "And after many days were fulfilled." This seems to refer to Paul's Arabian retirement where he spent two to three years alone with God.

In Galatians 1:15-18, Paul says that immediately after God saved and called him, he...

- did not confer with flesh and blood (to learn about Jesus),
- did not go up to Jerusalem (to confer with the apostles about Jesus),
- but he went into Arabia where he stayed for about three years (Gal.1:17-18);
- then, after Arabia, he returned to Damascus.

What happened seems to be this: after Ananias helped Paul, he stayed with the disciples at Damascus for "certain days" (hemeras tinas, a term indicating a short time) (Acts 9:19). While there he preached like wild-fire (v.20); but in so doing, he began to sense a real inadequacy, a deep need to get alone with the Lord. This he did. He left Damascus, and just like Moses of old who sought the Lord for years in the desert, Paul went into the desert of Arabia to spend three years learning from the Lord Himself. It was in the quietness of the desert that he communed and learned of his Lord; it was there that God...

- revealed the truth to Paul causing Paul to rethink and restructure his beliefs.
- revealed the truths of Romans, Corinthians, Galatians, Ephesians, Philippians, Colossians, and Thessalonians.
- revealed the marvels and mysteries of His glorious grace and His plan for believers and the world (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—1 Cor.2:7 for a list of the mysteries).

The point is this: "after many days" in Arabia, Paul returned to Damascus. It is here that the story picks up in Acts 9:23. Paul was a much more mature believer and servant of the Lord now. But note: this fact shows how time is needed for a believer to mature enough to carry out his lifetime ministry for the Lord.

- ⇒ After returning from Arabia and ministering in Damascus, it was still twelve years before Paul was called to launch his missionary journeys. He had to flee Damascus, for assassination attempts were made against his life. He went to Jerusalem, but he had to flee from there also. It was from Jerusalem that he went home to Tarsus and remained for eleven years. (See Deeper Study # 1, Paul, Journeys—Gal.1:17-24.)
- ⇒ Paul's time in Tarsus, his hometown, was apparently both a learning and training time just as Arabia had been. But it was apparently a time of ministering as well.

Thought 1. Paul's time in Arabia and Tarsus show how a person must take time to get alone with God to learn, grow, and prepare before carrying out his life ministry.

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(9:23) Paul, Journeys: a complete list of the significant journeys of Paul seems to be as follows (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, Paul, Journeys—Gal.1:17-24 for more discussion):

1. His conversion (Gal.1:15-16; Acts 9:1f).
2. His first ministry in Damascus (Acts 9:19-22).
3. His time alone with God in Arabia (Gal.1:17).
4. His second ministry in Damascus after returning from Arabia (Acts 9:23-25).
5. His first trip to Jerusalem for fifteen days to see Peter (Gal.1:18-19; Acts 9:23-30). The apostles in Acts 9:27 would be Peter and James, the Lord's brother.
6. His ministry in and around Tarsus which apparently lasted for about eleven years (Gal.1:21-2:1).
7. His call by Barnabas to help him minister in Antioch (Acts 11:25-26).
8. His second trip to Jerusalem to carry relief goods during a famine (Gal.2:1f; Acts 11:30; 12:25).
9. His call and commissioning as a missionary (Acts 13:2-3).
10. His first great mission to the Gentiles: to Cyprus and Galatia (Acts 13:1-14:28).
11. His return to Antioch after completing his first missionary journey (Acts 14:26-28).
12. His third trip to Jerusalem to defend the gospel of grace before the Jerusalem Council (Acts 15:1-30).
13. His return to Antioch with the message from the Jerusalem council (Acts 15:30-35).
14. His second great mission to the Gentiles: to Europe (Acts 15:36-18:22).
15. His return to Antioch after completing his second missionary journey (Acts 18:22).
16. His third great mission to the Gentiles: Asia Minor and Europe (Acts 18:23-21:16).
17. His fourth and final trip to Jerusalem where he was arrested (Acts 21:17-26:32).
18. His journey to Rome as a prisoner (Acts 27:1-28:15).
19. His ministry in Rome while a prisoner (Acts 28:16-31).

2 (9:26-28) Church—Worship: Paul was faithful in seeking fellowship with believers, but they rejected him. Paul fled to Jerusalem. Note these facts.

1. Paul tried and tried to join the disciples at Jerusalem. The Greek word "assayed" or "tried" (epeirazen) means to try repeatedly.
2. Paul's past as the arch-persecutor of believers haunted him; the believers would not accept him. They did not believe his testimony. They were suspicious, thinking he was an imposter trying to work his way into the circle of believers...
  - to spy upon them.
  - to identify all the disciples so he could arrest them.

3. Paul was befriended by Barnabas. Somehow Barnabas began to sense Paul may be telling the truth. Apparently, he sat down with Paul and had Paul relate his experiences with Christ. Barnabas became thoroughly convinced that Paul was truthful, and took Paul to the apostles. (By apostles is meant Peter and James, the half-brother of Jesus who was to become, if he was not already, the pastor of the church at Jerusalem [Gal.1:18-19]. The other apostles were probably out of town on some mission.) Note that Barnabas, after introducing Paul to Peter and James, shared three things about Paul:

- ⇒ Paul's conversion—that he had actually seen the Lord on the road to Damascus.
- ⇒ that the Lord had actually spoken to Paul.
- ⇒ that Paul had been preaching boldly in Damascus.

4. Paul was finally accepted. Peter was convinced and invited Paul to stay with him. Paul did, and he stayed fifteen glorious days, fellowshipping with the man whom the Lord Himself had chosen to be the first leader of His dear people (cp. Gal.1:18. Note: Paul said his primary purpose for coming to Jerusalem was to see Peter.) This was important, for it meant he had not gone for the purpose of ministering, but to learn about Jesus from the leader of the apostolic band. Note also that while there, Paul was not sitting around revelling in the fellowship of Peter and James. He still ministered, still bore witness of the saving grace of God. He went out and preached Jesus.

Thought 1. Note the great struggle Paul went through just to be able to worship and fellowship with other believers. There was no thought whatsoever about forsaking the assembly of believers, no thoughts about worshipping alone out in nature or wherever. He fought to fellowship with other believers, fought until they accepted him.

"And they continued stedfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers" (Acts 2:42).

“For I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end ye may be established; that is, that I may be comforted together with you by the mutual faith both of you and me” (Ro.1:11-12).

“Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching” (Heb.10:25).

3 (9:29-30) Preaching—Faithful: Paul was faithful in preaching boldly, faithful despite facing opposition and an attempted assassination. Note three points.

1. Paul preached boldly in Jerusalem. It must be remembered that Paul had not gone to Jerusalem to preach, but to see Peter (Gal.1:18). In fact, it was dangerous for him to become too visible because it had been only three years since he had been commissioned by the city officials to be the arch-persecutor of the church. So, why was Paul found preaching? There are probably two reasons.

- a. He could not keep quiet. Sharing the Lord and the message of the glorious gospel of salvation was in his heart, and he just had to share with all who would listen.
- b. He still felt pain over Stephen’s death and ached for the Grecian Jews (Hellenists) he had aroused to murder Stephen. Being in Jerusalem gave him the opportunity to go back to them, confess his wrong, and proclaim Christ to them. He probably went into the very synagogue where he had argued against Stephen, trying to reach the very ones who had helped him stone Stephen.

Thought 1. There is a great lesson here. We should try to reach those we have offended or led astray.

“Therefore if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee; leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way; first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift” (Mt.5:23-24).

“If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men” (Ro.12:18).

2. The opposition was fierce. The Grecians refused to surrender to the One called “Jesus.” They rebelled, arguing with Paul. They became so infuriated with him that they determined to assassinate him.

3. The believers discovered the plot. But the Lord Himself also warned Paul, instructing him to flee the city and go to Tarsus, his hometown. It was there that Paul was to begin reaching the Gentiles of the world (Acts 22:17-21).

Thought 1. The major thrust to note is Paul’s unswerving faithfulness to Christ despite terrible trial. A courageous example for all!

Thought 2. Note the four commendable traits seen in Paul throughout these events:

- ⇒ a strong conviction in Christ as the true Messiah.
- ⇒ an iron determination to be obedient in witnessing—regardless.
- ⇒ an unswerving perseverance in purpose.
- ⇒ a strong, strong stamina and commitment to preaching.

“But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

“And he said, The God of our fathers hath chosen thee, that thou shouldest know his will, and see that Just One, and shouldest hear the voice of his mouth. For thou shalt be his witness unto all men of what thou hast seen and heard” (Acts 22:14-15).

“For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard” (Acts 4:20).

“We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak” (2 Cor.4:13).

“These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee” (Tit.2:15).

H. The State of the Church: What a Church Should Be, 9:31

(9:31) Introduction: this single verse is a summary statement showing the state of the church. It is a picture of just what a church should be.

1. Condition 1: at peace (v.31).
2. Condition 2: edified (v.31).
3. Condition 3: walking (v.31).
  - a. In fearful trust.
  - b. In the Spirit's comfort.
4. Condition 4: growing (v.31).

1 (9:31) Church, At Peace; At Rest: the church was at peace. The word "rest" (eirenen) is peace in the Greek. The tense is active: the church was in a continuous state of peace or rest. It had been going through a most troublesome time, but now the trouble had been handled and peace reigned. Calm and rest settled in and took control. The idea is that the believers were now joying and rejoicing in the peace and deliverance God had given from their great trial. The problem had been severe persecution (see outline and notes—Acts 8:1-4; 9:1-2 for discussion). But now the storm had settled; peace and calm, quiet and rest prevailed.

God Himself stopped the persecution. He did so by doing two things.

1. God converted the arch-persecutor himself, Saul of Tarsus (see outline and notes—Acts 9:1-9. Rather humorously and rejoicing in the grace of God, that is one way to stop the persecution: convert the persecutor!)
2. God overruled the evil of men, worked it out for good. He used a world event to distract the Jewish rulers from the church. The Roman emperor Caligula was attempting to set up a statue or an image of himself in the temple at Jerusalem. He was set on forcing the Jews to worship his image. This, of course, was anathema, accursed to the Jews. In their minds, it was a much greater threat than the small movement of Christianity. Therefore, they turned from persecuting the church to dealing with the threat of the Roman emperor.

Thought 1. The church is to joy and rejoice when peace and rest reign about the church.

- 1) The church should joy in God who worked things out for good and brought such a state of peace to the church. The believer shall suffer persecution (cp. Ph.1:28; 2 Tim.3:12). There is no escape. Therefore, when peace reigns there is cause for rejoicing.

"My brethren, count it all joy when ye fall into divers temptations [trials, sufferings]; knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience. But let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing" (Jas.1:2-4).

"Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you: but rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings; that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy" (1 Pt.4:12-13).

- 2) The church should make use of the calm and peace, bearing a stronger testimony than ever before. Times of peace and quiet, rest and comfort are too often used for revelling in the blessings of fellowship, and the church becomes complacent and lethargic. This should not be the case. Calm and peace mean the gospel is now unhindered and unopposed. Therefore, opportunity for proclaiming the gospel freely should be grasped to the fullest.

"For the son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost" (Lk.19:10).

"I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work" (Jn.9:4).

"Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you" (Jn.20:21; cp. Lk.19:10).

"Walk in wisdom toward them that are without, redeeming the time" (Col.4:5).

“So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom” (Ps.90:12).

2 (9:31) Church—Edification: the church was “edified” (oikudomoumene). The word means to build up, to grow spiritually, to promote spiritual growth, to strengthen, to establish, to confirm in the faith. The tense is continuous action. The believers were continuing to grow spiritually...

- becoming stronger in their faith in the Lord Jesus.
- learning more of the Word of God, of Jesus’ teachings and doctrines.
- gaining a greater knowledge of the Holy Spirit’s presence and power.
- learning how and becoming more effective witnesses for the Lord.
- gaining more and more boldness both for living and witnessing.

“Let us therefore follow after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith one may edify another” (Ro.14:19).

“Let every one of us please his neighbour for his good to edification” (Ro.15:2).

“But he that prophesieth speaketh unto men to edification, and exhortation, and comfort” (1 Cor.14:3).

“For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ” (Eph.4:12).

“Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to the use of edifying, that it may minister grace unto the hearers” (Eph.4:29).

3 (9:31) Believer, Life - Behavior—Walk, Spiritual: the church was walking in the Lord just as the Holy Spirit exhorts in Scripture.

“As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him” (Col.2:6).

“He that saith he abideth in him ought himself also so to walk, even as he walked” (1 Jn.2:6).

“For even hereunto were ye called: because Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps” (1 Pt.2:21).

Note they were walking in two things in particular.

1. They walked in the “fear of the Lord” (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, Fear—Acts 9:31 for discussion). Very simply, this means to live in “the fear of the Lord”; to live before Him in trust, reverence, awe, worship, and obedience. It means to live a life that witnesses to the glory of His love and grace, holiness and righteousness.

“And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell” (Mt.10:28).

“And his mercy is on them that fear him from generation to generation” (Lk.1:50).

“But in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him” (Acts 10:35).

“And if ye call on the Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to every man’s work, pass the time of your sojourning here in fear” (1 Pt.1:17).

“And now, Israel, what doth the LORD thy God require of thee, but to fear the LORD thy God, to walk in all his ways, and to love him, and to serve the LORD thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul” (Dt.10:12).

“Now therefore fear the LORD, and serve him in sincerity and in truth” (Josh.24:14).

“What man is he that feareth the LORD? him shall he teach in the way that he shall choose” (Ps.25:12).

“Oh how great is thy goodness, which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee; which thou hast wrought for them that trust in thee before the sons of men!” (Ps.31:19).

“The LORD taketh pleasure in them that fear him, in those that hope in his mercy” (Ps.147:11).

“The fear of the LORD is the beginning of knowledge: but fools despise wisdom and instruction” (Pr.1:7).

“Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man” (Eccl.12:13).

“Sanctify the LORD of hosts himself; and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread” (Is.8:13).

2. They walked in the comfort of the Holy Spirit. The word “comfort” (parakleseis) means paraclete, the very title by which Christ called the Holy Spirit. It means comforter, advisor, helper, encourager, exhorter. The picture is that of One who is called to stand by the believer’s side (just as Jesus did). That is the reason Jesus made the great promise: “[God] shall give you another Comforter.” (See note—Jn.14:26 for more discussion.) The Holy Spirit was flooding their hearts with a great sense...

- of the Lord’s presence: comforting, advising, helping, counseling, and exhorting them.
- of joy and rejoicing over the great salvation that had saved them to the utmost and given them an eternal inheritance in the presence of God Himself.

“And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever” (Jn.14:16).

“But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you” (Jn.14:26).

“Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light” (Col.1:12).

“To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you” (1 Pt.1:4).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(9:31) Fear (phobo): means to stand in awe and reverence before God. It does not mean to fear God’s presence, to shrink and withdraw from Him. To the contrary, it means that a person reverences and stands in awe of Him, wanting to approach and know Him because He is the majestic and sovereign Being of the universe. It means that a person does not fear...

- to trust and believe Him
- to approach and worship Him
- to do His will
- to serve Him

4 (9:31) Church: the church was growing and multiplying by leaps and bounds. But note why the church was growing at such a rapid pace. The believers...

- were at rest and peace.
- were edifying and building each other up.
- were walking in the fear of the Lord.
- were walking under the control of the Spirit.

These are the essentials for church growth, for reaching people with the gospel of the Lord Jesus.

DIVISION IV

THE CHURCH SCATTERED: THE FIRST GREAT MISSION TO THE GENTILES—BY PETER, 9:32-11:18

A. A Broader Ministry—In Lydda: Making Men Whole, 9:32-35

(9:32-35) Introduction: the power of Christ to make men whole is proclaimed in this passage.

1. The disciple: a commitment to the Lord's mission (v.32).
2. The place: a city where saints lived (v.32).
3. The need: a tragic sickness (v.33).
4. The proclamation: Jesus Christ heals (v.34).
5. The result: all turned to the Lord (v.35).

1 (9:32) Peter—Dedication: there was Peter's commitment to the Lord's mission. Christ had chosen Peter to be the leader, the apostle to the Jews (cp. Gal.2:8). Therefore, it was Peter's duty to reach out to the Jewish believers wherever they were. They were now scattered all over Palestine because of persecution (Acts 8:1-4). Therefore, he set out on a mission and evangelistic tour to visit and strengthen the believers and to preach Christ to all who would hear. Note these points.

- ⇒ Peter "passed throughout all quarters," that is, Judea, Galilee, and Samaria (cp. Acts 8:4, 14, 25). He went everywhere, ministered everywhere for which he was responsible.
- ⇒ Peter preached the gospel to the lost and he edified the believers (Acts 8:25). This must always be remembered. It is the duty of believers to witness and share Christ wherever they are, no matter their gift or calling.
- ⇒ Peter was faithful to his calling, faithful to the Lord's mission. He had to pay a price by sacrificing personal comfort. He had a family and a home to look after, yet he left the comfort of all to travel about and preach Christ (cp. Mt.8:14).

"And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature" (Mk.16:15).

"But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth" (Acts 1:8).

"For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard" (Acts 4:20).

"Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest. And he that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal: that both he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together" (Jn.4:35-36).

"And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not" (Gal.6:9).

"They that sow in tears shall reap in joy. He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him" (Ps.126:5-6).

2 (9:32) Saints: the place where Peter went was a city where saints lived—Lydda. There are two things of significance here.

1. The city was a place where the power of Christ was to be demonstrated. It was an important commercial city (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, Lydda—Acts 9:32).

2. The city had saints living within it (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Saints—Acts 9:32). It is difficult for God to work where there are no believers present. A city that has believers dwelling within its boundaries is greatly blessed. The citizens may not know it, but they are. Believers bring the presence of God to a place, the presence of...

“By the blessing of the upright the city is exalted: but it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked” (Pr.11:11).

“Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people” (Pr.14:34).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(9:32) Lydda—Lod: Lydda was called “Lod” in the Old Testament (1 Chron.8:12; Ezra 2:33; Neh.7:37; 11:35). It was located about 30 miles northwest of Jerusalem and 10 miles south of Joppa.

- ⇒ It was located in the fertile plain of Sharon.
- ⇒ It was one of the cities to which the exiles of the Babylonian captivity returned when they were set free (Ezra 2:33; Neh.7:37).
- ⇒ It was an important commercial city. It was lying on the caravan route from Babylon to Egypt.

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(9:32) Saints: note the believers are called saints. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Holy—1 Pt.1:15-16 for more discussion.) Ananias was the first to call believers saints. He did so when he was praying to the Lord (Acts 9:13). The word refers to the sanctified or holy ones. It simply means to be set apart; to be separated (see note—1 Pt.1:15-16 for more discussion). There are three stages of sanctification.

1. There is initial or positional sanctification. When a person believes in Christ, he is immediately set apart for God—once-for-all and permanently.

“Wherefore, holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our profession, Christ Jesus” (Heb.3:1).

“By the which will we are sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all” (Heb.10:10).

2. There is progressive sanctification. The true believer makes a determined and disciplined effort to allow the Spirit of God to set him apart day by day. The Spirit of God takes him and conforms him into the image of Christ more and more—for as long as he walks upon this earth.

“Sanctify them through thy truth: thy word is truth” (Jn.17:17).

“But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord” (2 Cor.3:18).

“Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for it; that he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word” (Eph.5:25-26).

“And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ” (1 Th.5:23-24).

3. There is eternal sanctification. The day is coming when the believer will be perfectly set apart unto God and His service—without any sin or failure whatsoever. That day will be the great and glorious day of the believer’s eternal redemption.

“That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish” (Eph.5:27).

“Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is” (1 Jn.3:2).

3 (9:33) Hopelessness: the need Peter ran across was a tragic sickness, a man (Aeneas) who had been paralyzed and bedridden for eight years. His condition was similar to the paralytic Christ had confronted and healed (cp. Lk.5:18-26). Note two things.

1. The man’s condition was desperate. He was paralyzed, bedridden...
  - unable to arise out of bed.
  - unable to walk.
  - unable to wash himself.
  - unable to dress himself.
  - unable to feed himself.
  - unable to take care of his own personal needs.
  - unable to move himself.

He was unable to leave the house and the room he was in; he was unable to leave the bed in which he was lying. And this had been going on for eight long years. Picture the situation. His condition was about as critical as a person could face.

2. The man and his family or the ones taking care of him were full of despair and hopelessness. There was no hope he could ever recover and take care of himself. They were all helpless and gripped with a sense of hopelessness. There was no doctor, no man who could change his condition. He was destined and ill-fated to be paralyzed the rest of his life, and someone was required to take care of him.

“My soul is weary of my life; I will leave my complaint upon myself; I will speak in the bitterness of my soul” (Job 10:1).

“For my life is spent with grief, and my years with sighing: my strength faileth because of mine iniquity, and my bones are consumed” (Ps.31:10).

“O my God, my soul is cast down within me” (Ps.42:6).

“I sink in deep mire, where there is no standing: I am come into deep waters, where the floods overflow me” (Ps.69:2).

“But as for me, my feet were almost gone; my steps had well-nigh slipped” (Ps.73:2).

“Withhold thy foot from being unshod, and thy throat from thirst: but thou saidst, There is no hope: no; for I have loved strangers, and after them will I go” (Jer.2:25).

“That at that time ye were without Christ...having no hope, and without God in the world” (Eph.2:12).

4 (9:34) Jesus Christ, Power—Deliverance: the proclamation was a straightforward confrontation. Peter forcefully declared, “Jesus maketh thee whole.” Note five points.

1. All that is known about the man is his name, Aeneas. He was unimportant to the world, a man of no fame and significance, unable to contribute to society and its welfare. He was most likely even forgotten by the world. But note: he was important to God, very important.

2. The focus was Jesus Christ and His power, not Peter, not even the man and his need. Peter did not say, “I make you whole.” He did not say, “It is my power, my faith, my act, my work.” But he said, “Jesus Christ makes you whole.” It is Christ Himself...

- His love and care,
- His authority and power,

...that can make the foulest clean and heal any man.

3. The word for “maketh whole” (iatai) means to be healed immediately, here and now. It was not a drawn out thing. The man was to be healed right then. The word has the idea of being made completely whole, within as well as without, spiritually as well as physically. The man, if not already saved, was made whole spiritually as well as physically. (See note—Mt. 14:36 for more discussion.)

4. Peter declared the Word of God to the man: Jesus Christ heals and makes men whole. Then Peter assured and challenged the man. He told him to arise, to believe the Word, the proclamation, and make his bed. Peter did not declare the power of Christ, then turn and walk away. He gave assurance to the man and challenged him, encouraging him to act, to believe, to get up and do something, to make his bed.

5. The man had to believe that Christ had made him whole. If he believed, he would get up; if he did not believe, he would not get up.

“And Jesus answering saith unto them, Have faith in God” (Mk.11:22).

“Then said they unto him, What shall we do, that we might work the works of God? Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent” (Jn.6:28-29).

“So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God” (Ro.10:17).

“But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him” (Heb.11:6).

“Believe in the Lord your God, so shall ye be established; believe his prophets, so shall ye prosper” (2 Chron.20:20).

DEEPER STUDY # 3

(9:34) Heal - Healing: Jesus Christ does heal, does make people whole. But we must always remember, He heals some and does not heal others, just as He did when He walked upon earth. What makes the difference? Why are some healed and some not? Why are not all faithful believers healed when they are sick and diseased and ask for healing? Some who walk ever so faithfully believe God. They have the necessary faith, believing that God does heal, and they have as much if not more faith than some who are healed. Why then are they not also healed?

The reason is God. When God looks at our requests, He considers four things. (Also see notes—Eph.1:3; see outline and notes—2 Cor.1:3-11. Cp. Ph.1:29.)

1. God’s glory. Would granting the request bring the greatest glory to His name?
2. Our good, not only physically, but spiritually. What particular spiritual grace or quality do we need to learn: endurance, self-control, trust, dependence?
  - a. Spiritually, within ourselves: will granting our request strengthen us more spiritually? Which way will our faith and trust in God grow more?
  - b. Spiritually, without ourselves: how does God now want to use us? As a constant prayer warrior? As an unbelievable testimony to His empowering spiritual strength, no matter the physical condition? Note something else: What do the people need with whom God wants to use us? What is the best way for God to reach them? By demonstrating His strength in and through our trial?
3. God’s wisdom. He knows what is needed by whom; when it is needed; for whom it is needed; where it is needed; how it is needed; why it is needed.
4. God’s mercy. He wills above all else for men to know His mercy. He does whatever is needed to demonstrate His mercy to men. Sometimes walking through the trials of life reveals His mercy more; sometimes removing the trials reveals His mercy more. He chooses the best.

The point is this: Jesus Christ heals the believer who has need of healing. This is always true. A believer who really needs healing is blessed by God and healed. But note: the need for healing is not always the greatest need of a person. God sometimes uses the physical need to meet that which is far more important: the spiritual need and the glory of God. Therefore, not all believers are always healed. Sometimes the believer needs to learn love, joy, peace, endurance, prayer, trust, faith, and hope through his suffering.

5 (9:35) Conversion: the result is that all of Lydda turned to the Lord. So did all the residents of the Valley of Sharon, all who saw the healed man. (See DEEPER STUDY # 4, Sharon—Acts 9:35.) Note the word saw. It was “seeing” the power of Christ in the man’s life that stirred the people to turn to Christ. Nothing influences people more than the power of Christ in the life of a person. Christ within a believer—the rule and reign of His presence and power, the evidence of His working in human lives—touches people. It causes people to turn to the living Lord. They turned from religion in all its form and ritual to the Lord Jesus Christ.

“And he turned him unto his disciples, and said privately, Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see: for I tell you, that many prophets and kings have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them” (Lk.10:23-24).

“For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard” (Acts 4:20).

“Come and hear, all ye that fear God, and I will declare what he hath done for my soul” (Ps.66:16).

DEEPER STUDY # 4

(9:35) Sharon: this was not a city but a rich coastal plain. It lay between the central mountains and the Mediterranean Sea. Several cities were built within its boundaries such as Lydda, Joppa, Caesarea, Dor, Antipatris.

1. The valley was so fertile, its pastures and beauty became proverbial (cp. the term the “Rose of Sharon,” Song of Sol.2:1; cp. 1 Chron.27:29).
2. The valley is used by Scripture as a type or symbol of eternity, of the new heavens and earth which God has promised to create (Is.35:1-2; 65:10-27. Cp. 2 Pt.3:7, 10-13; Rev.21:1f.)
3. The pasture lands of the valley were possessed by the tribe of Gad in the Old Testament (1 Chron.5:16).

DIVISION IV

THE CHURCH SCATTERED: THE FIRST GREAT MISSION TO THE GENTILES—BY PETER, 9:32-11:18

B. A Broader Ministry—In Joppa: Conquering Death, 9:36-43

(9:36-43) Introduction: Jesus Christ has the power to raise the dead. This is abundantly demonstrated in this marvelous event, an event that speaks loudly and clearly to the most desperate need of man—the need to conquer death.

1. The place: a city where disciples and saints lived (v.36).
2. The need: a believer had tragically died (v.36-39).
3. The source of power to raise the dead: Christ Jesus (v.40-41).
4. The results (v.42-43).

1 (9:36) Saints: the place where the power of Christ confronts death—a city where disciples and saints lived (cp. v.36, 41). Note two points.

1. The city of Joppa was an important commercial city (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, Joppa—Acts 9:36).
2. The city had disciples or saints living within its borders (see notes—Acts 9:32 for discussion).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(9:36) Joppa: Joppa was a seaport town, bringing commercial goods from all over the ancient world. It was...

- the seaport for Jerusalem, the capital of Israel.
- the only seaport that could provide shelter between Egypt and Mt. Carmel.
- a busy, bustling seaport, populated with Jews as well as Gentile people from all over the world.
- an ancient seaport town, one of the very oldest in the Mid-East, dating back to the time of Jonah (Jonah 1:3).
- assigned to the tribe of Dan in the Old Testament (Josh.19:46).
- the city where Peter raised Dorcas from the dead (Acts 9:36f) and had the vision that led to the evangelizing of the Gentiles (Cornelius, Acts 10:1f).

2 (9:36-39) Ministering—Death: the need was created by the tragic death of a believer. Note five points.

1. The believer was a faithful believer, a lady named Dorcas.
  - a. Two names are given for her: “Tabitha,” which was her Jewish or Hebrew name, and Dorcas, which was her Greek name. Her name means gazelle (or doe or deer) which is a most beautiful creature. The gazelle is known for...
    - its slender features.
    - its grace and loveliness.
    - its bright eyes and tender looks.

The same traits were apparently characteristic of Dorcas. Note: Scripture does say the wife is to be as the loving hind and the pleasant roe to her husband (Pr.5:19). She is to be as the beautiful creature: gracious and loving, bright eyed (joyful, excited, expectant) and tender.

- b. She was deeply committed to Christ, a very faithful and devoted disciple, full of...
  - “good works” (agathon ergon): a general term meaning all kinds of good works, serving and doing all kinds of good to all who needed help.
  - “almsdeeds”: charitable gifts. She gave gifts to the needy.
- c. Note the deeds which she did (on epoiei). The emphasis is that she gave things, gifts which she herself made (cp. v.39). She must have been well off, perhaps wealthy; for she was buying material to make clothing, apparently for a large number of the needy. Note she was helping a large number of widows (v.39). The widows without the financial support of their deceased husbands would be especially poor and needful.

Thought 1. Dorcas’ discipleship was not a false profession.

- ⇒ She did not promise something and then not follow through.
- ⇒ She did not begin and then slack off.
- ⇒ She did not say, “I will serve” and then ignore the need.

“Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven” (Mt.5:16).

“Now therefore perform the doing of it; that as there was a readiness to will, so there may be a performance also out of that which ye have” (2 Cor.8:11).

“Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; not grudgingly, or of necessity: for God loveth a cheerful giver” (2 Cor.9:7).

“That they do good, that they be rich in good works, ready to distribute, willing to communicate” (1 Tim.6:18).

“In all things showing thyself a pattern of good works: in doctrine showing uncorruptness, gravity, sincerity” (Tit.2:7).

“And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works” (Heb.10:24).

2. Dorcas tragically died. The idea seems to be that she died right in the midst of her ministry when she was so needed. The believers were crushed. There was little hope that the ministry could go on as effectively as it had been.
  - ⇒ There apparently were few, if any, as mature in the Lord as she. It appears as if they were newer believers, not having had sufficient time to grow and mature in Him.
  - ⇒ There were so many poor. There apparently was no one else wealthy and gifted enough to meet their needs. The church desperately needed Dorcas.
3. A great hope and desperate appeal was stirred. The disciples at Joppa...
  - had heard about Peter being close by in Lydda.
  - had heard about the phenomenal healing of the paralytic.
  - had heard (perhaps some had even witnessed) that Jesus had raised the dead.

Note three significant points about the believers.

- a. Great hope swelled up in their hearts. They did not rush to bury Dorcas as was the custom of Jews. But they washed her and laid her in an upper chamber.
- b. They sent two men to ask Peter to come and seek the Lord in behalf of Dorcas—for the sake of the church and its witness as well as for her sake.
- c. They demonstrated great faith in the possibility that the Lord could raise the dead and meet the cry of their hearts. They had enough faith...
  - not to bury her.
  - to go for Peter and ask him to come. This is important. They did not go to discuss the matter with him, but to ask him to come and to come quickly, without delay.

The words “delay not” (me okneseis) mean not to hesitate, not to be reluctant; but to act and act now, quickly, without questioning. The believers were in dead earnest, believing that the Lord could raise the dead if it was His will to do so. What an enormous faith in the Lord Jesus they demonstrated!

4. A sensitive, pastoral response was the result. Peter arose and went with the two men. He was the servant of the Lord, so he did love and care. He was deeply concerned and compassionate. He had been made aware of the need; the cry for help had reached his ears and he responded. (What a lesson for the leaders of the church!)
5. A deep sorrow was expressed for Dorcas, the dedicated believer. As soon as Peter arrived, they took him into the upper chamber. The widows whom she had helped so readily surrounded Peter, weeping from broken hearts. Note they began to show Peter the clothes Dorcas had made and given them. The word showing (epideiknumenai, middle voice) means they were pointing to the clothes. They were actually wearing the clothes she had made in her honor or because they had few or no other clothes decent enough to wear publicly.

“Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven” (Mt.5:16).

“That they do good, that they be rich in good works, ready to distribute, willing to communicate” (1 Tim.6:18).

“In all things showing thyself a pattern of good works: in doctrine showing uncorruptness, gravity, sincerity” (Tit.2:7).

“And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works” (Heb.10:24).

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(9:36) Dorcas: think of the legacy left behind by this woman. Contrast the legacy of Euodias and Syntyche (see note—Ph.4:2-3).

3 (9:40-41) Power: the source of power to raise the dead is Christ Jesus. Note three significant points.

1. The disciple got alone with the Lord. He excused everyone from the room. He had to get alone and seek the Lord. He had to concentrate and meditate; his thoughts had to be undisturbed before the Lord. There are at least three incidents in Scripture where the dead were raised in similar circumstances.

- ⇒ Jesus and Jairus' daughter (Mt.5:40-42).
- ⇒ Elijah and the widow's son (1 Ki.17:17-24).
- ⇒ Elisha and the Shunammite's son (2 Ki.4:18-37, esp. 32-37).

2. Peter prayed to the living Lord. The Lord is living, and because He is alive Peter got alone with Him and asked at least two things:

- a. He asked for the Lord's will. Was it the Lord's will or not His will to raise Dorcas? (See DEEPER STUDY # 3, Healing—Acts 9:34 for discussion.)
- b. Once Peter knew that the Lord wanted Dorcas raised, he prayed both for the power to raise her and for God to use the miracle to make men believe (cp. v.43).

“But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly” (Mt.6:6).

“And when he had sent them away, he departed into a mountain to pray” (Mk.6:46).

“And it came to pass in those days, that he went out into a mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God” (Lk.6:12).

“And this is the confidence that we have in him, that, if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us: and if we know that he hear us, whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we desired of him” (1 Jn.5:14-15).

- 3. Peter did exactly what Jesus instructed. He turned to the body and boldly demanded, “Tabitha, arise.”
  - a. Note the faith of Peter. It was the faith of the Lord Jesus Himself, the faith which Jesus had demonstrated in raising Jairus' daughter (Mk.5:41).
  - b. It was the Lord's will for Dorcas to be raised from the dead. The Lord told Peter what His will was while Peter was praying. If Jesus had told Peter it was not His will, then Peter would not have commanded Dorcas to arise. Her resurrection was to serve a greater purpose than her remaining dead. (See DEEPER STUDY # 3, Healing—Acts 9:34 for discussion.)

“If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself” (Jn.7:17).

“Then Peter and the other apostles answered and said, We ought to obey God rather than men” (Acts 5:29).

4 (9:42-43) Power—Witnessing: the results of raising the dead were twofold.

- 1. Many believed.
- 2. A tremendous door was open for Peter to freely evangelize the area. It was here in Joppa that God was to give him the vision that led to the carrying of the gospel to the Gentiles (Acts 10:1f).

Thought 1. Note this critical point. When God raises the dead, it is always to demonstrate the enormous power of God to save men through any and all trials, even from the greatest of enslavements—death. There is dramatic symbolism in this point for the conversion of a soul from death to life eternal.

The “many” who believed in Joppa illustrate the point. They believed because Dorcas was raised. Because she was raised, they turned to the Lord for salvation. They turned from spiritual death to spiritual life, from physical death to life eternal. They wanted life now and eternally, life abundant and life that lasted forever. They wanted to live with Christ in that glorious day of promise, the day of redemption.

“For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life” (Jn.3:16).

“Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life” (Jn.5:24).

“For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord” (Ro.8:38-39).

CHAPTER 10

C. A Worldwide Ministry—
In Caesarea (Part I):
Breaking Down Prejudice, 10:1-33

There was a certain man in Caesarea called Cornelius, a centurion of the band called the Italian band,

2 A devout man, and one that feared God with all his house, which gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God alway.

3 He saw in a vision evidently about the ninth hour of the day an angel of God coming in to him, and saying unto him, Cornelius.

4 And when he looked on him, he was afraid, and said, What is it, Lord? And he said unto him, Thy prayers and thine alms are come up for a memorial before God.

5 And now send men to Joppa, and call for one Simon, whose surname is Peter:

6 He lodgeth with one Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea side: he shall tell thee what thou oughtest to do.

7 And when the angel which spake unto Cornelius was departed, he called two of his household servants, and a devout soldier of them that waited on him continually;

8 And when he had declared all these things unto them, he sent them to Joppa.

9 On the morrow, as they went on their journey, and drew nigh unto the city, Peter went up upon the housetop to pray about the sixth hour:

10 And he became very hungry, and would have eaten: but while they made ready, he fell into a trance,

11 And saw heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending unto him, as it had been a great sheet knit at the four corners, and let down to the earth:

12 Wherein were all manner of fourfooted beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowl of the air.

13 And there came a voice to him, Rise, Peter; kill, and eat.

14 But Peter said, Not so, Lord; for I have never eaten any thing that is common or unclean.

15 And the voice spake unto him again the second time, What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.

16 This was done thrice: and the vessel was received up again into heaven.

17 Now while Peter doubted in himself what this vision which he had seen should mean, behold, the men which were sent from Cornelius had made inquiry for Simon's house, and stood before the gate,

18 And called, and asked whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, were lodged there.

19 While Peter thought on the vision, the Spirit said unto him, Behold, three men seek thee.

20 Arise therefore, and get thee down, and go with them, doubting nothing: for I have sent them.

21 Then Peter went down to the men which were sent unto him from Cornelius; and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek: what is the cause wherefore ye are come?

22 And they said, Cornelius the centurion, a just man, and one that feareth God, and of good report among all the nation of the Jews, was warned from God by an holy angel to send for thee into his house, and to hear words of thee.

23 Then called he them in, and lodged them. And on the morrow Peter went away with them, and certain brethren from Joppa accompanied him.

24 And the morrow after they entered into Caesarea. And Cornelius waited for them, and had called together his kinsmen and near friends.

DIVISION IV

THE CHURCH SCATTERED: THE FIRST GREAT MISSION TO THE GENTILES—BY PETER, 9:32-11:18

C. A Worldwide Ministry—In Caesarea (Part I): Breaking Down Prejudice, 10:1-33

(10:1-33) Introduction: prejudice and partiality exist. From the beginning of time prejudice has existed (Cain and Abel, Gen.4:1f). Prejudice is everywhere in the world—in every nation, state, city, and neighborhood. Prejudice (discrimination) even exists within families between parent and child, brother and sister, family and relatives. Feelings toward and against people are a tragic reality. Note several facts about prejudice.

1. There are at least two basic reasons for prejudice.
  - a. People differ. They differ in nationality, color, beliefs, religion, speech, looks, behavior, ability, energy, position, status, social standing, possessions, wealth, birth, heritage. Prejudice arises when people feel they and their differences make them better than others.
  - b. Mistreatment causes prejudice, both mistreating others and being mistreated. When a person mistreats others or is mistreated by others his nature is immediately aroused to become prejudicial and judgmental. The mistreatment that gives rise to prejudice covers a wide range of behavior: ignoring, neglecting, joking, gossiping, opposing, cursing, abusing, fighting against, persecuting, passing over, segregating, enslaving.

2. The present passage strikes a fatal blow against prejudice. It shows forever that Jesus Christ has erased all prejudices and barriers between people. Jew and Gentile are now one in Christ Jesus. This is the subject of the present passage. However, before launching into the passage, some background will be helpful in understanding just what is happening and the significance of it.

The Jews, like all other people of the earth, had developed their own laws and customs; and every Jewish child was born and reared in the environment of those laws and customs. They, like all other people, were steeped in their own nationality and looked upon other people with suspicion. However, there were two factors which made the Jewish prejudice run deeper than most.

1. The Jewish people had always been mistreated, enslaved, and persecuted much more than the other people of the world. Through the centuries the Jewish people had been conquered by army after army, and by the millions they had been deported and scattered over the world. Even in the day of Jesus they were enslaved by Rome. Their religion was the binding force that kept Jews together, in particular their belief that God had called them to be a distinctive people (who worshipped the only true and living God) and their rules governing...

- the Sabbath
- the temple
- intermarriage
- worship and cleansing
- diet, what foods they could and could not eat

Their belief and their rules kept them from alien beliefs and from being swallowed up by other people through intermarriage. Their religion was what maintained their distinctiveness as a people and as a nation.

Jewish leaders knew this. They knew that their religion was the binding force that held their nation together. Therefore, they opposed anyone or anything that threatened or attempted to break the laws of their religion and nation.

2. The Jews misread and misinterpreted God's Word and purpose for them. God had called Abraham and given birth to the Jewish nation for one primary purpose—that they might be His people, His witnesses, His missionaries to the rest of the world. God had given the Jews His Word and instructed them to take His Word to the world and tell them about God. They were to bear witness that God is—God does exist—and that men are to worship and serve Him and Him alone.

It was here that Israel failed. Instead of proclaiming God and His Word of righteousness and morality to the world, Israel separated itself from the world, hoarding and claiming that God and His law were theirs and theirs alone. They became separatists, extremely prejudiced, building barriers and partitions between themselves and the other people of the world (Gentiles). Prejudice became so deep-seated that attitudes such as these were adopted:

- ⇒ They called other people “dogs.”
- ⇒ They would have no contact with a Gentile unless absolutely necessary, and then after contact, they had to go through a religious ceremony to be cleansed.
- ⇒ They would not help a Gentile woman who was giving birth lest another Gentile be born into the world.

It was into such a world that the church was born, a world of prejudice, the prejudice...

- of Jew against Gentile.
- of Gentile against Jew.
- of Gentile against Gentile.

How was God going to overcome and break down the walls and barriers of prejudice that had been built up through the centuries of history? How was He going to get His church, His people to break away from their Jewish roots and reach out to the whole world?

That is the point of the present passage. The doors of God’s salvation are about to be gloriously swung open to the people of the world. Every man will soon have the wonderful privilege of hearing the marvelous message proclaimed: God is love and has sent His dear Son into the world that the world might be saved and not perish. The present passage shows how God broke through the prejudicial environment and customs of his dear servant, Peter, and led him to swing open the door to a Gentile soldier who was desperately crying out to God.

The story is one of the great stories of history, and it should be studied by all people everywhere. A study of this event shows that God has broken down the barrier of prejudice between men racially and religiously. He means and intends them to be erased forever—in the name of His dear Son who came to show that God loves all men and wishes all men to be saved.

The subject of the passage can be titled: “The Breakdown of Prejudice” or “The Opening of the Door to the Gentiles.” The door could not be opened until the existing prejudices were dealt with; therefore, the story deals mainly with the breaking down of the prejudices between the Gentile Cornelius and the Jewish minister Simon Peter.

Because of the length of the story and its significance, the event is divided and dealt with in three parts.

- Part 1: The Breakdown of Prejudice (Acts 10:1-33).
- Part 2: The Message to be Preached to the World (Gentiles) (Acts 10:34-43).
- Part 3: The Holy Spirit Given to the World (Gentiles) (Acts 10:44-48).

1 (10:1-8) Prejudice—Jew vs. Gentile—Seeking God: the breakdown of prejudice in the Gentile, Cornelius. Note: it is God who breaks down prejudice. Prejudice is so deep-seated in the heart of man, only God can erase it and reconcile man.

1. Cornelius was a soldier, a military officer, a Centurion in the Roman army (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, Centurion—Acts 23:23 for discussion). The Italian band simply means that all the soldiers (100) under his command were from Italy. Cornelius was stationed in Caesarea. This is important to note, for Caesarea was a Gentile city, a place in which strict Jews would never set foot, not if preventable.

2. Cornelius had an unusual reverence for God. He was...
- a devout man: one who worshipped the true and living God.
  - a God-fearing man: one who sensed the presence of God in the world and knew he was responsible to God to live righteously, justly, and morally toward all men.
  - a benevolent and charitable man: one who gave to charity. Note: he gave “much.”
  - a praying (deomenos) man: the word means begging of God. Note that he prayed always.

The point is this: Cornelius was totally unlike most of the Gentiles of his day. He was not worshipping false gods. The Scripture says he worshipped and “prayed to God” (tou theou). In Greek this means the true God, the only living and true God. Cornelius had done two things.

- a. He had looked at nature and at the world around him and seen that there was bound to be one God who had created all things.

“For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse” (Ro.1:20).

- b. He had looked at Jewish religion (Judaism) and seen that it was head and shoulders above all other religions in...
- its worship of one God.
  - its teachings of righteousness and justice and morality.
  - its religious practices such as praying three times daily. (Note his praying at the Jewish ninth hour, which today is 3 p.m.)

But note: Cornelius did not become a Jewish worshipper. He was not circumcised (cp. Acts 11:3). He would never consent to becoming a Jewish convert. He could learn from them and their religion, but he would never become one of them. The prejudice existing within his own heart, existing between Gentile and Jew was too great to overcome. (We must always remember, prejudice is too great to overcome in the flesh of natural man.)

3. Cornelius was given a vision from God. Note five points.
- Cornelius was in prayer when the vision came.
  - The vision involved an angel bringing a message from God.
  - Cornelius “looked on” (atenisas), that is, fastened his eyes, gazed, focused his attention; he was startled, frightened.
  - Cornelius realized the angel of God was a messenger from God (cp. v.30, “bright clothing”). He addressed him as “Lord.”
  - The message to Cornelius was twofold.
    - His prayers and charity had come before God as a memorial (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 10:1-6 for discussion).
    - He was to send men to Joppa to see Peter and ask him what to do. Now note a critical point: despite Cornelius’ enormous reverence and faithful service for God...
      - he was still not doing enough.
      - something else was missing.
      - one thing was still lacking.
 Note another fact as well: Cornelius was aware he still lacked something, very aware of the fact. He had asked God what he still needed. Despite all his reverence and good works, he still felt a lack, an emptiness; and he was begging God to fill that emptiness, to show him what he still had to do.
4. Cornelius was obedient to the heavenly vision and instructions. He sent two trusted household servants and his most trusted military orderly to find Simon Peter. Cornelius would seek the answer to his heart’s need from a Jew.

“Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven” (Mt.7:21).

“If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself” (Jn.7:17).

“If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father’s commandments, and abide in his love” (Jn.15:10).

“Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city” (Rev.22:14).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(10:1-6) Seeking God—Lost—Salvation: Cornelius was not saved. Scripture says so (Acts 11:14). He was a man who...

- was good and very devout.
- worshipped the true God.
- feared and revered God.
- did good, giving “much” to charity.
- prayed “always”—not just daily, not just often, but always.

However, as wonderful as these things are, they are not what saves a person. Note a critical point often overlooked: Cornelius was genuine in his seeking after God. His prayers and charity ascended to God as a memorial (eis mnemonon). The word means that the sincerity of Cornelius’ heart caught God’s eye. Cornelius was seeking God, desiring to please God, to know God and to do God’s will. Therefore, God could not miss him. He had to see to it that Cornelius heard the message of salvation.

It is the person who seeks God whom God saves. God will do anything, do whatever is needed, so that the message of salvation is sent to the person who truly seeks Him. The person who seeks Him will find Him even if that person is in the deepest jungle on earth, completely isolated in the uttermost part of the earth. This is the promise of God.

“And ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart” (Jer.29:13).

“Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you: for every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened” (Mt.7:7-8).

Scripture describes people such as Cornelius, people who look at nature and at the world around them and see the true God: they seek God, yet they have never had the privilege of hearing the truth of the glorious gospel. (What an indictment against believers! Century after century has passed and the world has not yet been reached!)

“For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse” (Ro.1:20).

“When the Gentiles, which have not the law, do by nature the things contained in the law, these, having not the law, are a law unto themselves: which show the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts the mean while accusing or else excusing one another” (Ro.2:14-15).

“If the uncircumcision [Gentile] keep the righteousness of the law, shall not his uncircumcision be counted for circumcision? And shall not uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfil the law, judge thee, who by the letter and circumcision dost transgress the law? For he is not a Jew, which is one outwardly; neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh: but he is a Jew, which is one inwardly; and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, and not in the letter; whose praise is not of men, but of God” (Ro.2:26-29).

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(10:1) Caesarea: the city was built by Herod the Great between 25-13 B.C. and named for Augustus Caesar. It became the Roman capital of Palestine, the center of Roman government and military headquarters in Palestine.

- ⇒ It was a seaport town about 30 miles north of Joppa.
- ⇒ It was a magnificent city—newly built, gleaming with the royal palace of Herod, magnificent buildings, and huge temples built to honor false gods.
- ⇒ It was the home of Cornelius (Acts 10:1).
- ⇒ It was the home of Philip the evangelist (Acts 21:8).
- ⇒ It was the city where Paul appealed to Caesar (Acts 25:10-13).
- ⇒ It was the city to which Paul escaped (Acts 9:30).
- ⇒ It was the city where Paul was imprisoned (Acts 13:12-35).
- ⇒ It was the city Peter was to evangelize (Acts 10:1-48).

2 (10:9-22) Prejudice—Jew vs. Gentile: the breakdown of prejudice in the Jew, Simon Peter. The servants from Cornelius had almost reached the city of Joppa where Peter was. They would be approaching Peter soon with the request to visit and help Cornelius. However, Peter was not ready...

- to welcome these men.
- to return with them to visit Cornelius.
- to stay and share in the home of Cornelius.

Why? Cornelius was a Gentile and Peter was a Jew. There was deep-seated racial discrimination between the two. Welcoming and visiting and sharing in the homes of each other was out of the question. And on top of that, there was a religious difference, a difference that was even more deeply seated in Peter's mind than the racial difference. Peter was just not ready for these Gentile men to approach him with the request to visit Cornelius the Gentile, not yet.

But God was ready. And it is God who makes the difference. God can break down prejudice. God can reconcile the Jew to the Gentile and the Gentile to the Jew. God can reconcile man to man; He can bring peace to men and between men. Note these facts.

1. Peter prayed often every day. This is seen in the fact that he was praying about the sixth hour (12 noon Jewish time). This was one of the three prayer hours practiced by Jews. Peter got alone and prayed at least three times daily.

Peter was such a man of prayer that God could intervene in his life and direct him, give him specific instructions. It was while he was praying that God spoke to Peter.

2. Peter was a mere man, very human. Despite his being the leader of Jesus' apostles—the great apostle to the Jews, a man of great spiritual maturity and depth, a great servant of the Lord, a minister highly esteemed—Peter was still just a man, a man who hungered and thirsted, ached and hurt, was weak and frail, prejudiced and too often wrong just like the rest of us.

The point is this: being saved and spiritually mature and called to serve God did not make Peter perfect. It did not free him from need and lack, nor from sin. Peter as a mere man was subject to hunger just as all men, and subject to the prejudices of his environment just as all men—subject to the prejudices until God changed him. And praise God, He was about to change Peter's prejudice against us, the Gentiles! If God had not changed him and his prejudices, we would still be lost and without Christ in this world.

3. Peter experienced a trance. The Greek says that "a trance [an ecstasy] came upon him"; that is, he was transported out of himself (ekstasis). His mind was so concentrated, so focused that Peter lost all sense of the world around him. He was swallowed up in the thoughts of God, transported mentally out of this world. It is something like a daydream, but a daydream so concentrated and focused that all contact with one's surroundings is completely lost. It is a time of ecstasy in the presence of the Lord, receiving His Word, whatever He has to say to one's heart.

- a. The trance (ecstasy) was of heaven. Peter saw heaven open. Peter's prejudice was encrusted and hardened. He had never known anything but prejudice within his environment except what Christ had demonstrated. Peter did not think or know that he was prejudiced. He thought he was only standing against the unrighteousness and injustices of men, that he was to ignore and have nothing to do with ungodly and unjust men. If Peter was to change and begin to reach out to the heathen, the ungodly and unjust, he had to know that the instructions were from heaven, from God Himself.
- b. The vessel or platter (plate) upon which a meal was served was huge.
  - ⇒ It was a large receptacle, so large it looked like a large sheet (othonen), which in the Greek means linen cloth. This probably means it was white.
  - ⇒ The huge vessel or platter had four corners that were knit, that is, that were held by four ropes and let down from heaven, descending to earth and being set before Peter.
  - ⇒ The vessel or platter contained all manner of animals.
- c. The instruction to Peter was, "Rise, Peter; kill, and eat."
- d. Peter refused, for the animals were common and unclean according to the laws of Jewish religion (see DEEPER STUDY # 3—Acts 10:11-16 for discussion). Note the enormous spiritual struggle Peter was going through.
- e. Peter was clearly corrected: "What God has cleansed, that call not unclean."
- f. Peter experienced the event three times and then the trance ended with the platter being received up into heaven.
- g. Peter was perplexed. While Peter was thinking about the trance and wondering what it meant, the men arrived downstairs and asked for him.

- h. Peter's sensitivity to the Holy Spirit's leadership is clearly seen from this point on. Note: it was the Holy Spirit who...
- told him the men were downstairs.
  - told him to go "with them" (Peter did not yet know they were Gentiles).
  - told him to "doubt nothing": do not waver, wonder, hesitate, question the thing to be done.
  - told him that He, the Holy Spirit, had sent the men after him.
- Note: Peter did not yet know the men were Gentiles. But the Holy Spirit had just told Peter exactly what to do. Peter could not question this fact. Peter was now ready to have his prejudice against Gentiles erased. Note also: Peter did not yet know the meaning of the trance. This would be made clear later.
- i. Peter received the Gentile servants. He obeyed the Holy Spirit, did exactly what the Spirit said. Peter even lodged them, an unheard of thing. (As a point of humor, imagine the kosher food they had that evening.)

"But blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your ears, for they hear" (Mt.13:16).

"Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day" (Ps.25:5).

"Teach me thy way, O LORD, and lead me in a plain path" (Ps.27:11).

"Teach me to do thy will; for thou art my God: thy spirit is good; lead me into the land of uprightness" (Ps.143:10).

DEEPER STUDY # 3

(10:11-16) Jews, Dietary Laws: the Jews had all kinds of dietary laws (cp. Lev.11; 20:25-26; Dt.14:3-21). There were certain foods they could and could not eat. The words "common and unclean" (koinon kai akatharton) refer to being religiously or ceremonially unclean. The unclean animals were unhallowed, profaned. It was felt that eating them would not please God. Note two points.

1. The Jews were very strict, scrupulous in keeping the dietary laws. The laws were taught from earliest childhood, and a true Jew never ate an unclean animal. This can be clearly seen from Peter's experience.

⇒ He told the Lord emphatically, "No." And he said "no" three times right in the midst of a trance.

⇒ He told the Lord, "I have never eaten anything that is common or unclean."

Peter had never tasted an unclean food. Therefore, the Lord's command to eat such food caused an enormous struggle for him. Jews were strict in observing the rules and regulations governing what they could and could not eat. They would never touch a food that was unclean.

2. Eating unclean foods was one of the major reasons the Jews considered the Gentiles unclean and unacceptable to God. It was one of the major reasons they refused to have anything to do with the Gentiles. If a Jew had associated with a Gentile, the consequences would have been easily seen. The Jew would soon be influenced to try some Gentile food, and by so doing he...

- would become unclean religiously and ceremonially.
- would be breaking God's law.
- would lose his distinctiveness as being one of God's chosen people, one who follows and obeys God.
- would be eating meat that may have come from an animal sacrificed to an idol god. Once an animal had been sacrificed to an idol, the priests often sold the meat to merchants who made the meat available to the public. To eat meat offered to idols was considered idolatry, one of the worst offences in the minds of a Jew.

Note: what God was saying to Peter is not contradicting God's Word to Israel. God had given Israel many laws...

- to make Israel distinctive, the people who followed and obeyed God's law.
- to keep Israel separated from the ungodly and unjust behavior of other people, and from intermarriage.
- to give Israel guidance in taking care and protecting themselves both as a nation and as individuals. (Dietary laws protected their bodies and health.)

Israel was the custodian of God's Word to man. But when Christ came, God took another step, moved to another stage of His plan. Jesus Christ and His followers are now the custodians of God's revelation. It is no longer just Israel, just Jews who are...

- to receive,
- to know,
- to be responsible

...for God's revelation. It is both Jew and Gentile, all men everywhere. All men are now to rally around Jesus Christ and take the responsibility for proclaiming God's revelation (His Word, His law). It is no longer just Jews. It is all men of all nations—all who will follow Christ and take on the responsibility for making Him known.

3 (10:23-33) Lessons: the confrontation and lessons learned by the Jew and the Gentile, the prejudiced of the world.

1. The preparation by Peter. He took six Jewish believers, orthodox Jews, with him (Acts 10:45; 11:12). Peter knew he was treading troubled waters by associating with Gentiles; he sensed he would need witnesses to what he was doing. Therefore, he was preparing himself against attack (cp. 11:1f).

2. The preparation by Cornelius. Note...

- He was expectant, excited, eagerly waiting for their arrival.
- He had "called together his kinsmen and close friends." There were many present.

Note also the faith of Cornelius. He knew Peter would be coming, that God would fulfill His Word (v.6) and do what He had promised.

“The LORD redeemeth the soul of his servants: and none of them that trust in him shall be desolate” (Ps.34:22).

“Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in him; and he shall bring it to pass” (Ps.37:5).

“Trust ye in the Lord for ever: for in the Lord JEHOVAH is everlasting strength” (Is.26:4).

Thought 1. Cornelius was already witnessing by bringing people to hear the messenger from God.

3. The confrontation of the Jew and the Gentile, two men humbled by God.
  - a. Cornelius had been humbled by the vision from God. He had been mulling over the experience for four days now, being humbled and prepared more and more to receive the Jewish messenger. When he confronted Peter, he was so humbled he prostrated himself before Peter in an act of deep reverence.
  - b. Peter demonstrated humility as well. It was the custom to bow before men of high honor, showing reverence and respect for them. But God had humbled Peter too. Peter forbade the act, disallowed it. No man is to be idolized or revered in the sense of being held in awe. Peter rebuked Cornelius: “I myself also am a man.”

Thought 1. Jesus accepted such reverence and worship (cp. Mt.2:11; 8:2; 9:18; 14:33; 15:25; 20:20; 28:9, 17; Lk.5:8), and He accepted it from Peter himself (Mt.8:2; Lk.5:8). But Peter says no man is to bow or reverence another man, no matter who they are. We are all mere men, each one saved by God’s wonderful grace.

“Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven” (Mt.18:4).

“For I say, through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith” (Ro.12:3).

“Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves. Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others” (Ph.2:3-4).

“Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder. Yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility: for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble” (1 Pt.5:5).

4. The lesson learned by Peter. (See note—Acts 10:28-29 for more discussion.) Peter now knew that no man was common or unclean. He now knew...
  - that Christ had abolished the distinction between Jew and Gentile.
  - that Christ had abolished the wall of partition between Jew and Gentile (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Temple—Jn.2:14).
  - that Christ had abolished all distinctions between men, whether racial, social, or some caste system.

No man was to treat any other man with anything but love and care, mercy and forgiveness, concern and compassion. Peter’s prejudice was wiped out, erased, and overcome. It had been overcome by God. The door of salvation was about to be thrown open to the Gentiles forever.

Note Peter’s reference to how it was unlawful for a Jew to associate with a Gentile (v.28). This law was not in the Scripture. It came from the Scribal law (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Lk.6:2).

“That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust” (Mt.5:45).

“For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him” (Ro.10:12).

“But of these who seemed to be somewhat, (whatsoever they were, it maketh no matter to me; God accepteth no man’s person:) for they who seemed to be somewhat in conference added nothing to me” (Gal.2:6).

“For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ. There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus” (Gal.3:27-28).

“And, ye masters, do the same things unto them, forbearing threatening: knowing that your Master also is in heaven; neither is there respect of persons with him” (Eph.6:9).

5. The lesson learned by Cornelius was threefold.
  - a. The man who truly seeks God moves God. Cornelius declared that God answered his prayer.
  - b. The man who seeks God must listen to God and obey God. Cornelius declared that he listened and did exactly what God said, and that he did it immediately (v.33).
  - c. The man who seeks God must be receptive to the Word of God.

“These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so” (Acts 17:11).

“For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe” (1 Th.2:13).

DEEPER STUDY # 4

(10:28-29) Religious Traditions—Church, Prejudice—Gentiles Vs. Jews: Jews were forbidden to eat certain animals because they were said to be unclean. This was a symbolic vision. God was teaching Peter that Gentiles (represented by the unclean animals) were acceptable to Him and were to be as much a part of His church as were Jews (v.28). This is of extreme importance, for God was revealing that this had been His eternal plan for the church from the beginning. It was the revelation made to the “holy apostles and prophets by the Spirit” (Eph.3:5). Note that “apostles” and “prophets” are plural. Paul was not the only apostle to whom the revelation was given. Peter later shared this experience with the Gentiles at Caesarea (Acts 10:24-29) and with the Jews at Jerusalem (Acts 11:1-11). Peter says very plainly in Acts 15:7-14 that God was calling out both Gentiles and Jews to make up the church.

This move on God’s part stirred one of the most revolutionary movements in human history. Both Jews and Gentiles were gripped with the deepest prejudice against one another (cp. Lk.10:25-37. See outlines and notes—Lk.7:4-5; DEEPER STUDY # 1—Mk.7:27; note—Eph.2:11-12; cp. Gal.2:4; Eph.2:13-18; 2:19-22. See outlines and DEEPER STUDY # 1—Ro.9:1-11:36. See notes—Mk.11:15; Eph.2:14-15 on the structure of the Jewish temple.)

Note the open invitation among the Gentiles: “We are all here present before God, to hear all things that are commanded...of God” (v.33). The door for Gentile evangelism was thrown wide open!

DIVISION IV

THE CHURCH SCATTERED: THE FIRST GREAT MISSION TO THE GENTILES—BY PETER, 9:32-11:18

D. A Worldwide Ministry—In Caesarea (Part II): Preaching Peace, 10:34-43

(10:34-43) Introduction: this passage gives the first message ever preached to Gentiles by one of the apostles. It is the message that opened the door of salvation to all the people of the world, to the Gentiles. It gives the points that need to be preached to all the nations of the world.

1. God is no respecter of persons—He accepts anyone who fears Him and works righteousness (v.34-35).
2. God sent His Word to Israel; He sent Jesus Christ preaching peace (v.36-37).
3. Jesus is God’s anointed Savior (v.38-39).
4. Jesus was crucified (v.39).
5. Jesus was raised up by God (v.40).
6. Jesus appeared to some who were chosen to be witnesses (v.40-41).
7. Jesus shall judge the living and the dead (v.42).
8. Jesus is the prophesied Messiah (v.43).
9. Believing in Jesus brings forgiveness of sin (v.43).

1 (10:34-35) Favoritism—Partiality—Discrimination: God is no respecter of persons. The term “respecter of persons” (prosopolemptes) means to regard with partiality and favoritism; to favor a person because of looks, position, or circumstances.

The great point of this chapter is that God has no favorites and no prejudice against anyone. He shows no partiality or discrimination whatsoever. He does not accept a person because of nationality, race, caste, social standing, or class. God does not favor a man because of...

- who he is
- what he does
- what he has

Person or appearance, possessions or position, abilities or works, health or stature—these things do not make a person acceptable to God. “God is no respecter of persons.” He has always said so; but men, including Peter, had not paid attention to Him (cp. Dt.10:17; 2 Chron.19:7; Job 34:10; Ro.2:11; Eph.6:9; Col.3:25; Jas.2:1; 1 Pt.1:17). They just went right on ignoring the truth of God’s Word and feeding their prejudices. Note that Peter said...

- God is no respecter of persons (v.34).
- God is no respecter of nations (v.35. Cp. Ro.2:27-29.)

Two things make a person acceptable to God. Peter covered them both.

1. Fearing God (see note—Acts 9:31 for discussion).
2. Working righteousness (see note 5 and DEEPER STUDY # 5,6, Righteousness—Mt.5:6 for more discussion). In the Bible righteousness means two simple but profound things: to be right and to do right. (See note 5 and DEEPER STUDY # 5,6, Righteousness—Mt.5:6 for more discussion.)

- a. There are those who stress being righteous and neglect doing righteousness. This leads to two serious errors.
- 1) False security. It causes a person to stress that he is saved and acceptable to God because he has believed in Jesus Christ. But he neglects doing good and living as he should. He neglects obeying God and serving man.
  - 2) Loose living. It allows one to go out and do pretty much as he desires. He feels secure and comfortable in his faith in Christ. He knows that what he does may affect his fellowship with God and other believers, but he thinks his behavior will not affect his salvation. He thinks that no matter what he does he is still acceptable to God.

The problem with this stress is that it is a false righteousness. Righteousness in the Bible means being righteous and doing righteousness. The Bible knows nothing about being righteous without living righteously.

- b. There are those who stress doing righteousness and neglect being righteous. This also leads to two serious errors.

- 1) Self-righteousness and legalism. It causes a person to stress that he is saved and acceptable to God because he does good. He works and behaves morally and keeps certain rules and regulations. He does the things a Christian should do by obeying the main laws of God. But he neglects the basic law: the law of love and acceptance—that God loves him and accepts him not because he does good, but because he loves and trusts the righteousness of Christ (see note 5 and DEEPER STUDY # 5,6—Mt.5:6).
- 2) Being judgmental and censorious. A person who stresses that he is righteous (acceptable to God) because he keeps certain laws often judges and censors others. He feels that rules and regulations can be kept, for He keeps them. Therefore, anyone who fails to keep them is judged, criticized, and censored.

The problem with this stress is that it, too, is a false righteousness. Again, righteousness in the Bible is both being righteous and doing righteousness. The Bible knows nothing of being acceptable to God without being made righteous in Christ Jesus (see note 5 and DEEPER STUDY # 5,6—Mt.5:6; Ro.5:1 for more discussion. Cp. 2 Cor.5:21.)

“That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust” (Mt.5:45).

“For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him” (Ro.10:12).

“But of these who seemed to be somewhat, (whatsoever they were, it maketh no matter to me: God accepteth no man’s person:) for they who seemed to be somewhat in conference added nothing to me” (Gal.2:6).

“And, ye masters, do the same things unto them, forbearing threatening: knowing that your Master also is in heaven; neither is there respect of persons with him” (Eph.6:9).

2 (10:36-37) Jesus Christ, Ministry—Witnessing: God sent His Word to Israel; He sent Jesus Christ preaching peace. Note exactly what is being said.

- ⇒ God sent His Word to Israel. Israel was the first nation to receive God’s Word. Salvation is of the Jews (see notes also DEEPER STUDY # 1—Jn.4:22; Ro.9:3-5 for discussion).
- ⇒ God sent His Word to Israel by Jesus Christ, God’s very own Son. It was Jesus Christ who brought the message of God (see note—Jn.1:34 for discussion).

However, God’s Word was not meant for Israel alone. Jesus Christ did not come just for Israel’s salvation. God is no respecter of persons. God accepts people from every nation, all those who fear Him and work righteousness. Peter declared three facts.

1. He burst forth: “Christ is Lord of all.”

Not only of...

- the Jews
- the privileged
- the poor
- the religious

but of...

- the Gentiles, every nation
- the heathen
- the people who truly fear Him and work righteousness

“Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly, that God hath made that same Jesus, whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Christ” (Acts 2:36).

“That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved” (Ro.10:9).

“God is faithful, by whom ye were called unto the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord” (1 Cor.1:9).

“But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him” (1 Cor.8:6).

2. Peter declared that Jesus Christ had been talked about throughout all Judea. Peter told Cornelius: “You know. You have heard the Word.” Cornelius and the ones sitting there had just paid little or no attention to it.

Thought 1. Think how many hear and sit under the gospel and pay little if any attention to it.

“And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand: and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it” (Mt.7:26-27).

“When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, then cometh the wicked one, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart. This is he which received seed by the way side” (Mt.13:19).

“But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandise” (Mt.22:5).

3. Peter said that Jesus Christ began to preach God’s Word in Galilee right after John’s ministry of baptism.

“Now after that John was put in prison, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God” (Mk.1:14).

“And he said unto them, I must preach the kingdom of God to other cities also: for therefore am I sent” (Lk.4:43).

“And it came to pass afterward, that he went throughout every city and village, preaching and showing the glad tidings of the kingdom of God: and the twelve were with him” (Lk.8:1).

“To whom also he showed himself alive after his passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God” (Acts 1:3).

Thought 1. No one had an excuse for rejecting the gospel of God’s kingdom. Jesus Christ had travelled and preached the gospel everywhere, and He was the topic of conversation upon everyone’s lips. They were without excuse. So it is today with those who have heard the gospel. They are without excuse.

3 (10:38-39) Jesus Christ, Anointed One: Jesus is God’s anointed Savior. His very name “Christ” (Messiah) means “the Anointed One of God” (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Christ—Mt.1:18). Jesus was anointed by God in a very special way.

1. Jesus was anointed with the Holy Spirit. But note: He was anointed with the Holy Spirit in a way that no other person has ever been anointed: the Holy Spirit was given without measure to Christ. He received an unlimited measure of the Spirit, and it was once-for-all. That is, the Spirit’s fulness never left Christ, not for a moment. (See notes—Jn.1:32-33; 3:34 for more discussion.)

“The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised” (Lk.4:18).

“For of a truth against thy holy child Jesus, whom thou hast anointed, both Herod, and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles, and the people of Israel, were gathered together” (Acts 4:27).

2. Jesus was anointed with miraculous power. Power is the presence and outworking of the Holy Spirit within a person. Jesus declared this. He was very clear in declaring two things.
- a. He Himself was anointed with the Holy Spirit so that He could be anointed with the power to minister.

“The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord” (Lk.4:18-19).

“How God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; for God was with him” (Acts 10:38).

Jesus was anointed with the Holy Spirit so that He could go “about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil,” oppressed by the devil’s...

- evil spirits and demons
- temptations and sins
- strategies and methods
- lying and deception
- bitterness and hatred
- killings and wars
- selfishness and greed
- enslavements and bondages
- indulgence and extravagance
- hoarding and storing up
- neglect and unconcern
- immorality and lust
- stealing and injustices
- laziness and complacency
- power over death (Heb.2:14-15)

- b. The believer receives the Holy Spirit so that he can have the power to be a witness to the world.

“But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

Thought 1. Note: Jesus Christ did not come nor was He anointed to debate theories and theology with the ministers and priests of His day. He was anointed to “go about doing good” and helping people by delivering them from the oppressions of the devil.

3. There is proof that Jesus did these things. Peter and the earliest believers saw and knew Him.

⇒ “That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled, of the Word of life; (for the life was manifested, and we have seen it, and bear witness, and show unto you that eternal life, which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us;) that which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ. And these things write we unto you, that your joy may be full” (1 Jn.1:1-4).

Thought 1. Jesus Christ is still working in lives today, delivering from the oppression of the devil. The proof is clearly seen in the lives and witness of genuine believers.

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(10:38) Anoint - Anointing: Scripture speaks of at least four kinds of anointing.

1. The anointing of respect or of hospitality. Oil was poured over the body of a person as a sign of respect and hospitality. Such took place when welcoming guests into one’s home (Lk.7:46) or when burying the dead (Mk.14:8; 16:1).
2. The anointing for service, such as prophets (1 Ki.19:16), priests (Ex.28:41), and kings (1 Sam.10:1).
3. The anointing for medical purposes (Is.1:6; Lk.10:34; Jas.5:14f; Rev.3:18).
4. The anointing of God’s Son, Jesus Christ. The words Christ and Messiah mean “The Anointed One.”

“God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; for God was with Him” (Acts 10:38).

“The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord” (Lk.4:18-19).

4 (10:39) Jesus Christ, Death: Jesus was crucified, slain, and hung on a tree (see note and DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 1:3; DEEPER STUDY # 2,3—2:23; DEEPER STUDY # 1—3:13; notes—3:13-15; 4:25-28 for discussion).

5 (10:40) Jesus Christ, Resurrection: Jesus was raised up by God (see notes and DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 1:3; DEEPER STUDY # 4—2:24; note—2:25-36 for discussion).

6 (10:40-41) Jesus Christ, Resurrection: Jesus appeared to some people who were chosen and appointed to be witnesses. Three points are stressed about Jesus’ resurrection appearances.

1. God showed Jesus openly (emphane genesthai), which means that God set Jesus before people so that He could be visibly, openly, and publicly seen. God manifested, showed, and set Him forth as the Risen Lord. (See note and DEEPER STUDY # 1, Jesus, Resurrection—Acts 1:3 for more discussion.)
2. Jesus appeared to chosen witnesses. The word “chosen before” (prokecheirotonemenois) means to be pointed out, to be designated, to be appointed (cp. Jn.17:6). Before Christ ever arose, God chose some people to be witnesses of His Son’s resurrection. They were chosen for the very purpose of proclaiming the resurrection to a world of dying men.
3. The witnesses did “eat and drink with Him after He rose from the dead.” They had close and intimate fellowship with Him. (Cp. 1 Jn.1:1-4.) Peter said this for two reasons.
  - a. To stress that he and the other witnesses had real contact with the risen Lord. They not only saw Him, they “ate and drank,” communed and fellowshiped with Him. They were as closely associated with Him as persons can be. They were true, verifiable witnesses.
  - b. To stress that Jesus actually arose from the dead. The Person they saw was the Jesus whom they knew. His body was real. It was really Him; His body had been resurrected. (See outline and notes—Jn.21:1-14 for more discussion.)

“Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain: whom God hath raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it” (Acts 2:23-24).

“But ye denied the Holy One and the Just, and desired a murderer to be granted unto you; and killed the Prince of life, whom God hath raised from the dead; whereof we are witnesses” (Acts 3:14-15).

“And with great power gave the apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and great grace was upon them all” (Acts 4:33).

“And we are witnesses of all things which he did both in the land of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; whom they slew and hanged on a tree: him God raised up the third day, and showed him openly; not to all the people, but unto witnesses chosen before of God, even to us, who did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead” (Acts 10:39-41).

“And Paul, as his manner was, went in unto them, and three sabbath days reasoned with them out of the Scriptures, opening and alleging, that Christ must needs have suffered, and risen again from the dead; and that this Jesus, whom I preach unto you, is Christ” (Acts 17:2-3).

“And declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the Spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead” (Ro.1:4).

7 (10:42) Judgment: Jesus shall judge the living and the dead of all nations. He shall judge both Jew and Gentile, both...

- |                           |                         |                             |
|---------------------------|-------------------------|-----------------------------|
| • rich and poor           | • pretty and ugly       | • white and black           |
| • strong and weak         | • happy and unhappy     | • yellow and red            |
| • employed and unemployed | • industrious and lazy  | • dark and light            |
| • healthy and sick        | • employee and employer | • religious and unreligious |

God has ordained Jesus Christ to judge all men, no matter who they are or where they are, alive or dead. He and He alone shall judge every soul who has ever appeared on earth. (Cp. Jn.5:21-29.)

“He hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead” (Acts 17:31. Cp. Acts 24:25.)

Jesus Christ alone is ordained to be the Judge. He alone, as the risen Lord, has the right to determine judgment.

1. He determines the conditions of salvation: what a person has to do to be saved; how a person is saved; who is and is not saved.

2. He determines the conditions of eternity: what eternal life shall be like; what eternal death shall be like; the state, the environment, the reward and the punishment of both heaven and hell.

“And before him shall be gathered all nations: and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats” (Mt.25:32).

“For the Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgment unto the Son” (Jn.5:22).

“Because he [God the Father] hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man [Jesus Christ] whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead” (Acts 17:31).

“In the day when God shall judge the secrets of men by Jesus Christ according to my gospel” (Ro.2:16).

“I charge thee therefore before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, who shall judge the quick and the dead at his appearing and his kingdom” (2 Tim.4:1).

8 (10:43) Jesus Christ, Messiah: Jesus is the prophesied Messiah. (See notes—Acts 3:22-24; 13:23-41; DEEPER STUDY # 8—Mt.1:23; Lk.3:24-31; 3:32-38; 3:38; 4:17-21; DEEPER STUDY # 3—Jn.1:45 for discussion.)

“He saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am? And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God” (Mt.16:15-16).

“But Jesus held his peace. And the high priest answered and said unto him, I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou be the Christ, the Son of God. Jesus saith unto him, Thou hast said: nevertheless I say unto you, Hereafter shall ye see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven” (Mt.26:63-64).

“For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord” (Lk.2:11).

“And it was revealed unto him by the Holy Ghost, that he should not see death, before he had seen the Lord’s Christ” (Lk.2:26).

“He first findeth his own brother Simon, and saith unto him, We have found the Messiah, which is, being interpreted, the Christ” (Jn.1:41).

“The woman saith unto him, I know that Messias cometh, which is called Christ: when he is come, he will tell us all things. Jesus saith unto her, I that speak unto thee am he” (Jn.4:25-26).

“Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of eternal life. And we believe and are sure that thou art that Christ, the Son of the living God” (Jn.6:68-69).

“Then said Jesus unto them, When ye have lifted up the Son of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself; but as my Father hath taught me, I speak these things” (Jn.8:28).

“Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this? She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, which should come into the world” (Jn.11:25-27).

“But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damascus, proving that this is very Christ” (Acts 9:22).

“Opening and alleging, that Christ must needs have suffered, and risen again from the dead; and that this Jesus, whom I preach unto you, is Christ” (Acts 17:3).

“Whosoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ is born of God: and every one that loveth him that begat loveth him also that is begotten of him” (1 Jn.5:1).

9 (10:43) Belief: believing in Jesus brings forgiveness of sins (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Believing—Jn.2:24; Forgiveness—DEEPER STUDY # 2—Acts 2:38).

“For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life” (Jn.3:16).

“Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life” (Jn.5:24).

“I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins” (Jn.8:24).

“Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live” (Jn.11:25).

“I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness” (Jn.12:46).

“And as they went on their way, they came unto a certain water: and the eunuch said, See, here is water; what doth hinder me to be baptized? And Philip said, If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And he answered and said, I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God” (Acts 8:36-37).

“To him give all the prophets witness, that through his name whosoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins” (Acts 10:43).

“And by him all that believe are justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses” (Acts 13:39).

“And they said, Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house” (Acts 16:31).

“That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation” (Ro.10:9-10).

“And that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus” (2 Tim.3:15).

“Whosoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ is born of God: and every one that loveth him that begat loveth him also that is begotten of him” (1 Jn.5:1).

DIVISION IV

THE CHURCH SCATTERED: THE FIRST GREAT MISSION TO THE GENTILES—BY PETER, 9:32-11:18

E. A Worldwide Ministry In Caesarea (Part III): Receiving the Holy Spirit, 10:44-48

(10:44-48) Introduction: God and God alone saves the Gentiles, that is, the people of the world. No man can save another man. No man has the power to save anyone else; therefore no man has the authority to save. Salvation—the gift of the new birth and of God’s Spirit—is of God and God alone. This is made abundantly clear in this passage, the passage where the Gentiles received the Holy Spirit of God.

1. The Holy Spirit fell upon the Gentiles (v.44-45).
2. The Gentile believers spoke in tongues and praised God (v.46).
3. The Gentile believers were baptized (v.47).
4. The door to the Gentiles was opened (v.48).

1 (10:44-45) Holy Spirit: the Holy Spirit fell upon the Gentiles. Note four significant points.

1. The Holy Spirit fell on the Gentiles when they “heard the Word.” Hearing the Word of God was necessary. It is one of the essentials for receiving the Holy Spirit. The unsaved (Gentiles) had to hear the Word before they could receive the Holy Spirit. The idea is that they heard and believed and received the truth of God’s Word into their hearts without Peter even telling them to believe. This is made clear in Acts 11:17. They heard and received the message, hungering and thirsting for the Word of God in their lives. Therefore, they believed it immediately. (See note, Believe—Ro.10:16-17 for more discussion.)

Thought 1. What a glorious testimony! A striking challenge to every unbeliever! To hunger and thirst so much for the Word of God and for His salvation that we do not wait for the invitation of the messenger. We just believe and receive while we are hearing.

“Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock: and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock” (Mt.7:24-25).

“But that on the good ground are they, which in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, keep it, and bring forth fruit with patience” (Lk.8:15).

“For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe” (1 Th.2:13).

“The ear that heareth the reproof of life abideth among the wise” (Pr.15:31).

2. The Holy Spirit fell on the Gentiles “while Peter yet spake.” Peter was still preaching; he had not finished his message when the Holy Spirit fell. God and God alone caused the Holy Spirit to fall upon the Gentile believers, not the hands of Peter...

- anointing them
- being laid upon them
- baptizing them
- placing them into water

No man had anything to do with God pouring His Spirit upon these believers. The gift of the Spirit was the act of God and God alone.

3. “The Holy Spirit fell” (epepesen to pneuma to hagion) and was “poured out” upon the Gentiles. Peter said the Gentiles “received the Holy Spirit as well as we” (v.47). Note that God gave them the Holy Spirit after they “believed on the Lord Jesus Christ” (Acts 11:17). Hearing the message (v.44) and “believing on the Lord Jesus Christ” are absolute essentials for receiving the Holy Spirit. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 10:44; DEEPER STUDY # 1—2:1-4 for more discussion. Also see note 1—Acts 2:1 for the purpose of the Holy Spirit’s presence in a life.)

“And, behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and the same man was just and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel: and the Holy Ghost was upon him” (Lk.2:25).

“And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them” (Acts 2:3).

“Then laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost” (Acts 8:17).

“While Peter yet spake these words, the Holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word” (Acts 10:44).

“And when Paul had laid his hands upon them, the Holy Ghost came on them; and they spake with tongues, and prophesied” (Acts 19:6).

“For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit” (1 Cor.12:13).

“But ye have an unction from the Holy One, and ye know all things” (1 Jn.2:20).

4. The Jewish believers were astonished (exestesan) or amazed. This refers to the six Jewish believers who had come with Peter (Acts 10:23). They had been taught from earliest childhood that the Holy Spirit was available only to the Jews. But here before their very eyes they witnessed God accepting Gentile believers into the church. All their life these leaders, Peter included, had been taught and steeped in a bitterness that bordered on hatred for Gentiles (see note—Acts 10:1-33). What a radical course of events to see their God pouring His Spirit upon the Gentiles! The sight of such, and the gift of tongues, was the sign to these leaders that Gentiles were to be as much a part of the church as Jews. And the Jews were to accept the Gentiles as readily as they did each other.

Thought 1. The gospel is universal—for the whole world.

“And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mk.16:15).

“For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened” (Lk.11:10).

“Then Peter opened his mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons” (Acts 10:34).

“For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him” (Ro.10:12).

“And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely” (Rev.22:17).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(10:44) Holy Spirit: there seem to be at least two, perhaps three, historical times when God “poured out” or baptized a group of people with His Spirit. Each time fulfilled His promise to send the Spirit and each time served as a pivotal point in church history.

1. There was a Jewish Pentecost (see notes—Acts 2:1-13).
2. There was the Gentile Pentecost covered here. The least that can be said about this event is that it is an extension of the Jewish Pentecost to include the Gentiles (Acts 10:44-48).
3. Perhaps there is also historical significance in the account of the half-Jew, half-Gentile Samaritans receiving the Holy Spirit (Acts 8:15-17). This may have been a transition Pentecost between the Jewish Pentecost and the Gentile Pentecost.

2 (10:46) Tongues: the Gentile believers spoke in tongues and praised God. Note: the speaking in tongues led the Gentile believers into a glorious and joyful praise of God. They magnified God (megalunonton ton theon). They were caught up in an ecstatic praise of the Lord. The “speaking with tongues” seems to be the sign that the Holy Spirit had fallen upon the Gentiles. Both Peter and the Jewish believers needed a sign, a sign that would leave no doubt that the Gentiles were saved. Speaking in tongues, that is, breaking out in an ecstatic praise of God, was such a sign. It was the sign that would leave no doubt whatsoever. Note: it is this that utterly shocked the Jewish believers who were with Peter; for the Gentiles were, as Peter says, receiving “the Holy Spirit as well as we” (v.47. See DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 2:1-4. Also see DEEPER STUDY # 4—Tongues—Acts 2:4 for more discussion.)

“And these signs shall follow them that believe; In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues” (Mk.16:17).

“And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance” (Acts 2:4).

“For they heard them speak with tongues, and magnify God. Then answered Peter, Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the Holy Ghost as well as we?” (Acts 10:46-47).

“And when Paul had laid his hands upon them, the Holy Ghost came on them; and they spake with tongues, and prophesied” (Acts 19:6).

“For to one is given by the Spirit the word of wisdom; to another the word of knowledge by the same Spirit; to another faith by the same Spirit; to another the gifts of healing by the same Spirit; to another the working of miracles; to another prophecy; to another discerning of spirits; to another divers kinds of tongues; to another the interpretation of tongues; but all these worketh that one and the selfsame Spirit, dividing to every man severally as he will” (1 Cor.12:8-11).

“I would that ye all spake with tongues, but rather that ye prophesied: for greater is he that prophesieth than he that speaketh with tongues, except he interpret, that the church may receive edifying” (1 Cor.14:5).

- 3 (10:47) Baptism: the Gentile believers were baptized. Note that Peter asked a question. Apparently he was challenging the Jewish believers who were with him. There could be no question: the Gentiles had received the Spirit. No one present could deny it. Therefore, could “any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized?” (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Baptism—Acts 2:38 for discussion.)

“Go ye therefore and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost” (Mt.28:19).

“He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned” (Mk.16:16).

“Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God” (Jn.3:5).

“Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost” (Acts 2:38).

“And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of the Lord. Then prayed they him to tarry certain days” (Acts 10:48).

“And now why tarriest thou? arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord” (Acts 22:16).

- 4 (10:48) Evangelism, World: the door to the Gentiles was opened. Peter commanded (prosetexen) the Gentile believers to be baptized. Evidently he commanded the six Jewish brothers to baptize them. Note: the Gentiles...
- had “heard the Word” (v.44).
  - “believed on the Lord Jesus Christ” (Acts 11:17).
  - experienced “the Holy Spirit” falling (v.44), and being “poured” upon them (v.45). They had “received the Holy Spirit” (v.47).
  - were “baptized in the name of the Lord” (v.48).

“Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else” (Is.45:22).

“Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price” (Is.55:1).

“Go ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage” (Mt.22:9).

“In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink” (Jn.7:37).

“For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him” (Ro.10:12).

“Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth” (1 Tim.2:4).

“And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely” (Rev.22:17).

CHAPTER 11

F. A Worldwide Ministry—In Caesarea (Part IV): Gaining a Worldwide Vision, 11:1-18

1 The church's early vision: Narrow & traditional

- a. The church heard of the Gentiles' conversion
- b. The circumcised were aroused<sup>DS1</sup>
  - 1) Were contentious
  - 2) Were accusing: Charged Peter with going to the Gentiles, the worldly

2 God's will for the church's vision: A worldwide mission

- a. The vision

- b. The command from God

- c. The religious struggle

- d. The lesson learned

And the apostles and brethren that were in Judaea heard that the Gentiles had also received the word of God.

2 And when Peter was come up to Jerusalem, they that were of the circumcision contended with him,

3 Saying, Thou wentest in to men uncircumcised, and didst eat with them.

4 But Peter rehearsed the matter from the beginning, and expounded it by order unto them, saying,

5 I was in the city of Joppa praying: and in a trance I saw a vision, A certain vessel descend, as it had been a great sheet, let down from heaven by four corners; and it came even to me:

6 Upon the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and saw four-footed beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air.

7 And I heard a voice saying unto me, Arise, Peter; slay and eat.

8 But I said, Not so, Lord: for nothing common or unclean hath at any time entered into my mouth.

9 But the voice answered me again from heaven, What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.

10 And this was done three times: and all were drawn up again into heaven.

11 And, behold, immediately there were three men already come unto the house where I was, sent from Caesarea unto me.

12 And the Spirit bade me go with them, nothing doubting. Moreover these six brethren accompanied me, and we entered into the man's house:

13 And he showed us how he had seen an angel in his house, which stood and said unto him, Send men to Joppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter;

14 Who shall tell thee words, whereby thou and all thy house shall be saved.

15 And as I began to speak, the Holy Ghost fell on them, as on us at the beginning.

16 Then remembered I the word of the Lord, how that he said, John indeed baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost.

17 Forasmuch then as God gave them the like gift as he did unto us, who believed on the Lord Jesus Christ; what was I, that I could withstand God?

18 When they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then hath God also to the Gentiles granted repentance unto life.

- e. The Spirit's leadership

- f. The confrontation with Cornelius

- g. The Gentiles baptized with the Holy Spirit

3 The church's response to God's will: The conviction of a worldwide mission

- a. Peter's conviction
  - 1) The Lord's promise was fulfilled in the Gentiles
  - 2) A person must not stand against God
- b. The church's conviction: God grants repentance to all men
  - 1) Is a gift of God
  - 2) Is unto life
  - 3) Causes believers to glorify God

DIVISION IV

THE CHURCH SCATTERED: THE FIRST GREAT MISSION TO THE GENTILES—BY PETER, 9:32-11:18

F. A Worldwide Ministry—In Caesarea (Part IV): Gaining a Worldwide Vision, 11:1-18

(11:1-18) Introduction: what happened in this passage is of critical importance to church history. The event needs to be carefully studied by every church and body of believers.

1. The church's early vision: narrow and traditional (v.1-3).
2. God's will for the church's vision: a worldwide mission (v.4-15).
3. The church's response to God's will: the conviction of a worldwide mission (v.16-18).

1 (11:1-3) Church: the church's early vision was narrow and traditional. Note two points.

1. The apostles and brothers, that is, the whole church, heard about Peter's preaching mission to the Gentiles and about their having received "the Word of God." The news was bound to travel fast, for it was unheard of that a Jew would fellowship and eat with an idolatrous Gentile. And to top it off, Peter had baptized the Gentiles without first requiring them to be circumcised.

Remember: most if not all the believers at Jerusalem were Jews. They were circumcised as small children and had been committed to the law of Moses since childhood. When they accepted Christ, they did not forsake their Judaistic religion. They saw Christianity as an extension of Judaism. In their minds Christ had only added new teachings to their existing law and religion. Therefore, if a person wished to accept Christ, he had to become a Jew first...

- to be circumcised
- to commit himself to the law of Moses
- to observe all the ceremonies and rituals of Judaism

Once a person had done these things, that is, become a Jew, then and only then could he receive Christ and be baptized. Then and only then could he be accepted into the church. Peter had gone contrary to these beliefs and practices. He had...

- allowed Gentiles to receive the Word of God without circumcising them (v.1).
- broken the law of Moses by “going in to the uncircumcised [Gentiles] and eating” with them (v.3).

The news was bound to travel fast. The early believers, who were still loyal to their Judaistic religion, were shocked. The Jerusalem church was being shaken to its foundation. The basic belief of so many of the early believers—that Jesus had come only to enlarge and extend Judaism—was being challenged. Peter had to give an answer, and it had to be clearly explained and understood.

2. The circumcision segment of the church was especially aroused. Note that only “they of the circumcision contended with Peter.” (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, The Circumcision—Acts 11:2.) The apostles and most of the Christian brothers felt no contention or divisiveness. They trusted Peter’s walk with the Lord and felt sure that he would have an adequate explanation when he had the opportunity to share the experience.

The word “contended” (diekrinonto) means to stand against, to take an opposite position, to take sides against, to oppose, to create a cleavage, a division. It is creating strife, struggle, and discord. They readily and willingly opposed Peter, and the idea is that it was repeated; it went on and on; the issue was prolonged.

Again keep in mind the issue: Peter had carried the Word of God to the Gentiles and...

- allowed the non-Jews to receive the Word of God without circumcising them (v.1).
- had broken the law of Moses by “going to the uncircumcised [non-Jews] and eating” with them (v.3).

Thought 1. Note three striking lessons.

- 1) Some hang on to their religious form, ceremony, rituals, rules, and regulations. These are placed before the lives and salvation of men.
- 2) Note the true spirit of these legalists. Their spirits should have been rejoicing that some people were now saved and brought to the knowledge of Christ. Instead their spirits were full of contention and divisiveness because some religious practices were violated.
- 3) Prejudice, discrimination, rituals, and rules can blind us to God’s purpose to reach out to all men in salvation. All men are to be reached no matter who they are. No church should exclude anyone. The church’s mission is to reach both the dirty and the clean, both the lower and the upper class.

“And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come” (Mt.24:14).

“Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost” (Mt.28:19).

“And the gospel must first be published among all nations” (Mk.13:10).

“And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mk.16:15).

“And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem” (Lk.24:47).

“But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

“And I saw another angel fly in the midst of heaven, having the everlasting gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth, and to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people” (Rev.14:6).

Thought 2. The disciple is called to do the Lord’s will, to reach and evangelize the world. He often has to break tradition and buck the tide of doing things the way they have always been done. When he does, he can expect criticism and contention from the legalist and the traditionalist. Nevertheless, the true disciple of Christ remains faithful even as Peter did. He does what God says. He does all he can to reach out and share Christ with a world filled with desperate needs.

Thought 3. Some churches commit a terrible crime: they monopolize the gospel, seldom if ever sharing it. They take the gospel and keep it to themselves, shutting all others out, never reaching out to bring others in. They build barriers of exclusiveness and prejudice, shutting themselves off from the rest of the world.

“Then Peter opened his mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons” (Acts 10:34).

“And God, which knoweth the hearts, bare them witness, giving them the Holy Ghost, even as he did unto us; and put no difference between us and them, purifying their hearts by faith” (Acts 15:8-9).

“But glory, honour, and peace, to every man that worketh good, to the Jew first, and also to the Gentile: for there is no respect of persons with God” (Ro.2:10-11).

“For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him. For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved” (Ro.10:12-13).

“And, ye masters, do the same things unto them, forbearing threatening: knowing that your master also is in heaven; neither is there respect of persons with him” (Eph.6:9).

“I charge thee before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without preferring one before another, doing nothing by partiality” (1 Tim.5:21).

“Are ye not then partial in yourselves, and are become judges of evil thoughts?” (Jas.2:4).

“He will surely reprove you, if ye do secretly accept persons” (Job 13:10).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(11:2) The Circumcision—Judaizers—Legalists: these were Jews who professed Christ but still hung on to their Judaistic religion, in particular to the rite of circumcision and to the law of Moses (cp. Acts 5:1-35, esp. 1, 24-29). They believed a man became a Christian...

- by first becoming a Jew. The man was to be circumcised, embrace Judaism in all its rituals and ceremonies, and begin to obey the laws of Moses,
- then the man could accept Christ as his Savior.

In the mind of the circumcised, Christianity was a mixture of Judaism and the teachings of Christ. The law was just as important as Christ and Christ was no more important than the law. They failed to grasp...

- that Christ was the fulfillment of the law.
- that Christ had kept the law perfectly, thereby becoming the Ideal Man, the Perfect Pattern of what every man should be.
- that Christ was not only the embodiment of the law, but so much more—the very embodiment of God Himself, the Ideal Man, the Perfect Pattern to whom all men were to look for their salvation and standard.
- that Christ, as the Son of God and as the Ideal Man and the Perfect Pattern, is the One to whom all men are now to look and obey.

Some Jews were impressed with Christ and professed Him, but they were never able to understand or else were unwilling to accept Christ as the fulfillment of the law and as the Savior of all men. Therefore, they never turned to Christ alone, never broke away...

- from their legalistic religion.
- from requiring men (Gentiles) to become Jews before they could become Christians.

This was the great battle the church had to fight in its beginning. It was the great problem that faced God: how to break the church away from its Judaistic roots and from excluding and shutting out the other people of the world (Gentiles). This had always been the problem with the Jews—the problem of keeping the Gentiles away from God and the glorious salvation God had planned for all men. Now, since Christ had come, God had to lead the early church away from the Judaistic approach, away from making a man become a Jew before he could accept Christ. This was not the will of God. He sent Christ into the world to save all men, not just the Jews. The message had to be carried to all men. God had to break the early Jewish believers away from their legalism, away from their...

- making distinctions between themselves and others.
- making others become religionists before accepting Christ.
- discrimination against others.
- building barriers and walls for others to cross (legalistic rules).
- being separatists and divisive.
- prejudices and bigotry.

However, note this: all through the history of the church, extending from the early church up to the present time, there have been some who have refused to follow Christ alone. They have laid the burden of the law (legalism, becoming a religionist, a Jew) upon people. They are known as the circumcision, the Judaizers, or in modern terms, the legalists or religionists.

“And certain men which came down from Judaea taught the brethren, and said, Except ye be circumcised [undergo a ritual] after the manner of Moses, ye cannot be saved” (Acts 15:1).

“Forasmuch as we have heard, that certain which went out from us have troubled you with words, subverting your souls, saying, Ye must be circumcised [undergo a ritual], and keep the law: to whom we gave no such commandment” (Acts 15:24).

“And that because of false brethren unawares brought in, who came in privily to spy out our liberty which we have in Christ Jesus, that they might bring us into bondage” (Gal.2:4).

“As many as desire to make a fair show in the flesh, they constrain you to be circumcised [undergo a ritual]; only lest they should suffer persecution for the cross of Christ. For neither they themselves who are circumcised keep the law; but desire to have you circumcised, that they may glory in your flesh. But God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world. For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision [a ritual] availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but a new creature” (Gal.6:12-15).

2 (11:4-15) Missions—Evangelism—Church, Vision: God’s will for the church’s vision was a worldwide mission. Peter reached out to the contentious. He explained as clearly and straightforwardly as he could. He simply shared what had happened. The outline is sufficient in reviewing the experience (see outline and notes—Acts 10:1-48). But note what Peter stressed: God’s will is a worldwide mission, the door of salvation is to be thrown open to the whole world (Gentiles). The stress is upon God’s intervention: God acting, moving, revealing, and making His will clear. Peter stressed...

- a trance and vision from God (v.5).
- a vessel or platter descending from heaven to him (v.5).
- the Lord speaking to him (v.7-8).
- the Lord commanding him three times (v.10).
- the vessel ascending back into heaven (v.10).
- the supernatural timing in the arrival of Cornelius’ servants (v.11).
- the Holy Spirit’s instructing him to go to the Gentiles (v.12).
- the angel’s visit to the Gentile and his instructions to send for Peter (v.13).
- the Holy Spirit falling on the Gentiles even before he had finished (v.15).
- the Holy Spirit fell on the Gentiles just as “on us” (v.15).
- the Holy Spirit fell just as the Lord promised (v.16).
- God gave the Holy Spirit to Gentiles just “as He did to us” (v.17).

Now note four things.

1. Everything that happened to Peter in opening the door to the Gentiles was of God, initiated and controlled by God. Peter was merely the instrument God used. It was God’s will, God’s work, God’s activity, God’s carrying of the gospel to the world (Gentiles), not Peter’s.
2. There were six witnesses to what happened, each one verifying that the event was all of God. And note: they were Jewish believers themselves.
3. The words “nothing doubting” (meden diakrinanta, v.12) mean making no distinction. God tells Peter in no uncertain terms, “Go with them [the Gentiles] making no distinctions.”

Thought 1. The same command is given to all believers of all generations. Believers are not to make distinctions, not to discriminate in proclaiming the gospel. What an indictment against so many! How many withdraw from the poor? How many do not reach out to people of other races and social classes? (For verses, see note above—Acts 11:1-3.)

4. Note the amount of space and detail given by the author (Luke) to this event. He stresses the event more than any other in the book of Acts. Add to it the long discussion and chapter dealing with the same subject in Acts 15 and its importance becomes even more significant. The importance of God’s will, that the gospel be preached to the whole world, can never be overstressed.

“For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life” (Jn.3:16).

“And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mk.16:15).

“But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

3 (11:16-18) Missions—Church, Vision: the church’s response to God’s will was the conviction of a worldwide mission.

1. There was Peter’s conviction. He was convinced of three clear truths.
  - a. The Lord’s promise was fulfilled in the Gentiles; the Gentiles were being baptized with the Holy Spirit (Acts 1:5; Jn.14:26).

Thought 1. Note a significant point: Peter saw that the most significant of the two baptisms (the baptism of water by John and the baptism of Jesus) was the baptism of Jesus, that is, the baptism of the Spirit. He was clearly saying that this was what he saw and understood.

- b. Peter was convinced of another truth: he could not withstand (stand against) God. The Greek is emphasized, “I, who was I that I could withstand God?” Peter had absolutely nothing to do with giving the Holy Spirit to the Gentiles. The gift of the Holy Spirit is God’s doing, and one thing is sure: no man is going to stop God from doing what He purposes to do. It was God’s will that the door of salvation be swung open to the Gentiles and God was doing it.
- c. It is not circumcision—not some ritual, not some ceremony, not religion—but belief that caused the Holy Spirit to enter a life. “God gave them [the Holy Spirit]...[they] who believed on the Lord Jesus Christ” (v.17).
2. There was the church’s conviction: God grants repentance to all men. Note three significant points.
  - a. Repentance is the gift of God and of the Holy Spirit. If there should be no God, no Holy Spirit, there would be no opportunity to repent. Since both God and the Spirit do exist and are actively working to save men, there is such a thing as repentance. Men have the privilege of repenting, of actually turning from their sin to God. Note what God expects of men: not religion, not some ritual or ceremony, not social standing or success, not race or knowledge, but repentance (see note and DEEPER STUDY # 1, Repentance—Acts 3:19; 17:29-30).

“Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost” (Acts 2:38).

“Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord” (Acts 3:19).

“Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee” (Acts 8:22).

“And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men every where to repent” (Acts 17:30).

“Let the wicked forsake his way, the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the LORD, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon” (Is.55:7).

“If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land” (2 Chron.7:14).

- b. Repentance is unto life; that is, it leads to life. Abundant life and eternal life are the end, the consummation, the experience of repentance. The person who repents experiences life immediately, and lives on experiencing life to the fullest—forever. He never has and never will taste death.

“For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life” (Jn.3:16).

“He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him” (Jn.3:36).

“Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life” (Jn.5:24).

“Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this? She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, which should come into the world” (Jn.11:25-27).

“For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting” (Gal.6:8).

- c. God has thrown open the door of salvation to the world (Gentiles). This is the church’s first magna charta of missions, its first stamp of approval to worldwide evangelism. (Note: the battle is far from over. Selfishness and self-centeredness are difficult to erase from depraved human nature. The battle had to be constantly fought in the early church, and the struggle has continued on down to the present time. How many churches and believers still resist world missions and evangelism either through simple neglect and unconcern or through direct opposition?)

“Go ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage” (Mt.22:9).

“Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world” (Mt.28:19-20).

“And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mk.16:15).

“Jesus said unto him, Let the dead bury their dead: but go thou and preach the kingdom of God” (Lk.9:60).

“For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost” (Lk.19:10).

“And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem” (Lk.24:47).

“Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you” (Jn.20:21).

“Go, stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life” (Acts 5:20).

“Preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all longsuffering and doctrine” (2 Tim.4:2).

DIVISION V

THE CHURCH SCATTERED: GOD'S SOVEREIGNTY OVER THE CHURCH, 11:19-12:25

A. The First Great Gentile Church: God's Pattern for All Churches, 11:19-30

(11:19-30) Introduction: there is no question—this passage covers one of the most significant events in history. It is the founding of the first great Gentile church. The church was founded under God's sovereignty, control, and will. The church is set forth very simply, yet as a dynamic pattern for all churches and believers to copy.

1. The church was born (v.19-21).
2. The church was followed up and taught (v.22-24).
3. The church sought after additional teaching staff (v.25-26).
4. The church (many) met consistently for intensive training (v.26).
5. The church developed an unbelievable heritage—for itself and for Christ: believers were called Christians (v.26).
6. The church launched its own worldwide mission (v.27-30).

(11:19-30) Another Outline: The First Great Gentile Church.

1. The birth of the church (v.19-21).
2. The nourishment of the church (v.22-24).
3. The growth of the church (v.24<sup>b</sup>).
4. The intensive training of the church (v.25-26).
5. The effect of the church's witness: Called Christians (v.26<sup>c</sup>).
6. The beginning ministry of the church (v.27-30).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(11:19-30) Antioch: was the third greatest city of the Roman world, following only Rome and Alexandria in size and importance. The city had over a half-million citizens.

1. Note the secular history and nature of the city. The city...
  - was founded by Seleucius Nicator around 300 B.C. He named the city after his father Antiochus.
  - became the capital of Syria when Rome conquered Syria.
  - was dominated by Greek culture and language; however it had a large Syrian and Jewish population.
  - was about fifteen miles inland from the Mediterranean Sea, lying on the mouth of the Orontes river. The seaport that supplied the city was Seleucia (cp. Acts 13:4).
  - was the third major commercial and cosmopolitan center of the world, always active with the hustle and bustle of worldwide trade and an influx of salesmen, businessmen, laborers, and visitors.
  - was tolerant of all religions, forbidding none. But it was the home of the great temple of Daphne, which was the worship of an immoral god. The prophetesses of the temple were sacred prostitutes.
  - was a great center for sport and the pursuit of pleasure. It was known as a city gone mad over sport and pleasure. It was a cesspool of license and pleasure, and because of this the name of Antioch became a byword around the world for sensual pleasure. It was bustling day and night with whatever pleasure man desired.
2. Note the importance of the city to Christian history.
  - ⇒ Antioch was the city of the first great Christian church among Gentiles (Acts 11:19-30).
  - ⇒ Antioch was the city and church from which the first worldwide missionaries were sent (Acts 13:1-3). It was the city from which the great mission thrust of Christianity was launched.
  - ⇒ Antioch was the church where believers were first called “Christians” (Acts 11:26).

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(11:19-30) Preaching—Witnessing—Exhortation—Teaching: in this passage there are three different Greek words used for witnessing and sharing the Word. They show the ministry of the church, just how believers are to go about sharing Christ.

1. There is the word “preaching” (lalountes, v.20). This word really means speaking and should be translated speaking. It is the simple sharing of conversation among people. As the believers scattered and travelled about, they “spoke the Word,” shared Christ in ordinary conversation. The picture is that of witnessing one on one, of scattering the seed wherever they went. Christ was the topic of their conversation. They were saved and had received life, both abundant and eternal, and were rejoicing in the glory of the greatest hope imaginable. Their salvation, the presence and power of Christ in their lives, was what was upon their mind; therefore, they were talking about Christ and sharing Him, scattering the glorious message of the gospel everywhere they went.

“Then Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them” (Acts 8:5).

“Then Philip opened his mouth, and began at the same Scripture, and preached unto him Jesus” (Acts 8:35).

“And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues, that he is the Son of God” (Acts 9:20).

“The word which God sent unto the children of Israel, preaching peace by Jesus Christ: (he is Lord of all)” (Acts 10:36).

“But we preach Christ crucified, unto the Jews a stumblingblock, and unto the Greeks foolishness” (1 Cor.1:23).

2. There is the word “preaching [euaggelizomenoi] the Lord Jesus” (v.20). This word means to declare and proclaim the gospel; to preach the glad tidings of Jesus Christ; to proclaim the Word, the truth about Jesus Christ. It means that the believers who went to Antioch actually entered the city preaching and proclaiming the Lord Jesus. The picture is...

- that of their entering the city to bring the Lord Jesus to its residents. The believers were set on reaching the city for God, and their method was preaching the Lord Jesus.
- that of facing a person or persons, of standing before people and preaching Christ.

3. There is the word “exhorted” (parekalei, v.23). This word means to admonish, advise, challenge, entreat, call upon, beseech, urge, warn, comfort, and encourage.

a. Note what the message of exhortation concerns: that people “would cleave unto the Lord.” The very focus of exhortation is to challenge, encourage, and warn believers to “cleave unto the Lord.”

b. Note how closely the Greek word is associated with the Greek word for the Holy Spirit (paraclete, see note—Jn.14:16). The very ministry of the Holy Spirit is exhortation. His very presence and power within the genuine believer is for the purpose of urging, comforting, helping, and warning believers to “cleave unto the Lord” and to bear testimony to His glorious salvation.

c. Note that the minister’s ministry was that of exhortation. Even as the Holy Spirit stood within the church as Another Helper to Christ, so Barnabas was to stand as another helper to Christ. Barnabas was to challenge and encourage and warn the people: they must “cleave unto the Lord.”

“And he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying” (Mt.5:2).

“And he began to speak boldly in the synagogue: whom when Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they took him unto them, and expounded unto him the way of God more perfectly” (Acts 18:26).

“Preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all longsuffering and doctrine” (2 Tim.4:2).

“Holding fast the faithful word as he hath been taught, that he may be able by sound doctrine both to exhort and to convince the gainsayers” (Tit.1:9).

“For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men, teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world; looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ; who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works. These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee” (Tit.2:11-15).

1 (11:19-21) Church, Founded: the church was born. This passage tells what happened to the believers who were forced to flee Jerusalem after the death of Stephen. Saul had launched a terrible persecution against them, attempting to stamp out the name of Christ (see outline and notes—Acts 8:1-4; 9:1-9 for discussion). They scattered all over...

- Phoenicia, which included the important cities of Tyre and Sidon.
- Cyprus (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 13:4 for discussion).
- Antioch (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, Antioch—Acts 11:19-30).

The point is striking: as the believers scattered, they preached Christ. The picture is that there was not an area left untouched by the gospel. Wherever the believers went, they shared Christ. However, the focus is upon Antioch, the great church that was founded there. Note what it was that gave birth to the great church. There were three essentials.

1. The church was born through lay believers, through their witnessing (v.19) and preaching (v.20). (See note, Preaching, pts. 1 and 2—Acts 11:19-30 for discussion.)

2. The church was born by lay believers sharing Christ with everyone, no matter who they were, both Gentile and Jew. Note that some believers witnessed to the Jews only (v.19), but other believers witnessed to the Gentiles in Antioch (v.20). The gospel of Christ is for the whole world. It may have begun with the Jew, but God is the God of the universe, of all men. Therefore, He longs for all men to know about the coming of His Son into the world and to be saved through Him. Note also the message preached: the Lord Jesus.

“Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else” (Is.45:22).

“Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price” (Is.55:1).

“Go ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage” (Mt.22:9).

“In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink” (Jn.7:37).

“For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him” (Ro.10:12).

“Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth” (1 Tim.2:4).

“And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely” (Rev.22:17).

3. The church was born through the hand of the Lord, by His sovereignty and control. God overruled all the trials and opposition and caused the church to be born.

⇒ God overruled the persecution.

⇒ God overruled the fear and trauma of the believers who were having to flee for their lives, to leave their homes and friends and businesses. Discouragement, questioning, unbelief, desertion, denial, silence, and failure to witness—all could have set in upon the persecuted believers who were losing all they had. But God overruled and held them dear to His heart, giving them a very special grace to endure and march through all triumphantly, proclaiming the name of the Lord Jesus.

⇒ God overruled the pleasure-madness and sins of Antioch.

⇒ God overruled and stirred the believers to witness and preach Christ despite all the trials and opposition. God caused the church to be born. His sovereignty, His control, His power—“the hand of the Lord was with them.” The result: “a great number believed, and turned to the Lord.” The first great Gentile church was born, and it was born through God’s sovereignty.

“To give light to them that sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace” (Lk.1:79).

“The meek will he guide in judgment: and the meek will he teach his way” (Ps.25:9).

“I the LORD have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, for a light of the Gentiles” (Is.42:6).

(11:22-26) Another Outline: A True Disciple or Minister.

1. Must see something: the grace of God (v.23<sup>a</sup>).
2. Must do something: exhort (v.23<sup>b</sup>).
3. Must be something (v.24).
4. Must recognize something: he needs help (v.25-26).

2 (11:22-24) Church, Followup—Minister: the church was followed up and taught. Note three significant events that happened.

1. The mother church heard about the witness of the scattered believers. Remember, both the apostles and the first leaders of the church were still in Jerusalem. Jerusalem was still considered the mother church, the one to whom the scattered churches looked for leadership. The church and its leaders wanted to help the new churches springing up all around. The purpose is clearly seen in what Barnabas did. The mother church wanted the new churches...

- to have ministerial help (v.22).
- to be exhorted (v.23).
- to be taught (v.26).

2. A missionary disciple was commissioned to help the new churches. Again, the focus is upon Antioch. Note three things about the missionary Barnabas.

- a. His ministry was exhortation (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Preaching, pt.3—Acts 11:19-30 for discussion). The message was...
- “with purpose of heart”: a determined, set, focused, resolute, steady, purposed heart.
  - to “cleave unto the Lord”: to continue, be constant, loyal, steadfast, persistent, persevering, faithful.

“But cleave unto the Lord your God, as ye have done unto this day” (Jos.23:8).

“Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord” (1 Cor.15:58).

“Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage” (Gal.5:1).

“Only let your conversation be as it becometh the gospel of Christ: that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may hear of your affairs, that ye stand fast in one spirit, with one mind striving together for the faith of the gospel” (Ph.1:27).

“Whom resist steadfast in the faith, knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world” (1 Pt.5:9).

“Ye therefore, beloved, seeing ye know these things before, beware lest ye also, being led away with the error of the wicked, fall from your own steadfastness” (2 Pt.3:17).

b. His character was striking.

⇒ “Good” (agathos): upright, just, moral, honorable, and pleasing to God. He was what he should be inwardly and outwardly.

⇒ Full of the Holy Spirit: conscious and aware of the spirit’s presence and power, control and discipline, will and purpose, guidance and direction—all the fruit of the Spirit.

“But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance: against such there is no law” (Gal.5:22-23; cp. Ro.8:1).

“Be filled with the Spirit” (Eph.5:18).

⇒ Full of faith: believing both in the Lord and in His purpose and power to do whatever He willed and led one to do.

“And all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive” (Mt.21:22).

“But for us also, to whom it shall be imputed, if we believe on him that raised up Jesus our Lord from the dead” (Ro.4:24).

“But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him” (Heb.11:6).

Thought 1. No disciple of the Lord, certainly no minister of the gospel, should be any less than Barnabas.

3. A tremendous result was experienced. Many were added to the Lord (cp. v.21, 24, 26).

Thought 1. New churches will reach people—in fact any church will reach people...

- when believers are witnessing faithfully.
- when churches are showing interest in the witnessing of believers elsewhere.
- when disciples and ministers are exhorting and demonstrating such godly character.

3 (11:25-26) Church—Staff: the church sought additional staff—to have an adequate teaching staff. Barnabas is the one who is the focus of attention in this point, but the church was bound to have sensed the need for additional staff and given its approval. The point is this: the need was sensed and the decision was made to seek for help. The only question was who should be secured. A unique person was needed, a person who not only had a Jewish background, but who knew the Greek language and culture and could relate to both Gentile and Jew alike. The person also needed to be fearless and bold in his witness for Christ because of the godless, immoral society of Antioch.

Barnabas knew such a man: Saul of Tarsus. So he set out to find him. The word “seek” (anazeteo) means to search for, to search back and forth, up and down; to make a thorough search. Paul had been busy throughout Syria and Cilicia preaching Christ (Gal.1:21). Apparently Barnabas had difficulty finding him. But note: he knew God’s will, so he did not give up the search. He kept searching until he found God’s choice.

Thought 1. What a dynamic lesson for all churches in seeking help and in building a church staff!

“And he saith unto them, Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men” (Mt.4:19).

“He first findeth his own brother Simon, and saith unto him, We have found the Messias, which is, being interpreted, the Christ. And he brought him to Jesus. And when Jesus beheld him, he said, Thou art Simon the son of Jona: thou shalt be called Cephas, which is by interpretation, A stone” (Jn.1:41-42).

“Philip findeth Nathanael, and saith unto him, We have found him, of whom Moses in the law, and the prophets, did write, Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph” (Jn.1:45).

“Then departed Barnabas to Tarsus, for to seek Saul: and when he had found him, he brought him unto Antioch. And it came to pass, that a whole year they assembled themselves with the church, and taught much people. And the disciples were called Christians first in Antioch” (Acts 11:25-26).

4 (11:26) Church, Training: the church—many of the believers—met consistently for intensive training (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Preaching, pt.4—Acts 11:19-30 for more discussion and verses). Note three facts that are self-explanatory.

1. The purpose for the church meeting together was to be taught about the Lord...
  - His death according to the Scriptures (1 Cor.15:3).
  - His resurrection according to the Scriptures (1 Cor.15:4).
  - His teachings, doctrines, and instructions (Mt.28:19-20; cp. Acts 17:11).
2. “Many people” were taught, not just a few. The believers hungered to learn the truth.
3. The church met together consistently for a whole year.

5 (11:26) Christian: the church developed an unbelievable heritage for itself and for Christ. The believers at Antioch were the first to be called “Christians.” Note:

- ⇒ The name was a nickname given to believers by the unsaved people at Antioch.
- ⇒ The title was a name for people belonging to Christ, for the followers of Christ.
- ⇒ The title is used only two other times in the New Testament (Acts 26:28; 1 Pt.4:16).
- ⇒ Believers took the name Christian and began applying it to themselves. It was to become the name adopted by the whole world for the followers of Christ.

Thought 1. What a heritage the believers of Antioch left to the world, the very name of being followers of Christ.

Thought 2. Every person who calls himself a Christian should be a true follower of Christ. How tragic that so many are not (Col.2:6; 1 Jn.2:6)!

“As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him” (Col.2:6).

“For even hereunto were ye called: because Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps” (1 Pt.2:21).

“He that saith he abideth in him ought himself also so to walk, even as he walked” (1 Jn.2:6).

6 (11:27-30) Mission—Evangelism—Church, Vision: the church launched its own worldwide mission. Very simply, some prophets from Jerusalem came to help in the ministry of Antioch. We do not know what led them to come: an invitation from Antioch or a commissioning by the Jerusalem church or some direction from the Holy Spirit. Neither do we know how many came, but this one thing is sure: it was God’s will that they came. This is known by what follows.

1. There was a prophecy of great need. One of the prophets, Agabus, predicted a worldwide famine. (Cp. Acts 21:10 for another reference to Agabus.)

- ⇒ The prophecy was not a deduction, not of the reasoning ability of Agabus. The prophecy was of the Spirit.
- ⇒ The famine took place during the reign of Claudius Caesar who ruled between A.D. 41-54.

2. There was a sharing of money and supplies. Everyone sent relief to Jerusalem “according to his ability.” The point to note is this: the newly born church at Antioch was now seen launching its own mission project. They were now helping the mother church, the church that had originally helped them (v.22-24).

3. There was the sharing of ministers. Note who was sent by the church: their two chief ministers, Barnabas and Saul. They delivered the offering to the elders at the Jerusalem church (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, Elders—Tit.1:5-9). Paul was later to encourage constant giving to the needs of God’s people (Acts 24:17; Ro.15:25-27; 1 Cor.16:1-4; 2 Cor.8:1-15; Gal.2:10).

“As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith” (Gal.6:10).

“That they do good, that they be rich in good works, ready to distribute, willing to communicate” (1 Tim.6:18).

“But to do good and to communicate forget not: for with such sacrifices God is well pleased” (Heb.13:16).

“Trust in the LORD, and do good; so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed” (Ps.37:3).

DEEPER STUDY # 3

(11:27) Prophets: this is the first time the title prophets is mentioned in the early church. The function of a New Testament prophet was primarily threefold: to edify, exhort, and comfort (1 Cor.14:3; cp. Acts 15:32). However, he was also given the grace to foretell the future as God willed to reveal it. In the list of New Testament gifts, prophets are listed in order of priority next to apostles (1 Cor.12:28-29; Eph.4:11).

- ⇒ Some early prophets are named (Acts 13:1; 15:32; 11:28; cp. 21:10).
- ⇒ Prophets were given the spiritual gift of teaching (Acts 13:1).
- ⇒ The gift of prophecy can be exercised at will by the prophets (1 Cor.15:32).
- ⇒ Prophets face a great danger: super-spirituality or pride (1 Cor.15:37).
- ⇒ The early prophets were considered as part of the foundation of the church—right along with the apostles (Eph.2:20).
- ⇒ The understanding of the mysteries of the church was given to the early prophets by special revelation from the Holy Spirit (Eph.3:5-6).

CHAPTER 12

B. The Jerusalem Church is Miraculously Protected: God's Pattern For Deliverance from Persecution,<sup>DS1</sup> 12:1-25

Now about that time Herod the king stretched forth his hands to vex certain of the church.

2 And he killed James the brother of John with the sword.

3 And because he saw it pleased the Jews, he proceeded further to take Peter also. (Then were the days of unleavened bread.)

4 And when he had apprehended him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four quaternions of soldiers to keep him; intending after Easter to bring him forth to the people.

5 Peter therefore was kept in prison: but prayer was made without ceasing of the church unto God for him.

6 And when Herod would have brought him forth, the same night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains: and the keepers before the door kept the prison.

7 And, behold, the angel of the Lord came upon him, and a light shined in the prison: and he smote Peter on the side, and raised him up, saying, Arise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands.

8 And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals. And so he did. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me.

9 And he went out, and followed him; and wist not that it was true which was done by the angel; but thought he saw a vision.

10 When they were past the first and the second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth unto the city; which opened to them of his own accord: and they went out, and passed on through one street; and forthwith the angel departed from him.

11 And when Peter was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a surety, that the Lord hath sent his angel, and hath delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews.

12 And when he had considered the thing, he came to the house of Mary the mother of John, whose surname was Mark; where many were gathered together praying.

13 And as Peter knocked at the door of the gate, a damsel came to hearken, named Rhoda.

14 And when she knew Peter's voice, she opened not the gate for gladness, but ran in, and told how Peter stood before the gate.

15 And they said unto her, Thou art mad. But she constantly affirmed that it was even so. Then said they, It is his angel.

16 But Peter continued knocking: and when they had opened the door, and saw him, they were astonished.

17 But he, beckoning unto them with the hand to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said, Go show these things unto James, and to the brethren. And he departed, and went into another place.

18 Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers, what was become of Peter.

19 And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the keepers, and commanded that they should be put to death. And he went down from Judaea to Caesarea, and there abode.

20 And Herod was highly displeased with them of Tyre and Sidon: but they came with one accord to him, and, having made Blastus the king's chamberlain their friend, desired peace; because their country was

THE CHURCH SCATTERED: GOD'S SOVEREIGNTY OVER THE CHURCH, 11:19-12:25

B. The Jerusalem Church is Miraculously Protected: God's Pattern for Deliverance from Persecution, 12:1-25

(12:1-25) Introduction: God always delivers His people either through or from the trials of this life, including persecution and martyrdom. This passage gives a picture of God's pattern for deliverance through persecution.

1. There was the first political attack against the church (v.1-4).
2. There was God's pattern for deliverance (v.5-17).
3. There was God's sovereign wrath, His vindication of the church (v.18-23).
4. There was the church marching on triumphantly (v.24-25).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(12:1-25) Herod Agrippa I (A.D. 41-44): the facts concerning Herod Agrippa I are interesting.

- ⇒ He was the grandson of Herod the Great who had tried to kill the baby Jesus by murdering all the children (see DEEPER STUDY # 3—Mt.2:3-4).
- ⇒ He was the nephew of Herod Antipas who had John the Baptist killed (see DEEPER STUDY # 1,2—Mt.14:1-14).
- ⇒ He was born about 10 B.C., reared and educated in Rome.
- ⇒ He became king over Palestine and ruled between A.D. 41-44.
- ⇒ He sought the popularity of the Jewish people by pretending to be a Jewish convert. He publicly kept the Jewish law and feasts, seeking the support and loyalty of the people. It was this that caused him to turn against the church. He was seeking the favor of the people, their approval and loyalty (cp. Acts 12:3). Herod was a shrewd politician, able to maneuver and manipulate people to his advantage.

Note this: for some time the Jewish people had begun to turn against Christian believers. The public misunderstood the teaching and the evangelistic fervor of Christians. The idea of reaching out to Gentiles and converting the whole world to Christ was just unheard of. Apparently a terrible animosity had built up against the Christian church. Herod sought to capitalize upon the animosity to gain more support and loyalty of the people by destroying the leaders of the church. He felt such action would gain their favor and help tremendously in maintaining peace throughout Palestine—all of which would solidify his power and esteem in Rome.

1 (12:1-4) Persecution: there was the first political attack against the church. It had been about eight years since Stephen's death and the first persecution against the church. The persecution had been squelched by the hand of God in converting the arch-persecutor himself, Saul of Tarsus (see notes—Acts 9:1-9). However, throughout the eight years, feelings against the church had been growing until they reached the present peak (cp. "all the expectation of the Jews," v.11). The people were filled with animosity toward Christian believers. There were two primary reasons for their hatred. The public just did not understand...

- the teachings of Jesus and His followers: how the teachings fulfilled the law; how they could be reconciled with Jewish religion.
- the evangelistic outbreak of the church: that Jewish believers would be so full of fervor for Christ that they would reach out to convert the whole world. Apparently, the conversion of Cornelius and the founding of churches throughout the Gentile world upset some of the Jews to no end.

Herod, being the shrewd politician he was, saw an opportunity to please the Jews by persecuting and seeking to destroy the church. If he could please the Jews, it would help...

- keep the Jews quiet, keep them supporting Rome's policies.
- solidify his own prestige and power with the authorities back in Rome.

Herod launched the government's attack against the leaders of the church. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Herod Agrippa I—Acts 12:1-25 for more discussion.)

1. Persecution. The word “vex” or “persecute” (kakosai) means to oppress, to torment, to harm, to do evil against. Certain leaders in the church were arrested and imprisoned and apparently tortured. A person can just imagine the believers being man-handled and molested as the persecuted of every generation so often are, their homes and property being destroyed and confiscated or stolen.

2. Murder. One of the persons killed was James, the brother of John, one of the three leading apostles of the Lord (see also DEEPER STUDIES # 4-6—Mt.10:2). Nothing is said about James in the book of Acts except that he was martyred. But the fact that Herod would attempt to silence him is clear evidence that James was very active in serving Christ. Christ had told James he would suffer martyrdom (Mt.20:23). God makes a glorious promise to the believer who is persecuted.

“If so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together” (Ro.8:17).

3. Imprisonment. The persecution of the church’s leaders pleased the Jews, especially the murder of one of the Lord’s leading apostles. Herod’s plan seemed to be working. Note three things.

- a. It was the Passover season, the days of unleavened bread. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1—Mt.26:17; note and DEEPER STUDY # 1—Lk.22:1.) Hundreds of thousands of pilgrims had flooded into the city of Jerusalem. As on any festive occasion, there was a party-like atmosphere hovering over the city. The people were filled with a festive, merry spirit. Herod had a unique chance to really gain popularity among multitudes of people.
- b. Herod was so elated with the response of the Jews, he lurched forward with the boldest plot imaginable: the arrest and jailing of the leader himself, Peter the apostle. Note: Herod was planning to execute Peter after the Passover. Jewish law did not allow executions during the Passover Feast. Also note: this was Peter’s third imprisonment for the sake of his Lord (cp. Acts 4:3; 5:18; 12:4-5).
- c. Herod had Peter heavily guarded (see DEEPER STUDY # 2—Acts 12:3-4).

“But beware of men: for they will deliver you up to the councils, and they will scourge you in their synagogues” (Mt.10:17).

“Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name’s sake” (Mt.24:9; cp. Lk.21:12-13).

“Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you; if they have kept my saying, they will keep yours also” (Jn.15:20).

“These things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be offended. They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service. And these things will they do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor me” (Jn.16:1-3).

“Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution” (2 Tim.3:12).

“Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; and ye shall have tribulation ten days: be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life” (Rev.2:10).

“O LORD my God, in thee do I put my trust: save me from all them that persecute me, and deliver me” (Ps.7:1).

“My times are in thy hand: deliver me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that persecute me” (Ps.31:15).

“All thy commandments are faithful: they persecute me wrongfully; help thou me” (Ps.119:86).

“For the enemy hath persecuted my soul; he hath smitten my life down to the ground; he hath made me to dwell in darkness, as those that have been long dead” (Ps.143:3).

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(12:3-4) Prisoners: Peter was probably guarded by sixteen different soldiers. Four soldiers at a time served two separate three-hour watches within a twenty-four hour stretch. One wrist of the prisoner was usually chained to the wrist of a guard. Note the extra security with Peter: both wrists were chained (Acts 12:6). The reason for the extra security with Peter was the huge throng of pilgrims visiting the city during the Passover. In the midst of the mass confusion within the city, Herod felt some of Peter’s friends might attempt a rescue.

2 (12:5-17) Persecution—Deliverance: there was God’s pattern for deliverance. Note a significant point: God’s providence saved Peter but not James. Why? Very simply, it was time for James to join his Lord and receive the fruit of his labor for work done here on earth. Peter’s work was not yet done. Believers must always remember, the day when they are to go to their Lord does come. God’s will may be for the believer to suffer and bear martyrdom for His name’s sake. God’s plan may be to use the persecuted believer’s faithfulness as a testimony to reach others.

God’s pattern for delivering believers through or from persecution is fourfold.

1. There is the pattern of prayer. Church-wide prayer delivered Peter (v.5). Note three points.
  - a. The whole church was praying.
  - b. The church was doing all it could do, praying specifically for Peter’s deliverance.
  - c. The words “without ceasing” (ektenes) mean fervently and earnestly continuing in prayer. The idea is intense prayer, prayer that captivates and focuses a person’s concentration. The root meaning of the word is “to stretch out.” The picture is that the church was stretched out, prostrate before God, earnestly and ferently crying out to Him for God's sovereign deliverance of Peter. The church could do nothing and they knew it. Peter's only hope was God.

2. There is the pattern of confidence. Confidence in God's will and care delivered Peter (v.6). Note that Peter was asleep, and it was the very night before his execution. Christ was meeting His dear servant's need, infusing him with His very special grace and peace. Peter sensed the very special trust and care of his Lord.

Thought 1. The Lord infuses His strength, peace, care, understanding, and marvelous grace to go through whatever trial confronts His dear servant.

"There hath no temptation [trial] taken you but such as is common to man; but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it" (1 Cor.10:13).

"And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever" (2 Tim.4:18).

"The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptation, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished" (2 Pt.2:9).

"Oh how great is thy goodness, which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee; which thou hast wrought for them that trust in thee before the sons of men!" (Ps.31:19).

"The Lord redeemeth the souls of his servants: and none of them that trust in him shall be desolate" (Ps.34:22).

"Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in him; and he shall bring it to pass" (Ps.37:5).

"It is better to trust in the Lord than to put confidence in man" (Ps.118:8).

"Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee. Trust ye in the LORD for ever: for in the LORD JEHOVAH is everlasting strength" (Is.26:3-4).

3. There is the pattern of God's miraculous work and the believer's obedience. Both were involved in delivering Peter (v.7-10). Note the Scripture and outline.

- a. The angel did not do for Peter what Peter could do for himself. Peter had to act; he had to obey the commands of the angel.
- b. Once Peter was safely delivered out of danger, he was left on his own, left to work out his own deliverance. He was to continue his "walk by faith"...
  - to return to the church and to the believers on his own.
  - to seek the Lord about remaining or leaving Jerusalem and in making any other decisions that needed to be made.

The point is this: God's miraculous deliverance involved only what Peter could not do for himself. When Peter was helpless, God then took over. This is the point of miracles. Miracles are acts of God, acts that men cannot do for themselves. They are worked by God and by Him alone; therefore, He and He alone gets the praise and honor.

4. There is the pattern of God's sovereign will (v.11). It was God's sovereign will for Peter to be delivered. It was not His will for James to be delivered. The true believer rests in God's sovereign will, knowing that God's will results in the greatest blessings. Peter thought he was having a vision (v.9), that he was in some semi-conscious state, dreaming of God delivering him. Peter was startled; it took a moment to collect his thoughts and grasp what had happened. When he did, he realized...

- that God had delivered him by His sovereign will.
- that God still had a purpose for him on earth.
- that he still had a ministry to perform for the Lord.

He quickly sized up the situation and fled the city, for he knew Herod would have the soldiers searching for him as soon as his escape was discovered. But before fleeing, Peter decided to quickly visit the house of Mary (the mother of John Mark), hoping some of the believers were gathered there. He needed to let them know God had delivered him and where he was fleeing.

Thought 1. Again, note how God expects His people to work out their own salvation (deliverance) when it is in their power to do so. Now note the result of God delivering His dear servant. The Scripture and outline points are sufficient to see the results. Every miracle performed by God causes the same results—of course, all to varying degrees.

Note how the church had been praying ever so fervently, yet not really expecting a miracle. We must not be too critical, however. They had already witnessed the death of some outstanding leaders, two of which are named, Stephen the deacon and James the apostle.

"Again I say unto you, That if two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven" (Mt.18:19).

"Therefore I say unto you, What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them" (Mk.11:24).

"If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you" (Jn.15:7).

"And whatsoever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, and do those things that are pleasing in his sight" (1 Jn.3:22).

DEEPER STUDY # 3

(12:12) Mary, Mother of John Mark: Mary was also the aunt of the missionary Barnabas (cp. Col.4:10). This is the only clear mention of her in Scripture. She was probably a widow, for her husband is never mentioned. She was apparently wealthy, the owner of considerable property. She owned a huge house large enough for believers to hold services there. There was also a gate and a portress to greet guests who entered the home. This may point to a palace-like house (v.13. Cp. the high priest's palace, Jn.18:16.)

Apparently Mary was a very godly woman, a dynamic example for all women of every generation. As will be seen she was also a godly mother, rearing her son John Mark in the gospel. She eventually encouraged him to commit his life to missions just as Paul and Barnabas, his cousin, had done.

3 (12:18-23) Herod, Death of—Judgment: there was God's sovereign wrath, His vindication of the church. God never has and never will allow the persecution of His followers to go on and on. God is longsuffering, wanting all to repent and to turn to Him, but He tolerates evil for only so long. Every man has to give an account for his evil deeds. Herod's time had now come. The judgment of God fell and fell swiftly.

1. The sins of Herod were very serious. He was guilty...
  - of opposing God. He violently persecuted God's church, which was equal to persecuting the Lord Himself. He was determined to wipe the church off the face of the earth (v.1-4; cp. Lk.10:16; Acts 9:4; 1 Cor.8:12).
  - of murder: killing the servants of God, apparently plotting to kill them all (v.2-4).
  - of loving the world: its power, position, and influence (v.3).
  - of hypocrisy and deception: pretending to be religious—all for power and position.
  - of wrath and lack of compassion (v.19): it was Roman law that the keepers of escaped prisoners were subject to bear the same punishment as the prisoner.
  - of hostile and unwise leadership (v.20): the dispute with Tyre and Sidon is not explained, but Herod's nature is seen in the word "displeased" (en thumomachon). The word means to be inflamed, to be filled with violent hostility. It is very hot anger, an emotion that should never characterize the leader of a nation.
  - of pride: the pride of office, position, and person (v.21).
  - of self-glory and self-exaltation (v.22): he willingly received the declaration that he was a god (v.22).

2. The death of Herod was under the sovereign will of God. Herod's time had run out; his sin could not be allowed anymore. The day of God's wrath against a heart so hardened in sin had arrived. Sitting there on the throne, Herod was immediately stricken down with a severe stroke of some sort. His body was being "eaten of worms" (genomenos skolekobrotos). The word "skolex" was used by the Greeks to refer to intestinal worms. Josephus, the renown historian of that day, reported that Herod lingered for five days, suffering great pain in the area of the stomach (Flavius Josephus. Josephus Complete Works. Translated by William Whiston. Grand Rapids, MI: Kregel, 1960. Ant. 19.8.2).

"For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord" (Ro.6:23).

"How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation: which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him" (Heb.2:3).

"As righteousness tendeth to life; so he that pursueth evil pursueth it to his own death" (Pr.11:19).

"Behold, all souls are mine; as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine: the soul that sinneth, it shall die" (Ezk.18:4).

4 (12:24-25) Church: there was the church marching on triumphantly.

1. The words "grew and multiplied" (euxanen kai eplethuneto) mean that the church kept on growing and multiplying. The progress of God's Word could not be stopped. Men and governments might try to stop it. They might persecute, imprison, and kill those who proclaim God's Word; but their efforts to silence the Word will always be to no avail. God overrules all and always will.

⇒ He has ordained His Word to be proclaimed, and it shall be by all those who are truly His.

"For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek" (Ro.1:16).

⇒ He has ordained His Word to bear fruit, to grow and multiply, never to return to Him void (Is.55:11).

"He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him" (Ps.126:6).

"Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea come, buy wine and milk without money and without price" (Is.55:1).

2. A young man was discipled, a young man destined for greatness. Barnabas and Saul had brought relief goods from Antioch to the famine-stricken churches throughout Judea and Jerusalem (cp. Acts 11:27-30). They were now returning to Antioch, and note what happened. John Mark, a young disciple, had joined them. (See DEEPER STUDY # 4, Mark—Acts 12:25.) This was a young man who was destined by God...

- to be discipled by three of God's greatest servants: Paul, Barnabas, and Peter.
- to write one of the four gospels of the New Testament, the Gospel of Mark.

“Go ye therefore, and teach [make disciples, Greek] all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world” (Mt.28:19-20).

“And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also” (2 Tim.2:2).

DEEPER STUDY # 4

(12:25) John Mark: John Mark had a godly mother (Acts 12:12). It seems that her home was the center of the Christian church (Acts 12:12). In fact, her home may have been the Upper Room which Jesus used for the Last Supper (Lk.22:10f) and for Pentecost (Acts 1:13). John Mark was related to Barnabas (Col.4:10) and was a disciple of Paul and Barnabas (Acts 12:25). As a young man and disciple something happened that caused his faith to weaken, and he forsook Paul and Barnabas on their first missionary journey (Acts 13:13; 15:38). However, he later recommitted his life to missionary service and became so staunch in his commitment that he was willing to let Paul and Barnabas argue over his seriousness and divide their team efforts over him (Acts 15:36-40). Scripture is silent about what happened after this. Mark is seen only as a man who had redeemed himself in the eyes of Paul (Col.4:10; Phile.1:24; 2 Tim.4:11). And Peter said Mark was serving with him (1 Pt.5:13). When writing to the churches of Asia Minor, Peter sent his special greetings from Mark. This points toward the churches knowing Mark personally. Mark apparently joined Peter on his missionary journeys. This is significant, for it means that much of what is in Mark’s gospel probably comes from what Peter had told him. The Gospel of Mark, which Mark wrote, was probably the preaching material of Peter. (See note—Acts 13:13.) John Mark also may have been the man carrying the pitcher of water as a sign for the disciples to approach him in order to secure a room for the Passover (Lk.22:10f). He was probably the young man who fled the scene of Jesus’ arrest (Mk.14:51-52).

THE FIRST GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO CYPRUS AND GALATIA, 13:1-14:28

A. The First Missionaries, Barnabas and Paul: The Most Challenging Call Ever Given, 13:1-3

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(13:1-14:28) Paul, Mission Tour: see Map—Introduction of Acts.

(13:1-3) Introduction: this passage begins the most daring and challenging step ever taken by any organization in the history of the world. The Christian church launched forth, making a deliberate effort to carry the gospel to the whole world. It commissioned its first two missionaries for the deliberate purpose of going to meet the world’s desperate need for Christ.

1. They were members of a great church, a church that reached out to all (v.1).
2. They were noted as gifted (v.1).
3. They were called while ministering and fasting (v.2).
4. They received a specific call: they were “set apart” by the Holy Spirit (v.2).
5. They bathed their mission in prayer and fasting (v.3).
6. They were commissioned by the church (v.3).

1 (13:1) Church: the first missionaries were members of a great church, a church that reached out to all. The greatness of the Antioch church is seen in two facts.

1. The Antioch church was God’s choice to become the mission and evangelistic center of the world. God was now ready to send His Word to the whole world. The first three phases of the great commission had been launched. The disciples of Christ had borne and left a witness in Jerusalem and Judea and Samaria. Now it was time for a witness to go into all the world, reaching out even to the uttermost part (Acts 1:8).

But note a significant fact, a fact that stands as a warning to every church: God had to choose some church other than the Jerusalem church to launch the worldwide mission. The Jerusalem church was too narrow and traditional to do the job (see note, Salvation vs. Ritual—Acts 15:1-3 for discussion). Too many of its members (Jews) were too prejudiced and held too many feelings against the rest of the world (Gentiles). They refused to freely and wholeheartedly commit themselves to world missions and evangelism. They refused to repent of their exclusiveness and their traditional, formal approach to God. God had to bypass the Jerusalem church and raise up another church to become the center of His mission upon earth.

Note what this means, for it is a warning to every believer. Some leaders other than the Jewish leaders had to be chosen to launch God’s purposes on earth. The Jewish leaders had proven too slow in launching out in the full liberty and freedom of God’s Spirit. They, too, had waited too long to repent of their sins. God was ready to move out into the world and the leaders in Jerusalem were not ready. God had no choice but to raise up other leaders who would commit their lives fully to the gospel and to carry the gospel to the whole world in an uninhibited and free spirit.

2. The Antioch church was diverse, a church that reached out to everyone. This is clearly seen in the men mentioned.

- a. Barnabas: he was a wealthy Cyprian, a man born and reared on the island of Cyprus. (See note—Acts 4:36-37 for discussion.)
- b. Simeon or Niger: the name “Niger” means black, referring to the complexion of his skin. He was probably from Africa. The name is also a Roman name which shows that he moved about in Roman society. Some commentators suggest he was the Simon of Cyrene who carried the cross for Jesus (cp. Mk.15:21).
- c. Lucius of Cyrene: he was probably one of the poor persecuted believers who had fled to Antioch for safety. If so, he was one of the founders of this great church. When he arrived in Antioch, he and the others began to share Christ immediately (cp. Acts 11:19-20).

- d. Manaen: he was of the higher class of society, being a foster brother to Herod Antipas. This is the Herod who had tried Jesus and murdered John the Baptist.
- e. Saul of Tarsus: he was one of the religionists of society. He is mentioned last as though he was considered least important among the leaders. However, Saul's deep love for the Lord and his driving commitment to the Lord's cause would soon lead God to use Saul beyond imagination.

The point is this: these men, with their diversity of backgrounds and social standings, show just how much the church at Antioch reached out to everyone throughout the community. It reached out to all classes of people, all needs, all nationalities and races. No one was excluded; everyone was invited to Christ and welcomed into the fellowship and ministry of the church. The church at Antioch was a ministering church, a great outreach church, just the kind of church God needed to launch and support the first missionaries to the world.

“Go ye [the church] therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage” (Mt.22:9).

“Go ye [the church] therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world” (Mt.28:19-20).

“But ye [the church] shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

“For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him. For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved” (Ro.10:12-13).

“So we, being many, are one body [church] in Christ, and every one members one of another. Having then gifts differing according to the grace that is given to us, whether prophecy, let us prophesy according to the proportion of faith; or ministry, let us wait on our ministering: or he that teacheth, on teaching; or he that exhorteth, on exhortation: he that giveth, let him do it with simplicity; he that ruleth, with diligence; he that showeth mercy, with cheerfulness” (Ro.12:5-8).

“Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth” (1 Tim.2:4).

- 2 (13:1) Gift, Spiritual: the first missionaries were gifted with the very special gifts of the Holy Spirit.
- 1. They were gifted as prophets (see DEEPER STUDY # 3—Acts 11:27; DEEPER STUDY # 7—Mt.1:22; DEEPER STUDY # 1—1 Cor.14:3 for discussion).
  - 2. They were gifted as teachers (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Teachers—Acts 13:1; DEEPER STUDY # 2 Preaching, pt.3—Acts 11:19-30).

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(13:1) Teaching - Teachers: teaching is a high calling, one of the greatest of callings. Teaching is ranked second only to the spiritual gifts of apostle and prophet (Acts 13:1; 1 Cor.12:28; Eph.4:11). Every apostle and prophet and pastor has the gift of teaching, but not every teacher is an apostle or prophet or pastor. The gift of teaching bears one of the largest responsibilities given by God; therefore, the teacher will be required to give a strict account to God for his faithfulness in using his gift (see note, Teachers—Jas.3:1).

The spiritual gift of teaching is the gift of understanding and communicating the Word of God, of edifying believers in the truths of God's Word. It involves understanding, interpreting, arranging, and communicating the Word of God. The gift of teaching is given to the believer who commits his life to the Word of God, to sharing its glorious truths with God's people.

“Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth” (2 Tim.2:15).

“All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness” (2 Tim.3:16).

“These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so” (Acts 17:11).

“And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified” (Acts 20:32).

“As newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby: if so be ye have tasted that the Lord is gracious” (1 Pt.2:2-3).

- 3 (13:2) Ministers—Missions: the first missionaries were called while ministering and fasting. This is critical to see.

1. The chosen men were faithful in their ministry right where they were. They were not waiting to serve when they reached the fields of the world; they were serving right then and there, right where they were. They did not overlook nor turn away from needs around them, in their own community. They were the Lord's. His followers, and as such they were commanded to minister even as He had ministered—right where they were (Jn.20:21; Mt.20:28).

“And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men; knowing that of the Lord ye shall receive the reward of the inheritance: for ye serve the Lord Christ” (Col.3:23-24).

“For he that in these things serveth Christ is acceptable to God, and approved of men” (Ro.14:18).

It was because of their faithfulness where they were that God knew He could trust these men to do greater things for Him.

Thought 1. God calls those who are faithful where they are.

“Moreover it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful” (1 Cor.4:2).

“For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God’s” (1 Cor.6:20).

“Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord” (1 Cor.15:58).

“As every man hath received the gift, even so minister the same one to another, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God” (1 Pt.4:10).

2. The men chosen were men of prayer and fasting. Apparently they had come together to discuss the matter of world evangelism and were fasting and praying over the matter. The point is clear: God can use only those who sense the desperate needs of the world, sense the needs so deeply that they will set food and everything else aside in order to seek God’s face.

Thought 1. How desperately God needs men and women who will fill the gap as these men did. What a tragedy! Generation after generation has rolled in upon the other and the world is still unreached. Where are those...

- who will be faithful in ministering right where they are?
- who will be so concerned they will set food and everything else aside for prayer?

“And he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray, and not to faint” (Lk.18:1).

“Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full” (Jn.16:24).

“Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints” (Eph.6:18).

“Pray without ceasing” (1 Th.5:17).

4 (13:2) Call—Holy Spirit: the first missionaries received a specific call. The call came from the Holy Spirit: they were to be set apart for “the work” chosen by God. Note several facts that are critical for every believer and minister of the gospel.

1. It is the Holy Spirit that calls the believer to serve God. Paul and Barnabas were not called...
  - by the church.
  - by the other leaders.
  - by their own determination.

The words of Christ were as true for Paul and Barnabas as they were for the first apostles and for us today:

“Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain” (Jn.15:16).

Now note: the Holy Spirit was not calling Paul and Barnabas to a life of witness. Every believer is called to be a witness for God. The Holy Spirit was calling the men to a specific task, to a lifetime commitment to ministry. The two men were never again to be lay believers, but were to give their lives to serving God as full time worldwide evangelists or missionaries.

2. The call of the Holy Spirit comes at a specific time. There is a definite time when the Holy Spirit speaks to the believer’s heart and mind, and the voice and will of God are unmistakable.

3. The call of the Holy Spirit is for the believer to be His, to be possessed by God’s Spirit. The called believer is separated to belong to the Holy Spirit: to allow the Spirit to live and move and have His being within the believer’s body; to be possessed, infilled, and guided by the Spirit; to be controlled completely by the Spirit; to be completely surrendered to the Spirit’s will and use.

4. The call of the Holy Spirit involves “work”—the work He has chosen for the believer to do. The believer is...
  - “separated...to work,” to do the work of the ministry.
  - “[to do] the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ” (Eph.4:12).

5 (13:3) Prayer—Fasting: the first missionaries bathed their mission in prayer and fasting. They did not launch out immediately. The new call was too momentous. The face of God had to be sought...

- for a deep sense of His presence and power.
- for the direction of His will.
- for the praise of His name.

(See notes, pt.2—Acts 13:2; Fasting—Mt.6:16-18 for more discussion.)

6 (13:3) Commission—Church: the first missionaries were commissioned by the church. Note two points.

1. This was apparently an official meeting of the church called for the specific purpose of commissioning Saul and Barnabas.
2. The church was not calling and setting these two men apart. It was the Holy Spirit who had called and set these two men apart to the ministry. The church was...
  - acknowledging the Holy Spirit's call by the laying on of hands. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2—Acts 6:6.)
  - committing its support and prayers to the two God-sent men.
  - obeying the Holy Spirit's leadership and allowing the men to be separated from the Antioch church.

However, note that the church was called upon to acknowledge and commission these men to the work of God (v.2).

“Whom they set before the apostles: and when they had prayed, they laid their hands on them” (Acts 6:6).

“Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery” (1 Tim.4:14).

“Lay hands suddenly on no man, neither be partaker of other men's sins: keep thyself pure” (1 Tim.5:22).

“Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands” (2 Tim.1:6).

DIVISION VI

THE FIRST GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO CYPRUS AND GALATIA, 13:1-14:28

B. Cyprus, the Island: The Beginning of Missions and Evangelism, 13:4-13

(13:4-13) Introduction: this is the first picture of missionary action in the world. As such it paints a graphic picture of just what missions and evangelism involve.

1. There was the leading of the Holy Spirit (v.4).
2. There was the work of missions and evangelism (v.5-6).
3. There was the desire to hear the Word of God (v.7).
4. There was the pronouncement of judgment (v.8-11).
5. There was conversion (v.12).
6. There was desertion (v.13).

1 (13:4) Missions—Holy Spirit: there was the leading of the Holy Spirit. Picture the scene: Seleucia was the seaport of Antioch. It lay fifteen miles to the west of Antioch. Barnabas and Saul with all their luggage were being escorted to the port by some of their Christian friends from Antioch. Imagine the conversation and excitement as they shared their plans and dreams of what lay ahead. But note: this is not what Scripture stresses. What Scripture stresses is simply stated, but it is critical.

The servants of God were "sent forth by the Holy Spirit." They were not striking out on their own. They were not going because of a feeling, an inner idea that told them they should go. They were not going because the church was sending them forth. They were not going because they had chosen missions as a profession. The source of their call and mission was the Holy Spirit. It was the Spirit of God that had called them and was sending them forth (cp. Acts 13:1-3).

The leadership of the Spirit is critical to the servant of God. If he is led by the Spirit, he is filled with the greatest encouragement; but if he is not led by the Spirit, he is often filled with the greatest discouragement. Paul and Barnabas were led by the Spirit; therefore, they were able to march forth triumphantly. They knew five encouraging things.

⇒ They were sons of God.

"For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God" (Ro.8:14).

⇒ The Holy Spirit would be abiding with them.

"And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever; even the Spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you” (Jn.14:16-17).

⇒ The Holy Spirit would be guiding them.

“Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will show you things to come” (Jn.16:13).

⇒ The Holy Spirit would be giving them the words to say.

“But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you” (Jn.14:26).

⇒ The Holy Spirit would be giving success, convicting the hearers.

“And when he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment: of sin, because they believe not on me; of righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more; of judgment, because the prince of this world is judged” (Jn.16:8-11).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(13:4) Cyprus: the island lay in the northeast corner of the Mediterranean Sea (see Map—Introduction to Acts). It was a stopping off place for the commercial fleets of that day. It was famous for its copper mines and shipbuilding industries. But most of all it was known as a resort area, being blessed with a warm, appealing climate. The population was primarily Greek and Phoenician, but there were a large number of Jews there as well. The capital, Paphos, was famous for its worship of Venus, the goddess of love or lustful immorality. The immorality and the superstitious nature of the people show the depth of degradation and evil that had gripped the people of the island. Note that it was the society from which Barnabas came. It was his home. And it was the first society Paul set out to penetrate with the gospel right after committing his life to worldwide missions. The island had been under Roman rule for about one hundred years when Paul arrived.

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(13:5) Salamis: the largest city on the island of Cyprus. (See Map—Introduction to Acts.) It lay on the southeast coast facing Syria. The city was the commercial center of Cyprus, boasting an excellent harbour. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1 Cyprus—Acts 13:4 for more discussion.)

2 (13:5-6) Missions, Work of—Discipleship: there was the work of missions. The primary work of missions is clearly seen in these two verses.

1. The Lord’s servants preached the Word (see note, Preaching—Acts 14:21 for discussion. See outline and notes—Acts 13:14-41 for the message Paul preached.)

2. The Lord’s servants made disciples. They took John Mark with them. The word “minister” (hupereten) means attendant, assistant, helper. Mark was ministering under Barnabas and Paul, being disciplined by them—helping, serving, ministering right with them, learning all he could. Apparently he was somewhat younger. Note the word “also”: this could be saying Mark was doing some preaching as well as helping in other areas.

Making disciples of young men was one of the major ministries of Paul. He was usually seen with at least several disciples accompanying him. Even on this mission, he seemed to have several whom he was discipling, although they were not named (cp. “his company,” v.13).

Just how Paul went about making disciples of others can be seen in the words of the great commission: “Go ye...and teach [make disciples of] all nations...” (Mt.28:19). The word “teach” (metheteusate) means to make disciples. Thus the verse accurately reads, “Go ye therefore and ‘make disciples’ of all nations...” The point to note is this: our Lord is not only telling us to go and evangelize; He is telling us how to go and how to evangelize. He is not only giving His ultimate objective and overriding purpose; He is giving the method to use in evangelizing the world.

Think about the word “metheteusate” (make disciples). What does our Lord mean by make disciples? Is He not telling us to do exactly as He did?

What did He do? Christ “came to seek and save that which was lost” (Lk.19:10). He sought the lost, those who were willing to commit their lives to Him. And when He found such a person, He saved that person. When Christ found a person who was willing to commit his life, Christ attached Himself to that person. Christ began to mold and make that person into His image. The word attach is the key word. It is probably the word that best describes discipleship. Christ made disciples of men by attaching Himself to them; and through this personal attachment, they were able to observe His life and conversation; and in seeing and hearing, they began to absorb and assimilate His very character and behavior. They began to follow Him and to serve Him more and more closely.

In simple terms this is what Paul did. This is the way he made disciples. This was his mission and his method, his obsession. There is another way to describe what Paul did. Paul envisioned something beyond himself, beyond his day and time. He envisioned an extension of himself, an extension of his very being, and an extension of his mission and method. The way he chose to extend himself was discipling; he attached himself to committed persons, and through attachment, the persons absorbed and assimilated the Lord's very character and mission. Then they in turn attached themselves to others and discipled them. They, too, expected their disciples to make disciples of others who were willing to commit their lives to Christ. It was by this method that the glorious message of Christ marched down through the centuries until it reached us. And it is by this method that the message of Christ is to march down to the generation that is to follow us (2 Tim.2:2).

There is no question what our Lord's commission is: we are to go; but more than that, we are to make disciples, to attach ourselves to those persons who will follow our Lord until they in turn can make disciples (2 Tim.2:2).

"Go ye therefore, and teach [make disciples of] all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world" (Mt.28:19-20).

"And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers; for the perfecting [equipping] of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ" (Eph.4:11-12).

"And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also" (2 Tim.2:2).

3. The Lord's servants reached out to new areas. Note the two men went through Cyprus, to the city of Paphos. The idea is that they evangelized and preached the Word from town to town, village to village as they moved about the island. They reached out to every area, carrying the glorious gospel to those who were even in the back areas of the island.

"And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature" (Mk.16:15).

"But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth" (Acts 1:8).

"For thou shalt be his witness unto all men of what thou hast seen and heard" (Acts 22:15).

4. The Lord's servants confronted a false prophet. If there were no false prophets, there would be no false teaching. False teaching exists because of false prophets. Therefore the servants of Christ will not only be confronting false teaching, they will be confronting the false prophet himself. This is important to note, for it is usually much more difficult to confront a person than just an idea. A person can stand toe to toe with a person, threatening and persecuting him. The false prophet and teacher is usually in rebellion and opposition against God; therefore some form of evil attack is almost sure to happen.

The point is this: the Lord's true servant will run across false prophets and teachers. And so he must be walking in the Spirit, relying upon His leadership, care, presence, and power in order to stand against false teachers and their teaching.

"Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves" (Mt.7:15).

"Also of your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them" (Acts 20:30).

"For they that are such serve not our Lord Jesus Christ, but their own belly; and by good words and fair speeches deceive the hearts of the simple" (Ro.16:18).

"Now the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils; speaking lies in hypocrisy; having their conscience seared with a hot iron" (1 Tim.4:1-2).

"But there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction" (2 Pt.2:1).

"Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? He is antichrist, that denieth the Father and the Son" (1 Jn.2:22).

"For many deceivers are entered into the world, who confess not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is a deceiver and an antichrist" (2 Jn.7).

DEEPER STUDY # 3

(13:6) Paphos: the capital of Cyprus. (See Map—Introduction to Acts.) It was a thriving city, the seat of Roman government on the island. It was also a pagan stronghold for the worship of Venus, the Roman goddess of love. Because of the excellent climate, the seashore, and the sensuous rites of the goddess Venus, pilgrims travelled from all over in order to share in the fun and stimulations of the flesh. Paphos burned with what might be called the bright lights of beach and nightclub life twenty-four hours a day.

3 (13:7) Word of God: there was the desire to hear the Word of God. Sergius Paulus was the governor, the “deputy” (anthupatoi), the Roman proconsul of the country. The Roman proconsuls were appointed and controlled by the Roman Senate. He was the highest ranking official, the man of power and influence on the island. Note what Scripture stresses about the man.

1. He was a prudent, intelligent man, that is, a man of understanding and reason. He was controlled more by his mind than by feelings and emotions.

2. He was a man seeking truth. Apparently he had been seeking the truth in philosophy, science, and religion. This explains why a man of his understanding had Elymas in his palace. As shall be seen, Elymas was an unusual breed, a unique mixture of truth and error that would appeal to a man who was seeking truth.

Note: Sergius Paulus sent for Barnabas and Saul. He had heard about the Word of God these preachers were proclaiming and he wanted to hear it for himself.

Thought 1. The Lord’s servant will find some who are seeking the truth, some who desire to hear the Word of God. It was because Barnabas and Saul were proclaiming the Word, because they were faithful in their proclamation, that Sergius Paulus heard about the Word of God. If believers are not out witnessing, the world will never hear the Word of God.

“These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so” (Acts 17:11).

“For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved. How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a preacher?” (Ro.10:13-14).

“For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe” (1 Th.2:13).

“Preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all longsuffering and doctrine” (2 Tim.4:2).

4 (13:8-11) Judgment: there is the pronouncement of judgment. Most believers would never pronounce judgment upon another person, not like Paul did. But judgment is pronounced by the Word of God and judgment is to be declared upon all who reject and oppose God.

1. Elymas was the official title of a sorcerer. It probably means “wise man,” His name was Bar-Jesus, which means son of Jesus or Joshua. Remember Jesus was a common name among certain nationalities. The sorcerer was a religious priest, a Jew who was teaching the truth of monotheism, that there is only one God. But he was mixing the truth with philosophy, science, astrology, and the magic of eastern religions.

2. The one thing that brought immediate judgment upon the man is clearly stated. He “withstood them,” stood face to face against the preaching of God’s Word. The idea is continuous and persistent opposition. He tried his best to keep the governor from turning to Christ.

Thought 1. There is enormous danger in trying to stop someone from accepting Christ. (Cp. Mk.9:42.)

3. The judgment is from the Holy Spirit, not from Paul. What Paul did was not of himself: not of his emotions, not of personal resentment. The judgment came from the Holy Spirit. God had tolerated enough of the man’s sin, hostility, and destruction. His sins were great. There was...

- the sin of all subtlety (pantos dolou): full of all craftiness, guile, trickery, deceit, treachery, seeking to bait and catch, to enslave in error and untruth.
- the sin of all mischief (pases rhaidiourgias): full of all wickedness, fraud, villainy, and sleight of hand; moving about with ease and working against good; doing all kinds and forms of evil.
- the sin of being a child of the devil: being possessed and controlled by the devil; doing and working the will and works of the devil (cp. Jn.8:44; 1 Jn.3:10).
- the enemy of all righteousness: opposing all that is right and honest and just; all that is pure and moral and clean.
- the perverter of “the right ways of the Lord”: distorting, twisting, adding to and taking away from the character of God and His Word, the holy Scriptures. (Paul is quoting Hos.14:9. Cp. Is.40:4; 42:16; Lk.3:5.) The man was taking the “right ways” of God and making them crooked.

Note the word “all.” The false prophet was totally depraved, giving himself over to all sin.

4. The judgment upon the man was by “the hand of the Lord.” It was God and His power that executed the judgment. And note: the judgment was judicious, a just judgment. It was blindness for blindness; darkness for darkness. The false prophet had blinded himself to the truth all his life, choosing to walk in darkness instead of the light. (He was a Jew, possessing the privilege of the Scriptures.) And not only this...

- he had deliberately chosen to become a prophet of false doctrine.
- he had now been confronted with the claims of Christ and had shut his eyes to the truth.

Being stricken blind and having to be led about by others would silence his claim to be a minister of light. It would also be a sign to him that he must repent or be condemned to an eternal hell of darkness without the presence of the living and true God.

Thought 1. The judgment is a picture of the blindness and darkness of all religions, philosophies, sciences, and sorceries apart from Christ. If God is not at the center of the system of thought, the system at best is peppered with erroneous teaching.

“But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is that darkness!” (Mt.6:23).

“And the light shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not” (Jn.1:5).

“And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil” (Jn.3:19).

“In whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them” (2 Cor.4:4).

“Having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart” (Eph.4:18).

DEEPER STUDY # 4

(13:9) Paul—Saul—The name “Saul” was his Jewish name; the name “Paul” his Roman or Gentile name. Paul was born in Tarsus as a free man, a Roman citizen from birth. He was probably given both names as a baby. Why the switch of names now? Up to this time, Paul had been ministering primarily to the Jews, and while among them it was only natural to use his Jewish name, Saul. But now a significant thing happened. The Spirit of God moved upon Paul, not Barnabas, to rebuke Elymas, the false prophet. Paul’s ministry to the Gentile world was being launched at this very moment. He was standing in the court of a Roman proconsul (governor), not in a Jewish synagogue, and the Spirit of God was leading him to proclaim the gospel to a Gentile who needed Christ. From this point on he would become known as Paul, the great minister of the Gentiles. Paul would henceforth be carrying the gospel to the Gentiles who so desperately needed Jesus Christ and His salvation.

5 (13:12) Conversion: there is the conversion of the proconsul. Note why the proconsul believed: he was “astonished,” stricken, quickened by the “doctrine of the Lord.” It was not the judgment upon the false prophet that astonished him, although such judgment was bound to affect him, but it was the message of salvation in Christ.

Note: much is made over the fact that his being baptized was not mentioned as it was with Cornelius. The idea in the verse is that his belief was genuine and he did become a follower of Jesus. If not, what is the point of mentioning his belief? In fact, what is the point of sharing the event?

“And said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven” (Mt.18:3).

“But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not: and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren” (Lk.22:32).

“Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord” (Acts 3:19).

“Brethren, if any of you do err from the truth, and one convert him; let him know, that he which converteth the sinner from the error of his way shall save a soul from death, and shall hide a multitude of sins” (Jas.5:19-20).

6 (13:13) John Mark: there was desertion. Why did John Mark leave Paul and Barnabas? Several reasons have been suggested. Perhaps he was jealous. Barnabas was Mark’s uncle, and Barnabas was turning the leadership reins over to Paul. Mark could have been opposed to the mission to the Gentiles, or he could have been so overshadowed by Paul that it was unbearable. Perhaps he felt the original commission was intended only for the island of Cyprus. Or he could have simply been homesick.

However, Paul’s attitude seemed to indicate that Mark just did not have the stamina. He could begin things but could not finish them (see DEEPER STUDY # 4—Acts 12:25). He feared and shrank from the dangerous and hard trip up the rocky mountain pass to Antioch of Pisidia. The pass was infested with thieves and the terrain was a barren, rocky, forsaken place subjected to flash floods. (See 2 Cor.11:26 for some of the threats that probably refer to this journey. See note—Acts 12:25 for Mark redeeming himself.) The point is this: every servant of the Lord experiences some disciples deserting the ministry of the Lord. They are just unwilling to pay the price of discipleship (Lk.9:23).

“And he said unto them, Take nothing for your journey, neither staves, nor scrip, neither bread, neither money; neither have two coats apiece” (Lk.9:3).

“And Jesus said unto him, No man, having put his hand to the plough and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God” (Lk.9:62).

“No servant can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon” (Lk.16:13).

“That we henceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive” (Eph.4:14).

“Be not carried about with divers and strange doctrines: for it is a good thing that the heart be established with grace; not with meats, which have not profited them that have been occupied therein” (Heb.13:9).

“But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering: for he that wavereth is like wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed” (Jas.1:6).

“A double minded man is unstable in all his ways” (Jas.1:8).

DEEPER STUDY # 5

(13:13) Pamphylia: was a country on the south coast of Asia Minor (Turkey), bordered by Cilicia on the East, Lycia on the west, and walled in by the Taurus mountains on the north. (See Map—Introduction to Acts.) The country was really nothing more than a long narrow strip of isolated coastline, stretching about eighty miles long and only twenty-five miles inland. It was a major haven for pirates, and it was safe. In fact the citizens of Pamphylia were mainly a mixture of Greeks and barbarian pirates. Only the hardest souls could survive in its harsh climate. Note: from the very first, the gospel was being carried into one of the most difficult situations.

DEEPER STUDY # 6

(13:13) Perga: was the major city of Pamphylia. (See Map—Introduction to Acts.) It was located about twelve miles inland from the coastal port of Attalia. Attalia was a Greek colony, but Perga was somewhat left alone. It was a low-lying land, known for its marshes and disease carrying insects. The mosquito in particular must have infested the area because malaria was a common disease among its citizens. The city was also known for its worship of Artemis, or Diana, the Asian nature goddess. She was known as the “queen of Perga.” Of course, the worship of nature led to all forms of immoral behavior and debauchery. Keep in mind that the population was primarily Greek colonists and barbarian pirates seeking refuge. A person can just imagine the wicked nature of the city.

DEEPER STUDY # 7

(13:13) Paul: note there is no mention of preaching in Perga. But Acts 14:25 says that Paul “preached the word in Perga” on his return trip. This seems to show that the city was not evangelized until the return journey of Acts 14. Why is there no mention of Paul preaching in Perga in this verse? Why does the Scripture seem to be saying that Paul struck out at once for Antioch of Pisidia? Why the apparent spur of the moment decision? Were the men upset over Mark’s departure? Paul became very sick when he first arrived in Galatia (Gal.4:13-14). Perga was a low-lying area characterized by marshes, a hostile climate, and disease carrying insects. Is this where Paul became sick with his “thorn in the flesh” (a fever that was occasionally to strike him throughout life), and he had to seek the healing altitude of the mountains? The answer is unknown.

DIVISION VI

THE FIRST GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO CYPRUS AND GALATIA, 13:1-14:28

C. Antioch of Pisidia, the Main City of South Galatia (Part I): The Preaching of Paul, 13:14-41

(13:14-41) Introduction: this is the only full length message of Paul in Scripture. It gives a panoramic view of history, of God's glorious plan for man.

1. Paul and Barnabas entered Antioch of Pisidia (v.14-16).
2. God has been working throughout all history: He suffered and bore with the ways of Israel (and of the world) (v.17-22).
3. God has consummated history: He has given the world a Savior, Jesus (v.23-41).

1 (13:14-16) Missions—Evangelism: Paul and Barnabas entered Antioch of Pisidia. The facts are stated very simply.

1. The two ministers entered the synagogue on the Sabbath (Saturday). This was the method of evangelism adopted by Paul (see -DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 13:46-47 for more discussion). Paul knew something: the faithful among the Jews and the God-fearing Gentiles would be there. He and Barnabas would have a ready-made audience, so they grasped the opportunity.

Thought 1. Note how deeply Paul and Barnabas were committed to their call and mission. They were consumed with making Christ known and with meeting the desperate needs of men for life. They existed for this very purpose and for this purpose alone. Note the scene: they entered a city and grasped the opportunity that was available to share Christ.

Thought 2. The method of evangelism must always be to go where people are.

2. As strangers, they were invited to speak. This was the common practice of synagogues, to invite visitors to share a word of exhortation if they wished. Remember: Paul was a rabbi, so an invitation to speak would naturally be extended to him. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2, Synagogue—Mt.4:23.)

3. Paul took the lead, addressing the Jews and the Gentiles who feared God. The people sitting before Paul would be the Jews who were faithful to their Old Testament Scriptures and the Gentiles who...

- had become sick of the immoral and wicked society and religion of their day.
- had seen some truth in the Jewish Scriptures and worship of one God.

Thought 1. Note: since Paul had been in Paphos, the capital of the island Cyprus, he had been taking the lead instead of Barnabas. He would continue to be the leader, the apostle to the Gentiles. Just imagine the character of Barnabas, the strength and humility of his love and trust in the Lord. When he saw the Lord moving Paul ahead in leadership, Barnabas willingly encouraged the move and fully supported Paul in his ministry. What a rebuke to so many who allow jealousy and envy to enter their hearts against others who are moved ahead. We must serve where God has placed us, serve in love, supporting and pushing others ahead. (Cp. Ph.2:3-4.)

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(13:14) Antioch of Pisidia or Pisidian Antioch: the city is called Antioch of Pisidia to distinguish it from Antioch of Syria, the home base of Paul and Barnabas. (See Introductory Notes, Special Features—Galatians for more discussion. Also see Maps—Introduction to Acts.)

- ⇒ The city sat on a high plain about 3600 feet above sea level. It was a cultural and commercial center, by far the most important city of Galatia (modern day Turkey).
- ⇒ The city was a city of Asia Minor founded around 300 B.C. by Seleucus Nicator, the founder of the Seleucid empire, named after his father Antiochus.
- ⇒ The city was made a free city by Rome in 25 B.C. and made a part of the rough province of Galatia.
- ⇒ The city was made the military center of the district by Rome to control the surrounding wild tribes of native people.
- ⇒ the purpose of business and culture.

⇒ The city was a great commercial city, the most important trade city in Galatia. The major commercial route between the west and Ephesus and the Cilician cities (Syria) ran right through Antioch.

A church was established in Antioch of Pisidia, but with great difficulty. Many of the Gentiles received the Word of God, but the Jews rejected Christ, stirring up influential women in particular to arouse the city officials against Paul and Barnabas. The two servants of God were forced to leave the city under attack. (See outline and notes—Acts 13:42-52.) The strict Jews, the vicious Judaizers from Antioch of Pisidia and later Iconium, opposed Paul so strongly that they began following and arousing the people throughout Galatia against him. They even led people to attack and stone him (Acts 14:19). But Paul and Barnabas remained faithful and many were reached for Christ. Churches were established and a strong witness was firmly rooted throughout Galatia (cp. Acts 14:21-22). Note: the church...

- was founded by Paul on his first missionary journey (Acts 13:14f).
- was revisited by Paul on his return journey to root them more deeply in the Lord (Acts 14:21-22).
- was apparently visited by Paul on his second and third missionary journeys (Acts 16:6; 18:23).
- was one of the churches to whom Paul wrote The Book of Galatians.

2 (13:17-22) Israel, History of—God, Plan—History, Overall View: God has been working throughout all history. He suffered and bore with the ways of Israel and of the world (cp. v.18). The message preached by Stephen just about covers the same points Paul proclaimed. It is helpful to look at Stephen's message for development of Paul's points (see outline and notes—Acts 7:1-53). Note how Paul's emphasis was God Himself...

- God's working with man throughout all of history
- God's working with man through the nation of Israel

The thrust of Paul's message (v.18) was that God had suffered and put up with the behavior of man from the very beginning. The words "suffered he their manners" (etropophoresen) mean...

- that God has suffered and put up with man's behavior
- that God has borne and nourished man along just as a loving and caring father (cp. Dt.1:31)

Note the emphasis again: it is upon God Himself and how He has borne and suffered with man all through history.

1. God chose Israel (see outline and note—Acts 7:2-8 for discussion).
2. God delivered Israel. They had stayed in Egypt too long, becoming complacent and worldly, perfectly satisfied with the pleasures of Egypt. In fact, they stayed so long that an evil Pharaoh arose who enslaved them. But God loved and cared and delivered them (Ex.6:1, 6. See outline and notes—Acts 7:17-29.)
3. God put up and suffered with Israel through the wilderness. God gave Israel glorious provision, the pillar of cloud by day and of fire by night (Ex.13:21-22) and manna for food (Ex.16:15, 33-35). Yet they grumbled, murmured, and rebelled against Him. But still He "suffered" and put up with them, nourishing them right along (Dt.1:31. See outline and notes—Acts 7:30-41.)
4. God led Israel to conquer Canaan. He constantly protected them, leading and guiding them to victory after victory despite their lack of trust and constant disobedience (Dt.17:1; 20:17. Cp. Num.13:26-33 for an example of Israel's distrust in taking the land. Cp. Acts 7:5-6 for God's promise that He would give the land to Israel.)
5. God gave Israel judges. Once the land was conquered, Israel slipped into complacency, selfishness, and sin, forgetting God and His call. Nations marched against Israel. But despite Israel's sin, God heard the cry of the faithful few and raised up deliverers called judges (see The Book of Judges).
6. God gave Israel a man who was not only a judge, but the first of the great prophets, Samuel (cp. 1 Sam.7:6, 15-17; 1 Sam.3:20; Acts 3:24; 13:20). Yet Israel was dissatisfied with God's choice and leadership. They looked at the world and desired what the world had—a king.
7. God gave Israel a king of their own choosing, a man named Saul. Saul was everything that men would choose, a very physical man who stood head and shoulders above everyone else (1 Sam.9:1-2, 16; 10:17-25).
8. God raised up a special king of His own choosing. Man's (Israel's) choice failed: Saul mismanaged God's will and the government that God wanted established. God removed him and set His own choice upon the throne, a man named David. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2—Acts 13:22-23 for discussion.)

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(13:22-23) David—Jesus Christ, Davidic Heir: God is the One who "raised up" David to be King of Israel (1 Sam.16:12-13). Note several points.

1. God "found David." The picture is that of God seeking a man to fill the gap. God sought throughout Israel for a man who would obey and fulfill His will (Ps.89:20).
2. The man needed was a man who had a heart set on God and His will alone: "a man after God's own heart," a man who would seek to fulfill all God's will (1 Sam.13:14; Ps.40:8; Is.44:28).
3. The choice of God was divine. Note:
  - ⇒ The divine choice: God provides the man.
  - ⇒ The divine heart: a man after God's "own heart."
  - ⇒ The divine behavior or obedience: a man who will fulfill "all God's will."

All of this, of course, points toward Christ. David was a type of Christ. God "gave testimony," that is, God made a covenant (v.22) and promised David that He would send a Savior to Israel and the world, a Savior that would come through his seed (v.23. See notes—Lk.3:24-31; note and DEEPER STUDY # 3—Jn.1:45; DEEPER STUDY # 4—1:49. Cp. Ro.1:3.) It was the seed of God's King, the promised Savior, that Paul began to proclaim.

Thought 1. Note how God is still the One who is working and suffering and bearing with man, reaching out to save and deliver all who will be saved.

3 (13:23-41) Jesus Christ, Savior—History, Pivotal Point: God has consummated history. He has given the Messiah to the world—given the Savior Jesus Christ. Note that Paul...

- had reached the point toward which he had been moving.
- had reached the consummation of history.
- had reached the point when God sent the Savior Jesus Christ into the world.

Paul launched right into his major thrust: the Savior is Jesus. The name Jesus is significant to the Jews. It means Savior, God will save. The Hebrew form is Joshua (yasha), which means Jehovah is salvation; He is the Savior. The idea is that of deliverance, of being saved from some terrible disaster that leads to perishing (cp. Jn.3:16; Ro.8:3; Gal.1:4; Heb.2:14-18; 7:25).

From this point on the sermon Peter preached on the day of Pentecost should be read. Paul's points are about the same as Peter's (see outline and notes—Acts 2:14-24; 2:25-36). Paul's message about Jesus Christ includes seven points.

1. The Savior was proclaimed by a forerunner, John the Baptist (v.24-25). The world was not caught off guard. God prepared the world for the coming of the Savior (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Gal.4:4). He sent John the Baptist, the forerunner, to proclaim...

- the baptism of repentance (Mk. 1:4).

“Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost” (Acts 2:38).

“Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord” (Acts 3:19).

“Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee” (Acts 8:22).

“And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men every where to repent” (Acts 17:30).

- the coming of the Savior, of Him whose shoes John was not worthy to loose (Mt.3:11; Mk.1:7; Jn.1:19f).

“Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven” (Mt.18:4).

“Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up” (Jas.4:10).

“For thus saith the high and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity, whose name is Holy; I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones” (Is.57:15).

2. The Savior is “the word of salvation” being proclaimed to you (v.26). Salvation means deliverance from both the power and penalty of sin, death, and judgment. Paul declared that Jesus is “the word of salvation.” He Himself is the salvation of man, the salvation which God sent to man (cp. v.23).

- a. Jesus is the One whom “God raised from the dead” (v.30-33).

“For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; and that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the scriptures” (1 Cor.15:3-4).

- b. Jesus is God's Son, the One begotten of God (v.33).

“For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life” (Jn.3:16).

- c. Jesus is the “Holy One” who did not suffer corruption (v.35, 37).

“And declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead” (Ro.1:4).

“But if the Spirit of him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwell in you, he that raised up Christ from the dead shall also quicken your mortal bodies by His Spirit that dwelleth in you” (Ro.8:11; cp. 1 Cor.15:12-19).

- d. Through Jesus is “the forgiveness of sins” (v.38).

“In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace” (Eph.1:7).

- e. By Jesus “all that believe are justified from all things” (v.39).

“Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ” (Ro.5:1).

“And such were some of you: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God” (1 Cor.6:11).

3. The Savior was rejected and crucified (v.27-28). The outline above with the following notes covers this point adequately (see outlines and DEEPER STUDY # 2,3—Acts 2:23; DEEPER STUDY # 1—3:13; note—3:13-15).

4. The Savior was raised from the dead by God (v.31-37). (See outline and DEEPER STUDY # 4—Acts 2:24 for discussion.)

- a. There was the proof of eyewitnesses and of close associates who could not be deceived or mistaken (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 1:3 for discussion).
- b. There was the purpose of Jesus' resurrection, the glad tidings of resurrection and incorruption for believers. God's promise has been fulfilled (v.32-37). Believers shall be raised from the dead just as Christ was.

“But God will redeem my soul from the power of the grave: for he shall receive me” (Ps.49:15).

“Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live” (Jn.5:25; cp. Jn.6:40).

“Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live” (Jn.11:25).

“And have hope toward God, which they themselves also allow, that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and the unjust” (Acts 24:15).

“Knowing that he which raised up the Lord Jesus shall raise up us also by Jesus, and shall present us with you” (2 Cor.4:14).

“For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first” (1 Th.4:16).

5. The Savior forgives sins (v.38). The only Person who can forgive sins...
  - is He who died for sins in order to gain the right to forgive (Jn.1:29).
  - is He who arose and is now living.
  - is He who is living for the purpose of forgiving sins.

“Him hath God exalted with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, for to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sins” (Acts 5:31).

“Be it known unto you therefore, men and brethren, that through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins” (Acts 13:38).

“In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace” (Eph.1:7).

“If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness” (1 Jn.1:9).

(See DEEPER STUDY # 4, Forgiveness—Mt.26:28 for discussion.)

6. The Savior justifies all who believe, justifies apart from the law (see DEEPER STUDY # 1,2—Ro.4:22).

“Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ” (Ro.5:1).

“And such were some of you: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God” (1 Cor.6:11).

“Even as Abraham believed God, and it was accounted to him for righteousness” (Gal.3:6).

7. The Savior brings judgment upon men. Since He has come, men must beware lest what the prophet declared come upon them (Hab.1:5).
  - ⇒ They can be “despisers” (kataphronetai): to look down upon; think lightly of; act against.
  - ⇒ They can wonder and perish: the idea is that a man can perish wondering if Jesus is truly the Savior and if the Word preached is true (v.38-39). (See DEEPER STUDY # 2, Perish—Jn.3:16.)

DEEPER STUDY # 3

(13:32-37) Jesus Christ, Resurrection of: the purpose of Jesus' resurrection is incorruption, that is, He arose to make it possible for man to escape the corruption of death. Long before Jesus ever came, God foretold that He would send the Savior into the world and that the Savior would not be allowed to see corruption. Paul declared:

“God hath fulfilled the same [promises] unto us...in that he hath raised up Jesus again” (Acts 13:33).

Paul covers three prophecies in particular.

1. “Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee” (v.33; Ps.2:7; cp. Heb.1:5; 5:5). The resurrection of Christ is proof that Jesus is the Son of God (Ro.1:4).

2. “I will give you the sure mercies of David” (v.34; Is.55:3). The sure mercies of David refer to the promises and the everlasting covenant given to David (see note, Lk.3:24-31 for a discussion of the Davidic promises). Paul was declaring that the resurrection of Christ fulfilled and sealed these promises.

3. “Thou shalt not suffer thine Holy One to see corruption” (v.35; Ps.16:10). Paul was saying that David died and was buried and left in the grave. He saw corruption (v.36). Therefore, the prophecy could not be referring to him. But there was a Person whom God raised from the dead: Jesus Christ. He saw no corruption; therefore, the prophecy refers to Him. He is the Son of God (v.33), the Holy One (v.35), the Savior (v.23). (See outline and notes—Acts 2:25-28; 2:29-31 for discussion. See DEEPER STUDY # 4, Corruption—Acts 13:32-37.)

DEEPER STUDY # 4

(13:32-37) Corruption: to decay, deteriorate, perish. In no place does Christ promise a new body to the unbeliever, to the unsaved and lost. A person's body and flesh can be destroyed forever. The unsaved die without any hope of ever receiving a new and glorified body that lives forever. (This is a fact seldom pointed out.)

DIVISION VI

THE FIRST GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO CYPRUS AND GALATIA, 13:1-14:28

D. Antioch of Pisidia, the Main City of South Galatia (Part II): Various Responses to the Gospel, 13:42-52

(13:42-52) Introduction: this passage is an eye-opener, very informative in picturing how people respond to the gospel. It shows exactly what the witnessing believer can expect as he proclaims Jesus to a lost and needful world.

1. The people's response to the gospel (v.42-45).
2. The preacher's response to the people (v.46-52).

1 (13:42-45) Gospel, Response to: the people's response to the gospel was fourfold.

1. Some non-religionists (Gentiles) desired to hear more. The non-religionists were Gentiles. They were heathen men and women who had become sick of the immoralities and injustices of their society. Their empty religions had left them empty. In their hunger for something more they were attracted by the Jew's morality and worship of One Supreme Being. Therefore, they sometimes attended Jewish services. However, they understood little about the Scripture. This is the point of what happened now. They had understood little about what Paul had preached. Their childhood had not included the teaching of Scripture.

- ⇒ Their friends and neighbors knew little if anything about the Scripture.
- ⇒ Their religions had taught little of the truth about God.
- ⇒ Their environment and society were anything but godly.

But their hearts had been touched by the gospel. The Holy Spirit was working within them, stirring them to crave...

- forgiveness of sins (v.38).
- justification from all things (v.39).

Note the word "besought" (parekaloun). It is continuous action: the heathen continued to beseech. The picture is that they begged and begged Paul to share more about the forgiveness of sins which is in Jesus.

Thought 1. Note two significant points.

- 1) There are many who are ignorant of the Scriptures, who know little about what we preach. They did not have Christian parents, nor have they ever been exposed to genuine Christian believers. They just have never had the opportunity and exposure to the gospel that some of us have had. Because of this, their hearts are fertile and soft to the gospel. When they hear the truth, the Holy Spirit is able to convict and convert them much more easily than He is a gospel-hardened heart.

- 2) This is great encouragement to the witnessing believer. It should challenge every one of us to get to the task, for the world is full of such people. They may be steeped in religion, but they are ignorant of the truth about Christ. They are soft and ready to respond, to hear more and more of the glorious truth that Jesus saves, forgives, and justifies (v.23, 38, 39).

“Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shall be filled. Blessed are ye that weep now: for ye shall laugh” (Lk.6:21).

“My soul thirsteth for God, for the living God: when shall I come and appear before God?” (Ps.42:2).

“I opened my mouth, and panted: for I longed for thy commandments” (Ps.119:131).

“They that sow in tears shall reap in joy. He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him” (Ps.126:5-6).

“I stretch forth my hands unto thee: my soul thirsteth after thee, as a thirsty land” (Ps.143:6).

“With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee early: for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness” (Is.26:9).

“O God, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and thirsty land, where no water is” (Ps.63:1).

2. Some who were hungry for God desired to hear more immediately. These were mainly proselytes, heathen Gentiles who had become so impressed with Judaism they had actually become converts to the Jewish religion. Many of these and many of the Jews (genuine religionists) followed Paul and Barnabas from the preaching service. They could not wait until next week. They were too convicted, too drawn to Christ and the hope of forgiveness. They had to hear more right then.

- a. Note the word “many.” The worship service was filled with many who were familiar with the Scripture. They had sought God by studying the Scripture. Therefore when Paul preached the truth of Christ, the Holy Spirit took their hearts and drew them to Christ. Their hearts which hungered to know the truth hungered to hear more, to hear that Jesus is the Savior...
- the One whom God raised from the dead (v.30).
  - the One who fulfilled prophecy (v.33-37).
  - the One who forgives sins (v.38).
  - the One who justifies from all things (v.39).

Thought 1. The truth of Christ and the Scripture should always be the message preached and the lesson taught. God has naturally put within man a hunger to know the truth, a craving to know Him. Within every congregation there are those who have sought God and have read and studied the Scripture day and night. They have also sought Him in their churches and synagogues and temples. Their hearts are eagerly ready to receive the truth of Christ and the Scripture. But note what is needed: a believer who lives and preaches and teaches as Paul, a believer...

- who prays much.
  - who studies the Scripture much.
  - who diligently seeks to live righteously.
  - who preaches Jesus the Savior.
- b. Note that Paul persuaded them to “continue in the grace of God.” While Paul preached, they apparently made a decision to trust Christ for forgiveness and justification (v.38-39). They were seeing for the first time how Jesus was the fulfillment of God’s promises. They were hungering to know more and more. They could not wait until the next week. They followed the preacher then and there. They wanted to learn more immediately. The picture is that of urgency, hunger, and thirst after the truth. Paul strongly exhorted them to continue in “the grace of God.”

“Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled” (Mt.5:6).

“But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you” (Mt.6:33).

“O God, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and thirsty land, where no water is” (Ps.63:1).

“My soul breaketh for the longing that it hath unto thy judgments at all times” (Ps.119:20).

“I opened my mouth, and panted: for I longed for thy commandments” (Ps.119:131).

3. Some who never attended came to hear the Word of God (v.44). They came to the worship service on the next Sabbath. What brought them?

- ⇒ The natural hunger within the human heart for God and the truth.

- ⇒ The news being spread abroad about the preaching of the truth.
- ⇒ The faithful work and witnessing of Paul and Barnabas and the other Christian believers throughout the week.

Thought 1. How many churches would be filled with people desiring to hear the Word of God...

- if we preached the truth like we should?
- if we were witnessing and leading our people to witness as we should?

“For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard” (Acts 4:20).

“We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak” (2 Cor.4:13).

“But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear” (1 Pt.3:15).

“Come and hear, all ye that fear God, and I will declare what he hath done for my soul” (Ps.66:16).

“I will mention the lovingkindnesses of the Lord, and the praises of the Lord, according to all that the Lord hath bestowed on us, and the great goodness toward the house of Israel, which he hath bestowed on them according to his mercies, and according to the multitude of his lovingkindnesses” (Is.63:7).

“But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and I could not stay” (Jer.20:9).

“Then they that feared the Lord spake often one to another: and the Lord hearkened, and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the Lord, and that thought upon his name” (Mal.3:16).

4. Some rejected and opposed. There were three primary reasons for their rejection and opposition (v.45).
  - a. They were filled with envy toward the people who were coming. The place was filling up with people...
    - who were different.
    - who were thought unclean and dirty.
    - who were sinful and unjust and derelict.
    - who were outsiders to the regular congregation.
    - who usually did not attend or show interest in attending and therefore did not support the permanent priests and their ministry.
  - b. They were filled with envy toward the preachers, Paul and Barnabas. The preachers were preaching a message that was meeting the needs of the people and the people were flocking to them. The regular priests and teachers (rabbis) were jealous of their success, for the people did not support their ministries like they were supporting Paul and Barnabas.
  - c. They opposed “those things,” both what Paul was doing and teaching. They opposed both his ministry and the doctrine and teachings of Paul. They actually spoke against the truth, contradicting what Scripture proclaimed. They even blasphemed the name of Christ.

Thought 1. Note the seriousness of opposition against the message of Scripture and the ministry of the Lord’s servants.

Thought 2. The servant of the Lord can expect rejection and opposition, just as he can expect openness and reception to the gospel.

“Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you; if they have kept my saying, they will keep yours also” (Jn.15:20).

“Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution” (2 Tim.3:12).

“O Lord my God, in thee do I put my trust: save me from all them that persecute me, and deliver me” (Ps.7:1).

“All thy commandments are faithful: they persecute me wrongfully; help thou me” (Ps.119:86).

2 (13:46-52) Ministers, Response to Persecutors: the preachers’ response to the people was fourfold.

1. The preachers rejected the rejecters of the gospel. It is important to note why the rejecters were rejected.
  - a. The Word of God had been clearly proclaimed to them. They had received every opportunity.
  - b. They had pushed the Word away. They vigorously and strongly reacted; they rejected the Word.
  - c. They judged themselves unworthy of everlasting life. It was not God who counted them unworthy. God actually counted them worthy. He had the gospel taken to them. It was they who condemned themselves; they who brought judgment upon themselves.

“He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God” (Jn.3:18).

Thought 1. The disciples of the Lord were instructed to turn away from rejecters (Lk.10:10-16). The fields are white unto harvest. There are too many who will open their hearts and homes to the Lord to waste precious time on those who are so evil that they contradict and blaspheme Christ.

“Then said he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were not worthy” (Mt.22:8).

“But into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you not, go your ways out into the streets of the same, and say, even the very dust of your city, which cleaveth on us, we do wipe off against you: notwithstanding be ye sure of this, that the kingdom of God is come nigh unto you. But I say unto you, that it shall be more tolerable in that day for Sodom, than for that city. Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the mighty works had been done in Tyre and Sidon, which have been done in you, they had a great while ago repented, sitting in sackcloth and ashes. But it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the judgment, than for you. And thou, Capernaum, which are exalted to heaven, shalt be thrust down to hell. He that heareth you heareth me; and he that despiseth you despiseth me; and he that despiseth me despiseth him that sent me” (Lk.10:10-16).

“And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved. But he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God” (Jn.3:19-21).

“Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first have been spoken to you: but seeing ye put it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, lo, we turn to the Gentiles” (Acts 13:46).

2. The preachers turned to willing hearers. Note several significant points.

- a. Christ is the One whom God has set, fixed, and purposed to be...
  - “the light of the Gentiles.”
  - “the salvation unto the ends of the earth” (Is.49:6; cp. Lk.2:32).

Christ is to be proclaimed to the Gentiles, to the whole world. Therefore Paul declared loudly that he and Barnabas were obeying God’s will; they were turning to those who would readily receive the glorious gospel of salvation.

- b. The Gentiles (the heathen) rejoiced and glorified the Word of the Lord. Note the reason: salvation—they were to be saved. They experienced the thrill of being saved, of coming to know Jesus personally and receiving the assurance of life eternal.
- c. Some were ordained to eternal life and believed (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Predestination—Acts 13:48 for discussion).
- d. Both the preachers and the new believers were faithful to God’s calling. They published (diephereto), that is, spread abroad and proclaimed the Word throughout all the region. The new believers became faithful witnesses immediately.

3. The preachers were persecuted and forcibly expelled from the city and surrounding areas. Religious leaders stirred up some prominent women (honorable) who were also very devout or religious. Apparently the women were either wives of city officials or prominent in society and business. In either case, they had enough influence to turn the city officials against Paul and Barnabas. The preachers were persecuted rather severely. Paul referred to this later when writing Timothy.

“But thou hast fully known my...persecutions, afflictions, which came unto me at Antioch, at Iconium, at Lystra; what persecutions I endured: but out of them all the Lord delivered me” (2 Tim.3:10-11).

4. The preachers dramatically turned away from the rejecters. This was exactly what Christ had said to do when people rejected the gospel. It was a symbol that people were unworthy of the gospel because of their obstinacy, their continued rejection and hostility to the gospel.

“And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, when ye depart out of that house or city, shake off the dust of your feet” (Mt.10:14).

“And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear you, when ye depart thence, shake off the dust under your feet for a testimony against them. Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Sodom and Gomorrha in the day of judgment, than for that city” (Mk.6:11).

“And whosoever will not receive you, when ye go out of that city, shake off the very dust from your feet for a testimony against them” (Lk.9:5).

5. The preachers were sustained by God, filled with joy and with the Holy Spirit—despite terrible rejection and persecution.

“And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever” (2 Tim.4:18).

“For the LORD loveth judgment, and forsaketh not his saints; they are preserved for ever” (Ps.37:28).

“The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms” (Dt.33:27).

“Fear thou not; for I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness” (Is.41:10).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(13:46-47) Paul, Method: this is a very significant passage. Paul emphatically stated that he was turning from the Jews to the Gentiles in this particular city. The significance is this: Paul’s method of evangelism was to do exactly what Christ said, to go the Jews first, then to the Gentiles.

“It was necessary that the word of God should first have been spoken to you” (Acts 13:46).

“He [Paul] reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath...Paul was pressed in the spirit and testified to the Jews that Jesus was Christ. And when they opposed themselves, and blasphemed, he shook his raiment, and said unto them, Your blood be upon your own heads; I am clean: from henceforth I will go unto the Gentiles” (Acts 18:4-6).

“For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek” (Ro.1:16).

“Tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil, of the Jew first, and also of the Gentile; but glory, honour, and peace, to every man that worketh good, to the Jew first, and also to the Gentile” (Ro.2:9-10).

Note Peter’s words:

“Ye are the children of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with our fathers, saying unto Abraham, And in thy seed shall all the kindreds of the earth be blessed. Unto you first God, having raised up his Son Jesus, sent him to bless you, in turning away every one of you from his iniquities” (Acts 3:25-26).

This is the reason Paul adopted the method of going into the synagogues first. (See note—Acts 13:14-16 for more discussion.) Christ had commanded that the Jews be the first to hear the gospel. If they rejected, Paul then turned away and preached to the public or world at large, that is, to the Gentiles.

Note: Paul said the Lord commanded the preachers to adopt this method (v.47).

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(13:48) Predestination: this verse shows both God’s part and man’s part in salvation. Jesus Himself had said:

“No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him” (Jn.6:44).

The man who comes to Christ is a person who has been drawn by God, a person who has experienced the divine initiative. A man does not act alone and come to Christ by his own effort and energy, not by his own works, whether mental (thought or will, Jn.1:13) or labor (good deeds, Eph.2:8-9). A man is a dead spirit; therefore, he can do nothing spiritually just as a dead body can do nothing physically. The natural man prefers self and sin; therefore, if a man with a dead spirit is to come to Christ, he has to be acted upon and drawn by God. Both God and man have a part in salvation.

⇒ God’s part is to draw men.

⇒ Man’s part is to believe.

(See note, Draw—Jn.6:44-46 for more discussion.)

DIVISION VI

THE FIRST GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO CYPRUS AND GALATIA, 13:1-14:28

E. Iconium, the Ancient City: God's Pattern for Preaching and Witnessing, 14:1-7

(14:1-7) Introduction: this passage is striking. It gives a clear picture of God's pattern for preaching, for bearing witness to His name. The pattern is seen in what Paul and Barnabas experienced. Their experience shows exactly what God expects of His servant and exactly what the servant can expect as he preaches the glorious gospel of the Lord Jesus.

1. Step 1: a unified spirit and effort (v.1).
2. Step 2: following the God-given method (v.1).
3. Step 3: experiencing results (v.1).
4. Step 4: the grumbling opposition (v.2).
5. Step 5: the boldness and perseverance of the preacher (v.3).
6. Step 6: the divided opinions (v.4-5).
7. Step 7: the turning away to willing hearers (v.6-7).

1 (14:1) Preaching: the first step in preaching is a unified spirit and effort. There is emphasis upon the word "together" and the fact that the men were ministering and serving together. Remember: the Spirit of God had moved Paul ahead of Barnabas in the ministry (see DEEPER STUDY # 4—Acts 13:9; 13:14-16). This speaks volumes on the spirit of Barnabas. He must have been a most unusual man, a strong servant of the Lord. Several factors gave the men a unified spirit.

- ⇒ They served the same Lord.
- ⇒ They were called to the same field.
- ⇒ They bore the same message.
- ⇒ They loved each other as brothers in the Lord. Therefore, they wished to encourage and support each other as they fulfilled God's call.
- ⇒ They knew that love was the primary witness to the world.

"A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another" (Jn.13:34-35).

Thought 1. The same factors are true of all ministers of the Lord; therefore, the same unified spirit should be true of all. All God's servants should be serving together, working together in His Spirit and for His cause.

"Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment" (1 Cor.1:10).

"Endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace" (Eph.4:3).

"Only let your conversation be as it becometh the gospel of Christ: that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may hear of your affairs, that ye stand fast in one spirit, with one mind striving together for the faith of the gospel" (Ph.1:27).

"Finally, be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another; love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous" (1 Pt.3:8).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(14:1) Iconium: this city was located in the Roman district of Galatia or modern day Turkey. (See Map—Introduction to Acts.) The city was about ninety miles east of Antioch Pisidia. It was called the Damascus of Asia Minor. The city actually claimed to be older than Damascus. It lay along the edge of the great central plain of Asia Minor, one of the most fertile plains imaginable. It was known for its plum and apricot orchards. The major road between the west and Syria passed through the city; therefore, it was a commercial center. A person can just picture Paul and Barnabas. They had suffered persecution and been kicked out of Antioch of Pisidia, but as they walked along the great Roman road in the midst of the beautiful fertile plain and lush orchards, they were rejoicing in the Lord and in the fullness of the Holy Spirit. They were victorious in Jesus their Lord. They marched forward to claim Iconium for Him.

A large church was established in Iconium; a “great multitude” of both Jews and Greeks believed (Acts 14:1). But again, the church was founded in the midst of unbelief and persecution (Acts 14:2, 4-6). Despite the opposition, Paul and Barnabas were able to remain in the city for a long time, rooting and establishing the believers in the faith. Eventually however, their lives were threatened and they were forced to flee (Acts 14:6). Some of the same Jewish persecutors hounded Paul, following and arousing the people throughout Galatia against him (Acts 14:19). Paul mentioned the terrible persecutions which he suffered at Antioch, Iconium, and Lystra (2 Tim.3:11). The Iconium church...

- was founded on Paul’s first missionary journey (Acts 14:1-6).
- was revisited by Paul on his return trip (Acts 14:21-22).
- was visited by Paul and Silas and Timothy on Paul’s second missionary journey (Acts 16:1-5). He also visited the city on his third missionary journey (Acts 18:23).
- was one of the churches to whom Paul wrote the Book of Galatians.

2 (14:1) Witnessing—Preaching: the second step in preaching is following the God-given method. The method of God is twofold.

1. First, the servant of God is to speak. He is to speak by bearing witness and preaching the Lord Jesus Christ, the salvation that is in Him. God’s method is verbal witness (see outline and notes—Acts 13:14-41).

“It pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe” (1 Cor.1:21).

“And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand” (Mt.10:7).

“What I tell you in darkness, that speak ye in light: and what ye hear in the ear, that preach ye upon the housetops” (Mt.10:27).

“Go ye therefore and teach all nations” (Mt.28:19).

“And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mk.16:15).

“Jesus said unto him, Let the dead bury their dead: but go thou and preach the kingdom of God” (Lk.9:60).

“Go, stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life” (Acts 5:20).

“Preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all longsuffering and doctrine” (2 Tim.4:2).

2. Second, the servant of God is to go where the people are. Note that the first place Paul and Barnabas went was the synagogue (see notes—Acts 13:14-16; DEEPER STUDY # 1—13:46-47 for discussion). This was their method...

- to go first where the people were, where a ready-made audience was.
- to go first where the religionists (Jews) were, the people who were already familiar with the Scripture.

“Go ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage” (Mt.22:9).

“In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink” (Jn.7:37).

“Go, stand and speak in the temple [church] to the people all the words of this life” (Acts 5:20).

3 (14:1) Preaching: the third step in preaching is the experience of results. Both Jews and Greeks were reached, and the idea is that they were reached immediately. Note: there was no partiality or favoritism shown to anyone. The evangelistic thrust was to all people throughout the whole city. All were put on the same level; there was no class or social distinction between any. Paul and Barnabas reached out to all who would listen to the glorious gospel. They were obedient to their Lord; therefore, God was able to honor His word and many were reached—many believed the salvation that is in Christ Jesus.

“For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him” (Ro.10:12).

“Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth. For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus; who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time” (1 Tim.2:4-6).

“And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely” (Rev.22:17).

“Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else” (Is.45:22).

4 (14:2) Persecution: the fourth step in preaching is the grumbling opposition. Note three things.

1. It was the unbelieving religionists (Jews) who stirred up the trouble over the preaching of the gospel. The word “unbelieving” (apeithesantes) means disobedient. The idea is they were unwilling to believe or be persuaded. They deliberately withheld belief, disobeying God.

“And this is his commandment, That we should believe on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, as he gave us commandment” (1 Jn.3:23).

2. The picture is this: they went about stirring up the city against the Lord’s servants. The religionists made a deliberate attempt to arouse the people. The religionists...

- spread rumors
- made false suggestions
- poisoned opinions
- made insinuations

They tried to embitter and provoke the people and the officials of the city to get rid of the preachers.

3. They opposed the preachers for three reasons (see note, pt.4—Acts 13:42-45 for discussion).

5 (14:3) Boldness—Perseverance—Minister: the fifth step in preaching is the boldness and perseverance of the preacher. Note three things.

1. Despite the persecution and evil feelings against their preaching, they continued ministering and witnessing for Christ. They did not...

- withdraw or flee.
- soften their preaching.
- compromise their message.
- seek to please the officials.

But note the source of their boldness. They spoke boldly “in the Lord”; that is, they relied upon and trusted Him and His strength to bear them along, looking after their welfare.

Thought 1. Paul and Barnabas must have spent much time in prayer, for boldness is given in answer to prayer.

“And now, Lord, behold their threatenings: and grant unto thy servants, that with all boldness they may speak thy word” (Acts 4:29).

“And ye shall be hated of all men for my name’s sake: but he that endureth to the end shall be saved” (Mt.10:22).

“For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind. Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God” (2 Tim.1:7-8).

2. The preachers were instruments in the hands of the Lord. Note the words, “gave testimony [witness] to the word of his grace.” In the Greek the subject of this sentence is Christ, not the preachers. Christ is the One who gave witness, who did the preaching through the lives and voices of the two ministers. They were so surrendered, so yielded to the Lord, He was able to use them to the fullest as His servants to bear witness to the Word of His grace.

“And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified” (Acts 20:32).

Thought 1. Imagine a person being so surrendered, so yielded to Christ that He is able to speak and minister through that person. This is exactly what He expects and demands. We are to be His instruments, His servants, through whom He can live and bear testimony to Himself.

“And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me” (Lk.9:23).

“I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God” (Ro.12:1-2).

“What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own? For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God’s” (1 Cor.6:19-20).

“I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me” (Gal.2:20).

“For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God” (Col.3:3).

3. Note the words, “The Lord...granted signs and wonders to be done by their hands” (v.3). Again, the signs and wonders are worked by Christ through the hands of the preachers. He is the Source, the Power, the Minister, the Healer. They were only the instruments and servants in the hands of the Lord. (God grant that we be so yielded to Him!)

“And now, Lord, behold their threatenings: and grant unto thy servants, that with all boldness they may speak thy word, by stretching forth thine hand to heal; and that signs and wonders may be done by the name of thy holy child Jesus” (Acts 4:29-30).

“God also bearing them witness, both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, and gifts of the Holy Ghost, according to his own will” (Heb.2:4).

6 (14:4-5) Ministers—Persecution: the sixth step in preaching was the divided opinions about the preachers. Preachers can expect divided opinions. Some people will support them; others will not support them. No preacher has ever been acceptable to all persons. Note three points.

1. The greatest impact that a preacher can make is to be so surrendered to Christ that he becomes the very instrument and voice of Christ. The whole city had heard about Christ and they were affected by the message and ministry.

Thought 1. What a challenge the dedication of Paul is to preachers...

- his dedication in the study of the Word.

“Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth” (2 Tim.2:15).

- his dedication in prayer.

“Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints” (Eph.6:18. See outline and notes—Eph.3:14-21 for what Paul prayed.)

- his dedication in preaching.

“Preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all longsuffering and doctrine...But watch thou in all things, endure afflictions, do the work of an evangelist, make full proof of thy ministry” (2 Tim.4:2, 5).

- his dedication in making disciples.

“And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also” (2 Tim.2:2).

It was because of Paul’s commitment to all the duties of a minister that God was able to use him so dynamically.

2. The people were divided over the preachers. They formed cliques and factions over the Lord’s servants. Some favored; some opposed.

Thought 1. Christ came to bring division to the earth.

“For from henceforth there shall be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three. The father shall be divided against the son, and the son against the father; the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother; the mother in law against her daughter in law, and the daughter in law against her mother in law” (Lk.12:52-53).

3. The opposition won out and actually made an assault (horme) upon the two men. The word means an impulse, a rush upon. Apparently a mob gathered and headed for the men, either rushing into their residence or rushing about trying to find them. Note: both Gentiles and Jews were involved, that is, both non-religionists and religionists, both those who were unfamiliar and those who were familiar with the Scriptures.

Thought 1. There are two facts the Lord’s servant must never forget.

- 1) Again, Christ came to bring division to the earth.

“For from henceforth there shall be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three. The father shall be divided against the son, and the son against the father; the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother; the mother in law against her daughter in law, and the daughter in law against her mother in law” (Lk.12:52-53).

- 2) The servant of the Lord shall suffer persecution.

“Remember the word that I said unto you, the servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you; if they have kept my saying, they will keep yours also” (Jn.15:20).

“These things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be offended. They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service. And these things will they do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor me. But these things will they do unto you, that when the time shall come, ye may remember that I told you of them. And these things I said not unto you at the beginning, because I was with you” (Jn.16:1-4).

“For unto you it is given in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake” (Ph.1:29).

“Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution” (2 Tim.3:12).

“Marvel not, my brethren, if the world hate you” (1 Jn.3:13).

“Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you” (1 Pt.4:12).

7 (14:6-7) Ministers: the seventh step in preaching is turning away to willing hearers. Very simply, the preachers discovered that the opposition was about to attack them. More harm to the gospel would be done if they remained, and the important thing was for the gospel to go forward in its saving power. So the preachers turned away and fled for the sake of the gospel. They turned to willing hearers and continued to preach the gospel.

Thought 1. Note two stirring lessons.

- 1) When facing opposition, the Lord’s servant must carefully weigh what is best for the spread of the gospel. Sometimes taking a stand will bring greater results; sometimes leaving will bring greater results. The servant must always do what is best for the gospel.
- 2) The Lord’s servant is not to become defeated and give up the ministry because of opposition. He must always go forth, looking for new fields in which to preach Christ.

“Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name’s sake” (Mt.24:9).

“Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will show you things to come” (Jn.16:13).

DIVISION VI

THE FIRST GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO CYPRUS AND GALATIA, 13:1-14:28

F. Lystra, the Frontier Town: Preaching to a Heathen and Superstitious People, 14:8-20

(14:8-20) Introduction: there are people all over the world who know very little about God and Scripture, people in both industrialized and primitive societies. They are the lost of the world, people gripped with heathen and superstitious beliefs and philosophies, people without God and without hope for the future. How can they be reached? What is the message that needs to be preached to a heathen and superstitious people?

1. Paul preached on the city streets (v.8).
2. The nature of a superstitious people, the nature that necessitates a special message (v.8-13).
3. The message to a superstitious people (v.14-18).
4. The minister needed to reach superstitious people (v.19-20).

1 (14:8) Preaching—Witnessing: Paul preached on the city streets. There is no mention of a synagogue in Lystra, but there were at least a few Jewish citizens living in the city. Scripture mentions Timothy's mother who was apparently Jewish (see note and DEEPER STUDY # 1, Timothy—Acts 16:1-3).

If the Jews had been meeting together, Paul would have joined them and begun his preaching ministry among them. But as is seen in this passage, he was apparently preaching in the streets and sharing Christ with whoever would stop and listen. The statement "there sat a certain man at Lystra" seems to point also to open air preaching. The man was most likely a beggar.

Note another fact: Paul and Barnabas had to struggle against a language barrier. They did not know the Lyconian dialect, and only the educated Jew would know Greek and Aramaic, Paul's natural languages (v.11). Note the immense dedication of these men. Despite a language barrier they struggled to make Christ known to everyone.

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(14:8) Lystra: this was was a frontier town, much less civilized than most of the other areas evangelized by Paul. (See Map—Introduction to Acts.) The city was twenty some miles southwest of Iconium. Just when the city was founded is not known. However, around 6 B.C. Augustus established a Roman colony there as a frontier defense. Very little Grecian culture and influence ever took hold, and very few people of culture were ever attracted to the city. In a real sense, it was a city built as a military outpost, a city constructed out in the wilds solely for protection. The great military highway of Rome, the "Imperial Road," ran through the city; and because of this and the large population necessary to maintain the military colony, the city had a thriving economy. This of course meant a capable core of aristocratic businessmen. Paul and Barnabas had a very successful ministry in Lystra, establishing a solid church that continued on in the Lord. The church...

- was founded on Paul's first missionary journey (Acts 14:8f).
- was visited by Paul on all three missionary journeys, and he apparently visited it a fourth time (Acts 14:6f; 14:21; 16:1; 18:23).
- was the home church of Timothy (either Lystra or Derbe) (Acts 16:1).
- was one of the churches of Galatia to which Paul wrote the Book of Galatians.

2 (14:8-13) Superstition—Humanism: the nature of superstitious people, the nature that necessitated a special message. What happened gives clear insight into the nature of superstitious people.

1. Superstitious people are open to faith in Christ. This is pictured in the cripple sitting on the side of the street. It seems the cripple was one of the few who took time to stop and listen to Paul. This is concluded from the loud shout of Paul, which was apparently to attract an audience.

- a. The man was utterly helpless; both feet were crippled and had been from birth. He had never walked.
- b. The man listened to the gospel. He "heard Paul speak."
- c. The man's heart was opened to the gospel; therefore...
  - he was affected.
  - he sensed that the message was from heaven.
  - he experienced the stirring of faith in Christ.
- d. The man actually "had faith to be made whole" (echei pistin tou sothenai). The words "made whole" mean both to be cured and to be saved. Paul, of course, was preaching the gospel, and the man's heart was stirred to believe and trust Jesus to save him. Paul noticed this; he saw a faith rise up in the man, a faith strong enough to heal him as well as save his soul. All the man needed was to be pointed toward such power in the name of Jesus.
- e. Paul shouted out with a loud voice (megalei), "stand upright on thy feet." And the man leaped up and walked. Note: Paul did not reach out for the man; he did not touch the man at all. He simply spoke to the man. The power was of Christ and the faith was within the man. The man had to exercise his faith, believe in and really trust in the Lord Jesus to be healed just as he did to be saved.

The point is this. The heathen and superstitious people of the world can and are to be reached for Christ. Their hearts are just like the hearts of the civilized and educated of the world. Their hearts...

- are of the same nature.
- are in just as much need.
- are just as open and subject to the truth.

Thought 1. Note: there are even heathen and superstitious people in civilized and industrialized societies. Any person ignorant of the Scripture and the truth about Christ...

- is a heathen: a pagan, an irreligious person, a foreigner toward God.

"Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellowcitizens with the saints, and of the household of God" (Eph.2:19).

- is trusting his fate and destiny to some form of superstitious and false belief.

2. Superstitious people are prone to deify men. Practically everyone within earshot of Paul would naturally run to see what was causing such a commotion. It appears the incident took place in a very busy section of the city. The picture is that of a large crowd running together, stunned, shocked, and excited. They began to run all about the city shouting the belief that "the gods" had come to visit them in the form of men. Of course with so much excitement the whole city soon heard about the miracle and became involved in making gods out of the two miracle workers. The point is this: there is a tendency within the world to deify both mankind and certain people, to hold to the superstitious and heathen belief of humanism...

- to deify mankind, worshipping the ability and feats of men whether in science and technology or in magic and sorcery. There is a tendency to worship and believe man is the one who determines his own fate and destiny.
- to deify certain persons, esteeming them too highly, putting them upon pedestals and places of honor because of their apparent power, achievements, knowledge, fame, or ability to read the future.

Such deification of men is idolatry, superstition, and heathenism. Worshipping self is the tendency of man's heart, whether a heathen in the wilds of a jungle or a heathen in the most industrialized society.

"For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse: because that, when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful; but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened. Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools, and changed the glory of the uncorruptible God into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds, and four-footed beasts, and creeping things" (Ro.1:20-23).

"And art confident that thou thyself art a guide of the blind, a light of them which are in darkness" (Ro.2:19).

"Because thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked" (Rev.3:17).

"I am clean without transgression, I am innocent; neither is there iniquity in me" (Job 33:9).

"For thou hast said in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God: I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation, in the sides of the north: in the place of control I will ascend above the heights of the clouds; I will be like the most High" (Is.14:13-14).

"For thou hast trusted in thy wickedness: thou hast said, None seeth me. Thy wisdom and thy knowledge, it hath perverted thee; and thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none else beside me" (Is.47:10).

"Son of man, say unto the prince of Tyrus, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Because thine heart is lifted up, and thou hast said, I am a God, I sit in the seat of God, in the midst of the seas; yet thou art a man, and not God, though thou set thine heart as the heart of God" (Ezk.28:2).

"Though thou exalt thyself as the eagle, and though thou set thy nest among the stars, thence will I bring thee down, saith the LORD" (Obad.4).

3. Superstitious people believe myths. The people of Lystra identified Paul and Barnabas with two man-made gods, Zeus (Jupiter) and Hermes (Mercury). The widely held myth ran like this.

Long ago the two gods disguised themselves as men and came to earth seeking people who would welcome and entertain them. Their search was futile. Everyone rejected them except two peasants, Philemon and his wife, Baucis. Disappointed and angered, the two gods destroyed the whole population, but they rewarded and honored Philemon and his wife.

Note how quickly the people of Lystra associated the two gods with Paul and Barnabas. The two gods were thought to have visited the earth in the region of Lystra. Seeing such a phenomenal event—a crippled man healed by the shout of Paul, a crippled who had never walked—stirred the imagination of the Lystrians. They made the connection between the two preachers and the mythical gods.

They were not about to make the same mistake again. They wanted the favor and blessings of the gods, not their judgment and condemnation. They called Barnabas Zeus, the king of the gods; and they called Paul Hermes, the god of speech and the messenger of the other gods. The points to note are these:

- a. The heathen believed in myths: they held to false ideas about reality and truth, the origin and power of the world, the nature and presence of God.
- b. The heathen mistook man's ability and power for God's ability and power: they were immediately ready to pay homage to man in honor of his achievements.

4. Superstitious people offer the wrong sacrifice. The people were wildly excited. They rushed to pay honor to the two god-like men. They were ready and even prepared to make sacrifice to the two. Why? To secure their favor and blessings.

Note the idea of sacrifice or of giving oneself in order to secure favor and blessings is not just an idea of religion. It is a fact of all reality, a fact that holds true for everything man does. A man has to sacrifice and give himself to any endeavor if he wishes to reap the benefits of the endeavor (its favor and blessings). Whatever the project, a man's being, time, energy and effort are required if he wishes to have the blessings. The point is threefold.

- a. The heathen, the lost of the world, sacrifice and give themselves to men of power, ability, wealth and achievement. They give themselves to such men, treating them as god-like men. They do it to secure the favor and blessings of their power, ability, wealth, and achievements.
- b. The humanists, the heathen who follow the basic myth of the world, sacrifice and give themselves to men of science and industry, ability and achievement. Why? To secure the favor and blessings wrought by their god-like hands.
- c. There are only two genuine sacrifices.

⇒ There is the sacrifice of Jesus Christ for man, the giving of His life in order to save man.

"For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life" (Jn.3:16).

"But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us" (Ro.5:8).

"Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness: by whose stripes ye were healed" (1 Pt.2:24).

⇒ There is the sacrifice of man to Jesus Christ, the giving of his life in order to be acceptable to God.

"And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me" (Lk.9:23).

"I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God" (Ro.12:1-2).

3 (14:14-18) Preaching—Message: the message to superstitious people. Note what Paul and Barnabas did. The people had been shouting and carrying on their activities of worship in their native tongue. Many of the people would be bilingual, speaking both their own language and Greek. But Paul and Barnabas could not understand what they were saying in their native Lyconian tongue (v.11). When they finally grasped what was happening, they courageously protested against such heathen behavior. They ran into the midst of the crowd tearing their clothes. The tearing of one's clothes was a sign of holy indignation against sin. By this symbol the people would know immediately the two men were protesting.

⇒ Paul cried out (v.14), declaring exactly what a heathen people needed to hear. The people were ignorant of the Scriptures, so Paul had to approach them on the basis of "the living god, which made heaven and earth" (v.15). Paul declared five points.

1. Men are only men: "We also are men of like passions with you." The word "passions" (homoioipatheis) means the same nature. It means that all men have the same...

- heart (Ps.33:15)
- feelings
- infirmities
- temptations (1 Cor.10-13)
- sufferings
- aging and dying bodies (Heb.9:27)

a. Note who is declaring this: one of the greatest men who ever lived...

- the man chosen by God Himself to be the witness and pattern for all men.

"Howbeit for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me first Jesus Christ might show forth all longsuffering, for a pattern to them which should hereafter believe on him to life everlasting" (1 Tim.1:16).

- the man who could say to all other men, "Be followers of me" (1 Cor.4:16; 7:7; 11:1; Ph.3:17; 4:9; 2 Th.3:7; 1 Tim.1:16; 2 Tim.1:13).
- the man who was the epitomy, the supreme example, of human religious achievement.

"Though I might also have confidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, I more....concerning zeal, persecuting the church; touching the righteousness which is in the law, blameless" ((Ph.3:4, 6).

"And profited in the Jews' religion above many my equals in mine own nation, being more exceedingly zealous of the traditions of my fathers" (Gal.1:14).

This man, Paul, rejected the honor and homage of men; he declared that all men are mere men. No man is a god.

b. Note that Paul knew who he was: he was not a god-like man; he was a messenger who preached to men. He was a preacher declaring that men should repent and turn from their vanities, turn from the empty things and man-made idols of this earth.

"Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord" (Acts 3:19).

"Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee" (Acts 8:22).

"And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men every where to repent" (Acts 17:30).

"Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon" (Is.55:7).

"But if the wicked will turn from all his sins that he hath committed, and keep all my statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, he shall not die" (Ezk.18:21).

2. There is only one living God. The people were worshipping one of two things:

- ⇒ man-made idols which were lifeless and totally helpless in saving men from sin, death, and judgment.
- ⇒ man himself who was aging, suffering, and dying, totally unable to save himself from sin, death, and judgment, much less save anyone else.

There is only one living God, only one God who possesses the very...

- energy of life
- power of life
- force of life
- essence of life
- principle of life
- quality of life

Therefore, the living God is the only God who is to be worshipped.

"Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power" (2 Th.1:9).

"It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God" (Heb.10:31).

3. The living God is the creator of all things, of “heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all things that are therein.” He is the Creator of man, everything about man, and everything surrounding man. Therefore, the God of creation is the only God who is to be worshipped.

“Thou, even thou, art LORD alone; thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all; and the host of heaven worshippeth thee” (Neh.9:6).

“But ask now the beasts, and they shall teach thee; and the fowls of the air, and they shall tell thee: or speak to the earth, and it shall teach thee: and the fishes of the sea shall declare unto thee. Who knoweth not in all these that the hand of the LORD hath wrought this? In whose hand is the soul of every living thing, and the breath of all mankind” (Job 12:7-10).

“The earth is the LORD’S, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein” (Ps.24:1).

“By the word of the LORD were the heavens made; and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth” (Ps.33:6).

“Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the LORD, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? there is no searching of his understanding” (Is.40:28).

“I have made the earth, and created man upon it: I, even my hands, have stretched out the heavens, and all their host have I commanded” (Is.45:12).

“Heaven is my throne, and earth is my footstool: what house will ye build me? saith the Lord: or what is the place of my rest? Hath not my hand made all these things?” (Acts 7:49-50).

4. God permitted men to walk as they willed. Note the point: Paul was explaining why people worship idols, that is, “these vanities,” the empty things of earth. Men worship the empty things of earth because God has given man a free will. Man is allowed to walk in his “own ways.” God “suffers,” that is, allows, puts up with man, longs and aches for man to turn to Him as the only living and true God, the only God who deserves the honor and worship of men.

Note: the Book of Romans explains what happened to man (cp. Ro.1:18-32).

5. God has always given witness to Himself. No man has ever been left without witness. There is the evidence...

- of good in the world (ontology, being).
- of rain.
- of fruitful seasons.
- of food.
- of gladness (joy).

The laws of nature do not just happen. They were given and are controlled by the only living and true God. He is behind all the good that happens to man.

“Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning” (Jas.1:17).

“Nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy” (1 Tim.6:17).

Note: Scripture teaches that man has always had at least two witnesses of God...

- the outward witness of natural revelation stressed by Paul in this passage.

“Because that which may be known of God is manifest in them; for God hath showed it unto them. For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse” (Ro.1:19-20).

- the inner witness of both conscience and thoughts.

“For when the Gentiles, which have not the law, do by nature the things contained in the law, these, having not the law, are a law unto themselves; which show the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts the mean while accusing or else excusing one another” (Ro.2:14-15).

“They have moved me to jealousy with that which is not God; they have provoked me to anger with their vanities” (Dt.32:21).

“Are there any among the vanities of the Gentiles that can cause rain? or can the heavens give showers? art not thou he, O LORD our God? therefore we will wait upon thee: for thou hast made all these things” (Jer.14:22).

“Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the God-head is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and man’s device [imagination, thoughts]. And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men every where to repent: because he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead” (Acts 17:29-31).

4 (14:19-20) Minister: the minister needed to reach a heathen and superstitious people. Note three qualifications needed by the minister who seeks to reach the heathen of the world:

1. The minister must be willing to suffer persecution, even martyrdom. Antioch of Pisidia and Iconium were the two cities that had threatened and expelled Paul and Barnabas. Some Jews were so incensed over the preachers—over their ministry and message—they were now hounding and dogging their steps, arousing the people against them.

Note how fickle, changeable, and impulsive the heathen were, and how carnal and evil the religionists (Jews) were. Yet the minister was willing to suffer in order to help them, the very ones who opposed him. The people stoned Paul and left him for dead.

2. The minister must be faithful in witnessing and in bearing disciples. Note some disciples were standing around Paul as he lay upon the ground, assumed to be dead! (See DEEPER STUDY # 3—Acts 14:20 for list of the disciples.)

3. The minister must trust God’s delivering power. Note: Paul “rose up” (anastas). This points toward a miraculous recovery by God.

Thought 1. Paul had given everything to God; therefore, he was God’s. His life was in the hands of God to do as He willed.

“There hath no temptation [trial] taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it” (1 Cor.10:13).

“And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever” (2 Tim.4:18).

“So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me” (Heb.13:6).

“The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations [trials], and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished” (2 Pt.2:9).

“But I am poor and needy; yet the Lord thinketh upon me: thou art my help and my deliverer; make no tarrying, O my God” (Ps.40:17).

“For thou hast delivered my soul from death, mine eyes from tears, and my feet from falling” (Ps.116:8).

“Fear thou not; for I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness” (Is.41:10).

“And even to your old age I am he; and even to hoar [gray] hairs will I carry you: I have made, and I will bear; even I will carry, and will deliver you” (Is.46:4).

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(14:19) Stoning, Death by: this was a cruel and inhuman means of death. Stones large enough to crush a man’s bones and head, yet small enough to be thrown with force, were used. It was a slow, painful death, unless a vital spot in the head was immediately hit. After the stoning, the body was dragged by the heels outside the city gates and left for the savage dogs and beasts that ran wild through the wilderness.

DEEPER STUDY # 3

(14:20) Discipleship: Paul bore a faithful witness in Lystra and disciplined the believers. The believers of Lystra who are mentioned in Scripture are the lame man (Acts 14:8-10), Timothy (1 Tim.1:2; 2 Tim.3:11), Lois and Eunice, Timothy’s mother and grandmother (2 Tim.1:5).

DIVISION VI

THE FIRST GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO CYPRUS AND GALATIA, 13:1-14:28

G. Derbe and the Return Journey: How Churches are Made Strong, 14:21-28

(14:21-28) Introduction: there are two great ministries in the church—that of preaching the gospel and making disciples, and that of strengthening the church. There is terrible neglect in both evangelism and strengthening the church. Just how are churches made strong? This is the lesson of this passage. However, believers must undertake and give themselves to both tasks.

1. Task 1: preach the gospel and make disciples (v.21).
2. Task 2: be committed to strengthening the church (v.21-27).
3. Conclusion: reviving one's own spirit (v.28).

(14:19-28) Another Outline: The Great Call and Price Paid by the Missionary.

1. The great cost of ministry: Personal danger (v.19).
2. The great courage required to preach (v.20).
  - a. Paul reentered the city.
  - b. Paul travelled to Derbe.
3. The great price of travelling about (v.21).
4. The great task of confirming the believers (v.21b).
  - a. By exhortation—to continue in the faith (v.22).
  - b. By warning of hardships (v.22).
  - c. By organizing the church (v.23).
  - d. By praying and fasting (v.23b).
  - e. By committing the church to the Lord (v.23c).
5. The great mission of preaching—consistently (v.24-25).
6. The great responsibility to the local church (v.26).
7. The great demand of giving all honor to God (v.27-28).

(14:22-28) Another Outline: The Great Call and Price Paid by the Missionary.

1. Exhortation—to continue in the faith (v.22).
2. Warning—must suffer hardship (v.22).
3. Organization (v.23).
4. Praying and fasting (v.23).
5. Trusting—committing the church to the Lord (v.23).
6. Visiting about—where the believers are (v.24).
7. Preaching the Word—consistently (v.25).
8. Acknowledging and reporting to the mother church (v.26-27).
9. Giving all glory to God (v.28).
10. Reviving one's own spirit (v.28).

1 (14:21) Preaching—Making Disciples: the first great task was to preach the gospel and make disciples. Note two challenging facts.

1. The ministry of the preachers (Paul and Barnabas) was to preach the gospel (euaggelismenoi). And that is exactly what they did.

“When they were at Salamis, they preached the Word of God” (Acts 13:5).

“Paul stood up [in Antioch of Pisidia], and beckoning with his hand said, ‘Men of Israel, and ye that fear God, give audience...’ “ (Acts 13:16).

“We declare unto you glad tidings” (Acts 13:32).

“Be it known unto you therefore, men and brethren, that through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins: and by him all that believe are justified from all things” (Acts 13:38-39).

“Paul and Barnabas...speaking to them [of Antioch] persuaded them to continue in the grace of God” (Acts 13:43).

“And the next sabbath day came almost the whole city [Antioch] together to *hear the word of God...*and the word of the Lord was published throughout all the region” (Acts 13:44, 49).

“In Iconium...they went...into the synagogue...and so spoke” (Acts 14:1).

“They speaking boldly in the Lord” (Acts 14:3).

“Lystra and Derbe...there they preached the gospel” (Acts 14:6-7).

“And when they had preached the gospel to that city [Derbe]” (Acts 14:21).

2. The ministry of the preachers (Paul and Barnabas) was to make disciples. The words “had taught many” (matheteusantes hikanous) mean had made many disciples. They not only preached, they had taken the believers and made disciples out of them (see note, Discipleship—Acts 13:5-6 for discussion).

“Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching [making disciples] them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world” (Mt.28:19-20).

“And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers; for the perfecting [equipping] of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ” (Eph.4:11-12).

“And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also” (2 Tim.2:2).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(14:21) Derbe: the city was the furthestmost frontier city of the Roman empire in Galatia. (See Map—Introduction to Acts.) It was about thirty miles from Lystra and lay on the major road running back through the country into Lystra. The Derbe church...

- was founded by Paul on his first missionary journey (Acts 14:20-21).
- was visited by Paul on his second missionary journey (Acts 16:1) and probably on his third (Acts 18:23).

Gaius, who travelled with Paul to Jerusalem, was a leader in the church at Derbe (Acts 20:4).

2 (14:21-27) Minister, Duty—Church—Salvation: the second great task was to strengthen the churches. A real commitment was needed to accomplish this task. The reasons are clear.

First, the excitement of a new work, that is, of large numbers of receptive people and conversions was over. The remaining people in a community are just not as receptive as the first persons who made decisions. And the longer a church waits to reach out, the more difficult it is to reach people with the gospel. The work of day by day ministry in the same community and preaching to and teaching the same people are just not as exciting as reaching out into new areas and establishing new works.

Second, strengthening and making true disciples of believers are much more difficult than leading them to Christ. Leading people to Christ involves a one-time decision, but strengthening and making disciples involves...

- many decisions
- many days and months and sometimes years
- the same people over and over
- varied personalities
- different levels of spiritual growth
- different levels of commitment
- different emotions
- different ages
- opposing thoughts and ideas

Note Paul’s commitment. In Derbe he was only 160 miles from his hometown, Tarsus. When he left Derbe, he could have continued on toward Tarsus by travelling over the mountain pass or the Cilician Gates. Remember: when he had first begun to preach, he had ministered in his hometown and throughout Syria for about eleven years. The pull to visit his home and the churches he had established there must have been strong. But the need lay with the churches he had more recently founded, and Paul belonged to the Lord. Therefore, he had to return to the churches just established and strengthen them. His return trip gives a clear picture of what is involved in strengthening churches.

1. There was confirming (episterizontes) which means strengthening, making firm, establishing. New converts and churches always stand in danger of...

- wavering
- being lured away
- returning to religious tradition
- slipping back
- not praying faithfully
- being tempted by wordly friends
- not studying the Scripture consistently
- not witnessing

2. There was exhortation (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Preaching, pt.3—Acts 11:19-30; DEEPER STUDY # 2—14:22 for discussion).

3. There was warning about persecution. The true believer passes through many trials and afflictions while entering into the Kingdom of God. (See outline and notes—Lk.21:12-19 for more discussion.)

- a. The believer will suffer persecution. He must be warned lest he become discouraged and fall away when persecution strikes.

“Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you; if they have kept my saying, they will keep yours also” (Jn.15:20).

“These things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be offended. They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that ye doeth God service. And these things will they do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor me. But these things have I told you, that when the time shall come, ye may remember that I told you of them. And these things I said not unto you at the beginning, because I was with you” (Jn.16:1-4).

“For unto you it is given in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake” (Ph.1:29).

“That no man should be moved by these afflictions: for yourselves know that we are appointed thereunto” (1 Th.3:3).

“Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution” (2 Tim.3:12).

“Marvel not, my brethren, if the world hate you” (1 Jn.3:13).

“Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you: but rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ’s sufferings; that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy” (1 Pt.4:12-13).

- b. The believer is given the most glorious assurance: he shall pass through the tribulation or trial. The tribulation will end. The believer will not be swallowed up by the persecution and cast into eternity lost and perishing. If the trial does not end on earth, God will take the believer on to heaven to live in His glorious presence forever.

“Notwithstanding the Lord stood with me, and strengthened me; that by me the preaching might be fully known, and that all the Gentiles might hear: and I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion. And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever” (2 Tim. 4:17-18).

“So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me” (Heb.13:6).

“And he said, My presence shall go with thee, and I will give thee rest” (Ex.33:14).

“But now thus saith the LORD that created thee, O Jacob, and he that formed thee, O Israel, Fear not: for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name; thou art mine. When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee” (Is.43:1-2).

4. There was the organizing of the church (see DEEPER STUDY # 3—Acts 14:23; also see note, DEEPER STUDY # 1, Elder—Tit.1:5-9 for discussion).

5. There was visiting all about and preaching the Word (v.24-25). No doubt believers had been reached throughout the whole district of Galatia. The first believers were bearing testimony with the travelling public as well as with their neighbors. The point to note is this: Paul and Barnabas were busy, as busy as they could be moving about and preaching the Word. They were just as busy in following up and strengthening the churches as they had been in establishing them.

“And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mk.16:15).

“The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord” (Lk.4:18-19).

“For I determined not to know any thing among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified. And I was with you in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling. And my speech and my preaching was not with enticing words of man’s wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power: that your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God” (1 Cor.2:2-5).

“For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of: for necessity is laid upon me; yea, woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel!” (1 Cor.9:16).

“For we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus the Lord; and ourselves your servants for Jesus’ sake” (2 Cor.4:5).

“Preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all longsuffering and doctrine” (2 Tim.4:2).

6. There was an acknowledging and reporting to the mother church (v.26-27). Note what was done when Paul and Barnabas returned to the mother church of Antioch.

- a. The church was called together for the most glorious missionary meeting imaginable, the very first missionary report ever given to a mother church.
- b. The two missionaries rehearsed and shared all that God had done with them.

Thought 1. This is a crucial point: ministers, preachers, and missionaries—all are to be mere instruments in the hand of God. (See note, pts.2, 3—Acts 14:3 for more discussion.)

“Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain: that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you” (Jn.15:16).

“But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel” (Acts 9:15).

- c. The door of faith was now opened to the Gentiles, that is, to the whole world.

Thought 1. This meant three very significant things.

- 1) The door of faith, faith in Christ, was being proclaimed as the presence of God (Jn.14:6; 1 Tim.2:5).
- 2) God was the One who had opened the door. He was the One who had quickened the gospel to their hearts and minds. No man could do that; only God could.
- 3) It was proven that every person can be saved, no matter who they are. And they can be saved by faith...
  - apart from law.
  - apart from ritual (circumcision).
  - apart from worldly speculations and myths.
  - apart from humanistic imagination.
  - apart from novel ideas.
  - apart from philosophy.

“For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved” (Ro.10:13).

“Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth. For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus” (1 Tim.2:4-5).

“For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men, teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world” (Tit.2:11-12).

“The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but is longsuffering to usward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance” (2 Pt.3:9).

DEEPER STUDY #2

(14:22) Faith, The: the term “continue in the faith” probably means more than just believing in Jesus. Paul was probably referring to the belief and doctrines of the Christian faith. We must remember that Paul most likely wrote out the basic beliefs for the churches he established. It is difficult to imagine him not leaving them with the written will of God. If pen and parchment were available, as they often were, he certainly would not have left such an important matter as the basic beliefs of Christianity dependent upon the frail memory of human minds. There is little question that he wrote out the doctrines for the Colosse church (Col.1:23) and that he refers to a creed or a set of doctrines when writing to Timothy (1 Tim.5:8). The term “the faith,” that is, teaching the basic beliefs and doctrines of God’s Word (Scripture), tells the minister his task: the minister is to exhort the church, exhort the believers, to continue, persevere, and be steadfast in the faith, in the basic beliefs of the faith.

“Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord” (1 Cor.15:58).

“Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage” (Gal.5:1).

DEEPER STUDY # 3

(14:23) Ordination (cheirotoneo): to appoint, to elect, to choose by stretching out the hand. The word is used to refer to both God and men's choosing others. Two examples are:

- ⇒ "witnesses chosen before of God" (Acts 10:41).
- ⇒ "the brother...who was chosen of the churches to travel with us" (2 Cor.8:18-19).

Now note that the seven deacons were first elected by the church and then appointed by the apostles (Acts 6:3-6). The apostles ordained or laid hands upon them.

The same plan was most likely followed by Paul and Barnabas in ordaining elders. (Cp. Tit.1:5.) However, it should always be remembered that the elder or minister was first chosen by the Holy Spirit (Acts 20:28; 13:2).

Note that ordaining elders or ministers involves three very significant steps.

1. Ordination involves the appointment itself. As just discussed, this involves being ordained or chosen by the Spirit of God, the church, and other ministers.

2. Ordination involves praying and fasting. Choosing and being chosen to be an elder or minister is a serious matter—so serious that prayer needs to be accompanied by fasting. Everything needs to be set aside so that the appointment of the minister may be concentrated upon. God's choice must be known, and only His choice must be ordained. The ministry must be protected and safeguarded from false teachers. (See note, Fasting—Mt.6:16-18 for more discussion.)

3. Ordination involves commending the minister to the Lord. The word means to entrust, to deposit, to commit into the Lord's keeping. The elder believes in the Lord Jesus, the sovereign Majesty of the universe. Therefore, if the church and other ministers have prayed and fasted and been led by the Lord in ordaining the minister, they can entrust the new minister into the keeping of the Lord's care. And they can be assured that the Lord will keep the new minister.

"Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall by any means hurt you" (Lk.10:19).

"Who art thou that judgest another man's servant? to his own master he standeth or falleth. Yea, he shall be holden up: for God is able to make him stand" (Ro.14:4).

"Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament" (2 Cor.3:6).

"And God is able to make all grace abound toward you; that ye, always having all sufficiency in all things, may abound to every good work" (2 Cor.9:8).

"Being confident of this very thing, that he which hath begun a good work in you will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ" (Ph.1:6).

"I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me" (Ph.4:13).

"And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who hath enabled me, for that he counted me faithful, putting me into the ministry" (1 Tim.1:12).

"Now unto him that is able to keep you from falling, and to present you faultless before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy, to the only wise God our Saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and ever" (Jude 24-25).

DEEPER STUDY # 4

(14:25) Attalia: a seaport of the province of Pamphylia. (See Map—Introduction to Acts.) Paul closed out his first missionary journey and sailed back home to Antioch from the city.

3 (14:28) Faithfulness: Paul and Barnabas spent a long time in Antioch reviving their spirits, and no doubt they were also ministering to the believers.

"He saith to him again the second time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my sheep" (Jn.21:16).

"As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith" (Gal.6:10).

DIVISION VII

THE GREAT JERUSALEM COUNCIL: PAUL'S MISSION CALLED INTO QUESTION, 15:1-35

A. The Problem Arises: Two Questions About Salvation, 15:1-5

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(15:1-35) Jerusalem Council: if this is the same council covered in Gal.2:1-10, then the men who opposed Paul included Peter (Gal.2:11; cp. Gal.2:2-10) and Barnabas (Gal.2:13). However, it must be noted that this passage says that Barnabas stood with Paul against the Judaizers. This is one of several reasons why some commentators hold that Paul's private meetings with the apostles took place during his famine or second visit to Jerusalem (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Gal.1:17-24. Cp. Gal.2:1.)

(15:1-5) Introduction: this is the story of the great Jerusalem council. It is called great because...

- all the apostles were involved in its discussion and decision.
- the council declared forever that a man is saved apart from ritual, saved by the grace of God through faith alone.

Two questions arose about salvation.

1. The basic question about salvation: Is a ritual or ceremony necessary to be saved? (v.1-3).
2. The enlarged question about salvation: Does a man have to accept the whole law before he can be saved? (v.4-5).

I (15:1-3) Salvation vs. Ritual: the basic question arising about salvation. Is a ritual or ceremony necessary to be saved? Note five significant points.

1. The dissenters from the Judean churches were a powerful force, so powerful that their argument and emphasis have continued down through the centuries. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Judaizers—Gal.2:4 for more discussion.) Note that the visitors from Jerusalem moved among the Antioch believers and taught their own ideas. The dissenters were...

- teachers and leaders.
- well-versed in the Scripture.
- some of the very first believers, considered mature.
- elder statesmen.
- esteemed highly.

Therefore, what they said was considered very important. The problem was this: if the dissenters were allowed to continue, the believers of Antioch were bound to become upset and confused. The result would have been explosive and devastating: the Antioch church would have been split and its ministry and witness made ineffective.

2. Scripture clearly declares what the dissension was; there can be no mistake about what was being said: "Except ye be circumcised [undergo this ritual]...ye cannot be saved." Note three critical facts.

- a. A person's eternal fate was at stake. The dissenters did not say you should undergo the ritual...
- to be obedient to Scripture
  - to please God
  - to please the church
  - to demonstrate your love
  - to identify with believers
  - to keep from being a stumbling block

The dissenters were saying believers must undergo the ritual and be circumcised to be saved. They were saying it was the ritual, the circumcision that saved them; a believer was just not saved unless he was ritualized. They were claiming salvation was...

- God's grace plus a ritual.
  - God's grace plus man's own hand.
  - God's grace plus man's own work.
  - a spiritual thing (God) plus a physical thing (circumcision).
- b. The issue was not whether a believer should be circumcised. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2, Circumcision—Acts 15:1; 10:1-33 for more discussion.) Paul never said that circumcision was wrong. He maintained that since Christ had come, circumcision was a personal matter and a matter of conscience. If a person wished to be circumcised, let him be. Down through the centuries a host of Gentile believers (even two thousand years after Christ) have been circumcised and not become Jews. The physical act of circumcision does not make a person a Jew any more than any other physical ritual makes a person a member of any other race. It is the nature and commitment of one's body, mind, and soul that makes a person a true member of a race or of anything else.
- Again, the issue was not whether a person should be circumcised or ritualized, but whether a ritual was necessary to be saved. The answer was critical, affecting all generations of believers. The answer would determine a man's primary relationship to Jesus Christ: Is a man's confrontation and saving experience to be focused upon Jesus Christ or upon Jesus Christ and something else?
- ⇒ Is a person's mind and attention to be upon Jesus alone, or upon Jesus and a ritual?
  - ⇒ Is a person's faith to be in Jesus alone, or in Jesus and a ritual?
  - ⇒ Is a person's profession to declare Jesus alone, or Jesus and a ritual?
  - ⇒ Is a person's life to bear testimony to Jesus alone, or to Jesus and a ritual?
  - ⇒ Is a person's witness to be Jesus alone, or Jesus and a ritual?

Does God save a person whose body, mind, and soul are focused upon His Son alone or upon Jesus and...

- some ritual?
- some ceremony?
- some act?
- some work?
- some human effort?
- some physical substance?

The answer should be clear to all who think and are honest and unselfish. God has only one Son who loves Him supremely, only one Son who has proven His love by obeying God supremely, even to the point of suffering for all the sins of the world. And God loves His dear Son supremely.

- ⇒ Could God add anything to the plan of salvation, add anything that would divert man's attention from His Son, especially in the very first moments of confrontation?
- ⇒ Could God want a man's mind to be upon anything other than His Son, to be upon rushing to experience some ritual instead of focusing his attention solely upon His dear Son?
- ⇒ Is it possible that something else is needed other than Jesus Himself?
- ⇒ Is there honestly some physical substance needed in addition to God's only Son?
- ⇒ Is there really a ritual, an ordinance, that has a heart that can reach out and save a man from death? Or, do people alone have hearts, and the Person of God alone have the heart of salvation?

This does not mean a person is not to be baptized or not to share in any other ritual or ordinance. A person who has his eyes upon Jesus Christ is focusing upon Jesus Christ, and that means he is immediately following Jesus through the very first act of the Christian life—being baptized. But in every instance, the man is saved and owes his salvation to the Lord Jesus Christ and to Him alone. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Baptism—Acts 2:38 for more discussion.)

- c. Paul and Barnabas argued time and again against this teaching, declaring that ritual (circumcision) is not necessary for salvation. Note the words, "no small dissension and disputation [questioning]." The arguments...
- were frequent and long.
  - involved the questioning and challenging of each other as well as dissension.
  - were unyielding, with neither side giving an inch.

The issue was bound to be critical to Paul or else he would not have gone to such limits in arguing the point. Paul's great commitment to the Lord would not allow him to waste time in useless argument (cp. 2 Tim.2:16, 23-26). This fact alone should speak to the hearts of any who stand on the other side.

3. There was the decision of the Antioch church to seek counsel from the Jerusalem church. The Antioch church had no doubt about its position. Note that the Antioch church was not seeking for the Jerusalem church to enlighten them on the doctrine of salvation. The church sent Paul and Barnabas to Jerusalem for three reasons.
- a. God told Paul to go: "I went up by revelation" (Gal.2:2). God willed a great church council (one that would include the earliest apostles)—a council that would issue a great verdict proclaiming the truth to every generation.
  - b. A declaration by the apostles would carry great weight and help tremendously in silencing those who would add a ritual to the requirements for salvation.
  - c. A declaration by the Jerusalem church would provide a great weapon to use in the struggle against "ritual salvation." The Jerusalem church was the ritual center, the home base of those preaching the error. Therefore, if the Jerusalem church would issue a strong verdict denying the necessity of ritual for salvation, the position of "salvation by grace" alone would be greatly strengthened.

“For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life” (Jn.3:16).

“Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life” (Jn.5:24).

“But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name” (Jn.20:31).

“Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the law is the knowledge of sin” (Ro.3:20).

“That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation” (Ro.10:9-10).

“Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified” (Gal.2:16).

“For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: not of works, lest any man should boast” (Eph.2:8-9).

“But after that the kindness and love of God our Saviour toward man appeared, not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost” (Tit.3:4-5).

4. There was the triumphant and glorious march of a great church, encouraging and loving God’s servants. Note the revealing words, “And being brought on their way by the church.” As Paul and Barnabas began their journey to Jerusalem, a great company from the Antioch church escorted them as a mark of great affection and honor. Despite the ever present opposition to Paul that seemed to be in practically every church, there were some believers who loved and respected him deeply.

“Sorrowing most of all for the words which he spake, that they should see his face no more. And they accompanied him unto the ship” (Acts 20:38).

“And when we had accomplished those days, we departed and went our way; and they all brought us on our way, with wives and children, till we were out of the city: and we kneeled down on the shore, and prayed” (Acts 21:5).

“Which have borne witness of thy charity before the church: whom if thou bring forward on their journey after a godly sort, thou shalt do well” (3 Jn.6. See note—Acts 28:15.)

5. The servants utilized every opportunity to preach. As Paul and Barnabas travelled toward Jerusalem, they proclaimed Christ to the believers where churches had been founded. They also proclaimed the great movement of God that had taken place among the Gentiles. Note the “great joy” of the Christian brothers.

⇒ The Phenician churches were founded by laymen over a decade before (cp. Acts 11:19).

⇒ The Samaritan churches had been founded by Philip and Peter and John (cp. Acts 8:5, 25).

“And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mt.16:15).

“For I determined not to know any thing among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified. And I was with you in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling. And my speech and my preaching was not with enticing words of man’s wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power: that your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God” (1 Cor.2:2-5).

“Preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all longsuffering and doctrine” (2 Tim.4:2).

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(15:1) Circumcision: before Christ, circumcision had been the physical sign that a man was a follower of the true God. It was the sign that a man believed the promises that God had made to Abraham and Israel (cp. Gen.17:10-14; Ro.4:11). God never intended circumcision to have any value other than being a sign. It was not meant to bring righteousness to any man—not even to Abraham (Ro.4:9-10). It was given only as a sign, a sign of the faith that a man already had in God’s promises. Righteousness was imputed to the man because he believed God’s promises; then the man was circumcised as a sign of his faith in God (Ro.4:11-12).

However, many abused God’s purpose for circumcision.

1. Some made circumcision a substitute for true righteousness. A man was thought to be safe and secure in the arms of God if he was circumcised. Believing God and loving men had little to do with being a child of God. Many forgot the circumcision of a pure heart and became Jews of the circumcision in name only. Circumcision became merely a hand-made, external, physical sign.

2. Some used circumcision as a way to divide and categorize people. A great wall of division was thrown up around the uncircumcised (cp. 1 Sam.17:26, 36; 2 Sam.1:20). Any man who was uncircumcised was thought to be cut off and far off, not only from those thought to be the people of God (the Jews and the circumcised), but from God Himself. An uncircumcised man was looked upon with bitter contempt. In the mind of the Jew, God was thought to love only Israel, despising and rejecting the Gentile nations.

3. God has done away with circumcision as a sign of righteousness since Christ has come (Gal.5:6; 6:15; Col.2:11). Righteousness is now of the heart and in the spirit, not in the letter of rules and regulations (cp. Ro.2:25-29; 4:8-12, 23-25). The truly righteous man is the man who is God's inwardly—the man whose spirit has been recreated into the very nature of God. God's very own righteous nature is implanted into the very nature of man when he is born again. A man born again by the Spirit of God is God's new creation (Jn.3:3f; 2 Cor.5:17; 1 Pt.1:20; 2 Pt.1:4).

2 (15:4-5) Salvation: the enlarged question arising about salvation. Does a man have to accept the whole law before he can be saved? Note three points:

1. Paul and his company were received and welcomed by the Jerusalem church, including the apostles and elders. They all seemed to be present; the council was a critical session. The word "received" (paredechthesan) has the idea of a formal meeting of the church. Paul was reporting to "the church...the apostles and elders" in a called meeting. Apparently there were two days of meetings (v.4, 6).

Note that Paul declared "all things that God had done." The saving of men "by grace through faith" was not his doing. God was the One who was accepting people through faith alone.

2. The Jerusalem dissenters were "of the sect of Pharisees which believed" (see DEEPER STUDY # 3, Pharisees—Acts 15:5; 23:8 for discussion).

3. The enlarged discussion (see DEEPER STUDY # 4, Salvation—Acts 15:5; 10:1-33; 10:11-16 for discussion).

DEEPER STUDY # 3

(15:5) Pharisees: apparently there was a large number of Pharisees who accepted Jesus as the true Messiah after His death and resurrection. This would be a natural result to an honest and thinking Pharisee.

1. The Pharisee was looking for the Messiah to come. He knew the Scriptures. Therefore, when he heard the apostles prove from the Scriptures that Jesus was the Messiah, he was bound to see the evidence. If he had an honest and open heart he would be touched and convicted by the Holy Spirit and converted.

2. The Pharisee would tend...

- to see Jesus as the fulfillment of Judaism, not the replacement of it.
- to see Jesus as an addition to the law, not replacing or embracing the law.
- to see Jesus adding belief to ritual, not replacing ritual.
- to see Jesus adding baptism to the ordinances, not replacing the ordinance.

Simply stated, the Pharisee, because of his extensive training and lifetime commitment to the keeping of the law, would be very slow to give up the law. He would be slow to rest completely in Jesus' righteousness. But note: Scripture says some did make a complete break. There were only "certain ones" who rose up against the message of salvation by faith alone (v.5).

DEEPER STUDY #4

(15:5) Salvation—Works: note that the question in Jerusalem became much larger than mere circumcision. In Antioch the question had been, "Does a man have to be circumcised to be saved?" In Jerusalem the enlarged question was, "Does a man have to keep the whole law to be saved and accepted into the church? Does he have to accept the law as well as accept Christ?" (See DEEPER STUDY # 1—Gal.2:4.)

The root question is for all generations.

- ⇒ Can a man earn the favor of God? Or does he receive the favor of God?
- ⇒ Is he acceptable to God because he keeps the law? Or is he saved by confessing that he breaks the law and is utterly dependent upon the Lord Jesus Christ?
- ⇒ Does he work to make himself righteous? Or does he cast himself upon Jesus' righteousness?
- ⇒ Does he say, "Lord, I come in my own righteousness"? Or, "Lord, I come in Jesus' righteousness"?
- ⇒ Does he say, "Lord, I come offering my own package of works"? Or, "Lord, I come needing your mercy for coming short"?
- ⇒ Does he come to God to be praised for what he has achieved by his own hands and efforts? Or does he come to praise God for what God has done for him in Jesus?
- ⇒ Is man to receive the glory because he has done good? Or is the glory to be lifted up to God for who He is and what He has done?

DIVISION VII

THE GREAT JERUSALEM COUNCIL: PAUL'S MISSION CALLED INTO QUESTION, 15:1-35

B. The Jerusalem Council Meets: The Great Declaration on Salvation, 15:6-22

(15:6-22) Introduction: this passage covers one of the most important church council meetings ever held. It is the great declaration on salvation.

1. The council met a second time (v.6).
2. Peter's great statement: all are saved by the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ (v.7-11).
3. Paul and Barnabas' great declaration: God alone wrought miracles and wonders to verify the message—salvation by grace (v.12).
4. James' great declaration: all men must be able to turn to God apart from the burden of ritual and the law (v.13-21).
5. The council's decision: agreement (v.22).

1 (15:6) Church, Council Meeting: the great Jerusalem council met a second time. The whole church was meeting—the apostles, the elders, and the people (v.12, 22). Once again, the scene is that of an extremely important council meeting, the importance of which cannot be overstressed. Note the sensitive consideration being shown by the leaders. The apostles were not lording it over the elders, nor the elders over the people. The issue being considered was of such great magnitude that the leaders were demonstrating humility and sensitivity to the needs of all. Note also there was “much disputing.” No one was ignored or silenced. All were allowed to say what they thought.

2 (15:7-11) Salvation: Peter's great declaration—all people are saved by the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ. Peter drove home three points.

1. Peter recalled that it was God and God alone who saved the Gentiles, that is, Cornelius and his house. The event had taken place some ten years before, but it was given and established by God to be the example and the pattern which the church was to follow (v.10. Note this is important, a critical point for every church to heed in every generation.) The event had been planned, initiated, and executed from beginning to end by God and God alone (cp. Acts 10:1-48; see outline and notes—Acts 10:44-48 for more discussion).

- a. Cornelius and his house had believed the Word while Peter was in the process of preaching the Word. They believed while they were listening and hearing the Word.
- b. God had given the Holy Spirit while they were believing the Word. Note how Peter stressed that salvation is the act of God.
  - ⇒ God “knew their hearts,” that they were believing within their hearts. God and God alone knows the heart.
  - ⇒ God bore witness to the belief of their hearts.
  - ⇒ God bore witness by giving the Holy Spirit to them.
  - ⇒ God gave the Holy Spirit by His act alone (not by baptism nor by laying on of men's hands).
  - ⇒ God gave the Holy Spirit just as He did to the Jews.
- c. God cleansed their hearts by faith. The stress is upon the word faith, not upon ritual or ceremony. Again, the stress is upon God. God knows the heart, when a man believes, when a man's heart is moved toward the Lord Jesus, grasping and believing what Jesus has done for him. When God sees that, He cleanses the man's heart.

2. Peter confessed the yoke of the law; he confessed man's inability to keep the law. This was a question, but note it was also a serious charge: “Why tempt ye God?” Peter said that God had already demonstrated the truth about salvation. The matter was made known clearly and unmistakably in the experience of Cornelius. If a person declares that a man is saved by God's grace plus a ritual or the law, he tempts God; he prescribes and dictates to God. He questions...

- what God has already done.
- if God knew what he was doing.
- if what God had done was best.

Questioning God is, of course, walking upon sinking sand. It is very dangerous. Note what Peter said about the law.

- a. The law is a “yoke,” a burden. The picture is that of the oxen yoke (cp. Mt.11:29-30; 23:4; Gal.5:1). To insist that a man...
  - undergo a ritual,
  - accept the law
 ...in order to be saved is to put a yoke upon a man, a yoke that no man can bear.
- b. No man can keep the law; the Jews had proven the fact (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Law—Gal.3:10 for discussion).

3. Peter reminded the church of their basic belief: all men are saved by the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ. Peter declared the doctrine of salvation. It was the very same as Paul's (cp. Eph.2:8-9). All men are saved in the same way: “through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ.”

“For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God; being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus” (Ro.3:23-24).

“For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: not of works, lest any man should boast” (Eph.2:8-9).

“But after that the kindness and love of God our Saviour toward man appeared, not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost; which he shed on us abundantly through Jesus Christ our Saviour; that being justified by his grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life” (Tit.3:4-7).

3 (15:12) Salvation, Source: Paul and Barnabas' great declaration—God and God alone has wrought miracles and wonders to verify the message of salvation by grace. Note the stress is “miracles and wonders,” not points and arguments. Why? God's miracles show clearly that He approves the preaching of Paul and Barnabas. The message, “By grace are ye saved through faith, and that not of yourselves,” is verified and proven by God's stamp of approval.

One may wonder if Paul asked the question he asked of the Galatians:

“Received ye the Spirit by the work of the law, or by the hearing of faith?” (Gal.3:2).

4 (15:13-21) Salvation, Source: James' great declaration—all men must be able to turn to God apart from the burden of ritual and law. James was the Lord's brother. (See Introduction, Author—James, for more discussion.) Apparently, he was the leading elder or minister of the church at Jerusalem. Note four points.

1. James supported Peter's great declaration. The way James worded his support is significant.
  - ⇒ “God...did visit the Gentiles” (epeskepsato): looked upon, oversaw, cared for, looked after, provided for the Gentiles.
  - ⇒ “to take out of them a people”: to choose; to appoint; to remove them from the Gentile nations and select a chosen people. The word “people” (laon) is the same word used of the Jewish people (cp. Acts 10:2). The point is that God was calling a new people out—a new body, a new nation, a new race—to be His chosen people, just as He had done with Abraham and the Jews. (See DEEPER STUDY # 8, pt.6—Mt.21:43; notes—Eph.2:11-18; 2:14-15; 2:19-22; 4:17-19 for more discussion.)

⇒ “For His name”: two verses clearly show what God means by choosing a people “for His name.”

“Ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me” (Is.43:10).

“For as the girdle cleaveth to the loins of a man, so have I caused to cleave unto me the whole house of Israel and the whole house of Judah, saith the LORD; that they might be unto me for a people, and for a name, and for a praise, and for a glory” (Jer.13:11).

2. James declared that Scripture supported the truth. God calls out people from both the Jews and the Gentiles. He quoted Amos 9:11-12 and applied it to Jesus Christ and believers. God promised three things.
  - a. “I will return.” This is referring to the first coming of Jesus Christ. And He had come—no one present would deny that.
  - b. There will be Jewish believers: “The tabernacle of David” refers to believing Jews, the true tabernacle or true body of Jews. James was applying the prophecy to the present situation. The people of David, the true indestructible tabernacle of David, the true body of David (believing Jews) will be “built up again...I [God] will set it [them] up.”
  - c. There will be Gentile believers, believers who...
    - seek the Lord.
    - are called and known by God’s name.
3. James declared that God foreknew and destined from the beginning of the world...
  - salvation by faith.
  - salvation to all men who seek the Lord and become identified with Him.

This is and always has been the purpose of God (cp. Ro.16:25-27; Eph.3:8-9). And He is now bringing His purpose to pass.

4. James recommended a written exhortation instead of burdening rules. He did this for three reasons.
  - a. That no man be troubled or hindered from turning to God by rituals and law. All men cannot keep a ritual. All who can should, but some are just not able to keep a ritual due to such things as birth defects, injury, disease, or paralysis. And although everyone should obey God, no one is capable of keeping the law, not perfectly. Therefore, no one is saved by the law. The only hope of salvation is for man to turn to God and trust God to accept him simply because God loves that much.
  - b. That all men live as they should. Note the great significance of the sins which James listed...
    - idolatry: following and sacrificing to the gods of man’s imaginations and desires; partaking of things that pertain to idols (v.29).

“I wrote unto you in an epistle not to company with fornicators: yet not altogether with the fornicators of this world, or with the covetous, or extortioners, or with idolaters; for then must ye needs go out of the world” (1 Cor.5:9-10).

- fornication: all forms of immorality.

“I wrote unto you in an epistle not to company with fornicators: yet not altogether with the fornicators of this world...for then must ye needs go out of the world” (1 Cor.5:9-10).

- “things strangled”: the sin of indulgence, of going against God’s law and fulfilling one’s own desire. Specifically, it refers to eating forbidden meats, to the dietary laws of the Jews (see note—Acts 10:11-16).

“For I know that in me (that is, in my flesh,) dwelleth no good thing” (Ro.7:18).

“For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace” (Ro.8:6).

“So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God” (Ro.8:8).

“For if ye live after the flesh, ye shall die” (Ro.8:13).

“For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other: so that ye cannot do the things that ye would” (Gal.5:17).

“For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting” (Gal.6:8).

“Whose end is destruction, whose God is their belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who mind earthly things” (Ph.3:19).

“Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world” (1 Jn.2:15-16).

- “blood”: may refer to murder or to the blood of animals. It probably refers to murder.

“Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment: but I say unto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment” (Mt.5:21-22).

“Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer” (1 Jn.3:15).

“He saith unto him, Which? Jesus said, Thou shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness” (Mt.19:18).

“But let none of you suffer as a murderer” (1 Pt.4:15).

ACTS 15:6-22

Note: these four sins are the sins so common to mankind as a whole.

- c. That no man offend or be a stumbling block to another. The sins listed by James were very offensive to the believing Jews. They were often preached against by Jewish rabbis. James stressed this fact, pointing out that keeping these four simple exhortations would please the body of Jewish believers, the strict religionists.

5 (15:22) Church: the church council's decision was agreement. Note two points.

1. The whole church agreed with what had been proclaimed, at least officially.
2. The church went beyond the decision, reaching out to settle whatever disturbance and doubt existed. It reached out by sending two chief ministers back to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas. The two men would..
  - reinforce the message of the decision: salvation is by the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ and nothing else (v.11).
  - exhort the new believers in the faith, and assure them that the message of the Judaizers was error.

DIVISION VII

THE GREAT JERUSALEM COUNCIL: PAUL'S MISSION CALLED INTO QUESTION, 15:1-35

C. The Formal Decree of the Council: The Great Decree on Salvation, 15:23-35

(15:23-35) Introduction: the great decree of salvation issued by the early church should have settled the issue forever. There is no question: salvation is “through the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ” (v.11). But some people still insist on adding to the plan of salvation. For this reason, the great decree of salvation needs to be proclaimed and taught time and again.

1. There was the attitude that brought about the decree: humility (v.23).
2. There was the declaration of the decree: ritual and law are not necessary to salvation; the dissenters were rebuked (v.24).
3. There were the men chosen to proclaim the truth (v.25-27).
4. There were the few rules that were necessary (v.28-29).
5. There were the glorious results (v.30-35).

1 (15:23) Humility: there was the attitude that brought about the decree—humility. The leaders, the apostles and elders, placed themselves on an equal level with the brothers of the church. There was no sign of exaltation or superiority or of exalting one’s position; no claim that they had the authority to speak for the church. They humbly declared that the decision was a decision of all the brothers. The oldest and best manuscripts read “the apostles and elders, brothers send greetings to the brothers which are of the Gentiles...” In this reading the apostles and elders were writing as brothers to brothers, placing themselves on the same level as the brothers among the Gentiles.

In either case, the point is well made. The great decree of salvation is based upon humility. Everyone involved, and in particular the leaders, including the apostles themselves, realized that they were humble recipients of salvation just as all other men were. They were all “brothers in the Lord.” They all stood on an equal footing, no one above another, not in the great decree of salvation. No one had the authority to lord it over another person, not in the area of salvation. Before the Lord, all men are brothers. All are saved alike, “through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ” (v.11).

“But John forbade him, saying, I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me?” (Mt.3:14).

“Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven” (Mt.18:4).

“For I say, through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith” (Ro.12:3).

“Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others. Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus” (Ph.2:4-5).

“This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief” (1 Tim.1:15).

“Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up” (Jas.4:10).

“Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder. Yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility: for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble” (1 Pt.5:5).

“A man’s pride shall bring him low; but honour shall uphold the humble in spirit” (Pr.29:23).

Thought 1. For an interesting study, take a concordance and look up the word “brothers.”

2 (15:24) Salvation—Ritual—Law—Grace: there was the declaration of the decree—ritual and law are not necessary to salvation. No matter what anyone teaches, no matter who they are or how influential they are, salvation is...

- “by the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ” and by Him alone. Ritual and law are not necessary (v.11).
- “by the miracles and wonders of God” and by Him alone (v.12).
- by turning to God and turning to Him alone (v.19).

The persons who taught otherwise, the false teachers, were strongly rebuked.

1. They troubled believers with their words. The picture is that of words heaped upon words, false words that “trouble” (etaraxan), agitate, disturb, and shake violently. But note: the false teachers proclaimed mere words, empty words, and the believers must always remember this. Salvation is by grace alone and nothing is to be added to it. God and God alone saves. A man either accepts God’s salvation or rejects it. It is that simple. Man can do nothing to earn salvation.

2. They “subverted” (anaskeuazontes) the believers’ souls. The word means to devastate, to plunder, to dismantle, to ravage, to wreck, to cause havoc.

3. They were never commissioned by the church. The message of the early church was declared:

“And great fear came upon all the church, and upon as many as heard these things” (Acts 5:11).

“Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus” (Ro.3:24).

“For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God” (Eph.2:8-9).

“For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men” (Tit.2:11).

“But after that the kindness and love of God our Saviour toward man appeared, not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost; which he shed on us abundantly through Jesus Christ our Saviour; that being justified by his grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life” (Tit.3:4-7).

Anyone who adds, “Ye must be circumcised [undergo a ritual] and keep the law: to [them] we gave no such commandment.”

Note how strong the rebuke was. The Judaizers or legalists (then and now, through all generations) were strongly rebuked. Paul went even further and warned:

“I marvel that ye are so soon removed from him that called you into the grace of Christ unto another gospel: which is not another; but there be some that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ. But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed. As we said before, so say I now again, If any man preach any other gospel unto you than that ye have received, let him be accursed” (Gal.1:6-9).

“Now the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils; speaking lies in hypocrisy; having their conscience seared with a hot iron” (1 Tim.4:1-2).

“For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine; but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears; and they shall turn away their ears from the truth, and shall be turned unto fables” (2 Tim.4:3-4).

“But there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction” (2 Pt.2:1).

3 (15:25-27) Ministers: there were the men chosen to proclaim the truth. Note what the church council did.

1. The church sent forth Barnabas and Saul as men who had proclaimed the truth. The Judaizers (legalists) had accused them of having the gospel, but they had not. They had declared the truth: salvation is “by the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ,” and they had risked their lives to declare the truth. Therefore, the church called the men beloved.

Thought 1. The church should call all ministers beloved who proclaim the truth of salvation by grace. Men tend to add to salvation. The very nature of man desires to work, to have a part, to receive some credit. It is very difficult for man to confess he is depraved, totally unable to do a thing to save himself.

Thought 2. What the church needs is men and women who will hazard (risk) their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

“Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake” (Mt.5:11).

“And ye shall be hated of all men for my name’s sake: but he that endureth to the end shall be saved” (Mt.10:22).

“Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it” (Mt.16:24-25).

“And every one that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my name’s sake, shall receive a hundredfold, and shall inherit everlasting life” (Mt.19:29).

“And whosoever doth not bear his cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple” (Lk.14:27).

“And they departed from the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer shame for his name” (Acts 5:41).

“For we which live are always delivered unto death for Jesus’ sake, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our mortal flesh” (2 Cor.4:11).

“By faith Moses, when he was come to years, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh’s daughter; choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season” (Heb.11:24-25).

2. The church sent forth two chosen exponents and prophets, Judas and Silas. These men were prophets (v.32), worthy men, men gifted by the Holy Spirit; therefore, they were chosen by the church to go forth and declare the great decree of salvation. Note that the decree was so important that the written message was not enough. It must have exponents...

- who knew the “same things,” the truth of salvation.
- who could proclaim and tell the “same things,” the truth by word of mouth.

“For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard” (Acts 4:20).

“And we are his witnesses of these things; and so is also the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to them that obey him” (Acts 5:32).

“And he said, The God of our fathers hath chosen thee, that thou shouldest know his will, and see that Just One, and shouldest hear the voice of his mouth. For thou shalt be his witness unto all men of what thou hast seen and heard” (Acts 22:14-15).

“Having therefore obtained help of God, I continue unto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying none other things than those which the prophets and Moses did say should come” (Acts 26:22).

“We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak” (2 Cor.4:13).

4 (15:28-29) Holy Spirit—Purity: there were the few rules that were necessary. Note two significant points.

1. The Holy Spirit and the church were both involved in the decision. The Holy Spirit led and guided the church to declare salvation “through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ” (v.11).

“Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will show you things to come” (Jn.16:13).

“For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God” (Ro.8:14).

2. The necessary rules were not given for the purpose of saving men, but for the believers’ welfare. By doing these things the believers “do well” (en praxete), that is, fare well and experience good—love, joy, peace—both within their own hearts and lives and between themselves and other believers. (See note, pt.4—Acts 15:13-21 for discussion of the four necessary rules.)

“Keep thyself pure” (1 Tim.5:22).

“Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world” (Jas.1:27).

“Little children, keep yourselves from idols” (1 Jn.5:21).

“Keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life” (Jude 21).

5 (15:30-35) Salvation: there were the glorious results of free salvation. When the four men arrived in Antioch, the whole church was called together and the great decree on salvation was read. When it was read, four great results occurred. Note how God took the dissension and its subsequent events and worked it all out for the good of the Antioch church and for the cause of Christ. The results were fourfold.

1. There was great “rejoicing” (echarisan): joy, gladness, rejoicing over the consolation (parakleseis), that is, over the encouragement and help given by the Jerusalem church.

2. There was great “exhortation.” Note that it was Silas and Judas who were exhorting and confirming the faith of the Antioch believers. Note also the phrase “many words.” They exhorted for a long time, building the believers up more and more, assuring them of their faith in the Lord Jesus. They were saved by the grace of God and His grace alone, and the two visiting preachers wanted the believers to know that the apostles and elders of the great Jerusalem church confirmed the glorious truth.

Thought 1. There is absolutely no question whatsoever about the stand that the early church took on the great declaration of salvation: salvation is “by the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ” and by Him alone.

“Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me” (Jn.14:6).

“[God] who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth. For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus; who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time” (1 Tim.2:4-6).

3. There was the discovery of the great missionary, Silas. The oldest Greek manuscripts do not include this verse (note the word “they” in v.33). Some scholars feel it was added at a later date because Silas appears with Paul in Acts 15:40. There was, of course, plenty of time for Silas to travel to Jerusalem and report back to the church, and then to return to Antioch before Paul left on his second missionary journey. Other scholars believe the verse was in the original manuscript. No matter who is accurate, Silas and his great gift from God were discovered by Paul at Antioch, and apparently Paul invited him to join the great mission thrust. (See note, Silas—Acts 15:34 for more discussion.)

4. A great teaching ministry grew within the church. Note three striking points.

a. Paul and Barnabas were busy teaching and preaching. They were not idle.

b. There were many teachers and preachers in the church, and none of them were idle. They were all teaching and preaching.

“And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mk.16:15).

“Go, stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life” (Acts 5:20).

“And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also” (2 Tim.2:2).

“Preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all longsuffering and doctrine” (2 Tim.4:2).

c. The message they taught and preached was “the Word of the Lord,” not their own theories and ideas.

“And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues, that he is the Son of God” (Acts 9:20).

“The word which God sent unto the children of Israel, preaching peace by Jesus Christ: (he is Lord of all)” (Acts 10:36).

“And I, brethren, when I came to you, came not with excellency of speech or of wisdom, declaring unto you the testimony of God. For I determined not to know any thing among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified” (1 Cor.2:1-2).

“For we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus the Lord; and ourselves your servants for Jesus’ sake” (2 Cor.4:5).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(15:34) Silas: Silas became one of the great missionaries of the early church (cp. Acts 15:40). He was an outstanding believer; a disciple and a close companion of Paul. He was apparently a Roman citizen (Acts 16:37). Silas...

- was a leader in the Jerusalem church (Acts 15:27).
- was sent to Antioch to share the great decree of salvation (Acts 15:27, 32-33).
- was a prophet (Acts 15:32).
- was a disciple of Paul, joining Paul on his second missionary journey (Acts 15:40).
- was imprisoned with Paul (Acts 16:19-40).
- remained in Berea with Timothy to minister to the believers (Acts 17:14).
- was with Paul in Corinth (Acts 18:5; 2 Cor.1:19).
- ministered with Peter, apparently after Paul’s death (1 Pt.5:12).
- is mentioned in the following New Testament books: 1 Th.1:1; 2 Th.1:1; 2 Cor.1:19; 1 Pt.5:12.

DIVISION VIII

THE SECOND GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO EUROPE, 15:36-18:22

A. The Journey Begins in Controversy: A Study on Honest Conflict, 15:36-41

(15:36-41) Introduction: the world is full of conflict, and most conflict is by far selfish and evil. However, there is an honest conflict, an honest holding of different opinions. This passage is an excellent study of the latter, that is, of honest conflict.

1. The cause of honest conflict (v.36-38).
2. The sad result of honest conflict: division and loss (v.39).
3. The good result of honest conflict: God overrules—two mission teams were sent forth (v.39-41).

1 (15:36-38) Conflict—Division: the cause of honest conflict. Note two significant points.

1. Honest conflict arises from a genuine concern. The concern is not personal, not selfish, not self-serving. The conflict does not exist because a person is...

- exerting his authority
- trying to get his own way
- resisting change
- maintaining tradition
- seeking his own purposes
- jealous of the other person
- seeking to keep things as they are

This very fact is clearly seen between Paul and Barnabas. Paul was the person who made the suggestion to revisit the mission churches, and Barnabas agreed. He was just as determined to go as Paul was (v.37). They both had a genuine concern for the Lord's mission. In fact, the concern was as deep as it could be. They were both determined to visit "every city where [they had] preached the word of the Lord." Their concern was all-embracing, not willing that any should be left untouched or slighted in the ministry.

The point is that each man was as concerned as the other. Their concern for the Lord's work was genuine.

2. Honest conflict arises from a genuine difference, a difference that focuses upon how best to carry out the mission of the Lord. This is critical to see.

⇒ The difference was not over the mission. Every believer is to be concerned and committed to the mission of the Lord, to visit his brothers in "every city where [he has] preached the word of the Lord." Every church is to be exhorted and helped in every way possible in every generation. The difference cannot and must not be in the mission. If it is, then the conflict is not honest; it is false and selfish.

⇒ The difference was over method, how to best carry out the mission.

This difference is clearly seen in what happened to Paul and Barnabas.

a. Barnabas believed the best way to accomplish the task was to take Mark along. This fact is evident from three things.

⇒ First, Mark had failed and disproven himself once (see note 6—Acts 13:13). Barnabas never would have insisted on Mark going along unless he knew Mark had recommitted his life—not insisted as strongly as he did. The Greek says he stuck to his insistence. Note something else as well: Mark desperately wanted to go; wanted Barnabas to continue to take a stand for him. Apparently Mark felt strongly that God wanted him to be a missionary and he wanted a second chance. He wanted a chance to redeem and prove himself. Barnabas, the son of consolation, the great servant of God who was always reaching out to help those under attack even as he had Paul, reached out to help another young disciple (Acts 9:27; 11:25-26).

- ⇒ Second, Barnabas loved Paul dearly. He had been a spiritual father or brother to Paul, more so than anyone else, and he had witnessed God gifting Paul to take the lead in worldwide evangelism. Barnabas rejoiced in all he had witnessed as God had matured and used Paul. Barnabas never would have opposed Paul unless he was convinced he was right.
- ⇒ Third, Barnabas had already been wrong once in differing with Paul (cp. Gal.2:11-13). When Peter came down to Antioch to visit the church, he joined right in, fellowshiping and eating with the Gentiles. But some of the Judaizers who came down later criticized Peter; and Peter withdrew from eating with the Gentiles. The conflict had become so sharp that even Barnabas was affected and withdrew from eating with the Gentiles. Just when this happened is unknown, but the heavy weight of Scripture is that it had happened before the second missionary journey began.

The point is this: Barnabas would not be opposing Paul over taking Mark unless he genuinely differed, being thoroughly convinced of his position.

- b. Paul differed with Barnabas. Very simply, he believed that a deserter was a poor example for young churches who needed to be strengthened.

Again, the point to see is this: the conflict between Paul and Barnabas was honest. From the Scripture, both men were as determined as they could be to carry out the mission of the Lord. The only question was how best to do it; in their particular case, who was really needed to do the job most effectively?

Thought 1. As long as men are on the earth, there will be conflict. There always has been and always will be. Tragically, the conflict is usually selfish. The believer must always search his heart and make sure his differences with others are pure, completely unselfish.

Conflict is never good; it is always bad. But when we hold honest differences, being thoroughly convinced of God's leadership, conflict cannot be avoided. When this happens, each party has to move on, trusting the Lord to take charge of the other party and to work all things out for good.

“He went away again the second time, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cup may not pass away from me, except I drink it, thy will be done” (Mt.26:42).

“If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself” (Jn.7:17).

“And when he was come unto us, he took Paul's girdle, and bound his own hands and feet, and said, Thus saith the Holy Ghost, So shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man that owneth this girdle, and shall deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles. And when we heard these things, both we, and they of that place, besought him not to go up to Jerusalem. Then Paul answered, What mean ye to weep and to break mine heart? for I am ready not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus. And when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, The will of the Lord be done” (Acts 21:11-14).

“Not with eyeservice, as menpleasers; but as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart” (Eph.6:6).

“For that ye ought to say, If the Lord will, we shall live, and do this, or that” (Jas.4:15).

“But as we were allowed of God to be put in trust with the gospel, even so we speak; not as pleasing men, but God, which trieth our hearts” (1 Th.2:4).

“Teach me to do thy will; for thou art my God: thy Spirit is good; lead me into the land of uprightness” (Ps.143:10).

2 (15:39) Conflict—Division—Unity: the sad result of honest conflict. Three results are seen in the experience of Paul and Barnabas, results that are tragically too common.

1. There was “sharp contention” (paroxusmos). The idea is that of differing to the point of suffering pain. Contrary to the picture usually painted of the conflict, the picture seems to be that both men were hurting. The difference was sharp and both hearts were cut deeply. Each man was thoroughly convinced that he was right before the Lord; therefore, each argued strongly for his position. This does not mean that they were cutting each other with sharp and ugly words. This is important to note, for sharp words should never be spoken among believers. But the opposing positions and convictions cut and hurt both hearts. They loved and respected each other, and their sharp conflict seemed irreconcilable. There seemed to be no solution.

2. There was the loss of each other. This fact is often forgotten, but should not be. The two men loved and respected each other, greatly so. Few men ever mean to each other what Barnabas and Paul meant to each other. When Paul needed help, Barnabas was the only believer who stepped forward to help him. Barnabas was the spiritual brother or father to Paul. Barnabas had taken Paul under his wings and...

- stood up for him against all other believers (Acts 9:27).
- nurtured him in the faith and ministry (Acts 11:25-26).
- seen God bless his efforts, moving Paul to the forefront in carrying the gospel to the world (Acts 13:9; 13:14-16).

Paul owed so much to Barnabas, he would never have allowed the conflict to divide them unless he was thoroughly convinced he was right. And Barnabas loved Paul so much the same was true of him. The conflict was an honest conflict, but the results were tragic. Two dear brothers, so strong in the Lord and so caring for each other, were splitting up their ministry. Their only hope was that God would overrule and show the one who was wrong that he was mistaken, forgiving him and continuing to use him just as effectively as before.

The question naturally arises: Who was wrong? The answer is not known with absolute certainty. But Paul evidently misjudged. And the church's failure to commend Barnabas and Mark was apparently a tragic failure.

- ⇒ Mark did redeem himself. He is later seen serving with both Paul and Peter (Col.4:10; 2 Tim.4:11; Phile.24; 1 Pt.5:13).
- ⇒ Paul spoke affectionately of Barnabas, acknowledging his great ministry in writing to the Corinthians (1 Cor.9:6).

Thought 1. A believer is to make every effort possible to avoid conflict. He is to do all he can to live and serve in peace with his Christian brothers and sisters.

“Only let your conversation be as it becometh the gospel of Christ: that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may hear of your affairs, that ye stand fast in one spirit, with one mind striving together for the faith of the gospel” (Ph.1:27).

“Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves. Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others” (Ph.2:3-4).

“I beseech Euodias, and beseech Syntyche, that they be of the same mind in the Lord” (Ph.4:2).

“Of these things put them in remembrance, charging them before the Lord that they strive not about words to no profit, but to the subverting of the hearers” (2 Tim.2:14).

“And the servant of the Lord must not strive; but be gentle unto all men, apt to teach, patient” (2 Tim.2:24).

“The beginning of strife is as when one letteth out water: therefore leave off contention, before it be meddled with” (Pr.17:14).

“Go not forth hastily to strive, lest thou know not what to do in the end thereof, when thy neighbor hath put thee to shame” (Pr.25:8).

Thought 2. When a believer becomes aware that he was wrong, he needs to acknowledge it and correct it as much as possible. Just think: Mark was the author of the Gospel of Mark. What a friend Barnabas was! What a helper to those who were cast aside as both Paul and Mark were by other believers! How much of Mark's ministry and Paul's ministry and how much of the Gospel of Mark is due to Barnabas and his faithfulness in making a true disciple out of both men? What a servant of the Lord!

“And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also” (2 Tim.2:2).

3 (15:39-41) Conflict: the good result of honest conflict is that God overrules. God was able to overrule in the conflict between Paul and Barnabas, for both men had honest differences of opinion. They were not selfish, neither did they have ulterior, corrupt motives. They both loved God with all their hearts and were called according to God's purpose.

“And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose” (Ro.8:28).

Note the good results.

1. A deserter was reclaimed and set aflame: Mark.
2. A new disciple and a great minister was born: Silas (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 15:34).
3. Two mission teams were now sent forth. Barnabas and Mark went to Cyprus, the native country of Barnabas. Paul and Silas went into Syria and Cilicia, the native country of Paul (Acts 15:41).

There are three factors seen here.

- a. Paul was hurting within his heart, hurting deeply. He and Barnabas, his dearest friend and companion in the ministry, had split up. And they had separated because of a sharp difference. They just could not agree on how to proceed, whether Mark should be taken or not. Nothing could be done about it. The difference was an honest difference, but it still hurt, for the men loved and respected each other deeply and had served together for so many years. The pain must have been almost unbearable for both men. But note something: Paul continued on, just as Barnabas did (Acts 15:39). As difficult as it was, they continued on. They were not sitting around devastated, wondering why the difference had happened to them. Discouragement and depression could have easily set in. But Paul fought such feelings off and marched forth, faithful and true to his Lord and His call. He faithfully threw himself into the ministry of his Lord.

From this point on, Luke, the author of Acts, concentrated on the ministry of Paul. Nothing else is said about Barnabas or the apostles.

- b. Paul travelled through Syria and Cilicia, his own home area. He was travelling by land instead of sea as he did on his first mission journey. God, of course, led Paul to take this route. There was probably a practical reason. Very simply, there is no place like home when a person's heart is hurting. In addition to this, it had been somewhere around ten years since Paul had been able to return home. Remember Paul's first extended ministry after his conversion was throughout his home region. He had spent eleven years there. Most of the churches throughout the region were probably due to his ministry during those eleven years. (Cp. Acts 9:29-30. See DEEPER STUDY # 1,2—Acts 9:23; DEEPER STUDY # 1—Gal.1:17-24.) The point is twofold.

First, God knew that being in his home area among the very first churches of his ministry would help heal Paul's heart, a heart that had suffered so much and was yet to suffer so much. God had to provide some release for His dear servant to be able to continue on.

Thought 1. Note how God takes care of His hurting servants when they are faithful to their call and ministry. Paul is a dynamic example in continuing on despite being bombarded with setback after setback.

“And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not” (Gal.6:9).

“Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord” (1 Cor.15:58).

“Only let your conversation be as it becometh the gospel of Christ: that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may hear of your affairs, that ye stand fast in one spirit, with one mind striving together for the faith of the gospel” (Ph.1:27).

“Wherefore gird up the loins of your mind, be sober, and hope to the end for the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ” (1 Pt.1:13).

“The righteous also shall hold on his way, and he that hath clean hands shall be stronger and stronger” (Job 17:9).

Second, Paul's heart ached to visit the churches of his home district. It had been about ten years since he had seen and exhorted them. It was now time to check on their welfare and see how they were doing (Acts 15:36).

c. Paul's purpose was to confirm the churches. The word “confirm” (episterizon) means to strengthen; to establish; to support; to stabilize; to make strong; to lead someone to prop upon or lean upon. Paul's purpose was to support and to teach the churches...

- to lean upon and to prop their lives upon Jesus.
- to be stable and strong in the Lord's teachings.
- to be strengthened and established in their lives and witness.

“Let us therefore follow after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith one may edify another” (Ro.14:19).

“Let every one of us please his neighbour for his good to edification” (Ro.15:2).

“But he that prophesieth speaketh unto men to edification, and exhortation, and comfort” (1 Cor.14:3).

“And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers; for the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ” (Eph.4:11-12).

“Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to the use of edifying, that it may minister grace unto the hearers” (Eph.4:29).

DIVISION VIII

THE SECOND GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO EUROPE, 15:36-18:22

B. Galatia, the Return to a Far District: Faithfulness to the Church. 16:1-5

(16:1-5) Introduction: this passage is a striking picture of Paul's faithfulness to the Lord's church. (See Map—Introduction to Acts.)

1. Faithful in making disciples (v.1-3).
2. Faithful in delivering the church's declaration on salvation and behavior (v.4).
3. Faithful in bearing fruit: the churches were strengthened (v.5).

1 (16:1-3) Discipleship: faithful in making disciples. This is a significant passage, for it shows how Paul took Timothy under his care to develop and grow him. Timothy was the young disciple who was destined to become one of the great servants of the early church, the one to whom the Lord had Paul write two of the great letters of the New Testament (1 and 2 Timothy). (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Timothy—Acts 16:1-3 for discussion.)

1. Timothy provided a wonderful surprise, an exciting discovery for Paul. The word "behold" (idou) has the idea of looking and gazing at a wonderful discovery, at an unexpected surprise. Timothy's love and maturity in the Lord struck Paul.

"Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching [making disciples of] them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world" (Mt.28:19-20).

"And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also" (2 Tim.2:2).

2. Timothy had a godly mother and a grandmother who were Jews, but they were also Christian believers. They were both so godly and strong in the faith that Paul mentioned it years later (2 Tim.1:15). They both had a great influence upon Timothy.

Thought 1. Note the influence of a godly mother upon her child.

"When I call to remembrance the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and thy mother Eunice; and I am persuaded that in thee also" (2 Tim.1:5).

"Only take heed to thyself, and keep thy soul diligently, lest thou forget the things which thine eyes have seen, and lest they depart from thy heart all the days of thy life: but teach them thy sons, and thy sons' sons" (Dt.4:9).

"And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart: and thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up" (Dt.6:6-7).

"Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it" (Pr.22:6).

3. Timothy had an unbelieving father, a Greek. He was not a follower of the Jewish God. If he had been, he would have had Timothy circumcised (v.3). The point is that he was a heathen, an unsaved father. Timothy was from a divided family spiritually. Yet he followed God despite his father's unbelief. Even if his father was dead at this time, Timothy still had made the choice to follow the Lord as taught by his mother.

4. Timothy had a godly testimony throughout the whole region. And note: he was only a young man, still in his teen years, probably around seventeen or eighteen years old. He was still a youth when Paul wrote his first letter to him (1 Tim.4:12). Note the emphasis upon the character of Timothy, a young man of purity and maturity, a young man with an unblemished character.

“Flee also youthful lusts: but follow righteousness, faith, charity, peace, with them that call on the Lord out of a pure heart” (2 Tim.2:22).

5. Paul attempted a well-meaning compromise. There was a large population of Jews throughout the districts where Paul was planning to minister. As a Jew, Timothy needed to be circumcised if he was going to minister to the Jews. As long as he remained uncircumcised, he would be considered a heathen, denying the very sign (circumcision, ritual) that God had given to show that a person truly followed Him. Being uncircumcised, the Jews would never let him preach in their synagogues. Therefore, Paul removed this stumbling block to Timothy’s ministry and circumcised him.

Now note: Timothy’s circumcision was based upon the principle of expediency, that is, it was “because of the Jews” (Acts 13:3; cp. 1 Cor.6:12). However, Paul had refused to circumcise Titus on the principle of truth. That is, Titus was a non-Jew, a Gentile; and certain professing believers were insisting that all men had to be circumcised to be saved (Acts 15:1f; cp. Gal.2:3-50). Paul was not about to compromise the truth of salvation by the grace of God through faith. Therefore, he refused to allow Titus to be circumcised despite the peace it would have wrought within the church.

It should be noted how the carnal, the critical, the narrow-minded, and the legalist are never satisfied and ever seeking to disturb God’s people. The Judaizers subsequently claimed that Paul preached circumcision (Gal.5:11). The matter became such a divisive issue in Galatia that he was later forced to write the church and deny such—vehemently—using Titus as an example (Gal.1:10; 2:3-5; 5:11).

“Only let your conversation be as it becometh the gospel of Christ: that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may hear of your affairs, that ye stand fast in one spirit, with one mind striving together for the faith of the gospel” (Ph.1:27).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(16:1-3) Timothy—Discipleship: Timothy was just a child when Paul visited Lystra on his first mission (about five or six years before). He was probably somewhere around ten to twelve years old. He was still a young man when Paul wrote his first letter to Timothy (1 Tim.4:12). All this means Timothy was somewhere around eighteen years old when Paul met him on his second mission to Lystra.

It is also possible that Paul led Timothy to the Lord on his first mission tour, but it is more probable that Timothy’s mother and grandmother led him to the Lord.

The present passage seems to read as though Paul did not know or remember Timothy from his first mission. In either case, his spiritual maturity at this point was strong enough for Paul to challenge him to join his mission corps. The facts of his life seem to be as follows.

Timothy’s father was a Greek and an unbeliever, but his mother was a Jew and a believer. Her name was Eunice and his grandmother’s name was Lois (2 Tim.1:5). Timothy was not circumcised; hence it would seem that he was educated in Greek ways and customs (Acts 16:3). When Paul met Timothy, Timothy was already a Christian believer with a strong testimony, so strong in fact that Paul arranged for him to become his missionary partner (Acts 16:1f). Timothy’s maturity and importance are seen by the word “he” of verse one being changed very rapidly to “they” of verse four. Timothy became a son to Paul (1 Cor.4:17). He was esteemed so highly and loved so deeply by Paul that Paul said he was the one man whose mind was at one with his own (Ph.2:19). He was probably chosen by Paul to become Paul’s successor (see note—Ph.1:1). From this point on, he was seen either ministering with Paul or else being sent out by Paul to minister to certain churches. He was with Paul in Paul’s first imprisonment (Col.1:1; Phile.1). Apparently, Paul was released from prison and Timothy began to travel with him again (see 1 Timothy, Introduction, Date). On this journey Paul left him in Ephesus to correct some errors that had arisen, while Paul himself travelled on into Macedonia to visit the churches there. Soon thereafter Paul was arrested and imprisoned in Rome a second time. As soon as possible Timothy joined him (2 Tim.4:11, 21), but this time Timothy was imprisoned also. However, Timothy was later released (Heb.13:23), while Paul was either beheaded or released and began a mission tour into Spain. (See notes, Timothy—Ph.2:22-24 for more discussion.)

2 (16:4) Faithfulness—Word of God: faithful in delivering the church’s Spirit-led declaration on salvation and behavior. Note three critical points.

1. The Holy Spirit had led the church in formulating and writing the message (Acts 15:28).
2. The message was the declaration of truth: emphasizing both salvation and behavior.
  - a. There was the declaration of salvation “through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ” (Acts 15:11). See outline and notes—Acts 15:7-11 for discussion and verses.)
  - b. There was the declaration of pure behavior (see note, pt.4—Acts 15:13-21 for discussion and verses).
3. Paul was faithful in going through all “the cities,” delivering the church’s glorious declaration on salvation “through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ” (Acts 15:11). And note he left each church a written copy of the decree.

Thought 1. What a lesson for us! We have the written decree, the written Word of God, regarding both salvation and behavior. Yet, how many believers and churches honestly read and teach and live by the truth of God's Word as it is written?

“Search the scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me” (Jn.5:39).

“These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so” (Acts 17:11).

“And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified” (Acts 20:32).

“For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope” (Ro.15:4).

“As newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby” (1 Pt.2:2).

“And it shall be with him, and he shall read therein all the days of his life: that he may learn to fear the LORD his God, to keep all the words of this law and these statutes, to do them” (Dt.17:19).

3 (16:5) Church—Established: faithful in bearing fruit. The churches were established and grew in number daily. They were...

- established in the truth of salvation and behavior.
- established in standing against making ritual necessary for salvation.
- strengthened in being stedfast in their labor for the Lord.
- continuing to reach more and more people for the Lord.

Note: the Greek words “established” and “increased” are continuous action. It was a continuous, day by day experience.

“Now to him that is of power to stablish you according to my gospel, and the preaching of Jesus Christ” (Ro.16:25).

“As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him: rooted and built up in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving” (Col.2:6-7).

“Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God, even our Father, which hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation and good hope through grace, comfort your hearts, and stablish you in every good word and work” (2 Th.2:16-17).

DIVISION VIII

THE SECOND GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO EUROPE, 15:36-18:22

C. Asia, the Forbidden Area, and Europe, the Chosen Area: The Call to World Evangelism—Changing the Cradle of Society, 16:6-11

(16:6-11) Introduction: the Holy Spirit changed the cradle of society. This is one of the greatest decisions and events of history. Up to this time, Asia had been the cradle of civilization, but now it was to give place to Europe. Europe was soon to become the center of Christianity and of civilization. Therefore, the great call of God to European evangelization is one of the greatest calls in all of human history. As such, the call of God to Paul becomes a pattern of God's call for every believer. Every believer is being called by the man of Europe or of the world: "Come over and help us." (See Map—Introduction to Acts.)

1. The leadership of the Holy Spirit step by step (v.6-7).
2. The clear call by the Holy Spirit (v.8-9).
3. The strong conviction of the Spirit's call (v.10).
4. The immediate obedience to the Lord's call (v.11).

1 (16:6-7) Holy Spirit—Call: the leadership of the Holy Spirit step by step. What happened to Paul was a most interesting experience. It stands as a challenge for Christian believers of every generation. Note four striking points.

1. Paul finished his mission of revisiting all the churches (Acts 15:36, 41; 16:1, 6). Apparently, he was staying in Antioch of Pisidia, deciding just where he should launch a new mission thrust.

2. The Holy Spirit forbade Paul to go westward into the Roman province of Asia (not modern Asia, but Turkey). The seven churches mentioned in the Book of Revelation, including the great city of Ephesus, lay in Roman Asia (Rev.2:1-3:22). The picture to note is this: sitting there in Antioch of Pisidia, Paul was dreaming and planning to penetrate Asia for Christ. But the Holy Spirit restrained him, forbidding him to go westward into the Asia of that day.

3. The Holy Spirit forbade Paul to undertake a northern mission. Therefore, Paul and his two companions (Silas and Timothy) left Antioch of Pisidia and headed northward toward Bithynia. When they reached the area of Mysia, the Spirit told them not to go any farther north. So Paul turned and went in the only direction he could—toward Troas, a city which lay close by the sea. (See Map—Introduction to Acts for a picture of what was happening.)

4. The great stress of what had just happened is the Holy Spirit's leadership: the Spirit led step by step through restraint. The Spirit did not come right out and tell Paul what he was to do. Rather the Holy Spirit shut doors, restrained and pulled at Paul's heart to move in a different direction than where he was heading. Very simply, the Holy Spirit stopped Paul from following through with the plans he was making. Note these facts.

- a. Paul's plans were important. The great cities of Asia needed to be reached for Christ.
- b. Paul's timing was wrong. The great cities of Asia would be reached for Christ by Paul, but it would be out in the future, not then.
- c. Paul was not given a reason for the rejection of his plans. The doors were merely closed by the Spirit. In fact, they were all closed until Paul could go in only one direction.
- d. Only God knew the reason why Paul was not yet to undertake the mission into Asia. There may have been laymen witnessing in the area and God was using their witness to mellow (prepare) the people, or perhaps the people were just not ready for the gospel, or perhaps some potential opposition had to be removed first. The reasons could go on and on. The point to see is that God knew best. He knew the whole situation. The believer must always trust God's leadership, the closing of doors as well as the opening of doors.

Note the drama of the Holy Spirit's leadership step by step as he restrained Paul.

- ⇒ The Spirit forbade the mission to Asia (Acts 16:6).
- ⇒ The Spirit forbade the mission to Bithynia (Acts 16:7).
- ⇒ Paul journeyed to Troas (Acts 16:8).

⇒ the Spirit gave a vision of the man in Macedonia (Acts 16:9). Paul took a “straight course” to the Spirit’s call (Acts 16:11).

“And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever; even the Spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you” (Jn.14:16-17).

“Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will show you things to come” (Jn.16:13).

“But ye shall receive power, after that Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

“And when they were come up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, that the eunuch saw him no more: and he went on his way rejoicing” (Acts 8:39).

“While Peter thought on the vision, the Spirit said unto him, Behold, three men seek thee. Arise therefore, and get thee down, and go with them, doubting nothing: for I have sent them” (Acts 10:19-20).

“For this God is our God for ever and ever: he will be our guide even unto death” (Ps.48:14).

“Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and afterward receive me to glory” (Ps.73:24).

“And thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying, This is the way, walk ye in it, when ye turn to the right hand, and when ye turn to the left” (Is.30:21).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(16:7) Trinity: note the words “the Spirit.” The Greek says “the Spirit of Jesus” (To pneuma Iesou). There is a close identity between the Holy Spirit and Jesus in these two verses. Both are distinct persons, yet they are God; that is, they possess the very nature and power of God in dealing with Paul in these verses (Acts 16:6-7).

2 (16:8-9) Missions—Holy Spirit—World Evangelism: the clear call by the Holy Spirit. Note two very significant points.

1. Paul kept going. He was not allowing closed doors to discourage or stop him. Despite the restraint, despite not having direct leadership from God, Paul was called to preach and teach and minister; and he kept at it. He went about fulfilling the great commission of the Lord, waiting and trusting the Lord to give positive instructions at the right time.

This fact is important, for if Paul had allowed the closed door and the restraint to discourage him, the great call he was about to receive would have never happened. Paul could have been lost forever from the scene.

Thought 1. A believer should never be discouraged by closed doors. God is the One who closes the door, and if He does, it is for one of two reasons.

- 1) To protect His dear follower.
- 2) To open a greater door for His servant. God alone sees the future and knows everything that is happening around the world. Therefore, God alone knows when His dear follower needs to be protected and when he is needed someplace else.

2. Paul was called to Europe. God gave him the vision of a man in Macedonia crying for help. Note the cry was “help us,” plural. It was the vision, the picture of a man representing all of Europe, crying and begging Paul to come and help the whole European continent. The desperation of the cry would both break and stir the heart of any true minister of the gospel. It was such a striking scene that Paul would never forget it, neither should any other believer. The cry of desperation is emphatic, declaring both to Paul and to all succeeding believers...

- that the door of the whole world is open, wide open. Souls are ready and crying for help. The harvest is truly ripe.
- that the heart must be stirred now to help. The need is now.
- that the need is great. It is not only one man who needs help, but all of us in Macedonia (Europe, the world).
- that the impression upon the mind must be lasting. The cry must be passed on down through every generation until the whole world is reached.
- that the great mission to the world is the call of the church. The church must go and go now or else the desperate cry for help will never be met.
- that the cry is desperate, the need is now. The response must be quick, immediate. A day must not be wasted, a slow and aimless route must not be taken (v.11).

“And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come” (Mt.24:14).

“Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world” (Mt.28:19-20).

“And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mk.16:15).

“And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem” (Lk.24:47).

“But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

“And a vision appeared to Paul in the night; There stood a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help us” (Acts 16:9).

“But rise, and stand upon thy feet: for I have appeared unto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witness both of these things which thou hast seen, and of those things in the which I will appear unto thee; delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, unto whom now I send thee, to open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me” (Acts 26:16-18).

3 (16:10) God, Will of: the strong conviction of the Spirit’s call. What happened is instructive. Paul discussed the vision with three persons: his two companions Silas and Timothy, and Luke the physician who had now joined the mission party. Note the words “assuredly gathering” or concluding (sunbibazontes), which means proving, putting together, setting side by side. The picture is that of the three men discussing and reasoning, considering all that had happened to them...

- the vision of Paul,
- the closing of doors by the Spirit,
- the strong conviction of Paul.

They concluded that the vision was definitely of God. It was God’s will for them to go to Europe and to preach the gospel.

Thought 1. Note the “testing of the spirits,” of the vision to make sure it was definitely of God. What a lesson as we seek to make sure it is God leading us in the decisions and ministries we feel led to launch for Christ.

“Proving what is acceptable unto the Lord” (Eph.5:10).

“Prove all things; hold fast that which is good” (1 Th.5:21).

“Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God: because many false prophets are gone out into the world” (1 Jn.4:1).

DEEPER STUDY #2

(16:10) Luke: note the word “we.” There is a change in persons here—from “they” and “he” (Paul) to “we.” This shows that Luke, the doctor and writer of Acts, joined Paul and his missionary companions at this point. Luke remained with Paul almost constantly and was with him even during the waning months of Paul’s life while he was a prisoner in Rome. The only time Luke appears to have been separated from Paul was when Paul left Philippi (Acts 17:1). Apparently, he re-joined Paul when Paul returned to Philippi (Acts 20:5).

4 (16:11) Obedience: there was immediate obedience to the Lord’s call. This verse speaks for itself: no time was lost. A straight course was set; the men moved out to do as God had led. They embarked on the mission to help Europe in its desperate search and need for God and His glorious salvation.

Thought 1. Several thoughtful questions need to be asked. Would the world already be reached for Christ...

- if every minister who had been called by Christ to go to Europe (that is, the world) had said, “Yes, Lord, I will surrender and go”?
- if every believer who had been called to give his life to missions had said, “Yes, Lord, I give myself to full time ministry”?
- if every layman who had been urged to give more to support the gospel worldwide had gone ahead and given more?
- if every church had forgotten the extravagance and comfort of local buildings and programs and had concentrated on world evangelism as the Lord taught?
- more Pauls would have been reached by the multitude of laymen out witnessing? If the thousands who have been urged to witness had been out bearing testimony, would one Paul have been reached every ten years? The answer is evident, for God honors His Word.

“Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven” (Mt.7:21).

“For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother” (Mt.12:50).

“Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world” (Mt.28:19-20).

“And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mk.16:15).

“Whereupon, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision” (Acts 26:19).

THE SECOND GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO EUROPE, 15:36-18:22

D. Philippi, a Chief City and Luke's Home (Part I): Europe's First Convert, 16:12-15

(16:12-15) Introduction: the first person ever converted in Europe was a businesswoman named Lydia. She stands as a dynamic example of conversion, an example that can stir many a person to trust Christ.

1. Paul and his company arrived in Philippi (v.12-13).
2. Lydia was a professional woman (v.14).
3. She sought and worshipped God: was a Jewish proselyte (v.14).
4. She listened and heard the gospel (v.14).
5. She had her heart opened by the Lord (v.14).
6. She was immediately baptized (v.15).
7. She led her whole house to the Lord (v.15).
8. She opened her home—used her wealth for the Lord (v.15).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(16:12-40) Philippi: Philippi was the gateway to Europe. (See Map—Introduction to Acts.) It lay on the great Roman road known as the Egnatian Way. The city was named after Philip of Macedonia, the father of Alexander the Great. The site was a natural fortress sitting on a range of hills that separated Europe from Asia, the East from the West. It was a strategic center commanding the great Egnatian Way.

Philippi was also a proud Roman colony. In fact, it was famous as a miniature Rome. A city became a Roman colony in one of two ways. At first Rome founded colonies throughout the outer reaches of the Empire to keep the peace and to guard against invasions from barbaric hordes. Veteran soldiers ready for retirement were usually granted citizenship if they would go out and settle these colonies. Later on, however, a city was granted the distinctive title of being a Roman Colony for loyalty and service to the Empire. The distinctive thing about these colonies was their fanatic loyalty to Rome. The citizens kept all their Roman ties, the Roman language, titles, customs, affairs, and dress. They refused to allow any infiltration of local influence whatsoever. They totally rejected the influence of the world around them. They were Roman colonists within an alien environment.

A picture of the loyalty of the Philippian Colony to its Roman citizenship is seen in Acts 16:20-21. Paul draws an illustration from the loyalty of these colonies and says to the Philippian church, "For our citizenship is in heaven" (Ph.3:20).

Philippi fit right into Paul's master plan. Its strategic location on the Egnatian Way assured the spread of the gospel throughout the Roman Empire. Both businessmen and salesmen travelled to and from Philippi from all over the world. Although Paul himself was moving toward Rome and the regions beyond into Spain, the converts whose employment took them from Philippi throughout the Empire could move on out ahead of him. Some time could be gained and some ground could be laid to assure world evangelization sooner (cp. Acts 28:13f).

The church at Philippi was founded on Paul's second missionary journey (Acts 16:1-40). It is one of the most exciting adventures in all of literature. Philippi witnessed the entrance of the gospel into Europe. Paul had made several attempts to go elsewhere, but the Holy Spirit had prohibited him (Acts 16:6-7). Therefore, he made his way to Troas, not really knowing why. While in Troas Paul experienced the incredible vision of a man in Macedonia crying out, "Come over and help us." Through that one vision, the Holy Spirit changed the cradle of society. He thrust Paul forth into Europe with the glorious gospel of Christ, and since that day the world has never been the same.

The church at Philippi...

- was founded on Paul's second missionary journey.
- was the first European city evangelized by the gospel (Acts 16:10f).
- was begun by three significant conversions: Lydia, a prominent businesswoman (Acts 16:14-15); a slave girl who was possessed by an evil spirit of fortune-telling (Acts 16:16f); and a jailer who was guarding Paul and Silas while in prison (Acts 16:19f).

- was persecuted (Ph.1:28; 2:15).
- met in Lydia's house (Acts 16:40).
- continued to grow (Acts 16:40).
- was made up mainly of Gentile converts. The names of Philippian believers would indicate this (Ph.2:25; 4:2-3; Ro.15:26-27).
- supported Paul's ministry financially, even while they themselves were suffering need and persecution (Ph.1:7, 27-30; 2:15; 3:10-11; 4:1).
- was a strong church worthy of being commended to other churches (2 Cor.8:1f).

1 (16:12-13) Paul: Paul and his company arrived in Philippi. His companions included Silas, Timothy, and Luke the physician. Apparently, the small mission party arrived in Philippi early in the week. During the week they either heard about or noticed an open air prayer structure about one mile outside the city by the river, Gangites. When there were too few Jews in a city to build a synagogue, the few usually met out by a river for prayer.

- ⇒ The river provided the water necessary for the ceremonial washings involved in Jewish worship.
- ⇒ Note also the handful of Jews met only for prayer. Jewish law required a minimum of ten men to be present for the law (Torah) to be read. Jewish thought considered women to be so unimportant that they were not worthy of the law apart from the presence of men.

When the Sabbath arrived, the small mission party went out by the river and attended the prayer service. Note...

- only women were present.
- the words "we...spoke." All four of the men shared their testimonies about Christ, but Paul was the chief spokesman (v.14).

2 (16:14) Lydia—Women—Employers: Lydia was a professional woman. She was a seller of purple fabrics (porphuropolis). Purple fabrics were in great demand in the Roman world. Purple was used on the toga or outer garments by the royalty of Rome. Therefore, as in every society, even the lower classes desired what the upper class had. Royal purple always has been and still is a common term.

Lydia was apparently very wealthy. Her home and financial means were large enough to accommodate not only the mission party and a household (v.15) but the church itself (v.40). Note also that her hometown was Thyatira. She apparently had business establishments and homes in both places. Perhaps Thyatira, a flourishing city known for its purple dyes and cloth, was her manufacturing and shipping headquarters, and Philippi was her distribution center. A constant flow of purple would be required to supply the market in a large city such as Philippi even if she did not market elsewhere. Note: Thyatira is one of the seven churches discussed in the Book of Revelation (Rev.2:18-29).

3 (16:14) Worship: Lydia sought and worshipped God. She was a Jewish proselyte. The term "worshipped God" (sebomene ton theon) means a Jewish proselyte or one who worshipped God. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2—Acts 16:14 for discussion.)

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(16:14) Society, Corrupt—Women—Judaism: the society of the day was by and large an unprincipled society. Crime and immorality and injustice were rampant. Religion and gods were conceived and formed to give vent to the basic urges and passions of men. Gods became gods of fertility, and priests and priestesses became prostitutes for man's sensual satisfaction. Corruption was so common that it became the accepted practice of society. This made life especially difficult for persons with moral standards, especially for women. For this reason many turned to the Jewish religion. Judaism offered the concept of one true God. The Jews believed that God was actually living and that He was actively involved in man's affairs. They believed that He demanded a pure and holy life and a respect for decency and order. (See note, Society Corrupt—Acts 17:11 for more discussion.)

"God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth" (Jn.4:24).

"Saying with a loud voice, Fear God, and give glory to him; for the hour of his judgment is come: and worship him that made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and the fountains of waters" (Rev.14:7).

"Give unto the LORD the glory due unto his name: bring an offering, and come before him: worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness" (1 Chron.16:29).

"And many people shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up the mountain of the LORD, to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem" (Is.2:3).

"He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully" (Ps.24:4).

"Lord, all my desire is before thee; and my groaning is not hid from thee" (Ps.38:9).

"O God, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and thirsty land, where no water is" (Ps.63:1).

"Whom have I in heaven but thee? and there is none upon earth that I desire beside thee" (Ps.73:25).

"O come, let us worship and bow down: let us kneel before the LORD our maker" (Ps.95:6).

"O worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness: fear before him, all the earth" (Ps.96:9).

- 4 (16:14) Spiritual Receptivity: Lydia heard and listened to the gospel. The word “heard” (ekouen) means she really perked up and paid attention. She listened and kept on listening, giving utmost attention to the gospel.

Thought 1. No person is ever converted who does not listen to and hear the gospel. Too many just sit complacently with wandering minds, counting the gospel to be less important than the affairs of the world.

“But blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your ears, for they hear” (Mt.13:16).

“But he that received seed into the good ground is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it; which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some an hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty” (Mt.13:23).

“But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name” (Jn.1:12).

“For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ” (2 Cor.4:6).

“The eyes of your understanding being enlightened; that ye may know what is the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints” (Eph.1:18).

“For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe” (1 Th.2:13).

“The ear that heareth the reproof of life abideth among the wise” (Pr.15:31).

- 5 (16:14) Conversion—Heart: Lydia had her heart opened by the Lord. This is critical to note. No one is ever saved by the preacher. The preacher is needed to bear witness, but God does the saving. Only God can open the heart of a person. No man can get down into the heart of another person. Only God can enter the heart and spiritually save people.

Note this: it is the heart that has to be opened and converted. Scripture words it in different ways.

“Be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind” (Ro.12:2).

“Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me” (Ps.51:10).

“They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength” (Is.40:31).

“Though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed day by day” (2 Cor.4:16).

“Be renewed in the spirit of your mind” (Eph.4:23).

“Put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him” (Col.3:10).

“Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing or regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost” (Tit.3:5).

- 6 (16:15) Baptism: Lydia was immediately baptized (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 2:38 for discussion. Cp. Acts 8:12; 8:36.)

- 7 (16:15) Witnessing: Lydia led her whole household to the Lord. This would include...

- family members such as a spouse, children, aged parents, brothers, sisters, and other relatives.
- servants or employees looking after household and business affairs.

The significance is the Christian influence and witness she bore before her household. She lived for Christ and witnessed to all under her influence. Note: after her own conversion her first objective became her immediate family and household. (See DEEPER STUDY # 3, Parents—Acts 16:15 for more discussion and verses.)

DEEPER STUDY #3

(16:15) Parents, Godly Influence—Home, Religion in: the importance of the head of a household—of his bearing a strong witness for the Lord—cannot be overstressed. A strong spiritual head almost assures the salvation of the whole family (cp. Acts 16:31). Scripture stresses this fact time and again. There was...

- Abraham commanding his children to keep the way of the Lord.

“For I know him, that he will command his children and his household after him, and they shall keep the way of the LORD, to do justice and judgment; that the LORD may bring upon Abraham that which he hath spoken of him” (Gen.18:19).

- Jacob demanding that his household put away false gods.

“Then Jacob said unto his household, and to all that were with him, Put away the strange gods that are among you, and be clean, and change your garments” (Gen.35:2).

- the charge to teach the Word of God to children.

“And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up” (Dt.6:7).

“And ye shall teach them your children, speaking of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, when thou liest down, and when thou risest up” (Dt.11:19).

- the charge to teach one’s children to fear the Lord.

“And that their children, which have not known any thing, may hear, and learn to fear the LORD your God, as long as ye live in the land whither ye go over Jordan to possess it” (Dt.31:13).

“Whom shall he teach knowledge? and whom shall he make to understand doctrine? them that are weaned from the milk, and drawn from the breasts” (Is.28:9).

- Joshua declaring that he and his house would serve God.

“And if it seem evil unto you to serve the LORD, choose you this day whom ye will serve; whether the gods which your fathers served that were on the other side of the flood, or the gods of the Amorites, in whose land ye dwell: but as for me and my house, we will serve the LORD” (Josh.24:15).

- Manoah praying for God’s guidance in rearing his child who had not even been born yet.

“Then Manoah entreated the LORD, and said, O my Lord, let the man of God which thou didst send come again unto us, and teach us what we shall do unto the child that shall be born” (Judg.13:8).

- David instructing his son Solomon to walk after the Lord his God.

“Now the days of David drew nigh that he should die; and he charged Solomon his son, saying, I go the way of all the earth: be thou strong therefore, and show thyself a man; and keep the charge of the LORD thy God, to walk in his ways, to keep his statutes, and his commandments, and his judgments, and his testimonies, as it is written in the law of Moses, that thou mayest prosper in all that thou doest, and whithersoever thou turnest thyself: that the LORD may continue his word which he spake concerning me, saying, If thy children take heed to their way, to walk before me in truth with all their heart and with all their soul, there shall not fail thee (said he) a man on the throne of Israel” (1 Ki.2:1-4).

- the charge to train up a child in the way he should go.

“Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it” (Pr.22:6).

- John the Baptist being born of a godly father, Zacharias.

“And his father Zacharias was filled with the Holy Ghost, and prophesied” (Lk.1:67).

- Jesus, God’s own Son, being sent into the world through a godly woman.

“And in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, to a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin’s name was Mary. And the angel came in unto her, and said, Hail, thou that art highly favoured, the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women” (Lk.1:26-28).

- the healed demoniac being told to return to his own house and bear witness instead of following Jesus.

“Now the man out of whom the devils were departed besought him that he might be with him: but Jesus sent him away, saying, return to thine own house, and show how great things God hath done unto thee. And he went his way, and published throughout the whole city how great things Jesus had done unto him” (Lk.8:38-39).

- Andrew leading his brother Peter to the Lord.

“He first findeth his own brother Simon, and saith unto him, We have found the Messias, which is, being interpreted, the Christ” (Jn.1:41).

- the nobleman whose son was healed, leading his whole household to believe in Jesus.

“So the father knew that it was at the same hour, in the which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself believed, and his whole house” (Jn.4:53).

- Cornelius leading his whole household to fear God.

“A devout man, and one that feared God with all his house, which gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God always” (Acts 10:2).

- Lydia leading her whole household to the Lord.

“And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained us” (Acts 16:15).

- the Philippian jailer leading his whole household to believe in God.

“And he took them the same hour of the night, and washed their stripes; and was baptized, he and all his, straightway. And when he had brought them into his house, he set meat before them, and rejoiced, believing in God with all his house” (Acts 16:33-34).

- the charge to nurture children in the Lord.

“And, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord” (Eph.6:4).

- the charge to have children in subjection to the Lord and to one’s own authority.

“One that ruleth well his own house, having his children in subjection with all gravity” (1 Tim.3:4).

“Let the deacons be the husbands of one wife, ruling their children and their own houses well” (1 Tim.3:12).

- the charge to teach children to live godly.

“But if any widow have children or nephews, let them learn first to show piety at home, and to requite their parents: for that is good and acceptable before God” (1 Tim.5:4).

8 (16:15) Ministering: Lydia opened her home and used her wealth for the Lord. Lydia desired to be faithful and to be counted faithful to the Lord. She was determined to have a strong testimony in following Jesus. Lydia obeyed her Lord...

- taking what she had and using it for the Lord.
- giving generously to the cause of the Lord. Most likely she was the one who took the lead in giving so liberally. The Philippian church supported Paul more faithfully than any other church (Ph.1:5; 4:10-19).

“Distributing to the necessity of saints; given to hospitality” (Ro.12:13).

“Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not highminded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy; that they do good, that they be rich in good works, ready to distribute, willing to communicate; laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold on eternal life” (1 Tim.6:17-19).

“But a lover of hospitality, a lover of good men, sober, just, holy, temperate” (Tit.1:8).

“Use hospitality one to another without grudging” (1 Pt.4:9).

DIVISION VIII

THE SECOND GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO EUROPE, 15:36-18:22

E. Philippi (Part II): The Power of Sin and Money Vs. the Power of Jesus' Name, 16:16-24

(16:16-24) Introduction: this is a descriptive picture of the world's power vs. the power of Jesus' name.

1. The power of human sin (v.16-17).
2. The power of Jesus' name (v.18).
3. The power of money and greed (v.19-24).

1 (16:16-17) Occult—Fortune-Telling—Sorcery—Wealth: the power of human sin is seen in three persons or spirits.

1. There was the damsel (paidisken) or slave girl possessed by "a spirit of divination" (pneuma puthona), of foretelling the future and fate of people. Note the Greek word "puthona" which is our English word python, referring to the large python serpent. In ancient myth, the Greek god Apollo was said to have slain the great serpent or dragon python. As a result Apollo took both his great gift of predictions and his name. Apollo became known as "puthios Apollo" or "Python Apollo." The young slave girl is said to have the spirit of "python" (putona); that is, the people thought she was the voice, the oracle of the great Greek god Apollo. There were also ventriloquists who were thought to be empowered with the spirit of Apollo.

Note: Scripture says that the young slave girl was possessed by an evil spirit (v.18) which gave her the power of fortune-telling. As a result people went to her for hope that...

- their desires would be fulfilled
- their futures would be good
- their confidence would be restored
- their fortunes would be at hand
- their lost items would be found
- their past would be unravelled
- their mysteries would be solved

The point to see is the power of sin to enslave and bind a person in the dark world of divination, fortune-telling, witchcraft, black magic, sorcery, and astrology. All false approaches to the truth are similar. They come from the dark world of evil spirits, spirits that cause people to put their trust in such things as...

- fortune tellers
- soothsayers
- palm readers
- seances
- the stars
- sorceries
- the zodiac
- a deck of cards

Just imagine! People are trusting such things instead of God. How deceived and blinded men are! How dark the world is—the dark world of evil spirits...

- that cause people to trust such things instead of God.
- that keep people away from the Word of God and the true promises of God.
- that blind people to the reality of prayer.
- that keep people away from the grace of God, the grace of the only living and true God, the Sovereign Majesty of the universe, the only Sovereign Spirit who can truly save them.

The power of sin is strong, very strong in the dark world of evil spirits.

“Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works? And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity” (Mt.7:22-23).

“For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall show great signs and wonders; insomuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect” (Mt.24:24).

“To whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God. And to him they had regard, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sorceries. But when they believed Philip preaching the things concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women” (Acts 8:10-12).

“And when they had gone through the isle unto Paphos, they found a certain sorcerer, a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar-jesus” (Acts 13:6).

“Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these; Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies, envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God” (Gal.5:19-21).

“...thy merchants were the great men of the earth; for by thy sorceries were all nations deceived” (Rev.18:23).

“But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death” (Rev.21:8).

“And the magicians could not stand before Moses because of the boils; for the boil was upon the magicians, and upon all the Egyptians” (Ex.9:11).

“Regard not them that have familiar spirits, neither seek after wizards, to be defiled by them: I am the LORD your God” (Lev.19:31).

“And the soul that turneth after such as have familiar spirits, and after wizards, to go a whoring after them, I will even set my face against that soul, and will cut him off from among his people” (Lev.20:6).

“There shall not be found among you any one that maketh his son or his daughter to pass through the fire, or that useth divination, or an observer of times, or an enchanter, or a witch, or a charmer, or a consulter with familiar spirits, or a wizard, or a necromancer. For all that do these things are an abomination unto the LORD: and because of these abominations the LORD thy God doth drive them out from before thee” (Dt.18:10-12).

“For rebellion is as the sin of witchcraft, and stubbornness is as iniquity and idolatry. Because thou hast rejected the word of the LORD, he hath also rejected thee from being king” (1 Sam.15:23).

“Then said Saul unto his servants, Seek me a woman that hath a familiar spirit, that I may go to her, and inquire of her. And his servants said to him, Behold, there is a woman that hath a familiar spirit at Endor. And Saul disguised himself, and put on other raiment, and he went, and two men with him, and they came to the woman by night: and he said, I pray thee, divine unto me by the familiar spirit, and bring me him up, whom I shall name unto thee” (1 Sam.28:7-8).

“And they caused their sons and their daughters to pass through the fire, and used divination and enchantments, and sold themselves to do evil in the sight of the LORD, to provoke him to anger” (2 Ki.17:17).

“And he [Manasseh] made his son pass through the fire, and observed times, and used enchantments, and dealt with familiar spirits and wizards: he wrought much wickedness in the sight of the LORD, to provoke him to anger” (2 Ki.21:6).

“Moreover the workers with familiar spirits, and the wizards, and the images, and the idols, and all the abominations that were spied in the land of Judah and in Jerusalem, did Josiah put away, that he might perform the words of the law which were written in the book that Hilkiah the priest found in the house of the LORD” (2 Ki.23:24).

“So Saul died for his transgression which he committed against the LORD, even against the word of the LORD, which he kept not, and also for asking counsel of one that had a familiar spirit, to inquire of it” (1 Chron.10:13).

“Therefore thou hast forsaken thy people the house of Jacob, because they be replenished from the east, and are soothsayers like the Philistines, and they please themselves in the children of strangers” (Is.2:6).

“And when they shall say unto you, Seek unto them that have familiar spirits, and unto wizards that peep, and that mutter: should not a people seek unto their God? for the living to the dead? To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them” (Is.8:19-20).

“And the spirit of Egypt shall fail in the midst thereof; and I will destroy the counsel thereof: and they shall seek to the idols, and to the charmers, and to them that have familiar spirits, and to the wizards” (Is.19:3).

“But these two things shall come to thee in a moment in one day, the loss of children, and widowhood: they shall come upon thee in their perfection for the multitude of thy sorceries, and for the great abundance of thine enchantments” (Is.47:9).

“Therefore hearken not ye to your prophets, nor to your diviners, nor to your dreamers, nor to your enchanters, nor to your sorcerers, which speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve the king of Babylon. For they prophesy a lie unto you, to remove you far from your land; and that I should drive you out, and ye should perish” (Jer.27:9-10).

“Daniel answered in the presence of the king, and said, The secret which the king hath demanded cannot the wise men, the astrologers, the magicians, the soothsayers, show unto the king; but there is a God in heaven that revealeth secrets” (Dan.2:27-28).

“The king cried aloud to bring in the astrologers, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers. And the king spake, and said to the wise men of Babylon, Whosoever shall read this writing, and show me the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with scarlet, and have a chain of gold about his neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom” (Dan.5:7).

“And I will cut off witchcrafts out of thine hand; and thou shalt have no more soothsayers” (Mic.5:12).

“For the idols have spoken vanity, and the diviners have seen a lie, and have told false dreams; they comfort in vain: therefore they went their way as a flock, they were troubled, because there was no shepherd” (Zech.10:2).

2. There were the men possessed by the spirit of greed and materialism. The young girl was a slave exploited by men to make money. They used her fortune-telling ability to play upon the needs of people for hope and confidence, self-esteem and direction. Note the words “much gain.” She was apparently the leader among all the soothsayers, the one from whom the upper class sought advice and counsel. This would explain why the people were riled up so quickly and why the magistrates or rulers acted so quickly in condemning Paul and Silas (v.19-24).

The point to note is this: the strong and the wealthy always have and always will exploit and use the weak for their own ends, whether in prostitution, fortune-telling, labor, false worship, sexual gratification, or whatever. The world has always witnessed white slavery, black slavery, child slavery, national slavery and a horde of other forms of slavery. Whatever the form, the purpose of the strong and wealthy is always onefold: to satisfy either their desires and urges or to fill their pockets. In the present passage the emphasis is upon filling their pockets, upon greed and materialism. Note: the dark world of greed and materialism is the dark world of evil spirits—the evil spirits of selfishness that misuse and exploit people for personal gain.

“And he said unto them, Take heed, and beware of covetousness: for a man’s life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth” (Lk.12:15).

“For the love of money is the root of all evil: which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows” (1 Tim.6:10).

“Your gold and silver is cankered; and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. Ye have heaped treasure together for the last days” (Jas.5:3).

“Thou shalt not covet thy neighbour’s house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbour’s wife, nor his manservant, nor his maidservant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor any thing that is thy neighbour’s” (Ex.20:17).

“Woe to him that coveteth an evil covetousness to his house, that he may set his nest on high, that he may be delivered from the power of evil!” (Hab.2:9).

3. There is the young slave girl and the evil spirit of deception within her. Note three things.
- The testimony of the evil spirit was a true testimony. Paul and the others were “the servants of the most high God.”
  - The testimony of the evil spirit was also a false testimony. This is seen in the Greek which reads, “a way of salvation,” not “the way.” The word “the” (the definite article) is not in the Greek. The evil spirit is proclaiming that Paul preaches only one of many ways to reach God. (How like today!)
  - The testimony, although partly true, is unacceptable. Such acknowledgement is a false witness, a profession only. The evil spirit was not confessing from the heart or will that he would follow Jesus. He had not been born again. The only confession Jesus accepts is the confession of a man who makes a deliberate decision to follow Him as Lord. (See note—Mk.1:25-26.)

The point is the power of human sin. Sin is so powerful that it can enslave a person and swamp him in the dark world...

- of divination and the occult
- of greed and materialism
- of deception and false witness

“For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son” (Jn.3:16).

“Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of eternal life” (Jn.6:68).

“I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins” (Jn.8:24).

“Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved” (Acts 4:12).

“For I determined not to know any thing among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified” (1 Cor.2:2).

“For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ” (1 Cor.3:11).

“For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus; who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time” (1 Tim.2:5-6).

2 (16:18) Jesus Christ: the power of Jesus’ name. Note four facts.

1. The false witness was a barrage that lasted many days. The slave girl followed Paul and his companions day by day when they went to prayer. As she followed she shouted out the great but false oracle:

“These men are the servants of the most high God, which show unto us [a] way of salvation” (v.17).

Note: her proclamation was a barrage that would be embarrassing, and it went on for many days. Why Paul did not act sooner is not known. It could be that he feared a reaction from the worldly-minded, sensing from God that it was not yet time to stop the false witness.

2. The day arrived when Paul became “grieved” (diaponetheis). The word means pained, deeply troubled, worked up, annoyed, and angry (a righteous anger). He was troubled and hurting...

- over the girl being enslaved by sin.
- over the girl being so used by greedy and lustful men.
- over the false witness to the Lord’s name.
- over the mockery and ridicule of his ministry as the servant of Christ.

3. The moment came when Paul called upon the strong name of Jesus Christ. He whipped around and healed the girl. Note exactly what Paul did.

- a. He addressed the evil spirit within the girl. She was gripped by an evil spirit of divination or of the occult. The power she had was not her own, but of an evil spirit. It was the evil spirit that was the problem, not the girl. Therefore, Paul addressed the evil spirit.
- b. Paul called upon “the name of Jesus Christ.” The power to cast out the evil spirit was of Christ, not of Paul (See DEEPER STUDY # 2, Name—Acts 3:6 for discussion.)

4. The enslaved girl was immediately and completely delivered. It was the very same hour that the evil spirit came out.

“For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost” (Lk.19:10).

“But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel” (2 Tim.1:10).

“Wherefore he is able also to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them” (Heb.7:25).

3 (16:19-24) Greed—Wealth: the power of money and greed is pictured in what follows.

1. Money and greed caused an outcry and opposition against the gospel. And note why: because the owners of the enslaved girl had lost their top money-maker. She had been delivered by the power of Christ. They were frustrated and angry, full of wrath and vengeance. They caught Paul and Silas and dragged (heilkusan, the idea is violently) them before the magistrates of the city. The magistrates in a Greek city were the governors or rulers. They were equal to the consuls in Roman government.

2. Money and greed caused false charges. The preachers were said...

- to be dangerous.
- to be troubling people and disturbing the public peace.
- to be teaching different customs and carrying on illegal religious activities. Strict Roman law allowed conquered nations to continue their own religious practices, but did not allow the foreign religions to evangelize among Roman citizens.

The same charges are often brought against Christian believers by the world. Even in free democracies where the rights of free speech are so loudly proclaimed, these same charges are made by the world against true Christianity.

Note the emphasis upon “these men, being Jews.” This is a slur of racial prejudice. The emperor Claudius had just expelled all Jews from Rome (Acts 18:2). The Romans’ hatred of the Jews was at a peak when Paul and his company were ministering in Philippi.

3. Money and greed caused corruption of public officials. Note the officials gave in to the influential owners and to the public. True justice was bypassed. Paul and Silas were not allowed to answer for themselves; in fact, they were not even allowed to speak. If the court had been interested in true justice, the magistrates would have discovered that the two men were Roman citizens much sooner than they did (cp. v.37-40), and they would have found out that the two men had only helped a poor enslaved girl. An open and thinking mind would have seen the enormous contribution the preachers could have made...

- in helping to deliver people from sin, hopelessness, and darkness.
- in strengthening society through righteousness and justice.
- in guiding people to harness their energies in creativity and development instead of focusing them upon immorality and pleasure.

However, the officials and rulers were neither open-minded nor honest. They allowed themselves to be influenced and guided by their own selfish purpose. They gave in to the money and greed of influential people and the cry of the duped populace who were following the influential.

4. Money and greed caused shameful, unjust, and evil treatment (cp. 1 Th.2:2). Paul and Silas, the great servants of God who had done such a glorious deed...

- had their clothes torn off.
- were beaten with rods “many” times (cp. 2 Cor.11:23).
- were cast into prison—a dark, dirty, rat and roach infested dungeon.
- were thrust into the inner cells—a solitary confinement type of situation.
- had their feet locked in chains.

The point is this: the two godly servants were treated this way because of some men who were consumed with the dark spirit of money and greed. Such a dark, evil spirit has great power, but God has greater power.

“Greater is he that is in you, than he that is in the world” (1 Jn.4:4).
“If God be for us, who can be against us?” (Ro.8:31).

Thought 1. The great tragedy of so many in the world is that they put selfishness, greed, and money before people. It is because of selfishness that so many influential people attack genuine believers. But Christ changes lives. He changes...

- the immoral to the moral
- the unjust to the just
- the dishonest to the honest
- the prideful to the humble
- the powerful to the servant
- the wealthy to the benevolent
- the authoritarian to the helpful

So many of the influential, wealthy, and powerful are unwilling to become servants of mankind—servants who sacrifice all they are and have for the needy. They are unwilling to truly sacrifice themselves and their money to help the desperate of the world. Therefore, they oppose anything that requires them to sacrifice their selfishness. They will give and help enough to salve their consciences, but not sacrificially.

“Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth; fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry” (Col.3:5).

“Let your conversation [behavior] be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee” (Heb.13:5).

“He that is greedy of gain troubleth his own house; but he that hateth gifts shall live” (Pr.15:27).

“Woe to him that coveteth an evil covetousness to his house, that he may set his nest on high, that he may be delivered from the power of evil!” (Hab.2:9).

Thought 2. Much of what man does and enjoys is built upon the immoral, unjust, dishonest, and selfish treatment of others, such things as:

- |                 |               |
|-----------------|---------------|
| ⇒ gratification | ⇒ employment  |
| ⇒ money         | ⇒ pleasure    |
| ⇒ position      | ⇒ social life |

Therefore, when the believer proclaims righteousness, he can expect to be opposed.

“But beware of men: for they will deliver you up to the councils, and they will scourge you in their synagogues” (Mt.10:17).

“Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you; if they have kept my saying, they will keep yours also” (Jn.15:20).

“For unto you it is given in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake” (Ph.1:29).

“That no man should be moved by these afflictions: for yourselves know that we are appointed thereunto” (1 Th.3:3).

“Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution” (2 Tim.3:12).

“Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange things happened unto you: but rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ’s sufferings; that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy” (1 Pt.4:12-13).

DIVISION VIII

THE SECOND GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO EUROPE, 15:36-18:22

F. Philippi (Part III): A Jailer and Salvation, 16:25-40

(16:25-40) Introduction: this is a great study on the subject of salvation.

1. The preparation for salvation (v.25-28).
2. The cry for salvation (v.29-30).
3. The proclamation of salvation (v.31-33).
4. The fruits of salvation (v.34).
5. The effect of salvation upon the world (v.35-40).

1 (16:25-28) Salvation: the preparation for salvation is fourfold.

1. There was the strong witness of the disciples through terrible difficulties. Paul and Silas had just been stripped, beaten with rods, imprisoned, and put in chains. Their backs were a lacerated, bloody, swollen mass of human flesh. We can just imagine the excruciating pain. But note: sitting there in the dark, smelly, rat and roach infested dungeon, they bore a strong testimony to the wonderful grace of God.

- a. They prayed. They probably asked God what every dedicated servant would ask: for God...
  - to strengthen and help them.
  - to forgive their persecutors.
  - to use their suffering to reach others for Christ.
- b. They praised and thanked God for...
  - His salvation.
  - the privilege of suffering for the name of Christ Jesus.
  - His presence and strength through all the suffering.

Note: all this took place at midnight (cp. Ps.119:62), and they sang so loudly that the other prisoners could hear them. They were unashamed of their Lord (cp. 2 Tim.1:8). The idea is that the praying and singing went on for a long time.

The point to see is the strong testimony they bore through the terrible trial. Their faith in the Lord Jesus was a strong witness that prepared the heart of the unsaved for the gospel. Note this: when Paul later wrote to the Philippians, he told them to “rejoice in the Lord always” (Ph.4:4; 3:1).

“Speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord” (Eph.5:19).

“For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard” (Acts 4:20).

“For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory” (2 Cor.4:17).

“Come and hear, all ye that fear God, and I will declare what he hath done for my soul” (Ps.66:16).

“I have set watchmen upon thy walls, O Jerusalem, which shall never hold their peace day nor night: ye that make mention of the Lord, keep not silence” (Is.62:6).

2. There was the movement of God. In this instance God moved through an earthquake. In other instances He will move in other ways. God can move upon a person’s soul through...

- some happening in nature
- a tragedy
- sensing a lack or need
- the reading of Scripture
- some miracle
- some event in the person’s life
- thinking about life or death
- the preaching of the gospel
- an innumerable list of ways

The point to see is this: God moves events to prepare man’s soul for salvation. One of the major reasons for causing the earthquake was to stir the jailer to cry out for salvation.

3. There was the desperate plight of man—his fear, helplessness, and insecurity. In the case of the jailer, he felt that he faced a hopeless situation because...

- the earthquake had sprung open the jail doors, allowing the prisoners to escape.
- he had fallen asleep while on duty.
- the penalty for allowing prisoners to escape was death (cp. Acts 12:19; 1 Ki.20:39, 42).

The jailer, feeling helpless and hopeless, drew his sword to kill himself. He knew the terrible shame and punishment awaiting him and the shame coming upon his family due to his letting the prisoners escape. Therefore, he preferred to go ahead and die the less painful death of suicide. It would look like he was murdered by one of the prisoners when they escaped and this would spare his family the shame of his having been derelict in his duty.

Circumstances differ; but every person experiences serious problems that cause fear, helplessness, hopelessness, and insecurity in life. In every instance of serious need, a person either turns to God or farther away from God. A person either becomes softer toward God or harder in reacting against God. A person either seeks God for help or approaches some humanistic answer.

The point is this: helplessness and hopelessness are used by God to prepare the human soul for salvation. But we have to turn to God when impossible situations confront us. The choice is up to us.

“And he was in the hinder part of the ship, asleep on a pillow: and they awake him, and say unto him, Master, carest thou not that we perish?” (Mk.4:38).

“And a certain woman, which had an issue of blood twelve years, and had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse” (Mk.5:25-26).

“And one of the multitude answered and said, Master, I have brought unto thee my son, which hath a dumb spirit; and wheresoever he taketh him, he teareth him: and he foameth, and gnasheth with his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast him out; and they could not” (Mk.9:17-18).

“And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself. And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity” (Lk.13:11-12).

“There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves, and two small fishes: but what are they among so many?” (Jn.6:9).

“No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day” (Jn.6:44).

“And when neither sun nor stars in many days appeared, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved was then taken away” (Acts 27:20).

“For when we were yet without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly” (Ro.5:6).

“For I know that in me (that is, in my flesh,) dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me; but how to perform that which is good I find not” (Ro.7:18).

4. There was a call of hope by the believer. The jailer was standing out in the hallway or corridor in the light. Paul, in the dark dungeon cell, saw him and shouted out for the jailer not to kill himself. No greater voice or call was ever heard by the jailer. It saved his life. This is a picture of the human soul sensing helplessness and being prepared for salvation. The be liever must cry out, proclaiming hope to the helpless and hopeless of the world. The cry of hope is part of the preparation for salvation, a part so desperately needed. Without it the world hurts and ruins itself and dies in its helpless state.

“For thou shalt be his witness unto all men of what thou hast seen and heard” (Acts 22:15).

“These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee” (Tit.2:15).

“But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear” (1 Pt.3:15).

2 (16:29-30) Salvation: the cry for salvation. Note two significant points.

1. There was the immediate and reverent search for salvation. The jailer...
  - called for a light.
  - sprang in.
  - came trembling.
  - fell down before Paul and Silas.

The stress is immediate reverence for the God of these men. Their God had caused the earthquake and had saved him from being executed by keeping the prisoners in their cells. (Most likely the other prisoners had gathered in Paul’s cell.) He had heard that Paul and Silas had been preaching about salvation throughout the city, that is, that people could be forgiven their sins and delivered from sin and death. And since being in jail, he had heard the two preachers praying for strength and deliverance and for the forgiveness and salvation of their persecutors (which included himself). He feared the God who answered a man’s prayer so quickly and who had such enormous power. He must waste no time in seeking this God and having Him forgive his sins lest he face the judgment of such a God. A significant fact is this: the man was repenting out of fear. Fear is a legitimate reason for seeking salvation despite the minimizing of it by so many.

“And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell” (Mt.10:28).

“And his mercy is on them that fear him from generation to generation” (Lk.1:50).

“But in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him” (Acts 10:35).

“The LORD is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart; and saveth such as be of a contrite spirit” (Ps.34:18).

“The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise” (Ps.51:17).

“Sanctify the LORD of hosts himself; and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread” (Is.8:13).

“Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the LORD, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon” (Is.55:7).

“For all those things hath mine hand made, and all those things have been, saith the LORD: but to this man will I look, even to him that is poor and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth at my word” (Is.66:2).

“Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord” (Acts 3:19).

“For godly sorrow worketh repentance to salvation not to be repented of: but the sorrow of the world worketh death” (2 Cor.7:10).

2. There was the urgent cry for salvation. Note: the man knew to whom to go. He had heard Paul and Silas praying and singing about salvation. He knew....

- that salvation was what he needed.
- that he desperately needed to know this God of theirs.
- that he and everyone else needed to be cared for by a God who looks after His followers as He did Paul and Silas.

The jailer cried out “Sirs, what must I do to be saved?” The disciples were God’s instruments for proclaiming salvation. They were tired and sore and it was the wee hours of the morning, yet they did not put the matter off until morning. They took time right then and there to meet the man’s need.

“Save me, O God, by thy name, and judge me by thy strength” (Ps.54:1).

“Show us thy mercy, O LORD, and grant us thy salvation” (Ps.85:7).

“Remember me, O LORD, with the favour that thou bearest unto thy people: O visit me with thy salvation” (Ps.106:4).

“Let thy mercies come also unto me, O LORD, even thy salvation, according to thy word” (Ps.119:41).

3 (16:31-33) Salvation—Believe: the proclamation of salvation—believe. Note three critical points.

1. The necessity of believing (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Believe—Jn.2:24 for discussion). “Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved” is the answer to the jailer’s question. What is not said is of extreme importance. Note what Paul did not say:

- Saved? My good man, such is superstition, a delusion. There is nothing to be saved from.

- Saved? Well, if you have done wrong, right it. And do the best you can from now on.
- Saved? Go to work for God. Put your hands to the wheel. Labor and toil for God and mankind.
- Saved? Man, don't trouble yourself about such whims. Life is too short. Live! Eat, drink, and be merry. Make the most of what life you have.

“But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name” (Jn.1:12).

“That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life. For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life” (Jn.3:15-16).

“Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life” (Jn.5:24).

“That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation” (Ro.10:9-10).

Note the promise that the jailer's whole house would be saved. The influence of the head of a household in spiritual matters cannot be over-emphasized. A strong spiritual leader almost assures the salvation of his family (see note also DEEPER STUDY # 3—Acts 16:15 for discussion).

2. The necessity for understanding the Word of the Lord. The man and his household were utterly ignorant of Christ. Apparently they had never heard anything about Him, so Paul and Silas had to instruct the jailer and his household in the basics of salvation. Note the jailer's living quarters were within the prison walls.

“And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mk.16:15).

“Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and wherein ye stand; by which also ye are saved, if ye keep in memory what I preached unto you, unless ye have believed in vain. For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; and that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the scriptures” (1 Cor.15:1-4).

3. The necessity of repentance and baptism. The man and his family believed, trusted Christ as their Savior (v.34), and they repented of their sins. This is not mentioned, but it is clear, for the very first act of belief and repentance is baptism. Note: they were immediately baptized (v.33). (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Baptism—Acts 2:38.) Also note the man demonstrated repentance by caring for the wounds of the men whom he had treated so badly.

“Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost” (Acts 2:38).

“Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord” (Acts 3:19).

“Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee” (Acts 8:32).

“Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the LORD, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon” (Is.55:7).

4 (16:34) Salvation: the fruits of salvation. Three fruits are clearly seen.

1. There was the privilege of ministering to fellow believers. The jailer brought Paul and Silas into his house which apparently was within the prison walls, and then he fed them. What he was doing, of course, was showing his appreciation for what God had done for him. A believer cannot sit still and ignore people around him, not if they have desperate needs, not if he is a genuine believer. When God had helped him so much, he could not shut his eyes to those who needed his help.

“For I was an hungered, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in” (Mt.25:35).

“I have showed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, It is more blessed to give than to receive” (Acts 20:35).

“Distributing to the necessity of saints; given to hospitality” (Ro.12:13).

“We then that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves. Let every one of us please his neighbour for his good to edification” (Ro.15:1-2).

“Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ” (Gal.6:2).

2. There was the joy of rejoicing. God had saved him and his whole family, saved them all from the grip of sin, death, and condemnation. He could not help experiencing the joy of rejoicing.

“These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full” (Jn.15:11).

“Whom having not seen, ye love; in whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory” (1 Pt.1:8).

“I will greatly rejoice in the Lord, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decketh himself with ornaments, and as a bride adorneth herself with her jewels” (Is.61:10).

“Thy words were found, and I did eat them; and thy word was unto me the joy and rejoicing of mine heart: for I am called by thy name, O Lord God of hosts” (Jer.15:16).

3. There was the salvation of his family. He was faithful. He knew the importance of salvation, so he insisted his whole family come together to hear the gospel. And note it was in the wee hours of the morning. God honored his spiritual hunger and leadership and saved the whole family. (See DEEPER STUDY # 3, Home, Religion—Acts 16:15 for more discussion and verses.)

5 (16:35-40) Salvation: the effect of salvation upon the world. Three effects are seen in this experience.

1. The world had a sense of guilt over the injustice done. What caused this? Apparently the movement of God in the earthquake. As usually happens in any natural disaster, most men’s minds turned toward God. These men had just committed a serious evil; they were the judges and rulers and they had allowed themselves to be swayed by the influential and wealthy of the city. They had punished and imprisoned two men without a trial. Their consciences bothered them and they decided to do what they could to right their wrong. They released the men.

Thought 1. The Spirit of God will convict every man who ever mistreats a believer. No man will ever escape His convicting power. But note: repentance is up to the man. God cannot repent for the man. Repentance is the man’s responsibility. And if the man does not respond to God’s conviction by repenting, he will be judged and condemned eternally.

“For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved. He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God. And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil” (Jn.3:16-19).

“Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live” (Jn.5:25).

“For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who hold the truth in unrighteousness; because that which may be known of God is manifest in them; for God hath showed it unto them. For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse” (Ro.1:18-20).

“Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord” (Acts 3:19).

“Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee” (Acts 8:22).

“And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men every where to repent” (Acts 17:30).

2. The world feared and was humbled. Paul revealed that he was a Roman citizen. It was against the law for a Roman citizen to be denied trial and to be flogged. If the rulers were reported to Rome, they would be removed from office and could be tried for treason.

The point is this: God was using natural events to strike fear and humility into the city of Philippi. God wanted the church at Philippi left alone so it could grow and become one of the great ministering churches in the first century.

“And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell” (Mt.10:28).

“He hath put down the mighty from their seats, and exalted them of low degree” (Lk.1:52).

“And if ye call on the Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to every man’s work, pass the time of your sojourning here in fear” (1 Pt.1:17).

“Honour all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honour the king” (1 Pt.2:17).

“Now therefore fear the LORD, and serve him in sincerity and in truth: and put away the gods which your fathers served on the other side of the flood, and in Egypt; and serve ye the LORD” (Josh.24:14).

“Sanctify the LORD of hosts himself; and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread” (Is.8:13).

3. The disciples were released and delivered by the hand of God.
  - ⇒ They went to the house of Lydia.
  - ⇒ The word “they” is used instead of “we.” Luke stayed behind in Philippi.
  - ⇒ The first fruit in Europe was born. There was now a Christian fellowship or church in Philippi: Lydia, the slave girl, the jailer, and perhaps Clement. Euodia and Syntyche were also saved on this first mission to Philippi (cp. Ph.4:2-3).

Thought 1. God is able to deliver the believer through all trials, and He will deliver and work all things out for good until He is ready to take the believer on home to heaven.

“And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose” (Ro.8:28).

“There hath no temptation [trial] taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it” (1 Cor.10:13).

“Who delivered us from so great a death, and doth deliver: in whom we trust that he will yet deliver us” (2 Cor.1:10).

“And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever” (2 Tim.4:18).

“Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil; and deliver them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage” (Heb.2:14-15).

“For we have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin. Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need” (Heb.4:15-16).

“The Lord knoweth how to deliever the godly out of temptation, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished” (2 Pt.2:9).

DIVISION VIII

THE SECOND GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO EUROPE, 15:36-18:22

G. Thessalonica, a Most Important City: The Message that Turned the World Upside Down, 17:1-9

(17:1-9) Introduction: this is the message needed for today, the message that turned the ancient world upside down.

1. The messenger (v.1-2).
2. The message (v.2-3).
3. The results of the message: many believed (v.4).
4. The world's reaction to the message (v.5).
5. The charge against the message (v.6-7).
6. The world's fear of the message: feared the loss of material possessions and positions (v.8-9).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(17:1-9) Thessalonica: the great city was the capital and the largest city of Macedonia. (See Map—Introduction to Acts.) It had been founded by Cassander, the top military officer of Alexander the Great, after Alexander died. Under the Romans the city had been made free because of its loyalty to Rome. As a free city it was allowed its own government and local laws. The city had a natural harbor, but the primary factor contributing to the city's greatness was that it lay right on the Roman road, the Egnatian Way. In fact, the great road ran right through Thessalonica. It was the main street of the city, stretching all the way from the Adriatic Sea to the Middle East. Trade and commerce bristled with all the accompanying vice that follows such a metropolitan center. It was a great day when Paul walked into the city bringing the news of the glorious gospel. The gospel was bound to spread out beyond to the world rather rapidly. The church at Thessalonica...

- was founded on Paul's second missionary journey.
- was revisited by Paul (1 Cor.16:5).
- included some Jews and a large number of Greeks and influential women (Acts 17:4; 2 Th.3:4, 7-8).
- did not support Paul. He worked at a secular job while there (1 Th.2:9); however, he did receive financial help from the church at Philippi (Ph.4:16).
- suffered persecution (1 Th.2:14).
- was well organized (1 Th.5:12).
- had several prominent believers known by name: Jason (Acts 17:6), Gaius (Acts 19:29), Aristarchus (Acts 19:29; 20:4), and Secundus (Acts 20:4).

I (17:1-2) Minister—Paul: the messenger. As Paul travelled about proclaiming the gospel, he set a dynamic example for every believer. Note three challenging points.

1. The messenger continued on for the Lord despite great opposition and terrible persecution from those who did not understand the gospel (v.23-24, 39). Paul was the Lord's, and he had been called by the Lord to preach the gospel. Even more to the point, he knew the Lord personally—His glorious salvation—and he knew there were many persons who had never heard the gospel. Therefore they were dying and doomed to an eternal hell. Even as Christ loved the world, Paul loved the world; therefore, he was driven to carry the message to Thessalonica. He wanted them to at least have the opportunity to hear and be saved.

Thought 1. We must not allow opposition to stop our witness.

- ⇒ We must witness out of love for people who have never heard a clear cut presentation of the gospel.
- ⇒ We must witness, being compelled by the love of Christ for us.
- ⇒ We must witness, for men without Jesus Christ are lost and doomed unless they are saved.

“For the love of Christ constraineth us; because we thus judge, that if one died for all, then were all dead: and that he died for all, that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them, and rose again” (2 Cor.5:14-15).

2. The messenger sowed the gospel wherever he was. This is clearly seen in this verse. Paul “passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia.” The city of Apollonia was in the district of Illyricum, and Paul said he preached the gospel all the way “from Jerusalem, and round about unto Illyricum” (Ro.15:19). Paul witnessed wherever he was. He missed no opportunity to reach out to those who so desperately needed the gospel.

3. The messenger followed his plan. His plan was wise: he would first reach out to those who were already familiar with the Scripture, to the Jews and to the God-fearing Gentiles (see note—Acts 13:14-16 for discussion).

Thought 1. One major reason for the weak witness of believers is the lack of a plan. Believers need to plan their witnessing, how...

- to discover the lost.
- to make opportunities.
- to approach the subject of the gospel.
- to share Christ.

“Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching [make disciples] them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world” (Mt.28:19-20).

“But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

“And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also” (2 Tim.2:2).

“But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear” (1 Pt.3:15).

2 (17:2-3) Gospel—Preaching: the message was critical. It always is, for what a person believes determines everything he becomes and does.

1. The source and authority of Paul’s message was the Scripture. This is critical. Paul did not preach the ideas of other men nor his own ideas. His message did not come from man’s mind, not from man-made...

- philosophy
- psychology
- sociology
- history
- religion
- law

Paul preached the Scriptures. The Scriptures were both the source and authority of his message.

2. The points of Paul’s message were threefold.

- a. Christ died (see DEEPER STUDY # 2,3—Acts 2:23 for discussion).
- b. Christ arose from the dead (see note and DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 1:3; DEEPER STUDY # 4—2:24; note—2:25-26 for discussion).
- c. Jesus is the Christ (see DEEPER STUDY # 2—Mt.1:18 for discussion).

3. Paul preached the message in the synagogues for three Sabbath days. This does not mean that Paul preached in Thessalonica for only three weeks. Paul simply moved out of the synagogue and began to preach in homes wherever he was welcomed. Several passages indicate that he was in Thessalonica for a considerable length of time, and while there he...

- worked night and day at a secular job (1 Th.2:9).
- received financial support several times from the Philippian church (Ph.4:16).
- apparently led the church in a strong evangelistic thrust throughout the whole region (1 Th.1:8).

Thought 1. The great need of the hour is for believers to be just as dedicated as Paul was. Just imagine being so committed to preaching the gospel that...

- when people reject, one just moves out of the worship center into the homes and even outdoors if needed.
- when people do not support the ministry, one works at secular employment, works night and day if necessary, just to have enough to continue preaching the gospel.

“I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work” (Jn.9:4).

“For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard” (Acts 4:20).

“I am debtor both to the Greeks, and to the Barbarians; both to the wise, and to the unwise. So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rome also. For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek" (Ro.1:14-16).

"For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of: for necessity is laid upon me; yea, woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel!" (1 Cor.9:16).

3 (17:4) Preaching: the result of the message was that many believed. A real cross-section of society came to Christ. Note who they were.

1. Some Jews believed and joined with Paul and Silas in following Christ. Note a significant point that should encourage every witness of the Lord. The Jews were the most prejudicial people imaginable, yet some were saved and became true disciples. Sin can be overcome in lives, no matter how deeply rooted it may be. Paul did not let gross sin keep him from preaching. He knew the power of the gospel and proclaimed it even to the most bitter and prejudicial.

"For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek" (Ro.1:16).

2. Many devout (God-fearing) Greeks and influential women believed. These were the people...
- who were sick of the idolatry and immorality of their society.
  - who sensed the presence and sovereignty of the one true and living God.
  - who saw in the Jewish religion and the Scriptures hope for discovering the truth of God and life. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2, Society—Acts 16:14 for more discussion.)

"For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened" (Lk.11:10).

"And [God] hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation; that they should seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, though he be not far from every one of us" (Acts 17:26-27).

"But if from thence thou shalt seek the LORD thy God, thou shalt find him, if thou seek him with all thy heart and with all thy soul" (Dt.4:29).

"And ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart" (Jer.29:13).

"Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap in mercy; break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the LORD, till he come and rain righteousness upon you" (Hos.10:12).

4 (17:5) Gospel, Reaction—Church, Problems in: the world's reaction to the message. Three different segments of society react to the gospel.

1. There are the religionists. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2, Religionists—Acts 17:5.)

2. There are the loafers, the idle, the disorderly who are always ready to stir up trouble and do mischief and evil. Such people are easily aroused and led to react against anyone and anything. Leaders of government and religion have always found the slothful and disorderly easy prey to use in their schemes to attack opponents. Note how the loafers and the disorderly have no interest in Christ at all. They go about their own interests and the pursuit of doing nothing until they are aroused by some leader to oppose something. In the present situation the religionists used the disorderly to inflame the city against Paul and Silas and the new believers.

Thought 1. The loafers are a dangerous threat to believers if aroused. Throughout history they have been used time after time to oppose the movement of God. This is true even in the church. Carnal leaders seldom have been able to arouse the spiritual against God's will, but they have found easy prey in the uninvolved and in the loafers. By far most trouble within churches comes from carnal leaders arousing the uninvolved.

3. There are the average citizens. The response of the average citizen to Christ is clearly seen in the picture described here. They ignored Christ and had little to do with Him. But they could be easily influenced and become very disturbed with Christ and His followers. Note what caused them to become aroused. It was...

- men with selfish motives.
- rumors being spread.
- talk against leaders.
- the ill-informed being aroused.
- religious leaders speaking against Christ and His followers.

"And while he yet spake, lo, Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people" (Mt.26:47).

"And the multitude rose up together against them: and the magistrates rent off their clothes, and commanded to beat them" (Acts 16:22).

"And the mixed multitude that was among them fell a lusting: and the children of Israel also wept again, and said, Who shall give us flesh to eat?" (Num.11:4).

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(17:5) Religionists: the religionists (Jews) are said to be "moved with envy" against Paul and the gospel. The word "envy" (zelosantes) means jealous. Multitudes of people were turning to Christ; therefore, they were attending the preaching and teaching sessions of Paul. The religionists became as envious as men can become. Note two significant points.

1. The religionists were envious because another preacher was getting the attention and recognition, following and loyalty of the people. Simply speaking, they were jealous of his success.

2. The religionists were so envious that they “moved” to do something about it. Just what they did is seen in Paul’s letter to the Thessalonians (1 Th.2:3-10). The religionists talked against Paul, spreading rumors about him.
- a. They spread the rumor that his preaching...
    - was deceitful (v.3).
    - was from unclean or impure motives (v.3).
    - was a fraud, a false gospel (v.3).
  - b. They spread the rumor that Paul...
    - was a man-pleaser (v.4).
    - resorted to flattery to achieve his ends (v.5).
    - used a cloak of covetousness—deceived to make money—preached out of greed (v.5).
    - was seeking glory (v.6).
    - was unjust or crooked (v.10).
    - was to be blamed, reproached, exposed (v.10).

Thought 1. Rumors are the very things often used against the servants of God. However, this is not the most shocking fact. In this case it was preachers attacking a preacher; Jewish ministers attacking a Christian minister. Note this: a person is usually attacked by his own professional peers more than by anyone else. And the reason is too often envy and jealousy.

5 (17:6-7) Gospel—Preaching: the charge against the messengers and the message. The mob could not find Paul and Silas. They were out someplace. Paul had been staying at the house of a man named Jason. The mob dragged him and some other believers before the rulers of the city and made two charges.

1. The charge was that the message was revolutionary, a message of insurrection; it turned the world upside down.
  - a. The charge was true in one sense. The gospel does change lives. It turns men from sin and shame to God and from immorality to purity.
  - b. The charge was false in the sense the accusers meant. They said that the message disturbed the community and threatened the public peace, put people in an uproar and infringed upon their rights.

Thought 1. The same charges are often made against the church and believers, especially when the needs of a large number of people are beginning to be met.

2. The message was the claim that Jesus is King. Note that one of the major teachings of Scripture is the return of the Lord Jesus Christ to earth. Paul had been teaching the glorious truth to the believers (1 Th.4:13f). The public at large had misunderstood the teaching, “Jesus Christ is King.” But He is the King of man’s spirit and of heaven, of the spiritual world and dimension of being, not of this world (Jn.18:36-37). He came to rule and reign in the hearts and lives of men, in the realm of the spiritual and eternal, not of the physical and temporal. (See note—Eph.1:3.) No earthly power need be concerned about Christ usurping the authorities and kingdoms of this earth. The Lord’s concern is the spiritual revolution of men, the changing of their hearts and lives to live righteously and godly in this present world.

Note: a righteous and godly man becomes a much more loyal and responsible citizen than an immoral and unjust man. The latter is much more likely to cause the collapse of his government through the sowing of dishonesty and corruption, immorality and unfaithfulness, unattachment and selfishness, dishonor and betrayal.

“By the blessing of the upright the city is exalted: but it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked” (Pr.11:11).

“Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people” (Pr.14:34).

“He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty; and he that ruleth his spirit than he that taketh a city” (Pr.16:32).

“Take away the wicked from before the king, and his throne shall be established in righteousness” (Pr.25:5).

“For the transgression of a land many are the princes thereof: but by a man of understanding and knowledge the state thereof shall be prolonged” (Pr.28:2).

6 (17:8-9) World, Reaction—Gospel, Reaction: the world’s fear of the message. Very simply, the city leaders feared the loss of their positions and authority, esteem and recognition, power and rule, wealth and livelihood. If the news of another King reached Caesar, Rome would react and remove the city leaders and they would lose all. Apparently, the officials only took notice of Paul’s preaching so they could keep an eye on things and prevent the rise of a Christian King in their midst. They put Jason under a bond that apparently was to prevent him from housing the ministers again and to see to it that they left the city immediately (cp. 1 Th.2:17-18).

Thought 1. Men reject Christ because of what it will cost them. Christ demands the denial of this world and death to all selfish desires and ambitions (see note and DEEPER STUDY # 1—Lk.9:23 for discussion).

“And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: but whosoever will lose his life for my sake, the same shall save it” (Lk.9:23-24).

“So likewise, whosoever he be of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple” (Lk.14:33).

“For if ye live after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the Spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live” (Ro.8:13).

DIVISION VIII

THE SECOND GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO EUROPE, 15:36-18:22

H. Berea, the Receptive City: A Noble People, 17:10-15

(17:10-15) Introduction: this is an excellent study on what it is that makes a people noble.

1. A night escape by Paul and Silas (v.10).
2. A concerned and God-fearing people (v.11).
3. A receptive people (v.11).
4. A people who honestly sought the truth (v.11).
5. A thinking and searching people: they verified the message preached (v.11).
6. An honest and decisive people: they believed what proved to be true (v.12).
7. A courageous, protective, helpful, and ministering people (v.13-15).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(17:10-15) Berea: the city was about fifty miles southwest of Thessalonica. (See Map—Introduction to Acts.) It was located in a quiet, out of the way place lying on the eastern slope of the Olympian mountains, and next to a well watered plain. It was well off the Egnatian Way, that is, the major Roman road running through the country. Paul probably chose Berea because it was out of the way, thinking the opposition in the other towns against him might settle down. More than anything he wanted to preach the gospel so that lost men could be saved. Naturally, he could preach more freely and reach more people if there was peace.

The church...

- was founded on Paul’s second missionary journey.
- was a noble people, of the very highest quality and character.
- had one prominent member mentioned in Scripture: Sopater (Acts 20:4).
- was described in Scripture only here.
- loved the Scripture and readily responded to Christ.
- had a strong testimony and legacy for loving the Scripture. Many Berean Bible classes are named after the Bereans.

1 (17:10) Courage: Paul and Silas made a night escape. Remember they were not in Jason’s house when the mob stormed it (v.5-6). When they returned, Jason and the Christian brothers naturally related what had happened. The decision was made that it would be best for Paul and Silas to escape by night.

1. Note the bravery of the believers. Jason had been put under a security bond, which certainly meant he was not to house or welcome the preachers any more. Also it probably meant he was to turn them over to the authorities for questioning and perhaps trial. The fact that they had to escape by night indicates this. But Jason, right along with the other brothers, showed enormous courage in helping Paul and Silas escape.

Thought 1. All believers need such courage. How many would have the courage to risk their lives or imprisonment to help other believers? Many do not even have enough courage to witness for Christ, fearing ridicule and embarrassment, which in most cases is only a mild rebuke.

2. The purpose for the escape was to save the lives of the preachers. But note what their minds were upon: not so much upon saving their lives as upon continuing to grasp opportunities to preach the gospel. People are lost and without Christ, doomed to sin and shame, death and judgment. And Paul wanted to live in order to reach them with the glorious news of salvation. They could be saved from sin and death; therefore, as soon as he entered Berea, he went into the synagogue to share Christ.

2 (17:11) Society, Corrupt—Man, God-Fearing; Noble: a noble people are a concerned and God-fearing people. The Berean people were a people of the synagogue and of the Scriptures, a people who worshipped God. They were sickened by the immorality and injustices of society, by the sin and shame, selfishness and greed, indulgence and license, unfairness and disadvantage, abuse and violence, dishonesty and stealing, deception and lying, fornication and adultery of men and women against each other and against fellow human beings. They were sickened by a world that had forgotten what it is that builds character and nations:

- |                 |                |
|-----------------|----------------|
| ⇒ righteousness | ⇒ truthfulness |
| ⇒ honesty       | ⇒ justice      |
| ⇒ morality      | ⇒ love         |
| ⇒ goodness      | ⇒ brotherhood  |

A noble people have a concern about God and the things of God. They fear—stand in awe and reverence before God—knowing that God alone is the answer to the longing of their soul and to the ills of their society and world. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2, Society Corrupt—Acts 16:14 for more discussion.)

“And his mercy is on them that fear him from generation to generation” (Lk.1:50).

“But in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him” (Acts 10:35).

“What man is he that feareth the LORD? him shall he teach in the way that he shall choose” (Ps.25:12).

“Oh how great is thy goodness, which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee; which thou hast wrought for them that trust in thee before the sons of men!” (Ps.31:19).

3 (17:11) Spiritual Receptivity: a noble people are receptive and open both to people and the truth.

1. They are a people with an even and well-balanced temperament. Their temperament is not...
  - negative
  - sour
  - ugly
  - despairing
  - critical
  - ill
  - downcast
2. They are a people with a healthy attitude toward others. Their attitude is not that of...
  - pride or superiority
  - being too busy
  - indifference
  - holier than thou
  - ignoring or neglecting
3. They are a people concerned about the welfare of others. Their actions and behavior are not that of...
  - being selfish and self-centered
  - showing jealousy and envy
  - pre-judging and rejecting
  - reacting and abusing
4. They are a people who are open and receptive both to other people and to the truth. They are a people...
  - who are welcoming and hospitable
  - who are soft and warm
  - who listen and hear
  - who are fair and impartial
  - who are considerate and charitable

4 (17:11) Word of God—Truth: a noble people seek the truth and seek it honestly. They are open to seeking the truth in the Scripture as well as to seeking it in the world. Not everyone is honest in seeking the truth. Some claim to seek the truth but have closed minds to other approaches to the truth. They are closed to approaches that differ from the approach they wish to pursue. This is particularly true with the truth of Scripture and of Christ. Natural man has a bias and prejudice against the truth of Scripture and Christ. Therefore, in his pursuit of truth, he ignores and sometimes mocks Biblical truth.

But note: this is to be expected. Why? Because if the Bible is true, then man must surrender his life to Christ—all he is and has. And man fears and rebels against this demand. He is just unwilling to look at the truth of the world, that it is reeling under the unbelievable weight of pain and suffering because of sin and death. The only conceivable answer to meeting the mammoth needs of the world is to turn men’s hearts to God. Only God can change the human heart from selfishness and inject enough love and care to meet the needs of man.

The point is this: most men are unwilling to face the reality of truth. Natural man has a bias against the truth of God and His world. But not the noble of the world. The noble are those who search for the truth and are open to all areas of the truth, including God and Scripture.

“Search the scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me” (Jn.5:39).

“For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope” (Ro.15:4).

“For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe” (1 Th.2:13).

5 (17:11) Seek-Seeking—Truth: a noble people are an honest and thinking and searching people. They investigate, study, and seek to verify the message of truth. Note: the Bereans sought “with all readiness of mind” (meta pases prothumias): a willing desire, an eagerness, a hunger, a thirst to know the truth. A noble people do not shut their minds or hearts; they do not refuse to listen or consider.

Note another fact: a noble people do not just accept and swallow whatever is said. Paul himself was the authority proclaiming the truth; but the Bereans studied, investigated, and searched the Scriptures for the truth themselves. And they searched daily. The truth of God and His world has no end; it is unfathomable. Discovering the truth is a daily responsibility. God has made it so (Lk.9:23).

“Blessed are they that keep his testimonies, and that seek him with the whole heart” (Ps.119:2).

“Come now, and let us reason together, saith the LORD: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool. If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land: but if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of the LORD hath spoken it” (Is.1:18-20).

“And ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart” (Jer.29:13).

6 (17:12) Truth—Commitment: a noble people are an honest and decisive people. They believe the truth and commit their lives to it when they discover it. God rewards a diligent search for the truth. He reveals the truth to the human heart by His Spirit.

“Search the scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me” (Jn.5:39).

“For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope” (Ro.15:4).

“If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free” (Jn.8:31-32).

“Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will show you things to come” (Jn.16:13).

Note: many Bereans believed, and among the believers were many honorable women and men. The word “honorable” (euschemonon) means both good character and respectable and influential citizens. They were leaders in the community. Also note that both men and women were seeking God, attending the services and studying the Scriptures together, not just women.

“And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified” (Acts 20:32).

7 (17:13-14) Ministering—Courage: a noble people are a courageous and protective, helpful and ministering people. A noble people will always do all they can to stand up and protect those who proclaim the truth and do good. Nobility refuses to let the innocent be unjustly treated and abused. Note how this is demonstrated in the noble persons of Berea. The enemies of the gospel in Thessalonica heard that Paul was in Berea preaching the gospel. So they pursued him and began to stir up (saleontes) the people against Paul. The idea is a volcanic stirring or shaking of the people. The stirring was of earthquake proportions. (Cp. the Galatian Jews who also pursued Paul to keep him from preaching, Acts 14:19.) But note the traits of nobility demonstrated by the Bereans.

1. They were courageous and protective. They immediately took matters into their own hands and bravely took action contrary to the wishes of the aroused citizens. They protected Paul by sending him away. However, Silas and Timothy remained back in Berea continuing to ground the church and to preach the gospel to the city.

2. They were helpful and ministering. The Berean Christians took a most unusual step to show their love and care: they provided an escort for Paul, helping and ministering to him all the way to Athens.

Thought 1. Believers must stand together, help and protect and minister to each other whenever needed. In the face of opposition, ridicule, and embarrassment it may be tough. But we must be courageous and brave and support each other as brothers in the Lord—no matter the cost...

- at work
- at church
- at play
- at school

“I have showed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, It is more blessed to give than to receive” (Acts 20:35).

“We then that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves” (Ro.15:1).

“Bear ye one another’s burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ” (Gal.6:2).

“Now we exhort you, brethren, warn them that are unruly, comfort the feebleminded, support the weak, be patient toward all men” (1 Th.5:14).

DIVISION VIII

THE SECOND GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO EUROPE, 15:36-18:22

I. Athens, the Great Intellectual and Philosophical City (Part I): The Preacher's Urgency and Various Audiences—Who It Is That Needs the Gospel, 17:16-21

(17:16-21) Introduction: this is an excellent study on different types of people and audiences who sit before the gospel.

1. The messenger Paul was in Athens, the great intellectual and cultural center (v.16).
2. There were the religionists (v.17).
3. There were the God-fearing people (v.17).
4. There were the average persons or citizens (v.17).
5. There were the Epicureans or pleasure-seekers (v.18).
6. There were the Stoics or the self-disciplined (v.18).
7. There were the philosophical questioners of Christ (v.18-21).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(17:16-21) Athens: the once great city was now in its sunset of glory. (See Map—Introduction to Acts.) Throughout ancient history Athens had been one of the most glorious cities of the world. Literature, art, architecture, and thought flourished. Prosperity was rampant. But as history has always proven, when a people gain prosperity, most of them become arrogant and self-sufficient, extravagant and indulgent, greedy and unjust, worldly and immoral, slothful and complacent, selfish and hoarding. The spiritual fiber and physical hardness of the Athenians deteriorated. At the time of Paul's visit, the city was the greatest university center of the world. But its citizenry lacked spiritual unity, common purpose and behavior. There were as many gods as there were men. Men did little else than exercise their mental faculties, debating the merit of philosophies, reality, and gods (v.21).

- 1 (17:16) Minister: there was the messenger Paul in Athens, the great intellectual and cultural center of the world. Paul was alone, and no doubt he did as anyone would do—he toured the city. But note: he was not swept off his feet by the majestic buildings and splendor of the architecture. Contrariwise, what gripped him was the idolatry. The city was “wholly given to idolatry.” The Greek says “full of idols.” Ancient writers estimate that the city had thousands and thousands of idols, one or more for every person in the city. The idols sat everywhere, lining the streets and buildings, within and without every home. Seeing such a sight “stirred” (paroxuneto) the spirit of Paul. The word means aroused, agitated, irritated. Paul was aroused...
- over the abuse of God's glory.
  - over the spiritual blindness of man's mind and reason.
  - against the devil's enslavement of lives.
  - with compassion for the souls of men.

Note what happened: Paul could wait no longer. He had been waiting for Silas and Timothy, but he could not swallow the scene of idolatry anymore. He began to reason and discuss the gospel with men everywhere. The word “dispute” (dielegeto) means to reason and discuss. And he proclaimed the gospel daily. The idea is twofold.

1. He was zealous, full of fervor and passion, eagerly grasping every moment and opportunity.

2. He knew the stakes were high. The destiny of everyone he passed and saw lay in the balance. They were all lost and doomed unless he could reach them with the gospel. Therefore no matter the cost, he had to do all he could to reach and help them in their search for the truth.

2 (17:17) Religionists—Gospel: the first audience for the gospel was the religionists. The religionists were pictured in the Jews. They...

- were the regular attenders of worship services.
- were familiar with God.
- were familiar with the Scripture and its teachings.
- were the ones usually trying to live moral and just lives.
- were the ones usually seeking truth.

Therefore, they were the logical ones to try and reach first. They were the first ones for whom the preacher's heart would ache, for they...

- had been seeking God and had been blinded by institutional religion, by its ceremony and ritual and form.
- were resting in a false security and assurance.
- had been holding the banner of morality and justice high in an evil world.
- had been holding back the flood waters of evil.

Very simply, the religionists were the persons who were more like the preacher than anyone else. The religionists, although lost and blinded to Christ, were concerned with morality and justice. The preacher's heart was bound to ache for the blind religionists to know the truth.

"I have great heaviness and continual sorrow in my heart. For I could wish that myself were accursed from Christ for my brethren, my kinsmen according to the flesh" (Ro.9:2-3).

"Brethren, my heart's desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saved" (Ro.10:1).

"For ye remember, brethren, our labour and travail: for labouring night and day, because we would not be chargeable unto any of you, we preached unto you the gospel of God" (1 Th.2:9).

3 (17:17) Seeking God—Reverence: the second audience for the gospel was God-fearing men and women. The word "devout" (sebomenois) means those who worship or the God-fearing men and women who are not Jews. There were many of these in the ancient world, many who were just sick of the immorality and injustices of their pagan society and polytheistic religions. Therefore, they turned to the Jewish religion, being attracted by the emphasis upon one God and the laws demanding morality and justice for all (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Society Corrupt—Acts 16:14; note—17:11 for discussion).

"That they should seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, though he be not far from every one of us" (Acts 17:27).

"But if from thence thou shalt seek the LORD thy God, thou shalt find him, if thou seek him with all thy heart and with all thy soul" (Dt.4:29).

"Seek ye the LORD while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near" (Is.55:6).

"And ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart" (Jer.29:13).

4 (17:17) Gospel—Materialism: the third audience for the gospel was the average person or citizen of the community. These were the people of the community who...

- gave little thought or notice to truth, to what lay behind the world and man, behind behavior and death.
- just fit in and went along with the crowd and society and the world around them, whether just or unjust, moral or immoral.
- were concerned with day to day affairs and practical living.

They were the audience who moved about in the market places and shopping centers of the community, buying and selling, demonstrating concern over...

- appearance and looks
- clothes and the latest styles
- possessions and things
- body and development
- social acceptance and popularity
- position and recognition
- money and property

Note: these are the materialists of the world. Materialism always leaves the human heart empty and longing for something that will fill and satisfy one's life. The heart of the honest materialist is a prime audience for the gospel.

"No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon" (Mt.6:24).

"For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?" (Mt.16:26).

"Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth" (Col.3:2).

"Behold, I stand at the door and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me" (Rev.3:20).

“And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely” (Rev.22:17).

“Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool” (Is.1:18).

“Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price” (Is.55:1).

5 (17:18) Epicureans—Worldliness: the fourth audience for the gospel was the Epicureans or pleasure-seekers. The Epicurean philosophy has been in the world since Adam. However, the basic principles were spelled out by the Greek philosopher Epicurus (B.C. 342-270). The basic beliefs are:

- ⇒ The world happened by chance, by accident.
- ⇒ If there are gods, they are remote and disinterested in the affairs of men.
- ⇒ Man is left on his own to discover the truth and pleasure of life.
- ⇒ There is nothing after death, no heaven or hell, no reward or punishment. Man simply returns to become part of the dust of the earth.

Note how this philosophy centers upon man and his pleasure. It is both humanistic and materialistic, leaving God completely out of the picture. Note also the practical outcome of the Epicurean philosophy. Man is left on his own to discover the truth and his own pleasure. Whatever pleases him, gives him and his society pleasure and happiness, he is free to do. Such a low view of man leads man...

- to do his own thing.
- to indulge self.
- to eat, drink, and be merry, for tomorrow he dies and is no more.
- to take license against others.
- to please self over others.
- to behave for self-interest, selfishly.
- to ignore and deny the rights of others in order to have and build, and to secure one’s own happiness and pleasure.

Pleasure-seekers are often left empty and dissatisfied, craving for something to fill and satisfy their lives. They are, therefore, prime prospects for the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ.

“And that which fell among thorns are they, which, when they have heard, go forth, and are choked with cares and riches and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruit to perfection” (Lk.8:14).

“And take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you unawares” (Lk.21:34).

“But she that liveth in pleasure is dead while she liveth” (1 Tim.5:6).

“For we ourselves also were sometimes foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving divers lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, and hating one another” (Tit.3:3).

“Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God” (Jas.4:4).

6 (17:18) Stoics: the fifth audience for the gospel was the Stoics or the rationalists, the self-controlled and disciplined. The stoic philosophy was formulated by Zeno (B.C. 336-264). The basic beliefs are...

- Pantheism: god exists in everything and in everyone. The fiery spirit, the energy of everything and everyone, is god.
- Fatalism: whatever happened occurred because it was supposed to happen. There is no good or evil in the world. Things are the way they are and happen the way they do because they are destined. There is nothing anyone can do about anything.

Note the practical outcome of this philosophy. People—those who believe in a god and believe that whatever happens is of god and that events cannot be affected by man—slip into one of two responses.

First, some people try to control their destiny. They discipline and control themselves, using all the reasoning powers and energy at their disposal. They try to control their destiny and fate, attempting to make only good things happen. They even deny themselves the simple pleasures and joys of life. They repress all feelings, for emotions and feelings are only signs of weakness. A person tries to be self-sufficient, indifferent to pain and pleasure, guided by reason alone.

Second, some people reason they can do nothing about their fate; therefore, they just live doing little if anything. They take whatever comes as their destiny and the life they are supposed to live. They make few, if any, significant contributions to life. Of course, this often leads to complacency and lethargy, laziness and worthlessness.

The disciplined, the self-controlled, and the legalist often ache for release, for a spirit of joy and rejoicing. And they, along with the lethargic, complacent, and fatalist, often ache for the care and interest of the Lord Jesus Christ. They are often a prime audience for the gospel.

“Ye observe days, and months, and times, and years. I am afraid of you, lest I have bestowed upon you labour in vain” (Gal.4:10-11).

“For bodily exercise [discipline] profiteth little: but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come” (1 Tim.4:8).

7 (17:18-21) Philosophers: the sixth audience of the gospel was the philosophical questioners of Christ. Note several points.

1. Some of the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers confronted Paul. Some mocked him to his face, calling him a “babbler.” Others took him more seriously, saying that he was presenting a new and strange god to the people.

Thought 1. Paul endured the mockery, stood his ground and refused to be dismissed. He wanted the chance to preach the gospel so that some might be saved. What a dynamic example for us—willing to bear mockery in order to try and reach some of the mockers for Christ!

2. It was Jesus and the resurrection that confounded the philosophers. Note: Paul was proclaiming Jesus as the personal God...

- the God who is vitally interested in our lives, interested enough to come to earth and live and die for us.
- the God who is so interested in us that He has ordained a day when He will resurrect all of us to face Him and give an account of our lives.

3. The philosophers brought Paul to the Areopagus, which is the Greek for Mars Hill. It is not known whether Paul was asked to share his god with a congregation of all the interested philosophers of the city or before the official court of the city. Whatever the case, he would be surrounded by a throng of people who had followed him to Mars Hill. Paul was anxious to preach Christ.

4. The great need of the philosophers is clearly stated by Scripture. They were...

- |               |                              |
|---------------|------------------------------|
| • aimless     | • empty                      |
| • meaningless | • without profitable purpose |

They had searched every philosophy and thought, belief and position in the known world at that time, and they had come short in finding the truth—the one true and living God. They had searched and ended up empty for so long that they found meaning in life only by listening to new and novel ideas. They were hopeless in discovering the one all-embracing Being of truth.

“Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools” (Ro.1:22).

“For it is written, I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent. Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world? For after that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe” (1 Cor.1:19-21).

“Howbeit we speak wisdom among them that are perfect: yet not the wisdom of this world, nor of the princes of this world, that come to nought” (1 Cor.2:6).

“For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, He taketh the wise in their own craftiness. And again, The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain” (1 Cor.3:19-20).

“That we henceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive” (Eph.4:14).

“Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ” (Col.2:8).

“This wisdom descendeth not from above, but is earthly, sensual, devilish” (Jas.3:15).

DIVISION VIII

THE SECOND GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO EUROPE, 15:36-18:22

J. Athens (Part II): Preaching to a Heathen People, 17:22-34

(17:22-34) Introduction: the message to the heathen people is a message that should be heard by every unbeliever.

1. Paul preached on Mars Hill (v.22).
2. God was sought by man (v.22).
3. God was not hidden, not unknown (v.23).
4. God is the Creator (v.24-25).
5. God guides the history of all men and nations (v.26).
6. God has a great purpose for creating man: to seek and know Him (v.27-28).
7. God now demands repentance (v.29-30).
8. God has appointed a day to judge the world (v.31).
9. The results of the message (v.32-34).

1 (17:22) Gospel—Preaching: Paul stood in the midst of Mars Hill ready to preach. He stood where so many of the world's great philosophers had stood, philosophers such as Socrates, Plato, and Aristotle. They had expounded the great thoughts of their philosophies; now Paul was about to proclaim the great truths of God. The official court sat before him and a large crowd of interested philosophers and poets and citizens surrounded him. There they sat and stood, all heathens, completely void of any knowledge of the living and true God. The most momentous moment of their lives was about to take place. They were about to hear the most glorious news ever proclaimed to man: God had revealed Himself and made Himself known to man. He had sent His Son, the Lord Jesus Christ, to earth to save man from sin, death, and judgment to come. God was deeply concerned with the welfare of man. Paul's message included eight points.

2 (17:22) Man, Seeking God: God was sought by man. Note the words, You are very superstitious, very religious (hos desidaimonesterous). The word can be equally translated either way. The fact that man is religious and superstitious reveals he is searching for God. Men worship because they seek God. Their hearts...

- are restless, searching for peace and life with God.
- are hungry, seeking to have God's care and provision.

- are fearful, seeking to have God’s protection.

“But where shall wisdom be found? And where is the place of understanding?...And unto man he said, Behold, the fear of the LORD, that is wisdom; and to depart from evil is understanding” (Job 28:12, 28).

“The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved” (Jer.8:20).

“Seek him that maketh the seven stars and Orion, and turneth the shadow of death into the morning, and maketh the day dark with night: that calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth: The LORD is his name” (Amos 5:8).

3 (17:23) God—Idolatry: God is not hidden, not unknown. As Paul had walked throughout the great city of Athens, he had read many of the inscriptions written on the monuments and idols. One in particular had caught his attention: the altar “TO AN UNKNOWN GOD” (AGNOSTO THEO). Note several facts.

1. The word “devotions” (ta sebasmata) means the objects of worship such as idols, altars, images.
2. The people acknowledged there was an unknown god, and they worshipped him. But they did not know him.

None of the gods satisfied the people. Their lives and their religions were still empty and missing something. The restlessness, hunger, and fear were still in their hearts and minds, especially in lonely moments. None of the religions or gods created by man’s imagination satisfied and met their needs. All they could do was worship an unknown god; they knew nothing about him, yet they worshipped him.

Note what Paul did: he declared that he knew the unknown God. He personally knew Him, and it was He whom Paul declared.

“And also all that generation were gathered unto their fathers: and there arose another generation after them, which knew not the Lord, nor yet the works which he had done for Israel” (Judg.2:10).

“For my people is foolish, they have not known me; they are sottish children, and they have none understanding: they are wise to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge” (Jer.4:22).

“I am debtor both to the Greeks, and to the Barbarians; both to the wise, and to the unwise. So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rome also. For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek” (Ro.1:14-16).

“Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and wherein ye stand; by which also ye are saved, if ye keep in memory what I preached unto you, unless ye have believed in vain. For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; and that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the scriptures” (1 Cor.15:1-4).

4 (17:24-25) God, Creator: God is the Creator. Paul declared six significant points about God as Creator.

1. God made the world and all things therein (cosmos, the whole universe). The point is striking. There is only One God, One who...

- |                       |   |
|-----------------------|---|
| • is supreme          | • has created the world (cosmos, universe)              |
| • is absolute         | • has created everything in the world                   |
| • is all powerful     | • has created man himself (who is part of the universe) |
| • is all encompassing |   |

“Thou, even thou, art LORD alone; thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all; and the host of heaven worshippeth thee” (Neh.9:6; cp. Acts 14:15).

“Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear” (Heb.11:3).

“In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth” (Gen.1:1).

Note the point: if there is only One Supreme God, then there are no other gods. All other gods are false. They are only the creation of man’s mind and the object of man’s desires.

Thought 1. Men of every generation need to heed this point, for men worship many false gods and idols. They put their trust and confidence in the things of this world such as...

- |            |             |              |
|------------|-------------|--------------|
| • money    | • houses    | • property   |
| • position | • fame      | • cars       |
| • clothes  | • education | • government |
| • religion | • self      | • mankind    |

Any of these and a host of other things can become the gods of present day man, the primary objects of his trust and attention, energy and efforts, hope and confidence. But note the declaration of Paul: there is only One God; only One who can look after and take care of man; only One who created the universe. There is no other God worthy of the trust, worship, time, and energy of man.

2. God is the Lord of heaven and earth. He is the Master, the Ruler over all. The point is clear. As Lord, the Unknown God of man is the One to whom all men owe their allegiance and worship. Men are not to bow before nor serve any other god. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2, Lord—Acts 2:36 for more discussion.)

“Now unto the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honour and glory for ever and ever” (1 Tim.1:17).

“And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying, Alleluia: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth” (Rev.19:6).

“The LORD shall reign for ever and ever” (Ex.15:18).

“And said, O LORD God of our fathers, art not thou God in heaven? and rulest not thou over all the kingdoms of the heathen? and in thine hand is there not power and might, so that none is able to withstand thee?” (2 Chron.20:6).

“For the kingdom is the LORD’s: and he is the governor among the nations” (Ps.22:28).

“Who is the King of glory? The LORD of hosts, he is the King of glory” (Ps.24:10).

3. God is the Creator, not the created. He does not dwell in temples made with man’s hands.
  - ⇒ Man’s ideas and imaginations about God are not God. Man cannot create God out of his mind.
  - ⇒ Man’s temples built to hold the presence of God cannot contain God. God is above the heavens. He is the Creator, the Lord of heaven and earth.

Thought 1. Men often worship what they have made with their hands and minds. It may be a man-made religion or some man-made thing in the world. Whatever it is, it is false. It is only a creation of man himself and cannot do him any good beyond this world. There is only One God, and He is the Creator of man, not the created.

“In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth” (Gen.1:1).

“Thou, even thou, art Lord alone; thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all; and the host of heaven worshippeth thee” (Neh.9:6).

“He stretcheth out the north over the empty place, and hangeth the earth upon nothing” (Job 26:7).

“Of old hast thou laid the foundation of the earth: and the heavens are the work of thy hands” (Ps.102:25).

“And saying, Sirs, why do ye these things? We also are men of like passions with you, and preach unto you that ye should turn from these vanities unto the living God, which made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all things that are therein” (Acts 14:15).

“Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear” (Heb.11:3).

4. God is the Self-Sufficient One. He needs nothing. Men may think God needs them, their lives, worship, offerings, and service; but God does not need men. He needs nothing that man has. Man cannot help or benefit God at all.

The point is shocking to the mind of man. It means that all man is and has, himself and his world, are free gifts of God. God has made man because God is loving and gracious and giving, not because He needs man. Man has nothing to offer God; man does not exist because God needs him. Man exists because God loves and wanted to demonstrate His love to man.

“And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory for ever” (Mt.6:13).

“Behold, he taketh away, who can hinder him? Who will say unto him, What doest thou?” (Job 9:12).

“That men may know that thou, whose name alone is JEHOVAH, art the Most High over all the earth” (Ps.83:18).

“The land shall not be sold for ever: for the land is mine; for ye are strangers and sojourners with me” (Lev.25:23).

“But who am I, and what is my people, that we should be able to offer so willingly after this sort? for all things come of thee, and of thine own have we given thee” (1 Chron.29:14).

“The earth is the LORD’s, and the fullness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein” (Ps.24:1).

5. God is the Giver of life and breath and all things. He is the sole source of man’s existence, the One who gives and sustains life. Note: God is actively involved in giving three things to all beings...

- life
- breath
- all things

Everything that man has and that concerns man comes from God’s hands. God is not remote, off in outer space someplace, unreachable. He is actively involved in the life of man, even in the very breath of man and in the giving of all things.

“Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning” (Jas.1:17).

“Thou hast praised the gods of silver, and gold, of brass, iron, wood, and stone, which see not, nor hear, nor know: and the God in whose hand thy breath is, and whose are all thy ways, hast thou not glorified” (Dan.5:23).

5 (17:26) God, Sovereignty: God guides the history of all men and nations. This is a phenomenal revelation.

1. All men come from one source, from God Himself. All men have the same blood and nature. No man or nation is above another. All are equal; all stand before God. No one is a favorite of God. God shows no partiality to one person over another: to Jew or Gentile, to religionist or heathen.

2. All men and nations are “appointed a time” to live and are given “bounds” within which to live. God oversees the birth and life of every person and nation. He is actively involved in the world and in the lives of people. Man just needs to acknowledge and reach out to Him and to Him alone; then man will come to know the glorious care and guidance of God’s hand.

Thought 1. Note how God is in control of human history, both of nations and of individuals. He rules over all, guiding and directing and keeping everyone within certain bounds. What is so desperately needed is for men to put their trust in God so that they may come to know His personal care in their lives.

“And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever” (Mt.6:13).

“The LORD sitteth upon the flood; yea, the LORD sitteth King for ever” (Ps.29:10).

“That men may know that thou, whose name alone is JEHOVAH, art the most high over all the earth” (Ps.83:18).

“The LORD reigneth, he is clothed with majesty; the LORD is clothed with strength, wherewith he hath girded himself: the world also is stablished, that it cannot be moved” (Ps.93:1).

“Whatsoever the LORD pleased, that did he in heaven, and in earth, in the seas, and all deep places” (Ps.135:6).

“Daniel answered and said, Blessed be the name of God for ever and ever: for wisdom and might are his” (Dan.2:20).

“And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and he doeth according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth: and none can stay his hand, or say unto him, What doest thou?” (Dan.4:35).

6 (17:27-28) Creation—Idolatry: God has a great purpose for creating men—that men might find and know God. Man should never have turned away from God and fallen into idolatry (cp. Ro.1:18-32). But since man has, he desperately needs to seek God, to do all he can to find God. There are two reasons given as to why man should seek to find God.

1. God is not far off. He is near everyone of us. He can be found. How close is God? It is in God that we live, move, and have our being. He and His works are all about us. If we only look, we can see how He gives and sustains our lives and movement. We will find Him, and once we have found Him, we can call upon Him and He will make Himself known to us. Note: men should see God in natural revelation, in the world all about them.

2. Man is the offspring of God (v.28-29). Therefore, man is responsible for seeking God. Paul quotes the Grecian poet Aratus (about B.C. 270). The point is forceful:

⇒ If man is the offspring of God, then idols are less than man, for idols are made by the mind of man. Man is superior to idols; therefore, to worship idols is to degrade the exalted position God has given man.

⇒ If man is the offspring of God, then something created by man is less than God. God is above everything man makes. Therefore, to exalt the works of man’s hand above God is to degrade the exalted position of both God and man.

“But if from thence thou shalt seek the LORD thy God, thou shalt find him, if thou seek him with all thy heart and with all thy soul” (Dt.4:29).

“Seek the LORD, and his strength: seek his face evermore” (Ps.105:4).

“Seek ye the LORD while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near” (Is.55:6).

“Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap in mercy; break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the LORD, till he come and rain righteousness upon you” (Hos.10:12).

7 (17:29-30) Repentance: God now demands that all men repent. There are two reasons why man is to repent.

1. Man is to repent because of his sin and idolatry. Man is not to worship idols of any sort, whether invisible or visible, of the mind or of materials, of the imagination or of the world. Note how the exhortation is worded: “We ought not to think,” to imagine that God is like gold, silver, or stone graven by art and man’s device. The word “device” (enthumeseos) means internal thoughts, ideas, imaginations. Every man has a concept, a thought about God. But we should not. We should seek and find the only living and true God. Every person is personally responsible for forsaking the idols of this world and for finding God. Man is now to repent.

2. Man is to repent because the days of ignorance are over. Before now, God winked at (huperidon) man’s ignorance—not in the sense of closing His eyes or of condoning man’s idolatry, but He overlooked man’s ignorance until He could prepare man for the coming of His Son. Now God’s Son has come, and God demands that all men repent (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 17:29-30).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(17:29-30) Repentance: to change; to turn; to change one’s mind; to turn one’s life. It is a turning away from sin and turning toward God. It is a change of mind, a forsaking of sin. It is putting sin out of one’s thoughts and behavior. It is resolving never to think or do a thing again. (Cp. Mt.3:2; Lk.13:2-3; Acts 2:38; 3:19; 8:22; 26:20.) The change is turning away from lying, stealing, cheating, immorality, cursing, drunkenness, and the other so-called glaring sins of the flesh. But the change is also turning away from the silent sins of the spirit such as self-centeredness, selfishness, envy, bitterness, pride, covetousness, anger, evil thoughts, hopelessness, laziness, jealousy, lust.

1. Repentance involves two turns. There is a negative turn away from sin and a positive turn toward God. It is a turning to God away from sin, whether sins of thought or action. (See note, Repentance—Lk.3:3. Cp. 1 Th.1:9; Acts 14:15.)

2. Repentance is more than sorrow. Sorrow may or may not be involved in repentance. A person may repent simply because he wills and acts to change; or a person may repent because he senses an agonizing sorrow within. But the sense or feeling of sorrow is not repentance. Repentance is both the change of mind and the actual turning of one's life away from sin and toward God. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1—2 Cor.7:10.)

8 (17:31) Judgment: God has appointed a day to judge the world. The word “appointed” is significant. The day of judgment is set, already determined. Note three points.

1. The judgment concerns righteousness, how men have lived and behaved. Life does not cease at the grave (Epicureans, the pleasure-seekers), nor does life just pass into one large ball of energy with everyone entering into God. Life is purposeful, which means...

- it is planned and guided by love and care.
- it is just and righteous.

“When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory: and before him shall be gathered all nations: and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats” (Mt.25:31-32).

“In the day when God shall judge the secrets of men by Jesus Christ according to my gospel” (Ro.2:16).

“So then every one of us shall give account of himself to God” (Ro.14:12).

“And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment” (Heb.9:27).

“But the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men” (2 Pt.3:7).

“Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousands of his saints, to execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard speeches which ungodly sinners have spoken against him” (Jude 14-15).

“And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God: and the books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works” (Rev.20:12).

2. The Judge is Jesus Christ, the Man ordained by God (see note, Judgment—Acts 10:42 for discussion).
3. The surety of judgment is the resurrection of Jesus Christ (see notes—Acts 10:40-42 for discussion and verses. Cp. Jn.5:27-29.)

9 (17:32-34) Gospel—Preaching: the results of the message. Note that Paul was interrupted and stopped from completing his message. The results were both tragic and wonderful.

1. Some mocked. In particular they mocked the resurrection. Most either felt life just ceased at death or else a person passed into some fluffy cloud, some half-slumber and half-conscious state of being.

⇒ The idea that life would be so purposeful that a man would exist forever—that he would literally arise from the dead and live in a perfect state of being—was just beyond their understanding.

2. Some put off making a decision. They were thoughtful, trying to grasp the message and think through the implications, what living a life of righteousness would mean, the great price they would have to pay. They just were not ready to make such a commitment, not yet.

“When once the master of the house is risen up, and hath shut to the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, Lord, open unto us; and he shall answer and say unto you, I know you not whence ye are” (Lk.13:25).

“And as he reasoned of righteousness, temperance, and judgment to come, Felix trembled, and answered, Go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee” (Acts 24:25).

“The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved” (Jer.8:20).

3. Paul turned away from them. He had done his duty, proclaimed the glorious message of salvation. Now it was up to the audience to repent or not.

4. Some believed. Dionysius was one of the judges of the great court of Athens. Damaris was the name of a woman. Respectable women of Athens would not have been in the market crowd listening to Paul. Therefore, she was probably a woman of immoral character. There were also others who were saved, but they were unnamed.

Thought 1. The gospel has the power to reach all: the high, the low, and the unsaved.

“But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name” (Jn.1:12).

“That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation” (Ro.10:9-10).

“For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved” (Ro.10:13).

“For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: not of works, lest any man should boast” (Eph.2:8-9).

DIVISION VIII

THE SECOND GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO EUROPE, 15:36-18:22

K. Corinth, the Bridge of Greece: An Indisputable Christian, 18:1-17

(18:1-17) Introduction: Paul's ministry in Corinth holds many lessons for the Christian believer. Paul demonstrated forcibly what it takes to be an indisputable disciple of the Lord.

1. Paul left Athens and travelled to Corinth (v.1).
2. He found and grew people (v.2).
3. He worked when required (v.3).
4. He worshipped and taught every Sabbath (v.4).
5. He experienced terrible strain and rejection—but he marched on (v.5-6).
6. He identified with people to whom he ministered (v.7).
7. He witnessed to high and low (v.8).
8. He faced terrible discouragement (v.9-11).
9. He saw God's hand at work (v.12-17).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(18:1-17) Corinth: the city was a major city of Greece, a peninsula at the southern tip of Greece with land stretching only about five miles across. (See Map—Introduction to Acts.) It was bordered by two harbors, one lying on the west coast and the other on the east coast. All traffic north and south passed right through the city. It was known as the lookout, the guard, the eye of Greece; and as such it naturally became a city of vast wealth. It was cosmopolitan, made up of Greeks, Romans, Jews, and adventurers who plied and transacted their business by day and frequented the night clubs by night. It was a pleasure-mad city, wallowing in sensuality, drunkenness, and extortion. Its temples were consecrated to the goddess of fertility, Aphrodite. It was a sports-minded city, the home of the Isthmian Games, second only to the Olympic Games. It was just the kind of metropolitan city Paul looked for to spread the gospel worldwide. (See 1 Corinthians, Introductory Notes, Special Features, point 1.) The church at Corinth furnishes us with the longest writings of Paul's epistles, 1 and 2 Corinthians. When Paul entered Corinth, he entered "in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling" (1 Cor.2:3)—apparently discouraged. He had faced severe opposition in his three ministries immediately prior to Corinth. The Judaizers had run him out of Philippi, Thessalonica, and Berea. Even in Athens he had experienced little success. Now, facing Corinth, he was confronting a hodge-podge of every sort, a city of diverse population and culture, a population that was proud, intellectual, busy, and immoral. He was apparently alone, with Silas and Timothy having remained in Macedonia to minister. He was, so to speak, at the mercy of God alone.

God met Paul's need. Almost immediately God brought across Paul's path two believers, Aquila and Priscilla, who were tentmakers by profession. These two godly Jews had been expelled from Rome along with all other Jews by the decrees of Emperor Claudius (Acts 18:2-3). Silas and Timothy also returned to him soon afterwards, bringing news of the firm stand of the Thessalonian believers against persecution (Acts 18:5). Encouraged and pressed in the spirit, Paul immediately entered the synagogue and began his ministry, testifying that Jesus is the Christ (Acts 18:5).

Paul met with such success that he was forced out of the synagogue by the hostile Jews. He moved next door into a house owned by Justus. The home of Justus became his base of operations. Apparently to prevent further discouragement, God gave Paul a vision assuring him that many people in the city were to be reached for Christ (Acts 18:10). His ministry lasted eighteen months, the longest of any ministry other than the three years he spent with the Ephesian Church.

The converts at Corinth paint a good picture of the kind of success Paul experienced in city after city. So far as is known, the only Jewish converts under his personal ministry were Crispus and his household. Crispus was the chief ruler of the synagogue (Acts 18:8). As was the case in other cities, the largest number of converts were Gentiles, who had earlier become attracted to the Jewish religion because of its stress upon high morals and belief in one God. Judaism was especially attractive to women, especially well-to-do women. They were citizens of an immoral world that gave no rights to women; thus, they found great security in a religion of high morality. However, most Gentiles, despite their attraction to Judaism, were repulsed by Jewish nationalism and rites such as circumcision. It was these who turned a ready ear to the gospel of Christ and who were by far the greatest number of converts.

There were some wealthy converts. Gaius was the host of Paul and the whole church (Ro.16:23). Erastus was the chamberlain (treasurer) of the city. Chloe was probably a lady of extreme wealth with business interests in both Corinth and Ephesus (1 Cor.1:11). Some believers were engaged in legal disputes and others were attending wealthy banquets. These two engagements indicate wealth. However, the greatest number of converts came from average folk and from folk who had come from the most sinful backgrounds imaginable. Remember: Corinth was one of the cesspools of immorality and night club life in the ancient world. As Paul so clearly says, "...not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble are called: But God hath chosen the foolish things of the world to confound the things which are mighty; and base things of the world and things which are despised, hath God chosen, yea and things which are not, to bring to nought things that are: That no flesh should glory in his presence" (1 Cor.1:26-29).

1 (18:1) Evangelism: Paul left Athens and travelled to Corinth. The decision was by choice. There had been some results in Athens, but the philosophical and intellectual pride made most people close-minded and self-sufficient when considering God and eternity. Apparently Paul felt his time could be spent more profitably in Corinth. No doubt he stayed in Athens long enough to ground the Athenian believers in the faith, then he struck out for Corinth.

Thought 1. Note three lessons.

- 1) Intellectual pride closes a person's mind to the truth of God and eternity.
- 2) A person's time needs to be spent where the most fruit can be borne unless specifically shown otherwise by God.
- 3) The servant of God must root the young believer in the faith, even if it is under difficult circumstances.

2 (18:2) Discipleship: the Christian disciple finds and develops people. Note the word found. Wherever Paul went he looked for people who either needed Christ or needed to grow in Christ. Whether Aquila and Priscilla were believers or not at this time is not known. But Paul found this couple, stayed with them, and either led them to the Lord or into a deeper commitment to the Lord (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Priscilla—Acts 18:2 for more discussion).

The point to see is how Paul was always reaching out to find people who needed Christ. A dynamic example for us all!

"Go ye therefore, and teach [make disciples of] all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world" (Mt.28:19-20).

"And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also" (2 Tim.2:2).

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(18:2) Priscilla and Aquila—Hospitality: Priscilla and Aquila were companions of Paul. They were originally residents of Rome. But the Roman emperor, Claudius, had the Jews banished from Rome in A.D. 52. Priscilla and Aquila moved to Corinth. They were the couple who opened their home to Paul the apostle when he first entered Corinth. They were also the couple who went into business with Paul as tent-makers. They later travelled with Paul to Ephesus where they settled (Acts 18:18). The chief characteristic of this couple was an open heart and an open house. Wherever we find them, we find that their home is the center for Christian worship and fellowship.

1. They received the young preacher, Apollos, into their home to instruct him in the faith (Acts 18:24-26).
2. They had a church meeting in their home in Ephesus (1 Cor.16:19).
3. They had another church meeting in their home in Rome (Ro. 16:13).
4. Paul called them "my helpers [fellow-workers] in Christ Jesus (Ro.16:3), and he explained what he meant. They risked their lives in order to save him. This probably refers to the attacks made upon Paul and the church in Corinth (Acts 18:6, 12-17), or to some other severe persecution that took place in Ephesus (1 Cor.15:32; cp. 2 Cor.1:8). In either case, this godly couple, Priscilla and Aquila, risked their lives in order to save the life of one of God's dear servants, Paul himself.

- 3 (18:3) Paul, Ministry; Secular Labor: the Christian disciple worked at secular employment when required. Paul was usually supported in his ministry and did not have to work at secular work. In fact, he was soon to receive financial support from the Philippian church when Silas and Timothy arrived, and the support would free him to preach the gospel and minister full time (Acts 18:5; cp. 1 Th.3:6; 2 Cor.11:9; Ph.4:15). But note this verse. Paul did not hesitate to work with his hands in order to get the gospel out to people. He would do whatever was necessary to reach people and meet their desperate need for Christ and the glorious life of joy and eternity that Christ gives. (Cp. Acts 20:34; 1 Th.2:9; 2 Th.3:8; 1 Cor.4:11-12; 9:12-15; 2 Cor.11:7-9; 12:14.)

"I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work" (Jn.9:4).

"For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard" (Acts 4:20).

"For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of: for necessity is laid upon me; yea, woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel!" (1 Cor.9:16).

- 4 (18:4) Preaching—Teaching—Witnessing: the Christian disciple worshipped and taught every Sabbath. Note where Paul was on the day of worship. He was where he should be—worshipping the Lord and serving Him by preaching and teaching others just as the Lord had gifted him to do.

1. Paul "reasoned" (dielegeto): presented sound, thoughtful, logical points; answered and settled questions in a reasonable way. The tense is continuous action. Paul reasoned and reasoned doing all he could to convince the listeners that Jesus Christ was the Son of God. Note there was no sense of bombarding a person in a demanding, forceful, fiery, argumentative spirit.

"Come now, and let us reason together, saith the LORD: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool" (Is.1:18).

"Produce your cause, saith the LORD; bring forth your strong reasons, saith the King of Jacob" (Is.41:21).

"But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear" (1 Pt.3:15).

2. Paul "persuaded" (epeithen): prevailed, urged, induced, pleaded, begged, sought to move and bring about a change of heart and mind. Paul reasoned and reasoned, doing all he could to reach and help people to trust Christ Jesus the Lord. Again, the tense is continuous action. Paul continued to persuade.

"And he reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath, and persuaded the Jews and the Greeks. And when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul was pressed in the spirit, and testified to the Jews that Jesus was Christ" (Acts 18:4-5).

"Therefore watch, and remember, that by the space of three years I ceased not to warn every one night and day with tears" (Acts 20:31).

"Whereunto I also labour, striving according to his working, which worketh in me mightily" (Col.1:29).

"For Zion's sake will I not hold my peace, and for Jerusalem's sake I will not rest, until the righteousness thereof go forth as brightness, and the salvation thereof as a lamp that burneth" (Is.62:1).

- 5 (18:5-6) Gospel, Rejection—Minister, Rejection: the Christian disciple experienced terrible strain and rejection, but he marched on. Silas and Timothy arrived from Macedonia, Silas coming from Philippi and Berea and Timothy from Thessalonica.

⇒ They brought financial support which freed Paul to preach Christ full time.

⇒ They brought wonderful news about the churches of Macedonia growing in the Lord.

Such blessings stirred Paul to minister and proclaim Christ with new vigor. Note three points.

1. Paul was pressed in the spirit, constrained by the Word to give himself completely to preaching and teaching the Word. Note what he was proclaiming: that Jesus is the Messiah (see DEEPER STUDY # 2—Mt.1:18 for discussion).
2. Paul was rejected. The Jews opposed and blasphemed the name of Jesus. The idea is that they organized and opposed the preaching and teaching of Jesus as the Messiah, and they reviled and spoke reproachfully of Christ.
3. Paul turned from the Jews to the Gentiles. This was a turning point in the ministry at Corinth. Some Jews were saved, but the vast majority of those reached would be Gentiles. The scene was dramatic and forceful. Paul was not pronouncing a curse upon the Jews, but declaring he had fulfilled his responsibility to them. He was free of their blood, of the responsibility for their salvation. Their blood, the responsibility for their salvation, was now upon their own heads.

Thought 1. The Christian disciple is to turn from those who continue to reject the gospel; but when rejected, he is to continue on, not quitting or slacking up. Note: Paul did exactly what Christ said for us to do. He shook off the dust of those who had rejected him.

“And when ye come into an house, salute it. And if the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it; but if it be not worthy, let your peace return to you. And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, when ye depart out of that house or city, shake off the dust of your feet” (Mt.10:12-14).

“But they shook off the dust of their feet against them, and came unto Iconium” (Acts 13:51).

“Also I shook my lap, and said, So God shake out every man from his house, and from his labor, that performeth not this promise, even thus be he shaken out, and emptied. And all the congregation said, Amen, and praised the LORD. And the people did according to this promise” (Neh.5:13).

6 (18:7) Humility: the Christian disciple identified with those to whom he ministered. Rejected by the Jews, Paul could no longer preach in the synagogue. Note what he did: he began to preach in the home of a convert named Justus. This says two significant things.

1. Paul strategically planned and located his ministry. He had been preaching to the people attending the synagogue, so he wanted to be located nearby in order to continue reaching those already familiar with the message. Under the leadership of the Lord, he was able to secure quarters in the most favorable location, right next door to the synagogue itself.

Thought 1. This is a significant lesson. We should always be alert to favorable locations in establishing churches and buildings, and holding meetings.

2. Paul identified with those to whom he ministered. This is a much needed point. He was not removed from his congregation, not high-minded or above others in any sense of the word. He was one with the flock of God.

“Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven” (Mt.18:4).

“For I say, through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith” (Ro.12:3).

“I will declare thy righteousness, and thy works; for they shall not profit thee” (Is.57:12).

7 (18:8) Witnessing: the Christian disciple witnessed to high and low. This is clearly seen in that the chief ruler of the synagogue and his family were reached for Christ, but so were many of the other citizens of Corinth. And remember, many of these would be coming from the most sinful backgrounds imaginable, for Corinth was one of the cesspools of immorality and night club life in the ancient world.

Thought 1. What an example for the church—reaching both high and low for Christ!

“And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mk.16:15).

“But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

“Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many” (Mt.20:28; cp. Jn.20:21 with Lk.19:10).

8 (18:9-11) Encouragement: the Christian disciple faced terrible discouragement. This is a striking picture of just how human Paul was and how dependent he was upon the Lord’s presence and encouragement. What happened to this Christian servant is a glorious lesson for every Christian servant when facing terrible discouragement.

1. Paul sensed fear, terrible fear. Apparently when Crispus, the chief synagogue leader, and so many others were saved, the Jews began to be stirred; and the potential storm of persecution once again lay on the horizon for Paul. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Paul, Persecution—2 Cor.1:8-10; note—11:23-31 for list of persecutions.) Keep in mind how severely he had been persecuted, suffering so much for his precious Lord...

- his life had been threatened in Damascus (Acts 9:23).
- his life had been threatened again in Jerusalem (Acts 9:29).
- he had been persecuted and run out of Antioch of Pisidia (Acts 13:50).
- he had faced possible stoning in Iconium (Acts 14:5).
- he had been stoned and left for dead in Lystra (Acts 14:19).
- he had been opposed and made the center of controversy by the church itself (Acts 15:1f).
- he had experienced the loss of his closest friend and companion Barnabas (Acts 15:39).
- he had been beaten with rods and imprisoned in Philippi (Acts 16:23f).
- he had been cast out of Philippi (Acts 16:39).

- his life had been threatened in Thessalonica (Acts 17:5-7, 10).
- he had been forced out of Berea (Acts 17:13-14).
- he had been mocked in Athens (Acts 17:18).

The dear servant of God was shrinking from having to face the uproar of persecution again. He was apparently thinking about moving on or else keeping silent for awhile, hoping the storm would pass. This is seen in the very first words which the Lord spoke to Paul...

- Be not afraid
- Speak
- Hold not thy peace

2. God met the need of His dear servant with a vision of the Lord Jesus Himself. Note: it was the presence of the Lord that encouraged Paul. The Lord gave Paul a most glorious promise, "I am with thee." It is the very same promise He gives to us (Mt.28:20). Paul needed nothing else, just the perfect assurance and sense of the Lord's presence, the presence of the One who had done so much for him and whom he loved so much.

3. The Lord assured Paul that he would be kept safe and bear much fruit while in Corinth.

"Fear thou not; for I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness" (Is.41:10).

"Fear not: for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name; thou art mine. When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee. For I am the Lord thy God, the Holy One of Israel" (Is.43:1-3).

"For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind. Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God" (2 Tim.1:7-8).

4. Paul was faithful to the Lord's call, remaining in Corinth for eighteen months teaching the Word of God. Note a crucial point that we all need to learn. Paul continued on by faith, enduring in the ministry. He did not live on spiritual highs but by faith. God gave him spiritual highs, deep experiences with Himself when Paul needed such encouragement and guidance. But the deep spiritual experiences were not common occurrences. Paul had to walk by faith and not feeling. What a lesson for us!

"And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who hath enabled me, for that he counted me faithful, putting me into the ministry" (1 Tim.1:12).

9 (18:12-17) God, Faithfulness: the Christian disciple saw God's hand at work. God fulfilled His promise. This is clearly seen in these verses. Some months later a new deputy, Gallio, began his rule in the district of Achaia of which Corinth was a part. The Jews, thinking they might be able to manipulate this new ruler, rose up against Paul and dragged him before Gallio. But note what happened.

⇒ Gallio would have nothing to do with these religious hair-splitters. He had them removed from the court.

⇒ The Jews, embarrassed and shamed, turned against the leader Sosthenes, who had aroused them against Paul; they beat him right there in the judgment hall before Gallio.

Note: Sosthenes later became a convert to Christ. He also became a minister of the gospel with Paul (1 Cor.1:1). How marvelously the Lord fulfilled His promise to Paul, not only in protecting him from harm, but the Lord converted the very leader of those who would harm His dear servant.

"And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever" (2 Tim.4:18).

"So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me" (Heb.13:6).

"The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished" (2 Pt.2:9).

"The LORD is my strength and my shield; my heart trusted in him, and I am helped: therefore my heart greatly rejoiceth; and with my song will I praise him" (Ps.28:7).

"But I am poor and needy; yet the Lord thinketh upon me: thou art my help and my deliverer; make no tarrying, O my God" (Ps.40:17).

DIVISION VIII

THE SECOND GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO EUROPE, 15:36-18:22

L. Jerusalem and Antioch, the Journey Back: The Heroic Christian, 18:18-22

(18:18-22) Introduction: this is a clear picture of the heroic disciple. In these few verses, the journey Paul struck out on and covered is over 1500 miles long.

1. He struck out despite being comfortably settled (v.18).
2. He put himself under a vow when needed (v.18).
3. He made disciples of those who would go with him (v.18).
4. He witnessed faithfully wherever he was (v.19).
5. He showed honor to other leaders (v.20-21).
6. He was attached to his home church (v.22).

1 (18:18) Self-Denial—Zeal: the heroic disciple struck out despite being comfortably settled. He did not have to leave Corinth. After the court trial and a favorable ruling by the new procounsel Gallio, Paul was able to settle down in a permanent ministry, coming and going and bearing witness and ministering freely. Scripture says he remained in Corinth for a good while, for many days. Ministering freely without the pressure and strain of open abuse and opposition was a real treat for Paul (see note—Acts 18:9-11 for the constant strain of persecution Paul had suffered up to this time). No man could blame Paul for settling down and carrying on a dynamic ministry in Corinth.

- ⇒ He was protected by Gallio’s ruling.
- ⇒ He was having phenomenal results.
- ⇒ He was loved by many of the believers.
- ⇒ He was in a strategic city of commerce and trade which would assure the spread of the gospel far and wide.

But note a critical fact. God had not called Paul to be the minister of a local church. Paul was called to carry the gospel forth as an evangelist and a missionary. To remain in Corinth as a local church minister would be against God’s will. Paul would miss God’s great call for his life.

The point is this: being the heroic believer that he was, Paul...

- struck out because it was the only way to fulfill God’s purpose for his life.
- struck out despite being comfortably settled.
- struck out to carry the message of the glorious gospel forth.
- struck out to reach men and women, boys and girls for Jesus Christ.

The striking and heroic courage of Paul is seen in that this journey covered over 1500 miles.

Thought 1. How many turn away from God’s call because of...

- family and friends
- success and acceptance
- position and prestige
- possessions and materialism
- security and safety

The heroic believer refuses to miss God’s will and call for his life. He denies himself and takes up his cross daily and follows Christ, no matter where it takes him.

“And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: but whosoever will lose his life for my sake, the same shall save it” (Lk.9:23-24).

“I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work” (Jn.9:4).

“Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord” (1 Cor.15:58).

“Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands” (2 Tim.1:6).

2 (18:18) Vows: the heroic disciple put himself under vows when needed. When Paul left Corinth he took some vow before the Lord, refusing to cut his hair until the vow was fulfilled. It was completed when he reached Cenchrea and he cut his hair. What was the vow? Was it a vow...

- of thanksgiving and praise for such a fruitful ministry in Corinth?
- of commitment to break away from such a comfortable and peaceful ministry in Corinth?
- of prayer for safety as he travelled back home to Antioch?

The answer is unknown. However, there is a great lesson for believers in the fact that Paul took a vow before the Lord. Vows are too often ignored and dismissed by believers just as fasting is. Yet Scripture teaches both.

“If a man vow a vow unto the LORD, or swear an oath to bind his soul with a bond; he shall not break his word, he shall do according to all that proceedeth out of his mouth” (Num.30:2).

“When thou shalt vow a vow unto the LORD thy God, thou shalt not slack to pay it: for the LORD thy God will surely require it of thee; and it would be sin in thee. But if thou shalt forbear to vow, it shall be no sin in thee. That which is gone out of thy lips thou shalt keep and perform” (Dt.23:21-23).

“Thou shalt make thy prayer unto him, and he shall hear thee, and thou shalt pay thy vows” (Job 22:27).

“My praise shall be of thee in the great congregation: I will pay my vows before them that fear him” (Ps.22:25).

“Offer unto God thanksgiving; and pay thy vows unto the most High: and call upon me in the day of trouble: I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify me” (Ps.50:14-15).

“Thy vows are upon me, O God: I will render praises unto thee” (Ps.56:12).

“Praise waiteth for thee, O God, in Sion: and unto thee shall the vow be performed” (Ps.65:1).

“Vow, and pay unto the LORD your God: let all that be round about him bring presents unto him that ought to be feared” (Ps.76:11).

“I will pay my vows unto the LORD now in the presence of all his people. Precious in the sight of the LORD is the death of his saints....I will offer to thee the sacrifice of thanksgiving, and will call upon the name of the LORD. I will pay my vows unto the LORD now in the presence of all his people” (Ps.116:14-15, 17-18).

“When thou vowest a vow unto God, defer not to pay it; for he hath no pleasure in fools: pay that which thou hast vowed. Better is it that thou shouldest not vow, than that thou shouldest vow and not pay” (Eccl.5:4-5).

“But I will sacrifice unto thee with the voice of thanksgiving; I will pay that that I have vowed. Salvation is of the LORD” (Jonah 2:9).

“Behold upon the mountains the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace! O Judah, keep thy solemn feasts, perform thy vows: for the wicked shall no more pass through thee; he is utterly cut off” (Nah.1:15).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(18:18) Cenchrea: the eastern part of Corinth, but a separate town. (See Map—Introduction to Acts.) The city evidently had a strong church. Paul highly praised Phoebe, a deaconess of the church (Ro. 16:1-2).

3 (18:18) Discipleship: the heroic disciple trained others. Paul took Priscilla and Aquila with him. Note two significant points.

1. Paul was committed to making disciples, to building dynamic witnesses and ministers. He trained those who were willing to go with him (see notes, Discipleship—Acts 13:5-6 for discussion).

2. Priscilla was named before her husband Aquila. This is significant, probably pointing to the fact that she was the stronger and more mature Christian of the two.

“Go ye therefore, and teach [make disciples of] all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world” (Mt.28:19-20).

“And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also” (2 Tim.2:2).

4 (18:19) Witnessing: the heroic disciple witnessed faithfully wherever he was. Paul’s stay in Ephesus at this time was very brief. But he did not sit still. No matter where Paul was or the brevity of his stay, he bore testimony to the glorious salvation in Christ Jesus. Note that he reasoned with the Jews (see note—Acts 18:4 for discussion).

“And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mk.16:15).

“But ye shall receive power, after the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

“For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard” (Acts 4:20).

“We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak” (2 Cor.4:13).

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(18:19) Ephesus: see note—Acts 19:1-41.

5 (18:20-21) Humility: the heroic disciple showed honor to other leaders. Note: even the Jews in Ephesus were open to Paul on this brief visit. They asked him to stay with them for a while, hungering for the Word of God. But he could not stay, not now. He had to go on to Jerusalem to keep the feast (probably Pentecost). He was leaving Priscilla and Aquila behind to teach the people. They would be in good hands.

The point to note is Paul’s courtesy to the leaders who asked him to stay. The whole tone of Paul’s answer was a gracious reply. He went to extra pains explaining that he must...

- bid them farewell,
- keep the feast,

...but he would return again if God willed.

Thought 1. We must show honor to other believers always, no matter...

- how important God’s call.
- how significant our gifts are.
- how important people may view us.
- how busy we may be.

“Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves. Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others” (Ph.2:3-4).

“For I say, through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith” (Ro.12:3).

“Even as I please all men in all things, not seeking mine own profit, but the profit of many, that they may be saved” (1 Cor.10:33).

“Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up” (Jas.4:10).

6 (18:22) Church: the heroic disciple was attached to the mother church at Antioch. Note the words “the church.” This is most likely the church at Jerusalem. Jews always spoke of going up to Jerusalem. Nothing is shared about the visit beyond the simple fact that he visited the church in Jerusalem. But note another fact: right after visiting the Jerusalem church he went down to the Antioch church, and nothing is shared about his visit there either. This is probably significant. Paul had just had a most glorious experience—carrying the gospel for the very first time into Europe itself. Bursting at the seams with the joy and the fulness of the Lord, he was bound to desire to share the glorious news with his mother church, Antioch. But he also longed to share with the mother church of Christianity, Jerusalem itself. He had experienced the fruits of Pentecost on his second missionary journey, and he wanted to share the glorious celebration of Pentecost with the apostles and those who had experienced Pentecost itself.

Note how attached the heroic servant of the Lord was to the mother church, how much he wished to share the glorious reports of God’s grace with them. This helps explain his sense of urgency in rushing to Jerusalem.

Thought 1. Every believer needs such an attachment, such a sense of responsibility to his home church.

“Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock, over the which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood” (Acts 20:28).

“Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching” (Heb.10:25).

“Beside those things that are without, that which cometh upon me daily, the care of all the churches” (2 Cor.11:28).

DIVISION IX

THE THIRD GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO ASIA MINOR AND EUROPE, 18:23-21:16

A. Ephesus, the Market and Religious Center of Asia Minor (Part I): Apollos—Preparing the Way, 18:23-28

(18:23-21:16) DIVISION OVERVIEW: Missions—Paul, Mission Journeys: this begins the third great mission of Paul (See Map—Introduction to Acts.) The mission includes...

- a revisit to all the churches Paul had earlier founded in Galatia and Phrygia. This one verse is the only information given about his third visit to these churches (Acts 18:23).
- the ministry in Ephesus which lasted about three years (Acts 19:1-41).
- a return to Europe and Asia Minor (Acts 20:1-5).
- a return to Troas (Acts 20:6-12).
- a stopover in Miletus where he was visited by the Ephesian elders (Acts 20:13-38).
- the final miles to visit Jerusalem (Acts 21:1-16).

(18:23-28) Introduction: Apollos was one of the great servants of the early church. Note how he just burst upon the scene in this passage. He is a dynamic example of the strong disciple.

1. Two great ministers of the Lord (v.23-24).
2. He was an eloquent man mighty in the Scriptures (v.24).
3. He was instructed in the way of the Lord (v.25).
4. He was fervent in spirit (v.25).
5. He taught accurately, taught what he knew (v.25).
6. He spoke boldly (v.26).
7. He was teachable, willing to be taught even by those of less learning (v.26).
8. He was faithful to his call (v.27-28).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(18:23-28) Ephesus: the city of the great trade centers of Asia. (See Map—Introduction to Acts.) Ephesus sat at the mouth of the great river valley, Cayster, and was a fertile land. A description of the kind of trade that took place in the great cities of that day is described in Rev.18:12-13.

The city had been founded to command one of the highways of Asia Minor. It was called the “Queen of Asia Minor,” “The Treasure House of Asia,” and “The Vanity Fair of Asia Minor.” It was the home of the Pan-Ionian Games. But its most reputable honor was its great temple, the Temple of Diana or Artemis, one of the seven wonders of the world. Pilgrims from all over the world became tourist-worshippers (cp. Acts 19:27). And the prosperous guild of silversmiths with their souvenir relics abounded and plied their trade of religious superstition all over the city. It was the silversmiths’ fear of losing their livelihood under the power of the gospel that was to cause Paul great trouble in the coming months. (See Ephesians, Introductory Notes, Special Features, point 1 for more discussion.)

The church at Ephesus had a small beginning. When Paul visited, he found only twelve believers. They had been won to the Lord by the immature but impressive preacher Apollos. But even they were misinformed on the presence of the Holy Spirit. They seemed to lack a consciousness of the Spirit in the life of the believer and the awareness that He had already been sent into the world (Acts 19:1-7). After Paul's instruction to these twelve, he began to teach in the synagogue. He taught there for three months, but the Jews were hardened and did not believe and they murmured against the message. Therefore, Paul was forced to move the church into the school of a philosopher named Tyrannus. There he preached Christ for two whole years. During this time it is said that the church was instrumental in sounding forth the Word throughout all Asia:

“So all they which dwelt in Asia heard the Word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Greeks” (Acts 19:10).

1 (18:23-24) Paul, Ministry: two great ministers of God, Paul and Apollos.

1. The first great minister was Paul, who is seen beginning his third great mission. The first leg of the journey was a revisit to all the churches in Galatia and Phrygia. Note two points.
  - a. Paul was alone. So far as we know, no one was travelling with him. This is symbolic of his faithfulness and commitment to the Lord's call. Nothing could keep him from carrying out the Lord's great mission...
    - not even the comforts of a home and the love of dear friends (Antioch).
    - not the dangerous trips into frontier areas (see note, Lystra—Acts 14:8-20; DEEPER STUDY # 1, Derbe—Acts 14:21).
    - not having to travel and minister all alone.
  - b. Paul's purpose in revisiting the churches was not to socialize or to enjoy good Christian fellowship. Although he and the disciples would have a wonderful time together, Paul's purpose was more specific: to strengthen the disciples in the Lord. Note: he had not seen them for many months. He loved them and longed to see them, but seeing and being with them was not enough for Paul. There was more to life than just socializing and fellowshiping together. He wanted them to grow in the Lord, to be strengthened in Him.
2. The second great minister was Apollos. Apollos was a new minister appearing on the scene of Christian missions (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Apollos—Acts 18:24-28 for discussion).

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(18:24-28) Apollos: was a Jew born in Alexandria, one of the great cultural and educational cities of the ancient world. There were about one million Jews in Alexandria, which means Apollos was steeped in Jewish religion, tradition, and Scripture. Somehow he either came into contact with John the Baptist or with his message on the baptism of repentance. This simply means that he knew of John's declaration that Jesus was the Lamb of God, but he knew...

- nothing of Jesus' death and resurrection.
- nothing of Jesus as the Savior.
- nothing of the Holy Spirit coming to live within believers, empowering them to live righteously and to minister in power.

This, of course, means that his message was repentance only, coming short of salvation in Christ Jesus. But note his sincerity and commitment and fervor to what he knew. He was totally committed to what he knew, and God always honors those who diligently seek Him (Heb.11:6). Therefore, God sees to it that believers who are able to instruct him cross his path. It is at this point that the present passage picks up Apollos' ministry. His ministry in the New Testament includes...

- his visit to Ephesus (Acts 18:23-26).
- his visit to Achaia or Corinth and the surrounding area (Acts 18:27-28).
- his return visit to Ephesus (1 Cor.16:12).
- his visit to Crete (Tit.3:13).

Apollos was such a powerful preacher that a clique began to form in his name, causing problems within the Corinthian church (1 Cor.1:12f; 3:4-6, 22f; 4:6). Paul loved him and longed for his companionship and ministry among the churches (1 Cor.16:12; Tit.3:13).

2 (18:24) Apollos—Scripture—Minister: the strong disciple was an eloquent man, mighty in the Scriptures. The term “eloquent man” (aner logios) can mean either learned or eloquent. In this case it probably means both. But note the point: it was the Scriptures that Apollos...

- learned so well.
- spoke forth so eloquently or forcefully.

Apollos had learned the Old Testament Scriptures by memory and spent hours meditating on them. He understood and believed them, grasping the promises of the Messiah. Therefore, when he saw or heard the proclamation of John the Baptist, he was ready to receive the promises of the Savior and to proclaim them.

“Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth” (2 Tim.2:15).

“All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness” (2 Tim.3:16).

“These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so” (Acts 17:11).

“And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified” (Acts 20:32).

3 (18:25) Instruction—Teaching—Parents: the strong disciple had been instructed in “the way of the Lord.” He knew that John had declared Jesus to be the “Lamb of God,” the promised Messiah; but he had not yet learned of Jesus’ death and resurrection as the Savior of the world, nor of the Holy Spirit’s indwelling presence and power. (See note, Apollos—Acts 18:24-28 for more discussion.)

The point to see is twofold.

1. Someone had instructed Apollos, either his parents or some godly teacher who was genuine and faithful in his teaching responsibility.
2. Apollos was an obedient and faithful son and student.

Thought 1. This proclaims a loud message to all Christian parents and teachers and Christian children and students. A believer must be instructed in the “way of the Lord” in order to become a strong disciple of the Lord.

“Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free” (Jn.8:31-32).

“These things command and teach. Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity. Till I come, give attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine. Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery. Meditate upon these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy profiting may appear to all. Take heed unto thyself, and unto the doctrine; continue in them: for in doing this thou shalt both save thyself, and them that hear thee” (1 Tim.4:11-16).

“When I call to remembrance the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and thy mother Eunice; and I am persuaded that in thee also” (2 Tim.1:5).

“And the servant of the Lord must not strive; but be gentle unto all men, apt to teach, patient” (2 Tim.2:24).

“And that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus” (2 Tim.3:15).

“And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart: and thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up” (Dt.6:6-7).

“That the generation to come might know them, even the children which should be born; who should arise and declare them to their children: that they might set their hope in God, and not forget the works of God, but keep his commandments” (Ps.78:6-7).

“And they shall teach my people the difference between the holy and profane, and cause them to discern between the unclean and the clean” (Ezk.44:23).

DEEPER STUDY # 3

(18:25) The Way of the Lord: this was one of the first and most primitive names for Christianity (Acts 9:2; 18:25, 26; 19:9, 23; 22:4; 24:14, 22; cp. 1 Pt.2:2, 15, 21).

4 (18:25) Zeal: the strong disciple was fervent in spirit. The word “fervent” (zeon) means to be boiling, glowing, burning, passionate. His spirit was set aflame, filled with all fervency and zeal for God. He was burning with a holy fire to proclaim the glorious promise that Jesus is the promised Messiah, the Lamb of God.

Thought 1. The strong disciple is fervent in Spirit. It is the command of the Lord.

“Jesus saith unto them, My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work” (Jn.4:34).

“I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work” (Jn.9:4).

“Not slothful in business; fervent in spirit; serving the Lord” (Ro.12:11).

“Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands” (2 Tim.1:6).

“ whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave, whither thou goest” (Eccl.9:10).

5 (18:25) Teaching: the strong disciple taught accurately, taught what he knew. As pointed out, Apollos knew only the baptism of repentance declared by John the Baptist (see DEEPER STUDY # 2—Acts 18:24-28; and note 3—18:25). The stress of this point is that he taught diligently (akribos), that is, carefully and accurately.

⇒ He was true to the Scriptures, weighing carefully what they said.

“And my speech and my preaching was not with enticing words of man’s wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power: that your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God” (1 Cor.2:4-5).

⇒ He proclaimed what the Scriptures taught and all that they taught, not neglecting subjects his listeners might not like to hear.

“For I give you good doctrine, forsake ye not my law” (Pr.4:2).

⇒ He did not twist the Scriptures, adding to or taking away from them.

“For our exhortation was not of deceit, nor of uncleanness, nor in guile: but as we were allowed of God to be put in trust with the gospel, even so we speak; not as pleasing men, but God, which trieth our hearts. For neither at any time used we flattering words, as ye know, nor a cloak of covetousness; God is witness” (1 Th.2:3-5).

“Holding fast the faithful word as he hath been taught, that he may be able by sound doctrine both to exhort and to convince the gainsayers” (Tit.1:9).

“But speak thou the things which become sound doctrine” (Tit.2:1).

6 (18:26) Boldness: the strong disciple spoke boldly. Apollos followed a long train of faithful witnesses who proclaimed the truth boldly. Boldness is an absolute essential for effective witnessing, both boldness in seeking the presence of the Lord and in facing the men of the world.

“Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus” (Acts 4:13).

“But Barnabas took him, and brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and how he had preached boldly at Damascus in the name of Jesus....And he spake boldly in the name of the Lord Jesus, and disputed against the Grecians: but they went about to slay him....Then had the churches rest throughout all Judaea and Galilee and Samaria, and were edified; and walking in the fear of the Lord, and in the comfort of the Holy Ghost, were multiplied” (Acts 9:27, 29, 31).

“Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first have been spoken to you: but seeing ye put it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, lo, we turn to the Gentiles” (Acts 13:46).

“Long time therefore abode they speaking boldly in the Lord, which gave testimony unto the word of his grace, and granted signs and wonders to be done by their hands” (Acts 14:3).

“And he began to speak boldly in the synagogue: whom when Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they took him unto them, and expounded unto him the way of God more perfectly” (Acts 18:26).

“And he went into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, disputing and persuading the things concerning the kingdom of God” (Acts 19:8).

“For the king knoweth of these things, before whom also I speak freely: for I am persuaded that none of these things are hidden from him; for this thing was not done in a corner” (Acts 26:26).

“Great is my boldness of speech toward you, great is my glorying of you: I am filled with comfort, I am exceeding joyful in all our tribulation” (2 Cor.7:4).

“In whom we have boldness and access with confidence by the faith of him” (Eph.3:12).

“For which I am an ambassador in bonds: that therein I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak” (Eph.6:20).

“But even after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated, as ye know, at Philippi, we were bold in our God to speak unto you the gospel of God with much contention” (1 Th.2:2).

“For they that have used the office of a deacon well purchase to themselves a good degree, and great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus” (1 Tim.3:13).

“Having therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jesus” (Heb.10:19).

“Herein is our love made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of judgment: because as he is, so are we in this world” (1 Jn.4:17).

7 (18:26) Humility: the strong disciple was teachable, willing to be taught even by those of less learning. Apparently, Priscilla and Aquila heard Apollos preach in the synagogue service. They could tell he had not heard the full story of the gospel, so they took him aside to share the full message of the gospel with him. Note how humble and receptive Apollos was. There was no air of haughtiness, of being above others. The young servant of God—so well educated, so well versed in the Scriptures, so capable as a preacher, so highly esteemed—was willing to learn from any who would teach him, even from two lowly tentmakers.

Thought 1. A strong disciple, one who is truly strong, is ever looking to be strengthened by all of God’s people, no matter their position.

“And whosoever shall exalt himself shall be abased; and he that shall humble himself shall be exalted” (Mt.23:12).

“For I say, through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith” (Ro.12:3).

“Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves. Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others” (Ph.2:3-4).

8 (18:27-28) Minister—Call: the strong disciple is faithful to his call. Apollos was called to preach and evangelize; therefore, as soon as he had the full gospel he was set afire and wanted to go to Corinth (Achaia) and share the gospel there. Apparently he felt the Ephesian church was in excellent hands under the leadership of Priscilla and Aquila and he could be more useful elsewhere. The Ephesian church encouraged him, even writing a letter of recommendation for him to the church at Corinth (cp. 2 Cor.3:1). A letter from Priscilla and Aquila would open the door to Corinth for him and assure his being received (Acts 18:1f).

The point to note is the fire to reach the world for Christ that burned in Apollos. And just think, prior to this he did not even have the full message of Christ. (What a dynamic example for us all!)

1. He burned to help and serve other believers. He helped them much, edifying, exhorting, watering what Paul had planted (1 Cor.3:6).

“Let us therefore follow after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith one may edify another” (Ro.14:19).

“Let every one of us please his neighbour for his good to edification” (Ro.15:2).

“And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers; for the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ: till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ” (Eph.4:11-13).

“Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to the use of edifying, that it may minister grace unto the hearers” (Eph.4:29).

2. He burned to reach out to the lost. The words used in this verse show how deeply he burned with the message of the Lord.

a. The word “mightily” (eutonos) means that he used the Scriptures with power, straining earnestly to prove that Jesus is the Christ, the true Messiah.

b. The word “convinced” (diakatelegcheto) means confronted, argued down, refuted to the very last point, defeated in argument. And he did it publicly.

But note: he was not using human reason to argue; he was using the Scripture. And his purpose was to prove that Jesus is the Messiah. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2—Mt.1:18 for discussion.)

“Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest” (Jn.4:35).

“I am debtor both to the Greeks, and to the barbarians; both to the wise, and to the unwise. So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rome also. For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek” (Ro.1:14-16).

“For I determined not to know any thing among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified” (1 Cor.2:2).

“Whereunto I also labour, striving according to his working, which worketh in me mightily” (Col.1:29).

DIVISION IX

THE THIRD GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO ASIA MINOR AND EUROPE, 18:23-21:16

B. Ephesus (Part II): Paul in Ephesus—Lessons on Salvation and Revival, 19:1-20

(19:1-20) Introduction: Paul's ministry in Ephesus was dramatic. It was a ministry that zeroed in on salvation and experienced revival.

1. Paul arrived in Ephesus, but missed Apollos (v.1).
2. There were the lessons on salvation (v.2-9).
3. There were the lessons on revival (v.10-20).

1 (19:1) Ministry: Paul arrived in Ephesus, but Apollos had already left for Corinth. Therefore, the two men missed each other. When Priscilla and Aquila told Paul about Apollos, Paul's heart must have leaped for joy, for another young man was on fire for Christ. Through the upcoming years Paul would learn to love the young man and to long for his companionship and ministry (1 Cor.16:12; Tit.3:13).

As Paul ministered in Ephesus, the thing to note is his commitment to reach men with the gospel of salvation. He was a messenger of salvation, so he focused his whole life upon sharing that message with those who were lost, hopeless, and doomed.

2 (19:2-9) Salvation—Preaching: this passage presents several important lessons on salvation. The lessons must be kept in mind as believers go about the task of proclaiming the glorious gospel of salvation.

1. Salvation necessitates full belief and the receiving of the Holy Spirit. While ministering in Ephesus, Paul ran across twelve disciples who had no association with the church at Ephesus. They were either drifting, or else were meeting for worship in another area of the city. They were just totally unknown to the church and to Priscilla and Aquila. In either case, Paul found them, and what results is one of the great lessons on salvation. (Note: they could not have been associated with Apollos, for he would have proclaimed Christ to them after his true conversion. See outline and notes—Acts 18:23-28.)

Note Paul’s question. The correct translation of the Greek is: “Did you receive the Holy Spirit, having believed,” or “...when you believed?” Some have held that these men believed and then the Holy Spirit came upon them some time after their belief. But this could not be the case, for it is contrary to the teaching of Scripture. They were disciples of John, Jewish proselytes, who were still looking for the coming Messiah (Acts 19:2-4, esp. 3-4). They evidently were not Christian believers. They had not been baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ. Their belief was incomplete. They believed what John had preached, that the Messiah was coming, but they did not know He had already come in the person of Jesus Christ. They had repented of sin as preached by John, but they had not yet received the saving presence of the Lord Jesus in their hearts and lives. The living presence and power of Christ in the Person of the Holy Spirit had not yet saved them.

Note: Paul did not degrade their incomplete faith. He did not rebuke them for not grasping the full message of John. He approached them in a positive manner. He pointed out that they had done well by repenting of sin, for John did proclaim the baptism of repentance. But John did something else: he proclaimed to the people that...

“They should believe on Him, which should come after him [John], that is on Christ Jesus.”

When the twelve disciples heard this, they responded just as they should have: they believed (v.4), were baptized (v.5), and received the Holy Spirit (v.6). (See DEEPER STUDY # 4, Tongues—Acts 2:4, note—10:46 for discussion on tongues.)

Thought 1. Note three significant lessons.

1) A person can repent and be baptized and still not have received Christ into his life and heart. He can confess Christ and still not have the Holy Spirit. When Paul looked at these men who professed to be disciples, he saw they were lacking something. The lack was visible, and he suspected what it was. They were not bearing the presence and fruit of the Holy Spirit in their lives.

“After that ye heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation: in whom also after that ye believed, ye were sealed with that holy Spirit of promise” (Eph.1:13).

“Who hath also sealed us, and given the earnest [guarantee] of the Spirit in our hearts” (2 Cor.1:22).

“Now he that hath wrought us for the selfsame thing is God, who also hath given unto us the earnest of the Spirit” (2 Cor.5:5).

2) Belief can be incomplete. Note closely: these men believed in the coming Messiah preached by John, and they had even repented and turned from their sin to God. But they still lacked the presence of Christ, that is, of the Holy Spirit in their lives. How many have changed their lives and are now living moral lives, but still have never accepted the truth of God’s Son,
 ⇒ the truth of His coming to earth?
 ⇒ the truth of His securing our righteousness by living a sinless life?
 ⇒ the truth of His dying for our sins?
 ⇒ the truth of His arising from the dead?

Salvation necessitates full belief, believing the truth that Jesus is the Son of God in the fullest sense of salvation.

3) Note that these twelve were baptized twice. A believer is to be baptized after his conversion—in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 2:38; note—Eph.5:18-21. Cp. Ro.8:19; 1 Cor.6:19; Eph.1:13-14, “When you believed, you were sealed with that Holy Spirit of promise.”)

2. Salvation necessitates a decision: a person either decides to accept Christ or else he automatically rejects Him. In the case of the audience who heard Paul, many rejected Christ. They just hardened their hearts and refused to believe. For three months Paul preached boldly in the synagogue of the Jews. Note four facts.

- a. Paul disputed (dialogomenos) the gospel. The word means to reason, discuss, convince, and answer questions. He discussed the gospel, asking and answering questions, convincing all who were willing to be convinced.
- b. He persuaded (peithon) men of the gospel. (See note—Acts 18:4 for discussion.)
- c. Paul’s message concerned the Kingdom of God (see DEEPER STUDY # 3, Kingdom of God—Mt.19:23-24 for discussion).

- d. Many were hardened and did not believe, being disobedient to the call of God to salvation.
- ⇒ The word “hardened” (esklerunonto) means to harden like a stone; to be unfeeling and difficult, standing in opposition.
  - ⇒ The words “believed not” (epeithoun) mean to be disobedient. Take note of this, for rejecting the gospel is not just unbelief. It is much worse: it is disobeying God. God demands that men believe in His Son Jesus Christ. Refusing to believe is outright disobedience, an affront to God, an act of rebellion and hostility against His commandment.

“For the heart of this people is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed; lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them” (Acts 28:27).

“Who being past feeling have given themselves over unto lasciviousness, to work all uncleanness with greediness” (Eph.4:19).

“Happy is the man that feareth always: but he that hardeneth his heart shall fall into mischief” (Pr.28:14).

“He, that being often reprovèd hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy” (Pr.29:1).

3. Salvation necessitates the protection and growth of new converts. New converts have to be protected and developed. Therefore, when the Jews began to slander Christ and the way of salvation, Paul separated the believers from the synagogue. He secured a lecture hall in a school conducted by a man named Tyrannus. Note two points.

- a. Paul took the believers out of the synagogue with him. He began a separate church. Why? Because the synagogue was opposing the truth, threatening the faith and growth of the believers. He had to move out to protect the believers and to assure their growth in Christ. (What courage! What a commitment to the needs of men and to the cause of Christ!)

“He saith unto him the third time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved because he said unto him the third time, Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith unto him, Feed my sheep” (Jn.21:17).

“Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock, over the which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood” (Acts 20:28).

“Of these things put them in remembrance, charging them before the Lord that they strive not about words to no profit, but to the subverting of the hearers” (2 Tim.2:14).

“In meekness instructing those that oppose themselves; if God peradventure will give them repentance to the acknowledging of the truth” (2 Tim.2:25).

“Preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all longsuffering and doctrine. For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine; but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears” (2 Tim.4:2-3).

“Feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind” (1 Pt.5:2).

“I have set watchmen upon thy walls, O Jerusalem, which shall never hold their peace day nor night: ye that make mention of the LORD, keep not silence” (Is.62:6).

“Son of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me” (Ezk.3:17).

- b. Paul was a man totally committed to helping believers and to reaching the lost. This is seen in the schedule he kept. People took a siesta between 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. because of the heat in that part of the world. (William Barclay. The Acts of The Apostles. “The Daily Study Bible.” Philadelphia, PA: The Westminster Press, 1956, p.155.) Therefore, Paul...

- worked in secular employment in the morning hours up until 11 a.m. (Acts 20:34; 1 Cor.14:11-12).
- taught during the hours when Tyrannus was not using the school (11 a.m. - 4 p.m.).
- taught in the homes of believers in the evenings (Acts 20:20-21, 31).

He literally labored for the Lord day and night. All his energy, mind, body and soul were committed to the cause of Christ and His kingdom.

Thought 1. A pointed question that we need to ask ourselves and perhaps of one another is: Have we really given our lives to the Lord? Are we honestly committed to the Lord, laboring day and night?

“I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God” (Ro.12:1-2).

“For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God’s” (1 Cor.6:20).

“Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord” (1 Cor.15:58).

3 (19:10-20) Revival: this passage also presents several important lessons on revival. Note eight points.

1. The Word of the Lord was preached. The Word preached would be the message mentioned earlier, the things concerning the Kingdom of God (v.8. See DEEPER STUDY # 3, Kingdom of Heaven—Mt.19:23-24 for more discussion.) Paul preached the Word for two years in the school, and note the gospel spread all over Asia (modern day Asia Minor or more particularly, Turkey). Most likely the other six churches mentioned in Revelation Chapter 2-3 were founded at this time, as well as Colossae and Hieropolis (Col.4:13). These facts are known.

⇒ Timothy and Erastus were with Paul at Ephesus, at least for a while (Acts 19:22; Col.1:1).

⇒ Three well-known leaders of the Colossae church were co-workers with Paul: Epaphras (Col.1:7; 4:12), Philemon, and Archippus (Col.4:17; Phile.1:1-2).

Apparently, these laymen and others carried the Word throughout all of Asia during these two years. A true revival was taking place because...

- the servants of Christ preached the Word of the Lord, not their own ideas or philosophies.
- the servants of Christ were committed, completely sold out to Him and to the evangelizing of the world.
- the servants of Christ did not just talk about reaching people for Christ; they actually reached out to all the area, went everywhere they could.

“And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come” (Mt.24:14).

“And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mk.16:15).

“The word which God sent unto the children of Israel, preaching peace by Jesus Christ: (he is Lord of all)” (Acts 10:36).

“For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of: for necessity is laid upon me; yea, woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel!” (1 Cor.9:16).

“For we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus the Lord; and ourselves your servants for Jesus’ sake” (2 Cor.4:5).

2. The special miracles of God were seen. Note these were “special miracles” (dunamis ou tas tuchousas); the phrase actually means two things:

⇒ They were miracles, powers that were not regular happenings; powers that were not the day to day experiences of men.

⇒ They were miracles that were extraordinary; miracles that were usually not seen; that were uncommon; that were usually not performed. Even the disciples had not witnessed such miracles, not on a regular basis.

Apparently what happened was this: Ephesus was a hotbed of the occult including all forms of spiritism, magic, superstition, and the black arts. The people were an emotional lot, sensual and easily moved to feelings and to belief in the magical. From all the evidence, the spectacular was necessary in order to get through to the people. As always, God does everything He can to reach a people. Very simply stated, these “special miracles” show the great love and movement of God toward men. (See note—Acts 2:22-24; Jn.2:23 for more discussion.)

The scene sees Paul working in the tentmaking shop, sweating and having to change his apron and headband (handkerchief) often. People apparently took the clothing to their sick loved ones. In touching the handkerchiefs, the faith of the sick in the God preached by Paul would be lifted to new highs, and God out of mercy would heal them.

As we know (at least down deep within) no piece of cloth or any other material thing has any virtue of its own. Only God has virtue within Himself. Therefore, the healing was done by God, not by Paul nor by a piece of cloth. We who genuinely believe in God must always be honest in dealing with God. Since God is God...

- God has the right and power to do whatever He wills.
- God is love and reaches out to save men in every way possible.
- God knows when a person’s faith is true, when a person’s faith is really reaching up to be saved wholly, both spiritually and physically.

“But Jesus beheld them and said unto them, With men this is impossible; but with God all things are possible” (Mt.19:26).

“For with God nothing shall be impossible” (Lk.1:37).

“Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us” (Eph.3:20).

3. The false prophets were exposed (v.13-16). This event graphically demonstrates how God exposes false prophets. Note this:

⇒ Exorcists were common throughout the ancient world. Many were vagabonds, living as strolling gypsies. They lived a circus-type life, making a living off the superstitions of people. They felt that power lay in using the name of God in a formula. Jewish exorcists, of course, used the name of God Himself.

⇒ These exorcists or priests were seven sons of either a Jewish high priest or a man closely connected with the high priestly family.

Note how degenerate and how far the family had forsaken the high calling of God. Priests were called by God to serve His people as priests. (What a warning to every minister of the gospel! He can fall into a terrible degenerate state.)

⇒ These priests used the name of Jesus over a demon-possessed man. The scene was dramatic as the demon used the voice of the man, rebuking the false prophets for using Jesus' name against him. The evil spirit said he knew Jesus and Paul, but who were they? And he used the man to assault the false prophets for using the name of Jesus against him.

Now note the point: a true revival, a true movement of God's Spirit, will expose false prophets. False prophets confess Jesus and use His name in their work. But the power is not present, not the kind of power seen in true revival. A true movement of revival witnesses the power of God at work.

4. The fear of God struck men's hearts. They were gripped with a sense of awe and reverence, of God's power and demand for righteousness and of their need to walk righteously before God.

"And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell" (Mt.10:28).

"And if ye call on the Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to every man's work, pass the time of your sojourning here in fear" (1 Pt.1:17).

"Now therefore fear the LORD, and serve him in sincerity and in truth: and put away the gods which your fathers served on the other side of the flood, and in Egypt; and serve ye the LORD" (Josh.24:14).

"Let all the earth fear the LORD: let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him" (Ps.33:8).

"Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man" (Eccl.12:13).

"Sanctify the LORD of hosts himself; and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread" (Is.8:13).

5. The name of the Lord Jesus was magnified (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Name—Acts 3:6 for discussion).

6. The conversion of many took place. They believed and confessed (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Believe—Jn.2:24 for discussion).

"Give unto the LORD the glory due unto his name; worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness" (Ps.29:2).

"O magnify the LORD with me, and let us exalt his name together" (Ps.34:3).

7. The burning of superstitious books and charms took place. (What an example! What would happen if all the occult and pornographic and harmful books and magazines, pamphlets and papers, pictures and films were destroyed?) Note: they did not sell the items; they burned them. They did not want them in the hands of others because of their lies and degrading influence. Note also the great cost of all the items. A piece of silver was one day's wage, so fifty thousand pieces of silver equalled fifty thousand working days or 137 years.

"And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the moneychangers, and the seats of them that sold doves" (Mt.21:12).

"And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen; and poured out the changer's money, and overthrew the tables" (Jn.2:15).

"And he took away the sodomites out of the land, and removed all the idols that his fathers had made" (1 Ki.15:12).

"Nevertheless there are good things found in thee, in that thou hast taken away the groves [heathen worship centers] out of the land, and hast prepared thine heart to seek God" (2 Chron.19:3).

"And he took away the strange gods, and the idol out of the house of the LORD, and all the altars that he had built in the mount of the house of the LORD, and in Jerusalem, and cast them out of the city" (2 Chron.33:15).

8. The Word of God was spread mightily, in strength and power, prevailing and triumphing over all.

"These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so" (Acts 17:11).

"For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek" (Ro.1:16).

"For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe" (1 Th.2:13).

"For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart" (Heb.4:12).

"Wherefore thus saith the LORD God of hosts, Because ye speak this word, behold, I will make my words in thy mouth fire, and this people wood, and it shall devour them" (Jer.5:14).

"Is not my word like as a fire: saith the LORD; and like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces?" (Jer.23:29).

DIVISION IX

THE THIRD GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO ASIA MINOR AND EUROPE, 18:23-21:16

C. Ephesus (Part III): The Way of the Lord Disturbed People, 19:21-41

(19:21-41) Introduction: this is an excellent passage showing the reaction of the world to The Way of Christ. It is a strong reminder that the godly shall suffer persecution even as their Lord suffered.

1. Paul's great strategy (v.21-23).
2. The Way disturbed the greedy, the materialists (v.24-26).
3. The Way was falsely accused and attacked (v.27-29).
4. The Way required great courage, but also wisdom (v.30-31).
5. The Way was the object of mob action (v.32-34).
6. The Way was miraculously protected by God (v.35-41).

1 (19:21-23) Evangelism—Strategy: Paul's great strategy for world-evangelization can be seen here. Paul had launched his mission in the great cities of South Galatia (Acts 13:1-14:28). Then he had the desire to quickly reach Ephesus, the link between the East and West. But God, knowing the generations that lay ahead, led Paul over into Europe (Acts 15:36-18:22, esp. 16:6f). After Europe, Paul struck out for Ephesus, "the gate between the continents" (Acts 18:23-19:41). With the evangelization of Ephesus he said, "I must also see Rome" (Acts 19:21). This was a critical statement, for Paul was saying that the great cities lying along the great road to Rome were now evangelized. Rome, the capital of the world, could now be reached. His prayer for years had been the conquest of Rome, and now his heart seemed to tell him that his prayer could be fulfilled (Ro.1:13-15). Observe that Paul ached to evangelize Spain as well (Ro.15:24).

Now note a significant point: Paul's purpose was to evangelize, but he did not forget to minister to churches and to send forth disciples. The scene was this: Paul was in Ephesus (Asia or Turkey). He ached to reach Rome for Christ, but the churches at Jerusalem and throughout Judea were suffering famine. He sensed a deep need to help them, so before striking out for Rome, he planned to visit Jerusalem with an offering from all the churches in Macedonia and Achaia (the European or Greek churches). Paul was not able to leave immediately, so he sent Timothy and Erastus on ahead to the European churches. They were to exhort the churches and raise the funds necessary for the relief offerings. He planned to follow as soon as possible.

Thought 1. The call of the minister is to evangelize and to edify churches and to send forth disciples. All these ministries are necessary and all must be done. We should never forget the dynamic example of Paul.

2 (19:24-26) Greed—Materialism: The Way of the Lord disturbed the greedy and the materialists and those who were working in evil professions. There are two primary reasons:

1. The message of the Lord attacked the greed of evil professions. Demetrius and the silversmiths were engaged in an evil profession, that of making and selling items (idols) that were harmful and damaging to men. Note: their craft was profitable, very profitable. It was their livelihood, the basis of their wealth and social standing. Demetrius was apparently an influential citizen in the city, perhaps the head of the silversmith guild.
2. The Lord changed men's lives: He demanded they face the truth and deny all false gods and commit their lives to God alone. So many citizens and apparently tourists were being converted to Christ that they were no longer buying the idols, and it was cutting into the profits of Demetrius and the other tradesmen.

Note: when a man is truly converted, he does two things.

- a. He faces the truth. There are "no gods which are made with hands" (v.26) or created by the imaginations of men. If man imagines it or makes it, it is an idle, empty thought or else just material substance. It is not God, not the Sovereign Majesty of the universe...
  - who has life within Himself.
  - who is Creator of all.
  - who sustains and rules over all.
  - who is the Savior of men.

"As concerning therefore the eating of those things that are offered in sacrifice unto idols, we know that an idol is nothing in the world, and that there is none other God but one" (1 Cor.8:4).

"[There is] one God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all" (Eph.4:6).

"For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour; who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth. For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus; who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time" (1 Tim.2:3-6).

"Unto thee it was showed, that thou mightest know that the LORD he is God; there is none else beside him" (Dt.4:35).

"Wherefore thou art great, O LORD God: for there is none like thee, neither is there any God besides thee, according to all that we have heard with our ears" (2 Sam.7:22).

"That men may know that thou, whose name alone is JEHOVAH, art the Most High over all the earth" (Ps.83:18).

"For thou art great, and doest wondrous things: thou art God alone" (Ps.86:10).

"Ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me. I, even I, am the LORD; and beside me there is no savior" (Is.43:10-11).

“For thus saith the LORD that created the heavens; God himself that formed the earth and made it; he hath established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited: I am the LORD; and there is none else” (Is.45:18).

- b. He denies all gods except God Himself. He repents and is converted: he “turns to God from idols to serve the living and true God” (1 Th.1:9). (See note—Acts 17:23; 17:24-25 for discussion.)

Thought 1. There are too many Demetriuses in the world; too many greedy men who engage in evil professions—professions that harm and degrade men. The great need of the hour is for some to step forth as the Pauls of the world, step forth proclaiming that men must turn to God from the idols and evil professions of this world.

“Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord” (Acts 3:19).

“Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee” (Acts 8:22).

“And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men every where to repent” (Acts 17:30).

“Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the LORD, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon” (Is.55:7).

“But if the wicked will turn from all his sins that he hath committed, and keep all my statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, he shall not die” (Ezk.18:21).

3 (19:27-29) Persecution—Society—Nations: The Way of the Lord was falsely accused and attacked. Demetrius charged Paul and the Christians with being revolutionaries who were...

- destroying the livelihood and small businesses of all silversmiths in Ephesus.
- destroying one of the leading businesses of the city (the temple of Diana).
- destroying the tourist trade from Asia and the world.

The parallel with evil businesses of every generation is clearly seen in the charges made against Christianity. The business may involve such evils as drugs, alcohol, pornography, or gambling. But whatever the business, jobs and livelihoods are at stake; and when they are, emotions are easily aroused.

Demetrius stirred the silversmiths to move about and to incite the city against Paul and the believers. They were able to catch two of Paul’s companions, Gaius and Aristarchus, and drag them into the theatre. Note that the mob was “full of wrath,” in a wild rage.

Thought 1. Christianity does preach revolution, but not world revolution. It preaches spiritual revolution.

- ⇒ Christianity does not preach physical violence, but spiritual violence.
- ⇒ Christianity does not tell men to take up weapons of physical warfare, but weapons of spiritual warfare.
- ⇒ Christianity does not teach destruction and death; it teaches spiritual conversion and life.
- ⇒ Christianity does not destroy; it builds.
- ⇒ Christianity does not force; it preaches freedom.

Therefore, the charge was false. The Ephesians had no need to fear. The temple, as idolatrous as it was, would not be destroyed by the Christian believers; neither would citizens be coerced to follow The Way. The choice was each man’s. No force whatsoever was involved. All Paul and the believers wanted was the right of free speech, the right to proclaim...

- that God is.
- that God is love.
- that God has revealed His love in His Son Jesus Christ.
- that God now invites men to love His Son Jesus Christ and to love each other, putting away every evil thing that hurts self and others.

Note a clear fact: The Way of Christ and of God is the best way for every society. Righteousness, love, and justice always help and build society; they never tear down and destroy. Naturally there may be some shock for a society to go through as it rids itself of evil professions and replaces them with good and healthy professions. But think of the glorious results—the lives saved, the maimed bodies prevented, the crumbling families united, the enslaved bodies delivered, and on and on. Think of the health and strength of a society with no evil professions and little greed, a society with neighbors living for the welfare and love of each other.

“By the blessing of the upright the city is exalted: but it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked” (Pr.11:11).

“Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people” (Pr.14:34).

“It is an abomination to kings to commit wickedness: for the throne is established by righteousness” (Pr.16:12).

“Take away the wicked from before the king, and his throne shall be established in righteousness” (Pr.25:5).

“Then judgment shall dwell in the wilderness, and righteousness remain in the fruitful field” (Is.32:16).

“In righteousness shalt thou be established: thou shalt be far from oppression; for thou shalt not fear: and from terror; for it shall not come near thee” (Is.54:14).

4 (19:30-31) Courage—Wisdom: The Way of the Lord required great courage, but also wisdom. Paul and the other believers had naturally heard the uproar. “The whole city was filled with confusion,” caught up in the riot. When Paul discovered that his two dear disciples, Gaius and Aristarchus, had been dragged into the arena...

- note his courage: he rushed in and tried to save them.
- note that some of the local officials restrained Paul. These officials were “Asiarchs.” The word means the local representatives elected by a district to manage and oversee the public games and festivals of great cities. We do not know if the officials were believers, but they were at least friends of Paul.

Thought 1. We all need the courage to rush to the aid of God’s people when they are being ridiculed, abused, and persecuted for their faith. Too often, when a fellow believer is under attack, we sit quietly, fearing lest we are also turned against. The scene may be at work, school, neighborhood, or a host of other places; but no matter where, we must take a stand by the side of those being abused for Christ.

“And in nothing terrified by your adversaries: which is to them an evident token of perdition, but to you of salvation, and that of God” (Ph.1:28).

“For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind” (2 Tim.1:7).

“Be strong and of a good courage, fear not, nor be afraid of them: for the LORD thy God, he it is that doth go with thee; he will not fail thee, nor forsake thee” (Dt.31:6).

“I will not be afraid of ten thousands of people, that have set themselves against me round about” (Ps.3:6).

“Though a host should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear: though war should rise against me, in this will I be confident” (Ps.27:3).

“The LORD is on my side; I will not fear: what can man do unto me?” (Ps.118:6).

“Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust, and not be afraid: for the Lord JEHOVAH is my strength and my sons; he also is become my salvation” (Is.12:2).

However, there are times when wisdom tells us to refrain from action. We are to be as Paul, willing to risk our lives for others, but not to foolishly endanger our lives.

“Seeing then that these things cannot be spoken against, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rashly” (Acts 19:36).

“If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him” (Jas.1:5).

“Also, that the soul be without knowledge, it is not good; and he that hasteth with his feet sinneth” (Pr.19:2).

“A prudent man foreseeth the evil, and hideth himself: but the simple pass on, and are punished” (Pr.22:3).

“Seest thou a man that is hasty in his words? there is more hope of a fool than of him” (Pr.29:20).

“Therefore the prudent shall keep silence in that time; for it is an evil time” (Amos 5:13).

5 (19:32-34) Persecution: The Way of the Lord was the object of mob action. What happened next is interesting. Paul and Aristarchus were both Jews, so the Jews began to fear the mob might connect them with Paul and turn against them. The Jews convinced one of their own, Alexander, to stand before the crowd and speak against Paul and the Christians. But when he arose and lifted his hand to quiet them, the mob went into a frenzy, crying out “Great is Diana of the Ephesians.” Note how long the cry went on—for two whole hours.

Thought 1. Note three points.

- 1) Note how some forsake the truth when worldly pressure is applied. The Jews were against the evil profession (idolatry) as much as anyone could possibly be, but they feared retaliation, so they backed off and refused to support the believers.
- 2) Note how easily led and aroused the general public is by misleading and twisted information. Note what Scripture says:

“Some therefore cried one thing, and some another: for the assembly was confused; and the [majority] knew not wherefore they were come together” (v.32).

- 3) Evil professions and men of greed will always work to incite the public against genuine believers. They will often use misleading and twisted information. It is the only way they can survive and continue to fill their pockets with their evil trade.

“But beware of men: for they will deliver you up to the councils, and they will scourge you in their synagogues” (Mt.10:17).

“Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you; if they have kept my saying, they will keep yours also” (Jn.15:20).

“For unto you it is given in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake” (Ph.1:29).

“Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution” (2 Tim.3:12).

6 (19:35-41) God, Presence—Deliverance: The Way of the Lord was miraculously protected by God. How God overruled is clearly seen in the verses above.

Thought 1. In facing persecution, if it is God’s will for us to be delivered He can and will use men of the world to bring reason to the persecutors and to violence. God overrules the spirits of men. We must always remember this when we find ourselves in the midst of trouble.

“[God] stilleth the noise of the seas, the noise of their waves, and the tumult of the people” (Ps.65:7).

“And, behold, I am with thee, and will keep thee in all places whither thou goest, and will bring thee again into this land; for I will not leave thee, until I have done that which I have spoken to thee of” (Gen.28:15).

“Fear thou not; For I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness” (Is.41:10).

“Fear not: for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name; thou art mine. When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee” (Is.43:1-2).

DIVISION IX

THE THIRD GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO ASIA MINOR AND EUROPE, 18:23-21:16

D. Europe and Asia Minor, the Great Cities Revisited: The Faithful Minister, 20:1-12

(20:1-12) Introduction: this passage gives an eye-catching glimpse of the faithful minister. (See Map—Introduction to Acts, for a picture of the journey and cities.)

1. He considered the church above all (v.1).
2. He served quietly, exhorting much (v.1-2).
3. He faced constant threat courageously, but intelligently (v.3).
4. He grew disciples (v.4-6).
5. He worshipped with believers wherever he was (v.7).
6. He preached long and fervently (v.7).
7. He served tenderly and warmly (v.8-12).

1 (20:1) Minister—Church, Care for: the faithful minister considered the church above all. There had been a terrible uproar and riot in Ephesus, an attack launched primarily against Paul, but which had also involved the believers. It was a narrow escape (cp. Acts 19:21-41). The point is this: Paul sensed that if he continued in Ephesus, he would endanger the believers. He thought first and foremost of the church, not wishing to bring any harm whatsoever to the believers. Therefore, he called them together and embraced them and left to undertake a ministry in Europe.

Thought 1. Every minister, in fact every believer, must consider the church and its welfare above all. No doubt Paul desired to minister in Ephesus a while longer. But he knew he was the center of controversy, and it would be better for the church if he left. He put the welfare of the church before his own desires.

2 (20:1-2) Exhortation—Minister—Faithfulness: the faithful minister serves quietly, exhorting much. So much happened in Paul's life and ministry that will never be known. In fact, if it were not for Luke, the author of Acts, we would know very little about this extraordinary servant of God. He says little about himself in the letters to the churches which he wrote. Paul served quietly, without boasting and publicizing his own efforts for the Lord. He was interested in one thing: reaching people for Christ, not in promoting himself. In fact, this was the spirit of all the servants of the early church. Even Luke, when writing of Paul, does not glorify Paul because of his work but he glorifies the Lord as the source and power lying behind Paul's work. In other words, even Luke presents the service of Paul in a quiet way, symbolizing that Paul served the Lord quietly, glorifying the Lord's name and not lifting up his own weak efforts (weak efforts that were made strong in the Lord).

A good example of Paul serving quietly and exhorting much is in these two verses. Paul's ministry in Macedonia (Europe) lasted almost a year and involved some outstanding events. Yet we know nothing about them except what little we can glean from Paul's own writing.

- ⇒ There was Paul waiting in Troas for Titus. Titus had been sent from Ephesus to Corinth to work out the problems there and to deliver The Letter of First Corinthians from Paul. Titus was supposed to meet and report back to Paul in Troas. But he was not there when Paul arrived. Paul, therefore, began to "preach Christ's gospel" and to minister while waiting for Titus (2 Cor.2:12-13).
- ⇒ There was Paul apparently suffering some serious illness or some awful burden while in Troas (2 Cor.1:8-10).
- ⇒ There was Paul leaving Troas because he had "no rest in his spirit." This refers at least in part to his concern over the problems in the Galatian and Corinthian churches. Titus was running way behind schedule and Paul was concerned. So he travelled on into Macedonia (Europe) (2 Cor.7:5-6).
- ⇒ There was Paul also meeting up with Timothy in Macedonia, probably at Thessalonica. He received reports on the welfare of all the churches Timothy had been visiting (Acts 19:22).
- ⇒ There was Paul finally meeting up with Titus in Macedonia, probably Philippi, and receiving news about the Corinthian church (2 Cor.7:5-6).
- ⇒ There was Paul sitting down immediately to write Second Corinthians and sending Titus right back to Corinth to complete the work of straightening out the church (2 Cor.8:16-24). Note that Timothy remained with Paul (1 Cor.1:1), but someone else was sent with Titus, perhaps Luke (2 Cor.8:18).
- ⇒ There was Paul refusing to visit Corinth, waiting until his letter and Titus had time to settle the problems in the church. While waiting he evangelized Illyricum (Ro.15:19; 2 Cor.13:1-2, 10).

Now just imagine—all these events and many, many more took place in one year, yet they were never mentioned. All Luke said was that Paul went into Macedonia and exhorted much. The point is this: the faithful minister serves quietly and exhorts much. He does not blow his own horn. He honors Christ and Him alone. He does not serve by concentrating on building himself up, but by reaching and evangelizing people for Christ and exhorting them in the faith.

"For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men, teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world; looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ; who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works. These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee" (Tit.2:11-15).

"But exhort one another daily, while it is called To day; lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin" (Heb.3:13).

"Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching" (Heb.10:25).

- 3 (20:3) Persecution: the faithful minister faced constant threats courageously, but intelligently. What happened to Paul was this: he had been ministering in Greece for three months and was about to sail for Antioch in Syria to visit his home church. Somehow he discovered a plot against his life. Apparently the Jews in Corinth had never gotten over the ruler's (Gallio's) judgment against them and had been waiting over the years for an opportunity to get rid of Paul. They were either going to throw him overboard or else kill him someplace on the dock. Paul immediately changed his plans and fled back into Macedonia.

Thought 1. The faithful minister faces constant threat because of the gospel and God's will. The faithful minister is constantly pressing for the church and its believers to live for Christ. He is constantly carrying the Lord's message to his own neighborhood and to the world. Righteousness and evangelism disturb people, even carnal believers. They are always a constant threat to genuine believers. The believer must live courageously, but intelligently; he must always be ready to change his plans under God's direction, even as Paul did.

"But beware of men: for they will deliver you up to the councils, and they will scourge you in their synagogues" (Mt.10:17).

"Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you; if they have kept my saying, they will keep yours also" (Jn.15:20).

"For unto you it is given in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake" (Ph.1:29).

"Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution" (2 Tim.3:12).

- 4 (20:4-6) Discipleship: the faithful minister grew disciples. These men were chosen by the various churches to help Paul deliver the relief offerings being sent to the Jerusalem church.

1. Sopater or Sosipater was from Berea. He may be the same person mentioned by Paul as being with him when he wrote Romans (Ro.16:21). He was a servant of the Lord who was held in high esteem by the church at Berea. He was the one trusted with their offerings to the church of Jerusalem.

2. Aristarchus (see note—Phile.24 for discussion).
3. Secundus. This is the only reference to him. He was a disciple of Paul, a man highly esteemed by his church at Thessalonica, being entrusted with the offering to the poor.
4. Gaius was a common name, and there are several possibilities as to who he was. Note that he was accompanying Paul.
  - ⇒ There was Gaius, a native of Macedonia and a disciple of Paul who was seized in the riot at Ephesus (Acts 19:29).
  - ⇒ There was Gaius, a native of Derbe and a disciple of Paul (Acts 20:4). This Gaius is most likely the same as the Gaius of Corinth.
  - ⇒ There was Gaius who was led to the Lord and baptized by Paul in Corinth (Ro.16:23; 1 Cor.1:14).
5. Timothy (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 16:1-3).
6. Tychicus (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Eph.6:21).
7. Trophimus was from Ephesus. There are only three references to him. He was the highly esteemed leader in the church at Ephesus who was entrusted with their offerings to the poor at Jerusalem (Acts 20:4-5). He was the reason why the Jews of Jerusalem rioted and arrested Paul. He was left sick by Paul in Miletus (2 Tim.4:20). (Note Paul was unable to heal him. It is not always God's will to heal. But we must always remember: God does will to heal sometimes.)

Thought 1. Paul was constantly making disciples, attaching men to himself and growing them in the Lord (see note, Discipleship—Acts 13:5-6 for discussion).

“Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching [making disciples] them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world” (Mt.28:19-20).

“And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also” (2 Tim.2:2).

Thought 2. Note that these men were chosen to handle the offerings of the church. They show us what kind of men (ushers) should be chosen to handle money for the church. (See outlines and notes—1 Cor.16:1-4; 2 Cor.8:16-24).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(20:6) Ministers: note the word “we.” Luke rejoined Paul at Troas.

5 (20:7) Worship: the faithful minister worshipped with believers wherever he was. Note this: Paul was in Troas on the oceanfront for seven days, which means he was there for one Sunday. He was tired, exhausted, apparently having had no break for years. Instead of taking Sunday off and strolling out on the beach, praying and meditating, note where he was: worshipping with the believers. He was faithful...

- in worshipping on the first day of the week.
- in observing the day the Lord arose (the first day of the week).
- in observing the Lord's Supper, the breaking of bread weekly.
- in having fellowship with other believers no matter who they were or where they were nor how poor their facilities (note they had to meet in a house).
- in honoring the Lord with other believers on the Lord's Day.
- in being where the world expected him to be on the Lord's Day.

“And there was one Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser: she was of a great age, and had lived with an husband seven years from her virginity; and she was a widow of about fourscore and four years, which departed not from the temple, but served God with fastings and prayers night and day” (Lk.2:36-37).

“And they worshipped him, and returned to Jerusalem with great joy: and were continually in the temple, praising and blessing God” (Lk.24:52-53).

“And they, continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eat their meat with gladness and singleness of heart” (Acts 2:46).

“Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching” (Heb.10:25).

6 (20:7) Preaching: the faithful minister preached long and fervently. He grabbed every opportunity he could to preach despite tiredness and the need for rest. Note he preached until midnight.

Thought 1. There is a lesson here for us all. There is a place for long messages and the need for much learning, which means alert and rapt attention.

“And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand” (Mt.10:7).

“And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mk.16:15).

“Preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all longsuffering and doctrine” (2 Tim.4:2).

7 (20:8-12) Minister: the faithful minister served tenderly and warmly. The story speaks for itself. Note several points.

1. The boy’s name was Eutychus.
2. The boy’s accident was his own fault. He was sitting in a dangerous place, on a window sill three stories high. He went to sleep when he should have been listening and learning.

Thought 1. Too many miss too much by not staying awake and alert.

Thought 2. Note: there were many lights to help the people stay alert. Churches need to pay attention to the need for well lighted buildings.

3. Luke the physician says explicitly the boy “was taken up dead.” The words “taken up” indicate the boy was examined and moved someplace, perhaps into a bedroom or the first floor of the house.
4. Paul “fell upon” and “embraced” the boy. This is a picture of...
  - compassion
  - being determined to help the boy
  - being an instrument for the power of God’s life to flow through him into the boy

Thought 1. Symbolically, every believer should throw himself upon the lost of the world to impart the life of God to them (Jn.20:21; cp. Lk.19:10).

5. Paul fellowshiped all night with the believers. Note they celebrated the Lord’s Supper.

Thought 1. What a beautiful picture of sweet fellowship between believers and a visiting preacher! This scene says much to churches about the welcome and fellowship in the Lord that should be extended to visiting preachers.

6. The boy and his family and the church were all comforted by the wonderful restoration of the young boy. The scene is that of a most joyful occasion.

Thought 1. When the life of God is breathed into the life of a person, a great comfort results.

“I have showed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said It is more blessed to give than to receive” (Acts 20:35).

“We then that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves” (Ro.15:1).

“Bear ye one another’s burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ” (Gal.6:2).

“Wherefore comfort yourselves together, and edify one another, even as also ye do” (1 Th.5:11).

“Now we exhort you, brethren, warn them that are unruly, comfort the feebleminded, support the weak, be patient toward all men” (1 Th.5:14).

“Casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you” (1 Pt.5:7).

“Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, saith your God” (Is.40:1).

“In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them: in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; and he bare them, and carried them all the days of old” (Is.63:9).

DIVISION IX

THE THIRD GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO ASIA MINOR AND EUROPE, 18:23-21:16

E. Miletus, a Notable City in Ancient Myth (Part I): The Testimony of a Faithful Minister, 20:13-27

(20:13-27) Introduction: this is one of the most touching scenes in all of Scripture. It is a powerful message, especially to those who truly serve the Lord Jesus. (See Map—Introduction to Acts, for a picture of the cities and journey.)

1. Paul's passion—His face set for Jerusalem (v.13-18).
2. A constant, unswerving service (v.18-19).
3. A sense of urgency in evangelism and teaching (v.20-21).
4. A nagging compulsion: to reach the lost (v.22).
5. A willingness to suffer (v.23).
6. A total abandonment to Christ (v.24).
7. A testimony of foreseeing his ministry in the future (v.25).
8. A clear and pure heart (v.26-27).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(20:13-27) Miletus: the city was only about twenty-eight miles from Ephesus. (See Map—Introduction to Acts.) It was a great harbor and commercial center in Paul's day. Its coasts were steeped in ancient history and myth. The city is well known from such writings as Homer's "Troy."

1 (20:13-18) Paul: Paul was gripped with the passion to visit Jerusalem. He set his face for Jerusalem and nothing would stop him from going there. Note two interesting points.

1. Paul's need and desire to be alone. The journey to Assos was twenty miles by land and thirty miles by sea. Why did Paul wish to be alone and go by land instead of sea? The answer evidently lies in his need to be alone. Paul had been given a heavy burden by God to evangelize Rome and Spain (see note—Acts 19:21-23), and he had been warned by friends not to return to Jerusalem. But he delayed his evangelizing Rome and Spain; he wanted to minister in Jerusalem to his own dear people and to be present when the relief help was delivered for the poor. Paul was perhaps being disquieted by the Holy Spirit and questioning what he should do; thus he sensed the need to seek God's face and to think the matter through. He needed to share the matter with his Lord. Note the similarity between Jesus' determination to make His final journey to Jerusalem and Paul's own determination. Both had their faces set for "going up" to Jerusalem (Lk.9:51; Acts 20:22. See outline and notes—Acts 21:1-16 for more discussion.)

Thought 1. The servant of God must get alone and seek God's face for direction in his ministry, especially when significant changes or new directions are to take place.

2. Paul was extremely rushed and hurried. He was taken aboard the ship in Assos. The picture is that he rushed to get aboard and set sail. In fact Paul rushed so much, he left some baggage and his Scripture behind (cp. 2 Tim.4:13).

Note that Paul determined the course of the ship (v.16). He had either leased a ship or the captain was willing to oblige Paul. The scene is that of Paul rushing from place to place, wasting no time, struggling to reach Jerusalem before Pentecost (v.16). He wanted to celebrate the pouring out of the Holy Spirit with the believers in Jerusalem. Note: he even planned to bypass Ephesus. However, for some reason the ship was delayed for several days at the port of Miletus, so Paul sent for the elders of Ephesus to come and meet with him (v.17). When they came, he shared one of the most touching scenes in all literature, a scene that can be titled, "the final testimony of a faithful minister to his dear people."

2 (20:18-19) Steadfastness—Ministry: the testimony of a constant, unswerving service. Note three points.

1. Paul was totally devoted from "the [very] first day" and through "all seasons" (chronon), that is, through all kinds of situations and circumstances.

2. Paul was "serving the Lord" (douleuon toi kurioi), not self and not others. Note the word "serving" (douleuon): it is taken from the word bond-slave (doulos). Paul constantly called himself the slave of Jesus Christ (see note—Ro.1:1 for discussion).

3. Paul's service was characterized by three things.

a. He served "with humility" (meta pases tapeinophrosunes) or lowliness of mind (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, Humility—Lk.14:11 for discussion).

⇒ He moved among all.

⇒ He recognized and acknowledged and shared with all, the lowly as well as the upper class.

⇒ He stopped to help in any way he could.

b. He served "with many tears." He had a tender, understanding, and compassionate heart. He wept over...

• the unsaved world (Acts 20:19, 31).

• the carnal believers (2 Cor.2:4).

• the sensual and apostate ministers (Ph.3:18).

c. He served "with many trials," especially in being attacked by the unsaved religionists (Jew). The point is this: despite the terrible trials, he kept on serving faithfully. (See note, Paul, Sufferings—Acts 18:9-11 for discussion.)

"He saith to him again the second time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my sheep" (Jn.21:16).

"Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord" (1 Cor.15:58).

"As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith" (Gal.6:10).

"Preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all longsuffering and doctrine" (2 Tim.4:2).

3 (20:20-21) Evangelism—Exhortation: the testimony of urgency in evangelism and exhortation. Note five important points.

1. Paul taught the whole gospel, plainly and simply. He kept nothing back. The Greek says he did not shrink back nor draw back. He did not shrink back or hold back any part of the gospel. He did not tiptoe around the gospel. The whole truth was proclaimed and taught. Note the words "showed" and "taught." Paul taught so plainly and simply it was like showing the truth, painting it before the very eyes of the people. He did not use flowery speech and big words. He spoke simply on the level of the people.

"And I, brethren, when I came to you, came not with excellency of speech or of wisdom, declaring unto you the testimony of God...and my speech and my preaching was not with enticing words of man's wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power" (1 Cor.2:1, 4).

2. Paul taught publicly and privately. He used every opportunity he could to teach, even going from house to house. Note: his visits in homes were not strictly social calls. He, of course, did fellowship with believers in their homes, but the social visits were used to teach the Word as well.

3. Paul taught powerfully, as a man upon oath. This is seen in the word “testifying” (diamarturomenos). He proclaimed the truth as a man of integrity. He spoke with authority, as one who had the right of God Himself to testify.

4. He taught both Jew and Greek. He showed no favoritism or partiality. He was a Jew, but he did not favor the Jews. He was called by God to be the apostle to the Gentiles, and he was severely persecuted by the Jews, but he did not neglect the Jews. He preached to all men. Color, nationality, belief, status, poor, or rich—nothing mattered. He reached out to all.

“Then Peter opened his mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons: but in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him” (Acts 10:34-35).

“For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him” (Ro.10:12).

5. He taught repentance and faith (see notes, Repentance—Acts 3:19; note and DEEPER STUDY # 1—7:29-30; DEEPER STUDY # 2, Faith—Jn.2:24; note and DEEPER STUDY # 3—Acts 5:32 for discussion).

“And saying, Repent ye: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand” (Mt.3:2).

“Therefore whatsoever ye have spoken in darkness shall be heard in the light; and that which ye have spoken in the ear in closets shall be proclaimed upon the housetops” (Lk.12:3).

“Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life” (Jn.5:24).

“That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved” (Ro.10:9).

4 (20:22) Zeal: the testimony of a nagging compulsion to reach the lost. The words “bound in the spirit” mean Paul’s own spirit, not the Holy Spirit. Paul was driven to do all he could to reach his own people, the Jews (Ro.9:1-3; 10:1). The deep intensity of his compulsion can be seen in the fact that he was probably making the trip against what God really wanted him to do. There is a strong indication that God wanted him taking an evangelistic mission into Rome and Spain (see notes—Acts 19:21-23; 20:13-18. See outline and notes—Acts 21:1-16 especially for discussion.)

“Jesus saith unto them, My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work” (Jn.4:34).

“I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work” (Jn.9:4).

“For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard” (Acts 4:20).

“How God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; for God was with him” (Acts 10:38).

“For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of: for necessity is laid upon me; yea, woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel!” (1 Cor.9:16).

5 (20:23) Persecution: the testimony of a willingness to suffer. Paul said the Holy Spirit bore witness to him that bonds and afflictions would come upon him in every city. Therefore, he knew that persecution awaited him in Jerusalem. He did not know what form they would take, but he would have to suffer when he arrived in Jerusalem.

- ⇒ Note the devotion of Paul: walking so closely to the Lord, the Holy Spirit prepares him for every trial he was to face.
- ⇒ Note the courage of Paul: marching forth despite knowing unbelievable trials and sufferings awaited him (see note, Paul’s Sufferings—Acts 18:9-11).
- ⇒ Note the enduring commitment of Paul: persevering and continuing on with the Lord despite an unending series of persecution, and despite knowing that such afflictions awaited him no matter where he went.

“Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you; if they have kept my saying, they will keep yours also” (Jn.15:20).

“For unto you it is given in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake” (Ph.1:29).

“Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution” (2 Tim.3:12).

“Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you: but rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ’s sufferings; that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy” (1 Pt.4:12-13)

6 (20:24) Consecration—Dedication: the testimony of total abandonment to Christ. This is a striking verse, but it is also a precious verse, and should be read many times to get the full impact of its message.

1. Paul did not count his life “dear” unto himself. His life was not for him to use and to do as he pleased, not for earthly comfort or pleasure. His life was not for himself; it was for Christ. His life was “dear” (timian), that is, precious and valuable;

but it was not for himself, not for his own use. His life was the precious and valuable possession of the Lord. The Lord possessed his life, for he had given it to the Lord, and the Lord was using it to the maximum.

2. Paul had given his life to the Lord for two reasons.

a. Paul wished to finish the course of his life with joy, faithfully and diligently running the Christian race to the end (1 Cor.9:24-27; Ph.3:13-14). Note: he did complete his course, proclaiming its fulfillment to Timothy (2 Tim.4:6-8).

“For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand. I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith: henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing” (2 Tim.4:6-8).

“Know ye not that they which run in a race run all, but one receiveth the prize? So run, that ye may obtain. And every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown; but we an incorruptible. I therefore so run, not as uncertainly; so fight I, not as one that beateth the air: but I keep under my body, and bring it into subjection: lest that by any means, when I have preached to others, I myself should be a castaway” (1 Cor.9:24-27).

“Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus” (Ph.3:13-14).

b. Paul wished to finish the ministry which the Lord Jesus had given to him (cp. Acts 9:15; 26:16-18; Gal.1:1, 11-12; 15-17). Note what his ministry was—to proclaim the gospel of the grace of God (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, Grace—Tit.2:11-15 for discussion. Cp. how grace is stressed in Ephesians: Eph.1:2, 6-7; 2:5, 7-8; 3:2, 7-8; 4:7, 29; 6:24.)

“But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel” (Acts 9:15).

7 (20:25) Ministry: the testimony of foreseeing his ministry in the future. Paul was probably thinking...

- of his future mission to Rome and Spain (see note—Acts 20:13-18).
- of possible persecution and martyrdom.

He knew that in either case he would not be able to visit the Ephesian church again. The scene was touching, tender, and solemn. Note: he had preached the Kingdom of God to these men. (See DEEPER STUDY # 3, Kingdom of Heaven—Mt.19:23-24 for discussion.)

“Jesus saith unto them, My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work” (Jn.4:34).

“When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, It is finished: and he bowed his head, and gave up the ghost” (Jn.19:30).

“But none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto myself, so that I might finish my course with joy, and the ministry, which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God” (Acts 20:24).

“For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand. I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith: henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing” (2 Tim.4:6-8).

8 (20:26-27) Ministry: the testimony of a clear and pure heart. Paul made an astounding claim, a claim which he meant to be a challenge to the ministers who stood before him and thereby to all ministers of all ages.

1. He was free from the blood of all men. If any man was unsaved, it was the man’s fault (cp. Ezk.33:6).

2. The reason he was free was that he had proclaimed all the counsel of God. He had proclaimed the truth, warning every man.

“[Christ] whom we preach, warning every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom; that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus: whereunto I also labour, striving according to his working, which worketh in me mightily” (Col.1:28-29).

“But if the watchman [minister, believer] see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned; if the sword come, and take any person from among them, he is taken away in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at the watchman’s hand” (Ezk.33:6).

Thought 1. The testimony of Paul should be the claim of every preacher and teacher in the church.

DIVISION IX

THE THIRD GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO ASIA MINOR AND EUROPE, 18:23-21:16

F. Miletus (Part II): The Last Words to Church Leaders, 20:28-38

(20:28-38) Introduction: these words are the last words of Paul to church leaders that are recorded. It is a critical message, a message that needs to be studied time and again by every church leader.

1. Guard yourselves and the church (v.28).
2. Feed the church of God (v.28-31).
3. Live for God and for God's Word (v.32).
4. Labor and give, not coveting worldly wealth (v.33-35).
5. Conclusion: pastor and people departed (v.36-38).

I (20:28) Minister, Duty—Sheep: the first duty is to guard yourselves and the church. This is a strong charge.

1. The minister must look after his own life, his character and conduct, before he can look after the flock of God. He must "take heed" (prosechete), that is, give attention to, concentrate upon, focus upon, attend to, watch after, and guard his life. There are specific areas he must guard.

a. He must guard against false teaching.

"In the mean time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, insomuch that they trode one upon another, he began to say unto his disciples first of all, Beware ye of the leaven [false teaching] of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy" (Lk.12:1).

b. He must guard against an unforgiving spirit.

"Take heed to yourselves: If thy brother trespass against thee, rebuke him; and if he repent, forgive him. And if he trespass against thee seven times in a day, and seven times in a day turn again to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him" (Lk.17:3-4).

c. He must guard against self-indulgence, drunkenness, and the possessions of this life.

"And take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you unawares" (Lk.21:34).

- d. He must guard against the fables, myths, speculations, ideas, and false doctrines of men as well as the genealogies (roots, heritage, ancestry—useless knowledge) of men.

“Neither give heed to fables and endless genealogies, which minister questions, rather than godly edifying which is in faith: so do” (1 Tim.1:4).

- e. He must watch and give himself to reading, exhortation and doctrine.

“...give attendance [heed] to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine” (1 Tim.4:13).

- f. He must especially give himself to the doctrine (te didaskalia), the teaching of Scripture.

“Take heed unto thyself, and unto the doctrine; continue in them: for in doing this thou shalt both save thyself, and them that hear thee” (1 Tim.4:16).

2. The minister must look after “all the flock.” There are three reasons stressed in Scripture.

- a. Sheep can wander about and get lost (see note—Lk.15:4 for five ways that a sheep loses its way).

“All we like sheep have gone astray, we have turned every one to his own way; and the LORD hath laid on him the iniquity of us all” (Is.53:6).

“The man that wandereth out of the way of understanding shall remain in the congregation of the dead” (Pr.21:16).

“As a bird that wandereth from her nest, so is a man that wandereth from his place” (Pr.27:8).

“Thou hast forsaken me, saith the LORD, thou art gone backward: therefore will I stretch out my hand against thee, and destroy thee; I am weary with repenting” (Jer.15:6).

“And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold” (Mt.24:12).

“If any man draw back, my soul shall have no pleasure in him” (Heb.10:38).

“Which have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of Balam the son of Bosor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness” (2 Pt.2:15).

- b. Sheep can be seized by the beasts (false teachers) of the world and within the church (see DEEPER STUDY # 2—Acts 20:29-30; Jn.10:1; 10:7-8 for discussion).

“All ye beasts [false shepherds] of the field, come to devour, yea, all ye beasts in the forest. His watchmen are blind: they are all ignorant, they are all dumb dogs, they cannot bark; sleeping, lying down, loving to slumber. Yea, they are greedy dogs which can never have enough, and they are shepherds that cannot understand: they all look to their own way, every one for his gain, from his quarter” (Is.56:9-11).

“Woe be unto the pastors that destroy and scatter the sheep of my pasture! saith the LORD. Therefore thus saith the LORD God of Israel against the pastors that feed my people; Ye have scattered my flock, and driven them away, and have not visited them: behold, I will visit upon you the evil of your doings, saith the LORD” (Jer.23:1-2; cp. Jer.25:34-38).

“My people hath been lost sheep: their shepherds have caused them to go astray, they have turned them away on the mountains: they have gone from mountain to hill, they have forgotten their resting-place” (Jer.50:6).

“Thus saith the Lord GOD unto the shepherds; Woe be to the shepherds of Israel that do feed themselves! should not the shepherds feed the flocks? Ye eat the fat, and ye clothe you with the wool, ye kill them that are fed: but ye feed not the flock. The diseased have ye not strengthened, neither have ye healed that which was sick, neither have ye bound up that which was broken, neither have ye brought again that which was driven away, neither have ye sought that which was lost; but with force and with cruelty have ye ruled them. And they were scattered, because there is no shepherd: and they became meat to all the beasts of the field, when they were scattered. My sheep wandered through all the mountains, and upon every high hill: yea, my flock was scattered upon all the face of the earth, and none did search or seek after them” (Ezk.34:2-6; cp. Ezk.34:7-31).

- c. Sheep without a shepherd are in a pathetic condition (see note—Mk.6:34 for discussion).

“But when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion on them, because they fainted, and were scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd” (Mt.9:36).

“For ye were as sheep going astray; but are now returned unto the Shepherd and Bishop of your souls” (1 Pt.2:25).

2 (20:28-31) Minister—Church: the second duty is to feed the church of God. The word “feed” (poimainein) is shepherd, to act as a shepherd. Church leaders are to shepherd the church of God (see note, pt.4, Shepherd—Jn.10:2-3 for discussion on the seven functions of feeding or shepherding). There are four reasons why the church leader is to feed the church of God.

1. The church must be fed because God has purchased the church and paid the supreme price for it with His own blood. Note three all-important points.
  - a. Jesus is unequivocally said to be God. He is the One who shed His blood to purchase the church. He is very God, very Man. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1—Jn.1:1-5 for more discussion. Cp. Ro.9:5; Col.2:9; Tit.2:13. See outlines and notes—Ph.2:5-11; Col.1:15; 1:16-17; 1:18-19.)
  - b. Jesus “purchased” (periepoiesato) the church. Therefore, it is His; He owns it and He has all say-so concerning everything about the church. As Purchaser, His Word about the care of His church is to be carried out explicitly, just as He dictates. There is to be no deviation whatsoever. Leaders are but overseers appointed by Him to shepherd His church as He says.
  - c. Jesus paid the supreme price for the church—His own blood (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 20:28 for discussion).
2. The church must be fed because it is the duty of church leaders to feed it. Church leaders are called overseers (episkopous) or elders (Jewish name) or bishops (Greek name) or presbyter or episkopate (overseer). Note the terms are used interchangeably: elder (v.17), bishop (v.28), overseer or episkopate (v.28), and shepherd (feed, v.28). (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Elder—Tit.1:5-9 for discussion.)

“The elders which are among you I exhort...Feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind; neither as being lords over God’s heritage, but being ensamples to the flock. And when the chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away” (1 Pt.5:1-4).

3. The church must be fed because false teachers will come in among believers and seduce them (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, False Teachers—Acts 20:29-30 for discussion).

4. The church must be fed because of Paul’s supreme example of faithfulness. Paul sets a dynamic example for all leaders of the church. He was a mere man as every leader is, yet he was able to please God immensely, able to feed the church exactly as God wished. He demonstrated perfectly that the man chosen by God to be an overseer can shepherd the church as it should be done (see note, pt.1—Acts 14:14-18 for more discussion).

- a. He “warned” (noutheton): admonished. The word means both to give advice and to warn.

“To whom God would make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles; which is Christ in you, the hope of glory” (Col.1:27).

- b. He warned everyone, not neglecting any or favoring any. He gave attention to all, saw to it that they were fully fed and shepherded.
- c. He warned day and night: every day, every night, all the time, constantly and consistently, never missing an opportunity.
- d. He warned them “with tears,” full of compassion and concern, being touched by the misery and fate of the lost, the needs of the saved, and the glorious mercy of God.

“He saith unto him the third time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved because he said unto him the third time, Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith unto him, Feed my sheep” (Jn.21:17).

“Feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind” (1 Pt.5:2).

“And I will give you pastors according to mine heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and understanding” (Jer.3:15).

“And I will set up shepherds over them which shall feed them: and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, neither shall they be lacking, saith the LORD” (Jer.23:4).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(20:28) Jesus Christ, Blood of: Jesus paid the supreme price for the church—His own blood. Note a most precious fact: Jesus’ blood is said to be the blood of God. As Man, the blood that ran through His veins was the blood of God; therefore, it was precious, full of all dignity and value and worth. This is a critical fact for the ministry.

⇒ The blood of Jesus—being of God—is most precious, the supreme and ultimate in value and worth.

The point is this: Jesus gave the blood of God, the supreme price, to purchase the church. For this reason, church leaders are to give their blood—to sacrifice everything, all they are and have—to make the supreme dedication to shepherd the church. The church is the most valuable and precious asset on earth.

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(20:29-30) False Teachers: Paul said, “I know this,” that is, that false teachers will come in among believers. There is no question about the fact. The church must expect and be prepared for false teachers. (See outline and notes—Mt.7:15-20 for more discussion.)

1. False teachers come from outside the church.

“Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep’s clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves” (Mt.7:15).

“For such are false apostles, deceitful workers, transforming themselves into the apostles of Christ. And no marvel; for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light. Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also be transformed as the ministers of righteousness; whose end shall be according to their works” (2 Cor.11:13-15).

“For many deceivers are entered into the world, who confess not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is a deceiver and an antichrist” (2 Jn.7).

“For false Christs and false prophets shall rise, and shall show signs and wonders, to seduce, if it were possible, even the elect” (Mk.13:22).

2. False teachers come from inside the church (cp. Ezk.34:1-10).

“This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips; but their heart is far from me. But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men” (Mt.15:8-9).

“Now the end of the commandment is charity out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned: from which some having swerved have turned aside unto vain jangling; desiring to be teachers of the law; understanding neither what they say, nor whereof they affirm” (1 Tim.1:5-7).

“Now the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils; speaking lies in hypocrisy; having their conscience seared with a hot iron” (1 Tim.4:1-2).

“If any man teach otherwise, and consent not to wholesome words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness; he is proud, knowing nothing, but doting about questions and strifes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings, perverse disputings of men of corrupt minds, and destitute of the truth, supposing that gain is godliness; from such withdraw thyself” (1 Tim.6:3-5).

“For there are many unruly and vain talkers and deceivers....whose mouths must be stopped, who subvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre’s sake” (Tit.1:10-11).

“But there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction” (2 Pt.2:1).

“Little children, it is the last time: and as ye have heard that antichrist shall come, even now are there many antichrists; whereby we know that it is the last time” (1 Jn.2:18-19).

“Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God: because many false prophets are gone out into the world. Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is of God” (1 Jn.4:1-3).

3. False teachers pervert the truth. The term “perverse things” (diestrammena) means turned aside, twisted, distorted. What they teach has some truth and some error. They take the truth and pervert it, coming up with a twisted truth. They teach “perverse things” that are not of God, not of His Word or will. (See notes—Mt.7:17; 7:18 for more discussion.)

4. False teachers “draw away” (tou apospain) disciples. The phrase means to separate, to drag and tear away. False teachers draw people away from the truth in three different ways.

- a. They attack the believers themselves: sowing discord and mischief among them.
- b. They teach error, perverting and distorting the truth, either taking away or adding to the Word of God.
- c. They attack the genuine leaders: blemishing and defaming their characters and ministries; stirring up believers against them.

Note, false teachers are called by two descriptive names in Scripture.

⇒ grievous wolves (see note—Mt.7:15).

⇒ dogs (Ph.3:2. See DEEPER STUDY # 1—Mk.7:27.)

3 (20:32) Believer, Duty: the third duty is to live for God and for God’s Word. The “Word of God’s grace” is the Word of God’s favor, of His glorious salvation in its fullness, of His truth, of His will. Therefore, the “Word of God’s grace” is His revealed Word, both the Living Word (Christ Himself) and the written Word (the Holy Bible). Now note the point: the church leader is to be commended (paratithemai) to God’s Word; that is, he is to place, commit, entrust, fix, lay, and deposit his life with God and His Word. Very simply, the church leader is to totally entrust his life to God and His Word, laying himself completely upon both. There are two reasons for trusting God and His Word so completely.

1. God and His Word will build up and edify the believer.

“According to the grace of God which is given unto me, as a wise masterbuilder, I have laid the foundation, and another buildeth thereon. But let every man take heed how he buildeth thereupon. For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ. Now if any man build upon this foundation gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble; every man’s work shall be made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man’s work of what sort it is. If any man’s work abide which he hath built thereupon, he shall receive a reward” (1 Cor.3:10-14).

“For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens” (2 Cor.5:1).

“And are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone” (Eph.2:20).

“For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ” (Eph.4:12).

“And that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus” (2 Tim.3:15).

2. God and His Word will give an inheritance to believers. The inheritance (kleronomian) is both...
  - present, in the here and now.

“To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me” (Acts 26:18).

“Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light” (Col.1:12).

- future, in the new heavens and earth.

“The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God: and if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together” (Ro.8:16-17).

“And for this cause he is the mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance” (Heb.9:15).

“Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you” (1 Pt.1:3-4).

(See notes, Rewards—Lk.16:10-12; Jn.4:36-38; Rev.14:13; 21:24-27 for a list of the rewards of believers.)

4 (20:33-35) Ministers—Financial Support: the fourth duty is to labor and give, not coveting worldly wealth. Note two striking points.

1. Paul did not covet worldly wealth. He did not covet silver or gold or clothing. In the ancient world rich clothing was a sign of wealth. Many in the church had plenty and some were rich. They had...

- money
- stylish clothes
- property
- transportation

But Paul did not covet what they had. His mind and thoughts were not focused upon worldly things. Money, property, clothing, and the latest in transportation held no appeal for him. He craved something far more important:

- ⇒ the Kingdom of God and His righteousness.
- ⇒ meeting the desperate needs of the world.
- ⇒ delivering men out of the slavery of sin.
- ⇒ sharing the gospel of life everlasting.

Thought 1. The ministers and teachers of the gospel must be totally committed to sharing the gospel. And total commitment involves not only verbal preaching and teaching, but the spread of the gospel through the financial support of others. (See outline and notes—Mt.19:16-22; 19:23-26 for more discussion. These two passages need to be studied and applied by every believer, but especially by ministers and teachers of the gospel. Cp. 1 Sam.12:3-5; 1 Th.2:5-6; 1 Tim.3:3, 8; 6:10.)

2. Paul labored at secular work. He was a craftsman, a tentmaker (see note—Acts 18:3). There are at least five reasons why Paul labored at secular work.

- a. To meet his own necessities (v.34).
- b. To help fellow ministers serving with him (v.34).
- c. To support the weak (v.35).
- d. To be more like Jesus (v.35). This is a saying of Jesus that is not recorded in the gospels, “It is more blessed to give than to receive.” Jesus of course gave to the ultimate...
  - coveting nothing of this world.
  - giving all He had to others.
  - sacrificing His own life for others.

Paul sought to be like His Lord, to be conformed to His image. For that reason, Paul labored at secular work when needed.

- e. Not to be chargeable to the believers nor to the churches. This reason is not mentioned in this passage, but it is in several others (2 Cor.11:9; 1 Th.2:9; 2 Th.3:8). Paul meant at least two things by not being “chargeable” to any man, and these two things are powerful lessons for modern ministers of the gospel.

First, some unbelievers, and most unfortunately some carnal believers, were accusing Paul...

- of “coveting” a living from the churches.
- of seeking comfort and ease at the expense of believers and the churches.
- of receiving the offerings and stealing from them (2 Cor.1:17-18; 8:20-22. See note, pt.2—2 Cor.12:13-18.)

By working at secular work and not accepting money from the churches, Paul was able to combat these charges and prove they were lies. Note: he also had representatives appointed by the churches to carry the church offerings to Jerusalem (see note—Acts 20:4-6).

Second, Paul wanted to be free and independent of the churches and believers. He did not want the congregation to feel as though he was their man, that he had to do their bidding. He wanted no restraint and no pressure put upon his right to move about and minister and preach the gospel as he sensed the need.

⇒ He did not want any temptation whatsoever, any sense that he must cater to the desires and whims and fancies of the congregation, not unless they were truly of God.

Thought 1. Note four very significant points.

- 1) Paul received financial support from some churches. He did not always labor at secular work, not in every situation. He saw the value in being completely free from the burden of financial worries so that he could devote full time to the ministry. (See note—Acts 18:3 for more discussion.)
- 2) The minister of the gospel has the right to receive his living from the churches. In fact, Christ taught that the minister was definitely to be supported by the church. (See outline and notes—Mt.10:9-10 for more discussion and Scripture. This is an important passage, a passage that every minister and church should study, for it is our Lord's teaching.)
- 3) There are great benefits in following Paul's example when practical. Being financially free to minister as God directs without the influence of carnal prejudices and fancies would provide some clear advantages as pointed out above. However, every minister must always remember: there are some in every true church who walk ever so closely with the Lord, and have been doing so for years. God has given His vision for their church and their community to them. They have lacked only one thing—a Spirit-filled minister to help them. The minister needs to listen to these dear believers, even if he is self-supporting.
- 4) Every minister should be laboring so he can support the weak (v.35). No matter where his income is coming from, he is to set the example for all others in giving to meet the needs of the desperate.

“I have showed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, It is more blessed to give than to receive” (Acts 20:35).

“We then that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves” (Ro.15:1).

“Now we exhort you, brethren, warn them that are unruly, comfort the feebleminded, support the weak, be patient toward all men” (1 Th.5:14).

5 (20:36-38) Conclusion: the conclusion of Paul's exhortation to the Ephesian elders is a touching scene, the kind of affection being expressed that every minister and teacher of the gospel would covet. Note: Paul was so gripped with emotion he fell to his knees and began to pray for these dear men of God. (The scene was most unusual, for it was the custom of Jews to stand when praying in public.)

The elders...

- wept deeply.
- fell on Paul's neck, embracing and kissing him repeatedly (Greek).
- were gripped with sorrow.
- accompanied him to the ship.

DIVISION IX

THE THIRD GREAT MISSION OF PAUL TO THE GENTILES: TO ASIA MINOR AND EUROPE, 18:23-21:16

G. Jerusalem, the Final Miles: Warned, Yet Compelled to Preach, 21:1-16

(21:1-16) Paul, Ministry: Was Paul right in his insistence to go up to Jerusalem? There is no doubt that he sensed a deep compulsion to go. He said:

“And now, behold, I go bound in the spirit unto Jerusalem, not knowing the things that shall befall me there: save that the Holy Ghost witnesseth in every city, saying that bonds and afflictions abide me. But none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto myself, so that I might finish my course with joy, and the ministry, which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God” (Acts 20:22-24).

A man with so intense a conviction has to be respected and heard. Yet, great men are not beyond mistakes in judgment, and the Bible is pointedly frank in showing the errors of God's great men. This chapter throws some question on Paul's action.

- ⇒ The church at Tyre “said...through the Spirit that he should not go up to Jerusalem” (v.4).
- ⇒ Agabus took Paul's girdle and bound his own hands and feet and said, “Thus saith the Holy Spirit, so shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man that owneth this girdle” (v.11).
- ⇒ Luke and the other disciples were in tears, strongly urging Paul not to go up to Jerusalem (v.12).

Who was right? (See notes—Acts 19:21-23; 20:13-18 for more discussion.) One thing is known: in the Book of Acts, Paul's voice was thereafter silenced in worldwide missions. His witness was to be limited to national leaders and to people who made their way to him. He was soon to become a prisoner for Christ throughout the remaining years of his life (as far as we know from Acts).

However, in behalf of Paul, he probably felt he would never be able to return to Jerusalem, not after he launched his mission into Rome and Spain. If he survived the strain of another major mission, in particular one that would take him so far away, he would most likely have to remain on the field. Such a mission would just take too much out of him. The toll upon his body would be too much. (See note, Paul, Sufferings—Acts 18:9-11; 2 Cor.6:3-10; 11:23-31.)

The point is this: Paul loved the Jews dearly, for they were his own people. He loved his people so deeply that he would have given his own soul for their salvation (Ro.9:1-3; 10:11). In addition, he loved the apostles and believers of Jerusalem. Because of this, he was driven to visit them and bear witness just one more time. Perhaps the drive became a compulsion he just could not handle. If so, the Lord, as always, understood, and salvaged the life of His dear servant and continued to use him for the furtherance of the gospel.

Whatever the case, Paul was confronted time and again by believers urging him not to go on, knowing that arrest and imprisonment lay before him in Jerusalem. The pressure to turn back was great. But Paul, being thoroughly "bound in the spirit" was constrained to go. This passage is a descriptive picture of strong warnings and a compulsion to preach.

1. Paul journeyed over a land rich in ancient history (v.1-3).
2. The pull of a Spirit-filled church vs. a sense of duty (v.4-6).
3. The remembrance of believers and their needs everywhere vs. a deep sense of the Spirit's leading (v.7).
4. The fact of sure persecution vs. an immovable compulsion to do God's will (v.8-11).
5. The tug of loved ones vs. a readiness to die for the Lord Jesus if need be (v.12-16).

1 (21:1-3) Coos—Patara—Tyre: Paul journeyed over a land rich in ancient history. (See Map—Introduction to Acts, for a picture of the journey and cities.) A person can just imagine his early morning devotions, hour to hour thoughts and conversations with the Lord, his fellowship and discussions with his companions and the travellers and ship crew, and his witnessing to all who were open to listening to the gospel.

1. There was Coos: a great commercial and trading island on the major shipping route. It was also famous as a medical center with a major medical school and its famous temple of Aesculapius, the Greek god of medicine. It was the birthplace of Hippocrates, the great Greek physician, and Apelles, the great Greek painter.

2. There was Rhodes: known as the island of roses. It was located at the very entrance of the Aegean Sea which made it extremely important as a major shipping center. The city was also known for its major university specializing in "Speech and Oratory."

3. There was Patara: located at the mouth of the Xanthus river which made it an important commercial city for all the towns that lay inland or either bordered the river. This fact plus its being on the major shipping route of the Mediterranean Sea made it an extremely prosperous and important city. Note that from Patara Paul was able to travel by ship directly across the Mediterranean to Tyre of Phoenicia, a journey of some four hundred miles.

4. There was Cyprus: see note—Acts 13:4 for discussion.

5. There was Tyre: one of the most famous seaports of the ancient world. The city had two major sections, one section built on the mainland and another section built on an island with an inlet running between the two sections. Because of this there were two harbors, and the mainland harbor was able to provide shelter for ships during storms and during the winter months. Tyre was a free city. It is mentioned in Scripture as follows:

- ⇒ David and Solomon entered alliances with its rulers (1 Ki.9:10-14; 2 Chron.2:3-16).
- ⇒ It was a great commercial center famous for its shipping, metal, glass and dye works (Is.23:8).
- ⇒ It was denounced by the prophets of old because of its self-centered worldliness and materialism (Is.23:1-17; Jer.27:3; Ezk.27:1f; 28:1-19; cp. Amos 1:9; Joel 3:5f; Zech.9:2).
- ⇒ Jesus visited the region bordering Tyre, but never entered the city (Mk.7:24-31).
- ⇒ Paul spent seven days with the church in Tyre (Acts 21:3-7).

2 (21:4-6) Church: the pull of a Spirit-filled church vs. a sense of duty. Anytime a Spirit-filled church speaks, the messenger of God has to listen. The warning of this church was bound to put great pressure upon Paul. Note three striking traits of the church at Tyre.

1. It was a small church, but it was Spirit-filled. We know it was small, for Paul and his companions had to search for the church, and it apparently took a while before they found the believers.

- a. The church was Spirit-filled, so much so that they were able to warn Paul immediately about the trials he was to face. They were enabled by the Spirit to see into the future, to predict, to prophesy.

Thought 1. Every church should be just as Spirit-filled as the church at Tyre. The Holy Spirit should be able to use everyone of us to help others as they face the trials of life.

"Be filled with the Spirit" (Eph.5:18).

"Know ye not that ye [the church] are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?" (1 Cor.3:16).

"Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life" (2 Cor.3:6).

- b. The church at Tyre believed the warning was a prohibition, but Paul accepted it as information, as the Spirit preparing him for what lay ahead.
- c. The picture is that of God's messenger being torn between...
  - listening to a Spirit-filled church vs. his own sense of duty.

The church felt strongly that they had heard from God, but Paul felt just as strongly. Who was right? Only God knows, but the messenger of God had to do what his sense of duty told him.

Thought 1. How many ministers and lay leaders have stayed or turned to a Spirit-filled church or to a more comfortable situation when God has been calling them to a more difficult situation? The servant of God must always do his duty, what the sense of duty within his heart tells him to do, even if the call involves a difficult move.

In the eyes of the church, there was no way the arrest of Paul could have been for the best, no way the silencing of his voice and ministry among the church could be best for the Kingdom of God. But we must always remember, the church could not see into the future—only God could. They could not see how God was going to use Paul to witness to the highest leaders and courts of the land, and how the Kingdom of God was going to be spread all throughout Rome and its empire.

2. The church was one of closely knit families. Note how whole families—men with their “wives and children”—were mentioned as accompanying Paul to the ship (v.5). The whole church was involved in saying goodbye to this travelling preacher—a very simple activity. But how it must have encouraged the preacher. What a tremendous example...

- for churches and believers of today to use their gifts of encouragement for God’s dear servants.
- for the children of the church.
- for Christian families of today.
- for family activities in the church.

“And they continued stedfastly in the apostles’ doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers” (Acts 2:42).

“If there be therefore any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any bowels and mercies, fulfil ye my joy, that ye be likeminded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind” (Ph.2:1-2).

“Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching” (Heb.10:25).

3. The church was full of unashamed, witnessing believers. Note: they knelt on the dock in public and prayed with Paul. Again, what a dynamic example for all involved and for us today! What a glorious witness to the rough-hewn dock workers and to the travelling public and their families and friends who would be standing around saying their farewells.

“Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God” (2 Tim.1:8).

“But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

3 (21:7) Dedication—Zeal—Steadfastness: the remembrance of believers and their needs everywhere vs. a deep sense of the Holy Spirit’s leading. Note that Paul was in Ptolemais for only one day, only time enough to greet believers briefly and share the gospel. So much would have to go unsaid. The thought of believers and their need to be rooted in the gospel worldwide was constantly upon Paul’s mind and heart. Reaching and grounding people was his life. Being with the believers for only one day and having just been warned about arrest in Jerusalem was bound to arouse his heart for world-evangelization and cause him to question his decision. But note: Paul was gripped with a sense of the Spirit’s leading. He staunchly continued on, being unswerved from his compulsion to preach and reach his own people in Jerusalem.

“Jesus saith unto them, My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work” (Jn.4:34).

“Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest. And he that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal: that both he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together” (Jn.4:35-36).

“I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work” (Jn.9:4).

“Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord” (1 Cor.15:58).

“And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not” (Gal.6:9).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(21:7) Ptolemais—Acco: called Acco in Old Testament times. It was a seaport town about thirty miles south of Tyre, having one of the finest harbours along the coastline of Palestine. It was promised to the tribe of Asher, but was never conquered (Judg.1:31). It was a great commercial city lying on the major road between Syria and Egypt. Apparently the church at Ptolemais was founded by believers who fled the persecution surrounding Stephen’s martyrdom (cp. Acts 8:1, 4).

4 (21:8-11) Compulsion—Minister: the fact of sure persecution vs. an immovable compulsion to do God's will. The confrontation with the prophet Agabus was an awakening scene.

1. Philip was the believer chosen to be one of the first deacons. He was a deacon who was on fire for God, so much so that he became an evangelist. He is the evangelist who had reached Samaria with the gospel some twenty years before (cp. Acts 6:5; 8:5-13, 26-40). Note: he now had a family, four unmarried daughters who were gifted by the Holy Spirit to prophesy.

Thought 1. Note how faithful Philip was in rooting his family in the Lord. All his children were serving the Lord.

2. Agabus' prediction would strike Paul and strike him deeply, for Agabus was a prophet greatly used by God. He was the prophet whom God had used to predict the famine in Jerusalem (Acts 11:27-28). In taking Paul's girdle and his own hands and feet, Agabus was using a symbol such as the Old Testament prophets used to drive home their point (cp. 1 Ki.22:11; Jer.13:1-8; Ezk.4:1-6; 5:1-3). Again, Paul interpreted the warning to be a warning of preparation and not as a warning of prohibition.

3. Paul was still immovable. He would not be turned from what he understood God wanted him to do.

"Necessity is laid upon me; yea, woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel!" (1 Cor.9:16).

"But I have a baptism to be baptized with; and how am I straitened till it be accomplished!" (Lk.12:50).

"I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work" (Jn.9:4).

"For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard" (Acts 4:20).

"Then I said, I will not make mention of him, nor speak any more in his name. But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and I could not stay" (Jer.20:9).

"The lion hath roared, who will not fear? the Lord GOD hath spoken, who can but prophesy?" (Amos 3:8).

5 (21:12-16) Commitment—Faithfulness—Minister: the tug of loved ones vs. a fearless readiness to die for the Lord Jesus if need be. The scene was dramatic and touching. The prophecy of Agabus had shaken the loved ones of Paul.

Everyone present—Luke, Paul's companions, and Philip and his family—all who were so dear to Paul—were broken and in tears over what awaited Paul in Jerusalem. They begged him not to go.

Paul was touched, deeply touched. The words "break my heart" mean to crush, break in pieces, weaken. Paul was as broken as he could be over the love and care of the dear brothers and sisters as they wept and begged him to heed their pleas. But he could not listen, could not give in. He was utterly convinced that God had called him to go to Jerusalem. His answer to his loved ones is a memorial that stands as a pattern for every one who is called to the ministry of the Lord Jesus Christ. They were words that every servant, preacher and teacher, should memorize and hold dear to his heart.

"I am ready not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus" (Acts 21:13).

Note the purpose of Luke and the others: "the will of the Lord be done." This should be the response of every family and friend who may oppose the person who senses the call of God.

Note also how some other disciples from Caesarea joined the ministry team and escorted Paul part of the way. Care, concern, and love were the picture. Nothing is known about Mnason except what is mentioned here. He was memorialized as...

- a disciple who had walked faithfully with Jesus for many years. He was apparently one of the very earliest disciples.
- a disciple who opened his home and welcomed the Lord's people.

"And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: but whosoever will lose his life for my sake, the same shall save it" (Lk.9:23-24).

"I am debtor both to the Greeks, and to the Barbarians; both to the wise, and to the unwise. So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rome also. For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek" (Ro.1:14-16).

"Let no man seek his own, but every man another's wealth" (1 Cor.10:24).

DIVISION X

THE BITTER EXPERIENCE IN JERUSALEM, 21:17-23:11

A. Paul's Reluctant Decision: A Picture of Compromise, 21:17-40

(21:17-40) Introduction: peace is necessary for the preaching of the gospel. Paul compromised, hoping to secure peace with those who opposed him so strongly. Why? So that he might be able to proclaim the unsearchable riches of Christ unhindered and unhampered.

1. Paul in Jerusalem (v.17-18).
2. Picture 1: the work of God was reported and God was glorified (v.19-20).
3. Picture 2: God's servant compromised in order to secure peace (v.20-26).
4. Picture 3: troublemakers twisted the truth in order to secure their way (v.27-30).
5. Picture 4: God overruled; used soldiers to protect His servant for a dynamic witness (v.31-40).

1 (21:17-18) Paul: Paul was in Jerusalem and was well received by those with whom he stayed. This was apparently the unofficial welcome by a handful of believers. Paul requested an official meeting with James the next day. Note: all of Paul's companions and all of the Jerusalem elders were present at the official meeting, but the whole church was not called together. The rumors about Paul had probably affected the congregation so much that it would have been unwise for them to be present. The apostles were probably away on evangelistic missions at this time.

2 (21:19-20) God—Praise: picture one is the work of God being reported and God being glorified. Note three striking points.

1. Paul covered the events of the third mission tour in detail. The word "particularly" means one by one, in detail, step by step. Note: it had been about five years since Paul had last visited in the Jerusalem church.
2. Paul gave all the credit to God for what had been done—without exception. It was what God had wrought, not what he had done nor what anyone else had done. The churches and the believers were the result of God's glorious grace and power.
3. It was James and the Jerusalem elders who glorified God, not Paul. It is important to note this, for it shows that they supported Paul and were not among those who opposed Paul.

Thought 1. Note the lessons for churches and believers of every generation.

- 1) Churches should be informed of mission tours in detail.
- 2) God alone should be recognized and credited with being the Person who does the work.
- 3) God alone should be praised for what is wrought.

"Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples" (Jn.15:8).

"By him therefore let us offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of our lips giving thanks to his name" (Heb.13:15).

"And let them sacrifice the sacrifices of thanksgiving, and declare his works with rejoicing" (Ps.107:22).

3 (21:20-26) Compromise—Weak, Support: picture two is that of God's servant compromising in order to secure peace. James brought up a serious problem. The Scripture and outline give a clear overview of the problem and compromise Paul made. Note these facts.

1. Thousands of Jewish believers were disturbed with God's minister. The Greek word for "many thousands" (posai myriades) means thousands upon thousands, myriads upon myriads.
2. The disturbance was caused by rumors. Some were lying, saying that Paul was teaching false doctrine, that the law of Moses was no longer to be kept, nor was circumcision to be observed. The word "forsake" (apostasian) is the word for apostasy. This is the most serious accusation possible to a Jew, apostasy from Moses and the law of circumcision. Of course, Paul never said this. He said that...

- a person could be circumcised and keep the customs of the law if he wished.
- a person, however, did not have to be circumcised or keep the law to be saved. The law is not what saves a person. Christ alone saves. (See note, Salvation vs. Ritual—Acts 15:1-3; outline and notes—Acts 15:6-22 for more discussion.)

3. The compromise suggested was a Jewish vow and rite. Apparently it involved some Nazarite vow such as shaving the head and making several offerings (Num.6:1-21). It was suggested that Paul pay for the animals or incense needed for the other four men as well as for himself. Often the poor were unable to undergo these expenses, so some wealthy benefactor paid the fees for the poor. This was highly commendable to the Jews. The attempt was to do everything possible to show that Paul was a true Jew, and was not teaching that Moses' law was to be forsaken. Contrariwise, he was even obeying the law himself.

4. James pointed out that he and the Jerusalem church had compromised with Paul before, and his suggestion now did not violate that compromise (v.25). The need now was for Paul to compromise and help bring peace. As expected, Paul did.

Thought 1. Note four important lessons.

- 1) Paul never taught that customs and rituals could not be practiced if a person wished. He only taught that they were not necessary to salvation. In fact, Paul had Timothy circumcised (Acts 16:3) and taught throughout his epistles that ritual and customs were a matter of personal preference (1 Cor.7:18). (See note—Acts 15:1-3.)
- 2) Even true believers can be tragically influenced by rumors and untruths. We must always be on guard against troublemakers.
- 3) When believers become legalistic and begin to live by rules and regulations, they often become witch hunters. They seek out those who fail to meet their standards. Their very attitude creates an atmosphere ripe for rumor.
- 4) Paul was willing to become all things and to do anything not contrary to God in order to reach men for Christ.

“Him that is weak in the faith receive ye, but not to doubtful disputations [argue different opinions]” (Ro.14:1).

“We then that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves” (Ro.15:1).

“For though I be free from all men, yet have I made myself servant unto all, that I might gain the more. And unto the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain the Jews; to them that are under the law, as under the law, that I might gain them that are under the law; to them that are without law, as without law, (being not without law to God, but under the law to Christ,) that I might gain them that are without law. To the weak became I as weak, that I might gain the weak: I am made all things to all men, that I might by all means save some. And this I do for the gospel's sake, that I might be partaker thereof with you” (1 Cor.9:19-23).

“Now we exhort you, brethren, warn them that are unruly, comfort the feebleminded, support the weak, be patient toward all men” (1 Th.5:14).

4 (21:27-30) Troublemakers—Persecution: picture three is that of troublemakers twisting the truth in order to secure their way. The troublemakers were outsiders, Asian Jews who were attending the feast of Pentecost. Apparently, the vow and rite which Paul underwent worked to please the Christian believers, showing them clearly that Paul was not teaching against the law of Moses.

The outsiders attacked and grabbed Paul, and stood him before the worshipping multitudes crying out three charges against him, all of them false. They cried out...

- that he insulted the Jewish people, turning the world against the Jews. Paul had said only that being a Jew (or another nationality) would not save a person.
- that he taught the law of Moses, with its customs and rituals, was not binding. Paul had said the law was not binding upon Gentiles, not for salvation.
- that he polluted the temple and taught against it. Paul had said that men could worship God anyplace and everyplace, not just in the temple.

Note: they accused Paul of taking a Gentile, Trophimus, into one of the inner courts of the temple. This was forbidden, and Paul would never have done such a thing. But these troublemakers would not be stopped, even if they had to stretch and twist the truth.

Thought 1. Outsiders are sometimes guilty of causing trouble in the church, but too often the trouble experienced by churches is caused by insiders—professing believers who seek their own way, who are bent on getting their own way and keeping the church like they want it.

“For ye are yet carnal: for whereas there is among you envying, and strife, and divisions, are ye not carnal, and walk as men?” (1 Cor.3:3).

“For I fear, lest, when I come, I shall not find you such as I would, and that I shall be found unto you such as ye would not: lest there be debates, envyings, wraths, strifes, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, tumults” (2 Cor.12:20).

“I beseech Euodias, and beseech Syntyche, that they be of the same mind in the Lord” (Ph.4:2).

“He is proud, knowing nothing, but doting about questions and strifes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings” (1 Tim.6:4).

“For where envying and strife is, there is confusion and every evil work” (Jas.3:16).

“I wrote unto the church: but Diotrephes, who loveth to have the preeminence among them, receiveth us not” (3 Jn.9).

Thought 2. Too often custom and ritual are allowed to replace Christ in the church, something that never should be allowed to happen. The critical issue is salvation and service, the fulness of God upon a life. Whatever is needed to bring about commitment and service to God is what should be used by a person and church. If ritual and custom help us in our worship, then we should use ritual and custom; if they do not help, then we should not use them.

“Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye pay tithes of mint and anise and cummin, and have omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy, and faith: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone” (Mt.23:23).

“For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink: but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost” (Ro.14:17).

“Ye observe days, and months, and times, and years. I am afraid of you, lest I have bestowed upon you labour in vain” (Gal.4:10-11).

“Wherefore if ye be dead with Christ from the rudiments of the world, why, as though living in the world, are ye subject to ordinances” (Col.2:20).

“Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away” (2 Tim.3:5).

“And Samuel said, Hath the Lord as great delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices, as in obeying the voice of the Lord? Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice, and to hearken than the fat of rams” (1 Sam.15:22).

“For thou desirest not sacrifice; else would I give it: thou delightest not in burnt offering. The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise” (Ps.51:16-17).

“Wherefore the Lord said, Forasmuch as this people draw near me with their mouth, and with their lips do honour me, but have removed their heart far from me, and their fear toward me is taught by the precept of men” (Is.29:13).

5 (21:31-40) God, Sovereignty—Leadership: picture four is God overruling to protect His servant. God used soldiers to protect His servant for a dynamic witness. The scene is an exciting drama; the Scripture and outline clearly describe what happened, making comments unnecessary. The point to see is God’s hand moving throughout the whole event. As the Scripture and outline points are read, note the power of God flowing through Paul and the miraculous silence that overtakes the mob (v.40).

Thought 1. The servant of God can entrust his life into God’s keeping through all trials, even in the midst of mob attack. No matter the trial, God is working out His will in the believer’s life.

“And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose” (Ro.8:28).

“Being confident of this very thing, that he which hath begun a good work in you will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ” (Ph.1:6).

“And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever” (2 Tim.4:18).

“So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me” (Heb.13:6).

“The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished” (2 Pt.2:9).

“The LORD is my strength and my shield; my heart trusted in him, and I am helped: therefore my heart greatly rejoiceth; and with my song will I praise him” (Ps.28:7).

“Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence” (Ps.91:3).

“Fear thou not; for I am with thee; be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness” (Is.41:10).

THE BITTER EXPERIENCE IN JERUSALEM, 21:17-23:11

B. Paul's Testimony Before a Crazy Mob: A Message for Upset People, 22:1-21

(22:1-21) Introduction: Paul's testimony will always hold lesson after lesson for believers of every generation. Note: he was giving his testimony before a crazed mob that had just been rioting, seeking to kill him.

1. Paul's great love for his people (v.1-2).
2. His former life (v.3-5).
3. His conversion (v.6-11).

4. His call and commission through Ananias (v.12-16).
5. His clear instructions from God (v.17-21).

1 (22:1-2) Evangelism—Love: Paul’s great love for his people. Why would Paul want to speak to the mob screaming for his death (Acts 21:39-40)? Why would he not want the soldiers to simply rescue him and to save his life? The answer is his love and passion for his own people, the Jews.

“I say the truth in Christ, I lie not, my conscience also bearing me witness in the Holy Ghost, that I have great heaviness and continual sorrow in my heart” (Ro.9:1-3).

Very simply, Paul was willing to face death to save as many of his people as he could. He had been saved, and he knew the truth of the glorious salvation found in the Lord Jesus, and he desperately wanted every Jew to know the same salvation. Note how the love and passion just flowed out of his innermost being as he began to address the crowd. And remember, they had just attacked him and were crying for his blood.

His very first words were, “Men, brothers, and fathers.” He did not shout against them, did not rebuke them nor charge them with a crime. He called them brothers and fathers. The word father was the official title for the leaders of the nation, many of whom were present in the crowd. By using the words brothers and fathers, Paul was appealing to the closest relationship possible—that of a family, which in this case refers to the national family of the Jewish people. He was identifying with them, appealing to them in an attempt to reach them. At the same time, he was revealing his own feelings—the sense, the love he felt for them as the brothers and fathers of his people. Note that he spoke in the Hebrew tongue, that is, in the national language of the Jews.

2 (22:3-5) Paul—Old Life: Paul’s former life. It had been about twenty-five years since Paul’s conversion. Although a few would have known about Paul’s past, many in the crowd had no idea who he was.

1. He shared his roots, his personal heritage, that is, the privileges and advantages of his genealogy.
  - ⇒ He was a Jew: not a foreigner, but as much a Jew as any of his listeners. He had been born a Jew.
  - ⇒ He was born in Tarsus but reared in Jerusalem so that he could be educated at the feet of Israel’s greatest teachers. He was brought to Jerusalem while still very young for the purpose of securing the very best education (cp. Acts 26:4).
  - ⇒ He was educated in the strictest law of the fathers (teachers). Paul had actually been a Pharisee, one of a small sect of men who had totally dedicated their lives to nothing but living out the law (see DEEPER STUDY # 3—ACTS 23:8).
  - ⇒ He was zealous toward God in keeping the law, as zealous as any Jew. Note: this is a crucial point in understanding Paul. He claimed to have never forsaken the practice and customs of the Mosaic law, not personally. He was as much a practicing Jew in keeping the law and customs as any of his audience.
2. Paul shared the early part of his life which was hostile against Christianity (see outlines and notes—Acts 8:1-4; esp.8:1; 8:3; 9:1-2 for discussion and verses).

3 (22:6-11) Paul—Conversion: Paul’s conversion. The point to note is Paul’s claim: he claimed to have been saved by the Lord alone, by a personal confrontation with Him. Paul described the event exactly (see outline and notes—Acts 9:3-9 for discussion). The new facts presented by Paul in this account are as follows.

- ⇒ His conversion took place “about noon” (v.6).
- ⇒ The words “of Nazareth” are not mentioned in the event. By saying that Jesus, the despised Nazarene, was the Lord of heaven is striking.
- ⇒ The men with him heard a voice speaking, but could not understand the words (v.9).
- ⇒ The light was the cause of Paul’s blindness (v.11).

Thought 1. Paul had just covered his former life which included...

- a great personal heritage in which he boasted.
- a great zeal in persecuting the church, priding himself in his zeal, thinking he was pleasing God.

He had shared his conversion to Christ which focuses upon a brilliant light that struck him blind. He was stricken physically blind as a symbol to show that he was spiritually blind.

“Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven” (Mt.18:3).

“Then Jesus said unto them, Yet a little while is the light with you. Walk while ye have the light, lest darkness come upon you: for he that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth” (Jn.12:35).

“Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord” (Acts 3:19).

“For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ” (2 Cor.4:6).

“Wherefore he saith, Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light” (Eph.5:14).

4 (22:12-16) Call—Commission: Paul’s call and commission through Ananias. Paul covered both Ananias’ character and his own commission in these verses.

1. Ananias’ character was above reproach. He never would have done anything of a questionable nature, never would have helped Paul if Paul had been an evil man.
  - ⇒ Ananias was devout, that is, a God-fearing man, living by the law of Moses and God.

- ⇒ Ananias was a reputable man, highly esteemed by all the Jews of Damascus.
- ⇒ Ananias was a true minister, a true servant sent to help Paul when Paul so desperately needed help. Note he called Paul brother and healed his eyes!
- ⇒ Ananias was the messenger of God sent to set Paul apart for God's work.

2. Paul's call and commission to serve God. Paul spelled out exactly what God had called him to do. Note how the emphasis was upon Paul knowing, seeing, and hearing God personally before he was to reach out to others. This is true with every believer. God expects the believer to know Him first, no matter who the believer is or how important the mission of the believer is. Paul spelled out exactly what God called him to do.

- a. To know God's will: His person, His salvation, His sanctification, His mysteries, His revelation, His commandments—all that is involved in the will of God.
- b. To see the Just One: the Messiah, the Son of God Himself, the Sinless One, the Righteous One.
- c. To hear the voice of the Just One: knowing Him personally, fellowshiping with, praying and sharing with, being guided and directed by, being instructed by.
- d. To be a witness for the Just One to all men (see outline, note, and DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 1:8; 9:15-16 for discussion).
- e. To be baptized (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Acts 2:38).

Thought 1. The same five points are applicable to the call of every believer. Every believer must know, see, and hear the Just One in his heart and life by faith; and he must bear witness to the Lord and be baptized.

“Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain: that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you” (Jn.15:16).

“Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you” (Jn.20:21; cp. Mt.20:28; Lk.19:10).

“Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us: we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God” (2 Cor.5:20).

“That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death” (Ph.3:10).

“Be watchful, and strengthen the things which remain, that are ready to die: for I have not found thy works perfect before God” (Rev.3:2).

“Ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he; before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me” (Is.43:10).

5 (22:17-21) Call—Commission: Paul's clear instructions from God through a vision. This event happened about three years after Paul's conversion (Acts 9:26-29; cp. Gal.1:18-19). Note four points.

1. Paul was in prayer when the trance came—so lost, so gripped with concern for his people and their hostility toward him that he lost all sense of the world around him. He was swallowed up in the thoughts of God, transported mentally out of this world (see note, pt.3—Acts 10:9-22 for more discussion). Note: Paul saw Christ in the trance.

2. The Lord's will was for Paul to get out of Jerusalem. The Jews were seeking to kill him because he was preaching Christ (see notes—Acts 9:26-28; 9:29-30).

3. The argument of Paul against the Lord. Paul felt he was especially qualified to reach the Jews. He had been the arch-persecutor of Christianity, so he felt the Jews would believe him, knowing about his past. They would know that he never would have been converted from such bitter hatred unless he had really seen Christ. But Paul was wrong. The Jews felt he was a traitor.

4. The Lord's command to Paul was emphatic: “depart,” go! Paul's mission was not at home; it was elsewhere—to the Gentiles.

Thought 1. Note four points.

- 1) A man is to fulfill his call, no matter what it is.
- 2) A man cannot always serve where he wishes.
- 3) A man is not always accepted by those for whom he cares.
- 4) When the Lord tells a man to go, he needs to “depart,” to go!

Thought 2. Note how Paul was making the same mistake made twenty-five years earlier, still trying to win the Jews over.

Thought 3. Too many try to stay at home when the Lord has called them to depart and go.

“Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost; teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world” (Mt.28:19-20).

“And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mk.16:15).

“Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you” (Jn.20:21; cp. Lk.19:10).

“But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

THE BITTER EXPERIENCE IN JERUSALEM, 21:17-23:11

C. Paul's Testimony Before the Court, the Great Sanhedrin (Trial 1): God's Guidance and Presence Through Terrible Strain, 22:22-23:11

(22:22-23:11) Introduction: it is difficult to imagine the strain and pressure that constantly confronted Paul. The present passage shows how the Lord guides us and stands with us when pressure and strain weigh ever so heavily upon us.

1. Paul's claim to legal rights (v.22-30).
2. Paul's great claim: a pure conscience (Ch.23. v.1).
3. Paul's due respect for the authority of Scripture (v.2-5).
4. Paul's daring strategy launched by the Spirit of God (v.6-10).
5. Paul's terrible strain, but the Lord's glorious assurance (v.11).

1 (22:22-30) Paul—Persecution: Paul's claim to legal rights. Note six points.

1. Paul was violently rejected by the mob. As soon as the crowd heard the word Gentile, they reacted violently. Full of fury and rage, they cried out for Paul's death. The picture is descriptive. They were casting off their cloaks, apparently to stone him, and throwing dust up in the air, a sign of fury and deep grief.

2. Paul was again rescued by the soldiers. However, this time the centurion was fed up with the matter. He could not figure out why the crowd exploded so violently against Paul, so he planned to get to the truth by scourging Paul (see DEEPER STUDY # 4, Scourging—Jn. 19:1).

3. Paul claimed his legal rights as a Roman citizen. It was a serious crime to scourge a Roman citizen. Every citizen was considered by law to be one of the citizens of the Emperor himself. Anyone who scourged a Roman citizen jeopardized his own life, so the centurion stopped the punishment immediately and went and told the chief captain.

4. Paul verified his Roman citizenship before the chief captain. Note: Paul's citizenship superseded that of the soldier's. He was born a Roman citizen whereas the soldier had bought his citizenship.

5. Paul and his rights were respected. The chief captain left Paul, "being afraid." And he had reason to be, for a Roman citizen was being attacked by a Jewish mob and he, the chief captain, had almost been drawn into a serious crime by the whole affair.

6. The chief captain was determined to find out what caused the riot. On the very next day he called the whole Sanhedrin to appear before him in an official meeting. Note: Paul had been held as a prisoner and had been chained all night. From this point on, Paul's long journey to Rome began, but it was not to be the journey Paul had planned. He would enter Rome as a prisoner, not as a man free to move about as he wished. His imprisonment would last about five years.

The chief captain "sets Paul before them" (the Sanhedrin, the Jewish court). This is the point: God was behind the scene of all that was happening, directing the whole affair. God sent Paul forth to bear witness before the Jews in Jerusalem. This is clear from what the Lord told Paul (Acts 23:11).

Thought 1. Note two striking lessons.

- 1) The Lord was able to use Paul as His witness because Paul was given over to the Lord entirely. How many of us, when facing opposition, arise and become more concerned about saving our own necks instead of bearing testimony for Christ? The great need of the hour is to be under the control of the Lord so much that we know that what is happening is being used of the Lord.
- 2) The Lord will move events to use us if we are truly His, no matter how trying and overwhelming the events may be.

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(22:22) Judaizers: the Jewish mob did not object to Paul reaching the Gentiles. There were Gentile converts in Judaism. Their objection was that the Gentiles were being given the privilege of following God without becoming Jews first, without being circumcised and accepting the law. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1—Gal.2:4.)

2 (23:1) Conscience: Paul's great claim—a pure conscience. Note two points.

1. Paul earnestly beheld, looked steadfastly upon the council. He was trying to gain rapport with them or else stare them down. There is also a possibility that he was trying to see if he recognized any of his former acquaintances of twenty-five years ago.

"Behold, I have made thy face strong against their faces...fear them not, neither be dismayed at their looks" (Ezk.3:8-9).

2. Paul made one of the greatest claims possible—that he had lived "in all good conscience before God." He was apparently referring to the years since his conversion. He was saying to the council that his conversion to Christ and his life since that day had not been displeasing to God, but instead pleasing. He was innocent of breaking the law of God and Moses. His conscience was pure.

"And herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offence toward God, and toward men" (Acts 24:16).

“Wherefore ye must needs be subject, not only for wrath, but also for conscience sake” (Ro.13:5).

“For our rejoicing is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity and godly sincerity, not with fleshly wisdom, but by the grace of God, we have had our conversation in the world, and more abundantly to you-ward” (2 Cor.1:12).

“How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God?” (Heb.9:14).

“Let us draw near with a true heart in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water” (Heb.10:22).

“Now the end of the commandment is charity out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned” (1 Tim.1:5).

“Holding faith, and a good conscience; which some having put away concerning faith have made shipwreck” (1 Tim.1:19).

3 (23:2-5) Word of God—Profession, False: Paul’s due respect for the authority of Scripture. The high priest interpreted Paul’s claim as blasphemy and had him slapped. Paul immediately reacted, firing the law of God against the high priest, accusing him of breaking the law by having him slapped. Very simply, Paul called the high priest a hypocrite, for while he sat in judgment, he broke the law.

William Barclay points out that striking a man was prohibited by Jewish law: “He who strikes the cheek of an Israelite, strikes, as it were, the glory of God.” And “He that strikes a man strikes the Holy One” (The Acts of The Apostles, p. 180). Therefore, Paul lashed out at the presiding officer, not knowing that he was addressing the high priest.

When Paul was informed that he had rebuked the high priest, he immediately apologized. Why? Not out of fear, but because Scripture forbade speaking against the ruler of God’s people (cp. Ex.22:28).

Thought 1. Note two significant lessons.

1) There was Paul’s loyalty to Scripture. As soon as he knew that he had disobeyed Scripture, he sought repentance.

“All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness” (2 Tim.3:16).

“We have also a more sure word of prophecy; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day star arise in your hearts” (2 Pt.1:19).

“Neither have I gone back from the commandment of his lips; I have esteemed the words of his mouth more than my necessary food” (Job 23:12).

“Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path (Ps.119:105).

“For the commandment is a lamp; and the law is light; and reproofs of instruction are the way of life” (Pr.6:23).

2) There was Paul’s boldness in proclaiming the teaching of Scripture and the hypocrisy of those who professed to obey God but did not.

“Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven” (Mt.7:21).

“He answered and said unto them, Well hath Esaias prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me” (Mk.7:6).

“They profess that they know God; but in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate” (Tit.1:16).

“My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth” (1 Jn.3:18).

4 (23:6-10) Holy Spirit, Guidance: Paul’s daring strategy launched by the Spirit of God. Paul was being led step by step by the Lord to bear testimony for Him (v.11 cp. Mt.10:18-19; Lk.12:11-12). What happened in this scene is the height of drama. Paul knew that he had lost all hope of a fair hearing since he had rebuked the high priest. However, he perceived something. Representatives from the two major parties of Jewish belief were present, and he knew they were bitterly opposed to each other. He conceived a plan whereby he might be able to pit them against each other. He cried out that he was a member of the Pharisee party and had been dragged before the court because he held the belief of the Pharisees.

⇒ The Pharisees believed in the spiritual world and the resurrection (see DEEPER STUDY # 2—Acts 23:8 for discussion).

⇒ The Sadducees did not believe in the spiritual world nor in the resurrection (see DEEPER STUDY # 3—Acts 23:8 for discussion).

His strategy worked all too well. The two parties became so engaged in clamoring and arguing against each other that they were about to tear Paul apart. He had to be rescued by the soldiers again.

Thought 1. The leadership of God in this maneuver by Paul is phenomenal. On a human level, it is not likely the two parties would become so divisive that they would forget all about Paul. What happened is just what Christ had promised: Christ said he would provide the answer when believers are called upon by the world to give an answer for their faith. Apparently, on a spiritual level, the Lord was guiding and maneuvering the situation, working it out for good by keeping Paul from being tried by the Jewish court. The point is that God leads the believer through pressure and strain, no matter how severe it may be.

“But when they deliver you up, take no thought how or what ye shall speak: for it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak” (Mt.10:19).

“For I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to gainsay nor resist” (Lk.21:15).

Thought 2. Note two things.

- 1) Religious men of politics (Sadducees) can be tragically deceived about the truth of God and the spiritual world. Men seek power at the expense of their soul's salvation.
- 2) Religionists, even strict religionists who hold to Scripture, can be deceived and distort the truth for the sake of their own customs and traditions, position and livelihood. (See note—Acts 12:1-4 for more discussion.)

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(23:8) Sadducees: the religious and political liberals of Christ's day. They were the wealthy, the aristocratic, the governing class of leaders in Israel. Many Sadducees served on the nation's governing body, the Sanhedrin. The Chief Priest himself was usually a Sadducee who presided over the Sanhedrin. The Sanhedrin ruled the people in behalf of the Roman empire (Acts 4:1-2; 5:17). The Romans readily saw to it that the Sadducees held the positions of leadership in the nation, for the Sadducees favored Greek customs over Jewish customs. And they aided the Romans in doing away with religious practices and instituting Greek and Roman customs (Hellenism).

They are thought to have arisen out of the same struggle as the Pharisees around B.C. 175. However, they were always the fewest in number among the various sects of Jewish belief.

Several things should be noted.

1. The Sadducees were secular and materialistic minded. They were the independent thinkers, the rationalists of their day.
2. They were heavily entrenched in the priesthood of Jesus' day (cp. Acts 4:1-2; 5:17). They readily collaborated with the Roman government in order to protect their position, power, and wealth.
3. For the most part they denied the supernatural: the resurrection and miracles, life after death, and the existence of beings in other dimensions such as angels and spirits (Mt.22:23; Acts 23:8). To them there was no heaven or hell, no existence whatsoever except on this earth. A man died and was annihilated, just ceased to exist. There was no such thing as rewards or punishment in an afterlife, no eternal life. (See notes—Mt.22:23-33.)

DEEPER STUDY # 3

(23:8) Pharisees: the word means the separated ones. The Pharisees were strict religionists. Their religious sect arose about B.C. 175. A Syrian king, Antiochus Epiphanes, tried to stamp out the Jewish religion and replace it with Greek customs and practices. A number of Jewish men opposed this threat and determined among themselves to save the Jewish religion. They refused to practice Greek customs and dedicated themselves to practicing the Jewish law in the strictest sense. They felt that by carrying out every little detail of the Jewish law and by teaching others to do the same, they could save the Jewish religion and nation and keep it from dying out. (See note and DEEPER STUDY # 1—Mt.12:10.)

Several things should be noted.

1. They were the orthodox of their day—a sect or school of religious thought. They were organized solely for preserving the law and the Jewish religion. Thereby, they were to save the Jewish nation.
2. They were strict literalists. The Jewish law was expanded into thousands and thousands of little rules and regulations by the Scribes. These rules and regulations were known as the Scribal or Oral Law. More than fifty volumes or books were eventually needed to hold the regulations. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1—Lk.6:2).
3. The Pharisees were a body of the most zealous religionists.
4. There were never many Pharisees—never more than 6,000. The strictness and demands of the sect were too hard for the common people.
5. They were in dead earnest—dedicated and zealous, self-denying, and moral. No man could give his life to so desperate and restrictive a task unless he was totally genuine.
6. They were self-righteous, heartless, and hypocritical (Lk.18:9). They lacked any sense of need or sin (Lk.7:39).
7. They were bitterly opposed to the Sadducees, hating and despising them, feeling that the Sadducees were traitors to the nation. However, the Pharisees were forced to quietly cooperate with the Sadducees because the Sadducees were the primary ruling party of the nation.
8. They were the main opponents of Jesus Christ and were unsparing in their denunciation of Him. Their savage attacks were primarily for two reasons. First, He was not a graduate of any of their rabbinical schools, nor a member of any of their religious sects. Second, He attacked their rules and regulations which had been added to God's law (see outline and notes—Mt.23:1-36; Lk.11:37-54).

5 (23:11) Paul—God's Care & Presence: for two days Paul had been under a frightening, terrible strain. His mental and physical capabilities had been taxed to the limit. Twice he had to be snatched from the clutch of a frenzied mob by a Roman patrol. And the warning he had received not to venture into Jerusalem was bound to be preying upon his mind.

How much more could he take? What was his breaking point? God knew, just as He always does. The scene was this: it was the night following and Paul was deeply discouraged and questioning, sensing failure and feeling hopeless and helpless. And he had been in such a state for over twenty-four hours. Note a significant fact: no mention is made of any support from James or the other apostles or elders of the church (cp. Acts 12:5). Paul apparently stood alone. But note: the Lord stood by him.

- ⇒ The Lord gave some appearance to him.
- ⇒ The Lord said, “Be of good cheer” (tharsei), of good courage.
- ⇒ The Lord assured him that his witness in Jerusalem was of God.
- ⇒ The Lord assured him that he would bear witness in Rome.

Thought 1. The Lord will stand by our side, encouraging and seeing us through all—if we are bearing true witness for Him.

Thought 2. The Lord wishes His servants to always be cheerful and courageous, no matter the trial. The life of His servant is under the care and leadership of the Lord.

“I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me” (Ps.23:4).

“The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?” (Ps.27:1).

“The LORD is my strength and my shield; my heart trusted in him, and I am helped: therefore my heart greatly rejoiceth; and with my song will I praise him” (Ps.28:7).

“But I am poor and needy; yet the Lord thinketh upon me: thou art my help and my deliverer; make no tarrying, O my God” (Ps.40:17).

“And he said, My presence shall go with thee, and I will give thee rest” (Ex.33:14).

“Fear thou not; For I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness” (Is.41:10).

“When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee” (Is.43:2).

“Behold, the Lord GOD will help me; who is he, that shall condemn me? lo, they all shall wax old as a garment; the moth shall eat them up” (Is.50:9).

“Lo I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world” (Mt.28:20).

“At my first answer no man stood with me, but all men forsook me: I pray God that it may not be laid to their charge. Notwithstanding the Lord stood with me, and strengthened me; that by me the preaching might be fully known, and that all the Gentiles might hear: and I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion. And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever” (2 Tim.4:16-18).

“He hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee” (Heb.13:5).

“So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me” (Heb.13:6).

“Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer...be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life” (Rev.2:10).

DIVISION XI

THE FINAL JOURNEY AND WITNESS OF PAUL: TO ROME AS A PRISONER, 23:12-28:31

A. Paul's Providential Journey Begins: Man's Deception and God's Providence, 23:12-35

(23:12-35) Introduction: the journey Paul was to make was by the providence of God. (See Map—Introduction to Acts, for a picture of the journey and city.) Paul was to bear witness in Rome (Acts 23:11). Thus, God set in motion the human events to take Paul to Rome, and in so doing several pictures are painted for the believer.

1. The conspiracy: men deceived themselves (v.12-15).
2. The conspiracy discovered: God used a child to expose the work of darkness (v.16-22).
3. The conspiracy failed: the decency and justice of men being used by God to achieve His purposes prevailed (v.23-24).
4. The letter to Felix: the world's ignorance of spiritual truth (v.25-31).
5. The providential delivery to Felix: great men are prepared for a witness against themselves (v.31-35).

1 (23:12-15) Deception: the conspiracy—a picture of men deceiving themselves. Paul had just appeared before the Sanhedrin, the high court and ruling body of the Jews. The Jews had their chance to convince the Romans that Paul was worthy of death. But the court had been thrown into disarray, the conservative Pharisees arguing against the liberal Sadducees. They had Paul in their grasp; they had the chance to get rid of him, but they had blown it. The Romans had taken him back into custody.

However, some Jews did not give up. They bitterly hated Paul, being convinced he stood against both the Jewish nation and the law of God. Therefore, they plotted to get rid of him.

The point to see is how men deceive themselves in their evil and sinful deeds. Paul was a man of God, a man who was proclaiming the message of God's salvation. These men did not like the message and did not want to hear it, so they plotted to get rid of it. Note five points.

1. The men bound themselves under a curse before God. The curse (anathematizo) was what may be called a religious curse. It was an anathema; that is, they devoted themselves to God; they would not eat or drink until they had killed Paul. They actually thought they would be pleasing God by getting rid of Paul.

Note how deceived they were. Paul was God's chosen vessel, yet they were so deceived they thought he was evil. They thought their sin was acceptable to God, that God understood it and was even pleased with their behavior.

Thought 1. How often men think their sin is acceptable to God, that God understands. He knows the trouble, the emptiness, the loneliness of the human heart; therefore, he understands the sin. Such thoughts are, of course, deception. Sin is never acceptable to God.

Thought 2. How many in the church have done evil against God's servant, preacher or leader, causing serious problems? How many have thought they were right, when they were really stifling the church and its call to reach out to a world reeling in desperate need?

“They profess that they know God; but in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate” (Tit.1:16).

2. They bound one another under the curse (evil). Whoever planned the evil dragged others into the sin. There were actually forty others involved in the plot against Paul.

Thought 1. There is great warning in Scripture about leading others into sin.

“But whoso shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea” (Mt.18:6).

3. They sought the involvement of the chief rulers and religionists. Note their confidence in securing the help of the leaders in their sin. They just knew the leaders and religionists would join them in their evil.

Thought 1. How worldly leaders and religionists can become! How deceived they too often are!

4. They showed contempt for their bodies and souls. The law said, “Thou shalt not kill,” yet they plotted to kill. Down deep they knew better, yet they plotted evil under a religious curse, saying they would not eat or drink until the evil was done. They disregarded the care of both their souls and bodies.

Thought 1. How deceived the human mind, the human heart! We know better; the law of God forbids the act. Yet, we think that because we hurt or have need, God understands and will not hold us accountable. What we fail to see is this: God wants to meet our need Himself. When we go ahead and take matters into our own hands, we are failing to trust Him, failing to believe He loves and cares enough and has the power to meet our need.

5. They showed contempt for God’s will. Note how they laid plans to carry out their evil deed, disregarding the clear teaching of God’s Word against the very sin they were planning.

“Master, which is the great commandment in the law? Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself” (Mt.22:36-39).

“And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?” (Lk.6:46).

“Love worketh no ill to his neighbour: therefore love is the fulfilling of the law” (Ro.13:10).

“He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the LORD require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?” (Mic.6:8).

“Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away” (2 Tim.3:5).

“They profess that they know God; but in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate” (Tit.1:16).

2 (23:16-22) Children—Paul, Family of; the conspiracy discovered—God used a child to expose the works of darkness.

This is a beautiful picture of what a child should be. The child was Paul’s nephew, the son of Paul’s sister who lived in Jerusalem. Note how God used what the world called a mere child to expose the works of darkness. The great lesson is that God can use children in the work of His kingdom. It is simply a matter of the child committing his life to the Lord.

1. The child was caring. He heard about the plot and he did not ignore it nor let it pass. He loved and cared for Paul, and he was alert enough to know the threat and danger of what was about to be done, so he rushed to tell Paul.

Thought 1. The child did not ignore nor set aside his duty until after he had finished playing or doing whatever he was doing. So many children would have, but not him. He loved and cared for Paul and he wanted to help his uncle as much as he could, so he jumped right to his duty.

2. The child was brave and courageous. Note where he had to go—into a castle and a prison around all kinds of soldiers and guards—and he had to go in all alone. The point is this: he knew what should be done and that it would be difficult, perhaps even dangerous for him. But he did it. He did it because it was the right thing to do.

“Thou therefore endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ. No man that warreth entangleth himself with the affairs of this life; that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a soldier” (2 Tim.2:3-4).

Thought 1. Other examples of brave children are as follows.

“And Saul said to David, Thou art not able to go against this Philistine to fight with him: for thou art but a youth, and he a man of war from his youth” (1 Sam.17:33).

“And David said moreover, The LORD that delivered me out of the paw of the lion, and out of the paw of the bear, he will deliver me out of the hand of this Philistine. And Saul said unto David, Go, and the LORD be with thee” (1 Sam.17:37).

3. The child was very young. He is called “a young man,” but he was a child, for Lysias the chief captain took him by the hand (v.19). Imagine a child this young doing what this child did! A dynamic example for all!

4. The child was very wise. The child not only told the chief captain about the plot, but he suggested that the requests of the plotters not be granted (v.21). The idea of the child was simple and could not by itself solve the problem. Just outrightly denying the request would never satisfy the plotters. But note: the child was thinking, and he was offering his thoughts.

Thought 1. Compare other wise children.

“Joash was seven years old when he began to reign, and he reigned forty years in Jerusalem. His mother’s name also was Zibiah of Beersheba. And Joash did that which was right in the sight of the LORD all the day of Jehoiada the priest” (2 Chron.24:1-2).

“Josiah was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned in Jerusalem one and thirty years. And he did that which was right in the sight of the LORD, and walked in the ways of David his father, and declined neither to the right hand, nor to the left. For in the eighth year of his reign, while he was yet young, he began to seek after the God of David his father: and in the twelfth year he began to purge Judah and Jerusalem from the high places, and the groves, and the carved images, and the molten images” (2 Chron.34:1-3).

“And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be about my Father’s business?” (Lk.2:49).

“And that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus” (2 Tim.3:15).

5. The child was very trustworthy. The chief captain instructed the boy to say nothing about the plot to anyone, not to other children, not even to his parents. The officer trusted the boy. He could have easily retained the child for a day or two until the whole affair was handled, but there was something about the child that indicated trustworthiness.

“Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity” (1 Tim.4:12).

3 (23:23-24) God, Sovereignty: the conspiracy failed—the decency and justice of men being used by God to achieve His purposes prevailed. Note the enormous contrast between the leaders and religionists and the chief captain. The very ones who should have been standing forth for justice and godliness were involved in the evil. But note: God overruled the event. He used the decency and justice, the inner knowledge of right and wrong within a soldier to deliver His servant.

Thought 1. How many leaders and religionists are involved in evil? How often does God have to use a person of less rank to thrust back the evil of the higher rank?

“For ye see your calling, brethren, how that not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble, are called: but God hath chosen the foolish things of the world to confound the wise; and God hath chosen the weak things of the world to confound the things which are mighty and base things of the world, and things which are despised, hath God chosen, yea, and things which are not, to bring to nought things that are” (1 Cor.1:26-28).

“Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast thou ordained strength because of thine enemies, that thou mightest still the enemy and the avenger” (Ps.8:2).

DEEPER STUDY # 1
 (23:23) Centurion: an officer in the Roman armed forces. He commanded about one hundred soldiers. To the Jew, the centurion had three things against him: he was bitterly hated because he was non-Jewish, a Gentile; he was of the nation that had conquered Palestine, Rome; and he was of the armed and occupying force. Every time a centurion is mentioned in the New Testament it is with honor.

1. There was the centurion who had great faith in the power of Jesus (Mt.8:5).
2. There was the centurion who recognized Jesus hanging on the cross as the Son of God (Mt.27:54).
3. There was the centurion, Cornelius, who was the first Gentile convert to the Christian church (Acts 10:22).
4. There was the centurion who recognized that Paul was a Roman citizen and rescued him from the rioting mob (Acts 23:17-23).
5. There was the centurion who took steps to deliver Paul from being murdered after being informed of the Jews’ plan (Acts 24:23).
6. There was the centurion whom Felix ordered to escort and look after Paul (Acts 24:23).
7. There was the centurion who escorted Paul on his last journey to Rome. He treated Paul with great courtesy and accepted him as the leader when the storm struck the ship (Acts 27:43).

The structure of the Roman military was built around the Roman legion which consisted of 6000 men.

- ⇒ The Roman legion was divided into cohorts: each cohort had 600 soldiers. This means there were ten cohorts in each legion.
- ⇒ The cohort was divided into centuries. Each century had 100 men and was led by a centurion. The centurions were the backbone of the Roman legions. They were the leaders in closest contact with the men; therefore, they were the officers upon whom the top brass depended so heavily (William Barclay. The Gospel of Matthew, Vol.1. “The Daily Study Bible.” Philadelphia, PA: Westminster Press, 1956, p.306).

4 (23:25-30) Ignorance, Spiritual: the letter to Felix, the governor—the world’s ignorance of spiritual truth. The letter speaks for itself. It is simply Lysias, the chief captain, relating the events and putting the case before the higher court of Felix the governor. The point to note is this: the chief captain was ignorant of spiritual truth. He was apparently a man of honor, justice, and decency, a man committed to do the right thing. Yet, when it came to understanding the charges against Paul, all he could say was that Paul was “accused of their law” (v.29). He did not understand the issue because he was ignorant of God’s law and Word.

Thought 1. What a striking lesson for us all!
 1) How many are decent and just and honorable, yet ignorant of God’s law?

- 2) How many do not really understand the questions and issues of life because they are ignorant of God's Word?

“For they, being ignorant of God’s righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God” (Ro.10:3).

“Having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart” (Eph.4:18).

“The way of peace they know not; and there is no judgment in their goings: they have made them crooked paths; whosoever goeth therein shall not know peace” (Is.59:8).

“Therefore I said, Surely these are poor; they are foolish: for they know not the way of the Lord, nor the judgment of their God” (Jer.5:4).

“For they know not to do right, saith the Lord, who store up violence and robbery in their palaces” (Amos 3:10).

“But they know not the thoughts of the Lord, neither understand they his counsel: for he shall gather them as the sheaves into the floor” (Mic.4:12).

- 5 (23:31-35) Deliverance: the providential deliverance to Felix—great men being prepared for a witness against themselves. Jesus had said:

“Ye shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them” (Mk.13:9).

The Lord was working things out for Paul to fulfill His Word. He wanted a witness before the rulers of the world, and there is no greater witness for Christ than a believer standing up for Christ in the face of persecution (cp. Acts 24:1f; 25:1f; 25:13f; 26:1f).

1. Standing firm demonstrates the truth of the gospel. Its message of love and salvation is clearly seen by the persecutor.
2. Standing firm gives the Holy Spirit a unique opportunity to reach the hearts of those standing by with the truth of the gospel.
3. Standing firm is a testimony against the persecutors. It shows how deep the wickedness and evil of their hearts are, and it will stand as a testimony against them in the day of judgment (Mt.25:45-46; Ro.2:5-6).

DIVISION XI

THE FINAL JOURNEY AND WITNESS OF PAUL: TO ROME AS A PRISONER, 23:12-28:31

B. Paul and Felix, the Roman Governor—Trial Two (Part I): What Real Worship Is, 24:1-21

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(24:1-27) Felix: was originally a slave who along with his brother was freed by the mother of the emperor Claudius. His brother Pollus was highly favored by Claudius, and as a result, Felix was able to secure his position as governor of Judea. Felix was a monstrous ruler, cruel and despotic, lustful and full of greed and corruption. He was known for taking and maneuvering for bribes. He was removed from office because of racial riots between Jews and Syrians.

(24:1-21) Introduction: this is a picture of Paul's defense before the Roman governor. It is a defense declaring what real worship is.

1. A courtroom scene (v.1-9).
2. Paul could do only one thing: tell the truth (v.10-13).
3. Paul could confess only one thing: a genuine worship of God (v.14-16).
4. Paul had come for only one purpose: to bring alms (v.17-20).
5. Paul was guilty of only one thing: proclaiming the resurrection (v.21).

1 (24:1-9) Paul, Legal Trials of: the scene was a courtroom. The Jews were no doubt furious when they found out Lysias had transferred Paul to Caesarea in the middle of the night, foiling their plot. This can be imagined by their quick pursuit to appear before Felix. In just five days they had hired a Roman lawyer, prepared their case and were appearing in court before the governor Felix, ready to do all they could to have Paul condemned to death. Note four things.

1. The prosecution was led by the high priest himself and a Roman lawyer, Tertullus. The fact that the high priest himself would take the lead against Paul and that he would hire a Roman lawyer to prosecute the case is a real eye-opener. He and the other leaders probably felt that the lawyer (being a Roman) could handle the civil trial much better than they (being Jewish), and that he would be more likely to secure a judgement than themselves. This shows the extreme importance they placed upon destroying Paul and silencing his message forever.

Thought 1. The believer can easily see the hand of evil—of Satan—at work against Paul. Just imagine what would have happened if Paul and his message had been stomped out. Would the gospel be free today, free of rules and regulations, ritual and ceremony, religious custom and Jewish practice? Would the gospel have ever spread worldwide? Would we be saved?

“If God be for us, who can be against us?” (Ro.8:31).
“Greater is He that is in you, than he that is in the world” (1 Jn.4:4).

It was God's will for Paul to continue witnessing for Christ, so Paul was under the care of God, no matter how desperate his plight looked. What a lesson for us as we face the trials of life! Our task is to simply make sure we are walking faithfully in serving the Lord.

2. Note the nauseating, lying flattery of Tertullus. Felix was anything but what Tertullus was saying (see note, Felix—Acts 24:1-27).

Thought 1. Note four tragedies.

- 1) A lawyer playing up to the judge in order to receive a favorable opinion.
- 2) Religionists defiling themselves by becoming a part of this corrupt scene, a scene involving...
  - murder in the name of religion.
  - evil and sin in the name of God.
  - flattery to secure a favor.
  - the failure to stand up and proclaim the truth of the case.
- 3) The flattery of an evil man.
- 4) Saying an evil man is good.

3. The charges against Paul were threefold.

- a. Charge 1: he was an insurrectionist: a troublemaker, a disturber of the peace, a man who caused trouble and sedition and disorder among the Jewish people. (Note how this is often the charge brought against God's servants even by leaders in the churches where they often serve.)
- b. Charge 2: he was a ringleader of the Nazarenes, a rebellious sect. This was a name given to Christian believers, the followers of Jesus the Nazarene. Note: Christianity is called a sect. This, of course, is not true. Christianity...
  - does not promote sects and sectarianism; but unity and brotherhood, love, peace, and quietness.
  - does not promote selfishness, worldliness, indulgence, extravagance, wealth, injustice, or disorderliness. It promotes care and concern, ministry and help, giving and justice, government and obedience to law.

c. Charge 3: he was a profaner of the temple. This was totally untrue and probably was of no interest to Felix.

4. Note the claim against the chief captain, Lysias. The charges and lies involved in the charges are clearly seen (cp. Acts 21:27f for the actual facts of what happened). The great tragedy is found in the words “the Jews also asserted, saying that these things were so.”

Thought 1. How tragic that we allow ourselves to become religious and follow religion instead of following Christ Himself. It is when we follow religion and our own ideas about religion that we get into trouble. It is when we seek to maintain our religion and our ideas of religion that we begin to follow the wrong leader. Our call is not to maintain religion, but to follow Christ and His Word. The great need of the hour is to follow in the steps of our Lord.

“As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him” (Col.2:6).

“Brethren, I write no new commandment unto you, but an old commandment which ye had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word which ye have heard from the beginning” (1 Jn.2:7).

2 (24:10-13) Paul, Legal Trials—Truthfulness: Paul could do only one thing—tell the truth. He did three things immediately.

1. Paul truthfully and tactfully said what he could. He simply said that Felix had been a judge of the nation for years (about seven years). Paul did not flatter nor lie about Felix’s accomplishments. Paul acknowledged his position as judge, letting Felix know that he, Paul, was fully aware that his fate was in Felix’s hands. Felix must have been stricken with the simple, straightforward, and honest address.

2. Paul went to Jerusalem to worship, not to arouse people into a disturbance. He said that he had arrived in Jerusalem only twelve days earlier. Felix knew three things from this, and he knew it because Paul had been arrested on the fifth day.

⇒ Five days were not enough time for Paul to do what the Jews were saying. He could not have planned and mobilized an insurrection that would arouse all the people, not in five days time.

⇒ Since all the events had happened within twelve days, Paul’s account could be checked out thoroughly.

⇒ By mentioning the time frame and knowing that his account could be checked meant that Paul was probably being honest in what he said.

3. Paul was not guilty of the charges. The charges could not be proven. Note the facts that Paul mentioned.

a. He was in the temple when attacked: the temple would not be a place where insurrection would be carried out.

b. He was worshipping and participating in the services...

- not arguing
- not stirring up or inciting the crowd
- not creating a revolution in the temple or synagogue or city

Thought 1. Note how truthful Paul was. When giving an answer or a defense, we must always be truthful, even go overboard to be truthful. God will honor the truth, but He will expose and dishonor the lie.

“That ye put off concerning the former conversation the old man, which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts” (Eph.4:22).

“The lip of truth shall be established for ever: but a lying tongue is but for a moment” (Pr.12:19).

“Buy the truth, and sell it not; also wisdom, and instruction, and understanding” (Pr.23:23).

“These are the things that ye shall do; Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbour; execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates” (Zech.8:16).

3 (24:14-16) Worship: Paul could confess only one thing, a genuine worship of God. Paul admitted that the second charge against him was true. He was a follower of the Nazarene, Jesus. Note: Paul said that “the way” of the Nazarene was heresy to the Jews, but...

1. He worshipped the same God, the God of the fathers of Israel, not a new god (see outline and notes—Acts 17:24-25; 17:26 for discussion).

2. He believed all things written in the Scriptures, denying nothing (see outline and notes, Scripture—Ro.1:1-7; 2 Tim.3:16 for discussion. Cp. also 2 Pt.1:19-21.)

“Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away” (Mt.24:35).

“All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness” (2 Tim.3:16).

“But the word of the Lord endureth for ever. And this is the word which by the gospel is preached unto you” (1 Pt.1:25).

3. He hoped for the resurrection the same as Israel did (see outline and notes—1 Cor.15:1-58; DEEPER STUDY # 1—2 Cor.5:10; note—1 Th.4:13-5:3 for discussion of Paul’s belief. Cp. also Rev.20:4-6; 20:11-15; 21:1-22:5.)

“Knowing that he which raised up the Lord Jesus shall raise up us also by Jesus, and shall present us with you” (2 Cor.4:14).

“For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first” (1 Th.4:16).

4. He always sought to have a pure conscience. Paul said three things.

a. He “exercised” (en toutoi) himself—actively trained, disciplined, practiced, labored, strove, struggled, even to the point of pain—to keep a pure conscience.

b. He struggled to be “void of offense” (aproskopon), to keep from stumbling, to keep from causing others to stumble, to keep from hurting himself and from hurting others.

“Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God. Give none offence, neither to the Jews, nor to the Gentiles, nor to the church of God: even as I please all men in all things, not seeking mine own profit, but the profit of many, that they may be saved” (1 Cor.10:31-33).

“That ye may approve things that are excellent; that ye may be sincere and without offence till the day of Christ” (Ph.1:10).

c. He struggled to have a clear conscience toward both God and men.

“For our rejoicing is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity and godly sincerity, not with fleshly wisdom, but by the grace of God, we have had our conversation in the world, and more abundantly to you-ward” (2 Cor.1:12).

“Now the end of the commandment is charity out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned” (1 Tim.1:5).

“Holding faith, and a good conscience; which some having put away concerning faith have made shipwreck” (1 Tim.1:19).

“Having a good conscience; that, whereas they speak evil of you, as of evildoers, they may be ashamed that falsely accuse your good conversation in Christ” (1 Pt.3:16).

4 (24:17-20) Deliverance: Paul had come to Jerusalem for only one purpose—to bring alms for the poor of Jerusalem. Far from being an insurrectionist, Paul had returned to the city to bring financial help to the poor. His return was not to incite the people against their government, but to minister and show mercy by helping all he could. Note: Paul related exactly what had happened.

1. He was unjustly attacked by Asian Jews. The attack was not even by those Jews who lived there, but by foreign Jews. In addition...

- they attacked him while he was worshipping.
- they were not present in the court to accuse him of the charges.

2. He was unjustly tried by the great Jewish court, the Sanhedrin (cp. Acts 22:30-23:11).

Thought 1. Note a crucial point. Paul was in the midst of a terrible trial, but he was there because of a righteous deed. Therefore, he could expect to be delivered by God exactly as God willed. So it is with every believer.

“And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever” (2 Tim.4:18).

“For what glory is it, if, when ye be buffeted for your faults, ye shall take it patiently? but if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently, this is acceptable with God” (1 Pt.2:20).

“The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished” (2 Pt.2:9).

5 (24:21) Paul, Trials: Paul was guilty of one thing—that of proclaiming the resurrection (see outline and note—Acts 23:6-10 for discussion).

DIVISION XI

THE FINAL JOURNEY AND WITNESS OF PAUL: TO ROME AS A PRISONER, 23:12-28:31

C. Paul and Felix (Part II): The Great Tragedy—A Man Who Knows Better, 24:22-27

(24:22-27) Introduction: in Felix we see the picture of a man who knows better, but who still goes ahead and pursues his own cravings and passions.

1. He knew "The Way," but postponed justice (v.22-23).
2. He desired to hear about Christ, but not about repentance (v.24-25).
3. He sold justice for greed (v.26).
4. He was a man-pleaser (v.27).

1 (24:22-23) Compromise: the man knew "The Way," but postponed justice. Felix knew more about Christianity than the prosecutors and religionists thought he knew.

- ⇒ Believers were scattered throughout all the province.
- ⇒ Philip the evangelist lived in Caesarea.
- ⇒ There were churches scattered all throughout that part of the world.
- ⇒ Apparently, there was a large church established in the city.
- ⇒ Caesarea was also the city where the Roman centurion had been converted.
- ⇒ Drusilla, the wife of Felix, was a Jew who probably knew something about Christianity.
- ⇒ Christianity was the subject of much of the talk of that day.

The point is this: Felix had a "more perfect knowledge," that is, a more accurate knowledge of Christianity than anyone supposed. He knew enough about Christian believers and their message of righteousness to know that Paul was telling the truth. Yet he postponed justice; he did not do the right thing. He knew Paul should be set free, but he lacked the courage to do it. Why? There are probably four reasons.

1. Felix could not risk upsetting the Jewish authorities too much. If he let Paul go, they might report him to Caesar, which could cause considerable problems for him—even his being removed from office.
2. Nero had just assumed power in Rome. Felix's brother Pallus no longer carried the influence he did when Claudius was emperor. Therefore, Felix could not run the risk of seriously upsetting the Jewish authorities.
3. Felix simply lacked the moral strength to do the right thing. He preferred compromise to righteousness, compromise to being a real man. He saw a way out of the predicament. He could postpone the decision, claiming he must wait upon the testimony of Lysias, the chief captain who was still in Jerusalem. Of course, Felix had already received the testimony which declared Paul innocent, but the Jews did not know it (cp. Acts 23:25-30).
4. Felix had hopes of lining his pockets with a huge bribe from Paul (cp. v.26). He had heard in the trial about the large relief fund Paul had brought to Jerusalem, and he knew Paul was one of the major leaders of the Nazarene religion. He felt Paul would have influence with some wealthy friends who would perhaps be willing to offer a bribe. This was probably the reason he gave Paul so much freedom as a prisoner. Paul was put under house arrest under the care of a centurion instead of being placed in prison. He was also allowed guests and freedom of movement within the castle. Felix was apparently playing up to Paul, making him ripe for the offering of a bribe.

Thought 1. How many lack the moral strength to do the right thing? How many try to play both sides? How many compromise? Postpone? Stand in the middle? Seek money instead of righteousness? Seek payoffs? Seek bribes?

“No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon” (Mt.6:24).

“For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?” (Mt.16:26).

“I charge thee before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without preferring one before another, doing nothing by partiality” (1 Tim.5:21).

“Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgment: thou shalt not respect the person of the poor, nor honor the person of the mighty: but in righteousness shalt thou judge thy neighbor” (Lev.19:15).

“Therefore have I also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my ways, but have been partial in the law” (Mal.2:9).

2 (24:24-25) Indecision—Rejection: the man desired to hear about Christ, but not about repentance. Felix apparently left Caesarea but soon returned. The idea is that only a short time elapsed between the two trips. Note three significant points.

1. As soon as he returned, Felix sent for Paul to visit him and his wife to discuss Christ. According to the Scripture he had two motives, one pure and the other impure.

a. Felix and his wife apparently wanted to learn more about “The Way,” more about the Nazarenes and their faith in Christ. He and his wife, who was a Jewess, were curious; and Paul was a celebrated leader among the Christians. They could learn about the new movement from no better person.

b. Felix also wished to line his pockets with a bribe from Paul (v.26). Building rapport was therefore essential.

2. Paul shared a threefold message courageously and forcibly. No doubt the conversation between Paul and the ruler and his wife was striking; Paul expounded the gospel and the two rulers questioned him. What Paul had to say was a forceful lesson for all believers, even for those who have the privilege of witnessing to the powerful of the world. Fearlessly, Paul declared that faith in Christ concerned living a righteous and controlled life in this world and facing God’s judgment at the end of this life.

a. Faith in Christ concerns righteousness. Felix and Drusilla had never received the “righteousness of God” (see note 5 and DEEPER STUDY # 5,6—Mt.5:6; Ro.3:21-22 for discussion).

“Awake to righteousness, and sin not; for some have not the knowledge of God: I speak this to your shame” (1 Cor.15:34).

“Being filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are by Jesus Christ, unto the glory and praise of God” (Ph.1:11).

“Teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world; looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ” (Tit.2:12-13).

“Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled” (Mt.5:6).

b. Faith in Christ concerns temperance (egkrateias), that is self-control. Both rulers lacked in this area. They were living lives focused upon indulgence and extravagance, wealth and possessions, materialism and secularism, selfishness and pride, greed and covetousness, lusts and urges, sensuality and fleshiness (see note and DEEPER STUDY # 1—Lk.9:23).

“Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof” (Ro.6:12).

“He that loveth pleasure shall be a poor man: he that loveth wine and oil shall not be rich” (Pr.21:17).

“And put a knife to thy throat, if thou be a man given to appetite” (Pr.23:2).

c. Faith in Christ concerns judgment to come. If either ruler knew anything about a judgment before God, they apparently had never given much thought to the fact. Felix was an unjust judge; now he was hearing that he must stand before God some day and give an account of his life and labor upon earth. He was hearing for the first time in his life that his work upon earth was considered by God to be a trust, a stewardship, and that God held him accountable for performing his work well (soberly, righteously, and godly). (Cp. Tit.2:12.)

“When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory: and before him shall be gathered all nations: and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats” (Mt.25:31-32).

“And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment” (Heb.9:27).

“The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptation, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished” (2 Pt.2:9).

“But the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men” (2 Pt.3:7).

“Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousands of his saints, to execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard speeches which ungodly sinners have spoken against him” (Jude 14-15).

3. Felix trembled under conviction. The word “trembled” means to be terrified and frightened. Felix was living a life diametrically opposed to what God demanded. He was under conviction, for if Paul was right—if Jesus was truly the Son of God—then he, Felix, was condemned and doomed.

Tragically, Felix postponed making a decision for Christ. Again he delayed making the right choice. He did what so many do—simply put the decision off for some other time.

“When once the master of the house is risen up, and hath shut to the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, Lord, open unto us; and he shall answer and say unto you, I know you not whence ye are” (Lk.13:25).

“For ye know how that afterward, when he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected: for he found no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears” (Heb.12:17).

Thought 1. How many want to know the facts about faith in Christ, but not the message of repentance?

“Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord” (Acts 3:19).

“Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee” (Acts 8:22).

“And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men every where to repent” (Acts 17:30).

Thought 2. In his ministry and preaching Paul...

- proclaimed the truth, compromising nothing.
- showed no favoritism or partiality.
- struck at the consciences of men, seeking to stir a change within them (how grossly we fail at this point!)
- sought the soul of the man, not good relationships.

“And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mk.16:15).

“But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

3 (24:26) Bribery—Greed: the man sold justice for greed. This was a practice of Felix, to seek payoffs for favors done.

How deeply greed seeps into the halls of justice and government! What terrible hunks of character are ripped away by the fangs of greed! The love of money ruins many a person. Bribery, payoffs, and corruption too often seem to be the way of life among those who have wealth and who hold power.

Note the strong character of Paul. He never offered a bribe, not a single penny. Felix even seemed to become impatient, perhaps thinking he was dealing with a novice, a man who did not know the ways of the world. Therefore, he tried to reach out more and more to Paul, seeing him quite often.

Thought 1. Paul stands as a convicting testimony to every man who is gripped by greed and who seeks and pays bribes. He is a convicting testimony to every corrupt official.

“And he said unto them, Take heed, and beware of covetousness: for a man’s life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth” (Lk.12:15).

“Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth; fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry” (Col.3:5).

“For the love of money is the root of all evil: which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows” (1 Tim.6:10).

“Your gold and silver is cankered; and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. Ye have heaped treasure together for the last days” (Jas.5:3).

4 (24:27) Man-Pleaser—Compromise: the man was a man-pleaser. A historical incident lies behind this scene. Racial violence had broken out between the Jews and Gentiles in Caesarea. Felix had acted rather swiftly, killing a number of Jewish leaders. As a result, the Jews reported Felix to Nero, the Roman emperor. This happened two years after Paul first appeared before Felix. Paul had been a prisoner for two years. Note two things.

1. Felix again refused to do the right thing. In setting the affairs of his government in order, he still refused to free Paul. The reason is clear: he could not risk arousing the Jews anymore. He was fighting for his own political survival, and to do the right thing might jeopardize his position and power and wealth. So again, he gave in to the world and its things, to greed and wealth and power instead of righteousness. He compromised righteousness in order to please men.

2. Felix paid the price. The world may not know it, but the Sovereign Majesty of the universe again brought about the downfall of a ruler. Felix was removed from office and Festus was given the rule. One can only wonder what would have happened if Felix had accepted Christ.

“How can ye believe, which receive honour one of another, and seek not the honour that cometh from God only?” (Jn.5:44).

“For they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God” (Jn.12:43).

“Ye shall not respect persons in judgment; but ye shall hear the small as well as the great; ye shall not be afraid of the face of man; for the judgment is God’s: and the cause that is too hard for you, bring it unto me, and I will hear it” (Dt.1:17).

“The fear of man bringeth a snare: but whoso putteth his trust in the LORD shall be safe” (Pr.29:25).

CHAPTER 25

D. Paul & Festus,<sup>DS1</sup> the New Roman Governor, & King Agrippa<sup>DS2</sup>—Trial Three (Part I): A Contrast of Attitudes, 25:1-27

1 Festus, the new governor, made an appeasing visit

Now when Festus was come into the province, after three days he ascended from Caesarea to Jerusalem.

2 The Jewish conspiracy: Men who tried to do away with God's servant

2 Then the high priest and the chief of the Jews informed him against Paul, and besought him,

- a. Their request: To try Paul before the Jewish court
- b. Their purpose: To kill Paul
- c. Festus' sense of justice: Rejected their request

3 And desired favour against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem, laying wait in the way to kill him.

3 The trial before the local Roman governor: Men who lied & made false charges against God's servant

4 But Festus answered, that Paul should be kept at Caesarea, and that he himself would depart shortly thither. 5 Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, go down with me, and accuse this man, if there be any wickedness in him.

4 The defense of Paul: A man full of godly strength

6 And when he had tarried among them more than ten days, he went down unto Caesarea; and the next day sitting on the judgment seat commanded Paul to be brought.

5 The failure of Festus in justice: A man who attempted an unjust compromise

7 And when he was come, the Jews which came down from Jerusalem stood round about, and laid many and grievous complaints against Paul, which they could not prove.

6 The appeal of Paul to Caesar: A godly man being delivered

a. He appealed to the law

8 While he answered for himself, Neither against the temple, nor yet against Caesar, have I offended any thing at all.

b. He was willing to abide by the law's judgment

9 But Festus, willing to do the Jews a pleasure, answered Paul, and said, Wilt thou go up to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these things before me?

10 Then said Paul, I stand at Caesar's judgment seat, where I ought to be judged: to the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.

11 For if I be an offender, or have committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things whereof these accuse me, no man may deliver me unto them. I appeal unto Caesar.

12 Then Festus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, Hast thou appealed unto Caesar? unto Caesar shalt thou go.

13 And after certain days King Agrippa and Bernice came unto Caesarea to salute Festus.

14 And when they had been there many days, Festus declared Paul's cause unto the king, saying, There is a certain man left in bonds by Felix:

15 About whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews informed me, desiring to have judgment against him.

16 To whom I answered, It is not the manner of the Romans to deliver any man to die, before that he which is accused have the accusers face to face, and have licence to answer for himself concerning the crime laid against him.

17 Therefore, when they were come hither, without any delay on the morrow I sat on the judgment seat, and commanded the man to be brought forth.

18 Against whom when the accusers stood up, they brought none accusation of such things as I supposed:

19 But had certain questions against him of their own superstition, and of one Jesus, which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alive.

20 And because I doubted of such manner of questions, I asked him whether he would go to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these matters.

21 But when Paul had appealed to be reserved unto the hearing of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept till I might send him to Caesar.

22 Then Agrippa said unto

7 The new governor sought the counsel of King Agrippa: A man spiritually blind & confused

- a. A protocol visit (v.13)
- b. The new governor sought council
  - 1) A prisoner left by the former governor

- 2) Not familiar with the whole case
- c. The account of the hearing before Festus
  - 1) The Jews' request for a Jewish trial
  - 2) Festus' ruling for a civil trial

- 3) Festus' puzzlement over the charges: He expected civil charges, but instead he heard a disagreement over religion

- 4) Festus' suggestion to Paul for a Jewish trial

- 5) Paul's appeal to Caesar

DIVISION XI

THE FINAL JOURNEY AND WITNESS OF PAUL: TO ROME AS A PRISONER, 23:12-28:31

D. Paul and Festus, the New Roman Governor, and King Agrippa—Trial Three (Part I): A Contrast of Attitudes, 25:1-27

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(25:1-26:32) Festus, Porcius: (reign A.D. 59-62?). Very little is known about Festus. He died two years after being appointed governor of Judea. He was a more reasonable and upright ruler than Felix, and apparently wished to establish and administer a just rule throughout his domain. Note...

- his appointment to office (Acts 24:37).
- his immediate attempt at conciliation with the Jews (Acts 25:1).
- his concern for true justice (Acts 25:4-5).
- his attempted compromise and failure in justice (Acts 25:9).
- his being the ruler before whom Paul appealed to Caesar (Acts 25:10-12).
- his seeking the counsel of King Agrippa about how to word the formal charges against Paul (Acts 25:13-21, 26).
- his scorning Jesus and the resurrection (Acts 25:19).
- his witnessing Paul's memorable testimony before King Agrippa (Acts 26:1-32).

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(25:13-26:32) King Herod Agrippa II: (reign A.D. 53-70) was the son of Herod Agrippa I. He was the last ruler of the Herod family, ruling only a small part of Palestine which included Galilee and Peraea. It was only natural that he visit the new Roman governor of Palestine. He had to maintain good relations with the Roman governor, for the governor could easily have him removed from office.

Herod Agrippa II was mainly of Jewish blood, being of the Maccobean priest-kings. He got along fairly well with the Jews by making generous gifts to Jewish causes and maintaining a palace in Jerusalem. However, the Jews considered Herod a base man who lived an adulterous and licentious life, one who ignored the law of God. For example, he was living with Bernice, his half-sister. Herod's rule ceased when Jerusalem fell in A.D. 70. He was transferred to Rome and returned and died there somewhere around A.D. 100.

(25:1-27) Introduction: this chapter presents an interesting scene. It is a chapter that paints a picture of all kinds of men.

1. Festus, the new governor, made an appeasing visit (v.1).
2. The Jewish conspiracy: men who tried to do away with God's servant (v.2-5).
3. The trial before the local Roman governor: men who lied and made false charges against God's servant (v.6-7).
4. The defense of Paul: a man full of godly strength (v.8).
5. The failure of Festus in justice: a man who attempted an unjust compromise (v.9).
6. The appeal of Paul to Caesar: a godly man being delivered (v.10-12).
7. The new governor sought the counsel of King Agrippa: a man spiritually blind and confused (v.13-21).
8. The hearing before King Agrippa: men arrayed in their worldly pomp and formal injustices (v.22-27).

1 (25:1) Festus—Political Movement: Festus, the new governor, made an appeasing visit to Jerusalem. The former governor Felix had treated the Jews harshly, causing a severe reaction among the Jews. As a result, Felix was removed from office and was replaced by Festus. Note how quickly Festus sought to appease and show his respect to the Jews. Within three days after assuming the governorship, he travelled to Jerusalem. What happened with Festus from this point on paints a picture of various kinds of men.

2 (25:2-5) Hypocrisy—Deception: the Jewish conspiracy was a tragic picture, a picture of men trying to do away with God's true servant. The request of the Jews to have Paul tried in Jerusalem before the Jewish court was a sly political move. The Jewish leaders were attempting to take advantage of Festus. He was new at the job of governorship and his domain was a seed-bed of constant trouble for Rome. He would be anxious to secure the approval, friendship, and support of the Jewish authorities. Their purpose as stated would be to ambush Paul somewhere along the way between Caesarea and Jerusalem. However, Festus was apparently somewhat suspicious of their unusual request to try a man whom Felix had not tried for over two years. He acted justly. He gave two just reasons for denying their request: the place to hold court was in Caesarea, and he could stay in Jerusalem for only two days, having just assumed the governorship. In a move of appeasement, however, he suggested their leaders accompany him back to Caesarea, and he would try the case immediately upon his return.

Thought 1. The picture is that of men trying to silence and do away with God's true messenger. And note: they were religionists within the body of religion. How often men fear and fight against the truth of Christ and His messengers and fear the loss of their own influence, position, and esteem (see note, Religionists—Acts 4:2-4 for discussion).

“No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon” (Mt.6:24).

“He answered and said unto them, Well hath Esaias prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me” (Mk.7:6).

“For many walk, of whom I have told you often, and now tell you even weeping, that they are the enemies of the cross of Christ: whose end is destruction, whose God is their belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who mind earthly things” (Ph.3:18-19).

“They profess that they know God; but in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate” (Tit.1:16).

“Most men will proclaim every one his own goodness: but a faithful man who can find?” (Pr.20:6).

“There is a generation that are pure in their own eyes, and yet is not washed from their filthiness” (Pr.30:12).

3 (25:6-7) Lying—False Witness: the trial before the Roman governor was a tragic picture, a picture of men who lied and made false charges against God's servant. What happened is descriptive. Festus was upon the throne with Jews standing around the courtroom in a semi-circle. Right in the midst was God's servant, Paul. The action began and everyone in the court heard a barrage of charges made against Paul. But note: they could not prove anything. Their accusations were lies and false charges.

Thought 1. The scene may be within or without the church, but it is always the same. When a group of men, either of the world or of religion, wish to get rid of God's servant, they begin to lie and make false charges.

“Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake” (Mt.5:11).

“Having a good conscience; that, whereas they speak evil of you, as of evildoers, they may be ashamed that falsely accuse your good conversation in Christ” (1 Pt.3:16).

Thought 2. Lying is a serious offense in the sight of God. Just imagine the scene here: religionists, including the leaders, were lying and falsely accusing Paul and even plotting to kill him.

“Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor” (Ex.20:16).

“Thou shalt not raise a false report: put not thine hand with the wicked to be an unrighteous witness” (Ex.23:1).

“He that telleth lies shall not tarry in my sight” (Ps.101:7).

“A false witness shall not be unpunished; and he that speaketh lies shall perish” (Pr.19:9).

“All liars shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death” (Rev.21:8).

4 (25:8) Trials, Deliverance: the defense of Paul is the picture of a man full of godly strength. What is given in this verse is a brief statement of Paul's denial of the three charges against him. (See outline and note, pt.3—Acts 24:1-9 for the charges against Paul. See outline and notes—Acts 24:10-21 for Paul's answer to the charges against him.) The point to see is the God-inspired strength of Paul, strength that was coming from God Himself. The Lord was standing by the side of Paul just as He had said He would when the believer faces the terrible trials of life (see note—Acts 23:11 for discussion and verses).

5 (25:9) Compromise—Cowardice: the failure of Festus in justice is a common picture, the picture of a man attempting an unjust compromise. Festus knew the truth; Paul was not guilty (v.10, 25). He was innocent and should be acquitted, but Festus knew he must appease the Jewish leaders. He conceived an idea that could get the case out of his hands and free him of the matter. If he could get Paul to be tried before him in Jerusalem, then he could declare Paul innocent of the civil charge of insurrection and turn the two religious charges over to the Jews. Note how Festus failed, and note how his failure pictures the man...

- who lacks the courage to stand up for what he knows is right.
- who chooses popularity over righteousness (v.9).
- who chooses to compromise rather than do what is right.

“For they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God” (Jn.12:43).

“I charge thee before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without preferring one before another, doing nothing by partiality” (1 Tim.5:21).

“Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgment: thou shalt not respect the person of the poor, nor honor the person of the mighty: but in righteousness shalt thou judge thy neighbor” (Lev.19:15).

“Ye shall not respect persons in judgment; but ye shall hear the small as well as the great; ye shall not be afraid of the face of man; for the judgment is God’s: and the cause that is too hard for you, bring it unto me, and I will hear it” (Dt.1:17).

“How long will ye judge unjustly, and accept the persons of the wicked?” (Ps.82:2).

“And moreover I saw under the sun the place of judgment, that wickedness was there; and the place of righteousness, that iniquity was there” (Eccl.3:16).

“Therefore have I also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my ways, but have been partial in the law” (Mal.2:9).

6 (25:10-12) God, Sovereignty—Guidance: the appeal of Paul to Caesar is a picture of God’s servant being delivered by God’s power. Once again, note the godly boldness of Paul. He told Festus...

- that he would stand where he should be standing, in a Roman court of justice.
- that he had done no wrong to the Jews.
- that Festus himself knew it.
- that he would not refuse to die, not if he were guilty.
- that he refused to give in to false charges.

Then Paul dropped the bombshell. He took a most momentous step: since Festus lacked the courage to act justly, Paul shouted out “I appeal to Caesar.” It was the right of a Roman citizen to appeal his case before Caesar if the charge involved a capital offense, and once the appeal was made, nothing could stop it. The person was to be tried before Caesar himself. The appeal shook Festus, for now he knew he had made a serious blunder. Things had gotten out of hand, for the words, “I appeal to Caesar” were irrevocable; the words could not be reversed. He had lost his chance to appease the Jews, and he had to send a Roman citizen to trial in Rome with such weak charges that his own lack of wisdom in justice would be questioned. Note: he immediately consulted with his advisors, returned, and pronounced that the request had to stand.

The point is that Paul was forced to appeal to Caesar (Acts 28:19). It is the picture of God overruling earthly events both to protect and to carry His messenger to a new place of ministry. (See notes—Acts 23:11 for more discussion.)

“To give light to them that sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace” (Lk.1:79).

“Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will show you things to come” (Jn.16:13).

“For this God is our God for ever and ever: he will be our guide even unto death” (Ps.48:14).

“Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and afterward receive me to glory” (Ps.73:24).

“And thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying, This is the way, walk ye in it, when ye turn to the right hand, and when ye turn to the left” (Is.30:21).

7 (25:13-21) Blindness, Spiritual: the new governor seeking the counsel of King Agrippa is the picture of a man spiritually blind and confused. The scene was King Agrippa making a protocol visit to Festus, congratulating him on being appointed governor of Palestine. What followed is clearly seen by glancing at the Scripture and outline. Festus was simply puzzled over Jesus and the resurrection of the dead (v.18-19). He did not know how to write up such charges in the formal draft for the officials in Rome. He wanted King Agrippa to help him. Note: when he spoke of Jesus, it was with scorn. He was ridiculing Paul’s claim.

Thought 1. The point is the confusion and hardness of Festus in spiritual matters. He had been ignorant of Jesus and the resurrection. But not now: the gospel had just been proclaimed to him by Paul. He was now responsible to respond to Christ. But observe: his response was to scorn the idea of Jesus arising from the dead. He refused to trust and surrender to Christ.

“But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is that darkness!” (Mt.6:23).

“In whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them” (2 Cor.4:4).

“Having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart” (Eph.4:18).

“But he that hateth his brother is in darkness, and walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes” (1 Jn.2:11).

1. Worldly pomp adds nothing to the truth, righteousness, or justice of the case, nor to the excellency of the leader's character. Pomp only seeks to satisfy man's cravings for recognition and show, conceit and self-exaltation, honor and glory.

2. The pomp and show of history disappears, but not the men of character. Note how Festus and Agrippa are remembered in comparison with the prisoner Paul who stood before them.

3. The speech of Festus was a formal speech on a formal occasion, but it was the speech of a judge who was presiding over an unjust trial, and he knew it.

Thought 1. How many commit unjust deeds and then continue the injustice in a formal setting before the public? How many deceptive and public shows are put on for the sake of saving face?

“How can ye believe, which receive honour one of another, and seek not the honour that cometh from God only?” (Jn.5:44).

“For all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away” (1 Pt.1:24).

“Nevertheless man being in honour abideth not: he is like the beasts that perish” (Ps.49:12).

“For when he dieth he shall carry nothing away: his glory shall not descend after him” (Ps.49:17).

“Therefore pride compasseth them about as a chain; violence covereth them as a garment” (Ps.73:6).

“Pride goeth before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall” (Pr.16:18).

“Therefore hell hath enlarged herself, and opened her mouth without measure: and their glory, and their multitude, and their pomp, and he that rejoiceth, shall descend into it” (Is.5:14).

DIVISION XI

THE FINAL JOURNEY AND WITNESS OF PAUL: TO ROME AS A PRISONER, 23:12-28:31

E. Paul and Festus and King Agrippa—Trial Four (Part II): A Life-Changing Conversion, 26:1-18

(26:1-18) Introduction: Paul gave a clear description of his life and conversion. This is the third account of Paul's conversion given in Scripture. It is a clear picture of the transforming power of Christ—no matter how far away a person has gotten from God.

1. Paul signaled to testify (v.1-3).
2. A very strict life (v.4-5).
3. A very orthodox life (v.6-8).
4. A very hostile life: a bitter enemy of Jesus (v.9-11).
5. A very changed life (v.12-18).

1 (26:1-3) Paul, Legal Trials: Paul was signaled to testify by King Herod Agrippa. Note three things.

1. Paul's courtesy. It was the custom for a prisoner to raise his hand to the court as an act of appreciation for the privilege to speak. Paul did not flatter King Agrippa at all, but he came straight to the point. He was pleased to have the opportunity to bear witness to "the things" of which he was charged. Paul's purpose was twofold: to defend himself and to bear witness to the Lord Jesus Christ before one of the high courts of the land.

2. Herod Agrippa's knowledge of Jewish customs. Herod was King of the Jews; therefore, he was familiar with Jewish law and customs. He was actually responsible for the appointment of the high priest and the care and maintenance of the temple. Paul knew King Agrippa would better understand the charges against him and could easily see he was not guilty.

3. Paul's request for patience. Note an important point: Paul knew he could not be released, not by this court. He had appealed to Caesar and he must be tried before Caesar. What was Paul doing? Two things. He was using the opportunity both to witness and to influence the two judges (Festus and Agrippa) to write a favorable draft to Caesar declaring his innocence. Observe that Paul requested the patience of the court, for his defense would take considerable time.

2 (26:4-5) Paul, Life of: Paul's life was very strict.

1. Paul's youth was that of a strict Jewish youth. He was born in Tarsus, but...
  - he was taken to Jerusalem for his education at a very early age.
  - he was educated in Jewish law.
  - he was under the greatest Jewish teacher (Gamaliel).

Note: Paul said that the Jews, even his very accusers, knew this. (See outline and note—Acts 22:3-5 for more discussion.)

2. Paul was reared a Pharisee, a strict religionist, one of the strictest religionists ever known in history (see outline and DEEPER STUDY # 3—Acts 23:8; Ph.3:4-6 for discussion and verses).

3 (26:6-8) Paul, Life of: Paul's life was very orthodox. Paul's hope was the same hope held by the Jews—the hope of the Messiah and of the resurrection from the dead. Note three points.

1. One of the main beliefs of the Jews was the promise of God to send the Messiah and to establish His rule over all the earth, of His ruling forever and the resurrection of all followers of God. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2—Mt.1:18, notes—11:1-6; 11:2-3; DEEPER STUDY # 1—11:5; DEEPER STUDY # 2—11:6; DEEPER STUDY # 1—12:16; notes—22:42; Lk.3:24-31; Jn.1:23; note and DEEPER STUDY # 3—1:45; note and DEEPER STUDY # 4—1:49 for more discussion.)

2. The main charge against Paul was the very promise in which the Jews themselves hoped. The people who were accusing Paul were the very ones who believed as he did. The only difference was that Paul believed the Messiah had already come—that Jesus was the Messiah, the Son of God, who had been raised from the dead by God. He believed that Jesus was the fulfillment of the Jewish hope. (See notes—Acts 2:25-36; DEEPER STUDY # 4—2:24 for discussion.)

3. The main misunderstanding was the resurrection of the Messiah and of all men someday in the future. Note the critical question: "Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you, that God should raise the dead?" (v.8). God is God. God...

- possesses all wisdom, knowing exactly what should be done.
- possesses all power, the power to do as He wills.
- possesses the power of life, to give life to whom He will.

Why should it be thought incredible that God raise the dead? He has the wisdom and the power and the breath of life to do it.

"Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live" (Jn.5:25).

"And this is the will of him that sent me, that every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day" (Jn.6:40).

"Knowing that he which raised up the Lord Jesus shall raise up us also by Jesus, and shall present us with you" (2 Cor.4:14).

"For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first" (1 Th.4:16).

Thought 1. God is God, and as God, He is love, willing to give life to all those who believe and love Him.

"For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life" (Jn.3:16).

"Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life" (Jn.5:24).

"I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness" (Jn.12:46).

"That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation" (Ro.10:9-10).

- 4 (26:9-11) Paul, Life of: Paul's life was very hostile. The Scripture and outline give a clear picture of Paul's persecution of Christ and Christian believers (see outline and notes—Acts 8:1-4, esp. 8:1; 8:3; 9:1-2 for discussion).

Note the words, "I gave my voice against them" (katenegka psephon). The word "voice" means vote. The word actually means a little stone or pebble used by the Sanhedrin that was thrown into an urn indicating how a person was voting. A black pebble meant condemnation. The point to note is this: Paul was saying that he was a member of the Sanhedrin, actually casting a vote against the Christian believers. This says that Paul...

- was a member of the highest court of the land.
- was probably married prior to his conversion (a man had to be married to be a member of the Sanhedrin).

- 5 (26:12-18) Paul, Life of—Mission—Ministry: Paul's life was totally changed. He had been converted, completely turned around from what he had been. Paul shared four significant facts about his conversion. (See outline and notes, Paul's Conversion—Acts 9:1-9; 22:6-11 for a discussion of these points.)

1. There was the astounding light (see note—Acts 9:3 for discussion).
2. There was the strange voice coming out of the light. The voice made two charges against Paul.
  - a. A charge of persecuting Jesus (see note, pt.1—Acts 9:4-5 for discussion).
  - b. A charge of kicking against conscience (see note, pt.3—Acts 9:4-5 for discussion).
3. There was the phenomenal appearance by Jesus.
  - a. The strange voice identified the Person as Jesus (see note, pt.1—Acts 9:4-5 for discussion).
  - b. The Lord actually appeared to Paul. Paul declared this without hesitating.
  - c. The Lord commissioned Paul to be a minister and a witness...
    - of this appearance (revelation) by the Lord.
    - of future appearances (revelations) by the Lord.

"But I certify you, brethren, that the gospel which was preached of me is not after man. For I neither received it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the revelation of Jesus Christ" (Gal.1:11-12; cp. Acts 18:9; 22:17-21; 23:11; 2 Cor.12:1-4).

- d. The Lord promised to deliver Paul when the Jews and Gentiles persecuted him, preserving him to carry on the ministry for which he was chosen.

Thought 1. The genuine believer can depend upon God to deliver him so that he can complete his ministry on earth.

4. There was the incredible commission to the Gentiles. Paul probably expected to be struck down and condemned by the Lord; but instead, he received the marvelous mercy of God. He was not only saved, he was given a task to do for God.

Note a crucial point: Paul's task was to be a witness to the marvelous grace of the Lord Jesus Christ. It was the very same task that is given to every believer.

- a. To open the eyes of men: to help them see the truth of God and of themselves, and of their world; to give men purpose, meaning, and significance in life.

"For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ" (2 Cor.4:6).

"The eyes of your understanding being enlightened; that ye may know what is the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints" (Eph.1:18).

"But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should show forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light" (1 Pt.2:9).

- b. To turn men from darkness to light: to save men from stumbling about, falling and dooming themselves in the darkness of sin and shame; to turn men from the darkness of sin to the light of holiness. (See notes—Jn.8:12 for more discussion.)

"For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying, I have set thee to be a light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldest be for salvation unto the ends of the earth" (Acts 13:47).

"The night is far spent, the day is at hand: let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light" (Ro.13:12).

"For ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light" (Eph.5:8).

"That ye may be blameless and harmless, the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world" (Ph.2:15).

"We have also a more sure word of prophecy; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day star arise in your hearts" (2 Pt.1:19).

- c. To turn men from the power of Satan to God: to turn men from the slavery, control, and bondage of evil to the liberty and power and life that is in God Himself.

“Jesus answered and said, This voice came not because of me, but for your sakes. Now is the judgment of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out” (Jn.12:30-31).

“Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil” (Heb.2:14).

“He that committeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil” (1 Jn.3:8).

- d. To forgive men their sins (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Forgiveness—Acts 2:38 for discussion).

“Him hath God exalted with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, for to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sins” (Acts 5:31).

“Be it known unto you therefore, men and brethren, that through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins” (Acts 13:38).

“In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace” (Eph.1:7).

“If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness” (1 Jn.1:9).

- e. To give men a spiritual inheritance: to give them a part in the promised land of heaven and eternity; to give every man a share of God’s glorious promise of life eternal (see notes—Lk.16:10-12; Jn.8:51; Acts 7:2-8).

“The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God: and if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together” (Ro.8:16-17).

“Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light” (Col.1:12).

“That being justified by his grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life” (Tit.3:7).

“According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us to glory and virtue: whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises: that by these ye might be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust” (2 Pt.1:3-4).

DIVISION XI

THE FINAL JOURNEY AND WITNESS OF PAUL: TO ROME AS A PRISONER, 23:12-28:31

F. Paul and Festus and King Agrippa (Part III): A Much Needed Testimony and Message, 26:19-32

(26:19-32) Introduction: this passage is a loud declaration of Paul's testimony and the verdict of King Agrippa upon Paul's life. As such, it is also a loud declaration of the testimony and message so desperately needed by the world.

1. He was obedient to God's call (v.19-21).
2. He continued to bear witness: to small and great (v.22-23).
3. The conclusion: the verdict upon Paul (v.24-32).

1 (26:19-21) Call—Minister: there was Paul's obedience to the call of Jesus. Paul declared emphatically that his call was from heaven, a call from the Lord Himself. He was the most unlikely person in the world to receive a call from God, but it came. The Lord Jesus appeared to him and called him, and the call was a...

- command
- demand
- charge
- mandate
- decree
- ultimatum
- stipulation
- claim
- dictate

The Lord's call was not up for discussion or questioning. There was no need to confer with family or friends; no need to seek their opinions about the call, nor to consider his own secular interest (cp. Gal.1:15-16). The Lord had called him and the Lord expected Paul to fulfill his call. Paul declared emphatically that he had not disobeyed the heavenly call. The charges against him were unjust; he was not disobedient to God. He had been faithful to the Lord, doing exactly what the Lord wanted done. He was a sinner, yes; but the Lord in mercy saved and called him, and he was now obeying the Lord. Therefore, all men—whether ruler or common person—should heed the call of God.

Thought 1. The Lord means business when He calls a person. The call is from heaven; therefore, it supersedes all other calls and interests. It is not up for discussion nor is it to be subjected to any other desire. God knows the need of the world for the gospel, and He knows whom He wants to fill that need. Therefore, we must hear His call when it comes and surrender to it.

“Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain: that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you” (Jn.15:16).

“But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel” (Acts 9:15).

1. Paul witnessed to all men everywhere. As soon as he was saved, he began immediately to witness for Christ. He proclaimed Christ...

- at Damascus, the very city where he was visiting when he was converted (cp. Acts 9:20).
- at Jerusalem where he had been educated and was so well known as a Pharisee (Acts 9:29).
- throughout all Judea, all the cities, towns, and villages—to everyone whose path he crossed.
- to the Gentiles, those who were at odds with the Jews, but whom God loved as much as the Jews.

“Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world” (Mt.28:19-20).

“But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

“For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard” (Acts 4:20).

“Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God” (2 Tim.1:8).

2. Paul preached repentance, the need for every man to turn to God and to do the works of repentance. Note several points.

- a. Proclaiming repentance to men is the call of God to believers (see note and DEEPER STUDY # 1, Repentance—Acts 17:29-30 for discussion).
- b. Turning to God implies faith. No man is going to turn to God who doesn't believe in God. Therefore, proclaiming faith and repentance toward God is the call of believers.
- c. Proclaiming that men must do the works of repentance is also the call of the believer. A man has truly repented when he is living a life of repentance. It does not matter what the man claims: if he is living a sinful life, he is a sinful man and not a repentant man. Repentance concerns...
  - how a man lives
  - what a man does
  - where a man goes
  - what a man reads
  - how a man talks

The works, the acts, the behavior, the deeds of a man...

- are always the works of repentance if a man has repented.
- are always the works of a sinner if a man has not repented.

Thought 1. Today believers neglect proclaiming the works of repentance. Yet, a changed life is the very foundation of salvation: it is what salvation is all about. There is no salvation apart from a life of righteousness. It is this message that must be proclaimed loudly and clearly; for multitudes are deceived and resting in the false security of religion, ritual, ceremony, church membership, baptism, worship attendance, heritage, good parents, morality, and a host of other ideas.

“Repent ye: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand” (Mt.3:2).

“Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost” (Acts 2:38).

“Repent ye therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee” (Acts 8:22).

“And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men every where to repent” (Acts 17:30).

“If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land” (2 Chron.7:14).

“Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon” (Is.55:7).

“But if the wicked will turn from all his sins that he hath committed, and keep all my statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, he shall not die” (Ezk.18:21).

3. Paul said that he was being persecuted and charged because he was obedient to the Lord's call; that is, he was proclaiming the simple message that men should repent and turn to God and do good works. Note Paul's emphasis: What harm was there in his message, the message of the gospel? It was not harmful to men; it was good—good for individuals and for society. The charges against him made no sense. The gospel changed people's lives, turned people...

- from evil to good
- from immorality to morality
- from defeat to victory
- from enslavement to freedom
- from discouragement to meaningfulness
- from barrenness to fruitfulness
- from weakness to power
- from hopelessness to assurance

“Let your light so shine before men, that they may see you good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven” (Mt.5:16).

“That they do good, that they be rich in good works, ready to distribute, willing to communicate” (1 Tim.6:18).

“In all things showing thyself a pattern of good works: in doctrine showing uncorruptness, gravity, sincerity” (Tit.2:7).

“And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works” (Heb.10:24).

“Having your conversation honest among the Gentiles: that, whereas they speak against you as evildoers, they may by your good works, which they shall behold, glorify God in the day of visitation” (1 Pt.2:12).

2 (26:22-23) Witnessing: there was Paul's faithfulness—he continued to bear witness to both small and great. Opposition had not stopped him, discouraged him, nor defeated him. Note Paul's glorious testimony to God's love and care: God had always been there to help him, encouraging and strengthening him to continue on in his call.

Thought 1. The faithful believer can always depend upon God's help when needed. But we must always remember: God sometimes allows us to suffer trial in order to make us tougher, but God always steps in when it is time. Heavy trials always make us stronger and more able to do greater things for God through the new toughness we gain.

Another significant fact is this: Paul did not select his audience. He went after and witnessed to all: small and great, poor and rich, unknown and known, ignorant and intelligent, common person and ruler, child and adult. He exempted no one from his message and efforts. The witness of Paul included three striking facts.

1. He bore witness to the Scripture, to all “which the prophets and Moses did say should come” (v.22). Paul bore witness to nothing else—only to the Scriptures—and he concentrated on the prophecies of the Scriptures. (See outline and notes—Acts 24:14-16; Ro.1:1-7; 2 Tim.3:16 for more discussion. Cp. also 2 Pt.1:19-21.)

“For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe” (1 Th.2:13).

“All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness” (2 Tim.3:16).

2. He bore witness to Christ's death. The words “that Christ should suffer” (ei pathetos ho Christos) are spoken from the Jewish point of view. Paul was declaring that Christ, the Messiah, must suffer; He was destined to suffer. The Messiah was a man who was not only capable of suffering, but He had to suffer. His death was ordained; it was a must in the mind of God and prophesied in the Scripture. There was no other way for God to save man other than by the death of His Son, the Messiah. (See outline and notes, Jesus Christ, Death—Acts 2:22-24; DEEPER STUDY # 2—2:23 for more discussion.)

It is this point—the cross—that was such a stumbling block to the Jews. They could see a Messiah of glory, power, fame, and wealth; but not a Messiah of suffering and death (see outline and notes—1 Cor.1:22-24 for more discussion).

“But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us” (Ro.5:8).

“Who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father” (Gal.1:4).

“Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works” (Tit.2:14).

“Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness: by whose stripes ye were healed” (1 Pt.2:24).

“For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit” (1 Pt.3:18).

3. He bore witness to Christ's resurrection (see notes, pt.4—Acts 13:23-41; DEEPER STUDY # 4—Acts 2:24; note—2:25-36 for discussion). Note the statement that Jesus was the first to arise from the dead. This means He was the first-fruits, the preeminent One, the prominent One, the first in importance to arise from the dead. He was the first to arise who never again had to die (Ro.6:9). The few who had arisen before Him had to die again.

“Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain: whom God hath raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it” (Acts 2:23-24).

“But ye denied the Holy One and the Just, and desired a murderer to be granted unto you; and killed the Prince of life, whom God hath raised from the dead; whereof we are witnesses” (Acts 3:14-15).

“And with great power gave the apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and great grace was upon them all” (Acts 4:33).

“And we are witnesses of all things which he did both in the land of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; whom they slew and hanged on a tree: Him God raised up the third day, and showed him openly” (Acts 10:39-40). “And Paul, as his manner was, went in unto them, and three sabbath days reasoned with them out of the Scriptures, opening and alleging, that Christ must needs have suffered, and risen again from the dead; and that this Jesus, whom I preach unto you, is Christ” (Acts 17:2-3).

“And declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the Spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead” (Ro.1:4).

“That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved” (Ro.10:9).

“And that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the Scriptures” (1 Cor.15:4).

“Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead” (1 Pt.1:3).

3 (26:24-32) Faithfulness—Testimony: there was the conclusion, the verdict upon Paul. Three striking verdicts can be gleaned from this passage.

1. The first verdict was madness. This was the view of Festus. The scene is, of course, tragic; but it was also somewhat humorous. There was Paul preaching away as earnestly and diligently as he could, and then he came to the resurrection of the Lord Jesus. Note what happened.

a. Festus, the practical materialist and humanist, blurted out with a loud voice, “Paul, you are beside yourself, mad, insane. There is no such thing as arising from the dead. Such is impossible! Totally impossible!”

Festus charged Paul with having conceived the resurrection in his own mind. He shouted out that the resurrection was nothing more than imagination, fanciful thinking, wild madness, foolish thought, empty hope—the idea of a man who had studied and reasoned too much in religious theology.

b. Paul's response to Festus was calm and straight-forward. He declared that he preached the truth and did it soberly, that is, rationally, in complete control of his senses.

c. King Agrippa knew the Scripture. If he would, he could confirm...

- that Scripture predicted the coming of the Messiah.
- that news of Jesus' claims and death and resurrection had swept the whole country and surrounding areas.

d. Paul put King Agrippa on the spot by asking, “Do you believe the Scripture, King Agrippa?” Note that Paul answered his own question, convinced that the King did believe the Old Testament Scripture. Apparently, Paul noticed some interest or conviction working in Festus and he was appealing to him to come forth for Christ.

2. The second verdict was evangelistic fervor. The words of King Agrippa are known by Christians worldwide, having served as a basic text for preachers of every generation. Some translate King Agrippa as saying, “You expect to make me a Christian in so short a time.” Others, “You almost persuaded me to be a Christian.” Whatever King Agrippa meant, he was familiar with the Scripture and apparently was gripped by Paul's message. His interest was aroused by the possibility that Jesus really was the Jewish Messiah. He saw Paul's point, what Paul was after, and what he, the King, and all the others sitting there had to do. Paul was after them, out to lead them into belief and repentance toward the Lord Jesus. But note: interest and knowing what to do, even conviction, are not enough to save a person.

Paul longed for all who were under the sound of his voice to be saved. He apparently raised his chained hands toward the audience sitting in the great hall and poured out his heart:

“I would to God, that not only thou, but also all that hear me this day, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bonds” (v.29).

Thought 1. Every believer should bear witness with the same evangelistic fervor that was so aflame in Paul.

“Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest” (Jn.4:35).

“For I could wish that myself were accursed from Christ for my brethren, my kinsmen according to the flesh” (Ro.9:3).

“Brethren, my heart’s desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saved” (Ro.10:1).

“For though I be free from all men, yet have I made myself servant unto all, that I might gain the more. And unto the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain the Jews; to them that are under the law, as under the law, that I might gain them that are under the law” (1 Cor.9:19-20).

“Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us: we pray you in Christ’s stead, be ye reconciled to God” (2 Cor.5:20).

“And others save with fear, pulling them out of the fire; hating even the garment spotted by the flesh” (Jude 23).

3. The third verdict was that Paul was innocent of the charges. The Scripture and outline need no explanation.

DIVISION XI

THE FINAL JOURNEY AND WITNESS OF PAUL: TO ROME AS A PRISONER, 23:12-28:31

G. Paul Sails for Rome: Great Trust and God's Care, 27:1-44

(27:1-44) Introduction: this is one of the most dramatic scenes imaginable; it is fascinating reading. The detail given on shipping and a shipwreck in the ancient world is one of the most graphic in all literature. At the same time, it is a picture of a believer's great trust and of God's great care. As such it is a challenging lesson for every believer to trust God through all the trials of life, even through the most terrifying trials.

1. The journey to Rome began (v.1-3).
2. A picture of greed and godly counsel (v.4-12).
3. A picture of deceptive calm and great courage (v.13-26).
4. A picture of man's way vs. God's way to save men (v.27-32).
5. A picture of fear and hunger and godly trust (v.33-38).
6. A picture of trial and God's providence v.(39-44).

1 (27:1-3) Paul, Life: the journey to Rome began. This would be the last journey for Paul. Never again would he return to his beloved Palestine and people, not as far as Acts is concerned. The Book is about to be closed on his life. Note four introductory facts as the journey began.

1. Paul and some other prisoners were placed under a centurion named Julius (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, Centurion—Acts 23:23). The fact that the prisoners were being shipped to Rome for trial would mean...
  - that some had appealed to Caesar just as Paul had.
  - that others were condemned to appear as combatants in the gladiatorial shows of the Roman arena to feed the immoral and violent cravings of the populace.

Thought 1. Note the paradox of society, executing a sensitive justice (the right to appeal to Caesar) while also...

- allowing and feeding the sinful urges of men for immorality and violence.
- using disadvantaged human beings to feed the lusts of men for immorality and violence.

Thought 2. Note how the believer is counted among the worthless, the violators, the useless, the prisoners of society. Believers are often conceived as being useless, unproductive, and worthless by society—especially in societies where Christian believers are a minority. Christian believers seldom have and seldom will be esteemed by society. Persecution and abuse are the fate of the believer (cp. Ph.1:29; 1 Th.3:3; 2 Tim.3:12; 1 Jn.3:13; 1 Pt.4:12f).

2. The group took passage on a ship from Adramyttium which was a port near Troas on the Asian coast. Note the ship was to hug the coastline, stopping at ports all along the coast unloading and loading cargo. It was only temporary transportation until Julius could find a larger ship in one of the ports that was heading directly for Italy.

3. Luke and Aristarchus accompanied Paul. Luke had dropped from the scene when Paul was arrested after being attacked by the mob in the temple (cp. Acts 21:18), but note the “we” sections begin again. Aristarchus was the disciple from the Thessalonian church...
  - who helped Paul carry the relief offerings to the Jerusalem church. (See note, Aristarchus—Acts 20:4-6.)
  - who had been seized by the mob in Ephesus (Acts 19:29).

Thought 1. In great trial, believers must accompany and stand by the side of each other.

4. A respect and friendship developed between Paul and Julius, the centurion (cp. Acts 27:43; 28:16). Julius allowed Paul to visit the Christian believers in Sidon (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, Sidon—Acts 27:3). Note the words “refresh himself” (epimelerias tuchein). This may mean either hospitality or medical attention.

Thought 1. Note the lesson on being considerate and helping those less fortunate or in worse situations than ourselves, no matter the circumstances.

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(27:3) Sidon: the city is ancient, the oldest city of Phoenicia, lying just twenty miles above the city of Tyre and about the same distance south of modern Beirut or ancient Berytus. (See Map—Introduction to Acts.) The city was an excellent port in ancient history, having several islands lying right off the mainland. The city was a bustling commercial center, but it was eventually bypassed in importance by its sister city, Tyre (Is.23:12). Sidon...

- fell prey to all the conquering empires that moved in upon that part of the world: Assyria, Babylon, Persia, Greece, and Rome.
- bordered the land given to the tribe of Asher (Josh.19:28).
- was known for its timber (1 Ki.5:6; Ezra 3:7).
- was known for its pagan worship, especially of Baal and Ashtoreth.
- influenced Israel, tragically leading the nation into idolatrous worship, especially under Jezebel who was from Sidon (1 Ki.16:31-33; 18:18-40; Is.23:1f; Ezk.28:21f).
- was never visited by Christ, but He did visit its borders and surrounding area (see note—Mt.15:21).
- had some citizens who followed Jesus (Mk.3:8; Lk.6:17).
- had a Christian church founded by laymen who had fled the persecution surrounding Stephen (Acts 27:3; cp. 8:1-4; 11:19).
- was visited by Paul as a prisoner on his final journey to Rome (Acts 27:3).
- will be judged in the last day for its worldliness, but less severely than many cities (Mt.11:21-22).

2 (27:4-12) Greed: there is the picture of greed and godly counsel. Note four significant facts.

1. It was a difficult season for sailing, that is, the days of late fall, right before the winter months when no sailing was possible because of winter winds and storms (November through February). The outline of this fact shows just how difficult sailing was.

- a. The winds were “contrary” (enantious): strong and forceful, a northwest headwind faced them. Therefore, they could not strike a straight course through the open sea. They had to sail north of Cyprus instead of south, using the island and the mainland of Asia to break the force of the wind and to provide some shelter and safety. The body of water over which they sailed was known as the Sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia. Eventually they reached the port of Myra, a city of the province of Lycia.

- b. Julius found just what he wanted at Lycia—a large ship heading for Italy. The group transferred over to the ship, a grain ship from Alexandria, the chief city of Egypt. Most grain ships of that day carried passengers as well as grain.
- c. The ship ploughed ahead, but ever so slowly. Note...
  - it took “many days” to spot Cnidus, a city on the southwest tip of Asia minor. It was only 130 miles from Myra.
  - the wind was so strong they could not risk docking at Cnidus.
  - they were forced by the winds to turn southward and pass under Crete, using the island to break the wind.
  - they barely made it, docking at a small port on the south side of Crete.

2. The season for sailing passed—to sail ahead now would be dangerous (v.9). Note: the feast referred to was the great Day of Atonement which at this time was celebrated in the first part of October (Lev.16:29).

3. Paul counseled everyone not to sail. They were weatherbound in Fair Havens for a long time, past the time when safe sailing weather was assured. To sail now would be risky. Paul said, “I perceive.” How did Paul perceive? Probably from...

- his sea experience as a traveller.
- his experience of having already been shipwrecked three times (2 Cor.11:25).
- his close communion with the Lord.

4. Paul’s counsel was rejected. And note why: the centurion’s worldly-mindedness and the greed of the ship’s owner and master. This is the very point: the godly man’s counsel was rejected because of greed and worldliness. The centurion was concerned about the suitability of the harbor, Fair Havens, for the winter; and about the town, Lasea, not providing enough conveniences and pleasures for his soldiers. The ship owner and master were concerned about the expense of preserving the wheat or else the possibility of losing the wheat over the winter if they remained at Fair Haven.

Thought 1. Men often risk their lives and souls because of...

- pleasure: food, drink, fleshly satisfaction, partying, and social opportunities.
- greed: getting more and more of the things of this world.

“And he said unto them, Take heed, and beware of covetousness: for a man’s life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth” (Lk.12:15).

“Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth; fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry” (Col.3:5).

“For the love of money is the root of all evil: which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows” (1 Tim.6:10).

“Your gold and silver is cankered; and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. Ye have heaped treasure together for the last days” (Jas.5:3).

Thought 2. The centurion, as the imperial authority of Rome, had the authority to make the decision. He followed the advice of the experienced seaman. But note: both profession and skill are doomed to failure without God. A man, no matter his experience and skill, needs God to give direction and guidance through the terrible trials of life.

Thought 3. Note how Paul’s mission to Rome was being delayed by natural circumstances and hindrances. He was not able to sail through his ministry on a straight course without facing trials. He had to live through the trials and troubles of life.

“There hath no temptation [trial] taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it” (1 Cor.10:13).

“My brethren, count it all joy when ye fall into divers temptations [trials]; knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience. But let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing” (Jas.1:2-4).

“Blessed is the man that endureth temptation [trial]: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him” (Jas.1:12).

“The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished” (2 Pt.2:9).

3 (27:13-26) Courage—Stedfastness: there is the picture of deceptive calm and great courage. The ship’s officers hoped to reach Phoenix which was the major port on the west side of Crete some 60 miles from Fair Haven. Note five points.

1. The deceptive calm. All of a sudden, nature seemed to favor the decision of the worldly men. A soft, calm breeze began to blow out of the south. The crew quickly loosed anchor and set sail, sailing as close to the shoreline as possible—just in case their fate changed course.

2. And change course it did. Just when nature seemed to be blessing them, the old enemy, the violent Euroclydon, the violent northeasterly storm, blew in. It came unexpectedly, so suddenly that the ship could not be turned to face the wind. It was a typhoon-like storm with engulfing, swallowing power; and it drove the ship out into the sea, making control utterly impossible. Note the words, “We let her drive,” that is, let the storm drive the ship at will. They could do nothing else.

3. They tried desperately to save the ship. The storm drove them under (south of) a small island, Clauda, and the island broke the wind so that they were able to take some measures in an attempt to save the boat and their lives. Working at a feverish pitch before the tempest drove them beyond the shelter of the island...

- they struggled with great difficulty, hoisting the lifeboat up on deck.
- they struggled, using strong ropes or chains to wrap around the boat to hold it together against the force of the slapping waves. The storm was violent and there were terrifying dangers. There was the danger that the ship’s timbers might come apart or that the mast might be torn loose by the force of the wind. This in turn would rip the timbers loose. So the crew literally tied the ship together. They passed howsers under the ship and used their wrenches to draw them tight.
- they struggled to keep the boat out of the quicksand off the north African coast. (Note how far they were being driven off course.)
- they struggled to lighten the ship, throwing overboard everything they could do without. Even the tackling (furniture and sailing equipment) was sacrificed to save the ship.

4. It was only natural that a hopeless depression set in upon the sailors and the passengers. They had been caught in the storm so long that it had been many days since they had seen the sun and stars. All hope of their being saved had passed.

5. God’s man stepped forth with a commanding courage. And his courage in the midst of a fierce storm is a picture of the courage every man can have through the trials of this life. Note what Paul did.

- a. He proclaimed the failure of the worldly to heed the warning of the godly. Paul had warned that if they proceeded to follow the course of pleasure and greed, they would run the risk of...
  - hurt
  - damage
  - loss
  - doom
- b. He proclaimed God’s promise. In the case of Paul, God promised that all on board the ship would be saved. But to be saved, the worldly crew and passengers would have to obey God and His messenger. Note...
  - the angel of God assured Paul.
  - Paul stressed his God, the only true God, in contrast to the heathen gods of the worldly on board.
- c. Paul proclaimed his faith in God’s promise. There was no way that Paul could have known that no one would lose his life except by a revelation from God. However, the point is this: Paul’s great faith in his God, the only living and true God. God had spoken and Paul believed what God had said. The lesson to us is clear: we can trust the promises of God. God will save us if we will trust and believe.
- d. Paul proclaimed the necessity of trial first. The trial of shipwreck would force everyone to prove their trust in the promise of God. Hereafter, every man would have to listen to God’s Word, would have to go through the trial of being shipwrecked if he was to be saved (cp. v.27-31).

Thought 1. The proof of true faith in God is enduring to the end, through all trials, no matter how severe.

“But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved” (Mt.24:13).

“Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord” (1 Cor.15:58).

4 (27:27-32) Jesus Christ, Mediator—Salvation: there is the picture of man’s way vs. God’s way to save men. Fourteen life-threatening days had passed since the ship had left Fair Haven. It was midnight and the sailors had no idea where they were, but they sensed they were close to some land. In sounding the depth, they discovered they were being driven toward shore. They were terrified, for the likelihood was that they were going to crash upon a rocky shore. Quickly, they dropped anchor, awaiting day break and hoping for the best. What happened is graphic. The sailors plotted an escape, ignoring the Word and promise of God entirely. Paul discovered the plot and proclaimed that God’s way for saving everyone had to be followed if anyone wished to be saved.

Thought 1. Men are always plotting their own way of salvation. But God has proclaimed the way, and there is no other way any man can be saved.

“For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life” (Jn.3:16).

“Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of eternal life” (Jn.6:68).

“I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins” (Jn.8:24).

“Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me” (Jn.14:6).

“For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus” (1 Tim.2:5).

“Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved” (Acts 4:12).

“For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ” (1 Cor.3:11).

Thought 2. Note the trust of the centurion in God’s promise. The life boat could have been used to save some of the people, but the centurion trusted Paul’s proclamation that his God would save them all. He destroyed the life boat.

5 (27:33-38) Fear—Trust: there is the picture of fear and hunger and godly trust. The scene is self-explanatory (see Scripture and outline above). Note two significant points.

1. The gripping power of fear is understandable. They had been held by the hands of the fierce storm for fourteen days, captured under the canopy of pitch darkness and without food and sleep. Just imagine—fourteen days!

Thought 1. The desperate trials of life grip men with fear, hopeless fear. How desperately we need the glorious promise of God’s Word.

2. The invitation to eat was extended by Paul, and the assurance of God’s saving promise and power was given again (v.34). Note how Paul focused everything upon God. The crew and passengers began to take heart and to trust the promise of salvation.

Thought 1. The messenger of God must...

- believe and trust God’s Word and promise.
- focus everything upon God’s Word and promise.

Then he can expect men to take heart and to begin responding, trusting the Word and promises of God to save them.

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(27:35) Prayer, Before Meals: cp. Mt.14:19; Mk.6:41; Lk.9:16; Jn.6:11.

6 (27:39-44) Trial—God, Providence: there is the picture of trial and God’s providence. Again the scene is self-explanatory (see Scripture and outline above). Note several things.

1. Why did God not just allow the ship to make it safely to shore without wrecking? Why was the trial made so difficult for the crew and passengers? Very simply...

- trials are used by God to cause men to turn to God for salvation.
- trials prove that a person really trusts God.
- trials make a believer stronger so he can stand against even tougher trials in the future and demonstrate the presence and power of God to a greater degree. The world needs to see the demonstration of God’s presence and power, and the only way they can see it is in the life of believers as they go through trials.

2. The soldiers were governed by a law that if they allowed a prisoner to escape they were to be killed (v.42). It was a merciless law, a code of the world that was devoid of morality.

3. Note how God overruled both the soldiers’ plan to kill the prisoners and the shipwreck to fulfill His promise and Word. God will always fulfill His promise and Word, no matter how much He has to twist and overrule the plans and plots of men and the circumstances of nature and events.

4. God did exactly what He had said and promised; He saved everyone and vindicated His messenger. But note: each one had to go through the frightening trial of being shipwrecked and scrambling to shore.

“Who delivered us from so great a death, and doth deliver: in whom we trust that he will yet deliver us” (2 Cor.1:10).

“And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever” (2 Tim.4:18).

“The LORD is my strength and my shield; my heart trusted in him, and I am helped: therefore my heart greatly rejoiceth; and with my song will I praise him” (Ps.28:7).

“Fear thou not; For I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness” (Is.41:10).

DIVISION XI

THE FINAL JOURNEY AND WITNESS OF PAUL: TO ROME AS A PRISONER, 23:12-28:31

H. Paul—Shipwrecked and Stranded on an Island: God’s Protection Through Trial After Trial, 28:1-15

(28:1-15) Introduction: God’s protective hand in looking after His servant is clearly seen in this passage. The genuine believer can study this passage and rest assured of God’s protective hand through all the trials of life, no matter how severe they may be. (See Map—Introduction to Acts for a picture of Paul’s journey and the cities he touched on his journey.)

1. Shipwrecked—but saved (v.1).
2. Marooned and facing island natives—but accepted and helped (v.2).
3. Snakebitten—but healed (v.3-5).
4. Faced superstition and heathenism—but given an opportunity for evangelism (v.6-9).
5. Destitute and stranded—but had necessities met (v.10-12).
6. Apprehensive and lonely—but encouraged and strengthened (v.13-15).

1 (28:1) Deliverance: God’s messenger was shipwrecked, but saved. God had promised to save Paul and He did, and God also saved everyone else on the ship. But there were terrible trials, trials so threatening that only God could have saved His messenger. There was...

- the violent storm which mercilessly drove the ship under its own ferocious power for fourteen days (Acts 27:14f).

- the utter hopelessness of the situation: everyone except Paul had lost all hope of being saved (Acts 27:20).
- the attempted abandonment of the ship by the sailors to save their own lives, dooming all passengers to shipwreck and death (Acts 27:30).
- the soldiers' plan to kill all prisoners, including Paul, to prevent their escape (Acts 27:42).

The point is that God promised to deliver Paul and God kept His promise. He always does.

“For we would not, brethren, have you ignorant of our trouble which came to us in Asia, that we were pressed out of measure, above strength, insomuch that we despaired even of life: but we had the sentence of death in ourselves, that we should not trust in ourselves, but in God which raiseth the dead: who delivered us from so great a death, and doth deliver: in whom we trust that he will yet deliver us; ye also helping together by prayer for us” (2 Cor.1:8-11).

“The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished” (2 Pt.2:9).

“And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever” (2 Tim.4:18).

“There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it” (1 Cor.10:13).

“Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil; and deliver them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage” (Heb.2:14-15).

“And he said, The LORD is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer” (2 Sam.22:2).

“I sought the LORD, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears” (Ps.34:4).

“For thou hast delivered my soul from death: wilt not thou deliver my feet from falling, that I may walk before God in the light of the living?” (Ps.56:13).

“And even to your old age I am he; and even to hoar [gray] hairs will I carry you: I have made, and I will bear; even I will carry, and will deliver you” (Is.46:4).

“Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the LORD” (Jer.1:8).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(28:1) Melita: the island on which Paul was shipwrecked is known as Malta or Melita. (See Map—Introduction to Acts.) It lay about sixty miles south of Sicily and was placed under the province of Sicily by Rome. The governor of Sicily therefore appointed the ruler of the island. The populace were native islanders, neither of Greek or Roman blood. The island was relatively unimportant in the trade of the world.

2 (28:2) Trials—Deliverance: God’s messenger was marooned and faced island natives, but he was accepted and helped. Note two things.

1. The natives were called “barbarians,” but this does not mean they were an uncivilized people. In the ancient world all who did not follow Greek customs and speak the Greek language were called barbarians. All non-Greeks and non-Romans were foreigners, a barbarian people.

2. The island natives were, however, isolated on a somewhat insignificant and poor island. They could have easily...
- felt threatened by the shipwrecked victims and killed them.
  - taken advantage of the situation and killed and stolen whatever valuables the survivors had such as rings and gold chains.

But note God’s overruling protection. The natives showed a kindness beyond the ordinary. The word “kindness” (philanthropic) is the word from which we get our word philanthropy. In Greek it means a love for mankind, the kind of love that reaches out in special kindness. Apparently, the natives helped the shipwrecked victims by extending many kindnesses to them. The point to see is how God takes care of those who believe His promises and follow His instructions. He had said that He would save His messenger and everyone else, but the crew almost ruined it. They set out to save themselves, not accepting God’s Word. Only the strong warning of God and the destruction of the lifeboat (man-saving devices) saved the crew. And note: it was from this point on that things began to go well for everyone. When there was nothing on board to save the ship’s crew and passengers, when their only hope and trust was in Paul’s God, then God was able to take over and begin to bless all. They were saved, gloriously so, and welcomed abundantly by the natives of the island. God again fulfilled His glorious promise.

3 (28:3-5) Trials—Deliverance: God’s messenger was snakebitten, but healed. Why did God let His dear servant be snakebitten? Had he not already suffered and gone through enough? He had just gone through...

- a terrifying storm for fourteen days.
- struggling for his life in the blackness of the storm.
- being abandoned by mutinous sailors on a ship about to be wrecked upon the rocks of the shore.
- having his life threatened by Roman soldiers who feared he might escape.
- having to jump overboard and swim for his life in the midst of a terrifying typhoon.

And now, he was rushing about in a torrential rain bitterly soaked and cold, gathering wood for the fire which had just been built. He had not even had a chance to get warm when the snake leaped out of the fire and latched onto Paul’s hand.

Thought 1. How often believers ask, “Why? O God, why do I have to keep on suffering so much pain, so many trials?”

Note two very significant points.

1. God took care of Paul through the trial, healing him instantaneously.
2. God used the trial to reach many for Christ. The natives saw the delivering power of God, and by seeing His care for Paul, they were more ready to listen to the gospel. They would soon learn that God was the only true and living God, the God who was truly alive and who saved and looked after all who truly trusted Him. (See DEEPER STUDY # 3, Suffering—Mt.8:1-4 for more discussion as to why God allows trials in the believer’s life.)

“And these signs shall follow them that believe; in my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; they shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover” (Mk.16:17-18).

“Casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you” (1 Pt.5:7).

“For the eyes of the LORD run to and fro through out the whole earth, to show himself strong in the behalf of them whose heart is perfect toward him. Herein thou hast done foolishly: therefore from henceforth, thou shalt have wars” (2 Chron.16:9).

“He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler” (Ps.91:4).

“Fear thou not; For I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness” (Is.41:10).

4 (28:6-9) Superstition—Heathenism: God’s messenger faced superstition and heathenism, but he was given a unique opportunity for evangelism.

1. Note the belief of superstition and heathenism. The natives thought a god (justice, vengeance) had finally caught up with Paul. They knew he was a criminal, guilty of some major crime, for he was chained and being shipped to Rome either for trial or execution. The snake bite was sure death, so they reasoned he was a murderer, receiving from the gods equal punishment for an equal crime.

Thought 1. Note how men of every generation hold to the same superstition and heathenism. Natural man has always felt...

- that he suffers because of foolishness, wrongdoing, irresponsible behavior, sin.
- that he is being punished for his evil deeds.
- that the god or gods are after him because of his wrongdoing.

There is, of course, some truth to the belief. A man does reap what he sows. However, he does not always bear severe suffering in this life. Many do, but some do not, not personally. The trials of this life are usually normal and natural trials, trials that just result from a corruptible, sinful world. The major judgment for sin is to take place after this life, when we enter eternity, and it is to be handled in a face to face confrontation with God.

2. The instability of the human soul without Christ. How quickly the natives switched their thoughts about Paul when they saw he was unharmed by the snakebite. They immediately thought he was a god-like man.

Thought 1. Men cannot understand the miracles of God, the miracles...

- of changed lives, lives radically and completely changed.
- of healed bodies, bodies made whole, unexplainably so.
- of circumstances triumphed over, victoriously and powerfully so.

Miracles confuse and disturb most people. They cannot understand miracles, so they deny or else explain them away. If miracles are true and God is living, then they are doomed unless they repent, and most persons are just unwilling to repent. The point is this: man’s soul apart from God is unstable, reaching out into the natural world and grasping at whatever...

- |                       |                  |
|-----------------------|------------------|
| • becomes visual      | • materializes   |
| • seems to be real    | • builds esteem  |
| • appears explainable | • gives pleasure |
| • emerges evident     |                  |

Most persons grasp at everything except God Himself. As a result the souls of people are unstable and unsure of eternity.

3. Note that the results of the miracle were directed by God. Paul and his Christian companions and some others (probably the officers of the soldiers and of the ship) were greeted and given lodging for three days by the chief ruler of the island, a man named Publius. Nothing is known about the ruler other than what is given here. Malta was a province of Sicily and under the jurisdiction of its governor; therefore, the ruler of Malta was placed in power by the Roman governor. He may have been a Roman magistrate placed on the island or a local native who had been placed in power.

The point is that God used the trial and miracle of the snakebite to open the door of the island for Paul to minister and preach the gospel (cp. v.8-9).

Thought 1. Note two significant lessons. Believers are...

- to bear up under their trials enduring all, no matter how severe, knowing that God is planning to use the trial for His glory.
- to use their trials as opportunities for evangelism.

Thought 2. Note Paul's faithfulness, the focus of his whole life. He was not moaning and groaning, not down and defeated, not questioning and wondering why so much bad had happened to him (see note—Acts 28:3-5). He was out witnessing and ministering. Just picture the scene, all he had just gone through which was enough to crush most men. Yet here he was marching forth, bearing up under all, proclaiming the Lord Jesus.

"Then spake the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speak, and hold thy peace: for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee: for I have much people in this city" (Acts 18:9-10).

"Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God" (2 Tim.1:8).

"These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee" (Tit.2:15).

- 5 (28:10-12) Care—Necessities: God's messenger was destitute, but God took care of his necessities. Paul and all the others had lost practically everything in the shipwreck. Yet God is seen working behind the scenes to take care of the necessities of His servant. And note: those surrounding him had their needs met also. (See outline and note—Mt.6:25-34 for more discussion.) One of the needs, of course, was passage to Rome. The island of Malta, although insignificant in the trade of world commerce, had a port on the other side of the island from where Paul's ship had crushed upon the rocks. Note how a major grain ship had been forced to winter there. The name of the ship was Castor and Pollux, which was the name of the two mythical sons of the god Jupiter. They were the twin gods who were the protectors of navigation. Paul and the others were able to catch this ship and begin their journey to Rome.

Thought 1. Note how the hand of God is ever maneuvering events, working all things out for the good of His dear servants.

"But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you" (Mt.6:33).

"And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose" (Ro.8:28).

- 6 (28:13-15) God's Care—Paul Sustained: God's messenger was apprehensive and lonely, but God encouraged and strengthened him. Note the words, "He thanked God and took courage." Apparently, Paul was experiencing some intense apprehension and loneliness. Such emotions under the circumstances are certainly understandable.

"Be strong and of a good courage, fear not, nor be afraid of them: for the LORD thy God, he it is that doth go with thee; he will not fail thee, nor forsake thee" (Dt.31:6).

"Arise; for this matter belongeth unto thee: we also will be with thee: be of good courage, and do it" (Ezra 10:4).

"Fear thou not; For I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness" (Is.41:10).

"When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee" (Is.43:2).

As the ship slowly inched its way into the great harbor of Puteoli, Paul stood on deck with his head turning slowly from side to side. He viewed the great Roman war ships anchored in the harbor, the beaches and yachts of the wealthy, the mass of storehouses and shops, and the endless stream of people. How deeply he must have sensed the awesomeness of imperial Rome! He must have sensed that Rome was more than just a new and strange city for him to conquer for Christ. It was the capital of the world. All of a sudden he felt all alone and apprehensive. What was going to happen to him? What kind of new sufferings lay before him as he stood trial for his life? How would the believers of Rome receive him? He was entering the city not as a flaming evangel for God, but as a prisoner of imperial Rome, a prisoner being charged with a capital crime. Would they fear to be associated with him? They did not know him, not personally. They only knew about him through the letter he had written to them about three years earlier. Had they forgotten? Had they fallen back into the world, forsaken the faith? What was their status and what would their spirit be toward him?

In such an apprehensive moment, being gripped with thoughts of being all alone, God entered the scene. God met the need of His dear messenger. Christian believers were found in the seaport and God granted seven days with them. And much more, God sent two welcoming parties from the church in Rome, one that travelled over forty miles and the other over thirty miles—both to escort him into the great city of Rome. The picture in the Greek language is that of the welcoming parties coming to give God's precious servant a welcome fit for a conqueror, fit for a king.

DIVISION XI

THE FINAL JOURNEY AND WITNESS OF PAUL: TO ROME AS A PRISONER, 23:12-28:31

I. Paul in Rome: A Strategy for Evangelism in the Great City, 28:16-31

(28:16-31) Introduction: the last words of the great Book of Acts center upon evangelism, Paul's strategy for reaching the great city of Rome for Christ.

1. Paul entered Rome as a prisoner (v.16).
2. Step 1: an explanatory meeting with the religious leadership (v.17-22).
3. Step 2: a clear proclamation of the message (v.23-24).
4. Step 3: a turning to those who would receive the gospel, the Gentiles (v.25-29).
5. Step 4: a mission of continued evangelism (v.30-31).

1 (28:16) Paul: Paul entered Rome as a prisoner. The other prisoners were turned over to the proper officer of the Roman guard. Paul was allowed to secure private housing for himself and allowed to have guests as he willed (v.16, 23, 30). This was probably due to the letter from Festus and King Herod Agrippa (Acts 25:13f) and a recommendation by Julius because of the help and cooperative spirit of Paul along the journey to Rome (Acts 27:1f). Paul was, however, placed under house arrest, being chained by the wrist to a soldier twenty four hours a day.

Thought 1. Note the providence of God in overruling the normal affairs of men. His messenger, in a private house, would be able to proclaim the gospel to all who visited him.

2 (28:17-22) Witnessing—Evangelism: the first step in evangelizing the city was an explanatory meeting with the religious leaders. Paul was able to secure a house and settle down within three days. Note: despite the unbelievable ordeal of the last three months, he did not rest a single day. He launched right into his ministry of evangelism. Being under house arrest, he sent a request to all the Jewish leaders throughout Rome to meet him at an appointed time in his house. They would come, for Paul was well known for being the chief exponent and teacher of Christianity throughout the world. The Jews especially knew of him, for he had been one of the brightest stars of their nation until his conversion to Christ, and he was now the one who riled up the Jews so much wherever he went. They would come out of curiosity to see this man who had become such a controversial figure throughout the world, to see just what he had to say.

There were at least seven synagogues in Rome at this time. Just how many leaders from each attended the meeting is not known. Paul simply related what had happened to him, why he had been arrested and why he was now to appear before Caesar. His purpose was...

- to remove the doubts and questions, rumors and prejudices they might hold against him. He wanted to share the gospel with them. Paul's heart ached for his own people and he always reached out to them first wherever he went. He had written to the believers earlier that his love for his own people was so deep he would give his own soul for their salvation (Ro.9:1-3; 10:1).

The Scripture and outline of these verses show clearly what Paul says. Noting the points and referring to the events of the Scripture will explain them in detail (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, Paul, Trials—Acts 28:17-22 for Scripture where each event is discussed).

Thought 1. Paul set at least three dynamic examples for us in these verses.

- 1) The example of dedication—an enormous dedication to reach people with the gospel, no matter what the circumstances or how exhausted one might be.

“Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world” (Mt.28:19-20).

“And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mk.16:15).

“But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

“For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard” (Acts 4:20).

“We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak (2 Cor.4:13).

- 2) The example of love—an enormous love for one's own people, one's own nation. Paul never gave up on his people, no matter their ill treatment of him.

“For I could wish that myself were accursed from Christ for my brethren, my kinsmen according to the flesh” (Ro.9:3).

“Brethren, my heart's desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saved” (Ro.10:1).

- 3) The example of removing all doubts and questions, rumors and prejudices so that the gospel can have free course and flow freely as one proclaims it. (What an example for city-wide evangelism, when possible!)

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(28:17-22) Paul, Trials: Paul defended himself before (1) the Jerusalem mob (Acts 22:1-23); (2) the chief captain (Acts 22:24-30); (3) the Sanhedrin (Acts 23:1-10); (4) Felix (Acts 24:10-23); (5) Festus (Acts 25:8-12); (6) King Herod Agrippa II (Acts 25:23-26:32); and (7) the Jews at Rome (Acts 28:17-28).

3 (28:23-24) Witnessing—Preaching: the second step in evangelizing the city was a clear proclamation of the message. Many had come to the meeting to hear what Paul had to say. Apparently, the house was packed and overflowing. Note three significant points.

1. Paul preached the Kingdom of God.
⇒ He preached that Jesus is the true Messiah who had brought the Kingdom of God to earth.

“And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people” (Mt.9:35).

“And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand” (Mt.10:7).

⇒ He preached that Jesus is the true Messiah who is to return to earth to establish the kingdom forever.

(See notes—Acts 1:6-7; DEEPER STUDY # 4—2:24; note—2:25-26; DEEPER STUDY # 2—Jn.1:20; note—1:23; DEEPER STUDY # 3—Mt.19:23-24 for more discussion.)

2. Paul focused his preaching in the Word of God, and there alone.

“For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; and that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the scriptures” (1 Cor.15:3-4).

“For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believeth” (1 Th.2:13).

3. The results were mixed. Some believed, but most did not believe.

“He that believeth on him is not condemned; but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God” (Jn.3:18).

“He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life; and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him” (Jn.3:36).

“I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins” (Jn.8:24).

4 (28:25-29) Jews, Reject Gospel—Gentiles; History, Pivotal Point: the third step in evangelizing the city was turning to those who would receive the gospel—the rejected Gentiles. This is a most significant fact, a pivotal point of history: the Book of Acts...

- opens with the great commission to carry the gospel to the Jew first (Acts 1:8).
- closes with the gospel being rejected by the Jews and being taken primarily to the Gentiles (Act 28:28).

The fact that the Jews rejected the gospel in the city which symbolized the world (Rome) and rejected it as preached by the apostle to the world (Paul) is climactic. It is a picture of the gospel being rejected by the Jews worldwide and being taken to the Gentiles. Paul declared the fact upon the authority of God’s Word, a fact that is tragic news to the Jew, but glorious news to the Gentile.

1. Paul declared that Isaiah prophesied the rejection of the gospel by the Jews (Is.6:9-10. See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Unbelief—Jn.12:39-41 for more discussion.) Note three points.

- a. The unbeliever’s rejection is willful, always deliberate. He sees and hears, yet he refuses to really open his eyes and ears. He refuses to understand. But why? Why does a person act so illogically, rebel and refuse to understand? Christ says, “For the heart of this people is waxed gross” (v.27). The Greek says “This people’s heart has grown fat [overweight].” Being fat indicates sensuality and senselessness. To eat and eat, adding weight upon weight is living after the flesh and makes no sense at all. It is sensual and senseless. Christ is therefore saying that the unbeliever has become so sensual and senseless that he rebels and refuses to understand the mysteries of God. His sensuality is due to worldliness and to the lust for the things of the world (Ro.8:5-8; 1 Jn.2:15-16), and his senselessness is due to being deceived by the evil one, the devil himself (2 Cor.4:3-4).
- b. The unbeliever’s rejection is prophesied (Is.6:9-10; cp. Jn.12:40; Acts 28:26f). A man who willfully rejects God experiences a judicial blindness and rejection by God. The person who deliberately chooses to be blind and who rejects understanding is given over to a just punishment. His obstinate unbelief, constant sin, and continual rejection lead to a judicial blindness and to being rejected by God.

“Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness....For this cause God gave them up unto...vile affections....God gave them over to a reprobate mind” (Ro.1:24, 26, 28. See outline and notes—Ro.1:24-32).

“My Spirit shall not always strive with man” (Gen.6:3).

“But my people would not hearken to my voice; and Israel would [have] none of me. So I gave them up unto their own hearts’ lust: and they walked in their own counsels” (Ps.81:11-12).

“He, that being often reproveth hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy” (Pr.29:1).

“Ephraim is joined to idols: let him alone” (Hos.4:17).

- c. Note also the clear description of the unbeliever’s rejection. No clearer or stronger description could be given (see outline, v.27).

Thought 1. Why do men reject Christ, hardening their hearts, deafening their ears, and closing their eyes?

“Men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil” (Jn.3:19).

“They...believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness” (2 Th.2:12).

“Thou (man) lovest evil more than good; and lying rather than to speak righteousness” (Ps.52:3).

“Who rejoice to do evil, and delight in the frowardness of the wicked” (Pr.2:14).

Thought 2. One of the most tragic sights in all the world is to see people sitting under the most glorious message and falling asleep, or being listless, inattentive, disinterested, or wilfully hardened and close-minded. God will give them up to their slumber and deliberate hardness (see note—Mt.13:13-15).

Thought 3. What a person is fighting against is conversion and spiritual healing. If he listens and receives, he has to change his life, giving God all He is and has. Therefore, he rebels and rejects—deliberately. The person does not want to be turned “from darkness to light” (Acts 26:18).

2. Paul declared that salvation was being sent to the Gentiles, and they would hear it. Paul had been serving Christ for more than thirty years now. Everywhere he went, he attempted to bring the glorious message of salvation to the Jews first. What a dynamic and vibrant example of persevering love and undying hope! But how unfortunate this is: in the end of each mission and here at the end of his final mission journey, Paul was forced to turn to the Gentiles all alone! How often God had tried to appeal to the Jews to walk hand in hand with Paul among the Gentile nations, evangelizing all men everywhere (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, Israel, God's Plan—Jn.4:22 for more discussion). But as always, the Jews left Paul when he mentioned the Gentiles, arguing and discussing what Paul had declared. Their decision was final; they wanted absolutely nothing to do with Paul and the Christ he preached.

5 (28:30-31) Paul, Faithfulness: the fourth step in evangelizing the city was a mission of continued evangelism. The Scripture and outline speak for themselves, but note two significant facts.

1. Paul preached and taught, proclaiming the gospel and rooting the new believers in the faith. He gave systematic instruction and follow-up as well as evangelizing all with whom he came in contact.

2. The epistles tell us some of Paul's activities during these two years. He wrote the letters of Philipians, Ephesians, Colossians, and Philemon. Luke accompanied Paul to Rome and remained with him for some time (2 Tim.4:11), as did Timothy (Ph.1:1; 2:19-30; Col.1:1; Phile.1); Tychicus (Eph.6:21); Epaphroditus (Ph.4:18); Aristarchus and Mark (Col.4:10). Other outstanding Christian leaders also spent some time with him (Col.4:10-14; Phile.10-11, 23-24). He was constantly witnessing, and his witness spread around the world through the Protorian Guard, the select troops of the palace.

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(28:30-31) The Gospel: Acts began with a few believers being commissioned to preach the glorious gospel at Jerusalem. This handful of believers was then to take the gospel throughout all Judea, then in Samaria, and then to the uttermost part of the earth. Now, as Acts closes, the gospel has reached the center and capital of the world, Rome itself. It is now being proclaimed by thousands throughout the whole world. Sometimes the message has flowed freely without opposition; at other times it has been threatened with a violent attempt to silence it. Sometimes the message has been silently counterfeited by false ministers and teachers who have infiltrated the church and were empowered by the wicked one. Sometimes the message has even been added to and at other times it has been subtracted from. But it has never been stamped out. The Word of the glorious God and of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ marches on triumphantly, and will continue to march on triumphantly until He returns. The Acts of God are not yet done.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE ROMANS

INTRODUCTION

AUTHOR: Paul, the Apostle. Paul clearly states that he is the author (Ro.1:1), and the personal references and facts given in Chapter 15 tell us beyond any doubt that Paul is the author.

DATE: A.D. 55-58.

Paul says, "Now I go unto Jerusalem to minister unto the saints" (Ro.15:25). This journey to Jerusalem was the trip made necessary by the extreme poverty of the believers in the Jerusalem church. Paul had taken a collection from the Gentile churches and felt compelled to deliver the offering himself. This occurred on his third missionary journey.

TO WHOM WRITTEN: "To all that be in Rome, beloved of God, called to be saints."

Several manuscripts have been found with the personal and local touches of chapters 15-16 omitted and the doxology included. This would definitely point to there being several churches. The place of writing seems to be Corinth, for Paul recommended Phoebe to the Romans. Phoebe was a deaconess from Cenchrea, the eastern seaport of Corinth.

PURPOSE: Paul had several reasons for writing.

1. Paul wished to evangelize Spain (Ro.15:25). To do so he needed a local church from which to launch his ministry--a church that would be much closer to Spain than Antioch. Antioch had been his home base up until now. By writing Romans, he was preparing the Roman church for the day when he would reveal his vision to them. He was making them familiar with his name, his mission, and his love.

2. Paul had a personal compulsion to visit and witness in Rome itself. His life-long strategy had been to evangelize the great metropolitan cities along the route that stretched from Jerusalem to Rome. He knew that a route so greatly traveled and cities so actively engaged in commerce would assure the spread of the Gospel. Rome was the capital, the center of the world; it provided the greatest strategic opportunity for world evangelism. A Rome conquered for Christ could mean a world conquered for Christ.

3. Paul was not sure he would ever reach Rome personally. He was going to Jerusalem and knew the danger. There was a chance he might be killed in Jerusalem. He requested the Roman church to pray for him: "I beseech you, brethren...strive together with me in your prayers to God for me, that I may be delivered from them that do not believe in Judea" (15:30-31). Yet despite the danger, Paul was a master strategist: he knew the strategic importance of Rome for the spread of the Gospel worldwide. The church had to be rooted and grounded in the faith; therefore he sat down and wrote this great letter. The message of the letter is what Paul would hammer into the believers' hearts if he ever did get to stand before them.

SPECIAL FEATURES:

1. The church at Rome. The church was strong. Five factors show its strength. First, Rome was a lay church. A writer of the fourth century said that some Roman citizens "had embraced the faith of Christ...without any sign of mighty works or any of the apostles" (Ambrosiaster, a Latin Father, in his Epistle to the Romans. Quoted by F.F. Bruce. The Epistle of Paul to the Romans "The Tyndale New Testament Commentaries," ed. by RVG Tasker. Grand Rapids, MI: Eerdmans, 1963, p.13). The content of the epistle shows a people of great spiritual depth and maturity. But how did the gospel reach Rome? Who founded the church? The only thing known for sure is that there was a great and flourishing church in the capital. But just when the church was founded is unknown. There are several possibilities.

- a. At Pentecost there were "strangers from Rome, both Jews and proselytes" (Acts 2:10). Were any converted during Pentecost? There is no specific mention of converts among the Romans, but Romans are the only group identified among the European pilgrims.
- b. Many of the members of the Roman church were known by Paul personally. He had met them elsewhere, sometime long ago. The church could have been founded by these. He greets Aquila and Priscilla (16:3; cp. Acts 18:2-3). He also greets some well-known believers whom he says were "in Christ" even before himself: Andronicus and Junia (16:7). Rufus, perhaps the son of Simon of Cyrene who carried the cross of Christ, is also greeted (see note--16:13; cp. Mk.15:21). Paul may have known Rufus and his mother in Antioch.
- c. The lay followers of Christ were probably among the first to carry the gospel to Rome. This was Paul's great strategy as God's chief commander for world evangelization. Paul had penetrated the great cities of the world with the glorious gospel, and he did all he could to establish a strong church in each of the major cities. Each of these cities lay along the world's great roads that led right into the heart of the world's capital, Rome itself. In all the hustle and bustle of business and traveling to and fro, some men, racing throughout the world and carrying on their affairs, were bound to be reached for Christ and to become lay missionaries themselves. It was only inevitable that Rome be penetrated. A church was bound to be founded right in the heart of Rome.

Second, Rome had a worldwide reputation. Its faith was strong (1:8). It was spiritually mature, able to digest the meat of the Word. Practically every page covers a major doctrine or theological discussion.

Third, Rome was a Gentile church. The Gentiles, who comprised a vast majority of the membership, were reminded of the fact that Christianity had come from Jewish roots. Therefore, the Jews were to be deeply respected--even if they were outnumbered (11:18).

Fourth, Rome was a persecuted church. The church was severely persecuted seven years after Paul wrote this great letter to the believers. Nero had burned the older section of the great city in a fit of madness, and he blamed the burning of Rome upon the Christians. Believers were also charged with such crimes as cannibalism, immoral practices, and with being enemies of the state. They were actually charged with any other crime that could be connived. However, the blood of the church proved to be its seed (Tertullian, Apology 50. Quoted by F.F. Bruce. The Epistle of Paul to the Romans "The Tyndale New Testament Commentaries," p.17). Believers, fleeing the persecution, spread all over the world; and wherever they went they shared the glorious news of eternal life in Christ Jesus. In addition, the citizens of Rome grew tired of so much savagery and eventually demanded that the savagery against the Christians stop. The church was left alone and the glorious news of salvation was allowed to be freely proclaimed.

Fifth, Rome was a triumphant church. The church was unashamed of its life and witness. It was willing to stand up and be counted by the side of those who suffered. When Paul was being escorted into the city as a Roman prisoner, while still some thirty to forty miles away, the Christian church marched forward to meet and give him a triumphant processional over those thirty to forty miles. The sight of these dear believers filled Paul with a sense of glory seldom experienced by men. (See note--Acts 28:13-15.)

2. Romans is The Great Epistle of Theology It is a statement of what Paul believed, a statement of his theology. Paul was not writing to meet a special problem or danger or error. He was writing primarily to root and ground the Roman believers in the faith as deeply as he could, for they lived in the great strategic center with explosive potential for world evangelization. He was completely free to set forth what he saw to be the essential theology for a living faith.

3. Romans is The Epistle Written for Every Man It is the Gospel of God (1:1). It is a book for the world (1:4-2:16; etc.); a book for the church (see 1:1-7; etc.); a book for theologians (see 3:1-5:21; etc.); a book for philosophers (see 1:1-2:16; etc.); a book for legalists (see 7:1f; etc.); a book for immature believers (see 6:1-8:30); a book for mature believers (see 8:12-14; etc.); a book for sufferers (see 7:1-8:39; etc.); a book for unbelievers (see 1:1-2:16; etc.); a book for religionists (see 2:17-5:21; etc.). Romans is the truth desperately needed by every man, whoever or wherever he may be.

4. Romans is The Church's Last Testament Although one of the driving forces of Paul's heart was to visit the Roman church, he was not sure he would ever get to see them face to face (See Purpose, point 3). Yet, the church's strategic importance necessitated that he do what he could to assure that they use their explosive potential for Christ. Thus, he was forced to write--just in case. And write he did. In the Book of Romans the church has what Paul wished to say to the church--just in case he never got there. In a sense it is The Church's Last Testament--just what the church needs to hear. Romans comes closest to being the one written possession a church needs, the most comprehensive statement of Christian truth.

5. Romans is The Gospel's Main Truth This is evident from Special Features, points 1 and 2.

6. Romans is God's Worldwide Plan for Israel and the Gentiles More clearly than any other book, Romans shows God's glorious plan for the ages in Israel and the Gentile nations. A panoramic view of history is given from a Christian perspective. This is quickly grasped by a study of the Outline, chapters 9-11.

OUTLINE OF ROMANS

THE PREACHER'S OUTLINE & SERMON BIBLE™ is unique. It differs from all other Study Bibles & Sermon Resource Materials in that every Passage and Subject is outlined right beside the Scripture. When you choose any Subject below and turn to the reference, you have not only the Scripture, but you discover the Scripture and Subject already outlined for you—verse by verse.

For a quick example, choose one of the subjects below and turn over to the Scripture, and you will find this marvelous help for faster, easier, and more accurate use.

In addition, every point of the Scripture and Subject is fully developed in a Commentary with supporting Scripture at the bottom of the page. Again, this arrangement makes sermon preparation much easier and faster.

Note something else: The Subjects of Romans have titles that are both practical and Biblical. The practical titles sometimes have more appeal to people. This benefit is clearly seen for use on billboards, bulletins, church newsletters, etc.

A suggestion: For the quickest overview of Romans, first read all the major titles (I, II, III, etc.), then come back and read the subtitles.

DIVISION I

GREETING AND THEME: THE GOSPEL AND GOD'S RIGHTEOUSNESS, 1:1-17

A. Paul's Credentials: Enslavement to Christ, 1:1-7

(1:1-7) Introduction: no person is a true follower of Jesus Christ unless he is enslaved by Christ. In fact, it is impossible for a person to belong to Christ unless he is enslaved by Christ. This is the shocking message Paul wants to get across to the believers at Rome.

1. He was a slave of Christ (v.1).
2. He was an apostle of God (v.1).
3. He was set apart to the gospel of God (v.1-4).
4. He had received God's grace and God's mission (v.5).
5. He acknowledged the enslavement of others (v.6-7).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(1:1-7) Gospel—Christianity: in these verses Paul gives the raw outline of the gospel he preached (v.1-4). It is a penetrating look at primitive Christianity. Note the gospel's close agreement with the Apostle's Creed.

1. Paul's view of the Old Testament.
  - a. It comes from God.
  - b. It is given "through His prophets."
  - c. It is "holy" Scripture.
2. Paul's view of the Lord Jesus Christ.
  - a. He is God's Son: "concerning His Son."
  - b. He is the promised Savior: "Christ," the Messiah.
  - c. He is Lord: "our Lord."
  - d. He is man: "born of the seed of David according to the flesh."
  - e. He is declared to be the very Son of God: "declared to be the Son of God with power."
  - f. He is divine or holy: "according to the Spirit of holiness."
  - g. He is risen from the dead: "by the resurrection from the dead."
3. Paul's view of the gospel.
  - a. It is of God: "the Gospel of God" (cp. Ro.1:1, 17; 3:21).
  - b. It was prophesied: "he had promised..."
  - c. It agrees with the Old Testament: "promised afore...in the holy scriptures."
  - d. It concerns God's very own Son: "concerning His Son."
  - e. It concerns the divine Savior: "Jesus Christ, our Lord...declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the spirit of holiness [sinlessness]."
  - f. It concerns the human Savior: "made of the seed of David...."
  - g. It concerns the risen Savior: "the resurrection from the dead."

1 (1:1) Servant—Slave (doulos): Paul was a "slave" of Jesus Christ. The word "slave" (doulos) means far more than just a servant. It means a slave totally possessed by the master. It is a bond-servant bound by law to a master.

A look at the slave market of Paul's day shows more clearly what Paul meant when he said he was a "slave of Jesus Christ."

1. The slave was owned by his master; he was totally possessed by his master. This is what Paul meant. Paul was purchased and possessed by Christ. Christ had looked upon him and had seen his degraded and needful condition. Christ looked, and the most wonderful thing happened: Christ loved him and bought him; therefore, he was now the possession of Christ.

2. The slave existed for his master and he had no other reason for existence. He had no personal rights whatsoever. The same was true with Paul: he existed only for Christ. His rights were the rights of Christ only.

3. The slave served his master and he existed only for the purpose of service. He was at the master's disposal any hour of the day or night. So it was with Paul: he lived only to serve Christ—hour by hour, day by day, and night by night.

4. The slave's will belonged to his master. He was allowed no will and no ambition other than the will and ambition of the master. He was completely subservient to the Master and owed total obedience to the will of the master. Paul belonged to Christ. In fact, he said that he fought and struggled to "bring every thought into captivity to the obedience of Christ" (2 Cor.10:5).

5. There is a fifth and most precious thing that Paul meant by "a slave of Jesus Christ." He meant that he had the highest and most honored and kingly profession in all the world. Men of God, the greatest men of history, have always been called "the servants of God." It was the highest title of honor. The believer's slavery to Jesus Christ is not cringing, cowardly, or shameful subjection. It is the position of honor—the honor that bestows upon a man the privileges and responsibilities of serving the King of kings and Lord of lords.

⇒ Moses was the slave of God (Dt.34:5; Ps.105:26; Mal.4:4).

⇒ Joshua was the slave of God (Josh.24:29).

⇒ David was the slave of God (2 Sam.3:18; Ps.78:70).

⇒ Paul was the slave of Jesus Christ (Ro.1:1; Ph.1:1; Tit.1:1).

⇒ James was the slave of God (Jas.1:1).

⇒ Peter was the slave of Jesus Christ (2 Pt.1:1).

⇒ Jude was the slave of God (Jude 1).

⇒ The prophets were the slaves of God (Amos 3:7; Jer.7:25).

⇒ Christian believers are said to be the slaves of Jesus Christ (Acts 2:18; 1 Cor.7:22; Eph.6:6; Col.4:12; 2 Tim.2:24).

(This point is built upon what William Barclay says. The Letter to the Romans. "The Daily Study Bible." Philadelphia, PA: The Westminster Press, 1955, p.2).

"If any man serve me, let him follow me; and where I am, there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me, him will my Father honour" (Jn.12:26; cp. Ro.12:1; 1 Cor.15:58).

"[Laboring] not with eyeservice, as menpleasers; but as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart; with good will doing service, as to the Lord, and not to men" (Eph.6:6-7).

"And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men; knowing that of the Lord ye shall receive the reward of the inheritance: for ye serve the Lord Christ" (Col.3:23-24).

"Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be moved, let us have grace, whereby we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear" (Heb.12:28).

"And ye shall serve the Lord your God" (Ex.23:25).

"What doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but to fear the Lord thy God, to walk in all his ways, and to love him, and to serve the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul" (Dt.10:12).

"Serve the Lord with fear, and rejoice with trembling" (Ps.2:11).

"Serve the Lord with gladness: come before his presence with singing" (Ps.100:2).

2 (1:1) Apostle—Paul, Call of: Paul was an apostle of God. The word "apostle" (apostolos) means either a person who is sent out or a person who is sent forth. An apostle is a representative, an ambassador, a person who is sent out into one country to represent another country. Three things are true of the apostle: (1) he belongs to the One who has sent him out; (2) he is commissioned to be sent out; and (3) he possesses all the authority and power of the One who sends him out.

Note three forceful lessons.

1. Paul said he was "called" to be an apostle. He was not in the ministry because he...

- chose to be.
- had the ability.
- had been encouraged by others to choose the ministerial profession.
- enjoyed working with people.

He was an apostle, a minister of the gospel for one reason only: God had called him.

"But rise, and stand upon thy feet: for I [the Lord] have appeared unto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witness both of these things which thou hast seen, and of those things in the which I will appear unto thee" (Acts 26:16).

"And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who hath enabled me, for that he counted me faithful, putting me into the ministry" (1 Tim.1:12).

"Now the Lord had said unto Abram, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy Father's house, unto a land that I will shew thee" (Gen.12:1).

ROMANS 1:1-7

“Come now therefore, and I will send thee [Moses] unto Pharaoh, that thou mayest bring forth my people the children of Israel out of Egypt” (Ex.3:10).

“And the Lord looked upon him [Gideon], and said, Go in this thy might, and thou shalt save Israel from the hand of the Midianites: have not I sent thee?” (Judg.6:14).

“Also I [Isaiah] heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then said I, Here am I; send me” (Is.6:8).

2. Paul had heard and answered God’s call. God did not override Paul’s will. God wanted Paul in the ministry, so He called Paul. It is important to note that it was up to Paul to hear and respond.

3. Paul was called to be an apostle, that is, to be a minister. He was not called to occupy a position of authority or to be honored by men.

Thought 1. Every servant of God is called for two primary purposes:

1) To serve and minister.

“And whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant: Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many” (Mt.20:27-28).

“Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour unto him that fell among the thieves? And he said, He that shewed mercy on him. Then said Jesus unto him, Go, and do thou likewise” (Lk.10:36-37).

“If I then, your Lord and Master, have washed your feet; ye also ought to wash one another’s feet” (Jn.13:14).

“Bear ye one another’s burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ” (Gal.6:2).

“As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith” (Gal.6:10).

2) To go forth and bear fruit.

“Bring forth therefore fruits meet for repentance” (Mt.3:8).

“Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain” (Jn.15:16).

“Wherefore, my brethren, ye also are become dead to the law by the body of Christ; that ye should be married to another, even to him who is raised from the dead, that we should bring forth fruit unto God” (Ro.7:4).

“Being filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are by Jesus Christ, unto the glory and praise of God” (Ph.1:11).

“That ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God” (Col.1:10).

“And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper” (Ps.1:3).

“Those that be planted in the house of the LORD shall flourish in the courts of our God” (Ps.92:13).

3 (1:1-4) Gospel, Meaning: Paul was set apart to the gospel of God. This is the reason God called Paul: that Paul might be separated (aphorismenos) or marked and set apart to the gospel of God. The word “gospel” simply means the good news of God.

⇒ Paul did not say he was called and set apart to a man-made religion, denomination, or sect; nor was he called primarily to a gospel of social justice and welfare, as important as these calls are.

⇒ Paul said he was set apart to the gospel, the good news of God (cp. 1 Th.2:2-13).

Note what the gospel is.

1. The gospel of the New Testament is the same good news of God which was promised in the Old Testament Scriptures. Jesus Christ is the Subject and the Author of the gospel, but the gospel began long before the birth of Jesus. The gospel began long, long ago in the mind and plan of God. God foretold the coming of the gospel (His Son) through the prophets of old. Mark says what Paul was to later say: “The beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God; as it is written in the prophets, behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee. The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight” (Mk.1:1-3. See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Gospel—Ro.1:1-7. See DEEPER STUDY # 3, Scripture Fulfilled—Jn.1:45 for discussion. Also see, Prophecy—Master Subject Index.)

“Search the scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me” (Jn.5:39).

“Having therefore obtained help of God, I continue unto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying none other things than those which the prophets and Moses did say should come” (Acts 26:22.)

“God, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets” (Heb.1:1).

“Of which salvation the prophets have inquired and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that should come unto you: searching what, or what manner of time the Spirit of Christ which was in them did signify, when it testified beforehand the sufferings of Christ, and the glory that should follow” (1 Pt.1:10-11).

“Knowing this first, that no prophecy of the scripture is of any private interpretation. For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost” (2 Pt.1:20-21).

2. The gospel is the incarnation of “God’s Son, Jesus Christ our Lord” (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, Gospel—Ro.1:1-7). Note how Paul takes the names and titles of Jesus Christ and stacks them one upon another.

- ⇒ God’s Son. (See note—Jn.1:34.)
- ⇒ Jesus. (See DEEPER STUDY # 4—Mt.1:21.)
- ⇒ Christ. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2—Mt.1:18.)
- ⇒ Our Lord. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2—Acts 2:36.)

The gospel concerns “God’s Son, Jesus Christ our Lord.” He is both the Subject and the Author of the gospel. By Him and through Him the gospel is created and proclaimed. He brings the good news of God to man. He is the very embodiment of the good news of God Himself.

The gospel concerns two glorious truths.

a. The first glorious truth is that God’s Son became a man. He was made of the seed of David; that is, he was born as a man, as a descendant of David. David was the greatest ruler of Israel; he was one of the greatest ancestors of Jesus. (See note, Jesus Christ, Davidic Heir—Lk.3:24-31.)

The point is this: God sent His Son into the world in human flesh. The words “was made” (genomenou) mean to become. God’s Son became a man—flesh and blood—just like all other men. He had a human nature, and because He had a human nature...

- He suffered all the trials of life which we suffer.
- He is able to succor us through all the trials of life.

“The Word [God’s Son] was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth” (Jn.1:14).

“Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil; and deliver them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage. For verily he took not on him the nature of angels; but he took on him the seed of Abraham. Wherefore in all things it behooved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people. For in that he himself hath suffered being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted” (Heb.2:14-18).

b. The second glorious truth is both profound and critical, for it proclaims the divine nature of Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ was the Son of God before He came into the world. (See notes—Jn.1:1-2; 1:3; Ph.2:6; 2:7 for discussion.) However, since coming, He is declared to be the Son of God by two things.

⇒ The Spirit of holiness that dwelt in Him declares Jesus to be the Son of God. He was the very embodiment of holiness, of purity, morality, and of justice. His life upon earth proves the fact. He lived as a man for thirty some years and never sinned.

“For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him” (2 Cor.5:21).

“For we have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin” (Heb.4:15).

“For such an high priest became us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than the heavens” (Heb.7:26).

“But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot” (1 Pt.1:19).

“Who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth” (1 Pt.2:22; cp. Is.53:9; Jn.8:46).

⇒ The resurrection from the dead declares that Jesus is the Son of God. All other men are dead and gone. The proof is demonstrated by one simple question: “Where are they? Where are our mothers, our fathers, our sisters, our ancestors?” Once they have left this world, they are gone and the earth never sees them again. But not Christ. He died, but He arose and walked upon the earth again. And today Jesus Christ lives forever in the presence of God. Death could not hold Him because He was the Son of God and possessed the perfect spirit of holiness. (See DEEPER STUDY # 4, Jesus Christ, Resurrection—Acts 2:24 for more discussion.)

“Whom God hath raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it” (Acts 2:24).

“Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly, that God hath made that same Jesus, whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Christ” (Acts 2:36).

“The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom ye slew and hanged on a tree. Him hath God exalted with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, for to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sins” (Acts 5:30-31).

“And declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead” (Ro.1:4).

“For to this end Christ both died, and rose, and revived, that he might be Lord both of the dead and living” (Ro.14:9).

“[God’s power] which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and set him at his own right hand in the heavenly places” (Eph.1:20).

“And being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross. Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name” (Ph.2:8-9).

4 (1:5) Grace—Mission: Paul had received God’s grace and God’s mission. Note the word “we.” Paul now speaks of all believers, not only of himself.

1. We have received God’s glorious grace: His favor, His mercy, His love, His salvation. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Grace—Tit.2:11-15.) Grace includes all that God has done for us and all the wonderful blessings He showers upon us. Very simply, God’s grace includes...

a. His love for us from all eternity past.

“Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ: according as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love” (Eph.1:3-4).

“Who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began” (2 Tim.1:9).

“In hope of eternal life, which God, that cannot lie, promised before the world began” (Tit.1:2).

b. His saving us freely, without any cost whatsoever.

“But we believe that through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ we shall be saved, even as they” (Acts 15:11).

“Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus” (Ro.3:24).

“For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: not of works, lest any man should boast” (Eph.2:8-9).

“For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men” (Tit.2:11).

c. His care and looking after us day by day.

“But my God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus” (Ph.4:19).

“And the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant with faith and love which is in Christ Jesus” (1 Tim.1:14).

d. His glorious promise of eternal redemption: of our being transformed and being made perfect, and being given the glorious privilege of living with Him forever in worship and service.

“In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace” (Eph.1:7).

“That in the ages to come he might shew the exceeding riches of his grace in his kindness toward us through Christ Jesus” (Eph.2:7).

“That being justified by his grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life” (Tit.3:7).

2. We have received apostleship, that is, God’s mission. The idea is that we have received a special mission, God’s very own special task in the world. What is that mission? Paul said it is “obedience to the faith” (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Obedience—Ro.1:5 for discussion).

DEEPER STUDY # 2
 (1:5) Obedience: the Scripture clearly says that God saves us for two specific purposes...
 • to obey Him.
 • to lead other persons to obey Him—persons from all nations.

What God is after is for mankind to become His family: for men to freely choose to live together with Him and with all other believers in a perfect world. God wants mankind living together in perfect love, joy, peace, worship, praise, and service as the family of God. He wants men living soberly, righteously, and godly before Him. He wants men obeying Him as His dear children.

Therefore, when God saves us, He saves us primarily to obey Him and to carry the glorious message of obedience to a rebellious and corrupt world. God calls us to obey the faith and to proclaim obedience to all the nations.

Note several facts about obedience.

1. There is a massive difference between forced obedience and free obedience.

a. Forced obedience has no choice and reveals...

- fear of rebellion
- lack of control
- weakness of purpose
- selfishness and self-centeredness
- low self-esteem
- no sense of godliness

b. Free obedience has a choice and can choose to obey or not to obey. Therefore, free obedience reveals...

- love and trust
- interest and care
- a sense of godliness
- a sense of brotherhood
- strength of purpose and will
- knowledge of self and confidence in self

2. Scripture says the following about obedience.

a. Obedience demonstrates several things.

⇒ Obedience demonstrates that a person is wise.

“Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock” (Mt.7:24).

⇒ Obedience demonstrates love.

“He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him” (Jn.14:21).

⇒ Obedience demonstrates that God is worthy.

“Then Peter and the other apostles answered and said, We ought to obey God rather than men” (Acts 5:29).

⇒ Obedience demonstrates that Christ is of God.

“If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself” (Jn.7:17).

b. Obedience assures several things.

⇒ Obedience assures a prosperous life and success.

“This book of the law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but thou shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein: for then thou shalt make thy way prosperous, and then thou shalt have good success” (Josh.1:8).

⇒ Obedience assures entrance into the kingdom of heaven.

“Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven” (Mt.7:21; cp. Lk.8:21).

⇒ Obedience assures the mercy of God.

“And showing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments” (Ex.20:6).

⇒ Obedience assures that a person is a member of God’s family.

“For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother” (Mt.12:50; cp. Mk.3:35).

⇒ Obedience assures being blessed.

“But he said, Yea rather, blessed are they that hear the word of God, and keep it” (Lk.11:28; cp. Dt.11:27).

⇒ Obedience assures that we know the truth.

“If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself” (Jn.7:17).

⇒ Obedience assures the abiding presence of the Father and of Christ.

“Jesus answered and said unto him, If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him” (Jn.14:23).

⇒ Obedience assures deliverance from enemies.

“But if thou shalt indeed obey his voice, and do all that I speak; then I will be an enemy unto thine enemies, and an adversary unto thine adversaries” (Ex.23:22).

⇒ Obedience assures that God will be our God and that all things will work out for our good.

“But these things commanded I them, saying, Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people: and walk ye in all the ways that I have commanded you, that it may be well unto you” (Jer.7:23).

⇒ Obedience assures being loved by God and by Christ.

“If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father’s commandments, and abide in his love” (Jn.15:10).

⇒ Obedience assures a good and a longer life.

“Thou shalt keep therefore his statutes, and his commandments, which I command thee this day, that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee, and that thou mayest prolong thy days upon the earth, which the LORD thy God giveth thee, for ever” (Dt.4:40).

⇒ Obedience assures being a friend of Christ.

“Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you. Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends” (Jn.15:14-15).

⇒ Obedience assures eating the good of the land.

“If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land” (Is.1:19).

c. Obedience is better than sacrifice, even the sacrifice of all one has.

“Hath the LORD as great delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices, as in obeying the voice of the LORD? Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice, and to hearken than the fat of rams” (1 Sam.15:22).

“Wherefore when he cometh into the world, he saith, Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not, but a body hast thou prepared me: in burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin thou hast had no pleasure. Then said I, Lo, I come (in the volume of the book it is written of me,) to do thy will, O God” (Heb.10:5-7).

5 (1:6-7) Believers: Paul acknowledged the enslavement of others. He said four things about believers.

1. Believers are the “called” of Jesus Christ, called just as Paul was.
⇒ Believers are called to be saved, to be “of Jesus Christ.”

“Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth. For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus; who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time” (1 Tim.2:4-6).

⇒ Believers are called to the mission and task of Jesus Christ.

“Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you” (Jn.20:21).

“Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many” (Mt.20:28).

2. Believers are “beloved of God,” held ever so close to His heart, counted precious and dear to Him and deeply loved.

“The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore with lovingkindness have I drawn thee” (Jer.31:3).

“For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life” (Jn.3:16).

“For the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and have believed that I came out from God” (Jn.16:27).

“But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us” (Ro.5:8).

“But God, who is rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us, even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us together with Christ” (Eph.2:4-5).

“Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God: therefore the world knoweth us not, because it knew him not” (1 Jn.3:1).

3. Believers are called to be “saints” (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, Saint—1 Pt.1:15-16 for discussion).

4. Believers are recipients of God’s grace and peace. (See DEEPER STUDY # 2, Grace—Ro.1:5; DEEPER STUDY # 1—Tit.2:11-15; note, Peace—Jn.14:27 for discussion.)

“But after that the kindness and love of God our Saviour toward man appeared, not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost; which he shed on us abundantly through Jesus Christ our Saviour; that being justified by his grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life” (Tit.3:4-7).

“But now in Christ Jesus ye who sometimes were far off are made nigh by the blood of Christ. For he is our peace” (Eph.2:13-14).

“Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid” (Jn.14:27).

“These things I have spoken unto you, that in me ye might have peace. In the world ye shall have tribulation: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world” (Jn.16:33).

“The LORD will give strength unto his people; the LORD will bless his people with peace” (Ps.29:11).

DIVISION I

GREETING AND THEME: THE GOSPEL AND GOD'S RIGHTEOUSNESS, 1:1-17

B. Paul's Interest in the Church: Enslavement to the Gospel, 1:8-15

(1:8-15) Introduction: Paul had never visited the Roman church, and he had never seen the believers at Rome; yet here he is writing to them. How could he best reach them and express his purpose for writing them? How could he arouse their interest to such a peak that they would read what he was writing and heed it? This is the subject of the present passage. Paul wanted the Roman believers to know his great interest in them; therefore, to the best of his ability he shared why he was writing to them. Simply stated, he said he was writing because he could do nothing else; he was compelled to share the gospel with the whole world including the capital of the world, Rome itself. In fact he was enslaved by the gospel.

1. A great church (v.8).
2. The gospel subjected his spirit to God's Son (v.9).
3. The gospel stirred him to pray without ceasing (v.9).
4. The gospel stirred him to seek people personally (v.10-13).
5. The gospel stirred him with a deep sense of indebtedness and a readiness to reach all men (v.14-15).

1 (1:8) Church—Rome—Testimony: the church at Rome was a great church—so great that Paul thanked God for the church "always" (v.2). The word "always" shows that the church held a very special place in Paul's heart. This is significant, for Paul had never been to the church. He did not know the church personally; he only knew what he had heard about it. Note: the church's testimony for Christ was so strong it was being talked about throughout the whole world. It had a phenomenal testimony, and wherever Paul travelled he heard about the strength of the church. What made the church at Rome so strong? Two significant things can be gleaned from Scripture.

1. The believers were living pure lives in the midst of an immoral, base, and unjust society. The citizens of Rome were known for their...

- immorality
- fleshiness
- drunkenness
- partying
- gluttony
- extravagance
- hoarding
- materialism
- greed
- selfishness
- license
- indulgence
- idolatry
- pride
- sin and wickedness

Nevertheless, the believers were standing firm for Christ and living pure lives, proclaiming the gospel of Jesus Christ and the need for morality and justice among men.

2. The believers were serving Christ faithfully and laboring ever so diligently for the Lord. Wherever they were, at home or away travelling, they were sharing Christ and ministering to people—so much so that some of them were known by name all around the world. Paul himself apparently had run across quite a few of them as they were travelling about and ministering. (See outline—Ro.16:3-16 for a list of the believers and a discussion of this point.)

Thought 1. The Roman church stands as a testimony for every church.

- 1) No matter how immoral and base, polluted and corrupt a society is, we are to stand firm for Christ.

"And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God" (Ro.12:2).

“Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you, and will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty” (2 Cor.6:17-18).

“Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world” (1 Jn.2:15-16).

- 2) No matter where we are, at home or travelling away on business or for pleasure, we are to be witnessing and ministering for Christ.

“But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth” (Acts 1:8).

“Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God” (2 Tim.1:8).

“These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee” (Tit.2:15).

“But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear” (1 Pt.3:15).

Thought 2. Every church and every believer should have a strong testimony, a testimony so strong that it is talked about everywhere.

“[Timothy] which was well reported of by the brethren that were at Lystra and Iconium” (Acts 16:2).

“For your obedience is come abroad unto all men. I am glad therefore on your behalf: but yet I would have you wise unto that which is good, and simple concerning evil” (Ro.16:19).

“For by it [faith] the elders obtained a good report” (Heb.11:2).

2 (1:9) Gospel—Salvation—Decision: the gospel subjected Paul’s spirit to God’s Son. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Serve— Ro.1:9 for more discussion.) Every man should subject his spirit to God’s Son. Why? Because of the gospel, the glorious salvation that is in Christ Jesus: the deliverance from sin, death, and hell. When a person considers that he is enslaved by sin and that he is actually going to die and have to give an account to God, he is most foolish...

- not to accept the salvation that is in God’s Son.
- not to subject his spirit to God’s Son.
- not to serve in the gospel of God’s Son.

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(1:9) Serve (latreuo): labor of hire, service that is bought. Paul says, “I serve with my spirit in the gospel of His Son.” Note three points.

1. The believer’s labor and service is bought and paid for by the precious blood of Christ.

“What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own? For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God’s” (1 Cor.6:19-20).

“And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell” (Mt.10:28).

“Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus: who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God: but made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men: and being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross” (Ph.2:5-8).

2. The believer owes his labor and service to the Lord. Once he has surrendered to the gospel, he has no choice. He is to diligently serve and work for Christ.

“Bear ye one another’s burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ” (Gal.6:2).

3. The believer is to serve God in his spirit and in his body. The spirit controls the body. What the spirit does, the body does. Therefore, if the believer is serving God in spirit, he is serving God in body. If a man’s spirit is right, then his body will be right. For example, a man may feel bad; he may be down, depressed, and oppressed; but if his spirit is strong, he arises and conquers his feelings. He controls and overcomes the oppressing circumstances, and he lives a victorious day. But if his spirit is weak—whether at work or at play—he often wallows around in self-pity, grumbling and griping, and living a defeated day. And too often the day stretches into weeks and months until a person’s life is down more than it is up: all because the spirit is too weak to conquer.

Thought 1. The point is this: the believer is to serve God in his spirit and in his body. He is...

- to keep his spirit strong,
- to conquer his emotions,
- to overcome his weaknesses, the ups and downs of his body.

When a believer does this, then he can serve God to the fullest extent possible.

“I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God” (Ro.12:1-2).

“What doth the LORD thy God require of thee, but to fear the LORD thy God, to walk in all his ways, and to love him, and to serve the LORD thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul” (Dt.10:12).

3 (1:9) Prayer: the gospel stirred Paul to pray without ceasing. Paul was a man of intercessory prayer, a man who always prayed for others. Note two points.

1. Paul called upon God to bear witness that he prayed. He did not...

- just talk about praying.
- just tell people he was praying for them as a courtesy.
- just pretend to pray.
- just spend a few minutes in a religious exercise of prayer.

Paul really prayed; he took time to ask God to strengthen and help others. (See outline and notes—Eph.3:14-21 for the specifics of what Paul prayed. Also see note and DEEPER STUDY # 1—Mt.6:9-13 for what Christ tells us to pray daily. These two passages taken together tell us what we should be praying every day, both for ourselves and for others.)

“My voice shalt thou hear in the morning, O LORD; in the morning will I direct my prayer unto thee, and will look up” (Ps.5:3).

“Evening, and morning, and at noon, will I pray, and cry aloud: and he shall hear my voice” (Ps.55:17).

“I prevented [preceded] the dawning of the morning, and cried: I hope in thy word” (Ps.119:147; cp. Lk.2:36; Acts 10:2; 1 Th.3:10; 1 Tim.5:5).

2. Paul even prayed for believers and churches whom he did not know. Remember he knew only a few of the believers in the Roman church; he had never met most of them. They were totally unfamiliar and unknown to him, yet he prayed for the church.

Thought 1. Scripture is strong in its charge to us. We are to pray constantly and we are to pray for all believers throughout the world. Our prayers are not to be limited to a few minutes each day nor to our loved ones and close friends.

“And he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray, and not to faint” (Lk.18:1).

“Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full” (Jn.16:24).

“Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints” (Eph.6:18).

“Be careful for nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus” (Ph.4:6-7).

“Continue in prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving; withal praying also for us, that God would open unto us a door of utterance, to speak the mystery of Christ” (Col.4:2-3).

“Pray without ceasing” (1 Th.5:17).

“I will therefore that men pray every where, lifting up holy hands, without wrath and doubting” (1 Tim.2:8).

“Seek the LORD and his strength, seek his face continually” (1 Chron.16:11).

4 (1:10-13) Gospel—Witnessing—Evangelism—Ministry: the gospel stirred Paul to seek people personally. He did not leave the ministry and the sharing of the gospel up to others. He became personally involved, so much so that he begged God to give him opportunity after opportunity—even to the point of letting him travel to the capital of the world itself to share Christ with its citizens. Note how deeply he was stirred: he made a request—if by any means, now at last—that he might be allowed to preach the gospel at Rome.

The point is forceful: Paul was stirred to seek people, for he longed to reach people for Christ.

1. Paul wished to impart some spiritual gift to the believers. Why? So that they might be more deeply established in the faith. The term spiritual gift (charisma) means a gift of grace. The term often refers to specific gifts given by the Holy Spirit (Ro.12:6-8), but here it means the truths of the grace of God, of His spiritual blessings to man revealed in Christ Jesus our Lord. Very simply, Paul longed to share the truths of the gospel with the believers at Rome. God’s spiritual blessings were overflowing in his heart, and he was aching to share the gift of God’s blessings.

Thought 1. What an indictment against us! How many of us are so full of the gospel that we are aching to share it? How many of us even know the gospel that well, know God's gifts and blessings well enough to be overflowing with them?

“Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ” (Eph.1:3).

“And the servant of the Lord must not strive; but be gentle unto all men, apt to teach, patient, in meekness instructing those that oppose themselves; if God peradventure will give them repentance to the acknowledging of the truth” (2 Tim.2:24-25).

“Feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind; neither as being lords over God's heritage, but being ensamples to the flock” (1 Pt.5:2-3).

Note that God's spiritual gift establishes the believer. The word “established” means to fix, set, make fast, and strengthen. Note the descriptive picture behind each word.

2. Paul wished to be encouraged together with other believers. The word “comforted” (sumparakaleo) means to be strengthened and consoled together. Paul expected to be taught and strengthened by the believers as well as to teach and to strengthen them. There was to be a mutual sharing among all. Paul expected all believers to be actively sharing the gospel. He even expected them to share with him so that he might grow and be more firmly rooted in the faith.

Thought 1. How many believers are actively grounded enough in the faith to share with Paul? What an indictment! Yet the expectation is that we are to be deeply rooted, ever studying the Word and learning. How much we need to awaken and arise from our slumber.

“Rooted and built up in him, and established in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving” (Col.2:7).

“[God] comfort your hearts, and stablish you in every good word and work” (2 Th.2:17).

3. Paul wished to bear fruit among them (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, Bearing Fruit—Jn.15:1-8 for discussion). Paul wished to bear the fruit of...

- converts (Ro.1:13).
- righteousness (Ro.6:21-23).
- Christian character, the fruit of the Spirit (Gal.5:22-23).

Note Paul's world-wide vision. He wished to bear fruit among the citizens of Rome as well as “among other Gentiles.”

Thought 1. How desperately God needs men, women, boys and girls with a world-wide vision!

“Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest” (Jn.4:35).

“Then saith he unto his disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few” (Mt.9:37).

“Therefore said he unto them, The harvest truly is great, but the labourers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth labourers into his harvest” (Lk.10:2).

“And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not” (Gal.6:9).

5 (1:14-15) Gospel—Preaching—Witnessing—Ministers—Dedication: the gospel stirred Paul with a deep sense of indebtedness and a readiness to reach all men. Note two points.

1. The word “debtor” (opheiletes) means to owe, to be obligated, to be bound by duty. The Greek is impossible to translate into English, for two ideas are being expressed by Paul. He was a “debtor”...

- because Christ had done so much for him (saved him).
- because Christ had called him to preach (given him a task to do).

The indebtedness was deeply felt by Paul. The idea is that it was intense, unwavering, unrelentless, powerful. The sense of debt just would not let Paul go. He was compelled to preach the gospel; therefore, he could do nothing else. He was obligated and duty-bound to preach it. He actually felt that he owed the gospel to the world; therefore, if he kept quiet, it would be worse than knowing the cure for the most terrible disease of history and refusing to share it.

Note how Paul declared his indebtedness to the whole world. He made a contrast between the Greeks and the Barbarians. He meant that he owed the gospel to all nationalities and cultures, to all the peoples of the earth whether civilized or uncivilized, industrialized or primitive, rich or poor. (The Greeks considered everyone a barbarian who did not speak the Greek language and adopt Greek culture.) He made a contrast between the wise and the unwise. He meant that he owed the gospel to the educated and the uneducated, the learned and the unlearned, the motivated and the unmotivated, the seeking and the complacent.

Thought 1. Paul sensed a deep indebtedness to share the glorious news of salvation with the world. The answer to eternal life is now known and must be proclaimed to the whole world. To keep the message to oneself is the most inexcusable and criminal act in all of human history. The glorious news that death has been conquered and that man can now live eternally must be proclaimed. We who know the wonderful news are indebted to get the news out to the world.

“For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life” (Jn.3:16).

“Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life” (Jn.5:24).

“I am debtor both to the Greeks, and to the Barbarians; both to the wise, and to the unwise. So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rome also” (Ro.1:14-15).

2. The word “ready” means an urgent willingness. Paul experienced both a willingness and an urgency to preach the gospel. Note the words, “as much as in me is.” Paul wanted to take all that was in him and pour it into people—all the energy and effort, all the truth and knowledge of the gospel. There was nothing that could keep him from sharing the gospel, not if he had a chance to share it. He allowed no hindrance to enter his life that would affect his message. He was possessed and obsessed with a readiness to preach the glorious message of the living Lord.

“For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of: for necessity is laid upon me; yea, woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel!” (1 Cor.9:16).

“And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand” (Mt.10:7).

“What I tell you in darkness, that speak ye in light: and what ye hear in the ear, that preach ye upon the housetop” (Mt.10:27).

“And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mk.16:15).

“Jesus said unto him, Let the dead bury their dead: but go thou and preach the kingdom of God” (Lk.9:60).

“I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work” (Jn.9:4).

“For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard” (Acts 4:20).

“Go, stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life” (Acts 5:20).

“His word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and I could not stay” (Jer.20:9).

“The lion hath roared, who will not fear? the Lord God hath spoken, who can but prophesy?” (Amos 3:8).

(1:14-16) Another Outline: Paul’s Three “I Am’s.”

1. I am a debtor (v.14).
2. I am ready (v.15).
3. I am not ashamed (v.16).

DIVISION I

GREETING AND THEME: THE GOSPEL AND GOD'S RIGHTEOUSNESS, 1:1-17

C. Paul's Boldness for Christ: Unashamedness of the Gospel, 1:16-17

(1:16-17) Introduction: these two verses contain one of the greatest summaries of the gospel ever written. It is a clear declaration of God's power to save all who believe, no matter their nationality or condition. It is a clear explanation of why Paul was never ashamed of the gospel.

1. It is the good news from God Himself (v.16).
2. It is the power of God to save (v.16).
3. It is the revelation of God's righteousness (v.17).

(1:16-18) Another Outline: The Power or Urgency of the Gospel.

1. It saves (v.16).
2. It reveals the righteousness of God (v.17).
3. It makes possible a life of faith (v.17).
4. It delivers from the wrath of God (v.18).

(1:16-18) Another Outline: Paul's Four "For's."

1. For I am not ashamed (v.16).
2. For the Gospel is the power of God (v.16).
3. For the righteousness of God is revealed (v.17).
4. For the wrath of God is revealed (v.18).

1 (1:16) Gospel—Ashamed: Paul was not ashamed of the gospel, because it was the good news from God Himself; that is, the gospel is the news that God has given to the world and wants proclaimed to the world. The fact that the gospel had been given by God Himself made Paul unashamed of the gospel. No man should ever be ashamed of anything concerning the Sovereign Majesty of the universe. (See note—Ro.1:1-4 for discussion.) However, Paul had every reason to be ashamed.

1. Paul's day was a day of moral degeneracy, the hideous days of Nero. Rome was a moral sewer, a cesspool of detestable and inconceivable wickedness. Such a day stood diametrically opposed to the moral righteousness of the gospel.

2. Paul was by nationality a Jew, a race that was thought by many of that day to be a despicable sub-human race, worthy only to be cursed, ill-used, and enslaved. Naturally, Paul would be apprehensive among non-Jews. In the flesh he would be tempted to shy away from them.

3. The gospel Paul preached was almost unbelievable. A male member of the despicable Jewish race was said to be the Savior of the world, and not only was He said to be a Jew, He was said to be a mere man like all other men. But not only that, His death was said to be different from the death of other men. He was said to have died "for all other men," that is, in their place, as a substitute for them. And then to top it all, He was said to have risen from the dead. His resurrection was said to be the proof that He was the very Son of God. Such unbelievable claims made the gospel a contemptible thing in the minds of many. A natural man would shrink from making such phenomenal claims.

4. Paul was often rejected, not by just a few persons, but by whole communities. The authorities imprisoned him in Philippi (Acts 16:19-23). The religionists ran him out of Thessalonica and threatened his life in Berea (Acts 17:5-15). The intellectuals laughed him out of Athens (Acts 17:32; cp. 16-32). His message was considered foolishness to the intellectuals (the Greeks) and a stumbling block to his own people (the Jews). There were several times in Paul's life when he could have given up in shame and fled to some part of the earth to begin life all over again.

Thought 1. Many are ashamed of the gospel. They are ashamed because they fear ridicule, rejection, and loss of recognition, position, and livelihood. They fear two things in particular.

- 1) There is the fear of intellectual shame. This is the fear that the gospel does not measure up intellectually. It is judged not to be for the scholar or philosopher. Note: this feeling is common to those who do not understand the philosophy of the gospel. No greater philosophy exists; no greater reasoning has ever been worked through. (See all outlines and notes—Romans. As an example, see outlines and notes—Ro.5:1-21; 8:1-39.) A man holds either to the philosophy and thought of the world, or to the philosophy and thought of God's Son, the gospel of Jesus Christ and His redemption. There is no question which philosophy and intellectual thought is greater.

"The foolishness of God is wiser than men; and the weakness of God is stronger than men" (1 Cor.1:25; cp. Ro.1:18-31).

“Of God are ye in Christ Jesus, who of God is made unto us wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption” (1 Cor.1:30).

“O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor?” (Ro.11:33-34).

“Let no man deceive himself. If any man among you seemeth to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise. For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, He taketh the wise in their own craftiness. And again, The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain” (1 Cor.3:18-20).

“But the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be entreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality, and without hypocrisy” (Jas.3:17).

“Talk no more so exceeding proudly; let not arrogancy come out of your mouth: for the Lord is a God of knowledge, and by him actions are weighed” (1 Sam.2:3).

“Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? there is no searching of his understanding” (Is.40:28).

“He revealeth the deep and secret things: he knoweth what is the darkness, and the light dwelleth with him” (Dan.2:22).

- 2) There is the fear of social shame. Many fear if they accept and proclaim the gospel, they will be...
- ridiculed and mocked
  - rejected and ignored
  - passed over and cut off
  - left without job and livelihood
  - left without family and friends
  - abused and killed

“For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind. Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God; who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began” (2 Tim.1:7-9).

“If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye; for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you: on their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified” (1 Pt.4:14).

“The fear of man bringeth a snare: but whoso putteth his trust in the LORD shall be safe” (Pr.29:25).

“I, even I, am he that comforteth you: who art thou, that thou shouldest be afraid of a man that shall die, and of the son of man which shall be made as grass” (Is.51:12).

2 (1:16) Gospel—God, Power of—Salvation: Paul is not ashamed of the gospel because it is the power of God to save.

Note four significant facts.

1. The word “power” (dunamis) means the might, energy, force, and strength that is within God. The power is “of God,” of His very nature. As God, He is the embodiment of power; He possesses all power, that is, omnipotent power, within His Being. He can do and act as He chooses.

The point is this: God has chosen to use His power in a loving way by sending men the “good news,” the gospel of salvation. Being all powerful, God could wipe men off the face of the earth, but instead He has chosen to give men the good news of salvation. This tells us a critical truth: God’s nature is love. He is full of compassion and grace. He is the God of salvation; therefore, He sent the “gospel of Christ” to the world that men might be saved.

2. The word “salvation” must be understood and grasped by every person upon earth. The hope of the world is God’s salvation (see note—Ro.1:16 for discussion).

3. God saves all who believe. Belief is the one condition for salvation, but we must always remember that a person who really believes commits himself to what he believes. If a man does not commit himself he does not believe. True belief is commitment. Therefore, God saves the person who believes, that is, who really commits his life to the gospel of Christ (see notes, Believe—Ro.10:16-17; DEEPER STUDY # 2—Jn.2:24 for discussion).

4. God saves all nationalities, both Jew and Greek. Note the word “first.” This does not mean favoritism, but first in time. God does not have favorites, favoring the Jew over the Gentile. It simply means the gospel was to be carried to the Jew first. They had been the channel through whom God had sent His Word and His prophets and eventually His Son into the world. Therefore, they were to be reached first; then the gospel was to be carried to the Greeks, that is, to all nationalities. The point is twofold.

- a. The gospel is God’s power, and it can reach any nationality and any person, no matter who they are.
- b. Therefore, no one is to be exempt from the gospel.
  - ⇒ No messenger is to exempt anyone from the gospel.
  - ⇒ No person is to exempt himself from the gospel. The gospel is for everyone, no matter his race, color, condition, circumstance, or depravity.

“In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink” (Jn.7:37).

“For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him. For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved” (Ro.10:12-13).

“Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth” (1 Tim.2:4).

“And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely” (Rev.22:17).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(1:16) Salvation (soteria): means deliverance, made whole, preservation. From what does man need to be saved and delivered and preserved? Scripture paints five descriptive pictures of salvation, showing man’s great need. (See DEEPER STUDY # 6, Salvation—Mt.1:21 for more discussion.)

1. Salvation means deliverance from being lost. Man is pictured as wandering about in the forest of life trying to go someplace, but unable to find his way. He is lost, and if he continues to stumble about through the forest of life, the underbrush and thorns of the forest will sap his strength and prick him to the point that he lies down and dies. His only hope is for someone to notice that he is lost and to begin seeking for him. This is where the glorious gospel of salvation comes in. God sees that man is lost and He sends His Son to seek and to save man.

Salvation means that Christ...

- seeks and saves man from his lost condition.
- sets man on the right road that leads him to eternal life.

“For the Son of man is come to save that which was lost. How think ye? if a man have an hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and goeth into the mountains, and seeketh that which is gone astray?” (Mt.18:11-12; cp. Lk.15:4).

“For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost” (Lk.19:10).

“Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee” (Jn.5:14).

“I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture” (Jn.10:9).

2. Salvation means deliverance from sin. It means deliverance from mistakes, from corrupt ideas and thoughts, from moral impurity, and from a crooked and perverse generation. Sin is like...

- an infection, a disease for which man has no cure.
- a master that enslaves and will not let go.
- a crooked and perverse world that man cannot straighten out.

Man’s only hope is for someone to discover a cure, someone with the intelligence and power to do it. This is where God steps in with His glorious salvation. God knows all about man’s infection and enslavement by sin, all about his crooked and perverse world; so He sends His Son to save man, to cure him, to liberate him, and to straighten out his world. Salvation means that Christ saves man from the terrible tyranny of sin, from...

- the infection of sin.
- the enslavement of sin.
- the crooked and perverse world of sin.

Salvation also does something else. It frees man from the pricking and burden of guilt and shame, and it plants within man’s soul a deep sense of health and peace with God.

“Thou shalt call his name JESUS: for he shall save his people from their sins” (Mt.1:21).

“And he said to the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace” (Lk.7:50).

“For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved” (Jn.3:17).

“These things I say, that ye might be saved....And ye will not come to me that ye might have life” (Jn.5:34, 40).

“I came not to judge the world, but to save the world” (Jn.12:47).

“And with many other words did he testify and exhort, saying, Save yourselves from this untoward generation” (Acts 2:40).

“For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: not of works, lest any man should boast” (Eph.2:8-9).

“They received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved” (2 Th.2:10).

“God hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began, But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Savior Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel” (2 Tim.1:9-10).

“Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost” (Tit.3:5).

3. Salvation means deliverance in the future from all evil and corruption: from aging and wasting away, deterioration and decay, death and hell. It is the complete redemption of man's spirit and body at the end of the world. It is salvation from the wrath of God—salvation that saves a man from being separated from God eternally. It is the life and exaltation which believers will receive at the final triumph of Jesus Christ. It is the salvation that will keep a man safe and preserve him both in time and eternity.

Man and his world are pictured as having a seed of corruption within their very nature, a seed of corruption that eats away causing them to...

- age and waste away.
- deteriorate and decay.
- suffer destruction and die.

Again, man is hopeless. He cannot stop himself and his world from death and destruction, but God can. God can save both man and his world; God can deliver them from the terrible fate of death and destruction. This is the message of salvation. God loves man and his world and wants to save them, so He sent His Son into the world to save them. Salvation is...

- the complete redemption of man's body and soul in the future: a redemption that saves man from the process of aging and wasting away, deteriorating and decaying, dying and being condemned to hell.
- the perfect deliverance from the wrath of God: a salvation that saves man from being separated from God eternally.
- the gift of life and exaltation: a salvation that will be given to believers at the final triumph of Jesus Christ.
- the presence of perfect assurance: a salvation of security and preservation both in time and eternity.

"We ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our body. For we are saved by hope" (Ro.8:23-24).

"For God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ, who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him" (1 Th.5:9-10).

"And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me [save me, deliver me] unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen" (2 Tim.4:18).

"Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you, who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time" (1 Pt.1:3-5).

"Receiving the end of your faith, even the salvation of your souls" (1 Pt.1:9).

4. Salvation means deliverance from enemies and dangers. Man is pictured as walking in a world lurking with enemy after enemy and danger after danger. Man has to confront all kinds of enemies and dangers that attack both his body and soul, his mind and spirit. He faces all kinds of problems and difficulties, trials and temptations. No matter how much he may long for peace and security, he is forced to combat...

| • a hostile environment      | • a lust for more and more (possessions, fame, wealth, power) |
| • a savage world of nature   | • an evil pride and ego                                       |

| • unregulated urges          | • dreadful diseases   |
| • inevitable aging and dying |   |

Man is seen as helpless in overcoming all the enemies and dangers that lurk in the shadows of this world. But God is not helpless—God can save man; He can gloriously deliver man as he journeys along the road of life. This is exactly what salvation means. God delivers man from the enemies and dangers that war against him. But note the next paragraph, a crucial point.

Salvation does not mean that God delivers man from experiencing difficulty and danger, not in this present world. God does not give a life free from the nature and circumstances of this world. What salvation does is deliver one through the difficulties and dangers of life.

Salvation means that...

- God gives security and peace of soul, no matter what happens.
- God gives safety independent of circumstances and environment.
- God gives inward strength and courage to bear the onslaught and attacks of danger.

"And his disciples came to him, and awoke him, saying, Lord, save us: we perish. And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm. But the men marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him!" (Mt.8:25-27).

"When he saw the wind boisterous, he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried, saying, Lord, save me. And immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand, and caught him, and said unto him, O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt?" (Mt.14:30-31).

“[God] hath raised up an horn of salvation for us in the house of his servant David....That we should be saved from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us” (Lk.1:69, 71).

“Wherefore I pray you to take some meat: for this is for your health [salvation]: for there shall not an hair fall from the head of any of you” (Acts 27:34).

“By faith Noah, being warned of God of things not seen as yet, moved with fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house; by the which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is by faith” (Heb.11:7).

“But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up. Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness, looking for and hasting unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat? Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness. Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blameless. And account that the longsuffering of our Lord is salvation” (2 Pt.3:10-15).

5. Salvation means to make well, to heal, to restore to health, to make whole both physically and mentally. Man is pictured as a suffering creature, a creature who...

- gets sick
- becomes diseased
- has accidents
- wears out from aging
- suffers infirmities
- struggles against deformities

Salvation declares that Christ is concerned with man's suffering. Christ saves and delivers man, rescues and restores man in body as well as in spirit. He takes a man who suffers and makes him whole.

“And, behold, a woman, which was diseased with an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched the hem of his garment: for she said within herself, If I may but touch his garment, I shall be whole. But Jesus turned him about, and when he saw her, he said, Daughter, be of good comfort; thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole from that hour” (Mt.9:20-22).

“And Jesus answered and said unto him, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? The blind man said unto him, Lord, that I might receive my sight. And Jesus said unto him, Go thy way; thy faith hath made thee whole. And immediately he received his sight, and followed Jesus in the way” (Mk.10:51-52).

“If we this day be examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is made whole; be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole” (Acts 4:9-10).

“And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him” (Jas.5:15).

3 (1:17) Righteousness: Paul is not ashamed of the gospel, because it is the revelation of God's righteousness. Note two points.

1. Man has a serious problem—that of thinking he is righteous. The problem is easily seen by picturing the following:

- ⇒ Man thinks that he is good enough and that he does enough good to be acceptable to God.
- ⇒ Man thinks he is righteous and that he walks righteously enough to be acceptable to God.

However, there is one problem with man's thinking: man is not perfect. But God is perfect, and He is perfectly righteous. Therefore, He cannot allow an unrighteous and imperfect being to live in His presence, not even man. Man just cannot live with God, not in his imperfect and unrighteous condition. He would pollute the perfect world of God, the very ground, atmosphere, and nature of heaven, the entire spiritual world and dimension.

The only way man can live with God is to be made righteous, perfectly righteous. How can man be made perfectly righteous? The gospel gives the answer. The gospel is the revelation of God's righteousness and reveals how man can be made righteous and reconciled to God. (See notes, Righteousness—Ro.3:21-22; 4:1-3; DEEPER STUDY # 2—4:22; note—5:1; note 5 and DEEPER STUDY # 5—Mt.5:6 for discussion. These notes should be read for a clear understanding of what the Scripture means by “righteousness” and justification.)

“For I say unto you, That except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven” (Mt.5:20).

“For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him” (2 Cor.5:21).

2. The answer to man's problem is faith. When a person believes the gospel—really believes that Christ saves him—God takes that person's faith and counts it for righteousness. The person is not righteous; he is still imperfect, still corruptible, and still short of God's glory as a sinful human being. But he does believe that Jesus Christ saves him. Such belief honors God's Son, and because of that, God accepts and counts that person's faith as righteousness. Therefore, he becomes acceptable to God. This is justification; this is what is meant by being justified before God.

But note a most critical point: a person must continue to believe. A person must continue to live by faith from the very first moment of belief to the last moment of life on this earth, for it is his faith that God takes and counts as righteousness.

What is meant by the two statements...

- "from faith to faith,"
- and, "the just shall live by faith"?

Very simply, the whole life of the believer is to be a life of faith, from beginning faith to ending faith, from faith to faith. Therefore, the righteousness of God is revealed continuously through all of life, from the beginning of a person's faith to the ending of a person's faith. As Scripture says:

"And he believed in the LORD; and he counted it to him for righteousness" (Gen.15:6).

"And by him all that believe are justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses" (Acts 13:39).

"The just shall live by faith" (Ro.1:17).

"A man is justified by faith" (Ro.3:28).

"Abraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness" (Ro.4:3).

"Now it was not written for his sake alone, that righteousness was imputed to him; but for us also, to whom it shall be imputed, if we believe on him that raised up Jesus our Lord from the dead" (Ro.4:23-24).

"Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ" (Ro.5:1).

"And such were some of you: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God" (1 Cor.6:11).

"Wherefore the law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith" (Gal.3:24).

"But he that shall endure [believe] unto the end, the same shall be saved" (Mt.24:13).

DIVISION II

SIN AND CONDEMNATION: THE WORLD'S NEED TO GET RIGHT WITH GOD, 1:18-3:20

A. God's Case Against All Ungodliness and Unrighteousness of Men: Why God Shows Wrath, 1:18-23

(1:18-3:20) DIVISION OVERVIEW: the teaching of this whole passage can be summarized into three points.

1. Men who sin bring upon themselves the judgment of God. They need God's righteousness (Ro.1:18-2:16).
2. Men without the law, the heathen, are taught by nature and conscience. However, they have sinned by falling short of the standard of righteousness given to them (Ro.1:18-32). Similarly, the moralist and self-righteous who have the law have sinned by falling short of their standard of righteousness: the law (Ro.2:1-3:8).
3. Therefore, all the world becomes guilty before God (Ro.3:19) and needs God's righteousness (Ro.3:9-20).

(1:18-23) Introduction: the message of this passage is perfectly clear: why God reveals and executes wrath upon men.

1. The subjects of God's wrath (v.18).
2. Men reject that "within" them—conscience and thoughts (v.19).
3. Men reject that "without" them—the signs of creation (v.20).
4. Men do not honor God nor give thanks (v.21).
5. Men become prideful and turn away from God (v.22-23).

I (1:18) God's Wrath—Ungodly—Unrighteous: the subjects of God's wrath. Note three points.

1. The wrath of God is a reality (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, God's Wrath—Ro.1:18 for discussion).
2. God's wrath is revealed from heaven. God reveals and shows wrath in four ways. (See note, God's Wrath—Ro.1:24-32 for discussion.)

3. The subjects of God's wrath are twofold. God shows His wrath and becomes angry with two classes of men:
  - a. Men who are ungodly and unrighteous.
    - ⇒ The ungodly (asebeia) fail to love and obey God. They are those who do not live as God lives. They are not like God, not holy and righteous and pure. They do not work at developing a godly nature, do not honor God by word or deed, do not worship and obey God as the only living and true God, do not reverence Him by doing what He says. On the contrary, the ungodly are those who do what they want when they want, who may give lip-service to God, but who ignore Him in their day-today lives.
    - ⇒ The unrighteous (adikia) fail to love others. They are those who do not live with men as they should. They act against men: cheating, stealing, lying, abusing, enslaving, destroying and taking advantage of them.

The point is clear: God is angry with such men—men who are ungodly and unrighteous—men who...

- do not love and obey God.
  - do not love and treat others as they should.
- b. Men who hold the truth in unrighteousness. The word "hold" (katechonton) means to hold down, suppress, repress, stifle, hinder. Men know the truth from three sources:
    - ⇒ from nature (cp. Ro.1:20).
    - ⇒ from reason and conscience (cp. Ro.1:18; 2:15).
    - ⇒ from Scripture (Jn.5:39; 2 Tim.3:16).

Yet despite having access to the truth, they ignore, neglect, and even push the truth aside, doing all they can to avoid and get rid of it. Why? Because they want to live as they wish and not as God says. They want to live unrighteous lives, to taste and feel and see and have all the stimulating things they want.

But note what Scripture says: they “hold the truth in unrighteousness”; that is, they know the truth while they go about living in unrighteousness. They are without excuse.

“And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved” (2 Th.2:10).

Again the point is clear: God is angry with men...

- who are ungodly, who do not love and obey God.
- who are unrighteous, who do not love and treat others as they should.
- who hold the truth while they live ungodly and unrighteous lives.

“For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men, teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world; looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ; who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good words” (Tit.2:11-14).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(1:18) God’s Wrath (orge): anger, not an agitated outburst of violence. It is not the anger that quickly blazes up and just as quickly fades away, not the anger that arises solely from emotion. Rather, it is decisive anger. It is an anger that has arisen from a thoughtful decision, an anger that arises from the mind much more than from the emotions. When used of God, it is always an anger that is righteous and just and good. It is an anger that stands against the sin and evil, violence and slaughter, immorality and injustices of men. It is an anger that abhors and hates sin and evil, that dispenses a just re-venge and equal justice. However, it is an anger that is deeply felt; in fact, it must be felt, for evil and corruption must be opposed and erased from the face of the earth if there is to be a “new heavens and a new earth.” And God has promised a new heavens and a new earth where righteousness and perfection dwell forever.

1. There is God’s anger in judgment.

“But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees come to his baptism, he said unto them, O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come?” (Mt.3:7).

“For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who hold the truth in unrighteousness” (Ro.1:18).

“But after thy hardness and impenitent heart treasurest up unto thyself wrath against the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgment of God” (Ro.2:5).

“But unto them that are contentious, and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, indignation and wrath, tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil, of the Jew first, and also of the Gentile” (Ro.2:8-9).

“But if our unrighteousness commend the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who taketh vengeance? (I speak as a man) God forbid: for then how shall God judge the world?” (Ro.3:5-6).

“Much more then, being now justified by his blood, we shall be saved from wrath through him” (Ro.5:9).

“Among whom also we all had our conversation in times past in the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling the desires of the flesh and of the mind; and were by nature the children of wrath, even as others” (Eph.2:3).

“Let no man deceive you with vain words: for because of these things cometh the wrath of God upon the children of disobedience” (Eph.5:6; cp. Col.3:6).

“For they themselves show of us what manner of entering in we had unto you, and how ye turned to God from idols to serve the living and true God; and to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, which delivered us from the wrath to come” (1 Th.1:9-10).

“For God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ” (1 Th.5:9).

“Kiss the Son, lest he be angry, and ye perish from the way, when his wrath is kindled but a little. Blessed are all they that put their trust in him” (Ps.2:12).

2. There is God’s anger with those who disobey the Lord Jesus.

“He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him” (Jn.3:36).

3. There was God’s anger with Israel in the wilderness.

“So I swear in my wrath, They shall not enter into my rest” (Heb.3:11).

4. There was the anger of the Lord Jesus at man’s hardness of heart.

“And when he had looked round about on them with anger, being grieved for the hardness of their hearts, he saith unto the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it out: and his hand was restored whole as the other” (Mk.3:5).

2 (1:19) God, Proof of—Mind—Conscience: God—the only living and true God—shows wrath because men reject that within them; that is, they reject their consciences and thoughts and reasonings about God. (Cp. Ro.2:15.) Note three clearly stated facts.

- ⇒ God can be known. There are some things that “can be known about God.”
- ⇒ These things are manifest (evident, made clear and plain) “in” men. Men know about God; they know some things about God within their hearts, minds, and consciences.
- ⇒ How? “God has shown [made evident, clear and plain]” these things to men.

Now note.

1. There is a great deal about God that men cannot know (Job 11:7), but there is a great deal that men can know. Men can know enough to be led to God. This is the whole point of this passage: men know about God, but they do not worship Him as God. They have a sense of God, but they suppress the sense, trying to get rid of it.

2. Man’s inner sense, or innate awareness, and instinctive knowledge of God are strong. Man is a very capable creature. He has enormous power and mental capacity. Man can reason and grasp that “God is [exists] and that He rewards those who diligently seek Him” (Heb.11:6). Man can “know God” (v.19), even the “invisible things” of God (v.20); he can know to such a degree that he is “without excuse” (v.20). (See note—Ro.2:11-15 for more discussion.)

However, man chooses not to know God. He even chooses to take the truth that is within him and suppress it. Man rejects the knowledge of God that is within him. This is the first reason why God reveals and shows His wrath.

3 (1:20) God, Proof of—Creation—Man, Depravity: God—the only living and true God—shows wrath because men reject that without them—the signs of creation. Creation reveals God. The whole universe, its presence and its nature, declares God.

However, note something often overlooked. Men can look at nature and see more than the simple fact that God is the great Creator. Men can see more than a Supreme Being behind the creation of the universe. They can see “the invisible things” of God. This means at least two things.

1. Man can see the “eternal power,” the Supreme Intelligence and Force (or Energy), of God. Man can look at the creation of the earth and outer space, of plants and animals, of man and woman; he can look and clearly see their...

- bodies and structure.
- variety and beauty.
- arrangement and order.
- purpose and laws.

When man looks at such things and reasons with an honest spirit, he sees clearly that the world was made by a Creator. But, as stated above, he sees much more. He sees that the Creator is a God of supreme...

- |                                      |   |
|--------------------------------------|---|
| • Life & Being                       | • beauty & majesty                                      |
| • Intelligence & Knowledge           | • glory & honor   |
| • Energy & Power (the Supreme Force) | • value & worth (morality)                              |
| • purpose & meaning                  | • mystery (things not understood; secrets undiscovered) |
| • design & order (law)               |   |

2. Man can see the “Godhead,” that is, the deity of God. When he looks at nature and reasons with an honest spirit, he sees clearly that the Creator is a God who...

- cares and provides for what He has created.
- gives life and has interest in life.
- regenerates, replenishes, and carries things on.
- deserves worship and obedience (being the Creator of life and purpose, and being the Supreme Person of law and order demands that all his subjects serve and obey Him).

Note what Scripture says: man is without excuse. The point is shocking. Man has every evidence imaginable within creation directing him toward God, yet man rejects the knowledge of God within creation. This is the second reason why God reveals and shows His wrath. Man is without excuse. Man has no defense, no answer, no reason that can justify his rejection of God.

“Nevertheless he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and gave us rain from heaven, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness” (Acts 14:17).

“For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse” (Ro.1:20).

“The heavens declare the glory of God and the firmament showeth His handiwork” (Ps.19:1).

“The heavens declare his righteousness, and all the people see his glory” (Ps.97:6).

4 (1:21) God, Sins Against—Unthankful—Dishonor, of God—Man, Depravity: God—the only living and true God—shows wrath because men do not honor God nor give Him thanks. Note that Paul shifted to the past tense in this verse. He was speaking of what men had done in the past; and, of course, men still do the same today. Two serious charges are made against men. Men can clearly know God both...

- within themselves: in their own thoughts, reasonings, consciences.
- without themselves: in creation and nature, in the earth and outer space.

They can know that God gives them life and cares and provides for them, and that God runs everything in an orderly and lawful way, giving purpose and meaning to life. Men can see that God is great and good; therefore, God deserves to be glorified and given thanks. But men...

- did not glorify Him: did not worship, obey, or serve Him as God.
- did not give thanks to Him: did not praise, magnify, or express appreciation to Him.

What happens when men reject God is tragic. Two tragic things happen when they push God out of their minds.

1. Man's imaginations become vain.
  - ⇒ The word "imaginations" means thoughts, reasonings, deliberations, conclusions, speculations.
  - ⇒ The word vain means, empty, futile, unsuccessful, senseless, worthless.

Thought 1. When men push God out of their minds, their minds are void and empty of God. God is not in their thoughts. (Cp. Ps.10:4.) Their minds are ready to be filled with some other god or supremacy.

"And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually" (Gen.6:5).

"The wicked, through the pride of his countenance, will not seek after God: God is not in all his thoughts" (Ps.10:4).

"The LORD knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanity" (Ps.94:11).

"These six things doth the LORD hate; yea, seven are an abomination unto him: a proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood, a heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, feet that be swift in running to mischief, a false witness that speaketh lies and he that soweth discord among brethren" (Pr.6:16-19).

"The thoughts of the wicked are an abomination to the LORD" (Pr.15:26).

"Then said he unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen what the ancients of the house of Israel do in the dark, every man in the chambers of his imagery? for they say, The LORD seeth us not; the LORD hath forsaken the earth" (Ezk.8:12).

2. Man's "foolish heart is darkened."
  - ⇒ The word "foolish" means senseless, without understanding, unintelligent.
  - ⇒ The word "darkened" means blinded, unable to see.

"They know not, neither will they understand; they walk on in darkness: all the foundations of the earth are out of course" (Ps.82:5).

"Who leave the paths of uprightness, to walk in the ways of darkness" (Pr.2:13).

"The way of the wicked is as darkness: they know not at what they stumble" (Pr.4:19).

"For the heart of this people is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed; lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them" (Acts 28:27).

"In whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them" (2 Cor.4:4).

"Having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart" (Eph.4:18).

"Ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth" (2 Tim.3:7).

Note a critical point. Men suffer empty imaginations and darkened hearts because they...

- do not glorify God.
- do not offer thanks to God.

This is the third reason why God reveals and shows wrath toward men.

"And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand: and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it" (Mt.7:26-27).

"Therefore to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin" (Jas.4:17).

5 (1:22-23) Man, Depravity—Pride—God, Rejection of: God—the only living and true God—shows wrath because men become prideful and turn away from God. This scene is one of the greatest tragedies in all of human history, and it is repeated every time a man turns away from God. The scene is man rejecting God and claiming that he is...

- too wise to believe in God.
- too intelligent to depend upon the fables of the Bible.
- too capable not to look to self.
- too resourceful not to create his own world and future.
- too masterful not to trust his own humanistic ideas.
- too reasonable and rational not to create his own standards and laws to control life.

But note what Scripture says: in denying God, men make two gross mistakes.

1. Men profess themselves to be wise, but in so doing they become fools. Why? For one simple reason.
  - ⇒ God does exist, and He has clearly revealed Himself both within men's thoughts and through creation. Therefore, when men's hearts and minds are emptied of God, men have to fill their hearts and thoughts with something else. They have to have some other god, some other guiding light or principle to give purpose and meaning and direction to their lives. They have to replace God with something else. They have to have something—some standard, some law, some rule, some person, some god—by which they can guide their lives.

Therefore, when men dethrone and erase God from their lives, they imagine and create their own god within their minds. Men reason and speculate about the ultimate source of life, and whatever they come up with is that to which they give their lives.

“Therefore, behold, I will proceed to do a marvellous work among this people, even a marvellous work and a wonder: for the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the understanding of their prudent men shall be hid” (Is.29:14).

“For my people is foolish, they have not known me; they are sottish children, and they have none understanding: they are wise to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge” (Jer.4:22).

“Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools” (Ro.1:22).

“For the preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us which are saved it is the power of God. For it is written, I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent” (1 Cor.1:18-19).

“Howbeit we speak wisdom among them that are perfect: yet not the wisdom of this world, nor of the princes of this world, that come to nought: but we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, even the hidden wisdom, which God ordained before the world unto our glory” (1 Cor.2:6-7).

“For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, He taketh the wise in their own craftiness. And again, The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain” (1 Cor.3:19-20).

“Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ...Which things have indeed a show of wisdom in will worship, and humility, and neglecting of the body; not in any honour to the satisfying of the flesh” (Col.2:8, 23).

2. Men exchange the incorruptible God for some corruptible idol. Note four facts.
  - a. God is said to be “incorruptible” (aphartos), which means non-decaying, imperishable, unchanging, and unaging. Incorruptible means that God is not subject to passing away; He is eternal. God always has been, and always will be: God will always exist.
  - b. Men swap and exchange God for “corruptible man,” that is, for the image, the idea, and the thought that man is his own god. Men swap God for humanism. They make themselves and mankind...
    - the god of life.
    - the master of the world.
    - the makers of their own destiny.
    - the law-givers of their own laws.
    - the determiners of their own morality.
    - the standard by which their lives are to be governed.

Note that humanism makes an idol out of man and worships man as the “god” of his own destiny. This is usually the sin of scientific and industrialized societies—societies where a healthy and strong man, both mentally and physically, is essential—societies where good self-images and healthy bodies are necessary for the advancement of society.

- c. Men swap God for corruptible creatures. This is usually the worship followed by non-industrialized and non-scientific societies—societies where grotesque images of men and animals are actually constructed out of wood, stone, or metal.

Now note: men create their own humanistic gods, whether mental images and thoughts or some grotesque image, because of pride and conceit. Men want to control their own lives, to do as they wish, to be recognized and honored, and to receive the credit and acknowledgment themselves. Therefore, they turn from God and make their own gods...

- in their own image.
- as they conceive and wish their god to be.

This is the fourth reason why God—the only living and true God—reveals and shows his wrath toward men.

“Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the God-head is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and man’s device [thought]” (Acts 17:29).

“Little children, keep yourselves from idols” (1 Jn.5:21).

“Behold, I set before you this day a blessing and a curse; a blessing, if ye obey the commandments of the LORD your God, which I command you this day: and a curse, if ye will not obey the commandments of the LORD your God, but turn aside out of the way which I command you this day, to go after other gods, which ye have not known” (Dt.11:26-28).

“I am the LORD: that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images” (Is.42:8).

DIVISION II

SIN AND CONDEMNATION: THE WORLD'S NEED TO GET RIGHT WITH GOD, 1:18-3:20

B. God's Case Against All Ungodliness and Unrighteousness of Men: How God Shows Wrath, 1:24-32

(1:24-32) Introduction—God's Wrath—Judgment: Scripture says "the wrath of God is revealed from heaven" (Ro.1:18). This particular passage discusses the four ways that God reveals and shows His wrath. Note three things.

1. All four ways concern judgments that come upon man. That is, the wrath of God is exercised and falls upon man because of his ungodliness and unrighteousness.
2. All four ways have to do with history, with human experience, with a moral universe. That is, God's wrath is revealed from heaven day by day...
  - throughout history.
  - in man's experience.
  - within a moral universe.
3. Three of the judgments are present judgments; they take place today in the lives of men (v.24-31). The fourth judgment is future and is to be the final judgment upon men (v.32).

How does God reveal and execute His wrath upon man?

1. God gave men up to do as they willed (v.24).
2. God gave men up to uncleanness (v.24-25).
3. God gave men up to vile, unnatural affections (v.26-27).
4. God gave men up to reprobate, depraved minds (v.28-31).
5. God assures final judgment: death (v.32).

1 (1:24) Judgment—Man, Abandoned by God: God—the only living and true God—gave men up to do as they willed. (See notes—Mt.13:13-15; DEEPER STUDY # 1—Jn.12:39-41 for more discussion.) This is said three times in this passage, and each time was due to a serious sin of man (v.24, 26, 28). Man's sin forced God to give man up and to abandon him. The scene was terrible and frightening, for to be abandoned and left without God in this world leads to the worst possible life imaginable.

There are two strong reasons why God gives man up, and each issues a loud warning to man.

1. Man chooses sin over God, and when he does, two things happen.
  - a. Man becomes enslaved to sin. Sin actually stirs more and more sin. The more a man sins the easier it is for him to sin again. At first he may ponder the wisdom of committing the sin; but later on, after committing the sin over and over, he seldom if ever gives the sin a second thought. Sin looks good, tastes good, and feels good. It is attractive and it satisfies the human flesh and urges of man. It satisfies so much that man is naturally attracted to it. By sinning, he steadily makes himself a slave to sin. He becomes addicted. Sin becomes the terrible master and subjects man to its cruel habits and enticements that are almost impossible to break.

- b. Sin always lies. This needs to be remembered. Sin entices, claiming to bring pleasure and stimulation and happiness, but in reality it destroys a person's...
- |           |              |          |
|-----------|--------------|----------|
| • body    | • profession | • values |
| • family  | • mind       | • future |
| • friends | • will       | • life   |
| • soul    | • hope       |          |

A terrible tragedy that is so often forgotten is this: we are not islands unto ourselves. Our sin involves others; therefore, our sin destroys others—both their lives and their souls. Sin may look, taste, and feel good to us; but it always involves and influences others. It hurts and dooms our children, spouses, friends, and society.

2. Man abandons God, actually turns away from God and gives God up. This may be called spiritual abandonment: man spiritually abandons God. God has given man a free will, and if a man wills to turn away from God, he can. God cannot interfere with that choice. To do so would be to take away man's freedom. So God appeals to man spiritually, through mercy and love and grace, but He does not violate man's choice. He cannot. To do so would be to have a coerced and mechanical universe. Man would become nothing but a robot, coerced to do this and that and to do it exactly as God wills. The result would be tragic: man would never experience love, goodness, care, concern, or feelings. Love is not love if it is coerced. It is mechanical and meaningless. The expression of any affection or virtue is meaningless unless it is freely given. Therefore, when man turns away from God, he himself makes the choice to do so, and God cannot interfere. The choice is man's, and man is abandoned—left all alone to himself to do exactly as he has chosen (Hos.4:17; Eph.4:19). Therefore, God has no choice. He must...

- give man up.
- let man go his own way.
- spiritually abandon man.
- leave man to live for that which he has chosen.

“So I gave them up unto their own hearts’ lust: and they walked in their own counsels” (Ps.81:12).

“Then God turned, and gave them up to worship the host of heaven” (Acts 7:42).

2 (1:24-25) Sin—Body—Judgment: God—the only living and true God—shows wrath by giving men up to uncleanness. The word “uncleanness” (akatharsian) means impurity, filthiness, immorality, defilement, dirt, pollution, contamination, infection. When men turn from God—abandon God to live unclean and immoral lives—God leaves men. He abandons them to their choice. God lets men wallow around in their filthiness. Men are judged and condemned to uncleanness.

1. The reason men are condemned to “uncleanness” is because of the lusts “in their hearts.” Their hearts are filled with “lusts” (epithumiais), that is, passionate cravings, desires, and urges. They long after things that displease God and that dishonor their bodies. God cares deeply about the human body, and he judges any person who abuses the body. (See outlines and DEEPER STUDY # 6—Mt.6:11; notes—1 Cor.3:16; 3:17; DEEPER STUDY # 1—6:18; notes—6:19; 6:20; cp. 1 Th.4:3-5 for more discussion.)

In the Greek the lusts are said to be “in [en] their own hearts.” Sin takes place in the heart before it takes place by act.

“And he said, That which cometh out of the man, that defileth the man. For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness: all these evil things come from within, and defile the man” (Mk.7:20-23).

2. The result of living an unclean life is idolatry. Men “changed the truth of God into a lie and worshipped and served the creature more than the Creator.” When men live in uncleanness, they begin to serve and to give their lives to one of two things.

- a. They serve themselves, giving their time and energy to their own desires, pursuits, and lusts.
- b. They serve other “gods,” gods that allow them to go ahead and live as they wish. They imagine what god is like and they worship him either in their mind or in some graven image moulded by their hands. They conceive of a god that is...

|                                |                     |
|--------------------------------|---------------------|
| • a god of some religion       | • a god of men      |
| • a god of Christianity        | • a god of creation |
| • a god of some part of nature | • a god of goodness |

The point is this. Man abandons the only true and living God and lusts after uncleanness. He lusts and craves so much...

- that he creates a god in his own mind who allows him to satisfy his lust.
- that he rationalizes and thinks that his god understands his situation and need, and that his god will not judge him for his uncleanness and immorality.
- that he conceives of a god that will allow him to do what he wants.
- that he matches his god to fit his morals, letting his morals determine the kind of god he is going to worship.
- that he twists god to fit what he wants.
- that he allows his morals (uncleanness) to control his thoughts about God.

Man serves and gives his time and energy to the god he imagines in his mind and to the idols he creates within his imagination and thoughts. He abandons God so that he can live the unclean life he craves. Therefore, God judges man and abandons man to live in his uncleanness.

“[The carnal] have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of Balaam the son of Bosor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness” (2 Pt.2:15).

“Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever” (1 Jn.2:15-17).

“And I will utter my judgments against them touching all their wickedness, who have forsaken me, and have burned incense unto other gods and worshipped the works of their own hands” (Jer.1:16).

“For my people have committed two evils; they have forsaken me the fountain of living waters, and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water” (Jer.2:13).

“Thou hast forsaken me, saith the LORD, thou art gone backward: therefore will I stretch out my hand against thee; I am weary with repenting” (Jer.15:6).

“And be not ye like your fathers, and like your brethren, which trespassed against the LORD God of their fathers, who therefore gave them up to desolation, as ye see” (2 Chron.30:7).

3 (1:26-27) Sin—Body—Judgment: God—the only living and true God—shows wrath by giving men up to vile, unnatural affections. The term “vile affections” (pathe atimias) means passions, dishonor, disgrace, infamy, shame, and degradation. It means passions that cannot be controlled or governed, that run loose and wild, no matter how much a person tries to control them.

1. The reason God gives men up to vile affections is because of their unnatural passion. Men lust and lust, craving the illegitimate and unlawful. They burn in their lust one for another. And note what Scripture is talking about: unnatural affection, that is, homosexuality.

⇒ Women burn and lust and exchange the “natural use into that which is against nature.” And note, it is against nature.

⇒ Men burn in their “lust one toward another; men with men doing that which is shameful.”

Note again that the sin takes place in the heart. Men burn within, crave the sin before they commit the act. It is their burning, their lusting, their craving that sets them aflame to pursue the shameful act. Their hearts burn after other men, not after God. Therefore, they stand condemned, and God is forced to judge them.

2. The result of unnatural affection is a totally depraved nature. When men choose a life of “vile affections,” God gives them up to it. It is man’s choice, and since it is man’s choice, God can do nothing about it. God has to give man up to what he chooses. He does not override man’s will.

Note a crucial fact: Scripture says men receive “in themselves that recompense [pay back, punishment] of their error.” The judgment for homosexuality is within, not without man. If a person burns after unnatural affection, he is given over to his burning; he is given over to burn and crave more and more. He is judged and condemned to live in his unnatural passion and to feel the shame of it. He is enslaved and held in bondage to it, psychologically and physically. The judgment is “meet,” that is, fit, just, exactly what it should be. If men lust and burn after unnatural affection, it is only fit that they be given what they so passionately crave. Therefore, God judges men by giving men up to live in their vile affections.

“That every one of you should know how to possess his vessel in sanctification and honour; not in the lust of concupiscence, even as the Gentiles which know not God” (1 Th.4:4-5).

“Marriage is honourable in all, and the bed undefiled: but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge” (Heb.13:4).

4 (1:28-31) God, Wrath of—Judgment—Sin: God—the only living and true God—shows wrath by giving men up to reprobate, depraved minds. The term “reprobate mind” (adokimon noun) means a mind that is rejected, disapproved, degraded, depraved; a mind that cannot stand the test of judgment.

1. The reason God gives men up to reprobate minds is because men reject God. They know God, but they do not “like to retain God in their knowledge.” They...

- do not like to approve God.
- do not like to recognize God.
- do not like to acknowledge God.

They simply do not want God to have anything to do with their lives; therefore, they push Him out of their minds. They ignore and refuse to accept God’s presence.

2. The result is forcibly stated. God gives men over to reprobate minds, minds that are totally depraved. Men are allowed to do exactly as they choose; they are enslaved more and more in their depravity and unsuitable behavior. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1-23—Ro.1:29-31 for the meaning of the terrible sins listed.)

“Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting” (Gal.6:7-8).

“But after thy hardness and impenitent heart treasurest up unto thyself wrath against the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgment of God” (Ro.2:5).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(1:29) Unrighteousness (adikia): injustice, wrongdoing, evildoing, every kind of evil. It is the opposite of righteousness; therefore, it is...

- mistreating God and man, acting unjustly toward both.
- failing to treat God and man as a person should treat them.

Note the word “all unrighteousness.” It is being filled with unjust treatment. It is focusing on oneself to the point of making oneself the center of the universe...

- grasping after everything, all the attention and possessions one can secure.
- ignoring and abusing others to get all one can.

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(1:29) Fornication (porneiai): a broad word including all forms and kinds of immoral and sexual acts. It is premarital sex, adultery, and abnormal sex—all kinds of sexual vice.

DEEPER STUDY # 3

(1:29) Wickedness (poneria): to be depraved, to be actively evil, to do mischief, to trouble others and cause harm, to be malicious, to be dangerous and destructive. It is malice, hatred, and ill-will. It is an active wickedness, a desire within the heart to do harm and to corrupt people. It is a person who actually pursues others to seduce or to injure them.

DEEPER STUDY #4

(1:29) Covetousness (pleonexia): a lust for more and more, an appetite for something, a love of possessing, a cry of “give, give” (2 Pt.2:14). It is a grasping, a craving after and for possessions, pleasure, power, and fame. Covetousness lacks restraint. It lacks the ability to discriminate. It wants to have in order to spend in pleasure and luxury. Covetousness is an insatiable lust and craving of the flesh that cannot be satisfied. It is a lust and craving so deep that a person finds his happiness in things and pleasure instead of God. It is idolatry (Eph.5:5). It is an intense appetite for gain, a passion for the pleasure that things can bring. It is an active, aggressive, grasping covetousness.

DEEPER STUDY # 5

(1:29) Maliciousness (kakia): malice, viciousness, ill-will, spite, a grudge. It means that a man has turned his heart completely over to evil.

- ⇒ He no longer has any good within—none whatsoever.
- ⇒ He is full of viciousness and malice.
- ⇒ He is actively pursuing evil with a vengeance.

DEEPER STUDY # 6

(1:29) Envy (phthonos): the word goes beyond jealousy. It is the spirit...

- that wants not only the things that another person has, but begrudges the fact that the person has them.
- that wants not only the things to be taken away from the person, but wants him to suffer through the loss of them.

Every thought expresses grief that another person has something, whether honor, recognition, or position.

DEEPER STUDY #7

(1:29) Murder (phonos): to kill, to take the life of another. Murder is a sin against the sixth commandment.

DEEPER STUDY # 8

(1:29) Debate (eridos): strife, discord, contention, fighting, struggling, quarreling, dissension, wrangling. It means that a man fights against another person in order to get something: position, promotion, property, honor, recognition. He fights in a dishonest and evil way.

DEEPER STUDY # 9

(1:29) Deceit (dolos): to bait, snare, mislead, beguile; to be crafty and deceitful; to mislead or to give a false impression by word, act, or influence. It is a man who connives and twists the truth to get his own way. He plots and deceives, doing whatever has to be done to get what he is after.

DEEPER STUDY # 10

(1:29) Malignity (kakoetheia): evil disposition, evil in nature. It is a spirit full of evil and malice and injury, a character that is as evil as it can be. It is a person who always looks for the worst in other people and always passes on the worst about them. It is the person who so often ruins other people both in reputation and body and in mind and spirit. It is a person so full of evil that he is always ruining others either by word or violence.

DEEPER STUDY # 11

(1:29) Whisperers (psithuristes): secret gossipers, secret slanderers, backbiters, murmurers. It is a person...

- who whispers behind another person's back, chewing and tearing him up.
- who passes on tales about others, whether true or not.
- who destroys the reputation of others.

DEEPER STUDY # 12

(1:30) Backbiters (katalalos): slanderers. The word differs from the quiet, secret slanderer. It is a loud, open slanderer, a person who broadcasts the tale. Again, whether the tale is true or not does not matter. The backbiting slanderer burns within to tell the gossip to everyone.

DEEPER STUDY # 13

(1:30) Haters of God (theostugeis): hating and being hateful to God. It is a person...

- who dislikes the commandments and restraints of God.
- who wants nothing to do with God and His restrictions and laws.
- who wants the license to do exactly as he wishes.
- who wants to be the god of his own life, doing his own thing as he wishes, determining both what he should and should not do.

DEEPER STUDY # 14

(1:30) Despiteful (hubristes): insolent, insulting, and defying. It is a spirit of spite, of attack and assault, verbally or physically. It is despising and attacking, inflicting injury either by word or act. It is a man who...

- lives his own life as he wishes, ignoring both God and men.
- lives as though his rights and affairs are the only rights and affairs which matter.
- stands toe to toe with both God and men, acting as though he needs neither.
- acts so independent in life that he dares God or men to get in his way.
- does what he wants when he wants, even if it hurts or destroys others.

The sin of despise, of being insolent and insulting, is the spirit that hurts and harms others in order to do what one wants.

DEEPER STUDY # 15

(1:30) Proud: (huperephanos): self-exaltation, conceit, arrogance; being haughty; putting oneself above others and looking down upon others; scorn, contempt. It means to show oneself, to lift one's head above another, to hold contempt for another, to compare oneself with others. Pride can be hidden in the heart as well as openly displayed. God resists the proud (Jas.4:6; 1 Pt.5:5; Pr.3:24).

DEEPER STUDY # 16

(1:30) Boasters (alazon): braggarts, pretenders, vaunters, swaggers, boasters. It is a person who...

- boasts in what he has.
- boasts in what he can do.
- pretends to have what he does not have or pretends to have done what he has not done.

Bragging may involve a job, a deal, a possession, an achievement—anything that may impress others. It is a person who feels the need to push himself above others even if it involves pretension, deception, make believe, or lies.

DEEPER STUDY # 17

(1:30) Inventors of evil things (epheuretes kakon): inventors of new sins, of more sensational forms of excitement and vice. It is a person who is tired of the old forms of sin and who feels the need to seek out new ways and forms of vice.

DEEPER STUDY # 18

(1:30) Disobedient to parents (goneusin apeitheis) refusing to do what one's parents say; rebelling against one's parents; showing disrespect to parents; rejecting parental instruction; dishonoring parental example. A child who disobeys his parents is wide open to all forms of evil.

DEEPER STUDY # 19

(1:31) Without understanding (asunetos): senseless, foolish, without conscience. It is a person who...

- ignores experience.
- will not learn no matter who the teacher is.
- refuses to heed the truth.
- closes his mind and eyes to the truth.
- rejects conscience.

DEEPER STUDY # 20

(1:31) Covenantbreakers (asunthetos): breakers of promises or agreements, untrustworthy, faithless, treacherous, untruthful. It is a man who tragically does not keep his word or promise. He is simply untrustworthy and undependable.

DEEPER STUDY # 21

(1:31) Without natural affection (astorgos): abnormal affection and love, heartless, without human emotion or love, a lack of feeling for others, abuse of normal affection and love. Others become little more than pawns for a man's own use and benefit, pleasure and purposes, excitement and stimulation. Abnormal affection, sex and perversion prevail.

DEEPER STUDY # 22

(1:31) Implacable (aspondous): incapable of giving in, of being appeased or pacified. A person is just unwilling to make peace or come to an agreement.

DEEPER STUDY # 23

(1:31) Unmerciful (aneleemon): without pity; unwilling to show mercy. It is a person...

- craving to have and to possess others regardless of their welfare.
- craving to use others as one wills regardless of hurt and shame.
- craving to satisfy one's own pleasure even if it means the hurt or death of others.

It is an absence of consideration or feelings for others. What matters is one's own pleasure and rights, not the pleasure and rights of others.

5 (1:32) Judgment: God—the only living and true God—assures final judgment which is death, that is, eternal separation from God. There are two reasons why men will be judged and condemned to death.

1. Men will be judged because they sin and take pleasure in others who sin by doing the same things (v.29-31). Men have appetites, desires, and lusts, and they spend their lives seeking to fulfill them. The great tragedy is that they not only take pleasure in their own sins, but they take pleasure in the sins of others. They approve and talk about their selfishness and exploits and that of their friends. They focus their lives upon...

- extravagant living
- stylish dress
- wealth
- power
- position
- fame
- material possessions
- sexual affairs

As a result of such selfishness, the sins listed in the Scripture tear at the world and destroy human life (v.29-31); therefore, the judgment of God is assured. Those who commit such things and take pleasure in the sins of others shall die, that is, be separated from God eternally.

“Who knowing the judgment of God, that they which commit such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but have pleasure in them that do them” (Ro.1:32).

“Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter!” (Is.5:20).

“Because with lies ye have made the heart of the righteous sad, whom I have not made sad; and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not return from his wicked way, by promising him life” (Ezk.13:22).

“Ye have wearied the LORD with your words. Yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? When ye say, Every one that doeth evil is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delighteth in them; or Where is the god of judgment?” (Mal.2:17).

2. Men will be judged because they are without excuse: they know through an inner sense that the judgment of God is coming upon the world. Men sense that some higher power (God) is going to straighten out the mess in the world: that injustices and inequities will be brought to judgment, condemned and punished. (See outline and notes—Ro.2:1-16 for more discussion.)

“For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord” (Ro.6:23).

“For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace” (Ro.8:6).

“And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment” (Heb.9:27).

“Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin: and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death” (Jas.1:15).

“But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death” (Rev.21:8).

“As righteousness tendeth to life; so he that pursueth evil pursueth it to his own death” (Pr.11:19).

“The soul that sinneth, it shall die” (Ezk.18:4).

DIVISION II

SIN AND CONDEMNATION: THE WORLD'S NEED TO GET RIGHT WITH GOD, 1:18-3:20

C. God's Case Against the Moralist: Judgment, 2:1-16

(2:1-16) Introduction: this is one of the passages that covers several subjects and can be studied from the viewpoint of any one of them. It is an excellent study on judging, criticizing others, the judgment of God, self-righteousness, the moralist, and the legalist. It also deals with the judgment of the heathen, and answers the question so often asked: "What will happen to the heathen, to the person who never hears about Jesus Christ?" (v.11-15). The present study is entitled: "God's Case Against the Moralist."

1. The moralist (v.1).
2. The judgment of God is according to truth: perfect justice (v.2-5).
3. The judgment of God is according to deeds: eternal reward or punishment (v.6-10).
4. The judgment of God is without respect of persons: absolute impartiality (v.11-15).
5. The judgment of God is to be executed by Jesus Christ and His gospel (v.16).

1 (2:1) Moralist—Judging Others—Criticism: the moralist. In the eyes of Scripture a moralist is a person who lives a moral and clean life, but he judges others because they do not live as he thinks they should. He is moral, upright, just, good, decent, and honorable. The moralist has strong values, standards, and principles. He is well disciplined and able to control his life. He lives just as everyone thinks he should. He knows right from wrong and he lives it. He knows how to behave and he does it. In the eyes of society he is just what a person should be. He is a good neighbor, an excellent worker and provider, and an ideal citizen. But note three things.

1. The moralist judges others. The word "judge" (krino) means to criticize, to find fault, to condemn. This is the terrible flaw of the moralist. Note: any person becomes a moralist when he sets himself up as a judge of others. Any time we judge another person, we are declaring that we...

- are living by some rule that another person is not living by.
- are more moral than someone else.
- are better than someone else.
- are superior to someone else.
- are more righteous than someone else.
- are more acceptable to God than someone else.

Judging others says, "I am right, and he is not; I succeed, but he fails." Therefore...

- "Look at me, but ignore him."
- "Draw near to me, but shun him."
- "Esteem me, but put him down."
- "Approve me, but condemn him."
- "Be my friend, but withdraw from him."

Very simply, judging others raises self and lowers others, exalts self and debases others; and in the eyes of God this is wrong. It is sin. It is being full of self-righteousness, pride, and arrogance. It sets self up as a moralist, and it makes a person judgmental and critical.

"Judge not, that ye be not judged" (Mt.7:1).

"Who art thou that judgest another man's servant? to his own master he standeth or falleth. Yea, he shall be holden up: for God is able to make him stand" (Ro.14:4).

"Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge this rather, that no man put a stumblingblock or an occasion to fall in his brother's way" (Ro.14:13).

"There is one lawgiver, who is able to save and to destroy: who art thou that judgest another?" (Jas.4:12).

2. The moralist is inexcusable, and he condemns himself because he does the very same things. He fails just as the man whom he judges fails. Scripture says...

"Thou that judgest doest the same things" (Ro.2:1).

"[All] temptation is common to man" (1 Cor.10:13).

"Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment: but I say unto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment" (Mt.5:21-22).

"Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not commit adultery: but I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart" (Mt.5:27-28).

In God's eyes, sin is a matter of the heart and mind, not just an act. The thought and desire makes a person just as guilty as the act itself. God knows that many would carry out their thoughts if they had the courage or opportunity. God knows the heart, the mind, and the thoughts. Sin, whether thoughts in the mind or acts in public, comes short of God's glory. All stand guilty before God; therefore, the moralist, the person who judges, is as guilty as the one judged. It is for this reason that we are not to judge, criticize, and find fault with others.

"And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye?" (Mt.7:3).

"Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? thou that preachest a man should not steal, dost thou steal? Thou that sayest a man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou that abhorrest idols, dost thou commit sacrilege?" (Ro.2:21-22).

"But when I saw that they walked not uprightly according to the truth of the gospel, I said unto Peter before them all, If thou, being a Jew, livest after the manner of Gentiles, and not as do the Jews, why compellest thou the Gentiles to live as do the Jews?" (Gal.2:14).

"They profess that they know God; but in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate" (Tit.1:16).

Thought 1. This point does not mean that judicial systems of the state are wrong nor that discipline is not to be exercised within families, organizations, and the church. Scripture teaches that both justice and discipline are to be exercised by men. What Scripture means is this: we are not to go around criticizing and finding fault with each other and putting each other down when one of us fails. Instead we are to reach out and try to redeem and help each other. Imagine what a different world this would be if all tongues were stopped! If all criticism and fault-finding ceased! If everyone actually reached out and tried to redeem and save those who failed!

"Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such an one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted. Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ" (Gal.6:1-2).

"Him that is weak in the faith receive ye, but not to doubtful disputations [to criticize and judge]" (Ro.14:1).

“We then that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves” (Ro.15:1).

“To the weak became I as weak, that I might gain the weak: I am made all things to all men, that I might by all means save some” (1 Cor.9:22).

“Now we exhort you, brethren, warn them that are unruly, comfort the feebleminded, support the weak, be patient toward all men” (1 Th.5:14).

“If a brother or sister be naked, and destitute of daily food, and one of you say unto them, Depart in peace, be ye warmed and filled; notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body; what doth it profit?” (Jas.2:15-16).

“Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be” (Jas.3:10).

2 (2:2-5) Judgment—God, Misconceptions of—Man: the judgment of God—of the only living and true God—is according to truth. God’s judgment will be executed in perfect justice. The word “truth” (aletheian) means true as opposed to false. It means what really is; what actually exists; what exactly takes place. God’s judgment is perfectly just, exactly what it should be, nothing more and nothing less. His judgment is based upon...

- what really happens.
- what the facts are.
- what actually takes place.
- what a person really is within his heart and what the person actually did.

“The Lord seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the LORD looketh on the heart” (1 Sam.16:7).

God knows the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth; therefore, He will judge according to truth. His judgment will be perfect, conforming exactly to our deeds. It will match our deeds perfectly.

Note four points.

1. The moralist thinks he will escape. His offense is much greater, for he is like all other men: sinful and short of God’s glory. Yet he criticizes and judges those whose failures are discovered and exposed, and he thinks he will escape. He forgets that God sees the inner recesses of the human heart, and that God will judge men not only for their deeds but for their thoughts...

- for the lust of the flesh.
- for the lust of the eyes.
- for the pride of life (1 Jn.2:15-16).

“Ye serpents, ye generation of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation of hell?” (Mt.23:33).

“For there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; neither hid, that shall not be known” (Lk.12:2).

“And [Jesus] needed not that any should testify of man: for he knew what was in man” (Jn.2:25).

“Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and then shall every man have praise of God” (1 Cor.4:5).

“For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape” (1 Th.5:3).

“How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation; which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him” (Heb.2:3).

“But if ye will not do so, behold, ye have sinned against the LORD: and be sure your sin will find you out” (Num.32:23).

“For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil” (Eccl.12:14).

2. The moralist thinks God is too good to punish. When he thinks of God, he thinks of the riches...

- of God’s goodness (chrestotes): His kindness and grace and love.
- of God’s forbearance (anoche): His refraining, holding back, abstaining, and controlling His justice.
- of God’s longsuffering: His suffering a long time, being patient and slow in judging sin.

God, of course, is all this and much more. What the moralist fails to see is that God’s goodness...

- is not a blank check for sin.
- does not give license to sin.
- does not condone sin.
- does not indulge sin.
- does not overlook sin.

God’s goodness is to lead men to repentance, not to sin. The fact that God will forgive sin should stir men to seek forgiveness and to please God. If a man goes out and sins, thinking that God will just overlook and forgive his sin, he is despising God’s goodness. He is taking God’s goodness and making it a sham, a mockery, a joke, a thing of indulgence. The man who despises God’s goodness—who sins thinking God will just overlook and forgive his sin—is wrong. He is mistaken. God does not just overlook and forgive his sin; He does not condone, indulge, nor give license to his sin. God will judge him and the judgment will be according to the truth.

“Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind, nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God. And such were some of you: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God” (1 Cor.6:9-11).

“Be not deceived: evil communications [company] corrupt good manners [morals]. Awake to righteousness, and sin not; for some have not the knowledge of God: I speak this to your shame” (1 Cor.15:33-34).

“Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap” (Gal.6:7).

“Let no man deceive you with vain words: for because of these things cometh the wrath of God upon the children of disobedience” (Eph.5:6).

“Little children, let no man deceive you: he that doeth righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous. He that committeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil” (1 Jn.3:7-8).

3. The moralist thinks man is basically good. He thinks that man can be good enough for God to accept. He thinks God looks for the good in man and that within each man is enough good for God to accept. The moralist thinks that God’s goodness accepts man’s...

- |                 |                   |
|-----------------|-------------------|
| • good works    | • good feelings   |
| • good thoughts | • good nature     |
| • good behavior | • good tendencies |

God, of course, is pleased with whatever good is in man. But what the moralist fails to see is that God’s goodness is perfect. It cannot accept...

- |                      |                          |
|----------------------|--------------------------|
| • any imperfect work | • any ugly feelings      |
| • any foul thoughts  | • any corruptible nature |
| • any evil behavior  | • any sinful urges       |

God can only accept perfection. No man is perfect: not in nature, thought, or behavior. Therefore, all men are unacceptable to God. No man is good enough to be acceptable to God, no matter how good he is. The goodness of God is to lead men to repentance: to turn men to God for righteousness, not to declare man’s self-righteousness. The fact that God allows men to repent should stir men...

- to confess their imperfection and self-righteousness.
- to seek God’s righteousness which is in Christ Jesus the Lord. (See notes—Ro.4:1-3; DEEPER STUDY # 1,2—4:22; 5:1 for more discussion.)

Thought 1. Most people think that God will accept them, that in the final analysis they are good enough for God to accept them. They never dream that God will reject them, not when everything is said and done. What they fail to see is that God’s judgment is based upon truth—the truth of what a person’s thoughts and motives are, of what is really within a person’s mind and heart. God’s judgment is based upon the truth of a person’s imperfect nature and behavior.

“When they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful; but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened. Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools” (Ro.1:21-22).

“For we dare not make ourselves of the number, or compare ourselves with some that commend themselves: but they measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves among themselves, are not wise” (2 Cor.10:12).

“For if a man think himself to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself” (Gal.6:3).

“Most men will proclaim every one his own goodness: but a faithful man who can find?” (Pr.20:6).

“Seest thou a man wise in his own conceit? There is more hope of a fool than of him” (Pr.26:12).

“He that trusteth in his own heart is a fool: but whoso walketh wisely, he shall be delivered” (Pr.28:26).

“There is a generation that are pure in their own eyes, and yet is not washed from their filthiness” (Pr.30:12).

“For thou hast trusted in thy wickedness: thou hast said, None seeth me. Thy wisdom and thy knowledge, it hath perverted thee; and thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none else beside me” (Is.47:10).

“The pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, whose habitation is high; that saith in his heart, Who shall bring me down to the ground? Though thou exalt thyself as the eagle, and though thou set thy nest among the stars, thence will I bring thee down, saith the LORD” (Obad.3-4).

4. The moralist hardens his heart against the judgment of God. He refuses to repent. He just cannot accept the fact...

- that he is not good enough for God to accept.
- that God's goodness and love would ever condemn him.

But note the term "righteous judgment" (dikaiokrisias), which means just, fair, impartial, correct, exact. God's judgment is a judgment that should be, that should and will take place. In fact, God must judge, for God is love. As love, He must straighten out all the injustices on earth. He must right the wrongs and correct all the injustices of men. He must judge men with a perfect and "righteous judgment."

Note also the term "treasure up" (thesaurizo), which means to store up, to heap up, to lay up. The man who hardens his heart and refuses to repent stores up more and more wrath against himself in the day of judgment. The fact is clearly seen. Just think how terrible it is for a man to rebel against God's goodness. He has the glorious privilege of knowing God's goodness. He hears God's goodness proclaimed day by day, week by week, month by month, and year by year. Yet he despises God's goodness, refusing to repent and rejecting God's goodness time and time again. His rejection is bound to store up wrath against himself. His judgment is bound to be greater than the judgment upon a person who has never had the privilege of hearing about the goodness of God.

"I am come to send fire on the earth; and what will I, if it be already kindled?" (Lk.12:49).

"He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him" (Jn.3:36).

"For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who hold the truth in unrighteousness" (Ro.1:18).

"But fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not be once named among you, as becometh saints; neither filthiness, nor foolish talking, nor jesting, which are not convenient: but rather giving of thanks. For this ye know, that no whoremonger, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, who is an idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God. Let no man deceive you with vain words: for because of these things cometh the wrath of God upon the children of disobedience" (Eph.5:3-6).

"The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to the punished" (2 Pt.2:9).

"But the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men" (2 Pt.3:7).

"He, that being often reproveth hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy" (Pr.29:1).

3 (2:6-10) Judgment: the judgment of God—of the only living and true God—is according to deeds (Prov.24:12; 2 Tim.4:14; cp. Mt.16:27; Rev.22:12), and it will be universal. Every one will be either eternally rewarded or eternally punished. No one shall be exempt; no one will escape.

Now note: judgment is to be based upon a man's "deeds" (ergon) or works. This does not mean that faith is not necessary. Contrariwise, there is no such thing as...

- faith without works.
- righteous and acceptable works without faith.

God's works—the works that are truly of and for God, that truly please God—are the result of faith. Men believe in and serve and work for many different things in the world. Some believe and work...

- for religion
- for social clubs
- for service organizations
- for humanity

What God demands is that men first believe and work for Him, reaching out to a world lost and gripped in desperate need. When a man truly believes God, he works for God. (Cp. Jas.2:17f.) God is going to either reward or punish every man according to his works, according to what he has done with and for God.

1. There shall be the well-doer's wonderful reward. Note three things about the well-doer.
  - a. Note what he seeks for: glory, honor, and immortality (see DEEPER STUDY # 1-3 on each subject—Ro.2:7).
  - b. Note how the well-doer seeks: "by patient continuance" (hupomone). The word means to be steadfast and constant; to endure, persevere, stick to, and continue. The well-doer is faithful in doing good works.
    - ⇒ He does not just start, he finishes.
    - ⇒ He does not live an inconsistent, up and down life. He continues and keeps on doing good deeds.
    - ⇒ He does not give in to hardships, difficulties, or opposition. He endures and perseveres, always doing good.

"And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not" (Gal.6:9).

"But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them" (2 Tim.3:14).

"Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us" (Heb.12:1).

"Wherefore gird up the loins of your mind, be sober, and hope to the end for the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ" (1 Pt.1:13).

"Behold, I come quickly; hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crown" (Rev.3:11).

- c. Note the wonderful reward of the well-doer: eternal life. Eternal life is said to be the inheritance of a world of glory, honor, and peace (v.10; cp. Ro.4:13). (See DEEPER STUDY # 2, Eternal Life—Jn.1:4; DEEPER STUDY # 1—10:10; DEEPER STUDY # 1—17:2-3; DEEPER STUDY # 1—2 Tim.4:18; also see notes, Peace—Ro.5:1; Jn.14:27 for discussion.)
2. There shall be the evil-doer's terrible and severe judgment. The evil-doer is to be judged for three reasons.
  - a. He is contentious against God (see DEEPER STUDY # 4—Ro.2:8). The evil-doer does not like what God says; therefore, he strives against it. He wrangles and wrestles, struggles and fights against God. He refuses to buckle under and surrender to God's will. When dealing with God, the evil-doer is contentious.
  - b. He does not obey the truth. He sees and hears and knows the truth. He even knows the truth is to be done, but he refuses to do it. He refuses to be persuaded and refuses to believe. He rejects both Christ, the Living Truth, and the Word of God, the written truth. He simply goes about his own life, running and controlling it as he wills. He rejects and refuses to believe and to do the truth.
  - c. He does unrighteousness (see DEEPER STUDY # 5—Ro.2:8 for discussion).
3. Every evil-doer is to be judged, both Jew and Gentile. No evil-doer shall escape. "Every soul of man that doeth evil" shall suffer, and the judgment will be severe and terrible. His judgment will involve indignation and wrath, tribulation and anguish (see DEEPER STUDY # 6,7—Ro.2:8; DEEPER STUDY # 8,9—2:9 for discussion).

"And these shall go away into everlasting punishment: but the righteous into life eternal" (Mt.25:46).

"He will thoroughly purge his floor, and will gather the wheat into his garner; but the chaff he will burn with fire unquenchable" (Lk.3:17).

"And that servant, which knew his lord's will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes" (Lk.12:47).

"But unto them that are contentious, and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, indignation and wrath" (Ro.2:8).

"And to you who are troubled rest with us, when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with his mighty angels, in flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ: who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power" (2 Th.1:7-9).

"Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace?" (Heb.10:29).

"The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished" (2 Pt.2:9).

"And whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire" (Rev.20:15).

"Upon the wicked he shall rain snares, fire and brimstone, and an horrible tempest: this shall be the portion of their cup" (Ps.11:6).

"And I will punish the world for their evil, and the wicked for their iniquity; and I will cause the arrogancy of the proud to cease, and will lay low the haughtiness of the terrible" (Is.13:11).

"For, behold, the LORD cometh out of his place to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity: the earth also shall disclose her blood, and shall no more cover her slain" (Is.26:21).

"According to their deeds, accordingly he will repay, fury to his adversaries, recompense to his enemies; to the islands he will repay recompense" (Is.59:18).

"But I will punish you according to the fruit of your doings, saith the LORD: and I will kindle a fire in the forest thereof, and it shall devour all things round about it" (Jer.21:14).

"For, behold, the day cometh, that shall burn as an oven; and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble: and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the LORD of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch" (Mal.4:1).

4. Every well-doer is to be rewarded, both Jew and Gentile. No well-doer shall be exempt or overlooked. "Every man that worketh good" shall receive...

- eternal life (v.7).
- glory (v.7, 10).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(2:7) Glory (doxa): means to possess and to be full of perfect light; to dwell in perfect light, brilliance, splendor, brightness, luster, and magnificence with God.

"Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. Who hath ears to hear, let him hear" (Mt.13:43).

"And if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together" (Ro.8:17).

"Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able even to subdue all things unto himself" (Ph.3:21).

“When Christ, who is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glory” (Col.3:4).

“After this I beheld, and, lo, a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands” (Rev.7:9).

“Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and afterward receive me to glory” (Ps.73:24).

“For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us” (Ro.8:18).

“For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory” (2 Cor.4:17).

“Therefore I endure all things for the elect’s sake, that they may also obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory” (2 Tim.2:10).

“The elders which are among you I exhort, who am also an elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed” (1 Pt.5:1).

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(2:7) Honor (time): means to be acknowledged, recognized, approved, accepted, esteemed, and exalted by God. It means to be privileged and exalted to a position of responsibility and service for God.

“And he said unto him, Well, thou good servant: because thou hast been faithful in a very little, have thou authority over ten cities” (Lk.19:17).

“If any man serve me, let him follow me; and where I am, there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me, him will my Father honour” (Jn.12:26).

“But glory, honour, and peace, to every man that worketh good; to the Jew first, and also to the Gentile” (Ro.2:10).

“Do ye not know that the saints shall judge the world? and if the world shall be judged by you, are ye unworthy to judge the smallest matters? Know ye not that we shall judge [govern, rule] angels? how much more things that pertain to this life?” (1 Cor.6:2-3).

“To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne” (Rev.3:21).

“Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him on high, because he hath known my name” (Ps.91:14).

“He that followeth after righteousness and mercy findeth life, righteousness, and honour” (Pr.21:21).

“By humility and the fear of the Lord are riches, and honour, and life” (Pr.22:4).

“And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness, as the stars for ever and ever” (Dan.12:3).

DEEPER STUDY # 3

(2:7) Immortality (aphtharsia): means living forever with God; to be incorruptible, perfected, and made permanent and eternal. It means to be free from pain and tears, from being tired and weary, from trials and sin, from defilement, weakness, frailty, sickness, suffering, and death. It means to be free from an imperfect world and to be placed into a perfect world with God—a world that lasts forever and ever.

“Neither can they die any more: for they are equal unto the angels; and are the children of God, being the children of the resurrection” (Lk.20:36).

“Verily, verily, I say unto you, If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death” (Jn.8:51).

“And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this?” (Jn.11:26).

“To them who by patient continuance in well doing seek for glory and honour and immortality, eternal life” (Ro.2:7).

“For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality” (1 Cor.15:53).

“For we know that, if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens” (2 Cor.5:1).

“Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord” (1 Th.4:17).

“But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel” (2 Tim.1:10).

“This is the bread which cometh down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die” (Jn.6:50).

“For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality. So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory” (1 Cor.15:53-54).

“Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil; and deliver them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage” (Heb.2:14-15).

“And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away” (Rev.21:4).

“He will swallow up death in victory; and the Lord GOD will wipe away tears from off all faces; and the rebuke of his people shall he take away from off all the earth: for the LORD hath spoken it” (Is.25:8).

“I will ransom them from the power of the grave; I will redeem them from death: O death, I will be thy plagues; O grave, I will be thy destruction: repentance shall be hid from mine eyes” (Hos.13:14).

DEEPER STUDY # 4

(2:8) Stubborn—Contentious (eris): means to strive, struggle, fight, quarrel, wrangle, argue, debate; to be divisive, factious, contentious, argumentative, and belligerent.

“And [the Lord] sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding: and they would not come” (Mt.22:3).

“And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life” (Jn.5:40).

“But to Israel he saith, All day long I have stretched forth my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people” (Ro.10:21).

“Be ye not as the horse, or as the mule, which have no understanding: whose mouth must be held in with bit and bridle, lest they come near unto thee” (Ps.32:9).

“And might not be as their fathers, a stubborn and rebellious generation; a generation that set not their heart aright, and whose spirit was not stedfast with God” (Ps.78:8).

“But my people would not hearken to my voice; and Israel would none of me” (Ps.81:11).

“Because I have called, and ye refused; I have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded; but ye have set at nought all my counsel, and would none of my reproof” (Pr.1:24-25).

“Hearken unto me, ye stouthearted, that are far from righteousness” (Is.46:12).

“I knew that thou art obstinate, and thy neck is an iron sinew, and thy brow brass” (Is.48:4).

“My God will cast them away, because they did not hearken unto him: and they shall be wanderers among the nations” (Hos.9:17).

“If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the LORD of hosts, I will even send a curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings: yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart” (Mal.2:2).

(2:8) Unrighteousness (adikia): means wickedness, iniquity, injustice, wrong-doing, sin, evil, lawlessness, a violation of law.

DEEPER STUDY # 6

(2:8) Indignation (orge): means God’s anger against sin (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, God’s Wrath—Ro.1:18 for discussion).

DEEPER STUDY # 7

(2:8) Wrath (thumos): means God’s wrath against sin. Thumos is an anger that is felt more deeply than the orge anger of God; therefore, it arises more quickly. Thumos anger is the anger that arises out of deep hurt; therefore, it bursts forth with terrifying judgment. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, God’s Wrath—Ro.1:18 for verses.)

DEEPER STUDY # 8

(2:9) Tribulation (thlipsis): means distress, oppression, suffering, affliction, pressure; it means being pressed, put in some strait.

DEEPER STUDY # 9

(2:9) Anguish (stenochoria): means to be put into a narrow place; to be compressed together; to experience extreme pain, sorrow, distress, affliction, and calamity.

4 (2:11-15) Judgment—Obedience—Doers—Hearers: the judgment of God—of the only living and true God—is without respect of persons. God’s judgment will be executed with absolute impartiality, showing no favoritism whatsoever.

God favors no one. All men stand on an equal footing before God's judgment. God loves and cares for all, but He has no favorites and shows no partiality. Therefore, in the great day of judgment, all will be judged by the same rule and by the same principle.

1. The man who sins without the law and the man who sins in the law will both be judged. Again, sin is the basis of judgment. Men will be judged for sin.

- a. The man who sins "without law" (anomos) will also perish without law. The word for law is a general word. It refers to the law of God in both the Scriptures and nature. Therefore, the man who does not have the law of Scripture does have the law of nature to guide him. If he sins against the law of nature, he will still be judged and perish. He had the opportunity to know through nature itself (see outline and notes—Ro.1:19; 1:20 for more discussion).
- b. The man who sins "in the law" will be judged by the law. His judgment, of course, will be greater, for he had every privilege and opportunity imaginable.

"Then Peter opened his mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons: but in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him" (Acts 10:34-35).

"And put no difference between us and them, purifying their hearts by faith" (Acts 15:9).

"For there is no respect of persons with God" (Ro.2:11).

"For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him" (Ro.10:12).

2. The doers and not the hearers of the law will be justified. It is not enough to have the law or the Word of God; it is not enough...

- to hear and see it
- to possess and profess it
- to understand and know it
- to proclaim and teach it

A person must be a doer of the law; he must obey and live the law. The law was not given just to sit on a bookshelf or on a table, not given just to be heard and to secure verbal agreement. The law was given to be obeyed and lived out, to govern and control life so that life could be lived to the fullest. Therefore, those who only hear the law will not be justified before God, but the doers of the law will be justified.

Thought 1. Possessing, having, hearing, and even proclaiming the law (the Word of God) is not enough to save a person. A person must keep the law; he must live and do the will of God.

"Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven" (Mt.7:21).

"For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother" (Mt.12:50).

"Whosoever cometh to me, and heareth my sayings, and doeth them, I will show you to whom he is like: he is like a man which built an house, and digged deep, and laid the foundation on a rock: and when the flood arose, the stream beat vehemently upon that house, and could not shake it: for it was founded upon a rock. But he that heareth, and doeth not, is like a man that without a foundation built an house upon the earth; against which the stream did beat vehemently, and immediately it fell; and the ruin of that house was great" (Lk.6:47-49).

"If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them" (Jn.13:17).

"For not the hearers of the law are just before God, but the doers of the law shall be justified" (Ro.2:13).

"But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves" (Jas.1:22).

"Speak not evil one of another, brethren. He that speaketh evil of his brother, and judgeth his brother, speaketh evil of the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judge the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge" (Jas.4:11).

"And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever" (1 Jn.2:17).

"Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city" (Rev.22:14).

3. The heathen have a threefold witness, a witness that is strong enough to lead them to God.

- a. Men have their nature—the nature of man that speaks loudly and clearly—that points toward God. Note exactly what the verse says.
  - ⇒ Men may not have the law (the Scriptures)...
  - ⇒ But they can do the law by nature.
  - ⇒ They can become "a law unto themselves."

There is that within man, within his nature (physei), that can stir him to do the law. Man has within him an instinctive knowledge of right and wrong. His very nature gives him the opportunity to do what is right.

Something else is meant here as well. Man can look at nature (creation) and see that he is part of it. He can instinctively see by nature the great eternal power and deity of God. (See note—Ro.1:20 for a list of the things nature reveals about God.)

“Because that which may be known of God is manifest in them [within them, in their consciences, in an inner moral sense]; for God hath showed it unto them” (Ro.1:19).

“For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse” (Ro.1:20).

- b. Men have their consciences that bear witness to what is right and wrong. When they do right, they sense approval; when they do wrong, they sense reproach. Man’s conscience gives him the opportunity to live righteously and to do good.

“How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God?” (Heb.9:14).

“Let us draw near with a true heart in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water” (Heb.10:22).

“Wherefore ye must needs be subject, not only for wrath, but also for conscience sake” (Ro.13:5).

- c. Men have their thoughts, their reasoning ability which can approve or disapprove, excuse or accuse them and others. Men’s thoughts bear witness to how they should and should not live, whether their behavior is excused (acceptable) or accused (condemned). Now note two critical points.

First, men can learn a great deal about God and about right and wrong through their nature, conscience, and thoughts. Men can look at themselves and creation and learn that they are to live...

- by order, law, and rules.
- in obedience, respect, and peace.
- giving recognition, honor, and esteem.
- being clean, pure, and moral.
- showing care, concern, and love.
- without stealing, lying, and cheating.

(See note—Ro.1:19; 1:20 for more discussion.)

Second, men cannot be saved apart from Jesus Christ. No matter how morally they may live—whether they live by law or by nature—they do not live a sinless and perfect life. They sin and come short of God’s glory. Therefore, no matter how morally men live, they have to be perfected in the “righteousness of God” which is in Christ Jesus Himself (see note, Justification—Ro.4:1-3; DEEPER STUDY # 2—4:22; note—5:1 for discussion. Also see note, pt.3—Ro.2:2-5.)

“Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me” (Jn.14:6).

“Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved” (Acts 4:12).

“For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus” (1 Tim.2:5).

“My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous” (1 Jn.2:1).

“And we have seen and do testify that the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world” (1 Jn.4:14).

5 (2:16) Judgment: the judgment of God—of the only living and true God—is to be executed by Jesus Christ and His gospel. Note these facts.

1. A specific day of judgment is coming. It is fixed.

“When the son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory: and before him shall be gathered all nations: and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats” (Mt.25:31-32).

“And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment” (Heb.9:27).

“The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptation, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished” (2 Pt.2:9).

“But the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men” (2 Pt.3:7).

“Herein is our love made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of judgment: because as he is, so are we in this world” (1 Jn.4:17).

“Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousands of his saints, to execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard speeches which ungodly sinners have spoken against him” (Jude 14-15).

2. In that day “the secrets of men” will be judged. All secrets will be exposed, the secret thoughts and deeds done...
- in the dark
  - behind closed doors
  - off to the side
  - silently
  - alone
  - quietly

“For there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; neither hid, that shall not be known” (Lk.12:2).

“Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and then shall every man have praise of God” (1 Cor.4:5).

“Behold, ye have sinned against the LORD: and be sure your sin will find you out” (Num.32:23).

“For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil” (Eccl.12:14).

3. Jesus Christ is the One who will do the judging. He is the One who...
- has earned the right to judge by obeying God perfectly. He is the One who has lived a sinless life and died for men.
  - has experienced life on earth in the flesh and can understand and sympathize with men in their infirmities(Heb.2:15-18; 4:15-16).

“And before him [Christ] shall be gathered all nations: and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats” (Mt.25:32).

“For the Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgment unto the Son” (Jn.5:22).

“And he commanded us to preach unto the people, and to testify that it is he which was ordained of God to be the Judge of quick [living] and dead” (Acts 10:42).

“Because he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead” (Acts 17:31).

“In the day when God shall judge the secrets of men by Jesus Christ according to my gospel” (Ro.2:16).

“But why dost thou judge thy brother? or why dost thou set at nought thy brother? for we shall all stand before the judgment seat of Christ” (Ro.14:10).

“I charge thee therefore before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, who shall judge the quick [the living] and the dead at his appearing and his kingdom” (2 Tim.4:1).

“Wherein they think it strange that ye run not with them to the same excess of riot [partying], speaking evil of you: who shall give account to him [Christ] that is ready to judge the quick and the dead” (1 Pt.4:4-5).

4. The standard or rule by which men shall be judged is the gospel.

“He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him: the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day” (Jn.12:48).

“He that loveth me not keepeth not my sayings: and the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father’s which sent me” (Jn.14:24).

“Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and wherein ye stand; by which also ye are saved, if ye keep in memory what I preached unto you, unless ye have believed in vain. For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; and that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the scriptures” (1 Cor.15:1-4).

“If any man teach otherwise, and consent not to wholesome words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness; he is proud, knowing nothing, but doting about questions and strifes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings, perverse disputings of men of corrupt minds, and destitute of the truth” (1 Tim.6:3-5).

“And this is his commandment, That we should believe on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, as he gave us commandment” (1 Jn.3:23).

DIVISION II

SIN AND CONDEMNATION: THE WORLD'S NEED TO GET RIGHT WITH GOD, 1:18-3:20

D. God's Case Against the Religionist (Jew), 2:17-29

(2:17-29) Introduction—Religionist—Jew: this passage is an excellent study of the Christian religionist or church member as well as of the Jew. (See notes, Religionists—Lk.15:25-32; 18:9-12 for more discussion.) God's case against the Christian religionist includes four points.

1. The religionist professes religion (v.17-20).
2. The religionist fails to live what he professes (v.21-24).
3. The religionist believes that a ritual (circumcision) is the way to secure God's approval (v.25-27).
4. The religionist misses the whole point: a true religionist is a man who is righteous inwardly (v.28-29).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(2:17-29) Religionists: a religionist is a person who is interested in religion and professes religion. It was because of the Jews' extreme interest in religion that they were looked upon as the epitomy of religionists. However, most people are considered religious and profess some religion regardless of nationality. Therefore, most people can be called religionists. There are two classes of religionists.

1. There are those who feel they are good enough for God as they are. They feel that they are doing enough good for God to accept them. They cannot believe that God would reject them when they stand face to face with Him. True, they do wrong, but not that much wrong, not enough for God to reject and condemn them for eternity. These persons go about living as they wish, worshipping God only enough to satisfy their consciences. The vast, vast majority of people are in this class of self-righteousness. Few men believe they will be rejected by God and refused entrance into heaven. They feel they have enough goodness to make them acceptable to God.

“Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost” (Tit.3:5).

“Most men will proclaim every one his own goodness: but a faithful man who can find?” (Pr.20:6).

“There is a generation that are pure in their own eyes, and yet is not washed from their filthiness” (Pr.30:12).

2. There are those who have a sensitive conscience and feel the need to give themselves to good works as much as is humanly possible. They work and do good in order to secure the favor of God. They believe that good works is what it takes to make them righteous and to build them up in the eyes of God. Therefore, they labor all their lives trying to build up virtue and merit before God. They try their best to make themselves acceptable to God.

“Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the law is the knowledge of sin” (Ro.3:20).

“Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified” (Gal.2:16).

“For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: not of works, lest any man should boast” (Eph.2:8-9).

Note that a genuine believer is not being classified as a religionist. The reason is pointed: the true believer does not follow a religion; he follows Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ is alive; He is living in another world—the spiritual world, the spiritual dimension of being. The believer is in touch with Him daily, communicating through the Holy Spirit and prayer. What the believer does is follow Christ; he lives the life of Jesus Christ, not the rules of a religion. Therefore, the genuine believer is a disciple of Christ, not of religion.

“I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me” (Gal.2:20).

“In whom [Christ] ye also are builded together for an habitation of God through the Spirit” (Eph.2:22; cp. 1 Cor.3:16; 6:19).

“For to me to live is Christ” (Ph.1:21).

“Christ in you, the hope of glory” (Col.1:27).

“And he that keepeth his commandments dwelleth in him, and he in him. And hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he hath given us” (1 Jn.3:24).

“Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me” (Rev.3:20).

1 (2:17-20) Religionists: the religionist (Jew) professes religion. He accepts the name of his religion whatever it may be, whether Jew, Moslem, or Buddhist; and he shows enough interest in his religion to give him security. Jewish and Christian religionists make ten mistakes.

1. The religionist “rests in the law,” that is, in the Word of God (v.17). He possesses the Scriptures (Bible); he...
  - has it in his home.
  - sometimes reads it.
  - carries it with him to church.
  - honors it as the Word of God.

Because of this, he feels that he pleases God. He rests upon the fact that he possesses God’s Word. By having God’s Word, he feels he has God’s approval and acceptance. But this is the very mistake of the religionist: God does not accept a person because he happens to have God’s Word in his possession. God approves and accepts the person who does the Word of God, who lives and obeys the law of God.

“What advantage then hath the Jew [Christian]? or what profit is there of circumcision [baptism]? Much every way: chiefly, because that unto them were committed the oracles of God” (Ro.3:1-2).

2. The religionist professes God. To “profess” (kauchasai) means to boast, to glory, to feel proud about one’s profession of God and religion. The idea is that one openly professes that he believes in God. He is not ashamed of his belief and religious affiliation. He believes in God and he feels safe and secure in his belief. He confesses God and he feels that God accepts him because of his profession.

However, this is the mistake of the religionist. God is not interested in a man’s profession but in a man’s life. God wants a man living for Him, not just professing and talking about Him.

“For I bear them record that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge. For they being ignorant of God’s righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God. For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth” (Ro.10:2-4).

3. The religionist knows God’s will (v.18). He is familiar with the law and the commandments of God. He knows what God wants done; he knows right from wrong. Therefore, he feels he has God’s approval.

However, the religionist fails to see something: knowing God’s will is not enough—a man must do God’s will.

“And they come unto thee as the people cometh, and they sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but they will not do them: for with their mouth they show much love, but their heart goeth after their covetousness. And, lo, thou art unto them as a very lovely song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and can play well on an instrument: for they hear thy words, but they do them not” (Ezk.33:31-32).

4. The religionist approves the excellent or better things in life (v.18). He not only knows God’s will, right from wrong; but he...

- is able to discern the more excellent, the better things to do.
- approves, expresses, and proclaims pleasure in the right things.

Because he supports and pushes and approves the better things in life, the religionist feels he pleases God. But this is his mistake. God is not interested in man’s approval of the better things in life. Most men do approve and talk about the better things of life. God wants man living out the better things, living on the level of the more excellent.

“My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth” (1 Jn.3:18).

5. The religionist is taught God’s law and Word (v.18). He is instructed by family, teacher, preacher, friend. The religionist learns God’s Word from someone, and because he knows God’s Word he feels he has a right relationship with God. Again, God’s concern is not in what a person knows, but in what a person does. God expects a person to take what he has learned and put it into practice. God expects a person to live as he has been taught.

“And they have turned unto me the back, and not the face: though I taught them, rising up early and teaching them, yet they have not hearkened to receive [practice] instruction” (Jer.32:33).

“But ye have not so learned Christ; if so be that ye have heard him, and have been taught by him, as the truth is in Jesus: that ye put off concerning the former conversation [behavior] the old man, which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts” (Eph.4:20-22).

6. The religionist is sure he is a guide to the blind (v.19). The word “confident” (pepoithas) means persuaded and sure. The religionist is convinced that religion is true, that religion is the way men should live. He believes that a man who does not believe in God and live a religious life is blind and needs to be guided to the truth. By living a religious life, he feels...

- he is an example to men.
- he is a guide to help men find God.
- he can cure men of their blindness to God and religion.

However, being “confident” that one is a guide of the blind does not mean that one is a true guide. A person must be sure that he himself is following the truth, Jesus Christ (Jn.14:6). There are many guides in the world who are leading people down the wrong road. They are blind guides, the blind leading the blind (Mt.15:14).

“And he spake this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and despised others” (Lk.18:9).

“Ye have plowed wickedness, ye have reaped iniquity; ye have eaten the fruit of lies: because thou didst trust in thy way” (Hos.10:13).

7. The religionist is sure he is an instructor of the foolish (v.20). The word “foolish” means thoughtless, senseless, undirected. It refers to people who walk through life giving no thought to life’s purpose, as to...

- where they have come from.
- why they are here.
- where they are going.

The religionist is persuaded that religion answers all these questions, the basic questions of life. Therefore, he can help the foolish discover meaning and purpose and significance in life. The critical point for the instructor or the religionist is to make sure that his instruction is true. What he instructs must be the truth or else it is all for naught.

“Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall” (1 Cor.10:12).

“He that trusteth in his own heart is a fool: but whoso walketh wisely, he shall be delivered” (Pr.28:26).

8. The religionist is sure he is a light to those in darkness (v.20). The word “darkness” (skotei) here pertains to those who stumble about searching for the light, but are unable to find it. The religionist feels he has found the light; therefore, he is a light to those who are searching for it. However, the religionist makes a serious mistake. Religion is not the light of the world—Jesus Christ is. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1—Jn.8:12.)

“Jesus said unto them, If ye were blind, ye should have no sin: but now ye say, We see; therefore your sin remaineth” (Jn.9:41).

“Because thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked” (Rev.3:17).

9. The religionist is sure he is a teacher of the immature (v.20). The word “babes” (nepion) means the infant, the immature, the novice, the proselyte, the new church member. The point is the same: a religionist is not mature in God just because he...

- has been baptized and has been a church member for a long time.
- thinks he is mature.
- serves as a teacher.

What makes a person mature and capable of teaching the immature of the world is experience with Christ, having walked and served with Christ for a long time.

“He answered and said unto them, Well hath Esaias prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me” (Mk.7:6).

“Wherefore the Lord said, Forasmuch as this people draw near me with their mouth, and with their lips do honor me, but have removed their heart far from me, and their fear toward me is taught by the precept of men” (Is.29:13).

10. The religionist has the law of God, the embodiment of knowledge and of the truth (v.20). The religionist has the Scriptures, the Word of God, at his disposal. He has every opportunity in the world to know the truth. But again, having and knowing and thinking that one can instruct and teach another is not enough. God accepts and uses only those who live the Word, who keep the laws and commandments of God. This is the mistake of the religionist, of the person who professes and does not live the Word.

“Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye pay tithe of mint and anise and cummin, and have omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy, and faith: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone” (Mt.23:23).

“For the heart of this people is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed; lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them” (Acts 28:27).

“Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away” (2 Tim.3:5).

2 (2:21-24) Religionists—Hypocrisy—False Profession: the religionist (Jew) fails to live what he professes. This is seen in five pointed questions.

1. “You who teach others, do you not teach yourself?” The question is not only for teachers, but for everyone, because we all teach others. Throughout life we all claim to know some truths about morality and about how people should live and behave. We often share those truths with our children, friends, fellow workers, and others. When we share and teach, do we not listen to the truth? Do we not teach ourselves? What right do we have to tell others how to live if we do not live that way? This is the sin of hypocrisy, a sin committed by so many religionists.

“Even so ye also outwardly appear righteous unto men, but within ye are full of hypocrisy and iniquity” (Mt.23:28).

“And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?” (Lk.6:46).

“My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth” (1 Jn.3:18).

2. “You who say that a person should not steal, do you steal?” Do you take from others; do you...

- steal money?
- steal from your job?
- steal from your neighbor?
- steal from your family?
- steal while shopping?
- steal while taking tests in school?

If you steal, what right do you have to say that others should not steal—that everyone else should not have the right to take what they want from whom they want? If enough people began to take what they wanted when they wanted, then the world would exist in utter chaos. If you say that men should not steal, why do you steal? This is the sin of too many religionists.

Stealing is a sin that leads to utter chaos. Because of its devastating effect, it is one of the ten commandments, and note: it is so important a commandment, it is repeated time and again.

“Thou shalt not steal” (Ex.20:15; Lev.19:11; Dt.5:19; Mt.19:18; Ro.13:9).

“Let him that stole steal no more: but rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth” (Eph.4:28).

3. “You who say that a person should not commit adultery, do you commit adultery?” You who want pure brides, spouses, husbands, wives, sons, and daughters, do you live purely? What are you looking at, watching, reading, and hearing? Do you...

- look a second time?
- read pornographic books, magazines, and novels?
- have lustful thoughts?
- harbor sexual thoughts?
- dress in a manner exposing your body?
- watch and support television films that have or suggest scenes of immorality?

Regardless of man’s denial, we do what we think; and our thoughts come from what we see, watch, read, and hear. Therefore, if we look, watch, read, and listen to sexual suggestions, our thoughts center upon fleshly desires. This is the reason for the breakdown of morals in society. If you say a man should not commit adultery, do you commit adultery? Do you commit it in your mind? This is a major sin among some religionists. Christ knew this; therefore, He said...

“Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not commit adultery: but I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart” (Mt.5:27-28).

4. “You who abhor idols, do you commit sacrilege?” The word “sacrilege” (hierosuleo) means to violate one’s commitment to God and to rob from God. It means to consider something more important than God, something so important that it requires...

- the commitment that you owe God.
- the tithes and offerings that you owe God.

You say that you worship God and abhor idols; yet you take what belongs to God—your commitment, your time, your energy, your tithes—and you give it to something else. You make something else more important than God; you make it an idol. This is one of the major sins of the religionists.

“Take heed to yourselves, that your heart be not deceived, and ye turn aside, and serve other gods, and worship them” (Dt.11:16).

“I am the LORD: that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images” (Is.42:8).

“Little children, keep yourselves from idols” (1 Jn.5:21).

5. “You who boast and take pride in the law [the Bible], through breaking the law do you not dishonor God?” The answer is clear.

- ⇒ We do dishonor God when we talk about His Word yet break His commandments.
- ⇒ We do dishonor God before men, causing His name to be blasphemed.

When we boast in God’s Word yet break His commandments, we give great occasion for the world and its people to take the name of God and...

- |             |           |
|-------------|-----------|
| • blaspheme | • mock    |
| • curse     | • deny    |
| • reproach  | • insult  |
| • ridicule  | • profane |

Many a person is doomed because of the hypocrisy of religionists. This is one of the terrible sins of religionists.

“This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me” (Mk.7:6).

“They profess that they know God; but in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate” (Tit.1:16).

“Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be” (Jas.3:10).

3 (2:25-27) Religionists: the religionist believes that a ritual is the way to secure God’s praise or approval (for example, circumcision, baptism, and church membership). Just take the word circumcision and substitute whatever ritual a church says is essential for salvation and the meaning of the passage becomes clear. For example, take the ritual of church membership.

“Church membership profits a man if he keeps the law: but if he breaks the law, his church membership is made or counted as unchurch membership.”

If a religionist does not keep (prasso, practice) God’s law and Word, then his ritual does not count. The man becomes...

- |              |                 |
|--------------|-----------------|
| • unbaptized | • uncircumcised |
| • unchurched | • unwhatever    |

The point is obedience, not ritual. A person is acceptable to God because he lives for God and obeys Him, not because he has undergone some ritual. The next two verses make this pointedly clear (v.26-27).

⇒ “The uncircumcised man who keeps the righteousness of the law is counted as circumcised [that is, acceptable to God]” (v.26). A man is not acceptable to God because he has been baptized or joined some church. He becomes acceptable to God because he obeys God, and God’s basic commandment is clear, unquestionably so:

“And this is his commandment, That we should believe on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, as he gave us commandment” (1 Jn.3:23).

⇒ The uncircumcised man who keeps the law actually judges the man who has been circumcised and breaks the law (v.27). The basis of judgment is not to be a ritual, whether baptism or church membership; it is to be obedience. No ritual will ever save a man if he transgresses the law, and no ritual will ever cause a man to be lost if he keeps the law. (See outline and notes—Ro.2:11-15 for more discussion.)

“Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven” (Mt.7:21).

“For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother” (Mt.12:50).

“If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them” (Jn.13:17).

“But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves” (Jas.1:22).

“And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever” (1 Jn.2:17).

4 (2:28-29) Religionists: the religionist misses the whole point—a true religionist is a man who is righteous inwardly. This fact is so critical that every one needs to give heed and do something about it. The point is that every man breaks or transgresses the law. Paul has just said:

“If thou be a breaker of the law, thy circumcision or baptism is made uncircumcision or unbaptism.”

Paul will say very shortly:

“There is none righteous, no, not one” (Ro.3:10).

“All have sinned, and come short of the glory of God” (Ro.3:23).

No law and no ritual, whether circumcision or baptism (or any other ritual), is able to make man acceptable to God. Being acceptable to God is not an outward thing. It is...

- not the keeping of any ritual or law (Ro.2:21-27).
- not nationality or heritage.
- not being born of any particular race or family, whether Jewish or Christian (Ro.3:1-20; 9:6-13).

True religion—being acceptable to God—is inward. It is of the heart, of the spirit. It is of God. It is being born again of God’s Spirit (Jn.3:3-8). It is not of man; therefore, God is to be praised, not man (Ro.2:28-29).

“A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you: and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you a heart of flesh” (Ezk.36:26).

“Which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God” (Jn.1:13).

“Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God” (Jn.3:3).

“Therefore if any man be in Christ he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new” (2 Cor.5:17).

“Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost” (Tit.3:5).

“Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever” (1 Pt.1:23).

“Whosoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ is born of God: and every one that loveth him that begat loveth him also that is begotten of him” (1 Jn.5:1).

God’s true people are the people who have been circumcised spiritually—in the heart. The real Jews, God’s true people, are those who have had the skin of disease (sin) cut out of their heart. They are the people who have been spiritually converted.

“In whom also ye are circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh by the circumcision [operation, cutting] of Christ” (Col.2:11).

“Where there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free: but Christ is all, and in all” (Col.3:11).

“For we are the circumcision, which worship God in the spirit, and rejoice in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh” (Ph.3:3).

“And the LORD thy God will circumcise thine heart, and the heart of thy seed, to love the LORD thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, that thou mayest live” (Dt.30:6).

“Circumcise yourselves to the LORD, and take away the foreskins of your heart” (Jer.4:4).

“To whom shall I speak, and give warning, that they may hear? behold, their ear is uncircumcised, and they cannot hearken: behold, the word of the LORD is unto them a reproach; they have no delight in it” (Jer.6:10).

“Awake, awake; put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city: for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the uncircumcised and the unclean” (Is.52:1).

Moses confessed that he was a man of “uncircumcised lips” (Ex.6:12, 30). Man’s “uncircumcised heart” must be humbled if he wishes God to remember His covenant and give man the promised land of heaven (Lev.26:41-42).

DIVISION II

SIN AND CONDEMNATION: THE WORLD'S NEED TO GET RIGHT WITH GOD, 1:18-3:20

E. The Arguments of the Religionist (Jew) Against a Heart Religion, 3:1-8

(3:1-8) Introduction: Paul has said there is no difference between Jew and Gentile, between a religionist and other men (chapters 1-3). All men stand before God guilty of sin and condemned. Now at this point Paul imagines the religionist seeing exactly what he is saying. The religionist also sees the tremendous weight of Paul's argument; therefore, he strains to counter Paul with three arguments, arguments often made by Christian religionists and church members who profess Christ and attend church only enough to salve their consciences. (See DEEPER STUDY # 1, Religionists—Ro.2:17-29; 2:17-20 for a discussion of who the religionist is.)

1. What profit is there in being a religionist—in being circumcised or baptized (v.1-2)?
2. Does unbelief void God's promises—make God a liar (v.3-4)?
3. Is God unjust if He takes vengeance (v.5-8)?

1 (3:1-2) Religionists—Word of God—Jew: the question is, "What profit is there in being a Jew or a religionist—in being circumcised or baptized or a church member? What do you do with the Jew who is Abraham's seed? The promise of God to Abraham was that his seed (the Jewish nation) would be the children of God (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Jn.4:22; cp. Gen.12:1-4). If a man is born a Jew (born into a Jewish family) and he professes to be a Jew, a follower of God, is he not acceptable to God (Ro.2:17-29; cp. v.1-29)? If not, then what profit is there in being a professing Jew, a follower of God? You are saying there is no advantage in being a Jew or a child of Abraham."

The application of this passage concerns every man. If a man is born a Jew or a Christian (the right nationality), if a man is born into a Jewish or Christian family (the right heritage), or if a man claims to be a Jew or a Christian religionist, and he is still not acceptable to God, what profit is there in being a religionist?

Paul's answer is simple: the advantages are great. The Jew and Christian are highly privileged, especially in that God has committed His Word to them (Ro.3:2; 9:4-5). They have the privilege...

- of possessing God's Word.
- of reading, hearing, seeing, obeying, and living God's Word.
- of living within a society that has been affected by God's Word.

These are enormous privileges. A man born within a nation and a family that has God's Word has every advantage in coming to God and in living for God. In fact, such a man could have no greater privilege. His privileges are so great that he is left without excuse if he fails to live for God.

"Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life" (Jn.5:24).

"It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life" (Jn.6:63).

"Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of eternal life" (Jn.6:68).

"Verily, verily, I say unto you, If a man keep my saying, he shall never taste of death" (Jn.8:51).

“Now ye are clean through the word which I have spoken unto you” (Jn.15:3).

“But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name” (Jn.20:31).

“For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope” (Ro.15:4).

“That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word” (Eph.5:26).

“Seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth through the Spirit unto unfeigned love of the brethren, see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently” (1 Pt.1:22).

“These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God; that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God” (1 Jn.5:13).

“Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way? by taking heed thereto according to thy word” (Ps.119:9).

“For the commandment is a lamp; and the law is light; and reproofs of instruction are the way of life” (Pr.6:23).

“Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people” (Pr.14:34).

2 (3:3-4) Unbelief—Religionist—Salvation: the question is, “If you say some Jews do not believe and are condemned, doesn’t that void God’s promises and make God a liar?” Or to say it another way, “What if some disbelieve and reject God’s Word, will their unbelief cause God to void His Word and promises? God promised the Jews a special place and special privileges through Abraham and his seed (see DEEPER STUDY # 1—Jn.4:22). If some Jews do not believe God’s promises and God condemns them, isn’t He breaking His promise to Abraham and his seed? Isn’t He voiding His Word and Covenant and making Himself a liar? God’s Word could not be based on heart religion and on moral character alone. There has to be something else, something outward—a rite (circumcision, baptism, church membership)—that shows we are religious (Jews). If we go through the rite or ritual, then God is bound to accept us. He has promised to so accept us. He is not going to break His Word.”

The application of this question concerns every religionist. The thinking religionist poses the same objection and question: “If you say some religionists do not believe and are condemned, doesn’t that void God’s Word and make God a liar? God’s Word promises the religious person special privileges and the hope of eternal life. His Word tells us to believe Christ and to possess His Word, be baptized and join the fellowship of the church. If we do that and God still condemns us, is He not voiding His Word and becoming a liar?”

- ⇒ God forbid.
- ⇒ God will be faithful. His Word and promise of salvation will stand even if every man lies about believing and lies about giving his heart to serve Jesus.
- ⇒ God will prove His Word: He will be justified and proven faithful in what He has said. He will still save any person who gives his heart to Jesus and obeys Jesus.
- ⇒ In fact, God will overcome; He will prove His Word another way. He will judge all who make a false profession and who judge Him and His Word, who accuse Him of being unfaithful and voiding His Word. David himself said that God would judge the unfaithful or disobedient man (Ps.51:4). David had sinned greatly, not keeping the commandments of God, so God judged David and charged him with sin. David did the right thing: he confessed his sin and repented, beginning to live righteously. David also did something else: he declared that God’s charge and judgment against him were just, that God was perfectly justified. And God was, for God is always just, and He is always justified in what He says and does.

The point is twofold.

1. God is not unfaithful. God never breaks or voids His Word when He rejects the religionist. The religionist who possesses God’s Word and belongs to a church but does not obey God’s Word is not acceptable to God. It is righteousness God is after, not religion. God is not after an outward religion, but an inward righteousness. God wants a heart that will not only possess the Bible, but will keep His commandments. God is after a spiritual rebirth, a new creation, a man who has been truly born again. God wants a heart and life that are focused upon Christ and that keep the commandments of Christ. The only man who is acceptable to God is the man who has given his heart and life to Christ and who lives righteously, trusting God to accept His faith in Christ. (Cp. Ro.2:28-29.)

2. God never voids His Word or promises; He never has and never will be a liar. God has promised salvation and eternal life to men. Even if there should never be a single person who believed God’s promise, His promise would still stand. He would still save any person who did what He said.

The problem is in doing what God says, in coming to God as He dictates. God demands that men give their hearts and lives to His Son, Jesus Christ. God demands that men live for Christ, worship and obey Him. But this is too hard for men. They want an easier salvation. They want to be able to do something, get it over with, and then be free to live as they wish, giving God some attention here and there. Therefore, men prefer to be saved by being religious: being baptized, joining a church, buying a Bible, and then being free to go about their own lives. But this is not enough for God; it is not doing everything that God says; it is not giving one’s heart and life to live for Jesus Christ by obeying, worshipping, and serving Him. Therefore, God...

- charges the religionist with sin.
- judges and condemns the religionist.

Now note another fact. God fulfills His Word by judging the religionists. God has told men how to live and what would happen if they failed. Therefore, He is “justified in His sayings” by following through and by judging the religionists.

- ⇒ God will not void and break His Word. He will fulfill it all.
- ⇒ God is justified in fulfilling His Word by doing exactly what He said, that is, in accepting men only as He said and in judging men if they do not come to Him as He commands.

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(3:3) Unbelief—Man, Errors: this is one of two common but gross deceptions of men—that unbelief makes a thing ineffective and voids it. A man argues: “If I deny something, ignore it, refuse to accept it, and push it out of my mind, it will not be, nor will it come to pass.” Some even think of God’s Word in this way. They think they can deny and reject some part of it and it will not be so. They accept the Scriptures that stress the love of God and allow them to live as they wish, but they reject the Scriptures that stress the supernatural and miraculous power of God and the desperate need of man to be saved from sin, death, and an eternal hell. They reject the Scriptures that demand that man live responsibly.

“For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled” (Mt.5:18).

“Heaven and earth shall pass away: but my words shall not pass away” (Lk.21:33).

“If we believe not, yet he abideth faithful: he cannot deny himself” (2 Tim.2:13).

“The works of his hands are verity and judgment; all his commandments are sure” (Ps.111:7).

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(3:4) Judging—Judgment: men judge God. They judge Him to be true or false. They judge whether He exists or does not exist. They judge His Word. But in the final hour, God will end up judging men. He will overcome all those who judged Him to be less than He is and less than what He said.

“But we are sure that the judgment of God is according to truth against them which commit such things” (Ro.2:2).

“For I am the LORD: I will speak, and the word that I shall speak shall come to pass; it shall be no more prolonged: for in your days, O rebellious house, will I say the word, and will perform it, saith the Lord GOD” (Ezk.12:25).

3 (3:5-8) Love—Justice: the question is, “Is God unjust if He takes vengeance? If my unbelief and sin give God a chance to overcome (v.4) and to show His justice, then my sin brings greater glory to Him. It gives Him a chance to fulfill His Word. How can He punish me for that? Is He not unjust in inflicting punishment?” The answer is fourfold.

1. God forbid (me genoito): away with such a thought! No! Never!
2. God is moral; therefore, He must judge the world. He would not be moral and just if He did not judge the world.
3. Such an argument is contradictory. Think about it. “If my sin and disobedience give God a chance to demonstrate His righteousness, why then am I called a sinner for that? My sin is really a good thing. It gives God a chance to show how good He is. I may sin, yes, but only good has come out of it. When God accepts me as I am, a sinner, God has a chance to show how gloriously merciful He is. You can’t condemn me for giving God a chance to show His mercy.”
4. The damnation of persons who argue this point is just; it is not unjust. Such arguments are common among every generation of men, but the arguments are gross deceptions. A man exclaims: “A God of love cannot take vengeance. He is too good and loving. He will be denying His very nature of love if He judges me.”

What this argument fails to see is that genuine love is just. Love expressed unjustly is not love; it is license and indulgence. God’s love is perfect, absolutely unbiased, and impartial. It is shed upon all (Jn.3:16; 1 Jn.2:2). It is not license and indulgence; neither can it be, not in its perfection. Neither can it allow license and indulgence. God’s love is completely and perfectly just. It demands justice. In no respect can it be unjust by failing to judge. Neither can God be accused of being unloving when He executes justice (Ro.2:2-16). God’s love is just; God’s justice is the demonstration of perfect love. The cross was where God exacted His perfect justice upon His Son, and it is the perfect example of the glorious truth. The cross is the perfect demonstration of both the love and the justice of God.

Thought 1. The cross is the perfect demonstration of God’s love and justice.

“For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life” (Jn.3:16).

“But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us” (Ro.5:8).

“For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him” (2 Cor.5:21).

“Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree” (Gal.3:13).

“Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweetsmelling savour” (Eph.5:2).

“Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness: by whose stripes ye were healed” (1 Pt.2:24).

“For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit” (1 Pt.3:18).

Thought 2. Men shall be judged and condemned if they have rejected the love and salvation of God provided in His Son, Jesus Christ.

“For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels; and then he shall reward every man according to his works” (Mt.16:27).

“When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory: and before him shall be gathered all nations: and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats” (Mt.25:31-32).

“For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ; that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad” (2 Cor.5:10).

“And if ye call on the Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to every man’s work, pass the time of your sojourning here in fear” (1 Pt.1:17).

“The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished” (2 Pt.2:9).

“But the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men” (2 Pt.3:7).

“And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousands of his saints, to execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard speeches which ungodly sinners have spoken against him” (Jude 14-15).

“And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God; and the books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works” (Rev.20:12).

“And, behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be” (Rev.22:12).

DIVISION II

SIN AND CONDEMNATION: THE WORLD'S NEED TO GET RIGHT WITH GOD, 1:18-3:20

F. God's Case Against All Men, 3:9-20

(3:9-20) Man, Depravity—Salvation: in looking at such passages as this, a person must keep in mind the whole point of the passage. The point is not to charge man with sin, nor to berate man; it is not to look upon man with cynical contempt. The point is not to call man to hopelessness and despair, leaving him with a hanged head and low self-esteem. The point is to give man hope: to challenge man to seek a right relationship with God through the Lord Jesus Christ. Man must never minimize his sin, lest he ignore or neglect the right way to God. But neither must he minimize the redeeming power of Jesus Christ, lest he hang his head in hopelessness, or wallow in self-pity, or roam the world in despair.

1. The charge: all men are under sin (v.9).
2. The case of a sinful nature (v.10-12).
3. The case of a sinful tongue (v.13-14).
4. The case of sinful acts (v.15-18).
5. The case of the law (v.19-20).

1 (3:9) Sin—Man, Nature: all men are under sin. The words “under sin” (hupo hamartian) mean to be subject to the power of or under the authority of. A man outside of Jesus Christ is under the power of sin and he is helpless to escape from it (cp. Gal.3:10, 25; 4:2, 21; 5:18; 1 Tim.6:1).

The religionist (Jew) is “under sin” just as much as other men are “under sin.” The Scripture has just declared that being religious does not make men acceptable to God (cp. Ro.2:17-28). Religionists are shocked: “What then! Are we not better—do we not have any advantage over other men? Are we not better if we...

- have the Bible?”
- profess God?”
- know God's will?”
- approve the best things?”
- study the Word of God?”
- guide and teach others?”
- know the truth?”

The answer is a strong exclamation: “No! Not at all! Not in any way are you better than other people. Both Jews and Gentiles, both religionists and non-religionists—you are all under sin.”

Now note. This has been the point of all that has been said in Romans...

- God has a case against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men (Ro.1:18-32).
- God has a case against the moralist (Ro.2:1-16).
- God has a case against the religionist (Jew) (Ro.2:17-3:8).

Scripture shows that God has a case against all men. All men are “under sin.” And the fact is clearly seen by any person who will honestly look at man and his world.

“For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God” (Ro.3:23).

“Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned” (Ro.5:12).

“But the scripture hath concluded all under sin, that the promise by faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe” (Gal.3:22).

“If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us” (1 Jn.1:8).

“And we know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in wickedness” (1 Jn.5:19).

“And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually” (Gen.6:5).

“There is no man that sinneth not” (1 Ki.8:46).

“If thou, LORD, shouldest mark iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand?” (Ps.130:3).

“Who can say, I have made my heart clean, I am pure from my sin?” (Pr.20:9).

“For there is not a just man upon earth, that doeth good, and sinneth not” (Eccl.7:20).

“All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the LORD hath laid on him the iniquity of us all” (Is.53:6).

“But we are all as an unclean thing, and all our righteousnesses are as filthy rags; and we all do fade as a leaf; and our iniquities like the wind, have taken us away” (Is.64:6).

2 (3:10-12) Man, Nature—Sin: there is the case of a sinful nature.

1. A sinful nature is unrighteous (v.10; cp. Ps.14:1): “There is none righteous, no, not one.” Not a single person is righteous, that is, perfect and sinless—not by nature nor by act. No man has ever lived a perfect life, not perfect...

- in every thought
- in every word
- in every act

“There is none righteous [perfect, sinless] no, not one.” By nature, man is sinful.

“The world cannot hate you; but me it hateth, because I testify of it, that the works thereof are evil” (Jn.7:7).

“Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these; Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies, envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God” (Gal.5:19-21).

2. A sinful nature is ignorant (v.11; cp. Ps.14:2): “There is none that understands [sunion].” Not a single person grasps, comprehends, or perceives. The word literally means to put things together. It means to look at things and to intelligently discern and comprehend the truth. No man looks at the world and thinks and puts the truth of things together—not perfectly—not about...

- |             |                      |
|-------------|----------------------|
| • God       | • the origin of all  |
| • man       | • the purpose of all |
| • the world | • the destiny of all |

No one looks at the world and intelligently discerns the truth of things, not in grasping the truth...

- of where they have come from
- of why they are here
- of where they are going

“There is none that understands.”

“For the heart of this people is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed; lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them” (Acts 28:27).

“Ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth” (2 Tim.3:7).

“They know not, neither will they understand; they walk on in darkness: all the foundations of the earth are out of course” (Ps.82:5).

“But they know not the thoughts of the Lord, neither understand they his counsel” (Mic.4:12).

3. A sinful nature is indifferent and selfish (v.11; cp. Ps.14:2): “There is none that seeks after God.” The word “seek after” (ekzeteo) means to seek out and search for. The idea is that of a diligent, careful, determined seeking and searching. No one searches and seeks after God, not after the only living and true God, not with so careful and determined a spirit. Why? Because men are indifferent and selfish. Men want gods that allow them to do their own thing.

- ⇒ Some want gods that allow them to glory in self by demonstrating their extreme self-discipline and sacrifice.
- ⇒ Others want gods who demand less and who allow them to live as they wish, in the pleasures and greed and possessions of this world.

Men do not want a God who is true and living. If He is true and living, it means He is Supreme, the only One who is to be glorified and honored and obeyed. Therefore, in dealing with the only living and true God, men are indifferent and selfish. “There is none that seeketh after God.” By nature men are sinful, indifferent, and selfish.

“...without Christ...having no hope, and without God in the world” (Eph.2:12).

“Knowing this, that the law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawless and disobedient, for the ungodly and for sinners, for unholy and profane, for murderers of fathers and murderers of mothers, for manslayers, for whoremongers, for them that defile themselves with mankind, for menstealers, for liars, for perjured persons, and if there be any other thing that is contrary to sound doctrine” (1 Tim.1:9-10).

“Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? He is antichrist, that denieth the Father and the Son” (1 Jn.2:22).

“The wicked, through the pride of his countenance, will not seek after God: God is not in all his thoughts” (Ps.10:4).

“The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God. They are corrupt, they have done abominable works, there is none that doeth good” (Ps.14:1).

“Ye have said, It is vain to serve God: and what profit is it that we have kept his ordinance, and that we have walked mournfully before the LORD of hosts?” (Mal.3:14).

4. A sinful nature is crooked (v.12; cp. Ps.14:3): “They are all gone out of the way.” The Greek means that men lean out, turn away, and turn aside...

- from God.
- from the way that leads to God.
- to another way.

Men are crooked; they are not straight with God. They do not follow God nor pursue the right way to God. They take another path, another road, another way.

“Now the end of the commandment is charity out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned: from which some having swerved have turned aside unto vain jangling” (1 Tim.1:5-6).

“For ye were as sheep going astray; but are now returned unto the Shepherd and Bishop of your souls” (1 Pt.2:25).

“Which have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of Balaam the son of Bosor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness” (2 Pt.2:15).

“[The ungodly are] raging waves of the sea, foaming out their own shame; wandering stars, to whom is reserved the blackness of darkness for ever” (Jude 13).

“The man that wandereth out of the way of understanding shall remain in the congregation of the dead” (Pr.21:16).

“As a bird that wandereth from her nest, so is a man that wandereth from his place” (Pr.27:8).

“All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the LORD hath laid on him the iniquity of us all” (Is.53:6).

5. A sinful nature is useless (v.12; cp. Ps.14:3): “They are together become unprofitable” (achreioo). The word means to become worthless, useless, sour, bad. (Cp. sour milk.) All men without Christ are worthless, useless, sour, bad.

“Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men” (Mt.5:13).

“And cast ye the unprofitable servant into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth” (Mt.25:30).

“For what is a man advantaged, if he gain the whole world, and lose himself, or be cast away?” (Lk.9:25).

“Salt is good: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be seasoned? It is neither fit for the land, nor yet for the dunghill; but men cast it out. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear” (Lk.14:34-35).

6. A sinful nature is evil (v.12; cp. Ps.14:3): “There is none that doeth good, no, not one.” The word “good” (chrestotes) means moral goodness, kindness, graciousness, gentleness, justice. All men fail in being good toward God and their neighbor, in being...

- |            |          |
|------------|----------|
| • kind     | • gentle |
| • gracious | • just   |

Men come short—too often, too much. “There is none that doeth good [not always, not perfectly], no, not one.”

“Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are like unto whited sepulchres, which indeed appear beautiful outward, but are within full of dead men’s bones, and of all uncleanness” (Mt.23:27).

“For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness: all these evil things come from within, and defile the man” (Mk.7:21-23).

3 (3:13-14) Tongue—Man, Nature: there is the case of a sinful tongue.

1. A sinful tongue is foul and corrupt (v.13; cp. Ps.5:9): “Their throat is an open sepulchre [grave].” An open grave is foul, and it is a symbol of corruption. So is a man with a sinful mouth. His mouth is...

- |           |              |                |
|-----------|--------------|----------------|
| • foul    | • polluted   | • profane      |
| • dirty   | • filthy     | • dishonorable |
| • obscene | • detestable | • offensive    |

The obscene mouth may range from off-colored humor to dirty jokes, from immoral suggestions to outright propositions. But no matter, a man with a foul mouth stinks just like an open grave; his filthiness causes corruption, the decay of character. The filth from his mouth eats and eats away at his character and at the character of his listeners so much that he becomes as offensive as that of a decayed corpse. The foul, filthy mouth kills character, its attractiveness, trust, faithfulness, morality, honor, and godliness.

“O generation of vipers, how can ye, being evil, speak good things? for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh” (Mt.12:34).

“And the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity: so is the tongue among our members, that it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course of nature; and it is set on fire of hell” (Jas.3:6).

“For their heart studieth destruction, and the lips talk of mischief” (Pr.24:2).

2. A sinful tongue is deceitful (v.13; cp. Ps.5:9): “They have used deceit.” The Hebrew says, “They make smooth their tongue.” A deceitful person has...

- |                     |                        |                           |
|---------------------|------------------------|---------------------------|
| • a false tongue    | • a misleading tongue  | • a deluding tongue       |
| • a lying tongue    | • a treacherous tongue | • a flattering tongue     |
| • a cheating tongue | • a beguiling tongue   | • a smooth talking tongue |

The word “deceit” (edoliousan) is continuous action: “They kept on deceiving.” Man is not only guilty of deceiving, but of constantly deceiving. He is constantly hiding and camouflaging his true thoughts and feelings and behavior, seeking to protect himself or to get whatever he is after.

“His mouth is full of cursing and deceit and fraud: under his tongue is mischief and vanity” (Ps.10:7).

“The words of his mouth are iniquity and deceit: he hath left off to be wise, and to do good” (Ps.36:3).

“The words of his mouth were smoother than butter, but war was in his heart: his words were softer than oil, yet were they drawn swords” (Ps.55:21).

“I said in my haste, All men are liars” (Ps.116:11).

“And they will deceive every one his neighbor, and will not speak the truth: they have taught their tongue to speak lies, and weary themselves to commit iniquity” (Jer.9:5).

“The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked: who can know it?” (Jer.17:9).

“For the rich men thereof are full of violence, and the inhabitants thereof have spoken lies, and their tongue is deceitful in their mouth” (Mic.6:12).

“Woe to the bloody city! it is all full of lies and robbery; the prey departeth not” (Nah.3:1).

3. A sinful tongue is piercing and poisonous (v.13; cp. Ps.140:3): “The poison of asps is under their lips.” The asp (aspidon) is the cobra, a deadly snake. God charges men with having tongues that are just as piercing and poisonous as the tongue of the deadly cobra. The idea is that the tongues of some people have a diabolical nature; they are filled with so much malice that they set out to inflict punishment. A poisonous tongue...

- |                                    |                              |
|------------------------------------|------------------------------|
| • talks and gossips about          | • desires to cause suffering |
| • strikes out against              | • lies in wait to strike     |
| • inserts and spreads venom        | • seeks to hurt and destroy  |
| • poisons character and reputation |                              |

“But now ye also put off all these; anger, wrath, malice, blasphemy, filthy communication out of your mouth” (Col.3:8).

“Wherefore laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings” (1 Pt.2:1).

“There is that speaketh like the piercings of a sword” (Pr.12:18).

“They have sharpened their tongues like a serpent; adders’ poison is under their lips” (Ps.140:3).

4. A sinful tongue is full of cursing and bitterness (v.14; cp. Ps.10:7): “Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness.” Cursing is sin; a cursing tongue is a sinful tongue. (See outline, note, and DEEPER STUDY # 1,2,3,4—Mt.5:33-37; note and DEEPER STUDY # 5—23:16-22 for more discussion.) Jesus Christ says:

“Swear not at all....but let your communication be, Yea, yea; Nay, nay: for whatsoever is more than these cometh of evil” (Mt.5:34, 37).

a. Men use profanity; in fact, their mouth is full of cursing and swearing. They curse both God and men. Their cursing may range from what society considers to be a mild word of slang to using God’s name in vain.

No matter how mild or how acceptable to society, it is sin. God's case against man is that his mouth is full of cursing (cp. Jas.3:8-10).

"But I say unto you, Swear not at all; neither by heaven; for it is God's throne" (Mt.5:34).

"But the tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil, full of deadly poison. Therewith bless we God, even the Father; and therewith curse we men, which are made after the similitude of God. Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be" (Jas.3:8-10).

"But above all things, my brethren, swear not, neither by heaven, neither by the earth, neither by any other oath: but let your yea be yea; and your nay, nay; lest ye fall into condemnation" (Jas.5:12).

"Thou shalt not take the name of the LORD thy God in vain: for the LORD will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain" (Ex.20:7).

"And ye shall not swear by my name falsely, neither shalt thou profane the name of thy God: I am the LORD" (Lev.19:12).

"For the sin of their mouth and the words of their lips let them even be taken in their pride; and for cursing and lying which they speak" (Ps.59:12).

"For oftentimes also thine own heart knoweth that thou thyself likewise hast cursed others" (Eccl.7:22).

Note a man's cursing shall fall upon him.

"As he loved cursing, so let it come unto him: as he delighted not in blessing, so let it be far from him. As he clothed himself with cursing like as with his garment, so let it come into his bowels like water, and like oil into his bones" (Ps.109:17-18.)

- b. Man's mouth is also full of bitterness. His tongue is often...
- sharp
  - cold
  - intense
  - distasteful
  - resentful
  - harsh
  - relentless
  - unpleasant
  - cynical
  - stressful

Any expression involving any of these is sin to God. God desires men to be filled with love and joy and peace and to express such. Anything less than the expression of these is sin. This is God's case against men: a tongue full of cursing and bitterness.

"Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice" (Eph.4:31).

"Looking diligently lest any man fail of the grace of God; lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby many be defiled" (Heb.12:15).

"But if ye have bitter envying and strife in your hearts, glory not, and lie not against the truth" (Jas.3:14).

4 (3:15-18) Man, Nature: there is the case of sinful acts.

1. Sinful acts are murderous acts (v.15; cp. Is.59:7): "Their feet are swift to shed blood." Note the word "swift." Men jump to kill; they are ready to spill and pour out blood...

- out of hurt and shame.
- to have their own way.
- to get what they want.

Men are cruel; they have natures that are prideful, selfish, and greedy. They seek and seek to possess, even if it means turning against others and inflicting...

- pain and suffering
- grief and injury
- teasing and tormenting
- killing and slaughtering
- mutilating and mangling

God's case against man is that he is a murderer. His feet are "swift to shed blood."

"Thou shalt not kill" (Ex.20:13).

"Jesus said, Thou shalt do no murder" (Mt.19:18).

"But let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or as an evildoer, or as a busybody in other men's matters" (1 Pt.4:15).

"Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him" (1 Jn.3:15).

"For their feet run to evil, and make haste to shed blood" (Pr.1:16).

2. Sinful acts are oppressive acts that destroy and cause misery (v.16; cp. Is.59:7): “Destruction and misery are in their ways.” Man is oppressive; he destroys and causes misery wherever he goes. Because of his pride, selfishness, and greed, man destroys...

- the land (pollution)
- the cities
- the nations
- the country
- the government
- the people
- the shops
- the houses
- the property

He destroys and causes misery wherever he goes, even within his own family, neighborhood, and city. Whether by simple argument within his own family or by war, he is so destructive and full of misery that he brings destruction and misery wherever he goes.

3. Sinful acts are restless, disturbing, and warring acts (v.17; cp. Is.59:8): “And the way of peace have they not known.” The idea is that men do not experience peace. They do not possess peace within themselves nor among others. They do not know peaceful ways, do not know...

- how to secure peace.
- how to keep peace.

Men are not peaceful within; they are restless. Their own soul is a civil war that experiences constant conflict. Therefore, men fail to secure peace not only within themselves, but among others. Wherever men are, they disturb and bring faction and war to others. This is God’s case against men.

“In the morning thou shalt say, Would God it were even! and at even thou shalt say, Would God it were morning! for the fear of thine heart wherewith thou shalt fear, and for the sight of thine eyes which thou shalt see” (Dt.28:67).

“For what hath man of all his labour, and of the vexation of his heart, wherein he hath laboured under the sun? For all his days are sorrows, and his travail grief; yea, his heart taketh not rest in the night. This is also vanity” (Eccl.2:22-23).

“There is no peace, saith the Lord, unto the wicked” (Is.48:22).

“But the wicked are like the troubled sea, when it cannot rest, whose waters cast up mire and dirt” (Is.57:20).

“The way of peace they know not; and there is no judgment in their goings: they have made them crooked paths; whosoever goeth therein shall not know peace” (Is.59:8).

“Our necks are under persecution: we labour, and have no rest” (Lam.5:5).

“Destruction cometh; and they shall seek peace, and there shall be none” (Ezk.7:25).

4. Sinful acts are godless, irreverent, disrespectful acts (v.18; cp. Ps.36:1): “There is no fear of God before their eyes.” Their eyes and their attention are focused upon other things. They ignore and neglect God, living as though there is no God. They sense little if any responsibility toward God. They do not fear God; they do not fear His anger or wrath or judgment against them. They sense little desire or need to worship God or to study His Word and will. They seldom if ever praise and honor Him or do as He commands. The fear of God is not before their eyes; therefore, this is God’s case against men.

“And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not convenient” (Ro.1:28).

“For when the Gentiles, which have not the law, do by nature the things contained in the law, these, having not the law, are a law unto themselves” (Ro.2:14).

“For he [the ungodly] hath said, It profiteth a man nothing that he should delight himself with God” (Job 34:9).

“But none saith, Where is God my maker, who giveth songs in the night” (Job 35:10).

“The wicked, through the pride of his countenance, will not seek after God: God is not in all his thoughts” (Ps.10:4).

“The transgression of the wicked saith within my heart, that there is no fear of God before his eyes” (Ps.36:1).

“They would none of my counsel: they despised all my reproof” (Pr.1:30).

5 (3:19-20) Law: there is the case of the law or Scripture. Note five points.

1. The law or Scripture speaks to all. Note the words “we know.” Paul means that this is an obvious truth, a clear truth that cannot be missed. All that has just been said has been quoted from Scripture (v.9-18), and Scripture speaks and is intended for everyone. Therefore, all are guilty before God, both Jew and Gentile. Scripture charges everyone with sin, declaring that “all are under sin”—all are subject to its power and authority. No one escapes the charge of God’s law. The case of God’s law is against everyone, both religionist and heathen.

2. The law or Scripture stops all boasting, every mouth that acts self-sufficient and declares the goodness of men. In light of man’s sinful nature, tongue, and behavior, who can boast? Who can declare man’s goodness and righteousness and capabilities? Who can say anything against God’s case against men? Scripture declares that no man is good, leaving only One who could be good, and that is God. God alone is good; God alone deserves praise, honor, and glory. Man can boast in God and in God alone. Man is silenced; he has no reason and no right to boast in himself. The law, God’s case against man, stops his mouth.

“But now the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, being witnessed by the law and the prophets” (Ro.3:21).

“Moreover the law entered, that the offence might abound. But where sin abounded, grace did much more abound” (Ro.5:20).

“What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. Nay, I had not known sin, but by the law: for I had not known lust, except the law had said, Thou shalt not covet” (Ro.7:7).

“For they being ignorant of God’s righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God” (Ro.10:3).

“[The law] was added because of transgressions” (Gal.3:19).

(See outline and notes—Ro.7:7-13 for more discussion.)

3. The law or Scripture makes all the world guilty before God. God’s law declares:

“There is none righteous, no, not one” (Ro.3:10).

“There is none that doeth good [not perfectly], no, not one” (Ro.3:12).

“For as many as are of the works of the law are under the curse: for it is written, Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them” (Gal.3:10).

“The whole world lieth in wickedness” (1 Jn.5:19).

No one escapes. All the world stands face to face before God—stands imperfect, stands short of His glory, stands guilty of sin.

4. The law justifies no flesh. Note carefully what is being said.

⇒ No law and no deed of the law will ever justify a man (make him acceptable to God).

⇒ Man cannot be justified by keeping any law or work.

⇒ Man cannot be justified by any righteousness or good deed of his own.

⇒ No flesh, no man, will be justified in God’s sight, not by the law.

“Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the law is the knowledge of sin” (Ro.3:20).

“But that no man is justified by the law in the sight of God, it is evident: for, The just shall live by faith. And the law is not of faith: but, The man that doeth them shall live in them” (Gal.3:11-12).

“Knowing this, that the law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawless and disobedient, for the ungodly and for sinners, for unholy and profane, for murderers of fathers and murderers of mothers, for manslayers, for whoremongers, for them that defile themselves with mankind, for menstealers, for liars, for perjured persons, and if there be any other thing that is contrary to sound doctrine” (1 Tim.1:9-10).

5. The law shows man that he is sinful. The purpose of the law is not to justify, but to point out sin, to tell a man that he is a sinner. The law was given to make a man aware of his sin. Why? So that man would know he is sinful and that he needs to seek God for forgiveness and salvation.

“But now the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, being witnessed by the law and the prophets; even the righteousness of God which is by faith of Jesus Christ unto all and upon all them that believe: for there is no difference: for all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God; being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus” (Ro.3:21-24).

“For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh” (Ro.8:3; cp. Heb.7:19).

“Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified” (Gal.2:16; cp. Gal.3:24-27).

“Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree” (Gal.3:13).

DIVISION III

FAITH AND JUSTIFICATION: THE WAY FOR THE WORLD TO BE RIGHT WITH GOD, 3:21-5:21

A. Righteousness: The Way to be Right With God, 3:21-26

(3:21-26) Introduction—Righteousness: the "righteousness of God" is used in three ways in Scripture.

1. Righteousness refers to God's character. It means the righteousness, justice, and perfection which God Himself possesses and shows.
2. Righteousness reveals man's lack of godly character. It means the sinful, depraved, unrighteous, unjust, and imperfect nature and behavior of man.
3. Righteousness means the perfection which God provides for man in Christ Jesus. When a man allows the Lord Jesus Christ to take his sins, he is given the righteousness of God. Christ robes the man in the righteousness of God Himself—by faith (2 Cor.5:21; Ph.3:9).

The context is usually clear as to which meaning is meant. (See DEEPER STUDY # 5, Righteousness—Mt.5:6 for more discussion.)

1. Righteousness is now revealed (v.21-22).
2. Righteousness is for everyone (v.22-23).
3. Righteousness is only possible through justification (v.24).
4. Righteousness is by an act of God alone: by propitiation (v.25).
5. Righteousness has one purpose: to proclaim God's personal righteousness (v.25-26).

1 (3:21-22) Righteousness—Law: righteousness is now revealed. God has "now" revealed how man is to get right with Him. The word "now" is a cataclysmic breaking point in the message of Romans. It points to a pivotal point in human history. It is saying two things.

- ⇒ Before, back then, hundreds and hundreds of years ago, God had patience in that He put up with man's attempts at self-righteousness through the law. But now the period of God's righteousness has come—the righteousness that is found in God's very own Son.
- ⇒ Before, back then, man sinned and sinned, learning the impossibility of putting away his own sin. Man's period of time under law showed him the impossibility of securing righteousness on his own. But now the period of God's righteousness has come—the righteousness that is found in God's very own Son.

1. God's righteousness for man is "without law." Righteousness has to be without law, for the law fails in two critical areas.

- a. The law does not allow disobedience; it requires obedience. Anyone who disobeys the law becomes a lawbreaker, a transgressor. He is guilty and to be condemned.
- b. The law does not have the power to make a person obedient. It does not have the power to prevent a person from disobeying. It only shows a person's disobedience and inadequate strength to be obedient. It only reveals a person's inability to secure any righteousness whatsoever by self-effort. Therefore, if God was to have men living in His presence, He had to provide a righteousness "without law." There had to be a righteousness that had nothing to do with law.

2. God's righteousness for man was foretold by the Old Testament (prophets and law). This is clearly seen in the next chapter in the lives of Abraham and David (Ro.4:1f). (Cp. Jn.5:39, 46; 1 Pt.1:10-11.)

3. God's righteousness is revealed in Jesus Christ. When Jesus Christ came to earth, He came to reveal the perfect righteousness of God. Jesus Christ came to live...

- the Sinless life
- the Perfect life
- the Ideal life
- the Representative life
- the Pattern life

Jesus Christ is the perfect embodiment of God's righteousness. In fact, Jesus Christ is God's righteousness; or to say it another way, the righteousness of God is Jesus Christ. God's righteousness is now revealed in and through Jesus Christ Himself. (See note—Ro.5:1 for more discussion.)

“For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth” (Ro.10:4).

“But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who of God is made unto us wisdom, and righteousness” (1 Cor.1:30).

“[That I may] be found in him, not having mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith” (Ph.3:9).

2 (3:22-23) Righteousness—Sin: righteousness is for everyone. Scripture is clear in its declaration.

1. Righteousness is for all who believe. Note that righteousness is both given “to” the believer and laid “upon” the believer.

a. Righteousness is given “to” the believer as a possession.

“Whereby are given unto us exceeding great promises: that by these ye might be partakers of the divine nature [righteousness], having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust” (2 Pt.1:4).

“And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever; even the Spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you” (Jn.14:16-17).

b. Righteousness is laid “upon” the believer as a covering or clothing.

“For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him” (2 Cor.5:21).

“And that ye put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness” (Eph.4:24).

“For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God....And have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him” (Col.3:3, 10).

2. Righteousness is needed by all. There is no difference and no distinction between men. There are two reasons.

a. All men are sinners. The word “sinned” (harmartano) is in the Greek aorist tense; that is, it is a once-for-all happening. It looks back to the historical entrance of sin into the world. This means that all men...

- inherited the nature of their sinful fathers and mothers.
- have sinned and are sinners.
- cannot keep from sinning and will sin.

“For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God” (Ro.3:23).

“But the scripture hath concluded all under sin, that the promise by faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe” (Gal.3:22).

“If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us” (1 Jn.1:8).

“And we know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in wickedness” (1 Jn.5:19).

“And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually” (Gen.6:5).

“There is no man that sinneth not” (1 Ki.8:46).

“Every one of them is gone back; they are altogether become filthy; there is none that doeth good, no, not one” (Ps.53:3; cp. Ps.14:3).

“Who can say, I have made my heart clean, I am pure from my sin?” (Pr.20:9).

“For there is not a just man upon earth, that doeth good, and sinneth not” (Eccl.7:20).

“All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all” (Is.53:6).

“But we are all as an unclean thing, and all our righteousnesses are as filthy rags; and we all do fade as a leaf; and our iniquities, like the wind, have taken us away” (Is.64:6).

“The good man is perished out of the earth: and there is none upright among men: they all lie in wait for blood; they hunt every man his brother with a net” (Mic.7:2).

b. All men “come short of God's glory.” The tense is present: all men are coming short, that is, continually coming short of God's glory. Men are in a state or condition of being short of God's glory (see DEEPER STUDY # 1, Glory—Ro.3:23 for discussion).

DEEPER STUDY # 1

(3:23) Glory—God, Glory of: the “glory of God” is God’s standard for man. It means His moral glory. It means His excellence, splendor, brilliance, brightness, magnificence, preeminence, dignity, majesty, and grace. It means the absolute perfection of God, the perfection of His person. It is this “glory of God” which demands that man correspond perfectly with God—if man wishes to be at peace with God and to live in His presence.

1. Glory is light, perfect light. It is the very highest degree of light: the perfection of splendor, brightness, brilliance, resplendence. This is seen in many passages.

- ⇒ John saw how bright the glory of God is when he had the vision of the new Jerusalem. (The new Jerusalem
- ⇒ will be the center or capital of world government in the new heavens and earth.)

“The holy Jerusalem...having the glory of God: and her light was like unto a stone, most precious, even like a jasper stone, clear as crystal” (Rev.21:10-11).

“And the city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine in it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof” (Rev.21:23).

- ⇒ Jesus experienced the light of God’s glory.

“And [Jesus] was transfigured before them: and His face did shine as the sun, and His raiment was white as the light” (Mt.17:2).

- ⇒ Paul experienced the light of God’s glory.

“There shone a great light round about me. And I fell unto the ground....And when I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Damascus” (Acts 22:6, 11; cp. 9:3-9).

- ⇒ Moses experienced the light of God’s glory.

“Moses wist [knew] not that the skin of his face shone while he [God] talked with him...the skin of his face shone; and they [the people] were afraid to come nigh him” (Ex.34:29-30; cp. 29-35).

2. Glory is purity, perfect purity. It is the very highest degree of virtue and goodness, of quality and morality. It is the highest excellence of character and the perfection of being.

“God is light, and in Him is no darkness at all” (1 Jn.1:5).

“There is none good but One, that is, God” (Mt.19:17).

“Your Father which is in heaven is perfect” (Mt.5:48).

“Thou only art holy” (Rev.15:4).

3. Glory is majesty, perfect majesty. It is the very highest degree of preeminence and magnificence, of dignity and honor, of meriting worship and praise.

“I saw also the Lord sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up....And one cried unto another, and said, “Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hosts: the whole earth is full of His glory” (Is.6:1, 3).

“For thus saith the high and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity, whose name is Holy; I dwell in the high and holy place” (Is.57:15).

“The Lord reigneth, He is clothed with majesty” (Ps.93:1; cp. 97:1).

4. Glory is being, perfect being. It is the very highest degree of worth, quality and merit, preciousness and value. (See note—Jn.17:2-3.)

“Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created” (Rev.4:11).

“I am He: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me” (Is.43:10).

“There is none good but One, that is, God” (Mt.19:17).

3 (3:24) Righteousness—Justification: righteousness is possible only through justification (see notes, Justification—Ro.1:17; DEEPER STUDY # 1—4:22; 5:1 for discussion). Note two significant facts.

1. Justification is a free gift of God. Man in no way earns it. Man is justified by God’s grace and by God’s grace alone. (See notes, Grace—Ro.4:16; Tit.2:15 for more discussion.)

2. Justification is only through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus (see DEEPER STUDY # 2, Redemption—Ro.3:24 for discussion).

DEEPER STUDY # 2

(3:24) Redemption (apolutroseos): to redeem, to deliver by paying a price. (See note, Redemption—Eph.1:7 for more discussion.) The word is used three ways in the New Testament.

1. It means to redeem (agorazo): to deliver; to set free from the slave market of sin, death, and hell.

“For ye are bought [redeemed] with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God’s” (1 Cor.6:20).

“Ye are bought [redeemed] with a price; be not ye the servants of men” (1 Cor.7:23).

“But there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily [deceptively] shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought [redeemed] them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction” (2 Pt.2:1).

2. It means to redeem out of (exagorazo): to deliver out of the enslavement to sin, death, and hell. It means to be delivered out of and never returned.

“Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree” (Gal.3:13).

“To redeem them that were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons” (Gal.4:5).

3. It means to redeem (lutroo): to deliver by paying a price; to buy.

“Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works” (Tit.2:14).

“Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers” (1 Pt.1:18).

Redemption is “in Christ Jesus” (en Christou lesou), wrought through His death and sufferings. Of this there can be no doubt; the fact is critical to a person’s destiny. Redemption is not brought about...

- by the life of Christ.
- by the power of Christ.
- by the example of Christ.

Scripture is abundantly clear about this. His cross and His sacrifice in death are what brought about redemption. Redemption is...

“Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many” (Mt.20:28).

“Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus” (Ro.3:24).

“For ye are bought [redeemed] with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God’s” (1 Cor.6:20).

“Ye are bought [redeemed] with a price; be not ye the servants of men” (1 Cor.7:23).

“In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace” (Eph.1:7).

“In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins” (Col.1:14).

“For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus; who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time” (1 Tim.2:5-6).

“And for this cause he is the mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance” (Heb.9:15).

“Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers; but with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot” (1 Pt.1:18-19).

“But there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought [redeemed] them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction” (2 Pt.2:1).

“And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation” (Rev.5:9).

“And they sung as it were a new song before the throne, and before the four beasts, and the elders: and no man could learn that song but the hundred and forty and four thousand, which were redeemed from the earth. These are they which were not defiled with women; for they are virgins. These are they which follow the Lamb withersoever he goeth. These were redeemed from among men, being the firstfruits unto God and to the Lamb” (Rev.14:3-4).

4 (3:25) Propitiation—Jesus Christ, Blood: righteousness is by an act of God alone, the act of propitiation. (See note, Propitiation—1 Jn.2:1-2; DEEPER STUDY # 1—2:2 for more discussion.) Propitiation (hilasterion) means to be a sacrifice, a covering, a satisfaction, a payment, an appeasement for sin. Note two very significant points.

1. God is the One who “set forth” (proetheto) Christ to be the propitiation for man’s sins.
  - a. God purposed to “set forth” Christ: God determined, resolved, ordained Christ to be the propitiation or the sacrifice for man’s sins.
  - b. God set Christ “before” (pro) the world as the propitiation for the world’s sins. The pro in the Greek word proetheto (set forth) indicates this fact.
    - ⇒ God set Christ before Himself, purposed that He be the propitiation or the sacrifice for man’s sin.
    - ⇒ God set Christ publicly before the world, showing that He is definitely the propitiation for the world’s sins.
2. It is Christ Himself who is the propitiation for man’s sins. But note: it is not His teachings, power, example, or life that make Christ the propitiation. It is His blood—His sacrifice, His death, His sufferings, His cross—that causes God to accept Jesus as the propitiation. It is the blood of Christ that God accepts as...
